4 to 3 Game Played With Alabaster

Tawas City Plays At East Tawas Diamond This Sunday

Alabaster kept their pennant hopes alive, with a tight 4 to 3 win over Tawas City, last Sunday at the Tawas City Athletic field. This marks the fourth time this season that the locals have lost by a one run margin, and with a few fielding and hitting break could have been in the thick of the pennant race.

Tawas City jumped off to a two runlead in the first inning, when Wegner led off with a double. Tate picked him off second; Myles walked; Westcott singled; Look was safe on a fielder's choice. Westcott out at second and Myles scored. Groff singled, scoring Look.

Alabaster got one run back in the fourth, when DeLosh walked, went to second on an error. Erickson struck out; Tate singled; Herriman was safe at first on a fielders choice, with Tate out at second in an attempted double play with DeLosh scoring.

Alabaster tied the game up in the fifth inning when Herriman reached first on an error; Bolen sacrificed him to second and scored on Elmer Erickson's single.

In the last of the fifth Tawas City came up with a single run, when Bob Rollin walked; Wegner fanned; Westcott singled, sending Rollin to third. Rollin scored on Herb Look's single.

Tawas City's one run lead was short lived when Alabaster came back with the final two runs of the game in the sixth. Erickson led off with a walk; Tate flied to second; Clares Herriman doubled, scoring Erickson and Pat Erickson singled, scoring Herriman.

Tawas City out hit Alabaster eight hits to five but were stymied in the pinches by Martin's pitching and run producing errors on their own. Bill Groff, playing second base for Tawas, had a field day at the plate, with three hits, one a double. Don Westcott, Tawas third sacker, came up with two hits, both singles. No Alabaster man got more than one hit. Extra base knocks were doubles by Herriman, Wegner and Groff.

Rollin started for Tawas City and threw til the sixth inning, allowing two hits and two runs. He fanned five. Look finished the game, allowing two runs and three hits. He struck out five also.

Martin went the distance for Alabaster, allowing eight hits and three runs. He sent the third strike by 10 Tawas City batters.

This Sunday, July 30, Tawas City will play at East Tawas in a previously rained out game.

Pheasant Chicks Received by Club

The Iosco County Sportsmen's Club received a shipment of 252 day old bay pheasant chicks from the Conservation Department hatcheries at Sterling this week. In the above photo Jack Dresden, of East Tawas, president of the Sportsmen's Club, Art Leitz, Michigan Conservation Department officer in the area and William Groff, Sr., of Tawas City, director of the Sportsmen's Club, are shown with the chicks before they distributed them to farmers throughout the area. The farmers will raise them until they are eight weeks old, and then release them in their fields.

Pheasants have been making a strong comeback in Iosco County this year, despite the adverse winter conditions that they usually suffer. The new crop of chicks should help to increase their population.

According to a report last week, Iosco County is open for pheasant hunting this year, after having a closed season on the birds for the last couple of years.

HorseDrawn Cages At Kelly-Miller Circus Here Aug. 5

With many horse-drawn cages, and floats, the Al G. Kelly & Miller Bros. Circus will give a version of the real "old time circus," that in recent years have been absent when circuses have visited the community.

The Kelly-Miller organization prides in its long string of purebred Percheon and Clydesdale draft horses, that are not only a show by themselves, but are of great assistance in moving the large all-steel wagons during the unloading and loading of this big circus. So, in reality "the oldtimer" can't truthfully say "It isn't like the circus I saw when I was a boy."

On Saturday, August 5th, which marks the arrival of the first big circus to our community in 37 years, the draft horses will play no small part in making one of America's most cherished holidays "Circus Day," a complete success.

Fred M. Alger Speaks at Banquet Here

Many Attend Meeting To Meet Republican Candidate

A crowd of Iosco County citizens overflowed the banquet room at the Holland Hotel to spend an enjoyable and profitable evening listening to Secretary of State Fred M. Alger in his bid for the Governorship of Michigan.

Mr. Alger vigorously expressed his accord that Iosco County citizens should be taken "Out of the Mud." Having been conducted on a tour of Iosco's M-55 and over the Monument Road to Oscoda by a couple of Iosco's interested citizens he stated that he was entirely in sympathy with a solution of the Road Problems of the county and with those of the entire state of Michigan. He recognized the fact that the tourist business and good roads were inseparably connected and that what benefitted one also benefitted other.

Mr. Alger stated his belief that the State Government should operate within its income and that by elimination of certain Federal taxes that more money would be available for government at the State Level. His experience as Secretary of State and on the State Administrative Board has given him a keen insight into Fiscal affairs of the State.

Alger is vigorous and a hard worker. Besides serving on the State Administrative Board he has served with distinction on the Building, Finance, Purchasing and Military Committees; the State Highway Safety Commission, State Board of Canvassers and several Study Commissions. Under his direction, the process of issuance of Automobile License plates has been greatly simplified for the many citizens of Michigan who are now spared the detail of filling out their license applications.

Good Government and splendid public service is a tradition in the family of Fred M. Alger. He was a leader in the group which broke-up "Bossism" in Michigan. He is a young man who is aggressive and who appeals to youth of all parties. And yet, he is a candidate who is always ready and anxious to obtain the counsel of the older group. Mr. Alger states that he would make no promises that he felt he could not fulfill, but felt that his experience in State Government was such that he could do much toward developing the co-operation so necessary between the Governor's office and the Legislature to obtain the legislation necessary to place the State business on an efficient, economical level and to obtain the improvement of roads that is so necessary at this time and other benefits essential to Good Government.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

United States Ground Forces Sent Into Korea; Uneasy World Fears Crisis May Lead to New World War

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

KOREA WAR: U. S. Fights

Eight days after the Communists of North Korea invaded United States sponsored South Korea the people of the democratic nations were breathing a little easier, with only an occasional shiver of fear sweeping down their spines.

Developments in the crisis, which could yet plunge the world into World War III, came quickly after the initial invasion.

Using tanks and planes which the southern forces lacked, the Communists swept through Seoul and within 12 miles of Suwon, important air base of South Korea.

The army of South Korea made stand after stand, but could not halt the Russian made tanks and planes used by the Communists. Within 48 hours after the opening attack South Korea was in a difficult position and for a time it appeared the invaders would sweep south with less and less opposition.

Then came the historical order of President Truman sending United States navy and air force units to the aid of South Korea. It was followed two days later with an order sending U. S. troops to the battle line.

Military operations developed quickly and with surprising efficiency. Observers throughout the world were astonished at the speed with which the United States got fighting forces into the field.

Following the President's first order, the air force in Japan and naval units in that area, were put under command of General MacArthur. The planes immediately attacked Communist troop concentrations, tanks and planes. The navy blockaded the Korean coast.

Within 24 hours after the second order, troops had landed in South Korea and were well on their way to the front.

Meanwhile, the South Korea army had rallied and established a temporary line along the Hon river. The Communist army crossed the river at one point and advanced toward Suwon.

General MacArthur has at his disposal in Japan four U. S. infantry divisions, consisting of 15,000 men each, a number of tanks and heavy guns. Whether or not he will use all of them depends upon developments within the next week or two, observers reported.

The military picture in Korea remains confused and the future depends almost entirely upon what the Russians decide to do in the way of aid to the North Korea army.

Responsible sources report American and South Korea forces, using tanks, planes and heavy guns which the United States will provide, should check and then drive out the Communists. Experience and material throws the advantage to the democracies—that is, if the Soviet Union decides not to take an active part in the affair.

MURDER: Admits Arson

Newspaper readers throughout the country forgot the Korean crisis long enough to express horror over the confession of a 20-year-old Circleville, O., youth who admitted setting the Ringling Brothers circus fire in Hartford, Conn., in 1944 that killed 168 persons and injured 412 others.

The youth, Robert Dale Segree, also admitted that he was personally responsible for the slaying of four persons.

The youth admitted setting between 25 and 30 major fires in Portland, Me., between 1939 and 1946 and other fires in New Hampshire and Ohio.

He confessed killing a watchman who caught him setting a fire in a warehouse in Portland, Me., March 16, 1943; a 12-year-old boy, strangled to death on the beach at Cape Cottage, Me., in 1943; a 9-year-old girl, beaten to death with a stone during a fit of anger, and a Japanese boy, killed in Japan in 1949 while Segree was in the United States army of occupation.

Segree gave this explanation of the fires:

A flaming red Indian horseman awakens him at night and tells him to set the fires. Then his mind goes blank and the next thing he remembers is that the fires have been started. The red Indian then is off his horse. He drives Segree away with taunts and sneers.

RAILROADS: Strike Goes On

The government asked striking A.F.L. switchmen to end their walk-out against five midwest and western railroads because of the "current critical developments" arising from the Korean war, but the railroaders refused.

They offered to help the railroad move any material the government deemed essential. The union said the reference to patriotism "borders on insult."

Red Amazons

These poker-faced girls, held at a South Korea guardhouse, were members of a Communist guerrilla band that crossed the border and which was finally driven back. The girls said they were conscripted as guerrilla fighters when they proved too weak to help pull plows.

EUROPE:

A Case of Shakes

Europe suffered a severe case of "shakes" following the outbreak of the Korean conflict. Europeans saw the horrors of World War II as it progressed across that continent from east to west, and what they saw will not soon be forgotten.

With this memory and a strong belief that Russia had finally come from behind the iron curtain to fight World War III, the nerves of Europeans were at the breaking point for the first week of the crisis.

As the situation developed, however, the tension eased, but by no means vanished. In many areas, Berlin for instance, the majority felt World War III had begun. In other sections the thought persisted that it was a dangerous situation, but with hopes it would not set the world afire with war.

Some of the reactions: Vienna—Austrians were beginning to breathe easier after the first week of war jitters, but there remained widespread fear of war. There was a notable surge of growing confidence in the United Nations and the United States.

Frankfurt—The Germans, both east and west, were plainly scared at the possibility of the Korean struggle drawing Europe into a shooting war.

Berlin—War fears in Berlin apparently were worse than at the start of the Soviet blockade of Berlin two years ago.

London—Extremely disturbed over the possibility of war, but approved the action of the United States. The thought persisted that the Russians are not ready for a full scale war.

UNITED STATES: A United Front

More than anywhere else in the world, the Korean incident was uppermost in the minds of Americans. There was a great fear of war in all sections of the country. But most surprising reaction was the united front presented to the rest of the world.

Americans in every walk of life approved of President Truman's action. One and all approved the decision that told communism that the United States would stand by its commitments and the point had been reached where democracy would make a stand against totalitarianism.

Even congress, which has presented a confusing picture of inconsistencies during the Truman administration, approved of the chief executive's action.

Senator Taft of Ohio, apparently unwilling to rise above the political view took the opportunity to demand the resignation of Secretary of State Acheson. Many observers found his senate speech untimely. He demanded the resignation of Acheson on the grounds his policy in the Far East had been reversed completely by President Truman and he had, therefore, been operating under the wrong policy. For that reason he insisted Mr. Acheson had outlived his usefulness.

Rep. Vito Marcantonio, noted for his Communist leanings, added his voice of protest, but most people were inclined to consider the source and let it go at that.

Politics

A new movement was seen in the Republican party following a meeting in Philadelphia of representatives from 10 states and issuance of a "declaration of principles."

Henry V. Poor, former president of the New York Young Republicans, said the group drafted the "declaration of principles" as a basis of "revitalizing the Republican party."

TAXES:

House Votes Cut

The 1950 tax bill, much to the amazement of Washington observers, won the approval of the house of representatives with a top-heavy vote of 375 to 14. As the measure went to the senate, observers were not making any predictions.

The bill calls for $1,010,000,000 of reductions in the excise taxes annually paid on furs, jewelry, luggage, toilet articles, admissions, communications, transportation and many other items.

The revenue loss, however, is offset by provisions to increase corporation taxes $433,000,000 annually and close loopholes in other tax laws.

Observers were making no predictions about senate action because of complexities stemming from the Korean war. Many senators have indicated the tax problem would be much different and any relief might be ruled out if the situation developed demanding increases in this country's military budget.

The Republicans have been fighting the measure because of the proposed increase in corporation taxes.

Also in the tax news, federal revenue in May soared nearly half a billion dollars above that of the same month a year ago.

But the total for the first 11 months in the fiscal year ending July 1 was still more than a billion below that of the corresponding period of the preceding fiscal year, the internal revenue bureau reported.

The revenue in May from individual and corporation income taxes and from employment taxes was well up last year. For example, the individual income taxes collected in May were $1,878,357,644, as compared with $1,604,794,824 in May 1949.

DRAFT LAW:

Boys Must Register

President Truman signed the draft bill into law. It gives him unrestricted authority to order inductions resumed at any time and empowers him to put the National Guard and the reserves on active duty any time he sees fit to do so.

The law runs until July 9, 1951, and males from 19 to 26 are subject to induction.

Observers were not much surprised at the extension of the selective service law after the Korean incident hit the headlines. Before that, however, congress was in a knock down drag out battle over the bill.

When first considered last spring there was considerable doubt that the lawmakers would grant a continuation. At the minimum, they wanted to limit the President's power to start inductions going again. The Korean situation, however, brought about quick agreement.

GAMBLING:

Blow to Bookmakers

A senate subcommittee investigating gambling throughout the country have released the names of more than 2,000 subscribers to racing news wire services.

The move was newsworthy in that it should prove "useful" to local law enforcement officials in combatting gambling.

Senator Ernest W. McFarland, chairman of the committee, said his group had no proof that any particular individual on the list was a bookmaker. He pointed out that some listings—for newspapers, radio stations and the like—obviously fall outside the gambling realm.

But he added:

"I believe the majority of those listed are bookmakers."

The committee has announced plans to hold hearings this month in Miami, St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago.

Nominated

Willis Smith and Mrs. Smith cast their votes in the North Carolina run-off primary. Smith defeated Sen. Frank Graham, one of President Truman's southern supporters. The Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in North Carolina.

EMPLOYMENT: Near Record

Employment in the United States in June soared to the highest levels reached since the record month of July, 1948, statistics from the bureau of the census revealed.

Agricultural employment rose to 99,046,000 compared with 8,062,000 in May. Nonagricultural employment rose by 750,000 to a total of 52,436,000 between May and June.

For five straight months the employment has increased.

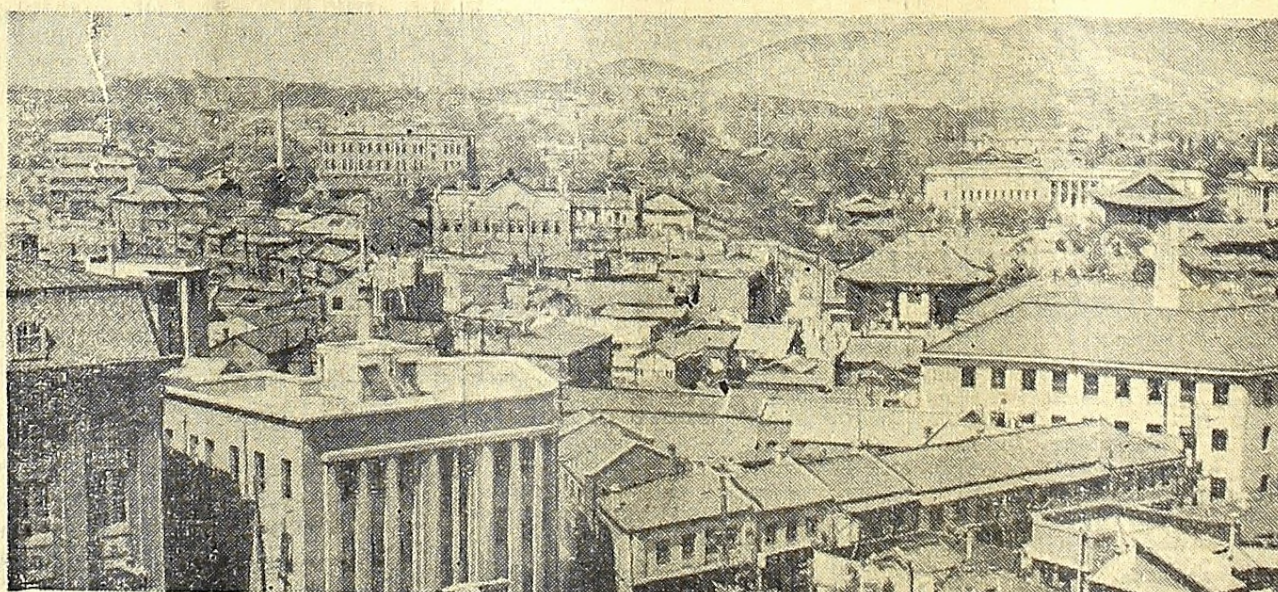

EAST GERMAN STUDENTS SEEK REFUGE IN WEST BERLIN . . . Twenty-five boys and girls, representing an entire class at the Einstein high school in Potsdam, have been granted refuge in West Berlin. The class fled to West Berlin to escape arrest because of their resistance to the Communist school administration. The youngsters complained the teachers were ignoring usual studies and concentrating on political indoctrination and compulsory sports. The Red officials ordered the school closed and reprisals after the students distributed pamphlets attacking the puppet regime. Two of the class were seized but the rest managed to escape.

CRISIS IN UNITED NATIONS . . . Faced with the greatest crisis of its history, the United Nations ordered a halt to the Korean war. Ignored by the Communists, the U. N. found itself in a bad spot. Unless military sanctions were ordered and its authority in the world upheld, its future existence was but a matter of time. The delegates, however, voted 7 to 1 for an American resolution endorsing the President's decision to send aid to South Korea in the form of United States planes and ships. By its action the U. N. has secured its future and its influence in world affairs, observers have agreed. The security council is shown voting 9 to 0 to invoke Chapter VII of the U. N. Charter.

MRS. ROOSEVELT PAYS RESPECTS AT PATTON'S GRAVE . . . Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is shown with son Elliott and his children as they paid their respects at the grave of General George S. Patton, famed commander of the U. S. third army, in the Hamm military cemetery. From left are Mrs. Roosevelt; Elliott (partly hidden behind his mother); Chandler Roosevelt, Elliott's daughter; Mrs. Perle Mesta, U. S. minister to Luxembourg; and Elliott, Jr.

SOUTH KOREA CAPITAL FALLS TO INVADERS . . . This general view shows the city of Seoul, capital of South Korea, now in the hands of Communist invaders from North Korea. Scattered reports nearly a week after the sneak attack began indicated the invaders had passed beyond Seoul in its drive on Suwon to which the government fled shortly before the fall of the capital. The South Korea government had established a temporary capital at Taejon approximately 90 miles south of Seoul. The capital fell to the invaders four days after the opening attack as the Communists used tanks and planes which the South Korea forces did not have.

MIRROR
Of Your
MIND'What Dreams
May Come ...'

By Lawrence Gould

Can you make yourself dream what you want to?

Answer: I've never known anybody who could do this—in fact, I've heard homesick soldiers say they would give anything to dream themselves back home, but found that they could not. This is because dreaming is a mental state in which your conscious will has lost control of your imagination and the situations pleasant or unpleasant, which you create for yourself are determined by your repressed and unconscious fears and wishes. While you're half asleep you may start a dream that will make you happy, but you cannot tell where it will take you.

tion, it seems likely that a person's basic feeling of emotional security depends at least in part on being adequately nourished, and that the prolonged sense of insecurity which would result from partial starvation might well bring on the reactions the students experienced.

Are delinquents apt to become criminals?

Answer: That depends upon how they are treated, say a judge, a psychiatrist, and a psychologist in the Northwestern University Reviewing Stand. A juvenile delinquent is a child with a problem, not a "problem child," and if he is treated as an enemy by the community, his finding the answer to his problem will be made just so much harder. If there were sufficient mental hygiene clinics to permit all juvenile delinquents to be shown a better way of getting satisfaction out of life, the danger of their turning to crime might be avoided.

Can diet deficiency change your character?

Answer: Experiments seem to show that it can. In one case, a group of normal college students who submitted for months to a diet lacking in important vitamins became not only lazy and lethargic, but quarrelsome and dishonest. Besides the direct effect of malnutri-

LOOKING AT RELIGION

THE JEWS OF THE OLD TESTAMENT GAVE MUCH ATTENTION TO THE BEARD, REGARDING IT, WHEN LONG AND FULL, AS THE NOBLEST ORNAMENT OF MAN. TO NEGLECT, TEAR OUT OR CUT OFF A BEARD WERE SIGNS OF DEEP MOURNING, TO BE DEPRIVED OF HIS BEARD WAS A MARK OF INFAMY FOR A MAN.

KEEPING HEALTHY

Emotional Causes Start 'Heartburn'

By Dr. James W. Barton

WHILE THE TERM heartburn is frequently heard, many who suffer with it believe it has something to do with the heart. They worry unnecessarily. It is called heartburn because it is close to the heart region but it is not caused in any way by the heart.

Heartburn, sometimes called cardiospasm (heart spasm) is due to an obstruction of the lower end of the tube (oesophagus) which carries food from the throat to the stomach. The obstruction is not due to food or other substance but to a partial closure (spasm) of this muscular tube.

Just what causes this tube to close partly and appear to cause a real mechanical obstruction is unknown. In my own experience a close relative was sure she had a growth in the tube because she could feel the food "sticking" in the tube just near the stomach. In order to convince her that no real obstruction was present, I had her watch, by means of the fluoroscope (X-ray) the food (barium) going down to the stomach. While this was a number of years ago, I believed that nervousness was causing the symptoms.

In Gastroenterology, Drs. S. Wolf and T. P. Almy report that they made repeated observations of swallowed barium sulfate in 14 patients with well-established cardiospasm. They found that the obstruction in the oesophagus was often associated with a decided amount of movement of the lower two-thirds of the oesophagus.

Even when the oesophagus was widened to some extent, the cardiospasm was present; it was only when it was greatly widened that this extra amount of movement disappeared. These two physicians found that these spasms bore a direct relation to stresses and strains or freedom from stress and strain in the emotional life of these patients.

In short-term experimental observations, it was noted that when emotional topics were discussed, there was an increase in the obstructive symptoms.

★ HEALTH NOTES ★

There is a trend now to make state mental hospitals centers of prevention, early diagnosis and early treatment of mental ailments.

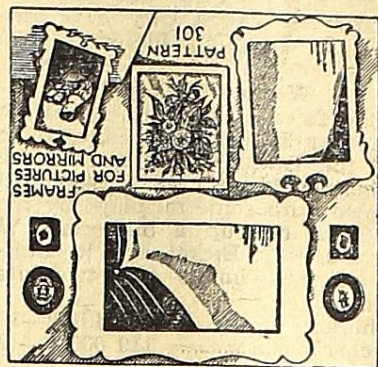

There are many causes of arthritis—infection, diet, injury, cold, moisture and emotional disturbance—and no single successful method of treatment.

Blood removed from a patient just recovering from the flu, when injected into the veins of a patient suffering with the malady, seems to bring fever down and help in the patient's speedier recovery.

There are more than 200 causes of headache, most of them due to remote causes.

Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Don't Be Satisfied With Only Temporary Relief—Now It Is Possible To TREAT THE CAUSE OF ANY SICKNESS

DUE TO DEFICIENCIES OF VITAMINS B₁, B₂, NIACIN AND IRON

Mr. John McClelland, P. O. Box 8191, Los Angeles, California. "My age is 44. My trouble is stomach distress. Can't eat and when I do, it makes me sick. But HADACOL has done me more good than anything I have tried. My mother lives in Mobile, Alabama, and sent it to me. I don't think there's anything better than HADACOL, and if there is you can have it." (A very thoughtful mother to send her son HADACOL. Why don't you send a bottle to a relative with this trouble?)

Mrs. Ophelia Jefferson of Gulfport, Mississippi. "I'd been suffering from neuritis pains and aches and was advised to have my teeth extracted, but received no relief. I'm now on my seventh bottle of HADACOL and it's given me entire relief from the aches and pains. I'm able now to do a full day's work. The makers of such a marvelous remedy should certainly be praised."

Mrs. Virgie Finley, Route No. 1, Monterey, Tennessee. "I was weak and run-down so that I could hardly sleep at night, and was so nervous I could hardly do my housework. My stomach had so much gas on it that everything I ate seemed to hurt me. I had tried all kinds of medicine and nothing seemed to help me. I started taking HADACOL a few weeks ago and believe me it surely has helped me. Now I can eat anything and am sleeping well at night. I cannot praise HADACOL enough and I have taken only 4 bottles." (Mrs. Finley is a wise woman. She knows continued use of HADACOL prevents such distress from returning.)

Mrs. George F. Tuff of Poplar Bluff, Missouri. "I am 57 years old and I have started on the third bottle of HADACOL. I never have taken a medicine that helped me like HADACOL. I don't have neuritis aches or pains since I took the first bottle. I was so nervous, I had pains in my back, legs and arms till I couldn't work. Now I feel good and go all the time to work." (HADACOL gives such wonderful results because it treats the cause of such deficiencies.)

Mr. Harry W. Smith, 10 North Water Street, Harrisburg, Illinois. "I am 41 years old, and I work at a Strip Mine. I have been bothered with aches and pains of neuritis and feel sleepy all the time, but my wife heard on the radio about HADACOL. So I bought a trial size and it has helped me so wonderfully that I buy the large family size now. I can't begin to describe how I would feel if I couldn't buy it at all. I want everybody who feels bad to know about it."

Alex J. Anderson, Route No. 1, Carrville, Florida. "I am ten years old. I've always been puny. I never have eaten or played like my brothers. I've been taking HADACOL for a while, now feel better, play more and like to go to school. HADACOL is really a good medicine." (Just leave it to the youngsters to find out what's good for them!)

Mr. Robert G. Stuart, Barter Inn, Abingdon, Virginia. "I am working in the capacity of Health Inspector for the State of Virginia and have for the past two years suffered heartburn and a form of stomach distress. I have had no appetite and have tried various medicines spending many hundreds of dollars for treatment and aid. I have not found any relief in anything or any treatment until I tried your remarkable HADACOL, which I praise with the highest regard. Now I eat three large meals a day without any pains or discomfort. I have gained 15 lbs. since the 15th of December—never felt better in all my life. I am now taking an active part in civic and extra-curricular activities which I had to ignore since last December. I have worked zealously. Thanks to your remarkable HADACOL."

Mrs. John R. Grizzle, Jr., 4903 B. Chaparral, Dallas, Texas. "I'm writing you to let you know just what HADACOL has done for me. I was feeling bad—nervous, had headaches, lost my appetite—so my mother advised me to get HADACOL and try it. My baby is only 2 1/2 months old and it sure has helped me. I've taken only one bottle and it has done wonders. My husband is taking it now too, and he surely feels better, and not so tired after a day's work. I recommend HADACOL to everyone who needs a tonic, and it surely will make you feel better. I hope this will help someone to feel better by reading or hearing this information."

Mrs. Helen Barron of Meansville, Georgia. "My little boy had been sick for quite some time. Until I heard about HADACOL over the radio, he was weak, run-down, and apt to catch anything—he couldn't run and play like other boys did, and he wouldn't eat anything. So I can't praise HADACOL enough. He has taken 4 bottles and eats anything, and sleeps good, isn't tired when he gets up, runs and plays as much as anyone, has gained weight, and feels good. I have taken some myself. He is 11 years old now. I can't tell enough about what HADACOL has done for my son. He even looks better. I want all my friends to try HADACOL."

Mrs. L. L. Martin, 4207 Woodhead Street, Houston 6, Texas. "I am sixty years old. For the past few months I have been suffering from almost constant heartburn and a heavy feeling in my chest. I had read about HADACOL in the papers but as I take care of all the expenses at home, I just couldn't buy any. Three weeks ago, my son in Kansas sent me $5, telling me it was not for groceries but to please buy something for myself with it. I bought four bottles of HADACOL at $1.25 a bottle. After the first few doses of HADACOL I was free of heartburn and also of the heavy tired feeling I had been experiencing."

Mr. Clifton Cram, 511 West Commerce Street, Greenville, Alabama. "I am taking my third bottle of HADACOL and it has done more for me than any other medicine. I was awfully weak and nervous and run-down. I would have weak nervous spells and I had no appetite for food. So I heard different people praising HADACOL over the radio. My wife wanted me to give it a trial and I sure am glad I did. My back would hurt me so with neuritis pains till I couldn't sleep at night, but that is all in the past. My backache is gone now and I am feeling good so I am going to continue taking HADACOL. I am 35 years old, employed by Greenville Ice and Coal Co., Greenville, Ala. I hope everybody that needs medicine will try HADACOL. It seems to me it is enough as it seems to be just the medicine I needed."

Mr. Alldore Kramer of Marrero, Louisiana. "I want you to know how your wonderful HADACOL helped me. I suffered so from neuritis pains and aches, I hurt so, and I could hardly use my right hand. I even had my teeth out but got no help. I started to get HADACOL. Now I sing while I plow my fields. I'm so happy. I'll never be without HADACOL. I take it every day." (That's the spirit—Isn't it great to have that wonderful HADACOL feeling? Why don't you try it?)

Mr. John Krampelman, 127 Warren St., Lexington, Kentucky. "Four months ago I was suffering from lack of energy, no get up and go at all. I also had a lack of appetite and great irritability. Then my friends recommended HADACOL, and in a very short time my appetite began to go back to normal and it seemed as though a miracle had happened because everything was once again very bright."

Mrs. Tom Kennedy, 1302 Rector Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas. "My trouble was terrible. I had terrible pains right after I ate my meals. I have tried pills but they didn't do any good, so I thought I would try HADACOL. After the first bottle of HADACOL, I got relief, so I wouldn't be without HADACOL. I have already told all my neighbors about HADACOL, how good it is. They are also taking it. I am 49 years old and I sure do feel a lot better, thanks to HADACOL." (What a wise woman Mrs. Kennedy is. She realizes continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such stomach misery from returning.)

Beatrice Starks of 303 Milford Street, Hones Path, South Carolina. "I just had to write you a few words to try to tell you how much HADACOL has helped me. I had an operation in February. Then I started washing too soon, took neuritis in my hands and arms and after that couldn't do anything. I heard about HADACOL, decided to try it and I'm sure glad I did. My indigestion was so bad I couldn't eat anything I liked but now I can eat what I want. My hands don't hurt or my hips as they did before I started using HADACOL. Please keep hollering it out so others will hear about it."

Softball--

Beckett's Real Estate continues to lead the Tawas Softball league this week with a perfect slate of ten wins and no defeats. The Real Estate men have never slackened their pace which they set the first week of the season, piling up large scores in several instances. The Tawas City Lutheran team nearly upset Beckett's in the first week of the season, but lost in the last inning by one run. Nelkie's Dairy lost by two runs to them and Fletcher's four, in the only other close games.

Two changes in the standings were recorded this week, when Anderson Coach dropped to sixth place with four wins and six losses, and the Tawas City Lutheran moved into fourth place with seven wins and five losses.

Next week's games will end the second round of the schedule, and games which were postponed during the second round will be played off before that time.

There will be a managers and league officers meeting at the Tawas City Hall tonight (Friday). Matters of importance concerning the league will be taken up at that time. The meeting will get underway at eight o'clock.

Thursday Night

Fletcher's All Stars forfeited to Roll-In Auto Body.

The game between Nelkie's Dairy and the Tawas City Fire Department was postponed to a later date.

Friday Night

In a postponed game Friday night Roll-In Auto Body beat Anderson Coach 12 to 8 at Tawas City. F. Yanna paced the Auto Body team with three hits.

Batteries: Roll-In Auto: Koepke and B. Myles. Anderson Coach: Jarvis and Seymour.

Monday Night

A double by Bob Rollin and a single by Ristow broke up a 3 to 3 deadlock in the sixth inning between Tawas City Lutheran and Nelkie's Dairy with the final score reading Lutherans 4, Nelkie's 3.

Lutheran 021 001 x-4

Nelkie's 010 101 0-3

Batteries: Lutheran: Westcott and Rollin. Nelkie: Nelkie and Fogelsonger.

John McMurray's long home run in the ninth inning for Roll-In Auto Body, accounted for their second win over Anderson Coach this week with the score ending Roll-In's 7, Anderson Coach 6. MacMurray's clout broke up a pitcher's duel between Wright and Gingerich for Roll-In Auto Body and Priest of the losers.

Batteries: Roll-In Auto: Wright Gingerich and B. Myles. Anderson Coach: Priest and Seymour.

Tuesday Night

Fletcher's All-Stars held down the league leading Beckett Real Estate team for five innings 2 to 0 until the league leaders broke loose with three runs in the sixth inning to sew up the game, Fletcher's lone tally was a home run by Prescott in the sixth.

ANNUAL MEETING TAWAS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The annual meeting of School District No. 7, Tawas City and Fractional Tawas Township, was held at the school auditorium Monday evening, July 10, 1950, at 8:00 P. M.

Meeting called to order by Acting Chairman Stephan.

The minutes of the annual meeting of July 11, 1949 were read. Moved by R. Fox, supported by H. R. Smith that the minutes be approved as read. Motion carried.

The Secretary's report was read. Moved by R. Fox, supported by C. Libka, that the report be accepted as read. Motion carried.

The Treasurer's report was read. Moved by L. Clements, supported by H. R. Smith, that the report be accepted as read. Motion carried.

Moved by R. Fox, supported by A. Bronson that the Peoples State Bank, East Tawas, Mich., be designated as the depository for school funds. Motion carried.

The next order of business was the election of two trustees for terms of three years to succeed R. Fox and A. Bronson, whose terms of office had expired.

Moved by R. Fox, supported by H. R. Smith, that the chair be authorized to appoint two tellers. Motion carried and the chair appointed Harry Westrich and P. N. Thornton as tellers.

R. M. Fox was nominated to succeed himself for the office of trustee for a term of three years. Moved by S. Humphrey, supported by Mrs. George Leslie, that the nominations be closed and the entire ballot be cast for Mr. Fox. Motion carried and Mr. Fox was declared elected.

Arnold H. Bronson was nominated to succeed himself for the office of trustee for a term of three years. Moved by S. Humphrey, supported by C. Schaaf, that the nominations be closed and the entire ballot be cast for Mr. Bronson. Motion carried and Mr. Bronson was declared elected.

The next order of business was the question of raising the millage of school tax above the fifteen mills for which the following ballot was voted.

A Proposition to Increase the School Tax Levy Five Mills to Create a Sinking Fund:

Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against property in Fractional District No. 7 of Tawas City, and Fractional of Tawas Township, County of Iosco and State of Michigan, for all purposes except taxes levied for payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased for a period of five (5) years, (from 1950 to 1954, both inclusive) by five-tenths (5-10) of one (1) per-cent to Two (2) per-cent of the assessed valuation of all property in the School District, as provided in Section 21, Article X of the Constitution of Michigan? And that said increase shall be for the purpose of creating a sinking fund to apply on the cost of erection of new school facilities, when possible and for the improvement of existing facilities.

☐ YES

☐ NO

The instruction ballot was read to the electors by the secretary and considerable discussion followed. Additional classroom space or suggested improvements such as shower rooms, lighting, new roof, etc. necessitated the request for the additional levy. After the electors were duly registered, thirty-six ballots were cast as follows and the results certified by the tellers. Yes—27. No—9.

A majority of all votes cast being in favor of increasing the millage five mills, the motion was declared approved.

A discussion followed in regard to the transporting of students within the district. Moved by LeClair, supported by J. N. Brugger that the district transport students within the district limits. Motion carried.

The report of the Tawas Area School Study Committee was read to the assembly by J. N. Brugger and an open discussion in regard to consolidation followed. Supt. Giddings stated that in his opinion something must be done soon to better the school system. All indications point toward corrective action being forced by both University of Michigan and the Department of Public Instruction. The school is now accredited by the U. of M. but only on a year basis due to the condition of the building. If taken off the accredited list, students would not be accepted in colleges without entrance examinations and the Dept. of Public Instruction determines whether or not tuition can be charged. Moved by LeClair, supported by L. Clements, that the district adopt a resolution supporting a consolidation of the area school districts to formulate a centralized school system. Motion carried.

Moved by L. Schaaf, supported by L. Clements, that the resolution supporting consolidation be published as a separate item in the local paper. Motion Carried. Moved, supported, and carried to adjourn.

John N. Brugger, Secretary.

CHAPTER I

Her raincoat was white, her high rubber galoshes were white and her umbrella of oiled silk was white with a bright red handle. Ensemble of a well-dressed young woman on a rainy day.

She smiled to herself, a rather wry little smile. She had never had really nice clothes before—bargain-basement stuff that didn't look so bad perhaps—but nothing really nice. And yet—

"Going uptown, Dorinda? I've a couple of letters I wish you'd drop at the post office."

She whirled around, startled, from the half-open door. Why was he always so quiet, she thought, with a quick gust of irritation. A big man, black and white like a Greek, handsome in a heavy, middle-aged sort of way. Not the kind of good looks she admired though many women might. Fay, for instance. He must weigh close to two hundred and yet he moved as softly as a cat.

But there was nothing of impatience in her voice when she spoke. "Of course," and after a barely perceptible pause, "Uncle Edward."

"Thank you, Dorinda."

She looked back into the house. At Fay, watching Edward from the living-room door. At Carol, Grandmother's nurse, hurrying down the stairs, a brown-covered book under her arm. She put the book in Dorinda's hand.

"Mrs. Thorndyke asked if you'd change this at the library."

Dorinda smiled back into Carol's black eyes, then opened the door wider and went out.

Dorinda. Well, she was Dorinda. That was what he had said in the beginning. "Look like Dorinda, talk like Dorinda. You are Dorinda. Never forget that."

Dorinda Reviews Story Of Deception's Start

Did Dorinda think, "I like rainy days. . . . They shut me in. . . . I feel safe. . . ." Not that there was any reason why she shouldn't feel safe. Only the whole situation was so strange. As if one were walking on eggshells or balancing on a tight rope. Mustn't make a misstep. Would Dorinda say this? Would she do this? Five months now and still she felt as if she were an actress playing to an audience, wooing them into an illusion of reality she could not share. Only at night when she went into her room and shut the door could she relax. And times like now, alone and shut in by the rain.

The post office was deserted. Near mail time there were always people, at the ink-spattered table using the rusty pens, or scanning the posters on the walls. "Wanted: For Murder." For this or that. Full face and profile over a number. Five feet eight. Weight one hundred and sixty. Eyes and hair. They never wanted a man for pretending to be someone else. At least not on any poster she had ever seen. It wasn't a crime. Or was it? When pretending wasn't meant to harm, only to help? To help Uncle Edward and Grandmother and Fay? Somehow she didn't care about helping Fay any more. To be truthful it all boiled down to the fact that she was doing it to help herself, for the money Uncle Edward was paying her.

"I may have a nice nature," she told herself frankly. "But I wouldn't do this for anyone. Not unless I was paid for it. A thousand dollars is a lot of money. My wrist is well and I could get a job now. In a couple of months I'll be back in Los Angeles with money in the bank and a trunk full of clothes. And this will all seem like a dream. Maybe rather a nice dream looking back."

Only there was Cleve. After she went away from here, she could never see Cleve again. Possibly, if he knew, he would understand. But she had promised not to tell, not anyone, ever. When it came time to go, she would go. And Uncle Edward would make the explanations. Cleve would think she didn't care, not even enough to say good-by. Probably he wouldn't want to see her again anyway. That expression his dark eyes held when he looked at her was for Dorinda, Dorinda La Croix who lived in a big house, who was a member of one of the oldest families in the village, who belonged, who wasn't an outsider.

She took her two letters to the window. The post-mistress was little and thin and endowed with a perpetual curiosity. She looked at Dorinda over her glasses and smiled grudgingly. "I wish I looked as pretty as you do on a rainy day. Rain always makes my nose red and my hair stringy even if I did pay ten dollars for a permanent. Here's your stamps."

She watched Dorinda affix the stamps to Uncle Edward's letters. "You don't favor your ma so much. I remember her as well as if I'd seen her yesterday. Just about your age when she married that foreigner and went to Europe to live. She was a brown-eyed blonde like you, only her hair got darker as she grew up. But you don't look like her so much."

She leaned closer. "You were in Paris, weren't you? And got to Lisbon when the Nazis came? And was shipwrecked coming home? I never did hear the straight of it."

"Uncle Edward told all there was to tell. I don't want to think about it." Dorinda slipped the two letters through the letter slot. "I can't talk about it," she repeated. That was what he had told her to say. "It's natural," he had explained. "You went through a harrowing experience and you don't want to relive it even in memory. You can't talk about it. That way, no one can trip you up on questions."

Now she told the post-mistress a hurried good-by and went back again into the street. The rain had stopped but the sidewalks were like dark glass, shining and slippery under a black sky.

"I'm afraid you're mistaken," said Dorinda coldly. "I don't know you."

She went inside the general store which was long and, on this cloudy day, dim, smelling of coal-oil and apples and ham mixed with the pleasant aroma of coffee which a boy was pouring into the red-painted grinder. On the dry-goods side, a girl clerk arranged bolts of cloth on a shelf and farther back the proprietor talked to a salesman, who, his suitcases opened on the counter, listened and nodded in apparent agreement.

Dorinda smiled at the girl who turned at her approach. "Hello, Amy, I'm trying to match some yarn for Grandmother." She opened her handbag. The strand of crimson wool clung to her fingers as she held it out.

Salesman's Recognition Threatens Masquerade

Amy pursed her lips. "I think we've some like that. Only it's a new lot and sometimes the shade's a little different. How is your grandmother?"

"About as usual, I think. She manages to get up in her wheelchair now and then but not often. But she knits and reads and we hope it won't be long until she's up and around again."

As she took the wrapped package, the proprietor moved toward her. "Everything all right, Miss La-Croix? Did you get what you wanted?"

"Oh, yes, Mr. McGregor, exactly what I—!" She stopped, her breath catching in a little gasp.

Behind the proprietor, the salesman she had noticed before looked at her, recognition in his eyes. "It's come," she thought wildly. "It's come."

She had thought it couldn't happen. Uncle Edward had said it couldn't happen. The town was only a few hours' drive from Los Angeles, on the coast but away from any major traffic course. People from the town might go to Los Angeles but people from Los Angeles would never come here. Besides, she had known so few people. She didn't know this man really. Only once in her rooming house a girl down the hall had asked her to go on a blind date. Dorinda, lonely as one can be only in a big city, had agreed. This man, she didn't even remember his name, was the blind date. She hadn't liked him, she had refused his plea for another meeting and had, from then until now, forgotten his existence. But she remembered that he was a salesman of some sort. And salesmen did come to small out-of-the-way places.

She looked away from his eager face, hoping against hope that he wouldn't speak to her. Yet steeling herself against the moment when he would.

"Why, Stella!" His voice was hearty, ingratiating. "It's Stella, little Stella—" He snapped his fingers. "What was the name now—Moore, wasn't that it? Last place in the world I expected to see you. Do you live here or what—?"

Dorinda raised her brows, the soft planes of her face stiffening. "I'm afraid you're mistaken," she said coldly. "I don't know you."

His jaw fell ludicrously, then he pulled his lips into a smile again. "Oh, come now, girlie, don't give me the brushoff like that. Don't you remember the night in L. A. at the Hofbrau with Jack and Millie and the fun we had?"

"I'm afraid you're mistaking me for someone else," Dorinda's eyes were like ice.

Mr. McGregor interrupted in a horrified tone. "Taylor, you're wrong. This is Miss LaCroix, a niece of Mr. Thorndyke. Thorndykes—one of the oldest families here." He sputtered slightly in his earnestness, striving at once to be convincing and apologetic.

Dorinda saw the trace of indecision that touched Taylor's face and took a quick advantage of his doubt.

"It's all right, Mr. McGregor. Just a mistake," she assured him graciously and walked swiftly away without another glance at the salesman.

But her heart was pounding. Maybe it was a mistake to come to the village so often. But Uncle Edward had seemed so certain. And it would look peculiar if she never left the house. Of course, a thing like this might not—probably wouldn't—ever happen again. She must in some way find out how often Taylor came here. It should be easy enough to avoid him. But had she really convinced him that he'd made a mistake?

Taylor Accosts Dorinda, Recalls Her Real Name

Her impulse was to hurry home but she remembered that she had one more errand to do—the book to exchange at the circulating library a few doors down the street.

The circulating library was a place Dorinda liked to go. Today, the small square room was like a refuge. A leaping fire in the open grate lit up the bright bindings of the books which lined the walls. A shaded lamp on the big flat-top desk in the middle of the floor shed a circle of orange light against the polished mahogany. The girl at the desk looked up with a smile as Dorinda closed the door.

"Oh, it's lovely in here, Anne," Dorinda laid her book down and went over to the fire. She pulled off her red gloves and stretched out her cold hands to the grateful warmth of the bright flames.

Anne Delahay came and stood beside her. Anne was one of Dorinda's favorite people. She had soft fair hair, wide gray eyes and a low clear voice, the whole enhancing a personality that at their first meeting had aroused an instant response in the other girl. If, Dorinda thought, she were really what she pretended to be, she would have made a friend of Anne. For she sensed Anne felt the attraction, too.

"Isn't it a beast of a day?" Anne was saying now. "What are you doing out, Dorinda?"

"Oh, I like to walk in the rain," Dorinda returned absently.

"You seem to have a follower, Dorinda," Anne said, her lips quivering. "Or a secret admirer, perhaps? Anyway, a strange gent outside seems to be taking a great interest in you."

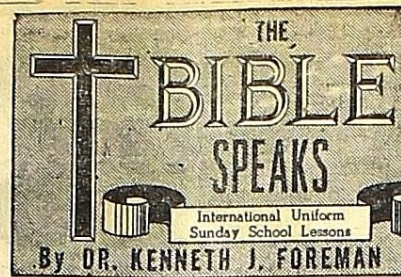

Dorinda held herself rigid. She would not turn to look at the man she knew must be there. A strange gent. That meant Taylor had followed her. Anne would have known any of the town people. He hadn't, after all, believed her.

She shrugged. "Why have I this strange power over men?" She shook her head at Anne in mock dismay. "I won't encourage him by looking but I think it's a salesman from McGregor's who pretended to mistake me for an old girl friend. Do you suppose that's a variation of the 'haven't I seen you before' gag?"

"Could be," Anne laughed. "Apparently he's still trying to follow it up."

"I'll put a stop to that," Dorinda announced firmly.

Many-Gifted Man

Lesson for July 23, 1950

IF A MAN can do one thing well, he can usually find his place in the world. Life being as short as it is, and the possibility of misfits being what it is, it may also be fair to say that many a man who does one thing well could have done something else better, if he had had the chance. In Grey's "Elegy," you remember the line, "Some mute inglorious Milton here may rest."

That is, in a country churchyard may rest the bones of some hired man who, if he had had another kind of start, might have been a world-famous scholar and poet like John Milton.

Dr. Foreman

Triple-Threat Men

WHAT in football is called a "triple-threat man" is to be found off the gridiron, sometimes, in real life. Once in a great while there arises a man who not only "could have done" more than one thing well, but who because of special circumstances and opportunities actually does many things well.

Such persons are rare, and far above the average. Ordinary men take such a long time becoming experts in one line that they simply don't have time in their lives to be expert at other things too. But there are geniuses with many sides, or perhaps men gifted with many talents plus an extraordinary capacity for hard work.

In our times there is Albert Schweitzer, outstanding not only as a scholar but as a musician, doctor and missionary. The President of Harvard at the present time is a noted chemist as well as a distinguished executive. Robert E. Lee was a brilliant soldier who also, as an educator, left his mark on his native state to this day. Leibnitz was a diplomat and philosopher; S.B.F. Morse not only invented the telegraph but was a painter of unusual ability; the man who thought up the idea of savings banks was a minister of the Gospel; King David was a poet, musician, general and monarch.

Samuel the Versatile

SAMUEL, Judge of Israel, was another such man. "Jack of all trades but master of none" does not describe him, for he was master of whatever he did. He has gone down in history as a prophet—what in our times is called a preacher; but this was by no means all. He served his generation in other ways as well.

He was the chief executive of the people, king without the title. Though possessed of dictatorial powers, when during a wave of unpopularity he resigned, and dared his critics to produce one single case of dishonesty or graft, none was brought against him.

He was a circuit judge, going from one city to another dispensing justice. He acted as a priest, indeed as the high priest of his people. We know of one occasion when he led his people in battle, and he was as successful as if war had always been his business. He was a king-maker, for God entrusted to him twice the delicate mission of selecting Israel's king.

Times and the Man

TWO thoughts strike one who reads the story of Samuel. One is the way his great and many-sided powers were used for public service. Put into modern terms, he could have made a fortune if he had "stuck to private practice" and used his talents for himself. But at no time and in no way did Samuel work for Samuel. He worked for God and his country, and he died a poor but honored man.

One of the greatest needs of the nation today is men of Samuel's calibre, triple-threat men.

We have plenty of small-calibre bureaucrats, and we have plenty of large-calibre men who are quite selfish. How few unselfish large-calibre men there are! The other thought is that the times and the man go together. A man's greatness comes in large part from his opportunities.

John Milton helped make England—but England also helped make him. Samuel helped make Israel, but at some other stage in history, he might have lived and died a country priest.

Let no man think himself self-made; not even a great man. Without the God who endows him with his gifts, without the times that call forth the gifts, even the most gifted shrink to little or nothing.

11,915 Persons Have Over Million Dollars, Report

WASHINGTON — According to government sources and compilers of mailing lists, there are 11,915 millionaires in the United States, and American business in 1949 paid at least 51 executives $200,000 or more a year.

Many argue that it is getting more difficult all the time to make a fortune, but the fact remains that each year since the end of World War II at least 75 more Americans amassed that universally coveted first million.

There are, according to available figures, 306 more millionaires today than there were in 1946. Which means that one American out of every 12,500 or so has a cool million.

According to one of the largest list compiling agencies, there are now 22,307 persons in this country worth between $500,000 and a million; 52,113 have between $250,000 and half a million; 130,439 have between $100,000 and a quarter of a million, and, all told, some 589,141 Americans could rustle up $50,000 or more.

American business paid 160 executives between $100,000 and $200,000 last year in addition to those who received $200,000 or more. The highest was $586,000 in salary, bonus and stock paid to the president of General Motors.

The president of GM was taxed $430,350 of his $586,000 by the federal government.

But getting back to the wealthy persons in the United States, according to reports there are 2,566 millionaires in New York, Pennsylvania is second with 1,129. Ohio boasts 802 and Massachusetts 775. Illinois comes fifth with 715, ahead of the 610 officially residing in California.

Miner's Glasses Take 1,000 Mile Journey

LONDON, Eng. — Alfred Thompson's spectacles went on a 1,000 mile journey, but came back, much to his relief.

The glasses started their journey when he placed them in their case and set the case down on a halted conveyor belt at a colliery in Ashington, England.

No sooner had he put the case on the belt than the conveyor started to move. The belt dropped the glasses into a tub, which in turn was emptied into a railway car, which was moved to Byth to be unloaded into a collier.

Then the ship set sail for the Isle of Wight. Dock workers there found the case with the glasses unbroken and Mr. Thompson's address inside. They sent them back to him.

New Zealand Hermit Has Perfect Atomic Hideout

DUNEDIN, N. Z. — Comes the revolution, or an atomic war, there is one human in this world who has an excellent chance of survival.

He is Jules Berg, a New Zealand hermit, who has lived on Preservation Inlet, probably the least susceptible area on earth to radioactivity, for the past 25 years.

Preservation Inlet is a fiord in the extreme southwest corner of New Zealand. A deep, narrow arm of the sea, it runs inland for about 20 miles between steep mountain walls which would tend to block radioactive clouds. Its dense rainfall would clear death-dealing matter out of the atmosphere.

Fiord county covers more than 3,000 square miles and has a population of eight. The only feasible access to the inlet is by sea.

Mr. Berg lives in the remote spot like a comfortable Robinson Crusoe. He has a cottage and extensive vegetable garden and gets fresh meat from a deer trap in the adjacent forest.

He also has a gold mine which he works when he feels like it. As civilization provides little that he needs, however, he usually lets the gold stay where it is.

Teaneck Theater Manager Bans Teen-Agers From Show

TEANECK, N. J. — Al Harris, manager of Teaneck's only motion picture theater, issued an ultimatum. Teen-agers unaccompanied by adults would no longer be admitted.

In the three weeks before the ban they set fire to the theater three times and countless other times he had to halt the movies and climb on to the stage to appeal for quiet.

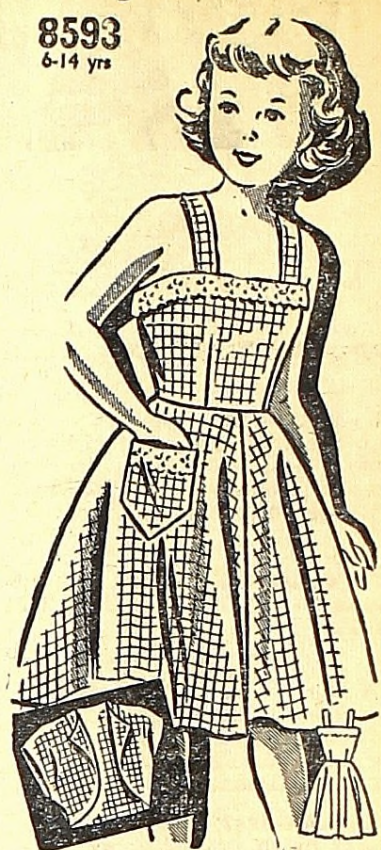

"I am reluctant to take steps of this nature," he said, "but under the circumstances I have no alternative. Teen-age groups attending this theater not only have been destructive but extremely boisterous, denying the adults a pleasurable evening."

Teaneck is the town selected last September by the army as a model community and, as such, was photographed for an exhibition of American democratic processes for use in the government's reeducation and reorientation program in occupied countries.

The ban applied only to children between 14 and 18. Younger children, the manager said, caused no trouble.

Slot Machines Have Had Long, Lavish Career

CHICAGO — The slot machine better known perhaps as the "one-armed bandit," has had a long and lavish life, but may have a short and stingy future. The federal government has a bill under consideration that may wipe them out.

Meanwhile, the manufacture of coin machines such as vending and service machines, juke boxes and pin ball games, as well as the "one-armed bandit" is centered in Chicago.

The first slot machine was believed invented about 1895 in California by Charles Fey. Production in Chicago began about the turn of the century. There are eight firms in the city making the machines at the present time.

Legal in 7 States

The internal revenue bureau's records show there are 69,786 places in the country paying the $100 per machine tax. This would not, however, indicate the true number of machines in existence. Estimates range as high as 200,000.

The machine is legal in only seven states. Nevada allows all forms of gambling. Idaho permits coin operated devices for gaming on a local option basis. Washington and Montana allow them in private clubs. Criminal codes forbid gambling in Louisiana and Tennessee and Alabama, but they have statutes that set license fees for gambling devices.

The machines have changed little since they were invented. They usually have three vertical wheels, on which are painted pictures of cherries, plums, oranges and the like. The player puts in a coin and pulls a lever. The wheels spin and when certain combinations come up the player wins. But mostly they don't.

Short for Jackpot

It got its name "one armed bandit" because of the low percentage of payoff. Manufacturers claim the machines are built to pay 75 cents on the dollar. But they can be fixed to pay out nothing of 10, 20, 40, or 60 per cent of the cash that is poured into them.

Most players, of course, shoot for the big pay-off—the jackpot. The odds on hitting it have been calculated all the way from 1,000 to 1 to 4,000 to 1.

But it does not seem to matter about the odds, thousands of people seem to like playing them. The only constant money makers, however, are the owners.

There are no records to show who owns all the machines around the country, nor how many millions they yield for their owners. The California commission on organized crime, however, estimated that the annual "take" by people who control slot machines is probably around two billions.

Detroit Man is World Champion Blood Donor

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Foster Clark, 44, janitor and newsstand proprietor, was not impressed by the claim of a Columbus, O., man that he was second in line for the world champion blood donor, or the claims of an Englishman for the championship. The Englishman was supposed to have donated 70 pints while the Ohio man had donated 70.

Clark said he was unimpressed because he had Red Cross and blood bank record to prove his donation of 186 pints of blood since 1930.

"There are probably others who have given as much blood as I have," Clark said. "But it burned me up to have that guy in Ohio claiming his 70 pints was the second best in the world."

A former West Virginia coal miner, Clark said he started giving blood in 1930 when a call went out for donors after a mine disaster.

"I walked eight miles over the mountains one night to give a man a pint of blood," he said, "and then walked back home again in time to go to work in the pit in the morning."

Man Afraid of Paper Mosey Leaves $40,000 in Silver

EAGLE RIVER, WIS.—Robert C. Bennett, of Evanston, Ill., once told his wife that he feared paper money would become worthless. Mrs. Bennett forgot about it until she opened her husband's safety deposit box following his death.

There she found a note telling her of a secret vault in their summer home near Eagle River. With the aid of the sheriff she located the vault and found $40,000 in coins, neatly stacked in paper wrappers in 60 metal boxes.

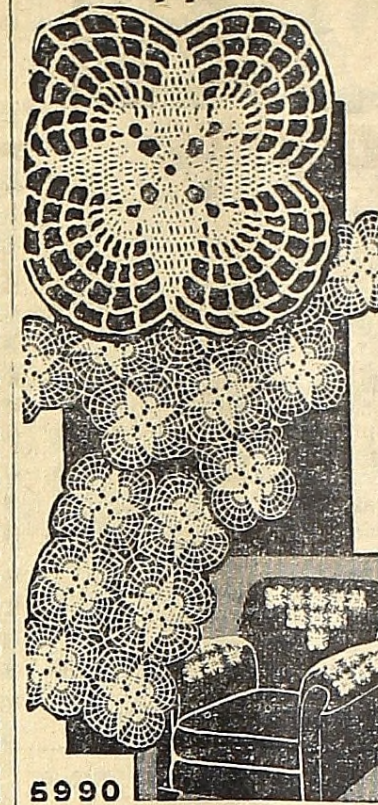

Mrs. Bennett did not know about the hoard of nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. It took two trucks to move them from the home to the bank.

Mrs. Bennett said she thought her husband may have started collecting the coins in 1936.

"I remember him telling me," she said, "that he had decided that it wouldn't be long before paper money wouldn't be any good."

RIPON, Wis. — Robert Stahowiak, 19, bet a friend $100 he would have the nerve to punch a policeman in the nose. He did.

But the one punch cost Stahowiak $100 fine on an assault and battery charge, plus $59 costs, plus six months in the county jail.

He had also been charged with gambling, but it was dropped. The judge also ruled that Stahowiak could not be probated or paroled.

FARM NEWS

The fair books are now coming off the press. Over 800 will be mailed to families in the county. Most stores and gas stations will have a few to hand out and there will always be some at the extension office. Premiums have been raised in most classes to the extent the fair board expects to pay out $2,000 in premium money. There will be four days of the fair this year, August 30, 31, September 1 and 2.

Rupert Bentley is our new Dairy Herd Improvement Association Supervisor, succeeding David Parent, who has been testing for Isoco association for nearly two years. Rupert has been testing in Genesee County, leaving there so that he may be home and give a hand on the farm now and then.

Speaking of DHIA testers, I had a pleasant surprise the other day when Allen Kohn and his bride of about a year walked into the office to say a friendly hello. Allen was Isoco County's first DHIA supervisor. A good one too. Allen is attending Michigan State College. He is studying agriculture and majoring in dairying. He thinks he wants to teach, or maybe go into extension service. Good luck Allen. We are pulling for you.

Thurman Scofield, "the lazy farmer," who has all kinds of back lifting saving gadgets all over the farm is now building a new barn on the site of the barn that burned down last winter. It is a pen with milking parlor. He used laminated rafters in the hay mow. Besides a barn and getting crops in he also has the busy job of being the secretary and manager of the Isoco County Fair.

Lyle Long knows now that it really pays to fertilize new seedlings. A year ago last spring he was applying an 0-20-0 at the rate of 400 pounds per acre to oats and alfalfa seeding. He ran out of fertilizer when he still had 3/4 acres to sow. When he was through baling hay this summer on this field he counted bales. The fertilized part of the field yielded 55 bales to the acre while the unfertilized area produced only 29 bales per acre. That's about one ton per acre increase. And Lyle says the fertilized hay was far superior in quality with a much improved stand of alfalfa. He said it cost $6.00 per acre for fertilizer, about 250% on the investment. He expects the field to show an increase for at least three more cuttings. This seems to prove that fertilizer is a sound investment.

In the lobby adjoining the extension offices is a bulletin board on which we post the dates of coming events. Our visitors seem to appreciate the advance notices and so we believe our readers will be interested in knowing what activities are on our schedule.

Vine Farm Bureau Holds Monthly Meeting

Vine Farm Bureau meeting was held at the Ray Kobs residence, Wednesday, July 19, with most of the members in attendance. The first part of the evening was spent by the members listening to President Truman's speech on the radio.

The Director's report was asked for and Director Norma Kobs reported she had presented the resolution on Road Repair and Financing, at the last Director's meeting, where in same was opposed due to the fact it suggested a bond issue, to be raised from increased gas and weight taxes. A discussion followed and it was pointed out if the people understood its full meaning, that same would be paid by those who actually used the highways and that gas taxes in Michigan are now among the lowest in the nation, it was felt the people would be in favor of such an issue, to off set the dire need for roadrepairs.

The group was informed that a Junior Farm Bureau had been organized and that several members from this organization had attended Junior Farm Bureau Camp.

A discussion was held on accepting one or more associate members to the group and it was stated that the County was allowed only 10% such members and that application had to be filed and approved. It was decided to investigate this matter further.

The discussion topic for the month was "Consumer's Ideas about Producers." It was pointed out the people in the urban areas actually believe that the farmer is getting rich, they believe that food costs are out of proportion to the prices of industrial goods. No one knows the falsity of this opinion better than the farmer. This propaganda leaves the farmer with the vast job of getting the truth of the matter before the people who live in towns and cities. It was agreed to by the members of the group we should invite our town and city neighbors into our group meetings to consider problems and exchange viewpoints.

Motion was then made that the meeting adjourn, and the next meeting will be held at the George Prescott, III residence the third week in August. Lunch was then served by the hostess.

Butter is noted for being an excellent source of vitamin A. However, it is well to remember that the amount of vitamin A a pound of butter contains varies according to the season, from 11,000 units in winter to 18,000 units in summer.
