Coronation Ceremonies Saturday, February 8

Tony Weitzel To Crown Silver Valley Queen

Queen Patricia to be Guest of Detroit Radio Stations, Newspapers

Queen Patricia will be a guest of The Detroit Free Press, The Detroit News and The Detroit Times, and radio stations WWJ and WJR Monday and Tuesday of next week according to an announcement made at a meeting of the Silver Valley Committee last Monday evening. Queen Patricia is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bolen of Alabaster and was selected at the Queen's Ball held January 18.

In the queen's party going to Detroit will be Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stoll and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Marzinski. Mr. Stoll is a member of the news staff of Booth Publications. The climax of Silver Valley's winter sports activities will be reached during the week-end of February 8. Tony Weitzel, WWJ announcer will crown Queen Patricia at ceremonies held that Saturday evening at the Community Building. The coronation ceremonies will be followed by a coronation ball. A queen's banquet will be held earlier in the evening at the Hotel Holland. Arrangements are being made for 200 guests. Tickets are now on sale.

In addition to a full program of winter sports activities at Silver Valley, WWJ will give a special radio broadcast at 12:00 o'clock Saturday noon during the Coronation Week-End.

At 2:45 that afternoon George Hunter, WWJ announcer will give a special fifteen minute broadcast entitled, "Snow Carnival" from the Community Building. Both broadcasts will be open to the public. The programs will be wired to Detroit and broadcast over WWJ.

Some of the celebrities who will be at Silver Valley during the Coronation week-end are: Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Tony Weitzel and his secretary, Miss Eunice Rien; Lloyd Brazil, athletic director of the University of Detroit; Ed Wheeler, general manager of Radio Station WWJ, and George Hunter, WWJ announcer.

The coronation banquet at the Hotel Holland will start at 6:30 o'clock and the coronation ceremonies at the Community Building will be at 10:00.

Auxiliary to VFW Being Organized

EAST TAWAS

Friends and neighbors gathered Tuesday evening and helped Mrs. George Sase celebrate her birthday anniversary and also celebrate her 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sase. Pot luck dinner was enjoyed and the group presented them with flowers and gifts. Mrs. Murray Shupe of Detroit was home for a visit with her parents.

W. S. C. S. will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 at the Methodist church parlors.

Mrs. John Collier entertained her brother, Sam Houghtaling of Reece, Miss Joyce Goodwin of Essexville, Miss Barbara Rosecrain and Jerry Jereau of Bay City over the week.

Miss Eleanor Blakely of Mount Morris spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. George Soderquist have arrived home from Florida. While there they visited the Price's at their home in Cornado.

Miss Thebia Dean of Michigan State College was a recent guest of Mrs. W. D. Nunn.

Gerald Mallon, formerly of East Tawas was recently promoted to Superintendent of Chris Craft Ship Building Plant at Jamestown, New York. He had been plan engineer at the Algonac plant. Tawas friends are pleased with his promotion.

Iosco Chapter O. E. S. will meet Friday evening, February 7. A program honoring the Star point Ruth will be given. Refreshments will be served.

East Tawas High School basketball team won all three games from Sterling, Tuesday evening at the Community building.

Mrs. John Austling and son of Roscommon spent the week-end with the former's daughter, Mrs. Wallace Nunn and family.

Jack Carlson and James Creaser, students at the University of Michigan are home for a few days.

Mrs. Levi Ulman spent Tuesday in Bay City.

Billy Copeland

Billy Copeland—colored All-American from South Carolina State, will be in the lineup of the Komedly Kings of New York City when their nationally famous quintet meets the local Independents at the Tawas City High School gym, Friday, Feb. 7th, as a attraction of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Carnival.

Rollin Gets School Nomination

Republicans Hold Convention Monday

At the Iosco County Republican Convention held here Monday evening, Russell Rollin was nominated candidate for county school commissioner. County school commissioner will be one of the officers voted for in the coming spring election.

Miss Edna Otis, Will MacGillivray, Judge H. Read Smith and Earl Bement were named delegates to the Republican State Convention. Gordon Welcome, W. A. Curtis, Frank Long and Glenn P. Sabin are alternates.

Eight Teams to Play in Basketball Tourney

Three Class C and five Class D teams will play in the District High School Basketball tournament which will be held at the school gymnasium in this city, March 6, 7, and 8. The referee will be Raymond Templin of Sterling, and the umpire, Henry Uhlman of Pinconning.

The participating high schools are: Class C—East Tawas, Oscoda and Roscommon. Class D—AuGres, Harrisville, Whittemore, Hale and Tawas City.

Komedly Kings to Play Here Feb. 7

The Komedly Kings of New York City, a colored professional basketball team which has been playing to capacity crowds all over the middle west, will be an added feature of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Carnival when they invade the Tawas City High School gym, Friday, February 7, for an exhibition game with the Tawas Independents. A preliminary game will also be played at 7:15.

There are two reasons for the New Yorker's popularity. In the first place, they have a splendid basketball club, a team good enough to play through the first three weeks of January without suffering a defeat. One of their victories was over the Detroit Gems of the National Pro League, while the Ohio State Collegians were humiliated on three occasions. The colored Kings, who are a take-off on the Ethiopian Clown baseball team, specialize in tricky ball handling, moving the big agate so fast and deceptively that spectators often find it impossible to follow its flight.

Secondly, the Komedly Kings offer a special sideshow attraction, aside from the game itself. Heading the fun show is a versatile fellow named "Circus Eddie" Hamman, a noted Clown comedian, who has played in every Major League Baseball park in the nation, and many of the Arenas, during his 22 year career. Hamman calls his act "Gags and Giggles." He starts before the main game, continues through the game, and at halftime, explodes with his pet acts, one of which is a Pepper Ball game, at which he is a past master.

Now here comes the payoff—the Komedly Kings carry their own referee. But not for the purpose of winning as you will agree once you see the little fellow in action. For Jesse Garrett who will handle the game here is one of the best and most colorful officials in pro basketball. The dynamic five foot three inch whistle tooter is an accredited official of the Basketball Association. (Continued No. 2, Back Page)

A Communication

A communication to the Board of Supervisors and Taxpayers of Iosco County, Michigan.

Having read the articles printed in the East Tawas News and the Tawas Herald of Iosco county, I feel that the voters of this county should have all the facts explained to them leading up to the action of the Board of Supervisors in the October session (not in the June session as stated in the Tawas Herald).

In our meeting with the Board in January session we were informed that this action had been under consideration for six or seven years. Now, I do not have any reason to doubt this fact, but as long as a certain minority group could get the candidate of their choice elected at the primary, they were satisfied to leave it as it was, but as soon as the man of their choice was defeated they sent a delegation to the October meeting and had it changed from an elective office to an appointive office and then to try and keep it in their hands they had a man run on slips to try and defeat the victorious candidate.

Now knowing this man as I think I do, had he been elected, I think they would have been jumping from the frying pan into the fire, as I am sure that no minority group could have lead him around by the nose. (Continued No. 3, Back Page)

Veteran Tawas City Merchant Passes Away

Funeral Rites for Stephen Ferguson Held Sunday Afternoon

Stephen Ferguson, pioneer merchant and former Tawas City mayor, died late last Thursday afternoon at his residence in this city. Mr. Ferguson was 84 years old.

Mr. Ferguson was born at Kincardine, Ontario, November 24, 1862. On January 26, 1886, he was united in marriage to Isabella McConde at Chesley, Ontario, and the two came to Iosco county the following year.

For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson resided at East Tawas where Mr. Ferguson was employed in the lumber industry. In 1905 he established a grocery and meat market at Tawas City which he continuously operated until about two months ago.

During his long business career here he acquired many friends throughout the Northeastern Michigan area who held him in high esteem, and customers and neighbors will miss him at the market.

Mr. Ferguson served Tawas City as mayor in 1913-1914 and was register of deeds for this county from 1918 to 1920. He was a member of Tawas City Lodge, F. & A. M. and Baldwin Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mrs. Ferguson died April 25, 1943. In July, 1945, he married Ida Thomas who survives him. He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. W. Tuttle of this city; two sons, George Ferguson of Saginaw and Douglas of this city; six grandchildren, five brothers, George Ferguson of Warton, Ontario, William Ferguson of Ft. Williams, Ontario, Thomas Ferguson of Uxbridge, Ontario, and Douglass Ferguson of Lethbridge, Alberta and Neil Ferguson of Bay City.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Tawas City Baptist church. Rev. Paul Dean officiated. Last rites were given under the auspices of Tawas City Lodge, F. & A. M. Interment was in the Tawas City cemetery.

Kissimmee
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beardslee, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Colby, Mrs. Josie Bancroft, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Keiser and Mrs. John Dillon.

Bolen-Stewart

In a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Robert F. Neuman in the rectory of St. Joseph church, Saturday, January 25, at five o'clock, Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Bolen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bolen of Alabaster, became the bride of Philip G. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Stewart of Detroit.

The bride wore a beige gabardine dressmaker suit with a delicate pink plumed hat. Her accessories were black.

As her sister's bridesmaid, Miss Rosemary Bolen wore a royal blue suit with a winter white hat. Her corsage was pink and white rosebuds and her accessories were also black.

Robert Stewart of Detroit was his brother's best man.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue crepe dress with a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds.

A wedding reception and dinner at the Barnes Hotel for forty relatives and friends followed the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with pink and white snapdragons and centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

After a motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home in Detroit where the groom attends the University of Detroit.

Out of town guests for the wedding came from Detroit, Unionville, Bay City, AuGres and Twining.

20th Century and Garden Clubs to Show Movie

Under joint sponsorship of 20th Century Club and Tawas City Garden Club there will be a public showing of the Kodachrome film, "A Year in the Old Dirt Dobbers Garden." The clubs have invited the Rural Study, Literary and Garden Clubs of East Tawas to be guests that evening. This interesting picture will be shown at the Tawas City High School Assembly Hall, next Monday evening, February 3rd at 8:00 p. m.

All persons interested and loving gardening are urged to attend and enjoy the picture. There is no charge, as the film was made by the Ferry Morse Seed Co. as part of their advertising campaign.

AAA to Hold 1947 Program Meetings

Meeting Scheduled for Each Community

Meetings are being held during the month of February in each township of the county for the purpose of signing farmers up under the 1947 AAA program. Anyone intending to participate in the year's program should attend one of these meetings scheduled for their township. Below is the meeting schedule for the county.

Oscoda township—February 6, 1:00 p. m. - 4:00 p. m.
Fertilizers and liming materials will again be available through the AAA office as in the past. An order blank must be signed in the county office before an order is placed on file. Order materials early to insure delivery by the time needed.

K. of C. News

A Knights of Columbus initiation will be held Sunday, February 2, at Bay City.

The initiation will begin at 11:00 o'clock and will be followed by a banquet at the Wenona Hotel. Bishop Murphy of Saginaw will be the principal speaker.

The candidates from the council here will be Richard Wood, Anthony Nelkie, James Quarters and Albert Paco. All members of Council No. 2709 are invited to attend.

About 30 members of Tawas council, attended the pork sausage supper sponsored by West Branch council, Knights of Columbus.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the neighbors and friends for the kindness received during our bereavement.

Tawas City Elks Lose to Oscoda 27-32

St. Bernards of Alpena To Play Tawas City At Gym Tonight

After winning the reserve game 22 to 16 and the Girl's game 25 to 13, the Elks varsity suffered a defeat at the hands of the Oscoda Varsity 32 to 27, last Friday night in the Owls home roost.

The Elks came out fighting on the first whistle, but that was as far as they got, with the Owls hitting the hoop for eight points in the first quarter, while the Tawas boys registered a lowly two points. They racked up eight more points in the second quarter, but their Oscoda rivals followed right behind gaining seven points. Both teams dropped eight points through the hoop in the third quarter. In the fourth and last quarter as in the third quarter, both teams dropped in nine points with one team making a basket only to have the other team drop one into his basket before the team's defense was set.

Jack Matthews, elusive forward for Oscoda, collected 13 points on six field goals and a foul shot. He was closely followed by May and La Veck with ten and nine points respectively.

Westcott led the Tawas team with eight points, while Lansky followed with seven markers.

Both teams were evenly matched, the only time in the game in which Oscoda outscored their rivals was in the first quarter when they jumped off to a six point lead, which was enough to settle the issue.

This game was Oscoda's first sweet taste of victory this season, with East Tawas, Hale and Harrisville tramping over them.

Tonight the Elks will meet the strong St. Bernard's team from Alpena.

Reserves Win 22 to 16
After losing their first three starts this season, the Elks Reserve team have been battering down all opposition to face them, extending their string of victories to six in a row after defeating Oscoda 22 to 16. (Continued No. 4, Back Page)

Stephen Nisbet in College Who's Who

Stephen Robert Nisbet of this city, a senior student at Alma college has been placed among the eleven students listed from Alma in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges for the Year 1946-47." The announcement was made recently by the editorial staff of the publication. The young man is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James Nisbet of Tawas City.

The names were selected by senior and junior class members, and then approved by a faculty board of review. Selection was made on the basis of character, scholarship and leadership in extra curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society. Juniors, seniors, and students in advanced work are eligible.—Freemont Times Indicator.

March of Dimes Report

The Ladies Auxiliary of Oscoda sent a check for $180.25 to the Iosco March of Dimes Committee. It was the complete returns from a party held by the Auxiliary.

Nathan Barkman, chairman reports the receipts to date amount to $589.36. Money collected by school children and returns from boxes will increase the amount to $800.00 it is thought.

Jas. Mielock Drain Commissioner

Succeeds Schroeder Who Resigned

James P. Mielock of Reno, prominent Iosco county farmer, was appointed Iosco county drain commissioner to succeed George W. Schroeder, who had resigned on account of poor health.

Appointment in case of vacancy in county offices is made by a committee consisting of the judge of probate, prosecuting attorney and county clerk. Judge H. Read Smith, County Clerk R. H. McKenzie and Prosecuting Attorney Herbert Hertzler made the appointment Wednesday morning.

RUSSIAN MANEUVERING

WASHINGTON. — Despite our improved relations with Russia, something very peculiar is going on regarding the key island of Spitzbergen up near the Arctic circle. The Russians have been exerting all sorts of pressure on Norway to militarize this strategic island, thus permitting them to use it as a military base.

There is only one objective for a base on Spitzbergen — offensive action against the United States. From it rocket bombs probably could hit New York.

The United States happened to learn of the Russian - Norwegian maneuvers because we are a party to a 1920 treaty with Norway, England and Russia, by which Spitzbergen is not to be used as a military base. In order to militarize the island, therefore, it is necessary to change the treaty.

TRUMAN SHAKES HANDS

One ordeal of every President is shaking hands at official receptions. Recently President Truman stood in line while 1,400 members of the diplomatic corps, plus their wives, filed by to greet him.

Truman considers receptions for congress or the army and navy bad enough, but he especially dreads diplomatic receptions where he cannot always catch foreign names.

After shaking hands so fast he barely was able to glimpse faces, the President looked up to see retiring White House assistant Eddie Locke, with his wife.

"Why, Eddie!" Truman said laughingly. "Thank God here's someone whose name I can pronounce."

"Sh-h-h," said Mrs. Truman.

UNFAILING GOOD HUMOR

Every White House caller these days comes out of the inner sanctum remarking on how well and high-spirited President Truman looks. Expecting him to appear bowed and discouraged by the weight of his office, they remark: "He doesn't seem to have a care in the world."

Even during the middle of the coal strike, when Truman cabinet members were worried sick over the economic consequences to the country, White House callers came out to report that the President seemed to be in fine fettle.

One unofficial explanation is that, since November, the President feels that the Republicans have removed part of his responsibility of leadership from his shoulders. No matter what he does, it can't be right in GOP eyes; therefore, he might as well be philosophical about it.

Another explanation is that, since November, Truman feels he is no longer under any obligation to carry on the Roosevelt New Deal program. The November balloting showed that the majority of the people wanted a change, argue some White House advisers, so Truman has a mandate to desert the Roosevelt program for his own.

JIMMIE BYRNES' WHISKERS

Retiring Secretary of State Jimmie Byrnes has had so many tough diplomatic battles that even in his spare time he can't forget he's not tussling with Russians.

The other morning, Byrnes took his wire-haired terrier "Whiskers" out for a stroll, during which the dog started barking angrily at another pup. Said Byrnes: "Stop that, Whiskers — that isn't Molotov."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

President Truman has turned down ambassador to Brazil Bill Pawley's bid to be assistant secretary of state for air. . . . Astute senate secretary, Leslie Biffle, will act as top liaison man between the administration and GOP congressional leaders. Biffle will handle all patronage for the White House. He will make all the deals with the Republicans on GOP appointments to executive department jobs and will have the final say on Democratic nominations to vacancies.

'DON'T GET UPSET'

Soaring Winter Accident Toll Sparks Plea for Safe Driving

WNU Features.

CHICAGO.—When pelting snow and treacherous ice clog the highways, "don't get upset." That is the plea of National Safety Council in its campaign to reduce the hazards of winter driving.

On an average, two-thirds of the cold weather mishaps last winter occurred on snowy or icy roads, it is revealed in a special study of winter traffic accidents recently completed by four typical snow-belt states in co-operation with the safety council. States making the special accident analysis were Connecticut, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

This fact, combined with the knowledge that traffic death rates in the northern half of the United States increase from 24 to 53 per cent in winter as compared with summer, prove the need for greater driver caution in winter months, the council said.

Mishaps Increase. Inadequate traction and poor visibility are the special hazards which send winter accident rates soaring, according to Prof. Ralph A. Moyer of Iowa State college, chairman of the council's committee on winter driving hazards. Moyer recommends that vehicles which must be operated under severe snow and ice conditions be equipped with tire chains and devices to aid visibility, such as windshield wipers, defrosters or frost shields and good lighting equipment. "Modern methods of distribution, vital to our economy, require that commercial vehicles and many passenger cars operate in all kinds of weather," he said, "and the amount of such traffic is increasing. The greater the number of vehicles on the road the more need there is for improved winter road maintenance, safety equipment for the vehicles, and extra care on the part of drivers."

Lists Driving Rules.

He urged drivers to follow these rules, which are based on actual winter driving tests on frozen Michigan lakes:

DON'T SKID YOURSELF!

1. When starting out, get the "feel" of the road by lightly applying brakes while driving slowly and when no other vehicles are near.
2. Reduce your speed so that you can stop in time in an emergency. Ice may be found on bridges or on shaded sections of an otherwise clear road surface.
3. Don't jam on your brakes suddenly. Apply them lightly and intermittently to avoid a skid.
4. Keep windshield clear of snow and ice outside, fog and frost inside.
5. Use tire chains on ice and snow. They may reduce braking

- ing distance as much as 40 or 50 per cent and provide needed "go" traction.
6. Synthetic rubber tires, equal or better than natural rubber in many respects, do not provide quite as much stop-and-go traction on snow or ice.
7. Remember days are short. Plan your trip for as much daylight driving as possible.
8. Deflating or "softening" tires will not add to your safety, and it will cause excessive tire wear.
9. Beware of carbon monoxide fumes. Never warm up a car in a closed garage, and check exhaust system, floor boards and manifold-type heaters for leaks.

Majority of War Veterans Finding Jobs or in School

WASHINGTON.—Of the 13,030,000 men veterans discharged during the last 16 months, only 700,000 are listed as unemployed, according to a labor department survey of veterans' status. An additional 550,000 are listed as on vacation, unable to work or retired.

Nearly 12 million of the veterans now are employed, in training, or in school or college, the survey discloses. Of this number, 1,100,000 men veterans of World War II are enrolled in educational institutions. Two major tasks for the future are emphasized in the report. The first is to find better jobs for many veterans who have demonstrated a desire for jobs with advancement. The other is to find jobs for the student veterans as they are graduated.

Woman Has Studied All School's Courses

PITTSBURGH, PA.—School bells still ring for Mrs. Margaret Dick, 62. When she moved to Pittsburgh from New Jersey 29 years ago, Mrs. Dick longed for new friends and, at her husband's suggestion, she enrolled in night school.

A student ever since, Mrs. Dick has exhausted the curricula of two night schools. She has studied bookkeeping, chemistry, dressmaking, cooking, public speaking, millinery and commercial law.

Vet Quotes Bible in Plea to Truman

HAWTHORNE, N. J.—By quoting the Bible, Charles Quatt, former soldier, hopes to enlist the aid of President Truman in getting his German bride, whom he married secretly in 1945 in Regensburg, Bavaria, into this country. "I put it up to you, Mr. President," Quatt said he wrote. "Did I do anything that was not correct according to any concept of morals, common sense or the Holy Bible. . . ."

Talk About Your Operation? Now Movie Shows It

NEW ORLEANS, LA.—No longer do you need to grope for words to describe your latest operation. Just have it photographed—even in technical, if you like.

W. Branks Stewart of New Orleans earns his living photographing operations. He'll do movies, stills or even paintings of your appendix.

Of course, Stewart does most of his work for doctors and for Louisiana State university medical school, where he works. If a surgeon finds something different in an operative case, he places a hurry call for Stewart, who photographs or sketches the operation. Sometimes doctors want new techniques recorded by the movie camera.

Stewart has all types of weird looking equipment to do his work. One of the special cameras takes a stereoscopic picture of the human eye. Another is a photomicrography instrument which takes pictures through a microscope.

Real Salesman

ROBINSON, ILL.—Marley Harrison reversed the usual procedure when he left the hospital after an operation and presented it with a bill. An appliance dealer, he used the time while he was recuperating to talk the staff into buying a deep freeze unit.

IN THESE U. S.

Unique Club In 'Big House' Helps Needy

ATLANTA, GA.—Ranking as one of the nation's most unique welfare organizations is the Atlanta Welfare club, operated by prisoners at the federal penitentiary here. The club collects nearly $150 a month from inmates of the prison, distributing it to needy cases on the "outside." Nearly 1,000 individuals have been helped since the club was formed. The amount of aid varies, one case requiring as little as $2.50; another, $50 overnight and additional help over several months.

An inmate's desire to help a destitute mother whose son had been killed overseas led to formation of the unique club. The mother was devoid of money until the insurance policy was settled. When the prisoner asked Warden Joseph W. Sanford for permission to send $10 to the mother, the story soon spread through the big institution and the prisoners determined to form the club as a means of aiding other worthy cases.

Eugene Goodwyn, chief parole officer, was selected by the prisoners to handle the accounting and other business matters. Miss Martha Denison, home service supervisor of the Atlanta Red Cross chapter, was delegated to find the needy cases. From the small pay they receive in prison industries, the inmates have collected more than $5,000 in a little more than three years.

Thief Sends $100 Easing Conscience Before Marriage

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.—Because he wanted to get married, a restless former soldier sent $100 to three Clarksburg residents to clear his conscience of a $40 theft committed here last September. The burglary of a local restaurant had remained unsolved until the letters were received from the soldier, who insisted on remaining anonymous.

In nearly identical penciled notes the soldier sent $60 to Frank H. Johnson, restaurant manager (the extra $20 was "interest"), $20 to W. C. Robertson, cashier of the restaurant, who was struck on the head during the robbery, "to pay your bill," and another $20 to Robert F. Hickman, city editor of the Clarksburg Exponent, "to pay for borrowing your car."

Explaining his actions, the writer said: "A returned soldier became restless, awful restless. He needed excitement, to hear bullets and shells whistle. . . . He realized his mistake and he settled down. But his conscience bothered him. "Mister, I'm trying to correct that before I marry. I can't get married and have that hanging over my head."

Million Pencils Is Collector's Goal

CHICAGO.—Add to your list of hobbies the pencil collector. William Hausman, 49, already has 25,000 of them and hopes to build his collection up to a million.

Hausman has pencils that look like guns, clothespins and flashlights. They vary in size from a quarter of an inch to 12 feet long. "And they all write," Hausman avers. "It doesn't count unless they write."

Life-termer Refuses To Stay Locked Out

GALVESTON, TEX.—A life-terminer in Galveston county jail cries like a baby every time they let him outside and forget to unlock the door so he can get back in. He's Butch, a Chesapeake Bay dog adopted as jail mascot when he was two days old. "He's here for life," says Jailor John Cranston. "He cries his eyes out every time we let him outside."

FUN AND SAFETY COMBINED . . . More than 300 young bicycle riders of Wilmington, N. C., turned out recently for the town's first "cyclocade"—ostensibly a wheeled outing, actually a sugar-coated lesson in safety. Parades, races and stunts, like the free-for-all pictured above, were held in the city stadium, but the events were interspersed with graphic demonstrations of the dangers in riding bikes. Wilmington police and safety leaders planned the cyclocade as part of a long-range program to slash increasing bike-auto accidents.

"Off We Go" AVIATION NOTES

AIRPORT CHATTER
An abandoned government building project, the former civilian conservation corps camp at Milford, Iowa, has been transformed into one of the largest private airports in the state. Stanley Fuller, who has been connected with aviation in northwest Iowa since 1918, bought the camp and buildings and an additional 107 acres. He built two runways, 2,640 and 3,660 feet long, converted some of the buildings into airport use and plans to build additional multiple-unit hangars. . . . Five Hefner, Tex., men banded together to purchase a 100 horsepower, two passenger Super Cruiser. The new ship brings to 12 the number of planes permanently hangered at Hefner. . . . Miller Lewis, 62-year-old full-blooded Seminole Indian from Seminole, Okla., ranks as the first member of his tribe to take an airplane ride. Following a recent hop at the Seminole municipal airport, Miller said, "It's hokay." . . . Something new in homes—front door on the highway and back door on an air strip—is claimed by Mr. and Mrs. Postelle Cooper of Deming, N. M. A hangar is built right into the house. A driveway connects the front door with the highway while the back door opens on a half-mile air strip from which Cooper, banker and insurance executive, flies to his appointments.

More than 44,000 persons, or approximately one out of every five employees in the aviation industry, are veterans of the army, navy, marines or merchant marine, Aircraft Industries association reveals. The 44,000 figure, taken from a recent survey of 14 major aircraft companies, includes more than 1,400 disabled or physically handicapped veterans now working in the industry.

REPRODUCE WEATHER

An army air force's testing laboratory is being built at Wright field, Dayton, Ohio, which will be able to reproduce the worst type of inclement weather encountered in any part of the world. When completed, the laboratory will be the country's most modern environmental testing facility.

The test branch of the air materiel command's equipment laboratory is charged with development and testing of more than 1,000 aircraft accessories, each of which must be capable of operating under any conceivable weather condition.

FLYING WING . . . Britain's first jet propelled flying wing, the Armstrong-Whitworth AW-52, was placed on display for the first time at Coventry, England. Rudders are on the wing tips and the engines are built into the wing itself.

DUAL-RATE SERVICE

Colombia, the mountain-studded South American nation that gave the western hemisphere its first commercial airline and its first airport, another revolutionary first in mail stamp, has chalked up another revolutionary first in commercial aviation. Aerovias Nacionales de Colombia (Avianca), noted the 27th anniversary of its founding by inaugurating the first dual-rate passenger service in airline history. De luxe (first class) and tourist (second class) service is offered.

THE SAGA OF MAN
1—Caveman digs a good cave. (Unassisted.)
2—He builds a stout club of bone and stones without clock or calendar. The "jungle-to-jungle" phase.
3—He takes up the battle for existence with one thought: survival and some occasional raw meat.
4—He makes himself the equivalent of a pair of shoes and is quite happy.
5—The perils of an uncivilized world make it tough. He sees a man about a stouter club.
6—Man progresses to a point where he is safe from annihilation by wild beasts. He thanks the ancient gods.
7—He turns shepherd and watches flocks by night, without any demand for overtime.
8—He spends a few generations evenly divided between toiling and fighting. He expresses thanks there is not more fighting. He discovers there are moments when he does NOT sweat. He sees a doctor.
9—He hears of Magna Carta and falls to his knees in gratitude.
10—He migrates on a frail bark and lands on a stern and rockbound coast. He thanks God.
11—He survives a tough winter by hard work, dauntless courage and extreme sacrifice. He sees a need for Thanksgiving.
12—He clears the fields of rocks, hacks down the trees and builds his cabin with his own hands, fighting bears and Indians on the side. He works from sunrise to sunset. He sees Injun chiefs about better peace treaties.
13—He fights every known adversary, even on Saturdays and Sundays.
14—He blazes a trail through a wilderness and across the mountains by covered wagon. He sees a man about a better gun.
15—He throws off the foreign yoke and rejoices in a chance to be free and independent.
16—He builds a nation with no thoughts of the long hours or the vacation period. The border-to-border phase.
17—He gets the 12-hour day and is glad to walk five miles to the shop if the job is steady.
18—The horse car comes in and he sees a man about getting it routed within a mile of the factory.
19—He gets the 10-hour day. The trolley car is invented. He sees a man about getting the car line to pass within 10 blocks of the factory. He succeeds. He is grateful.
20—He gets the eight-hour day and goes to work in his own flivver. He sees a man about getting a limousine.
21—He works the 40-hour week and goes to and from work in his imperial eight. He discovers there are moments when he DOES sweat. He sees an organizer.
22—He discovers he has to leave the car at the gate. The portal-to-portal phase. His feet ache. He sees a chiroprapist.
23—He sees his lawyer.
24—He sues for portal-to-portal pay.

Small-Home Planning, Financing, Building

HOME PLANNING HINTS
Old House—New Face
WITH building materials for new homes still scarce, it's often good sense to face-lift an old house. Make sure before going ahead, however, that the structure is sound.
And how about the interior of your house? Is it dated by dark woodwork, ugly exposed radiators, ungainly archways? Often a few simple improvements can change the whole appearance of your home.
Whether you're planning to build, buy or remodel a home, our Reader Service booklet will give you many valuable suggestions. Illustrations galore! Send 25¢ coin for "Small Home Planning, Financing, Building" to Weekly Newspaper Service, 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title.

Look! Muffins Made With Mincemeat!

Easy on shortening and sugar, too!
Kelllogg's toasted All-Bran and mincemeat taste like Christmas cake!
1 cup Kelllogg's All-Bran 1 egg
½ cup milk 1 cup sifted flour
1 cup prepared mincemeat 3 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons shortening ½ teaspoon salt
Combine Kelllogg's All-Bran, milk and mincemeat. Let soak about 5 minutes. Blend shortening and sugar. Add egg; beat well. Stir in All-Bran and mincemeat. Add sifted dry ingredients. Stir only until liquid and dry ingredients are combined. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 12 delicious muffins.

WHY BE A SLAVE TO HARSH LAXATIVES?

Healthful Fresh Fruit Drink Has Restored Millions to Normal Regularity!
Here's a way to overcome constipation without harsh laxatives. Drink juice of 1 Sunkit Lemon in a glass of water first thing on arising.
Most people find this all they need — stimulates normal bowel action day after day!
Lemon and water is good for you. Lemons are among the richest sources of vitamin C, which combats fatigue, helps resist colds and infections. They supply valuable amounts of vitamins B1 and P. They pep up appetite. They alkalinize, aid digestion. Lemon and water has a fresh tang too—clears the mouth, wakes you up, starts you going.
Try this grand wake-up drink 10 mornings. See if it doesn't help you! Use California Sunkit Lemons.

Railroad Tickets Out of Slot Machines

The Pennsylvania railroad is installing an automatic ticket vending machine. You drop in your money and out comes your transportation, like gum, peanuts or cigarettes.
This brings to the weary railroad traveler a sigh of relief unheard of since the wood-burning locomotive days. At last it is demonstrated that it is possible for a traveler to get a railroad ticket without any manifestations of boredom, indifference or slow motion.

MOUNTING PRICES ARE RESULT OF CUMULATIVE WAGE BOOSTS
DOLLARS ARE WORTH only what they will buy. Ever-cheapering dollars do not make for a higher standard of living. Labor and management are playing at cross purposes, and the American people are paying the penalty.

Enforcement of ceiling prices was practical only so long as ceilings covered cost of production, which means wages, as well as covering prices of what was produced. It was not a question as to how the wages were secured, whether as an increase per hour, or by shortening the hours and increasing the high-priced overtime.

Wages are a major part of production cost. When they are pushed upward without a proportionate increase in volume of production, prices of commodities must go up, or industry stops. Capital and management refuse to operate at a loss. Capital will continue to meet the wage and hour demands of labor so long as those ever-increasing demands may be offset by higher prices for commodities. That means inflation spelled in capital letters. That is what we have today.

We are facing an ever-increasing amount of such inflation, for which we, the American people, are paying, and which will break us as a nation, and as individuals.

BUYERS' STRIKE ONLY WAY

There is one way by which we, the American people, could stop that deadly process. We could quit buying. We faced much the same situation following the close of World War I. In 1921 the people went on a buyers' strike. High-priced merchandise could not be sold. People would not buy. When sales stopped, industry stopped producing. Workers lost their high-priced jobs. A short-lived depression followed.

That was bitter medicine, but it effected a cure. It brought us back to a somewhere near normal condition. With less wages, paid in dollars that would buy more, industry could produce at a price the people could pay, and the standard of living was not affected. The wild and senseless race between wages and prices had been stopped.

For the farmer, who had speculated in high-priced land on the basis of the soaring prices of farm products, it meant disaster. The lower prices would not pay off the mortgage on the high-priced acres he had purchased. During World War II the farmer did not speculate in land as he did in World War I. A buyers' strike will affect him by reducing his take from his farm products, but he does not have the mortgage to worry about. In the end he will profit, as will all America, from lower prices on the things he buys. In the meantime the farm will provide the necessities of living.

Rather than have the race of wages and prices continue to a point of runaway inflation, we had better choose, as the lesser of two evils, a temporary depression. We can produce that by a buyers' strike.

CONSUMER PAYS AND PAYS

MORE THAN A YEAR AGO I ordered a new automobile. It has not been delivered, and I do not know when it will be. If it were delivered today the price I would pay is just $600 more than the price at the date of my order. That difference is increased wages. It not only is the increase in wages to the men on the assembly lines in automobile plants, but also includes thousands who have only an indirect part in the building of that car. Among these are the men who mine the iron ore, those who transport it, by rail and boat, to the mills and those who transform the ore into the iron ingots and steel plate. Then those who mine and transport the coal and limestone needed in the manufacture of steel indirectly help to raise the price of automobiles. Out of that $600 is paid an increased wage to those who transport the steel and other materials to the car building plants, to those who transport the completed cars from the plant to the agency with which I placed my order, and to the employees of that agency. All of these, and more, take a bite or nibble out of the $600 that I, the consumer, must pay. Little or none of it remains with the concerns that, directly or indirectly, produced the car. What is true of automobiles is also true of other things. Wages go up and prices go up. It is you and I and the other fellow, the consumer, who pay the wages.

THE LENGTHENING DAYS, each minute they add to the daylight hours adds to our vitality and hopes. The brightness of spring is coming, and the glorious days of summer are not far away. Such is the meaning to those who have passed all their allotted birthdays.

THERE are radios in the homes of more than 7,000,000 American families, and each family tries to out-Jones the Joneses in the matter of noise.

HOME OF TOMORROW FOR TODAY . . . How awning windows lend distinction to the modern home is shown in this attractive example of the modern home. Originally favored in the South, use of awning windows has spread rapidly to all parts of the country. Interior views of the modern home, as shown above, are part of display of the Association of Home Builders exposition at Chicago. Prospective homeowners are demanding cabinet showers in the house of tomorrow for today.

LARGEST IRRIGATION DEVELOPMENT . . . Columbia Basin project in Eastern Washington is taking shape. This is an artist's impression of how some of the structures in the vicinity of Coulee City will appear when completed. Stretching for nearly two miles across the famed Upper Grand Coulee is the South Coulee dam, which will help form a 27-mile reservoir for the million-acre irrigation development. The dam will carry U. S. Highway 10-A across its top. The land will be farmed by 12,000 to 15,000 families, veterans and others.

SAVES SISTER . . . Running out of her home in Orange, N. J., when she heard her mother scream, "Fire," Margaret Boccino, 7, realized that her sister, Angelina, 14 months, was still inside. Margaret rushed back to the first floor, where the flames were spreading, saved the baby. She is demonstrating here how she saved her sister—who apparently does not appreciate either the demonstration or the photographer.

THEY LABOR FOR LOVE . . . Two lovely ladies, Ethel Hester, left, Washington, D. C., and Mary Haddox, Moundsville, W. Va., labor for love each and every day at the capitol and are being paid for it. The girls, by the way, are secretaries to new Republican congressman, Francis J. Love, center, of West Virginia. Both girls plan to make their jobs career jobs and are hard at work discovering—or trying to—what makes politicians.

ANGEL OF BELSEN . . . Mrs. Sucher Frydrych, the former Luba Tryszynska, who won the title of "Angel of Belsen," when she nursed 65 Dutch children back to health after they had been stricken with typhus at Nazi concentration camp, shown on arrival in the United States. The heroic girl was decorated by the Netherlands government and others.

MOST POPULAR . . . For the third consecutive year, Bing Crosby has been voted the screen's most popular actor by the film audiences of the nation. The selection was made largely upon his work in "The Bells of St. Mary's."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS THE GIVER OF LIFE

LESSON TEXT—John 4:46-51; 5:2-9; 11:11-13.

MEMORY SELECTION—I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.—John 11:25.

The miracles of God, through his servants and the Lord Jesus Christ, are not mere marvels or wonders. They are not for the advancement of the cause of any man or for personal glory. They are the mighty signs of an omnipotent God wrought for the good of men, for their spiritual enlightenment and as a testimony to the one true God. Jesus is the giver of life; first and most important, of spiritual life, but also of physical life and health.

Leaving Samaria after his blessed work there, our Lord went up into Galilee, where he met many simple-hearted folk who were ready to believe. Here he was able to work miracles of healing and of grace.

I. A Sick Boy Made Well (John 4:46-51).

A nobleman's son was sick. Ah, yes, affliction and sorrow come to the home of the rich as well as the poor. Death comes to the young as well as the old. In fact, the first grave dug in this world was for a young man.

But it is also true that affliction may be, in God's hand, a means of blessing. This son's sickness sent his father to Jesus, and resulted ultimately in the salvation of the entire household (v. 53).

There is another helpful lesson here—our Lord's Word is as good as his presence. The man asked Jesus to come, but he sent his word instead. It was accepted, believed, and completely effective.

How blessed for us who may not have the physical presence of the Lord to recall the potency of his Word. When he says it, believe it!

II. A Lame Man Made Whole (John 5:2-9).

Back in Jerusalem at the Feast of Purim, a time of joy and gift giving, our Lord found his way to the pool of Bethesda where there were misery and disease. His compassionate heart sent him there to help and to bless.

"Impotent folk"—the words well describe not only those who lay helpless about the pool of Bethesda, but they fit us as well. Oh, yes, we are strong, capable, fearless, but only until we meet some great elemental problem. Then we see that we are indeed "a great multitude of impotent folk." The silent fog can paralyze a nation. Death, sickness—who can stay their hand?

Long familiarity with his weakness had bred in the man with the infirmity a sense of despair. Such an attitude invites defeat. It is unbecoming to a Christian. Let us not forget in the darkest hour to "keep looking up."

Jesus told the man to "rise and walk"—the very thing he could not do for his 38 years of life. But when the Son of God speaks to us he gives the power to respond to his command.

III. A Dead Friend Made Alive (John 11:11-13).

The fact that Jesus is our Friend and our Saviour does not exempt us from human sorrow, but it does assure us of the needed grace to bear the trial and to trust him even in life's darkest hour.

Lazarus, the friend of Jesus, was sick. The home in which Jesus had found rest and fellowship was in deep trouble. Jesus was no longer in Judea. In haste, word is sent to him of his friend's illness. But he did not come.

Why does he delay? Such is the heart cry of thousands today who call on him in their hour of trouble. The purposes of God are beyond our ability fully to understand. We need only to trust him and abide his time.

Notice that his failure to respond at once to the message of Lazarus' sisters did not mean that he had deserted them (11:4-6). Nor did it mean that he had denied them his help (v. 7). Lazarus may have been dead before the word reached him. He may also have delayed in order that there might be no question about the resurrection miracle. And he may have tarried in order that their faith might be strengthened.

Above all, do not fail to notice that he came. He always does. Jesus has never failed any child of his. The time and the manner of his answer to our prayers may not conform to our opinion of what should have been done, but let us remember that we know only in part. He knows all. Let us trust him. In his darkest hour Job said: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him" (Job 13:15).

He called Lazarus forth from the sleep of death. Even so he calls sinners forth from their spiritual death into glorious eternal life! The life-giver, our Lord and Saviour, is here now ready to give life to everyone who will call on his name. Will you?

Graceful Daytimer

A VERY graceful and flattering daytime dress for the more mature figure. The diagonal scalloped closing is edged in narrow ruffling, and see how the gathers soften the slim skirt. Pattern provides short or three-quarter sleeves. Add two flower shaped buttons for trim.

Pattern No. 1589 comes in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 34, 4 3/4 yards of 35-inch fabric; 1/2 yard purchased ruffling.

Household Hints
If you like the warm gleam of copper, you'll be glad to know that glowing copper molds, pans and kettles are again being shown in the stores. For kitchen decoration nothing is as fitting and charming as the friendly warmth of shining copper. Picture an arrangement of molds over your gas range or a grandmother kettle on your shelf.

Potatoes boiled in their jackets hold twice as much vitamin C and three times as much vitamin B1 as baked potatoes contain.

Throw an old potato sack or two in the car trunk. Excellent to place under the rear wheels when stuck on an icy spot.

If wax paper sticks together put it in the refrigerator for a few minutes and it will loosen.

A south-facing window cuts winter's heating costs to greater degree than an east-facing one and is easier to shade in summer. In one winter season, a modern house with 100 square feet of south-facing window area will save as much as a full ton of high grade anthracite coal.

YOU'LL need very little fabric for this pretty and oh so practical bib apron. It requires just one yard of colorful material in the smaller sizes. Three rows of bright braid finish the bodice top and nice sized pocket.

Pattern No. 1586 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42 and 44. Size 16, one yard of 35 or 38-inch; 6 yards binding. ## This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Wonderful

No Cooking. So Easy. Saves Dollars.
To get the most surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—a child could do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat for quick results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, and pour it into a pint bottle. Fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough syrup—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a long time.

And it gives quick relief. It acts in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Editorial

Scene—A basketball game.
Place—Any school gym.
Time—Any time when opposing team is leading.

Characters—Students, alumni, and fans of trailing team.

Plot—The ref makes a decision against the losing team. "Boo!" yells Tommy. "We want a new ref," yells Suzzie. "We're playing a six man team," yells Joe Alumnus. "S-s-s-s-s!" yells Mr. and Mrs. John Fan.

Needs to carry on with the story. The same thing takes place time after time until the game is over. Then the losing team's fans leave the scene of action, grumbling, placing all the blame on the ref, and referring to their team as "they."

This is one example of sportsmanship—poor sportsmanship. It never occurs to some that the team could have one off night, and that the blame wasn't to be placed on the referee. Even if he is to blame, all of his decisions are to be accepted regardless. No matter what was to blame, the team should always be supported. If they lose that's hard on them. It just makes things worse for them to have to accept the ridicule which they have to listen to.

A school is judged by its students. If the students are good sports, the school has a good name. You say, "What good does it do us to be good sports if the alumni and fans contribute boos and hisses?" You set the good example and find out for yourself. If the others see you, they'll realize just how foolish they look and are acting and they'll soon follow the good example you place before them.

VOL. I TAWAS CITY, MICH, JANUARY 31, 1947 NO. 1

NO DROP IN FEED PRICES FORECAST

No drop in the feed prices is the forecast of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Feed grains and byproduct feeds are expected to strengthen and average higher during late winter and spring.

All our KASCO Feeds come in dress print bags.

SHORTER FATTENING PERIODS FOR CATTLE

Feeding cattle are going through shorter than usual fattening periods and as a result marketings are liberal.

Step up your milk profits from your own grain, fed with KASCO 32 per-cent Dairy Concentrate.

This Week's Joke—

Two friends were riding on a bus when one noticed that the other had his eyes closed. "Whats the matter Mike?" he asked. "Don't you feel good?" "I feel fine," answered Mike, "but I just can't bear to see women standing."

Keep production in 'High Gear' with Kasco Egg Producer.

NEW INVENTIONS—

Push button parking has been the dream of many motorists and is now a reality with the new "Park-O-Mat" which automatically places an automobile in any desired stall of a garage.

For easy tractor riding comfort, ride on the Monroe hydraulic E-Z Ride Seats. To fit any tractor.

Farm Facts—

Favorable feeding ratios are to continue into the fall of 1947 according to U. S. Department of Agriculture officials.

We pay cash cream for Cream.

WE HAVE—

Manure Loader for H or M Farmall Tractor. Manure Loader for John Deere B tractor. Two row Cultivator for Farmall F-12 or 14. McCormick Deering 5 ft., 2 horse Mower. Farmall A tractor or Mower.

LAST LOVER

BY Helen Topping Miller

Julia (Dooley) McFarlane's husband, Richard, disappeared in World War I, leaving her with two children. She and her father-in-law, John I. McFarlane, have tried in vain to find some trace of Richard, either dead or alive. Twenty-five years later Ric is 27 and serving in the army of World War II while Jill, 26, professes an interest in Spang Gordon, a young lieutenant. Julia still clings to the belief that Richard may yet be alive and refuses to have him declared legally dead. Her greatest worry is that her daughter might marry Spang, thus becoming an army wife, subject to the same grief she has endured for a quarter of a century without word of Richard.

CHAPTER II

Julia twisted her hands together. "John I.," she began abruptly, "Ric didn't have a furlough when he came home. He traded for some other man's pass. Jill told me."

The old man's mustache twitched. "I suppose if they put him in the guard-house you'd send him a fruit-cake with a file in it!"

"If they put him in the guard-house his chances for a commission are gone."

"Might be a good thing. Being a buck private might be good for him." He stood up, glared down at her fiercely. "Dooley, you spoiled that boy!"

"I know," Julia said heavily, "but he was—all I had! He needed me. Jill didn't. She was always self-sufficient, like you."

"She's a McFarlane. The McFarlanes stand on their own feet. But that young Richard—he's another—"

"Don't say it, John I.," Julia begged, pain in her eyes. "We've put that bitterness away. Don't let it come alive again."

"But it is coming alive again, whether you want it or not. I've seen it for years. I warned you that that boy was growing up like his father."

"I was his mother," Julia reminded him.

"I've heard that, too!" Anger, swift and dark, rode the old man's face. He rose and towered, though he was four inches shorter than she. "For years I heard that. And I wasn't strong enough to defeat it. So now this thing starts all over again. Here's another McFarlane wearing the uniform of his country and wearing no honor with it."

Julia smiled dryly, without mirth. "Do I hear a big wind blowing? Who hid the switches, I'd like to know, when he was little, when I'd cut stout ones and laid down the law? Who sneaked upstairs with suckers and gingerbread? You needn't roar, John I. I know you like a book."

"Dooley," he said grimly, "no matter what you say, I'm going to court next term and file that paper. I've listened to you long enough. You've got a right to a life of your own, and I'm going to see that you have it."

Julia's face drained swiftly, and out of the whiteness her eyes were embers.

"No. No, John I. I won't let you do it."

He twisted his mouth. "You can't stop me if I want to do it."

Julia's voice came, hoarse and thin. "I think I can stop you. And I will!"

"He's been gone twenty-five years. If he were legally dead, everything would be cleared up. You're a fool—a weak, sentimental fool!"

"All right," she sighed, "I'm a fool. Leave it like that, John I."

She walked away, setting her boots down firmly.

John I. watched her go, frowning. A beautiful woman, a fine woman, too good for that worthless man she had married, the man who had been his own son.

"I'll do it anyway!" he said aloud. Then he leaned back and thumbed tobacco into his pipe.

Dave Patterson rode his horse slowly across the great dam. On his right the power lake slept, silvery and flat under the stars, a skittish young bass flinging himself as an offering to the frail platinum moon and falling back to mint great coins of shadowy quicksilver.

A Remarkable Woman Is Julia

At the lower end of the lane young pigs got up and skittered away hysterically when the horse snorted at them. Every fence post glistened white, and beyond the wire the dew shone on rectangular roofs of rows of low houses. The homely farm smell was definite now, the mixture of pigs and hay and froggy cattle-pod that gave Dave a feeling of nostalgia. A naked bulb burned above a gate, shadowed by dark old trees, and Dave got down and passed through closed it carefully, walking across the shorn, quiet grass to the house.

Behind high windows soft lights glowed, and the house itself loomed starkly white under the aged trees. Dave remembered the way it had looked so long ago. Old and faded, the mortar melting sadly from between the tired bricks, a little shelf of a porch with spindly railings sagging. Now it was pillared and restored and proud, with a sweep of drive between ivied stone posts and the fanlight above the door gleaming.

Julia McFarlane had done all that. Born a McFarlane and married to a distant cousin of the same name, she had dragged the old place back from desuetude alone, except for the fumbling, peppery encouragement of old John I. McFarlane. Julia was slender and calm and merry, but indomitable with it, and for a long time, longer than he liked to reckon, Dave Patterson knew that he had been in love with her.

Not that he had let her know. To Dooley he was good old Dave, whose farm and handsome old brick house had been swallowed up by the encroaching power project, who was a bit bewildered now, uprooted from the land that Pattersons had farmed for generations, trying to find himself again by running a bank and not being very happy at it. He was forty-seven and thinning on top, and one knee was stiff so the army would not have him, and his first wife had been dead for so long that her memory had faded to a small, silvery shadow.

"I could get lost mighty easy in these hills."

He crossed the porch and opened a french door without knocking, and instantly a young man in the tan breeches and olive-drab blouse of the Air Corps, with a silver bar on his shoulder, jumped to his feet. A dark young man, his hair cut short and disciplined with difficulty, with a good pair of honest blue eyes.

"Hello," Dave said, "I thought you were Ric at first. I thought he must have got his shoulder-warder mighty quick."

"How do you do, sir?" The soldier showed very white teeth in a quick smile. "I'm Spencer Gordon. I used to be a friend of Ric's—before the war."

When Old Friends Get Together

"Before you got those?" Dave grinned and indicated the silver bars. "Now, no friendship with men in the ranks, eh? Old military protocol. I'm Dave Patterson. Lived on the next place till the TVA drowned me out. So you're in the air, are you?"

"Not now. They grounded me for a while to teach aerodynamics in T.S.—that's technical school, sir. But I have my wings, and I hope to be back in the air before long."

"I assume you're here to see Jill?"

"Yes." Young Gordon flushed. "I met Jill at Ridley Field two weeks ago, but Ric and I were in college together. Seems like a century ago. We're going to some dance, I think."

"Met Jill's mother yet?"

"Yes, sir, she's upstairs helping Jill dress. I met the grandfather, too. He's out somewhere now tending a sick pig."

"A sick pig is a catastrophe on this place. The McFarlanes raise the finest hogs in Tennessee."

"My people were farmers, too, Mississippi. Cotton mostly. But my father and mother died when I was very young."

"What's Ric doing now?" Dave asked. "Is he going to try for the cadet corps?"

"He washed out, I think—some minor point or other. Now he's trying for officer's school, so I hear. I don't see him often. That's a big post down there, and you rarely hear much about a man unless he's in your own squadron." Young Gordon stopped abruptly as heels clicked on the polished stairs.

In the big mirror in the hall Dave could see the reflection of Jill coming down.

She paused at the door, and Dave saw the young lieutenant's throat twitch and his eyes glow as he sprang to his feet. Jill was the prettiest thing alive, Dave decided—but not beautiful as Julia was.

Jill said, "Hello, Dave. I didn't hear you come in. I thought Spang was down here alone hating me for being so slow."

"Are you Spang?" Dave asked. "I'm Spang. They hung that on me at college. You'll excuse us, sir, if we take off?"

Jill said, "We have to drive the station-wagon. It has plenty of B gas in it, but Dooley says to remember that the tires have to last all winter."

Spang took her elbow with a proud, proprietary air. "Good night, sir. Glad to have seen you." "You look very decorative, you two," Dave approved. "The military is at its best with something fluffy alongside."

"More pleasing to the eye, no doubt," Spang amended, "but not quite so effective as an oxygen mask and parachute. I hope you know where this dance is. Remember I'm a country boy from down the Delta. I could get lost mighty easy in these hills."

"Jill knows every hill," Dave told him.

"I should! I've hunted chinquapins on them and got chiggers on practically all of them."

"Have fun, kids," Dave went through the hall to the foot of the stairs. There he intoned in a firm, carrying voice, "I could just sit here and talk to myself. Or I could go home. Oh, hello, Dooley. I thought maybe you'd gone to bed."

Julia leaned over the banister. "At nine o'clock? I don't do that any more. I wake up at two a. m. and think too much. I'll be down in a minute."

She came presently, trailing a flowered chintz housegown. Her hair was roughened, her eyes looked a little shadowed. "This is my sixth change of costume for today," she sighed as she dropped into a chair.

"When are you going to ease off this strenuous business? And what you need is a drink."

"Not tonight, Dave. It stimulates me too much. I can't sleep. But fix one for yourself—and you can make one for John I., too. He'll be in presently. No ice for him—he hates having it bump against his mustache. As for this strenuous life, it won't be over soon, I fear. They put Foster's boy into One A today. I argued that he was essential, that we had to raise food for our army, but old Mr. Corbett—you know how pig-headed he is and always stiff with the letter of the law—asked me if I wanted to keep this farm for my children or let the Nazis have it."

Dave went to the kitchen, came back presently with two tall glasses. "So you revised your decision about letting Jill run around with the army?" he said.

"What can I do, Dave? She's a grown woman. I can't put her in a convent. She has to have fun. She's twenty-six years old. Sounds incredible, doesn't it? The span between two wars. Richard's last leave before he went over, and I was so young and so heart-torn and so terribly in love and so unhappy with it. I can't believe that that agonized, nineteen-year-old thing was I! Two babies, and no home, no husband, nothing—till you came and found me, and John I. brought me back here. I don't want anything like that for Jill. I don't want that loneliness for her, sitting at home, watching the mail, waiting, freezing with dread every time a messenger comes down the street. And I don't want her to have what I've had for twenty-five years—silence! Not even to know, not to be certain whether it was quite right either to grieve or to be resigned. But what can I do?"

"Nothing," Dave agreed. "We can't live other people's lives for them. No matter how much we love them. I'd like to live your life differently, if I could."

"But I like my life. What's wrong with it?"

"It's empty. Oh, I know what you're going to say. You've crowded it full of work and responsibility. You've raised Ric and Jill, and taken care of John I. and a few hundred pigs. You've made this farm a success, but what does it get you, Dooley—you, personally?"

"It gets me just that, Dave. Success. What else is there—what else beside accomplishment? Work that is of value, to me and to the world. What else is there?"

Dave Has His Little Secret

Dave could have said, "There's love, Dooley." But he knew he would not say it. Sometimes he was certain, wearily, that he would never say it.

He had loved Dooley for so long but even now, after a span of 25 uncertain years he had never mentioned it to her because he knew instinctively she would have drawn herself into a shell and their friendship, which had come to mean so much to both of them, would have become strained, possibly even ended.

He said, "Sometimes I think you're a wonderful woman, Dooley. And then there are times when I'm convinced that you're a sentimental idiot. Twenty-five years and not a word, and still you won't give up."

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Brisk Winter Days Stimulate Appetite For Substantial Food

A fluffy, golden browned casserole is ideal supper fare for cold nights. This one combines protein foods such as dried beef and eggs with the vegetable, which is whole kernel corn.

Make Hearty Meals

When the family comes tramping home on cold nights with the appetites of woodsmen, many a homemaker is put to the acid test of really filling them up with plenty of hearty, nourishing food.

Sometimes appetites seem endless, especially when the food is not suited to weather or to work and play, but there's an answer to all this. Hearty foods solve the puzzle best, so bring out the stews so rich in vegetables and inexpensive cuts of meat, casseroles with sauces and gravy and top them off with hunger-satisfying desserts. Don't forget the vegetables and fruits as these are an important cog in balancing the meal and rounding it out.

Another easy trick to take the edge off sharp appetites is to serve a piping hot soup of some kind just before dinner. This may be light or hearty depending upon the type of family you have. This, too, is economical because you can use bones from roasts or the carcass of a fowl from dinner and toss in some vegetables, and have enough soup for several days.

A soup is nice to serve before the following casserole. Top it off with a fruit salad and an easy-to-make pudding dessert, and you have the meal complete.

Corn-Chipped Beef Souffle.

- (Serves 6)
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 3/4 cup flour
- 1 cup milk
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 cup whole kernel corn
- 1 cup shredded chipped beef (about 3 ounces)

Melt butter, blend in flour and add milk. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Stir hot sauce into well beaten egg yolks, add corn and shredded beef. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, lightly but thoroughly. Turn into a six-cup casserole and bake in a moderate (325-350-degree) oven for one hour until a knife inserted comes out clean.

Salmon-Lima Bean Casserole.

- (Serves 6)
- 2 tablespoons diced onion
- 2 tablespoons fat
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tall can salmon
- 2 cups green lima beans, cooked
- 2 slices bread
- 2 teaspoons butter

Cook onion in fat until golden brown and tender. Add flour and blend. Stir in milk and salt. Cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Alternate layers of flaked salmon, lima beans (which have been drained) and white sauce in a greased casserole, ending with white sauce. Butter bread and cut in cubes. Sprinkle over top of casserole and bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes or until golden brown.

LYNN SAYS: Tricks for Homemakers Save Time, Energy

To prevent lumping, store brown sugar in a moist place, such as a breadbox. Confectioners' and powdered sugar may be stored in tightly covered containers.

The brownish color on the surface of used tin pans is tin oxide. This is a better conductor of heat than the tin, thus explaining why cakes brown so much more easily in used tins than new ones.

- Beverage
- *Recipe given.

*Lamb Stew, Parsley Dumplings.

(Serves 6)

Buy 2 1/2 pounds lamb shoulder, chuck or shank. Cut the meat in one-inch cubes, dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Season with salt and pepper and cover tightly after adding two cups of broth or water. Simmer slowly for 30 minutes and then add whole small sliced onions or sliced onion rings, sliced carrots, diced potatoes and 1 1/2 cups drained peas. Cover tightly and cook until vegetables are tender, about 45 minutes, adding more water or stock if necessary.

To make parsley dumplings, sift 2 cups of flour with 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder and 3/4 teaspoon pepper. Add 1 well beaten egg, 3 tablespoons melted butter and 3/4 cup milk. Mix to a moist stiff batter and add 3 tablespoons minced parsley. Drop by spoonfuls onto stew, cover closely and cook without lifting cover for 18 minutes.

Remove dumplings to platter and arrange with meat and vegetables. Thicken gravy in pan with flour-water paste. Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce and pour over stew. Serve at once.

How do you plan your desserts? Well, naturally you want them to go with your main dish, but consider their planning from another point of view also.

If you're using the oven, have a baked dessert to utilize heat to the fullest. If you're cooking a top-of-the-stove meal, make a refrigerator dessert so as not to use the oven for just one thing.

American Pudding.

- (Serves 6)
- 3/4 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 4 tablespoons shortening
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 3/4 cup milk
- 4 tablespoons currants
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
- 1 1/4 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup honey
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift flour, measure, then sift with baking powder. Cream one half of shortening, add sugar. Add milk and flour, alternately beating until smooth after each addition. Add currants and lemon rind. Turn into greased baking dish. Combine remaining shortening, honey, water and salt and pour over batter. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with cream.

This next recipe is truly a hasty pudding. It's quickly made and delicious, too, now that whipped cream and marshmallows, absent so long from our grocery shelves, are back with us again.

Make the most of your lamb stew by serving it in your prettiest deep platter with vegetables, parsley-flecked dumplings and tender morsels of lamb riding on top of the savory gravy.

*Hasty Pudding.

- (Serves 6)
- To one cup of whipped cream, add 1 cup brown sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Blend thoroughly. Add 15 graham crackers which have been broken into small pieces; 4 bananas, quartered and sliced, and 16 marshmallows which have been snipped with scissors into small pieces. Mix lightly and chill well before serving.

This hasty pudding can be dressed up beautifully for a company dinner in tall glasses and topped with a garnish of whipped cream and a dab of red jelly or jam or a cherry.

Valuable Library Brought Nearly 3 Million at Sale

The largest sum of money ever received from the sale of a private library in the United States was the $1,932,000 brought by the 14,588 lots of books and manuscripts of Robert Hoe auctioned in New York in 1911-1912, reports Collier's.

But the world's record sum was the $2,975,000 received for the collection of Samuel Christie-Miller which, in 13,707 lots, was sold in London between 1916 and 1927.

By GRANTLAND RICE

THE question has come up concerning the comparative value, merit and skill required in playing shortstop or second base. We put the problem up to Frankie Frisch, one of the greatest second basemen and one of the best all-around ball players in the annals of the game, also one of the smartest.

Honus Wagner

"Why is it," we asked the slightly graying Flash from Fordham, the Giants and the Cardinals on the playing side, "that there are so many star second basemen and so few outstanding shortstops?"

"Just how do you figure that out?" Frisch asked.

"Look over the list," we suggested. "At second we have Nap Lajoie, Eddie Collins, Rogers Hornsby, Frank Frisch, Charlie Gehringer, Johnny Evers—to mention only a few. There are still arguments as to which one of these is the greatest. But when you come to shortstops you reach out for a fellow named Honus Wagner—and you stop. Travis Jackson, Marty Marion, Beauty Bancroft, a few more—but not outstanding. Only Wagner."

"There are two answers to that," Frisch replied. "In the first place, Wagner was Wagner. A great shortstop—the greatest. He led his league seven years at bat. He could steal 50 or 60 bases a year. He could do everything. You may remember that John McGraw, before his death, ranked Wagner as the greatest ball player of all time. Over Cobb and Ruth. So does Ed Barrow. These two are not palookas. But I'll have to admit that outside of Wagner, while there have been fine shortstops, the game hasn't shown many great ones."

More Speed, Skill Needed

"One reason for this is that shortstop is a tougher job than second base is. You have to cover more ground. You need more speed and a better arm. You may have to throw from short left, on the grass, to first base—a longer throw than the third baseman has to make. But just why it is that no shortstop, outside of Wagner, could hit to match Lajoie, Collins, Gehringer, Hornsby and others, I couldn't tell you. There haven't been many hard-hitting shortstops who could hand you .340 or .350. Maybe they were too busy trying to cover all that ground."

"What about third base?" I asked Frisch. "Not as tough as short, not as tough as second. Less ground to cover."

Frisch couldn't go back quite far enough to cover all the great third basemen: Art Devlin of the Giants, Jimmy Collins of Boston, Bill Bradley of Cleveland and Buck Weaver of the White Sox—four of the greatest.

"What's the matter with Pie Traynor?" he asked. "Pie belongs with any third baseman." This is true. But there have been more good third basemen, for all-around value, than great shortstops. The same applies to first base. You can get arguments today over Hal Chase, George Sisler, Lou Gehrig, Frank Chance, Bill Terry and one or two others.

Must Be Heavy Hitter

"A first baseman has to hit," Frisch said. "Maybe Chase was the greatest fielding first baseman. But he couldn't hit with Sisler, Gehrig or Terry. A first baseman should be a power on attack. Of course, it helps when he also can field his job. Stuffy McInnis wasn't bad. He could cover that bag and still hit over .300. Stuffy was a great first baseman. And Glen Wright was a great shortstop," Frisch added.

Having Frisch finally loosened up, we put on the pressure. "If you had to win one big game, a game you had to win, who would you pick to pitch it? Carl Hubbell or Dizzy Dean?"
Frisch lost no time in answering this one. "What difference would it make? Both would pitch shut-outs if the blue chips were down. I mean at their peak. Just give me a shut-out and I'll promise that I won't lose, even if I have to take a tie. You know one of the great things about Hubbell? He never gave you a pitch that you had hit before. If you got the same hit off Dean, Diz would come back with the same pitch and probably strike you out. Of course, Hubbell had a longer and therefore a greater career. He was one of the greats of all time. But in 1934 and 1935, before he hurt his arm, there never was a greater pitcher than Dizzy Dean. Just give me either one."

A Better Racing Year

For the first time in a good many years, I think it would be safe to say that this year there will be bigger and better racing, and in saying that not to be thinking of mutual play and the breaking of financial records. It seems probable to me that the handle will be down again this year, that the wild spending days are over for some time to come. I am thinking of better horses and jockeys, sounder track management, and a more sporting attitude.

"I was going to sub-contract this job—but they want more than you're payin' ME!"

"When do you think you'll have money again—so we can go to a show?"

tion of America and one of the National Pro League. Last season he handled the National Pro league playoff between Fort Wayne Zollners and the Rochester Royals. Already this season he has worked in Madison Square Garden, New York, Convention Hall in Philadelphia, Uline Arena in Washington, D. C., the Olympia in Detroit, International Amphitheater and Stadium in Chicago, and Keil Auditorium in St. Louis. Garrett's usual fee is $60.00 per game and expenses, but he expects to exceed that on the current tour as he is owner of the Komedie Kings whom he found "wowing" the fans in a little Harlem gym in New York City. Garrett dressed the kids up and brought them west. He added "Circus Eddie," a white man to the cast, and decided to make it something really worthwhile by doing the officiating himself.

One man on your Board of Supervisors told me at the January meeting that the Union was to blame for all this change. Well, not being a Union member myself, I would not know, but if they are to blame they did a pretty good job of waking the Taxpayers up to what is going on. In my opinion, it does not make any difference whether a man is a Union man or not, if he pays county road tax and buys his license and pays his weight on his car in Iosco county (which a great majority of your tourists do not do, he has as perfect a right to his share of the good roads to drive on to get to work as any farmer or anybody else has.

Now, I have always felt proud to think that I live in a country where the majority and not the minority ruled, especially in cases where tax money was involved.

All we taxpayers ask of our Supervisors is to rescind their action on this matter aken in the meeting held in October of 1946 and let the people vote on this question in the April election of 1947, then if they see fit to make this appointive by a two-thirds majority, I feel sure that the rest of us will abide by their decision.

Yours truly,
Waldo I. Curry.

With Oscoda holding a 5 to 4 edge over them in the first quarter, and a 10 to 6 count at halftime, the Tawas lads came to life in the third quarter to gain 10 points while holding their northern opponents to two points. In the final stanza they added 6 more points and again held Oscoda to a meager four points.

Bruce Myles and MacDonald were the shining lights of the Tawas attack, collecting eight and six points in that order. Shrock dropped in eight points for the Oscoda five. Tawas City Girls Win 25 to 13

With the fourteen points that Joan Erickson flipped through the hoop, the Tawas City girls went on to win over the Oscoda Girls 25 to 13. It was Tawas City all the way, when they took a four to two lead in the first quarter, and ending at halftime with a 15 to 6 lead. In the third quarter they extended it to 21 to 9 and the game ended 25 to 13.
