247 Iosco Youth to Exhibit Projects at Achievement Show

4-H Club Event At Hale Tuesday April 20th

Leaders Meeting Held At Federal Building Last Week

At a 4-H Leader's Meeting held last week, the leaders unanimously selected the Hale Community building for the spring 4-H Achievement exhibits. Tuesday, April 20, has been assigned for the Iosco County Achievement Day by the state leaders.

The 347 boys and girls in fifteen clubs will exhibit the articles which they have completed during the winter. The 330 projects undertaken by them include clothing, electrical, soil conservation, tractor maintenance, handicraft, Junior leadership conservation, food preparation and girls room.

Alfred G. Hakola, District 4-H Club and Mrs. Ruth DeRosa, Assistant State Club Leader, conducted a 4-H leader training meeting at the extension conference room. The local leaders at this meeting received training in judging. Mrs. DeRosa instructed clothing leaders in clothing judging. Mr. Hakola instructed handicraft judging and Richard Null explained the fine points of electrical projects. A demonstration team from Oscoda, under the direction of Robert Hedgecock described wood finishing. This year judging will be done by local leaders. The judges selected are as follows: Handicraft: Robert Hedgecock, Russell A. Rollin and Rev. L. Wayne Smith. Electrical: Richard Null and Russell H. McKenzie. Conservation: Cecil Kerr and Ernest Nash.

Committees for Achievement Day were selected and are as follows: Program: Russell A. Rollin, Mrs. DeGretta Funk and Clara Bolen. Dress Revue: Mrs. Ella Popp, Mrs. Norman Potts and Mrs. Ruth Bloomquist. Arrangement: Lyle Bielby and Mrs. DeGretta Funk.

A brief program was held before the complimentary dinner which was served at the Holland Hotel. Ruth Webb and Ernest Nash supervised games and Harold R. Clark, County Agent led community singing. Mrs. DeRosa, Mr. Hakola and Mr. Clark gave brief talks covering the year round work expressing a need for an increase in summer projects.

Hobby Shop Joins 4-H

The boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 of East Tawas Hobby Shop are enrolling their projects in 4-H. They will enter work in plastics, molds, woodwork and food preparation. Since the Hobby Shop has no limit in the nature of the project, a large variety of work will be carried on. Rev. L. Wayne Smith is leading in plastics and molds. Osman Ostrander, Paul Dixon and Russell H. McKenzie, are directing work in wood work and other handicraft. Mrs. Pauline Kerr is leading the girls in food preparation.

Every Wednesday night the recreation hall of the East Tawas Methodist church is buzzing with activities. In one room some of the boys are making aeroplanes which are to be part of a proposed model airport. In another room, Rev. Smith is showing other youngsters the fine points on making rings and ornaments from plastics and a large variety of molds from plaster. Mrs. Kerr has her group of girls (yes, and there is one boy) in the kitchen teaching them the best way to a man's heart. A bench and a complete set of wood tools are on order and will be installed soon. Since some of the men folks are interested in photography and expect to form a camera club, it is expected that 4-H will have a camera project.

It is safe to assume that the Hobby Shop is one of the most popular spots in town. It is offering our most important means of combating juvenile delinquency for seldom does a busy boy or girl get into trouble.

Writer Favors School Consolidation

A recent article carried in the Tawas Herald and the East Tawas News has informed its readers that the Boards of Education of the respective communities held a joint meeting to discuss the possibilities of consolidating the two districts. The purpose of the proposed merger, I presume, is to make possible the establishment of one school system adequate for the entire area.

I, as a member of the Tawas Area wish to express my gratitude for the men who are taking the initial steps toward this end.

It is common knowledge that our communities have outgrown their present school facilities. The rapid growth of the area and the increase in enrollment each year is making the overcrowded condition in each school critical.

New industries are locating here and are putting still more students in our schools. The situation has now reached a point where our progress can be impaired by not being able to accommodate still larger enrollments.

The need is a known fact by everyone and requires no further elaboration.

Present benefits from such a set-up are derived from being able to better use the teaching abilities we now have in our present school systems. Teachers today are specialists in their own field, but in most cases are unable to use these abilities to best advantage because of other teaching assignments. Pupils in both schools could derive the best that our teachers have to offer under a consolidated set up.

Under a united plan the athletic program would fair much better. A Class B school can be established and as a result better competition.

The long range benefit from such a program would be the construction of a new physical plant for the entire area. This would require a lot of work and planning. Consolidation would provide the foundation for such an endeavor.

I don't think there is a question of whether one district is swallowing up another or not. My thought is that each system will be giving up its present identity and a new one established. Whether you live on the East or west side, you will be just as much a part of the new set-up as your neighbors.

Let us forget prejudice and do unity. The Tawas Chamber of Commerce is good for the entire community is a good example of what can be done. There are other organizations which have accomplished the same results.

I believe the above mentioned proposition merits the attention and good will of every citizen in the locality. Let's drop the iron curtain and make this possibility a reality. The two Boards of Education have started the ball rolling. Get behind the thing and see what a little cooperation will do. Every civic group in the vicinity should lend their support and put the thing over.

2nd NEM League Meeting Friday

To Streamline League For 1948 Season

As only a few teams were represented at last Friday's Northeastern Michigan League meeting, another meeting will be held Friday (tonight) at the Arena Court House at Standish, Tawas City, Alabaster, Pine River, Standish, Iwining and AuGres were officially represented, from last year's organization, while Hale, Melita and Sterling had notified the secretary that they were ready to go, but were unable to attend because of unavoidable circumstances. Bad weather also contributed to poor attendance. Turner was also represented, prepared to ask admission into the league.

As many of the teams are dissatisfied with last year's bulky, three division league, an inclination has been to streamline the circuit for the 1948 season. The situation was informally discussed by directors present at last Friday's meeting. Harrisville, it was learned, has decided to go into the Alcona County League, while several other teams in the three divisions failed to complete their season schedule. Whether these teams will be allowed into the league this year will be one of the principal matters to be taken up at tonight's meeting.

The league will officially reorganize tonight, and the clubs present last Friday were of the opinion that only teams represented at that meeting should be allowed as members of the league. It is important that all of last year's clubs desiring to play in the league, or any new clubs, wanting admission, be on hand at Friday's (tonight) meeting.

John Monarch, chairman of the parade committee, urges every business place in the two cities be represented in the parade. Those planning to have a float should notify him as soon as possible. The parade will be held Saturday morning, April 24.

Other events discussed Wednesday evening included the fishing contests which will be held at the State Park Dock and at the Tawas River bridge on both Saturday and Sunday. Prizes will be awarded in these events.

A barbecue will be run continuously Saturday and Sunday at the Tawas City Park. This is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and the proceeds will go to the Tawas Hospital building fund.

THE BLIZZARD OF 1888

Elmer Twitchell, charter member of the Society for Perpetuating the Blizzard of 1888, an old northern custom, was at the annual meeting and in old time form. "I will never forget that storm," he declared. "I got caught at one time between two flakes that weighed more than I did."

"How that snow piled up! My mother called me to the window and said 'Look, it's beginning to snow, Elmer.' Well, sir, before I could look out there were people caught in drifts as far as the eye could see! I remember we sent the hired man to the woodshed, only 50 yards away, for a shovel! And never saw him again until July."

"My father, who was out in the backyard, started to climb a drift on the front steps and when he got to the top he was on the roof of the house yelling 'Excelsior!'"

"Remember Tony Paster's theater? Well, sir, every act on the bill that night was blown right out of the theater. . . they found a dog and pony act frozen in the ice 10 days later and a ventriloquist turned up in August behind a barn in New Rochelle. . . My father told me of a man who drove by sleigh directly into a room on the eighth floor of the old Grand Union hotel."

"And the wind? Well, sir, it was worse than in a modern presidential campaign. Nobody had the same roof or chimney after that storm. We got a roof from the Eb Andrews barn 60 miles north and a chimney from a factory up around Troy, N. Y. There wasn't a pane of glass left in a house in New York. But it didn't matter as the ice froze in the window frames and lasted all that summer and autumn."

"These men living in the past remind me of a toy. I am sure you have all seen it. It is a wooden bird called the Floggie Bird. Around its neck is a label reading 'I fly backwards. I don't care where I'm going. I just want to see where I've been.'—President Truman."

"Our recollection — and we have to go away back—is that it was called the Fataluva bird and that it is a gag first used by Bob Benchley."

SPECIAL DELIVERY LETTER

Dear Uncle Sam: For the first time in my life I am worried about you. Never before have I wondered if you could be a dope or a Humpty Dumpty. Never before have you ever seemed to have points resembling a composite picture of Little Lord Fauntleroy, the Fairy Godmother, Little Jeff and Donald Duck.

But now, with Joe Stalin laughing up his sleeve as he and his carefully trained stooges take over country after country with the ease of the man on the flying trapeze, I am doing my wondering in technical.

With Communists sworn to your destruction working around the clock right under your beeper, taking orders from the Kremlin and leaving nothing undone to soften you up in the exact pattern employed in Czechoslovakia, you content yourself with shadow boxing, rhumba dancing, thumb-twiddling, goose-greasing and dry runs through a revolving door.

You are interpreting the initials U. S. A. as meaning United States of Amnesia. You are singing it "My Country, 'Tis of Thee, Sleeping Land of Stupidity."

Is there any reason why you can't be a Good Samaritan without shooting the donkey? Can't you be a lifeguard without giving away the boat, oars and life rope?

It is later than you think. It is high time you got smart, alert and on the ball. Are you Uncle Sam or Lady Bountiful? Are you a tough, rugged quick-witted, high-level national wonder man or just a yawning director of a "My Advice to You" program? Are you Uncle Sam or Uncle Sap? I'm just asking. Yours in complete befuddlement. Elmer.

"It is quite well known that we communists are not believers in over-throwing the United States government by force."—From a statement by a prominent American communist.

Just a teeny-weeny torpedoing, that's all.

Great Britain has spent the four billion American loan in a little over nine months. Nobody can keep a penny these days.

ANOTHER WAY TO SKIN A CAT . . . There must be easier ways of getting a leopard to where you want him to go than by carrying him on your shoulders, but it looks like this Hindu animal trainer with a big circus is doing it this way just for laughs. Anyway whenever a circus animal trainer starts wearing leopards for neck-pieces it's a good indication that spring is on the way.

MRS. JONES WAS THIS ROUNDER'S NAME . . . This is Mrs. Casey Jones, wife of the engineer who rode to fame on a six-eight wheeler. She was seated at the throttle of the General Motors "Train of Tomorrow" on its run from New Albany, Miss., to Memphis, where she took part in ceremonies honoring the arrival of the train there. Her husband's ride to his death on "Old 638" 42 years ago has been immortalized in song and story.

SOUL-SAVER AT SEVEN . . . Renee Martz is seven years old and an established evangelist who divides her time between the Bible and her dolls. Renee has been preaching since she was four, has traveled 30,000 miles and led 6,000 souls to the altar "to confess their sins," she says. Once you're saved all you have to do is "just keep on the Lord's side," is her lesson.

FLYING TIGER AND WIFE . . . Claire L. Chennault, wartime commander of the famous "Flying Tigers" who made life miserable for the Japs in China, is back in the United States temporarily, accompanied by his pretty Chinese wife. Chennault was called home to testify in connection with proposed U. S. aid to China.

READING PUBLIC . . . That presidential ring is getting so crowded with hats that it would not be surprising if some potential nominees started throwing their chapeaux out of it. This is one man's conception of how puzzled the public is.

ATOM OF ADVICE . . . David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, told Congress he favors outlawing strikes in atomic plants if that step should be necessary to insure continuous production.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY . . . This is a recent pictorial study of Pope Pius XII, made as he celebrated the ninth anniversary of his pontification in March amid a world threatened once more by the clouds of war.

NOSEGAY . . . Tom Harmon, former Michigan football great, unveiled his new nose after completion of plastic surgery that transformed his scrimmage-weary schnoz into a thing of beauty.

SUPERKID . . . George A. Bohow, Jr., of Mount Vernon, N. Y., 17 months old, can toss around a 10-pound dumbbell. He can ride a scooter, too, as well as hang from a horizontal bar.

Science Talent Quest Shows Aid To Progress

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—I don't often go into such intimate matters as private murders in these columns, but I have been impressed lately to see the results of the untrammelled spirit of modern youth, whose repressions and inhibitions have been removed by thoughtful parents who use reason instead of the cruel discipline such as I have suffered—having to go to bed without supper, for instance, when I was impudent to my elders, or being kept in the house for throwing my arithmetic at the cat instead of doing my homework, or having my mouth washed out with acme soap when I used language unbecoming a future commentator.

Recently a pretty little brunette who was irked by having to leave the city to dwell with her parents in some dull rural area of Missouri rebelled. After shooting Mama and Papa, she stuffed them behind the sofa and tried to dispose of their property. Then there was the poor little seventh-grader who smarted under thoughtless taunting by a farmer who thought the youth displayed poor form in sawing wood. The boy shot the old man and dumped him in a creek.

There was the 18-year-old girl from Portsmouth, Va., who playfully sprayed five G.I.'s with revolver shots in a shooting gallery, and the six girls, aged 14 to 16, who beat up their female gym instructor in a Bronx high school.

Of course I am not old-fashioned enough to encourage corporal punishment, but it does seem that a little less sparing of the rod might have prevented spoiling the crime record of the peaceful communities from which these youngsters came.

Perhaps it wouldn't have helped, though, when the nations of the world set such bad examples.

I couldn't help thinking of a paragraph in the concluding chapter of that highly important and revealing book by former Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Said Hull (and I can see him leaning back as he dictated, looking over the wide sweep of the Maryland landscape, letting his thoughts go back over the rich days of his years): "We have a desperate need for more religion and morality as the background for government. The religious and moral foundations for thought and conduct require strengthening here as well as throughout the world. There is no higher civilizing influence than religious and moral concepts. Corruption and tyranny can be driven out of government only when these concepts give men the faculty to recognize such evils and the strength to eliminate them."

In these days when we hear so many unpleasant references to the atom bomb, it was a relief to the national capital to get its annual reminder that the people who know most about atomic energy think far more about how it can promote human welfare than about how it can extinguish human life.

Sixteen thousand high-schoolers presented themselves this year as possible winners in the seventh annual Westinghouse science talent search. After rigorous elimination tests, 40 finalists were selected to come to Washington for talks with scientists, visits to Capitol Hill and the White House and conversations with their colleagues.

These 40 students have a reasonable assurance of scholarships of $1,000 each from various sources, aside from the search awards, while the two lucky top winners each are given $2,400 with which to continue their studies.

There was another interesting thing about this year's awards—the revelation that America still is drawing heavily on the Old World for its scientific talent. The boy who won the top prize was born in Budapest.

Andrew Kende displays his experiments with new solvents to reduce explosion hazards.

He is Andrew Kende, a 15-year-old chemist, a handsome youngster, five feet eight inches tall. Of the 40 finalists, five were born in Europe, and 26 parents of the 40 finalists were foreign-born.

The girl winner was 17-year-old Barbara Claire Wolff of Flushing, L. I., (where the United Nations has its headquarters although there is no connection). All the contestants must have worked on a special scientific project, and Miss Wolff devoted her time to production of phenocopies. Now, if you raise fruit, you will be interested in this, although you probably wouldn't recognize a phenocopy if you met it on one of your strolls through your orchard.

A phenocopy is a change—a change in the body-shape of a fruit fly. The fly itself will not be permitted to get at your fruit. Its eggs have been dyed and irradiated, observation of which processes in the long run probably will help the fruit industry. When Miss Wolff isn't dyeing eggs—and irradiating them—she is editing her school paper, playing badminton, studying, and, we suppose, practicing the modern dance and enjoying her clubs, which include math, cancer and microscopy organizations.

Young Kende's project has to do with removing or reducing explosion hazards in the chemical processes by which such modern synthetics as the silicones, sex hormones and some synthetic rubbers are produced commercially. Some day, thanks to him, men and women may be able to face the most alluring hormone or the most explosive overshoe or automobile tire in comparative safety, and may even be able to walk right up to a silicone and slap it on the back.

The 40 finalists were reminded by Watson Davis, Science Service director; Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard college observatory, and W. W. Waymack, atomic energy commissioner, that it is not enough these days, however, for scientists to stick to their scientific last, letting the rest of the world go by.

As Dr. Shapley put it: "Don't be so laborious in your laboratories that you ignore your responsibilities as citizens." And as Waymack warned: "Nowadays the scientists must not only aid in the creation of knowledge, but in the dissemination and use of that knowledge for the general welfare."

Unfortunately, there are all too few trained scientists in this atomic age. As the report of the President's scientific research board pointed out, the technological and scientific progress of this country depends upon one-half of 1 per cent of our population—some 750,000 persons. This small group comprises the trained manpower—the scientists, technicians and engineers upon which the operation and the expansion of our economy depends. And those actually engaged in scientific research, technical development or teaching comprise a much smaller group within this pool—only 137,000 persons.

The science talent search and similar projects undertaken to discover and encourage youthful scientific talents are helping to ensure the future security and prosperity of the United States which depend as never before on the rapid extension of scientific knowledge—not only because the laboratory is the first line of defense in wartime and the scientist is the indispensable warrior, but also because scientific discovery is the basis for our progress against poverty and disease.

Ex-G.I.'s can upset the budget again this year. In its attempt to trim Mr. Truman's spending, Congress makes no allowance for nearly 500 million dollars still unclaimed in terminal leave pay due enlisted men. The President's bulging budget set aside only five million dollars for this item, just 1 per cent of the total possible cost.

In contrast to the usual Hollywood practice, the government's film production includes none of the usual "thrillers." Latest 25-minute short subject made by Uncle Sam bears the prosaic title, "Toward a Uniform Plumbing Code." Other recent "sockeroos" cover movies on blister rust control, Japanese agriculture, foot and mouth disease.

Some of the people who say they would rather be right than president don't get the chance they deserve.

Margarine Battle Joined

THE 60-year-old battle between the dairy industry and the manufacturers of margarine appears about to be joined in this session of congress. Nineteen bills now are pending seeking to end or lower federal taxes on margarine.

Real nub of the contention is one of color, for that is the real import of the margarine lobby to repeal the tax of 10 cents a pound and federal licenses on colored margarine. The dairy industry declares that if this is done it will open the way to fraudulent sale of margarine as butter; that market for 40 per cent of milk produced could be destroyed; that the claim that fortified margarine is scientifically equivalent to butter is open to question and that the question comes down to a fight between three million farmers trying to survive and a few large corporations seeking large profits.

On the other side, the margarine association admits that in early days back in the 1890's there was some attempt at fraudulent sale of margarine but pure food and drug laws now make that impossible; that tax repeal would open larger market for cotton seed and soybean oil; that natural color of margarine is yellow and manufacturers must bleach it to make it white; that margarine is nutritionally equivalent to butter; that color is added to butter; that if margarine is bad it should be prohibited, not regulated; that the dairy industry is unable to meet demand for butter; that the tax is discriminatory and prevents low income groups from obtaining a cheap food; and that the treasury department itself admits that the tax should be repealed.

But even if federal tax is repealed the margarine industry has a long way to go, because in 23 states sale of colored margarine is prohibited; 17 states bar use of margarine in state institutions; in only 18 states there are no local restrictions, most of them in the cotton-producing South.

Only half of the 500,000 retail grocers have licenses to sell uncolored margarine, only 1 per cent are licensed to sell colored margarine; 13 states require annual licenses for margarine wholesalers; 11 impose annual retail licenses; nine require annual manufacturers license; seven states tax each pound of uncolored margarine; four states tax colored margarine 10 cents a pound, and four states require annual licenses for eating places serving margarine.

Concensus here is that the 80th congress will pass up all proposed long-range farm legislation until after the election and merely extend provisions of the Steagall act for another year. Provisions of the act expire December 31 this year. In the meantime, department of agriculture is urging coordination of all federal farm activities in farmer-elected county committees.

Winning Friends

The records show that President Truman always has increased his popularity when he has risen above partisanship. He certainly did so when he openly challenged southern political leaders in reiterating his stand on his civil liberties program. In declaring the President would not retreat, Chairman McGrath of the Democratic national committee said the President's program was as old as the Constitution and as young as the 1944 Democratic platform.

President Truman has asked extension of the reciprocal trade program for three years. The present act expires June 12, except for the year of 1943, majority of Republicans consistently have opposed the reciprocal trade act. However, one of the requisites of the Marshall plan is a customs union or reciprocal trade among western European nations. Observers ask, can this country require it of other nations and turn it down ourselves? The President says importance of the act is greater to-day than ever before.

Rep. Sid Simpson of Illinois wants the government to look into the rain-making industry. He has introduced a bill to direct the chief of the weather bureau to conduct experiments with respect to methods of controlling rainfall.

It takes a whale of a lot of technology in the operations of any business to overcome the costs of taxes and the ever increasing price of labor.

Government Arithmetic

The house of representatives used the bookkeeping method of cutting 37 million dollars from the commerce department budget and claims a "saving." Commerce requested 40 million dollars for aid to airports. The house granted three million dollars but granted "contract authority" for the rest. That means that 37 million dollars can be contracted. The same method was used in many instances last year and then amounts were listless "deficiency" items.

CENTURY OF HARVESTS . . . On April 3, 1848, the Chicago board of trade held its first formal session in a crude frame building set among the muddy streets of a raw, young town. This year it is observing its 100th anniversary, and now it is the world's largest grain exchange. Here representatives of the farmer elevator operator, food processor and investor meet daily to buy and sell the grain that will be transformed into food for the earth's peoples. Shown in the picture are the 43-story structure housing the board of trade (left), a general scene of action on the floor (upper right) and a close-up of traders making transactions.

PARA-RESCUERS JUMP OVER DESERT . . . Techniques developed by paratroopers during the war have become invaluable assets in some of the touch-and-go rescue work which is always necessary, even in time of peace. These two para-rescue men of the army's air rescue service have just leaped from their plane in a practice jump over the desert 12 miles east of Biggs air force base at El Paso, Tex. Three medical officers and 21 enlisted men made up the complete group in this particular maneuver which was part of training program for rescue work in inaccessible places.

STEAKS IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE . . . This broodingnagian bovine, a four-year-old shorthorn steer, created a sensation the likes of which hadn't been seen for many a long winter when it arrived at the Kansas City, Mo., livestock market to go the way of all flesh. The animal, owned by James Beam of Beloit, Kas., stood 6 feet 2 inches tall at the shoulders and boasted a depth of chest that any self-respecting buffalo might envy. A stockyard worker of average height stands beside the king-size hunk of beef for comparison.

LADIES' DAY AT THE OLYMPICS . . . These pictures illustrate typical examples of the hustle-bustle that is going on in preparation for the 1948 international Olympic games in London. Members of Britain's women's team don't intend to let lack of training cos hem any laurels. Three of them are shown here getting up to concert pitch. At left, Dorothy Simmond, 100-yard hurdle champion, tops the timbers in rare form. In the center, Peggy Simmond, quarter-mile champ, takes a lusty turn around the track, and (right) Lorna Cornell, broad jump candidate, does a short flyer.

ADD brains to beauty and you have Anita Colby. Once a top model, she turned actress, (played a siren in "Brute Force") but much prefers her present job of assistant to Paramount's vice-president in charge of production. She takes young feature players in hand, grooms them for bigger and better roles, taking special interest in those who work hardest. "Behave as if you were beautiful," she tells them. "Simplicity is the most expensive taste you can have." Wanda Hendrix is one of her candidates for fame. Miss Colby is now on the road, visiting 36 cities to arrange exploitation for "The Emperor Waltz." She makes it sound wonderful!

Howard (Sam Spade) Duff and House (Sam Aldrich) Jameson do a scene in "The Naked City" in which Jameson is supposed to try to jump from a window with Duff preventing him. The picture was filmed in New York buildings and streets, and after the actors had rehearsed that scene several times, horrified tenants in a nearby building called the police.

Monty Woolley, who leaves his Saratoga home once each year to make a picture in Hollywood, is set for this year's task. He will appear as an eccentric nephew who conspires to be named heir to the fortune in "Tatlock's Millions." Wanda Hendrix and John Lund star, with Richard Haydn making his debut as a director. "The Bishop's Wife" was Woolley's 1947 stint.

Half a dozen years ago Ruth Hussey played a newspaper photographer in "The Philadelphia Story" and got an academy award. "The Great Gatsby," in which she plays a similiar role, that of a caustic, golf-playing young woman, may bring her another one.

Marlene Dietrich finished "A Foreign Affair" and took off by train for New York, riding along with Katharine Hepburn, Gertrude Lawrence and Noel Coward. New York is merely a stopping-off place; she will go on to Paris to make a French picture. Jean Arthur and John Lund are co-stars in the new comedy. Miss Arthur also picked New York for a vacation.

Harriet Hilliard of CBS' "Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," likes to visit friends in nearby studios, with the result that for two weeks running Ozzie couldn't find his wife when he wanted to introduce her to the audience before the show. It won't happen again; the second time, he announced that Harriet was being walked around the block to sober her up!

When Rudy Vallee decided to be an actor, as well as a crooner, a good many people felt that he might better have let well enough alone. But he made the grade and "I Remember Mama" certainly proves that he knew what he was doing. Frank Sinatra is following right along, doing his first straight dramatic role, that of a priest, in "The Miracle of the Bells."

Odds and Ends . . . Joan Davis, an enthusiastic fisherwoman, has bought a navy surplus P. T. B. boat for deep-sea fishing . . . Alex Templeton's recent, unpublicized stay in Hollywood may have been because he was discussing doing a summer replacement series for a leading network . . . Dinah Shore considered naming her baby girl Dinah Ann Montgomery—till she happened to write the initials; that's when she decided on Melissa for the first name . . . ABC's "Stop the Music" brings us Kay Armen, who first won coast-to-coast recognition on Paul Whiteman's "Radio Hall of Fame" broadcasts.

The new air series, "Youth on Parade," a prospective summer replacement, sounds interesting. Starring Diana Lynn, it will dramatize scenes from motion pictures, with a new leading man for Diana each week.

Bryan Foy, Eagle-Lion vice-president, has completed final arrangements for filming "Canon City," the story of the recent Colorado prison break, on actual locations where the dramatic events took place.

HERE'S THE STORY OF A BIG TELEPHONE YEAR

More telephones and more service for customers! More jobs and more money for employees! But earnings for investors continued their downward trend because the rise in costs far exceeded the rise in revenues. That's how 1947 stacked up for Michigan Bell.

CUSTOMERS

At the end of 1947, there were 133,000 more telephones in service than in 1946, including 16,000 more in rural areas. In the territory we serve, 73 of every 100 families had a telephone. But 51,000 families were still waiting for service.

Service was better. Customers could call more people than ever before, and did. With the average customer making between 5 and 6 calls a day, total calls averaged 8,022,000 a day.

We added more switchboard "positions," switching equipment to connect 87,000 more dial telephones, and 350,000 miles of wire. We enlarged the capacity of 196 central offices and built 7 new ones.

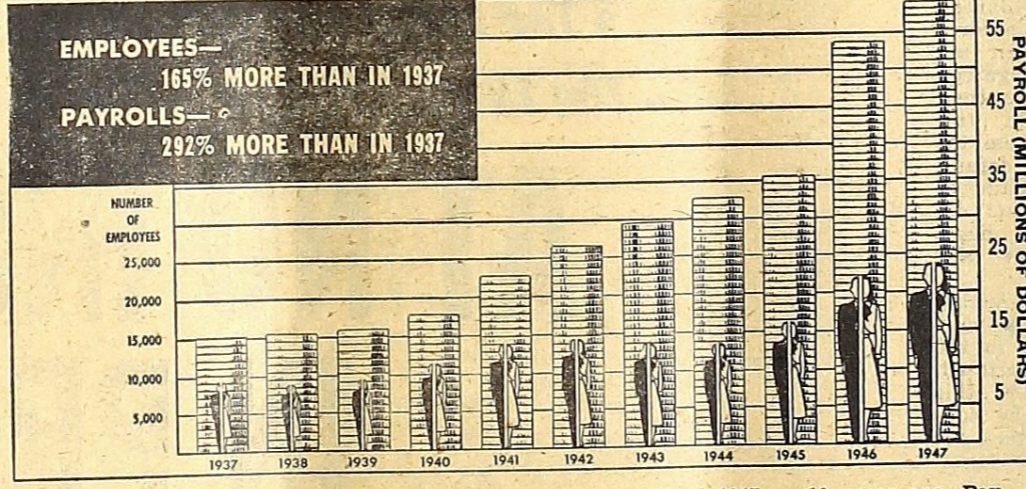

Forty-eight million dollars were spent for expansion and improvement. But Michigan Bell's plant is still not big enough to serve everyone the way we would like.

EMPLOYEES

Michigan Bell's expanding business created 1,900 more telephone jobs during 1947. This required more supervisory jobs which were filled by promotion from within the ranks.

There were nearly 3 times as many employees at the end of 1947 as 10 years ago. Payrolls were nearly 4 times as high. Wage adjustments last Spring increased costs about $5,864,000 annually. One out of every 11 employees received benefits because of illness or injury.

By purchasing A. T. & T. stock under a payroll deduction plan, 7,400 Michigan Bell employees were on their way to becoming part owners of the business.

INVESTORS

HOW WE DID FINANCIALLY

	1947	Change from 1946
GROSS REVENUES	$97,498,000	UP $ 5,783,000
minus COSTS	$89,776,000	UP $10,399,000
leaves EARNINGS	$ 7,722,000	DOWN $ 4,616,000
EARNINGS PER INVESTOR'S DOLLAR	3 3/10%	DOWN 3 1/10%

Money received from customers for service was 6% more than in 1946. But costs of providing service—wages, taxes, goods and services from others, etc.—rose 13%. Earnings per investor's dollar dropped to about half of what they were in the previous year.

730,000 investors in Bell System securities supply the money to build Michigan Bell's plant. Millions more have invested indirectly through savings accounts or insurance policies with institutions owning Bell securities.

1947 QUARTERLY EARNINGS ON INVESTOR'S DOLLAR

Quarter	Annual Rate
JANUARY	AT ANNUAL RATE OF 6%
FEBRUARY

JULY	AT ANNUAL RATE OF 3 2/10%
AUGUST

OCTOBER	AT ANNUAL RATE OF 3%
NOVEMBER

TOTAL EARNINGS FOR 1947—3 3/10%

Even with the telephone system operating at capacity, because of rising costs only 3 8/10 cents were earned on each dollar invested. This is not an adequate return. So the Michigan Public Service Commission is now considering our application for an increase in telephone rates.

ALL THREE GROUPS — customers, employees and investors — have a stake in the business. Looking to the future, Michigan Bell fully expects to supply a continually improving service to the public . . . good jobs for thousands of employees, with plenty of opportunity for advancement in a growing business . . . and a reasonable return to those whose savings are invested in the business.

AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE!

While Other New Car Prices Are Advancing

HERE'S WHY Kaiser-Frazer can make this announcement while other new car prices spiral upward. Kaiser-Frazer controls its own supply of many basic raw materials... has its own engine plant, foundry and steel mill. Materials from these sources funnel into new and modern Willow Run—the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world under one roof.

Unfinished steel goes in one end of this great plant and comes out a quality automobile, ready to be driven away. All this is accomplished in a matter of hours, and with the economy of Kaiser-Frazer straight-line production. This is an achievement of men who are injecting new methods and ideas into an old industry.

In the new 1948 Kaiser, Frazer, Kaiser Custom, and Frazer Manhattan you get all the features that others have attempted to copy since Kaiser-Frazer design was introduced in 1947.

So far no one has been able to more than approximate the graceful exterior body lines. No one has come near matching the roadability... the ride resulting from seats cradled between the front and rear wheels, such wide seats with both elbow and shoulder room. And none have the style features, the wide choice of colors and fabrics.

You get all this plus the many refinements made possible by years-ahead engineering and design. And, of course, all 1948 Kaiser or Frazer cars have the new Goodyear 24-pound pressure Super-Cushion tires that make bumps something you see but never feel.

Enjoy a ride today in America's newest new cars—the 1948 cars that have not gone up in price!

"LET IT RAIN IF IT MUST!" That is what you will say if a Universal "Jeep" is at work on your farm. Just put on the top and get on the job. With the steady traction of its 4-wheel drive the "Jeep" just keeps on pulling, in spite of soft ground or slippery footing. You don't have to worry about 'impassable' roads. Pep Up Meals With Delectable Fish

Favorite Seafoods

Have you discovered what pleasant variety fish dinners can give to your meals? If not, you have a real flavor treat coming.

New cooks will like using fish because it is so easily and quickly prepared. There are so many varieties to use, you need run into no rut even though you serve fish often.

You can substitute fish for meat easily because, it, too, is a good source of protein in addition to providing such important minerals as calcium, phosphorus, iron, copper and iodine. Those of you who live inland would do well to fortify your iodine supply by eating fish more often, as it's difficult to get enough in any other way, except medicinally.

Overcooking is one of the faults most frequently found in the preparation of fish, for many people do not realize that fish is really tender. Broiling and pan-frying are good methods to use, as is baking.

You'll find that fish served in a casserole takes little time and can be really delicious. The time required for baking is short as the food really only needs to be heated.

Fresh, canned or frozen fish may be used, whichever is available to you in the recipes I've included today.

*Stuffed Halibut Steak.

- 1/2 teaspoon salt

winks on the sofa and push along about 11."

"Oh, Bill," Emmy said anxiously, "do you have to work so hard? You haven't an ounce of flesh!"

"No money'd keep me driving this way," I admitted. "Now that the war's over and we got to help feed the world, we need bigger fruit crops."

Well, supper didn't go so well that night. Emmy treated me as she always does, but Launson sulked as he does on a rainy day when they can't gather pollen.

But the spring pollinating is almost over and soon I can take it easier."

"Not here, I hope," Launson said unpleasantly, when Emmy went into the bedroom to get her hat.

I knew then how bees feel when you shake their hive on a cold day, but I was too tired to argue. I was asleep before they drove away and the alarm-clock awakened me before they returned.

It was nearly a month before I could get back. When I drove past the old Hall place, it looked like Launson hadn't given his horses much care. He stepped out of the house after I'd stopped the truck, and spoke as if he owned Oakknoll.

"You back?"

"Yep," I said. "Just in time for supper."

"I didn't know Emmy was expecting you," he snapped.

I wondered whether Launson's

"Where's Mr. Launson?" she asked.

"Last I saw of him," I said, tucking in my napkin, "he was running toward his house with a veil of bees trailing behind him. He dropped a hive he was carrying and instead of backing away slow and careful like, he began swatting bees. They kind of resented it."

Emmy didn't say anything for a minute. "I'm glad he's gone," she said, and smiled. "I'd have told him things before, but I get so lonely when you're away, Bill. What made him drop the hive?"

"I guess something I said startled him. You see, he'd just advised me to move on, saying I'd never get anywhere with you, Emmy."

"The idea! What'd you say to that, Bill?"

"Why, I told him he was crazy—that we'd been married 10 years."

Only rarely is there total peace.

When this conflict becomes too formidable, too threatening, you do the obvious thing—you try to run. That seems to be the thing to do, but often the escape is worse than the conflict—and more lives are damaged by these escape or fight mechanisms than by any one thing.

Maybe you'd like to have me tell you very briefly about the various escape routes that the mind follows when things get too hot.

They are 13. First comes regression, which means to go backward, do childish things. Then comes extroversion—that means to turn to excessive activity to cover up the conflict. The opposite of that is introversion—to think excessively, to dodge real issues.

Rationalization is to indulge in false thinking, while segregation is not to let your right hand know what your left hand is doing.

When you practice repression, you forget unpleasant things; and when you disassociate, you pass the buck. Sometimes you resort to conversion—that means to have a breakdown or illness in place of a conflict. Displacement is to worry over one thing when another is to blame, and projection is to attribute your own faults to others.

Another escape is called identification; that means to form phantasies. When you follow compensation, you overdo some particular thing in order to overcome your inadequacies.

The final escape route is the only one which is wholeheartedly recommended. It is called sublimation—that means to turn the effect of the conflict into some useful channel.

Soybeans Provide Protein To Offset High Food Cost

High food costs make it difficult for the homemaker to know how she can get the most for her food dollar. Protein is one of the most essential protective elements in the human diet, say extension service nutritionists.

Foods which contain protein—meats, eggs, milk, cheese—are high in cost, but they must not be left out of the diet. Cheaper cuts of meats, meat stretchers, egg dishes and cheese dishes will help supply the body's need for protein. Other sources of protein are soybeans, dried beans and peas. These vegetables come nearest to meat, eggs, milk and cheese as body builders. They also contain Vitamin B1 and iron.

For homemakers not familiar with the soybean, this information is offered: "Soybeans contain protein of high quality, similar to animal protein. They can be used in place of meat in the diet. Soybeans are good sources of usable iron and other mineral, such as calcium, phosphorus, as well as an excellent source of vitamins of the B-complex. Fresh, green soybeans are rich in vitamin A. They are high in fat, and sprouted soybeans are a useful source of Vitamin C."

YOU CAN'T RUN AWAY

One of my younger friends, a man in whom I always have had considerable confidence, did something last week that caused my confidence to be shaken. I'll tell you about it.

When the pressure in a job he has held for two or three years became too great, he quit. "I am going to pull stakes and go to another town," he told me. "I just couldn't take it any more."

I say that my confidence was shaken. What I mean is this, that whenever anyone tries to run away from a crisis, a situation, a condition or himself, he's doomed to fail.

Yet every day you see someone who is trying to run away from himself. Psychologists are very much interested in the roads which these runaways take, and one of their first considerations in evaluating a personality which is broken or unhappy is escape.

You probably know that you live every day with a conflict raging inside yourself. Sometimes the conflict is subdued by a quiet sort of guerrilla warfare of the mind. At other times it reaches the battle

The Silver Fire

By Grace Nell Crowell

BY FAITH I drink the water in my cup; I breathe the air and trust that it is pure; The bread I break at evening as I sip I take believing that the loaf is sure To be quite clean. At night I go to sleep And journey through a strange and darkened land,

With confidence that God has power to keep His never-failing hold upon my hand.

By faith I rise to meet my busy day. Sure of the sun, I plant and hoe my seed, Knowing that rain and light will take their way Across the earth, that my immediate need For food will be supplied. By faith I go Trusting in God and in my fellow-men, And if at times that silver fire burns low, It never fails to lift and burn again.

ROPE FOR THE CLIMBERS

The 'mountain climbers' greatest safeguard is the 15 or 20 feet of rope tied between each of the men. If one man slips, his fall may be checked by the others attached to the rope before the speed of fall is too great.

Swedish Log Cabin

The log cabin, thought of peculiarly as an "American" symbol, originated in Pennsylvania along the shores of the Delaware river in the 1600s—a contribution of Sweden to this land.

Why? WHY TAKE HARSH LAXATIVES? Try Refreshing Lemon in Water.

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B1 and P. They alkalize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

Traveling by Balloon

The anchor rope on a cross-country balloon was used by the passenger to tell the direction in which the balloon was moving. Because of the rotary motion of the balloon about a vertical axis, the passengers were burning around constantly and had difficulty determining where they were going. By looking down the anchor rope, they could trace the balloon's passage over the country below.

Monogrammed Protection

During the Middle Ages in Europe, merchants "monogrammed" their goods with devices that nearly always contained a cross, either as a protection against storms or other catastrophes or to distinguish their goods from those of Mohammedan traders.

Kentucky Rifle

The "Kentucky rifle" which Daniel Boone used to knock out a squirrel's eye at 100 yards was first made in Lancaster and Berks counties, Pennsylvania, in Revolutionary days.

Wild Jungle Nuts

Brazil nuts, abounding on the banks of the Orinoco and in the northern parts of Brazil as well as Para and French Guiana, are not cultivated but grow wild on trees from 100 to 150 feet high in the jungles.

Electric Energy Theory

In 1887 Prof. Heinrich Rudolph Hertz, German physicist, discovered that certain metals gave off electric energy under the influence of light, which established beyond doubt the electromagnetic nature of light. Hertz further explained the phenomenon named "Ethereic Force," known as "Hertzian Waves." Science now uses this knowledge to make light produce electric current. This is the principle of the "electric eye," or phototube. A beam of light strikes a metal plate in the phototube and produces an electric current. This was the beginning of the photoelectric cell.

Long Braid Indians

The Indians of Taos pueblo dress their hair in long braids.

Arab League States

The seven leading Arab states which in 1945 formed the common front of the Arab league cover a vast region extending north, south and east of Palestine. They are Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iraq, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Yemen. These Arab nations spread a shifting yet remarkably uniform panorama of life in an area nearly 150 times the size of Palestine. Everywhere are signs of the modern innovations that have resulted from the gradual penetration of western ways.

If you will pardon us for pointing, big league baseball today has an extremely high average of leadership in its managers now after the golden fleece.

The 1948 crop can match anything we have known in baseball. As they will figure largely in the headlines of the new year they should be worth just a bit more space than they have received to-date.

"Who are they?" Even if you don't remember, they include Joe McCarthy of the Red Sox, Bucky Harris of the Yankees and Lou Boudreau of the Indians. It might be Steve O'Neil of the Tigers also belongs. We are not so well acquainted with his work.

It might be that Connie Mack can be included in this list—we mean 1948—the only year that matters now. You can throw out all the others.

The American league battle will be a hand-to-hand, throat-cutting duel between McCarthy and Harris. It ought to be. They have most of the good ballplayers.

McCarthy is a brilliant manager. But don't underrate Harris, the most human leader of the lot. Harris can handle his squad, and, when you ask him a question point-blank, he answers point-blank, protecting nobody, telling you the truth as he sees it.

Harris is a rarity I haven't seen since the days of John J. McGraw. McGraw, as I knew him, was a helpful friend when you needed a story. So is Harris.

Managers Need Players

Boudreau, a great ballplayer, has never had the material to prove his place. Boudreau might have churned up a mess of trouble this season, if the Yankees and Reds hadn't reached out and lassoed most of the good floating material.

A fellow can be honest, have an honest opinion, and still be wrong. In the opinion of this restless roamer, the best manager in the National league is Billy Southworth of the Braves—possibly the best manager in baseball today.

Next to Southworth, we put Eddie Dyer and Leo Durocher on level terms. Both are something better than good managers. We like Dyer's system of handling his men and working with umpires better but we can be quite wrong here.

Burt Shotton is one of the great managers of baseball. Rickey should have given him 50 per cent of every dollar he took in through 1947.

For all of that Durocher is an able leader. He isn't a McCarthy, a Harris or a Southworth, but he is good enough.

Mel Ott has another chance to prove his place. Ott is one of the most likeable persons in the game today. He had the power last year and he should have it this year.

Charley Grimm, Johnny Neun, Bill Meyer and Ben Chapman are all good managers. With better material, they might be much better managers. But they will chuck in a number of grenades when the Cardinals, Dodgers, Braves and Giants come along.

Florida, the Beautiful

Florida may have many things that other states lack—and that includes California. In the Everglades, for instance, the state that Ponce de Leon helped make famous has the last frontier of sport, the most famous 10 thousand square miles in the United States.

Here, within a brief whirl of the social softness and glamour of Palm Beach and Miami Beach, you can come upon both beauty and savage wildness, fang and claw, the rattlesnake and moccasin, the copperhead and the coral snake, the puma or what is known here as the panther, bear up to 400 pounds or more; deer, alligator, egret, pelican, heron and crane, almost every known variety of bird life and fish beyond all imagination.

In one day's haul in a small boat we returned with 12 varieties of fish. The boat was half full of fish by 2 o'clock. There were wild duck and geese flying overhead and there was quail in the dryer spots.

The jungles of India and Africa have nothing to match the variety or beauty of the Everglades or its look of wildness in certain sectors.

There are no tigers, lions, elephants or leopards around. But the puma or panther, ranging nine feet from tip to tip, weighing close to 200 pounds, is a replica of the West's mountain lion. The puma isn't a tiger or a leopard, it isn't even a jaguar, but it is still nothing to meet on a narrow trail.

The mangrove swamps and ghost islands here can get you lost in 10 minutes, lost beyond recall, without a guide.

I was lost in less than 10 minutes. "Would I ever find my way back?" I asked, after clearing a few mangrove spots. "Not in a hundred years," my guide said, "unless you can beat a 1,000-to-1 shot."

Florida has something that too many of its people never have appreciated. It is about time they understood. For what they have is invaluable, in the long run a more important part of the nation than Washington, D. C.

Putting a 'Punch' in Lunch
Packing a lunch that 'pucks a punch' and avoiding that day-to-day sameness is a problem of many homemakers. Aim always to include something crisp, something juicy, and one hot, one sweet, one tart or salty, and one colorful food, advise nutrition specialists. Each lunch box should contain one third of the food supply for the day for the person who eats it. Lettuce put in sandwiches is likely to wilt and is better when wrapped separately.

Backaches, leg pains, broken sleep, painful passages usually go so much quicker if you switch to Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills. They stimulate sluggish kidneys; then ALLAY BLADDER IRRITATION. That's the cause of most pains, aches, urges once thought entirely due to kidneys. So for quicker, longer-lasting relief, soothe bladder as well as stimulate kidney action. Do this: use Foley (the new kidney-bladder) Pills; they also have direct sedative-like action on bladder. At your druggist. Unless you find them far more satisfactory, DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.
