JOHNSON:

Resigns Defense Post

In a move that caught much of the nation by surprise, President Truman accepted the resignation of Louis A. Johnson as secretary of defense and nominated Gen. George C. Marshall to succeed him.

The move was surprising in that the President had insisted up until a few days before the announcement that he would not ask for Johnson's resignation.

Johnson had been under attack on Capitol Hill and elsewhere on the ground that he was fundamentally responsible for defense weaknesses brought into glaring focus by the Korean war.

There were rumors also of a wide breach between the defense chief and Secretary of State Dean Acheson which added to the confusion and demands that Mr. Truman accept his resignation.

Under the existing unification law, no person who had been on active military duty within the past 10 years was eligible for the post of secretary of defense. President Truman immediately asked legislation to enable Marshall to accept.

Although opposition to the waiver arose immediately after Marshall said he would come out of retirement to accept the post, there was little doubt from the first the law would be changed and the general confirmed.

TRUMAN:

A Tough Speech

President Truman in a second report to the nation in as many weeks said cost of defense could soar to a rate of $30 billion annually by next June and that inflation was inevitable "unless we do something about it."

The chief executive also announced the creation of a stabilization agency to hold prices in check during the war emergency—or to impose price controls "when they are needed."

He named W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the national security resources board, to coordinate the administration of these new powers.

Observers reported the President's speech a tough one, much stronger than had been anticipated. Without mincing words he called for new tax increases "as soon as possible," on top of $4,508 million increase now in process.

Shortly before his radio talk he issued an executive order designating agencies to enforce priorities, limit civilian goods output if necessary, lend money for defense plant expansion and allocate scarce materials.

"For the consumer," he said, "the guiding principle must be: Buy only what you really need and can not do without."

If the housewife follows that rule, he promised, "there will be enough of the essentials—in fact, enough of almost everything—to go around."

For businessmen, he said, the operating rule should be: "Do not pile up inventories; hold your prices down."

And for labor he set forth this guide: "Do not ask for wage increases beyond what is needed to meet the rise in the cost of living."

Apology

President Truman grins broadly as he displayed a distinguished guest medal presented to him by the Marine Corps League following a surprise personal appearance before the marine vets to amplify his apology for saying the USMC has a Stalin-type propaganda machine.

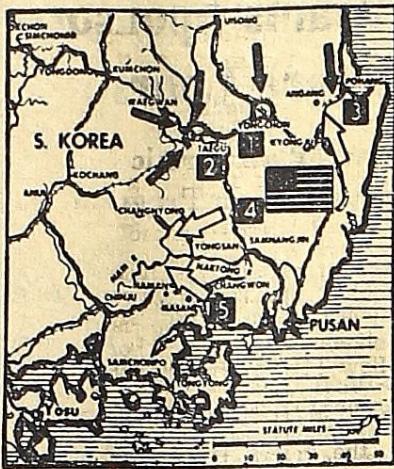

WRECK:

33 Soldiers Die

A tragic and unexplainable train collision claimed the lives of 33 soldiers and seriously injured many others near Coshocton, O.

A troop train carrying 700 members of the Pennsylvania national guards, was rammed by the crack Spirit of St. Louis. The huge Diesel pulling 17 cars, knocked the rear coach into the air, smashed the second car aside, and plowed into the third.

Assault Fails

Although Communist troops continued to apply pressure on the northern front near Yongchon (1) and in the vicinity of Pohang (3) their all-out offensive has stalled again. New attacks were reported in the area of Taegu (2). In the south U.N. troops made slight advances in the area of Changnyong and Yongsan (5).

CROP PROSPECTS:

In Line With Average

The department of agriculture predicted a harvest volume higher than in five of the past eight years and in any year prior to 1946. It forecast the volume at 125 per cent of the 1923-32 average.

Up until the latest report, a drop in farm production had been predicted all along the line. Now the department was reporting only cotton, peanuts, peaches, apricots, pecans, rye, and dry peas appear smaller than average.

Corn remained virtually unchanged at a bumper crop level despite unfavorable growing weather.

Wheat total climbed above the billion-bushel mark to 1,012,000,000 bushels. This was an increase of about 15 million bushels over the August 1 estimate.

Other crops for which production prospects improved included oats, barley, flaxseed, sorghum grain, hay, soybeans, potatoes, sweet potato, tobacco, sugar beets, hops, apples, pears and grapes.

Soybean and sugar-beet production was indicated at a record level. The department said prospects indicated production of grains will provide amply for the nation's expanding livestock industry.

KOREA:

Situation Dangerous

Military observers reported the situation in Korea still dangerous, but not critical, with the entire front the quietest in a long time.

North of Taegu, U. N. and Communist troops engaged in a heavy artillery duel with the invaders building up their forces for a possible new offensive in that area.

At the east-coast end of the northern front, U. N. forces were striving to seal a trap around an estimated 3,000 Communists who had tried to surround the air base six miles southeast of Pohang.

On the southern front American troops recaptured a ridge from the Reds four miles south of the confluence of the Nam and Nakton rivers.

In the air, fighter planes of the Far East air force continued around-the-clock aerial assaults that hit a record of 670 sorties in one day.

But the big news from Korea was that nobody talked anymore of an American "Dunquerque." Predictions of early victory, however, were hard to find.

The period of optimism returned because U. N. forces smashed the Red's largest offensive, the 50,000-man attack on the southwest front toward Pusan which began September 1.

Other counter-attacking U. N. forces succeeded in closing the gap torn in the northeastern defense wall by a Communist break-through toward Yongchon, gateway to Taegu.

On the front itself the general opinion persisted that the U. N. troops in Korea were there to stay even though they might have to give up more bloody ground. Even the pessimists seemed to believe that.

Miss America

The nation, like a boy playing hooky from school, took time from the grind of mobilization, war and rising prices to name a new Miss America and chuckle while doing so with pleasure.

She is brown-haired Yolande Betze of Mobile, Ala. And for those who want the statistics she weighs 119, is 5 feet 5 1/2, and has a 35-inch bust, 24-inch waist, and 35 1/2-inch hips.

FOREIGN MINISTERS:

Important Discussions

The foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States held talks in New York concerning the defense of western Germany in case of a Russian attack.

Early reports indicated the three—Ernest Bevin of Great Britain, Robert Schuman of France, and Dean Acheson of the United States—were in some agreement on the question of arming western German units.

Acheson had previously exchanged views with members of the congressional foreign relations committee. Those present at the meeting agreed unanimously to pledge support to the "general line which the secretary would follow"—evidently meaning the administration's aim at arming western Germany.

The three also appeared to be in agreement on President Truman's proposal to send more American troops to Europe as an important contribution to the common defense of the continent.

Schuman indicated that France was prepared to make comparable contributions and Great Britain was expected to contribute also.

Acheson in a statement shortly before the meetings began said that he was "confident that our frank discussions will result in agreement on practical conclusions which will contribute to preserving peace."

Schuman, however, ruled out the rebuilding of German armament factories. He said Germany could contribute raw materials and steel for the rearmament program and that France has sufficient factories for arms production.

Candidates

New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey (right) and Lieut. Gov. Joseph E. Hanley, arrive at Saratoga Springs for the opening of the Republican state convention. Dewey seeks re-election as governor and Hanley seeks nomination for U.S. senate.

ACHESON:

West Can Hold Reds

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, in a major radio and television speech, asserted that modern weapons and ingenuity can build outnumbered western allies a defense that will stand firm against the hordes of communism.

Observers saw another important move in Acheson's radio talk. He warned the Chinese Communists against getting into the Korean war. "There is nothing in it for them," he said.

The secretary went on to explain that the Chinese Reds are "undoubtedly under heavy pressure from the Communist movement to get into this Korean row."

In these remarks observers saw one of the major tasks the state department has set for itself. An all-out effort to keep the Chinese from giving the North Koreans aid in their fight against U.N. forces. The department is undoubtedly making every effort to discourage the Chinese from sending troops into Korea.

Acheson also hit at reports of a defensive war, calling such talk dangerous and "immoral."

"I think we must put our major effort at the present moment," he said, "into creating strong North Atlantic defense forces. If we have those forces—united, balanced, collective forces—strong, well equipped, able and ready to deter aggression, then problems all over the world take on a different shape."

CONTROL BILL:

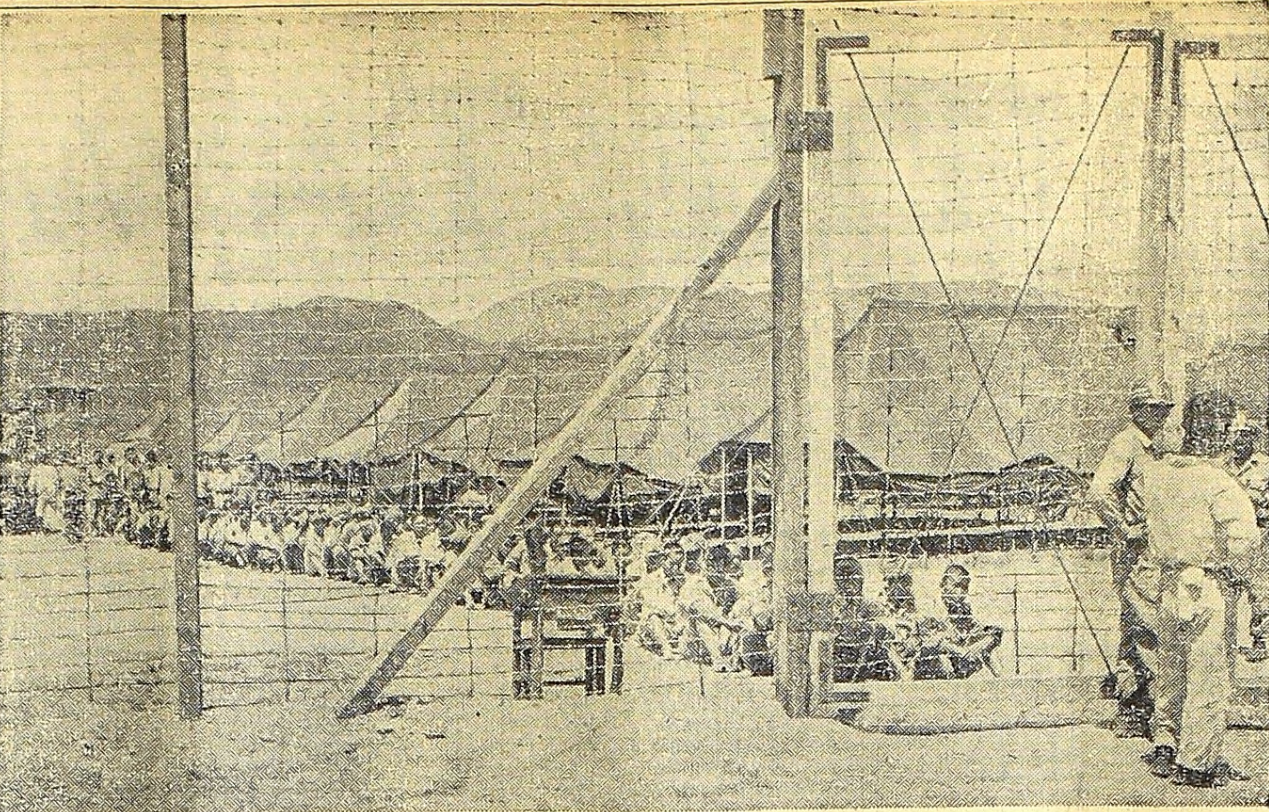

Curbs Consumer Credit

President Truman signed the economic controls bill which imposed general consumer credit curbs in an anti-inflation move that makes it harder to buy automobiles, television sets and many other everyday items. The new regulations went into effect September 18.

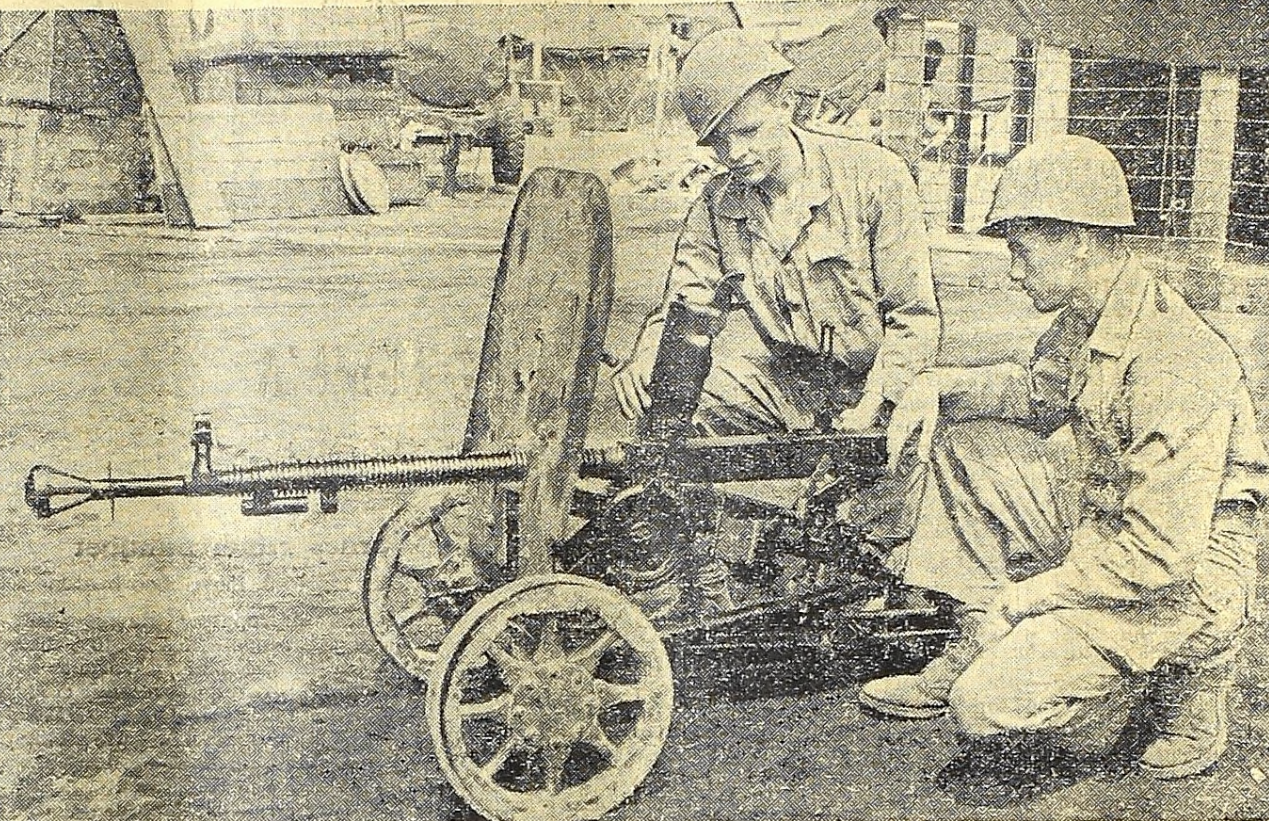

Government officials said the action was aimed at heading off a dollar-down-and-dollar-a-week credit splurge that had pushed installment credit buying to a record high of $20,340 million as of July 21.

The new regulations require one-third down on automobiles and limits payment of the balance to 21 months. Purchasers of household appliances, such as TV sets and refrigerators, will have to pay 15 per cent and complete their payments within 18 months, according to the new law.

Furniture and rug purchases call for 10 per cent down and 18 months to pay, while home repairs, alterations and improvements can be handled for 10 per cent down and 30 months to pay, instead of the present 36 months.

RED KOREANS WHO WERE 'PLEASANTLY SURPRISED' . . . Squatting behind the wire of a prisoner of war camp in South Korea are scores of North Korean Communist soldiers captured in recent fighting. They are all busily recovering from the surprise of being alive. Their bosses had solemnly told them that capture by the allies meant death. Prisoners were captured in droves by the allies as several North Korean offensives mounted, with the Communist generals indifferent to the death and capture of their men. Finding facilities to handle the prisoners of war began to be a problem for the United Nations forces.

MARINES EXAMINE CAPTURED MACHINE GUN . . . Two marine privates, Jack C. Barnett of Peru, Ind., and John W. Kelly of Wilkes Barre, Pa., examine a North Korean heavy machine gun, captured by the allies from the Communists in the Korean battle zone. They are looking at the gun at a dump for enemy weapons, established by the allies in the Korean port city of Pusan. The enemy weapon bears Russian markings, showing that it was manufactured in the year 1943. The machine gun is mounted on wheels and has a 42.7 bore.

LOSER IN BERLIN'S RED RIOT . . . West German police are marching a demonstrator from the scene as the gendarmes break up a bloody battle touched off by a Communist attempt to storm the west sector Berlin city hall. Some 600 Communists took part in the demonstration which was preceded by the distribution of propaganda leaflets demanding that the Americans "go home" and carrying the slogan, "Korea for the Koreans . . . Germany for the Germans."

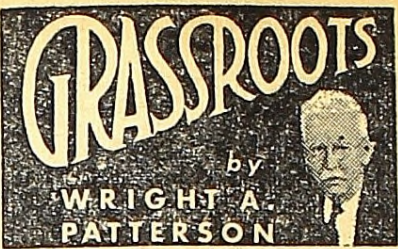

BETWEEN BATTLES . . . P.F.C. Joseph Luarki, Zuni, N.M., is a fellow who believes in having fun while he can. He is stepping out with a Korean miss at a Pusan dance hall, transformed into a recreation center for allied troops.

SWEDISH PRINCESS GOES TO PUBLIC SCHOOL . . . Princess Birgitta, a daughter of Princess Sibylla of Sweden (center, wearing jacket) is surrounded by her new classmates and friends she made when she was enrolled into a public school in Stockholm, Sweden. This is considered in Europe to be a very diplomatic gesture, as royalty seldom attends school with subjects. This school is attended by children of the diplomatic corps in Stockholm.

DEFENDS HUSBAND . . . An Oakland, Calif., army captain, listed by Russia as among captives in North Korea signing an appeal for withdrawal of U.S. troops, "would rather die than sign such a thing," his wife says.

Pleasures of Rural Life

IN DECEMBER of 1940 I quit an editorial job I had held for 50 years in Chicago and left the big city. My desire was to again live in the peace and quiet of a rural community. I was fed up with the roar, rattle and screech of a metropolis. I was tired of being shoved around by millions each time I set foot on a city street. I moved to a rural western town and have lived there and enjoyed its many advantages, its open spaces, its lawns and trees and flowers, its friendly people, their cheery greetings for close to 10 years.

Then recently, I developed a yen for the noise and the mobs of a city. I could see, or thought I could, something attractive in the crowds at State and Madison streets, Chicago. Evidently, I wanted to be shoved around again. It was not practical to go back to Chicago. But I could conveniently go to Los Angeles, another metropolitan center, and to Los Angeles I went to again experience the life of a big city. I proposed to stay for a week, but stuck it out for only four days, and that was four days too many.

The California metropolis provided the same roar, rattle and screech I had known in Chicago for 50 years. Each time I stepped onto the street, I was shoved about by the milling crowds, as I had been in Chicago. I dodged the same number of trucks, busses, taxi cabs and private autos I had escaped from in Chicago; only in Los Angeles they are a trifle more reckless of pedestrian life and limb.

I did not like being shoved around in Los Angeles any more than I had liked it in Chicago. The roar and rattle and screech of Los Angeles was no more agreeable than it had been in Chicago.

I sat for hours in the lobby of the spacious Biltmore Hotel, and watched thousands of people as they paced back and forth through that lobby, and among all of those thousands I saw no familiar face nor heard a familiar voice. Every city is a lonesome place, with no friendly greeting, or seldom as much as a smile.

From my hotel window, I looked down upon beautiful Pershing square, with its many species of palms, its banana and pepper trees, its lawns and flowers, but when I crossed the street to visit what had seemed from my window to be a place of rest and rural quiet, I found it peopled by the lame, the halt and the blind, interspersed with all the freaks and fakes of Christendom, whose business is to prey upon those thousands of unfortunates. It was not a pretty sight. It gave nothing of the peace and quiet and contentment of my rural home town.

At the end of four days, I had all I could take, and more, and was lornward bound. I cannot imagine myself ever again longing for the so-called glamour of any large city. I am sure I will be satisfied with the modest pleasure provided in a rural town.

Now, in my rural home, I sit contentedly on the sun porch, overlooking the lawns and flowers, and watch the world roll by. Remembering the ear-splitting noises of the city, I do not complain of the hum of the autos, or the rattle of the occasional old jalopy. I am through with the so-called glamour of the metropolitan centers. It is a myth. It does not exist, either by day or by night.

No city offers such pleasures as are found in any rural community. Blessed are those who can live in a town or farm home, who have nothing other than the lowing of the cows, the tinkle of the cow bells or the buzzing of the bees to disturb them. They can really enjoy living.

As for myself I have lost all desire for the big city. If I never go back to Los Angeles again, it will be too soon. Give me the peace and quiet of the rural community.

Congress treated the President ungenerously. It gave him, all and more of the economic and military controls he had asked. To apply and administer them is his responsibility. His friends believed in his ability to handle the job. His enemies, the Republicans and southern Democrats hope he fails.

The President, only, can now say whether or not we must have ration cards if we are to eat.

With the authority to nationalize the nation's industry that congress has put in the hands of the President, we will have the opportunity of seeing just how efficient government can be in the operation of industry. Its greatest production will be the army of bureaucrats it creates.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Policy Largely Based on Theory Expressed in U.S. Constitution

This is the third of a series of six articles on the state department and its personnel as written by Walter A. Sheard, Western Newspaper Union's Washington correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The foreign policy of the United States government is based largely upon the theory of government as expressed in our own constitution and declaration of independence.

Someone once said: "The United States was born fighting for freedom and will die if it ever gives up the fight for freedom and liberty."

But at the same time it was Grover Cleveland, in reversing his stand upon a given subject, who said: "Gentlemen, we are faced with a condition, not a theory."

And so theoretically, although the foreign policy of this government during the Roosevelt era was predicated upon his "four freedoms," and, since the Truman administration, has been based upon the pronouncements of Harry S. Truman, conditions often cause an about-face in our short range policy, but do not change the overall objectives.

The American citizen has only to go back to the inaugural address of President Truman on January 20, 1949, to learn our stated foreign policy. Here it is:

"In the coming years our program for peace and freedom will emphasize four major courses of action.

"First. We will continue to give unfaltering support to the United Nations and related agencies and we will continue our search for ways to strengthen their authority and increase their effectiveness.

"Second. We will continue our program for world economic recovery.

Lace Negligee, Little Lie Make Dying Woman Happy

By BILLY ROSE

The other day I got the following letter from a lady who is convalescing in a Montreal hospital: Dear Mr. Rose: Three weeks ago I was operated on for a leg infection, and since then I've been taking it easy, a little too sick to leave the hospital and a little too well to keep from having the fidgets.

It has to do with a black lace negligee that I got for Christmas a couple of years ago—one of those lovely bits of peek-a-boo that every woman adores. Unfortunately, however, I'm more the pajama type, and so every since I got it it's been packed away in a bureau drawer. When I was rushed to the hospital last month, my sister stuffed everything that looked like bed-appear into a valise and brought it around to my room, and sure enough, on top was the negligee. And sure enough again, it went right back into a bureau, this time a white one.

RECENTLY, HOWEVER, I finally got to use the negligee, and the way it happened was like this. A few doors down the corridor from me there was a Mrs. Benoise who was suffering from a disease with a long Latin name that I can't even remember, but what amounted to was a creeping paralysis which had started at her toes, worked its way up to her abdomen and was steadily moving to-

Joined staff of Department of State in 1935. Appointed ambassador-at-large in March, 1949, for special assignments in connection with negotiations with other governments as well as with international meetings where an experienced representative of high rank is required.

"Third. We will strengthen freedom-loving nations against the dangers of aggression.

"Fourth. We must embark on a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped areas."

THAT IS THE whole theory of our foreign policy. But conditions have intervened. In World War II our principal allies were the United Kingdom, Russia, China and France. Both England and France have been hard hit, all but knocked out economically. Both are on the road to recovery with our help.

The Nationalist government of China is now virtually in exile on Formosa. Russia adopted a course to conquer the world through the infiltration of atheistic communism, through deceit, fraud and open aggression in Korea.

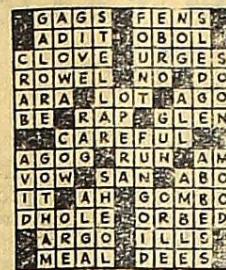

Our foreign policy and our efforts toward the freedom loving peoples of the world now have become world wide as the only strong nation powerful enough to withstand the Russian bear. We have sought common security in the North Atlantic pact. We have held Japan. The American people in the past have not been internationally minded. When we have been drawn into armed conflict it has been our policy to knock out our opponent and then consider the job done, go home, break training and enjoy ourselves. As a result, that explains the wisecrack that the United States has never lost a war nor won a peace. We have been loath to engage in the political battles which inevitably and probably more importantly follow military victories.

In Korea our policy was set by the United Nations. We occupied that unhappy country south of the 38th parallel long enough to set up a free and independent government. Then we withdrew our army of occupation as per our commitment and promise.

Our specific foreign policy in this hemisphere and in other nations will be discussed in a later article.

THE FICTION CORNER

DILEMMA

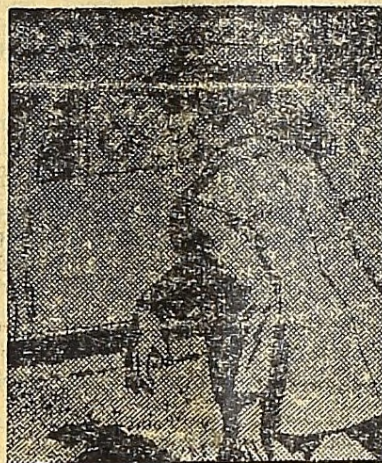

By Richard H. Wilkinson

AS USUAL Basil came home on the 5:35. It was after dark when he arrived in front of his house on High street. About to turn in at the gate he stopped dead still, his eyes fastened on the automobile that was parked in front of the water hydrant at the curb. A slow but rapidly mounting anger took hold of him.

The automobile was his, and he knew that his wife had left it in front of the hydrant. She had left it there despite his repeated warnings and threats and cajolings and promises. Three times Pat Kearney, the officer on their beat, had spoken to him about the misdemeanor. "Now, Mr. Valentine, sur, I'll be stickin' a tag on that car of yours, if you go an leave it before that hydrant once more."

Pat's good will was valuable. Besides, Basil couldn't afford to be tagged. Even a small fine would be sorely felt. And so he had talked to Evelyn. He had pointed out the importance of obeying traffic regulations, his inability to pay fines for her negligence, the fact that Pat had spoken to him three times. And she had promised. Even though it was the "most convenient place in the world" to leave the car, and she thought Pat Kearney was an "old meany," she promised to be more careful hereafter.

An idea flashed across his mind. He'd move the car down town and install it in a garage. Then he'd told Evelyn that Pat had tagged it and that because he couldn't pay the fine he'd left the machine at police headquarters for collateral. That ought to teach her a thing or two. Grimly he stepped to the curb and inserted his duplicate key into the door lock. His anger was at a high level; he gave the key a violent twist—which snapped it off near the stem. He felt a little panicky. Somehow he'd have to move the machine from in front of the hydrant, or it meant paying a fine. It would take time to fetch a pair of pliers or call a garage mechanic. And Pat wouldn't listen to explanations—not after the third warning.

He felt on the ground, found a fair size stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window.

Basil began to sweat. There was just one course open. He'd have to break a window, reach in and unlock the door from the inside, release the handbrake and push the vehicle beyond the forbidden parking area. He hated to resort to such a procedure, because in the end it would cost him more than a fine. Still, that was better than having Pat Kearney's ire aroused.

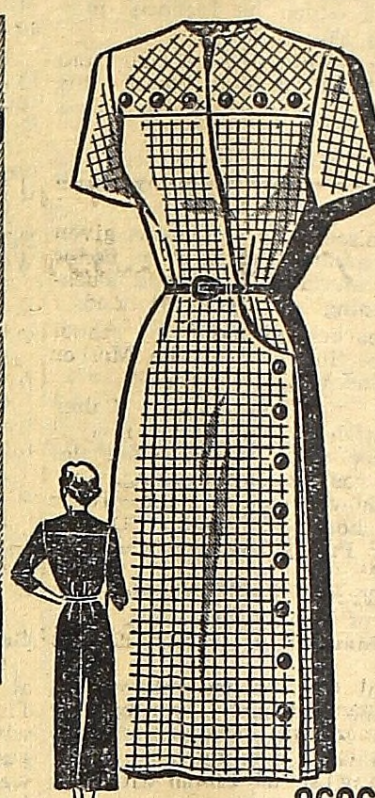

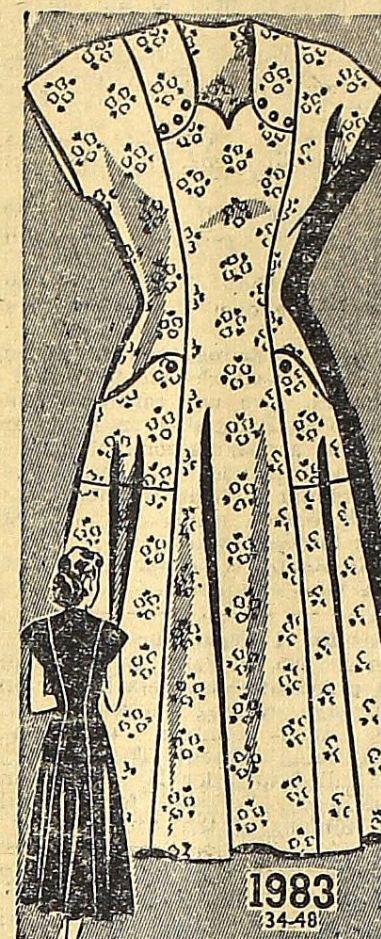

He felt on the ground, found a fair sized stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window. The glass splintered, but didn't break. He smacked it again and there was a great shattering inside.

Basil worked fast. He released the handbrake, quickly disengaged and ran around back. He put his shoulder against the spare tire and began to shove. The car moved slowly. Digging his heels into the ground Basil continued to heave with his shoulder. Thus it was that his gaze came into direct line with the license plate beneath the tail light. At first he noticed nothing unusual, but gradually it dawned on him that something was wrong. And then abruptly it struck him like a bolt from the blue. The license plate wasn't red and white, but orange and black! Which meant that the car that Basil was pushing wasn't his car at all! Though it resembled his in every respect, it belonged to some one else!

Basil straightened up. There was alarm and guilt and fear in his eyes. Without further thought on the matter, however, he started toward his own gate. But at the very moment he would have unhooked the latch, he heard a shout. Some one had come out of Mark Terrence's house and was racing toward him, and on the heel of this some one came Pat Kearney.

4-H CLUB NOTES

4-H Club Reporters Say—Now is the time to enroll in a 4-H club. Our summer projects are drawing to a close and now we're thinking about clothing, knitting handicraft, electrical, forestry, conservation and what's this! vegetable gardening? That's right—any of our young folks between 10 and 20 years of age are eligible to join the county chapter of the Junior Vegetable Growers Association. Here is the tentative program.

Saturday, September 30—10:00 a. m. Federal Building, East Tawas.

Discussion will include:

1. Yearly program.
2. Arrange for trip to Michigan State College, East Lansing on October 21.
3. Discuss possibility of County Demonstration attending National Convention in New Orleans on December 10-14, 1950.

Here is a real opportunity for our young folks. Plan to attend the Saturday, September 30 meeting at 10:00 a. m. in the Federal Building, East Tawas for full particulars.

Some time ago Jack Ward of Whittemore attended the Conservation Camp at Higgins Lake. Here are his notes of that week's activities:

Tuesday morning—There were 73 4-H members attending this camp. Cars were lined up and we drove to the Lake City Experiment Farm Station. There we saw the fish experiment ponds, the soil terracing fields and learned about soil types. We saw a machine shed that was built for $300. (4 ft x 80 ft) in 1936.

We ate dinner in a park that afternoon.

Wednesday—Went to the Forest Fire Experiment Station. We stood in the rain and watched all the fire fighting equipment in operation. We went back to the station and went through their work shop. They have one band saw that does everything, jig saw, cuts wood, steel fabrics, and fingers.

Thursday—Our camp was divided into four equal groups namely, Badgers, Beavers, Elks and Wolverines. In the forenoon the Badgers and Wolverines stayed at the camp and had classes. The Beavers and Elks went on a field trip. We had explained to us what Glaciers had done to make the earth the shape it is. We also visited the Dow Chemical plant there. That was worth the whole trip just to see what they are doing.

In the afternoon, we reversed the order and our group stayed at camp.

Friday—Happy day—I saw the sun for the first time this week—It still looks yellow.

We had a deer drive in Roscommon county. Out of one square mile the 70 odd fellows drove out 86 deer. I staked out one for November 15. I hope there's enough food to keep him alive till then—on second thought, I'll go shoot him October 1, with a bow and arrow, if he's (or she) is still there!

Friday night was stunt night—each group had a skit and what sport!

Saturday—The best weather lies ahead—we left for home about 7:30 a. m. Thanks to the Iosco County Extension Service and the Federal Cartridge Corporation for making such a trip possible.

Jac Ward, Whittemore.

Farmers Urged to Exhibit at North Michigan Show

Potato, apple and legume seed growers in all counties in the northern part of the lower peninsula are urged at harvest time to select exhibits for the Northern Potato and Apple Show. This show covering 31 counties will be held this year in Petoskey on November 7 and 8. Premium awards made possible through the State Department of Agriculture will amount to more than $1000.00.

Classes for potato exhibits will include 25 pounds of samples of U. S. No. 1 or U. S. Fancy representative of stock the grower has for sale in lots of 200 bushels or more. This class is open only to table-stock growers. The class for peck samples of 32 selected tubers is open to all growers while the bushel class of 128 selected tubers is open only to growers of certified seed. Classes of peck samples are also included for 4-H Club members and FFA students. The apple division included classes for plates, fancy bushels and flats in all of the more popular varieties. There will also be an apple pie baking contest. The legume seed division includes classes for alfalfa, alsike clover, sweet clover, red clover, dutch clover and vetch seed.

There is a division for posters with classes for posters made by students in high school and another for rural and city grade schools.

A Premier Tablestock Potato Grower and a Premier Certified Seed Potato Grower for the District will also be chosen at the show. The selection is based on total yield per acre, percent of U. S. No. 1 grade and showing an exhibit at the show.

Sept. 30 Last Day in Potato Vote

A last minute appeal to all potato growers to cast their votes in the current potato referendum before the midnight deadline, September 30, was voiced today by Earl M. Partlo, chairman of the Iosco County PMA Committee.

Growers need only mark their ballots, place them in the self-addressed, postage-free envelopes furnished for the purpose, and put them in the mail box for posting. The envelopes containing the ballots must be postmarked not later than midnight, September 30, in order to be considered valid.

"Voting in this referendum, which will decide two important questions, was made as simple and easy as possible," Mr. Partlo said, "and for that reason, we are hoping for a large percentage of participation so that there can be no doubt as to what potato producers favor."

Potato producers voting in the referendum will decide whether or not they approve of issuance of a federal marketing order regulating the handling and marketing of potatoes in Michigan and five other midwest states under certain conditions and whether or not the potato price support program will be continued for the 1950 crop.

A two-thirds favorable vote is required by law before the marketing order, and with it the oatato price support program, can be continued for the 1950 crop.

Actually, growers will be asked to vote only on the question of the federal marketing order. However, Congress has provided in Public Law 471, 81st Congress, that no price support shall be made available for potatoes of the 1950 crop if proposed marketing orders are disapproved by producers voting in referendums.

Because of the economic importance of the referendum, all eligible growers are urged to vote. Ballots were mailed to all known eligible growers and any grower who did not receive a ballot and who believes he is eligible to vote should contact the county PMA office and he will be furnished a ballot.

Indian Cattle Raisers

Indians have increased their beef cattle herds from 171,000 in 1932 to 383,300 in 1946, and meantime the quality of the cattle has improved greatly. Dairy cattle, likewise, increased from 11,000 to 50,000 in the same period. Income from livestock operations during these years grew from $1,300,000 to more than $21,000,000.

Auto Gadget Saves Brakes

A new electric gadget for the automobile is a dashboard signal light designed to prevent wear and tear on brakes. When the car's ignition is turned on the light goes on, if the hand-brake is set. It stays on until the brake is released.

Look Over Fire Defenses

Thirty-five hundred people are burned to death in rural communities each year, according to the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week. The NFPA estimates that the U. S. farm fire loss is about $100,000,000 a year.

President Truman has proclaimed Fire Prevention Week for October 8-14 and this is a good time to look over your fire defenses. Provide first-aid fire appliances such as chemical extinguishers, pump tanks, and water pails. Provide where possible, a system of running water under pressure. Even garden hose provides valuable protection for farms so equipped. Special attention should be given to keeping extinguishers charged, and other fire protection equipment in good working order. Have several ladders available in order to climb high points in your property quickly. Whenever possible, provide for the building of cisterns or stock ponds on farms, which fire department pumpers can use for water supply. More and more farmers are taking advantage of Government help in building farm ponds and many of these ponds have been the means of saving the farm from total destruction by fire. Get details from your County Agent about building a farm pond. Fire Prevention Week is a good time to "get the ball rolling."

Looking for honest-to-goodness COMFORT?

Better Buy Buick!

You've probably heard a lot of talk about comfort in 1950 cars. But we'd like to offer one suggestion, which is—let a Buick speak for itself. We'd like to have you settle yourself (your family too, if you have one) on a Buick's soft, deep, comfort-angled cushions, and see how restful they are. More than this, we'd like you to sample that comfort in motion. Slip your fingers around that slender steering wheel, touch toe to treadle and take off in the smooth, unbroken surge of power at Dynaflo Drive* delivers. We'd like to have you hunt out some of the less-smooth streets or back roads that never seem to get fixed—and put Buick's soft coil springing and solid underpinning to tough and practical test.

Four-Way Forefront
This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and paraging easier.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPRA and SPECIAL models.

All the while, be thinking about what such riding and driving ease can mean on long, all-day trips, and compare it with what you've been used to. This whole experience is bound to make you want a Buick—and when you ask "how much" you'll get a second pleasant surprise in the low delivered prices your dealer is quoting—prices that start at a level that is actually lower than you'd pay for some sixes. Your Buick dealer is the man to see and this is the best of all times to see him. Drop in, won't you, to see about getting an order signed!

FARM FACTS
from your County
Agricultural Agent
by HAROLD L. CLARK

Not always does the dairy herd that has the highest butterfat average during the year return the greatest profit. Of course the cost of feed does enter in on the factor determining net profits, but usually the cows that are fed all the roughages they will eat and concentrates according to production will give best returns. Everything else equal, the herds which managed to get peak production when milk and fat prices are highest will realize greatest profits for the year. Rupert Bentley, tester for the Iosco Dairy Herd Improvement Association reports that the herds in his association averaged 863 pounds of milk and 31 pounds of butter fat for August. George Prescott's III's herd of 15 cows averaged 42 pounds of butterfat and Victor Herriman's herd of 12 cows averaged 38 pounds. With peak production coming this time of year and the rest of the fall months when production levels nationally are at the lowest and prices highest, these dairymen are earning themselves a justified premium for their dairy products. One of the factors of good herd management is to plan peak production to coincide with highest prices.

A new bulletin just off the press, "Pen Type Dairy Barns" should be of interest to farmers who need to expand their housing facilities. This bulletin was written as a result of an extensive study of experiences of Michigan farmers who have used the pen type for several years. The pen barn or open shed has many advantages over the conventional stanchion barn.

1. It is adequate, providing sufficient space is allowed. Actually cows conditioned to cold weather are healthier, have less under trouble and have better appetites.

2. The cost of housing is less. There is no need for expensive stanchions, drinking cups, cement mangers and gutters no insulation in the walls.

3. It reduces labor. Cows can be self fed roughages, they go to the milking parlor and manure needs to be cleaned out only once to four times a year.

The bulletin points other advantages such as better preservation of manure, manure furnishes warmth for lounging; and barns can be converted without expense into a sheep or beef barn.

Anyone interested in this bulletin can write or call.

Do you have any old famil relics? J. W. Stark, Director of the Michigan State College Museum, wants to build up an exhibit of early American agriculture machinery. He reminds us that Michigan State is the oldest agricultural college in the world and should have an agricultural museum second to none.

Blair Woodman, County Agricultural Agent of Shiawassee County notified the museum of an 1881 dog treadmill that was used for butter making. It is now in the museum—repaired and ready to churn.

Iosco potato growers should be interested in the Northern Michigan Annual Potato and Apple Show which will be held at Petoskey, November 7 and 8. Growers are urged to exhibit their peck samples and table stock potatoes. Bert Harris exhibited two years and received a blue ribbon for his stock exhibit. I have extra copies of the premium list which I shall be glad to send to any one upon request.

The demand for small feeder cattle is high now and I expect to see the prices for your feeder cattle at the West Branch sale exceed your 1949 prices" says W. L. "Bill"

Finley, when speaking to the members of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association. He went on to explain that beef prices are good, feed plentiful and many cattle are being fed on the western ranges all of which is putting pressure on feeder cattle in the north middlewest. Jim Mielock, Secretary-Manager urged the consignors to get in shape for the sale. He stated that buyers preferred dehorned cattle and were better satisfied with steers if there were no skips. All calves should be weaned at least 10 days before the sale and started on dry feed. Calves weaned later are shocked by the change, do not eat well and are shipping risks. Jim thought there would be about 700 head consigned to the sale. He did not expect many yearlings nor any fat cattle to be entered. The sale date has been set for Thursday, October 19.

"GIVE ME A CAR THAT'S BUILT TO LAST!"

says Mr. James Patrick O'Shea of Chicago

"My big Dodge has everything...famous dependability...extra roominess...ease of handling! Any other car offering as much would have cost $1000 more!"

No other car can match the Dodge reputation for dependability. No wonder new Dodge owners say you could pay $1,000 more and still not get all Dodge features... the economy, the performance, the extra spaciousness inside that means plenty of head room, leg room, shoulder room. The compact design outside makes traffic driving and parking a cinch.

You'll enjoy Dodge Fluid Drive—the smoother starts, stops, no smoother "going"—yours at no extra cost. Let today's big Dodge put you miles ahead, money ahead—for the years ahead.

GYRO-MATIC—AMERICA'S LOWEST PRICED AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

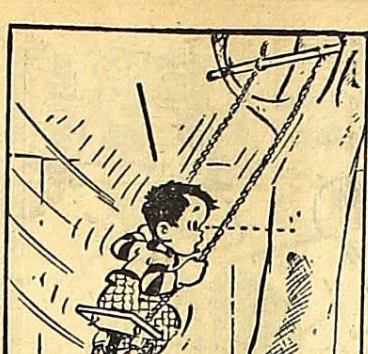

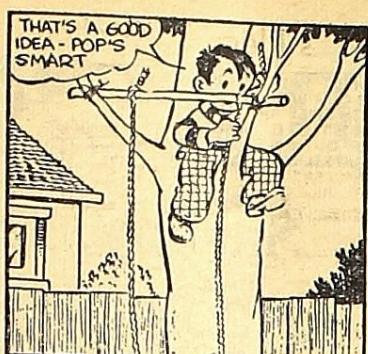

Dodge Gyro-Matic lets you set the gear for full power in mud, snow or steepest hills—lets the engine "brake" your Dodge smoothly on long down-hill grades. Available on Coronet models at slight extra cost.

WHEN SLEEP WON'T COME AND YOU FEEL GLUM Use Chewing-Gum Laxative—REMOVES WASTE...NOT GOOD FOOD

When you can't sleep—feel just awful because you need a laxative—do as MILLIONS do—chew FEEN-A-MINT. FEEN-A-MINT is wonderfully different! Doctors say many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon...right in the stomach. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy, you feel weak, worn out.

HADACOL One of the Greatest Blessings of the Times!

Just a Few of Thousands Upon Thousands of Interesting Records of Folks With Such Deficiencies Who Have Been Helped

Mrs. C. C. Keller, 1629 1/2 Frederick Avenue, St. Joseph, Missouri, says HADACOL really has put a stop to her neuritis pains. She was in a very bad condition with aches and pains and unable to sleep and was forced to give up her position as a practical nurse.

Link Robinson (a steel worker for over 20 years), 519 Lindsey, Newport, Kentucky: "When your stomach is in bad shape as mine, couldn't eat, gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness, then your body doesn't get the proper food it needs. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat anything I want to. Best of all I haven't got those terrific gas pains and stomach bloating."

Mrs. L. Crisafi, 327 N. 14th Street, Springfield, Illinois: "I am elated with the wonderful results obtained by taking HADACOL. I had emotional indigestion, which is stomach distress and makes a person feel down and out. HADACOL seemed to be prepared for my ailment, for it made a new woman of me."

W. E. Hoxworth, a skilled maintenance man in Waco, Texas: "I almost had to give up my job because of suffering from stomach distress. I couldn't hold my food, as no food agreed with me. After hearing about HADACOL and completing a second bottle, I began to feel better and regain the weight I lost, and suffered no more indigestion. I now take HADACOL regularly to help stay well. (Why don't you try HADACOL?)"

Floyd Mabe, 1401A South 7th Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "For some time after a wartime injury I had been troubled with neuritis pains in my legs and could not work. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried HADACOL. After taking a half bottle I seemed to feel better. My wife told me it was only my imagination, but I continued to take HADACOL and up to the present have taken 18 bottles. Now I feel fine with no more pains in my legs." (HADACOL is so effective because it relieves THE REAL CAUSE of neuritis aches when due to such deficiencies. Why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help you?)

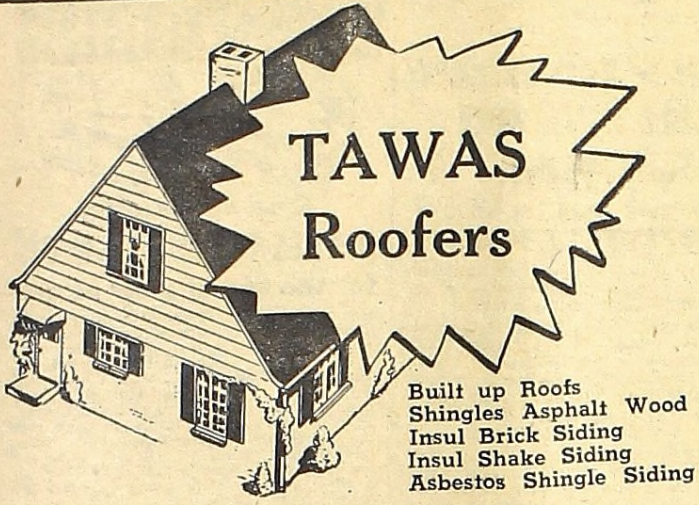

Mrs. John Geary, 840 Ursuline Street, New Orleans, Louisiana: "I had such a nervous stomach I was unable to eat regularly. Lots of times I was unable to hold any food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all. I eat anything I want. HADACOL is wonderful. You can see that, if it did so much for me after suffering so." (A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. One of the many advantages of HADACOL is that continued use helps prevent such stomach distress from returning. Don't continue to suffer. Start taking HADACOL today!)

Mrs. J. Scieszinski, 514 Kruger, Ottumwa, Iowa: "My daughter, Marilyn Sue, is five years old and for some time lacked pep, had a poor appetite, was generally run-down. Since giving her HADACOL, we have noticed wonderful results. She has a much better appetite, eats everything on the table and doesn't seem tired like she used to. Incidentally, she likes to take her HADACOL, too." (Kiddies sure do like HADACOL.)"

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc—the Man Responsible for the Great New HADACOL. Now! Thanks to the tireless efforts in scientific research of Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc—eminent statesman of Louisiana and creator of this great new HADACOL nutritional formula—it's at last possible to relieve the REAL CAUSE of such ailments as neuritis pains, stomach distress, gas pains, heartburn, indigestion, insomnia, certain nervous disorders and a general run-down condition due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Senator LeBlanc has just completed a modern $250,000 manufacturing plant and a similar one is well under way so that this wonderful HADACOL will always be available to the public. What the Great HADACOL Does... No longer do you have to be satisfied with symptomatic relief—you can start this very day, and relieve the REAL CAUSE of such ailments with HADACOL. Get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about! A big improvement in the way you feel is often noticed in a few days. And continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such ailments from coming back. Naturally, there's an explanation for this. You see, HADACOL not only feeds deficient, run-down systems with extra quantities of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to help maintain good health and guard against such deficiency sickness. Sold on Strict Money-Back Guarantee. Don't continue to suffer! Be fair to yourself—start taking HADACOL today. HADACOL is very inexpensive—costs only a small amount daily. And HADACOL must help you, or your money will be returned. Trial size, only $1.25 a bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse any substitute. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

testified that a tug-of-war ensued between them and the fishermen when they tried to seize the nets.

Million Chances for Auto Accidents

The opening of school means that more than 1,250,000 public, private and parochial school children in Michigan are out on the highways and byways. Every child is a potential peril for drivers of motor vehicles. Four times a day, most of these children are on their way to or from school. This means that during one school month there are one hundred million chances for an accident. Last year in Michigan nearly 5,000 children were either killed or injured in motor vehicle accidents. Schools are requested to cooperate with public and private agencies in developing programs which will reduce or eliminate accidents.

One of the greatest hazards to the motorist is the youthful bicycle rider. Almost 800,000 children in Michigan ride bicycles. It is important that these children know the rules of bicycling. Following are eight good rules for safety in bicycle riding:

1. Ride near the right-hand curb (for two-wheeler) or on the sidewalk (for three wheeler).
2. Carry packages only if your bicycle has a basket.
3. Walk your bicycle across a busy street.
4. As you ride out of a driveway, stop at the curb to look both ways for cars and trucks.
5. If you are riding with friends, ride in single line.
6. Don't carry anyone on your bicycle.
7. Obey all traffic laws.
8. The good rider is a safe rider.
