Recount Changes Election Results

Graham Gets Mayor Post; Munroe is Treasurer

Archie Graham won the office of mayor of Whittemore, and J. C. Munroe the office of treasurer at a recount conducted there Tuesday.

Following the new count Graham was accorded 83 votes to be declared mayor over Frank Gordon, who was given 81. The original count following the spring election here, gave Graham 78 and Gordon 80 votes, and at that time Gordon was apparently elected to the office. Graham asked the recount.

Munroe was accorded 83 votes to defeat his opponent for the office, John O'Farrell, who tallied 81. The original count of votes showed a tie, with each candidate receiving 79 votes. Munroe petitioned for the recount in this race after an official canvass failed to change the results of the April 5 election.

Will Ballot On Tawas School Annexation

Questions Asked and Answered at Public Meeting Friday

At a meeting of Tawas City residents held last Friday evening in the School Gymnasium it was voted to submit the proposition of annexing the Tawas City Public Schools to the East Tawas District on the ballot at a special election. The election will be held Wednesday, May 19.

In addition to the members of the Tawas City Board of Education about 100 residents of the community were in attendance. The meeting was informal and questions were asked relative to the necessity of annexation and whether any benefits could be derived from such a move. Several people in the group expressed their approval of annexation. Others expressed disapproval.

The meeting Friday evening was the culmination of several joint meetings held between the Tawas City and East Tawas boards of education called to study school problems in the community and the possibility of erecting a larger school building to take care of the increasing number of students. The East Tawas Board of Education's answer to the problems was to invite Tawas City to combine the two districts. It was the opinion of the legal division of the Department of Public Instruction that as East Tawas was organized as a 3rd Class City School, the only way they could be combined was by the annexation of the Tawas City School District.

The program consisted of piano numbers by Miss Denise Burnett. She played the numbers that won her first prize at a recent musical contest in Oscoda.

A panel discussion on Educational Improvements followed. C. J. Creaser acted as moderator. Members of the panel were Howard Braden, Ronald Butterfield, Mrs. Ruth Lee, Mrs. Lucy Sims, Frank Humberger and Mrs. Eleanor Cook. Attractive Homes Studied at Meet

"Attractive, Liveable Homes," was the subject studied at a meeting of leaders in the Isoco County Home Extension course held yesterday (Thursday) at the Federal Building, East Tawas.

The conductor of the meeting was Mrs. Catherine Love, home management extension specialist of Michigan State College, East Lansing.

"First Impressions are Often Lasting," was the theme of the lesson. Leaders took a look at outside and inside appearances of the home and discussed the possibilities of storage space.

Extension groups will meet Wednesday evening, April 28, at the Federal Building.

May 1 AAA Program Final Deadline

Farmers of Isoco County are reminded that the closing date for signing up in the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program is May 1. Those who were not able to attend the sign-up meetings held in their township recently, will still have an opportunity to sign at the County AAA office in Tawas City, May 1st is the final date on which farmers may sign in order to participate in the 1948 program.

The 1948 Program carries about the same provisions for assistance in the way of financial aid, materials and service as last year. Practices consist of applying limestone and marl, applications of fertilizer on new seedlings with or without a nurse crop or on old stands of seedlings and pasture, plowing under crops for green manure, cross slope seedlings of small grains, construction of open farm ditches, clearing farm land for cropland on farms with less than 80 acres of cropland, filling pot holes in cropland, weed eradication by use of chemicals and re-establishing a permanent pasture.

The ACP Program provided for a joint attack on erosion of the soil and waste of water. The Nation through the government co-operates with the farmers who operate the land in a program to conserve and protect that land so that it will keep on producing food and fiber.

By cooperating in the 1948 Agricultural Conservation Program, each farmer will add his bit to the nationwide effort to conserve the Nation's most valuable natural resources—soil and water.

The farmer benefits in that his farm is in better shape to produce the crops upon which he must continue to depend for a living. In effect each farmer cooperating in the program is joining with his neighbors and with the people who live in town a National program which strengthens the Nation's resources.

Landscape Course For Home Owners

Series of Meetings Start April 23

A seven week course in practical home landscape gardening will be offered to the people of Isoco county. Local Men Attend Jobbers Conference

Carl Thunberg and Rollie Gackstetter, representatives of Johnson Auto Supply, Representative Parts Jobbers, left here Friday and attended a regional conference of N. A. P. A. Jobbers in Detroit April 16 and 17.

Mrs. Johnson, Owner of the Company, explained that this conference is one of the regular activities by which the National Automotive Parts Association keeps its Jobbers in position to render the most efficient service to repairmen and their customers.

"This year's conference was literally a 'speechless convention,' Mrs. Johnson said. 'Everything was dramatized rather than told. Highlight of the program' was a five-act stage presentation, featuring professional actors, and dramatizing the ways in which NAPA's unique method of distribution makes possible exceptional service to car and truck owners."

For example, we get our automotive parts from NAPA Detroit warehouse, which is sponsoring this regional conference. We can get practically all our parts—for all makes of cars and trucks—from this source, instead of having to order from factories all over the country. In emergencies, where we may not have certain parts in stock, we can get the needed parts from the NAPA warehouse in only a few hours.

The Women's Society of the Baptist Church are sponsoring a pancake supper next Friday evening, April 30, beginning at 6:00 p. m. The Pillsbury company will serve the pancakes. Bacon and eggs and maple syrup will also be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ross are moving into the Brown home on the corner of Fourth Avenue and Whittemore Street.

Mrs. Warner Pearson entertained twenty guests at a miscellaneous bridal shower for Linda Libka on Thursday evening. The evening was spent playing "bug" after which a delicious buffet lunch was served. The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Carries Fight to Communists As Congress Approves Foreign Aid; Income Tax Cut Becomes a Reality

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

SPECIAL DELIVERY

Mr. James Caesar Petrillo, Dear Jabez:

Next to a daffodil poking its head outside my window, your recent announcement that you have made peace with radio is the most welcome event, but you will pardon me for looking for a catch in it. For some time I will keep fearing an explanation from you that it was all a mistake due to reading spring poetry or seeing a lambkin gambol on a green somewhere.

It could even be that, being a great judge of news values, you realized that any man taking a peaceful step anywhere today would be a global standout. You could even get the Nobel peace prize, who can tell? But, of course, your announcement has left the public reeling around the room expecting any minute to hear that John L. Lewis has quit the coal miners to play Little Eva in a Tom show and that Marshal Tito has resigned to raise pigeons.

Right in plain type it says that you have come out for an agreement with radio for three years, dropping all your recent demands, giving the stations the green light and that (excuse me while I see if my head is on straight) you "fully recognize the development stage of television and wish to help it grow."

I read it again, thinking maybe the word was "blow" or "go" instead of "grow." But there is no mistaking the word. You, James Caesar Petrillo, co-operating with radio! (Just a minute while I take some spirits of ammonia.) Well, Jimmy, I never have been knocked so groggy since Hitler decided he had been shooting the wrong people and Gargantua started playing with old tire shoes.

You wouldn't be holding a bass viol behind you with one hand while you offer the olive branch with the other would you, James?

No? So you are on the level! Okay, it comes as a great relief because I have not been able to enjoy radio music for years. When it was good I was afraid you would step in and interrupt it. When it was bad I was afraid you would not.

However, peace is peace and a little of it around somewhere should be deeply appreciated, so good wishes to all concerned and don't say it was something you ate.

Sincerely,
Elmer.

FOREIGN AID:

In Motion

With President Truman's signature on the $6,098,000,000 foreign aid bill, the massive, potent forces of western capitalism moved into action against Russian communism for the beginning of a titanic, long range clash of strength.

To observers in the U. S. this interplay of forces had all the ingredients of an epic poem—the power of good striving mightily to overcome the power of evil, with the fate of a large segment of mankind depending on outcome of the struggle.

There was an epic quality, too, in the manner in which congress, seemingly impelled by a strong sense of urgency, raced the bill through for final action. The house approved it with a vote of 318 to 75 after less than 15 minutes of explanation, and the senate followed up swiftly with a voice vote.

Two days after passage of the measure President Truman meshed the gears of the global aid program by ordering the reconstruction finance corporation to advance 1.16 billion dollars at once. That action released U. S. dollars, reconstruction supplies and in some cases arms to 15 European nations, as well as Turkey, western Germany, Trieste and China.

The overall $6,098,000,000 aid package includes 4.3 billion dollars for the European recovery program, 275 million dollars for military assistance to Greece and Turkey, 463 million for China and 2 million dollars for Trieste. All of it is aimed at areas where communists are sharpening their sword of aggression.

An ill-starred movement in the house to include aid to Franco Spain in the bill was defeated before it had time to do much damage to U.S. prestige and moral stature abroad.

As the aid started to move, the situation abroad stacked up something like this:

Russia's seizure of Czechoslovakia, its new pact with Finland and pressure on Scandinavian nations, the Soviets' arbitrary action in Berlin all pointed to the fact that Moscow was trying to bring about a showdown in Europe before the European recovery plan began to work effectively.

On the other hand, the rapid passage of the foreign aid measure, the proposal to return Trieste to Italy and the stiffening of American will in Berlin seemed to indicate that the U.S., while not forcing a showdown, was, nevertheless, willing to have it as soon as possible. Few persons familiar with the situation thought that a showdown with Russia necessarily meant war. But it did involve acceptance of a risk of war. U.S. leaders were willing to take that risk on the theory that the likelihood of a shooting war is less now than it might be in the foreseeable future.

REDUCTION:

Tax Measure

President Truman's veto of the income tax reduction bill was crushingly overridden by both houses of congress—311 to 88 in the house, 77 to 10 in the senate—and U.S. citizens sat back to gloat over the first major tax-cutting measure passed in nearly 20 years.

In his now characteristic "I'd rather be right than be president" role, Mr. Truman had stubbornly affixed his veto to the bill, protesting that it mainly would benefit persons with incomes of $5,000 or more, encourage further inflation and sap the nation's strength at a time of international "danger."

Examination of the new tax structure indicated that the President was right in his first contention, at least—that the law would be of greater benefit to persons with high incomes than to those in lower brackets. Reason for that is that 12.6 per cent of $3,000 is considerably less than 5 per cent of a million. (Cuts in tax rates as provided by the new law range from 12.6 per cent in the lowest brackets to 5 per cent in the top level.)

Most interesting aspect of the tax cut development was the question of what motivated Mr. Truman to veto the bill. He was aware that enough members of both houses were supporting tax reduction in this election year to override his veto; hence, that his veto would be a gesture of futility that would place him on record as opposing the popular will.

Mr. Truman must have been aware, also, of the strong possibility

Cars on Road Hit Historic Figure

Number of passenger cars on the road in the U.S. today is at an all-time high, according to an article in the April edition of "Business Comment," bulletin of Northern Trust company.

Who's Mad?

Nobody seemed to be mad at anybody when Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia and President Truman met at convocation exercises at Williams and Mary college, Williamsburg, Va., to receive honorary degrees of doctor of laws. Mr. Truman exchanged a cordial handshake with Governor Tuck, vociferous leader of the southern states' rebellion on the President's civil rights program.

that next year congress, safely through the elections, will boost federal income by reimposing some version of the wartime excess profits tax.

In view of these unpromising but inescapable realities, the President's veto of the tax bill simply did not fit the preconceived pattern of political action in an election year. Rather, it looked more like the deliberate driving of another nail in his political coffin.

In his veto message, Mr. Truman contended that increased defense and foreign aid measures might make it necessary for congress to raise taxes next year.

"In the case of the income tax," he said, "nearly 40 per cent of the reduction would go to individuals with net incomes in excess of $5,000, who constitute less than 5 per cent of all taxpayers."

Also, the President continued, while national income is high every effort should be made to reduce the size of the 253-billion-dollar public debt.

He was, beyond doubt, sincere in his objections, but they fell on deaf ears in congress.

APOLOGIA:

From Russia

Even as Russia officially expressed regret over the "unfortunate" British-Soviet plane crash over Berlin which cost 15 lives, plain people all over the world began to see more clearly how, although no nation is seeking war now, a war could start accidentally.

A pilot of a Russian fighter plane had buzzed a British plane, carrying 14 passengers, as it was landing in Berlin. The transport crashed in the Russian zone where the wreckage lay for 12 hours before the bodies were permitted to be moved.

Tension in Berlin eased somewhat when British officials accepted the Russian apology and canceled plans to assign fighter plane escorts to all air transports coming into Berlin.

The official British account of the crash quoted eyewitnesses as saying that the Russian fighter pilot was "frollicking" when he hit the big plane.

While the fighter pilot undoubtedly had not been ordered to harass the British plane, it was equally apparent that he and his cohorts had not been forbidden to do so.

Aside from the number of lives lost, the disturbing part of the incident is that it was, in a manner of speaking, an aggressive action, an overt act of deliberate provocation. And it is just such incidents as that that world leaders fear might one day touch off the conflagration.

IN GOSHEN, Ind. . . Harold Tinsley, 9, wanted to do something for underprivileged children overseas, nobly turned over to the Salvation Army his entire hoard of bubble gum—561 sticks.

NEW START:

China's Chiang

Hopelessly lost in the political and economic confusion of China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of the republic in one capacity or another since 1927, was casting about for a new role in the tragedy of the Far East.

Afflicted externally by Communist armies and internally by the venality of black marketeers and corrupt government officials, Chiang has been in the position of a man attempting to build a house on a pile of soggy refuse.

Now, however, there was a report out that Chiang had decided to quit the presidency of China. But there also were indications that, far from going into retirement, he would remain as Kuomintang strong man by becoming premier.

A spokesman for the Kuomintang, China's governing party, said that the generalissimo was determined to free himself from the presidency in order to lead a "holy war" against the increasingly powerful Chinese Communists.

According to latest reports, Chiang was urging that Dr. Hu Shih be elected president. Former ambassador to Washington, Hu Shih now is president of Peking university.

PALESTINE:

Trusteeship

Studiously ignoring the groups and individuals who threw up their hands in horror when the U. S. reversed its position on partition of Palestine, this nation went right ahead with its avowed plan for a United Nations trusteeship of the Holy Land.

Disclosing some of the details of that plan, Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the U.N., told security council members that the United States favors sending foreign troops to Palestine to keep order, if and when that becomes necessary, under the trusteeship formula.

Unmistakably implied, although not stated outright, was U. S. willingness to send American troops to the Holy Land, provided other nations would join the parade also. Another provision was that the number of nations supplying troops be specifically limited.

Actually, there was little optimism that the fratricidal strife in Palestine or the causes producing it could be effaced by the expedient of imposing a U.N. trusteeship.

NUMBER ONE

Public Friend

Carl C. Countryman again wants to be President of the United States. With true political ebullience he has dubbed himself "American Public Friend Number One" and adopted a monolithic slogan: "Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman."

That this near-palindromic tongue-twister is intended to strike sparks of devotion from the flinty hearts of American voters is apparent in Countryman's frank statement that: "My campaign must be for overwhelming publicity and an appeal to the imagination of the American people. I have a lot of evidence that my slogan, 'Countryman for his countrymen; his countrymen for Countryman,' is doing the trick."

Countryman is not a myth. He is not a hoax himself, nor is he trying to perpetrate a hoax through his presidency campaign. He is just a man, getting along in years now, who is serving the sincere belief that he could do better in the White House than the political figureheads in vogue.

He is, in the parlance of the cynics and light-tongues; a "character," but an honest character.

Countryman opposes communism: "I want no part nor dealings with the Communist usurpers, who represent but a small fragment of the great Russian people."

Countryman opposes the military draft: "The draft is a subterfuge of incompetence. I favor making universal military training so attractive that it will be universal or approximately so."

Countryman's name will appear on no primary election ballots: "The gain inherent in such a course will not justify the necessary expenditure of time and money."

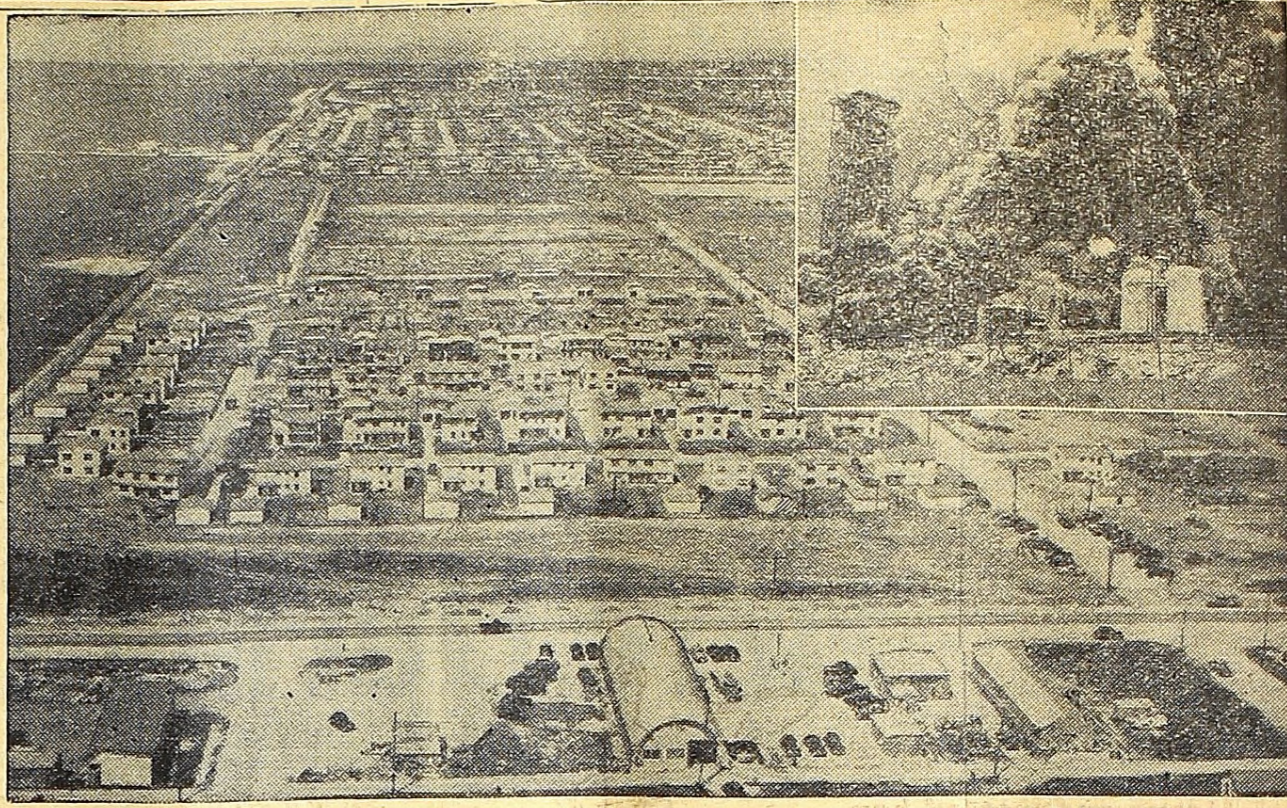

Countryman likes John Bricker of Ohio: "If I cannot get the nomination, I am all for Bricker. I should like to have the ticket Countryman and Bricker but if not, then Bricker and Countryman."

There is a truism which holds that universally present in the heart of every man is the belief that he could play Hamlet and run a newspaper. Countryman brings that deeply felt human motivation to the height of true nobility. For in his heart is the crowning belief that he also could be a good president.

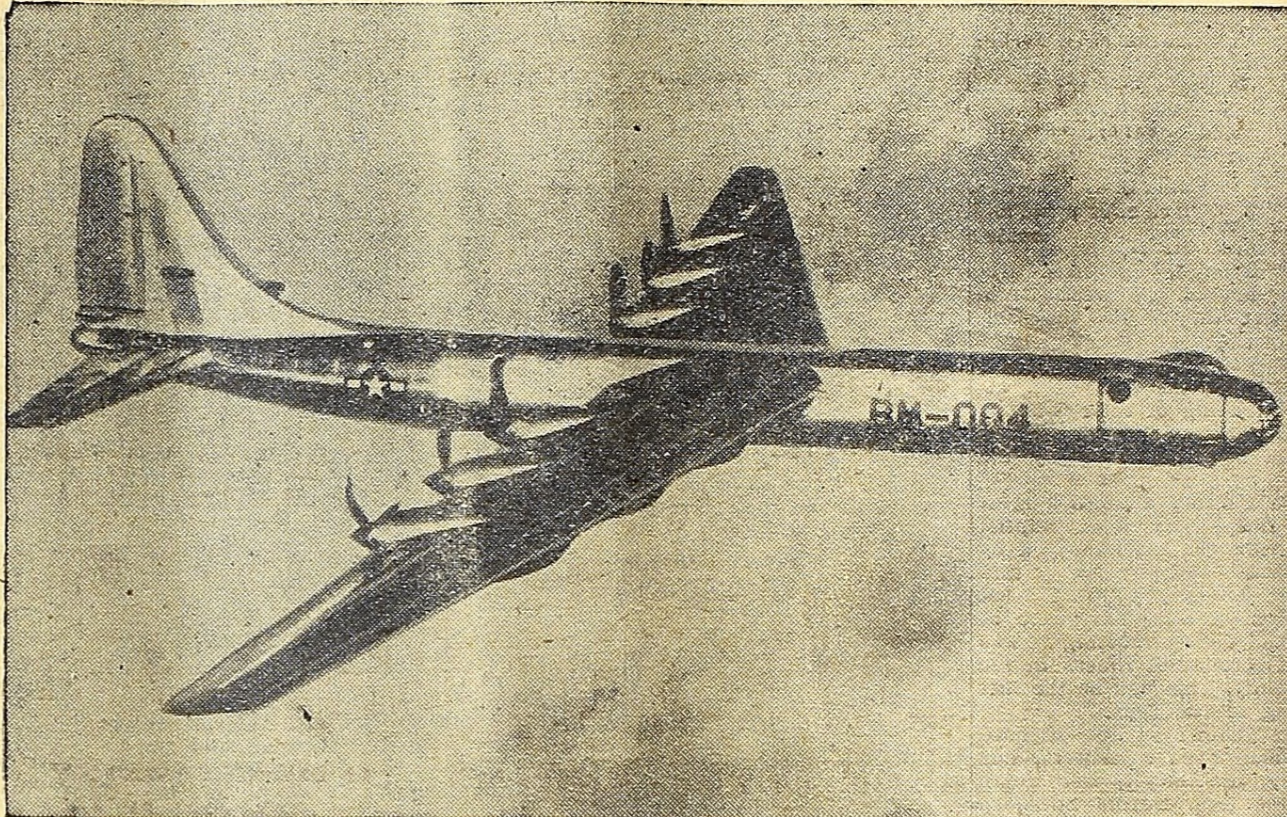

Seek Uranium

Uranium—that most precious of all metals since advent of the atomic age—is being sought in Colorado now.

Department of the interior has set aside about 40 square miles of public land in the southwestern part of the state for exclusive use of the atomic energy commission, which will conduct an exhaustive investigation there for deposits of uranium, source of atomic energy.

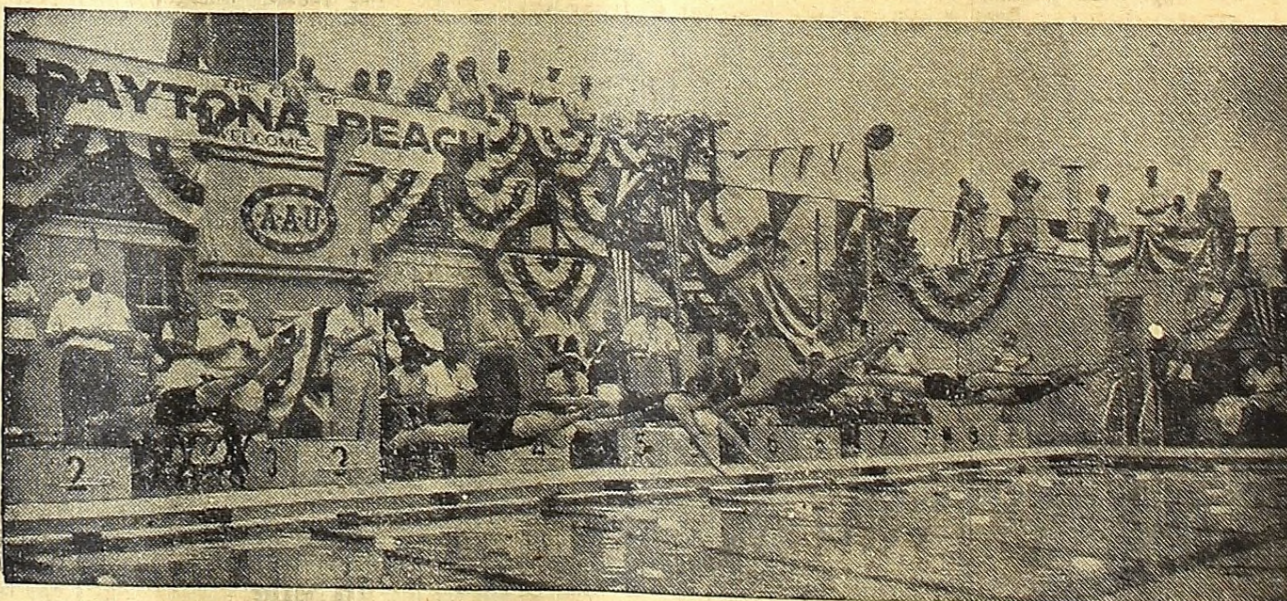

TEXAS CITY RISES FROM WRECKAGE. A year after the atom-like blasts of an exploding nitrate-laden freighter virtually wiped out the entire community, Texas City is rising from the ashes of its destruction like the legendary phoenix. A year ago storage tanks were sending forth sky-high flames (inset) hours after the first blasts raced through the city. Today a new city is being built. Photo shows part of a new housing project, one of many of this type, now under construction. The two-story buildings, each housing two families, will accommodate some of the hundreds of homeless residents who have been living in trailers.

NOT EXACTLY POCKET SIZE. The way things go these days it is difficult to say, at any given moment, which is the world's biggest or fastest airplane. Right now, however, the world's largest bombing plane is the Consolidated Vultee B-36. It can carry 10,000 pounds of bombs for 10,000 miles. The huge ship, fuselage of which is shaped like a torpedo, is driven by six 28-cylinder engines that give it a total of 18,000 horsepower. It has a wingspan of 230 feet, length of 163 feet and is nearly 47 feet high—equal to the height of a four-story building—when in taxiing position.

BIKINI EVACUEES MAKE ANOTHER MOVE. Evacuated from Bikini atoll when the U. S. armed services were conducting "Operation Crossroads" with the atomic bomb, these Bikini natives lived for the past two years on the island of Rongerik. They found conditions unsuitable, however, and asked to be moved. Here, some of them are leaving a ship at Kwajalein, their new home. Apparently each move they make brings them a step closer to civilization. In contrast to their former habit, all now wear clothes. Kwajalein is to be only a temporary home for these Pacific nomads until a permanent one can be found.

SWIM MEET OFF TO FLYING START. Girl competitors in the national AAU championship swimming meet at Daytona Beach, Fla., are off to a flying start in one of the heats of the 100-yard free-style event which is always a spectacular race from the standpoint of the spectators. Ann Curtis of San Francisco (in lane six) won this particular heat, but Marie Corridor of New York flashed to a new women's AAU indoor record of 59.9 seconds to win the final heat. Her time was only a half-second short of the world's record.

Window Treatments in Home Pay Big Dividends in Cheer

By Erta Haley

WHAT else that costs so little and still means so much can you do for a room than redecorate your windows? All other investments like new furniture, rugs or knick-knacks can run into a lot more dollars than curtains or draperies, and yet their effect is not as great.

You can achieve an absolutely new room with window treatments of various kinds, and if you have a lot of remnants plus imagination, you actually can redecorate with just windows alone.

If you can't embark on redecorating in a big way, see what a bit of fringe or ruffle will do! Or, re-dye some of your sheers for the kitchen or bedroom. You can even dye feed sacks for very little and make tiered curtains for kitchen or hall.

Take a critical look at the windows in your home and ask yourself these questions:

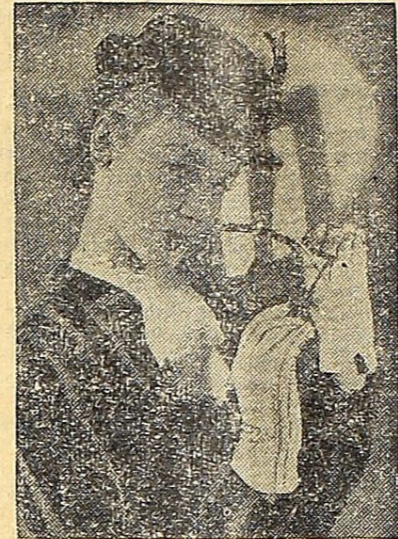

1. Do the curtains or draperies flatter the window and room?
2. Do they darken the light room or lighten the dark room?
3. Is the color flattering to the room and its contents?
4. Is the style in keeping with the general effect?

Ruffles Will Provide Cheery Effect in Room

Ruffles may be used in kitchen, bedroom, playroom, sun porch or an informal sitting room. If you have ruffles, and you want more for a more pronounced or cheery effect, they're easy to make and add to curtains you already have.

If you are using plain half curtains—let's say on the lower half of

Casual Gloves

White is always right for spring gloves and this year, white pigskins are being shown to go with suits for casual and street wear. Wearing a pert bowler and white "stock," this young lady completes her costume with white, finger-free pigskin gloves. These American-made gloves have black saddle stitching and a "V" opening at the wrist.

and fourth of the dye and hold the top of the section out of the bath.

For the third fourth of the dye, keep the two top sections out of the bath. Add the remaining dye for just the bottom section.

If you desire a variegated dye effect, use the above dyeing technique, but do not stitch and dye the material. With each additional dipping enough color will be absorbed by the panel above to give a variegated effect.

Unusual Windows Benefit With These Tricks

If you have two small windows where the effect would be better with one large window, cover the separating area of the wall between the two windows with another drapery, hanging your swag over the center drapery, but under the two outside ones.

Make a small window look larger by hanging the draperies on the wall beside the window, leaving the entire window area exposed except for the frames.

Here's a lovely way to treat bay windows. Frame the bay window with a deep ruffle and two draperies only, using Priscilla curtains at each window. Dye ruffle and draperies to room color and tint the Priscillas one of the curtain shades.

Give your bedroom more depth by framing curtains at the head of the bed to make it appear as though a window were there.

Selection of Colors Plays Major Role in Renovation

In renovating your rooms for the spring and summer, selection of colors will play an important role. It spells the difference between a dull, lifeless room and one that is cheerful and livable.

There are three primary colors—red, yellow and blue. All others are formed by combining these three in varying degrees and by addition of black or white to darken or lighten the value.

To make a small room appear larger, utilize the cool or receding colors, such as the light blues, grays, greens, ivories and off-whites. The warm or advancing colors, such as red, terra cotta, rose, brown and tan, have the opposite effect, appearing to reduce the size of the room.

Rooms which are too large can be brought together by using big, over-scale wallpaper patterns in warm colors.

Be Smart!

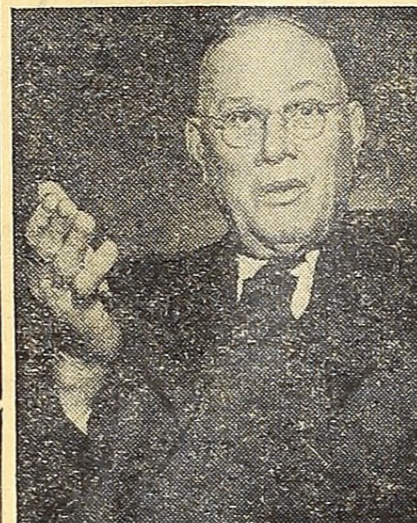

Two new ideas are sketched in the outfit here. High color contrast and a revival of the long linen coat are very new. The dress with its sleek mandarin collar and virtual sleevelessness is in mauve linen, while the coat is a rich green. The linen is, of course, treated for crush resistance.

ERP HEAD... Paul G. Hoffman, president of Studebaker corporation, has been appointed to receive directorship of the European recovery program, most important government economic post since the war's end.

YOUNGSTER... Refusing to admit she is old, even though she just celebrated her 105th birthday anniversary, Mrs. Emily Richards of San Francisco still delights in receiving gentlemen callers and gifts of flowers.

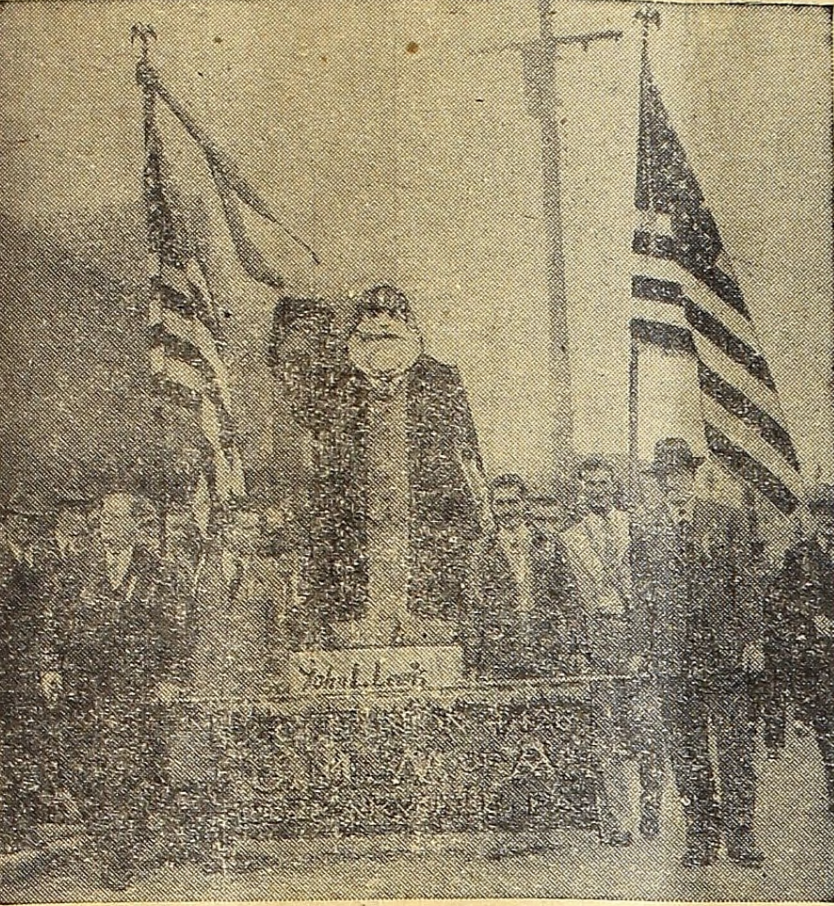

'UNDEMOCRATIC'... AFL President William Green told senate armed services committee that a temporary draft is desirable, but that universal training would serve only to weaken the hand of this nation in foreign affairs. He called UMT 'undemocratic.'

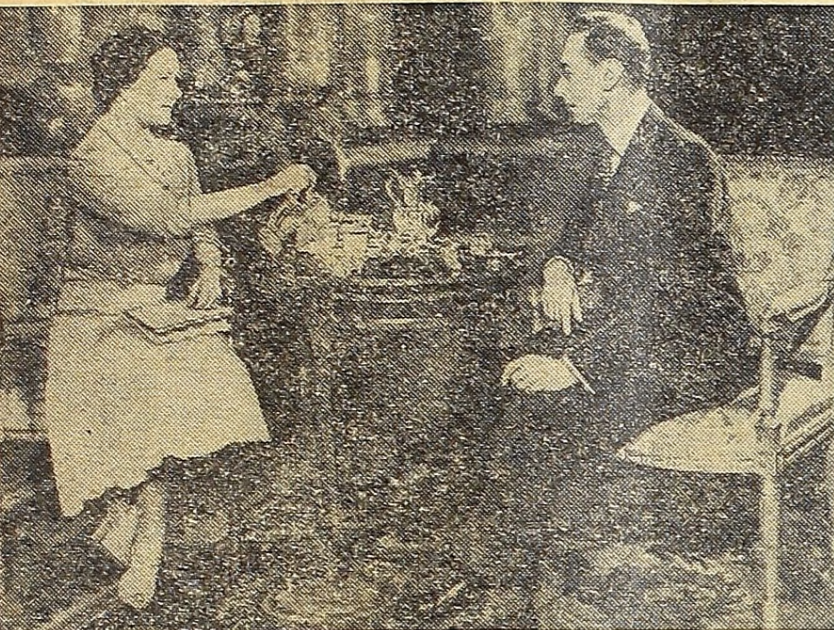

O! PIONEERS... William Honhold (left) and Robert D. Eaton of Sewickley, Pa., applied to Secretary of the Interior Julius Krug for 'all rights and privileges' to the moon through the bureau of land management under the federal homestead act. Krug turned them down.

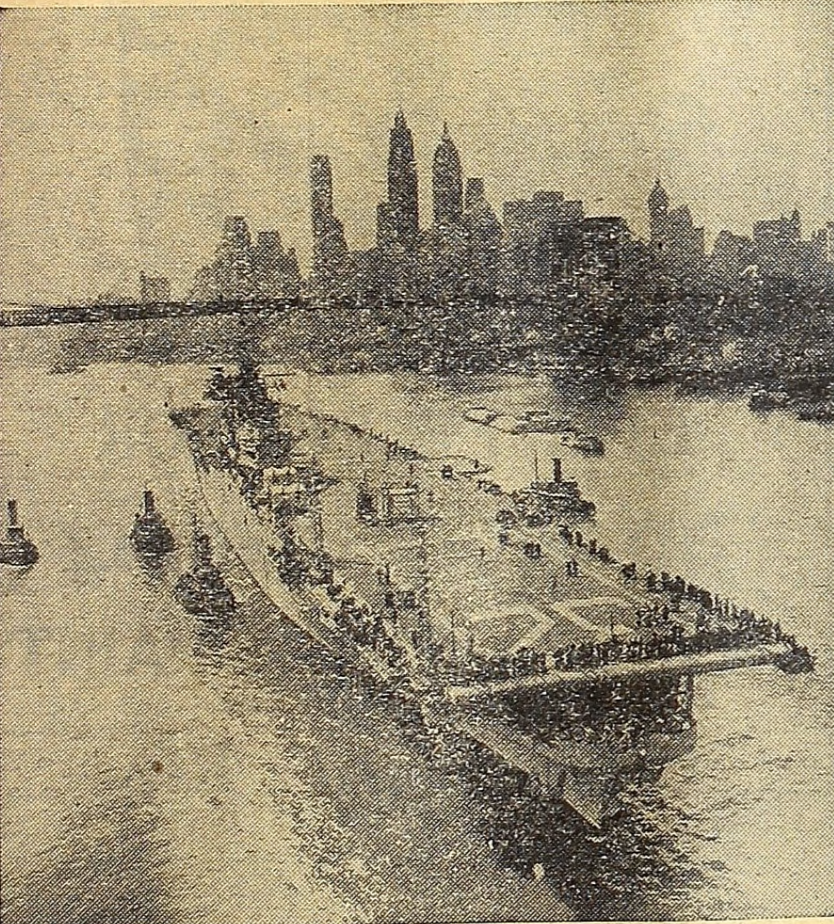

GUERRILLA... This girl, 16 years old, is a guerrilla soldier, captured by Greek troops after having been wounded during fighting on Hellenikon mountain. Greek army reports women guerrilla fighters have become more numerous.

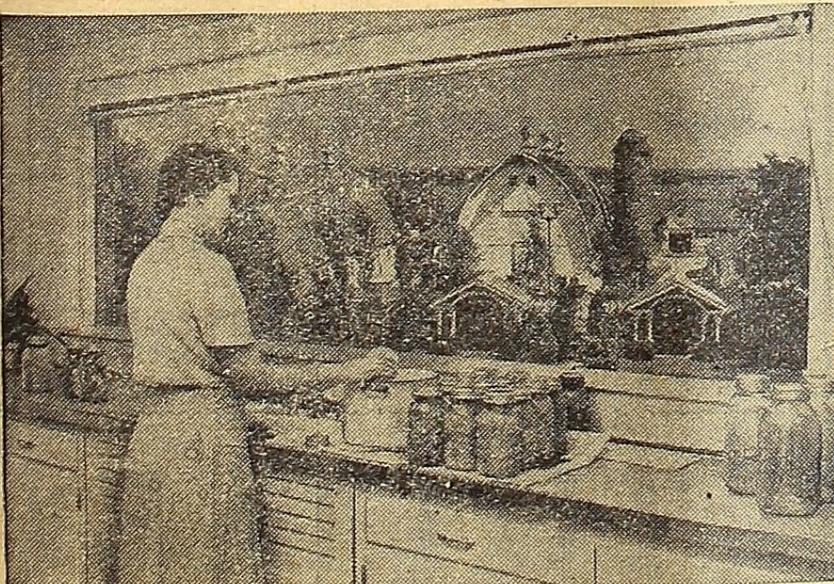

THE GREAT MAN MARCHES IN EFFIGY... John L. Lewis took part in the parade that marked 'John Mitchell Day' at New Kensington, Pa., but he didn't quote once from Shakespeare or rage grandiloquently at the Tar-Hartley act. He was there only in effigy as a member of the Hamarville delegation. John Mitchell, incidentally, was the UMW president who first won the eight-hour day for miners.

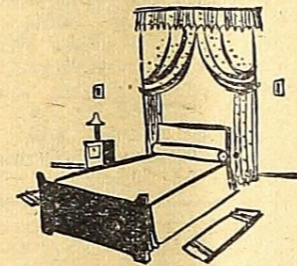

ROYALTY BEGINS AT HOME... King George VI and his Queen Elizabeth appear to exude domestic contentment as they enjoy coffee in their Buckingham palace apartments while England prepares to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. King George, then Duke of York, married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon on April 26, 1923. They, as everyone knows, have two daughters, Princess Elizabeth, heiress-apparent to the throne, and Princess Margaret Rose.

RETURN OF A CARRIER... Nicest thing about pictures of warships is that they invariably have interesting scenic backgrounds. Here, the lower New York skyline serves as a backdrop for the aircraft carrier Leyte as she passes the Brooklyn bridge. The Leyte was docked at Brooklyn navy yard for overhauling after returning from a tour of duty in the Mediterranean.

THROWING NO STONES... This is a transparent example of how attractive living in a farm home can be. The Pine Manor farm home of Milo Miller near Goshen, Ind., has five large picture windows, including this one in the utility room which overlooks the farm yard. Glass is of two-pane construction enclosing dehydrated air space for insulation, eliminating drafts and frosting of window in winter.

Place curtains over bed...

the window—add a narrow ruffle to the top of the window either in the same material and color as the curtains or in a contrasting solid or print of cotton remnant. Be sure you pick up one of the colors in the room when doing this.

If you have some windows without curtains, you can make the room less barren-looking by using a two-tiered ruffle at the very top of the windows. Make one ruffle of solid color and the other of a contrasting print. Here again, use colors you already have in the room.

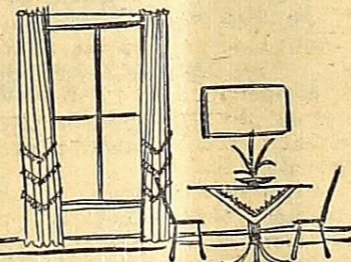

If you are using sheer curtains in some part of the house, you can add rows of ruffles to sheer panel curtains, tinting them all to the same curtain shade. This is an easy way to get expensive looking curtains that cost little more than time. You may use good portions of other sheer curtains for the ruffling.

For a window—usually a small one in the hall—where you want to shut out a poor out-of-doors scene, use solid color at the window and make several rows of wide, full ruffles.

Make Pretty Windows With Feed Sacks

Feed sacks, if dyed and pressed carefully, may be used for playrooms, children's rooms, bathroom or kitchen.

One way to do this is to dye them and stitch together for the necessary length, placing a ruffle at each seaming.

Another way is to dye them in several colors for a rainbow effect and seam together. The effect is so good that it quite belies its inexpensive origin.

Unusual Effects Possible With Use of Color

Here's a good idea for the living or dining room. If you have venetian blinds, dye the tapes and paint the venetian blind slats with one of the room colors. Dye the drapes a second color, and then use two sways at the top, one dyed to match the tapes, another to match the draperies.

A dramatic effect can be achieved by what is known as tie-dyeing. To do this, run basting stitches across the width of the curtain, dividing into four sections, the largest at the bottom. Pull up the thread and wrap around the curtain and tie tightly. In a dye-bath made up of one fourth of the dye, dye the entire curtain a very pale tint of the color you have chosen. Add a sec-

WHITTEMORE SCHOOL NOTES

Junior-Senior Banquet
The first graduation activity occurred Friday night when the Junior Class, under the direction of their class advisor, Mr. Roberts honored the seniors at the traditional banquet. In the study hall the tables were placed in the form of a large W and the motto of the graduating class "Excelsior" was on the rear wall in gold and gray colors.

Guests of the Juniors, in addition to the Seniors, were the faculty and school board members.
Following the banquet Clare Kief, who was the toastmaster, announced the speakers. Rita Groulx, Junior President, gave a welcome to the Seniors, which was responded to by Viola Ferris, of the class of '48. A duet, "Among My Souvenirs," was sung by Irene and Norene Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Oates, who also played for the duets sung by Arlene Dorsey and JoAnn Goupil. Superintendent Van Petton gave a splendid talk to the group, using the Senior motto, Excelsior, as his subject.

The speaker of the evening was Russell McKenzie of Tawas City, a former student and also a teacher in the Whittemore school. After a number of clever stories—mostly fictional concerning the students and faculty, Mr. McKenzie gave a most interesting and worthwhile speech to the group.

The school song concluded the program, after which dancing was enjoyed. Mrs. Charles Bellville played for the dancing.
Whittemore Places in District Forensic Contest
The district forensic contest comprising the high schools of Whittemore, East Tawas, Standish and West Branch, was held in West Branch, on Thursday, April 15. The three contestants from Whittemore Ida Bentley Larry Bellinger, Ada Louise Perry and their coach, Mrs. Florence E. Perry attended.
This was the first time in a number of years that Whittemore has been represented and the school is proud to announce that Ada Perry placed third in the oratorical contest, with her oration, "Russian-American Post War Relations," and Larry Bellinger won second in oratorical declamations with a selection from "Man Against Myth," by Barrows Durham.
Seniors Plan Trip
William E. Pengelly of the Greyhound Bus Lines spoke with the Seniors last week about the trip which they are planning.
At present, their plans are to leave Whittemore Wednesday, May 5 for Chicago and to return the following Saturday. Their plans for entertainment while there include attending a broadcast, a tour of the city, rides on the elevated and the subway, a tour of Chinatown, and visits to the museum and planetarium. They will be accompanied by their sponsor, Mrs. Perry.
Films Shown
Three very interesting films were shown this week, "Michigan Mines and Timber," from the Conservation Department, and "Beauty from Within," which dealt with foods and nutrition and was of special interest to Home Economics and Biology classes.
Mrs. Keeler Ill
Mrs. Keeler, who has cooked the hot lunches at the school for several years has been ill for several weeks. The school children and faculty miss her and hope she may soon be well enough to be back.
Mrs. Emily Fortune is taking over the management of the kitchen until her return.

Watering Houseplants

Don't water houseplants too often the experts say. Never just wet the surface of the soil. Apply enough water so all the soil in the pot is saturated and water drips from the drainage hole in the pot. A plant needs water when tapping on the side of the pot makes a hollow sound.

AN auto-wise Detroit editor writes, "Hudson... will still be in a seller's market after the buyers' market returns!" A Cleveland motor-car writer, "The public is in for a thrill!" From a San Francisco auto editor's column, "Hudson has really hit the jackpot!"

And so it goes—right around the nation! Men who have "seen everything" in automobiles go for the New Hudson.

It is the only American-built motor car you step down into when entering, not up on! This new development brings you sensational advantages—among them, newly streamlined beauty that would otherwise be impractical.

This new kind of motor car is only five feet from ground to top, yet by stepping down, you get more head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car built today—and there's good road clearance, too!

Because you step down, Hudson's new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged, box-steel foundation frame—and this brings you a new measure of added safety.

You ride within this frame—cradled between axles—not on top of a frame as in the past. Hudson's new, lower center of gravity and rugged basic structure give this car delightful roadability—a hug-the-road way of going, especially on curves, that is so safe, so serene, so smooth, it is unlike anything you've known before!

See the new motor car the experts cheer. The nearest Hudson dealer will show it to you now! Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14.

EXCEPTION

By PAUL TULIEN

DOWN in the well, with no way of getting out and with little hope of rescue, Chris Thornton remembered the line he had written over and over in his copybook some 40 years before. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." He could fairly see the large round letters he had so laboriously formed with pen held stiffly in ink-smearing fingers.

The line had had little meaning for him then—just some words that he must write over and over until Miss Curry was satisfied. And Miss Curry had been hard to satisfy. Its meaning was brought home sharply to him now—when perhaps it was too late.

However, the former owner of the farm had let so many things about the place run down that he had time only to take care of what seemed most necessary. Undoubtedly, he thought ruefully, it would have been wiser to replace the rotten boards that covered the abandoned well, even though his cows might have stepped over a fallen wire to trample his promising corn.

All day he had been fixing fences, and coming home he had forgotten about the well which he could not see in the darkness. An ankle had been hurt in the fall—perhaps sprained or broken. It was swollen and painful, and probably would be worse by morning.

He struck a match and looked at his watch. Twenty to nine. Surely it must be later than that, for it seemed like hours since he had fallen. He held the watch to his ear; it was running now anyway.

Never before had a night been so unending. Snatches of sleep came at intervals, sleep broken by torturous dreams in which he was forever climbing, yet never quite reaching the top.

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

The farm lay in a lonely place and a car seldom passed over the grass-grown road. He had had few visitors during the months he had lived here. Lou Edwards, his nearest neighbor, had stopped in several times, but it was unlikely that Edwards would come again soon for he had little time for visiting since his last boy had left.

Thornton knew that a man could climb out of a well without a ladder by bracing his back against one side and getting a toehold between the stones on the opposite side. He had seen it done though he had never tried it himself. To try it now, when his foot was so painful he could not stand on it, was out of the question. "Should've busted my neck instead," he muttered bitterly. "That would have ended the misery sooner."

The stars faded from the small circle of sky that he could see. Gradually light entered the well. Whining softly, his dog looked down at him; probably she had been sitting there all night, waiting for him to come up. If only there were a way to have the dog summon help. He might as well forget that. There wasn't any way.

He wished it would rain, for enough water might run down into the well to satisfy his growing thirst. Then too, Edwards might find time to come; his other visits had been made on rainy days. Might as well forget that too. It wouldn't rain.

Why did that copybook line keep looming before his eyes? Otherwise he never thought of things that happened so long ago. Of course, otherwise he had other things to think about—like worrying about the crops or planning something else. Such worries looked pretty inconsequential now. And unless he could get out of the well, there wouldn't be any more planning.

Thinking of the line made him think of the boys who had been his schoolmates and playmates in those long-past days—Tom, George, Cecil, Jimmy, Fred and many others whose names he could not even recall. Where were they now? He hadn't seen one of them for years.

Dimly their faces appeared out of the past, and then the line came bobbing back, blotting them out. "NEVER PUT OFF TILL TOMORROW WHAT YOU CAN DO TODAY." Why couldn't the line stay away, he thought angrily. It couldn't do him any good now.

His dog began barking—at a squirrel maybe. Or was somebody coming? He shouted for help, hopefully at first, but as the minutes went by, despairingly.

The dog continued to bark. Probably at a squirrel, for there were many of them about.

"Where are you?" some one called faintly.

After the stranger had found a ladder and helped him out, Thornton said, "I should have fixed that long ago. 'Way back when I was in the second grade I wrote in my copybook about 'never put off till tomorrow what you can do today,' and I've certainly found out now how wise that is."

"I suppose that makes good sense always," agreed the other, "unless there's an exception to prove the rule."

"Well, if every rule has an exception, this has no exception, anyway," Thornton said, adding suddenly, "Say, how did you happen to come?"

"I represent the Valley Farmer. Your subscription has run out."

Thornton laughed. "There's the exception we were talking about. I got a letter from your paper a month ago asking me to renew. I've put off sending the money again and again, but if I hadn't put it off, you wouldn't have come today."

How long, he wondered, could a man live without water? And how soon would anyone miss him? Not soon enough, he was certain.

LET'S TALK ABOUT YOU

BY CHARLES B. ROTH

Why Be a Negative?

There are some persons—too many, I am forced to declare—who live under the handicap of a personality that has a negative tinge.

In psychology we recognize them as a definite and an unpleasant group. We classify them. We name them. We call them negatives, and the disease from which they suffer—for it is really a chronic mental state of unhealth—we call negativism.

A person with a negativistic personality always is ready to argue the other side of the question. You make a statement. He says: "Oh, I don't know about that. Listen." And then the battle is on. For an exhibition of downright contrariness, the negativistics always are on hand.

They do not really know that they handicap themselves by this trait. To the contrary. They are proud of their bold, contrary attitude. They will tell you it is a sign of courage and strong will. All of which is piffle.

A negativistic tendency, far from being a sign of strong will and intelligence, is definite evidence of an adult who hasn't grown up and who is dumb in the bargain!

Dr. M. M. Reynolds, careful observer of human traits, made a study of negativism in babies. It begins to appear at the age of six months, he found. Then it gradually subsides. Intelligent children exhibit negativism less than dull children. Wherever it persists, it is a sign of deficient intelligence and a mind that won't grow up. And to have negativism is not a thing of which to be proud.

Closely akin to negativism is a commoner trait. We call it stubbornness. One-third of us are born stubborn, grow up stubborn, die stubborn—to the everlasting damage of our personalities. For like negativism, stubbornness is a sign of mental deficiency and inadequacy. The stubborn person isn't strong; he is merely weak; he is afraid that if he gives in, yields a point, he never again will be able to climb back to the same degree of vantage. Therefore he sits tight.

If you have negativistic or stubborn tendencies, don't give up heart. You can get over both. Just examine your own mental outlook. Do you find yourself taking the opposite side of questions? Do you find yourself holding your ground when there is no reason for it, no need of it?

Then guard against both these tendencies of yours. Watchfulness you must exercise. But you can win if you try. And you must win, because no negative, no stubborn personality was ever a successful, a likeable or a charming personality.

Job Injuries Increase In Postwar Industry

U.S. economy is expanding under the pressure of postwar necessity, but that almost frantic expansion is taking a high toll in deaths and injuries of workers.

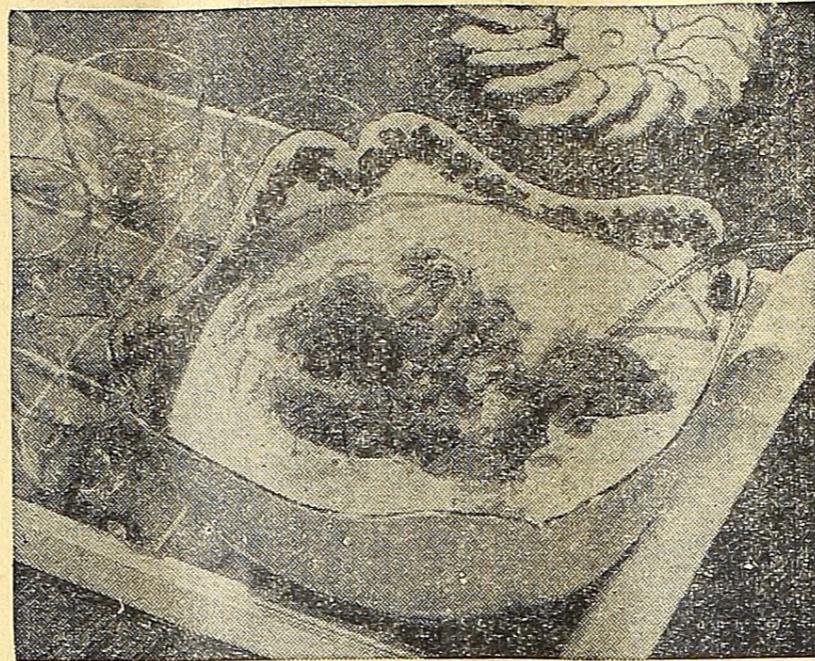

Last year, the bureau of labor statistics reports, was the seventh in a row in which more than two million workers suffered disabling injuries on the job. Time lost during the year because of injuries amounted to 44.7 million man-days—the equivalent of a year's full-time employment for about 150,000 persons. Giving even greater pause was the fact that 17,000 persons were killed in job accidents during 1947.

Bureau of labor statistics puts the blame, to a large extent, on rising employment. Another factor last year, however, were two major industrial disasters—the Texas City explosion and the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster—both of which took heavy tolls.

Job injuries in 1947 increased 1 per cent over 1946, job injury deaths jumped 3 per cent. The year's toll included 1,800 employees who will be totally disabled for the rest of their lives and another 90,000 who will suffer some permanent impairment as long as they live.

Increases in injuries and deaths occurred in construction, mining and quarrying, public utilities and trade. Agriculture injuries were fewer.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Welcome the Crowd with Mocha Punch (See recipes below)

Good Refreshers

Versatile homemakers keep supplies on hand to prepare tasty refreshments for unexpected friends who may drop in for a visit or after a game of bowling or golf.

It's well to keep the cookie jar stocked for just such occasions. Another idea is to keep packaged ice cream in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator or the home freezer and your problem of what to serve is solved. There are any number of ways to serve ice cream with frozen, fresh or canned fruit, and, of course, it's wonderful to use in milk shakes, sodas, sundaes and coolers that can be prepared with little effort.

A large bowl of milk punch with ice cream floating on top will be a taste-tempting and satisfying drink to serve for a large crowd. Press this with cookies or sandwiches made from items on the emergency shelf. Any large bowl may be used for the punch.

Mocha Punch (Serves 12)

- 1 quart chocolate ice cream
- 1 quart freshly-made coffee, chilled
- 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
- Few grains of salt
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg

Chill coffee in refrigerator. To prepare punch, pour coffee into punch bowl, add half of the ice cream, salt, and stir until partially melted. Whip cream until stiff, add flavoring and blend. Fold in whipped cream and rest of ice cream. Sprinkle lightly with nutmeg and serve immediately.

What about those easy to bake cookies at the last minute? Yes, refrigerator cookies are wonderful made just before serving because they take less than a quarter of an hour to bake. Have the dough ready for just such emergencies as this.

Butterscotch Refrigerator Cookies (Makes 50)

- 1/2 cup butter or shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Work shortening or butter until light and fluffy. Add sugar gradually and cream until light. Add well-beaten egg and vanilla and mix thoroughly. Sift together dry ingredients. Add gradually blending thoroughly. Shape into a roll and wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroughly. Cut in slices 1/8-inch thick and bake on sheets in a hot (375 degree) oven for 10 minutes.

Here are other cookies which keep well and are nice to have already in the cookie jar:

Hermits (Makes 4 dozen)

- 3/4 cup lard
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together the lard and sugar. Add eggs, and then fold in flour which has been sifted with the spices. Just before all the flour

Refrigerators should be defrosted at least once a week. Excess forming of ice can be avoided if you keep the door closed. Get what you need out of the refrigerator quickly to prevent air from entering.

The interior of the refrigerator may be cleaned with warm water to which is added a bit of baking soda. Never use abrasives on the enamel.

is blended add the nuts and raisins. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased or oiled cookie sheet about two inches apart. Bake in a moderately hot (375 degree) oven for 15 minutes.

Apple Butter Cookies (Makes 24)

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 cup apple butter or tart jam
- Granulated sugar

Cream together shortening and sugar; add egg. Sift together the dry ingredients and blend in alternately with buttermilk. Chill until easy to handle. Roll to an eighth of an inch thickness then cut with 2 1/2 inch cookie cutter. Put together in pairs with apple butter or jam in the center. Press edges together with a fork. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on greased cookie sheet about an inch apart and bake in a very hot (400 degree) oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

If the crowd is hungry you can add some sandwiches to serve with the punch or milk shakes if you are entertaining a crowd of youngsters. Here are sandwiches easy to make with materials easy to keep on hand:

Devised ham and cream cheese with lettuce on whole wheat or rye bread.

Egg salad alone or combined with sliced ham or tongue on wheat or white bread.

Peanut butter mixed with honey and chopped dates on toasted white bread.

Crisp bacon, crumbled and mixed with cold baked beans and chopped mustard pickle on white bread.

Cold canned chicken, chopped and mixed with celery, minced and green pepper.

Finely diced bologna with finely shredded cabbage, prepared mustard, salt and moistened with sandwich spread.

Cold meat loaf sliced thin and spread with chili sauce.

Dried beef, washed and minced, then mixed with cream cheese and seasoned with minced onion and a dash of horseradish.

Prepared Smithfield ham with cream cheese or chopped hard-cooked eggs or mayonnaise.

Ground leftover meat (pork, beef or ham roast) mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, grated raw carrots and mayonnaise.

Minced baked or cooked ham mixed with chopped hard-cooked eggs, and seasoned with a dash of dry mustard, mayonnaise and a bit of grated onion and Worcestershire sauce.

Devised ham mixed with chili sauce and softened butter, spread on freshly toasted white bread.

Tuna fish and chopped olives, mixed with mayonnaise.

Peanut butter combined with orange juice and chopped dates.

The outside should be wiped daily to prevent an accumulation of dirt. A damp cloth to remove fingerprints as soon as they are made will keep the finish gleaming.

Wipe spilled foods immediately before they get a chance to dry and require an extra portion of elbow grease.

Dust which accumulates in the unit compartment at the bottom of the refrigerator should be cleaned out periodically.

Ranges will give better service if pilot lights are always kept clean.

Bug May Stop Races

Empty racetrack stables and deserted bridge paths were projected as possible scenes of 1948, if an invisible "bug" now at large is allowed to go uncontrolled in America's horse population. This "bug" is a virus that causes equine infectious anemia, better known as swamp fever, an insidious malady of horses and mules that either kills outright or wrecks the health of the victims for life, according to American Veterinary Medical association. Common symptoms are described as intermittent attack of fever, marked loss of weight, inflammation of the eyes and swelling in various parts of the body, especially in the abdomen and legs.

ETERNAL ASSURANCE

Grace Noll Crowell

THROUGHOUT the ages men have ever clung To the everlasting promises of God. When loss and grief and suffering have wrong Their hearts, the pilgrims journeying on earth's sod Have turned their faces skyward, and will turn Forever toward the arching starlit skies, Where steadfastly his silver fires burn Like words of flame before their seeking eyes.

O men, behold! Lift up your eyes and see Who hath created them. He brings them out, He names each one—he knows their destiny. Not one will fail! Oh, we so prone to doubt, Can we not trust the One through life's brief hour, Who has such infinite, unailing power?

Hand Labor Stopped

When the horse hay-rake came into use about 1820, it took over the work of from 8 to 10 men. Implements used to prepare the soil for seeding in the period preceding 1820 included the hoe, a simple shovel plow and various forms of wooden plows. At this time 83.1 per cent of the entire working population of the United States were engaged in agricultural pursuits.

River of Stairways

Africa's largest river, the Congo, is a water stairway. Boats sail up the stream until they come to a falls. Passengers and goods are routed around the falls by railroad and continue on another boat until the next cataract is reached. Only the Nile river in Africa exceeds it in length. The Congo has a length of 3,000 miles.

Easily Built Garage with Extra Storage Space

If you know the difference between a hammer and a saw, you shouldn't have any difficulty with this 13 ft. x 20 ft. garage. Even if you don't want to do all the building yourself, the pattern method of construction provides all the information needed to buy your own materials and to act as your own contractor.

With the purchase list of materials you can shop around for the 2x4s and other lumber as easily as shopping for groceries. Then by following the step by step directions and assembly illustrations you can do all or part of the work yourself.

As the floor plan indicates, there is ample space for even the longest car. Best of all this garage provides a separate storage space for garden tools. Entry to this room is from the outside. Here the lawn mower, rakes, roller and other garden tools, as well as a bicycle or two, can be stored without cluttering up the garage.

Along one wall, directly below two casement windows, there is room for a six foot workbench. Toward the rear is a closet that can be used for any number of good ideas. It's large enough for a deep freeze unit or for a reserve canned goods supply; screws or storm sash, paints, darkroom or endless other uses.

Building the garage yourself can be lots of fun. You'll not only save a lot of money but you'll be surprised to see what a professional looking job you can turn out. Building from a pattern eliminates all guesswork. The pattern tells you what to buy and where to use each piece. Step by step directions are easy to follow. Full Size Patterns simplify making angle cuts on rafters and gable studs. All construction is laid out so that no special tools are needed. Directions for building the cupola are included.

Directions and assembly illustrations are also provided for building a breezeway connecting the garage to your house.

Farmer Blames Loss of His Arm On Baler Company

Baler Company says Warnings and Safeguard Measures are Issued But Not Heeded

MONROE, WIS.—Clarence Yaun, New Glarus farmer, who lost his right arm in a rotary hay baler, was awarded $36,500 in a suit against the manufacturer but an appeal against the verdict is almost certain.

The baler, a one man operation, rolls hay or straw into a round, compact bale. An eight foot conveyor platform carries windrowed hay into a series of fast moving metal rolls. The hay is rolled up like a carpet and is tied by twine which feeds into the machine. The roll is ejected when it reaches the correct size.

Testimony in the Yaun case showed that Yaun had encountered trouble with the twine when the machine ran over a thin part of the field and little hay fed into the baler. He left the power on between tractor and baler, got off the tractor and put one foot on the conveyor apron. He tossed a handful of hay into the rollers. The front rollers, moving at six feet a second, caught his fingers. In a flash his arm had been crushed.

Atty. Edward T. O'Neal of Fond du Lac, counsel for Yaun, charged the company with negligence.

"There was omission of safety devices that would have prevented the accident. More, there should have been automatic twine equipment so that the operator would not have to leave the tractor seat."

The jury agreed, finding that the firm was negligent for having no automatic twine feeder, no "quick stop" apparatus and no protective shield on the rolls of the machine.

Evidence presented by the manufacturer showed that Yaun was told how to operate the machine. It was owned by John Erb, New Glarus farm machinery dealer, who was doing custom work for farmers. Yaun worked for him and had been warned of the machine's dangers.

A standard safety sign on the machine said: "Never step on machine when in operation."

Company instructions warned: "Never attempt to feed twine under the press roll by hand. If the twine is not fed under the press by the material, throw a small amount of hay at a time to start under the press roll."

Company attorneys declared that the rolls "presented an obvious danger . . . (and) the machine is perfectly safe when the operator does what he is told."

Suits As Old As Power
Engineers testified that an automatic twine feeder, such as cited by the jury, had not been designed. They said they were doubtful that one could be superior to the feeder in use on the machine. They contended that the baler is accident-proof when an operator stands on the ground to toss in the hay.

The present suit is only one of many in which farm machinery operators have been charged with negligence in designing their equipment. The lawsuits started almost as soon as power farming started. Many years ago a farm tractor manufacturer finally changed gear design in the machine after he had been flooded with claims for deaths and injuries. The old gears had caused the tractors to tip over when front wheels hit a bump.

Corn shredders and ensilage cutters have been the subject of many suits. They are the most hazardous machines on the farm. Testimony has shown that no matter how many safeguards are on them, farmers still disregard flashing blades and grab an ear of corn to untangle a jam.

New Jersey Owner Builds "Atom Bombproof" House

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—Clarence Booth, Lakewood business man, is digging into a hill to build an underground residence that he says will be virtually "atom bombproof." The squat building, one floor above and one below the earth, is being reinforced with thousands of tons of concrete and steel.

The 54-year-old inventor-owner of a machine shop, who designed precision parts for the army and navy during the last war, is deadly serious about the future. He honestly believes he may be the sole survivor should this area be hit in an atom-bomb attack.

Booth is building his refuge 287 feet above sea level, highest in this area, and in such a manner that atomic bomb blast waves would wash across the top without causing injury to the building or its inhabitants, he explained. Glass-like tile has been installed as insulation against radioactivity, and the structure has an airtight locking-door system.

The building will be one solid block with a slanting roof to collect rain for storage in an underground tank as a water supply. An electric dynamo has been installed in the substructure to yield current for heating and cooking in emergencies.

"I didn't like it—you wouldn't want me to go 't school in a town that doesn't even have a juke box, would you?"

"But, Bobby, we can't send out printed announcements everytime you become engaged!"

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.
