Old Timers Day Fills Park With Happy Fans

Players Back To '97 Show Skill Sunday

More Than 500 Fans Enjoy Cheering Their Favorite Old Timers

More than 500 cheering fans witnessed the Old Timers' baseball games at the Tawas City Athletic Park last Sunday afternoon.

Although no bottles were thrown, umpires received their share of heckling, all in the spirit of the day which was fun and enjoyment.

In the crowded grandstands and bleachers, and out on the field were many stars from teams of former years. The famous Dutch Outlaws were represented in the stands by Arthur Wugazer and Edward Burtzloff, and Ernest Burtzloff of that old time team played a fast game at first base in the first game.

Another famous old time team, the Wolverine Stars, was represented by Ab Mallon, showing his old time skill on the first sack.

Always a keen rival for baseball honors, Whitmore's fast team of 1897 had two players present—Ben Cataline of Flint and William Leslie of this city. That famous old team included such men as Asa Whiting of Standish, one of the founders of the Northeastern Michigan League.

With a display of old time skill, the old timers battled it out in two games, with John Forsten's Old Timers defeating Walter Moeller's "boys" 9 to 7 in the first game and the Independent team nosing out the old timers 5 to 4 in the second contest. Umpires for the first game: Bill Wood, Harry Goldsmith, John Brugger, Bill Hatton. Second game: Harry Goldsmith, Russ Rollin, Jack Forsten and Bill Hatton. Wood is an old time first baseman.

The first game was a three inning affair, with the oldest of the old timers taking part. The longest hit of the game was a long triple by Al Herriman in the third inning.

Nate Barkman was the first old timer to hit safely, a sharp single between short stop and third base.

In the second game, the Old Timers gave the local Independent team a scare, with the Independents just nosing out the Old Timers 5 to 4.

Mallon, Davison and Brown were on the mound for the old timers, while Herriman did the hurrying for the independents. Mallon hurled the first four innings, allowing five hits, walking two and striking out five. Davison relieved him in the fifth and pitched one inning, no hits, striking out one and walking three.

Portisider, Ferry Brown came in in the sixth and pitched the last two innings, striking out four, and allowed one hit. Herriman allowed seven hits, struck out six and walked three.

The Independents scored three runs in the first on singles by D. Landon, Katterman, Herriman and a triple by Gackstetter. The Old Timers tied it up in the first on a walk, two bad throws by N. Thornton, Independent third sacker and a double by Bill Mallon.

The Independents scored the winning run in the fifth on an error by the first baseman and three consecutive walks, forcing in the run.

The Old Timers gave the "Upstarts" a taste of their old time hitting strength, getting three extra base knocks, two doubles by Mallon and one by Don Anderson. Bill's two doubles drove in three of the old timer's runs, and also scored one himself. The longest hit of the afternoon was Gackstetter's triple to right center field.

County Wide Tag Day Saturday

"Friends of the Library" of Tawas City and East Tawas will sponsor Tag Day on Saturday, August 23rd. Proceeds derived from this activity will be used to increase the fund for the purchase of a new Bookmobile for Isoco county's Library system. School children will be stationed at strategic points in the business section all day Saturday to sell tags to passersby.

"Every dime and quarter received by the children on this day means that we are a step closer to our goal of $2500 the sum that is needed to buy the much-needed new Bookmobile," Mrs. William Kittridge, chairman for Tawas City, says.

Local Pilots in Gladwin Dawn Patrol

Sunday morning at 5:45 A. M., four pilots of Tawas City Airport, Janet Keiser, Harold Moeller, Earl Meyers and Instructor Bill Roach flew to Gladwin to participate in Dawn Patrol Activities. The Chamber of Commerce of Gladwin played host to the flyers who flew in from all parts of the state. There were about 100 pilots and passengers at the breakfast, which was served at 7:30 A. M. in Gladwin. Automobiles furnished by the Chamber of Commerce picked the flyers up at the airport and took them into town.

Janet Keiser won a beautiful shoulder strap bag for being the first woman pilot to land at Gladwin. Her luck was also good in the drawing of numbers for door prizes—she won a set of flood lights. Harold Moeller won a colorful woman's cosmetic set, which he probably will give to his wife, Jackie. (We hope!) Earl Meyers and Bill Roach won the proverbial Bronx cheer.

The pilots flew from Gladwin to Alpena Airport and then home. They landed at Tawas City Airport at 11:30 A. M.

Earl Davis, manager of the airport, accompanied by Lynn Ryan took off from the field immediately after the return of the Dawn Patrol, and flew to Erie, Pennsylvania on business.

Theresa Jennie Miller was born November 23, 1867, a Wabash, Indiana, and was married to Almont Hicks at Toledo on July 21, 1892.

She is survived by one son and three daughters, James Hicks, Mrs. Martha Schloss, Mrs. Dorothy Kuhn and Mrs. Florence Condre of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Monday, Rev. Roland Brooks officiated. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Several planes landed at the airport during the week-end of which four stayed over several days.

Two new students, Don Gould and Harry Rollin, Jr., are reported as flying every day now at the airport.

Bill Roach announced that two of the local pilots will be ready for their private license this week.

Harry Westrich is piling up hours now, since he has soloed. Looks like Harry will be ready to fly north on his hunting trip to the upper peninsula.

Veteran Actor Dies at State Park

Chaney Pratt, showman and actor, died at his trailer home at the State Park, East Tawas, Monday, August 18th. He was 65 years of age. Death was sudden, due to a heart attack.

The body was taken to the Moffatt Funeral Home. On Thursday the remains were moved to Bay City where funeral services were to be held on Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Vallender-Penzien Chapel, with Rev. Gordon M. Wood officiating. Burial was to be in Green Ridge Cemetery.

Chaney Pratt was born in Michigan January 22, 1882. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Stella Pratt and a daughter, Mrs. Lucilla Locktee of Pismo Beach, California.

Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Ross and son, Otto, left the first of the week to visit their son, Paul, at the Great Lakes Naval station and returned home by way of the upper Peninsula.

A county wide Tag Day will be held Saturday, August 23, for the benefit of the Isoco County Library Bookmobile Fund.

Alabaster Team Northern Division Champs

Easily Win in Last Sunday's Game With Hale

Romping over a weakened Hale team, Alabaster completed its Northern Division play undefeated, and undisputed champs—the first team to do so many a year of Northeastern Michigan baseball. Playing at Hale, there was never any question as to the outcome, especially after the 3rd inning when Alabaster pushed over 5 runs. Hale, seriously weakened by the absence of the veteran Slosser was unable to offer even a serious threat to the high riding boys from Alabaster.

A look at the record shows Alabaster playing 10 league games, all undefeated. The following averages give a clue to the reasons for this record.

Batting Averages:

Propose Small Craft Harbors on Great Lakes

Questionnaire to be Sent Motor Boat and Sailing Craft Owners

At the present time the Corps of Engineers of the War Department has underway studies of proposed small boat harbors on the Great Lakes in response to specific directives of Congress. The ultimate goal of this program is to provide shelter areas so located and spaced as to greatly reduce the hazards of recreational craft navigation on the Great Lakes.

In connection with these studies a questionnaire form will be mailed to all registered owners of inboard motor and sailing craft in the Great Lakes region with the request that they indicate thereon certain data relating to the usage of their boat during the 1947 season. From the information furnished on returned questionnaires it will be possible for the Corps to determine where the greatest need for harbors of refuge exists.

The forms will be mailed to owners during the month of September and are to be returned by November 15, 1947.

Whittmore Schools to Open September 2

Burleigh Township Rural Agricultural School will open for registration and Classification Tuesday morning, September 2nd. It was a summer of mounting tension beneath the quiet surface of the village square. September the village knew it's share of drama and the conflict in which neither side was right and neither wholly wrong. "Second Growth" is both a New England story and a universal story.

Famous Breakfast Programs (Maud Muller and Husband) Announcer—And now, once again, that delightful couple Maud "Meadow" Muller and Joe "Zeke" Doakes. They have as their guest today the well-known Judge "X."

Judge—Good morning, my dear. Judge—Good morning, darling. Maud (embarrassed)—I'm speaking to my husband, not you. Judge—Ah, yes. But as I so often have said: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these—it might have been..." Zeke—Boy, am I sick of that one!

Judge—Is that bubbling spring still in the meadow? Zeke—Tell the judge, Maud, how you go down there often and stand around "gazing off to the far-off town white with its hillslope looking down..."

Judge—Does Maud do that? Zeke—Yep, she calls it a vague unrest. Always takes a tin cup with her. Maud—Aluminum, my dear. A never-rust aluminum folding picnic cup, the ideal thing for that summer auto trip. We mustn't forget the commercials.

Judge—Do you go to the meadow in your bare feet and tattered gown any more, Maud? I always think of you as having graceful ankles bare and brown... Maud—The new Duzo Silkerino stockings are so sheer they give that bare brown effect. Smart women know what I mean. Ask for them the next time you go shopping. Judge, tell the radio audience about the bees and flowers.

Judge—Bees and flowers? Maud—Yes, don't you remember... You spoke of the grass and flowers and trees, Of the singing birds and humming bees.

Zeke (getting in the commercial)—If you have any trouble with your birds singing, it may be because of faulty diet. Rigsey's Sure Melody birdseed will solve this trouble. Maud (continuing)—He talked of the hay, and wondered whether The cloud in the west would bring fair weather.

Zeke (with a sneer)—The judge sure had a smart line of talk. Judge (tenderly)—Maud, remember how you used to want your father to wear a broadcloth coat; your brother to sail a painted boat; to dress your mother up grand and gay and give the baby a brand new toy each day...

Zeke—That's all come true, judge, since we got the radio contract. Judge—What do you get for this program, Maud? Maud—IT AIN'T HAY!

Telephone Traces White House History

President Hayes Had First Phone in Executive Mansion

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Recently the President turned down a very flossy television set because he already had one. It was installed in the White House last January in time for Mr. Truman to "see" the installation of the new Republican congress.

However, I imagine this innovation caused nowhere near the flurry among the White House staff that ensued on that day in 1878 when the first telephone instrument was put in. That was in the administration of Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio, the 19th president—and that was the year in which the Democrats, who already had control of the house, acquired control in the senate as well.

However, the opposition, when it became the majority, made blunder after blunder. Mr. Hayes continued his administration with a quiet if perhaps somewhat monotonous dignity, until he was succeeded by another Republican, President Garfield.

I doubt if the even tenor of Mr. Hayes' existence was frequently disturbed by the ringing of the telephone bell—or much of anything else for that matter. Very few residences or places of business possessed phones then. Furthermore, the telephone was by no means accepted as a means of communication for presidents or their entourages in those days. In any case, the White House managed to limp along on one phone until the end of President Cleveland's administration.

By the time President McKinley entered the White House, all government offices had phones and they were accepted as every-day necessities, but they were not an important element in the handling of White House business.

When Teddy Roosevelt came in, despite his strenuous activities and what was considered then a somewhat revolutionary outlook, he made very little use of the telephone himself.

Then along came Franklin Roosevelt and the New Deal, a part of which was a five-position branch exchange with more than 200 official extensions and 20 outside trunk connections to handle the calls. "White House calling" became a by-word.

Then also came the first woman telephone operator and probably the most efficient of either sex that the White House ever had or will have in many a day. Louise Hachmeister—"Hackie"—is probably favorably known to more famous users of the telephone than any other operator in history. Her genius in being able to locate people anywhere in the world has been the subject of many a story. Louis Howe, who introduced her to the President while she was working at Friends of Roosevelt headquarters, called her "the world's greatest telephone detective" because, he

Russian Enigma Illustrated

Boris Krelov has gone home. He was a member of the staff of Tass (official Soviet news agency), stationed for some three years in Washington.

So far as I have been able to learn, his American contacts, which were many, both official and personal, made not a single ideological impact upon him or his way of thinking. He upheld the Russian cause; he talked more freely than most Russians in a semi-official or official capacity do but (also so far as I can learn) he never offered the slightest compromise of viewpoint, never accepted any argument or explanation of democratic (American-style) methods of thought or action.

And yet—and here is the thing that baffled most of us—he was well-liked, he was good company, and if we could have found the tiniest peg on which to hang an idea, he would have inspired us to write about Russia "with a heart," as a Russian woman interpreter is reported to have begged of Sam Welles, Time's correspondent in Moscow.

We wonder about Boris. We would have liked so much to sit down and talk frankly and freely with him about the common problems and the still more common misunderstandings between our countries. Was he able to appear so genial and friendly and charming because he held such high rank at home that he wasn't afraid to consort, as far as personal matters went, as a trusting friend?

Was he so deeply indoctrinated in the ideology of Marxism-Leninism-Stalinism that he was filled with pity rather than the typical suspicion which seems to permeate most Russian-American relations?

One slight clue we have, though it may be a false one. Once, at a rather intimate gathering, Krelov's hostess finally grew a little impatient and said something like this: "Listen here, Boris, we're friends. Surely you can be frank with us said, "she doesn't need a number to get her man."

Once she located Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. with no other clue than that he was motoring east from California.

I don't know how many long-distance calls a day she put in at the peak of the war but I do know that the number of long-distance calls out of Washington jumped from approximately 11,000 a day in 1939 to well over 48,000 in 1945. Today they have dropped back to a little over 44,000. It is fair to assume that the White House calls have followed the same curve under the nimble-fingered direction of "Hackie."

Even by 1935 it took five operators in shifts to handle the White House calls. At that time Miss Hachmeister was the first and only woman to operate a White House switchboard.

President Truman uses the telephone a good deal—he has so many friends on Capitol Hill that his voice is almost as familiar over those branch lines as it was when he was a senator himself.

I don't know how much fun he gets out of the television set. His bowling alley is pretty dusty and the dirt doesn't often fly on his horseshoe pitching court—or whatever the technical name of that arena is. As to the "video," it can't be half the novelty to him that the old-fashioned telephone instrument was to President Hayes.

and explain why your government— Before she could finish (he guessed what was coming) he held up his hand.

"Please," he said with a disarming smile that took the sting out of his words, "We are having such a pleasant time, but you force me to say this: I cannot explain what you wish because you people are just too stupid to understand Communism."

If that sentiment is a sincere and typical expression of how the men who run Russia feel, the road ahead is a rocky one. Kipling once put into verse the problem he felt the foreigner faced in trying to understand the American. What he said might be applied to Russia:

"Inopportune, shrill accented, the acrid Asiatic mirth that leaves him, careless 'mid his dead, the scandal of the elder carth. How shall he clear himself, how reach your bar or weighed defense prefer—a brother bedged with alien speech and lacking all interpreter?"

75 MILLION ACRES

U.S. Boosts 1948 Wheat Goal

WASHINGTON.—Fourth largest wheat acreage the farmers of this nation have ever planted may be realized in 1948 if the department of agriculture's revised goal of 75 million acres is met next year.

That mark is a five million-acre increase from the pattern recommended last year and a seven million-acre boost over the wheat goal set last spring before the corn outlook took on its gloomy cast. Continued and unremitting international demand for food grains influenced the agriculture department into making the upward revision.

While officials admitted that the increased acreage constitutes an invitation to farmers to plant heavily in wheat, they cautioned against

Mark Birthday of Atom; Hungarian Attitude Hit

ANNIVERSARY: Bells Told

In Hiroshima, Japan, the bells tolled. People of the city stood silently in prayer for a moment, then went on about the business of living.

It was the second anniversary of the radiant, consuming flash of the world's first atomic bomb.

Hiroshima, which saw 92,000 of its citizens immolated in that uncontrollable outburst of energy in 1945, was perhaps the one place on earth where the bomb could be thought of as a reality. Everywhere else it was a nightmarish, Damoclean sword; but in Hiroshima the people were paying it a sort of fantastic and bewildered adulation.

They tolled bells, and they planned the building of a modern city with a peace memorial at the spot over which the bomb had been dropped.

At other points across the globe, the atomic age was living up to its awful reputation by wringing fearsome comments and predictions from men who are supposed to know about it.

Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of University of Chicago, said that two atom bombs which now could be manufactured would make the United States uninhabitable if exploded simultaneously. He made it a complete Jeremiah by adding, "We know that some other country will have the atomic bomb within five years. We know that when that happens we are all set for the final catastrophe."

In a constructive moment, Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, atom pioneer, said that usable electrical power derived from atomic energy may be available by 1952.

But everybody knew that the United States was stressing development and production of the atomic bomb to build a stockpile for utter destruction. And everybody knew that Russia was laboring furiously toward the same ends.

The people of Hiroshima did well to toll bells two years after they felt the bomb. It brought to mind an old, poetic question:

Did the bells herald a wedding or a funeral?

INSOLENCE: Slap Hands

The United States, visibly irked by recent actions of the new Communist Hungarian government, vented its diplomatic rage in a stinging note which accused Hungary of "inadmissibly insolent" conduct toward American diplomats in that country.

Second cause for U. S. anger was the arrest and beating in Budapest of an American citizen and the subsequent unsatisfactory explanation of the incident offered by Hungarian officials.

One of the most harshly worded protests to come from the state department since American planes were shot down over Yugoslavia a year ago, the note marked the first official unpleasantly to be delivered by the United States to the puppet Hungarian regime.

The incident grew out of the arrest of Stephen T. Thuransky, an American citizen, for his alleged "revolting and scandalizing vilifications in public" of Hungary's president and other government members. Thuransky, his wife and two daughters later were taken into custody by U. S. legation officials and removed to Vienna.

In the protest note, the state department pointed out that the arrest of an American citizen on purely political charges is "absolutely inadmissible" under the armistice agreement which prevails in Hungary. Also, officials of the Hungarian ministry of the interior were accused of being "uncooperative in the extreme and in some cases inadmissibly insolent."

VIVA: Toreador

Orson Welles, the man who didn't come from Mars, has found himself, to put it politely, on the horns of a dilemma.

The self-designated genius was quoted recently as saying he had killed 20 bulls, and immediately he was challenged by another actor, Fortunio Bonanova, to enter the bull-fighting ring at Tijuana, Mexico, and perform for the benefit of charity.

Said the Spanish-born Bonanova in an open letter to Welles, "Killing 20 bulls is a lot of killing," neglecting to add that it is also a lot of bulls.

"So let us do a corrida (series of fights) this season in Tijuana for the motion picture relief fund. I am sure the impresario would give us a Sunday afternoon. What do you say to two bulls apiece?"

Admission: Shady side, $2; sunny side, $1.

ALEUTIANS: Bases Retained

The Aleutian islands, that long, cold chain of fog-bound rocks which started many an American G.I. talking to himself during the war, is being integrated into the pattern of the North American defense system.

General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower has revealed that the framework of strategic bases in the Aleutians is being kept intact for rapid expansion if necessary.

After having paid a visit to the continent's northernmost line of defense, General Eisenhower said that the islands were not being abandoned, but were undergoing a "contraction and concentration of military potential."

Deadlock Over Korea

MAJ. GEN. ARCHER L. LERCH, military governor of Korea, gave an off-the-record talk to reserve officers recently expressing great pessimism regarding U. S. relations with Russia in Korea. Latest efforts to get together with Russia, General Lerch said, may as well be written off as failure. What caused the deadlock was recognition of political parties, since Russia would not recognize any Korean parties not controlled by Communists. General Lerch also revealed:

(1) Russia's agrarian reforms in northern Korea have backfired. Northern native farmers, oppressed by a 50 per cent tax on produce and strict control under the "cooperative" system, are drifting south across the 38th parallel.

(2) Border incidents have been reduced along the Russian-American line. However, two Russian soldiers, prowling for rice below the border, were shot and killed by Korean police.

(3) Only 53 Japs are left in southern Korea—all hospital cases.

(4) Russia, which controls the industrial half of the country, is permitting a smooth flow of electricity into the American zone without interference.

General Lerch said he was not worried about too many Koreans becoming converted to communism. "Koreans," he said, "could never be regimented into communism, I am sure."

Doom to Veterans' Loans

ONE of the main reasons why veterans are failing to obtain loans under the G.I. Bill of Rights is the fact that the 80th congress has clipped the power of Reconstruction Finance corporation to purchase these mortgages from banks. The 79th congress, which passed the G.I. bill, gave RFC authority to purchase mortgages on homes where the loans had been guaranteed by Veterans' administration under terms of the G.I. bill. The authority under which the RFC purchased these mortgages expired June 30. When the new law was passed by this congress extending the RFC for another year and slashing its loan authority from something like 18 billion dollars to two billion dollars, congress not only swept away the only source of small business and small industrial loans but refused to give RFC authority to purchase G.I. home, business and farm mortgage loans.

Banks throughout the country, therefore, have no outlet for disposal of these loans and must hold them in their own portfolios, and from all over the country veterans are finding it almost impossible to obtain home loans no matter how well they are armed with letters of eligibility.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama introduced a bill in the last minute rush of congress seeking to extend this authority of the RFC.

Military Weakness of Russia

MUCH has been made of the superior size of the Russian army. Our military men frequently mentioned this recently to get their appropriations through congress. But little or nothing has been reported of the critical military weaknesses of Russia. She may be an isolated economic and political power existing behind an iron curtain, but from the military standpoint, she is wide open from the air on three sides, and extremely vulnerable in soil.

The custom is to regard Russia as unconquerable because of her vast spaces. Hitler's military mistake was in attempting to devour more than he could chew. No one seems to think of Russia's far vaster, outer circumference of defense, which is really too extensive to be defensible.

But these considerations run beyond current military realities. The Russia which has become so aggressive in the world of politics, does not comprise eight million square miles, but the few square miles occupied by its few thousand political leaders, chiefly in a few large cities (say Moscow and Leningrad).

Russia could be effectively isolated in war from the rest of the world without much difficulty. On the other hand, the atomic missile and other bombing rocket threats against her are somewhat dulled by her farflung distribution of industry (except oil).

For our part, defense against use of such missiles is our most vital necessary concern. We are protected everywhere except in the air. We are protected in every way excepting from atomic possibilities and missiles. In these baskets most of our eggs may now be put. We must think of atomic defense, not offense. We must concentrate on air and missile protection.

Stolen Fruits Are Sweetest

DURING boyhood days in Iowa I was taught that it was wicked to stealthily appropriate the other fellow's watermelons. Later, for more than half a century, I was never tempted. Now, living in a small community, I have a watermelon vine in my own back yard—but that vine is rooted in a neighbor's garden. The friendly, neigh-bory argument has been over the question: "Whose melons are those in my back yard?" To settle it, I ate the melons.

If we have to fight the next war across the North Pole we will find it hard sledding, especially for the ground troops.

He wasn't, so they tore away, looking for Howard Duff, who is. Duff is headed for the top, what with his radio show and the fact that he is in Hellinger's next picture, "Naked City." Orson

HOWARD DUFF
 Welles thought Duff as "Macduff" in "Macbeth" would be a natural, but he had to turn down that role and also one opposite Ronald Colman in "Imagination," as some of the "Naked City" scenes were to be shot in New York.

"Tarzan" is celebrating his 13th screen anniversary with "Tarzan and the Mermaids," being filmed on a big scale, in Mexico City, Acapulco and Florida. Champion girl swimmers from all over the world will augment a corps of professionals who will appear as mermaids. Johnny Weissmuller heads the cast, as usual; Brenda Joyce plays opposite him again.

At a time when radio gag writers are at a premium, getting the highest salaries in radio history, David Bublick has left the Fred Allen program, to collaborate with his wife Judith on the Gabriel Heatter Sunday night MBS programs. The ten $50 gold pieces which Glenn Ford, as a federal judge, offers as a reward in a scene in "The Man from Colorado" have a history. Dated 1862, they were coined at the first mint in the state, and were loaned by the Colorado Historical society.

Murray L. Hitch, handsome young bus driver and ex-merchant marine, gets a film break as an actor in RKO's "Your Red Wagon." Hired to drive his company's bus for a sequence in the picture, he attracted the director's attention, got a bit of dialogue.

Just before he directed "Deep Valley" for Warners, Jean Negulesco married actress Dusty Anderson. The usual photograph of bride, groom and best man (Jose Iturbi) was sent to her relatives in Niagara Falls. They telegraphed: "We saw your husband in a picture last night, and are very glad you married such a talented pianist." The bride is still explaining.

ODDS AND ENDS—Lucille Ball and Franchois Tonde are getting a romantic comedy team build-up from Columbia; their first picture on these lines is "Her Husband's Affair." . . . Though "Buttons," a fox terrier, has just really made the grade professionally in "The Emperor Waltz," he has been knocking around Hollywood since the days of his debut in the "Our Gang" comedies. . . . A shut-in who listened regularly to Tommy Bartlett, of "Welcome Travelers," left him $2,800 in her will, because of the good cheer he'd brought her. . . . Eileen Palmer, of "Road of Life," doesn't care if she never sees another beard bag; at the age of 13 she made them, for $3 a week!

FOUR WET HENNS . . . While practically everyone else in the country was sweltering and squirming in the supercharged heat wave a while back, this foursome got cooled off with a sprinkling can wielded by Nurse Virginia McCormick at St. Agnes hospital in Baltimore, Md. The tots are quadruplets, born last December to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hentz.

EARTH SHIFTING THREATENS TOWN . . . Two hardy members of the opposite sex, residents of Welch, W. Va., brave a stroll on the buckled streets of the town after sections of the little city started to sag alarmingly because of a mysterious shifting of the earth. Huge cracks appeared in several large buildings, and inhabitants were fearful that their homes would be destroyed.

Germans Flee Labor In Reich Russ Zone

Thousands Entering U. S. Area, Officials Report.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — American officials report that thousands of Germans are entering the U. S. zone from the Soviet zone of the Reich. The Germans claim they are fleeing from labor in Soviet-operated uranium mines and a new registration order for veterans.

An American spokesman said the Russians were reported operating pitchblende mines near Obasclenna in Saxony on a 24-hour basis. Uranium is derived from pitchblende.

At least 2,000 Germans crossed from the Soviet to the U. S. zone without American permission during a two-week period, a report to Frankfurt said. The influx is continuing.

The majority of arrivals from Saxony told American and German officials all males in that state between 16 and 60 have been ordered to register for work in the mines.

The mine shafts, 3,000 feet deep, were reported to be in the Erzgebirge "Mountains of Ore," a pre-war spa area noted for its radioactive waters.

Some arrivals told German police women were registered for mine work. The pitchblende is reported taken to Russia. Some arrivals claimed that as many as a million Germans were involved in the operations.

The Germans claim a day's absence from work means the loss of three days' food rations. Longer absences bring jail sentences.

A photostatic copy of a Soviet zone registration card carried by a former naval technician showed that veterans were given three days to report for registration.

Failure to report could be punished by 150-mark fines or six weeks in prison.

Blacksmith and Son Shut Shop; Auto Here to Stay

RACINE, WIS. — Frank Stegner, 85, and his son, Joseph, 59, closed their blacksmith shop and reluctantly admitted that the "horseless carriage" was here to stay.

They said they would take a rest. The father has been shoeing horses for 63 years, the son for 44 years.

Despite the decrease in the number of horses, the Stegners kept fairly busy during the last few years, as their shop was one of the few in this area that survived the motor age.

The son said he had been "too busy shoeing horses" to marry. "But now that I have a little free time, I might start looking for a girl," he said.

Latest Gadget May Change Government Airport Plans

WASHINGTON. — A $150,000 federal project that produced a successful cross-wind landing gear may force drastic revision of the Government's 500 million dollar nationwide airport building program.

T. P. Wright, civil aeronautics administrator, announced that "full-out consideration of the effects of this new CAA development on the whole airport problem now is under way."

The result could be that the public will get more airports for its money, or the same number of airports now planned but for only one-third the estimated cost.

The word strawberry was originally "strayberry," indicating the fruit of a plant whose runners stray from the parent plant in all directions.

Best Dishwashing
To get the best results in dishwashing use sufficient soap suds and hot water, and use clean dishcloths and towels each time. Drying is not necessary for the china if you rinse and stack to drain. Metal ware must be carefully dried to prevent rust and streaks.

Vegetable Omelet
A vegetable omelet makes a tasty dish for home supper. Either fresh or home-canned peas, corn, spinach and beans are delicious. They may also be used in combination, an excellent means of using up leftover vegetables.

Resolution passed by County Road Commissions, held at West Branch on Thursday, August 7, 1947.

WHEREAS, A number of County Road Commissions in this 28th Senatorial district find their funds for Road Maintenance depleted, and

WHEREAS, All of those not now in this financial condition, anticipate they will be in the same situation in the very near future, due to increased cost of labor and material and material and a reduction in our sources of revenue, and

WHEREAS, These County Road Commissions find it impossible to continue to serve the public as fully as in the past,

Rail Safety

Odoriferous Chemicals
Most unpleasantly odoriferous compounds known are those containing sulfur, scientists say. New uses have been found for one particularly malodorous group of these compounds known as mercaptans, which include the chief constituents found in the defense secretion of the skunk. Some of the mercaptans are mixed with gases in minute amounts to serve as a warning agent if a leak develops in a pie line or container while others are valuable in the manufacture of organic chemicals having a variety of industrial possibilities.

Research Projects

The annual expenditure for research projects in this country is estimated at $500,000,000. The chemical pharmaceutical and petroleum industries lead in the volume of research.

Big Lifeboats

Remove Fresh Stain
The fresher the stain, the easier it is to remove. How to remove it depends upon the type of stain, the color and kind of fabric, and washability of the garment. Here are some suggestions: For egg and meat juice stains—scrape excess food off with a dull knife, then soak stain in cold water. Wash in warm suds. Hot water will set the stain if not first treated with cold water.

Landscape Plantings

Native highbush blueberry, red cedar and common juniper are among the common wild plants that may be used in landscape plantings on the home grounds.

Electronic Guide
A moving finger of light, guided by radio waves, magically appears on a map which is located in the pilot's cabin of an air-liner and moves automatically to constantly show the pilot his exact location directly on the flight map; thus making obsolete older methods of air navigation.

Satisfied Everybody

Boiling Eggs

When you plan to boil eggs which have been kept cold, they should be removed from the refrigerator at least half an hour before cooking to take the chill off the eggs. Very cold eggs are more likely to crack when placed in hot water than eggs at room temperature.

Uncle Sam Says

This Independence Day your Uncle Sam salutes millions of fellow Americans who buy and own Savings Bonds—the payroll savers, the Bond-a-Month farmers, professional people and the self-employed, the regular buyers of Savings Bonds in all walks of life—all of whom are showing good judgment in building many future financial independence days and many future financial independence years.

U. S. Treasury Department

Rail Profits

Only 3 times in the last 34 years—a period over which very complete Interstate Commerce commission records are available—have the railroads earned profits as great as 5 per cent. In 1942 their profit was 5.50 per cent; in 1917, 5.02 per cent and in 1916, 5.90 per cent.

Supplies Deficiencies

In soils deficient in phosphorus, the application of superphosphate makes it available to pasture grasses and other plants. These in turn make it available to livestock and human beings. Not only does this practice improve the quality of crops grown, but it also increases the yield.

VOL. 1

TAWAS CITY, MICH., FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1947 NO. 30

The reason a dog has so many friends is that his tail wags instead of his tongue.

We pay CASH for CREAM

"The traps on this course, are very annoying, aren't they?" said one golfer to another.

"Yes they are," growled his dour companion. "I wish you would close yours."

HAMBURGERS may have to get along with fewer onions next year. Although total truck garden production of vegetables will be only slightly below last year's record high, onions, carrots and cabbage will be 20 to 30% below last year.

A bus was very crowded one morning. Suddenly, one of the passengers buried his head in his arms. The man next to him turned anxiously. "Are you sick? Anything I can do for you?"

"Oh no," replied the other. "It's just that I hate to see old ladies standing."

On Wagging

The ordinary dog wags his "tail" but the hound wags his "stern." An otter wags his "pole," a rabbit his "scut," a fox his "brush" and a deer his "single."

Watch Humidity

Several gallons of water a day can and should be evaporated in the typical house or apartment. Extremely dry air is bad for furniture.

BEST LOOKING GIRL IN TOWN

By THYRA SAMTER WINSLOW

FROM the time she was thirteen Rilla Mabry had been ashamed of her appearance. It was then that she started shooting up higher than the other girls. She was awkward as well as tall and she was too thin.

By the time she was twenty she was fully convinced that her appearance was really something terrible. All of the other girls seemed little and cute and attractive. No matter what Rilla wore it seemed wrong. There was too much of her to wear tailored clothes. And thin dresses hung around her in folds.

All of the boys and girls in the crowd liked Rilla. She was a fine girl—if you could forget the way she looked. Even her hair was wrong—sort of stringy—but she had a pleasant and rather attractive face.

In spite of her looks Rilla had a boy friend. He was Patrick Redding and his father kept a grocery store. Pat wasn't any great catch—but then you really couldn't expect Rilla, with her looks, to do any better. Folks felt that Rilla ought to be well satisfied. Pat was a nice looking boy, and he certainly wasn't to be sneezed at.

Rilla didn't sneeze at Pat. She was grateful to him for being nice to her. She was as jolly and as friendly as she could be. As a matter of fact she liked Pat a lot. He was fun to be with. She'd have been perfectly satisfied except for the fact that she was in love with Shane Tennant. Which did her a lot of good—for Shane was the catch of the town. Shane's father was a banker—and rich. His mother was the social leader of the town. Shane was tall—much taller than Rilla—and handsome, besides.

Pat went into the grocery with his father. Shane went into the bank. That's the way sons do in small towns unless they have definite ideals about law or one of the other professions. Rilla didn't do anything. Her folks had just enough money so she didn't have to work. She went to parties with Patrick—and admired Shane from a distance. The town folks felt that she would marry Pat, that he'd take over his father's grocery store and that they'd settle down.

That night had happened if it hadn't been for Leslie Durant. Leslie Durant was—and still is—a well known illustrator. And he came to Morrville to visit an aunt. And got taken to all of the parties, of course. The social lion of the season. He stayed in town three days—but that was long enough for a lot to happen.

He saw Rilla Mabry! Rilla was standing near the door—and she was looking at Shane Tennant. She never knew how much her face showed what she was thinking about. No one else noticed—but Durant, being new, took in the situation.

He saw Rilla, standing not quite straight because she didn't feel quite as tall that way, in a badly fitted dress and her hair not quite smooth—and he saw Shane, perfectly groomed—for Morrville—self-confident, good looking. And then Pat came to ask Rilla to dance.

On the second day of his visit Durant made his remarkable statement. He declared, to anyone who would listen to him, that Rilla Mabry was by far and away the best looking girl in town. One of the best looking girls he'd ever seen.

Rilla had never had a compliment about her looks before. She had always been shy, self-conscious first time in her life, the belle of the ball. Toward the end of the evening Durant had the satisfaction of seeing Shane Tennant dancing attention. Shane Tennant, whom Rilla had looked at with longing eyes—and who had paid no attention to her.

Durant went back to his home in New York. And forgot all about the whole thing. And years passed, and the sequel happened just the other day.

Durant was lunching alone at a restaurant when an attractive, tall woman, past her first youth, came up to him.

"You don't remember me," she said.

That night, for the first time in her uneventful life, Rilla Mabry was belle of the ball.

and often miserable about her appearance. And here, the first authority on beauty who had ever been in town, acclaimed her as the prize.

When Durant, himself, told her what he thought of her she was filled with confusion. She managed to stammer her thanks. And later, very shyly, she went up to him.

"I do wish you'd tell me how I can look better," she said.

"I'm not suited for the task of lily-gilding," he told her, "but maybe if we got together—"

They got together the next morning. Durant came to Rilla's house, and, with Rilla's mother acting as helper, they did things to Rilla and Rilla's clothes. Durant made her stand up straight. And rearranged her hair. And told her what was wrong with the clothes she wore.

That night there was a dance for Durant—his last evening in town. And, as he had thought when he started things, Rilla was, for the

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS by Lynn Chambers

Morning Meals

Don't try to argue your family into eating a whopper of a breakfast! Make it so good and interesting that they just can't refuse it! You may have found that coaxing helps your family to eat luncheon and dinner, but as you may know, it just won't work for breakfast.

The things that do work are variety, downright good food, gay, cheerful dishes and linens, and pleasant attitudes. Of course the time element is important, and this may need a bit of working on if your folks are in the habit of sleeping until the last minute and then trying to dash off some fruit juice and coffee.

When you sit down to think about it, those five minutes extra sleep really don't make you any more rested, so get the family up early enough to eat breakfast properly. Mother can help this along by getting up and starting breakfast. The smell of pancakes or bacon plus the aroma of coffee really does help in getting the family started on their way out of bed.

Breakfast should start off with fruit or fruit juice. This not only is refreshing, but also is a good way to get started off on those vitamins and minerals for the day. Follow the fruit with cereal, prepared or cooked, and vary this from day to day. If the cereal looks a bit uninteresting, plan to serve fruit with it to add a touch of color and flavor.

Eggs are recommended for breakfast whether you have to watch your calories or boost them. But, do serve them in different ways so they always remain interesting. Then, too, you can use eggs in waffles and pancakes when real variety is desired.

Interesting breakfast breads do a lot toward making the meal one to anticipate with delight. Try a brand new coffee cake or toast some of the homemade breads for real deliciousness.

*Health Bread.
1 cup sifted white flour
2 cups graham flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1½ cups soured milk
½ cup molasses

Mix together the dry ingredients. Dissolve soda in soured milk and add the molasses. Add liquids to dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pour into two greased pans and bake slowly in a slow (325-degree) oven for 1½ hours. If desired, raisins and/or dates also may be added to the dry ingredients when a fruit bread is desired. This is delicious as toast or sandwiches.

Orange Coffee Cake.
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup corn syrup
½ cup orange juice
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ cup melted butter or substitute

Topping:
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon melted butter

LYNN SAYS:
Tips to Make You An Expert Cook
A quick sauce for members of the green family—such as cabbage and broccoli—is to mix ½ cup of lemon juice with ¾ cup of mayonnaise and heat in the double boiler.
Experiment with herbs if you want savory foodstuffs. Try a little mace in your baked squash or squash souffle; nutmeg in chopped, creamed spinach; pinch of thyme in clam chowder.

Mix corn syrup, orange juice and melted shortening and combine with sifted dry ingredients. Mix in beaten eggs, vanilla and orange rind. Pour into a greased square pan. Blend topping ingredients and sprinkle over top of batter. Bake in a preheated fairly hot (400-degree) oven for 30 minutes.

Oatmeal Griddle Cakes.
(Makes 12 to 15)
½ cup flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups quick-cooking oats
1 egg, well beaten
1 tablespoon melted shortening
1 teaspoon molasses
¾ cup water
¼ cup milk

Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder and salt. Add oats. Combine egg, shortening, molasses, water and milk. Add to dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Have griddle very hot for first baking, then reduce heat. Cook on one side until puffed and full of bubbles. Turn and cook on other side. Serve with butter and syrup.

Baked Eggs in Toast Cups.
6 slices bread
6 eggs
Salt and pepper
Butter

Cut crusts from bread and gently press the slices into greased custard cups. The four corners will extend to the tops of the custard cups. Break an egg into each cup. Season and dot with butter. Bake for 15 minutes in a 400-degree oven. Serve at once.
Two hearty dishes which are nice to serve for breakfast are scrapple and frizzled eggs. In the case of the scrapple, make it the night before and allow to chill before frying.

Scrapple.
(Serves 6)
1 pound lean pork
1 cup corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon powdered sage

Simmer pork in water until meat falls from bones. Remove meat and bones. Chill broth and remove fat. Measure 1 quart of broth, adding water, if necessary. Add corn meal and cook, stirring frequently until thick. Grind or chop meat fine and add to cereal with salt and sage. Pack in a loaf bread pan and chill. Slice and fry.

Frizzled Eggs.
(Serves 6)
½ pound chipped beef
2 tablespoons butter
6 eggs, beaten
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk

Cook dried beef in butter until slightly crisp. Combine eggs, pepper and milk and mix well. Pour over beef and cook as for scrambled eggs. Serve garnished with toast points and parsley.

Mix your favorite jelly with honey and spread over toast. This is especially good on nut bread.

For a tasty, quick dessert, use a prepared butterscotch pudding and make it with half milk and half leftover coffee. This is really something in the way of a taste teaser.

If you tend to have leftover stuffing with your fowl, after the fowl is gone, why don't you try baking the extra stuffing in a casserole and serving it topped with eggs, baked and seasoned?
