Winter Severe on Deer Herds

This last winter was long and severe, and in many parts of the state the deer suffered from lack of suitable food. Although the Conservation Department made every effort to supply needed natural food by cutting of timber on state owned land, only a small part of the deer herd could be serviced in this manner.

For those people who are not familiar with the needs of these animals, and who have not seen at first hand the condition of their range, in regard to natural food, supervised trips have been planned. No transportation or other facilities are provided by this department except that our men will be present to direct the tours and to explain the various problems involved in managing the deer range.

Groups will assemble at 10:30 A. M. Eastern Standard Time, at the following places: on Sunday, April 20th, and on Sunday, April 27th, Mio Conservation Headquarters, Mio; Ford Kellum, District Game Manager in charge. Atlanta Conservation Headquarters, Atlanta, Otto Failing, District Game Manager in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ruckle and son, James, were Bay City visitors on Friday.

Carl Smith to Give Flag Dedication Address

Carl Smith of Bay City, past department commander of the American Legion, will give the dedication address at ceremonies Wednesday evening, April 22, during which a flag will be given to the East Tawas High School Band. The ceremonies, sponsored by Audie Johnson Post, American Legion will start at 8:00 o'clock and will be held at the Community Building.

Drive In Business Has No Appeal for Walt

Mrs. Martha Hinton

Mrs. Martha Ann Hinton, well known resident of this city, passed away last week Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Schreiber, in this city. She had been ill about two months.

Born October 5, 1864, at Ellensburg, N. Y., she had been a resident of this community since 1888. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Schreiber and Mrs. Ernest Schreiber and a twin sister, Mrs. Mary Ann McLaughlin of Tawas City.

Funeral services were held Sunday from the Moffatt Funeral Home. Rev. Peter Olsen of Bay City officiated. Interment was in the Greenwood Cemetery, East Tawas.

Asked to Contribute $525 to Cancer Fund

Nathan Barkman, campaign chairman for the Iosco Cancer Society, expressed confidence today that county residents would not stand idly by and let approximately 30 out of 7500 fellow citizens succumb to the deadliest of all diseases—Cancer.

This was the optimistic note injected today by Nathan Barkman into the local cancer society's drive to raise $525.00 to help check the spread of the malady.

Barkman said one-half of the money raised locally would be used in this area for the treatment and relief of cancer sufferers. The balance will be used for research and education to help stamp out the disease on a nation-wide scale.

Lutheran Church In U. S. 100 Years

Zion Church to Observe Event with Festival

Zion Lutheran church of this city will celebrate the centennial of the organization of the Evangelical Lutheran church in America on Sunday, April 27. A festival service will be held at 10:00 a. m.

The Lutheran church in America has grown from two congregations in 1847 to a membership of 5,240 congregations. The celebration is woven around the background of the "Lutheran Pilgrim Fathers" who fled from religious persecution in Europe to the shores of America where they could worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. It will emphasize the romance of the pioneer Lutheran missionaries and the Lutheran church's enduring contributions in christian education and successful conquest of juvenile delinquency.

The Smelt Run is On!

The annual smelt run is on! Some of the more hardy and enthusiastic smelt fishermen had been trying their luck since the last days of March with no success, but Sunday night small numbers of smelt started to enter Tawas river and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, river banks were lined with people from all sections of the state who had received the word that the run was on.

Harry Morley, who resides near the mouth of Tawas river was the first to report success. He made a catch of 300 Sunday night. By Tuesday night large catches were being made. Smelt fishermen's lights divulge the fact that the river is filled with other fish besides smelt and many pike swim into the bonfire lighted patches of water. Several lamprey eel, menace to commercial and sport types of fish, were netted by the smelt fishermen.

Smelt fishermen are a hardy race of men and women and the cold weather and occasional soaking in the icy river water does not cool their enthusiasm for their favorite sport. Bonfires along the river banks furnish comfort to the chilly as well as light to the fishermen.

For a number of years after migrating to the waters of Lake Huron and Saginaw Bay, rivers and streams emptying into these waters, literally teemed with smelt during spawning time. Then came a couple of years when they seemed to have disappeared. Last year they apparently made a come back, and this spring commercial fishermen report finding large quantities in their nets.

In anticipation of the smelt run the Tawas Chamber of Commerce prepared a large number of post cards announcing that the run was on and these have been mailed to smelt fishermen throughout southern Michigan cities. Many, at their request, were notified by telegram.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish in this way to express our thanks to those who furnished music and singing the pall bearers, also for the beautiful floral offerings, loaned cars or rendered assistance in any way at the time of our mother's death.

Literary Club Entertains Women's Clubs

Fine Program at Event Held Wednesday Evening

Mrs. George Gifford was hostess to the Ladies Literary Club at her home Wednesday evening of this week. A fine program had been arranged following the business meeting. Clubs entertained were the Young Womens League of East Tawas, the Rural Study Club and the Twentieth Century Club of Tawas City.

Ladies Literary Club President, Mrs. Helen Hertzler, gave a fine report of the Federation of Women's Clubs held at Detroit.

Several piano selections were given by David Moehring and Miss Donna Moore gave vocal numbers with Nyda Leslie as accompanist.

The program chairman was Mrs. Wendell Rowley and she presented a one act play directed by Mrs. Kenneth Parker. The play was entitled, "The Literary Club of Gossipville" or, "Getting Back to Shakespeare." Characters were: Mrs. O'Dere, President of the club, Beth Burrows; Mrs. Weddrest, who loves fine clothes, Mildred Gardner; Mrs. Wood B. Hibraw, who loves society, Florence Mielock; Mrs. Norall, always sure about things, Catharine Rowley; Miss Tellet, with a choice bit of news, Mrs. Dan Cate; Mrs. Flutner, with a family of eight, Laura McKenzie; Mrs. Poine, as bad as the rest, Mrs. Kenneth Parker. The play was well rendered and very entertaining.

After the program refreshments were served to members and visitors by the hostess Mrs. Gifford, assisted by accompanying hostesses of the club. This was the closing meeting of the Ladies Literary Club until next October.

The Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND

BY-PASSING UNITED NATIONS
WASHINGTON.—The more the diplomatic corps scrutinizes the Truman doctrine for Greece and Turkey, the more its members are inclined to think the USA made a historic mistake in by-passing the United Nations.

This is the conclusion of friendly disposed diplomats, many of them Latin Americans, whose future is tied up with the peace and prosperity of this country. While they recognize the need for speed, they are convinced that President Truman should have placed all the facts before the United Nations at the very start, not as an afterthought. They also fear the USA established a precedent that may boomerang. Two cases are cited to prove their point.

1. Suppose the situation is reversed and Russia wants to apply the Truman doctrine to Latin America. She now has an excellent excuse for by-passing the United Nations.

To be more specific, Nicaragua and Panama are the two Latin American nations corresponding to Greece and Turkey. Panama, like Turkey, is on both sides of a waterway just as vital to the USA as the Dardanelles to the USSR. Nicaragua, alongside Panama, could control the Panama canal, just as any nation controlling Greece could control the Dardanelles.

It is no secret that Russian agents have been extremely active in parts of Latin America, and the day may come when Communist governments in one or more of these countries will appeal to Russia for help against the USA. As sovereign nations they could argue, just as do Turkey and Greece, that they have a right to get help from whomever they please—by-passing the United Nations.

In such a case, Russia would have the precedent of the Truman doctrine and could argue that what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. According to this doctrine, Russia would have the right to send military equipment to Panama and Nicaragua regardless of our opposition.

This illustration may appear far-fetched. But diplomats point out that already Chile, where the Communist party holds the balance of power, is signing a trade pact with Russia.

2. As a reverse illustration of what the United Nations can do to stop aggression, diplomats point to the case of Iran. This was the greatest victory so far achieved by the United Nations, and came just as the security council got on its first wobbly legs, with the world watching to see whether it could really walk.

Iran, to Russia, is one of the most strategic areas in the world, second only to the Dardanelles. Sitting astride the Gulf of Persia and an outlet to a warm-water port, Iran is just as important as the ports of Manchuria.

In Iran, Russia was trying to do what she is now trying to do in Greece—set up a Communist government friendly to the USSR. However, strong factions in the Iranian government were opposed and appealed to the United Nations.

The United Nations had no police force, no international inspectors, no international organization to speak of. It had only the force of public opinion. Yet its emphatic stand stopped Russia in its tracks. The boys in the Kremlin scarcely knew what had hit them. They complained to high heaven, but the United Nations stood firm and won a great victory.

That victory, according to the diplomatic view, now has been nullified by the Truman doctrine. If Truman had sent a note to the United Nations simultaneously with his message to congress explaining his contemplated Greco-Turkish action and asking long-range U. N. cooperation he might have taken off part of the curse. Instead, he went fishing.

COMMUNIST STRATEGY
Investigators for the house un-American activities committee have learned of a new, secret strategy by which high Communist officials hope to avoid disloyalty prosecution. Here is their formula:

All key Communists called to testify by the committee will refuse to do so on the grounds that the committee is unconstitutionally constituted. This means that the Communist officials will merely be cited for contempt of congress—which lets them off easy.

The un-American committee, however, isn't going to let them get away with it. Every one of the top Communists, including Hans Eisler, Leon Josephson and Eugene Dennis—real head of the American party—has used this angle. Significantly, each also is involved in passport frauds.

Accordingly, the committee and the justice department now are working up a major passport conspiracy case against a dozen top Communist officials, all of whom will be brought to trial swiftly. In other words, the administration plans to pull the strangest fangs from the American Communist conspiracy.

THE WASHINGTON SCENE

Bi-Partisan Sessions Engender Good Will Among Legislators

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles dealing with new congressional committees and their chairmen.)

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—Faced with the first Republican congress in 16 years, President Truman has instituted a series of bi-partisan meetings of congressional leaders during the 80th congress as a means of creating good will. The President's strategy has proved effective in promoting cooperation between the executive and legislative branches of the government.

At the meetings, which are an innovation of Mr. Truman's and not called for under terms of the reorganization act, the President gives an off-the-record view of pending controversial legislation. GOP congressional leaders, of course, are not bound to carry out any of the proposals discussed.

Carrying out his announced purpose of calling the conferences at periodic intervals whenever the White House deemed it advisable, Mr. Truman has resorted to the bi-partisan meetings several times during the present congress.

This article concludes the series on the congressional committees, winding up with the speaker of the house and the majority leader:

Public Works

GEORGE A. DONDERO (MICH.) heads the public works committee which takes over functions of the former committees on flood control, public buildings and grounds, rivers and harbors and roads.

Dondero, who has been ranking Republican on the rivers and harbors committee, was active in the debate on the 420 million dollar rivers and harbors authorization bill of 1946, from which he succeeded in eliminating the Big Sandy river project in Kentucky and West Virginia and a senate increase in funds for the Arkansas river project.

Dondero was one of five representatives to introduce bills for a St. Lawrence seaway, none of which was reported by the committee.

Dondero, who is 63, has practiced law since 1910 in Royal Oak, Mich. He held various city offices from 1905 until 1932, when he was elected to congress. He also was prosecuting attorney for Oakland county in 1918-19.

The 17th Michigan district, which Dondero represents, includes part of the city of Detroit and of adjoining Oakland county. It is heavily industrialized, and the CIO Auto Workers union has considerable strength. Dondero, however, has been outspoken in his opposition to CIO-PAC and to alleged Communist domination of labor unions.

Speaker of House

JOSEPH W. MARTIN JR. (MASS.), new speaker of the house, has been active in Republican politics since he was elected to the Massachusetts legislature in 1912.

A former chairman of the Republican national committee, Martin has been in congress since 1924 and ranks eighth in seniority among Republicans in the house. He is 62 years old, publisher of the North Attleboro Evening Chronicle, and also proprietor of an insurance company.

As minority leader in the house since 1939, Martin has been able to keep his party in line in opposition to most of the administration's policies. But although six Republicans are recorded as voting with the majority of their party 100 per cent of the time on recent controversial legislation, Martin sometimes has split with his party and voted with only 85 per cent of the time. One of these times was when he voted to override the presidential veto of the price control bill last summer.

Martin also voted to override vetoes of the Case labor bill and the bill renouncing federal claims to tidewater lands.

On foreign policy, Martin in recent years has followed his colleague, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.), in supporting the policy of international cooperation. In the early days of the Roosevelt administration, Martin went straight down the line against New Deal measures.

An advocate of economy in government, Martin has endorsed GOP plans to cut personal income taxes and to balance the budget. He opposes universal military training and introduced a resolution in the last

'On the Seventh Day They Rested'

MADISON, CALIF.—People the country over bemoaned the housing shortage—but the Clarks came from Missouri. They bought a vacant lot, worked six days and on the seventh put the finishing touches on their modern cottage home.

Otis Clark, who needed living accommodations for his family, called on his uncle, Noah Clark, of nearby Winters, for help. The two poured a foundation for a new home. Then congress in favor of the United States taking the initiative in a move towards world disarmament.

Martin's district (the 14th Massachusetts) includes Bristol county and parts of Norfolk, Worcester and Middlesex counties in the east central part of the state.

Organized labor has considerable strength in the district. However, the backing of several unions as well as the PAC failed to help Martin's opponent in the 1946 election, and he continued to increase his plurality as he has for several years.

When he was minority leader, Martin had no committee assignment and, of course, continues to have none as speaker.

Majority Leader

CHARLES A. HALLECK (IND.), majority leader of house Republicans, was unanimously elected to his job after several other candidates withdrew in the interests of harmony. Halleck's candidacy for the job previously had been endorsed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Halleck is one of six Republicans who voted with the majority of their party on 100 per cent of controversial roll calls in closing months of the 79th congress. Halleck has not been particularly active in floor debate. However, in the 79th congress, he spoke against the anti-Petrillo bill as written, although he voted for it after his own amendment was defeated.

Halleck was born in Jasper county, Ind., in 1900, and has lived there all his life. After service in World War I he received a law degree from Indiana university and began practice in Rensselaer, where he now lives. He served five terms as circuit prosecuting attorney and was elected to congress at a special election in 1935. Halleck's 12 years' service makes him one of the youngest members of the Republican leadership from the point of view of seniority.

Halleck's district (the second Indiana) spreads over 12 counties in northwestern Indiana and had a population in 1940 of 253,952. It is primarily rural and agricultural.

Halleck was chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, working for the election of Republicans to congress, during the campaign last year.

Odd Traffic Signal On Rural Highway Prevents Mishaps

NATURAL BRIDGE, VA.—Situating on a stretch of highway in a strictly rural area and far remote from any intersection, a red traffic light amazes motorists speeding north over Highway 11 through Virginia's Shenandoah valley.

The light warns of the approach to the 90-foot span of the Natural Bridge of Virginia across a 215-foot gorge. Just before crossing the natural span, the highway twists sharply on a steep downgrade to present a dangerous traffic menace.

The light was erected two years ago after a series of serious mishaps. The result, highway department engineers contend, has been "highly satisfactory"—no smashups at a point where there had been 28 in 10 years, with 12 fatalities and injuries to 53 others.

If the motorist approaches the light at a speed greater than 25 miles per hour, it flashes red. Moreover, the light won't turn green until the driver slows down. If the motorist doesn't slow, he will have to stop at the red light, but when he does stop, the light flashes green.

The light is controlled by a complicated sequence of electronics, rigged with underground wires to a detector arm imbedded in the highway 280 feet from the light.

Elated over success of the rural blinker, the highway department is planning to install similar lights at other danger zones.

Oklahoma Now Grants Jury Service to Women

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.—Women a suffrage is to be extended in Oklahoma. Although women have had the privilege of voting for many years, they were deprived of the right to serve on juries. A bill approved by the state legislature will rectify that error. Provision is made, however, that women with children under 12 years of age can be exempt from serving on juries.

'GLAMOUR GIRLS' WIN . . . The first all-female administration in the village of Grass Lake, Mich., includes, left to right: Mrs. Ione Wright and Miss Marjorie Foster, trustees; Miss Helen McCall, village president; Mrs. Mabel Hagadon, treasurer; Mrs. Mae Riethmiller, clerk; and Mrs. Thelma Snodgrass, assessor.

'Petticoat Officials' To Show 'How Town Ought To Be Run'

WNU Features.

GRASS LAKE, MICH.—With the avowed purpose of showing the men "how a town ought to be run," seven women took office in April as the village of Grass Lake's first all-female administration.

Commonly dubbed the "petticoat government," the women are intent on proving that "the hand that rocks the cradle" can do just as well holding the reins of local government.

Heading the group is Miss Helen McCall, first woman president in history of Grass Lake. Seated with her were six other women, all of whom admit they are over 40—but they won't say how much.

The women, who claim they ran for office as a "joke," have no special program. "We'll see what's wanted and then do our best," Miss McCall declares.

Discounting the suggestion that there was any antagonism between the sexes, Miss McCall insists a man suggested that the women run for office. Even the men, she claims, were pleased with the outcome of the election, at which the all-women slate of candidates badly defeated a "young men's ticket."

Lulled by their usual success in previous elections, in which the village generally had only one ticket, the men did practically no electioneering. The women, on the other hand, got out and solicited votes. A poster pictured their candidates in glamour girl poses, taking a cue from big city political tactics.

The election drew an unprecedented number of voters. Instead of the usual 30 or fewer voters, 125 cast ballots and 23 others were turned away from the polls because they weren't registered.

Miss McCall defeated her opponent, Leon Lockwood, by 84 to 39. Her running mates won by smaller margins.

Installed with Miss McCall in the official family of the village were: Mrs. Mae Riethmiller, a housewife, clerk; Mrs. Mabel Hagadon, housewife, treasurer; Mrs. Thelma Snodgrass, service station employee, assessor; Miss Marjorie Foster and Mrs. Iona Wright, trustees.

Hand Looms Revived For Weaving Tweeds

BROWNSTOWN, PA.—In an ancient grist mill on Conestoga creek, remodeled in a style typical of the period when it was built in 1855, a centuries-old craft—the weaving of woolen fabrics on hand looms—has been revived.

The mill, long a favorite subject of artists, has been remodeled by Walter Desager, native Swiss and former woolen mill operator in Scotland and England.

Five looms, all built by a Lancaster carpenter from plans drawn by Desager, are in operation in the new plant. Inexperienced men, employed as laborers, were taught the trade by Desager.

Weaving of wool on hand looms instead of the usual electric-driven machinery is not for sentimental reasons, Desager insists. Although the old method is slow, it produces a high quality fabric and allows for quick changes of style, he adds. Fabrics manufactured will be a type tweed used for men's and women's wear.

The interior of the remodeled mill features a Pennsylvania Dutch room, designed for show purposes and for use of employees.

'Weak Heart'

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—Mattie Barrett has had to watch that "weak heart" of hers for a long time. The aged Negro woman says she is 108 years old. Her father died at 129 and her mother at 119, she says.

Midget Radio Fits Beneath Man's Tie

Will Pick Up Programs Within Radius of 126 Miles.

NEW YORK.—The calling card radio is small enough to fit beneath your tie, but Philip Franklin thinks it's big enough to turn the radio industry upside-down.

He flipped a switch. "Listen," he said.

It made a firm, steady buzz when Franklin switched it on—just like any ordinary table-model radio. It picks up music or voice with the same ease.

The new four-tube vest pocket job is on a ceramic plate three inches long and two inches wide.

"It eliminates the need for internal wiring," said Franklin, a physicist at the national bureau of standards, "and you can imagine what a saving that will mean in manufacturing sets."

Franklin said the bureau, under direction of Dr. Cleo Brunetti, also has developed a lipstick-size broadcasting station.

"Team the two together, and you have a personal walkie-talkie," he explained.

"Or, if you don't want a walkie-talkie, you can use the calling card set as an ordinary receiver. You'll be able to tune in on programs within a radius of 126 miles."

Brunetti and his associates in Washington used processes and materials developed for the wartime proximity fuse, which fitted into the warhead of a shell and carried a complete radio sending and receiving station enabling the shell to explode at the most effective distance from the target.

"A firm in upper New York state already has turned out 5,000 sets," Franklin said, "but they're all sold out now."

"They plan to build 50,000 more in an attempt to find out just how many people want to buy, and what changes must be made for better performance."

Kindly Motorist Helps Striking Bus Driver

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—When buses were strikebound, the mayor asked motorists to give lifts to pedestrians. So George B. Casey generously picked up a dejected fellow plodding through deep snow.

"Glad to do it," explained Casey as they arrived downtown. "Feel sorry for people who have to walk."

"Better let me out," said his passenger. "I'm a striking bus driver."

Aromatic Ads in Newspapers May Be Next Step in Scent

NORMAN, OKLA.—Don't be too astonished if the butcher's advertisement in your newspaper emits the sizzling scent of a sirlon steak and mingles with the odor of frying onions from the grocer's display on the opposite page.

Perhaps that aromatic aroma of coffee from the evening paper will keep you awake at night.

Dr. Ralph Bienfang, professor of pharmacy at University of Oklahoma, says odoriferous advertising may be the next step—after color—in attracting customers.

Bienfang, considered one of the world's foremost authorities on odors, already is working on his first commercial assignment of that kind—an order from a San Diego restaurateur who wants the pictures of meat courses on his advertising blotters to smell just like the real dishes.

Bienfang says perfumes have been used in such advertising, but that making food odors involves an entirely different process.

"It's not impossible to duplicate any food odor," Bienfang pointed out. "I bet I could whip up a chili odor that would have you reaching for a cracker and a spoon."

"Take the bread you buy at your market. It's just like that song, 'Stone Cold Dead in the Market.' There's no odor. I'm sure I could put together a fresh bread smell that could be put in the wrapper—and in advertisements."

Electric Map Helps Visitors Find Way in Technical School

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—Science has come to the aid of visitors at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A large electrified map was set up in the main lobby to guide visitors through M.I.T.'s 10 miles of corridors and save unnecessary walking.

A visitor looks for his destination in a directory and listed there is a number. When the corresponding number is pressed on the map, one of 99 lights blinks. This shows the visitor where he is going.

Austria Captures 57 Germans Who Escaped Into Mountains

VIENNA.—Vienna newspapers said 57 Nazis who fled Vienna to the mountains at the end of the war had been arrested in a recent roundup in western Austria.

The newspapers quoted the ministry of justice as saying investigation showed that the Nazis were engaged in black market activities which "extended to other former Nazi groups in various parts of Austria."

Science and the Weather

Mark Twain's famous crack, "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," is a dead duck. Plenty is being done about it. In fact, General Electric company and the army signal corps have signed contracts to do something about it.

Papers were signed the other day for a war on fog, rain and snow in which science and army B-29 bombers will cooperate in an all-out drive to blitz bad weather. It will begin over aviation fields, with fog the No. 1 foe. But scientists predict a day when "manipulation of giant natural forces will control weather everywhere."

It all began when scientists flew over Greylock mountain in Massachusetts last year, dropping six pounds of dry ice pellets at 14,000 feet, which produced artificial snow. Experiments have continued until it may almost be said that science has weather in the bag.

"There's a fog over our airport. Take an order to remove it right away," is about to become a routine message.

Ultimately a man who wants a fog can, by a reverse process, get it. A ski course operator can order his snow direct. If your lawn is burning up, the time may come when you can wire a local weather service station and have a shower delivered the same day.

The man of tomorrow, planning a picnic, a field day or a parade will arrange with Schenectady for suitable weather.

All of which, we suppose, represents wonderful progress. However, the outlook is not all milk and honey. We have moods where we like fog or snow or rain and we don't want the man next door fixing to ruin a nice gloomy spell just because he wants sunshine.

INFLATION HARMS SAVER, BENEFITS GOVERNMENT

A reader, George Treadwell, secretary of Rotary club No. 1, Chicago, sends me an authorless clipping which, he says, sounds like something I had written. The little story was supplied to the Rotarian by Dan D. Clinton of Houston, Tex., who said he had heard or read it. Thanks for the compliment, "Tread," but I cannot claim to be the daddy of the wail, although I wish I could. That little piece so aptly describes the conditions of these times—today, tomorrow and next year—that I am swiping it to pass along to other readers. Here it is as printed in the Rotarian under the title, "What's Inflation?"

"A man who ran a small chicken ranch needed wheat for his chickens, so he went to work for a farmer one day a week. The farmer paid him $5 a day. He used the $5 to buy wheat from the farmer at $1 a bushel. So, every day he took home five bushels of wheat.

"One day he said to the farmer, 'I've got to have more money. I'm going to charge you $6 a day for my work.' 'I know how it is,' said the farmer, 'I've got to have more money for my wheat. Starting today, wheat will cost you $1.20 a bushel.' So the man worked one day a week for the farmer, and at the end of the day took home five bushels of wheat.

"A little while later, the man said his wages would have to go up to $7.50 a day — and the farmer put the price of wheat up to $1.50 a bushel. So the man continued to work one day a week with the farmer and at the end of the day he brought home five bushels of wheat.

"After a while his wages got up to $10 a day, and he paid $2 a bushel for his wheat. The farmer said to his wife, 'Isn't it wonderful? I'm getting twice as much for my wheat as I used to.' The man with the chicken ranch said to his wife, 'Isn't it wonderful? I'm getting twice the wages I used to get.'

"Puzzle — who's ahead? Nobody. Who's behind? The people with savings in the bank. The people with government bonds. The people with insurance policies."

It is at that $2 a bushel wheat price, and the $10 a day wage scale that Senator Taft suggests we stabilize our economic standards. To do so means just what this little story so aptly illustrates. It would standardize the dollar at about 30 cents as compared with predepression values.

There is one who will win. That one is our Uncle Samuel. He has sold billions of dollars of war bonds to his nieces and nephews. They patriotically invested the savings they made from their predepression 100-cent dollars, but at a 60-cent dollar value. Now it is suggested that Uncle Samuel pay off the nieces and nephews in 30-cent value dollars.

That may be a popular procedure for those who have products or labor to sell, but it will be hard on those who have only the savings of 100-cent dollars on which to live, whether those savings be invested in Uncle Sam's war bonds, in savings accounts, insurance policies or other things from which returns do not increase to compensate for the difference between a 100-cent and a 30-cent dollar. On that deal Uncle Sam is the one winner, but we, collectively, are Uncle Sam.

'ARMED INSURRECTION'

An illuminating paragraph from the Communistic textbook, issued as instructions to party workers by the Third International, with headquarters in Moscow: "The task of the party is to lead the working class to the revolutionary struggle for power. This is done by carrying on propaganda in favor of increasingly radical slogans, and by organizing mass action, including strikes and demonstrations, strikes and armed demonstrations, and finally the general strike with armed insurrection." In America the party workers have reached the stage of "strikes and demonstrations," and are moving towards "armed demonstrations."

MANUFACTURERS, large or small, who unnecessarily increase their prices in order to increase their earnings beyond a "stay in business" point, are helping to invite that inflation of which we are so fearful.

Business Drop In '47 Forecast

Bureau of Economics Reports Prospect of Decline in Food Cost Before '48.

WASHINGTON. — Forces now at work seem to indicate a business recession late in 1947 and a downturn in prices, particularly in foods, according to a report by the bureau of agricultural economics.

It said wholesale food prices—which recently climbed to a record level—may decline from 15 to 20 per cent by the end of the year. Farm prices could drop 20 to 25 per cent, it added, if the business downturn should come at the time when farm marketings are heavy.

The bureau emphasized, however, that "timely downward adjustments" in prices could improve the outlook.

Decline in Wages. Last fall the bureau said a decline in business and industrial activity was possible late this year. The forecast gave, for the first time, an estimate of the degree of the prospective setback.

The major force which the bureau said is operating to bring on a recession is a declining volume of purchasing power in the hands of wage earners. Taking into account the steady rise in the cost of living, the bureau said the "real income" (that is purchasing power) of salary and wage earners has been declining since V-J Day.

Production and sales of goods have been held at record dollar levels since the end of the war, apparently by spending of wartime savings and by installment credit.

The bureau said that there are signs that purchasing power derived from these supplementary sources is declining. Many persons already have obtained all installment credit they can get or want to carry.

"This decline in buying power," the bureau commented, "makes it increasingly difficult for total business activity to continue to expand."

Industry to Hit Peak. It said early downward adjustments in prices could improve the outlook by causing the "real income" of wage and salary earners to rise to a level consistent with continued high business activity. The report added, however, that such flexibility in the price structure rarely has been observed.

Industrial activity may reach a record level during the first half of the year and then decline from 5 to 10 per cent during the last half, the bureau's economists predicted.

Annual rate of income payments during the first half of the year is likely to increase somewhat over the annual rate of $173,000,000,000 reached in the last quarter of 1946, the report said.

"If industrial activities decline as much as anticipated, income payments to individuals in the second half of 1947 may be 8 to 12 per cent below those of the first half," it added.

British Navy Officer Found Guilty of Being Too Friendly

LONDON.—A Royal naval court-martial has ordered Lt. John Wardle dismissed from his command for prejudicing naval discipline. He was convicted of entertaining his minesweeper crew of five at Christmas luncheon at sea.

The prosecution said commanding officers had been told not to entertain enlisted men in officers' messes at Christmas because "trouble sometimes results."

Wardle told the court he had spent every Christmas afloat since 1942 and had taken part in several similar celebrations.

The verdict ordered him to be severely reprimanded and to forfeit three months of his seniority.

BUTTER CONSUMPTION is way down. People got used to less butter during the war. In 1940, per capita butter eating was 17 pounds. Now it is down to 10 pounds and dairymen would like to see it go to 20.

Cultivation is as necessary to the mind as food is to the body.
—Cicero.

PRICES show a wide range of increases since August of pre-war 1939. A look at the record two years after victory in Europe, shows automobile tires, for example, up only 20% while grain prices have zoomed 240%; livestock and poultry prices are up an average of 221%. Percentage increases are based on figures prepared by the Bureau Statistics.

A much married Hollywood actor was confronted by a gay damsel. "Hello there," she greeted him. "don't you remember me? Ten years ago you asked me to marry you." "Really," yawned the actor, "and did you?"

Voice from the top of stairs: "Doesn't that young man know how to say good night?"
Daughter: "I'll say he does!"

Beau Brummell of the Boulevards!

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, will be supplied at extra cost as soon as available.

YOU'RE practically that, of course, the minute you take over any new 1947 Buick. Never before has any automobile so completely won the country by its beauty — so clearly defined the shape of cars to come.

But really to take the stage and hold it — to cut a dashing figure in the smartest of smart company —

It is without question the most wanted version of America's most wanted car.

It's wanted for the freedom that's yours when its handy control swings back the top — and the sky becomes your roof and the birds your travel mates.

It's wanted for the lift and surge of its satiny straight-eight Fireball power plant, master of every grade and hill, monarch of the farthest horizon.

It's wanted for bigness, and the deep comfort of low-set, cushiony seats — wanted for the floating ease of soft all-coil springing, and the sure-footed stride of a car that's big enough and brawny enough for its job.

It's wanted for styling that already has set the pattern for years to come — it's wanted for fun, for adventure, and for year-round, all-round full family use.

The demand for it? Great, of course.

The supply? Mounting as fast as Buick's beaver-busy production staff can free up the supply of the fine materials that go into it.

So with patience, one can be yours. With patience, that is — and the foresight to get your order in now.

A FINGER TOUCH — and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

GRANTLAND RICE

IT MAY interest you to know what various ball players, scouts and managers think about the next two pennant races. Taking a general consensus, here is the vote in both leagues.

In the National league, the Dodgers are sure to be an improved team, with more experience and greater consistency in pitching. Youth rides faster from midsummer on. But the Cardinals are also much stronger than they looked to be a year ago—especially with George Mungler and Johnny Beazley back to help out Pollet, Breecheen, Dickson and others.

M. Cooper

The Cardinals look to be the class of both leagues. They have a young hustling star catcher—a great pitching staff—the best infield in baseball, with Musial, Schoendienst, Marion and Kurovski, and one of the best outfields. They have class and spirit. They are not getting any younger and there are still a few "ifs" connected with Terry Moore's knee, the arms of Kurovski and Slaughter, Marion's back and Johnny Beazley. But so far, these highly important cogs seem to be grinding smoothly.

The serious experts I've talked to pick Billy Southworth's Braves as the serious threat.

"If Mort Cooper picks up where he left off last year," one scout told me, "the Braves can challenge the Cardinals and Dodgers. Cooper is a great pitcher—not merely a good one. Southworth is two deep. Elliot will help a lot. The Braves can be a tough club to handle any time."

Cubs for Fourth Place

The Spring vote for fourth place goes to the Cubs. After that, it is anybody's scramble, with the Phillies, Giants, Pirates and Reds in a hard drive to head the second division. But the experts are cagey enough to suggest that one of these might reach the first division.

The Cardinals are the pick. "By all odds, the best all-around team in baseball," one veteran told me. "Only savage ill luck can let them down. They are all class. The Dodgers will hustle, but they won't outthrust this Cardinal team—not on the ball field, where they win and lose games."

The Dodgers are packed with "ifs"—Branca, Barney, Head, first base, third base and Pete Reiser. The only Cardinal "if" is a few removed, and replaced, bones.

The consensus in the American league circuit leans strongly to the Red Sox.

I know the Tigers think they will beat out the Yankees. They don't think they can beat out the Red Sox—but they figure there's a chance with better pitching, which they might get. And better pitching can pick up a lot.

Yanks Need DiMaggio

The collapse of Yankee hitting last year, plus the type of spring training they have employed, won't be any big help. Both the Red Sox and Tigers will leave Florida much better conditioned teams. The injury to Joe DiMaggio has been a hard blow. Joe is the Yankee spearhead. There will have to be a terrific upward lift on the part of the Yankees to beat out either Red Sox or Tigers—possibly to head off the Indians. At this moment, the Yankees are not in any too high favor as pennant people. Russo could make a big difference.

Yankee pitching can be O.K., as it was last year, but there must be a big change in Yankee hitting, Yankee spirit, and Yankee hustle. This refers to the Yankees of 1946, not the squad getting ready for 1947. But the 1947 Yankee squad must know by now how many games it lost last year through this wrecking fault. A few transfusions of Cardinal blood could help more than a trifle. You can bank on Bucky Harris, Chuck Dressen and Red Corriden to handle more than their share of the plot, but they are not out on the field winning games.

A Yankee revival could make a big difference, but this means practically the entire team must play better ball outside of Spud Chandler, who is still their best pitcher after some nine years of major league service.

Cleveland Has Hurlers

The vote we have picked up gives Joe Gordon a good year, possibly a big year, with Cleveland pitching always dangerous. The Cleveland outfield, however, is below par. The Tiger infield isn't any too hot, although Kell is close to being the best third baseman in the league.

The main job, of course, is suppressing the Red Sox, with Ted Williams, Tex Hughson, Bobby Doerr, Dom DiMaggio and Johnny Pesky. The vote, at this moment, is Cardinals vs. Red Sox. The next vote is Dodgers vs. Red Sox. The third vote is Cardinals vs. Tigers.

But after all, there is a hot summer on ahead, plus the grind of the stretch.

Sawing and Planing Cabin Timber. Flooring, Window Frames and Door Frames. Tanner Lumber Co.

No. 2 Continued from First Page.

Margee MacCargar entertained a few of her girl friends at her home Thursday afternoon of this week, the occasion being the eighth birthday anniversary. She was the recipient of several lovely gifts. The customary birthday cake and ice cream were served. Margee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora MacCargar. Guests at the party included Peggy White, Alice Arning, Betty Lou Darling, Sally Ostrander, Patty Lomas and Judy Barkman.

After a fire, Watson, I can always tell whether or not a man has proper insurance. The man who is insured looks so happy.
