

Tawasites Extend Welcome to Visitors Here During 15th Annual Perch Festival

9 School Bands To Participate In Parade

Perch King Will be Crowned Saturday Night at King's Ball

The Tawasites are again ready to greet the many thousand friends who come here each year to participate in the annual Perch Festival. In its 15th year, the Tawas Perch Festival is one of the oldest events of the kind in the state in point of continuous operation.

Perch fishing will be the important occupation during the three days. Lucky or unlucky—fishermen will be able to enjoy their perch, because all places serving food to the public are specializing in fish dinners during the three days.

The feature event of the festival will be the parade which starts at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Federal Building, East Tawas. Wednesday evening it was announced that nine bands would participate in the parade. They include high school bands from Alpena, Bay City, Harrisville, Oscoda, Hale, East Tawas, and Chesaning. Frank L. Humberger is in charge of the band committee.

Fishing contests morning and afternoon at the Lake street bridge in Tawas City and the State Park Dock, East Tawas; archery exhibition at the State Park, and model airplane show in the Tawas City Park. The airplane show is presented by the Bay City Hobby Center. The archery exhibition is sponsored by the Tawas Archery Club, headed by Charles Nash.

Saturday the Perch King will be crowned at a dance in his honor at the Community Building. Music for the dance will be furnished by Dave Ellis and His Orchestra.

Tawas City Wins Season's First Game

Will Have Return Game With Harrisville Here This Afternoon

The Tawas City High baseball team stepped off to a good start in the current season, when they whipped the Harrisville nine 4 to 2, on the northerners home diamond.

Barry McGuire, hurler for the locals and Katona, of Harrisville, hooked up in a pitching duel with McGuire limiting the Harrisville squad to four hits and the opposing pitcher allowing five, one each to Kohn, L. Herriman, Erickson, Lansky and D. Myles.

Tawas City drew first blood in the first inning when B. Myles walked, then stole second, McGuire grounded to first with Myles taking third; Kohn was safe on a fielder's choice when a play was made on Myles at the plate, with Myles crossing the plate for the first run of the game. L. Herriman forced Kohn at second, Geringich grounded out pitcher to first.

In the second inning for Tawas City, Erickson singled, Lansky walked, E. Herriman struck out, D. Myles walked, B. Myles struck out, McGuire was hit by the pitcher, forcing in Erickson, Kohn struck out.

In the fourth inning Lansky singled, Gackstetter sent him to second on a bunt and was safe at first on an error, D. Myles singled, scoring Lansky, B. Myles struck out, McGuire popped to the pitcher on an attempted squeeze play and Gackstetter was doubled at third.

YWL Plan Fair to Be Held May 12-13
The most enjoyable season of the year and of the Tawasites is descending upon us. It starts off with a bang this week-end with the Perch Festival and next week-end, the Young Women's League, is offering their contribution to the gay spirit by holding a Fair which goes hand in hand with the approaching summer season.

Here are some of the things you'll find at the Fair to be held May 12 and 13 at the East Tawas Community Building:

The entire porch will be devoted to the children including Playland, a toy shop, fish pond and movies for young and old alike.

"My Ladies Boudoir" will be set up on the stage in a beautiful setting and this booth will include cologne, compacts, perfumes, millinery, jewelry and other associated items.

If you have a green thumb you'll want several of the plants in hand painted flower pots which the Art group is presently working on.

In fact you'll want a lot of things that are being made available so here is a listing of the other booths.

White elephant and rummage sale, records, books and sheet music, bagged goods, home preserves and favorite recipes you may have been looking for; hobbies and handwork; Monte Carlo Casino.

While you are browsing through the many booths, music will be played and there will be dancing on the Midway for all.

A Fair without hotdogs wouldn't be quite complete so a booth will be set up for that purpose and other refreshments will also be served.

So we say "By all means Come to the Fair," for a day of fun. The Fair starts Friday evening, May 12 at 7:00 P. M. and on Saturday, May 13 at 2:00 P. M. Mark your calendar now so you won't forget the dates.

Dorcas Society will meet next Tuesday evening at the Baptist Church basement for their regular meeting.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Plane Incident Heats Up Cold War; German Rearmament Pleas Spread; Court Upholds Georgia Vote System

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

COLD WAR: Heating Up

Russia had heated up the Cold war.

A United States air force navy Privateer had disappeared after a flight in which it was reported to have flown over Russian territory. The Russians claimed the plane had fired upon a Russian aircraft, and then had disappeared over the Baltic sea.

A WIDESPREAD HUNT by American officials was launched for the missing plane. Erroneous reports had it that life rafts from the plane had been found. The first reported rafts turned out to be only fishing boxes.

But later, a life raft was picked up and air force officials indicated a conviction it came from the missing plane, which had 10 crew members aboard. A British ship under command of Captain J. Henderson reported finding the raft and said it was partly collapsed. The air-supply bottle was exhausted and supply pockets were open and empty.

There were no signs of life and no messages were found.

Had the Soviets shot down the plane, or so crippled it by gunfire that it crashed in the Baltic? That was the big question. Bigger yet was the question: "What would the United States do if it were developed that the plane was a victim of Russian gunfire?"

THOSE were questions that would have to wait, however, until the answer to what had actually happened to the plane had been cleared up—if it ever could be cleared up.

Meanwhile, American temper grew a little shorter with Russian tactics and there was no denying that the Cold War had taken on a degree or so more heat.

GEORGIA: Unit Vote Stays

The county-unit vote determination system is unique in the United States because only two states use it. It is unique, too, in that it is found acceptable by city populations in these states, when its use gives votes in some rural counties up to 122 times more weight than those in city areas.

But, the U.S. supreme court has said the system is all right. In a 7 to 2 decision it refused to strike down the county-unit vote in Georgia. Maryland is the only other state employing this system.

JUSTICE BLACK and Douglas protested bitterly against the majority opinion, which was brief and unsigned. These two members of the court declared the action failed to plug what they called the last loopholes in the court's decision which gives Negroes the right to vote.

The majority opinion said that federal courts have no right to interfere with the way a state geographically apportions voting strength. It made no mention of any racial issue the dissenters saw in the case.

Two Georgia voters attacked the existing law. Under the system, each of Georgia's 159 counties is allotted a number of unit votes, ranging from six for the eight most-populous counties down to two for most of the counties.

THE CANDIDATE who receives the most popular votes in a county is awarded all its unit votes. The system, in that respect, works something like the electoral college.

ROYALTY: Tough Going

Everyone has known for a long time that with the exception of England, royalty has been having a tough time. With the changing times have gone royal privilege and pomp but, chiefly regretful to royalty, the cash, too, has gone.

LATEST to join the ranks of impoverished noblemen was a German duke, Ernst August, of Coumebrland and Brunswick, father of a queen and cousin of a king.

Duke Ernst was really up against it. He was so badly off, financially, that he had to sell treasured antiques just to pay his grocery bills. Rare old relics of his family's medieval splendor were to go under the auctioneer's hammer.

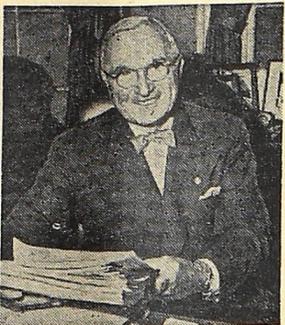

Said the duke, philosophically, "Of course, I'm sorry to part with these things, but it just can't be helped." The duke was down to his last two castles—and one of them is a war ruin.

TV FOOTBALL: One Show Over

Football fans who have been following Big Ten football via television screen, will find that this fall the show's over. They'll have to go out to the stadium now, instead of sitting cozily at home and following the play.

Big Ten athletic directors, meeting in Chicago, voted to ban live television of their schools' football games for this season. The action may cost the conference $200,000.

Starts Sixth Year

Harry S. Truman, looking trim and fit, has started his sixth year as President of the United States. The Chief Executive, 66 on May 8th, rounded out his fifth year with a renewed determination to win the "cold war" with Soviet Russia.

GERMANY: A Repetition?

Any mention of rearming Germany makes cold chills run down the backs of those who remember how a beaten, dismantled Reich was permitted to come back and plunge the world into the most devastating conflict it had ever known.

THREE TIMES in the past 80 years, German war machines have struck swiftly and ruthlessly at the peace of the world. Had the Germanic hordes ever won a world conflict, something of what the vanquished might have expected is provided in the terms laid down by these conquerors of the French in 1870, when German troops stayed on French soil until every penny of reparations demanded was paid.

How the individual may have fared under the Teuton heel was revoltingly demonstrated by Hitler and his sadistic Nazis.

Now, all the great talk, the board planning, the global thinking is merging into one resounding chorus: "Rearm Germany!"

Joining this chorus was General Jacob L. Devers, retired chief of U.S. army field forces, who said in an address in Louisville, Ky., that western Germans "Would like to fight for us, under American officers, against the Russians," if war should come, and he added "They can fight like Hell!"

NO ONE disputes that. But recent history is too grim for such proposals to be received with general equanimity. Too many people of the world will remember that it was that very fear of possible Russian attack which led France and England to sit by with folded hands while Hitler flouted the Versailles treaty and served notice on the world that he was going to rearm Germany. "Let him go," seemed to be the whispered desire, "he'll serve as an excellent buffer against the Russians."

So Chamberlain went to Berchtesgaden with his folded umbrella and came back hugging to his breast the miserable pledge of the Austrian madman of "peace in our time."

The world had a horrible taste of that kind of "peace." To rearm Germany creates a fearful possibility that the dose may be repeated.

STRIKE THREAT: Old Issue Flares

Two big railway unions were ready to "review the whole case" of their Diesel-engine dispute with the nation's railroads. If the results weren't satisfactory to the brotherhoods, the country faced a major strike threat.

The argument was two years old and was easy to state. The unions felt that the adoption of Diesel-powered locomotives discriminated against manpower and insisted that an extra man be put on these locomotives, whether there was any need for him or not.

The railroads, on the other hand, have refused to do this.

Union leaders refused to discuss just how imminent a strike might be or when and in what matter it might be called. Instead, they indicated a review of the situation.

The union was in a highly strategic position. It was free to strike at any time, inasmuch as all "cooling off" provisions of the railway labor act have been exhausted.

Thunderjet

The air force's Republic "Thunderjet" was reaching out farther and farther to deal death and confusion to any potential U.S. enemy. The air force reported that the F-84's range has been increased to where it can carry out most types of missions more than 1,000 miles from base. The increased operation radius is available for strafing missions, bomber escort and hunting enemy fighters.

CHINA: Cry for Help

As has been the case since the dawn of history, it is the innocents who seem to suffer most in internecine strife. China is no exception. In that country of vast population and so frequently too little food many Chinese are starving. A naturally difficult struggle for existence has been intensified by China's civil war in which the Communists emerged victorious.

NOW there is a cry for help. A Chinese Nationalist group has appealed to American labor, as an organization to help combat famine in Communist China. But with their usual skill in that department, the Reds have managed to confuse world opinion on the situation.

The Communist regime has done a good job of beclouding what a most all non-Communist source says is one of the worst famines in China's history. The Reds have admitted that the situation is critical, saying some 16 million people were affected. Private letters filtering from Red-held China indicated the number was 53 million.

The Chinese Nationalists and western relief agencies and religious organizations have been seeking some means to help the starving, hence the appeal to American labor for help.

AN EASILY understandable obstacle, of course, was the uncertainty as to final disposition of any aid that might be forthcoming. Some assurances would have to be made that relief goods went to those for whom supplies were intended. Who could give that assurance? The Chinese Communists?

Yes, there was a way. If the Reds would agree to give safe conduct to relief missions into the area, perhaps the job of staving off starvation by death for thousands might be successfully completed. But, barring some such procedure, the outlook was dim indeed.

GAMBLING: Up to Congress

Congress itself may hold the key to solution of the nation's gambling problem and existence of the gambling "syndicates." That, at least, is the opinion of Senator Edwin C. Johnson, Colorado Democrat, who has urged congress to pass an anti-slot-machine bill immediately. Johnson believes that should be done before beginning a nation-wide crime investigation.

THE SENATOR happens to be on good solid ground, because it is partly through federal winking at slot-machines that the individual states have so much trouble coping with the "one-armed bandits."

The federal government licenses slot-machines, despite the fact that in the vast majority of states their use and operation are illegal. If the federal government slapped a ban on the machines, as it has on narcotics, white-slave traffic and other morals offenses, the state would find it far easier to deal with the slot-machine problem.

THE BILL envisioned by Johnson would outlaw manufacture of gaming devices in states where they are prohibited and forbid their shipment into such states. It would not apply, however, to states where slot-machine operation has been made legal by legislative act.

Johnson explained his ideas on the subject as indications pointed to a fight on the senate floor on the question of who would get the job of inquiring into the nation's crime.

Johnson's bill already is through the commerce committee, where it was approved without hearings. Whether it would win congress approval might rest on the politics involved.

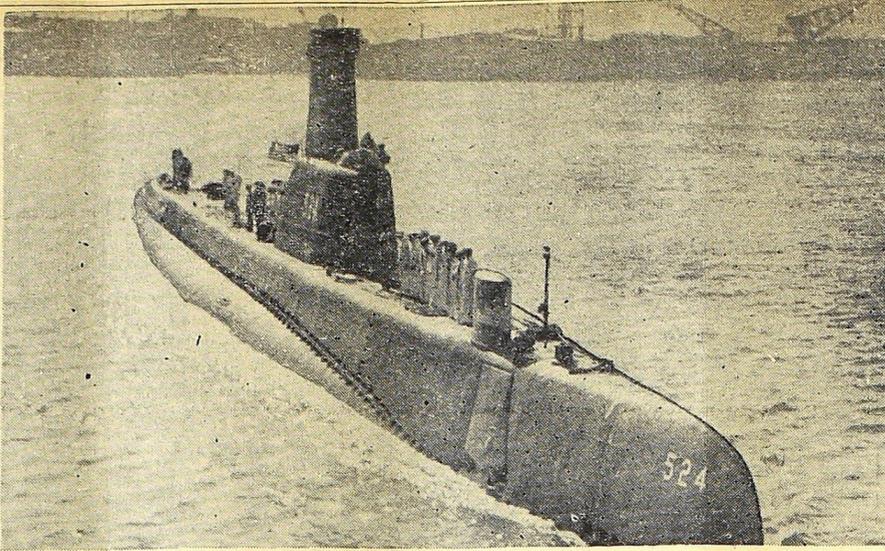

Free Man

Barnard J. Smith, Jr., 24, of Fair Haven, Vt., thumps his chest and takes a deep breath of snow-filled air upon his release from jail after taking the debtor's oath. His case attracted national attention because of the prevalent but obviously erroneous opinion that no one can be jailed for debt in this country. Smith was jailed for failure to satisfy a $2,500 judgement.

CENSUS: 40 in 1,000

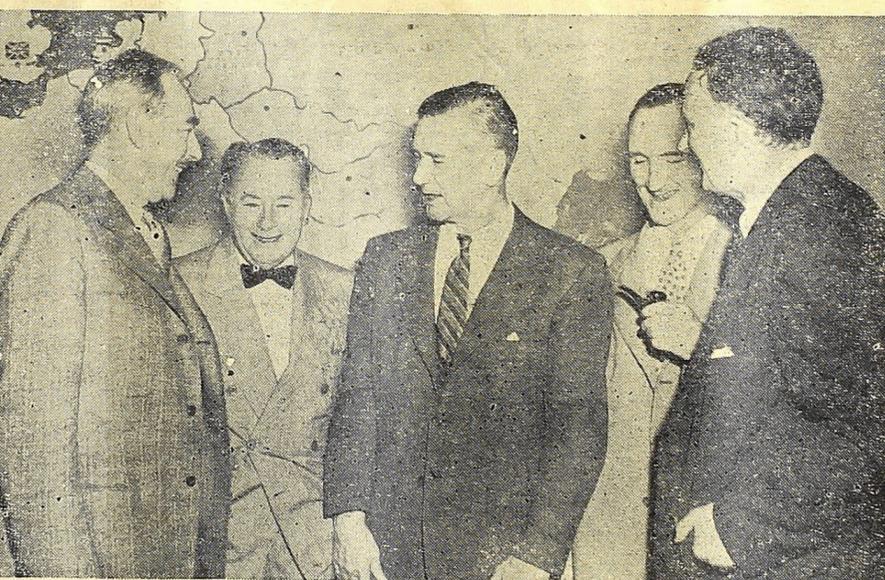

If one should have a friend or acquaintance with whom he is out of contact, and whose whereabouts are unknown, the odds are one-in-25 that he, or she, is on some kind of public payroll. That's what the U.S. census bureau reports. Federal, state and local governments, the report stated, has a total of 6,204,000 workers drawing a record-high monthly total of one billion, 406 million dollars.

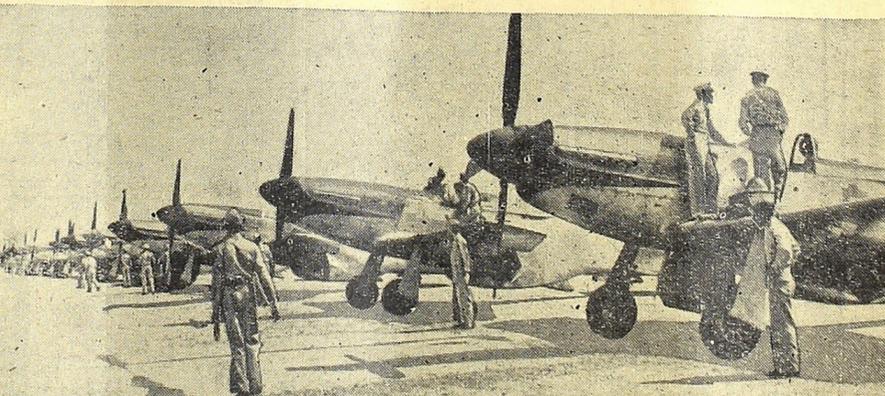

SETS UNDERWATER RECORD . . . The navy announces that the U.S. snorkel-type submarine Pickerel has set a record for underwater operations by traveling submerged from Hong-Kong to Pearl Harbor, a distance of 5,200 miles. The Pickerel remained submerged for 21 days while making the record run. It sailed from Hong Kong on March 15 and surfaced in Pearl Harbor April 5, having traveled at an average speed of slightly over 10.3 land miles per hour. The snorkel device is essentially a breathing tube which enables submarines to take in air for their diesel engines while submerged. Non-snorkel submarines can operate on diesel engines only while fully submerged.

PICKETS GREET NORTHERN IRELAND'S PRIME MINISTER . . . A double line of pickets, marching in circular formation, provide a dubious greeting to Northern Ireland's prime minister, Sir Basil Brooke, and wife, Lady Cynthia, upon their arrival at Idlewild airport, New York City. The placard-carrying, boating, Irish-sympathizing "minutemen" gave forth with anti-British slogans. Sir Basil and wife expected to be in the United States approximately three weeks. The prime minister appeared not to be upset by the boating, but did admit that he was not impressed by his reception. Occasion for the discord is Northern Ireland's separation from the rest of Erin.

HOUSE GROUP GETS REPORT ON FAR EAST . . . Secretary of State Dean Acheson and United States Ambassador-at-Large Phillip C. Jessup chat with members of the house foreign affairs committee before they go into executive session. Left to right are: Secretary Acheson; Rep. Thurman Chatham, North Carolina; Rep. James P. Richards, South Carolina; Rep. Mike Mansfield, Montana; and Dr. Jessup. The foreign affairs committee went into session to report on the situation in the Far East.

PHILIPPINES GET AMERICAN FIGHTER PLANES . . . United States army pilots give last minute instructions to Filipino flyers who took delivery of 50 Mustang P-51 fighter planes, which were turned over to the Republic of the Philippines by the United States government in accordance with the military assistance program agreed upon between the two nations. The planes were received by the Filipino pilots in Manila. After last minute briefing by the American flyers in the best way to fly the Mustangs, the Filipino pilots took control and took off in the planes for a Filipino fighter base at Pampanga, in the Philippine Islands.

Small Business Warned

THE HOUSE select committee named to conduct a study and investigate the problems of small business believes that these small business firms should form organizations or join organizations for their mutual advantage.

In a recent report of his committee, Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, chairman of the house committee, said: "It is altogether healthy in our democracy that small business men should do what comparable groups, such as labor and farmers, have already done, namely to exercise their American right to organize themselves."

But here Congressman Patman intervenes with a warning that it is far from healthy if these organizations purporting to represent small business, do not in fact do so, but have an axe of their own to grind, may be financed by "big business," or who are just professional promoters trading on the natural appeal that the term "small business" has.

Patman believes that business organizations supported by large public utilities, for instance, or by big business firms, cannot serve both masters, for the reason that often the interests of big and little business clash.

In this category he lists four organizations which advertise themselves as representatives of small business—The National Tax Equality association, the National Associated Businessmen, inc., National Small Business Men's association and the Small Business Economic Foundation.

Have Same Promoters

Congressman Patman charges in his report that NTEA and NAB are related organizations, one supporting the other with the same promoters serving both organizations and that many of its largest contributors of the $500,000 collected during 1949 were large public utilities, electric light and power firms.

The report also charges that NSBMA and SBEF are related organizations with the same president and officers and that one supports the other but that its largest contributions come from firms with assets over 100 million dollars each. For instance listed contributors are Standard Oil of Indiana, Socony-Vacuum, the Texas company, Standard Oil of New Jersey and United States Steel.

Main lobbying activities of these two latter organizations seems to have been directed against labor and for restrictions on labor unions while the theme of the NTEA and NAB campaign was for "tax equality" directed against farm and other cooperatives.

Candid Statement

After pointing out that the aims of NSBMA and SBEF "never seem to conflict with the side taken by 'big business,'" Congressman Patman quotes from a message by the President of the National Small Business Men's association in 1948 which says: "The small-business man can be the most effective force there is in the country for molding public opinion. They are the backbone of their communities. Their ideas and their views are respected. Their employees, neighbors, suppliers and other friends will listen to them and equally important, their representatives in congress are always glad to have their ideas concerning the effect of any piece of legislation on their businesses."

On this the House report, comments: "This seems to be a fairly candid statement of the value of exploiting the name 'small business' whether by the association or the foundation for the purpose of selling another package of goods, somewhat innocently entitled 'free enterprise.'"

REA Power Cheaper

According to a report by Claude Wickard, rural electrification administrator, REA borrowers during fiscal 1949 paid almost 50 million dollars for the power they purchased during the year at an average price of 8.9 mills per kilowatt hour. And here may be a reason why folks will use double the electricity on public power lines than is used on lines from private companies.

Pleasing Appointments

Recent appointments by the President of former Senators John Foster Dulles of New York and John Cooper of Kentucky, both Republicans, as aides to Secretary of State Dean Acheson brought prompt approval by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

Said Senator Morse: "Whenever I find the President of the United States exercising a leadership designed to unite the people, I am not going to hesitate to support him."

Tragedy of the Couple Watching the Carousel Began When the Nazis Caught Them in Vienna

By BILLY ROSE

Some of the sprightliest talk to be heard in Manhattan these nights is in the coffeehouses frequented by the talented and threadbare refugees of Mittel-Europa.

Most of the stories spun by these continental katzenjammers are on the comic side; yet, once in a while they come up with a yarn which leaves a ping-pong ball in your throat.

For instance, there's the tale about the old gentleman and his greying wife who, during the summer months, can be seen almost every day on the carousel near the Central park zoo, holding hands as their adjoining ponies pump up and down.

Billy Rose

Who are they? Well, to tell you, I'll have to go back several years and several thousand miles.

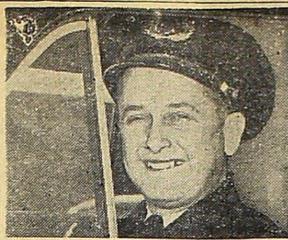

Shortly after the Nazi goose-stepped into Vienna and decency went underground, a well-known surgeon and his wife, both of whom were about to move on when the boy, to whom it was all a game, reached out, and grabbed a brass ring and, turning to his parents, shouted, "Look, look! Now I get a free ride!"

Attracted by the boy's cries, the storm troopers dragged the doctor and his wife from the carousel and were about to take the child when their leader, a youth with a hangman's sense of humor, stopped them. "The kid got the brass ring," he said. "He's entitled to a free ride."

As the carousel started up again, the tinny strains of "Chiribiri-bim" drowned out the mother's screams, and the last the couple saw of their son he was riding on the merry-go-round.

The surgeon was too valuable a commodity to kill right off, and so was his wife, a skilled nurse. They were sent to a slave labor camp to tend those prisoners considered too healthy for the ovens, and when the Allies marched into the camp in 1945, the couple were still alive.

Ever since, the pair has been spending most of their summer days in the vicinity of the Central park carousel. The old boy is pretty much off his trolley, but his wife continues to humor him, and whenever he gets agitated and mutters, "Where's Otto? I saw him on the zebra a minute ago," she patiently takes him by the hand and says, "Come along, dear, maybe he got tired and went home."

This Is Your Paper Printing News Is a Duty

By William R. Nelson

MANY readers of newspapers are mistakenly reluctant to report newsworthy events about which only they know the facts.

Telling the paper about news, whatever its nature, whether large or small in importance, should not cause embarrassment, and will not if rightly regarded.

Newspapers cannot afford to maintain staffs large enough to actually hunt out every news item they publish.

But there is another way to look at it that is equally important. Whenever you invite guests into your home you are honoring them.

Even information received in letters, excepting of course the confidential and purely personal, is news if the writer is known by others.

On those occasions when sickness, accidents, or other personal troubles occur, the community will want to know about them so it can respond accordingly.

One of the main reasons why people like to live in smaller communities is the greater number of friends they make.

Next time you entertain, have guests, receive news in a letter, there is illness, or some member of your family experiences disappointment or success, tell the paper about it.

SCRIPTURE: Hosea, (especially chapters 1-3) DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 121:1-7

Tragedy to Truth

Lesson for May 7, 1950

GOOD PREACHERS are not all of one kind. In listening to some of them, you have the impression that what this man says would be just as true if another man said it; that he is uttering a universal truth that might as well have been written on the sky; he is a voice, only a voice.

Dr. Foreman

And so they were married THE STORY of Hosea is in chapters 1-3. (Experts in Old Testament study have never quite agreed as to the meaning of the story.)

Then came the second child, a girl named Lo-Ruhmah. In Hebrew, that name means "No-Mercy."

There was no use in pretending any more. The home had collapsed, happiness had fled. No experience a man can have is more bitter than this, to know that the one great love of his life has been given to the wrong woman.

Home Again HOW MANY MONTHS or years later it was we do not know. But one day, in the slave market, Hosea saw a woman for sale.

Somehow beneath all the shame and disillusionment, beneath the bitterness and the pain, still the old love was burning bright.

Long before Christianity, Hosea did that rarely Christian thing, he did good to one who had done him harm. Gomer was unloving, unlovable; yet he loved her in spite of all.

Sermons From the Heart THIS BITTER EXPERIENCE God turned into a blessing, for Hosea and for his nation and for us.

But the first thing Hosea learned was that the experience was a lesson, God's lesson. He could even look back on the tragedy of his marriage and see that God was leading him all along, from the very first.

Without the tragedy, he could not have arrived at the truth. His sermons therefore came from the depths of his heart.

THE PERPLEXING RIDDLE

By Richard H. Wilkinson

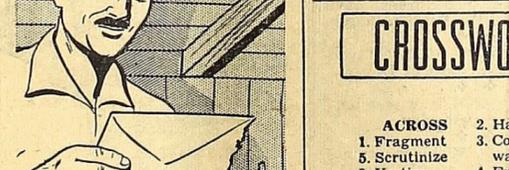

L.T. JEFF BOYNTON of the Union Army's Company E, second regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, were a lot of utter dejection as he entered headquarters tent, nodded wearily to Capt. Finn Lacey and slumped onto a stool.

"She wouldn't talk, eh?" "No, she wouldn't talk," Boynton answered. He stretched his long legs out in front of him and studied the worn toe of his boot.

"So we'll deport her. Turn her over to the Confederate army. If that stops the leakage we'll know she was the guilty party, and there will no longer be danger of its continuance."

Two days later prisoner Alice Struthers was turned over to Confederate Gen. Johnson under a flag of truce.

The paper was yellow, the ink faded. The postage stamp had dried and was hanging by a mere thread. As he looked at it, Lt. Boynton's eyes grew wide. For beneath the stamp were some closely written, finely penned words, obviously the cipher employed by Alice Struthers which he had tried so hard to locate.

One day while going through the relics of long-ago battles, he came upon a letter.

rested, to be held for questioning regarding the leakage of information to Confederate Gen. Johnson.

"Which makes it all the more likely she would succeed as a spy. I happen to know that all of Miss Struthers' maternal ancestors came from Georgia. She herself spent a good part of her girlhood in Savannah."

Idly he fingered a package of letters he had brought in with him. "I'm convinced that in these letters the girl is sending out the information. How, I don't know. Certainly she is using no code. I have checked every letter a dozen times. Purposely I have permitted each to be mailed. Events immediately following convince me that some

NEWS REVIEW IS TOP EVALUATION

Weekly Events Analysis Has Local Significance

News in itself, is perishable, but the values, the meanings, the knowledge that lie behind the day by day occurrence of events across the face of the world are as enduring as anything we know.

Because a full realization of this truth is so necessary to everyone in Iosco, The Herald this week is calling the attention of its readers to one of this paper's regular features—Weekly News Analysis—which consistently attempts to probe the significance of national and world news events.

Weekly News Analysis does not report spot news. It is, rather exactly what the title says it is—an integrated review of the week's news.

The Herald is aware that, as a weekly publication for the people of the area, its primary duty is to give you the best possible coverage of local happenings in this area. But any newspaper worthy of the name also feels a responsibility to offer an account of what is going on in the other neighborhoods of the globe.

The news from Washington, London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow and all the other major sources of daily history cannot be detached from life here.

Because Weekly News Analysis uses this idea as its primary point of reference in summarizing and interpreting news events, the feature always has a direct bearing on local problems and attitudes.

For that reason, The Tawas Herald encourages its readers to follow Weekly News Analysis regularly. There you'll find the world in a perspective fitted to the home

MSC Specialist Gives Garden Pointers

Jack Rose, Extension Specialist in Horticulture of Michigan State College, told an enthusiastic group of gardeners that a good garden could give man or woman a great deal of satisfaction in pride and economy. When questioned if a garden was profitable, Mr. Rose showed that a well managed garden could produce $1000.00 worth of produce per acre.

The type of soil is an important factor in good garden, but whatever the type, its productivity depended upon the presence of organic matter. He emphasized that it is impossible to have too much organic matter. Barnyard manure is rated as the best source of organic matter because of the availability of additional plant nutrients. Other sources are sawdust plus a nitrogen fertilizer, composts and green manure. He advised in building composts that all leaves and wastes of the garden should be saved, never burned. Green manure in the form of rye sowed in the fall with a liberal application of fertilizer was a good practice. It provides a winter cover, prevent water and wind erosion at the same time increasing the humus content of the soil. On small city gardens, the gardener could add 200 pounds of peat moss and 300 pounds of dried sheep manure. All gardens can be improved by the addition of commercial fertilizer. He suggested applying 30 to 40 pounds of fertilizer that contained nitrogen, phosphorus and potash to 1000 square feet.

In discussing varieties he grouped vegetables into four classes, hardy, half hardy, tender and very tender. Hardy vegetables as peas, radishes, lettuce, spinach, endive, could be planted as soon as the ground could be worked. The half hardy such as beets, carrots, parsnips, salsify, potatoes, cauliflower, onion, can be planted after there is no danger of severe frost. Beans and corn are in the tender class while tomatoes, peppers, egg-plant, vine crops and lima beans are in the very tender class and can tolerate no frost.

A brief review of best varieties showed the following to be outstanding. Snap green beans, Top crops, snap wax beans, Puregold; Bush lima beans, Perless; Beets, Detroit Dark Red or Perfected Detroit; Carrots, Nantes; Cauliflower, Snowball and Snowdrift; Celery, Summer Pascal Types; Corn, North Star, Carelcross and Golden Cross; Cucumbers, Burpee Hybrid; Lettuce, Great Lakes and Pennlake; Muskmelon, Delicious; Peas, Little Marvel, Morse Progress; and Greater Progress; Rhubarb, McDonald; Squash, Butternot and Buttercup; Tomatoes, Valiant and Longred. For a list of vegetable varieties for Michigan write Harold R. Clark, County Agricultural Agent, East Tawas.

Mr. Rose explained the new hormone sprays on tomatoes and how they would induce early set of tomatoes. If a gardener is having trouble with quack grass the chemical weed killer T. C. H. applied in the fall would give very good control.

He explained that it is unfortunate that there is not one all purpose insecticide and that a variety of chemicals had to be used to get good insect control. He recommended Rotenone for cabbage worm, Mexican beetle, flea beetle, cucumber beetle, squash vine borer and corn borer. Three applications of 5% Chlordane dust, about a week apart will give good control of onion and radish maggots and cut worms. For plant lice or aphids spray with nicotine sulphate. Use Sob-dillo for squash bugs and Metoxychlor for tomatoes.

At the end of the meeting one woman was heard to remark, "Oh, my, how did I ever raise a garden before?" It is fun to have a good garden and gardening makes a practical hobby.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Vine Farm Bureau News

Vine Farm Bureau meeting was held on Wednesday, April 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Deloise Rapp, with twelve members in attendance.

Chairman Curry complimented Margaret Prescott on her very fine report of the April Womens meeting. In it she stated that each County Womens Group in the state is being asked to give $17.00 toward sending a delegate to Denmark and $7.50 toward a Scholarship for a Foreign Student. Iosco County Womens Group will defray this assessment by taking articles to sell at the gathering being held for new Farm Bureau members at the Hale Community Building, May 12. The next womens meeting will be held at the Grant Township Hall in the afternoon, if a movie on Sister Kenny's treatment of polio can be obtained. This will be an open meeting and folks are urged to attend.

The needs of the Andrew Bessey family, since their home was destroyed by fire, was discussed, and suggestion was made that all interested members send groceries, bedding, odd furniture, etc. to help out the family.

Discussion Leader Prescott asked members to take a stand on the new bill for Compulsory Health Insurance. A discussion following and the question of how it worked out in England was brought out. The general opinion was that it worked out badly. It was contended that doctors would be bothered by red tape and that there would be no more incentive for doctors to practice medicine. The group voted in favor of adopting the following resolution: "Whereas there is now pending a bill in the U. S. Congress which will provide compulsory Health Insurance for every man, woman and child in America; and whereas we feel that present medical facilities and health insurance programs are adequate, and whereas, socialized medicine would mean added taxes to an already insurmountable tax burden; therefore, be it resolved that this Vine Farm Bureau Group go on record as being definitely opposed to Compulsory Health Insurance." Copies of the above resolution to be sent to Congressman Woodruff, Senator Ferguson, and Vandenburg, and also the County Farm Bureau Director.

Discussion Leader Prescott explained the injustice of the present system of calling legislative sessions and discussion followed. As a result a motion was made in favor of the following resolution: "Whereas this Vine Farm Bureau has recognized the injustice of the present system of calling legislative sessions and whereas, we are definitely interested in good roads, and the preservation of existing roads; and whereas the present special session is unable to afford any relief for roads and other pertinent legislation that our representatives and senators may see the need for because of the limitations as set forth in the Governor's special messages; therefore be it resolved that this group is in favor of any bill introduced which will call for annual legislative sessions." Copies of the above resolution to be sent to Rep. Richard Deadman and Sen. Charles Prescott.

Next meeting will be held the third Wednesday in May, at the Roger Earl residence.

Grant No. 1 Farm Bureau

Grant No. 1 Farm Bureau met with the Clarence Herrimans last Thursday evening with twenty members present. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Lyle Long. After roll call, Secretary Edna Anschuetz read the report of the previous meeting. Mrs. Ball county woman, gave a report of the county women's meeting held at Mrs. August Lorenz's. It was voted to write to Mr. Stephen for information on County and Township roads. After completion of other business the meeting was turned over to the discussion leader, Allen Herriman, the discussion being on "Can the Government Prevent a Depression." A lunch of ice cream, cake and coffee was served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the William Herriman home, May 18.

Sherman Township Farm Bureau

Sherman Township Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Staebler Thursday, April 20, with 12 members and two guests present. Mrs. Claude Harder led the discussion on "Can Government Prevent a Depression."

Mrs. Carl Norris, recreation leader, had charge of the recreation period and was enjoyed by everyone. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spiker invited the group to the Sherman town hall for the next meeting, May 18.

Lower Hemlock Farm Bureau

The Lower Hemlock Group of the Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Hughes on Thursday, April 20. The chairman, Mr. Hughes, opened the meeting. The discussion period was led by Alton Long. Topics for discussion were "Can the Government Prevent a Depression?" Is subsidized farm prosperity the answer? "Can a taxing and spending program prevent a depression?" and our public debt.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by the hostess.

Potato Allotment Notices Have Been Mailed

Notices of farm acreage allotments for the 1950 crop of potatoes were mailed to commercial potato growers in Isoco County by the Isoco County PMA Committee on April 26, 1950, according to Earl M. Partlo, county PMA Chairman.

Potato allotments are established as a basis for eligibility for price support and growers who plant in excess of their established 1950 potato acreage allotments will not be eligible for government price support assistance on their 1950 potato crop.

"We believe," Mr. Partlo said, speaking for the county PMA committee, "that the allotments as finally determined represent the fairest possible distribution of the acreage available in the county allotment of 195 acres."

Bean Allotments Mailed

Notices of farm acreage allotments for the 1950 dry edible bean crop were mailed to all bean growers in Isoco County by the Isoco County PMA Committee on May 1, 1950, according to Earl M. Partlo, county PMA chairman.

Bean growers are advised that, while there is no compulsion to plant according to assigned allotments, they will not be eligible for a price support loan or purchase agreement on their 1950 bean crop if they plant in excess of their assigned allotments.

Acreage allotments and price support program apply to all varieties of dry beans grown in Michigan with the exception of the Yelloweye variety.

In establishing farm allotments for beans, each farm was considered separately by the county PMA committee. The allotment assigned to each farm was based on the farm's tillable acreage, crop rotation practices, type of soil, topography, and equipment, as well as the farm's bean acreage history during 1947, 1948, and 1949.

Any grower who has been made to believe that his farm allotment has not been properly determined and can offer facts to substantiate his claim, may file an appeal with the County PMA Committee for reconsideration.

Such appeal must be filed within 15 days after notice of allotment is mailed from the county office. All appeals must be filed with the County PMA Committee.

Decorated Bridal Bed

The ancient custom of decorating the bridal bed with rosemary still persists in a few remote areas of Europe although it is not generally practiced. Among the warlike tribes of Northern India, a strange custom once prevailed. The prince or rajah, who had a daughter of marriageable age, entertained the princely suitors at a lavish banquet. The princess was allowed to enter, look the young men over, and throw a flower garland of marriage around the neck of the man of her choice.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboard gravel and weather-pocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevards, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflow Drive.*

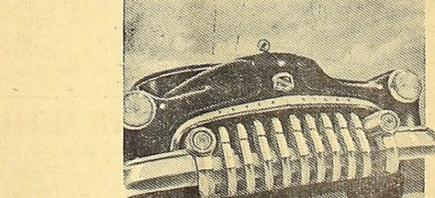

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by bounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick: You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Only Buick has Dynaflow—and with it goes!

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.)
NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

GREEN GRASS OF WYOMING

By Mary O'Hara

As Nell sees the child and climbs upon a precarious rock perch, Pillgrim again attacks the bull, seeking to divert the enraged animal's attention from the woman and child. Finally, Pillgrim is ground to death beneath the knees of the bull. Nell battles against a fainting spell as she clings with Penny to the rock. Pearl, a ranch helper, sees the situation and shouts for help. Ken arrives and drives Cricket off with a whip. Ranch hands rout the bull and Ken kills Cricket with a rifle brought from the house by Nell. Howard explains the scene. Ken witnessed between him and Carey and the boys shake hands and make peace.

CHAPTER XVI

Nell was watching the time. She knew at what hour that train was taking her boy away from her, and without a goodbye. Without the little lecture which he had asked for. To fail him like this!

She asked her nurse for writing paper and pencil. She was supposed to keep very quiet and she had to insist that if she were not allowed to write the letter it would make her more nervous than if she did it and got it off her mind.

She sat up against her pillows, drew up her knees, and placed the writing pad against them.

She put her pencil to the paper and began to write.

July 2nd
In hospital

Hello darling!
You've got away from me! But not away from my thoughts nor my pen. And I haven't forgotten that we didn't have a proper goodbye and that we have not had our talk about the love of God.

I feel that I had made an engagement with you, to tell you of my thoughts on this subject, and I don't like to break engagements. This letter will be the little lecture you asked for. I will write you many more letters, but first to get this one off my mind—

This is an ambitious subject for me to tackle. St. Francis de Sales wrote a Treatise on the Love of God and it is about six hundred pages long, if I remember rightly, and very fine print! I won't ask you to read that. I'll just send you my own ideas on the subject, quite simple, almost infantile, and hope they will make sense to you, and that they will open a door for you.

To begin with—just one more word about the way LOVE bestows happiness. When you come to think of it, there is nothing that bestows happiness except love. Love is implicit in all praise, in admiration.

You know how, in yourself, when you see some glorious thing, a sunset, or a beautiful face, or some of those exquisite scenes of nature that you now and then come upon, a great tide of praise, love and happiness rises in your heart until it seems that it will burst, and tears push up behind your eyes! Or perhaps it is the grandeur of a symphony. Or perhaps it is great courage or a noble, unselfish deed—and again that bursting love fills the heart. This can be traced down to the smallest thing. Imagine a young girl, about to go to her coming-out party. She sees her dress lying on the bed, clasps her hands (a classic attitude of praise and love!) and stands there in a trance of happiness. Or, a gathering of friends. Analyze your warm, happy feeling. You may call it good cheer, geniality, hospitality. These are other names for love.

Nell Cogitates Upon What Love Really Is

Let's take a very simple example. Penny, when she sees me the first thing in the morning. Or the puppies. They almost burst with love. Where do they get it? Where does Penny get it?

Well, Penny needs me. Penny is helpless without me. From the mother a baby gets security, food, warmth, tenderness, companionship and a thousand gifts that change and increase as the infant gets larger and needs more.

So first there is need. Now what next? Second, I should say, the recognition of the source of good. It isn't long before the infant knows that all these things come from its mother. And what next? Gratitude. And here we have love, the full cup running over.

There one sees the evolution of love. First need, then recognition of the source of good (I wish I could find one word for that—perhaps you can) and then gratitude.

I think there is no love in the world that does not begin with those things. The love of friends? Of course. The need, the recognition of that particular person as the friend, and then the gratitude.

The love of men and women? First, their great and permanent need, then the recognition of each other as possessors of all the gifts that could fill that need, then, if the gifts are bestowed—the great gratitude.

The love of God? First we find out how much we need Him. I think that a person who does not find that out, who is incapable of finding that out, who is always smug and self-sufficient, can never win this great happiness.

Then, needing Him, we grope around perhaps for years to find the source of good. And at last we do. Probably someone tells us, tells us in a way that we can accept and understand. The torch is lit from one hand to the other, and has been all down through the ages.

Try to imagine what life on this planet would be like if man had no conscience. Try to imagine it without beauty. Try to imagine the physical universe without order, plan, design.

If you think of things like that, Howard, perhaps, suddenly, your heart will "burn within you" and you will know that the flame of the love of God has been lit because you have recognized Him as the source of good.

Once you have the love of God it spills over onto everything, and your heart and your life and your world are full of love and therefore full of happiness.

Now, my dear boy, write me the moment you have any spare time. I will write you again soon, something of less exalted nature. I am feeling better already. Much love to the Cadet.

Nell began to write.

Mother.

And while Nell finished her letter, handed it to the nurse to mail and then lay back on her pillow, exhausted, Howard was sitting in the Pullman car, flooded with intense happiness, wondering in a dazed way how and why that sudden rush of brotherly love, that quick and ardent embrace and the glimpse of Ken's salute and laughter, had swept all the misery from his heart.

Four black mares were in Thunderhead's band. Buck had not been able to get close enough to them to identify Jewel by the white mark on her forehead, but he had seen Thunderhead more than once and also a number of colts. They were feeding in the flats of the headwaters of the Spindle River. This was a ravine running north and south, three or four miles west of Westgate. It was, roughly, half a mile wide, between broken mountain ridges that converged at the northern end, nearly meeting, then opening up again. Here would be the place to build the corral. It was a natural. The mountains which formed the sides of the ravine were ready-made wings. Within these, the fence wings could be built. Line riders could guard the ridges and the southern mouth of the ravine so that the horses could not wander away while the corral was being built.

This information was contained in a letter from Buck which was waiting for Rob McLaughlin when the Goose Bar station wagon drove up to the hotel in Westgate on a hot July afternoon.

Ken McLaughlin and Carey Marsh jumped out and began to unload the suitcases while Rob walked in to register.

By the time the boys had located a stable, they had gathered up half the town.

Happiness of Carey Pleases Uncle Beaver

As a matter of fact, Westgate was ready and prepared for these visitors. The day before there had arrived a large Cadillac limousine driven by an English groom and pulling a deluxe horse trailer. Out of the car had stepped an imposing lady who looked like the townspeople's idea of an English queen-mother, and a tall, thin old gentleman with a limp and an acousticon who was dressed in tan Cheyenne pants and ten gallon hat. He was soon recognized, Beaver Greenway, owner of the famous stable of race horses in Idaho.

Carey was in the lobby of the hotel, clasped in the arms of her uncle. He gave her a resounding kiss, and put her off and looked at her.

"Bless my soul, Carey! How I've missed you! The Blue Moon wasn't the same without you!"

"Oh, Uncle Beaver, I'm so glad to see you!" She flung her arms around him again. "I feel as if I'd been away a month!"

"Have you been having a good time? Let me look at you!" He studied her again, his face becoming more serious as he listened to her telling of the wonderful time she had been having. "Carey, you've changed."

"Have I, Uncle Beaver?" "My word!" He looked at her, turned her around, seized her shoulders. "Why, child alive! You're a different girl. Carey, I feel as if I'd never seen you really happy before!"

"Why, Uncle Beaver, what do you mean? Of course I've been happy!" But he shook his head. "I've got to think about this. Something's happened, but I don't know just what. Maybe you've suddenly grown up."

"Where is Grandma, Uncle Beaver?"

"She went up to her room to take a nap. She ought to be awake now and ready to come down. Supper'll be ready soon." He turned to Rob who stood reading Buck's letter.

"Did you get your key, McLaughlin? I took a room for you and Ken."

Rob looked up. "Here's a letter from Buck. Says the horses are right over there west of that ridge. He's camping out near by."

"Gee!" said Ken. "I can hardly wait! I'd like to ride out right away and get a squirt at Thunderhead!" "You hold your horses, young man," said Rob.

Carey asked where her Grandma's room was, flew up the stairs, rapped softly on the door and without waiting to be answered, opened it and stepped in.

Mrs. Palmer, fully dressed for supper, was adjusting the shades, raising them a little to let in the air which was still warm, but not so hot as it had been at midday.

Hearing the door open, she turned, astonished that anyone should enter her room. Carey rushed forward, exclaiming, "Oh, Grandma!" and threw her arms around her.

In that instant's meeting Mrs. Palmer sensed that something was all wrong. With what assurance Carey had greeted her! How strongly those young arms held her! Where was that hesitation, the timidity that ought to have been there? Her face went pale. Her light grey eyes became stony beneath the fine black arches.

Grandmother's Irony Is Shock to Carey

She extricated herself from Carey's arms abruptly and backed away from the girl, smoothing her gown as if it had been roughly disarranged by a dog. She spoke with biting sarcasm, she made graceful bows, she sneered, she put on a scene.

"Oh, how do you do? Who is this, may I ask? A young lady! Quite a grand young lady!"

The impact of this upon Carey was shattering. She felt in her grandmother that rage which seemed to well up so easily. It was shocking to discover that this was still there as it always had been. She had forgotten it in the happy weeks she had been away.

Mrs. Palmer raised her lorgnette and inspected the girl coldly. "But what a costume! You look like a stable boy!"

Carey had made the trip in blue-jeans and pink-striped shirt.

"Where is your luggage?"

"Ken is bringing it up."

"You will sleep here," said Mrs. Palmer, pointing across the huge room to a second large double bed in the other corner.

Carey's heart sank. "Grandma," she said hesitantly, "you know I expect to get up early and ride out to where the horses are. I think I'd better have my own room—"

She stopped short. Mrs. Palmer sat down very suddenly in a chair by the window and clutched her heart. She leaned her head back. Her face was contorted.

"Oh, Grandma!" It was the frightened child speaking again. "Is it your heart? Where are your smelling salts?"

Mrs. Palmer's head rolled helplessly from one side to the other but she motioned with her hand toward the bureau and Carey, running across the room, found among the toilet things a bottle of smelling salts. She held it to her grandmother's nose, supporting her head with the other hand. It began to seem very natural. The visit at the Goose Bar Ranch was like a remembered dream.

"There, that's better." Mrs. Palmer pushed her away, drew a deep breath, and sat up straight. "You were saying you wanted to have a room to yourself? Very well, then. Perhaps your uncle can find a woman from the village to sleep in here with me. The doctor says I must not be alone at night in a strange place."

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Success Breeds Envy, Resentment

By Lawrence Gould

Are successful people apt to forget old friends?

Answer: I have seen this happen, but what is more likely to break the old ties is the discomfort both sides feel at recognizing the almost inevitable envy and resentment of the less successful person. When a stranger becomes rich and famous, you can always tell yourself it was because he had a better chance in life than you did. But the more like yourself you know the successful fellow once was, the harder it is to find an excuse for your not having done what he did. And the more inferior this makes you feel, the more you hate him.

dream world—and mine—are like the "private worlds" that insane people live in, in that everything that happens in them is the product of our fears or wishes, or both. Neither logic nor awareness of reality limits the painful or delightful situations dreams can create.

Should you let a child "do as he pleases"?

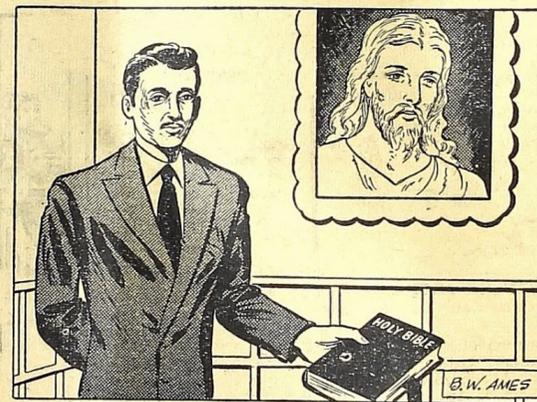

Answer: It's a good idea provided that he fully understands what the results will be and is willing to accept them. Liz Baker in Baby Post tells how her five-year-old daughter wanted to wear her new party dress out to play. The child assumed that if she got the dress torn or soiled, Mother would mend and wash it. But once she was convinced that this would not happen and that doing as she pleased might mean her going to a party ragged and bedraggled, she changed to her play clothes of her own accord. She'd begun to grow up.

Are there times when most of us are insane?

Answer: Technically, yes, though the "insanity" cures itself automatically and is nothing to worry about. For dreams are "hallucinations," and the only difference between them and other delusions is that we recognize that they are unreal when we wake up. Your

LOOKING AT RELIGION

A YOUNG MOHAMMEDAN WHO HAD EMBRACED CHRISTIANITY GAVE THIS REASON: "CHRISTIANITY DOESN'T HAVE MUCH IN THEOLOGY THAT MOHAMMEDANISM DOESN'T HAVE. THERE IS JUST ONE THING CHRISTIANITY HAS THAT WE DIDN'T HAVE, NOR ANYTHING LIKE IT—JESUS CHRIST."

KEEPING HEALTHY

Asthma May Be Caused by Emotions

By Dr. James W. Barton

SOME YEARS AGO research physicians in allergy found that emotional disturbances caused or aggravated attacks of asthma.

While we are all familiar with the effects of emotional disturbances on the heart, stomach, lungs and intestine, that they could cause asthmatic attacks was hard to understand. It was hard to understand how allergy to various substances and also nose and throat defects could cause asthma.

In "The Canadian Medical Association Journal," Dr. H. K. Detweiler, department of medicine, University of Toronto and Toronto Western hospital, states that physicians must keep in mind the psychosomatic (mind and body point of view, which is that the mind appears as one of the several factors which produce the condition to be cured.

"It is recognized by all good clinicians that the physician who attempts to treat a patient suffering from ulcer with diet and alkalis, and who pays no attention to the detrimental effects of worries and conflicts in home, office or factory, the financial or sociological problems of the family and the effects of fatigue and chronic illness upon the patient's powers of resistance, will achieve little."

While an allergy may be the underlying cause of asthmatic attacks, Dr. Detweiler states that if a careful history is taken it will be found that in most cases the nervous make-up of the patient is such as to predispose him to respond in the usual manner to his underlying allergy and actually intensify the asthmatic attacks started by the absorption of the allergic substance.

This history will include inquiry into heredity, childhood neurosis, sensitivity to emotional factors and specific behavior under stress and strain. "Evidences of nervous imbalance such as cold clammy hands and feet, low blood pressure, excessive sweating, rapid heart beat, and irregularities of stomach and intestine processes, are frequently discovered in the history and physical examination."

HEALTH NOTES

Formerly, trying to get a living cornea for grafting has been almost impossible, but this difficulty has been overcome by the establishment of the eye-bank for sight restoration, New York City.

Today, so much more is known about epilepsy than formerly that most patients now under treatment are kept free of attacks.

The reason some are afflicted with hay fever, urticaria (hives), frequent head colds and itching of the skin is that the afflicted ones have too much histamine in their systems.

Certain workers have certain characteristics that make them more prone to have accidents than others.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS

Soda for Plates
Gold borders on plates usually can be cleaned by scrubbing with a dry toothbrush dipped in bicarbonate of soda.

Grind Bread Crumbs
When bread crumbs are to be used for frying, put stale slices of bread through the meat grinder and mix the crumbs with equal parts of flour.

Sweet Potato Color
As soon as they're peeled, raw sweet potatoes have a strong tendency to turn color; this can be prevented by keeping them in ice-cold water until ready for cooking.

Radish Roses
For making roses out of radishes and other fancy garnishes, it is much handier if a penknife is used instead of a paring knife.

Counteracting Salt
If you get too much salt in the soup or gravy, counteract it by adding a teaspoonful of sugar and one of vinegar and cooking it a while longer.

No Soggy Salad
To prevent a salad from getting soggy, put a saucer upside down first in the bottom of the bowl, then put the salad on top of it.

Evangelist Crusade Draws Big Crowds

With a packed house on Sunday evening and even larger crowds expected this week, the Evangelist Crusade continues nightly at the East Tawas Community Building. Feature of Monday night's service was a message on juvenile delinquency, a subject with which Mr. Johnson is well acquainted because of ten years work with juvenile delinquents and also contact with J. Edgar Hoover of the F. B. I.

Subjects for the remaining nights of the Crusade will include: "The Bible and the Atomic Bomb," "The Smartest Lad I Know and Why," and "The Acts and Attitudes of a Young Man Left Behind to Face the Great Tribulation."

Rev. Johnson will also favor the boys and girls with one of his never-to-be forgotten human interest stories from his own experience. His dramatic presentation of these stories will be "The Alligator and the African Native Boy" and "The Watermelon Twins."

Friday night, May 5, will be family night featuring a dramatized bible story, chalk talk and children's chair.

Saturday night is youth night to be held at the Methodist Church in East Tawas. This is expected to be an inspirational service featured by uplifting music.

Nanga Parbat

Nanga Parbat is an ice-sheathed giant that rises from the hot valley floor of the Indus river, in north-west India, to a height of 26,660 feet, or more than five miles above sea level, notes the National Geographic society. Although topped by unconquered Everest and half a dozen lesser cloud-breakers of the Himalayan chain, this mountain, in its isolated grandeur, long has been a tantalizing challenge to the "highest yet" fraternity. Twenty-nine men have lost their lives to the mountain during 50-odd years of attempts to scale its crowning peak.
