Tawas City Schools to Have New Playground

Option Taken On Stencil Property

Project Includes Creek Course Change And Extensive Fill

An option, preliminary to purchasing a block of 18 lots adjacent to the Tawas City High School property has been secured by the board of education, states John N. Brugger, secretary. The property will be improved and used as a playground, a thing the school has lacked for some time.

The property under negotiation is owned by Mrs. Emma Stencil of Detroit. Mrs. Stencil is the former Miss Emma Sieloff of this city and a sister of Edward Sieloff. Mrs. Sieloff had not been interested in selling, but was pleased to sell for the proposed purpose. The selling price agreed on is said to be $1,350 for the 18 lots.

The improvement project includes the straightening of Dead creek in that area and filling in the loop of the creek which would be abandoned adjacent to M-55 and at the rear of the new school building units. Here the creek is washing the earth away dangerously near the footings of the new buildings. The cutoff for the creek will be about 1,000 feet in length and the earth removed will be used in grading the property. The school has needed a playground. This will give the boys and girls facilities for their out-of-door activities.

"As soon as the legal formalities of purchasing the property and changing the course of Dead Creek are completed, excavation work will be started," states Carl Libka, one of the members of the board of education who has been instrumental in pushing the project. "We hope to have the work well along before the ground is frozen too much."

Tawas City Elks Play At Harrisville Tonight

Tonight, Friday, the Tawas City Elks journey to Harrisville to meet the northerners in two games.

The Elks are sporting a two game winning streak so far this season with wins over Bay City Visitation and Sterling.

The Tawas Monarchs independent basketball team opened the 19-50-1951 season with victories over East Tawas, Sterling and CYO.

The Monarchs defeated East Tawas Wednesday last week, by the score of 86 to 22. Bruce Myles with 22, Don Westcott with 19, Ludwig, with 17, and Hill with 14 led Tawas, while Wickert garnered eight points for East Tawas.

In the Sterling tilt Tuesday night, the Monarchs came out on top 62-61. Bill Ludwig's last minute field goal spelled defeat for the Sterling team. One of the best features of the game was the stalling of the ball in the last seventy seconds of the game by Tawas. Westcott with 23 points and Ludwig with 15, led Tawas, while Sweeney paced Sterling with 24 markers.

The CYO's supremacy over Tawas came to an abrupt halt Wednesday evening as the Monarchs came out on top 62 to 50. Tops in scoring for Tawas, were Westcott with 26 points and Ludwig with 19. Dubovsky led CYO with 19 points.

Saturday evening, the Monarchs will play host to the Standish quintet. Why not come out and watch these two teams battle it out. The team needs your support. Admission to the game is adults 50c and children 25c. Game time is 8:30.

Will Reexamine Base For Future Uses

A survey team will visit the Oscoda Air Force Base soon to determine to what use the installation might be put.

An Air Force spokesman said that probably representatives of the district army engineers would make up the survey, which is to be completed by February 15. He estimated that the study could be made in one day, but said the time had not been set.

The survey is a part of general inventory being made by the Air Force of its own bases as well as local airports, it was explained. Oscoda—one-time Camp Skeel with its gunnery range for the World War I First Pursuit Group—was rebuilt during World War II. A sub base for training Negro fighter group, and at one time served as a flight school for Free French air cadets.

The field is still an active installation and is still a sub-base of Selfridge.

To Burn Candle Tree at Hospital Benefit Banquet

Dinner Will be Held Monday Evening at Holland Hotel

"When this candle tree is filled and blooms with coins it will be given to the Tawas Hospital Fund," so reads the legend on the huge coin-filled candle, which was started 30 months ago by Floyd (Shorty) Ketcherside, former owner of the Holland Hotel.

Next Monday evening the candle will be burned and the money it contains counted. Now nearly four feet high it is filled with silver coins. A coin box in front of the pedestal which holds the candle also contains a considerable amount of cash, in coin and paper.

Estimates of more than $300.00 have been made on the contents of the candle. "What's your guess?" will be a part of the program at the banquet next Monday evening.

All the food donated, all the receipts of the $5.00 per plate dinner will go to the Tawas Hospital Fund. Lyle Mooney is in charge of ticket sales, and tickets may be obtained from any member of the hospital association. The dinner is at 7:00 p. m.

The corporation consists of Tawas City Lodge No. 302 of this city and Baldwin Lodge No. 274 of East Tawas. When completed the new temple will provide a home for the six Masonic organizations of the area, which includes the two Masonic Lodges, two Eastern Star Chapters, a Royal Arch Chapter and a DeMolay Chapter.

Actually the Tawas Masonic Temple association is a former Tawas City Masonic Temple association, with by-laws changed to include the East Tawas lodge and the name changed to fit the new situation.

Chinese Delegation Charges U. S. With Aggression in Korea, China; U. N. Forces Face Defeat in Korea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

The "big-win-the-war" push got underway (1) in Korea with the 24th division driving on Chongju. Other UN forces aimed toward Taecheon. The big offensive was touched off by a frontline visit of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who flew from Tokyo to Sinanju (2). He also flew over Sinuiju (3) the Suho dam (4), Hyesanjin (5), and over the Changjin reservoir area (6). Superforts bombed Manpojin (7) in one of the war's big raids.

UNITED NATIONS: Is It War or Peace?

Fear gripped the United Nations security council when U.S. delegate Warren R. Austin asked Red China's delegate Wu Hsiu-Chuan, "Will there be war or peace in the Far East?"

It was with these words that the United States charged Red China with aggression in Korea; it was these words that created a feeling of fear never before felt in the United Nations. As one diplomat explained, it created such a great fear that those seated in the security council were afraid to speak lest the wrong words plunge the world into World War III.

Communist China had been invited to the council to debate the charge that the U.S. had committed aggression against Formosa. Instead the Chinese delegate charged the security of his country was endangered by U.S. aggression against Korea, and he asserted he was alarmed by the spread toward China of the "flames" of the U.S. "war of aggression." He demanded the withdrawal of United Nations troops from Korea and a seat in the United Nations for his country.

The American delegate charged China with aggression after General MacArthur reported there were 200,000 Chinese Communist soldiers in Korea and that the U.N. forces faced an entirely new war.

Red China replied that the Chinese troops in Korea were volunteers and that Peiping will not stop their departure for the battle front.

Austin asked the Chinese delegate 20 direct questions which, in sum, boiled down to: Why had China thrown 200,000 troops into Korea against United Nations forces and what do you want? The Red delegate did not even answer Austin.

Observers who heard the exchange of charges were agreed that the world was closer to World War III than ever before. It was also evident that China had no intention of calling off its troops in Korea until U.N. forces had been defeated.

But more than this, the future of Asia seemed at stake. China's delegate charged the U.S. with aggression in the Philippines and other Asian countries. This would indicate, most observers felt, that China had mapped a program for the domination of the Far East comparable to that one championed by Japan.

And as the diplomats talked and hurled charges and countercharges, the position of U.N. forces in Korea became more desperate. Their defeat would mean a blow to the United Nations from which that world organization may never recover.

The tone of Wu's security council speech was not new to U.N. delegates. It could have been written by the Russians. At one point Wu threatened the countries backing the United States not to "pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the United States—because if you support United States aggression you must bear the consequences of your actions."

AMERICAN COMMUNISTS

Jury Indicts Six Top U. S. Communists

A federal grand jury ordered contempt of congress prosecution against former Communist boss Earl Browder and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, New York millionaire and alleged "angel" of Red causes.

The jury also indicted Philip Jacob Jaffe, former editor of the defunct Amerasia magazine and a key figure in the 1945 "stolen secrets" case.

Chinese Reds

KOREA: Chinese Attack

With Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally directing the start, U.N. forces in North Korea launched what was called the "big-win-the-war-punch." Initial successes were reported by U.N. commanders, but Chinese Communists counterattacks stalled the drive and broke through the U.N. front at a number of points.

As many as 200,000 Chinese Communists were reported in North Korea, overrunning U.N. positions and threatening the entire army. The Reds were swiftly exploiting their breakthrough. They were reported swarming along "every road gully and ridge line." As many as 21 divisions were reported to be in action.

The situation in Korea was so serious that General MacArthur told the non-Communist powers that they must decide quickly what to do about the grim prospect of "an entirely new war" against Red China. He went so far as to suggest that World War III had actually begun and could be stopped only by a last-minute political solution.

Overnight the military situation in Korea became desperate. MacArthur said Chinese Communists had already thrown "a major segment" of their armies into Korea. They have shown "the obvious intent and preparation" to reinforce this spearhead with perhaps 300,000 more men now on the move in Manchuria, he added.

Observers said that total defeat in Korea was not unlikely if some last minute action is not taken by the United Nations. It was no secret that military commanders wanted the authority to bomb supply centers and concentration points in Manchuria where the Communists have organized for the attack.

Also indicted for contempt were Joseph P. Kamp, executive vice-chairman of the constitutional educational league; Edward A. Rumely; executive secretary of the committee for constitutional government, and William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the civil rights congress. All face heavy fines and prison sentences if convicted on contempt charges.

CONGRESS: The Politicians Fight

The Politicians Fight

President Truman put several questions to the lame duck session of congress on the opening day and immediately the politicians began their wrangling. To the American listening to the depressing news from Korea and screams of a troubled world, the gentlemen in the senate and house appeared somewhat ridiculous, to put it mildly.

The administration asked for extension of rent controls, statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, increased taxation to meet budget requirements, and increased defense appropriations.

Most observers believe the rent control extension measure is doomed to defeat. Republican senators said it could wait. What the delay is for no one knows, unless it is to tighten the squeeze on the little man.

A bitter and possibly long fight was indicated in both houses over the administration's call for an excess-profits tax. Even the proposed legislation granting statehood to Alaska and Hawaii seemed in for a knock down and drag out fight.

Republican leaders, buoyed by election victories, seemed determined to have a greater say in the nation's foreign policy. Many observers believe if they could collect Secretary of State Acheson's scalp they would be satisfied.

This wrangling of the politicians is getting results in one way, however. The American public is on the verge of screaming fits. More than anything else the average American would like to see some degree of unity in congress at a time when the nation faces a serious crisis.

ATOMIC POWER: To Reveal Secrets

The announcement that the United States, Great Britain and Canada had agreed to release data relating to "low-power" nuclear reactors was greeted by most observers as one of the most important decisions in regard to the question of atomic secrecy to be made by the three powers.

The agreement permits the publication of information necessary to the design, construction, and operation of four U.S. low-power reactors as a means of stimulating atomic energy development in the countries, particularly for peace-time application.

The atomic energy commission said the three governments agreed that the release of the information under the revised guide will speed the training of nuclear-reactor engineers and technicians and will hasten atomic-energy development in these countries, particularly for peace-time applications.

Before such a reactor can be built by a private institution, however, the permission of the government to use the necessary fissionable materials is required.

SECURITY LAW: Wheels Begin to Turn

The first step against the Communist party under the subversive control act, passed by the last session of congress, was taken when the justice department filed a petition with the subversive activities control board to force Communists in this country to register.

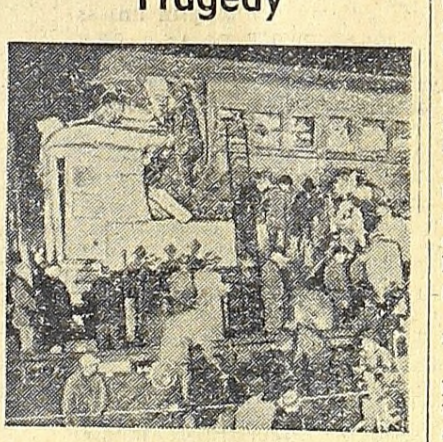

Thus the wheels of law begin to grind under an act that has been criticized as unworkable.

The 4,800 word petition, signed by Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, charged the Communist party of the United States with being run by the government of Soviet Russia.

The Communist party refused to register voluntarily under the internal security law and is expected to fight the petition.

Seth Richardson, chairman of the control board, said the hearings on the petition might be expected to run for months.

Tragedy

Two trains on the Long Island railroad smashed into each other in one of the bloodiest wrecks in the nation's history. Seventy-seven dead and 332 injured were removed from the wreck which has touched off an investigation of the railroad on which another crash a few months earlier took a toll of 33 dead and 125 injured.

A-BOMB: Use Is Vetted

American military leaders considered, but voted against using the atom bomb on massed Communist troops early in the Korean war.

Authoritative sources said the proposal had been advanced simultaneously but independently by army and air force officers when the bulk of the North Korean army was concentrated in a small area near the town of Suwon. Moral reasons entered into the decision.

U. S. Spy Who Doesn't Exist Gets Promoted

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Perhaps this article should be entitled, "the little man who wasn't there," because it is all about a man who does not exist, but who is doing a fine job for the United States.

Back in 1948 the Soviet radio began mentioning a Major Lincoln as America's greatest spy. Since the U.S. was going to be stuck with him anyway, John Wiley, U. S. ambassador to Iran, with the help of his political attache, decided to carry on and build up the Russian charge. As a result Lincoln has been doing the democratic cause a lot of good ever since.

The latest concerning Lincoln is that he has been promoted to colonel for the fine work he has been doing in the middle east and far east.

A man as elusive as a figment, with a yen to be wherever trouble brews, Col. Lincoln has been spying well ahead of Communist aggressors and had not only passed through Korea but at last report had managed to survey Tibet before the Chinese Communist invasion. Valuable results are expected from his latest operations.

Russia Hates Him

Col. Lincoln is often referred to in a hateful way on the Russian radio. According to the Soviets his espionage activities along the Iran border are outrageous. In fact he is stirring the suspicions of Iranian, Syrian, Turkish and other intelligence services as well.

The latest report on the agent was supplied by another man accused by the Soviet radio of activities like Col. Lincoln's. He is William O. Douglas, associate justice of the supreme court, who went to the White House to tell President Truman about his travels in the middle and far east in the last few months.

Ordinarily, one does not breathe about the exploits of a secret agent identified by name. But so daring, and so elusive is Col. Lincoln that Justice Douglas was willing within the bounds of security to give the highlights of his activities.

"Did you have any clandestine meetings with Lincoln in Iran?"

"I saw him over there, north of Maku," the jurist replied. "He's running a line of agents over the Russian border. He was also in South Korea for a while and he came back through Tibet. He's been all around. You know, he's been promoted to colonel."

Born in Arkansas

Lincoln's wife in Springfield, Mo., won't like the talk about his flirtations with Kurdish women.

"He's been mixing up with them," said Justice Douglas. His family might deplore it, but that is the life of a spy.

For the benefit of readers who have not read previous biographical material about the intrepid American spy, he was born in Slippery Rock, Ark., on Oct. 10, 1909. In his early career he was a rum runner and confidence man, but he deemed himself morally by his excellent spy work, beginning in 1939.

Every now and then the Russian radio gives out with another blast—in all seriousness—about the terrible American spy. Diplomatic circles throughout the world are finding it amusing.

Any day now you can expect the Russians to come up with a full history on the spy activities of Kirov.

Little Boy Finds a Way To Buy Ring for Mother

TULSA, Okla. — Peter Ogle, 7, caused Joseph W. Alley, a jewelry store manager, a moment of confusion.

The small boy walked into his store and asked to buy a wedding ring. Breathlessly he explained that he had saved $3.80 from his 50 cents a week allowance and wanted to buy his mother a wedding ring, something she told him the family couldn't afford, and that he would like to be a truck driver when he grew up.

"Well, son, that's not quite enough money," Alley told the boy.

Peter thought for a moment, then proposed: "How 'bout me putting the $3.80 down and paying 50 cents a week?"

Peter got a $10 ring after Alley telephoned the lad's mother. Mrs. Alley agreed to the terms.

Thief Bathes and Shaves, Makes Himself at Home

CHICAGO, Ill. — Fred J. Miller called the police when he returned home one night recently and found a man sleeping on the couch. Officers arrived and awakened the man, Paul Bernard Hoppe, 28, and found that he had:

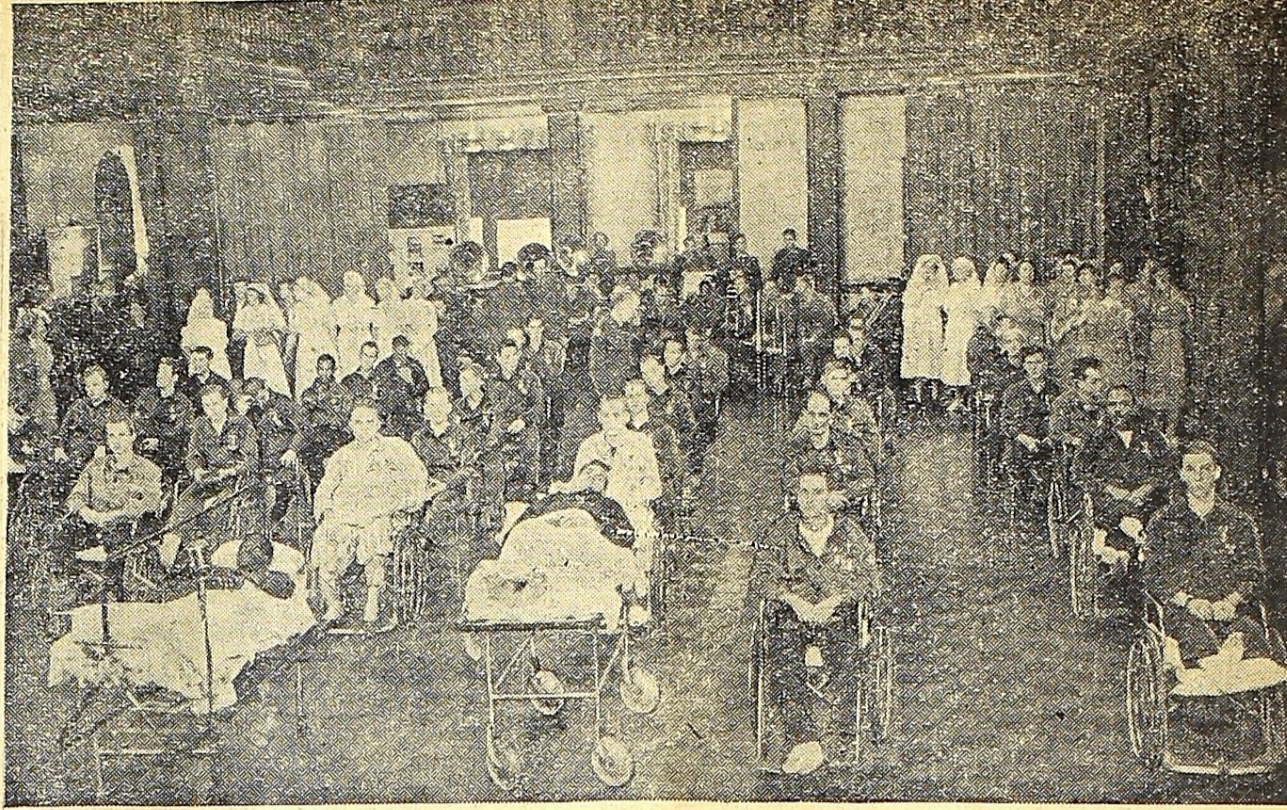

Broken into the house, taken a shower and used Miller's hair oil and shaving cream.

Put on underwear and a shirt belonging to Miller's son, and donned Miller's best necktie and shoes.

Fixed himself a sandwich, drank a can of beer and ate some bananas and cream and a piece of Mrs. Miller's fruit cake.

Taken $7.38 from her penny jar.

Now Hoppe has a year in jail to catch up on his sleeping.

PURPLE HEARTS FOR KOREAN VETS . . . Fifty servicemen of the United States armed forces who received wounds fighting for the liberation of Korea from the Communist forces are shown as they were lined up at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C., recently, just before they received Purple Hearts from the commanding general of the hospital. The commanding general is Maj. Gen. Paul H. Streit. He is shown in the center of the picture at the rear.

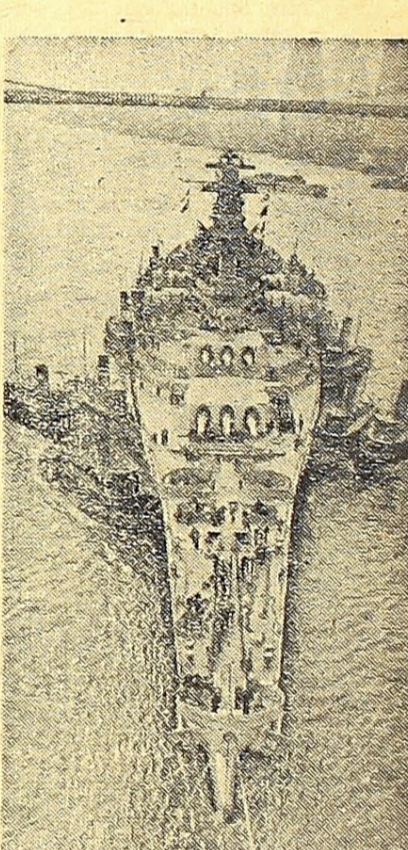

UNEARTHING REDS' FLOWING GOLD . . . Lieut. Joseph Booth of Morristown, Pa., holds his rifle while supervising a couple of Korean civilians who are digging up a hidden petroleum cache. It takes oil and more oil to lubricate the wheels of war and the army that does not have an ample supply grinds to a stop. The retreating Chinese Reds buried their precious oil and gas stocks because they feared the intense allied air attacks. Advancing in the bitter North Korean cold, American infantrymen entered the border town of Hyesanjin.

STOCK SHOW ARRIVALS . . . Beauty and the beast—that might be the caption for this view of the steer and pretty girl. However, stock show enthusiasts might call them both beauties, for the steer is a prize winner from Wyoming. The girl is Lorraine Kurnath and she is prettying up the beast by putting a bobby pin in his curls. The stage was being set for the 51st annual International Livestock Show at the International Amphitheater in Chicago. Steer is early arrival.

GREEK TROOPS FOR KOREA . . . Greece has decided to send a contingent of troops to aid U.N. forces battling in Korea. King Paul of Greece reviews a battalion prior to the departure of the men for the battle lines. The colorful ceremony took place in front of the tomb of Greece's unknown soldier at Athens. The king of Greece presented his troops with the flag of their nation. The United Nations' call for all member nations to contribute men is still in effect.

NEW JERSEY RECOMMISSIONED . . . The U.S.S. New Jersey is towed by tugs toward Brooklyn navy yard. Fleet Admiral William Halsey, who led naval push against Japan on the ship, was a guest at the recommissioning.

WIVES OF GUNMEN . . . Mrs. Carmen Torresola and Mrs. Rosa Collazo arrive at federal court in New York for hearing. Their husbands were the two gunmen who attempted to assassinate Truman. Torresola was killed.

CARVE A TURKEY

Carving a Turkey Requires Sharp Knives, Know-How and Practice

There really is a way to carve a Christmas turkey so that the meat can be served in attractive slices, but it takes know-how, practice and a good sharp knife.

That's the word from the Ekco Products company, the people who make Flint cutlery. The firm's experimental kitchen went to work and came up with the following suggestions for a fast and easy job of turkey carving.

First, plan your schedule so that the turkey is out of the oven 20 or 30 minutes before it is to be served, if possible. This gives the meat a chance to absorb the juices, and it will be easier to carve.

Then, with a sharp knife begin to slice:

REMOVE LEG (thigh or second joint and drumstick). Hold the drumstick firmly with fingers, pulling gently away from turkey body. At the same time cut through skin between leg and body.

PRESS LEG AWAY FROM BODY WITH FLAT SIDE OF KNIFE. Then cut through joint joining leg to backbone and skin on the back. Hold leg on service plate with drumstick at a convenient angle to plate. Separate drumstick and thigh by cutting down through the joint to the plate.

SLICE DRUMSTICK MEAT. Hold drumstick upright at a convenient angle to plate and cut down, turning drumstick to get uniform slices.

SLICE THIGH MEAT. Hold thigh firmly on plate with a fork. Cut slices of meat parallel to the bone.

CUT INTO WHITE MEAT PARALLEL TO WING. Make a cut deep into the breast to the body frame parallel to and as close to the wing as possible.

SLICE WHITE MEAT. Beginning at front, starting halfway up the breast, cut thin slices of white meat down to the cut made parallel to wing. The slices will fall away from the turkey as they are cut to this line.

Remove individual servings of stuffing from opening cut into side of the turkey where leg has been removed. Limit your garnish to a little parsley or salad greens. Anything more handicaps the carver.

It has often been said that carving is becoming a lost art in the American home, but not as much so as many people believe. The head of the family who has the know-how, or who will follow the above instructions which are very simple, will find carving the Christmas turkey a pleasure.

The man of the household will find that his family and guests will take pleasure in watching him. The ceremony will add distinction to the dinner and give it an atmosphere of friendliness.

Many men are afraid of carving simply because they fear something terrible will happen, like letting the fowl slip from the platter, smashing the china and finally coming to rest on the floor. Such a scene is hilarious in the movies, but seldom occurs at the Christmas dinner table.

To make sure it does not happen use a long pronged fork with a guard. An ordinary dinner fork does not penetrate the bird deep enough to give the carver leverage with which to hold the bird firmly.

As each slice is carved relay it to the plate being served immediately. An accumulation will only hinder the carver and increase the chances for an accident.

The broad-breast turkey of 10 pounds or so which has become popular with American families in recent years has also reduced the hazards of carving. The man of the family who plans to carve the Christmas turkey for the first time this year might mention the fact to his wife and make plans to have such a bird.

There are two other points for the amateur carver to remember. Have the bird removed from the oven in plenty of time for it to cool before starting to carve. And above all, don't rush with the carving. Take your time and the job will be done with ease and without accident.

Excessive Eating Is Greatest Cause Of Fat and Disease

Before weakly accepting that third helping of turkey—or at least before you reach for another wedge of pie—stop, look, and listen to this cheery little message:

You are 25 per cent more likely to die at age 45 if you are 25 pounds overweight; 50 pounds of excess weight puts you in a group with a 50 per cent higher death rate than normal, says the Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Fat is one of our greatest killers; most overweight people don't realize its dangers or they would do something about their condition.

Fat kills by promoting disease and by making various diseases more deadly. Among overweight people there is more heart disease, more kidney trouble, more diabetes, far more cancer, and three times as much high blood pressure as among people of average weight. Fat people have more falls and other accidents than do their brethren of normal size.

Mental Handicap
Parents who permit children to remain fat expose them to permanent mental handicaps due to the ridicule of playmates and inability to compete, as well as to greater hazards from disease both in youth and in later life.

Widespread medical research has exploded many earlier theories such as that some people are born to be fat and can't lose weight no matter how rigidly they diet; that some people are fat because they have more efficient digestions and retain more of the nourishment from their food; that thyroid or other gland abnormalities are frequent causes of excess weight.

Two sad, homely facts about the problems of excess weight have simmered out of all this medical research:

Sad Fact No. 1: People become overweight simply because they eat more food than their bodies need. Children get fat for exactly the same reason.

Sad Fact No. 2: The only practical, safe way to reduce is to eat less food. There is no shortcut, no "safe, easy way."

Proper exercise is healthful, but as a reducer it is more work than it is worth. You need to climb twenty flights of stairs to lose the weight put on you by one extra slice of bread. Leaving out the excess food is easier on you in every way.

Drugs Are Unsafe
No effective and harmless reducing drug is known to medical science, with the exception of thyroid extract when used in those rare cases where thyroid deficiency is actually the cause of excess fat. At least 99 per cent of all overweight people have no thyroid trouble, and will find the extract useless. The three main ways in which so-called "reducing prescriptions" work, if they work at all, are: By numbing the appetite, by disturbing bodily functions, or by small-scale poisoning; the appetite-numbing type of drug is occasionally prescribed in limited amounts by a physician to make it easier for a patient to stick to a reducing diet, but such preparations should never be used except if and as prescribed by your doctor.

When anyone makes up his mind to reduce, it is wise to have the diet prescribed by a physician, to make sure it is properly balanced, and contains plenty of vitamins and minerals. The dieter should get a good bathroom scale and weigh himself or herself, stripped, before breakfast each day. A severe cut in the amount of food usually works out best; results are so slow with a mild cut in eating that the dieter grows discouraged. The first three days on a reducing diet are the hardest; then the stomach adjusts to the smaller amount of food taken in, and staying with the program becomes much easier. Once the goal is achieved and you are finally down to your correct weight, look out, warns the report—you can get the fat back much faster and easier than you lost it. Keep on weighing yourself "in the raw" each morning and avoid having to do the job all over.

A Fat Child Likely to Stay Fat

Fat children usually have over-protective parents, medical researchers find. A typical case is the child who has had a severe illness; the physician warns the parents against permitting violent exercise for a time. The worried parents restrain the child from all physical play, and overfeed him to "build him up." The child grows sluggish, loses his taste for exercise, and becomes firmly fixed in the habit of over-eating. The fat child is likely to be fat in adulthood.

MIRROR Of Your MIND Sense of Guilt Makes One 'Kind'

By Lawrence Gould

Is good will what makes people "obliging?"

Answer: There undoubtedly are people who get satisfaction out of acts of kindness. But the fellow who will "give the shirt off his back" to anyone who seems to need it is more likely to have a deep-rooted and perhaps unconscious sense of guilt which he is driven to expiate by making himself suffer for the supposed benefit of others, even though he may be actually encouraging them to be weak and dependent. There is truth in the old saying that one too unselfish person in a family may make all the others selfish.

chances of retaining control of your mental faculties as you grow older. Of persons committed to institutions after sixty, those who had no formal education exceeded the normal quota for their age by ninety per cent. Its mental activity that keeps old folks sane.

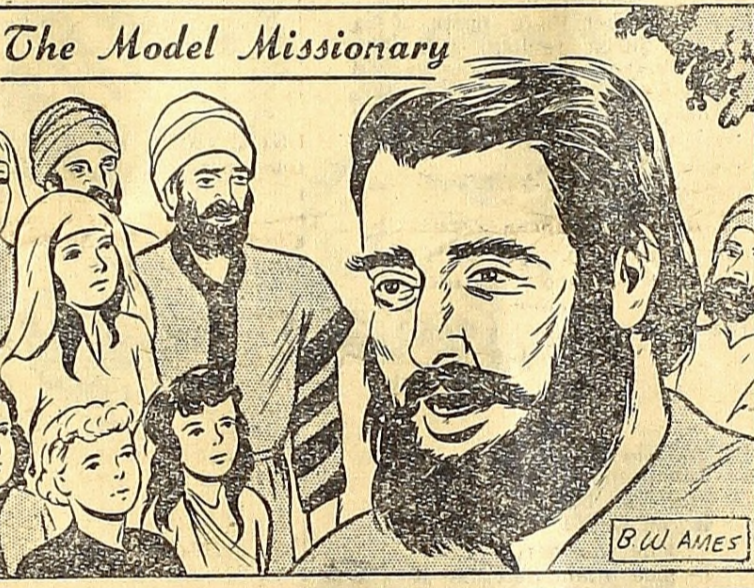

Is schizophrenia hereditary?

Answer: I can find no general agreement on this subject—all the more because the cause of the disease has never been established beyond question. But while there is reason to believe that a predisposition to insanity may be to some extent inherited, the psychiatrists in whom I have most confidence believe there is not much chance of a child's becoming schizophrenic unless he grows up in an environment which leaves him unable to deal with life's normal problems. You will see few schizophrenics who had happy childhoods.

Will education keep you sane?

Answer: It does not prevent the graver types of mental illness, to which the most brilliant scholars are as subject as the rest of mankind. But Dr. Benjamin Malzberg of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene reports that it seems to add considerably to your

KEEPING HEALTHY

Work for the General Practitioner

By Dr. James W. Barton

WE ARE ALL so used to specialists in medicine that we may wonder what is left for the general practitioner to do. As a matter of fact, the general practitioner has more to do, more ground to cover, than at any previous time in history. He must know something about all the specialists in medicine.

In the first place, the general practitioner sees the patient first and sees the symptoms present in the early stages. He knows them exactly, or as well as is humanly possible, just which specialist should be consulted. In former days a patient was normal, or sane, or he was abnormal, or crazy. Today, the general practitioner is able to help patients with early signs of mental disturbance because he usually knows the background of the patient and the circumstances which may be causing or be partly a cause of any odd behavior. Today, as never before, the general public is learning more about psychiatry. In Medical Clinics of North America, Drs. Josephine Ewert and Mary Giffin, Mayo Clinic, state: "Without malice aforethought, curiosity of laymen demands of the family physician some understanding of the intelligence tests, the projective techniques and the vocational aptitude examinations frequently applied to his patients."

HEALTH NOTES

It is interesting to watch the shapes of men and women at the seashore and see how too much or not enough of certain gland juices affect these shapes.

The wide, vigorous individual with a big appetite is apt to eat too much and become overweight which puts too much work on the heart.

Protein foods for breakfast—eggs, bacon, fish—will carry a person through until lunch without any let-down.

Salt is needed by the body tissues every day, but a little less salt will make the work of the heart lighter and also the weight of the body.

FARM FACTS
from your County
Agricultural Agent

By Harold R. Clark, County Agent

To have or not to have a Soil Conservation District in Iosco County is a decision that Iosco County farmers must decide in the next few months. W. S. Harrison, Specialist in Soil Conservation Service, explained the purposes and functions of the organizations to a group of interested farmers at the Grant Town Hall. The first thing that must be decided, is there a need for a soil conservation program? Second, do the farmers in this county want help with their water and soil problems? and Third, will enough farmers express themselves through petitions and a referendum to warrant the organization of a district? A substantial number of the farmers must request the district before it will be granted. The names absent from the petitions and those not attending the referendum have the same effect as a negative vote, which means that those who are in favor of the proposal must not be indifferent to the petition and referendum.

The committee plans to set up meetings in all communities in the county to thoroughly acquaint the farmers with the program.

Those eligible to sign the petitions and vote are owners or occupiers of three or more acres of land. It is an entirely voluntary program and no farmer is obliged to accept the service unless he wants to. In fact, he will not be approached. He has to ask for it. No extra taxes will be levied to cover local expenses. Any cost in changing practices will be borne by the individual farmer. The program is fundamentally educational, in which farmers will seek information and technical help and will adopt those practices which he sees fit to use.

The program has proven to be very beneficial to other counties that have used it. Iosco County is now one of a very few counties that has no district.

As the Iosco County Fair grows so grows the need for more help to conduct it. Consequently, the members of the Iosco County Agricultural Association approved the addition of six members to the Board of Directors, bringing the membership to 18. Those elected to the board at the annual meeting to serve terms of three years were Robert Curtis and Gerald Bellen of Whittemore, Lyle Bieby and George Lake of Hale, George Prescott, III, of Tawas City and Warren Britt of Turner. To complete the reser of eighteen members Joe Tyson of Glennie and Joe Barnes of Hale were elected to serve two terms and Mrs. Jessie McArdle and Henry Hobart of Wilber were elected to serve one year terms. George Prescott, III, Gerald Bellen and Mrs. McArdle have served on the board in previous years.

The entertainment for the meeting was a party of games and a box social. My box was a beautiful box prepared by Leaberta Townsend a charming 4-H food preparation member. It contained a chicken dinner topped off with pumpkin pie and a mavelous fruit cake.

A report from the Game Division of the State Department of Conservation showed that the state's game harvest is no small enterprise. The value of the edible meat was about 7 1/2 million dollars and the fur crop was over 1 1/4 million dollars. These values exceed the value of many of our principal crops. Then of course, the value the recreation afforded in hunting and trapping cannot be calculated.

ACP HELPS KEEP FARMS FIT, SAYS PMA CHAIRMAN

Isosco county farmers who make full use of the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program to control erosion and to stockpile soil reserves will make a substantial contribution to the Nation's over-all defense program.

Earl M. Parlo, chairman of the Isosco county PMA committee, points out that soils as well as servicemen have to be kept in condition to respond when the need arises. "Land that has been over-worked and under fed is unable to respond to the call for increased production."

"Although there is no need now to increase the acreage of grains and most other field crops, there is a definite need to take advantage of this favorable food situation to continue stockpiling plant food reserves in the soil. Our farms then will be ready to meet expanded production needs if and when they come. If we don't stockpile these reserves now, there may come a time when it will be too late."

With this in mind, Mr. Parlo emphasized that farmers who sign up their farms in the 1951 Agricultural Program also will be enlisting in the Nation's defense program. The conservation practices carried out will help to keep the farms in condition to respond when needed.

"Just as we must be prepared with ships and guns and planes, we must be ready to back up the men who man the ships and guns and planes with plenty of food. By keeping our farms ready, we are strengthening our national defense in a most vital spot—its food supply."

"There's the added assurance that the stockpiles of soil reserves can serve in peace as well as war. They will help to meet the needs of an ever increasing population, making possible a more abundant living for more people."

Westminster Hall

Westminster hall in London, built in 1097, adjoins the new palace yard—"new" in 1094. Westminster hall saw the gathering of the noted parliament of 1265. The trial of Charles I, later beheaded, was held there. So was the trial of Guy Fawkes, who in 1605 planted gunpowder in the cellar to blow up parliament. His unsuccessful exploit long has been commemorated by a traditional search of the cellars before each parliamentary session.

Fingerprinting Diamonds

Diamonds now can be fingerprinted. It is done by photographing the light pattern reflected from the diamond. This gives a permanent record of its character, as no two diamonds give exactly the same light pattern. This record is valuable in case the diamond is lost or stolen.

Sources of Pitchblende

The Belgian Congo contains the largest known pitchblende deposits. It is the only source of uranium ore. In 1940 it exported to the United States more than 1,000 tons of uranium ore. By the Belgian Congo shipments to the U. S. were cut in half, and Canada supplanted Africa as the principal source of U. S. supply.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their pocketbooks

There's been a lot of talk in recent weeks about "the buying power of the dollar"—past, present and future.

We can't foretell the future—but we can tell you this right now:

You'll look a long way before you'll find a car that offers as much for the money as you can get in a 1950 Buick.

Close to half a million of these cars have been built and sold this year.

Close to half a million people have checked their features and prices against the field—and decided they'd better buy Buick.

As to prices—they start down below some sixes. And whether you price the SPECIAL, the SUPER or the ROADMASTER, you'll find, on a cents-per-pound basis, that few other cars can touch them for value.

And this is for sure! When it comes to performance—ride—the way they handle and hold the road—and thrifty use of fuel and oil—Buicks have never been finer.

That's another way of saying that coil springs on all four wheels—Dynaflow*—torque-tube drive—and Buick's high-compression, high-economy Fireball power produce an out-of-this-world combination.

So if you want your dollars to do extra duty—the time to act is now.

Look at the price tags—look at the features—sample the power and thrill that you get for your money—and you'll know what we mean.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

MODEL	Price	MODEL 41D (Illustrated)	Price
MODEL 46D Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedan with de luxe trim	$1917.50	Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger 4-door Sedan with de luxe trim	$2001.50
MODEL 56R Buick SUPER 6-passenger 2-door Riviera	$2313.30	MODEL 72R Buick ROADMASTER 6-passenger 4-door Riviera Sedan	$2921.40

Optional equipment, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

4-H CLUB NOTES

A. Marvin Devenport, District 4-H Club Agent
 Better keep your eyes peeled on this column. One of our 4-H club members from Northern Michigan (Jeann: Troyer of Fairview) will be giving her demonstration in Iosco county on January or February. It will be the same demonstration that she gave in New Orleans. This 17 year old 4-H girl won the opportunity to go to New Orleans for the Junior Vegetable Growers convention on the basis of her seven years in 4-H Club work. Iosco county might have sent a team, but we hope they will next year. We have some real candidates that can do a bang up job!
 We are still getting requests for 4-H club bulletins from folks who don't have 4-H clubs organized. The policy of the Extension Service has been to supply our 4-H club members and leaders with bulletins, etc. after their enrollments are sent to the office. If there are any 4-H clubs who have not received their bulletins, better check to see if the enrollments have been sent in.
 My hats' off to the Grant 4-H Club. The community leader, Mrs. Fred Pfahl and 4-H reporter, Doris Herriman were assisted by yours truly in planning a year round 4-H club program. "Wha Happen?" Not all the leaders and officers were present.

Here is Mr. McKinsey's own statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I had a great deal of trouble with a nervous stomach. I had an awful hard time sleeping—I would just roll and toss all night..."

Thousands Have Been Helped by HADACOL whose systems lacked Vitamins B, B, Iron, and Niacin. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, certain nervous disorders, insomnia due to upset stomach, nagging aches and pains, and a general run-down condition when these troubles are caused by such deficiencies.

New Encyclopedia Gives Communists Low-Down on U.S.

MOSCOW, USSR — The Russians have published a new encyclopedia which includes 50 pages of text and illustrations on America. It described the United States as "the strongest, most aggressive of the imperialist powers and heads the imperialistic, anti-democratic camp."

The United States, it said, not only assumed the dominant position on the entire continent, but appropriated even the name America, "acquiring that right 'by force, dreadnaughts and dollars.'"

It also accused, or described, the United States as acquiring incredible riches as a result of World War II and affords the best example of the rottenness of the parasitism of the capitalist system.

The section also described the United States as a country rampant with racialism and discrimination against national minorities. It printed photographs of public lynchings and "Jim Crowism"—racial segregation.

Illustrating disparities in the distribution of wealth it placed side by side pictures of Wall Street and slum areas, Washington's official buildings and a one room Virginia Negro school, a plantation and a picture of milk being poured into sewers to keep up prices.

It defined the American Federation of Labor (AFL) as "trade unions embodying the labor aristocracy, headed by a corrupt clique of reactionary leaders and agents of imperialism in the labor movement."

The volume was edited by Sergei Vavilov, president of the academy of sciences.

51-Year-Old Bicyclist Pedaled 300,000 Miles

TORONTO, Canada — Basil Raynham of Toronto has only been in an automobile six times in his life and on a streetcar only seven times.

The wiry 51-year-old has logged about 300,000 miles through England, Canada, and the United States since 1914 on his bicycle.

When he came to Canada from England in 1923, he had traveled only 50,000 miles, but has made up for it since then. Trips to South Carolina, Quebec City and the Adirondacks added to his score.

Attica's Cows Stopped From Eating Greek Walls

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Marshall plan experts have finally decided they know why bossy has been chewing down stone walls in Attica, Greece.

Agricultural specialists for the ECA discovered that bossy was gulping whitewash and mortar merely to satisfy her craving for calcium—something she had been missing out on in her basic diet of straw.

Experimenting with various minerals, the experts found that pure marble dust was the cheapest source of calcium for the cows. A hundred pounds costs the dairyman 33 cents, and bossy's daily ration adds up to a mere three ounces.

Today the stone walls of Attica are well preserved. And bossy gets her calcium in doses of marble dust, which is either mixed with her other food or simply left in a convenient trough.

The ECA experts hope to get the word around to other sections of Greece, now that Attica's walls have been saved.

Thief Takes Their Auto, Then Taunts Tulsa Police

TULSA, Okla.—Tulsa police recently found themselves the subject of a series of jokes by a thief. The thief stole an unmarked police car from police headquarters, then used its two way radio to tease the cops about it.

After some banter, the thief identified himself as "Norman," and named a place where he said he'd leave the vehicle.

Other patrol units sped to the spot. No stolen police car. Then came another call from "Norman". He was a mile from where he said he'd be. Another rush of patrol cars—same story.

Using a radio wave length that the stolen car's radio could not receive, police broadcast the automobile's description all over the state. It was found abandoned 150 miles away.

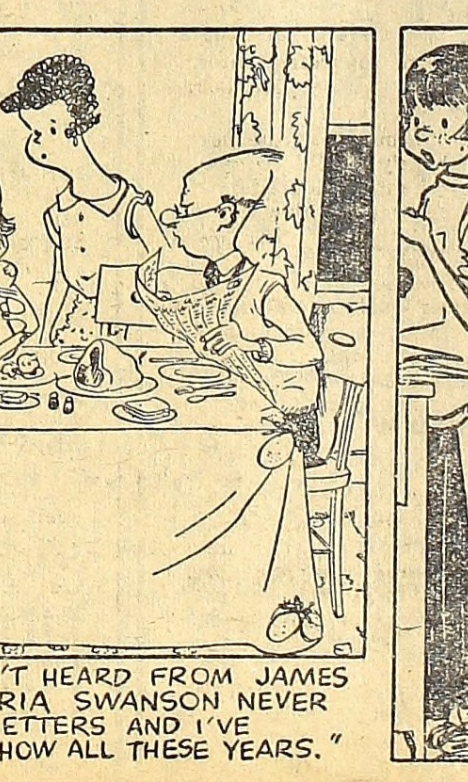

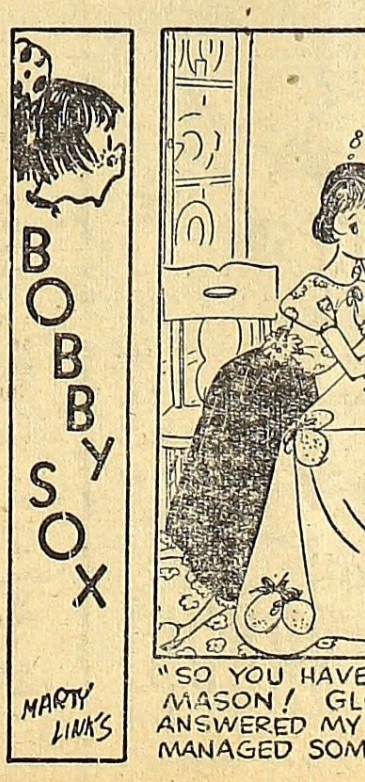

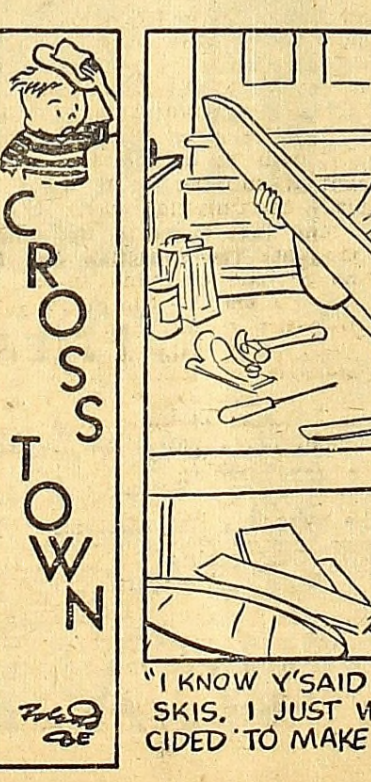

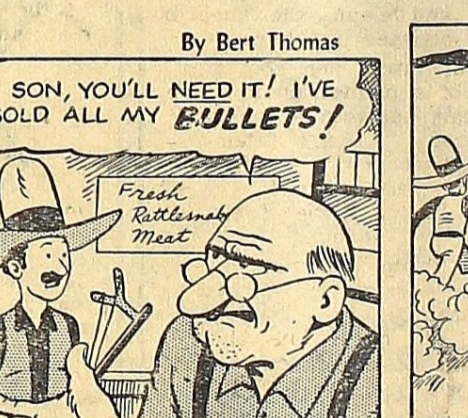

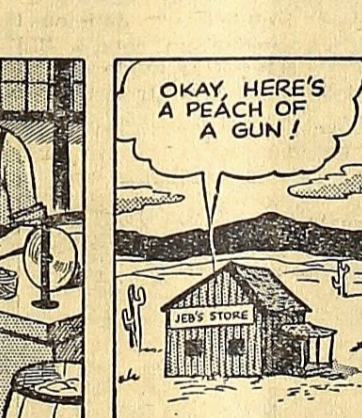

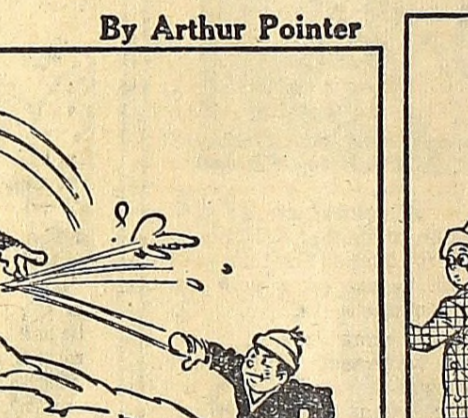

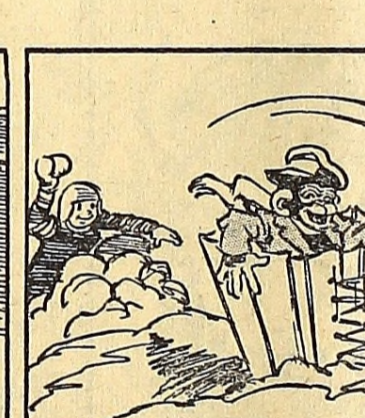

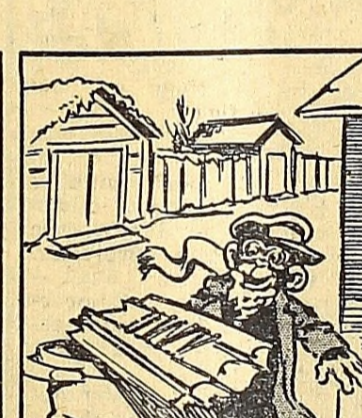

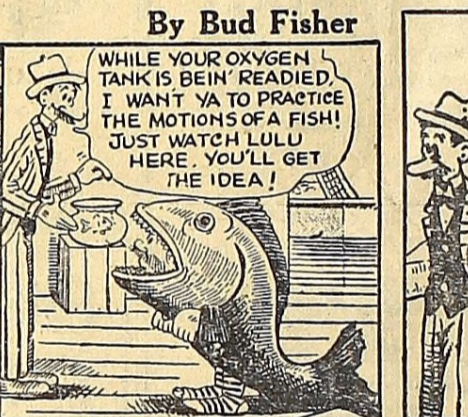

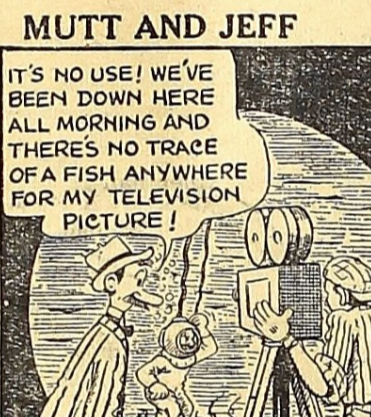

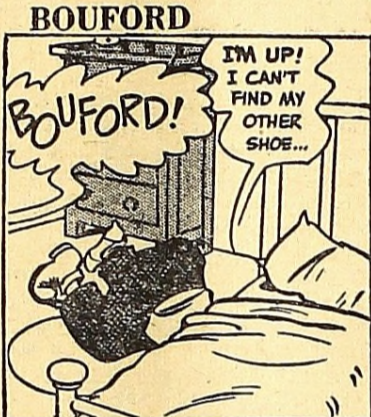

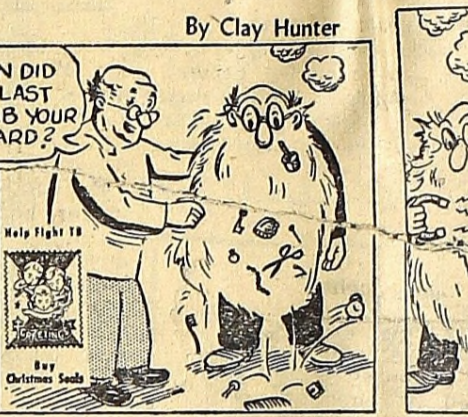

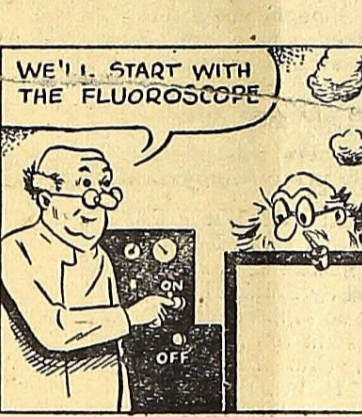

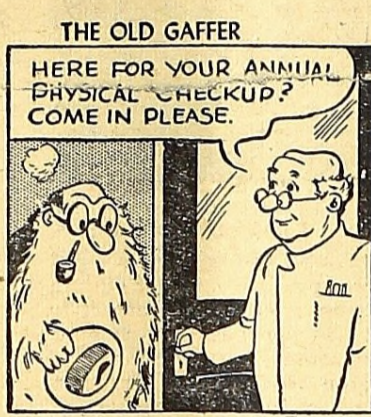

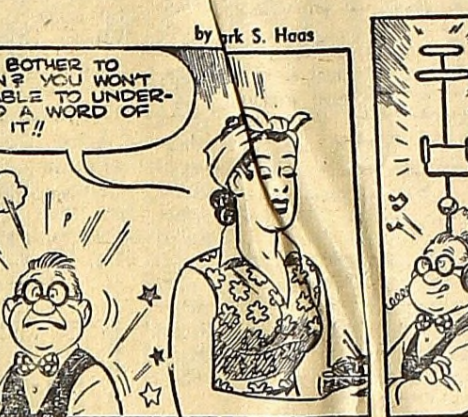

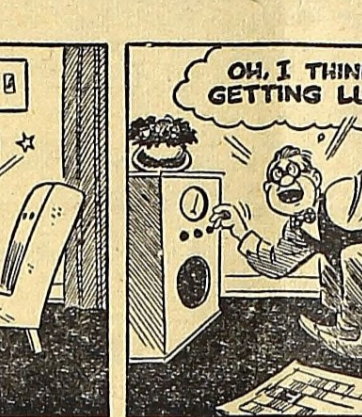

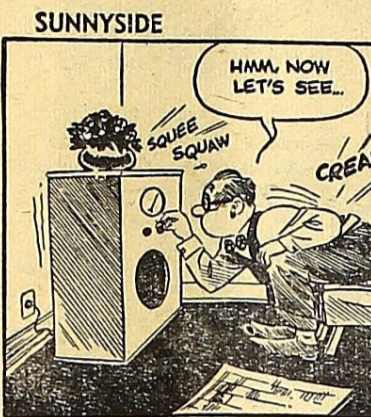

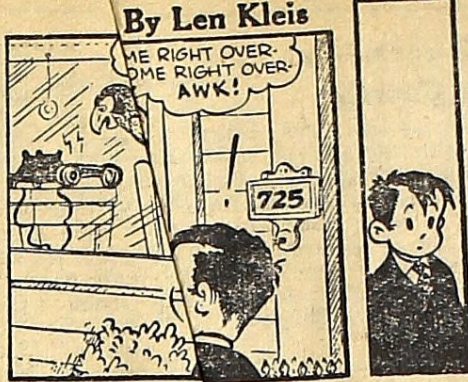

Swedish King's Title Is Centuries Old, and Wrong

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—The title that Swedish kings have used for centuries is wrong.

The title of "King of the Swedes, the Goths and the Wends," dates to the 16th century.

King Gustav I, first of Sweden's modern kings, took that title because the names of two ancient parts of Sweden were "Svealand" and "Goetaland", or the land of the Swedes and the land of the Goths.

The Wends were a Slavic people of eastern Germany in the middle ages and there was a popular misconception in Sweden that the Swedes once had conquered them, which they hadn't. But the title remains.

Household Hints

If a screw cap is tight grasp it with a piece of coarse sandpaper and twist. Or slip a wide rubber band around the lid. Or put the cap of the jar or bottle in an open door jamb. Make the door tight enough to make it tighten up or the cap, and then twist the bottle. Go easy with the door, though, or you may break the glass container.

When a bottle is emptied, keep the cork. Such corks are handy to use when partially filled bottles lose their stoppers, especially when they're kept in the refrigerator. Making corks out of rolled up paper wads allows air and food odors to get into the bottles, and won't prevent spilling if the bottle is tipped over.

To preserve the rubber gasket around the refrigerator door, and to kill the rubbery odor that sometimes arises from it, dip a cloth in a solution of two teaspoonsful of bicarbonate of soda and a glass of warm water, and wash the gasket with that. When it's thoroughly dry, coat it with talcum powder or cornstarch.

Dedicate Unusual Research Tower

RACINE, WIS.—One of the world's most extraordinary research laboratories was dedicated in Racine, Wis., by S. C. Johnson & Son, Inc., makers of wax products for home, industry and agriculture. Designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, the 153-foot high building has no first floor, no supports directly under the side wall. A central core anchored 54 feet in the ground carries the weight. Twenty-one miles of glass tubing circle the building between bands of brick. The company president, H. F. Johnson, right, is here pointing out the features of the building to Dr. Roger Adams, head of the University of Illinois Chemistry Department, who was principal dedication speaker.

LAYING HENS NEED WATER NOT ICE SAYS AGENT CLARK

Laying hens need plenty of water—but not ice, says Harold R. Clark, the county agricultural agent.

He advises farmers to inspect their poultry house watering system. Much needless work can be eliminated by a few simple changes.

The agent recommends an insulated water pail for farmers who have to carry water. This is simply a box large enough to contain a pail. The box is large enough to allow straw, saw dust or some other insulation to be put around the pail. Some kind of top should be provided to keep water out of the insulation when birds drink. A perch or running board, from which hens can drink, is nailed to the box and a cover with holes through which birds can drink completes the insulated pail.

A fully automatic system can be made with drain pipes, float valves and heating cable. Poultry raisers save themselves trouble, time and money if they observe these points when they ice-proof an automatic system:

Use flexible heating cable of high resistance and wath waterproof covering.

Use enough cable and tape it to the water pipe. Length of cable will depend upon the length of pipe, number of lateral connections, number of birds housed, and minimum outdoor temperatures.

Use a thermostatic switch to automatically turn on electricity when temperatures fall to near freezing.

Lonely Isles

The remote British islands of Tristan da Cunha, in the far South Atlantic, are known as the "lonely isles." World War I was nearly over before news of its outbreak reached inhabitants of these islands. Years passed before the islanders heard of the armistice. By contrast it was through World War II that Tristan da Cunha began losing its isolation. In 1942, a secret meteorological and radio station was set up there by the British royal navy and the South African air force.
