Christmas Arrangements
Feature of Club Meeting

The Tawas City Garden Club met Tuesday afternoon, December 7, at the City Hall, with a splendid attendance. Christmas arrangements for the home and care of Christmas plants were the main features of the program.

Among the most novel contributions were the following: The lighted country church and church yard designed by Mrs. Don Huey; a pastry house, baked and decorated by Mrs. Ernest Ross, president of the club; a Christmas tree by Mrs. Frank Walker; centerpiece of greens by Mrs. Albert Buch; Novel place cards created by Mrs. Glenn Schlacht and sprays and wreaths by Mrs. Edward Lemke. Mrs. Otto Kasischke demonstrated the making of a very lovely door wreath, which Mrs. Schlacht won in a lucky draw.

Finally Mrs. Lempke presented to each one a generous amount of bulbs from her assortment of named gladiolus.

The club is anxiously looking ahead for its next meeting on January 4, when we may learn how to make spring bouquets from dormant shrubs, from what catalogues to order and how to check on bulbs and tubers. This should prove to be a most interesting meeting.

Anyone interested in becoming a member may contact Mrs. Glenn Schlacht or Mrs. Walter Moeller.

Elks Take
Close Game
From Mio Team

Tawas City Plays
East Tawas Tonight at Community Building

Coach Mark DeFiabough's Tawas City Elks eked out a 36 to 34 overtime win over a tall and rugged team, at Mio, Tuesday night. With Bruce Myles, regular forward, sick with the flu, Coach DeFiabough had quite a time finding live lays that could click together in the first quarter and their showing in that quarter was quite dismal, but in the second quarter he put in little Del Myles (Bruce's brother) and Jerry Grack, who spearheaded the Elks attack with their hustle and aggressiveness. These two members instilled that extra fight to the game and the other members soon caught on and started to click with them. This was the first appearance of Del and Jerry on the Varsity, both are Sophomores, and they both deserve a lot of credit in this victory.

High point men for the evening were: Westcott with 12; Barry McGuire with 8; Herb Look, with 7; and Jerry Grack with 6.

McDonald, Brown and Smczynski played good defensive ball while they were in the game. In the first quarter of the game, Mio drew first blood and took a 10 to 3 lead, with Milligan and Smith each making two foul shots, Houton, Burr and Koch each dropping in a field goal. For Tawas, Westcott made a field goal and McGuire a foul shot.

In the second quarter, Tawas City came back with eleven points while holding the Mio squad to 10. McGuire made a foul shot, Westcott two field goals and a foul shot, Del Myles a foul shot and Grack a field goal, Herb Look, a field goal. For Mio, Houton made a field goal and a foul shot, Burr a field goal, and Koch, two field goals and a foul shot.

Things looked bad for the Elks at halftime, as they trailed by six points, 20 to 14. In the third quarter, the Elks were out-scored by the Mio team. McGuire sunk a field goal, McDonald a foul shot, Look, a field goal and foul shot, and Grack a field goal. For Mio, Smith made a field goal and foul shot, Burr, three field goals and two foul shots.

12 Miles of US-23
To be Widened

State to Build 4-Lane
Highway to Linwood

The State Highway Department announced this week that US-23 will be widened to four lanes between Bay City and Linwood next year. Work will begin this spring.

Plans call for four lanes from Bay City to Standish, a distance of 29 miles. Finances will allow only a portion of its construction, of a 12 mile stretch to Linwood next summer.

The road when completed will consist of two 11-foot lanes, with a raised asphalt island, resulting in a modern highway.

During the past few years, traffic has increased steadily on US-23. That portion of the road has had an ever increasing toll of traffic accidents. With four lanes much of this menace will be removed.

Harry Coons, deputy commission and chief engineer of the State Highway Department, assured the people at Standish that the entire 29 miles of road to Standish would be completed.

Held at Hale Last
Wednesday

The meeting was highlighted with a talk by Wesley Hawley, Farm Bureau representative who discussed the important factors which made cooperatives successful.

Harold R. Clark, County Agent, spoke briefly and stated that he believed that a well organized and well managed cooperative of this type could be a great benefit to its patrons and the community. A group of dairy farmers recently banded together and organized this cooperative in order that they may establish a secure market for their milk. The officers and board of directors are: President, Andrew Matthews; Vice President, John Morrison, Secretary-Treasurer, E. O. Putnam, and directors are Ed. Marshall, Leo Webb and Kenneth Huff. Saginaw Camera
Club Guests of Local Club

Monday night the Tawas Camera Club held their regular meeting at the Federal Building. A very interesting evening was planned out by Father Smith, secretary-advisor, with three members of the Saginaw Camera Club present to give an informal discussion and criticism on the many beautiful salon prints from members of the Saginaw Club. The members from the visiting club were Robert Fish, past president, Jack McIntyre, well known Saginaw photographer, Floyd Jessmore, from the club in Saginaw.

These men discussed and criticized their own prints with the members of the local club, showing how each picture could be improved with different angling, lighting, mounting and different darkroom techniques. They also commented on the portraits by the local amateurs and the good work being done in such a short time by the club's organization.

Mr. McIntyre gave a demonstration with his strobo light, one of the latest speed lights on the market.

Mr. Jessmore gave the members many helpful hints on the use of different toners and developers for processing negatives and prints.

A lunch of coffee and doughnuts was served after the meeting.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held January 3, and the first project "a picture of the first snow" probably will be completed by the members at that time.

D. & M. Takes Over Erie &
Michigan Ry.

Road Built 50 Years
Agro to Serve United States Gypsum Company

The Detroit and Mackinac Railroad Company has taken over the operation of the Erie & Michigan Railroad, accredited as the shortest railroad in the United States. Maintenance of the road by the Detroit & Mackinac started October 16, and complete operation began December 1.

Established to haul rock and manufactured gypsum products from Alabaster and supplies to the plant, for about 30 years it had the exclusive business of the United States Gypsum Company mill at that place. An immense tonnage of gypsum products has been hauled over the road. Previous to the establishment of the railroad these products went to market by boat. In 1923 the gypsum company constructed a dock at Alabaster and now a portion of the product there is shipped by water.

The Detroit & Mackinac Railroad Company has always owned the roadbed of the Alabaster line, which it constructed in 1898. After operating it for a time it was leased to the Erie & Michigan Railway and Navigation Company.

The principal stockholders of the Erie & Michigan Railway & Navigation Co., are Sewell Avery and S. S. Jenkins. The general offices are at Chicago, with E. E. Wilhelm as general manager and J. J. Walsch, auditor. A. A. Bigelow of this city has been superintendent for a number of years. Among the previous superintendents of the road were John Bay of this city and C. W. Luce, both deceased.

One of the first train conductors on the Erie & Michigan was Merion Barnes, now residing at La-Cres, Centa, California.

When taken over by the Detroit & Mackinac, the Erie & Michigan line employed eight men, which included A. A. Bigelow, superintendent; Felix Stepanski, station agent at Alabaster; Walter Moeller, engineer; Eddie Berzhinski, fireman; Ernest Wegner, brakeman; William Rapp, foreman, and Allen Alverson and Edward Pfeiffer, maintenance crew. A majority of these men are now employed by the Detroit and Mackinac Railroad.

Stepanski is the present agent at Alabaster. Among agents at the station in former years were Bruce Walker and Leonard Fox.

President Hints Controls on Way As Cost of Living Drops Slightly; Western Mutual Aid Pact Prepared

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

Radio Writer's Strike

Z. Cheevers Winch, radio writer, walked up and down in front of his cabinet radio.

"Why all the pacing?" asked the wife.
"I am a pacer by instinct; all writers are," said Mr. Winch.
"But why up and down in front of the radio set?"
"I am picketing," replied the author.
"Oh, yes, I forgot about the strike," said the wife, "but it's so futile. You can't picket radio as a whole. You don't write all the programs."
"There you go belittling me!" exclaimed Winch.

He now grabbed a banner reading: "Radio Is Unfair to Winch," and resumed his walking.

"Why are you striking, anyhow?" asked the wife.
"I don't get enough money."
"Think what you got before radio!"
"Don't talk like a union baiter!"

Mrs. Winch made a move to twist a dial.

"Stop!" commanded Winch, boozing fiercely and adding "Scab!"

"All I want to get is the weather," said the wife.

"Would you cross a picket line to get the weather, foul or fair?" asked Winch sternly.

"Certainly. Do you write the weather forecasts, too?"

"I am dickering with a company to make them louder and funnier," insisted Winch.

Mrs. Winch crossed the one-man picket line and tuned in. "Good morning, this is the Weather Bureau," a voice said.

"See! No originality," scoffed Winch.

"This is a bright, sunny morning, and conditions favor continued fair weather along the Atlantic Seaboard, with light winds," the voice continued.

"Scabs must be doing it," said Winch. "Not a laugh anywhere in the forecast."

Mrs. Winch turned the dial and got into a commercial for a soap powder.

"I was afraid of that," she said.

"What?" asked Winch.

"The jingle writers have not gone out in sympathy."

Mr. Winch resumed his pacing. Mrs. Winch, ever a good counsel, argued with him. "You know this is making you miserable," she said.

"No radio writer is truly happy unless he is listening to his material on the air. You can't hold out."
"This is a finish fight," said Winch. "We can't lose. Those radio people will try new writers and get fresh material. The public will not stand for it. They are too accustomed to the old gags, the true and tried situations, the old-time plots."

"You can't tell," said the wife. "If the public heard any really new and original material on the air, they might go for it. They might even demand it."

Z. Cheevers Winch reached for his hat and coat. He started for the office at once. There was no use taking foolish chances.

President Truman grew chin whiskers at Key West, but denied they constituted a Van Dyke. The growth was officially ruled a five o'clock shadow with a broader Democratic base.

The White House is closing a great portion of it for repairs. The celebrations took the roof off it.

A Russian editorial writer says that those who voted for Henry Wallace (remember?) were the very flower of the American nation. The other millions, we assume, constituted a sort of national weed show.

A Washington inquiry has found that the public has been taken to the cleaners through a widespread racket in which car dealers made them come across with 450 millions for extras and lose 200 million through inadequate allowances on old cars. To whom is that news?

There was a big drop in attendance and receipts at the recent New York horse show. It seems that people are afraid to consider ordering a new horse for fear they may have to wait two years.

Governor Dewey vacationed in Tucson, Ariz. Gallup, New Mexico, was of course speedily rejected.

Elmer Twitchell says Harry Truman now has achieved so much prominence that he is eligible to in-dorse a beer.

"New Comet Discovered,"—headline.

DILEMMA: Sharp-Horned

Perched uncomfortably astride a dilemma having the sharpest horns ever to plague a sitter, President Truman ponders ways and means of getting off. The situation is as clearly defined as it is bothersome.

IN SHORT, the president must strike the seemingly impossible miracle of knocking prices down while keeping wages and farm prices up. Mr. Truman is indubitably committed to the former, and it was a great majority of opinion that he could do just that which helped account for his victory.

That he will also do the latter is a campaign pledge he must exert every effort to keep.

No less a personage than Henry Ford II has sharpened one of the horns. The industrialist touched off the "fourth round" of wage increases, with consequent high-prices maintenance, when he announced a wage hike for all his workers. Then, Mr. Ford delivered himself of the observation that wages generally must go up and that prices must do likewise.

THE PATTERN is clear. Industry raises wages and the cost of its products goes up. Wages must increase if these products are to be purchased. Labor comes in to ask for more money in order to buy these products. And so the circle continues.

Meanwhile, it is obvious that Americans expect the President and congress to do something about getting the cost of living within reasonable bounds—and to do it quick. On the other hand, labor, which backed Mr. Truman at the polls, and farmers, who generally supported him, are expecting action as swift on legislation favorable to them.

As administration leaders sought a course of action to satisfy all groups, congress said little for public consumption. Methods of price control, if any have been conceived, have not been discussed.

ONE THING, however, is clear. The situation poses the major test of how effective in solving the problem will be the cooperation of congress and the President.

From Capitol Hill came persistent whispering that Mr. Truman's thumping victory did not necessarily arm him with the equivalent of a magic wand which he might wave over congress to bring about legislation in any form he may desire.

Containing 17 points in all, the program of "agreed opinions" has been presented to the U. S. and Canada for consideration. There was no immediate reaction from the two governments on the matter, but it seemed logical to presume that the idea for such a treaty had received their prior blessings.

Although the pact in its present form refrains from designating a fixed period of years for its life, it does recommend "a long duration." Actually, the five European governments have been thinking in terms of a 50-year period, but the decision on that is being left to the last stage of negotiations.

RUSSIA as a nation—peaceful or belligerent—is scrupulously ignored in the document. Nowhere is any mention made of the Soviet Union.

Nevertheless, the treaty itself offers grim proof of the fact that the western democratic nations have seen fit to construct the nucleus of a great regional defensive alliance against Russia and the spread of communism.

Peaceable: Party Line

The official "line" of the Communist party has gone off on a new tangent in a tactic described as a "peace offensive" by U. S. intelligence authorities who reported the switch.

WORD IS that the Kremlin has ordered peace propaganda and demonstrations of various kinds as the official party line for all Communist parties, organs and front organizations. The intelligence boys claimed that this ostensible about-face would become apparent in the near future.

Soviet rulers are supposed to be setting the stage for a world-wide "peace" maneuver as part of their cold war strategy to embarrass the United States and its western allies in the clash over the Berlin situation.

How much will this spurious peace offensive mean? Literally nothing, as far as any genuine desire or effort for peace is concerned. The Russians haven't undergone a change of heart; their aims are the same as always.

KEEP DIGGING: No Tax Cut

All hope for an income tax cut in January may as well be ruled out now. This is on the authority of Sen. Walter F. George (D., Ga.) who is returning to chairmanship of the senate finance committee. He has said that increased aid to Europe and additional funds for national defense would bar any reductions.

He estimated that ERP would get an additional one or two billion dollars.

Atlantis Debunked

If you take the word of Dr. Maurice Ewing of Columbia university, everyone who's been waiting around for the fabled "lost continent" of Atlantis to show up may now relax. Dr. Ewing says he has mapped, photographed, probed, sounded and visited the ocean floor since 1935, and there just isn't any evidence of the mysterious continent. Atlantis was believed to have sunk in a great prehistoric cataclysm.

Global Christmas

People of the nations of the earth are going to see Christmas from an American viewpoint this year through the medium of typical American Christmas greeting cards being sent by the state department to U. S. embassies and consulates throughout the world. Here Miss Frances Kane, state department employee, sits below an enlarged photograph of the cards.

Atomic Researcher

Dr. Frank D. Fackenthal, until recently acting president of Columbia university, has been named as head of Associated Universities, Inc., which operates Brookhaven national laboratory at Upton, N. Y. The laboratory is financed by the U. S. government to provide facilities not available at universities, but essential to nuclear research.

WAR RULES: Atomic

The need for this sort of thing is purely speculative at this point, but the International Red Cross is preparing to propose a new set of war rules that would compel nations to establish safety zones to protect civilians in the event of a future atomic war.

THESE zones would be set up in the rear of combat areas of each battling nation. Belligerents, theoretically, would recognize them as shelter areas and would spare them from atomic attack.

Treaty conventions outlining this new security zone principle now are being circulated to all nations prior to submission to a general diplomatic conference in March.

Red Cross officials say they conceived the idea for large shelter areas as a result of their experiences in setting up neutral zones in Palestine.

Three general types of people would be protected under the Red Cross plan:

WOUNDED and sick persons, whether combatant or non-combatant.

CHILDREN under 15, expectant mothers or mothers of children under seven, and the aged over 65.

PERSONS entrusted with the control and management of the zones and the care of those in them.

Although these proposals cannot be formally binding until after approval by the diplomatic convention, officials view them as so extremely important that they are urging all countries to abide by them morally without waiting for formal treaty signing.

In addition to the atomic security zone proposal, other projected war rules would cover treatment of prisoners, prohibit kidnappings and the taking of hostages. Also, the Red Cross wants to outlaw the current Russian practice of living off the land in occupied areas.

He proposed that the house and senate enact a bill to provide an annual pension of $50,000 for men who had served as President of the United States. Bell pointed out that army officers, congressmen, senators, cabinet members, heads of government departments, and even the most humble of federal workmen are provided with retirement pay and he couldn't see why the head of the federal government should be discriminated against in this regard. He felt that in the long run, retirement pay for a chief executive would be a step toward better government.

What, No Brass?

A noted industrialist, who was a war-time brigadier general, has come up with a proposal that military brass hats should divest themselves of insignia, and that West Point and Annapolis should be converted into postgraduate schools open to all ranks.

The author of these proposals is Robert Wood Johnson, chairman of the Johnson & Johnson surgical firm.

ARTERIAL: Kingly

Great Britain's royal family was keeping well in the forefront of world news. First it was Princess Elizabeth's baby, then it was King George's leg.

But while the first was an event of hysterically happy proportions for all Britons, the second most certainly was not. The king, apparently, was in a relatively serious condition. The royal family's projected trip to Australia and New Zealand next month had to be cancelled.

IT WAS suspected that 52-year-old George VI was suffering from a disease known to doctors as thrombo-angitis obliterans, more easily referred to as Buerger's disease, an inflammation of the linings of the arteries. There was some speculation, also, to the effect that the king might have diabetes or hardening of the arteries.

But the king's doctors weren't committing themselves. The five physicians described his symptom as "an obstruction to the circulation through the arteries of the legs."

THERE IS no known permanent cure for thrombo-angitis obliterans. Anyone suffering from it might be expected to live out his normal span of years if he were careful, stayed off his feet and led a sheltered life.

It was pointed out that standing and walking for hours at a time, which has been part of the king's job as figurehead of the empire, has aggravated his condition. Part of the treatment will be to cut out this important part of his duties and assign the walking and standing performances among other members of the royal household.

Meanwhile, favoring his imperiled right foot, King George was conducting the business of state from his bedroom in Buckingham palace.

Atomic Researcher

Dr. Frank D. Fackenthal, until recently acting president of Columbia university, has been named as head of Associated Universities, Inc., which operates Brookhaven national laboratory at Upton, N. Y. The laboratory is financed by the U. S. government to provide facilities not available at universities, but essential to nuclear research.

WAR RULES: Atomic

The need for this sort of thing is purely speculative at this point, but the International Red Cross is preparing to propose a new set of war rules that would compel nations to establish safety zones to protect civilians in the event of a future atomic war.

THESE zones would be set up in the rear of combat areas of each battling nation. Belligerents, theoretically, would recognize them as shelter areas and would spare them from atomic attack.

Treaty conventions outlining this new security zone principle now are being circulated to all nations prior to submission to a general diplomatic conference in March.

Red Cross officials say they conceived the idea for large shelter areas as a result of their experiences in setting up neutral zones in Palestine.

Three general types of people would be protected under the Red Cross plan:

WOUNDED and sick persons, whether combatant or non-combatant.

CHILDREN under 15, expectant mothers or mothers of children under seven, and the aged over 65.

PERSONS entrusted with the control and management of the zones and the care of those in them.

Although these proposals cannot be formally binding until after approval by the diplomatic convention, officials view them as so extremely important that they are urging all countries to abide by them morally without waiting for formal treaty signing.

In addition to the atomic security zone proposal, other projected war rules would cover treatment of prisoners, prohibit kidnappings and the taking of hostages. Also, the Red Cross wants to outlaw the current Russian practice of living off the land in occupied areas.

No Future to Presidency, Pension Plan Is Proposed

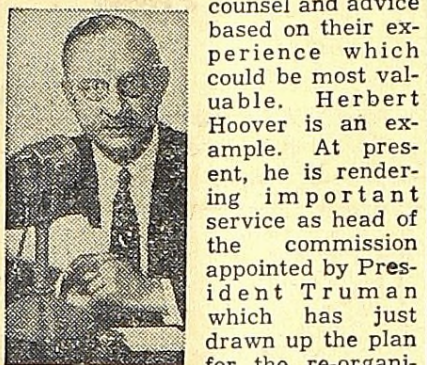

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Harry Truman, President, is going to be able to consider one measure which probably will come up in the approaching congress with more objectivity than some of his friends thought would be possible. It offers an answer to the question: what to do with ex-presidents.

The idea is not entirely altruistic, although the United States in the past has shown rather shabby gratitude in tossing aside, without further concern, the man who has served as the republic's head.

Many, if not most of our former chief executives might provide which congress will consider at its next session.

Hoover has served in many other useful public capacities since he left the White House. He can afford to. Indeed, he not only spent considerable sums out of his private funds on secretarial and research assistance when he was secretary of commerce, and later in the White House, but he also voluntarily turned back a part of his salary as President in 1932 when, under the Economy act, the salaries of all government employees were cut.

Franklin Roosevelt also turned back part of his salary under that same act, and later, in 1943, when he was advocating a $25,000 ceiling on all salaries, FDR again voluntarily refunded to the treasury a portion of his own.

But not all presidents are born with, or acquire, silver spoons. Few could afford the luxury of working for nothing and so, when they leave office most have to look around for a job.

Fortunately, former President William Howard Taft, in the years before he was called back to Uncle Sam's workbench as chief justice of the supreme court, possessed enough of the world's goods so that he could afford to render at least semi-public services teaching in the Harvard law school—a position which a man of slender means might have had to turn down in favor of a higher salary from some purely private enterprise. His son, Sen. Robert Taft, mentioned this recently when he suggested that former presidents should receive a substantial pension, "perhaps $25,000 a year."

Ex-presidents also should have the privileges of the senate floor, Taft believes, with the right to speak, but not to vote, on pending legislation. In so honoring them the nation would benefit.

Coolidge might or might not have welcomed an opportunity to take on some governmental responsibility after his presidential term expired. As it was, he accepted a lucrative position with an insurance company and continued his private law practice as well until he died.

Most presidents leave the White House poorer than when they went in. Franklin Roosevelt wrote a $2,000 personal check every month to meet White House expenses, and other recent residents have estimated that they had to go down into the old sock to the tune of $25,000 a year over and above what the government gives them, to meet the cost of living in the executive mansion.

Why Not Provide For Ex-Presidents?

When the pollsters were writing off Harry Truman as merely an "ex," come January 20, the proponents of the idea of providing for former chiefs of the United States were pointing out that Harry Truman does not have the private means that Franklin Roosevelt or Herbert Hoover had.

There was some talk that Mr. Truman might run for representative of his home state as President John Quincy Adams did. Adams served 17 years in the house and, if anything, increased his prestige by doing so. But Mr. Truman's fellow Missourian, Rep. C. Jasper Bell, had another idea in July of 1946 during the last session of the 79th congress.

He proposed that the house and senate enact a bill to provide an annual pension of $50,000 for men who had served as President of the United States. Bell pointed out that army officers, congressmen, senators, cabinet members, heads of government departments, and even the most humble of federal workmen are provided with retirement pay and he couldn't see why the head of the federal government should be discriminated against in this regard. He felt that in the long run, retirement pay for a chief executive would be a step toward better government.

A Missouri newspaper editor, shortly after Bell's resolution was first introduced, claimed in an editorial that the pension idea was alright, but that the amount of his pension, $50,000, seemed a little high. He, like Mr. Taft, felt that $25,000 a year would be a more equitable sum. Representative Bell's reply to that objection was that if congress did fix the figure at $50,000, taxes would shortly whittle it down to $25,000 anyway.

Mr. Truman may have been touched with what was intended as solicitude on the part of his fellow-show-me's but he did not feel the matter was of immediate concern. So far as the memory of this man runneth not to the contrary, there have never, in recent years, been more than two co-surviving ex-presidents.

Until the death of President Coolidge in 1933, he and Herbert Hoover were co-survivors. Coolidge had earlier shared that position with Chief Justice Taft until the latter's death in 1930. Taft, who lived to be 73 years old, co-survived and outlived Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

"No office in the world today," wrote the English professor of economics and political science, Harold J. Laski, "carries with it greater responsibilities than the presidency of the United States."

No one who has made even a superficial study of the duties of the president fails to realize how hard a job it is, hard in the sense of long hours, nervous strain, and physical effort. Since the death of Woodrow Wilson, brought on by his herculean efforts during and after World War I, much study has been given to the problem of lessening the burden of the chief executive.

Herbert Hoover has spoken of the "vast and intolerable labor" of the man who sits in the White House for four years or more. Merriman Smith in his book: "A President Is Many Men," commenting on the "complicated and burdensome" quality of the task, makes this pithy observation: "And his job is one with no future."

The "ex" has a value and the problem of finding it can be solved easily by congress without the knowledge of algebra.

U. S. Population Growth Studied

What size population do we want for the United States? Or does it make any difference?

The question is important enough to merit a continuing study by the U. S. commerce department, and the conclusions which have been reached so far appear to have an important bearing on the problem of securing world peace.

"Whatever the future of world organization, the relative population of the various nations will be a matter of profound importance in determining the shape of things to come."

That statement was made in a report by the national committee on immigration policy, headed by Earl G. Harrison, which is plumping for immigration increases in this country.

In 1923 the commerce department estimated that a population of at least 200 million and very probably 300 million could be supported in the U. S. without lowering the habitually high American standard of living.

The Harrison group pointed out that "even if we accept the lowest figure, it is still 35 millions more than the peak which the American population will reach in 1990."

These are some of the assertions the group made in a special report on immigration and population policy:

Population of the U. S. should be 159 million in 1970. That of Russia should be 251 million—an extremely sharp increase. Italy, Spain and countries back of the iron curtain also are expected to show population gains.

For other nations: Population of Germany, Denmark and Finland will remain approximately stationary, while the population of England, France, Sweden and Switzerland is expected to hit a downward trend.

By the end of this century—and that's only about 51 years away—remember—the population of the United States will be proportionately smaller in relation to Russia, China and India than it is now.

It means that the great, teeming population masses of Asia are moving forward numerically with a force and inexorability that is bound to exert a profound effect on "the shape of things to come."

KATHLEEN NORRIS

A Return to God

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"IN THE bewilderment and nervousness of these times," writes a Florida woman, "I'd like to pray. But I don't know how to pray. There was no religion in my family. Neither father nor mother ever went to church and I was an only child. "Some of my friends went to Sunday school and they took me once or twice, but nothing remained of it. I grew up, had a good time in high school and on my first job, married and now have a girl and a boy, aged nine and five. "It was only a few years ago that I began to feel the need of an anchor. One of my friends, a devout church woman, tells me that anchor is God. How do I find faith and is there more to it than just kidding yourself and dressing up Sunday morning?"

This letter makes me determined to write what I've been wanting to write for some time—an article urging every man, woman and school-age child in this country to turn to God. I know it is somewhat off my regular line, but the times are critical and we need God back of us as we never did before.

Nation Exists in God.

From the beginning, with all her varied creeds, her religious rigidity, here and her spiritual laxness there, America has claimed God's help and has evidenced her faith in His existence. However loosely knit our national beliefs, yet they always have been there. God's name has been invoked in all our state affairs and our conventions. Legal documents and court procedures never have ignored Him—until now.

Now we're leaving God out. When the U. N. met in San Francisco two years ago, those meetings were not placed under divine guidance. In the reports that come to us now from overseas, any reference to our dependence upon the God we have been taught to call Father is excluded scrupulously.

"How do I find faith?"

It amazes me that some of the fine persons who are representing their countries there, persons also representing what we have so long called "Christianity" and "Christian civilization," have sat silent under this frightful omission.

It amazes me that no voice from America, England, France—all countries whose cathedrals, art, letters, music and civil and social laws are based in the one great law that was given us 2,000 years ago—no voice from these and other Godfearing countries has been raised in protest.

Like yourself, I don't understand faith. I don't know whence or how it comes. Like yourself, I see the hypocrisy, the flummery, the fearful paradoxes in the lives of loudly protesting believers.

Overcome Evil With Good.

But also, shining above and beyond all this, like a star in the serene blue night sky over a battlefield, I have seen the truth in all that we were taught so long ago. Forgive your enemies. Do good to them that use you spitefully. Overcome not evil with evil, but overcome evil with good. By this shall men know that ye are my disciples; that ye love one another.

The voice that said these things spoke the only truth that we are going to hear in this world. Men never have obeyed that voice. They have tried, perhaps, only to find these celestial doctrines too hard for poor human flesh to follow.

But though we stumble and fail, weaken and forget, yet it is in these words and in the churches that preserve them and repeat them and it is in Godfearing, praying and church-going lives that you find the only serenity and confidence that lives anywhere today.

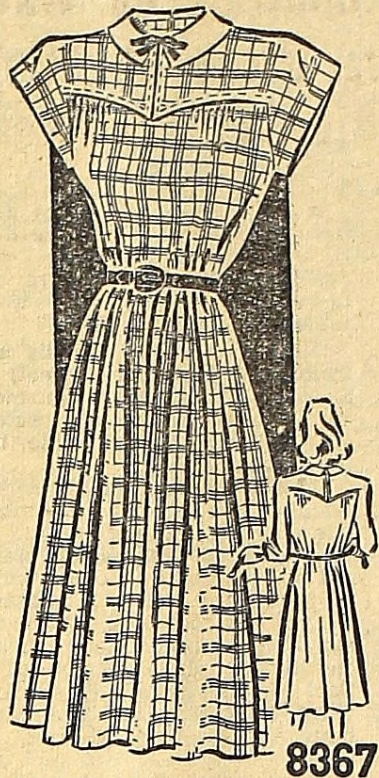

Under the crust of ritual, pomp, droning voices and sophistry, millions of humble men and women find the core of blazing, inextinguishable truth. And it is their prayers that will save the world.

HOT BREADS FOR THE HOLIDAYS

The fragrance of breads drifting from the kitchen will give a hearty welcome to the many friends and relatives who stop in at a farm home during the Christmas season.

Good, hot bread or rolls are a traditional Christmas treat, says Successful Farming magazine. All of us enjoy the age-old custom of serving the best Yuletide breads to holiday guests.

Here is a recipe for a basic sweet dough from which a number of fancy breads can be made:

Soften two packages of compressed or dry yeast in one-fourth cup of lukewarm water. Combine one cup of scalded milk, one-fourth cup butter, one-half cup sugar and one and a half teaspoons of salt. Cool to lukewarm and stir in the yeast mixture. Add two cups of flour and two well-beaten eggs. Beat well and add two and a half cups of sifted flour or enough to make a soft dough. Knead 10 minutes or until smooth. Place in a greased bowl and cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk.

One of the fancy breads which can be made from half a recipe of this basic sweet dough is date rosette coffeecake. Here it is:

Punch the risen dough down and let rest for 10 minutes. Roll out in a 10 by 12 inch rectangle and brush with two tablespoons of melted butter. Sprinkle with three tablespoons of brown sugar, one teaspoon of cinnamon, three-fourths cup of chopped dates and half a cup of chopped nuts.

Roll up like a jelly roll and seal the edges. Cut in half-inch slices. Place the slices around the sides of a greased pie pan in a circle, overlapping each slice with another. Make a second circle in the center of the pie pan. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 25 to 30 minutes. Brush lightly with confectioner's sugar icing.

INCREASE IN NUMBER OF SMALL GAME HUNTERS

Small game license sales through November don't mesh with pre-season reports voiced in some quarters that there would be fewer hunters in the field this year.

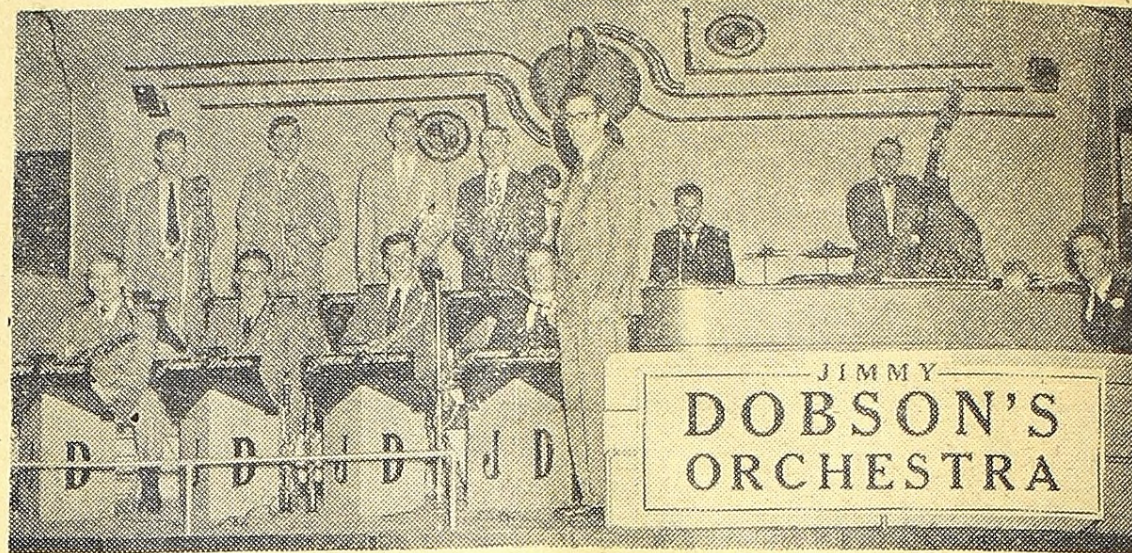

Over 429,000 resident license, or an increase of nearly 17,000 over the 1947 corresponding total, is reported by the conservation department. Nonresident licenses increased but tallied slightly over 2,000.

Resident deer licenses reported sold to date are 15 per-cent off the comparative 1947 figure of 63, 708. This change is attributed to increased costs of living and the unfavorable hunting weather. Later reports should improve the sales figure.

The increasing popularity of stalking deer with a bow and arrow is reflected in the increase of "William Tell" licenses sold. Better than 5,000 sportsmen found greater interest in getting a shot at a buck the hard way.

Important Oil Discovery
Fifth large well has been brought in at the Dollarhide field in west Texas, considered by many oil men to be the greatest oil field discovery since 1929, when east Texas started to produce. Rough estimates are that these wells have tapped a major new oil field with potential reserves of 600 million barrels.

Popularity of Patterns
Pattern sales continue to soar and indications point to 1948 being a greater pattern year than 1947. An estimated 168 millions of patterns were sold in 1947.

Farm Equipment Outlook
Farm equipment industry, which set a record for production in 1947, is working harder than ever to help the American farmer fulfill his assignment in speeding world recovery, says J. H. Oppenheim, president of the Farm Equipment Institute. There is still a tremendous demand for farm machinery to replace overage wartime equipment, he reports, but expanding production facilities are helping to meet it. Given an adequate supply of materials and freedom from extended work stoppages, the industry may equal or even top last year's all-time high in 1948, he said.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY
By the Editors of the World Book Encyclopedia

December 5 to December 11
A distinguished but unhappy man died 52 years ago this week on December 10, 1896. His name—Alfred Nobel. Nobel, a Swedish scientist, developed dynamite, blasting gelatin and several types of smokeless powder. His inventions brought him great wealth but also ill-health, for the use of his works for purposes of death and destruction, sickened him. In his will, he left about $10 million to provide five annual prizes for the most outstanding scientists and persons contributing most to world peace.

Bright Spot in New Mexico

Sprightlier Clothing
There is a continuing trend in men's clothing towards greater color variety, with emphasis on lighter shades in evening wear and brighter colors for sportswear.

TIPS FOR THE HOMEMAKER...

When decorating cookies or a frosted cake, use a salt shaker or a spice jar to sprinkle the colored sugar. This works especially well when you have mixed two colors, such as red and green, for Christmas baking.

To make holiday candels burn slower and longer, thoroughly chill them in the refrigerator several days before using them.

For outdoor wreaths, cut the bow out of red oilcloth instead of silk. It makes a gay trimming and a durable one.

For youngsters who like to play in the snow, make mittens out of plastic material. Slip these over regular mittens. The plastic mittens keep hands dry and clean.

If you wax the snow shovel before using it, the snow will not bed over a warm shovel will do the trick.

When the tip comes off a shoelace, dip the end in clear nail polish to stiffen it. Saves time and temper for both the youngsters and mother.

SOCIAL SECURITY MAN AT FEDERAL BUILDING

Payments under the Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act can be made for those months in which an insured worker earns not more than $14.99 in jobs covered by the act. If the worker fails to file an application, he may lose some of the payments which he could have received if he had applied for them. The same is true in case of a worker's death. The next of kin should promptly discuss the case at the earliest possible convenience. Federal family insurance which covers employees in industry and commerce, provides for the payment of monthly retirement and survivors' benefits to qualified workers and their families. Retirement benefits are payable to the employee and eligible members of his family when the worker reaches 65 and retires. Survivor's benefits are payable to eligible members of the insured person's family on his death at any age.

Paul M. Ellifritz, Manager of the Social Security Administration will be at the Post Office in East Tawas at 1:45 p. m. At this time he will take applications for Old Age and Survivors Insurance and conduct any other business in connection with the Federal family insurance plan.

A New Creation
Patents are granted for new creations. A patent does not deprive the public of something it previously had, but for something which never existed before. It is the best means by which piracy of inventive creations can be invented, says National Patent council.

Evolution of Classifications
Zoologists, like many other people, are inveterate classifiers. The oldest historical records contain attempts to classify mammals from various standpoints, scientific and otherwise. One of the oldest and best known is the ancient Jewish classification of mammals into "clean" and "unclean" on the basis of foot structure and cud-chewing habits (Leviticus xi). Subsequent attempts to classify mammals, made by zoologists in various parts of the world, underwent a gradual evolution that reflects the growth of knowledge over the years.

Great Britain at Play

It is estimated that the number of British workers who now receive holidays with pay is 15 million. For most of this vast holiday throng, with their families, and for the great majority of the higher income groups, the seaside is the natural playground for the annual vacation. And on every national holiday from Easter to late autumn, thousands pack excursion trains and coaches for a weekend, or even a day, beside the sea which is so near as to be within easy and cheap traveling distance for all.

Cadillac

PRESENTS ITS CREATIVE MASTERPIECE...

The world's newest engine for the world's finest car!

No Cadillac announcement has ever been more significant than the one which appears on this page. For, this year, Cadillac presents its creative masterpiece—a wholly new V-type eight-cylinder engine—which is, beyond all doubt, the highest development yet attained in automotive power plants.

* This great power plant has been twelve years in the building—for basic development work started in 1936. It has many unusual qualities which set it apart from all other creations of its kind. It is far more alert, powerful and responsive to the throttle—yet it affords an increase in gasoline economy of approximately twenty per cent. And the manner of its performance actually challenges the imagination. It is liquid smooth; it is quick and eager beyond all experience; yet the power application is so effortless that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. The car seems almost to move by automatic propulsion. * Even experienced Cadillac owners must put aside all previous conceptions of performance when they drive the 1949 Cadillac. It is a revelation—from silken start to silken stop. * There are, of course, many other advancements in addition to the history-making engine. There is new beauty in the front ensemble; there is a newly-designed, more attractive instrument panel, with all driving controls at your finger tips; and throughout the chassis and body will be found those characteristic refinements which result from Cadillac's unceasing search for perfection.

* But the big Cadillac story, for 1949, is performance. It is not only the world's new standard—it is beyond the world's current conception.

When Buying Spinach
 Spinach is the basic seven group of leafy green vegetables that should be served at least once a day. When purchasing bulk spinach, avoid wilted, bruised or crushed leaves, yellow leaves, insect injury, seed stems and overgrown stalky plants. Good quality spinach has fresh, crisp, clean leaves and a good green color. Spinach wilts if it is not refrigerated, and as greens wilt, their vitamins are likely to disappear. Packaged spinach wilts just as the bulk spinach does if it is not kept cool.

Plan Your Christmas Goodies Now
(See Recipes Below.)

Holiday Sweets

CHRISTMAS is the time when the harder is constantly raided and the homemakers have to plan more than enough to take care of snack ideas the family comes up with at a moment's notice.

Christmas is a time when goodies are in demand. Have several jars or tins of cookies ready if you want to keep the sweet tooth satisfied. With the gala recipes I'm giving you today, everyone is certain to be satisfied!

It isn't enough just to have several kinds of delectable cookies on hand. You'll need candies, too, and probably some festive popcorn balls to place on the tree.

THE FIRST of the recipes in this parade of holiday sweets is a chewy type that keeps well and is extra good eating. Make one recipe or two, but I guarantee that even that won't be enough as soon as the word gets around how really good Party Chews are:

Party Chews
(Makes 40 1 1/2-inch squares)
1/4 cup butter or substitute
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup sifted flour
2 eggs
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded coconut
1 cup oven-popped rice cereal
1 cup chopped nut meats

Blend butter and sugar thoroughly. Add flour and mix. Press mixture on bottom of a shallow baking pan (9 x 13 inches). Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven about 15 minutes or until a delicate brown. Beat eggs well. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture is light and fluffy. Add flavoring, salt and coconut. Blend in rice cereal and nut meats. Mix well and spread on baked crust. Bake in a moderate oven about 25 minutes. Remove from oven and cut into squares while warm.

Pecan Molasses Brownies
3/8 cup flour (1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup pecan meats
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup pure dark molasses
1 egg

Sift flour, measure and sift twice with salt. Lightly mix in broken pecan meats, reserving a few whole ones for decoration. Cream butter and sugar thoroughly. Blend in molasses and well-beaten egg. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Place dough into a square pan (eight-inch) and arrange pecans on top of dough. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 20 minutes. Cut into small squares.

Pecan Cakes
(Makes 24 2-inch squares)
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar

LYNN SAYS:
Here are Short Ideas,
Long on Taste Appeal
Mushroom soup is a good braising liquid to use for veal steaks. When the steaks are tender, thickening the liquid and serve as gravy.
Have you ever tried cooking short ribs with tomato pulp, green pepper and a bit of garlic? The flavor's worth it!
If you have any small baskets left, these are excellent containers for popcorn balls, cookies or jellies and preserves.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Baked Ham and Sweet Potatoes
Waldorf Salad Hot Rolls
Succotash Beverage
Pineapple Chiffon Pie

1 egg, separated
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 cups pecans, chopped

Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolk, then flour sifted with cinnamon; blend in pecans. Spread thin on a buttered flat tin. Beat egg white stiff and spread on top. Bake in a hot (375-degree) oven for eight to ten minutes, then cut in squares while still warm.

Maple Creams
1 cup maple sugar
1 cup light brown sugar
1/4 cup water
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Walnut meats

Cook the sugars and water to the soft ball stage (240-degrees); add almond extract. Cool to lukewarm, then beat until creamy but firm. Knead until smooth, form into small balls and press a walnut meat into each ball.

Chocolate Taffy
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup corn syrup
1/2 cup water
1 cup molasses
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
4 ounces chocolate, melted
1 tablespoon vanilla

Combine first six ingredients. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Cook to (290-degrees) the soft-crack stage. Pour into a buttered pan and then pour chocolate over candy and as edges cool, fold in toward the center. Add vanilla and continue folding until cool enough to pull. Pull until cold and cut into pieces.

HERE IS a cookie which is very much like the praline for which the South is so famous.
Brazil Nut Patties
(Makes 36 patties 1 1/2-inches in diameter)
2 1/4 cups sugar
3/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
1 1/4 cups coarsely chopped Brazil nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Place two cups sugar and the milk in a saucepan. Have over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. While sugar syrup is cooking place remainder of sugar in a heavy saucepan and stir constantly over low heat until a light brown syrup is formed. Add to sugar syrup slowly and cook to 236 degrees or when a soft ball is formed when some of the syrup is dropped in cold water.

Remove from heat; add butter and beat until mixture thickens and begins to lose its gloss; add Brazil nuts and vanilla. Drop from tablespoon on heavy waxed paper. If candy gets too firm, add a tablespoon of water and place over heat, mixing until candy melts, then continue dropping from spoon.

If you have beverage glass trays, paint these red, green or white to freshen them. Place jelly glasses on these. Wrap the whole thing in cellophane and tie with gay ribbons.

Yule Crooks Fool Millions

Christmas is a time of joy among men of good will—and the busy season for Christmas racketeers. Every year millions of innocent and careless people are duped by these meanest of crooks.

Christmas racketeers take advantage of people's normal tendency to be charitable during the Christmas season. These fakers often fool the public by imitating famous charities or religious institutions. A few years ago groups of men and women appeared on the streets of several cities in blue uniforms trimmed with red. They used the word "Army" in their name, and at first glance appeared to be members of the Salvation Army. With tambourines in hand, they went up and down residential streets soliciting at Christmas time. They took in a lot of money, for themselves. Not a penny of this money helped bring a merry Christmas to a needy one.

Using such ruses, it is estimated that Christmas racketeers annually rake in over $100,000,000 during the Christmas season.

To avoid being "taken in" by Christmas racketeers, make the bulk of your contributions to established agencies, such as the Red Cross, Community Chest, church-supervised charities and local institutions which have proved merit and permanency.

Christmas Caroling By Swiss Brethren

One of the most impressive Christmas customs in Switzerland is the "Singing at the Fountain," by the Sebastiani Brotherhood in the picturesque spa town of Rheinfelden.

According to the Swiss writer, Gottlieb Wyss, the custom had its origin in 1540, when a plague sweeping through many lands visited Rheinfelden. Twelve men formed a brotherhood in honor of St. Sebastian, promising to pray to him to safeguard their town from further distress. They also undertook to nurse those afflicted by the plague and to bury its victims.

Pestilence in medieval days was ascribed to evil spirits in the water, and when the Sebastiani Brethren make their rounds of seven fountains on Christmas Eve they start at the fountain in the "Froschweide" where the plague started in the sixteenth century. Their song dates back to the Middle Ages.

For their Christmas Eve singing the 12 Brethren are dressed in dark clothes and black silk top hats. As the name of Christ is mentioned in their song, they uncover their heads.

Chicago Museum of Science and Industry.

Senor Ralph Perec melts like wax in Senorita Corina Valades' admiring gaze. A minute ago he was proud and strong for he accomplished the difficult feat of breaking open the traditional Mexican Christmas pinata. The pinata is a large container filled with sweets and toys.

Middle Age Yule Lasted Many Days

During the Middle Ages people didn't like short holidays. Any celebration that lasted less than a week just wasn't worthwhile.

The entire Christmas season, for example, was celebrated in equal fervor with that now shown on Christmas day. In some lands the celebration lasted from December 24 to January 6—Twelfth Night—and in others from December 21 to February 2.

Eventually these long celebrations got out of hand and became such wild orgies that the Puritans forbade the celebration of Christmas in the year 1644. It was not until 1678 that Charles II re-established Christmas.

Boar Gets Credit For First Plow

The wild boar has been revered from earliest times as having taught mankind the art of plowing by rooting into the ground with his tusks.

Pre-Christian Druids, celebrating the winter solstice, offered a boar's head to the goddess Freya and, because of its food value, the boar has always been an important part of festive menus.

Glaze sweet potatoes with currant jelly by spreading the jelly over the surface of the precooked potatoes and heating in the oven.

Identify your children's toothbrushes by writing the name on the handle and covering with cellophane tape.

Store fat for deep frying in an extra coffee percolator. The basket strains the used fat as it is poured in, and the spout makes it easy to pour the fat out for re-use. Wash basket after each straining.

New Yorker Gets Dead Polar Bear In Morning Mail

NEW YORK. — Getting a dead polar bear in the morning mail is likely to make even a strong man flinch. But that's what happened to 36-year-old George Adams recently and he didn't turn a hair.

It was all in his day's work. That's because Adams is the chief taxidermist for New York's museum of natural history, and when the ex-G.I. who bagged the bear in Greenland wanted to preserve his souvenir, he naturally sent it to Adams.

Just as naturally Adams went to work on it among a collection of animal plaster molds, penguins in formaldehyde and half-finished bird mounts. The polar bear was just one of many animal souvenirs ex-G.I.s have asked him to mount.

Years of Experience.

Adams has been working on the famous animal exhibits of the museum for nine years. A lean, mustached westerner, he still retains the enthusiasm for his work that has marked his career ever since he skinned his first lizard at the age of seven in Kenab, Utah. Since that day he's worked with many animals, birds and fish.

"It takes a year or more in man-hours alone to complete just one mounted group of museum exhibitions. Our exhibit of wolves in the snow meant four weeks in the field, five weeks each to mount the animals and six months for completion of the background," he recounted.

There are only about 50 comparable taxidermists in the profession, because the work requires some 10 years' training. Among other things, a museum taxidermist must be something of a sculptor, set designer, zoologist and anatomist.

Makes Clay Model.

Adams first makes a miniature model in clay and cardboard of what the finished exhibit will be. Then he must sculpture the animal in clay, showing muscles and veins. Depending on the animal or bird to be mounted, an excelsior or papier mache figure is made from the clay mold. Only then is the skin moistened and pinned in place with thousands of dressmakers' straight pins.

While the skin is drying tight over the animal form, Adams checks it for worn spots or missing hair, because a make-up job is necessary when the skin is less than perfect. Sometimes strange substitutes are used.

"The lion wouldn't like it if he knew about it, but lion hairs are replaced with mouse hairs if the lion skin I'm mounting has worn spots. Mouse hair makes an excellent replacement," Adams says.

Adams thinks the reason why so few boys grow up to be taxidermists is that their mothers can't stand the mess.

Bidders Remain Silent as Blind Veteran Buys House

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Led by his seeing eye dog Brau, Benjamin J. Masciale, who lost his sight on Okinawa, walked into the public sale of houses.

The former marine operates a newsstand in the lobby at city hall. The sale was just upstairs. There were some 500 persons on hand to bid on the homes.

William P. Black, deputy city collector, put on the block a six room frame house at a minimum price of $2,500.

Six persons stood up to bid on the property. Then Masciale slowly climbed to his feet and entered the minimum bid. The other six stood silent while the gavel fell a final time, and the house was knocked down to the blind veteran.

Masciale, who lives with his parents, said now that he had a home he would be able to carry out plans to marry.

Will Durant Predicts Russia Government Will Collapse

DALLAS, TEX.—A historian, who successfully predicted World War II, believes the Russian government will collapse within five years.

Will Durant told a Dallas civic club that "if Russia gets the atom bomb during that time, she might use it. But I'm betting on a collapse from within."

Durant, who in 1937 told a Dallas audience that a world war was inevitable, declared that Communism had spread because it was a myth which had caught the fancy of a starving world.

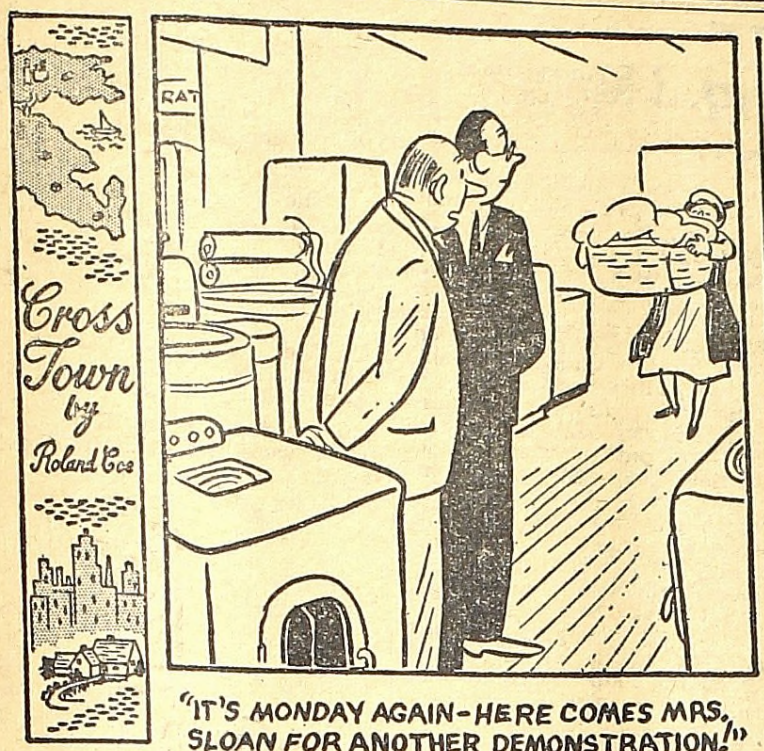

He termed the race between Russia and the United States a race between food and a myth.

Italian Picks Winners Worth $15,000 but Loses

TURIN, ITALY.—Dario Fabrizio, unemployed father of two children, picked all 12 winners in a football tournament.

That meant nine million lire, or slightly more than $15,000, in the weekly football pool.

From his hospital cot where he was taken after trying to commit suicide by gulping 39 quinine pills Fabrizio told how it was. For the first time in three years he had not sent in his pool ticket because he did not have the required 50 lire.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE
by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: Our water supply has so much iron in it that the wash looks yellow, especially sheets, pillow slips, towels, etc. The water doesn't seem hard, and it is easy to make good suds. Is there any help for the trouble?

ANSWER: Yes, but at a price. You need an iron removal unit in the water supply. For information on this unit, inquire of the Architects Samples exhibit, 101 Park avenue, New York 17, (a non-commercial organization.)

QUESTION: How can I remove rust stains from rubber tile?

ANSWER: You may be able to make them less noticeable by rubbing with very fine steel wool moistened with a little water.

20th Century Club

The Christmas party for club members and guests will be held this year with Mrs. J. P. Stepanski as hostess and the co hostesses are Mrs. F. J. Bright and Mrs. Frank Moore, next Wednesday evening, December 15.

The program committee will have charge of the program and each member is requested to bring two gifts, one for exchange and the other for the cheer basket. Also special Christmas music is planned.

On December 1 the club members were guests of Mrs. Arnold Bronson with Mrs. George Liske, co-hostess. The topic for study was the Bible in Literature. Mrs. John Campbell, Sunday School teacher and well informed bible student gave an outstanding paper on the Bible Literature. In her paper she spoke of the Bible as a library of books, written by many authors over a period of 1000 years.

That it contained law, history, prophecy, drama, poetry, geography, parables and personal letters. She also brought out the fact that the motif through out the ages of Bible history is "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord," which should be a warning to all nations today.

Mrs. George Leslie sang three beautiful selections as examples of religious lyrics, "Prayer," by Pearl Curran, "The Savior's Command," by Florence Chipman and ended with "Omnipotence," by Franz Schubert.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bronson and Mrs. Liske.

McGuire sunk a field goal, Westcott two field goals and three foul shots, Look, a field goal, and Gracik tied up the game in the last seconds with his field goal. The Mio team was held to one field goal by Koch in the last quarter, and the Tawas lads defensive play in this quarter probably meant the game for them.

In the three minute overtime period Del Myles sunk a foul shot and McGuire put the game on ice with a field goal. Mio made one free throw in the overtime.

Friday night East Tawas and Tawas City will renew old rivalry, when they play three games at the East Tawas Community Building. Don't miss these games as these teams are always in the best of shape and all keyed up for this game, and no doubt will furnish you with many a thrill.

With Del Myles and Jerry Gracik being saved for the Varsity game, the Reserves had a little trouble in hitting the hoop, against the Mio Reserves and they went down to defeat 21 to 9. In the first quarter, Mio scored nine points to the Tawas lads one. In the second quarter, Mio again outscored the "Mighty Mites," and they held a 13 to 3 lead at halftime. In the third quarter, the Reserves added one more point, while Mio chalked up six. In the last quarter, the Tawas team finally outscored their opponents five to two.

Girl's Squad Defeat Mio Lassies 52 to 2
In their first encounter of the year, the Tawas City girls had no trouble in beating a weak Mio girl's team 52 to 2. The Tawas girls couldn't seem to do anything wrong and they got off to a head start in the first quarter when they sank 22 points to Mio's "gooseegg." Kendall was the big wheel in this quarter dropping in 14 points, while Montgomery followed up with six.

In the second quarter, Kendall and Sims each dropped six points through the hoop. Mio came through with their only basket, in this quarter, Shaft making a field goal.

In the third quarter, Buck and Gallicker each made a field goal, while Fisher sank six points.

In the final stanza, Kendall and Fisher were tied with four points apiece.
