The community building was crowded with winter sports fans. Queen Patricia was attended by her court of honor consisting of Jean Pipesh of Whittemore, Audrey Ogden of Tawas City, Wilma Bueschen of Hale, and Donna Mae Bowen of East Tawas. Little Larry Patterson served as crown bearer and the flower girls were Shirley Nunn and Ardith Misener, both six years old. Broadcasts from radio stations at Detroit, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City, and a large amount of space given by the daily press of the state assured Silver Valley of a tremendous amount of favorable publicity. Combined with Comic, Eddie Hammon, the Kings kept the crowd on their toes and laughing throughout the contest.

The Kings who average five games a week, took an early lead of 14 to 6 at the quarter and raised it to 26 to 15 at the half. In the last half they put on an exhibition of long shots and hook shots by J. Copeland and C. Jones. Copeland and Jones also led the scoring with 16 points each, while Staudacher and Pollard paced the locals with eight and seven points respectively.

10 lbs. Allowed On Sugar Stamp April 1

Ten pounds of the 1947 sugar ration will be available to Isosco County householders on April 1. A single stamp will be used for the new allocation, the OPA says.

At the same time, the OPA said that sugar stamp No. 53, currently valid for five pound sugar, will expire at midnight, March 31, one month earlier than originally announced.

The announcement said further that there would be no special sugar allotment for home canning in 1947.

Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, has announced that sugar imports may be sufficient to allow an extra 10 pounds for household use this year. The total allotment for this use in 1946 was 15 pounds for regular use and 10 pounds for home canning for each person.

OPA said, "It seems fairly certain that there will be more sugar this year," but gave uncertainty over the size of the increase as the reason for failure to fix the expiration date of the new ration coupon to be validated April 1.

After April 1 the OPA stated all coupons validated will be good for 10 pounds of sugar each.

Ration Book No. 4 remains good for sugar as do special ration books issued to returned servicemen and women and as replacements for books which have been lost or stolen.

Only four stamps will remain in the sugar ration books after Stamp No. 53 is used and the value of the remaining stamps is being increased to 10 pounds to avoid the necessity of printing and distributing new ration books.

Butler Says: 'War Vet Should Be Postmaster'

Committee Member Bevan Said Butler Entitled To First Consideration

"I am in favor of a War Veteran being appointed postmaster of East Tawas," emphatically stated H. N. Butler of East Tawas when Democratic National Committeeman, Cyril Bevan of Detroit suggested that Mr. Butler be entitled to first consideration in such an appointment. Mr. Butler said yesterday (Thursday) "I think that the position should be filled by a War Veteran and I am definitely out of the picture."

The above statement from Mr. Butler was brought out by a communication from National Committeeman Bevan in which he said:

"I have just been advised that there is a vacancy in the position of Postmaster at East Tawas due to the sudden death of Charles A. Bigelow, the former postmaster, and before going any further with the matter I would like to know whether you would be interested in this appointment. Certainly in view of the tremendous service that you have given the Democratic Party, not only in your county but in the whole Tenth Congressional District, I feel that you would be entitled to first consideration for this appointment."

Young Women's League
The Young Women's League of East Tawas held their regular meeting Monday evening. A sumptuous dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock. The main feature of the evening's program was a talk by Mrs. Fred Adams on "Hand Painted China". She had recently taken a course in this work. She gave the history of some of the rare makes of China and had a wonderful display of some of her work.

The date for the annual dinner dance of the club was planned for April 10th to be held at the Barnes Hotel in Tawas City.

Take Steps to Unite Tawas C.'s of C.

Joint Meeting Held Monday Evening at Barnes Hotel

A joint meeting of the Tawas City and East Tawas Chambers of Commerce was held Monday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of uniting the two groups. Harold Gould, president of the East Tawas Chamber of Commerce, and George Myles, of the Tawas City organization, pointed out the advantages of one strong Chamber of Commerce for the two communities.

To further the consolidation plans and arrive at a practical way in which it could be accomplished, a committee from each organization was appointed. The committee representing the Tawas City Chamber of Commerce consists of Mayor John D. LeClair, Judge H. Read Smith and Randall Fox. Members of the East Tawas committee are: Earl BeMent, Thomas White and Charles Nash.

A joint meeting will be held Monday, March 10, to study the work of the two committees. This meeting will be held at the Hotel Holland, East Tawas.

More than 100 Tawas City and East Tawas business and professional men were in attendance at Monday evening's meeting and banquet at the Barnes Hotel. New businessmen of the Tawas were introduced, and many present were surprised at the large number. Sixteen businessmen recently coming to Tawas City were present, and there were nearly as many from East Tawas.

A feature of Monday evening's program was the meeting of the Silver Valley Committee. The chairman of each subcommittee gave a report of the work of his committee. The various reports revealed that Silver Valley was having a very successful season. More than 6,000 people were in attendance at the three-day carnival held last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was apparent that the people of Michigan are enjoying our fine winter sports facilities.

Treasurer Earl BeMent reported that $5,000.00 had been taken in this season from various sources, and that $4,700.00 had been expended for maintenance and other winter sports expenses.

The meeting last Monday evening proved interesting, and the fine dinner served by the Barnes Hotel, enjoyable.

Unique Library Started With 'Bible and Prayer'

WNU Features.

MOUNT SHERMAN, ARK.—Started 12 years ago with "a Bible and a prayer," the Wilderness Library in the deep Ozarks hill country along the Buffalo river in Arkansas now ranks as one of America's most unique educational and recreational projects.

Hillbillies, some of whom previously were 100 miles away from the nearest library, now trudge daily over the rugged, wooded trails to the log cabin library perched atop Mt. Sherman. For many of the men, women and children, the library, which serves as a community gathering center, is the only educational facility available.

Founder of this novel library is James Ted Richmond. The inspiration for his project came in France, where he remained after service in World War I to study at University of Toulouse. While there he organized a small library designed to acquaint the French with the American way of life.

Lives Atop Mountain.

After returning to America, Richmond reentered newspaper work, and while writing radio plays in Little Rock became interested in hillbillies. Deciding to live as one of the mountain folk, Richmond staked a claim for a homestead atop Mt. Sherman. Friendly mountain folk helped the newcomer build his cabin in a log raising bee.

One of Richmond's first impressions of his neighboring hillbillies was that they were deprived of educational advantages but hungry for reading matter. To fill the void, he at first began circulating his Bible. A plea to Little Rock newspaper friends netted some books, with which he started a free library in a hollow tree outside his cabin.

From this meager beginning, the Wilderness Library has grown until it now contains more than 10,000 volumes. Newspaper friends boosted Richmond's cause and books began coming in from all parts of the country. The hollow tree overflowed, forcing Richmond to move the library into his small cabin. Now the cabin is lined with shelves, with books stacked high to the rafters.

Ambitious Plans.

Improvement and enlargement of the library to convert it into a community recreational center are among Richmond's plans for the future. First, however, he hopes to build another log cabin home for himself. The encroaching book shelves have practically forced him out of his humble abode. During the summer time he even does most of his cooking on an outdoor stove, but, as the hillbillies' librarian explains, his principal foods are goat's milk and "garden sass."

Richmond also envisages that some day he will be able to use the Wilderness Library as the nucleus for a new College of the Ozarks to provide higher education for mountain boys and girls. He would like to have a jeep and library trailer to permit taking his books to homes beyond walking distance over the rough trails. He also wants the roads improved and other advantages brought to his mountain people.

Last fall Richmond decided he could achieve these objectives by political action. He announced his candidacy on the G. I. ticket for representative from Newton county in the Arkansas legislature. In his platform, he pledged himself to work for better schools, building of farm to market roads, improvement of the dairy industry, equalization of taxes and abolition of the poll tax. He was defeated, however, by the long-entrenched political machine in Newton county.

Pledges Future Fight.

"This fight for good government is only starting," Richmond insisted, adding that "there's another election coming."

On his wild homestead lands, Richmond earns his livelihood by milking about a hundred goats, raising pigs, chickens and turkeys, and growing potatoes and vegetables. If he receives $10 for goat milk sold to the creamery several miles away, he gives a dollar "as a tithe to God," $4.50 to his library and the remaining $4.50 for his own upkeep. Often he deprives himself of necessities so he can finance his rapidly expanding Wilderness Work.

In addition to the free library, the Wilderness Work includes a number of other activities launched by Richmond to improve the lot of the mountain folk.

One of the major projects is the annual Wilderness White Christmas, launched in 1933 in memory of his mother, Mrs. Etta E. Richmond. Without any compensation for his work and paying all personal expenses, Richmond directs the collection of clothing, toys, medicines and other household articles for distribution to the poor Ozark families at Christmas time.

Seeks Medical Aid.

Another objective for the hillbillies' librarian is to secure proper medical services for the mountain people. Injured and ill persons, isolated from the larger communities, have died for lack of prompt attention, Richmond reports.

"First aid is a necessity here," he says. He lists a hospital cot complete for first aid, antiseptics, surgical powders and sickroom supplies as articles most sorely needed.

"I am sure that churches, schools, clubs and individuals everywhere would help if they only knew the predicament of these people," Richmond maintains.

He is considering the possibility of establishing a non-profit educational foundation to raise money for financing the expanded Wilderness Work. Main difficulty is that he's not versed in the procedure, so he is seeking advice on the subject. His address: Ted Richmond, Wilderness Library, Mount Sherman, Ark., via Twilight Trail.

Alger Stories Are Read No More

NEW YORK. — The man whose name symbolized an entire era in American history has faded into oblivion. The man, Horatio Alger Jr., whose tales once made him a childhood hero, is practically unknown to New York boys and girls from the ages of 8 to 14, a recent poll disclosed.

Ninety-two per cent of the members of the seven boys' and girls' clubs sponsored in New York by the Children's Aid society — a total of 20,000 children — reported that they never had heard of Alger. Less than 1 per cent admitted having read any of his books.

In fact, the survey showed only 60 per cent of the children read books, and most of them preferred comic books.

The society claims a close relationship with Alger, for he once lived at its newsboys' lodging house.

Skin Revealed As Indication Of Occupation

BOSTON. — If your amateur detective tendencies lead you to wonder about a casual acquaintance's occupation, all you have to do is to glance at his skin. That is the theory propounded by Dr. Francesco Ronchese, instructor in dermatology at Boston university school of medicine.

After a study of "calluses, cicatrices and other stigmas" peculiar to various trades, Dr. Ronchese insists that they offer an infallible guide to a person's occupation. He even suggests that they be used as an aid to identification in case of amnesia victims and unidentified dead.

Just as sure as a cauliflower ear will lead to a fighter, a foundry worker will have a red discoloration of the forearms from constant exposure to the intense, dry heat of ovens, he says.

The jeweler's trademark is a large callus in the center of the right palm, the result of working with pliers, while bricklayers probably will be missing the fingerprints of their left hands because of constant handling of rough bricks.

In the realm of musicians, Dr. Ronchese referred to the "trumpet player's lip" and "violinist's acne," a lump on the neck near the angle of the lower jaw.

Practically every occupation, even sedentary jobs, has a distinguishing mark, he points out. Colors and odors also are listed as special features of an occupation. Silversmiths often carry traces of slate gray while photographers, shoemakers and others invariably have stained fingers.

In regard to odors, Dr. Ronchese declares that it would be hard to go wrong on the characteristic smells of ash collectors, stable hands or fish dealers.

Admitting that there is one odor that might be misleading, he says: "The peculiar smell of the barroom does not necessarily denote a bartender."

Dog Stands Guard After Rescue Fails

CHATTANOOGA, TENN. — Although he failed in a valiant effort to save his mistress, Mrs. Elizabeth Ray, 77, from drowning, Corky, a Boston bull dog, still stood guard over her lifeless body until help arrived.

Police, who paid tribute to the heroic dog, told this story: Mrs. Ray fell into the raging waters of Chickamauga creek. Corky plunged in after her, swimming for almost a quarter of a mile before he could reach his mistress' side. Then he tugged her to shore.

When police found them, the little dog had its left forepaw around a small sapling on the bank and was fighting to keep the current from dragging him and his mistress downstream. Police estimated the 25-pound dog had been fighting the waters for four hours.

"Off We Go" AVIATION NOTES

COLORADO SURVEYS NEEDS

Approximately six million dollars will be required to build an adequate system of airports in Colorado outside the metropolitan areas of Denver, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Grand Junction, a Colorado Aeronautics commission survey shows. This system will be required by 1955 to handle the more than 4,000 planes expected to be owned by Coloradans by that time, Henry B. Moore, director of the Colorado university bureau of research, declares.

Engineers and economists from the university have visited nearly every airport in the state and every town with a population of more than 750 in their survey of Colorado's airport conditions.

The survey disclosed that there are 157 towns in Colorado under 1,000 population with 44 landing areas, 44 towns with 1,000 to 2,500 with 31 landing areas, 13 towns from 2,500 to 5,000 with 12 landing areas, 9 towns from 5,000 to 10,000 with 12 landing areas, 8 towns over 10,000 with 21 landing areas.

OVERLOOK PRIVATE FLIERS

In the rush for aviation supremacy among cities in the post-war flying boom, the needs of the private flier too often are overlooked. This condition is leading private fliers, particularly in rural areas, to take a more active interest in aviation development in their home cities.

The attitude of cities varies widely in regard to the private flier. In Burbank, Calif., for example, a $2.50 landing fee has been instigated for single-engine, private planes. A $5 fee is assessed for twin-motor jobs landed at Lockheed air terminal there. On the other hand, Milwaukee, Wis., has spent $350,000 on Maitland field, a downtown landing field, and is contemplating spending another $200,000. This field is intended primarily for private fliers and there is no landing fee.

NEW JET FIGHTER . . . Latest of jet fighters is the Ryan XF2R-1, which is serving as the navy's flying laboratory to test prop-jet engines. This Fireball-type fighter is the first navy combat plane to be powered by a gas turbine turning a propeller.

SHOW DATES SET
The national airport show and institute, originally scheduled for April 22-25, has been postponed until November 4-7 at Cleveland, according to Frederick C. Crawford, president of Air foundation. The show and institute, sponsored by the foundation and National Aeronautics association, will cover all phases of airport finance, construction, operation and maintenance. Special classes will be conducted in planning, economics and other fields.

German Women to Get Undies of Netting

BERLIN.—A brassiere of Wehrmacht insect net has been introduced to the German market to relieve the clothing shortage. The female apparel is fashioned from two nets designed originally to be worn over the soldier's helmet.

The shortage is so acute that in a Russian zone a woman is not given a ration coupon for the brassiere unless she is under 30 or pregnant.

The system is founded on the theory that the primary purpose of the garment is not the comfort of the wearer, but the comfort of those who see the wearer. Older women might think they have more need for a brassiere, but who cares?

High Court Forbids Briton To Sell His New Motor Car

LONDON.—The high court of justice has issued an injunction forbidding the owner of a new automobile to sell it within six months after purchase. It was the first case brought under a recently instituted practice by the Motor Trade association making the restriction a condition in the sale of all new cars.

Charles Falco, the purchaser, agreed to the injunction with a stipulation that he was "a victim of circumstances" and not one of the so-called black market purchasers against whom the contracts were directed.

New cars are so scarce that they can be sold shortly after their purchase for more than twice the original cost. The Motor Trade association told the court that Falco paid less than $1,600 for the car he offered for resale at $3,500.

Food for Germany To Cost 171 Million

Russian-Controlled Section Will Be on Its Own.

WASHINGTON.—The senate war investigating committee has learned that it probably will cost American taxpayers 171 million dollars this year to feed the U. S. zone of Germany.

The Russian-controlled area eats homegrown food at no cost to Moscow.

Statements gathered by George Meader, committee counsel, during a three-week trip to Europe laid the blame for this situation on the failure of attempts to unify Germany economically.

Blaming the French for blocking plans to set up central German administrative services, the statements obtained by Meader from army and military government authorities said the United States had been forced to stop the dismantling of German plants for reparations because of the threatened financial drain on this country.

The statements also indicated that even if economic unification of Germany were brought about immediately, it might take two years for the Germans to become sufficiently self-supporting to require no further food shipments from the United States.

Occupation officials disclosed that the Soviets thus far have been unwilling to finance any food import into their zone and have supplied only relatively small amounts of seed and potash fertilizer to the American area.

Another section of Meader's files contained figures showing that Russia still is holding about three million Germans as prisoners of war against fewer than 122,000 still held by this country, 600,000 by France and 160,000 by England.

It was the first case brought under a recently instituted practice by the Motor Trade association making the restriction a condition in the sale of all new cars.

Charles Falco, the purchaser, agreed to the injunction with a stipulation that he was "a victim of circumstances" and not one of the so-called black market purchasers against whom the contracts were directed.

New cars are so scarce that they can be sold shortly after their purchase for more than twice the original cost. The Motor Trade association told the court that Falco paid less than $1,600 for the car he offered for resale at $3,500.

Technician Fined in Export Racket by Courtmartial

BERLIN. — Lewis Warner, 28, meteorologist from New York City, was convicted by an army court-martial here on charges of illicit trading with Germans. He was fined $2,500.

The prosecution charged that Warner and two brothers, one in Paris and the other in Shanghai, were unlicensed outlets for the sale of merchandise shipped them by their father, David Warner of New York. The brother in Paris has been fined by a French civil court.

Smithies Forge China Red Spears for Peasant Militia

The farmers are dubbed the Red Spears because their metal-tipped lances are adorned with red tassels.

Novelist H. G. Wells Leaves Fortune to His Two Sons

LONDON. — H. G. Wells bequeathed most of a fortune of $239,244 to his two sons and recorded the "good and sane behavior of all my offspring towards me," probate of will disclosed.

Maria Baroness Budberg, a Russian refugee who came to England after the Red Revolution, received an annuity to be purchased with $16,000. The will described her as "my very dear friend."

Report by a Scout From Mars

(Being from the papers of Xygox 367, a prominent Martian explorer.)

Sire: My visit to earth was necessarily short. I am especially rugged but not rugged enough to stand a prolonged stay in this madhouse upon which you asked a report. It is, as indicated by the reverberations heard on Mars, a place of great confusion, disorder and strife. Everybody seems fighting, about to fight or just ending a fight. A vast number of languages are spoken but evidently only about nine words are really required for understanding in all tongues. These are "Liar!" "Take that back!" "Forward, march!" and "Surrender or else. . ."

Most of my visit was limited to a place called the United States. They were evidently united at one time. This is a very strange land where something called the radio is going all the time. It drowns out everything else, and is, I think, tied up in some way with the mint and the educational system. Vast sums of money are distributed every minute to people of all ages who pass oral examinations, using a contrivance called the microphone.

These sums are staggering. For giving the right name of a song that has been played in every home for half a century an adult is given 10 silver dollars minimum. I observed a woman from Butte who was paid $36 for stating that a volcano was an erupting mountain and not a Cuban musical instrument.

For a child to win $350 in something called a jackpot for stating how many colors there are to the keys on a piano is common, but what bowled me over was that grown adults, some as old as 50 years, were paid even larger sums for telling an interrogator which were predominant, the black or the white keys.

Great symphony orchestras, statesmen, artists and civil leaders all put in time and effort to promote tonics, balms, ointments, etc., from which it is my deduction that the condition of the people is more alarming than I can well describe. As for myself, I found it impossible to listen to the radio a half hour without being overcome by a great feeling of compassion for the inhabitants. I left with a conviction that I had been exposed to many plagues and that an immediate quarantine would be wise upon my return to Mars.

It is my belief that a more accurate report on the place is impossible without a prolonged stay, and I do not feel that any Martian, tough as they are, could stand it. Faithfully, Xygox 367.

The National Collegiate Athletic association in convention duly assembled has voted for a purity code in football. The only problem is how to ice the idea over the summer.

"Well," remarked the Englishman, "there certainly were a lot of them, weren't there?"

Sportlight by GRANTLAND RICE

FOR some odd reason, proving they are new members of the magnate tribe, neither Bing Crosby nor Bob Hope has claimed any pennant for the Pirates or the Indians. As you may know both are now closely involved in the standings of these two clubs and both will need some slight improvement before they reach the gonfalonc heights.

At the moment, magnate Hope already has wagered a golf ball with magnate Crosby that the Indians finish higher up in the American league race than the Pirates finish in the National. Hope wanted to make this a box of golf balls, but Crosby demurred, recalling the spots both occupied last fall. No one can blame Crosby for this careful attitude although he already has strengthened the Pitt roster with a player by the name of Greenberg. But after all, the Indians have Bob Feller. They also have a shortstop-second base combination in Lou Boudreau and Joe Gordon that will be worth watching.

"Joe Gordon is too fine a ball player, too strong a competitor to have another off year," Hope tells you. "Joe was just another war-athlete victim. Before that he was one of the greatest defensive second basemen in baseball history and a dangerous hitter. Like many other baseball and football players he had something of a slumping spell after leaving the army, but it will be a different story this next season. Joe is still young and in good physical shape. Boudreau is also young. He is one of the star shortstops of baseball. This pair will put on plenty of fireworks together."

Gordon's Future

We look for the same result. Gordon has been too fine a ball player and too much of an athlete to be placed on the waning list. There is a good chance that he will have one of his best seasons. Strength through the shortstop-second base position can make a big difference to any club and this Cleveland combination may easily match the Red Sox pair or the Cardinal-Dodgers outfits.

Anyway, "Hope still springs eternal in the baseball breast," where Hope is still hopeful of big days ahead.

Apparently Crosby and Hope had to find some way to keep busy and kill time.

All Bing does is to handle a big radio job, make motion pictures, do a world of recording and put on golf tournaments. All Bob Hope does is work on radio, make pictures and appear at practically every luncheon and banquet function along the west coast. Now they are in baseball. It might be remembered that only recently in tournament play, Bing shot a 75 at golf while Bob is around 78 or 80. If word gets out they are likely to spend most of their rounds signing autographs.

Both are red hot baseball fans and both hope to drop in on their respective teams when spring training starts. Bing's Pirates have a long way to move before crashing the first division. The Cardinals and Dodgers are the first two road blocks. The Cubs will be better, and probably luckier than they were last season. The Braves and Phillies will be stronger teams. So will the Giants. If Bing had a pitching arm, the Pirates could use that better than his golf swing.

Eagle vs. Lion

No matter how you may figure it all out, the two top international rivals in sport are the United States and Great Britain. They remain the two great sporting nations of what we call the world today.

In all fairness it must be admitted that England and Scotland are outnumbered by United States about 3 to 1, so the odds should belong our way. But without England and Scotland there would be no international competition. Not with Russia, Japan, Germany or Britain. It could be different with Sweden and Finland in distance races.

The point is that the British isles competition at this date. By that I mean that England and Scotland can supply their share of trouble in golf—including the Walker cup matches next May. They may even win this test if the winds come up and the rains arrive.

British Golfers

In Dai Rees they have one of the best golf professionals I have seen. Rees would be an even bet against Hogan or Nelson on any British course. If the Ryder cup matches were played over a seaside British links, the odds would be even. That's how good he is. It is certainly no part of a push-over that the U. S., with the strong team now picked, can get by with the next Walker cup matches. The British have an even chance over their own terrain.

What made Greyhound Grow?

...giving the people
good transportation...at low cost
...and lots of it!

From puppyhood, Greyhound grew on one good idea: to build a new, "American-style" travel system for THE PEOPLE.

Not mail...not freight...but PEOPLE,

The thing Greyhound knows best is how to get people to the places they want to go...at the times they want to go...at prices they can afford.

And Greyhound does this for more cities, towns, villages and corners than any other transportation system.

What's more, Greyhound makes this "American-style" travel friendly, easy, convenient...stopping in the heart of big cities...at the drug store across from the city hall...or at Pete Jones' farm, if that's where Pete wants to get off.

Why do the people like Greyhound? There's your answer: good transportation...at low cost...and lots of it.

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Hard To Beat

So Easy. No Cooking. Saves Dollars. No matter what you've been using for coughs due to colds, you'll be the first to admit that this surprising relief, mixed in your own kitchen, is hard to beat, for real results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough relief—about four times as much for your money. Tastes fine—children love it. It never spoils. You can feel this home mixture taking right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases soreness and difficult breathing, and lets you sleep. Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not satisfied, your money will be refunded.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT COSTS 25 TIMES AS MUCH AS IN 1913

AS LATE AS 1913, within the memory of a large portion of our present population, federal government expenditures were less than one billion dollars. To be exact they were only 692 millions.

To be sure, at that time we were not paying interest on a colossal national debt, nor were we maintaining an army of a million men or the world's largest navy. Neither did we have the intricate and complicated system of government we have today. We paid taxes for the support of government, but not to support ourselves as individuals. We were not financing social reforms for the benefit of those unwilling or unable to support themselves.

Those of us whose memories carry back to that 1913 period will recall that we had a satisfactory government. It provided all the essentials. It did not attempt to regulate each individual's activities. It did protect us against the depredations of the criminal element, and from being gyped by monopolies. It provided federal courts for settling our differences. It provided assistance for schools and for road building. It paid the pensions of many thousands of Civil war veterans, then alive. It policed our borders. It did everything that we believed necessary for the federal government to do.

When, a year or two later, the appropriations made by congress passed the one billion dollar total, what a howl was raised! The extravagance of congress was roundly condemned.

ONLY 34 YEARS AGO.

That 692-million-dollar year of 1913 was only 34 years ago. In that 34 years government profligacy has grown to where, in 1947, more than 37 billions is asked for the operation of government. Subtract from that sum the interest on the government debt, some 5 billion dollars; the upkeep of our present army and navy, some 8 billion, and we still have 24 billion as the proposed cost of operating the federal government for one year.

That 24 billion plus is more than 25 times the cost of that satisfactory government of 1913. That excess cost must come out of what we produce. It takes from the farmer 25 times the amount of the produce that was taken in 1913; from the worker 25 times the amount from his pay, and on through the long list of those who do the paying for government, which is all of us.

Leaders in both parties are demanding economies in government; a simplification and condensation of government activities; a return to conditions under which the people are masters of government rather than government being masters of the people; a return to the conditions where what we pay is to provide the cost of the real functions of government. If we are not to be drowned in the flood waters of ever increasing government costs, we, the people who pay either directly or indirectly, should support that demand for such simplification as will lead us back to something like the 1913 model of government activities.

UNBIASED INFORMATION WANTED

WE HAVE had in the past, and probably will have in the future, cabinet officers who are more interested in promoting their personal conceptions of government than in carrying out the expressed instructions of congress, the direct representative of the people. Such men cannot be depended upon to give congress unbiased information. The legislative branch should have its own corps of experts to dig out the information it needs in enacting needed legislation. Authority for the creation of such a force is a part of the LaFollette-Moroney act, passed by the last congress. It was popular at the time of its enactment. It would prove an unpopular move should the present congress ignore, or repeal, that measure. The people do not want their representatives to depend upon prejudiced sources for information.

I FIND Southern California a desirable place in which to live. But do not let the propagandists tell you that California, Arizona, Texas, the Gulf coast or Florida is all sunshine. It is not all sunshine in any of them, as the publicity experts would have everyone believe.

The incident of today is of but small, if any, importance tomorrow.

MANAGEMENT and labor have said they prefer to settle their own differences without assistance from government arbitrators or conciliators. It might work provided congress outlaws the closed shop, the check-off system and taxes on production, and makes labor fully responsible for keeping of contracts, as management must be.

Household Hints

If your vacuum cleaner belt breaks when you are in the midst of cleaning, put a rubber jar ring in its place temporarily.

Ash trays carelessly dumped are often the cause of fires in waste baskets.

Try baking biscuits for meat pies separately in one pan, while the filling cooks in another. If the baked biscuits are placed on filling just before serving, there will be no soginess.

Add a bit of nutmeg to the sauce for cauliflower.

To keep files sharp see that their surfaces are protected when not in use.

To make gloss paint flow more readily, place the container in a pan of warm water for ten minutes.

Eggs should be kept at a temperature between 32 and 45 degrees.

To prevent lime from forming in the tea kettle, place a piece of muslin in the bottom of the kettle. The lime will stick to the muslin instead of to the kettle.

Wet walls inside a home should cause the householder to check the flashings. Also examine the exterior walls for holes or breaks.

Cleaner Tips

It's a wise and economic house-keeper who takes care of her vacuum cleaner. An hour at a stretch is a good working stint for the electric motor in your cleaner. At the end of this period rest it for 10 or 15 minutes. Never run your cleaner over pins, nails, hairpins, paper clips or any other hard object that can unbalance the fan or damage the main casing.

THE PRICE STRUCTURE—

Feed Grain prices are not expected to go any lower until the new harvests are in. However, with good harvests, all feeds should be cheaper next fall.

Used Auto Prices have skidded rapidly, and late models, including some 1946's already on the used car market are suffering most. A 1946 Nash was sold at list price and a 1936 Buick was sold at $75, after there were no takers at $200.

All our KASCO feeds come in Dress Print Bags.

COWS ARE EATING BETTER this winter according to recent reports. A high milk-feed ration has helped to raise the daily average fed per cow to 4.98 lbs. on December 1, compared with 4.88 lbs. the previous year and the 1935-44 average of 4.31 lbs.
