

Disabled War Veterans Week-End Guests Here

Arrangements Completed by Iosco VFW

100 Men from Percy Jones Hospital to Enjoy Tawas Bay Outing

The Iosco Post, V. F. W., are completing arrangements for the entertainment of one hundred disabled veterans from the Percy Jones Hospital, the week-end of October 1-2-3, in the Tawas.

The following committees have been appointed:

Inter-Club Relations: George Sedgeman, Jack Elliott.
Housing: Charles Nash, Arthur Johnson.

Transportation: Gordon Everett, Stan Humphrey.
Food: Hugo Keiser, Jr., Harry Morley, Ken Barnes.

Entertainment: Don Gould, William Roach, Ted Jacques, Shorty Ketcherside, William Barber, Art Dease.

Publicity: George Myles, Berkeley Smith, P. N. Thornton.
Treasurer: Clyde Eovil.

The veterans will be transported from Battle Creek to Tawas in private passenger auto. Vera Brown of the Detroit Times has made arrangements with the Pontiac Motor Co., for the use of five cars for this purpose with more to be furnished if necessary. After arriving at Tawas they will be housed in donated cabins and rooms for the three day visit. The local transportation committee is assigned the duty of getting them to the various points of interest during the three days. Anyone who cares to donate the use of their car for this purpose please call Gordon Everett, 402-w. A fishing trip is being planned for those who wish to fish with boats being donated by William DeGrow, Lee Case and Shorty Ketcherside.

Fahselt-Rollin

The Zion Lutheran church was the scene of a very pretty wedding ceremony Saturday afternoon, uniting in marriage Miss Corinne Fahselt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fahselt, and Robert Noble Rollin, son of Fred Rollin of this city.

The four o'clock rites were performed before an altar banked with bouquets and baskets of gladioli and candelabra.

Arthur Wendt sang "Oh Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Edmond Arnold, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory bridal satin featuring an appliqued bertha collar attached to a bow nylon yoke giving a drop shoulder effect, fitted bodice and long wrist point sleeves. The full skirt fashioned a bustle ending in a long court train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a sweetheart bonnet edged with orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies and mums with an interlocking white orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Leona Ziehl, wore a taffeta gown of peach color. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and mums.

Propose Co-Op Hunt Club

A meeting, at which all Iosco farmers and landowners are urged to attend, will be held at the Court House, Tawas City, at 8:00 p. m., Tuesday, September 21, to discuss forming a county-wide hunt club. The club is being organized by a group of Tawas and Alabaster township farmers and landowners.

Objective

1. To get the farmers out of the root cellar during hunting season.
2. To co-operate with the state in enforcing game laws.
3. To enforce the Horton Tresspass law.
4. To provide safe hunting facilities for all citizens willing to obey the law and share in the expense of providing these facilities.

It is proposed to be county wide, farmers leasing hunting rights to the club for one year, including membership in the club, and reserving right to hunt on their own land.

Enrollment Reaches New High

May Place Tawas City High School in Class C

With an enrollment this year in the high school which will probably place it in Class C and greatly increased classes in the grades, the Tawas City Board of education is hurrying the completion of the new annex at an early date. According to a report from Superintendent A. E. Giddings, 150 students have enrolled in the high school and the total enrollment is 382.

The enrollment by grades—Kindergarten 35; 1st grade 31; 2nd grade 18; 3rd grade 25; 4th grade 18; 5th grade 27; 6th grade 17; 7th grade 35; 8th grade 31; 9th grade 51; 10th grade 33; 11th grade 36; 12th grade 25.

The average yearly enrollment for the past four years was as follows:

1944-1945	255
1945-1946	275
1946-1947	302
1947-1948	343

Tawas City Auxiliary Elects Officers

Tawas City American Legion Auxiliary held election of officers on Monday evening at their regular meeting. The following officers were elected:

President	Muriel Dodson
Vice President	Adell Homberg
2nd vice Pres.	Rachel Anschuetz
Treasurer	Alma Mueller
Secretary	Florence Borden
Sgt. at Arms	Mable Kobs

It was voted to change the meeting night to the first Tuesday of each month. Also plans were made for a food sale to be held September 25. A delicious pot luck lunch was served.

New Show at Hale Offers First Run Shows

Mrs. Russell Taylor of the Taylor Theatre Company stated yesterday that the Gem Theatre at Hale would show first run pictures. The Gem Theatre opened August 15 is a newly constructed show building, providing Hale with an excellent entertainment place. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are well known in the community having been summer residents there for a number of years.

Christ Church to Hold Parish Pot Luck Dinner

Christ Episcopal Church is holding a parish pot luck dinner in the church basement, Thursday, September 23 at 6:30 p. m. An excellent program is planned with Reverend Warner L. Forsyth, Rector of St. James Church, Grosse Isle, as the principal speaker. Reverend and Mrs. Forsyth are well known in East Tawas and Oscoda having spent many summers at their cottage on Lake Huron, north of Oscoda. Rev. Forsyth was rector at Alpena and Birmingham before going to Grosse Isle. Because of his work with church schools and church organizations, he is noted as one of the leading ministers in the Michigan diocese.

Finish Season with Winning Game at Hale

Winding up their NEM League season, Alabaster took Hale to the tune of 13 to 6 in a free-scoring game. Johnny Martin, Alabaster's star pitcher of last year, pitched for Alabaster allowing 11 hits, striking out nine, and walking two. Alabaster touched two Hale pitchers, Atwell and Werely for 11 hits, five walks while only three men struck out. Vern Hill was the big stick for Alabaster, with two doubles and two singles out of five times at bat, just beating out French of Hale who batted a double and three singles in five times.

Tawas City Drops Final Game to AuGres

Play Alabaster Here Next Sunday in Post Season Game

In their final game of the 1948 NEM League season, AuGres pulled a surprise 3 to 1 victory over Tawas City last Sunday. Neither team had an earned run, with AuGres getting seven hits and Tawas City four. Six errors and some untimely boners, on the Tawas team's part, accounted for the three AuGres runs.

Broadworth, AuGres hurler, proved very effective against the Tawas City Club, allowing only two hits, one by Katterman and one by W. Thornton, until the ninth, when the locals bunched two hits to push their only run across the plate. Broadworth also got the only extra base hit of the game, a long triple to right center field in the second inning.

Neither team scored until the seventh, when AuGres scored two runs one hit and three errors. In the eighth, one AuGres hit and two errors, gave AuGres their third run.

Play Alabaster Here Sunday

In a renewal of their hotly contested series, Tawas City will play Alabaster at the Tawas City Athletic Field, this Sunday, September 19. In league play, this year, each team has won from the other once.

The game will also give the local fans a chance to view Johnny Martin, who pitched Alabaster to the NEM League Championship last year and this year has had a successful season with the Clarksdale, Mississippi farm team of the Saginaw Bears. Game time will be 2:30 p. m. Come early for choice grandstand seats or a good spot for your car.

In the ninth, Tawas City had a belated rally started when Katterman walked, Groff flied to the (Continued No. 4, Back Page)

May Get Felonious Driving Charge

Flees from One Accident To Get in Another

Stephen Birkenbach of this place is in the Iosco county jail and will probably be charged with felonious driving the result of two accidents he had here Sunday night.

In the first accident his car struck one driven by Mrs. Thomas Nelkie. Mrs. Nelkie was badly bruised and her little daughter, Katherine, received severe cuts and bruises. In attempting to flee from the accident Birkenbach's car struck Raymond Maynard of Alabaster. While again attempting to flee, his car became stuck in the sand. Maynard is at Omer Hospital suffering from a punctured chest cavity and internal injuries.

Brown-Herriman

Miss Betty Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brown of Wilber became the bride of Clare H. Herriman last Saturday evening in a candle light ceremony at the Tawas City Methodist church. Rev. L. Wayne Smith officiated. The altar was decorated with pink and white glads.

The bride was attired in a wedding gown of ivory satin with a bertha of Chantilly lace. The gown had a bustle effect and a long train. Her veil of Chantilly lace was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried white roses centered with a lavender orchid.

Miss Joyce Brussell, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a blue faille gown and her flowers were pink glads. The groom was attended by his brother, Olen Herriman. Ushers were the bride's two brothers, Allen and Stanley Brown and the groom's brother, Lee Herriman.

A reception was held at the Wilber Hall for about 300 relatives and friends. The hall was decorated in pink and blue. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom graced the bride's table.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to points in Canada.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

South Receives Wallace With Fury; CIO Pledges to Support President; Berlin Meetings May End Stalemate

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

WALLACE: Pure Hate

Henry Wallace claimed that his expansive love for his fellow men had not been diminished by his experiences in the South, but it stood as a fact that the ramparts of that abiding affection must have undergone a severe test.

As the Progressive party's presidential candidate Wallace had gallantly penetrated into the southern states to bring them his brand of enlightenment.

But the crusader was not appreciated. He was received in North Carolina by hostile audiences who showered him with invective, vilification, eggs and tomatoes.

His speeches were blanketed out by boos and catcalls in Winston-Salem, Durham, Burlington, Greensboro and Charlotte, N. C. Wallace was stunned with disbelief at what was happening to him.

In Burlington, where the full force of North Carolina's vituperative mood was unleashed, the former vice president was not even given a chance to talk. He was unable to do anything except dodge missiles and plead with the furious citizens closest to him that things like this were not supposed to happen in the United States.

It was an ugly display of bad taste that spread hysterically from town to town as Wallace's tour progressed. The egg and tomato tossing was severely criticized by top U. S. officials, including President Truman who called it "highly un-American business," and said: "Mr. Wallace is entitled to say his piece the same as any other American."

Nevertheless, in North Carolina Wallace's say was confined for the most part to protestations against the treatment he was receiving. At Greensboro, with egg shell clinging to his head, he shouted: "I don't mind being hit by eggs and tomatoes, but they would be more useful being fed to children."

"The faces I have seen distorted by hatred are of people for whom I have in my heart profound compassion, because most of them have not enough to eat."

The crowd laughed at him. And as Wallace left North Carolina to head into Alabama and Mississippi it looked as though he might be able to use some "profound compassion" for himself, for his racial views are opposed even more violently in those states.

BACKING: For Truman

As the two major presidential candidates prepared to swing their campaigns into full career in preparation for the November elections, some good news popped up for President Truman.

The CIO officially threw its support to the Democratic ticket and pledged the organization to work for his election.

That was the way the CIO had written itself on the political books this year, but the action left the organization simmering with internal discord.

Bitter protests of 12 left-wing union leaders had had to be overcome before the CIO could cast its lot with Truman and Barkley. The dissenting unions wanted to support Wallace, and they had their way insofar as the resolution adopted by the group was easy in its criticism of the Progressive party's candidate.

GOP nominee Thomas E. Dewey, however, was condemned as "the candidate of big business." The Dixiecrats, headed by Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, were shrugged off in the resolution as a coalition of Democrats and "do-nothing Republicans" that has "steadfastly adhered to the philosophy of the National Association of Manufacturers."

The pro-Truman resolution by the CIO executive board did not necessarily mean total support for the President, however. Philip Murray, CIO president, said that the 12 dissenting unions are not bound by the majority decision to back Mr. Truman.

"Any union still may exercise its right to do what it wants," he said.

That meant, apparently, that the leadership of at least 12 CIO unions, numbering more than a million members, would continue to labor in behalf of Wallace, while 30 other unions with about 5.5 million members would go to work for the Democratic party.

NO RELIEF TOMORROW

High Cost of Living Stays and Stays

Here's that same old news again: There is no immediate relief from the high cost of living in sight, and it probably will continue to creep upwards throughout the election campaign this fall.

Economists of the labor, commerce and agriculture departments concur in the prediction that no break in prices is likely to come about before the November 2 elec-

Crowd Fury

Henry Wallace, Progressive party candidate for President, has discovered that the penalty for espousing political ideas that differ sharply from the majority opinion is hatred. Speaking at Greensboro, N. C., he was pelted with eggs and vegetables—which probably is just another form of freedom of expression.

BERLIN: Some Talk

That sound of sabers rattling in Berlin meant this time that the disputants in the fight over control of the German capital were merely laying down their swords to get together and talk about it once more.

Tension lifted almost visibly when the Big Four military governors of Germany met for the first time in more than five months to discuss a single currency for Berlin and the lifting of the Soviet blockade of the city.

The meeting was called in the first place to implement decisions reached by the American, British and French ambassadors with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov in Moscow. At least the Moscow talks had accomplished that much.

Topping the list of items for discussion was the problem of what to do about the rival currencies in Berlin. At present both eastern and western zone marks are circulating in the city.

It was understood that the conferees in Moscow previously had agreed in principle that only the Soviet zone mark should circulate in Berlin, but that it should be under four-power control.

There were still conflicting attitudes as to what course the Berlin parley should take, however.

The Russians believed that an agreement on getting a single currency must be worked out before any final East-West agreement on Berlin can be possible.

In Washington the U. S. state department, backed by Great Britain and France, was insisting that the Soviets must lift the Berlin blockade before any discussion of the currency problem is held.

The whole situation was extremely complex and, actually, few persons outside of high official circles made any pretense of being able to understand it fully.

About as far as general understanding of the subject went, it was limited to the realization that unless an agreement were reached soon the tortured peace would become more dangerously strained.

Headliners

IN GARLAND, TEX. . . . A campaign-minded hatmaker was offering edible candy headgear (above) for reckless election bettors who vow to eat their hats if their candidate loses.

IN ROCHESTER, N. H. . . . Raymond Beaulieu, fined $73 in municipal court for operating an unregistered automobile, sold his car to raise money to pay the fine.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. . . . Robert H. Smith was granted a divorce when he testified that his wife, enraged because he didn't know how to dance the polka, slapped and kicked him until his weight dropped from 165 pounds to 140.

GREEK CRISIS: Relieved

Few U. S. forays into the field of international aid have been so widely condemned and excoriated as the so-called "Truman doctrine" for economic help to Greece and Turkey.

Almost since its inception the "Truman doctrine" has been denounced as a fraud, a farce and a flop. Much of the denunciation, however, seemed to be based on opinion rather than fact. Actually, for a long time it was almost impossible to assess the condition of the Greek aid program.

Now the government has come out with a report to congress that states bluntly that American military and economic aid has removed the danger of Greece falling to Communism.

"While not all the problems in Greece are solved, the crisis of 18 months ago has been averted," one official said. "The aid program in Greece is over the hump."

The report, submitted by President Truman and covering the first year of American efforts to keep Greece free, embodied virtually the first optimism anyone has expressed regarding the picture in Greece.

So far does this optimism extend that Greece now is accepted officially as the "bright spot" in American attempts to help other nations resist the onslaughts of Communism. In Asia and other European countries the anti-Communist battle is not considered won.

Government emphasis, of course, is on the fact that the task in Greece still is not done. Between 15,000 and 17,000 Greek guerrillas remain at large despite recent successes by government forces. And guerrilla action may continue for several years, depending on the amount of aid received by the rebels from Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Briefly, the official success story of the Greek effort claims that the nation's wild inflation has been resisted, the cost of living is dropping, about 1,000 miles of key roads have been reconstructed and the vital Corinth canal is open to traffic.

Love in Bloom?

British tongues and heartstrings are vibrating with rumors of a romantic association (that's what it is when royalty is involved) between Princess Margaret Rose, youngest daughter of the king and queen, and the marquis of Blandford, a fair-haired young nobleman. Her parents have yet to pass judgment on him, however.

DEATH CAME:

Charles E. Hughes

Regally bearded Charles Evans Hughes came within a whisker of being elected the 27th President of the United States in 1916.

At that time he was a crusty, unbending, academic man, and it was probably because of that temperament that he lost the presidential race to Woodrow Wilson in one of the closest elections in history—277 electoral votes to 254.

California's vote was the deciding factor in the final result and Hughes lost that when he incensed the California governor by failing to visit him while on a tour of the state.

But Charles E. Hughes was, nevertheless, as near to being a great man as most people ever get. And he mellowed with time.

He was the only American ever to be appointed twice to the U. S. supreme court—once in 1910 and again in 1930 when he returned to preside as chief justice.

He was twice governor of New York, his native state, resigning the position during his second term to become a supreme court associate justice.

In July, 1941, he retired from the supreme bench to withdraw into private life. Between that time and August of this year he made only one public appearance—to attend the funeral services of Harlan Fiske Stone, another chief justice, in April, 1946.

Late last month Charles Evans Hughes, 86 years old, died of congestive heart failure.

Timber Top

Lumber production in the U. S. this year probably will exceed the 1947 output by at least 5 per cent, the commerce department has estimated.

The department's lumber survey committee reported that this level would be attained if there is no slackening of demand. Lumber currently is flowing to markets in ample quantity to supply the record-breaking construction activity.

Jap Department Stores Arrange Quick Marriages

TOKYO.—A war time phenomenon still going strong here is the department store marriage. Three department stores in this city will arrange a marriage ceremony with all the trimmings just as readily as they would sell a radio or new dress. Charges for the service are low.

The Takashima department store, for example, marries 12 couples a day and is booked solid two months ahead. Were the ceremony held at a Shinto shrine and followed by a restaurant dinner it would cost the bridegroom—he pays the expenses —6 to 12 months' wages.

Takashima officials have speeded up the whole procedure so that they now turn out a married couple every 30 minutes. It is a perfect assembly line layout. The bride picks up her kimono in one room, moves on to the next to be gowned and then proceeds to the hairdressing section and its eight way stations, to be mean.

Meanwhile the guests wait in an anteroom and move on cue into a small straw matted hall, the copy of the inside of a small Shinto shrine. After the ceremony the party poses for a picture in an adjoining studio, eats dinner and then everyone goes back to their jobs. The cycle is completed and the next group takes over.

Brokers Get Rich

Mass matchmaking also is sweeping Japan. As a marriage broker a Japanese can become a yen millionaire overnight. Starting the cherry blossom season off with a bang was the town of Uji-Yamada, south of Osaka and near Mikimoto's pearl farms. Town officials invited eligible bachelors and unwed women from all over Japan to participate in a mate hunt. Fifty-five prospective bridegrooms and 17 brides-to-be came to look each other over.

The pay-off in the cupid business, however, came here when 3,000 people walked through a hastily built wedding arch to the muddy banks of the Tamagawa river. After this good look-see at each other they paraded through the streets with flags waving and placards reading: "Times Have Changed; Let's Get Married in a Democratic Way."

Leading the column and wearing striped pants and morning coat was Seido Mishira, Japan's most industrious marriage broker and the prime mover in more than 20,000 marriages in less than two years. Following Mishira, who is the perfect replica of the little man atop a wedding cake, were widowers with babies strapped to their backs, girls chaperoned by their mothers and hundreds of office workers and clerks.

Many Find Partners

Three hundred couples—or 10 per cent—found partners to their liking, according to Mishira. Each had a number and if she or he were too shy to strike up a conversation they could ask for a "number's" name and address at a registration desk and contact the party later.

Matchmaking in Japan is not new, Mishira points out, but he says the current boom is unprecedented. An "ad" in his magazine by a girl of 20, he says, brings 400 replies. When the girl is 25 there are 100 answers, and when she is 40 only 20 men respond. He adds that 70 per cent of the girls are most interested in the prospective bridegroom's pocketbook; 90 per cent of the men want beauty, and 20 per cent will marry an ugly girl. He concludes, however, that in most cases parents still make the final decisions.

Escaped Lions Thrill Circus Fans With Unscheduled Act

PITTSBURGH.—Three lions slipped from their cage at Forbes field to give an unscheduled thrill to more than 10,000 persons attending a police circus.

Just as a trapeze act got under way the lions ambled onto the field. The aerialists promptly halted their act and the audience sat as if mesmerized.

Circus employees carrying chairs and ladders hastily formed a circle. Scores of police moved in, their hands on their holsters. The lions looked up swung their tails a couple of times—and walked right back into their cage which was locked securely this time.

'It's an Ill Wind That Blows No Good' Is Farmer's Proverb

GETTYSBURG, PA.—Owners of one farm in Adams county must have good reason to believe in getting wind insurance on their buildings.

Three years ago wind demolished a barn on a farm owned by the J. A. Stevens estate.

Two years back the roof of the rebuilt barn came off in a similar storm. With it went one end of the structure. Again it was repaired.

Recently, during another blow, the same end of the barn came down, and this time, for good measure, half of the farmhouse roof vanished.

Washington Digest
Spy Inquiry Should Not Ask Rejection of U. S. Constitution

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—When a man has a strong constitution he doesn't have to think much about it.

It works about the same with a nation. Especially when both are young and vigorous. But as they get more mature, they may discover a few organs here and there which have to be mended or a few articles that have to be amended just because of a changing environment.

In any case it isn't a good idea to lock your constitution up and never take it out and dust it off and see if it is still there.

This is the month when what Ben Franklin referred to as "the grand Federal Constitution" was born in Philadelphia after more than four months debate by the constitutional convention. It was signed Monday, September 17, 1787.

Baukhage

George Washington presided over the convention and presided as well as he had as head of the ragged Continentals. When the document was signed by all but Gov. Edmund Randolph and Col. George Mason of Virginia and Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts.

"The business being thus closed," as Washington wrote in his diary, "the members adjourned to the City Tavern, dined together and took a cordial leave of each other . . ."

Many people at the time thought the Constitution was pretty good as it was, and yet the part which is probably most familiar to the present generation is the part which our founding fathers recognized as the first thing lacking in the original draft—the first amendment: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

This amendment and the nine which followed, making up the Bill of Rights, were all introduced in the first congress, as the Beards in their "Basic History of the United States" put it, "in response to a popular demand" but involving "no alteration in the form of government." Congress passed the Bill of Rights on to the states, which, in convention, ratified them in 1791.

Establishment of these fundamental rights, says Carl Van Doren in "The Great Rehearsal," may be regarded as the "contribution of the people" to the Constitution. They represent the crystallization of those desires for human dignity in the souls of civilized men—desires which reveal his innate possession of a spirituality that differentiates him from the beasts.

The maintenance of those rights, as opposed to the attainment and safeguarding of purely material possessions, has brought about the clash of ideologies which threatens a crisis in the world today.

Spy Probe Presses Point

During the spy-ringing investigations by the house un-American activities committee, there was much talk about the violation of the Bill of Rights. The President himself, when asked a categorical question on that subject, said he believed that this committee had, in the course of its hearings, infringed these rights. He did not specify which of the rights had been infringed but from his previous expressions it would seem he was referring to the fifth amendment which says in part:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury . . ."

The President said some of the testimony made public had done irreparable harm to certain persons, had slandered a lot of people who didn't deserve it.

He explained that all the evidence of alleged guilt concerning these persons had already been presented to the grand jury and that the grand jury had not considered it sufficient grounds for indictment.

The jury, protecting the rights of the individual, had not made the names public. But the un-American activities committee, presenting the same evidence, had made the names public and in so doing had, according to the implication of the President, infringed the Bill of Rights.

From the mail I get and the telephone calls I receive, I know that many people disagree with the criticisms of the committee, fully approving of its actions.

These people, I am sure, do not believe in the infringement of anyone's constitutional rights. They believe in the American legal principle that a person is innocent until he is proved guilty. But they appear to have convicted the accused in their own minds, feel they are guilty, and also have the feeling that anyone who objects to what the committee has done is guilty of taking sides with a traitorous person and, therefore, is himself indirectly guilty of treason.

Before me I have a letter. It is written in good English, emotional it is true, but obviously from an intelligent and educated person. It says in part:

"Why not be fair in your broadcasts? It is scandalous and near criminal to murder a man's reputation on mere suspicion as is being done by certain committees investigating communism . . ."

So far so good. With that start I expected a strong defense of the Bill of Rights to follow. But no indeed! Listen to this "but"—

"You know perfectly well the necessity of the publicity against communism because there is no other way to arouse the electorate. You know there are Benedict Arnolds by the score in the administration's set up."

Wait a minute! Is it necessary to violate the Constitution to arouse the electorate? If you believe that, you believe in revolution. It's revolution if you do not use legal means in exercising your right to change the Constitution. But do you want to change the Constitution so the Bill of Rights is infringed? Not if you really mean what you say in the first paragraph of your letter.

Who's Selling U. S. Down the River?

As to whether there are "Benedict Arnolds" in the government, I have no doubt there may be foreign spies in the government, and I would be in favor of dealing with them much more drastically than present laws permit. I hope stronger laws will be drafted. So does congress. The department of justice has been working on such a law for some time. But to say the government is full of traitors is either utter nonsense or else the FBI is a lot of morons. Now let's read further from my listener's letter:

"Canada has officials in their government who are loyal to the country and cleared out the rats on their own initiative. We have men who are selling us down the river night and day."

Well, as to Canada, no one was publicly accused until the court had decided there was legal proof of his guilt. The names of those who had been accused and declared innocent never were revealed.

As to men "selling us down the river night and day," I will take the word of General Eisenhower if, in a political year the President's word can't be taken. The general said: "This country keeps its major secrets pretty well."

Now the writer of this letter is obviously sincere, believes, according to his own word, in the fifth amendment, on both legal and moral grounds. Yet on the same page, speaking with natural but illogical indignation he asks that the Bill of Rights be abrogated.

I understand this psychologically. I have found myself privately convicting at least one of the persons who was accused by a witness before the un-American activities committee although I know that investigation by the FBI and hearings by the grand jury failed to find this person guilty. Perhaps more evidence will be introduced with which the accused can be convicted under the law, but as long as we pretend to be loyal Americans, we have to hold our tempers and withhold our judgments.

Perhaps before forming opinions on this subject, certainly before expressing them, instead of just counting 10, it might be well to count the 10 amendments composing the Bill of Rights and while counting, read them over carefully.

And maybe, as a birthday present to the Constitution which has given us the best government we know about, read the rest of the document over, too. If enough people did that, there might be a happier birthday all around.

A corn-borer in an ear of corn can't bore any more than the corn you can hear every day with your own ear.

After the recent Olympic games, which were held in England, British Prime Minister Attlee had to go to the hospital with athlete's foot.

When Christopher Columbus discovered America, he found no cows. This was not strange because there was none here. It was probably just as well, however, since there were no bulls here either.

THE BABE GOES HOME

Whatever means as much as an "all-hot" is getting quite a play today in that Valhalla to which baseball folks go. The angels, we like to think, have set aside their wings and are in shirt sleeves. The bars have been let down somewhat. St. Peter is not so strict on the gate; those not quite eligible are permitted knotholes. Arguments are not frowned on and a little ribbing goes. For the first time, perhaps, it is all right up there to throw a pop bottle.

Diadems are a little tilted. The sun is shining at its brightest, there is the snap of flags in the breeze, the grass was never greener. George Herman Ruth has come home.

It is curious how many potentates and great ones of the earth are in the bleachers and how many folks who were not great shakes when on earth have the box seats. It's very special. The scores have been kept with great care. Those who did it the hard way, who triumphed over handicaps, who came through against odds are being smiled on. There is an enormous section for lost sheep and prodigal sons.

The harps are put aside for brassier instruments and for tin horns and super-noise makers. Gabriel himself leads a cheer and the Bambino enters. He is dazed and needs a few minutes to get things straight, to realize that the doctors are gone, the men with the stethoscopes and the tubes and the instruments, the nurses and the charts, the agonies and the darkness.

He rubs his eyes. "It's all right," a voice of infinite tenderness tells him. "What's all this? Where am I?" asks the Bambino, young and vital. "It would take too long to explain," says the Voice, "and you might not find it easy to understand. We're not too sure whether this is just the proper thing or not but we are scrambling up values, standards and the rules a little."

"But I don't rate all this," stammers the Babe. "I was a pretty tough one in my time. The reformatory type, remember?"

"And a bad actor in plenty of spots. There was that time when . . ."

"Shut up and come in," says a fellow with a great shock of hair. "And remember you never got anywhere talking back to me."

"Judge Landis!" exclaims the Babe.

"Get into action," says the Judge. "It's been lovely up here, but, well, a little too quiet without you."

"Look, is this a dream? Did the doc give me too many dope pills last night?" pleads the Babe.

"Take it from us. This is all the real thing," comes from a trio of familiar voices.

"Colonel Huston! . . . Jake! . . . Miller Huggins!" cries the Bambino.

"Welcome!" says Colonel Ruppert. "And no salary talks!"

The Babe looks himself over. He sees that he is a youngster again. He observes that he is in the No. 3 uniform. He feels the old surge of power. But he still stands a little befuddled.

"Have a bat, pal!"

"Lou! . . . Lou! . . . Lou Gehrig!"

"Yeah, I've been expecting you, Babe."

Now the Babe hears such cheers as he never heard before, mighty cheers from the throats of old timers, departed buddies, the great host of kids who were called too soon, Brothers Matthias and Gilbert—all the great company of those who love a game battler, a big hearted guy, a fellow whose chief mistakes came from being too human.

He's at the plate once more—and on such a ball field!

The Bambino has come home!

Chet Bowles, former head of OPA, has been named as the Democratic candidate for governor of Connecticut. He is all for the return of rationing and it is obvious that if he wins over the GOP candidate it will be on points.

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

"I'm glad you complained; the waiter will bring you a new order at once."

"The boss knows what he is doing."

"The fellow who was bired as a comedian was funny."

Fur coat sales are reported off 25 to 40 per cent. Who wants to buy one these days when its such fun sitting by the phone waiting for the radio to ring you up and give you one free?

VISUAL PROTEST AGAINST PEACETIME DRAFT . . . All over the nation young men were lining up again. The occasion was the second peacetime draft in the U. S. within eight years. There were the usual long lines of impatient men wanting only to sign up and get it over with. And there were the usual delays and snarled up procedure. In short, the draft registration seemed to be progressing pretty normally, even to the inevitable "protests." In Boston, as soldiers looked on, a group of picketers carrying placards objecting to the draft marched in front of the first corps cadet armory during the first registration day.

KING PAUL REVIEWS HIS 'REPENTANT COMMUNISTS' . . . In Athens, King Paul of Greece salutes as he and Queen Frederica (at his side) and members of his entourage review his new battalion formed of repentant Communists from Macronissos island. This is the fourth such battalion composed of former Reds. The ceremony was climaxed by the presentation of a flag to the new battalion. On the king's left here is General Yantzis, chief of the Greek general staff. On the queen's right (white suit) is George Stratos, minister of war.

HERE COME SOME ARMY BACKS . . . All right, get out the blankets and hot water bottles. The football season is coming up again. In that connection, one of the big questions is how the mighty Army team will do this year. Here, four of the cadet backs who are expected to see first string duty this year make their 1948 debut in front of a camera at Army's first practice session. They are (left to right in air) Amos Gillette, halfback, Wilson, N. C.; Rudolph Consentino, fullback, Seneca Falls, N. Y.; Arnold Galiffa, quarterback, Donora, Pa., and Robert Stuart, halfback, Tulsa, Okla.

WHERE EAST MEETS WEST IN BERLIN . . . One of the most tender and aching spots on the bruised body of this trouble-plagued world is the Potsdamer platz in Berlin where Russians, Americans and British all stand within arm's length of each other and don't feel too happy about it. There have been Russian forays across the line, ostensibly in search of black marketeers. There have been kidnappings of western Berlin police and there have been seizures of Americans who strayed a foot over the line. Here is a long line of U. S. MPs and jeeps drawn across the street to prevent influx of black marketeers into American zone.

ZACHARY SCOTT has been borrowed by Michael Curtiz productions from Warner Bros. to be one of the two romantic interests in Joan Crawford's life in "Flamingo Road," an assignment which he deserves. Scott is a good actor who hasn't had as many good roles as should have come his way. He'll play a young deputy sheriff who becomes state senator, a handsome weakling who breaks—or at least bruises—Joan's heart, with Virginia Houston as her rival for his affections.

Incidentally, Miss Houston, a graduate of the Omaha community playhouse (Dorothy McGuire and Henry Fonda came from there), got the role because Curtiz saw her at a party for Mimi Chandler.

When a Memphis lad in Yankee stadium yelled "He did it for me!" when Joe Di Maggio hit a home run, Dick Jurgens wondered if he was right. Everything else had been done for him as one of the teen-agers' popularity contest winners visiting New York this summer. They appeared on Jurgens' "Spotlight Revue" and visited the town's high spots. Soon after she reached Ada, Okla., on location for Walter Wanger's "Tulsa," she received a huge bunch of mistletoe from the town's menfolk, with a note saying "We guess this is just wishful thinking, but here's hoping." She replied that she'd kiss any representative male citizen—of the age of her two-year-old twins!

Life of Samuel Colt
After being expelled from Amherst, Samuel Colt was sent to sea. The ship's paddle wheel gave him an idea for the revolving pistol cylinder. At the age of 14 he whittled out a model and it worked. Later, he quit his father's dye plant to seek his fortune as "Dr. Colt". In 1832 he sent his plan of a gun to the U. S. patent office, and was awarded a patent in 1836. After the original company failed, Colt invented the submarine "mine", while still in his twenties. He died wealthy at the age of 48.

Sand Lake News

The summer vacation season is over, but memories of summer fun will linger with the many people at Sand Lake that enjoyed every minute of the season. As the Labor Day week-end is over, most resorters start thinking about returning to the city, as the young people of the household prepare to return to school and fall and winter class work.

A double-header ball game was the center of attraction Labor Day. Our Sand Lake Association met Saturday. A big crowd was in attendance. Officers were elected and plans made for the coming year.

Mrs. Arndt is adding to the appearance of her cottage by doing some remodeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Defelsky and family left for their home in Bay City.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Steib over Labor Day were Mr. Steib's mother and his sister, Mrs. Retsloff of Flint.

Guests at the George Kendall home were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nord of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kendall and family of Saginaw and Johnny Kendall of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haack and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Haack and family of Saginaw spent the week-end at Sand Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durant and family of Flint were guests of the Harry Pringles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sunnerfied, Mr. and Mrs. Massman, Mr. and Mrs. Grunow and Mr. and Mrs. Art Prall have returned to their homes in Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Westover and son, Jerry, entertained guests from Flint over the week-end.

The Russo's of Pontiac were with us again, also the Mains of Flint, and the Butlers of Detroit.

Mr. and Mr. John A. Mehls and little granddaughter, Holly Ann Peters left for their home in Saginaw after a five months stay here, where Mr. Mehls has been recuperating from a heart attack. Guests over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Stuhler and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Peters of Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Perkins of Bay City will continue to stay at the haven for the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kinsel entertained guests from Chicago over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kraut and family of Bay City and Mr. and Mrs. Inglehart and family spent the week-end at their cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith and family left for their home in Norwalk, Ohio, after a five week vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardenburg of North Branch are continuing their vacation here for several weeks.

The summer vacation is only a memory now, taking life as was the motto of most people here, who thoroughly enjoyed every minute spent in the northland.

Kitchen Helper Has Double Duty Purpose

THIS practical kitchen helper is really very easy to build from the full size pattern. Once you've used it chances are that you'll make another to go alongside your stove or sink. It not only provides many square inches of additional table top working space, but it also does double duty as a large tray holder. Salad bowls and mixers can also be stored on its wide shelves.

The materials which the pattern specifies are obtainable at any lumber yard. Trace pattern on lumber specified, saw and assemble. Full size pattern shows exactly where to nail or screw each piece and size of nails and screws to use. You'll have fun building this piece and save many steps using it.

CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through the functional "middle age" period peculiar to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, highstrung, tired? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

When Your Back Hurts—

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Varying Basic Recipes Assures Interesting Meals (See recipes below)

Basic Recipes

"IS THERE any simple way to learn how to be a good cook?" asks a young woman now starting out to keep house. Older homemakers have asked me the same question just as often, so the problem seems to be a common one.

The answer is simply yes. The method is to learn certain basic food preparations, then to vary these, and you certainly will have a good storehouse from which to select for meals of all kinds—for family and for guests.

The idea is to learn the basic recipe so well that it becomes as much a part of you as any simple habit. You'll memorize the ingredients if you repeat the recipe often enough, and the method is even easier to learn. Then it's no trick at all to make an infinite variety of variations of the basic recipe.

Once you have learned a recipe in this way, you'll always remember it, no matter how rushed you are or in whose kitchen you are making it. You will have arrived at perfection once you polish the technique of making it, and that is true satisfaction.

Perhaps you've heard that Mrs. Jones is the muffin maker of the community, especially because of her orange muffins. You can become famous for any one of several of your recipes just by learning to follow basic recipes, and trying out their variations.

HERE ARE SEVERAL good basic recipes with their appropriate variations which can form a good backbone to your collection:

- Plain Muffins
(Makes about 14)
- 2 cups sifted flour
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
 - 1 egg, well beaten
 - 1 cup milk
 - 4 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil

Sift together dry ingredients. Combine all remaining ingredients. Add all at once to flour mixture, stirring, not beating, quickly and vigorously until just mixed but still lumpy in appearance so that muffins will have good texture. Fill greased or oiled muffin pans, one-half full, and bake in a hot (425-degree) oven about 25 minutes.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS: Use above recipe, reducing flour to one-quarter cup, adding one cup unsifted whole wheat flour. Increase sugar to four tablespoons and use four teaspoons baking powder. Bake in a moderate (375-degree) oven for 35 minutes.

NUT MUFFINS: Use plain muffin recipe, adding one cup finely chopped nuts to other ingredients.

ORANGE MUFFINS: Use plain muffins, increasing sugar to four tablespoons, reducing milk to three-quarter cup, and adding one-quarter cup orange juice and one-quarter cup grated orange rind.

CHEESE MUFFINS: Add one cup grated American cheese, lightly packed, to dry ingredients.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS: Mix three-quarter cup of fresh blueberries or thawed, frozen blueberries in plain muffin batter.

A SIMPLE DISH like macaroni and cheese has several good variations that you can use frequently. Here, again, when you learn how to make the dish to perfection, you can be certain to enjoy the food no matter what variation you use.

Macaroni and Cheese
(Serves 6)

- 1 8-ounce package macaroni
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup flour
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups milk
- 1 1/2 cups grated American cheese

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Melt butter in top of double boiler, blend in flour and seasonings, then add milk and cook until thick. Add grated cheese and stir until melted. Combine sauce and macaroni and turn into a greased casserole. Bake in a moderately hot (400-degree) oven until golden brown, about 20 minutes.

HAM AND MACARONI: Take one-third package macaroni, place in casserole, top with thin slices of leftover ham, sprinkle with a little dry mustard, dot with butter and pour some of sauce on top of that. Repeat with layer of cheese, ham and sauce twice. Bake as above.

MACARONI WITH MEAT: Use basic recipe, with one cup slivered tongue, chicken or corned beef in layers.

BAKED TOMATO MACARONI: Arrange three skinned, thinly sliced tomatoes in layers with macaroni and cheese sauce in casserole.

MACARONI WITH CHIPPED BEEF: Shred one-quarter pound of dried beef and cover with hot water; let stand 10 minutes. Arrange beef on macaroni layers. Use cheese sauce on top.

Scrambled Eggs
(Serves 4)

- 2 tablespoons fat
- 6 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 1/2 cup rich milk or cream

Melt butter in skillet; beat eggs and add remaining ingredients. Cook slowly, stirring gently until mixture sets. Serve with ham, sausages or bacon.

WITH CHEESE: Make scrambled eggs, adding one-half cup of grated cheese with two teaspoons minced onion before cooking.

WITH MEAT: Use recipe for scrambled eggs, adding one-half cup of diced ham or tongue, shredded dried beef or chicken before cooking.

Bake popovers while you heat some creamed chipped beef on top of the stove. Split the popovers and serve with the creamed beef.

Sliced leftover roast heated in gravy extended with tomato sauce is excellent when placed over piping hot noodles.

Lamb stew takes on a different character when you add two cups of canned tomatoes in place of the water. A clove of garlic, placed on a toothpick so that it's easy to remove when cooking is finished, adds a touch of delicious flavor.

Paint and Paper Will Revamp Old Furniture Into New Pieces

By Erta Haley

MANY of us have tucked away old pieces of furniture into the attic or relegated odds and ends to the basement. Now, if the house needs its face lifted, why not bring out some of these pieces to see how they can be made to fit the interior?

Surprising, delightful things can be applied to restyle odd pieces of furniture into something quite modern. A friend of mine recently picked up some old cabinets at a second hand shop. She stained the tops and sides light, while the drawer fronts were stained dark, leaving the knobs light. Three old cabinets were converted into modern looking storage cabinets for the living room.

Beds, chairs, chests and tables all can be made over very much the same way clothes are, changing lines or adding new color. You may have practically a gold mine in your home now simply by checking attic or basement for castaways.

Make China Cabinet Into Attractive Bookcase

Dated china cabinets are not used in many homes today, but the junk man does not need to claim them if you make them over into bookcases or a small closet. If you want to use as a bookcase either in the living room, den or bedroom, remove the glass front off the china cabinet, replace the side panels with plywood, cut off the legs, leaving about two inches, and add decorative molding to the top. Sand the cabinet thoroughly and apply two coats of paint to make an attractive bookcase.

If you want to make a storage chest for youngsters out of the china cabinet, pry out the glass front and replace with plywood panels covered with wallpaper. The shelves should be removed and may be attached to one side of the chest for storage purposes. A wooden clothes pole, which might be a broom handle, is set across the top of the cabinet. A mirror with a shelf beneath it may be attached inside the door. The old legs also are removed.

Remake Old Beds

By Removing Molding
The trend in furniture is toward less fuss as well as simpler, cleaner lines. Fussy moldings can be cut off, high headboards can be cut down. You may make a quilted headboard for the bed out of chintz or taffeta depending upon the style of the bedroom furnishings, or you might even like to pad or paper the headboard.

Give cabinets new paint.

Be Smart!

As far as the first presentation of collections can predict, here's one of the success stories of the coming season. It's showing up over and over in many different fabrics, particularly satin and taffeta. The deep, deep cuffs, standing collar and generous inverted pleats in the front are all earmarks of the new style. These in combination with the smartness of line make for a style that's pleasantly flattering.

Simulates Wallpaper

A stenciled decorative design of several colors is used for this soft rose on a blue-haze background, highlighted with yellow and white. A one-coat paint can be applied easily by any homemaker to achieve this effect in brightening rooms or in making a large room seem smaller.

High footboards can be cut down, leaving a five or six inch panel which may or may not be covered to match the headboard. It's a good idea to redowel the footboard before putting the bed together again.

After you have removed fussy pieces from an old bed, instead of covering it, you might prefer to paint it a bright warm color like green, blue, pink or yellow. Use a simple but attractive spread.

If the room is rather plain with cream walls and dotted swiss curtains, make a wallpaper border of a small floral print around the windows to add color to the bedroom. If you have used wallpaper on the headboard of the remodeled bed, this should be used as the frame around the window, too.

Brighten Wooden Chairs

By Painting, Padding
What about those old kitchen or porch chairs you have relegated to the attic. Couldn't they be used if you trim off the ornate knobs and other bric-a-brac?

The chair can be painted a gay color to match the kitchen, and you can relieve the solid color paint by adding some gay trimming with decals or stencils.

Or if you want to use the chair on the porch or dinette, pad the back and seat, and finish off with a gay flowered or solid color fabric.

Chairs also can be stained if you want to use them in some other room in the home. Remove the old paint with varnish remover.

It's Easy to Convert

Chests and Tables
Have you a small table that once was used in the kitchen? There are two good possibilities for using this. One is to cover the table completely and make a dressing table of it for the bathroom, bedroom or dressing room. You can cover the mirror frame with the same type of material as the skirt of the table. An old piano bench or discarded box can be padded to make the seat for the table. This, too, is covered in the same material used for the skirt.

Another possibility for using the table is to place it in a hall.

A niche in the hall could be used for the table, which is refinished as necessary. You can use a figure of some kind on the table, a few books or a lamp if light is needed. A mirror can be used above the table, if desired, or an attractive arrangement of pictures could be placed there.

Shabby chests take on new brightness if they are covered with a floral print wallpaper. These are good to use in bedrooms as night tables, especially if they are the small, two or three drawer type.

Chests also can be papered, covered or even painted to match or harmonize with closets. The legs can be trimmed down completely or at least cut down to a height more convenient if they are to be used in the closet.

Long storage chests also can be brought out of hiding and either refinished or painted, papered or covered in some way to make them harmonize with the room.

A cedar chest, for example, may fit nicely into a den against a row of windows. When refinished with the top padded and covered nicely, these will give two or three extra seats to the room as well as a storage chest for toys, clothing, furs, pillows, extra blankets or linens.

Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination.

No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C; supply valuable amounts of B₁ and P. They alkalize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

Government Economics

THE MAN LOOKED as though he had celebrated at least 70 birthdays and that through his years he had labored with his hands and drawn for what he had received. It was evident he had not even enjoyed the advantages of a college education. I met him accidentally and did not even learn his name. In a casual conversation he introduced the subject of inflation and told me he had so protected himself that he could withstand whatever disaster inflation might bring.

PATTERSON

HE TOLD ME HIS protection consisted of putting away enough of what he termed "good 100 per cent money" to see him through. In response to my query as to where "100 per cent" money might be had, he explained:

"YOU REMEMBER the money we had up to the middle thirties. Those large sized bills were replaced by the little ones that now are used. On those large sized pieces of paper currency the government printed its promise to redeem them in gold on demand. The savings that will see me through a deflation are in that kind of money and it is in my possession. That is 100 per cent value money. My government makes good on its promises."

I TRIED, but did not succeed, to convince him that the currency he held had no greater or different value than the currency now being turned out on government printing presses; that the government—his government—had repudiated the promise to redeem in gold; that following the repudiation, the government had fixed a higher price on gold, decreasing the amount of gold in any one dollar by one third; that it maintained the new price by buying all the gold offered, regardless of the country from which it came; and that he not only could not exchange the currency he held for gold, but that his holding of that currency was a violation of the federal law and he could not use it as money.

I COULD, I think, understand the belief and reactions of the elderly man. I rather appreciated his faith in his government, even though it was not well-founded.

THE BONDS that represent our unprecedented national debt were purchased by those who hold them with dollars worth 50 cents or less. We must redeem them with dollars of the same value or the nation faces bankruptcy. For us to go back now to a gold standard at the ratio we abandoned in 1934 would be practically doubling that national debt. We would be paying it off with 250 billion 100-cent dollars instead of 250 billion 50-cent, or less, value dollars.

SUCH A CONDITION does not mean we could not now go back to a gold standard and by doing so stabilize our currency by giving it a fixed value. We again could increase the price of gold, thus giving to each dollar a less quantity of gold, and so reduce the gold value to 50 cents or less. An international monetary conference might agree to fix such a price for gold. If not we could fix the price and maintain it by agreeing to buy all gold offered at that price.

SUCH A MOVE would stabilize our dollars at about their present purchasing value. To maintain that value we would have to stop issuing more dollars. Our present stock of gold is sufficient to cover a gold redemption promise on approximately 29 billion dollars of printing press currency now in circulation, but it would not permit a continuous increase in the amount of printing press money in circulation.

THERE IS A MOVEMENT on at the present time for a return to the gold standard and a bill to accomplish that was introduced at the last session of congress. An effort to arouse interest in the passage of that bill is being made by Philip M. McKenna, president of Kennametal company, Latrobe, Pa. With the proper provisions to protect us against an increase in our national debt, returning to a gold standard would be the best way of stabilizing our currency, putting a damper on inflation and, incidentally, restoring the faith of my elderly acquaintance in the integrity of his government.

THE FOLLOWING FIGURES may sound fictitious to many farmers, but they are authenticated by the agricultural department. In 1932 the farmer received 32 cents out of each dollar the consumer paid for food. In 1947 the farmer took 54 cents out of each consumer food dollar. The rest of the dollar went for processing and for profits to processors, wholesale and retail distributors. On meats the farmer's share went from 53 cents on each dollar as a 1933-1939 average, to 71 cents in 1947.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Herman Scholtz of Detroit, and Miss Edna Bender of Bay City, and wore gowns of American beauty rose, styled identical to the maid of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses and mums. All attendants wore long matching gauntlets and feather headpieces.

Faye Boos, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a white taffeta gown similar to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Acting as best man was Charles Boos of Detroit, brother in law of the groom. Ushers were Herbert Ziehl and Roland Fahselt, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fahselt chose a black and white frosted crepe dress and Mrs. Rollin's dress was navy blue. Both wore a corsage of gardenias and pink roses.

Following the ceremony, dinner and evening reception was served at the bride's home for 160 relatives and friends.

The bridal table was beautifully decorated with tall white tapers and three tier wedding cake.

Wedding guests were present from Bay City, Kawkawlin, Saginaw, Flint, Detroit, Big Rapids, Grand Rapids and the Tawas.

After a short trip the couple will reside in Bay City, where they both are employed.

For travel the bride chose a faille dress suit in hunter's green and black accessories.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

The Probate Court for the County of Iosco

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Tawas City, in said County, on the 13th day of September, A. D. 1948.

Present, Honorable H. Read Smith, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of William B. Howell, Deceased.

George W. Howell having filed in said Court his petition, praying for license to sell the interest of said estate in certain real estate therein described.

It is Ordered, That the 12th day of October, A. D. 1948, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said Court, at said time and place, to show cause why a license to sell the interest of said estate in said real estate should not be granted; It is further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing, in the Tawas Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

H. Read Smith,
Judge of Probate

A true copy,

With the HOSPITAL FIELD SECRETARY

One day this past week I spent in Baldwin township with Oscar Alstrom as my guide. Mr. Alstrom, a son of Sweden, came to this country when he was sixteen years of age from Sweden. He has been "over here" over sixty years and loves the land of his adoption with a sincerity which would make a native son envious.

We drove from farm to farm and my aged guide hopped out of the car and in many cases trudged to the back "Forty" with an agility which would make many a younger man ashamed.

In the course of the day we picked up over $200 in hospital subscriptions and promises of several others when family conferences could be arranged.

The thing that meant most to me was the enthusiasm for the project of the aging "Oscar." He seemed to sense in a very clear and definite manner the need of a hospital in this area and was willing to make a cash subscription and was proud of the fact that he could render some personal service also. I could not help but appreciate that attitude in comparison with some members of the "Whittier's Club" who sit idly by and tell how it should be done, themselves doing nothing.

The other townships in Iosco county will probably be canvassed by Frank Blust, if the Hospital Board can secure his services. My home duties dictate that I return to Bay City until we can secure a housekeeper. If anyone knows of such an individual, please contact us at 615 Trumbull St., Bay City. Our daughter has looked after Mrs. Hamilton since December last, left this week to enroll in a Nurse's training course at the University of Michigan and our son entered the University of Michigan as a pre-med student. This left us for the moment without help at home and necessitated my return home. I have tried all summer to get a permanent housekeeper so far without results.

I would ask that those of you who claim Iosco county as your home be as diligent in boosting the idea as I have tried to be, as an outsider.

I wish to thank every employer who cooperated in the part of the drive which I tried to spark plug, every hourly worker who signed gift agreements on the payroll deduction plan, every farmer who opened his heart and his purse, the editors who gave the project wide publicity, the business and professional people who gave and the Hospital Board for their confidence and support.

The job needs to be completed. More volunteers are needed for service. Organizations such as the American Legion need to interest themselves in the project—not just as individuals but as an organization.

The hospital will benefit ALL the people of the area it is designed to serve. Don't expect a few to carry the burdens of all. Let's get off our seats and go to work.

Sincerely,
Charles Hamilton.
