Well Known Tawas City Resident Dies

Funeral Services for Wilbur C. Roach Held Sunday

Wilbur C. Roach, former Tawas City businessman and one time big league baseball player, died last Friday at Samaritan Hospital, Bay City, where he had been taken following a heart attack. Funeral services were held from the Tawas City Methodist church, Sunday, Rev. L. Wayne Smith officiated.

Mr. Roach came to Tawas City from Windber, Pennsylvania, in 1925 when he purchased the Henry Kane Garage and Ford Agency and established the Roach Motor Sales. He continued in the automotive sales and service business here until 1941. During the past few years he had been with the National Gypsum Company at the National City plant.

Previous to coming to Tawas City Mr. Roach had spent several years in big league baseball, first with the New York Yankees in 1910 and later with the Washington Senators, and was a member of the Old Timers' Club at the time of his death.

Born November 28, 1882, at Punxsutawney, he started his baseball career with the Altoona, Pennsylvania club. Later he managed the Louisville club, in 1907 he played with Punxsutawney, and in 1908 with the Youngstown club. The following year he went to the Lancaster club and then to the majors.

He retired from baseball in 1918, but during World War I organized ball teams and leagues for the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. Following his retirement from baseball he operated a bowling alley and recreation hall at Windber, Pennsylvania, where he had started to work in the mines when he was 14 years old. Always keenly interested in baseball and young players, he managed the Tawas City baseball team in 1925 and 1926.

"Roxey" was well known and highly esteemed by the people of this community and hundreds of sportsmen throughout Michigan. He was an ardent trout fisherman, and a trout fly made by "Roxey" was always highly prized by its possessor. While in baseball he established a national reputation as an expert trapshooter, and in 1925 he won the Michigan Trap Shooting championship at Lansing. At this shoot he broke 200 birds without a miss, and in the handicap shoot he broke 48 out of 50 birds.

The pallbearers were: Scotty Schuman, John Lansky, Clyde Montgomery, Hosea Bigelow, George Prescott, III, and George Weiler.

The honorary pallbearers were: Richard Thompson, Otto Ernst, Leslie Keegan, Ray Williams, Amos Rheame, Miles Main, Harold Alington, E. A. Cuney, Keith Courtyer and Thomas White.

Income Tax

By Harold C. Clark, County Agent

Every individual who has a gross income of $500.00 or more is required to file a return.

Farmers will use forms identical to those used last year. Form 1040 ES, called "The Declaration of Estimated Income Tax" will be used if an "estimate" instead of the "final" return is to be made by January 15. Form 1040 F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expense" will be necessary as before in order to compute and report the net farm profit. Form 1040, "Individual Income Tax Return" will also be needed as it was in previous years to compute and report the amount of income tax due.

Every farmer required to report must either file an "estimate" or the "final return" on or before January 15, 1948, or 15 days after the close of his accounting year. If possible, the final return should be filed at this time. Then it will not be necessary to make an estimated return. The entire amount of the tax or estimated tax must accompany the return at this time. If only an estimate tax is filed the final return is due March 15, 1948, or on the 15th day of the third month following the close of the accounting year.

A well kept farm account book should be in every Michigan farm home. The beginning of a new year is the best time to start keeping farm account records. All that is required is one inventory a year, a record of where the money comes from and where it goes. Your County Agricultural Agent can supply them.

Five minutes a day is all that is required in keeping good accurate accounts. Many farmers have found their wives so interested in the farm account plan that they keep the records. Keeping the books handy to the dining room table, makes it possible to record the day's transaction each day after the evening meal.

New Books at County Library

EUCHRE TOURNAMENT

The euchre tournament will start Thursday evening, January 8, and will run for ten weeks, ending with a banquet. Everyone invited. Sandbar, Glen and Lurena Crone, Sand adv.

The Old Philosopher Says:

By Gavin Maxwell

A New Year Dawns
The Christmas season serves to lift us out of ourselves, and for a little while, at least, we live in a world of lofty idealism. We become as little children and thrill at the wonderment of a world transformed into a brotherhood by the exercise of the age old principle of the song of the angels, "Peace on Earth, Good will toward men."

Now comes the New Year. If it is to be a year of accomplishment it must be one of hope, faith, brotherhood, kindness.

We can be idealists in a world of cross realism and we can mix realism into our idealism so we are not burying our heads in the sands of idealism, forgetful of the fact that there is a desperate seriousness in the problem of life.

In 1948 I am going to try to be a friendlier and better neighbor to everyone whom I meet whether that person be a member of my family, the one sitting next to me in a bus or my neighbor down the street. I am going to try and find more occasions to demonstrate a spirit of genuine friendliness than I have done ever before.

I am going to try and do more constructive thinking and then chart my course on the basis of that reflective thought than I have in the past. Most of us are prone to act first and think afterward. I am determined to do more thinking and I shall have less occasion to regret hasty action and decision.

I am going to take more time to read and ponder on the facts of the past and present, knowing that we are living in days when our whole economy is on trial before the world. Is this a good time to invest capital in stock of a corporation, yet to prove it's worth? Is it wise to build a house or business block for re-sale? I'm fine if I am to hold my own I must be better informed of what is going on than I have ever been before.

Seventeen billion dollar loan to Europe means absolutely nothing to me because of the astronomical size of the figures unless I know that it represents one eighth of the total assets of all national banks in the United States. Can we afford to do that in order to buy friends for democracy? Friendship bought in such a way are apt to be of poor foundation.

Right in our own hemisphere we have whole countries whose living standard is lower than the countries of Europe, we are called on to save. Shall we forfeit those near us and send our money afar and forget what happened with similar aid after World War I.

I seem to recall a title "Uncle Shylock" that was given to us when we timidly asked for the interest on our loans. Little Finland was the only one of our debtors who made even more than a token payment of her debt to us. Now they shout to us again to save and feed them and yet they fail to adopt our democratic point of view.

These are the things as individuals we must ponder and not leave to a few politicians, most of whom were never successful in their own personal fortunes, to decide.

In 1948 I resolve to be more cheerful, optimistic and possessed of greater faith than I have heretofore known.

To achieve such a hope I must needs pay more attention to the agencies of human uplift as the Church, I must go into more libraries and their quiet places where one can think and I must pray.

Bigger and Better Prizes
"Looking up," he admitted. "At last I have hit on a solution to all my problems. The better mousetrap idea is old stuff. I am making just an ordinary mousetrap, but going in for what really sells things."

"What is that?" he asked. The Man Who Built a Better Mousetrap handed us a long list headed, we observed, by an ivory-headed beachwagon, two jewel-studded seaplanes a 32-acre estate at Palm Beach, six Arabian horses (in matched colors), a hunting lodge in Canada, a 38-foot yacht and the royal suite on the Queen Mary for the season 1948-49-50.

"That's nothing," he put in. "Keep reading."

We did so and noticed the sum of $25,000 in cash, a contract to do any house over inside and out, fitting it with solid silver door knobs; two television sets and a portable orchid greenhouse.

"My radio program," he explained. "It's to be called 'The Who Is Mister Pipe Down Program,' or 'The Mystery Chuckles.' We pick out somebody who recites a few lines of verse which give a clue to his identity. Then we just pile on more prizes at each broadcast. What do you think of the Netherlands East Indies?"

"You mean for a vacation trip?" "Oh no, I mean for a radio program prize!"

"You should sell a lot of mousetraps," he admitted.

"Listen, my worries are over. I'm in. These prize programs of real size do it. Path to my door my eye! Know what I'm building?"

"What?"

"Six five-lane highways," he concluded.

Then wait and raise both once again . . .
And so ad infinitum.

Special Delivery:
Mr. Eric Johnston,
Czar of the Movies.

Dear Eric: Well, you are just looking for laughs, I guess, and it is okay, as I like more comedy in the movie world, and you are now eligible for a meter-splitting performance on "Can You Top This?" as a result of that recent announcement of a revolutionary change in picture policy whereby no film based on the life of a criminal will be permitted "unless the character is shown punished for the crimes committed." (You win, Eric, and Harry Hirschfeld and Joe Laurie Jr. only pushed the laugh meter to 950.)

I have not had a giggle in years like when I read your statement. Gosh, Eric, you certainly have control of the facial muscles all right, all right. "Unless the character is shown punished for the crimes committed"!!! Why, Mister Hollywood, you have the kiddies splitting their sides, too.

You might just as well have said, "There will be no change whatever in the presentation of crime pictures," on account of the oldest gag in pictures and radio is to have the big plug-ugly get a little chastisement just before the picture fades out into Donald Duck or Mickey Mouse.

Show me any crime picture in the history of the pictures or of radio in which the big fat, machine gun and brass knuckle man, after a blood-curdling life of lawlessness for an hour and 40 minutes, hasn't been sent up the river or been plugged in a phone booth just to fool the mothers' clubs, at the extreme end of the film. Of course, now and then there is a little improvement. I once saw a crime glorification in which the top desperado had nothing worse happen to him than losing the nomination for the presidency. But that was when the presidency seemed attractive.

JERUSALEM ARABS RECRUIT FOR WAR . . . Here is a general view as Arab volunteers, in uniform, paraded in Ein Karim village, Jerusalem. Volunteers for the Arab army are pouring in from all sections of the Holy Land for the predicted holy war against the Jews over the issue of Palestine's partition. Arab league military leaders were reported to have drawn up "battle plans" for Palestine. In the meantime, desultory violence continued throughout the country, with casualties mounting daily.

LIKE TO TAKE A VACATION? . . . That old cliché about a jewel in a setting of white gold seems particularly appropriate when applied to Sun Valley, Ida. This is how the resort appears from the practice ski areas on Dollar mountain. The village itself is completely self-contained, with facilities ranging from smart hotels and many shops to warm-water swimming pools, skating rinks and a post office. Not only that, it's a good place to spend a few hundred dollars if you don't mind putting your money on ice and if you like sliding down mountains on skis.

THE PIONEER ROLLS AGAIN . . . The 10-ton Pioneer, which blazed the original railway trail westward as the first locomotive to run out of Chicago in 1848, is on the move again, this time on steel casters. Focal point of the Chicago and North Western railway system's centennial celebration, the historic engine was taken from the Museum of Science and Industry to the railroad shops where it was repaired and repainted before being put on display. The Pioneer is a far cry from today's locomotive giants.

RUGGED ROUTE . . . Kyle McGrady, mailman on the "most unusual route in the United States," delivers mail in an oil drum "mail box." His boat, the Florence, is moored to the shore of Idaho's Snake river, called one of the wildest bodies of water in America. Since the level of the Snake varies as much as 30 feet, standard mail boxes are not practical, and oil drums and wooden boxes are utilized instead.

IN THESE UNITED STATES

Mailman Lugs Letters, Supplies, Even Tourists, Up Wildest River

WNU Features.

LEWISTON, IDA.—Long heralded as one of the world's most famous mailmen, Kyle McGrady is back on the job delivering mail by boat on the "most unusual of 103,442 routes in the United States."

His route, serving approximately 300 residents of Idaho's Hell's canyon area, traverses the wild and rugged reaches of the Snake river. Service was suspended and McGrady's boats were placed in dry dock temporarily during the low water period of the Snake, the level of which varies as much as 30 feet.

A mailman, grocery boy and chamber of commerce official for the canyon area, McGrady has been making the trip up the Snake river since 1938. He quit a mechanic's job in Lewiston to take the post office contract, which calls for delivery of letters, magazines and parcel post packages as well as for a variety of other services to residents of the isolated area.

Mecca for Tourists. McGrady makes the trip up the river in either the Florence or Idaho, diesel-powered river packets. In addition to an odd assortment of supplies and mail, McGrady also hauls tourists. To accommodate them, he has constructed a lodge on the lip of the most ferocious part of the canyon.

Vacationists from all over the U. S. have journeyed to Lewiston, starting point for the spectacular voyage. The round trip is 190 miles, and the current of the Snake is so swift that it requires 12 hours for the trip up and but four hours to return.

Historic Church Plans Facilities For Newlyweds

NASHUA, IOWA.—Special accommodations are being planned for honeymooning couples who are married in the Little Brown Church in the Vale, the historical small church which was made famous by a song written before it was built.

Harry Richers of Worthington, Minn., has purchased the former Bradford academy property across the street from the church. He plans to erect honeymoon cabins on the property. A photographic studio to accommodate the newlyweds and facilities for wedding dinners and receptions also are planned.

The church, built in 1864, long has been popular for wedding ceremonies. The peak was reached in 1940 when 1,549 couples were married.

The bride and bridegroom usually ring the church bell after the ceremony, the pastor admonishing them to "pull through life together, just as you are pulling on the bell rope."

The small neat church in a pleasant rustic setting once served the religious needs of old Bradford, a town of 600 persons two miles from here. The town died after it was bypassed by a railroad in 1863, but the song has kept the church alive.

Attracted by the beauty of the site upon which the church later was built, William S. Pitts, a young visitor from Wisconsin wrote his moving hymn, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" in 1857. He put his manuscript away and it was forgotten.

In 1864, when the church was completed, Pitts, who had returned to the town as a singing teacher, was asked to sing a solo at the dedication ceremony and he obliged with his own song written seven years before.

Wilderness Converted to Exotic Garden

MOBILE, ALA.—Once a tropical wilderness of magnolias, moss-festooned oaks, bays and pines, the famous Bellingrath gardens, 20 miles south of Mobile on the Isle-Aux-Oies (Fowl) river today rank as one of the most popular meccas for flower lovers. The gardens, started as a hobby, draw as many as 10,000 persons in a single weekend.

Stately live oaks which have stood for 500 years and 100-year-old azalea bushes are among the outstanding features of the gardens. Thousands of other azaleas, trees, shrubs, plants and vines have been transplanted in Bellingrath gardens from all parts of the country.

AROUND THE HOUSE

A brilliant polish can be given to cleaned glass such as mirrors, picture glass or door glass by rubbing with a lintless cloth which has been dampened with cold vinegar.

When removing a frock, place it on a hanger immediately and hang it in the air so that it may be thoroughly dried out. A fragrantly scented sachet hung inside the dress will leave its essence with your garment as it dries.

Sagging floors often are caused by wood shrinkage or the warping of a joist. A fairly satisfactory correction can be made by driving wedges between the top of the joist and the floor. Rubber wedges cut from an old automobile tire often will reduce the creaking.

After washing your face with warm water and rinsing with cold, pat on witch hazel. This will close pores and make your skin smooth and soft.

A noted authority on flowers and flower arrangement advises the use of glass or white pottery vases or bowls as these go well with the colors of all flowers and the decorative colors in all rooms. Vases of decided color, unless bought especially to go with a particular color scheme or period room, distract attention from their contents.

Busy Fish Spins Nest; Rears Young Himself

The little male stickleback is only three to four inches long, but he's an active fish. He builds a cylindrical nest of reeds and seals all openings but one by means of threads secreted by the kidneys. Then he seeks out a female and induces her to deposit eggs in the conical opening, after which he drives her away. After the eggs hatch, the male destroys the nest and rears the young himself.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It is so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be surprised by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

PET PEST

By ROBERT DENNIS

THE footsteps came down the city room and halted at the door of Clint Lipton's office. Penny Alder felt eyes on her, boring down through the barrage of typewriter keys she was sending up. Something about Clint Lipton put a chip on her shoulder.

"Miss Alder—" the voice was too polite to belong to her pet pest, "—is Clint comin' back today?"

She looked up at the old man who stood in the door of Clint's room, a shiny serge suit bagging around his lean, stooped figure like a piece of wilted lettuce. She nodded. An assistant society editor had troubles enough. Let Clint Lipton take care of the sports department and his own pests. Old Hughey Lawler was his problem.

The old fellow touched the yellowed, saw-brimmed straw hat clamped down on his thin fringe of white hair.

"I've got some news about The Kid for Clint to write up," he said, as he crossed the narrow aisle.

"Oh," Penny replied helplessly. If it was about The Kid old Hughey would stand and gab forever—

"Course I've got to give it to Clint. I've been keepin' Clint right up to date on The Kid—" He swallowed at something.

"So he's told me." With dull fascination she watched the old fellow's Adam's apple climb up and down the stretch of turkey-like neck above the over-size collar. Clint also had said—that the next time old Hughey tried to fold his ears back, he was going to—

"Did I ever show you the picture The Kid sent me when he was trainin' out on the Coast?" Hughey pushed a post-card portrait under her nose—a while-you-wait photograph of a young fellow in sailor blues, his hat cocked at an angle over one belligerent eye.

"A fine lookin' boy, Miss Alder." She'd seen the face before. Her glance strayed in through the open door of Clint's office to where a shaft of late afternoon sunshine spotlighted a photograph tacked on the wall—a bare-torsoed kid in fighting pose.

She'd always looked down her short straight nose at those pictures of Clint's brawn and beef friends—the guys with tin ears and bent noses, the guys leaning forward passes—the tough he-guys.

And Clint Lipton—with his head of wild rusty hair, and that habitual frown wedged between his deep-set gray eyes—was part of his muscle menagerie, as far as she was concerned.

"—My grandson, Miss Alder—" You'd have thought the scrappy kid in the sailor suit was an admiral, from the pride in old Hughey's voice. "You ask Clint if The Kid wasn't on his way of being welter-weight champ—before he wanted to enlist—"

"I'll bet he was." Penny's comment dropped like a pebble into the deep pool of Hughey Lawler's pride. He gushed words.

Penny Alder actually was glad to see Clint's rust-colored head appear. She almost welcomed his deep frown when he spotted her caller. Old Hughey turned to Clint.

"I've got something for you to write up, Clint—"

Clint's nod toward his office was about as friendly as an umpire's thumb. "I can only give you a minute—"

"Sure—" The old fellow turned. Penny found the Lipton frown aimed at her. "You're a pal," he accused, "you know that old guy gets me down."

She looked up at him, and that chip was on her shoulder.

"For holding him," he scowled, "you're going to break down and go out to dinner—and places—with me tonight."

"Is that a pass or—a penalty?"

"Take your choice—only get your hat on." He wheeled away.

Penny stared after the back of his sun-burned neck. Why could he annoy her more than any other man she'd ever known? His very vitality; the way that shaft of late sun put sparks in his rusty hair—everything about him bothered her.

"Let's have it fast, Hughey," Clint said, "I've got a date—"

That's what he thought. She closed her typewriter desk with a bang. She looked in again—

Clint's frown was concentrated on that latest picture of The Kid. He reached for a yellow telegram old Hughey held out.

"I come to tell you first, Clint," the old fellow's shoulders slumped,

"because The Kid would want it written up on your page—where his friends could see it. He ain't comin' back, Clint."

Penny didn't get it at first—and then her chest went all tight for that old man in there. The way he stood—the tone of his voice—said that everything he'd been living for had been wiped out by a telegram sent to "the next of kin."

Clint kept frowning.

"You know what to say about The Kid, Clint," old Hughey prompted. "Tell 'em about that sweet left of his, and how nobody ever got past it."

The old fellow talked on and on. Clint listened, his face deadpan.

Penny Alder listened, too. She was still at her desk when Clint and Hughey Lawler came out.

"That picture—" the old fellow said anxiously, "—I wouldn't want to lose it—"

"I'll get it back to you." Clint was letting him go without even one word of sympathy.

"Sure—well—thanks. I guess I

"You haven't got your hat on," said Clint gruffly. "I suppose that means it's another 'no date.'" won't be coming around any more, Clint. I mean, there won't be any more news about The Kid—"

Clint glowered as Hughey Lawler slowly started away—then, suddenly, he strode after him.

"You can't just walk out on your friends like that, Hughey." He gripped the old fellow's arm hard. "Drop around—anytime you feel like talking about The Kid—"

Penny doubted her ears, but the smile the old boy gave Clint was real enough. "Sure—I will, Clint."

Clint Lipton turned and came back—to halt at her desk.

"You haven't got your hat on—" his voice was gruff. "I suppose that means it's another 'no date.'"

"I—" she began, her eyes searching his.

"O. K.—go on, say it. So I gave him the brush-off by hanging out the welcome sign—"

She'd never tried to look beyond that scowl he always wore. Like The Kid's left—it wasn't easy to get past his guard—

"You really like old Hughey Lawler," she said abruptly.

"Sure—if I didn't like the old pest I wouldn't let him bother me, would I? . . . But you wouldn't understand. You never give a guy a chance to see if you can like him—"

For a moment Penny matched frowns with her pet pest. She could feel his puzzled eyes follow her as she stood slowly, and moved toward the coat rack. He was right—she hadn't been able to understand why she'd let him bother her—but it was becoming clear. She must have liked the real Clint Lipton all along—even when she was carrying a chip on her shoulder for a tough guy who didn't exist—

When Penny Alder turned she was smiling—and had her hat on.

REA Setup Gives Impetus To Farm Electrification

Half of all United States farms have been electrified since the REA program was started.

In announcing the basic allotments for REA loans in the states, the department of agriculture compared the number of unelectrified farms in each state with the total number of farms in the state to give the percentage of unelectrified farms. The eight states having the highest proportion of electrified farms were Connecticut with 98.5 per cent, followed by Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Washington, New York, Idaho and Oregon, all of which were more than 92 per cent electrified.

At the other end of the list were North Dakota, with only a little more than 15 per cent of the farms electrified, preceded by South Dakota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Tennessee, New Mexico, Montana and Kansas, which had nearly 42 per cent electrified.

The other 32 states ranged between the 42 per cent and 92 per cent limits. For the country as a whole, the July, 1947, figures show 61 per cent of all farms electrified as compared with 54.3 per cent a year earlier. Nearly 400,000 farms were electrified during the 1947 fiscal year, the largest increase on record for any year since the program started. In 1935 less than 11 per cent of U. S. farms had electric service.

Buy, Prepare Meats Wisely to Help Balance Budget

Now that the holidays are over, give your budget and appetites a rest by serving something simple, like good old-fashioned beef stew with dumplings. Complete the meal with a simple tossed salad and a custard pudding.

Buy economical cuts of meat, prepare them so as to reduce shrinkage to a minimum, and stretch them with dressing, stuffing, vegetables or whatever else goes well with them, and you will have gone a long way toward solving the difficult problem of balancing the food budget.

Fortunately, it doesn't matter much what cut of meat you buy, for they are all nutritious. The cheaper cuts, when prepared with care and properly seasoned, can be just as flavorful as the more expensive items.

Why not try these veal riblets soon? They come from the breast of veal with the breast bone removed and the breast separated into riblets by cutting between the ribs.

Barbecued Veal Riblets. (Serves 6 to 8)
3 pounds veal riblets
1/4 cup lard or drippings
Salt and pepper to season
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 cup catsup
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon red pepper

Brown veal riblets on all sides in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add chopped onion and brown lightly. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over riblets. Cover and simmer on top of range or cook in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 1 1/2 hours or until tender.

Ham slices need not prove an expensive meal especially if you are using leftover ham. The fact that you can prepare them with a fruit stuffing helps extend the ham and makes it flavorful, too.

Fruit-Staffed Ham Slices. (Serves 6)
Have two ham slices cut 3/4 to 1/2 inch thick. Spread one slice with a thick layer of stuffing. Place the second slice on top; secure by sticking wooden toothpicks through one slice to the other. Spread surface of top ham slice with brown sugar or honey. Place on rack in roasting pan and roast in a slow (300 degree) oven for 1 1/4 hours. Garnish with orange slices.

Fruit Stuffing.
3 cups soft bread crumbs
1 cup diced apples
1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup melted ham or bacon drippings
4 tablespoons sugar
Combine all ingredients. Mix lightly.

1 small onion, chopped
1 medium turnip, chopped
6 carrots, diced
5 potatoes, diced

Wash tongue and cover with water. If using a fresh tongue, add 2 teaspoons salt. Cover and simmer until tender. Trim and remove skin. Place in a pan with the remaining ingredients. Let simmer until liquid thickens.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body wastes. They have had more than half a century of public approval.

Army Dismisses Nine Employes as Disloyal

Six Civilian Workers Are Charged With Communist Connections.

WASHINGTON. — Dismissal of nine army civilian employes on disloyalty grounds, six of them because of Communist connections, was reported by the army.

Secy. Kenneth C. Royall signed the orders for the dismissals, which have occurred principally at posts outside of Washington since congress recessed last July.

Aside from Communist connections, grounds for dismissal included membership in organizations whose interests are considered inimicable to those of the United States.

Neither identities nor assignments of the dismissed employes were reported.

Kenneth D. Johnson, special assistant to Royall, said the dismissals followed complete consideration by the loyalty review board of reports submitted by military intelligence agents and the federal bureau of investigation.

Johnson said the war department, since divided into the army department and air force, has been dismissing employes for disloyalty since 1942. He said 105 cases have been reviewed since 1942, including 55 of suspected Communists, 31 pro-Nazis and 19 named in miscellaneous charges. Of this number, he said, 27 were dismissed for Communist affiliations, 19 as pro-Nazis and 9 on miscellaneous charges.

Forced to Shoot Him, Friend Tells Sheriff

LINCOLN, ILL.—An insurance agent, B. H. Turner, 49, was arrested at West Point, Iowa, for questioning about the slaying of his friend, Wesley Rhody, 40, Lincoln truck line operator.

Sheriff L. C. Kief said Turner asserted he was forced to shoot because Rhody "just went crazy."

The two men had set out on a business trip in Turner's car. Turner said that Rhody suddenly drew a gun from his pocket and forced him to drive back. Two miles west of Lincoln, Rhody grabbed the wheel and stopped the car. Turner said he grabbed Rhody's gun and fired twice. Rhody got out of the car, back in and then out again, Turner said.

He said he drove away, leaving Rhody standing in the road. Rhody's body was found by three hunters who drove over it.

Four Million in United States Suffer From Heart Ailments

PHILADELPHIA.—Of the 140 million in the United States, 4 million are suffering from some form of impaired heart action, according to Dr. Joseph VanderVeer, chief of the cardiovascular department of Pennsylvania hospital and assistant professor of clinical medicine at University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine.

Dr. VanderVeer said that in 1942 there were 400,000 deaths attributed to cardiovascular disease.

"Actually that was 28 1/2 per cent of all the deaths that year," said Dr. VanderVeer. "But it must be considered that the population is greater too. In 1900 there were some 8,500,000 persons in this country between 50 and 75 years of age. In 1942 the number in this age group had risen to 24 million, and in 1980 it is estimated there will be 42 million people past 50."

"While figures reveal that heart disease is one of the greatest threats today, new techniques in diagnosis offer greater assurance for longer life by those suffering from cardiac ailments. Many deaths attributed to 'acute indigestion' several decades ago, undoubtedly were caused by heart disease."

Few Want Job of Guarding German Prisoners in Jail

BERLIN. — Jobs guarding Rudolf Hess and six other major Nazi war criminals confined in Berlin's Spandau prison are going begging, the American military government disclosed as it began advertising for the needed guards.

The Berlin daily bulletin, circulated to American occupation personnel, carried a notice offering "openings for positions as prison guards at Spandau." The gross pay is $3,619 a year. Required qualifications are at least three years' active service in the U. S. army, navy, coast guard or marine corps or three years service in a police or fire-fighting organization.

Spandau, situated in the British sector of Berlin, is administered by the four occupying powers.

Better Shoes for Farm Women Urged at College

LINCOLN, NEB. — Shoe manufacturers, a University of Nebraska clothing specialist claims, are not doing right by the nation's farm women.

Practical, reasonably priced shoes have been designed for nurses, tennis players and girl scouts, but not for the girls on the farm, Helen Locke complains.

The farm homemaker, Miss Locke says, wants shoes she can wear for outdoor work.

Farmers Produce Practically All Margarine Materials

Farmers in all but four of our 48 states—Maine, New Hampshire, Nevada and Rhode Island—now produce practically all the material that goes into our annual production of over six hundred million pounds of margarine.

In 1946, we produced 572,537,990 pounds of margarine in which we used 222,830,000 pounds of cotton seed oil; 206,713,000 pounds of soy bean oil; 13,794,000 pounds of peanut oil and 6,589,000 pounds of corn oil.

In addition to this, margarine contains about 16 per cent cultured pasteurized skim milk, one to one and a half per cent of skim milk solid, three per cent of salt and one per cent vitamins and other ingredients, all of which are produced in the United States.—Adv.
