Win in 10th on Katterman's Triple; 2 Aboard

Whittemore Will Play Tawas City Sunday At Athletic Field

With a long triple by Johnnie Katterman, with two men on, Tawas City out-lasted Hale last Sunday 3 to 1. Katterman's triple came after two were out in the top half of the tenth inning.

In a close and hard fought battle Tawas City, with Bill Mallon, out-lasted Hale and Grant Shellenbarger last Sunday to give Tawas City sole possession of second place in the NEM League standing. Both pitchers kept the hits fairly scattered with Mallon allowing eight hits and Shellenbarger five. Mallon struck out six and walked one, while Shellenbarger struck out seven and walked three.

Tawas City took a one run lead in the first inning, when Groff scored on a wild pitch. Scoring was nil until the third when Bernard, of Hale, second up, hit a line drive that went for a home run, tying up the game. That was the end of the scoring for either side until the tenth when Tawas City broke the tie. Landon, first up, was safe at first, on the shortstop's bobble; left handed Ray Coleman, batting for Gackstetter, bunted to the pitcher, forcing Landon to second on a fielder's choice; R. Landon ran for Coleman; Landon was out at second on an attempted steal; Bublitz, another lefty, batted for Thornton; walked; W. Thornton ran for Bublitz; Peterson came up and was safe when the third baseman dropped his fly ball. Thornton taking second. Katterman then put the game on ice with his long poke to right center, with Thornton and Peterson scoring, with Johnnie ending up at third.

Trying moments for Tawas City came in the eighth inning when Hale loaded the bases with one out, but failed to score a run, when Chrivia filed to center and P. Shellenbarger struck out. In the ninth, D. Landon cut Werely down at the plate with a perfect throw (Continued No. 3, Back Page)

Hospital Drive Shows Progress

BY CHARLES HAMILTON Field Secretary

The drive for funds for a Memorial Hospital continues on its way. Heartening responses continue to be made as illustrated by those of the shop crew of the D. & M. Railway. All but four of that crew made pledges and one of the four stated that he will pay his in a lump sum. That is a record worthy of emulation.

As we go to press reports are incomplete from McKay Sales, of Tawas City, Jas. H. Leslie and Sons, Tawas City and William Look Garage of East Tawas, where the men met and were given an opportunity to pledge.

Literature to farm owners in various parts of the county have been sent out and their response is awaited. An effort is being made to miss no one in the county.

John Thompson, District Manager of Consumers Power Co., with offices in Bay City forwarded the Hospital Board's request for a gift to the hospital, to the home office in Jackson with his enthusiastic approval of the project.

Courtesy to those presenting the hospital story has been present in every place visited.

Every "drive" has its human interest story. The young man in question who furnished workers with probably the greatest bit of inspiration is Charles Wright, clerk in the D. & M. Shops in Tawas City. Charles as many of our readers know was stricken with Infantile Paralysis when he was five years of age and carries with him the results of that dread disease. He told the writer that he remembers the long days and nights and watchful waiting when for 23 days at one time his mother ministered to his needs and did not change her clothes but rather forgot her own interests in her anxiety over him. He spoke of his hospital experiences and the expense incurred by his parents in going back and forth to see him in the Bay City hospital and said finally, "If my hundred dollars will help bring a hospital to our community I give it gladly and only wish I could give many times that amount."

Charles Wright is now the father of three small children. His salary cannot, by the nature of his work be a tremendous one, but he knows from personal experience the value of a hospital and his attitude is shown by his gift.

We have not had his permission to quote what he said. We are sure he would prefer to not have it printed but it was so sincere and typical of him, we wish everyone might feel, that we took the liberty to mention it.

We challenge our readers with the thought. If Charles Wright, severely handicapped physically as he is and with expanding family obligations that are his can say "Yes" as enthusiastically as he did should we not be put to shame if we pass by on the other side?

Another case is in point. A widow, who was not yet contacted for a gift sent voluntarily a really sizeable contribution with the note, "I wish I could do more."

When we have such examples of Christian Charity may we not hope and pray that those who voice objections catch the "gleam" and put away the hammer and replace it with a sharp pointed pen, good for writing checks and say, "Yes sir, we need a hospital and it can't be built on wishful thinking—here is my check."

About 20% of the money still needed had been subscribed in this recent drive. Let's get the other 80%

Alabaster Gathers 18 Isoco Youth 21 Hits at Turner Attend 4-H Camp

Playing at Turner, Alabaster had a field day gathering 21 hits, and stealing 23 bases to whip Turner 21 to 4.

Joe Martin pitching for Alabaster added 12 more strikeouts to his record, while every man on the team got at least one hit. Alabaster's Pat Erickson again took top honors in the hitting work by banging out five for seven.

What is thought to be a NEM league record for stolen bases was turned in by the Alabaster runners in piling up the formidable total of 23 stolen bags.

Next week, West Branch comes to Alabaster for what should be an excellent afternoon of baseball. Alabaster has an earlier defeat to revengue.

Whittemore Takes Twining 3-2 in 10 Innings

Whittemore nosed out Twining 3 to 2 in another 10 inning game last Sunday at Whittemore. Barr and Curriston hooked up in a pitcher's duel with each allowing seven hits. Barr striking three and Curriston 10. Whittemore scored in the first and third, while Twining scored a run in the third and fourth stanza. Not another run was scored until the last half of the tenth when Whittemore scored the winning run.

A. Kohn and C. Herriman led the Whittemore team in the hit column with Kohn banging out three and Herriman two. Ostrander, Bessinger and Curriston smashed out two hits each for Twining.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Berlin Crisis Nears Showdown; First Peacetime Draft Begins; Special Session Opens Campaign

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

NOT YET—BUT SOON

Josh sergeant now—but just wait a few months!

BERLIN: Showdown

The old familiar pattern of just one crisis after another in the cold war between Russia on the one hand and the western Allies on the other was being repeated again in the Berlin showdown. But an uneasy world watched anxiously, fearful that at any moment some crisis might explode into actual warfare.

Urgency of the Berlin crisis resulted in the recall of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military commander in Germany, and his top political adviser, Ambassador Robert Murphy, for a first-hand report on the situation.

Clay conferred with President Truman, State Secretary Marshall and Army Secretary Royall on means of carrying out the American government's intention to stay in Berlin despite the concerted Russian drive to force the western powers out.

The official line was laid down by Secretary Marshall, who said that while the United States would not be "coerced or intimidated" by the Russian blockade of Berlin, the administration nevertheless will "proceed to reach an acceptable solution to avoid the tragedy of war."

Although rumors that the Berlin blockade might prove the spark that would kindle fighting warfare permeated official quarters, the U. S. position appeared to be that this country hopes to avoid war. However, if the Russians are determined to cause more serious trouble at Berlin, this government is determined to resist force with force. It is equally determined to avoid taking any step which might make the situation more serious as long as negotiation and other diplomatic means remain open.

There will be many more talks, much painstaking deliberation among the western powers in connection with the exchange of notes regarding the Berlin blockade, irretrievably linked up as it is with the over-all German settlement.

Marking the high water mark in the deepening Berlin crisis and lending emphasis to the determination to back up its policy that American troops will not leave Berlin, the United States dispatched powerful reinforcements to its air arm in strife-torn Europe.

A big question mark still concerned Russia's ultimate objectives. Was the Kremlin merely trying to drive the Allies out of Berlin or was this but another step in the fundamental objective of moving the iron curtain inexorably westward, country by country, until it embraced the whole heartland of Europe?

The proclamation stated that youths born after September 19, 1930, will register on their eighteenth birthday, or within five days thereafter. About 1,200,000 youths come into this category yearly.

CAMPAIGN: Advanced

With the kickoff advanced six weeks through President Truman's action in calling congress back into special session, the American people are in for one of the most heated and intensive presidential campaigns in recent history.

The whole political calendar has been advanced this year. The President's opening message to the recalled congress signaled the initial salvo in the campaign, which will be in full swing until the November balloting.

Normally, national candidates wait until after Labor day before entering into thorough-going discussion of the issues of the campaign.

This year's campaign also became more involved with the addition of third and fourth parties to the field.

Although its ticket of Henry Wallace for president and Glenn Taylor for vice president was in the field months ago, third party adherents followed the Republicans and Democrats to Philadelphia for their nominating convention.

Rebellious southern Democrats, after walking out on their regular party conclave, gathered in Birmingham, Ala., to enter a fourth party in the field. Heading the states' rights ticket are Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina for president and Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi for vice president.

The states' rights Democrats have shown their greatest strength in Alabama and Mississippi, where a combined 20 electoral votes are pledged against Mr. Truman.

Research by the department of agriculture laboratory at Peoria, Ill., indicates that straw pulp can be substituted for 25 to 40 per cent of the wood pulp now used in fine and specialty papers.

The strawboard industry was established in this country around 1900, when wheat was harvested with binders and threshed. Every wheat farm then had its straw stack and the straw could be baled.

CRACKDOWN: On Reds

Uneasiness over the foreign situation was reflected in two actions directed against subversive elements on the home front.

In the greatest crackdown in history on the Communist party in this country, a special federal grand jury in New York indicted 12 party leaders on charges of conspiring and agitating to overthrow the U. S. government and of being members of a party which threatens overthrow of the government.

The special grand jury to delve into Communist activity was created in June, 1947, by order of Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark.

Included in the roundup were William Z. Foster, party chairman and several times Communist candidate for President of the U. S.; Benjamin Davis, New York City councilman; John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, and several members of the Communist national board.

Almost simultaneously, charges that several hundred foreign agents have used the United Nations to cover subversive activities here were hurled by state department representatives at a senate committee hearing.

Robert C. Alexander, assistant chief of the department's visa commission, declared that some of the agents were employees of the United Nations or came here in some way related to the U. N. Such persons are covered by the international immunities act passed in 1945.

Surprised at the charges, United Nations officials insisted that it was up to the state department to back up the charges with facts.

A check on nationalities of U. N. staff members showed that of a total of 2,944 there were 1,463 foreigners. From the "iron curtain" countries there were 108, but many were appointed before the change of governments put their homelands into the Russian sphere.

Science says that sun spots may have a definite duration. As a rule, they last but a short time, sometimes not more than a day. But one is recorded (in 1840-41) as having continued for 18 months.

Disturbed About World? Sun Spots May Hold Clue

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—If you were disturbed over the mayhem and misunderstandings rampant in the month of July, relax, there may be a scientific explanation. Sun spots.

For the first time in 11 years, there is a maximum number of ultra violet rays about, released by eruptions on the surface of the sun-rays which may cause tempers to flare, emotions to get off balance, glands to be affected so that abnormal behaviour results. This isn't fantasy. Medical science has revealed the effects of over exposure to the ultra-violet ray.

Sun spots may have been responsible for the disturbances you just read about on just one single day last July—on that day in Haiti a publisher was assassinated by an otherwise gentle young poet because the bard had lost some kind of a scholarship; a 33-year-old painter who lived near the otherwise pleasant and peaceful New England home of House Speaker Joe Martin at Attleboro, Mass., did a dance when he heard his wife was dead—it seems he had shot her in the head; here in Washington, a 22-year-old husband knocked his wife down, tried to stab her with a butcher knife, attacked an innocent passerby and started a fist fight with a policeman; a vitamin plant blew up, a prisoner became ill of benzedrine poisoning, a tanker in Chicago caught fire, Jimmy Roosevelt feuded with the other members of the California delegation and the Russians kicked up the usual fuss.

Battle for Ballots

THE Truman stock has climbed again. The President's precedent-shattering challenge to the Republican controlled congress has Washington in a dither as the lawmakers battle the campaign issues out on the floor of congress.

As this reporter pointed out in this column several weeks ago, predicting the special session call, it may be the first time in political history that political parties enact their platform pledges prior to the election.

Both platforms pledge almost the same reforms on the domestic front: Federal aid to education, civil rights, extension of social security, a national health program, a halt to the high price situation, increase in minimum wages, public and low cost housing.

The big question is: Will the Republicans have accepted the challenge by performance, rather than by promises when the curtain rings down on this special session?

Already there's a strife over the controversial issues. Democrats pledge repeal of the Taft-Hartley act—Republicans want to strengthen it. Democrats want to repeal oleo taxes—Republicans are silent on that. Democrats want to go back to the original reciprocal trade act—Republicans do not. Democrats want no change in the tax exempt status of farm cooperatives—Republicans differ among themselves. Democrats want a new displaced persons bill, one that is not "anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic" as branded by the President—Republicans generally are satisfied with the hodge-podge bill enacted at the regular session.

Tariff Problem

One paradoxical situation is that the traditional high tariff stand of the GOP on the reciprocal trade issue won out over so many important business, civic and farm groups.

These organizations had definitely taken a stand in favor of a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade program—U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Committee for Economic Development, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis club, National Farmers union, National Grange, National Federation of Small Business and Agricultural Foreign Trade committee.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the joint committee on foreign economic cooperation, is sending staff members to Europe to check on how money is spent under the European recovery program. The New Hampshire senator, also chairman of the senate appropriations committee, is probing reclamation bureau contracts and the bureau of Indian affairs.

Splinters in Solid South

The new fighting mood of President Truman has taken some of the wind out of the sails of revolting Southerners and the prediction is freely made here that should rank and file Southerners ever get a chance to vote for two Democratic candidates the President will win a majority of southern votes.

First breach in the Solid South delegations was evidenced at the national convention in Philadelphia when North Carolina refused to go all the way and cast 13 votes for Mr. Truman as against 19 for Senator Russell.

Since then, under the leavening influence of Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the vice presidential candidate, and former Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, chairman of the convention, other splinters have broken away from the Solid South front.

Private Power

This reporter took a trip recently to look over a successful private power hydro-electric set-up on the Susquehanna river in southern Pennsylvania. Here the private power interests have two efficient water power plants producing cheap electricity.

They also have developed recreational and conservation programs along the line of TVA, showing that private industry can do the job if it wants to.

But what struck this writer is that it is necessary also to have a steam generating plant nearby to "firm" power to customers because of rise and fall of waterpower in the river. Yet private power objects to and defeats appropriation for a steam plant for the same purpose in the TVA system.

Jeopardize Standing

As has been pointed out in this column heretofore, another compelling reason for a "go slow" sign on breaking away from the regular Democratic party is the seniority rating of most of the senators and representatives from the southern states. Through their long service records many hold ranking memberships on important committees and their standing might be jeopardized should the definite break with the party materialize.

Crisp Vegetables Serve as Centerpiece
(See recipes below)

Summer Vegetables
ARE YOU MAKING the most of your garden? There are so many ways to serve vegetables, especially if you have your own garden-fresh variety on hand.

Of course, you can prepare them with enchanting sauces, or toss them crisp and icy into salads, but have you ever thought of using them in a centerpiece that can be eaten? There's no disputing the fact that radish roses, celery curls, cucumber wheels and the like are very attractive. And that's the thought of many a smart homemaker who whips these fancy, easy-to-make vegetables into a centerpiece for mealtime.

Fancy gew-gaws that have been centerpiece standbys for too long a time should be retired, as strictly summer-style creations of fresh vegetables put in their place will give the family a combination eye and appetite teaser. Try these tricks:

Radish Roses
Select firm, rather long radishes with unwilted leaves. Wash thoroughly and cut tops, leaving about one inch of stem on each. With a thin sharp knife, cut thin slices lengthwise through the radish. Chill in ice water.

Cucumber Wheels
Peel cucumber; using a four-tined fork, score the cucumber lengthwise, then cut in thin slices. Chill in ice water to crisp.

Carrot Curls
Wash and scrape tender young carrots. Using an apple corer, shave off thin pieces lengthwise. Curl each piece around your finger and drop into ice water.

Carrot Straws
Wash, scrape tender young carrots and cut in eighths, then cut in narrow strips about three inches long. Cover with a damp cloth and chill in refrigerator.

Cauliflower Flowerets
Wash carefully by running under cold water; then separate raw cauliflower into flowerets. Chill in salted ice water until crisp.

Scallions
Wash well, trim green stalks. Peel onion if skin is loose or shriveled and chill in ice water.

Celery Hearts
Wash celery carefully. Remove outer stalk and save for salads or use in cooking. Trim root and cut into an oval shape. Cut through in thirds or quarters. Crisp in ice water.

HERE ARE WAYS to prepare attractive platters of vegetables:

Platter I
Place cauliflower flowerets in one corner of platter, against this the carrot curls, then radish roses. Around this one corner may be placed in sections, the following vegetables: Carrot strips, cucumber wheels and celery hearts.

Platter II
Place well chilled ripe olives and green stuffed olives in center of large platter and separate these with carrot strips and celery hearts. Divide rest of plate into four sections and in each one place the following: Tomato slices, cucumber wheels, scallions and radish roses.

COOKED VEGETABLES also may be used for pretty platters. Each vegetable should be cooked only until it is tender, and served at once. Here's a lovely platter which may be used as a main dish:

LYNN SAYS:
Keep Kitchen Cool During Hot Days

It's best to do the main part of the cooking early in the day before it becomes so warm. For example, roast meat or bake meat loaf in the morning and serve cold for evening meal.

Au gratin potatoes may be cooked, the cheese melted in a hot sauce, then mixed with potatoes, and the whole dish heated for 15 minutes in the oven.

Cauliflower Slivered Green Beans Tomatoes stuffed with Corn

Wash cauliflower and let stand in salted water for one-half hour to remove any insects. Cook in salted water for 25 to 30 minutes. The tomatoes should be firm. Wash and scoop out insides leaving the shell. Fill this with seasoned kernel corn to which has been added some chopped green pepper. These should be baked with just a little water in the bottom of the pan. The green beans should be washed carefully and picked over for any hard ends, then sliced lengthwise. They will take 30 to 40 minutes to cook. The cauliflower should be placed in the center of the platter, then banked with green beans, and the tomatoes with the corn and green pepper are placed around the green beans. Serve with melted butter.

ANOTHER PRETTY SUMMER platter uses entirely different vegetables but is very colorful:

Cabbage with Sliced Carrots Lima Beans Fried Parsnips

Parboil a large head of cabbage for 10 minutes. Remove all the inside leaves, so that only a few of the larger ones remain, leaving a huge cup. This is filled with carrots which have been sliced, or creamed if preferred, and cooked for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley. Around this place parsnips which have been cooked for seven to 15 minutes, then fried until golden brown and crisp in a buttered skillet. Lima beans are shelled and placed around that after cooking for 20 to 30 minutes in boiling, salted water.

Another platter uses a combination of colorful white, green, yellow and red vegetables:

Creamed Potatoes Carrot Strips Beets with Peas

The potatoes are cooked after peeling, then cubed and creamed. If they are small leave them whole. The carrots are cleaned, cut in strips and cooked just until tender, about 20 minutes. The beets are cooked with skins, which are slipped off in cold water after cooking. Scoop a small hole in the beets and fill with peas. Place the potatoes in the center of the platter, carrots around those, and the beets and peas around the carrots.

IF YOU HAVE a sectioned vegetable dish, you may like to serve a variety of sauces with your vegetables. Here is a nice variety from which to choose to add more snap to vegetables:

Vinegar-Bacon Sauce

Simmer one-fourth cup minced onion in one-fourth cup bacon drippings until tender but not brown. Add one-fourth cup vinegar, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one-eighth teaspoon sugar. Heat and pour over green beans, brussels sprouts, cabbage, kale or other greens.

Cheese Sauce

Place one-half pound of processed cheese in the top of a double boiler and add one-half cup of milk as soon as cheese melts. This is good with potatoes, cauliflower and broccoli.

Your Chamber of Commerce

Your Chamber of Commerce during the course of the year receives numerous letters of appreciation for the courtesy that this community shows vacationists to this area. Below is a letter received which has many good points and shows the opportunity for a greatly needed business on Tawas Bay.

"Dear Sir—First of all, let me offer my personal appreciation for the courtesy extended by your community to vacationers in your area. While spending the last ten vacations in or about your town, I have enjoyed recreation facilities which have been provided to enhance any vacation, however brief.

However, during my recent vacation from July 1 to July 19 of this year, I noticed the lack of several facilities which I believe would provide more interest to vacationers as well as increased revenue to any individual of your community who would wish to enter into additional business activity. I would like to point out that I am bringing this to your attention as a matter of interest to your area rather than of a chronic complainer.

The facilities which I noticed specially lacking were for the loading and unloading, as well as gassing and maintenance of in-board boats, sizes from 16 foot or over and of possibly a thousand pounds or better gross weight.

There have been to date several trailer companies as well as improvements in the construction of moving of trailers to enable a larger amount of people to own and comfortably transport inboard boats of these sizes to vacation areas. It is only natural that when on vacation in areas such as yours which provides almost unlimited navigable waters for such craft, that vacationers will bring their boats with them on their vacation.

I, for one, did just that this year assuming, erroneously, that with two towns the size of Tawas City and East Tawas, there would be at least one loading and unloading ramp and possibly one gas pump on the water. I felt somewhat disappointed after arriving in your area and inquiring on the way from Tawas River to the Coast Guard on Tawas Bay to find that there were no places available to unload my boat and even more disappointed to find no place on the water from which I could gas the boat.

Consequently, my vacation was spoiled to some degree since the only method I had to gas my boat was to transport five and ten gallon cans down to where I had finally managed to dock my boat in Tawas Bay. Since inboard boats have engines of 75 H. P. or more, burn eight to fourteen gallons per hour, you can readily understand the amount of precious time and energy spent in carrying gas back and forth from some gas station on the highway to the boat on the lake.

I fully intend next year to return to your area for my vacation again, since, as I stated, it provides wonderful fishing, boating, and recreational activities, but I do hope that in one of your town meetings this subject may be brought up since it should be rather profitable for some individual to provide loading and gassing facilities on the wharf for inboard boats.

The standard rate in Detroit for loading and unloading boats is from five to seven dollars and the gasoline runs in the neighborhood of 28 1/2 cents per gallon. I believe most people would be more than willing to pay five or seven dollars for unloading a thousand or two thousand boat. This of course would leave boat enthusiasts many more hours of vacation enjoyment.

I would appreciate knowing if any provisions are being made to date, or if any such action is proposed in the near future.

With best regards and thanking you for any consideration, I am—
It would seem that some filling station or one of the Fish Companies could make arrangements for the above type of accommodation and at the same time realize considerable compensation for doing so.

As I sit here, watching the people go to and from the lake, same are fishing, some swimming, while others are just content to sit and watch, my mind goes back to a few years ago when Sand Lake consisted of only a few cottages and one store. Now there are many cottages and we can boast of four stores that carry lines of all kinds of good things to eat.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith and family of Norwalk, Ohio, arrived at the "Smith's Rancho" for a five weeks stay. Guests this week were Mr. and Mrs. Dann and three children of Norwalk.

The Wally Tominski from Pontiac spent the week-end here. Mr. Tominski spends a great deal of time fishing and usually brings home a bountiful catch.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riggs and son, Billy and Miss Myrtle Klei-forth of Saginaw were callers at the John Mehleis cottages Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Francke and children of Saginaw are occupying the John Kinsel cottage this week.

Let's all be more careful and help prevent forest fires. It's dangerous to burn leaves at this time of year and even sparks can cause lots of damage. Last week a fire between Ash and Fletcher St. could have been serious if it had not been for the efforts of Mrs. H. E. Smith of Norwalk, Ohio, who owns the adjoining property.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald M. Peters are spending a weeks vacation at the John A. Mehleis cottage.

Miss Fern Williams of Whittemore is spending a few days at the Lake.

STAGE SCREEN-RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD
A LITTLE more than two years ago Howard Duff, a comparatively unknown radio actor, was picked by Director William Spier to be "Sam Spade" on the air. Wiseacres along Radio Row shook their heads, but Spier knew what that distinctive voice would do for the role. Later, Mark Hellinger said, "If his looks come anywhere near matching his voice, Howard Duff's going to be the biggest thing in pictures in years." The looks match. Continuing on the air, Duff has turned in magnificent performances in Hellinger's "Brute Force" and "The Naked City," as well as in "All My Sons" and in the forthcoming "Wildfire."

Alexis Smith is known in Hollywood as one of the most beautiful stars under contract to Warner Bros. However she's prouder of the fact that she's also known as the best braided-wool rug maker of Coldwater Canyon, where she lives.

Una O'Connor, character actress whose latest role is in RKO's "Fighting Father Dunne," likes to puzzle acquaintances by telling them that, though she was born in Hollywood, she did not reach the film capital till she was in her twenties. The answer—the Hollywood she was born in is a small town near Belfast, Ireland. She went to Belfast to go to school, decided to go on the stage, and went on to Dublin to learn about acting at the famous Abbey theater.

Elaine Biley now can say "I told you so!" RKO signed her and let her go after one picture. She got a Paramount contract and now is free lancing, so RKO called her to play Franchot Tone's sweetheart in "Every Girl Should Be Married."

When Marlene Dietrich was an hour late for a "Studio One" rehearsal it was obvious that producer-director Fletcher Markle was thinking she'd better have a perfect alibi. In radio circles you just aren't late. Hers was perfect; her grandson was just 25 minutes old, and Miss Dietrich had been up all night, keeping her daughter Marta company.

Just four pictures have established John Dall as one of Hollywood's most talented and versatile actors. A sensitive Welsh student in "The Corn Is Green," a comedy role in "Something in the Wind," a Confederate officer in "Another Part of the Forest," a psychopathic killer in "Rope"—those are the roles that have built his reputation.

Larry Parks played his first scene in his own starring film, "The Gallant Blade," with a blanket over his head. It was for a rescue scene in which he was covered up and jerked backwards through a doorway to save his life.

The Indian players who worked with Randolph Scott in "Coroner's Creek" took golf lessons between scenes from Scott, who qualified for the national amateur championship. He'd battle the redskins, Director Ray Enright would yell "Cut," and Scott and the Indians would dash off the set, grab their golf clubs, and practice until they were needed again.

All that lovely food you'll see in the gypsy cantina sequence in "The Loves of Carmen" is plastic, except for the turkey drumstick which Rita Haywood eats. Columbia, lining up with the government's food conservation program, uses real foodstuffs only if the script says the food must be eaten before the cameras. It's fake food in "The Gallant Blade," too.

ODDS AND ENDS—Susan Peters is the star of a new half-hour radio program called "Book Store Girl" being offered radio agencies for full production. . . . Dinah, the cat in Columbia's new Terry Moore-Glenn Ford comedy, "The Return of October," was trained for her role from birth by trainer Frank Inn—at least that's what he says. . . . Cattle breeder Ezra Stone is the proud new owner of a 14-month old champion Scotch Ayrshire bull. . . . "Lum and Abner" are busy getting into shape for the national sheet championships, which will be held at Las Vegas, Nevada, in September, by spending their week-ends practicing.

NO TWO ALIKE

By LOUIS MALLON

WHAT puzzled Paul most was what made girls vulnerable and moon-eyed whenever his twin brother, Peter, was about. There was no denying it, girls usually fell for Peter's line. He was smooth. Paul had seen it happen too many times. Fear gripped his heart as he thought it was about to happen again—tonight—this time to "too nice a girl."

Pensively, Paul tugged at the chair under him and moved closer to the table in the El Zebra club. He passed his hand fondly and carressingly over the beaver jacket on the chair beside him. This was Ann—a part of Ann—the delicately

Ann had said: "You don't mind, do you, Paul?" Of course he did! But he couldn't let Ann know, just then. "This is some brother you have." She smiled into Peter's face as they glided away.

Some brother, is right! Paul thought. Probably laying it on again. Ann seemed to enjoy it. Paul didn't! Ann was his girl!

Ann fitted into Paul's plans for that part of life he desired. A home. A charming wife. His heart melted every time he dared to think of it. He hadn't yet found the courage to tell her. Gracious, kind, beautiful Ann. But he had told her all about himself, his early boy-

How did you get in the apartment?" "Quiet, young un," Peter had said. He placed his hand over the mouthpiece of the phone. "Can't you see I'm busy?" "Sorry."

"Say, who's Ann?" Peter whispered.

"ANN!" Paul had almost shouted. "Give me that phone. Quick. Before you wreck my life!"

Yes, Ann knew it was his brother Peter told her after a few minutes of conversation. . . . their voices sounded so much alike. . . . quite a kisser. . . . she'd like to meet him. Why not bring him along tonight, on their date? . . . it would be nice. . . . he'd probably be lonesome. . . . she had said.

Lonesome? What a thought to associate with Peter. New York would be just an interlude for him. . . . the superintendent let me in. You're looking great, Paul. The phone rang so I answered it. All right? Good. Transferred to Massachusetts. You'll be seen more of me now. Great town, Boston. Stepped in tradition. Girls congenial, too. Wouldn't exactly compare with the girls in Texas. But all right. Great."

In the apartment Paul wasn't so sure he was doing the right thing taking Peter out on this date, he felt uneasy—remembering Peter's technique. He had executed a feeler: "How about making it stag tonight?"

"Nothing doing," Peter had said. "Besides, you've already made the date."

True, the date was made and Ann did want to meet Peter. Would she be less susceptible to Peter's soft impeachment?

Thank goodness this was the last dance. Paul feared the worst. He tried to put the fear from his mind. They were coming back to the table now, both of them laughing, hand-in-hand. Paul tried to tell himself he was being foolish and torturing the depths of his heart with pain that never really should be there.

The obsession stayed with him as they reached the street and there took on more agitation. Peter said: "Well, I'll leave you two alone now. The night is still young for me. See you later in the apartment, Paul. Good night, Ann."

"Good night, Peter," Ann said. "Call me before you go away."

IS THIS IT? Paul wondered. Is this the beginning to another broken heart? They watched Peter vanish down the dim lit street. He turned at the next corner and waved. In the next instant he was gone and with him a still, hushed silence came over the empty street. The laughter, the gaiety, the radiance left Ann's face.

Paul prepared himself bravely for what was to come.

Ann was talking: "Peter is fun." Fun? Was that how lasting love was defined? Had fun taken the place of love built on solid, deep-rooted admiration? The love, the deepest affection that normally leads to marriage? Peter was not ready for that. Someone was bound to be hurt, cruelly; he'd not allow it to happen to Ann. He turned to her, words of protest rushing to his lips—but suddenly heard her say: ". . . but of the twins, I like you best, Paul."

Paul glowed. Ann somehow understood—understood that life with Peter, for any girl, would end so a wave of the hand. His heart beating wildly, there on the walk, Paul took Ann into his arms, held her close and vowed—to be himself for the rest of his life.

Now, with the thought of losing Ann racing through his nervous system, Paul vowed his scruples were to undergo a change.

Earlier in the evening Peter was in Paul's apartment talking on the phone. "Peter!" Paul said. "What are you doing in New York . . . ?"

SPECIAL DELIVERY LETTER

Mr. Phil Keenan, President, Comic Magazine Publishers.

Dear Sir: Are you leveling? You recently announced that a proportion of the comic magazine publishers have agreed to a code that will give the kids a little protection in the clutches. In it are these pledges:

- 1—No comic shall show the details and methods of a crime committed by a youth.
- 2—Law enforcement officers never shall be portrayed as stupid or ineffectual, or represented in a way that weakens respect for constituted authority.
- 3—Sexy, wanton comics shall not be published. No drawing shall show a female more naked than in a bathing suit commonly worn in the United States.

You will please excuse me for laughing harder than I have ever laughed at funnies. Are those jokers deliberate or did they slip in while everybody was yawning?

I hope you don't belittle the intelligence of the American parents to such a point that you do not think they know that it is the details of crime portrayed by grownups in the comics that fascinate the kids. That "commented by a youth" clause makes Article 1 a phonus-balonus. The gangsters, gunmen, cut-throats and all-around baddies of the comic magazines all shave and wear long pants, Phil.

And who is kidding whom in that rule that officers of law and order shall not be portrayed as stupid or ineffectual? I had the idea that making a saperoo out of the cop, sheriff, gumshoe and posse (up to the final scene maybe) was the very basis of comic magazine fun. You mean your cartoonists are going to make John Law bright and effectual from the start? Won't this throw Superbug, who always has to take over, out of work?

It is only a step from that to having the sheriff shoot straight, take the right trail the first time and not walk blindly into the simplest of traps. You would not stand for that, would you, Mr. Keenan?

Now for the joker of the year, which rates an Oscar of some kind. That is the item ending sexy comics by the rule that no cartoonist shall draw a gal "more naked than in a bathing suit commonly worn all over America." I will accept that as the best comic line of 1948.

Well, I guess it is all in fun. Everybody is adopting codes these days. The weather is fine for it. And the great question of how far a code should be thrown after adoption is still unsettled, but everybody seems to be trying for distance rather than direction.

Yours,
Elmer.

Governor Warren has a personality of warmth which is lacking in Tom Dewey. You could almost call the ticket: Fair and Warmer.

Those three charming daughters of the California governor would be a great asset around the White House. That is, unless they all turned out to be vocalists.

Railroad and Pullman fares have been upped another 20 per cent. The public looks crushed between the cowcatcher and the pocketbook.

To ride in a railroad coach now has become so expensive that when Elmer Twitchell negotiates for a trip in one he asks, "Does this include heater, radio and spare tire?"

ZEKE CLAY SAYS: Mr. and Mrs. Chet Jenkins and family, who started on a summer vacation trip around the summer resorts by auto, have given up. They ran out of bicarbonate of soda.

The Zim Hoskines are doing so well financially that they are almost in a position to order a shrimp cocktail at present restaurant prices.

The Orion Hostettlers have moved into their new house and are busy going over it for squeaks and rattles and missing parts. They feel encouraged, as the house has been completed over two weeks and the cement and paint are still holding.

"The alleged communistic head of the department stores union was ejected from the hearing."—News item. The proper query to the sergeant at arms might have been, "Do you wish to take these out with you or have them wrapped and sent?"

"Have silver cornet, boy's bike and technical books. Swap for light machines, motors, tools. Zy 214 Maine."—Yankee Magazine.

The back-to-work movement.

Thank goodness this was the last dance. Paul feared the worst. He tried to put the fear from his mind.

performed fragrance of the jacket pierced his troubled mind. Baffled and driven, he came to a decision. He resolved, after tonight, to ape and copy his twin brother's every move and loquacious banter. He'd do it and see how far that would get him—for a change.

Paul's eyes searched the dance floor for Peter and Ann. They had danced together for the fourth consecutive time. Thank goodness this was to be the last dance, they had agreed to leave upon its completion.

FOOLISH NOTIONS

With everything you have to worry about, including what you're going to do this Saturday night—how do you ever have time to dream up these amazing ideas?

TOOTH SAVER—Remember that article in a national magazine about the bad effects of opening your bobby pins with your teeth? Well, one of our Hi-Style scouts reports that she is now opening her bobby pins on a wire which she nailed tautly from one side of a wooden box to the other. She keeps her bobby pins in the box and opens them on the wire as she lifts them out. She says it's much easier to get a new piece of wire than it is to get a new set of teeth. She has something there!

ALL OVER THE MAP—Because so many of you collect pen pals just as you collect photos of Robert Mitchum and telephone calls—you'll be interested in an entirely new system of keeping your correspondence in order. Pin up a large map of the United States and stick pins in each city where you have a pen pal. Red topped pins means that your pen pal owes you a letter; black means vice-versa. It's a good reminder and it looks so official!

LIVELY DECORATIONS—Do you want a really different table centerpiece for your next party? Well, fill a bowl with a quart of water, drop in one teaspoon full of citric acid and one teaspoon full of baking soda. Now—drop in 18 moth balls and, within a few moments, the balls will start jumping up and down and will continue to perform for about an hour. When they show signs of tiring, just revive them with another dose of the acid. Let us know how it works.

ANKLE TURNS—A trick for your old ballet slippers is to sew ribbon loops at the backs to hold any ribbons or bracelets you might wear as anklets. For evening, try rhinestone or gold ribbons. We've already warned you that the ankle strap shoe is the smartest thing on two feet for summer, haven't we?

BEAUTY AND THE BIB—You wind the chains 'round and 'round your necks to fall in a bib effect over your sweater and blouses. If you're wearing a dickey, just wear the Peter Pan collar over the chain.

FALLOW FIELDS

Grace Noll Crowell

THE field is worn from yielding the good grain.

Beneath the blinding sun and bitter rain
It patiently awaits its master's will.
It draws new power as the year goes by
From winds that sweep across its furrowed way;
It pulls the sunlight from the bending sky,
And holds it there to use again some day.

Now I, like any barren field, must lie
Fallow awhile. God make me wise to wait
As old fields do through storms, nor question why
Strength comes so slowly, peace so very late.
Let me draw power from this time, and then,
Strengthened anew, rise up to serve again.

Freeze in Garden Flavor
In Moistureproof Cartons

To keep the most "garden goodness" in fruits and vegetables that are to be frozen, package them carefully. This point is stressed by Miss Frances O. Van Duyme, assistant professor of foods, University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Choose containers that can be sealed tightly and won't leak. Frozen foods are better when packaged in containers that are moisture-proof and vapor-proof, Miss Van Duyme explains. Otherwise the foods dry out and lose palatability.

Cartons come in a variety of types and shapes. Rectangular or square cartons may have inner linings or have a waxed plastic finish; some are made for use with cellophane bags. Most of these are sealable with heat—by pressing together edges of covering material with an electric iron or a hand iron. The cartons are generally easy to handle and store. Waxed cups are convenient, but the seal on the set-in lid isn't moisture- or vapor-proof.

Before sealing a filled carton or bag, wipe inside edges with a clean cloth to remove moisture that would prevent a tight seal. Also press out all possible air from top of bag, then heat-seal tightly. Or you may like the pressure tapes for sealing; they have an adhesive substance on one side so that they can be stuck on edges of bags and cartons.

Naming Month of May

How the month of May got its name is a subject of controversy among historians. According to the World Book encyclopedia, the most widely accepted story is that the month was named after "Maia," the Roman goddess of spring and growth. But some scholars claim May was a month sacred to the "Majores" or older men, just as June was sacred to the "Juniore," or younger men.

STOP USING HARSH LAXATIVES

Try Lemon in Water—it's good for you

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you! Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B<sub>1</sub> and P. They alkalize, aid digestion. Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days. USE CALIFORNIA SUNKIST LEMONS

CHANGE of LIFE?

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

The Lure of Bright Lights

THE YOUNG PEOPLE—the boys and girls—of the towns and farms for many years have been leaving the town and farm homes in ever increasing numbers. They have been attracted by the bright lights, the stories of success, the desire for more companionship, the gilded night clubs of the big cities.

Such things are not the dominant features of any metropolitan center. The dominant features are poverty and failures. Fifth avenue, Broadway or Riverside drive are not truly representative of New York City. The East Side tenement section and Harlem are much more typical of that great city. Chicago is not the Lake Shore drive and the North Shore suburbs. Halsted street, Back-of-the-Yards, South Chicago or Milwaukee avenue are far more typical of the city by the lake.

What is true of these two cities is equally true of all the large metropolitan centers. All of them are more the home of poverty and failure than of pleasure and success. Of each 10 boys and girls who migrate to the big cities from town and farm homes, seeking pleasure and success, eight will see no more of the gilded night clubs and other places of which they have dreamed than can be caught in a glimpse through a window. Where eight out of ten eventually will land is in a shack or a tenement in a ghetto section, or a bed in a "flop house."

The boys and girls of the town and farm homes have the normal and natural desire for a mate, a home, a family. For eight out of ten who attempt to satisfy such a craving in a large city the homes will be from one to three or four rooms in a ramshackle tenement or a shack in the ghetto section. The play space of their children will be the streets and alleys. Such environment leads children into gangs. From gang membership comes petty crimes, and from that jails, reformatories and penitentiaries.

The big cities offer less in the way of opportunity for the boy or girl from the rural sections than does the home town or the farm. Each dollar of earnings does not go nearly so far in the city as it does in the home town. Under normal industrial conditions jobs in the cities are harder to locate than in the home community and they are harder to hold. The city offers little in the way of companionship. They will not know their next door neighbor and probably will not want to. The bright lights, the gilded restaurants and night clubs are only for those with an abundance of money, which are less than 25 per cent of the people of any large city.

Democracy in Government

WHILE OUR PRIMARY and election laws are controlled by the states and vary to a considerable extent, on the whole, are our methods of selecting candidates for president and vice president as democratic as we are expected to believe? Delegates to national conventions are, in some states, elected by the voters of a party; in others they are selected or picked by party leaders, under the guise of a party committee, or by a party convention. Such delegates are not the choice of a majority of the voters of a party.

In a national convention delegates are directed by the leader or leaders from the state from which they hail. They occupy seats on the convention floor; they vote, but they are told how to vote. The party leaders control.

In reality the convention is largely a gathering of party leaders in which the rank and file of the party has but little to say, and is not actually represented. If we are to maintain our American form of government "of the people, by the people, for the people," a way should be found to give the voters of a party a way to name the candidates which a majority of the party voters may want. Give the delegates something to do other than making a noise when directed.

BETWEEN MAN and wife the companionship of declining years is stronger than the affection of youth.

SOME YEARS AGO, when income taxes were a comparatively small item, congress voted all government employees, including members of the house and senate, into the tax paying lists. When income taxes grew into staggering sums congressmen wanted as much "take home pay" as they previously had enjoyed. To get it they raised their salaries. Like the congressmen, the workers demand the same "take home pay." The poor guy who cannot pass the tax along is he who must live on a fixed income.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: The linoleum in our kitchen has risen up in a certain spot. It is inlaid linoleum over a felt base over plywood. Do you think if we bored a small hole in the linoleum and poured some kind of cement in, it would hold? What kind of cement would you recommend for this job?

ANSWER: Try this method for flattening the bulge: Cut a slit in the bulge, following a line of the pattern so that it will not show. Then press linoleum cement under each side of the slit, working it well underneath with a spatula, or some similar tool. Wipe off surface smears promptly. If you cannot get linoleum cement, use roofing cement. Smears of roofing cement should be promptly wiped off with turpentine. Then place weights on top until the cement has dried hard.

QUESTION: My walls are covered with a very poor quality of wallboard, which bulges here and there. It is covered with paper; but now shows a few cracks, which developed after the furnace was started. What is the best thing to do with the walls? The expense is an item; I'll have to have someone do all the work.

ANSWER: For a good job it would be better to take off the board and replace it with one of better quality, properly put up according to the manufacturer's instructions; or else nail up new boards over the old ones. In the meantime, you might consider nailing down the bulges as well as you can, and then covering the joints with strips of decorative wood moulding, such as half-round.

from right field. Werely attempted to score from second on a single. Bill Mallon was the only Tawas City batter able to gather more than one hit, with two sharp singles to left center field. Bernard and S. Shellenbarger each hit safely twice, Bernard a home run and double and S. Shellenbarger two singles.

This Sunday, August 8, Whittemore will play Tawas City here. Whittemore has been playing some close games this last half, and will be out to avenge the 18 to 7 loss Tawas City gave them earlier in the season. Come out Sunday and cheer the home team towards victory.
