C. of C. Gives $491.43 to Hospital Fund

Profit Realized From Tiger-Boston Game Excursion

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce held Wednesday evening it was voted to give $491.43 to the Tawas Hospital Building Fund. This money represents the profit made in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored excursion to the Tiger-Boston baseball game played August 27 at Detroit.

The gift makes a very substantial addition to the building fund. The vote of the directors was unanimous. The Chamber of Commerce excursion was a very successful event. Everyone who participated had a good time and saw two very interesting games.

W. D. "Mike" Nunn, chairman of the committee in charge of the event, reported that receipts from the excursion amounted to $4076.50, and the expenses were $3,585.07. Three hundred twenty-three from Northeastern Michigan were in the excursion party and included fans from Alpena, Harrisville, Oscoda, Tawas and Bay City. More than 200 were from the Tawas area.

Selling the tickets and preparing for this excursion was a large project for the Chamber of Commerce, and "Mike" Nunn, his committee, and those who assisted, deserve the credit they have received for making it a success.

At the meeting Wednesday evening plans were made for the archery program which will be held in this area during the bow and arrow, deer hunting season.

A banquet and general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is being planned for the near future.

A program and mass are being prepared for the approaching color tours. The tours will be held as Jack Frost prepares the scenery.

Alabaster Wins First Game In Series

Play Rhodes at Alabaster Diamond Next Sunday

Playing at Rhodes last Sunday, Alabaster took a hard fought game by the score of 5 to 3 to begin the play-offs for the Northeastern Michigan League Championship. A large crowd was on hand to enjoy perfect weather and a good game. Some of the people, including umpire Harry Bolen, had trouble finding Rhodes, but all finally made it.

Things were relatively quiet until the sixth inning. Then in their half, Alabaster's Peterson led off with a double, followed by Roberts, DeLosh and Erickson who singled to bring in three runs, and give Alabaster a nice lead. But it didn't last long, as Rhodes came up in their half of the sixth, connected for three hits and capitalized on two Alabaster errors to put over three runs, tying it up at 3-3.

Then in the seventh, Alabaster collected two more runs to make it 5 and 3, and the game looked like it was all over. It was too—until the last half of the ninth, when suddenly Alabaster found themselves in a hole with three Rhodes men on base and only one out. Manager Harold Rollin decided on a quick change, and switched Peterson in to pitch, relieving Johnny Martin, who took over third base. Peterson threw one ball to Rhode's Woodruff, who hit into a double play—a line drive to Joe Martin who tossed to Erickson on second to DeLosh on first for the two outs. That ended the game, and gave the Alabaster fans a big thrill—it showed just what teamwork and the will to win would do for a good team.

Martin added 10 more strike-outs to his record, while giving seven hits and three base on balls. Hutek, pitching for Rhodes struck out six and allowed eight hits, walking five.

Next week Rhodes comes to Alabaster for the second game of this two out of three series. It will be a good game and a large crowd is expected. On Labor Day, Alabaster was again rained out at Standish. Alabaster . . . 000 003 200—5 8 2 Rhodes 000 003 000—3 7 0

The Old Philosopher Says:

By Gavin Maxwell

The Glory that is America

My next door neighbor served our country in her armed forces during the war, while his wife, mother and two small children worked in a war plant. They managed to keep up the payments on the home and when he was mustered out of service she returned to her job of full time mother and wife, and he to the job he held before the war.

This summer he sodded their lawn, painted the house in his off hours and papered some of the rooms in their home.

The other evening their two children rushed in to ask us to see their new bicycles. "Daddy got his bonus and he bought us each a shiny new red bicycle as he told us he would." Their dad is typical of America's citizen soldiers. A difficult job was to be done and they left farms, factory, and farm to do it. In their absence their loved ones carried on as best they could. They returned and took up the threads where they left off—the new roof on the white painted cottage, the front room newly papered and the bonus money distributed where it will gladden the heart of loved ones. Yes, a new bicycle for a boy and for a girl. They will grow up to love the land this father loved and served and carry on the great American tradition.

My neighbor's father and mother came from Europe and found in our broad land opportunity denied them in the land of their birth. Their son gladly gave four years to defend the liberty they found on our shores and last week he showed himself a typical American dad when he bought his children the cherished bicycle he'd promised them.

So long as families make lawns about their homes, paint their cottages, lay new floors, paper rooms, and improve their appearances and buy their children promised bicycles, our country is safe from its enemies.

We will do well to count the blessing on what's right rather than what's wrong with America. This is a great country and will remain so while love, devotion, sacrifice of those who have benefited from citizenship in it think as does my neighbor.

Split Honors With Oscoda Over Holidays

Tawas City Plays At West Branch Next Sunday

In games over the Labor Day week-end, Tawas City split with Oscoda, winning Sunday's game 9 to 3, and losing Labor Day's "Mudville Special" 11 to 10.

In Sunday's contest at Oscoda, Tawas had rather an easy time of it, winning 9 to 3 behind the pitching of Dale Landon, who allowed only five hits in six innings and Bill Mallon who finished the game, allowing seven hits. This was Bill's first appearance in a Tawas City uniform for several years.

The Labor Day tilt in which Tawas City lost 11 to 10, was a rather long contest, with old man rain holding up the game several times. The feature of the game was a 350 foot drive by Gene LaVack, over the right field fence for a home run in the fourth inning. Besides the homer he also collected two singles, for three out of four.

In the two contests, Tawas City garnered 25 hits against 23 for Oscoda. Prescott led the hitting parade with five hits out of nine times up, including a double and four singles. Other extra base knocks besides LaVack's homer and Prescott's double was a triple by Dale Landon, Tawas City's leading hitter with a .400 average, and doubles by K. Kennedy, Mallon and Thornton.

The Labor Day tilt began as if Tawas City would repeat Sunday's performance, when they scored two runs in the second, two in the fourth and one in the fifth, while LaVack's homer off Herriman was the only Oscoda run up to that point. But in the sixth, Oscoda put on a spurge netting them four runs on four hits and two hit batsmen, tying up the game a 5 to 1. In the seventh they scored six runs more on three singles, a double, a walk a passed ball and two errors. Three runs were scored in that inning off Herriman and Bill Mallon came in to relieve him, with two men still on base. He was greeted with a double and a single, scoring three more runs, he then settled down to retire the side. That was all the scoring for Oscoda as Mallon set them down 1-2-3 in the eighth and ninth innings. Tawas City cut down the 11 to 5 lead gap separating them from Oscoda in the Tawas half of the seventh, scoring three runs and in the eighth, scoring two more to close the gap to 11 to 10. In the ninth Prescott led off with a single, but was out at second on an attempted sacrifice by Gingerich. Gingerich was left stranded when Thornton grounded out and B. Mallon flied to left.

The team has a .260 team batting average at this point with Dale Landon leading the team in hitting with an even .400 batting average, followed by Marv Mallon who carries a .385 average.

The Tawas City team will continue to play ball this fall, and have or will schedule games with some of the faster northern teams. This Sunday, September 7th, Tawas City will play West Branch, Central Division Champions, NEM League, at West Branch. Tawas City handed them their first loss of the season, July 4th, when Tawas defeated them 4 to 3. The game will be played at the West Branch Fair grounds, beginning (Continued No. 3, Back Page)

Presidential Travel Is Major Project

Chief Executive Zealously Guarded by Secret Service

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—When President Truman finally announced that he was going to Brazil, he was immediately asked if he contemplated any trips across continental United States. He answered in the negative.

A reporter piped up: "This year or next year?" "THIS year," the President replied.

That gave the White House press and radio conference a short interlude of laughter. For the reason that whenever a president is forced to drop his role of chief executive to assume the functions of candidate, it is funny. Frequently it isn't funny for the candidate, especially when he has been used to the respect spontaneously and (except in election years) almost universally tendered his office.

A presidential trip may be, in many cases, fun for the President, but it isn't much fun for a lot of other people.

Not that all Presidents have had easy traveling.

It was an ordeal for the early heads of the nation just to get home in the stagecoach and tavern days.

President Garfield was shot in a railroad station; McKinley was killed by a half-mad anarchist on a trip to the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo; Harding died in San Francisco on his way back from a swing-around that had taken him to Vancouver, Canada; Wilson suffered a stroke in Pullman; Theodore Roosevelt was wounded while he addressed a meeting on a visit to Milwaukee.

Baukhage

Furthermore, it has been recently revealed by the head of the secret service, Mike Reilly, in his book "Reilly of the White House," that Franklin Roosevelt, who disliked air travel, nearly cracked up in Malta, and might have been assassinated in a park in Miami had he not leaped out of his car to take a telegram (Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago was killed and four other persons wounded).

Staying within the Nation's borders

Up to Franklin Roosevelt's time, Taft was the most traveled of presidents, and in 1901 worried all the constitutionalists (unfamiliar with the Constitution) by visiting the Canal Zone. However, he was scrupulously careful to stay on board the American warship which touched only American soil. It had been considered an unwritten law since George Washington's time (he refused to enter Rhode Island until it was admitted to the Union) that a president while in office couldn't leave the country. When Woodrow Wilson went to Paris and Vice President Thomas Marshall had to preside at cabinet meetings, the vice president made it clear he was officiating only at the request of Wilson and that he didn't consider Wilson's leaving the country vacated the presidency.

Travel has become a president must, and Mr. Truman's trip to South America is just routine.

But it is complicated routine for a whole army of people.

What these people do is little known to the public, especially the secret service. One out of every 10 of our presidents has been assassinated up to the time congress turned the job of protecting the chief executive over to the secret service. Since then no president has been assassinated.

Theirs (the secret service) is a heartbreaking job, and never have the details been so thoroughly revealed (to the discomfiture of some of his former colleagues) as by Mike Reilly in the book I mentioned.

Of course in wartime the job was vastly more complicated, and the army and navy worked closely with the secret service. A special air raid alert system was designed, Reilly says "to protect FDR anywhere in the United States."

When a spotter or watcher, either civilian or military, spotted an airplane he or she was unable to identify "any place from Greenland to the Straits of Magellan," the information was radioed immediately to the army air force headquarters at Mitchell Field, N. Y.

The information was immediately evaluated and conveyed by radio and land line to the secret service communication system where men were standing a 24 hour watch. This system tied together Mitchell Field, Bolling Field, the homes, offices and automobiles of various secret service agents, field offices throughout the country, all secret service mobile units, the President's train, Shangri-La, and the President's room at Hyde Park.

President kept informed constantly

But keeping the President alive is only one activity. Keeping him in touch with his job is another.

Once when a bullying congress demanded of President Grant which if any of his duties he performed in Washington, he replied that his business and where he did it was his own affair. Now a president's out-of-town business is a lot of people's affairs.

In wartime this signal corps detail had the mission of speeding the President's top-secret communications "from the highest level conference tables to installations in the field."

"Today," as Major McNally puts it, "wherever the President travels, the White House signal detachment continues its task of weaving deftly an intricate communications net, which enables the commander-in-chief (and, he might have added, a traveling candidate) to keep himself constantly informed and in touch with the nation."

The work of weaving this "communications net" is an exciting story too long to recount here, but let me quote Major McNally briefly to show how continuous communication was maintained when President Roosevelt made one of his frequent trips to Hyde Park.

"A 50-watt frequency modulation station was modified and installed on the secret service car attached to the presidential train. Army vehicles, radio equipped, were spotted at strategically plotted points along the route between Washington and Poughkeepsie, so that the train was in constant touch with the White House all the way. Another FM radio link was installed in the old stable on the President's estate at Hyde Park. By means of a direct telephone line to Washington and frequency modulation radio, the White House was kept informed of the President's whereabouts at all times."

The speed with which messages could be dispatched and answers received was astounding. When Winston Churchill was making his second visit to Hyde Park, he and the President who were keen competitors as well as close collaborators decided to make a speed test on the communications facilities. Each sent identical messages to Australia over the respective British and United States facilities. The President had an answer in less than two hours; the Prime Minister got his the next day.

CAUTION TO THE WINDS

Swinging sharply away from its previous cautious attitude of economy-minded discrimination, the U. S. buying public has launched itself on a relatively liberal purchasing spree.

Virtually all fields of trade have reported a clear-cut trend away from passive waiting for lower prices, and purchases are increasing all over the country.

The change has given rise to a certain amount of alarm over the possibilities of a new inflation spiral which may develop as a result of indiscriminate buying. It has become the subject of much discussion among business leaders, bankers and economists, some of whom express concern that the movement might acquire runaway proportions. "We are watching developments from day to day," said a government economist, "hoping that it will taper off before it becomes a violent spiral that can end only in a serious reversal."

It is generally agreed that the movement began with the renewed wave of price increases that followed the boost in coal prices and mine wages. It has gained momentum ever since.

Consumers apparently have given up hope that any material reduction in prices will occur within the reasonable future and are going ahead to purchase merchandise which they long have needed. Many merchants who curtailed their inventories a year ago are placing orders to replenish their stocks.

As a result of the widespread buying trend, previous opinions that industry and business were in for at least slight setbacks in the last half of this year are being revised. Current forecasts are optimistic concerning high levels of business activity during the third and fourth quarters.

Belief now is that prices generally will move upward, or at least hold their present heights, until well into next year. Cash remains abundant, and the influx of large amounts of money from veterans' terminal leave bonds and state bonuses will be added contributing factors to the inflationary trend.

SET FOR NEW SPEED RECORD . . . After two years of preparations, John R. Cobb of England was prepared for an attempt to drive his Raiton Mobil Special to a new land speed record. Cobb's car is powered with two airplane engines.

NEWS REVIEW

Hint American Aid Plan; Truman Acts for DP's

THE AMERICAS:

Aid Promised

"We must reject an encroachment upon the fundamental rights of the state. I am confident that we all agree that the state exists for man, not man for the state—and that we abhor any limitation upon the freedom of expression of men throughout the world."

Thus, in his first address before the inter-American conference at Petropolis, Brazil, U. S. Secretary of State George Marshall issued a reaffirmation of democratic principles in the western hemisphere and then bulwarked his expression of idealism with specific assurances of U. S. economic aid to Latin America.

He told the delegates that the U. S. government "will continue to take up economic questions with its sister republics and seek a sound basis for practical cooperation."

That was interpreted as meaning that the U. S. is willing to help solve Latin America's economic problems through a series of bi-lateral pacts. There was also a hint that the big northern neighbor is counting on sending down its capital.

DP SHUFFLE:

Truman Acts

President Harry Truman, in a renewed effort to alleviate the "tragic plight" of Europe's displaced persons, ordered a three-way shift in the top command of the U. S. immigration and naturalization service.

In addition, it was disclosed that administration officials in Washington have resumed their review of the problem of displaced persons.

Most important personnel shift involved the transfer of Ugo Carusi from his post as commissioner of immigration to a position in the state department where he will survey all "critical" problems relating to displaced persons, particularly their resettlement.

This is expected to result in added stress being placed on a directive Mr. Truman issued in December, 1945, calling for coordinated action by federal officials to admit as many displaced persons as possible within quota limitations.

Watson B. Miller, federal security administrator, succeeds Carusi as commissioner of immigration, and Oscar Ross Ewing, New York lawyer, replaces Miller.

President Truman's action was taken in the face of congress' refusal to act on his proposal to relax immigration quotas.

Marshall at Rio

"... the state exists for man . . ."

That, at least, is the occult prediction of a 75-year-old Japanese fortune teller, Kakudo Tomioka, who eulogized: "MacArthur has a glorious future in store for him."

Tomioka, who is said to have a record of several accurate predictions, placed the general on a plane with Mohandas Ghandi in the field of social welfare.

"There presently are two living men who have succeeded in realizing a peaceful revolution," he said. They are MacArthur and Ghandi. But, then, Ghandi's mission is over. And MacArthur has his most glorious task to accomplish for the world in the future."

It was not immediately known whether MacArthur would use Tomioka's recommendation as a plank in his platform if he runs in 1948.

SURPLUS:

Budget Review

President Truman's budget business made big news again when the chief executive (1) forecast a record treasury surplus next June of nearly five billion dollars, and (2) hurt Republican feelings by telling the nation that congress trimmed the 1947 budget estimates by only 1.5 billion dollars.

His mid-year budget review estimated tax receipts this year at $41,667,000,000, which is 2.1 billion dollars more than any previous forecast.

Mr. Truman made his announcement coincidentally with a bureau of labor report which indicated that the U. S., far from being in for a business depression, can look forward to a period of prosperity continuing "indefinitely."

New Device Gives Lowdown

On Time in No Time at All

CHICAGO.—A device which will enable the repairman to diagnose a watch's ills in 30 seconds without removing the cover was demonstrated here.

The electronic instrument can detect accuracy of time gained or lost to within one second in a 24-hour period.

The watch's beat is amplified 7,000 times and recorded on a cylindrical drum in much the same way that an electrocardiograph records the beat of the human heart.

C. H. Fetter, president of American Time Products, Inc., said the instrument accomplishes in a half minute what the watchmaker took five days to do.

Tests Scheduled For New Bombs

Largest Nonatomic Missile Ever Made to Be Ready in a Few Months.

WASHINGTON.—A 42,000-pound bomb being developed by army and air forces probably will be given a test in the next few months. So far as known this will be the largest standard explosive — nonatomic — missile ever made.

The weight of the bomb suggests it is intended for use in such aircraft as the B-36, which is capable of carrying 36 tons of explosives and is equipped with a bomb bay of enormous dimensions.

AAF has even larger bombs—one of 100,000 pounds—under consideration and in the blueprint stage. But designers said a curtailed research program resulted in shelving these projects.

They described the 42,000-pounder as a "general purpose block-buster" type.

More Fearful Weapon.

It was hinted that the military may be looking into the future for even a more fearful weapon—an atomic bomb which when dropped from a high altitude might sink into the earth and produce a man-made earthquake.

An AAF announcement of forthcoming tests with deep-penetration bombs on a submarine assembly factory at Farge, Germany, referred specifically only to two standard explosive bombs developed since war's end.

They are the 25,000-pound "Amazon" and "Samson."

But the announcement concluded with this cryptic statement:

"With the introduction of atomic warfare in World War III, it is logical that the need for these specialized types of bombs may be even greater for future defense."

They Bore Deeply.

The extent to which deep-penetration bombs can bore into the earth was demonstrated during the latter days of the war when Britain's royal air force caved in a tunnel 135 feet below ground.

Some atomic scientists interested in military use of the new energy are reported to want to test an atomic bomb touched off below the earth's surface.

One theory is that the shock waves set in motion by the artificial earthquake would tumble and crumple buildings over a much greater area than in any air-burst method.

AAF said three B-29s are at the American air base of Giebelstadt in Germany, ready to begin the penetration experiments on the Farge installation.

The objective is to determine the capabilities of various types of bombs in penetrating reinforced concrete structures.

AAF will drop 30 missiles and RAF 13.

Farm Prices Found Above Support Level, Report Says

WASHINGTON.—The commerce department said that if farm prices were to fall the limit allowed by the government's support program, the price of food to the housewife would drop an average of 6 to 8 per cent.

It also said the farmers would still be assured of cash income equal to high wartime levels—about 20 billion dollars a year.

Actually, a department analysis said, the record prices now being obtained for farm products will swell this year's farm income above even the record 25 billion dollars the farmers collected last year.

These high prices make it largely unnecessary for the government to do much under its support program. The commerce department estimated that the general farm price level would have to drop about 25 per cent to reach the price level support.

The support level is determined by taking into account not only the prices of what the farmers sell but also prices of things they buy.

Mule Postman Loses Contract in Remote Area

PORTLAND, ORE.—The lonely existence of the scattered families living in the remote fastness of Siskiyou national forest no longer will be relieved by periodic visits from the mule-driving postman.

The mule-pack postal route between the isolated towns of Illahe and Marial, near Grants Pass, has been terminated by the government because the carrier, who has a monopoly on mules, submitted too high a bid.

The action leaves only one route served the year around by mules although 12 others are served by mule and horse during the stormy winter months.

Residents of the remote mountain areas served by the mule routes do their shopping through the mail order catalogues and depend upon mule packs for everything—clothing, accoutrements, rifles, even food, according to Fred H. Twohy, railroad mail district superintendent who has spent 10 years traveling the mountain regions to check on his mule postmen.

"One winter not even a horse could get through the heavy snows," Twohy recalls. "The residents were shut off from the world, and there was quite a squawk."

Obliging postmen resorted to sleds to reach the isolated areas, Twohy adds, "and the first thing the people ordered by parcel post was several cases of beer."

The Marial route was typical of the involved carrier setup required to get mail to secluded areas. Mail went 34 miles up a river in a flat-bottomed river boat from Wedderburn. Then it was transferred to mule for an additional 16-mile trip.

It was "kind of expensive," Twohy admits, costing about $400 a person to keep the route open. "The stamps don't begin to pay for it," he adds.

"I have a hard time convincing them back in Washington that these routes are worth the expense," Twohy says.

Bombing Proves of Peacetime Use

HELENA, MONT. — Bombing techniques which wreaked havoc on enemy cities and military installations during the war also have proved effective in saving valuable timberlands of the northwest through control of forest fires from the air involving spraying water from planes.

In a special test conducted jointly by the forest service and army air forces, a B-29 and two P-47s successfully dropped seven water

UNDER FLOODLIGHTS . . . For 74 years, Seven Falls and South Cheyenne Canyon have been among the major scenic attractions in the Pikes Peak region of Colorado. Visitors now can view the famous falls at night, under electric lights. The waterfall, shown above, is lighted by 28 large floodlights with alternating white and color effects.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Floodlights Now Cast Beam On Scenic Falls and Canyon

WNU Features.

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—Embracing "the grandest mile of scenery in Colorado," majestic Seven Falls and picturesque South Cheyenne Canyon have intrigued visitors to the Pikes Peak region for the past 74 years. Their beauties, however, have been shrouded when nightfall descended but now, through completion of an electrical engineering feat, this major scenic attraction of the Rockies can be viewed under electric lights.

The project, which makes this Colorado beauty spot the only completely lighted canyon and waterfall in the world, required the use of 80 huge floodlights and more than 1,000 small spotlights. More than two miles of heavy copper rubber insulated cable was installed underground.

The waterfall, which has seven separate falls in its 266 foot descent, is lighted by 28 large floodlights with alternating white and color effects. The crystal clear trout pool at the foot of the falls is lighted by eight underwater lights, revealing the rainbow trout gliding about in its depths.

The magnificent weather beaten pink granite walls of the canyon, which rise to a height of more than 2,000 feet, present countless shadow effects as the lights play upon them. Various rock formations, such as the "Setting Turkey," "Devil's Slide" and "Wrestling Bears," are spotlighted by 500 to 1,500 watt lights.

Majestic pine trees on the banks of the splashing mountain stream are bathed in various colored flood lights, while others are sprinkled with colored lights. Standing as a sentinel at the entrance of the canyon are the familiar "Pillars of Hercules." It is at this point that the huge $10,000 anti-aircraft carbon arc light has been installed. The big light has eight million candle-power and shoots an effective beam five miles in the air. The Lonesome Pine, Eagles Cliff and other features of interest are caught in its bright path. It also will be used to sweep the sky to indicate that Seven Falls is now under lights.

As a final touch, a 90 watt sound amplifier system has been installed to play soft music.

Al G. Hill, Dallas, Tex., oil man, who purchased the 1,400 acre scenic attraction June 1, 1946, immediately began a program of improvements which have taken more than a year to complete and have cost approximately $100,000. In addition to the lighting project, a stairway of 250 steps has been erected to a spectators' platform on the south wall of the canyon from which point all Seven Falls can be seen at one time. Part of a mountain slope was removed by bulldozers to provide parking space for cars, and a graceful arch has been erected over the roadway at the mouth of the canyon.

The canyon, approximately one mile in length is a "box" or dead end type. Before the coming of the white man, the Indians stampeded herds of buffalo from the plains into the canyon where they then were killed as food was needed. The canyon also served as a strategic retreat from which the Indians fought off their enemies.

HIGH PRICES, PRODUCE ROTS . . . Food is being dumped in hungry Britain. Tons of vegetables and fruits are being carted from London's Covent Garden markets to the country for dumping and plowing under because of a glutted market. Wholesalers charge retailers with refusing to buy large quantities in order to maintain "scarcity" prices. Retailers say wholesalers prefer to waste food rather than sell at low prices.

GOOD HOT WEATHER SPORT . . . Probably it wasn't exactly fair, but while millions of persons all over the United States were steaming and fuming in the heat wave, these two cuties, Elba Hooper and Marion Charlton by name, were playing Chinese checkers in the deliciously cool waters of a pool at Banff, Alberta, Canada. This does not prove that Chinese checkers cools you off when it's hot. The swimming pool, and maybe even Canada, are the most necessary ingredients for coolness.

With eight goats pulling and four resting behind, McCartney's nondescript vehicle trundles along amiably, if not speedily. He claims it has carried him all over the United States.

For Fewer and Worse Roads

Major Philip B. Fleming, Administrator, Federal Works Agency, Washington, D. C.:
Dear Major—The papers inform me of approval of a super-duper national highway system to embrace the wide United States. It will connect 42 state capitals and link the larger cities of the land by express highways, viaducts and tunnels, so that traffic lights and cross traffic may be eliminated and swifter travel made possible for Americans. The system is to be built by the States with Federal aid and will cost three billion dollars.

Well, I am against it. Not on account of a little sum like three billion dollars. It is years since any American could get disturbed over a sum as petty as that. I am against it because the movement to make it easier for Americans to go places has gone far enough. What this country needs is a movement to make them stay home more.

The truth is, Major, that the express highway has already put the American family on the bum, made a wreck of the home, increased national indigestion 82 per cent, doubled our eyestrain, overloaded our hospitals, made the hot dog the national symbol and completely blitzed the day when Americans stayed home for hours at a stretch without squawking.

They had poise, dependability and self-control when it was impossible to have breakfast in Parsippany, N. J.; lunch in Saugerties, N. Y., and dinner in the Thousand Islands. They were a less jittery folk before ma, pa and all the kids could touch six different states in 24 hours. They were a more easily satisfied race before the road builders began converting the highways and byways into so many chute the chutes.

Link 42 state capitals by super-highway my eye! Unlink a few of 'em, says I. Dig up some of the present boulevards, throw some roadblocks across the viaducts and let's have a five-year moratorium on tunnels. The human race is going in too many directions too fast and with too few excuses.

Yours,
Elmer.

What's become of the old-fashioned housewife who used to say "No, that's more than I want to pay?"

What Does Russia Want?

The following is an excerpt from a recent speech "What Does Russia Want?" delivered by Dr. Elmer Twitchell before the Befuddlement Club of America:

"What does Russia want? I ask you again, ladies and gentlemen. Nothing that has been suggested so far has met with anything but the veto, the horse laugh and the dark look. We must be on the wrong track. It can't be mere territory and power. These are not things that stir the imagination and make men unreasonable in the pursuit. Can Stalin want an American-made scooter?"

"Is it not possible that all the feeling against us is due to the fact not one of our wayside billboards portrays a Russian girl in the beer ads? Could it be that Russia has been tuning in on the American radio commercials and wants to hear fewer things spelled backwards? Has the Politburo been trying some of those regulators? Can all the bitterness be due to the fact Molotov bought one of those 'pre-shaped hats' and found it like all other hats?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, we must find out what Russia is really after. We must determine what her genuine desire is. It simply cannot be the trivial matters of influence and domain previously mentioned.

"Of course it is possible Stalin doesn't want Gromyko back in Russia and is afraid, if he is at all conciliatory, that he may get him.

"Can the Stalin attitude be traced to frustration? Does he want the hope of all mankind today, a garter with genuine elastic in it? Has he been unable to get a pipe cleaner that is any good? Has he been secretly sending in ideas in all those box top commercial jingle contests without winning a thing, even a sheriff's badge? Does he, like all men, yearn for a set of pajamas that really fit right?"

Jimmy Auditore, "the millionaire stevedore," says his life rivals that of Horatio Alger. His own story of his rise, from newsboy to magnate, controlling many New York docks, might be retitled "Snowwhite and the Seven WHARVES."

This estimate that it will take $24,000,000 to locate and get rid of all the sworn servants of Russia now on the Federal pay rolls seems a little high. It might be cheaper to point out the loyal Americans and just let the others go.

Star Spangled Banner Key Watched Had 15 Stripes

The Star Spangled Banner that Francis Scott Key watched "through the perilous fight" had fifteen stripes. From 1795 to 1818 the American flag had fifteen alternating red and white stripes. Two extra stripes stood for the two newest states in the Union, Vermont and Kentucky, admitted in 1791 and '92.

Household Hints

Files which are kept in a tool box should be wrapped separately in heavy paper or cloth to protect them from other tools.

When winding a hank of wool, wind it on a moth ball. Then, if the wool isn't all used or is put aside for awhile, the moth ball discourages moths.

Backless summer dresses should be made with a jacket, if you want to get full service from them. On cool nights a light bolero jacket will protect your back.

To clean glass straws, use an ordinary pipe cleaner. For the larger size glass straws use two or three cleaners twisted together. Cleaners may be used a number of times.

Your brown and white saddle shoes should be cleaned each day. Sloppy shabby shoes are never a sign of good styling.

Use a carpet sweeper daily and a vacuum cleaner once a week and beating, which causes carpet threads to weaken and break, will not be necessary.

When sanding unfinished furniture for painting, sand thoroughly with fine sandpaper wrapped around a padded wood block. Wipe off with a soft lintless cloth.

Detergents Effective
Detergents, or so-called soapless cleaners, are effective as soap for washing many wool, silk, or nylon fabrics, but do not remove stains as well. Soap has proved better than the detergents for washing most plant fibers such as cotton and linen.

Supplies Deficiencies

In soils deficient in phosphorus, the application of superphosphate makes it available to pasture grasses and other plants. These in turn make it available to livestock and human beings. Not only does this practice improve the quality of crops grown, but it also increases the yield.

Here comes the ROADMASTER
— 18 feet of lively size, comfort and fine finish. Powered by a 144 h.p. Fireball straight-eight, it gives you flashing performance rarely to be found in a car of such size, room and superlatively fine interior finish.

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Fine thing to See - to Drive - to Own

YOUR heart is set, we'll say, on something really superfine. You want smartness — a truly handsome appearance that does you proud in any crowd. You want ability — a car that does things, and with effortless ease. You want size — size for interior room and size for steady, level going and serene disregard for the roughness of the road. You want fine finish — truly rich interiors in perfect taste with the unmistakable touch of quality in every detail.

But did you know that under this bonnet is 144 horsepower of smooth Fireball power? Have you sampled how its 4400 pounds and 18 feet of bigness — mounted as they are on four gentle coil springs — level the roads to ballroom smoothness? Have you tried its light handling — tested its smooth, easy lift under your treadle foot — inspected the fine rich fabrics, the tasteful interior trim, the fittings executed with the precision of fine silver? A fine thing to see, a wonderful thing to drive, the Roadmaster is indeed a prideful thing to own. We honestly believe that nowhere can you find such a perfect balance of superfine qualities — style, size, handling, ride and finish. If your standards are high, your expectations great, come see us now about placing an order — with or without a car to trade.

ONLY BUICK HAS ALL THESE

The FICTION Corner

BETTER LATE

By EDWARD STEVENSON

WELL, I'm certainly glad you're not seasick. When I first saw you leaning over the rail I said to myself that you must be seasick, though I couldn't see how anybody could get seasick with the water so calm the way it is. Our room steward says that anybody that gets seasick in this kind of weather wouldn't be safe on the lake in Central Park. He's a regular comedian. . . . And that reminds me, how much do you think I ought to tip him—the room steward, I mean? I'm not one that don't have to count my pennies, but still I want to do the right thing as to tipping.

You see, this is the first time we've been on a boat—my wife and me, I mean. Of course we've taken a trip up the Hudson with the kids, but I guess you wouldn't mention the Hudson River Day Line in the same breath with the S. S. Goliath, would you? The kids thought it was grand, though. They're grown up and married now, with kids of their own—except Judy, that is, and she hardly had time, not having been married quite a year yet—but it don't seem more than yesterday that they were running about like a bunch of wild Indians and getting into all sorts of mischief. Time certainly flies.

Whew! it's getting hot, isn't it? We must be coming into the tropics from the way it feels. Ever been down here before, Mr. — I don't think you mentioned our name, did you? . . . Arthur? . . . Well, I'm glad to know you, Mr. Arthur. My name's Bentham. I'd like you to meet my wife some time, too. That's her laying in that deck chair down at the end. She's making believe she's reading that book, but she's sound asleep. The salt air seems to tucker her out.

As I was saying, time certainly flies. Now, you take me. Why, it seems it's only the other day that Ellen and me were getting married; and here we are, grandparents of six already. We've been married thirty-five years. It don't seem possible, but that's what it is, all right. Why, say, I can remember the wedding just as plain as if it happened last week. It wasn't much of a wedding—you know, no fuss and feathers. Besides Ellen and I and the minister there was only the minister's wife and the church janitor, for witness. But I can still see the five of us standing there in the chapel, with the sun coming through a high window and falling all around us and turning everything golden. I remember Ellen specially. She was so pretty and little.

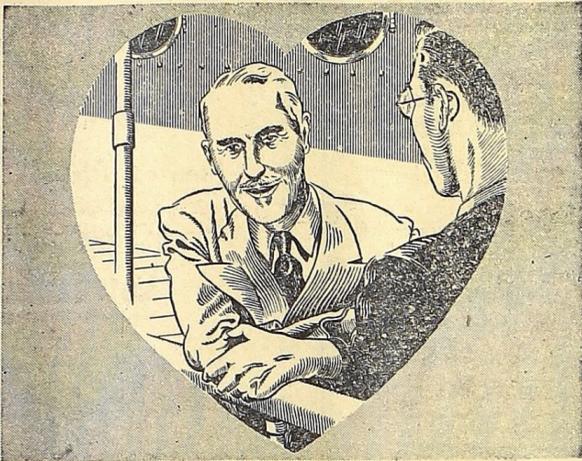

When I look back, I think Ellen and I must've been crazy, getting married the way we did. My gosh, I didn't have a cent to my name—it was all I could do to scrape up the money for the wedding ring. Engagement rings and honeymoons and all the fixings were out of reach as far as we were concerned.

I felt pretty bad, taking her right from church to a $2.50-a-week furnished room. A wonderful girl like her deserved better, and I told her so. A big wedding, a reception at the Waldorf—the old Waldorf, you know—and a honeymoon at Niagara Falls was little enough to her. But she just laughed. "If I wanted such truck," she says, "I'd've married Mr. Astor and not Johnny Bentham." That's the way she is. I didn't mind so much not having a big church affair, or a reception afterwards, but, gosh, what's a wedding without a honeymoon? I mean, it made me feel kind of low, not being able to provide even that.

You know, marrying Ellen was the making of me. I was just a shipping clerk at the time, but she made me study bookkeeping and when an opening in the company

Well, last year our company did pretty well and they gave all the old employees a month's pay for a bonus at Christmas—first bonus we'd had in years. So what did I do? Well, I figured with all the kids married and no one to take care of but ourselves, that we didn't have any real need for the money, so I didn't breathe a word about it to Ellen. You see, I'd been seeing these cruise ads in the papers and I thought to myself that's just the thing for Ellen and I. Twelve days, Nassau, Jamaica and Cuba. $125 and up. I didn't say anything till about two weeks before we were to sail. Then I broke the news. Well you could've knocked Ellen over with a feather.

"First thing I knew she threw her arms around me."

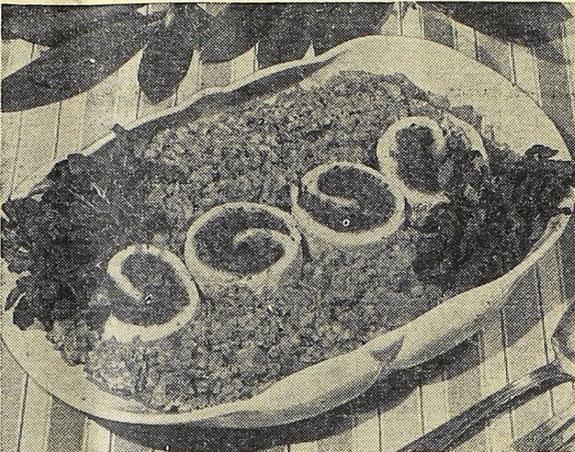

came along I stepped right in. I'm head bookkeeper now. Of course that isn't so much—there's only one other bookkeeper—but being head of anything is pretty good these days, I always say. A couple of years back when I'd been with the company thirty-five years they put on a dinner for me at Jack Dempsey's and gave me a watch. Here it is. See what it says. "To John W. Bentham"—that's my full name—"for thirty-five years of devoted service. Atlas Paper & Supply Co." Mr. Stover, the president, made a speech. I did too—but I was too choked up to say much. You can bet I'd never've stuck around to get that watch if it hadn't been for Ellen.

And the kids, too, of course. When you get to be a family man you got to tend to business. Kit—that's short for Christopher—was the first; then Roger, Cynthia, Anthony, and Judy, the baby. Nice names, ain't they? Ellen picked 'em out.

They're all grown up now—fine young men and women, if I do say so myself—but there was times when you just wondered if they ever would. It was just one thing after another. Sick or healthy, they had you up to your neck in bills.

Budget Pointers

There's a tendency to go along with the crowd when it comes to spending money, especially on food, instead of seeing what can be done to stretch the food dollar. Getting the most out of the food dollar does not, fortunately, mean that we have to tighten our belts; it just means a bit of maneuvering. In the midst of soaring food costs, there's plenty of help for the woman who wants it, and today's recipes are designed to give you plenty of food for thought. Give your family a change of menu, and give the budget a chance to stay within its limits at the same time.

There are several general rules to follow: Buy wisely; don't overbuy and let food go to waste; serve and cook whatever you have properly, and don't toss away good leftovers.

For main dishes you can call on good quality proteins for front line duty; they're cheaper than the expensive cuts of meat and do just as much for you.

Macaroni-Cheese Souffle. (Serves 6)
1 cup cooked macaroni
1 cup sweet cream or condensed milk
½ cup butter or substitute
1 cup soft bread crumbs
½ green pepper, minced
1 medium green onion, minced
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
Salt and pepper
4 eggs, separated

Cook macaroni in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain; scald milk and add other ingredients. Stir in beaten yolks, then fold in stiffly beaten whites. Turn into a greased casserole and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for one hour. Serve with mushroom or pimiento cream sauce.

Eggs Foo Young. (Serves 6)
6 eggs, beaten
1 No. 2 can bean sprouts
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ cup shredded onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ pound mushrooms, sliced, if desired

Add salt and pepper to eggs and beat well. Add remaining ingredients. Taste and add more seasoning if desired. For each cake, measure out ½ cup of the mixture and use 1 tablespoon of fat for frying. Pour mixture into skillet, leveling vegetables evenly over the surface of the cake. Brown on both sides, turning once. About five minutes are required to cook each cake. Serve with soy sauce.

Rice Nests With Egg. (Serves 6)
¼ cup butter or substitute
1½ cups cooked rice
6 slices bacon
6 eggs
Salt and pepper

Butter a baking dish and place rice in it, forming nests out of it with a spoon. Broil the bacon and place one strip around each nest, holding it in place with a toothpick. Break an egg in each nest and sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven until the white of the egg is cooked but the yolk tender. This will take five to six minutes.

- *Recipe given.

Among the kind-to-the-budget items is corned beef hash that comes canned and ready-to-serve. It's easily dressed up in pinwheels, of baking powder biscuit dough, and certain to be a favorite with the men of the house.

Corned Beef Hash Rolls. (Serves 4)

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup shortening
- ¼ to ½ cup milk
- 1 1-pound can corned beef hash

Mix dry ingredients together and sift. Work in shortening. Add liquid gradually, mixing to a soft dough. Roll to a thickness of about one-fourth inch. Spread corned beef hash on dough; roll and cut in four parts. Place on a greased cookie sheet (lifting with a pancake turner). Bake in a moderately hot (400-degree) oven for 30 minutes.

For an easy vegetable, take a can of green beans and make this:
Sweet Sour Green Beans. (Serves 4 to 5)

- 2 strips bacon
- 1 small onion
- 1 No. 2 can green beans
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- Salt and pepper
- ¼ cup vinegar

Cut the bacon in half inch pieces. Brown lightly with diced onion. Add liquid drained from green beans. Cook down to about ½ cup. Add remaining ingredients and beans. Heat and serve.

If you want to keep the budget trimmed, don't splurge on desserts.

Date-Nut Custard Pudding. (Serves 6)

- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Dash of cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 8-ounce can date-nut bread

Beat egg slightly, add milk, sugar and salt. Cook in a double boiler until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from hot water and stir in lemon rind and cinnamon. Cut date-nut bread into pieces and combine with custard. Chill.

Here's a cookie that will take care of leftover egg whites and bread crumbs. Serve it with fruit for a nice, light dessert:

- Pecan Brownies. (Makes 3 dozen)
- 2 egg whites
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon maple flavoring
- 1 cup pecans, chopped
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar and flavoring. Stir well, then fold in nuts and crumbs. Shape into small balls, place on a greased baking pan and bake in a slow (325-degree) oven for about 20 minutes. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

LYNN SAYS:
Serve Simply But Season Well

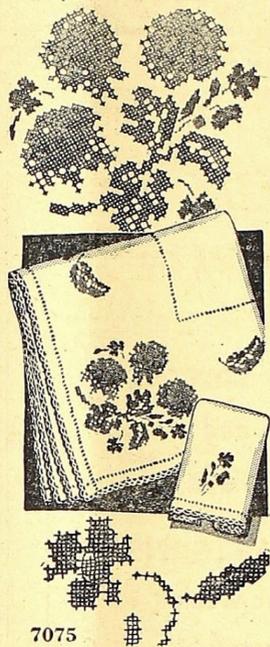

Fill pears with camembert cheese and serve as a salad with french dressing.

Like your tomatoes served simply? Try a very few herbs, a bit of oil and vinegar as a dressing.

Poach peaches in a bit of honey after you've sprinkled them with lemon juice and you have a real dessert treat. A bit of whipped cream goes nicely, too.

Putting It Nicely

The new preacher had arranged to preach on Jonah and the whale. He was very nervous.

"And for three days and three nights," he began, "Jonah was in the—"

He blushed, stammered, stopped, then started again: "For three days and three nights Jonah was in the—"

Once more he was covered with confusion, and once more he stopped and mopped his face, from which the perspiration was pouring.

Then he gathered his courage in both hands, and with a mighty effort he finished triumphantly: "And for three days and three nights Jonah was in the society of the whale."

Due to an unusually large demand and current conditions, slightly more time is required in filling orders for a few of the most popular patterns.

New Typewriter Eliminates Chance of Spelling Errors

A recently patented electric typewriter eliminates the possibility of misspelling words, says Collier's. Visible through a slot is a series of small wheels, each of which contains all characters and revolves, spelling out one line of words at a time as the corresponding characters on the keyboard are struck.

After the operator checks her spelling, she presses a button which causes the line to be typed automatically on the paper while she writes the next one.

Errors may be corrected individually or by clearing all wheels and retyping the whole line.

Book Reviews In Brief

THE CAMPBELLS ARE COMING— Glenn H. Campbell (Dodd, Mead & Co., $4).

The origin of the Clan Campbell and the history of Scotland are synonymous and here the author, as a bearer of the famous name, takes the most interesting aspects of each and has woven them into a skillfully drawn account of the Campbells' hand in Scottish affairs.

Liberally illustrated, the book contains historical information written in an absorbing narrative form. In every Scotch crisis a Campbell had a responsible role in the ultimate outcome. One of the best chapters in the book concerns the story of the ill-fated Marv. Queen of Scots, on whose side the Campbells remained loyal with almost disastrous results.

The author, an advertising executive of Cleveland, O., took many pains to bring his readers an accurate, descriptive history of the Campbells. Not content with a long and diligent research in local libraries, he travelled to Scotland and covered personally the territory about which he writes. While the book is of primary interest to the Campbells themselves, many of whom know nothing of the fascinating background of the clan, every individual of Scotch descent and scholars of every nationality will find something appealing in its pages.

National Park Ideals

National parks in the United States, created by act of congress, are areas of national significance distinguished by superlative natural scenery, set aside for preservation as nearly as possible in unimpaired condition and dedicated to the use and inspiration of the people. In establishing the Yellowstone, first national park, congress quaintly designated it "a public park or pleasuring-ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people," and provided against "injury or spoilation of all timber, mineral deposits, natural curiosities or wonders within said park, and their retention in their natural conditions. In establishing national parks no thought is given to geographic location. The area proposed for national park use is considered primarily from the standpoint of whether or not its principal features are of broad, national interest.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

By INEZ GERHARD JOSEPH COTTEN may be driven to writing a mystery story centered around his swimming pool. Of course, there was no mystery about the time he missed his sedan, and next morning found it parked in the deep end of the pool; that could be laid to brakes that didn't hold. But when he returned to Hollywood after five months in New York, making "Portrait of Jenny" with Jennifer Jones, the swimming pool held the following items—one roller skate, one shoulder-type diving helmet, and one pogo stick. A one-legged skater who skates under water, an amateur diver, a pogoist—those are his characters so far.

Myrna Loy's co-starring appearance with Cary Grant in "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer" worked out so well that she'll report at RKO in mid-September to make "Mr. Blanding Builds His Dream House" with him.

Paramount is really going to lay it on for C. B. DeMille's "Unconquered," starring Gary Cooper and Paulette Goddard. The advertising campaign, which will extend through November, will be the biggest and most extensive ever given a Paramount picture. All calculated to make the public rush to see it during the general Thanksgiving Day week release.

Bing Crosby's wife and sons thought he ought to do it, so he did; he's ordered 16-millimetre prints of his 36 motion pictures, from "The Big Broadcast of 1932" to "The Emperor Waltz" and "Road to Rio." He says it'll be fine for the boys, who never saw some of the stars who appeared with him—W. C. Fields, for instance, who was in "Mississippi" with Crosby.

With "Duel in the Sun" grossing more than ten million dollars so far, other studios are following where David O. Selznick led. MGM likes the idea of showing "The Hucksters" simultaneously in hundreds of theaters, and 20th Century-Fox will do it with "The Captain From Castile" and "Forever Amber." Ten million dollars is a nice mark to shoot at!

When Abigail Adams was under contract to MGM she spent her training period correcting her Southern accent—she hails from Greenville, S. C. She made a screen test with Lee Bowman the other day, and as a result signed a contract with Columbia. She has had excellent experience—you've been hearing her on the air in radio dramas with Orson Welles.

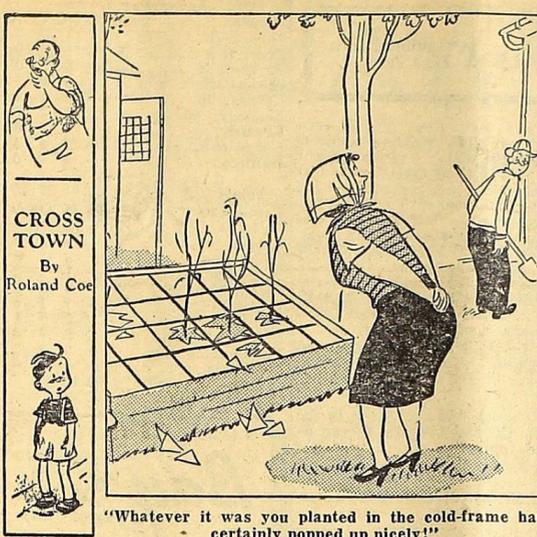

On the eve of releasing "Song of Love," MGM asked the Motion Picture Research Bureau to poll a cross-section of the public on the ten greatest love stories. "Gone with the Wind" led, with "Romeo and Juliet" second.

When Gary Moore decided to go it alone, after five seasons with Jimmy Durante, nobody knew what he would do. He landed the Phil Baker spot on "Take It or Leave It" because his audition records were exceptionally good.

Because New Orleans jazz says musically what the makers of RKO's "Crossfire" wanted to say visually, Kid Ory's Creole Jazz Band was engaged to record two numbers; they aren't seen in the picture, just heard.

It's said Boris Karloff wants to leave ABC's "Lights Out" because his roles are too grisly. But Luther Adler is withdrawing from NBC's "Mystery Without Murder" because his roles are too gentle for him!

ODDS AND ENDS—John Liell, the father in Paramount's "Aldrich" series, has a top role in the Bob Hope-Jane Russell "The Paleface." Guy Madison gave Gal Russell an archery set which he had made; now he's giving her archery lessons. Douglas Kennedy is a popular leading man for screen tests at Warners; so far this year he has made tests with 10 girls, 8 of whom were successful. The accepted average is 1 out of 15. Arthur Godfrey, whose "Talent Scouts" program is flourishing, has had as many as 88 sponsors at one time and kept them all happy.

Cleaning Pan
If food should burn in a pan, don't scrape it off with a metal instrument but, instead, fill the pan with water to which a little vinegar has been added, and boil for a few minutes. It will then clean easily in warm sudsy water. If pots and pans are thoroughly cleaned with hot soapy water after each use, they will seldom need hard scrubbing.

Corn Protein
Corn protein, comprising about 10 per cent of the dry substance of native corn, is now being put to many new uses, although until recently its sole market was as stock feed.

Salad Dressings
Salad dressing should be added to salads at the last minute before they are served. Most dressings have a tendency to cause fresh fruits and vegetables to lose crispness. It is smart to serve dressing at the table.
