Russia has definite plans of eventually controlling the world. She is in on hurry because she has time on her hands. He stated that the farm business in 1951 would be good. Prices of farm products will be handicapped with shortage of help and implements. Generally, it is a good time to buy farm land, and if selling one should consider the aspect of future values.

Restrictions Asked on 'Baiting Deer'

Supervisors End Three Day January Session Wednesday

At nearly the end, Wednesday afternoon of the three-day January session of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors, four resolutions were passed asking the state legislature to make changes in game conservation laws.

The first asked for legislation authorizing the Conservation Department authority to control deer herds in conformity with local conditions. Severe winters, deep snow and inadequate food supply often cause countless deer to perish. This discretionary power to be used only in those counties where the boards of supervisors had requested such control by resolution.

The second asked that legislation be passed which would prohibit hunting of game on state and county highways.

The third asked that the immediate area be posted for 30 days when the Conservation Department planted trout in streams during fishing season.

The fourth asked that legislation be passed to prohibit the feeding of deer immediately previous and during deer hunting season. The resolution stated that some deer ranches and hunting clubs made feeding a practice for the sole purpose of 'baiting' deer to their particular areas, resulting in a complete lack of available game for a majority of hunters.

The resolutions were written after considerable study had been made of the problems during the session.

Reports of clerk, treasurer, register of deeds and county agricultural agent were read and approved by the board at this session. All money in the courthouse building fund was authorized to be invested in government bonds.

Transportation was allowed the county nurse for taking blood donors to Ann Arbor.

Supervisor Harry Westrich gave a report on the progress made by the Tawas Hospital Association. (Continued No. 4, Back Page)

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Reds Launch Offensive in Korea; U.S. Works on Japanese Treaty; Army Calls for 80,000 Draftees

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

North Korean and Chinese Communist troops concentrated for another blow on U. N. forces below the 38th parallel. Chief concentration points were at Yonchon (1) and northwest of Seoul (2). A Red attack (3) northeast of Kumchong, pushed back the South Koreans more than a mile. Red patrols were near Kaesong (4). South Korean troops fought a preliminary battle near Hyon (5). Reds were also massed north of Chunchon (6).

KOREA:

The Story Repeated

The story of the Korean battle seemed to repeat itself. Forced to withdraw from North Korea after pushing the Communists out of South Korea and almost to the Manchurian border, U. N. forces received the full force of Chinese and North Korean troops as they plunged south of the 38th parallel.

U. N. troops gave ground and further retreats appear in store for them. The main feature of the attack was the overwhelming numbers of Chinese and North Koreans rushing U. N. defense positions. At least 200,000 men were thrown into the first attack.

The Communist plan for the conquest of South Korea was to separate the eastern and western sections of the defense line, isolate them and destroy them at will.

Meanwhile, observers who recently returned from Korea report the morale of the soldier at the battlefront much better than that on the homefront.

Americans at home were pictured as frightened, frustrated, and swept with recurrent waves of defeatism and despair. The man in battle were pictured as neither frightened nor discouraged.

There was no criticism of American leadership in the war or criticism of the fighting ability of any nation's troops.

ARMY:

New Call Issued

The army called for 80,000 draftees in March, raising total draft quotas to 450,000 since the Korean outbreak. Eighty thousand had already been scheduled for January and February.

With the armed forces building toward a manpower total of some 3½ million as rapidly as possible, the army anticipated a combat strength equivalent to 24 divisions when the current expansion goal is reached next July 1.

An infantry division numbers 18,000 men and is a self contained fighting unit with supporting weapons such as tanks and artillery. At the beginning of the Korean conflict the army had 10 divisions, only one at full war strength. It had 11 regular divisions, with four national guard divisions and two guard regimental combat teams (usually 5,000 men) as of January 1.

Selective Service officials reported 217,000 men had been delivered to the army up to January.

TAXES:

Higher in 1951

With the new congress in session, President Truman was expected to ask for more taxes at any moment to meet the mounting cost of the nation's defense.

Although the size of the new tax program was not disclosed, one administration official reported the President would try to put the government as nearly as possible on a pay-as-you-go basis. The program, however, will include higher personal and corporation levies.

It seems unlikely that a new tax program can bring expenditures and receipts into balance because spending for the fiscal year 1951 may reach $75,000,000,000. The present tax program, including the excess-profits tax, will yield revenues of only about $45,000,000,000.

MARCH OF DIMES

March of Dimes Fund Campaign

The 1951 March of Dimes campaign began Monday throughout the United States as a massive attack against the only epidemic disease known to man that is still on the increase—a disease that in the last three years has stricken more than 100,000 people and cost the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis an unprecedented $58,000,000 for patient-care alone.

In 1950 March of Dimes funds had assisted in some measure more than 54,000 polio victims at a cost of $20,000,000. The national fund at the moment is at the lowest point it has been since the organization was founded in 1938, officials reported.

The foundation reported four out of every five of the stricken needed—and received—financial assistance.

Generals Wait

Maj. Gen. Doyle O. Hickey, chief of staff, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur are shown keeping a somber vigil at Haneda airport for the arrival of the body of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, late commanding officer of the 8th U. S. Army, who was killed in an accident in Korea. Walker's body was being sent to the U. S. for burial in Arlington cemetery.

JAPAN:

U.S. Plans Treaty

The United States made it clear, if in a round-about way, that Japan will get a peace treaty. The U. S. handed Russia a note that said in effect that this country was going to negotiate a treaty—without Russia if necessary.

The important item in the note from the American viewpoint was the paragraph that stated: The United States believes it is reasonable for Japan, upon conclusion of a peace treaty, to make arrangements for self-defense which could "include provision for the stationing in Japan of troops of the United States and other nations."

In other words, the U. S. made it clear that Japan would be allowed to rearm and that this country has every intention of keeping Japan in the democratic column.

The note let fly with a haymaker by stating that rearming Japan was necessary because "irresponsible militarism has not been driven from the world."

The note told the Russians that the Formosa question must be settled in the light of the U. N. charter, "the obligation of which prevail over any other international agreement."

This appeared to be a diplomatic way of telling the Soviet that the U. S. does not consider itself bound to hand Formosa over to the Chinese Communists whose armies are fighting U. N. forces in Korea.

CASUALTIES:

Total at 38,325

As of January 1 the army had announced casualties in the Korean fighting totaling 38,325. That was an increase of almost 2,000 over the previous casualty list.

The number of dead mounted to 6,432, including 5,742 killed in action. 684 who died of wounds and six dead among those who had been reported missing.

There were 27,012 wounded, including the 684 who later died of their injuries. The number of missing were listed at 4,753.

Of the total, the army suffered 32,066 casualties, the marines 5,524, the navy 429 and the air force 306.

BIG FOUR:

Conference Plan

Some weeks ago the United States, Britain, and France proposed that another big four conference be held in an effort to settle the many pressing world problems. After long weeks of waiting, the Russians replied.

Officials would not reveal just what was in the Kremlin reply. It was evident, however, that the western powers were disappointed and that a big-four meeting was not closer than when it was first proposed.

It was believed that Russia was not prepared for any unqualified discussion of the many galling points of friction between the western democracies and the totalitarian Soviet system.

It was also rumored that Russia wanted the western powers to accept the Prague declaration which served notice that the Communist led nations of eastern Europe would not tolerate rearmament of western Germany.

Russia was also reported to have taken the stand that Communist China would be represented before any discussion of the explosive situation in the far east could be undertaken.

No one in his right mind could believe that the United States would accept any of the conditions. Thus the conclusion that a big four conference is not likely in the near future.

ACHESON:

Production and Faith

Secretary of State Dean Acheson gave the United States a prescription for 1951—"production and faith."

Acheson, in a radio interview, said we have the power to retaliate against any aggressor who attacks us and our friends and that power cannot be overlooked.

"We expect to make ourselves respected and to deter aggression," he said.

"The prescription which we need today is the prescription which Mr. Churchill gave to England in 1940—blood and toil, sweat and tears—and may I add, faith—faith in our country, faith that the great task before us can be done and that it will be done."

Acheson's statement was remarkable in that he echoed a growing belief throughout the country. Americans who had been described as frightened and frustrated in 1950 seemed to be settling down quickly to a new year of sacrifice and determination.

The last few months have been called America's darkest hour, but they may be even darker before the United States is fully rearmed and ready to face its enemies.

TRAFFIC:

A War at Home

While American troops were being killed in Korea, Americans at home slaughtered themselves on the highways during the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Complete tabulations were not complete for the New Year's holiday, but during Christmas there were 724 violent deaths in the United States, 545 of them in traffic mishaps.

The accident rate was more than 100 above the number of persons killed in traffic accidents during the 1949 Christmas holiday. The 1950 toll almost equaled the record of 555 set in 1938.

In the city of Los Angeles alone there were 11 traffic deaths, 900 injured, and a total of 1,084 accidents. It was significant to note that police in that city charged 352 persons with driving while intoxicated and another 1,222 were charged with drunkenness.

Only one state—South Dakota—escaped without a single reported fatality that could be attributed to the Christmas observance.

Witness

Mrs. Ann Moos Remington, ex-wife of former commerce official, William Remington, testified in federal court that seven years ago Remington turned over "top secret" explosives formulas to confessed spy Elizabeth Bentley for transmission to Russia. Remington is being tried for perjury.

MARSHALL:

Let's Go Easy

Secretary of Defense George Marshall warned the nation in the closing days of 1950 to go easy, that "a too rapid attempt at mobilization was apt to delay the ultimate speed" of rearmament.

Marshall said that there is "a tendency to feel that the more rapidly we appropriate billions and the more rapidly men are called into service, the safer we will be." That isn't true, he explained.

PRISON INMATES HELP FIGHT JAIL BLAZE . . . Prisoners of a West Berlin youth prison help firemen subdue a fire that swept the prison recently. American and German firefighters got the fire under control before serious damage was done. Authorities believe that the fire may have been deliberately started and have begun investigations to determine the cause of the blaze. They have commended the cooperation of the prisoner firefighters and their willingness to save their prison from the flames when they might have used the confusion to have escaped from the walls that held them.

EISENHOWER PICKETED . . . The Denver home where General and Mrs. Eisenhower spent Christmas with Mrs. Eisenhower's parents was picketed by three Denver housewives who said their action was merely in protest against rearming Germany. They claimed great respect for the general. They identified themselves as (left to right) Mrs. Lee Wood, Mrs. Bailey Lindenauer and Mrs. Susan Clute. Three Denver housewives haven't been the only ones voicing opposition to German rearmament. France has repeatedly held up Atlantic pact conferences protesting German rearmament, and the Germans themselves, in a recent election, indicated strong dislike for bearing arms.

COMPOSER PARDONED . . . Frank M. Grandstaff, convict composer of "Big Spring Cantata," embraces Mrs. Mildred McConkney, whom he will marry. He is a free man, having been pardoned by Gov. Gordon Browning of Tennessee. After his release from prison, Grandstaff left immediately for Fort Wayne, Ind., where he was met at the municipal airport by Mrs. McConkney. About a year ago, Grandstaff was granted freedom to direct the playing of his composition.

TO AID OF CONVOY IN A HOT SPOT . . . The advance man of a third division patrol going to the aid of a convoy of trucks, halftracks and tanks pinned down by enemy fire keeps under cover while he surveys the situation and prepares to report back. The convoy is in the background under rifle and mortar fire from the hills. This action took place while American troops around Seoul awaited a major Communist onslaught from Chinese troops.

JUST LIKE A-BOMB . . . Column of smoke rising from Korean hill is reminiscent of A-bomb explosion before the mushroom blossoms. Actually, it is a burst from a mortar shell that fell in front of U. N. positions in the Korean battle zone.

NEW AMBASSADOR . . . The U. S. is resuming full diplomatic relations with Spain and President Truman is sending Stanton Griffis as this country's ambassador to Franco. He is former U.S. envoy to Argentina.

Success of Vaccine For TB Attested By Exhibit for AMA

CLEVELAND, O.—Dr. Andrew F. Ivy of the Chicago Research Foundation demonstrated in an exhibit before the American Medical Association recently how vaccination against tuberculosis, long a subject of much controversy among specialists, is proving itself all over the world.

The type of vaccination, known as BCG, after the French scientists by whom it was devised, now is being tested by the public health service.

In several well controlled studies the research institute asserts, "it has been found that BCG vaccination decreases by approximately 80 per cent those who contract the disease and who die of it."

The principle, it was explained, is very similar to that of smallpox vaccination. The vaccine is made from an organism which produces a mild form of cattle tuberculosis. It is harmless to man but sets up a resistance to more virulent types of the bacillus.

More than 50 million vaccinations have been performed since 1921. There has never been a proved case, it is asserted, of tuberculosis developing as a result of the vaccination.

A committee of tuberculosis experts of the world health organization, a U. N. affiliate, has recommended that between 15 and 20 million persons all over the world be vaccinated in the next few years. Thirty million have already been vaccinated in Japan and other millions in Europe.

The disease, it is stressed, still kills about 50,000 Americans each year. There are now about one million active cases in the country and it still is the leading cause of death from disease between the ages of 15 and 44.

Experts Are Seeking Ways To Increase Farm Workers

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A shortage of farm hands in 1951 has been predicted by some agriculture experts. As a result, congressional farm officials called on the government to attempt to find ways of increasing the number for laborers in 1951.

A number of congressional leaders want to "cut" immigration "red tape" to make it easier to bring foreign workers into the country for season employment as one means of meeting the shortage.

Allowance Will Aid Child To Develop Responsibility

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Dr. Luther E. Woodward, consultant for the National Association of Mental Health, believes it is important for children to have a regular allowance. He says it helps children to develop a sense of responsibility.

"It is important for children to assume growing responsibility in the family circle, and to have a feeling of confidence in their own ability to make decisions and try new things. They should learn to know the value of money, and be responsible for the consequences if they spend the whole allowance the first day and have no money the rest of the week," he said.

He suggested that allowance be expanded as a child grows into teens so that it would include certain clothing.

City parents, he pointed out, have greater difficulty developing a sense of responsibility in children than farm families, where a child learns to work along with the father or mother at an age when the city child is being completely cared for.

Telephone Prattling Teen Agers Almost Cause Tragedy

MADISON, Wis.—The kind of telephone manners not to have was demonstrated recently in Madison. Two prattling teen agers almost cost a 6-year-old boy his life.

The boy's mother said her son started hemorrhaging violently as result of a recent tonsillectomy. She tried to call the doctor and police, but two young girls were monopolizing the party line.

"I explained it was an emergency, but they laughed and kept on talking," she said. "When they finally stopped talking and I tried to dial, they would dial, too. It took half an hour for me to reach the doctor."

The boy had a narrow escape, but doctors say he is all right now.

Pawn Shop Offers Violinist $10 For His Stradivarius

OMAHA, Neb.—An anxious man, apparently down on his luck, entered Isadore Goldstein's pawnshop and handed him a violin.

"How much will you give me? I gotta get to Pittsburgh," the man said.

"Ten dollars," said Goldstein.

The "customer" put the violin back in the case and stalked out. Then Goldstein learned that he was violinist David Rubinoff and the violin was a Stradivarius valued at $100,000.

A reporter who was on hand to see what happened explained to the startled Goldstein that the whole thing was a gag thought up by another newspaperman.

UNITED DEFENSE FUND

Organization Formed to Aid Financing of Welfare Services

The United Defense Fund, Inc. a new organization for financing of national health and welfare services made necessary by the defense effort, got under way recently with an appeal to the Community Chests in more than 1200 cities for funds to support a program of services in 1951.

A federation of national agencies and local community interests for the joint financing of national defense services in the field of health and welfare, the United Defense Fund, Inc. offered to local communities a "single-package" appeal for support of national defense health and welfare services for both civilians and the armed forces.

BING CROSBY gives another performance as himself in "Mr. Music"; box office reports of the past prove that the movie-going public is satisfied if he sings and cracks jokes, so he does it once more. The picture is like a gaily wrapped present, containing plenty of entertainment. Ruth Hussey and

BING CROSBY

Charles Coburn head the list of excellent actors, and the list of guest stars is impressive including Dorothy Kirsten, Groucho Marx, and Peggy Lee. Nancy Olson carries the burden of the love story—never very important in a Crosby picture, of course. There is plenty of nice music and good dancing; for good entertainment, take "Mr. Music."

It had to happen some time, of course; too bad Ralph Edwards was the victim. He had filmed his Christmas "Truth or Consequences" television show, on which he really shot the works. So—the wrong can of film was sent by the agency to CBS-TV in New York, and was released, the week before Christmas, instead of the show scheduled for that date, on stations on the cable from New York.

There were divided openings when it was learned that NBC was negotiating an exclusive, long-term contract with Margaret Truman for radio and television appearances, receiving nearly $4,000 for each performance. Some people thought NBC might better spend the money in some other way, others felt her appearance recently on "The Big Show" really justified the deal.

Lauren Bacall has a way of getting what she wants. She wanted Humphrey Bogart, and got him. She has her screen career, her baby. Recently she signed to make one picture a year for 20th Century-Fox, but first she will accompany Bogart when he goes to Europe to co-star in "African Queen" with Katharine Hepburn, for his own independent company. That's very nice planning.

The organization was formed to meet the frequently expressed desire of local Community Chests that appeals to them from national agencies, especially in time of special need, be properly screened, budgeted, and united in their financing—just as is the Community Chest itself. Other reasons for the unification of these national agency services are: (1) a desire not to increase the number of appeals now being made to the American public; (2) a wish to join forces in carrying out needed services economically, efficiently and effectively.

The organization of the United Defense Fund, Inc. was preceded by a series of conferences which included the national agencies and groups concerned and representatives of Community Chests. As a result of these sessions a planning and advisory committee on national emergency services was jointly appointed by Community Chests and Councils of America, Inc. and the National Social Welfare Assembly, Inc. to consider what services were needed and how they should be organized and financed. This committee made a series of recommendations, one of which requested the two sponsoring organizations to set up a national fund which could finance such services and approach the country through a single package of essential services. This recommendation was considered and approved by the governing bodies of both organizations and authorization was given to proceed with the fund organization.

E. A. Roberts, president of Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, Philadelphia, Pa., was elected president at the first meeting of the Fund November 28, in New York City.

Charles H. Watts, chairman of board, Beneficial Management Corporation, Newark, N.J., was elected treasurer. William H. Bulkeley, vice president of Kellogg and Bulkeley, Lithographic Division, Connecticut Printers Incorporated, Hartford, Conn., was elected secretary.

SERVICES TO RECEIUE support from the United Defense Fund, Inc. fall into two groups at present.

The first group is concerned with services to the armed forces and will be conducted by: American Social Hygiene Association; Associated Services for the Armed Forces (which includes Jewish Welfare Board, National Catholic Community Services and YMCA); National Recreation Association; National Travelers' Aid Association and Y.W.C.A.

The second group will provide services to communities congested by the national defense effort. These services will be conducted by: Child Welfare League of America; National Organization for Public Health Nursing; National Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Centers; National Urban League; National Catholic Community Service; National Recreation Association and Y.W.C.A.

The United Defense Fund, Inc. will raise funds through the "united campaign" approach wherever possible and will seek support from the nation's Community Chests on a share and share alike basis, community quotas being based on the recommendations of the National Quota Committee. Funds will also be sought in New York City.

The national campaign goal for the United Defense Fund, Inc. as approved by the National Budget Committee for services to be given in 1951 is $7,399,329. Community Chests throughout the country will be asked to provide $6,058,101 of this goal with the remaining $1,341,228 to be secured from New York City and other non-Chest sources.

ROOMS FOR RENT

By Dorothy Boys Kilian

"HONEY, YOU DON'T really think you can rent these rooms for the summer, do you?" Dick Shipley, still in his greasy coveralls, frowned as he found his pretty young wife sitting on the wide-board floor in an upstairs bedroom, mending a faded blue rag rug.

Margaret stood up slowly and planted a kiss on his smudgy cheek. "We want to have a nice crib and other things for our first baby, don't we, darling? And that takes money—more than we've got to spend."

"Maybe I could take another job in the evenings, or something."

"Why, Dick, you're exhausted when you come home from the garage; and lots of times you don't even get here until eight or nine."

"Yeh, I know, Startling a new business means no money and no free time for a while."

"Well, this house your mother left us has more rooms than we need for ourselves."

"But just look at the furniture!" Dick waved an arm at the room in general. "You sit in that wooden rocker for ten minutes and those slats make a prison bar pattern on your back. The bed's so high you need a Pullman ladder to climb into it, and that wash stand—"

"I think it's all kind of quaint," Margaret said placidly. Dick snorted. "People on vacation want to be comfortable, not quaint. And besides, think where we're located; practically out in the country, the opposite end of town from the lake and all the amusements."

"It's nice and quiet, though," Margaret insisted.

Dick shrugged. "I give up. But I hate to see you slaving away up here."

"Margaret stood up slowly, put her arms around his neck and planted a kiss on his smudgy cheek."

"Oh well, the doctor says I need plenty of exercise," Margaret said soothingly.

"There's the doorbell, I'll get it." Dick, still looking troubled, started downstairs.

A portly, pink-cheeked old gentleman stood on the porch. "This is the Shipley residence?"

"Why, yes," Dick looked goggle-eyed past him to the long shiny black car parked in front of the house.

"May I speak to Mrs. Shipley?"

"I'm Mrs. Shipley," Margaret called from the top of the stairs.

"I am Mr. Frost of Big Rapids. You have some rooms for rent?"

"Yes. Please come up and I'll show them to you," Margaret answered.

DICK stayed downstairs and listened glumly to the footsteps overhead. He winced as he heard the bathroom door squeak and imagined Mr. Frost's first view of the old tub standing high on its claw feet.

There was a lengthy murmur of voices in the upstairs hall. Then down came Mr. Frost, a hand on Margaret's elbow, and she accepting the little attention as the most natural thing in the world.

"Well, it's all settled then," Mr. Frost was saying. "We'll take the two rooms for the summer. 'Yes sir, this advertisement hit us in the right spot.' He fingered a little piece of newspaper.

"Advertisement?" Dick stared at the paper.

"Your wife used a good psychological trick, didn't she?" Mr. Frost chuckled. "Playing down a thing so much that it excited your curiosity."

"Uh, yes," Dick laughed weakly. "Let's see that again," he said, trying not to look too astonished.

"For rent," he read, "for the summer season, two rooms in ancient frame house, unfashionable part of resort village, very few modern conveniences, no recreational facilities nearby. Mrs. Richard Shipley, 1203 Stanley Road, Shevagen, Michigan."

"Yes," Mr. Frost said. "My wife saw that and said it made her think of a Currier and Ives print—"

He handed Margaret some bills, put on his grey homburg, and stepped briskly out the door.

Dick turned quickly toward Margaret. "Your greatest triumph, honey, is that you've managed not to look triumphant."

The Good Must Fight

Lesson for January 21, 1951

YOU WOULD think that if ever there arrived on this planet a really good person, he would be popular with everybody. People are tired of meanness, they are sick of being lied to and cheated. They are tired of the sins of others, even tired of their own. So if a really good person should appear, one in whom was no shadow, completely transparent to the Eternal Light, wouldn't everyone flock to him, wouldn't he have the human race in the palm of his hand, as it were, in a short time?

THE ANSWER is No. It is not well to be too optimistic about human nature. As a matter of fact, some of the best persons history has known met some of the bitterest opposition. Indeed, when One came who was completely good, whose life was all light and no shadow, he was no better treated and no more warmly welcomed than less good persons have been.

Jesus Christ had his enemies, strong and well-organized. The number of those who believed in him was comparatively small; the number who did not believe or ignored him altogether, was enormous.

The history of mankind is the history of a war, the age long war between good and evil, between God and his enemies. The story of Jesus is one chapter in this history, the most important by far, but by no means the first one or the last.

Why Was Jesus Hated?

THE READER should examine the record in the Gospels and try to think for himself who opposed Jesus, and why they did so. One striking fact is that Jesus' enemies were not what we call the "lower classes," much less the "criminal classes." His enemies were rather from out of the top drawer, as we might say. They were the financial, social and religious leaders of his time. They finally got him executed as a criminal.

If there had never been any one to contradict the records of the Sanhedrin, that high court of Jerusalem, and those records had become recognized as the truth, Jesus would have gone down in history, if remembered at all, as a troublemaker, a lawless and worthless man, whose execution was a protection to society.

Why were these leading men, Jesus' "distinguished" contemporaries, so wrong about Jesus?

"As he is, so are we..."

THE READER should think this out for himself. One reason can be mentioned here: It is very easy for wrong to be so long accepted and so strongly entrenched that it is universally taken for right. Then when the right comes along, especially when in the form of an idea suggested by some one not of the upper crust, it actually seems to be wrong. People kept long in a dark room find light painful!

Any one who tries to follow Jesus will find himself up against the same sort of opposition.

Any one who proposes to live as Jesus lived, or to change our accustomed patterns of society in the direction which Jesus pointed out, will be called (as he was) a crackpot, a dreamer, an impractical fellow who does not know enough to go in when it rains.

Our Divine Alliance

CONSIDER one example of this. A Christian who makes up his mind to dedicate his body a "living sacrifice" to God, and therefore not to handicap himself with the drug of alcohol, is certain, in many places, to be considered a sort of crank. It is not that people will laugh at him, though they will: people will be angry with him for his stand. They will do all they can to make him break his pledge.

Instead of admiring a clean and free life, many people are not content unless they can soil that cleanness and break down that freedom. So to stand for Christ in any aspect of life is not easy. But we need to remember we fight no lonely fight; our cause is not forlorn.

Just as Jesus in Galilee was always on the side of those who were beaten and battered by sin and evil, but still fighting, so now the ever-living Christ is always on the side of those who in their hearts desire good and not evil, cleanness and not dirt, truth and not lies.

Al Didn't Go for Soft-Soap, but He Was an Easy Touch

By BILLY ROSE

In Miami some winters ago, Al Jolson stopped in for a quick one at the bar of the hotel where he was staying, and as if on cue the juke box began playing his recording of "Sonny Boy." When the machine clicked off, a plainish-looking woman walked up to the bartender and said, "Lend me a couple of nickels, Mac. I can't get enough of that song."

Jolson pushed a quarter down the bar. "The next five are on me," he said.

The woman looked over and her face lit up. "Why—you're Mr. Jolson!" she said.

"Sure," said Al, "and you knew it; the minute I came in. Wh a t' w the idea of the corny routine, sister?"

"I just had to talk to you," said the woman. "I've been sitting here all afternoon hoping you'd drop in."

Billy Rose

"WHAT'S ON YOUR mind?" asked Al.

"My husband is in a jam," said the woman. "He's the desk clerk in this hotel and he was on duty the other night when you checked in and left an envelope full of money to be put in the safe. Yesterday he heard about a sure thing at Hialeah and took a thousand dollars out of your envelope and bet it on the horses to win. Well, the 'sure thing' came in fifth."

"Has your husband ever dipped into the safe before?" asked Jolson.

"Never," said the woman. "In fact, he never bet on a horse until yesterday—and the only reason he did it was because our son is getting out of high school next June and we've got our hearts set on sending him to college."

"And you thought that by playing 'Sonny Boy' you could soft-soap me out of a thousand bucks?" said Al. "Well, I don't soft-soap that easy. Go and get your husband—you're both coming with me."

A FEW MINUTES later the couple were in a cab with Jolson, sure it was all over but the fingerprinting, but instead of heading for a police station the hackie drove out to the South Miami dog track. There Al led the husband to a pari-mutuel window and handed him five one-hundred-dollar bills.

"This makes fifteen hundred you owe me," he said. "Bet the five C's on No. 4 to win—I got a tip on him this morning."

No. 4 ran so fast it darn near caught up with the mechanical rabbit, and when the clerk cashed in his tickets he was handed $3,000—the odds had been five-to-one.

"I'll take my fifteen hundred," said Al, "and let this be a lesson to you. Never bet the horses—if you go it a bet, bet the dogs."

Last Fall, after a guest broadcast in New York, Jolson was buttonholed by a young man as he was leaving the studio.

"I don't suppose you remember," he said to Al, "but several years ago you took my folks out to the Miami dog track and helped them win fifteen hundred dollars. That money made it possible for me to go to college."

"Sure, I remember," said Al, "and when you write your mom tell her she still owes me some dough."

"I never heard about it," said the young man. "How much was it?"

"A quarter," said Jolson. "She was playing a juke box and ran out of change."

Boy Scouts Mark 41st Anniversary

Official poster marking the 41st birthday.

President Truman will greet 12 outstanding Boy Scouts in the White House on Feb. 6 opening the 41st anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. Boy Scout Week will be observed Feb. 6 to 12 in every part of the nation by more than 2,750,000 boys and adult leaders. "Strengthen Liberty" is the birthday theme.

At "birthday parties" during Boy Scout Week throughout the nation each member will pledge himself to the Scout Oath or Promise. In each community representatives of the churches, schools, government and business will observe the anniversary with their Scouts. At Unit "open house" parties, parents, relatives and members of the chartering institutions will hear a review of the year's program features, service projects and membership gains.

During Boy Scout Week members of the organization will develop window displays and demonstrations on civil defense and conservation. Each member will inspect his home to make certain no hazards exist. Surprise mobilizations will test Scout efficiency should emergencies arise. Since 1910 more than 17,500,000 boys and men have been identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

Dimes Underwrite War Against Polio

Dimes and dollars being contributed to the March of Dimes; this January will underwrite essential programs of scientific research, professional education and emergency epidemic aid, in addition to providing assistance for individual polio patients who need it.

Half the funds remain with the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This money is used to pay for that part of patient care which families cannot afford and, in emergencies, to supplement the national epidemic aid fund for patient care wherever needed.

This assistance is offered to all persons in need, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

The other half is sent to National Headquarters. It is used to maintain the most extensive research program ever revealed by a voluntary agency at a single disease, to underwrite the education of highly-skilled and much-needed professional personnel, and to provide epidemic aid to outposts in time of emergency. Epidemic aid is available to any of the National Foundation's 2,822 chapters, when their local treasuries are wiped out during epidemics. By the end of October last year the National Foundation had sent more than $7,000,000 to local chapters, with many millions more requested that will be sent after the 1951 March of Dimes.

Brucellosis in Humans
Brucellosis—mainly contracted by human beings from swine and cattle—first became a reportable human disease in 1923, when less than 100 cases were reported in the United States. In 1947 more than 6,000 human cases were reported. Approximately 35 per cent of human cases are caused by eating infected food products of animal origin. Such cases can be prevented by proper pasteurizing of milk products and cooking of all meat.

Girl Blazes Trail Through Woods

How a telephone operator conducted a seemingly impossible search for the parents of a young Detroit woman is described in a letter recently received by Michigan Bell. The letter, written by Mrs. Frank J. Plaia, follows:

"This was an urgent call, involving the loss of a family friend. Although my parents had no telephone on their cottage, I knew of one at a store nearby. However, I knew no more than that, and the operator (Miss Samardich) was really wonderful in trying to get my call through. She had to call several places before locating the particular store. Then, when no one answered at the store, she was able to locate another telephone nearby.

"I greatly appreciated her consideration, and thought you should know what a commendable job she did. It is fine to know that you have such courteous, capable people to help telephone users."

The summer cottage of N. C. Mente, Detroit businessman, on the shores of White Lake near Milford, Mich. It was here that the Mentes were staying, out of telephone touch when their daughter tried to reach them.

Mrs. Frank J. Plaia, of Detroit, who urgently needed to talk to her parents.

Miss Dolores H. Samardich, Michigan Bell toll operator in Detroit, whose efforts are described in Mrs. Plaia's letter.

Remove Fresh Stain
The fresher the stain, the easier it is to remove. How to remove it depends upon the type of stain, the color and kind of fabric, and washability of the garment. Here are some suggestions: For egg and neat juice stains—scrape excess food off with a dull knife, then soak stain in cold water. Wash in warm suds. Hot water will set the stain if not first treated with cold water.

OUTLAW GUNS BY E. E. HALLERAN

THE STORY SO FAR: Dan Frazer, undercover government agent, and Helen Bartell arrive in the border town of Mesa Verde on the stagecoach. A third passenger on the stage is a dead man who was killed by bandits.

CHAPTER IV

"And what would ye be wantin'?" He smiled at the brogue. "Sure and it's a bed I'm after," he told her. "Would ye be havin' one fer a man what's come a long ways?"

Before she could reply a burly man stuck his head into the dining room, his voice practically a snarl as he addressed the girl. "Sall! Stop your damned folly and git on with yer work. Git them dishes into the kitchen."

Emery Informs Frazer Of His Suspicions

"And who might you be?" he demanded abruptly. The girl hastened to reply. "This is the man who was on the stage this afternoon, Father."

Frazer Reviews Problems In Mesa Verde Mystery

"Did he ever work this part of the country?" "Not that I know of. I knew him in Kansas."

Frazer Asks Marshal To Investigate Gale

"What's the government's angle?" Emery inquired. "The usual thing. They don't want trouble with a friendly nation."

More alarming than the complicated nature of the mess, however, was the fact that someone had already committed a murder to forestall government interference.

MIRROR Of Your MIND Can You Make A Fresh Start? By Lawrence Gould

Answer: No. The "1951" on the calendar does not make you a different person from what you were yesterday, or alter the fact that you will be the same person tomorrow.

Licenses, Training Urged For Sitters

State legislatures and city councils throughout the nation, have been petitioned to pass laws requiring the licensing of all baby sitters, private kindergartens, day care agencies, and nursery and play schools.

It is suggested that such licensing be regulatory in nature and not for revenue.

The present lack of standards for these persons and institutions is highly detrimental to the health, safety, and general welfare of infants and pre-school-age children, petitioners believe. While some of the more progressive cities and states have already begun to inquire into the matter of licensing pre-school centers, entirely too many have been lax and indifferent to this need many parents contend. Little or nothing has been done, to date, by city and state governing bodies to require physical examinations of baby sitters.

Some parents think baby sitters should, in addition, be required to obtain the signatures of two persons in their community, testifying to their moral character and reliability. They believe that regular courses of study should be required of all baby sitters and directors and their assistants in day care agencies and nursery and play schools and suggest that, as a temporary measure, these courses could be made available in the form of evening classes sponsored by local civic groups or governing bodies.

Christ Church Has Successful Year

For Christ Episcopal Church, 19-50 was a very successful and interesting year, as revealed by the reports given at the annual parish meeting Friday evening. Mrs. J. E. LaBerge and Mrs. Nick Pappas were in charge of the bountiful dinner, served smorgasborg style to the 100 present.

Financial reports from each organization were splendid, including the reduction of the building fund indebtedness from the original $7,000 to the present $2,700. The missionary quota was more than three times oversubscribed.

The new spirit and love of the church were manifested in the many spiritual accomplishments—new members received, increased choir participation, study of the Holy Scriptures, and the adoption of a graded series of lessons for the Sunday School.

In his message for the new year Canon Forsyth emphasized the fundamental need for honesty, truthfulness and Christian conviction in the life of both the individual and the church, to enable us to stand firm in the present social confusion of our war torn world.

DR. BENGTSON WILL GIVE OPENING ADDRESS

Representatives from the different church departments will give Greetings.

After the service the Grace Ladies Aid will serve refreshments.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

scarce and high priced. However, he said, with proper seed bed preparation light applications of seed would give excellent results. He stressed the importance of obtaining the recommended adaptable varieties of all seeds. He explained the place that grass farming has in our program, that it did not mean that 100% of the farm is in grass but that it meant that grass should be used where it is needed to prevent erosion and to increase the organic content of our soils.

The ladies, and men too, were intensely interested in Miss Mary Bodwell's demonstration in preparing, cooking and serving chicken. She explained the different classes of chicken and told the audience what to look for in buying the various kinds. With the aid of a demonstration table equipped with mirror, the audience was able to see her descriptions.

An ironing demonstration revealed how the electric ironer had taken most of the drudgery out of the family ironing.

The drawing of more than $180.00 worth of door prizes climaxed a very successful and enjoyable day. The drawing of more than $180.00 worth of door prizes climaxed a very successful and enjoyable day.

The Cooperative Extension Service, the U. S. D. A. Council and business men of Whittemore organized the program and facilities. The speakers were introduced by Harold R. Clark, County Agricultural Agent, Lou Hatfield and Lyle Bielby, Veterans Instructors, Paul Wallom, Hale Vocational Agricultural Instructor, Mrs. A. W. Miller, County Chairman of Women's Extension Groups and William Fuerst, local merchant.

Harold Clark Advises

On Forage Crops

What forage crop should I seed? This question is asked by many farmers when they come to the office of Harold R. Clark, county agricultural agent. Much interest is being shown regarding seed supplies.

The agent points out that there is a widespread difference in the cost of northern grown alfalfa seed and medium red clover. Clover seed is abundant, while northern grown alfalfa is in short supply. Supplies of southern grown alfalfa seed are abundant, but this seed is unadapted to Michigan conditions. Tests have shown that southern grown and Argentine alfalfa are much lower yielding than northern grown strains, besides being much less winter-hardy.

Agent Clark agrees with C. M. Harrison, Michigan State College forage specialist, that alfalfa is Michigan's most productive legume.

Differences in seed prices between adapted, northern grown alfalfa and medium red clover are not particularly important when a good, vigorous stand is established. Alfalfa remains productive for two or three years whereas red clover is a one year crop. This spreads the cost of the alfalfa seed over the two or three year period.

It is only when seeding failures occur that seed price differentials are important. It is always cheaper to have a failure with cheap seed than with high priced seed. It is always important to avoid seeding failures and particularly so this year with alfalfa. Many of the seeding failures can be avoided if good cultural practices are used. In establishing a good vigorous stand of alfalfa, the following practices are essential:

1. Be sure that sufficient lime is present in the soil or that it be added prior to seeding. If in doubt, test the soil for acidity or have it tested by County Agricultural Agent.
2. Apply 400 pounds per acre of high analysis fertilizer prior to or at seeding time. Order and accept delivery of fertilizer early.
3. Prepare a fine firm seedbed which helps to insure shallow planting and makes for good contact between seed and soil.
4. Seed shallow (1/4 to 1/2 inch) and cultipack to cover.
5. Remove nurse crop by pasturing or cutting for hay on soils where moisture is insufficient to mature the grain crop and secure a seeding.

Tawas City's passing attack has been greatly improved during the last few games and in the Oscoda tilt their fancy passing attack had the opposition stymied.

Barry McGuire and Jerry Gracik led in the scoring column in the Oscoda contest with McGuire hitting for 18 points and Gracik 13. Hilderbrand led the Oscoda outfit with 15 markers. Marv Gingerich provided the scoring punch in the Rose City game with 27 points. The Elks guard combination of Wells and Myles, while not leading in the scoring, played very good ball out in the middle court with some fine passing and ball handling, while holding their own on defense.

The Elks reserve team racked up two more wins by whipping Oscoda, 51 to 42 and Rose City 34 to 29, in two hard fought contests.

In the Oscoda game the Elks reserves had to overcome a 16 to 10 lead, which the east county boys ran up in the first quarter, to lead at the half 27 to 18. Both teams made 24 points in the 1st half. The Rose City tilt got off to a slow start when only five points were garnered by Tawas and four by Rose City in the first quarter. The Tawas City squad came to life in the second for 12 points while holding the Rose City lads to three. Rose City outscored the local team 22 to 18 in the last half, but couldn't overcome the commanding lead held by the "little Elks."

Humphrey led in both games with 13 against Oscoda and 11 at the expense of Rose City. Others figuring in the scoring column were: Wright, 9-8; Gackstetter, 7-6; E. Herriman, 1-3; Landon, 2-5; T. Morley 8; Davis 4; H. Morley 2, all against Oscoda; Anschutz, 2-4. Tonight the Elks will put their 6-1 record against their traditional foes, the East Tawas Indians, on the Indian's home court. Next Tuesday they will play at West Branch.

No. 4 Continued from First Page.

The purchase of Addressograph machine to print land descriptions in tax rolls, and other purposes, which had been under consideration for some time, was turned down. The vote was 8 yes; 9 no.

Appointed county officers were given a five per cent raise in salaries. The raise did not effect elective officers. The request of Drain Commission Charles Kurtzrock for additional funds for clerk hire was tabled until the April session. The board authorized the payment of $4.00 and 5c per mile to township clerks for bringing in ballot boxes during the recent governor recount.

A resolution was passed asking the state legislature to create an act whereby one member of the county board of supervisors be appointed to a seat on the County Board of Education as a voting member.
