-WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS-U. S.-Russia Events Reach Climax; Moscow Parley Continues Uneasily; Soviets Sever Consular Relations

-By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer-(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Discussion

THE AX WAS THERE

RUSSIANS: Climactic

Virtually every avenue of public thought in the U.S. was teeming with Russians, shadows of Russians and a few Red convertibles.

There was a feeling, however, that the international commotion had reached its climax and was ready to start subsiding, partly because public interest, flagellated into a state of high excitement. couldn't stand the stress and strain To Escape of it all much longer.

Nevertheless, eyents having to do with Russia remained for the time being, at least, reasonably climactic: The Moscow talks were ready either to pay off or break down; Russia had broken off consular relations with the U.S.; Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina, the window - jumping Russian schoolteacher, had told the story of how she had been strongarmed.

Moscow

In the Kremlin, where the three western ambassadors were trying to pound out some kind of tentative basis for negotiations with the Soviet Union, the Russians were play-ing their famillar game of hit-andrun.

U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, British Representative Frank Roberts and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau had been drudging through a series of meetings with the implacable V. M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister.

Molotov, as usual, was hard, current Soviet policy on the Berlin | in Amsterdam. and German problems. No progress was made; the three western er in many religious activities and representatives were dispirited, al-

Kasenkina, the U.S. state department pointed out as it ordered him out of the country. It was a sensational turn of events. In a note to the Soviet embassy the state department asserted that Lomakin had, in effect, misled his own government with regard to the Kasenkina case so that the protests which the Soviets made to the U. S. were "based on misinformation.'

In addition, the note charged that the consul general had "hindered the investigation of the competent police officials by refusing to allow them to interview Mrs. Kasenkina" while she was under control of the Soviet consul. Then, even as Lomakin was packing his bags and preparing to leave the country, Russia countered sharply by formally severing con-sular relations with the U. S. and repeating is accusations of bad faith.

That seemed to prove that Lomakin's actions in the Kasenkina affair were not so much the expression of his individual initiative as they were a direct reflection of Kremlin policy.

However, no one was worrying too much about the breaking off of consular relations. The move did not mean that diplomatic relations were severed.

Soviet consular activities in the U. S. were limited to arranging for mutual trade and travel between the two nations. Since there is practically no trade or travel exchange taking place, the presence or absence of a consul wouldn't make too much difference.

Lying weak and ashen-faced in her hospital bed in New York, Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina finally got around to telling the story of why system. she leaped from the third-story window of the Soviet consulate.

"I jumped to escape, not to kill myself," she said.

She said that her "rescue" from the Tolstoy foundation's Reed farm was not a "rescue but an arrest," engineered by the Russian consulgeneral.

She did not want to go back to Russia. Although she loves her people, she stated that "I don't agree with the policies of Josef Stalin. I cannot agree with the regime in the Soviet."

VIEWPOINTS:

Religious

It couldn't be called schismatic: It was thoroughly democratic. In such a way delegates to the first assembly of the World Council of Churches might have assessed the first two addresses which oftough, adamant in his adherence to ficially opened the historic sessions

John Foster Dulles, U. S. lay leadnternationalist-minded statesman, according to present predictions. The supply of fuel oil is becoming so plentiful that there apparently is no need for an elaborate distribution system to be set up for the purpose of doling it out. Stored supplies are 60 per cent ahead of last year at this time and crude runs from distilleries are half a million barrels ahead of a year ago. New refining facilities are largely responsible for eradicating the shortage.

Moreover, oil industry officials say, there now is an ample supply of gasoline. Only thing that could put a crimp in that would be a national emergency or a transportation stoppage. Most of the major cities are well supplied with oil, and while there might be spot shortages in rural communities during the winter they probably would be only of a day or two duration.

"Last winter," said one industry member, "part of the trouble was caused by snow tying up the rail- through 19 states, Mexico and Canroads." That happens and attention ada, through rain, hail, sleet, dog is focused on it when there is an oil shortage. It could happen again.

RADAR NET:

Inadequate

What with one thing and another, Americans can't help now and then wondering what would happen if this country suddenly were to be attacked from the air. Biggest question in this connection is whether a warning of such an attack would be given in time for the population to evacuate probable centers of attack.

Air force officials say they are doing the best they can with what they have to provide the nation with a radar warning network. What they have, however, is at best inadequate, they say. The present radar system is not capable of detecting all approaches of foreign planes.

Currently, a committee of leading scientists, headed by Dr. Vannevar Bush, is carrying out a careful study of improvements in radar that could lead to an adequate air warning

FUEL OIL: Plentiful Last winter's serious fuel short-ably will not be repeated this year, according to present predictions Wheelbarrow

NEW YORK .- A very pushy fellow arrived in town and immediately pushed his way into the limelight without any trouble. He was Larry Hightower, who had behind him 7,426 miles of travel and in front of him a 103-pound wheelbarrow which he says he is pushing around the world.

Why? Well, as one of the spectators remarked, among the hundreds who gathered quickly every time Larry stopped to light a cigarette, "This is a free country, isn't it? If he wants to do it, who can stop him?'

Thus far nothing has stopped Larry, a World War I veteran and former cowpuncher. He left Ellsensberg, Wash., two years ago, and expects to finish his wheeling in 10 more years.

He has pushed the wheelbarrow days, two cyclones, ambushes by a lobo wolf and a cougar, 10,000 questions and six traffic tickets for speeding and going the wrong way on a one way street.

He Answers Questions

Larry took on all comers, answered questions with aplomb, delivered a brief health talk, and another on Americanism. He said he's given Americanism talks at 212 high schools and at Drake university and the University of Notre Dame

"You sure look healthy," said one Arthur Brown, 60. "How do you do it?'

"Walking is what does it," Larry replied-a little unnecessarily it. seemed.

Larry has a pair of earphones, likes to listen to his crystal radio as he covers his average of 16 miles a day. His favorite programs are of symphonic music. He's not interested in marches, and his, most liked western song is not 'Wagon Wheels'' but "Home on the Range," where he hopes to be 10 years hence.

Outside Tucson, Ark, a lobo wolf serenaded Larry for three miles. These wolves are "nasty fellers," he said, and he was glad when this one decided not to follow nim around the world. Coming over the Sierras in California, a cougar nearly canceled all Larry's plans, and Larry himself, by jumping from a high rocky ledge and missing him by a mere 10 feet. Carries Supplies

The wheelbarrow contains a kit of utility supplies with oil of wintergreen for rubdowns, a bottle of methaliate for insect bites, soap, a foot antiseptic, shaving soap, shaving brush, lotion and razor. Also, a navy battle flag which saw Pacific action in World War II, the flag of the city of Cleveland, a flag of the state of Washington, with autographs by governors of nine other states, a letterbox for correspondence, a Bible, a jacket, a slicker, dungarees, maps, a tool kit and eight log books.

Larry wears a jacket with translucent red cuffs and collar and a red bicycle taillight on the back, for night pushing. The wheelbarrow has a headlight and a speedometer. From New York he expects to go to London, then to Burma, Iran, Greece, North Africa, Germany, France, Spain, Portugal, California and cross-country again to Wash-ington, D. C. "That'll total 28,500 land miles and the next fellow will think twice before he starts," Larry said.

Washington Digest Man Is Riding Life Cycle Toward His Destruction

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON .- Today we have two visitors whom I met recently at the Smithsonian institution, Mrs. Neanderthaler (her husband wasn't available) and Mr. Cro-Magnon.

They have come a long way. The Neanderthalers lived about 25,000 years ago-but what's a few thousand years among friends-or relatives? I doubt that the Neanderthalers are relatives of ours-and I'm not sorry.

They lived early in the Old Stone age, and died without leaving any known heirs, assigns or descendents -which may be just as well for the rest of us who might have inherited some of their characteristics. They were sub-humans-stocky folksbut they couldn't take it. They died put.

Now Mr. Cro-Magnon was a different proposition. He was a superior human and I wish he were a relative because he was really superior to us-better body, better brain. If he'd only lasted, what a career he would have had in Hollywoodand what he might have done for us! He might have saved us. He may still.

I've been reading two new books-"Our Plundered Planet," by bly managed to stick around 200,000 years or so before his environment or his neighbors finished him off.

Baukhage

Today we are rapidly changing our environment, and unless we cease destroying our sources of food and shelter, we shall soon destroy ourselves, as our sub-human friend was destroyed.

We know that there are two things which chiefly distinguish man from the animal: The way he has developed the use of his hands and the way his brain works. But our hands, at the levers of machines, conceived by our brains, have so disturbed the cycle of nature, have done such terrible things to all forms of life, that they may prove our undoing-if they don't blow us into atomic eternity, first! Forgetting atomic destruction, let's look at some others.

We are very good at reproducing. In three centuries the population of the earth has increased almost five times. In the seventeenth century there were 400 million people. There are 2,000 million today. Five times as many mouths to feed.

Osborne says: "If one takes four oillion acres, representing an area of land estimated as now available for cultivation, it means that there are less than two acres per capita. lationship of all living things. Contrasted with this is a generally age depth of the topsoil on the earth is about one foot. It is estimated that it takes nature, under favorable conditions, from 300 to 1,000 years to build one inch of that vital source of our food, clothing and shelter. "Yet," he says, "what may have taken a thousand years to build can be, and in some places has been, removed by erosion in a year, or even in a single day." Erosion. That comes from overuse, wrong use or removal of protecting grasses and trees. We overgrazed the plains to get quick money for beef, mutton and wool. We plowed fields of grass, left them exposed, and you remember what happened-the dust bowl. We slaughtered the forests and reaped the yearly devastating floods. Today our food and shelter runs down the muddied rivers to be lost in the ocean.

And animal life? We killed off millions of wild animals on this continent. We replaced them, to some extent, by domestic animals. But we are breaking the magic cycle of life there, too, for the life-giving properties of most of our domestic animals do not return to the soil as did the bones and bodies of wild life that lived their course, died and were enveloped in their mother earth. Sheep and cattle are shipped today to slaughter houses where what lit-though they kept to their chore. The word was whispered about that this conference might break up in total failure.

Then came a break, or so it appeared. Premier Stalin would meet again with the three envoys. In the ensuing discussions with Stalin hopes again were raised that the western powers might succeed in at least partially lifting the Berlin blockade and perhaps effect an area of agreement that could be used for a subsequent top-level meeting to iron out some of the major East-West differences.

But there were some who still could see the ax on the peace table. Somehow, there was a fimiliar pattern behind these negotiations that went something like this:

After Molotox had subjected his fellow conferees to hour after hour of his case-hardened refusals to come to terms, attempting by those tactics to wear his diplomatic opponents down, the scene was set for Stalin's return.

Stalin came on with his air of geniality and good will, apparently not only willing but eager to reach common ground. His attitude was so manifestly different from Molotov's that hopes again soared.

There was the danger. Lulled into optimism, the western envoys might be trapped into making concessions that should not be made. This same kind of Molotov-to-Stalin play had worked before.

Watch That Credit

Prospective home buyers who might plunge beyond their means simply because down payments are lower under the new housing law have been warned by government housing experts to avoid that trap.

"Our only worry," one expert said, "is that the lower down payments will encourage people to buy homes they can't afford. When you reduce the down payment, the monthly payments are more."

and Czechoslovakia's Joseph L. Hromadka of the Evangelical Church of Czech Brethren, speaking in a section discussion on "The Church and International Disorder," between them managed to strip much of the camouflage from the growing philosophical and spiritual rift separating the East and West.

Total result of Dulles' and Hromadka's addresses, taken together, was not to presage a religious split between the two blocs of nations but rather to define the problems at the root of current international disorders for those who are courageous enough to attack them with spiritual weapons instead of guns. DULLES . . . "Peace can never be stabilized except by institutions that seek to reflect moral law and that respect the dignity of the individual. And the present methods of communism are incompatible with peaceful change.

"Collective action may at times be required, pursuant to the United Nations charter, to protect member states or individual human beings in their charter rights. "Those who believe in moral law and human dignity must be concerned to make social institutions reflect those ideals." HROMADKA . . . The world is seeing "the end of western supremacy within the realm of international order. "Now, three years after World War II, the western man hasn't yet recovered and is losing more and more the last remnants of his world leadership." He "hasn't much to offer along the lines of moral, philosophical or spinitual leadership."

OUTPUT: Upshoot

Total national output of goods and services, stimulated by inflationary forces which have been growing stronger since early summer, hit a record-breaking rate of 248.2 billion dollars in the second quarter of the fiscal year, the commerce department has reported. That figure is 4.4 billion dollars above the peak reached in the first three months of this year, according to the department.

fidence, Herbert Brownell Jr., campaign manager for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, nails up the sign which proclaims that the Washington, D. C., headquarters for the Republican campaign ticket of Dewey and Warren is open for business. Brownell also has the idea that business will be good.

INSTALLMENTS: Regulated

Just exactly what effect the newly imposed restrictions on credit buying would have on the hog-wild inflation that has been devastating the nation's moral fiber was not quite clear.

Acting under authorization of the 80th congress, the government put the brakes on installment buying and extended the ceiling on its new regulations to $5,000 to control wildcat buying of expensive new automobiles. This new order goes into effect September 20.

From that day forward the law will require that the buyer of a new car pay one-third down in cash and take not more than 18 months ;o pay off the balance in installments of not less than $70 a month. Other hard goods-stoves, refrigerators, washing machines and related household articles-call for a 20 per cent down payment with the balance to be liquidated in not more than 15 months.

The order exempts anything costing less than $50 or more than $5,000 -a rule which set many Americans to asking caustically what they could find to buy for less than $50 and where they could get the money to purchase anything over $5,000. Actually, however, the credit curb seemed to amount to little more than putting the government's stamp of legal approval on a practice which has been followed voluntarily by a considerable number of retail merchants. Many astute businessmen have been following the one-third down payment rule all along, as a protection both to themselves and the prospective buyers.

Upshot of it all was that few people believed the federal regulation would do much to clear the inflationary atmosphere.

Idaho Police Chase Weaving Truck; Find Collie at Wheel IDAHO FALLS, IDA .- Two officers, William Naef and Ray Jones, pursued a truck they saw weaving down the highway. It was quite a job to get the driver to stop.

Ready for a drunk driver, an argumentative driver, a sleeping driver, an inexperienced driver, or almost any other kind, they still weren't ready for what they found when they pulled the truck door open-a collie dog on the driver's seat, his paws on the wheel.

The vehicle had no other occupants.

Some time later, after a search of the neighborhood, the officers solved the mystery. Two youngsters admitted they had taken the truck for a spin, saw the officers coming and jumped out, leaving their dog to do the driving.

County Supervisors 'Pass the Buck' to Solve Legal Tangle

SUPERIOR, WIS .- It was a cool, sunny day and Douglas county supervisors had no stomach for any kind of red tape.

But there was that annoying little detail of an $8 coal bill that had to be taken care of. The coal was delivered last winter to a relief client who since had died. Now the county had the bill.

It was a legal puzzle over what funds should be used to take care of it.

One look out of the window at the clear blue sky settled the matter for the eight supervisors. Each pulled out a dollar bill and clipped it to the relief voucher.

More Trees

On the Way

American farmers will have more trees to plant next year than ever before in our history.

State nurseries plan to grow 368,-976,551 in 1947-48, according to a national survey just completed by the American Forest Products Industries, Inc., of Washington, D. C. Most of these trees will be sold to farmers and other landowners at cost, while many will be given to farmers free of charge by forest industries who purchase them from state nurseries.

This forest seedling production, however, will be increased substantially by federal and private industry nurseries over the United States, pushing the total to approximately 400 million seedlings.

Yet these figures, representing the planting of three trees for every man, woman and child in the country, indicate statistically that seedling production still is not enough to fill the demand by woodland owners and other citizens interested in growing trees.

And while they still do not meet the tremendous demand, if all these seedlings were planted 1,000 to an acre they would form a verdant, mile-wide belt stretching from New York to Chicago.

The record in tree planting is matched only by the volume of new wood now growing on America's forest lands. Total growth now exceeds 13.3 billion cubic feet of wood every year-greatest volume ever recorded in surveys made by the federal government.

THE TAWAS HERALD

Housewives' Complaints

THE CITY AND TOWN house-wife is wrathy. She is wrought up over the price she must pay for meat, poultry, eggs, milk and bread. She demands that congress pass a law fixing ceiling prices on the food needed to feed her family. She expresses her wrath to her local market man. She does not realize that the prices of which she complains are founded, not on the meat, poultry, eggs, milk and bread as such, but on the commodities that produce these things. The prices go back to the price of wheat and corn

UNDER WHEAT AND CORN the government fixed a floor that maintains a higher than normal price. When demand causes these two farm products to drop in price to a point below that the governfloor. ment will loan the farmer money on what he has at the guaranteed prices.

That loan is equiv-

IT IS FROM THESE farmproduced commodities that the feed for meat animals and poultry is obtained. They repre-sent steaks, chops, roasts, stews, eggs, milk and bread. As long as a higher than normal price is maintained for wheat and corn the prices of food products produced from them remain high. That is but one of the causes over which the local market man has no control.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES who operate the trains that haul the cattle, the hogs and sheep from the farms to the packing houses and then haul the meat from the packing houses to the distributing centers are being paid much higher than normal wages and these extra wages become a part of the high price of meat. That is a second cause.

THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS the coal miner's union to collect a tax of 20 cents on each ton of coal the railroads use in transporting the live animals and the meat. That is, and must be, passed along to the consumer. That 20 cents a ton tax on coal becomes a part of the price of meat.

FARMERS, PACKERS, wholesale and retail distributors, and the railroads must pay local, state and federal taxes of approximately 30 cents out of each dollar they receive. That 30 cents becomes a part of the price paid for the food that originates on the farm. It must be paid by the consumer if the farmers, the packers, the railroads, the wholesale and retail distributors are to continue to operate. It represents a considerable portion of the

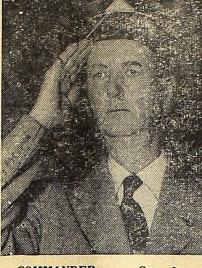

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH IN POLITICS . . . New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey momentarily displaces the cares of state and campaign strategy with the woes and aggravations of golf. The Republican candidate for the presidency is shown here making-or at least attempting-a long putt on the last green of the Albany country club. He soon will forsake the greens for the political rough when he starts the fall campaign that he hopes will win the presidential election for him.

THE new "Family Hour," to be launched October 3, will bring us drama instead of the musical programs so many people have looked for-ward to on Sunday afternoon. Em-anating from Hollywood on CBS at the old time, "The Prudential Family Hour of Stars" will present six top film stars—Humphrey Bo-gart, Bette Davis, Gregory Peck, Ginger Rogers, Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Davis. But instead of presenting old plays or dramatiza-tions of motion pictures, as is usual with this type of program, this one will branch out with original plays written especially by the foremost writers of plays and sketches for radio.

but even with such training some actors have failed to follow one movie success with another. Dall has done it consistently. Now, in Hitchcock's "Rope," he gives one of the best performances of this or any year.

There is a little group called "Hitchcock's Younger Generation," consisting of Dall, Joan Chandler, Farley Granger, Dick Hogan and Douglas Dick. Their average age is below that with which the famous director usually works, but he feels that they will go far, and deserve special attention. "Rope" may be the springboard to the fame he predicts for them.

William Grant Sherry, Bette Davis' husband, had always refused to sell his paintings till Rosalind Russell, in the east to welcome her husband home from Europe and promote their picture, "The Velvet Touch," talked Sherry into selling her two landscapes. price we pay.

IF GOVERNMENT is to fix a price for the meat we buy it cannot start and stop with fixing a price the local merchant may charge. Such a law merely would put that local merchant out of business and stop the distribution of meat. Laws, if they are to be effective, must start with the fundamentals. They must fix, not a floor, but a ceiling on the price of wheat and corn. To do that the farmer must be relieved of the high prices of the things he must buy, including the cost of farm labor, farm machinery and many other things. He cannot continue to operate, to produce wheat and corn, on a high outgo and low income. When he stops producing, the rest of us stop eating at any price.

IN OUR EFFORTS to favor a number of minority groups we have involved our economic system in such a snarl that not one, but many, laws will be needed to untangle the snarl and put us back on a normal foundation. Only a small part of that snarl is indicated in this piece concerning the price of meat. So many ramifications are involved that few of us could understand an explanation if one should be offered. Like the wrathy housewife, we want the snarl untangled rather than an explanation of how it got that way.

IT REPRESENTS an intricate economic problem. It will take carefully considered laws and many months of time to provide a solution. Neither the President nor congress has evidenced a real "know how" to achieve the desired result. What they are proposing seems to but add new knots in the snarl.

* * * THE DAMAGE WAS DONE when those who first dealt with Russia failed to read the small type before signing the contract. They read the big type preamble and it sounded all right. The jokers, the prohibitions, were in that three or four point type that could not be read without a microscope. We judged the content of that contract on the basis of what was said, not on what was written. Now we are paying for not reading. Now Russia tells us that we must dispose of the dog and the children or move.

RUSSIAN WALK LEAVES THREE ON BASE . . . This stern-visaged threesome used to be a foursome. Together, the quartet-representing the Big Four nations-would stand guard happily at the Berlin Kommandatura, seat of the Allied governing body in Berlin. But the disgruntled Russians walked out of the council, took their sentry with them and said they weren't coming back. So that left the (left to right) British, American and French representatives in charge.

TECHNICALLY THEY WERE STOWAWAYS . . . There is always a record of one kind or another being set somewhere, but this one is a little different. These five infant "stowaways," shown here with Nurse Carol Donoghue, were born aboard the American President Lines vessel General W. H. Gordon on a voyage across the Pacific from the Orient. It was a postwar record for births in one trip and possibly an all-time mark for a Pacific crossing.

Helen Hayes cannot get back from London for the first three "Electric Theater" broadcasts, but her substitutes rank high with her theatrically. October 3-Henry Fonda, October 10-Basil Rathbone and October 17-Margaret Sullavan.

Lex Barker enlisted in the army as a private, emerged as a major. His movie break came in "The Farmer's Daughter." The role of Loretta Young's big brother in that picture brought him his "Tarzan" assignment, one picture a year.

Robert Mitchum was right at home when required to play a guitar for RKO's "Rachel and the Stranger;" he once appeared in a Reno night club as a singer, where he accompanied himself on the guitar.

"The Masked Spooner" was well set to keep his identity secret during his first New York appearance on "We, the People." With a mob of fans waiting outside the theater to see him, he wore two masks.

Dorothy Lamour is delighted with her new radio show, replacing "The Village Store" on NBC. And it's a fine thing, having those top stars who are guests receive a token payment, so that the bulk of their pay goes to set up a fund to take care of indigent radio performers. In all these years there has been no such provision for them.

Malaria Slowed Down By Church Groups

A sharp decrease in deaths from malaria in Siam has been reported by the minister of public health, who has attributed the decrease to enti-malaria drugs distributed there by Church World Service, a reconstruction agency of the Amer-ican Protestant and Orthodox churches.

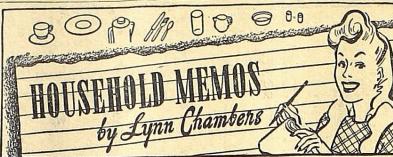

At present the government of Siam is building a road through the Chiengmai swamp, heavily in-fested with malaria. A supply of CWS atabrine tablets was taken into the area by one of the government officials and given to the men working on the road. The results were so effective in the prevention of death and disease that local officials and the governor of the province wrote letters of gratitude to Church World Service officials.

Careful Planning Urged To Make Light Meals Nutritious and Balanced

ARE THE LIGHT MEALS you serve always nutritious? Or are they just something you throw together for the sake of giving calories to your family, even 1 De 340 though the foods are not particularly abundant in health-giving elements such as protein, vitamins and minerals?

You're guaranteed to feel better, work better and, yes, even play better if you're getting the right kind of food. Nutritious meals, no matter whether they are small or large, are bound to pay off big dividends. Just how, you ask? Well, for one thing, you won't get tired so quickly, and there will be sparkle in your min C in ample quantities. That dragged out feeling may come from lack of the B complex vitamins which guard general well being, or it may come from lack of iron in the blood which helps carry oxygen we breathe to all parts of the body. If you're troubled with night blindness, poor appetite, and get colds and infections readily, you're apt to be getting less than your share of vitamin A. When teeth are in poor condition it would be wise to check on your calcium, phosphorous and vitamins C and D. Any one or all of these may be responsible.

Dinners are apt to be rather well balanced to give the essential food elements, but frequently the cause of many ills is the lack of good lighter meals such as lunches or

EVERY season brings to light cer-tain fashion trends which you will want to observe whether you buy or make your own clothes. No matter how good the material or how appealing the color you select, clothing should have some new features that are fashionwise if you are to feel really right about it. Old clothing does not have to be discarded for something new; in fact, if you observe the trends, you'll see easily how new features can be put in clothes to remodel them and make them truly fashionwise.

The time to get the wardrobe in order is before the season begins, while you have time for sewing or buying. In this way, you won't get caught without the right clothes when the occasions come up.

Casual Dress Is Important

Basis for Wardrobe No woman, be she homemaker, business woman or school girl, can be without a good casual dress for going shopping, visiting or enter-taining. This can be a classic style that buttons to the waist or lower, single or double breasted, and one with a wide circling skirt of the proper length.

The color and material are left to personal choice and preference from these possibilities: A solid, lightweight wool in lovely colors such as teal blue, plum, navy, dark rich green, gray, brown or dark or bright red.

If you like checks, they are an especially good choice this year.

Apron-bustles are good fashion . . .

Plaids, too, are being shown, pro-vided you can wear them. Corduroy again is very popular for this type of dress, particularly among the younger set.

Many of these casual dresses are sporting stoles or shawls of some type or another and these can be worn in versatile ways. To keep warm, wrap the stole around the shoulders; wear them as a sash, or have them come around the back of the neck to hang in front and tuck under the belt. Some are worn around the head and still others are worn as a scarf, one end dangling at the back while a shorter end hangs in front. A plain wool dress can Look for cuff interest on dresses particularly. Most of the sleeves of three-quarter length have self or contrasting cuffs that are deep or flaring, making them feminine and engaging as well.

Buttons, for the most part, are tiny but interesting, and they are being used extensively for trimmings, especially down the front of the dress in single file or in some double-breasted arrangement.

Collars are usually tiny and they may be Peter Pan style, rolled, picture frame, deeply pointed or scarfwrapped.

Dark Basic Dress Has Back Interest

Basic dresses for this season look more dressed up than before. They're soft and feminine, going in heavily for draping, back interest and rich lustrous fabrics such as

New Flavor Tricks Meat loaf will take on an inviting flavor if you fold in one-half cup of grated parmesan cheese into the mixture before baking it. Chopped ham is delicious to add to your favorite plain or cheese souffle, fondue, omelet or scrambled eggs. Pork sausage will have a special appeal when you prepare with macaroni and a chili-flavored tomato sauce.

A simple but easy dessert for one of those light lunches includes tall glasses of milk with a very dark and delicious gingerbread. Serving gingerbread is an easy way to work iron into the diet by means of the molasses.

Suit Picture Offers Variety of Types

You have plenty of choice in selecting a suit for the coming season. Pick yourself a classic style with a long jacket if you want to have a good wearable suit for almost any occasion.

If you want a softer suit which also is practical, choose one with feminine lines, collar interest and a shorter jacket of soft wool.

If you want a suit that's really dramatic, select one, with a slim tapering skirt, with a jacket using cutaway detail. This may be all one fabric or it may have a skirt in solid with the jacket in a plaid.

Blouses for the classic suits are backed with lovely detail. Exquisite sheering is very popular and tiny pleats also are used with good effect. Or the blouse may be very simple with tab neckline and perhaps small pocket interest.

Very practical and warm wool jersey blouses are becoming very popular for the classic suit or for just a skirt. Because of their monklike plainness, they are wonderful foil for jewelry touches, especially at the neckline.

Sleeves on blouses may be threequarter or wrist length. Cuff interest is high on blouse sleeves as well as on dresses. Deep cuffs like cavalier styles are good, especially when you are wearing just blouse and skirt.

Boy Prodigy, 10, Draws Cheers of London Audience

LONDON .- Maestro Pierino LONDON.--Maestro Pierino Gamba, 10-year-old Italian boy prodigy conductor, has taken Lon-don's most critical musical audi-ences by storm. He even has mu-sleians cheering him. At his first rehearsal at the Har-ringay arena, London, little Pierino moved imperiously to the three-step rostrum specially provided for step rostrum specially provided for him. He grinned down at the 75 incredulous musicians comprising the Liverpool Philharmonic orchestra.

Then with the assurance of a matador, the piccolino wielded his tiny yellow baton and brought the orchestra through Schubert's Unfinished Symphony without a score. During the interval, the musicians loudly acclaimed this mite in pale blue shirt and short flannel knickerbockers. The three-hour rehearsal proved there was every reason to discount the skepticism which inevitably follows rumors of prodigy.

Critics fell heavily for this infant who peremptorily halted the orchestra, sang the phrases in his fantastic treble, and with vivid energy put them through their paces again.

The orchestra was taken into the intricacies of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and, if possible, the piccolino's assurance increased, for this is his favorite composition. The rehearsal was a complete victory for Pierino. The philhar-monic's leading violinist, Manoug Parikian, was delighted. Comments ranged from "He's terrific" to "we are amazed."

Pierino has been conducting for two years and knows 38 complete works by memory.

His father, Signor Gamba said: "My son started with his first music lesson on December 5, 1945. A month later he was conducting his first orchestra in Rome.'

Critics hail the frail little Italian boy as the only genuine prodigy since Menuhin.

Police Honor Pet Dog With Drinking Fountain Memorial

SAN FRANCISCO. - A monument has been set up in Golden Gate park to Mr. Schultz-the only San Francisco dog ever to be a regular member of the police force.

Moist-eyed police unveiled the drinking fountain memorial on which is inscribed:

"Drink to the memory of Schultz today,

His friendliness to man did him betray."

The dog, pet of every policeman from Chief Mike Mitchell to the newest rookie, was poisoned near park police headquarters.

a cigarette is being made today in a rarefied atmosphere where every element, even the air, is controlled scientifically.

Enlisting science to improve the smoker's lot, Ecusta Paper corporation has installed an elaborate "climate manufacturing" system in its mill here. With automatic controls developed by engineers of Minneapolis - Honeywell Regulator company it is possible to keep temperature and humidity at levels best suited to processing, despite outside conditions.

Precise control is necessary to meet rigid specifications, according to company officials. Cigarette paper must be pure white and opaque. It must be about the thickness of a human hair, yet elastic enough to withstand pull of cigarette machines. It must fold without tearing, burn at the same rate as tobacco, must not stick to the lips and must be tasteless. Furthermore, a strip the width of a cigarette must support a weight of eight pounds.

It Takes 16 Years but Barber Pays Off Depression Debts

NORFOLK, VA. - Sixteen years isn't too long for an honest man to wait.

Carl S. Bonneville, a barber, left Norfolk in 1932, right in the middle of a depression. He had to sell his car for $75 to pay some debts, and he owed many more. He left town with $40 in his pockets.

Bonneville, now 71 years old and a resident of Selbyville, Del., is back in Norfolk, paying off old debts.

He went to the Norfolk General hospital, laid two $20 bills on the desk, and said he had owed it to the hospital for 20 years.

Then he called on a physician and paid him $200 for a knee operation, and settled a $90 note held by Arthur Bulman, who owns a barber shop in which he worked for 11 years.

After squaring a smaller debt or two, Bonneville had to call it quits. He couldn't find his other creditors. He had paid up $350 in all.

Since the year 1938 he has worked steadily and now operates his own barber shop.

Now at last, he could afford to pay his bills.

that's DYNAFLOW

Y ES, it boils down to just about that. You start your engine, set a lever - and from then on your treadle foot takes over.

You press the accelerator - and move softly and smoothly away.

You speed up, slow down, halt completely - and your right foot alone, operating gas treadle and brake, does it all.

How come? Simply because Dynaflow Drive is the one passenger car drive in America that gets completely away from gears which function in fixed stages.

Changes in the way oil flows, instead of changes in gears, adjust your engine power to your driving requirements.

Whether you are starting out, climbing a hill, surging past others or cruising easily, there's nothing for you to do except feed gas.

For very fast starts, extreme pulls, reserve braking power, you flick the selector lever-and your engine seems suddenly to double in size.

For parking, there is a very special setting, exclusive to Dynaflow Drive, that rigidly locks rear wheels.
