National Plant Closed Down By Strike

Union Committee Gives Signed Statement To Public

A picket line was placed in front of the National Gypsum plant at National City Wednesday morning after a walkout Tuesday afternoon by union members, closed the plant.

The plant is at present employing 240 workers.

It is understood that 35 construction workers at the plant, not members of the local, also left their jobs in a "sympathy walkout" Tuesday afternoon.

The following statement was made by the Lockout Committee of Local No. 239, United Chemical Workers, C. I. O., operating at the National Gypsum plant:

The 230 employees of the National Gypsum Co., of National City, Mich. were idled as a result of a lockout by the Company. The employees are members of local No. 239, United Chemical Workers—C. I. O.

The lockout occurred Tuesday, April 22, 1947 when the Company refused admittance into the plant for five (5) employees who chose on Monday to go home instead of performing other work as was the past practice.

The Union Committee met with plant superintendent Clarence E. Anderson on Tuesday, seeking an explanation of the company's action. He informed the committee that the men quit.

Investigation by the Committee disclosed however, that this was not the case.

The Committee met again, with Anderson on Wednesday, with Regional director, Chester Vamczky of the Union in attendance. All efforts to settle the lockout, however, failed.

U. S. Conciliators are making arrangements to effect an early settlement.

The membership of Local 239 will hold a meeting on Wednesday, April 30, 1947, at 12:30 p. m. at Sherman town hall.

Signed:
Lockout Committee:
Henry K. Hasty
Rec. Sec.
George Snyder.
Sam Boger,
George J. Burlew,
George Biggs.

Tawas Bay Yacht Club Plan Summer Program

A meeting of the Tawas Bay Yacht Club was held Tuesday, April 22nd, at 8:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Ladd McKay. Various problems and projects of the Club were discussed, and several Committees were appointed, as follows: Class Committee: Carl Babcock, Mat Haglund, Earl BeMent. Buoy Committee: Dan Carter, Cliff Turner, Floyd Fernetto. Site Location: Earl BeMent. Dr. Hess, Art Frost, Bob Bontekoe. Dredging Committee: Charles Pinkerton, Jr., Don Phillips, Bob Bontekoe. Dock Committee: Bob Bontekoe, Bill O'Loughlin, Earl BeMent. Publicity: Ladd McKay, Art Frost, Carl Babcock, R. G. Schreck.

A beautiful Pennant, with the Yacht Club insignia, has been secured by Floyd Ketcherside. Any member desirous of obtaining one can do so by contacting Mr. Ketcherside.

The Club Cannon, which has been missing for the past five years, has been located and readied for action. Committee progress will be announced weekly in the local papers.

Naval Reserve Unit Will Visit Tawas City

Michigan's Naval Reserve Traveling Unit will visit Tawas City on Wednesday, April 30th between 10:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. in the lobby of the Post Office to enroll all veterans of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, and Marines, as well as former WAVES, into the streamlined inactive Naval Reserve.

The new, civilian program affords the veteran an opportunity to join at his discharged rate, maintain his longevity the same as being on active duty, and most important remains strictly a civilian, said Lt. (jg.) J. H. Faber, Officer in Charge of the unit. A member of the inactive Reserve cannot be called to active duty without his own consent, except in the event of a national emergency declared by Congress.

Well Known Plainfield Man Dies Tuesday

Word of the passing of Claude V. Salisbury of Hale on Tuesday came as a shock to his friends at home and throughout the county. Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last Sunday. Obituary next week.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the Hale Baptist church. The remains will lay in state at the Masonic Temple at Hale from 12:00 noon until the services at 2:00.

Gingerich-Western Auto To Bowl for Honors

Last Monday marked the end of the Commercial League season, with the play-offs set for the first and second half winners. Gingerich Keggler, who defeated Moeller Grocery in a tie play-off in the first half will bowl Western Auto, second half winners. The play-off match is set for Monday night, April 28 on alleys 3 and 4 at the Tawas City Recreation.

Lineups for the two teams are: Western Auto: R. Fox, G. Myles, J. Coyle, G. Staudacher, H. Hatton, with J. Dodson as sub. The Gingerich Keggler include: E. Gingerich, R. Gingerich, N. Thornton, R. Gackstetter, R. Prescott, with D. Landon as sub.

Barnes Breaks Ground to Enlarge Hotel

Excavation for Basement Started Thursday Morning

Kenneth Barnes broke ground Thursday morning for a large addition to the Barnes Hotel which will be constructed this spring. Mr. Barnes stated that present accommodations at the hotel were booked up for the season, and that additional rooms were necessary.

The new addition is being built at the rear of the present structure, and will be of cinder block construction. One hundred twenty feet long, 18 feet, high with full basement, it will add eight new modern bedrooms to the hotel and living quarters for Mr. Barnes and hotel employees.

Construction of this project has quickly followed the complete remodeling of the building last year and will give Mr. Barnes an excellent hotel property. We wish to congratulate Mr. Barnes.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks to our neighbors and friends for the many acts of kindness shown us during the illness and death of our father.

The Herbert Herriman family.

Charles Horen of Bay City is now employed by his brother, William Horen, at the Fletcher Oil Company station in this city. Mr. Horen will move his family here within a short time.

MR. AND MRS. CARL LANGE OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lange celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home Saturday, April 19. They were married on Easter Sunday in 1897 at the Zion Lutheran church by Rev. C. L. Wuggazer. The present pastor, Rev. Ernest Ross in his address used the same text, Luke 24:29, that Rev. Wuggazer read fifty years ago. The children of the honored couple and other relatives and friends were present, and gave the venerable couple many beautiful and useful gifts. A beautiful wedding cake centered the dinner table.

Whittemore ..... 672.00
Murl K. Atken, auditor general, announced that the school portion of the Sales Tax Money would be distributed soon.

Tawas City Ball Team Starts Workouts

Though the weather man seems to have "winter on his mind," the Tawas City baseball team put in a light workout at the local athletic field last Sunday in preparation for opening day game, May 18 when they play Alabaster. Another practice was held Tuesday evening, with about thirteen present. Due to the cold weather, those present went through only light work-outs, playing catch, pepper games and fungo hitting. Friday night began practice night, and batting and infield practice will begin if the weather "warms up." Tuesday nights practice is in charge of William "Bill" Groff, Sr., old time Tawas City baseball player.

All those who intend to go out for this year's team should be on hand Sunday, April 27, as this will be the last practice before the player-list is turned in to the league secretary. The league deadline for the lists is Thursday, May 1. After the practice session Sunday, a business meeting will be held and several team matters gone over. If rain postpones the practice, the meeting will be held at the city hall. Practice called for 1:30.

20th Century Club

The last meeting of the year is planned for May 1st when a picnic will be enjoyed with Mrs. Harry Rollin as hostess, at the Rollin cabin.

Zion to Celebrate Synod Centennial

The local Zion Lutheran congregation will celebrate the Centennial of the Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states on this Sunday with a Festival Service in English at 10:00 a. m. The Sunday school of the congregation will have a special commemorative service at 9:00 a. m. Emanuel Lutheran congregation which is a member of the Wisconsin Synod, but with Zion Lutheran congregation a member of the Synodical Lutheran Conference, will join Zion congregation on the festive occasion.

On April 27 of this year some 4,700 congregations will individually celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Lutheran Missouri Synod, while a mass celebration of the centennial will be staged in Chicago during July in connection with the triennial convention of the Synod.

The Missouri Synod is divided into 33 Districts, each free to elect its own officers and to control its own internal affairs. The three Canadian Districts have a membership of 44,000, while the two South American Districts have 65,000 members enrolled. Foreign mission work is carried on in India, China, Africa, and the Philippine Islands. Some 4,000 active pastors and missionaries are on the Synod's roster, while 1,900 ministerial students are enrolled in its colleges.

Dr. Baxter to Speak at Kiwanis Dinner

Meeting Will be Held Tuesday Evening at Barnes Hotel

D. V. Baxter, Ph.D. of the University of Michigan will be the principal speaker at the Kiwanis Club dinner which will be held next Tuesday evening at the Barnes Hotel, Tawas City. He is professor of Forest Pathology at the School of Forestry and Conservation.

D. V. BAXTER, PH.D.

Mr. Baxter is a member of the Executive Board of the Graduate School, having served in that capacity since 1937. He has been engaged in research projects for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in various states, including Wisconsin, Colorado, North and South Dakota, Michigan, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona, New Mexico, North Carolina, Alabama, Illinois, and Indiana.

He was delegate to the Tedje Nordiske Skogkongress, Oslo, Norway. Later, he conducted studies on the important wood-inhabiting fungi in Lapland and in northern Europe. This expedition constitutes a phase of the field work which lead to a monographic study on certain groups of plants of northern Europe and North America (1930). He has also participated in a number of University of Michigan expeditions in southwestern United States and California (1931); Alaska and the Yukon territory in 1932 later expeditions to Alaska in 1933, 1935, 1936, 1937, and to Kodiak Island in 1938.

Professor Baxter is the author of a great many publications on Wood.

AuSable River Canoe Race Proposed

Study Possibilities of Marathon from Grayling to Oscoda

Representatives of communities along the AuSable River set up a committee at Mio Tuesday night to investigate the possibilities of an annual marathon canoe race down-river from Grayling to Oscoda.

The committee is to probe the problems of financing such a project, community support, and the physical details of staging such a race. It will report back to the 41 representatives present at last night's session, at a meeting at Grayling, on May 6.

Named to the study committee were: Howard W. Brubaker, president, and Charles C. Kurtzrock, Oscoda Chamber of Commerce; Charles Hager, president, and Albert Arnold, secretary, Mio Sportsmen's club, and Wesley Kumpulka, president, and J. H. Peterson, secretary, Grayling Chamber of Commerce. The two committees from each community were empowered to name one additional member to the committee for purposes of technical advice.

The proposed race, outlined by Frank Davis, of Bay City, secretary manager of the East Michigan Tourist association, would be staged as an attraction to focus public attention on this section of the state. Delegates from Grayling, Mio, Oscoda, and Roscommon attending the meeting expressed confidence that the proposed race would arouse nationwide attention.

It is expected that the study committee will recommend a trial run down the river by two or more teams of expert canoeists to work out necessary details of timing and rules of the race.

Says Road Service

Must be Curtailed if Gas Tax Not Increased

The Road Commission has just received the following telegram from A. O. Cuthbert, Engineer Director of the County Road Association, Lansing, Michigan:

"Posters and letter deluge sponsored by petroleum interests asking 'No' vote on gasoline tax increase having disturbing effect on some legislators. Request thinking people of your county who favor this tax to send wires, letters, cards to their Legislators advocating passage of this gasoline tax or forget about new road revenue this session."

The Road Commission requests those interested in improved roads and some of the service they think they should have, to write Senator C. T. Prescott and Representative Richard Deadman at once. The Commission states that this is entirely up to the people. The Legislature will act only as letters of request come in sufficient numbers from the voters. They further state that unless some help comes from the Legislature soon, that all road improvement and service will have to be curtailed to the point where it seriously hurts everyone.

A Communication

Ferndale, Michigan, April 19, 1947

Dear Perc:

Here is a bit of news that I know some "Old Time Tawasites" will probably like to hear.

On Friday eve April 18th, the "Old Time Base-Ball Players Association" held their annual event at the Harmonie Hall in Detroit at 7:00 p. m. Your writer was the guest of Billy Rogell and Joe Fortin. Harry Heilmann aided as M. C. Eddie Mayo spoke on the "Old-Timers of New Jersey." Toledo and other points were represented. The hall was packed. Refreshments were served including some old time "Tiger" players; pinch-hitting for Frank X. Madden. Editor of the Ferndale Times, I interviewed the following: Davy Jones, Frank Fuller, and Miles Main, in addition to the above. Other notables were Jack Kotkowski, Mich. State Comm. Director of "Old Tigers", Scout for Athletics, Philadelphia. Miles Main sends his best to his many friends in Tawas, also says hello to Doug Ferguson. His son Gerald, is President of the Main Sand & Gravel Co., Detroit.

Sincerely,
George R. Steinhurst.

'DRAFT TRUMAN' MEETINGS
WASHINGTON. — While Republicans were literally pounding on the outer gates during the Lillenthal debate, Democratic national committeemen from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia were enjoying a unique session with Harry Truman within the White House.

Spoke up vivacious Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, Democratic committeewoman from Pennsylvania:

"Mr. President, I have a request to make. I want a girl whom you know very well to open the '48 Democratic convention by singing 'The Star-Spangled Banner.'"

Truman grinned happily, but while Democratic leaders got no commitment regarding Margaret Truman and "The Star-Spangled Banner," they did come away from the meeting more confident of their political future than at any time since Franklin Roosevelt died two years ago.

The meeting had been arranged as first in a series in which party kings will come to Washington to discuss national affairs with the President and top cabinet officials. It also was designed to warm up Democrats for a "Draft Truman" drive.

ALIENS WITHIN THE GATES

Congress is preparing further crackdowns on alien agents, chiefly those who enter the United States under assumed names, such as Gerhardt Eisler, the alleged Soviet agent who changed his name 19 times while shuttling back and forth between the USA and USSR.

South Dakota's Rep. Karl Mundt of the house un-American activities committee is introducing a bill whereby aliens who obtain passports and visas be fingerprinted. The fingerprints would be filed with the FBI, and all visiting aliens would be required to carry identification cards.

The house un-American committee also will consider behind closed doors another measure requiring members of the Communist party to register as agents of any foreign government.

MOSCOW DIARY

Jottings from a Moscow diplomatic diary: "We have to be careful lest our confidential files be pilfered. Delegates living at the Hotel Moscow do not work there. They work at their embassies. No papers of any kind are left in their hotel rooms when they leave. . . . Spasso house, home of Ambassador Bedell Smith, has been turned into an office building. . . . American MPs guarding the embassy are very careful. A year ago when Jimmie Byrnes was here you could come and go at Spasso house every day. This time you show passes. . . . Even inside the embassy we talk behind our hands. It's to stop the sound-waves and double-cross the dictaphones. . . . They say that when Joe Davies was ambassador in Moscow, he collected a bushel basket of dictaphones every morning. The servants had put them in overnight.

"Russia impresses one as a country united with a single will. . . . Unquestioning obedience to authority. Practically no black market. . . . Valuables (aside from diplomatic papers) are quite safe in my unlocked hotel room. . . . More industry and energy than intelligence. . . . The maid who putties the cracks in my window lest I freeze is a peasant content to putty cracks for the rest of her days.

"Here in the best of the Russian hotels, the mattress would be a disgrace to a second-class hotel in New York. The table lamp can be turned off only by pulling the plug from the wall. Toilet facilities remind one of a third-rate boarding house. . . . But the critic of these minutiae is likely to lose sight of the fact that Russia has been remade in the last generation, and that in the next generation she will be remade again. . . . Remember how Charles Dickens laughed at the crudities he found in the United States only a couple of generations ago."

PRAYING FOR SENATORS

Although few legislators seem to pay too much attention to it, each session of the house and the senate opens with a prayer. Recently the Rev. Peter Marshall, senate chaplain, delivered the following which seemed peculiarly appropriate:

"O Thou who has the words of eternal life, help us to cultivate proper speech," he began. "Surrounded as we are in this city with noble inscriptions of the plain, stirring words of wise men, may we say what we mean and mean what we say. And may it be worth saying.

"Teach us economy in speech that neither wounds nor offends, that affords light without generating heat. Bridle our tongues lest they stampe us into utterances of which, later, we shall be ashamed. This we ask in Jesus' name. Amen."

The lengthy debate which followed made it all too apparent that no one had listened.

LURE TO TRAVELERS . . . As its bid for the postwar traveling trade, the railroad industry is introducing sleek streamliners embodying a wide variety of improvements designed for passenger comfort, relaxation and safety. Typical of the new trains is this scale model of the observation lounge car of the Train of Tomorrow.

PALACES ON WHEELS

Improved Service Is Keynote Of Railroads' Bid for Trade

WNU Features.

Faced with the keenest competition in their long history from the modern automobile, bus and airplane, American railroads are leaving no stone unturned in their all-out bid for passenger preference, if the new streamliners now entering the transportation picture are any criterion. These new streamliners, sleek and beautiful in their exterior appearance, are modern palaces on wheels inside.

Determined to replace outmoded rolling stock, the railroads are adding equipment at an ever-increasing rate, as builders slowly recover from a wave of postwar strikes and work stoppages that have kept bearings, air-conditioning and certain electrical appliances, hardware and other materials coming into their plants in a mere trickle since V-J Day.

Traffic and revenue reports on America's first four postwar-built trains constructed by Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company show that the public not only is showing great interest in the new trains, but also is backing it up at the ticket window. The new equipment is bringing improved service, and the public is responding with increased patronage.

Stress Comfort. Postwar railroad coaches are designed from end to end for passenger relaxation and comfort.

One of the greatest postwar improvements is in seating. Coach seats of the Sleepy Hollow type provide the ultimate in comfort. This seat, so spaced as to give ample leg room and provide a wide range of adjustment of back and foot-rest position, was developed as a direct result of studies of 3,867 persons who were measured by a university scientist to determine the sitting requirements of the average passenger. This reclining seat is adjustable to 10 different positions and the foot rest has four positions.

In the main seating compartments of the new postwar cars, a new type of lighting affords a high degree of reading comfort and convenience. The reading lights, installed in the overhead baggage rack, are equipped with two lenses over each cross seat, one to give light for the window passenger, the other for the aisle passenger. Each light has an individual switch to permit a passenger to read without disturbing his neighbor.

The new trains are particularly interesting from a color standpoint, inasmuch as the new color themes are set by the route of the train. In an effort to have these streamliners express in color the characteristics of the countryside through which they pass, colored pictures are taken and studied by the builders. As a result, interiors are strikingly pleasing to passengers, for the rock formations furnish the inspiration for the tans and browns, the foliage provides

Woman Lives in Same Hotel 90 Years

CARLYLE, ILL.—"Aunt Clara" is a woman who likes to live in a hotel. "Aunt Clara" is Miss Clara Truesdail, 95, who has lived in the same hotel here for 90 years.

Her hotel home is the Hotel Truesdail, a family institution, which was built by her father in 1857 when she was five years old. For many years Miss Truesdail helped operate the hostelry, but it now is run by a third generation of the Truesdail family.

the greens, and the skies and lakes set the interior color tones for the blues and grays.

Further decorative effects are obtained through use of colorful fabrics for shades and chairs, and mirrors in flesh or gold tones are used for bulkhead ornamentation. Tinted murals also have made their appearance in postwar equipment, done in special monochromatic coloring, matching or contrasting to the wall tones.

No Spilled Coffee.

A new postwar diner, with diagonally placed seats and tables, has made its debut. This diner seats its patrons at the sides of the car at square tables, which are placed diagonally along the car wall. This modern arrangement permits patrons to pursue a direct conversational attitude at the tables; permits serving from between tables instead of from the aisle, and obviates the necessity of reaching in front of one patron to serve another, as is the custom in the conventional diner.

Although the railroads and equipment builders have emphasized beauty and comfort in the new postwar train, no compromise has been made as to safety features, for here, too, new ideas have been incorporated into the finished product.

Basically, the streamline train must be lighter in weight than the old conventional equipment. It must be sleek of surface but strong enough to meet rigid requirements of the railroads.

Development of new materials for construction of lightweight cars created many new problems, and the choice of car-building materials and processes came as the result of intensive investigation by welding engineers and other research agencies. It is the conclusion of the nation's largest car-building plant that the so-called low alloys of steel, of high tensile strength, and the strong alloys of aluminum—together with the advantages of girder type construction—offer the combination of qualities most suitable for the building of modern lightweight passenger train cars.

Extensive testing and service use, and experience with severe forms of shock, have confirmed the soundness of these selections of basic car-building materials and designs.

No Rude Awakenings.

Postwar cars are equipped with the famous titelock coupler, which offers maximum safety by making virtually impossible the accidental uncoupling of cars and also adds to the riding comfort of passengers by permitting no slack between the cars to cause jolts in starting or stopping.

Double pane, shatter-proof glass is used throughout the new lightweight equipment, assuring insulation not only against frosting and steaming of windows but also against outside noises. Special materials control temperatures and reduce outside noises.

On some of the new equipment, fool-proof electric impulses are replacing the deft hand of the locomotive engineer in stopping high-speed passenger trains. Engineers on these streamliners merely press a button when they wish to stop and a robot electrical "aide" makes all the decisions from there on.

This new system results in smoother and faster stops because the maximum of efficient braking is applied automatically at each speed range. Loss of efficiency in stopping, which takes place when train wheels slide, is eliminated by a decelostat.

Yes, the postwar transportation battle is on, and it all adds up to the best deal the traveling public has yet been offered.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Famed Azalea Gardens Recall Beauty and Quiet of Old South

WNU Features.

NORFOLK, VA.—It's spring again and Norfolk's azalea gardens are in bloom.

Eighty acres of floral and woodland beauty bid the visitor to old Virginia welcome to a beauty spot which many lovers of nature claim is unrivaled anywhere.

Within a few minutes' drive of the business section of Virginia's bustling seaport city and actually within sound of giant airliners taking off from Norfolk's airport, the azalea gardens are a step to yesterday—to the beauty and quiet of the Old South where nature adorns but cannot hope to reproduce.

More than 50,000 azalea bushes, planted so as to give continuous blooming from about April 1 to about June 1, are the principal attraction at the gardens but they are only a part of the beauties there. Tall trees and quiet lakes and flowers other than azaleas combine to form a silent symphony of nature at her best. Song birds in profusion add their voices to the scene.

The azalea gardens, a part of Norfolk's park system, are located along the shores of Norfolk's lakes which form a perfect water mirror for the flowers. The area has been landscaped with paths and foot bridges to make all sections of the gardens available to visitors.

The gardens began their spring blooms in March when camellias, Japanese quince and forsythia preceded an avalanche of naturalized daffodils and bluebells.

In April five varieties of Indian azaleas and six varieties of Kurume azaleas bloom under a canopy of native dogwood, redbuds, shadbush and other plants.

Riot of Color. May sees azaleas macrantha and hexe at their best with accompanying plants being mountain laurel, columbine and Louisiana wild iris.

In June the flowers grow near the water's edge. The colors of the rhododendron catawbiensis and the flame azalea compete with those of the Japanese iris close by the shores.

Wild flowers bloom in profusion in July. Included in the wild flowers in the azalea gardens are the beautiful cardinal flowers which present a contrast to the rhododendron maximum.

Lovers of the crape myrtle, which is Norfolk's adopted flower, will find that plant at its best in August when its blooms appear in bold masses in many parts of the gardens.

In the fall, thousands of berry shrubs, including four varieties of hollies, nandinas and pyracantha, supplement the autumnal tints of the woodland.

The gardens as they exist today are a result of the dreams of Frederic Huetter, director of the Norfolk bureau of parks and forestry, and Thomas P. Thompson, former city manager.

Admission to the gardens is free, and when the azaleas are at their best as many as 13,000 persons have visited them in one day.

Army Bows Out. The azalea gardens have been recognized by the army as having priority over the pressing needs of war emergency. In 1942 the army staked out a construction project in the area and planned a series of buildings which would encroach on the actual garden properties. City officials, garden clubs and other organizations rallied to the defense of the gardens and the army, despite the pressure of war in 1942, changed its plans and erected its buildings elsewhere.

At that time Huetter voiced the feelings of nature lovers the world over when he said: "Not all the government's billions can replace a 50-year-old oak, a 25-year-old pine or a 20-year-old gum."

The azalea gardens are but a small part of the attractions of the Norfolk area for the tourist. The lakes on which they are located are a veritable fisherman's paradise and while fishing is not permitted in the gardens themselves, it is permitted close by.

Numerous Attractions. Within 20 minutes' driving time are Virginia Beach in one direction and Ocean View in the other. In the general Tidewater area are such points of interest as the Williamsburg-Jamestown-Yorktown historical section, naval establishments at Norfolk and Portsmouth, the waters of Hampton Roads and the scenic grandeur of the Great Dismal Swamp. Not far away also are the rugged Outer Banks of the North Carolina coast.

As another lure to visitors, Norfolk points to its food, which is universally acclaimed as a delight to the visitor and homefolk alike, whether it be saltwater delicacies from the deep or the famed Smithfield ham and Virginia fried chicken, ably supported by candied yams, black-eyed peas, turnip greens and peanut soup.

Firemen Get Lost, Miss Two Blazes

FRANKLIN, IND.—Chalk up a double error for the Franklin fire department after firemen lost their way to one fire and completely missed another. Summoned to the rural J. B. Hicks residence, firemen took the wrong road. When they finally arrived at the Hicks home, neighbors had extinguished the blaze. Meanwhile, a dairy barn in town was gutted by flames.

Termites Bother? FHA Will Aid You

Agency Will Finance a Home or Farm Improvements.

Have you a little termite that you'd like to get out of the base-board? Or would you like a fine new baseboard? Do you live in a nice warm climate where a patio would come in handy, or up in the northern states where the most important thing around the house is the furnace? Are you yearning for a barbecue pit, a chicken house, a lightning rod or two, some landscaping, a silo, a fence or perhaps just a flag pole for use come July 4? Most particularly, have you unused quarters which could be remodeled for veterans' housing?

Fulfilling your desire isn't difficult, for all these items are financed through FHA, according to a list compiled by Commercial Credit Corporation of Baltimore, Md., which last year did one of the largest FHA financing totals in the nation.

FHA, for instance, is as opposed to termites as you are; it is willing to help you get rid of them. It isn't opposed to patios wherever they come in handy and furnaces wherever needed. It has been trying hard to get the World War II veteran who is in need of a home some reasonable place to live.

Any number of improvements to home and farm also can be financed through FHA.

Instituting improvements is a simple process, and the home owner or farmer who wishes to improve his property has the protection given by congress when it passed the FHA law. The finance rate is set by FHA regulation.

Under the FHA, amounts up to $2,500 may be financed in the ordinary manner; under certain conditions larger amounts will be approved. Owners of property, equity holders or individuals renting who can pass a simple credit test are eligible, but leases must run for at least six months after final maturity of the notes. The majority of the notes, incidentally, may run from 6 to 36 months. However, where Presidential proclamation has declared that an acute shortage of housing exists or impends—and such proclamations include a large portion of the United States—notes covering remodeling or converting to provide living quarters for World War II veterans may run up to five, and even seven, years.

Farm Income Reported Fourth Above Year Ago

WASHINGTON.—The agriculture department reported that farm income in the first two and a half months of this year has been running about 25 per cent above the same period last year.

For 1947 as a whole, both prices received by farmers and total cash receipts probably will average about the same as in 1946, the department said.

Farm production expenses, on the other hand, are showing further increases and farmers' net income for the year may be down a little, the agency said.

Cash receipts for farm marketings in 1946 are estimated at $23,933,000,000. Farm operators' net income is estimated at $15,144,000,000.

Specialist Outlines Need in Treatment of Brain Injuries

CHICAGO.—Facilities are "wholly inadequate" to care for the nation's 400,000 brain-injured children and adults, a medical specialist reports.

Lawrence J. Linck, executive director of National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, said that cerebral palsy was a foremost cause of crippling conditions.

More trained personnel and great expansion of facilities are needed to care for victims, Linck added.

He said the society's advisory council was seeking to provide scholarships at hospitals and to encourage leading universities to set up special institutes to train personnel.

Denmark's Foreign Minister Says Greenland Not for Sale

COPENHAGEN.—Denmark does not want to sell Greenland and is not willing to negotiate with any nation on such a sale, Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen said.

Speaking in parliament, he repudiated recent reports that Denmark was negotiating with the United States on sale of Greenland.

He said the United States had never offered to buy it and added: "On behalf of the Danish government I establish that Denmark is not willing to negotiate on the sale of Greenland. It will not be sold to any nation."

Hurls Himself Nine Times At Speeding Cars; Killed

ANAHEIM, CALIF.—The state highway patrol said Placido Rodriguez, 23, a Mexican national, tried nine times to commit suicide—and finally succeeded. Eight times Rodriguez threw himself in front of speeding automobiles, officers reported, and eight times the drivers avoided striking him. On the ninth try, Rodriguez was fatally injured.

Wanna Be an Eagle?

The individual, formfit, quick detachable helicopter is at hand. Slipped on, as it were, over the head, requiring no time to adjust and able to take you aloft by zipper.

It is called the Hoppi-Copter. It really outboard-motorizes you for life among the barn swallows.

It is guaranteed to do for you in the air what an outboard engine will do for a canoe in the water, only more so. All we hope is that it has big letters on it—"BE SURE TO CHECK GAS BEFORE PULLING STARTER-CORD."

We don't want to get up 1,000 feet over the picket fences and discover that we forgot about fuel.

The big merchandising possibilities are seen in its use by the masses as a substitute for the flivver. No traffic signs, no dead ends, no hydrants, no "No Parking" signs. Just strap on the one-man, demi tasse easy-to-wear hoppi-copter, pull the string and . . . zippe! . . . you are an airborne commuter, the equal of the eagle and the superior of the wild goose, the red-headed woodpecker, the busy bee and the runaway boxkite.

It may not be long before Little Willie will be equipped with blades to dash to the grocery for a loaf of bread, Father buttoned up in gadgets to fly him to the Elks' picnic and Mother fanning her way over the housetops toward the fire sale.

We were about to order one today. Two things stopped us. How to get a set of spare blades, and a rumor we might have to stop in mid-air to have the old ones honed.

VERNAL VOID
Spring is a sham—a fraud—a mock
Without that rich brew known as back!
—Avery Giles.

THEY'LL CALL IT WORSE NAMES

The New York World-Telegram sports staff has been given a two-year-old race horse and is looking for a name for it. The colt is by Impound-Floradora Girl. Our first suggestion would be "Flora-Scoop." Or how about "Sextette Boy" or (carrying the sextette motif further) "Six Star Sporting"?

"General Marshall attended the 'Nutteracker Suite' at the Bolshoi theater in Moscow."—News item.

Probably had a nice evening thinking of some of the nuts he wouldn't mind cracking.

A LINK WITH HAPPIER DAYS

In New York City the police have been ruthlessly tossing out of windows the belongings of two allegedly eccentric old men, who lived alone in Fifth avenue and apparently never threw anything away. Crowds in the streets cheered. It continues to shock and mystify us. We find but one clue to the sad performance . . . an ancient sled found in the litter. Could it be that this relic of a happy boyhood, this reminder of a sweeter day in a less cockeyed civilization, was more than a harassed, cynical New York could endure?

United Nations formally took over its New York City building site recently. The rough blueprints show, we understand, a doghouse for Groznyko in the northeast corner.

The Moscow ballet put on "Romeo and Juliet" for the Big Four. That scene, we hear, where Romeo wants to interest Juliet in democracies and her relatives come through with the veto power was terrific.

Do you remember when two could live as cheaply as one? "Now not even one can do it," says Elmer Twitchell.

There must be millions of American kids growing up with the notion that the only thing wrong with Jesse James, Atilla the Hun, Captain Kidd, Bluebeard, Al Capone and Billy the Kid was that they were always being impeded by commercials and time signals.

Mr. Twitchell reports seeing the first robin yesterday. It was accompanied, he reports, by a plumber and helper.

A normal size airmail stamp has been put on sale by Uncle Sam. This will be great news to most Americans who have been longing for a return of the day when the post office department would deal in stamps that took but one man to lift.

WORLD OF TOMORROW

Ex-Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania says that in the light of the atom bomb and the Russian aggression, there is not more than an even chance that 10 per cent of us will be alive in five years.

Been listening to the Buck Rogers program, eh?

It now takes 12,000 Chinese dollars to buy what the American dollar will buy. In other words, 24,000 of them for some bubble gum and an apple.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

Released by Western Newspaper Union

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Hereafter Virginia Vale will conduct this column under her own name, Inez Gerhard.)

By INEZ GERHARD

IT'S not just luck that Henry Morgan (Wednesday nights, ABC) has built an audience of some 10,000,000 listeners; he came up the hard way, not via stage, burlesque or night clubs, but by getting a job as page boy in a radio station and working up. He writes his own scripts, and fears nobody; maybe you remember the time when he crossed swords with some

HENRY MORGAN

Mutual executives and auctioned off the whole network on the air, station by station, vice president by vice president, for $83. He's one of the few in radio with a contract allowing him to kid his sponsors—and one of the few who can kid anything and everybody skillfully.

Not only does Jean Sablon have women flocking to his broadcasts in droves—they want to get into the act. When he arrived on the Coast recently and his band leader issued a call for musicians all the applicants were women. The band leader, Tutti Cammerata, began to wonder if they'd confused him with Phil Spitalny; he finally settled down with five male musicians—and nine females!

At Columbia Pictures studios they're calling Larry Parks "The Rainbow Kid," and Irving Pringle, in charge of his make-up, says he's forgotten how to make Larry up for black and white. After appearing in Technicolor in "Renegades," "The Jolson Story" and "Down to Earth," Parks is making "The Swordsman," in Technicolor, still doing very well indeed.

Set to leave the air show on which he co-stars with Durante June 1st, Garry Moore has nothing but praise for James. "Believe me," says Garry, "if I were going to be teamed with anyone, there's only one person for me—that's Jimmy Durante." Durante also throws bouquets at "Junior," declaring that he's going to be a big success with his own show.

Olga San Juan changes her hair with every film role. It was its natural black in her first movies; we saw her with auburn brown locks in "Blue Skies," and now she's a brilliant blonde in "Variety Girl." Incidentally, she's pretty happy right now; the New York night club, the Copacabana, where she got her start five years ago, has offered her a starring contract at a startling salary.

"Stallion Road" really encouraged Zachary Scott; he was allowed to live to the end. He survived in his first film, "The Southerner"; they shot him in "Mask of Dimitrios," "Mildred Pierce" and "Her Kind of Man"; drowned him in "Danger Signal."

Elsa Lanchester, who's much too good for the kind of roles Hollywood has been giving her, gets a really good one in "The Big Clock," which stars Ray Milland and Miss Lanchester's husband, Charles Laughton. She'll play an eccentric artist.

Judy Canova, who has just finished "Singing in the Corn" for Columbia, while starring on her own radio program, "The Judy Canova Show," is making final arrangements for adopting a brother for her three-year-old Juliette. Juliette has caused her parents no end of embarrassment by telling everybody "Mommy and Daddy are getting me a ready-made brother."

Because most actors and actresses are incognito on the CBS "Inner Sanctum," we often hear Broadway and Hollywood players without knowing it. Recently David Cook, of the stage and screen, did a bit part.

ODDS AND ENDS—Lee Sheldon, who rounds up animal actors for Warners, thought it the limit when he was told to find "a pair of honeymooning lizards" for "Pursued." . . . Claudia Morgan of "The Right to Happiness" takes a ban-som ride with her husband every 19th of October, the date he proposed to her, in a ban-som. . . . Before the war Ralph Byrd played the movie's famous detective, Dick Tracy; he was discharged just in time to portray a criminally inclined gambler in "Stallion Road." . . . When Tony Martin gets his new air show running smoothly, he'll start work on a musical movie of "Pepe le Moko."

Encore! Encore!

When Jack London was reporting the Russo-Jap war from Korea, an official called and said the people of the town wanted to see him. A platform was built and London rehearsed a speech. When he ascended the platform before a huge crowd, the official asked him to remove his false teeth. London shruggingly obliged, whereupon the audience broke out in cheers. There was no speech. London kept taking out and putting in his bridge to the applause of the multitude!

THE CIRCUS HAS COME TO TOWN . . . All over America children from 1 year old to 98 years old are getting ready to welcome the circus to their own backyards. Scenes like the above will be duplicated all over America when Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus tours the country, after completing an extensive run in Madison Square Garden, N. Y. The clown is Harry Dann, featured funster among the 100 funny fellows with the circus. It will be the most extensive tour of the circus since before the war.

FLOODS SWEEP NATION . . . Typical of worst floods in history is the Lansing, Mich., flood which recently hit the state capital of Michigan. Flood conditions were serious in many parts of the nation and resulted in millions of dollars in property loss. Many farming regions were damaged. Crop loss as well as loss to farm buildings, equipment and livestock was extremely heavy in several states.

AUTO INDUSTRIALIST'S LAST RIDE . . . Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford are shown during the Auto Golden Jubilee held at Detroit last year. It was about the last ride that Henry Ford took behind the wheel of one of his old models. The 83-year-old auto industrialist was born July 30, 1863, and died April 7. He had spent the previous day inspecting flood damage to his estate at Dearborn and died later in the night with his wife at his side.

BATTLE OVER . . . By a vote of 50 to 31, the senate confirmed David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the nation's first atomic energy control commission. He received notice of his victory while being honored at a banquet.

BLESSES FISHING FLEET . . . Among the many historic customs observed in St. Augustine, Fla., oldest city in the country, is the traditional blessing of the fishing fleet each year on Palm Sunday. More than 100 boats, anchored in Matanzas bay received "Les Pardones," the ancient religious blessing which came to the new world from the fishing villages of Normandy and Brittany. This flotilla is part of the fleet receiving the blessing.

LOOKING BACKWARD

55 Years Ago—April 22, 1892

A meeting of D. B. C. & A. Railroad employees will be held next Sunday.

James McCue and Spencer Williams have returned from Chicago after spending several months there for the Western Plaster Works.

Miss May Anschuetz will teach in the Seney High School next year.

John Swartz has purchased the Meat Market opposite the Prescott store.

Miss Winnie Dupraw is teaching at the Maxwell school.

N. C. Harting has invested in a pneumatic safety bicycle and can be seen speeding down our streets at a great rate.

The old Whitmore building, at times courthouse, school house, telegraph office, express office, mill office and general store, has again been put to usefulness. This time as ice house.

The Winona saw mills will start operations next week.

Capt. Raymond has a new evaporator for his sugar bush in Grant township.

One of the interesting buildings being constructed for the Columbian Exposition is the McKaye Spectatorium. This will contain immense roof gardens and restaurants, and towers 200 feet above the street. Elevators capable of carrying 10,000 people per hour are being installed.

Rev. Fr. Winter has gone to Denver after spending eight years with Sacred Heart Church, AuSable.

High winds last Saturday blew down the smokestack at the East Tawas Foundry.

Miss Etta Marsh, teacher at the Logan school, is spending a few days at her home here.

F. P. Shellenberg is here "writing up" the city for R. K. Polk & Co.'s Michigan Gazetteer.

Members of the Board of Supervisors this year are: B. F. Slingerland, Alabaster; James Jackson Sherman; Frank Duplanty, Burleigh; J. W. Balcom, Reno; M. Murphy, Tawas; A. J. Ferrister, Plainfield; F. W. Latham, Grant; J. E. Dillon, Baldwin; A. J. Rodman, Wilber; John Sloat, AuSable; Chris Yockey, Oscoda; R. M. Pelton, Frank Betz, Abe Johnson and Thomas Galbraith, AuSable City.

John Anderson has constructed a windmill for grinding flour.

The mammoth burner at the Emery mill is nearly completed.

Medieval Toys
In the Sixteenth century, the making of dolls and toys flourished as a fine art, and parents bought them for their beautiful workmanship as well as for their children's delight. There were fine knights in armor on caparisoned steeds with trappings of thin silk; ladies on palfreys with falcons at their wrists; glass dolls and toys from Venice; and doll houses costing thousands of dollars, with cunningly wrought miniature furniture, designed for little princesses.

Hale News

Quite a number of Hale fishermen report good catches of smelt the past week.

A little daughter was born recently to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dorey. The little Miss was named Lorraine Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson attended a mail carriers meeting in Flint last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Deubner left Saturday morning for Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenwood Streeter and daughter, Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Yawger, together with the Arthur Johnson family from Whittemore, spent Sunday at the Vern Nye home in Rose City.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Slosser and son Gerald, of Detroit were recent visitors at the home of Earl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Slosser.

P. T. A. was held Wednesday, April 16, at the High School with about fifty present. The new officers were installed by Mrs. Sarah Johnson and the three movies from the Conservation Department were much enjoyed. Four little girls from Long Lake sang "In the Easter Parade," and two girls, Lila Thayer and Mary Hignite gave declamations. These were appreciated very much. Pot luck lunch was served in the Home Ec room. This was the last regular meeting for the current school year. The P. T. A. again served a seven o'clock dinner Tuesday night to the teachers taking the extension course.

A good crowd attended the chicken dinner at the Community building last Friday night. The band played several numbers and several boys, in feminine attire, gave a "Style show." Their appearances particularly in their formal produced much merriment. "Miss" Oren Lake captured the queen's crown but the rest of the boys certainly did very well. Harriet Rogers sang a and a boy's quartet added to the entertainment. The proceeds from the carnival are to be turned over to the band to help purchase their uniforms. They took in over three hundred dollars.

Claude Salisbury a long time resident of this community died very suddenly Tuesday night. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Little Lynnford Getchell is improving slowly but is still confined to the hospital.

Jeanie Thayer is home after having had an operation for appendicitis at Tolfree Hospital, West Branch.

FARM VALUES JUMPED, during the war years according to the Census Bureau. The trend toward fewer but bigger farms and toward fewer farmers and bigger production caused an increase in farm values from 1940 to 1946 of more than a third. The value of farm output during that period climbed from $7,813 million to $18,108 million.

The People Want Meat
During the past winter the people of this country ate more meat of all types than ever before. Production was at a record level and very little meat was sent out of the country. The price level was satisfactory to both consumers and producers. We have more people in this country, and more of them are earning wages. The evidence is clear—the potential demand for meat is tremendous, and people will buy meat liberally when their incomes permit them to do so.

Potato Land
Ireland, the land of the "Murphys and the potato," lives up to its name by producing more potatoes per acre than any other country in the world. The Irish yield is 9.3 tons per acre, while the United Kingdom, Belgium and the Netherlands produce more per acre than does the United States, whose record yield is about four tons to the acre.

Wallboard Shavings

MICHIGAN Motoring

Have you analyzed the report of the National Safety Council for 1946 which shows that 100,000 persons met death and one out of every 13 persons in this country was injured in an accident during that period?
What an appalling toll of death and injury! Yes, and what a reflection on American prudence and judgment when we stop to realize that the majority of these accidents were avoidable.

This column—while sincerely regretting the accidents from all causes is specially concerned with the automobile traffic toll. This type of accident led the list with 33,500 deaths — 33,500 persons killed because drivers failed to observe rules of safety or drove cars having mechanical defects which escaped detection even though they had been periodically inspected.
Here in Michigan, we had cause for both optimism and for discouragement. Our record for 1946 of 1,429 deaths was 33 per cent less than the 2,133 killed during the last full pre-war year of 1941, although the estimated mileage for the two years was practically the same.
On the discouraging side is the fact that the accident trend again has swung upward and the 1946 toll was 24 per cent higher than for the preceding year. Michigan drivers have shown that they CAN drive more carefully. For the sake of humanity, let's try to revise the trend of 1947.

The Ladies aid met with Mrs. Ralph Burt on Thursday of last week. A good time was enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Frank Long. Miss Ellen McDougald is spending some time with her brother in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Sickle called at the Scarlett home on Friday evening.

Charles Brown was a business visitor in Whittemore on Monday.

Out of town relatives that attended the funeral of Herbert Herriman last week Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Harris Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fair, Mrs. Chester Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Van Sickle, all of Ontario, Canada; Mrs. Howard Herriman and sons of Philadelphia; Howard, Kenneth and Don Herriman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Avery, all of Detroit; Ruth Herriman of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Van Sickle and Mr. and Mrs. William Crane of Prescott; Mrs. Charles Salmon of Maple Ridge; Mrs. Robert Curtis and Mrs. William Earhart of Whittemore.

The Rural Study Club report an excellent time as guests of the Literary club at Gifford's last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Albert Mallon and Mrs. Marvin Mallon of Tawas City and Mrs. Charles Brown were Saturday callers on Mrs. Mable Scarlett and Mrs. Glenn Biggs.

A very lovely surprise party was given Harry Flynn at Sand Lake last Thursday evening. Twenty-five old friends gathered to remind him it was his birthday. Pedro was played with prizes going to Alton Durant and Mrs. Charles Brown, after which a bounteous lunch was served with a beautiful birthday cake made by Mrs. Ross Butler.

Lower Hemlock

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fahselt spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bouchard.

Friends of Mrs. Anna Force of Detroit were sorry to hear of her illness and hope she will be well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anschuetz entertained the Euchre club at their home, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Biggs and family spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Winchell on the Townline.

Milk Production

U. S. farm milk production increased 7 per cent from the 1940 total of 50,935 million quarts to 55,327 million in 1944. While farm population decreased and the number of farms declined 1.1 per cent, during the '40-'44 period farmer's cash income from milk increased 95 per cent to total $2,969,361,000 in 1944.

Liquor From Rug

New Jersey Liquor board agents literally wrung evidence out of a rug—enough, anyway, to cause a woman to be fined $15 on a charge of possessing untaxed alcohol. Raiding the woman's home, agents found several broken bottles on a carpet which was suspiciously damp. They decided on the squeeze vice.

Stars on Bills

A small star or asterisk preceding the serial number in place of the customary letter on certain notes or bills issued by the United States government indicates that the bill is a substitute to replace one spoiled in the printing process.

Texas Roses

Texas cultivates 16,000 varieties of roses and harvests more than 20,000,000 rose bushes a year, more than half of the world's commercial supply.

LAST LOVER

BY Helen Topping Miller

Jill McFarlane, whose father, Richard, disappeared in World War I, falls in love with Lieut. Spang Gordon. She is upset to find that her brother, Ric, has fallen in love with a divorcee older than himself. Jill is thrown from her horse and hospitalized, Richard visits her mother, Julia, and tells her he has assumed the name of Captain Mackey. Julia determines to keep the truth from her children who have been raised to regard their father as a hero fallen in battle. She realizes too late that she loves Dave Patterson, an old family friend. Richard tells Ric he knew his father, and threatens Sandra with exposure of an illegal divorce if she doesn't leave the boy alone.

CHAPTER XIV

"Let her work this out herself," argued John I., "you can't protect her forever. You've got your own problems."

"And they," Julia sighed, "have no answers in the back of the book."

John I. blew his breath out harshly, like a walrus. "How do you know? You won't even look in the back of the book."

"Because I know that what I'm looking for isn't there, John I. It's locked up in my heart, and I think my heart died long ago."

"It was your common sense that died!"

"You're right. I've never argued that you weren't right where Richard was concerned. But I do owe Ric and Jill something, if only to repay them for giving them Richard for their father."

The old man's eyes flashed under his stormy eyebrows. "You talk to Jill about it. You see what she says. She'll tell you to get a divorce in a minute."

"I can't talk to Jill. You know I can't. I can't tear down what little she has of Richard. It would be a wicked thing to do."

"You're taking a big risk, Dooley," John I. said solemnly. "I've warned you, but you're a stubborn woman. I know that fellow better than you do."

She knew too well the risk she took, knew that undoubtedly she was being a fatuous optimist in assuming that Richard would stay away now that he had made the break, now that she knew that he had not been a casualty of the war; every time a car drove in at the gate her heart stopped beating, every time the telephone rang when she was in the house she hurried to answer it, fearing Mamie's sly curiosity, fearing revelation for Jill.

What she would do if Richard came again was a nightmare question that kept dread at her throat like icy fingers. She lay awake at night, tormented by imaginary scenes.

"Jill, this is your father. He loved you and all of us so little that he stayed away from us and hid behind an assumed name for twenty-five years."

What would Jill's reaction be? Richard had that devilish, engaging, deadly charm.

Would Jill hate her father, or answering that curious attraction, the impelling force that psychologists had a name for, would she turn to him and despise her mother for thrusting him out of her life?

It must not happen—but suppose it did happen? Was she being fair to Jill, keeping her in ignorance, unprepared, defenseless? Her hope was that Richard would be transferred, sent overseas, before the great harm she feared could be done. But eventually the war would end.

"When Jill is married it won't matter so much," she told herself. "When Ric has found himself, and they are both settled."

Dave had not come again to Buzzard's Hill, since that day she had sobbed out her torment on his shoulder. Jill remarked about it.

"What's wrong between you and Dave? I hope you didn't blame Dave because I was so awkward I couldn't stick in a saddle?"

"Don't be silly. Of course I didn't blame Dave. He's probably very busy. He's on the ration board, and they've had a great deal to do lately."

Waiting for a Letter From Spang

"They don't work nights, do they?"

"I suspect that they do, being volunteers and having their own businesses to attend to in the daytime. Shall I call Dave and ask him to come over?"

"No, don't call him. Don't you recall all those lectures you used to deliver to me, about how much men resented being called up and coaxed? Don't abandon your principles now."

"Dave's different. He's merely an old friend."

"Jill crooked her mouth dryly. "You're very naive, Julia, my love! Do you usually weep on the bosoms of merely old friends? When your child takes a nose-dive into a briar patch?"

"I'd have wept on any bosom that was handy, then," Julia said with determined airiness, hoping that her face wasn't burning. "I was afraid you'd broken your back. John I. has been doggedly carting away the rocks in the lane ever since. Be sweet to your grandfather, Jill, he's been badly worried about you."

"Did I put that curious, hunted look in his eyes? I've been wondering just what went on here anyway, while I was at the hospital. You and Grandfather both look as though you'd seen ghosts. If Ric were overseas I'd suspect that you were hiding something grim from me, sparing your tender, weakened daughter from a shock. Don't ever do that, Dooley. Dooley—" She jerked erect suddenly, her eyes black wells of terror. "Dooley, it isn't Spang? You haven't heard—you aren't hiding something from me?"

She laughed and patted her cheek. "No, foolish woman, we aren't hiding anything about Spang. I've heard nothing from Spang—only what you've told me."

"I thought he might have crashed—and you were trying to keep me from finding out. But if a letter came for me—Ric might hear something—"

"If a letter came for you, I should

Save Your Sugar For Canning, but Bake Sweets, Too

If you need luscious chocolate cookies quickly, make these, which take so few minutes to bake and frost. Children adore them and your guests will give them an encore.

The oldest of our rationed commodities is still with us even though the situation has eased to a certain extent. The sugar bowl is, perhaps, still not as full as we would like to have it, but we can still manage to have our sweets and still save enough for canning if we are watchful.

The youngster will still come in peeking into the cookie jar, and we still have guests who like a bit of a sweet as they spend an evening of conversation or games with us. For these purposes I have selected some recipes which we will all find useful.

For the cookie fans, here are some recipes which are bound to please:

Molasses Cookies. (Makes 75)

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup thick sour milk
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 2 teaspoons lemon extract

Mix shortening which has been melted with molasses and sugar and stir until smooth. Add sour milk, then sifted flour with salt, soda and ginger. Chill until firm. Roll dough on a lightly floured surface to 1/4 inch thickness and cut into assorted shapes, as desired. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Roll thinner if crispier cookies are desired.

Chocolate Frosted Cookies. (Makes 3 dozen)

- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Melt chocolate and butter over hot water; add sugar and mix well. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add flour and milk alternately and mix until smooth. Add vanilla. Drop from teaspoon on greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 7 minutes. When cold, spread with fudge frosting and place a half pecan in the center of each.

Quick Fudge Frosting.

- 3 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 12 marshmallows, cut in pieces
- 1/2 cup water
- Dash of salt
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Place chocolate, butter, marshmallows, water and salt in saucepan. Heat over low flame until chocolate and marshmallows are melted and mixture is smooth and well blended. Remove from fire and add remaining ingredients. Beat until of right consistency to spread. Use on chocolate frosted cookies or to cover top and sides of two eight-inch layer cakes.

With just 1/2 cup of sugar and the use of a sugar substitute, you can satisfy the sweet tooth with no less than 30 delectable cup cakes:

LYNN SAYS: Try Pleasing Variety In Everyday Foods

A dash of lemon juice is good for bringing out the full flavor of almost any kind of fruit or berry pie.

When you want a combination fruit pie, try one of these pairs: pineapple and raisin, pineapple and cherry, cranberry and pineapple, apple and pear, apple and cranberry, apricot and pineapple, apple and raspberry, or strawberry and rhubarb.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

- Vegetable Platter: Asparagus, Cauliflower, Tomatoes and Corn, Toasted English Muffins, Deviled Eggs, Molded Grapefruit Salad, Beverage, Strawberry Pie
- *Recipe given.

Plain Cup Cakes. (Makes 30)

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup corn syrup
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 9 tablespoons milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Work in corn syrup and beat until light. Add 1/4 of flour mixture and blend in thoroughly. Add unbeaten egg and beat thoroughly. Add remaining flour and milk alternately, beating smooth after each addition. Blend in vanilla and lemon extract. Turn into greased and floured muffin tins and bake in a moderately hot (375-degree) oven for 25 minutes or until done. Frost as desired.

Sugarless Chocolate Icing.

- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1 can sweetened condensed milk
- 1 tablespoon water
- Dash of salt
- 1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Stir in gradually the condensed milk and cook 5 minutes over hot water. Stir until smooth. Remove from heat and add water, salt and almond extract. Cool and frost cup cakes.

Strawberries are here in all their bright gayety and will add a delicious sweet dessert to your menus for their extremely short season. Because the berries are so sweet, you can take it rather easy on the sugar when sweetening them. In fact, many people find them so sweet that they use no extra sweetening at all.

Berries like strawberries, which are naturally sweet, need little extra sugar. Plan to serve them in pies, tarts and as shortcake as often as possible during their short season.

*Strawberry Pie.

Prepare 1 baked 9-inch pie shell. Just before serving, wash and hull 1 quart of fresh strawberries. Sweeten lightly to taste and then fold into 1/2 pint of cream which has been whipped. Spread in pie shell and serve. Or sweeten berries to taste and fill baked pie shell. Top with whipped cream which has been garnished with whole berries.

Winter pears make tasty pies for jaded spring appetites. For something a little different, try this French Pear Pie.

French Pear Pie.

- 6 cups sliced fresh winter pears
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup corn syrup
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 2 tablespoons flour

One 9-inch unbaked pastry shell. Select pears which are firm but not hard. Peel, core, slice. Mix with lemon juice, corn syrup, sugar, ginger and flour. Place in pastry-lined pie plate.

Topping.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup flour

Cream together shortening and sugar. Mix in flour. Spread over pears in pie shell. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes, or until pears are tender and topping is brown. Eight servings. Serve warm or cold.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When you clean the refrigerator, use a solution of baking soda and water. Put one teaspoon of soda to a quart of water. The soda counteracts food odors and keeps the refrigerator sweet.

Place a shoe-box cover in the bottom of your paper or corded shopping bag. This gives a solid foundation to stand on counter or floor and prevents liquids from trickling out of tipping containers.

An ordinary dish mop is very handy in dusting the coil bed springs when doing your spring house cleaning.

Simple means of winding a window shade roller is to insert the flattened end in a keyhole so that both hands will be left free to grip the roller and turn it until it has reached the desired tightness.

Clean up suede hats, bags, etc., before putting them away. Remove grease stains by sponging with a cloth dipped in vinegar. When dry, restore nap by brushing with a stiff-bristled brush.

Clothes closet shelves look very smart when painted one color with a line of enamel in a contrasting color run along the edge. For example, a gray shelf with a fuchsia color edge.

Francis Marion 'Swamp Fox' of Revolution Fame

Francis Marion, who led a guerrilla band of Americans against the British during the Revolutionary war, was known as the "Swamp Fox." He broke British lines of communication, captured British scouting and foraging parties and prevented the Loyalists from organizing.

Whenever he was hard pressed or met a force too big for his guerrilla band to tackle, he would retire to the swamps to reappear at some distant point to harass the enemy once more. That is how he earned the title of "Swamp Fox."

Benefits to Our Readers

THE PUBLIC nature of advertising benefits everyone it touches. It benefits the public by describing exactly the products that are offered. It benefits employees, because the advertiser must be more fair and just than the employer who has no obligation to the public. These benefits of advertising are quite apart from the obvious benefits which advertising confers—the lower prices, the higher quality, the better service that go with advertised goods and firms.

JUST how important is rhythm and timing in sport? A short while back, my friend and critic, former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, suggested this subject as a timely theme.

It was the governor's idea that rhythm is an important factor, not only in sport, but also in every detail of life. The testimony seems to bear this opinion out completely.

We first put the matter up to Eddie Dyer, the Cardinal manager, also a former football star.

"Rhythm," Dyer said, "is hard to explain. But it is certainly important. Important in football—just as important in baseball. I would say that it meant the team play between mind and muscle, as far as sport goes. You must think and act in one direction. You can't think one way and act another."

"Certainly, such ball players as Musial, Marion, Moore and Slaughter all have rhythm. They have almost a perfect blend of brain and action—what you might call the split-second variety. There is never any sign of being jerky or jumpy in what they do.

"I would say the first move must come from a clear, untangled, smooth-thinking brain. Then the muscular side must take over at once."

To round out the advice, I switched the debate to my friend Frank Crowninshield, a patron of all the arts and of most sports, one of the most direct thinkers I have ever known. Crowninshield is better known as an editor, writer, critic and collector of art. But for over 50 years, he also has been one of the keenest of all sporting fans and followers. Everything that happens in the world is his stage.

"Have you ever thought," he writes me, "that the two prime essentials in sport are rhythm and timing? And they belong together. But they are just as dominant in the arts, poetry, dancing, music, architecture, painting, acting and singing.

"Absence of rhythm and timing," he writes, "is just as fatal in all the arts as it is in baseball, shooting, bowling, fishing, running and all the others. Did you ever watch Bobby Jones? Did you ever watch a bird dog in the field? Did you ever read Shelley's 'Ode to the Westwind,' or Keat's 'Ode to a Nightingale?' They all have the same basic qualities—perfect rhythm. Nothing hurried, nothing rushed."

We passed the problem on to P. Hal Syms, card and sport expert. "Rhythm," he told me, "is the basis of any golf stroke. It is also the basis of winning bridge. It is the foundation of everything you do well in; sport, business, art or cards.

"What is rhythm? It must begin, of course, in the brain. You must set your plans in advance. You must be ready for whatever happens. There should be no room left in the brain for panic or hurry, for overconfidence or despair.

"Every part of life is competition—competition against yourself and your opponent. But you must be set and ready for whatever happens. You must never be caught off guard. Again, I say, this belongs to the brain.

"It is from the brain or the mind that rhythm starts. If you are prepared here, you are then able to send your message from the brain to your nerves and your muscles. When they respond, as they should if you are in good physical condition, you have what I call rhythm. I still say this applies to golf, baseball or football, just as it does to bridge.

Bridge and Boxing

"I have had nights at bridge where I saw that I was running on a low rhythmic scale. I knew my coordination was poor. On such nights, I cut out of the game as quickly as I could to wait for another night."

"I put the same problem up to Jack Dempsey. 'I see what you mean,' Dempsey said. 'But I can't explain it. We call it reflexes. When you are young, you see an opening and you let fly. Split second. When you are older, you see the same opening but you get there too late. When I was around 24 years old, my mind and fists worked together. They were a team, I guess. Maybe that's what rhythm is. Maybe you might call it smooth action between the mind and the fists—or whatever you use in certain games.'"

I can't think of a better description of rhythm. Any poet must have rhythm in his brain and soul. But poets don't have to blend this factor with physical action. There can be no set definition of rhythm as applied to sport, art, business, music, poetry or anything else.

In my opinion, rhythm means smoothness of action, the team play, the coordination of mind and muscle, where the directing force is mind or brain.

How to Raise and Train Your Dog

Teaching Tricks

EVERYONE admires a well-trained pup. Don't postpone teaching your dog appealing tricks because you think a special knack or skill is required. All you need is patience and good humor.

Remember that dogs have varying degrees of intelligence, too; don't abuse your pup if he's slow to learn. Better not begin training before three months old. Then stick to three short training periods a day until each trick is mastered.

Our booklet No. 78 contains 20 illustrated lessons on teaching tricks and obedience. Also chapters on diet, grooming, house manners, illness. Send 25 cents (coin) for "How to Raise and Train Your Dog" to Weekly Newspaper Service, 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, booklet title and No. 78.

Crying Inside

The French artist Degas struggled along for many years, receiving only a pittance for his paintings. At one time, when in desperate straits, he sold several of his canvases to an art dealer for a few francs apiece. Two weeks later, the dealer met him.

"I have the most wonderful news for you," he exclaimed, "I sold your painting for 20,000 francs each!"

Degas accepted the information without enthusiasm.

"What's the matter?" asked the dealer. "Doesn't this make you feel happy?"

"I feel," replied Degas, "like a racehorse who has won a race for the bookmakers."

Kidneys Must Work Well—

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisons and waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

No. 1 Continued from First Page.

Blaine Christeson has been in Chicago this week on business.

Regular meeting of the East Tawas P. T. T. was held on Monday evening. Plans were made to hold a tag day in the near future to raise money for playground equipment, which was the main project taken up this year. Mrs. Holland was named Chairman of the committee to sponsor the drive. The program consisted of group singing led by Frank Humberger and a play, entitled "The Literary Club of Gagesville," directed by Mrs. Kenneth Parker. Officers will be elected and installed at the May meeting. The president Russell McKenzie appointed the following nominating committee, Mrs. Nettie Hester, Miss Helen Applin, and Mrs. Francis Bigelow.

Baldwin Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Irene Rebekah Lodge will enjoy an annual May 1st "Get Together" at 7:00 o'clock at the Odd Fellows Hall. A special planned program will follow.

Prescott Rebekah Lodge will put on the initiatory work at Irene Rebekah Lodge next Wednesday evening, April 30th, at 8:00 o'clock when new members will be initiated into the order. Refreshments will be served.

George Nelson of the Augustana Theological Seminary of Rock Island Illinois will occupy the pulpit of Grace Lutheran church next Sunday morning. He will represent the Augustana Foreign Missionary Society. Mr. Nelson spent two weeks in East Tawas last spring and occupied the pulpit at that time.

Jack Dresden of Detroit visited last week-end with his mother, Mrs. S. Shuman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Darling and family returned home from Detroit and Ann Arbor on Tuesday where they had been on business and visiting for several days.

The Past Noble Grands dinner that was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Lois Keinholtz next Thursday evening has been postponed one week, to Thursday, May 8th.

Ronnie Butterfield entertained a few of his friends at his home at Tawas Point on Thursday afternoon of this week, the occasion being his seventh birthday anniversary.

Thomas Oliver, formerly of East Tawas is seriously ill at the home of his son Thomas, in New Jersey.

Mrs. Saue is quite seriously ill at her home in East Tawas and will be taken to Omer Hospital this week.

A lovely shower was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Misener last Saturday afternoon for Mrs. John Stewart and Mrs. Stanley Misener and both were presented with many useful gifts by several of their friends. Refreshments were served.

Iosco County Career Day is being held at East Tawas High School for the Seniors and Juniors of the High Schools of the county on Thursday of this week. Several excellent speakers will be present.

East Tawas High School defeated Hale in a baseball game Tuesday by a score of 7 to 3.
