Scott's Report

CONGRESSMAN Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania deserves a medal for high-jumping at conclusions. With considerable flourishes and a great air of being in the know, Scott announced that General Eisenhower would accept the Republican nomination.

However, here is an almost verbatim account of Congressman Scott's talk with General Ike in Paris, on which the Pennsylvania Congressman based his earthshaking prediction:

Scott asked Eisenhower if there was any "hope" of Ike's accepting a GOP draft nomination for the White House. Scott added: "I know you're a good Republican, General-isn't that a fact?"

Before Eisenhower could reply, an aide, Brig. Gen. Charles T. Lanham, who was present at the meeting, broke in jokingly:

"I've never heard the General say anything to indicate that he isn't a good Republican."

This struck Eisenhower as so funny that he reared back and let go with a belly laugh that almost shook the window panes.

Ike made no further comment, but Congressman Scott took this guffaw to mean that Ike not only was a good Republican-which nobody denies—but would consent to lead the party in the 1952 election.

Labor Flirts With Taft

Most important backstage move in the works by a small group at the A. F. of L. convention in San Francisco is to dump Truman and patch up labor relations with the chief author of the Taft-Hartley Act, Sen. Robert Alphonso Taft.

This move is certain to be denied, but here is the master-minding behind this strategy.

A group of Republicans inside the A. F. of L. high command went to San Francisco with the idea of going back to the old Sam Gompers policy of keeping labor aloof from either political party. Headed by Canny Bill Hutcheson, head of the carpenters union, long a GOP stalwart, the group includes George Meany, influential secre-tary of the A. F. of L.; and Dave Beck, number two man in the teamsters union.

The question of sticking with the Democrats has come up at almost every A. F. of L. meeting recently. And a majority in the past has won out on the plea that labor would get a black eye if it turned on the political party which pulled it out of the depression years during FDR's day and battled the Taft-Hartley Act during Truman's day.

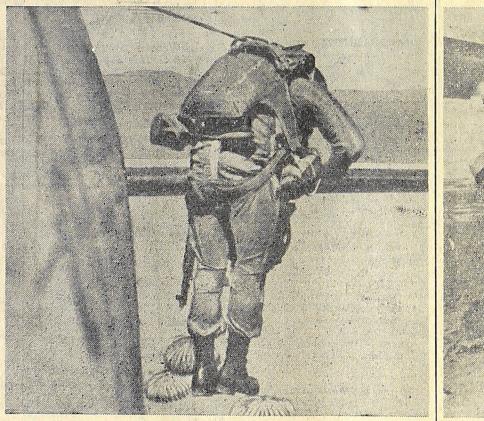

But now the following deal with Taft is being discussed by one or two in the A. F. of L. high command.

TANK SERVES AS PROTECTION FOR WOUNDED CORPSMAN ... Protected by the armor of a tank, a couple of American soldiers and a war correspondent bandage the wounds of an injured GI, a tank corpsman with the seventh division in Korea. The corpsman was wounded by small arms fire when the tank patrol probed the territory for enemy bunkers and hill positions. The first aid group are, left to right, Lt. Robert Gaul, tank commander of Agua Dulce, Texas, and war correspondent Don Dixon. Man at right is unidentified. The wounded man was loaded on another tank and run through enemy fire to safety.

MAN THROWING THE BULL . . . The camera, it is said, does not lie, but in this particular instance it was experiencing an optical illusion, because what you see here just isn't happening the way it looks. Esperartero, the toreador, who apparently has tossed the gentleman cow for a somersault, is merely holding up his hands in astonishment. The bull, much too eager to insert a horn into Senor Esperartero's epidermis, tripped on the cape that was festooning his horns and threw the full somersault himself. So from now on, do not believe everything you see, especially when someone is tossing the bull around.

Banks Report Increased Farm Loans; Reds Ask Peace Talks Be Resumed

FARM REPORT—A recent survey of rural bankers in the home towns scattered across the great midwest farm belt presents a new and somewhat startling picture of farm economy in the nation. Briefly, the survey indicates that farmers are borrowing more money this year, for that matter, than in several years, to make ends meet from day to day.

Reports a Kentland, Ind., banker: Operational loan demands are terrific. Three years ago farmers of the area purchased machinery with cash and had a surplus for operational expenses. Today 65 to 75 per cent of machinery sales are on credit arrangements.

A South Dakota banker presents this picture: For the first eight months of 1951 bank loans have increased 25 per cent over last year. Says an Iowa banker: Loans are up 15 per cent over last year.

Capital is tied up in machinery and livestock. Says a Dover, Minn., banker: About 90 per cent of the farm machinery sales in this area are on credit. Loans have increased 10 per cent. These conditions, midwest bankers report, are caused by the continued decline of farm prices, nearly 7 per cent since they reached a record high last February. In addition, farm operating costs have continued to increase. As examples, fertilizer, which was selling at $44 a ton F.O.B. Chicago last fall, now sells for $64 a ton. In Minnesota farm hands are drawing $15 a day without board, comparing to $10 a year ago. Iowa farmers who paid $11.75 a 100 for binding twine last year must now pay $16.75. These examples indicate, midwest bankers say, that overall farm costs are up approximately 15 per cent over last year and 2 per cent over February when farm prices began their decline.

The only solution, according to the U.S. department of agriculture, is to keep farm prices at a high level. To accomplish this the department is expected to start a campaign this fall urging farmers to withhold crops from market. At present only six of 30 major commodities are bringing the parity price declared by law to be equally fair to growers and those who buy their products.

Calm on 'Bloody Ridge'

GI's relax among blackened stumps of trees on the devastated slope that is known as "bloody ridge" on the east central front of Korea. This ridge was taken from the Communists after some of the hardest fighting in the Korean campaign.

MONTH OF DECISION-It may very well be that future generations of American school children will study the month of September, 1951, in their history books as the month of decision-the month during which the free world consolidated its position against communism.

For during the month four significant things happened: (1) Forty-nine nations met in San Francisco and signed the Japanese peace treaty which put that nation firmly on the side of freedom. (2) The ministers of France, Great Britain and the United States met in Washington and decided upon a contract with West Germany that amounts to a treaty ad which will greatly increase West Germany's contribution to the defense of free Europe.

(3) Meeting in Ottawa, Canada, twelve Atlantic Pact countries debated and solved many military and economic problems related to their common defense.

(4) In Washington Italian and United States representatives discussed important revision in the Italian peace treaty, especially clauses relating to Italy's armed forces limitations.

All this activity adds up to strengthening of the free world's defenses against Communist aggression and thus, in turn, the very home towns of this country.

THE HALF WAR-One American soldier, who can be said to represent the average small town youth who makes up the United States army, said recently when informed that the Communists have unexpectedly asked for renewal of peace talks at Kaesong: "Let's get this thing decided upon one way

In return for dumping Harry Truman, Taft would agree to amend the Taft-Hartley Act. In fact, he has already introduced a bill in the Senate to help out the building trades which has all the earmarks of a deal with GOP Bill Hutcheson of the carpenters. The 'Taft concession violates all of Taft's previous moral principles and repeals not only part of the Taft-Hartley Act but the Wagner Act. For it not only would abolish elections in building trades unions but would protect the union from any unfair labor practices charge by another union. In brief, this would permit an employer to back an election with a phony union which in no way represented his men.

Lewis Plots

Meanwhile, another labor move outside the A. F. of L. is being hatched by John L. Lewis and Harry Bridges, head of the west coast longshoremen, who was kicked out of the CIO after his conviction for having lied about being a communist.

Bridges has sounded out the retail clerks, the carpenters, and other west coast labor men on staging a giant rally in Los Angeles on October 8, the same day President Truman is slated to attend a $100 Democratic dinner in Los Angeles. Chief Speaker at the labor rally would be doughty John L., long a bitter Truman enemy, who, it is planned, would blast both the President and auto workers chief Walter Reuther.

half fighting and half not fighting for months now.'

This attitude is typical of most American soldiers in Korea today. Foreign correspondents report the men want a definite yes-or-no answer to whether there will be peace or not. If it is to be a fight they want to get at it and gain a clear cut decision.

This attitude is becoming more and more apparent in the small towns of the nation, too. This business of talking while men fight on a limited scale is not the American way. If there is to be peace, the American reasons, let's have it without a lot of beating around the bush. If it is to be war, let it be all-out-war.

POSTAL RATES ____ The house-senate conference committee will report within a few days upon bills passed by the house and senate to increase rates on postcards, newspapers, magazines and some other types of mail and services.

Although the senate and house versions of the bill are different in some detail, the two bills are similar in that they would raise rates on second-class mail, which includes newspapers, magazines and other periodicals by 30 per cent over a three year period in stages of 10 per cent a year.

The bills are also in agreement on postal card rate increase from cent to 2 cents.

The final version of the bill is expected to produce somewhere in the neighborhood of $126,000,000 of additional annual postal revenues.

POLITICAL SCENE-Following his visit to North Dakota, Sen. Robert Taft returned to his home in Cincinnati where he told reporters: "If I got the same reception in a few more states, I think I'd decide to run (for president)."

And while the senator was making this statement, reports from Europe continued to circulate that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was definitely interested in becoming a candidate, but only on the Republican ticket. The general, observers reported, would reject the Democratic bid because he did not want to be hampered by hanger-ons.

As for Senator Taft, observers said Eisenhower would try to beat him out because he felt the Ohio solon's isolation reputation would ruin this country's defense program and battle against communism.

PAY INCREASE—The house passed a series of bills increasing the pay of more than 1,500,000 government employes by a total of $670,045,600 a year. The bill will be reported soon from senate-house conference where differences will be ironed out between it and a senate version previously passed.

passed. The house version provides: (1) A flat $400 pay increase for 1,043,614 government workers—totaling $417,445,600; (2) increases of $400 to $700 a year for 500,000 postal workers—totaling $235,760,000 annually; (2) an $800 limit on increases for 42,000 postmasters and 26,000 postal supervisors -totaling $19,690,000 annually.

1,000,000th Traffic Death Will Occur During December

About the middle of December the 1,000,000th traffic death will occur in the United States.

It is shocking to realize that since the turn of the century, since the first automobile chugged and hissed to the derision and excitement of a horse-drawn era, the lives of almost 1,000,000 men, women and children have been squandered in one of the most senseless and tragic wastes of modern times.

There are numerous reasons for this great accident death rate. While most states have a statute requiring examination for driver's license, only a few administer the law strictly enough to give it meaning. Thousands of drivers lack the skills, physical faculties and mental attitudes for safe driving. Re-examination of older drivers or those who have been involved in accidents or violations is virtually nonexistent.

Only 13 states permit tests of blood alcohol to be used in court against the most reprehensible motoring miscreant - the drinking driver.

Engineering and road building have fallen far behind the demands of the motor age. Lack of funds is the common excuse.

Automatic revocation of a driver's license for serious misconduct is invoked all too seldom. Jail sentences are few. The system of fines and penalties throughout the nation is a hodgepodge of improvisation, the temper of the court, and the stature and legal counsel of the defendant.

These are but a few of the more obvious holes in the dike of traffic safety. They can be plugged, but only through the aroused interest and insistent support of people who care.

Safety authorities report the most shocking thing about the accident toll is the inescapable fact that few Americans feel any real personal concern. As their fellows perish about them, they look on with a detachment and complacency that is difficult to understand and even more difficult to alter.

There rests the keystone of the entire traffic safety structure-personal concern. The duty of every responsible citizen is to strive for traffic safety as a voter, as a volunteer worker in whatever capacity his interests and abilities direct, and as a driver and pedestrian. Even the relatively small percentage of accidents caused by mechanical failure of motor vehicles could be reduced if owners would make sure their cars are in safe condition. The question remains; what will it take to spur the nation into ac-tion? Will it be 1,000,000 deaths?

Walls Cracked by Earthquake QUESTION: After a recent earthquake I noticed that the outside plaster of my house was cracked all over on all four sides of the house. What can I use to fill up these cracks?

ANSWER: I suppose you mean "stucco" when you speak of "plaster." If the stucco had only a few large cracks, they could probably be repaired. Since it is cracked all over, you may need to have it stripped off and new stuc-co applied. Large cracks should first be widened and deepened. then patched with a cement mortar. The usual mortar mixture for stucco repair is one part Portland cement, either white or gray, and three parts clean, coarse sand, with just enough water to make a workable mixture. that the groove is wider at the lath than at the surface. Brush out all loose cement, and then soak the edges well with water. Pack with mortar, and just before the patch sets, work the surface into a texture to match that of the stucco. Keep the patches wet for three or four days so that the cement will cure. Sometimes a white stucco wall can be matched with a white cement and light yellow building sand, or white marble dust. For a good even effect, you can coat the whole wall with a dampproof cement paint. Very narrow hair line cracks can be filled by painting the stucco with the cement base paint. GRASSROOTS Socialism in England Is Popular With Laborers

By Wright A. Patterson

THE DEFINITELY ANNOUNCED purpose of the English Labor party is to equalize the wealth and the income of the English people. That is a vote-catching program, especially in England, and it is a program which the party can carry out. It can and is being done through taxes. On an income, which in America would be considered of a reasonable amount, the government is taking ninety five cents out of each dollar. Through taxes, it is easy to pull down the higher in-comes, and through "doles" it is easy to increase the lower ones.

But the problem that must be faced is where the "something for nothing" that represent doles is to come from when the wealth of the nation has been taxed to extinction.

Socialized medicine guarantees every one in the British islands a doctor when needed, a place in a hospital when there is a vacancy, which means waiting as much as two years regardless of the urgency of the need.

It means cheap doctor bills, but it is killing the medical profession in England. The doctor is permitted to bave as many as 4,000 patients, for which the government will pay him $2.10 per year per patient, then promptly tax that doctor some 50 per cent on bis $8,000 income. With what is left he must provide all the expenses of medical

The result is that there is no inducement for the new medical grad- Believing the program to be a uate to hang out his shingle in Britain. He goes to the dominions-to Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa. The result will be that in time there will be no doctors to administer to the poor, at any price or on any condition.

On top of the income tax that runs to as high as 95 per cent, there is a purchase tax-our sales tax-which the merchants collect on every item you buy, other than the dire necessities of living, and that purchase tax ranges from 25 per cent on the amount of the purchase to as high as 150 percent of the total, on such automobiles as can be purchased, which is practically none of English make. They are produced for export only, as is true of most other of the better grade English productions.

And along with these conditions here is the rationing. Each individual can have two strips of bacon per week, two eggs, and whatever amount of meat of any kind he can buy for ten cents, with meat selling at prices as high, or higher, than we are paying in this country. Such are but a few examples of English rationing. Despite it all, English socialism is not too unpopular with the English workers. They are receiving more wages than they did, though they are paying far more taxes, far more living expenses, and living far less better.

vote-catcher, the Conservatives, like the Republicans in this country, as applied to the New Deal and Fair Deal programs, are inclined to approve it all, only claiming they could do a better job.

The Conservatives are against the Labor Party, but are for the Labor Party program, and they will not get any farther than the Republicans will get on the same basis in this country.

The Fair Deal does not offer their program as socialistic. It is offered as welfare state, or "planned economy," but the purpose is the same, that of equalizing the incomes of the American people.

Should the Fair Deal continue in office, it will succeed in putting over its nefarious schemes. When they do, there will be nothing left for America but bankruptcy; there will be nothing left with which to provide the "something" for those who are clamoring for "some-thing for nothing" so they may continue to live without effort on their part.

When they understand what is being offered them such conditions will not be favored by a majority of the American people. Will the Republicans tell us what the party proposes as its program, or must we continue on the socialistic trail?

Gen. Ike will not get a two party and probably not a one party nom- lers in which the magnetostrictive

In gravest tones, our governmental leaders warn the people that waste in the United States will shatter our productive might, sicken our economy and allow Joe Stalin and his international gangsters to "move in" on the United States and smaller democratic nations without firing a shot.

They urge the people to curb inflation . . . spend carefully . . . avoid borrowing . . . and work at top efficiency during this most critical period.

The people do have a tremendous responsibility in the elimination of waste - BUT WHEN DOES WASHINGTON START PRACTICING WHAT IT PREACHES?

Today there are almost as many civilian government employees as there are men and women in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines combined. Most of them get ten weeks off every year, at full pay — about six weeks more than the average non-government worker. If the federal employee worked as many hours as the average private employee, taxpayers would save at least $200,000,000 a year, and it is estimated that the nation's vital manpower pool would increase by 100,000. An investigating committee found that in many government agencies, among workers whose only job was to make out purchase orders, the average "work load" per day was two orders. (With many purchases for less than $20 each, it found that the cost of putting through purchase orders was $7.06 in the Treasury Department; $9.95 in the Interior Department; $13.98 in the Bureau of the Mint, and $23.94 in the U. S. Coast Guard. In the National Park Service, procurement costs for a 50-cent magazine were $13.89, and in the Bureau of Reclamation, $2.45 worth of drinking cups cost $19.80 after "administrative costs" were added. YET, SAYS THE GOVERNMENT, "THE PEOPLE MUST SPEND CAREFULLY."

These are only isolated examples of the waste in Washington today. Multiply them by the tens of thousands, and you have a clearer picture of the way dollars and manpower are being sucked down the drain in the nation's capitol.

WHAT CAN YOU DO ABOUT IT? PLENTY!

Keep informed on government extravagance and let your elected representatives know what you think about such waste.

Today the U.S. family share of our national debt is $6,786. Write your Congressman and urge him, again and again, to fight waste in government. Any citizen, any time, has a right to stick in his "two cents worth." Today, you have a right "to stick in your $6,786 worth!"

> This chart presents a graphic picture of the United States' tremendous indebtedness today, as contrasted with other periods in our history. The only way to reduce it is to eliminate waste in government - today the wildest spending government in the nation's history

THE STORY SO FAR:

treless nursing of her benefactor, Grace at all. Temperature quite normal." Alden, collapses with pneumonia after "Aunt Grace" dies, and postpones making application for nurse's training in Bessemer Memorial hospital. She depends upon Dr. Borden, her friend, to overcome the board's prejudice against having an orphan on the hospital staff. She scorns the doctor's son, Thad, because he once kissed her against her will and she believes him the "pet" of Vivian Poole, Bessemer's glamorous rich particular brand of wheat cakes; Vivian marries Adrian D'Archer, New York artist and becomes more high-hat than ever. Gay's health begins to mend.

CHAPTER VIII

"So you decided to wake up, did you?" she asked. Her face and voice wabbled and Gay shut her eyes again. "O-oh, darling:" Myra cried softly. "Are you better? We've been so worried! Please open your eyes again-please, for Myra!" She was crying softly.

The puzzled gray eyes opened. "Wh-what — hap-happened?" she asked faintly.

Myra blew her nose in relief and dabbed at her wet eyes. "You went out like a light - right before my eyes. I thought I was taking such good care of you and look what happened.'

"Have-I-been - sick, Myra?" Gay asked haltingly.

"I'll tell the world you been sick -nerve exhaustion and - pleuro pneumonia, that's all. Now you ain't to talk no more-just rest and get well." She patted the blanket, tucking it more closely about the patient, and whispered, "There's a trained nurse upstairs-sleeping her head off. But don't you fret yourself. Myra's here."

Doctor Prescribes Rest and Quiet

Gay's eyes closed and Myra slipped from the room. In a few minutes she returned to stand just inside the door. Gay smiled. Myra came closer. "Ill tell you about the nurse-Miss Dantry. I wouldn't have but one-she's all right I s'pose, but I wanted to take care of you myself. 'Twas Doc insisted on a trained nurse. Umph! She can't stand what I can—I'll be glad when you bounce her. Too bossy. Young chil! Thinks she knows all there is to know. Well, I could tell her a fast. And I'm going to get it myself, come?" nurse or no nurse, and I hope Miss Know-it-all won't come barging in New Environment while I'm gone." She said the last more to herself than to Gay and Sought By Gay left.

She's a grand woman-you'll like her-she knows everyone and all about them, so you'd find life interesting all right. A couple of months with her and I'll wager you'll come back a new woman."

"We don't want no new woman, Eve," Myra said, hearing the end to the conversation. "We want the old Gay back. The old Gay suited us all right. And don't you go putting a lot of silly ideas into her head, this here's her home. I can feed her better'n she'd get fed any place else, and I'll bet a dollar you won't find no better folks anywheres than live right here on Belfort Street in Bessemer. Why, this town's called the garden spot of the State and to my mind Seventeen Belfort Street's the heart of it. Of course she can she said. "If I go away, you've got to come with me. I won't go and step without you.'

Mrs. Bailey Adopts A Bethesda Orphan

Myra's face brightened. "Then I got a proposition. Why not go down to Doc's cousin's cottage on Crescent Lake? He spoke to me about it and wondered if you'd be interested. It ain't far from Bessemer-'bout twenty miles-and the house is high and dry with lots of pine and balsam trees and they're awful healthy to be near, you know -does something to the lungs. He said we could have the camp to ourselves during May and June."

In another week Gay was sitting up for a part of each day and on the day the nurse left she received her first visitor. Mrs. Bailey stopped in with an armful of pussy willows and a jar of the first crocuses to push through their blanket of leaves. Gay was thrilled. Jennie Bailey sat down and listened while Myra told her all about Gay's illness, how she had "passed out" right before her eyes while she was still "talking her fool head off," and how she and the nurse-with the help of Doctor

Borden-had pulled her back "from the very gates of Heaven." "She'll never get no closer till she gets right inside, Mis' Bailey," Myra said dramatically. "That girl was sick and I ain't lying. It makes me so mad at myself to think I believed she was all right-that I was taking just the best kind of care of her-feeding her everything she fancied and seeing she went to bed early and slept late and didn't lift her hand to do a thing-and that reminds me, Frances Gaynor, You

Chemists Give THE Promising View Of Future Life

NEW YORK-Conquest of polio and the common cold - rocket travel to the moon-drinking water from the sea-sythetic food from abundant materials-universal twoway radio or television between all homes. These are some of the scientific and technological achievements of the next 75 years which were forecast in the Diamond Jubilee issue of the American Chemical Society magazine.

Predictions by a score of the nation's foremost chemists and chemical engineers are quoted in the 220-page issue of the magazine, the largest ever published by the news weekly. The Federally-chartered Society, whose 66,000 members make it the world's largest professional association of scientists, celebrated its 75th Anniversary at a meeting in New York September 3 to 7.

Cars of Future

What will the automobiles and houses of the future be like? Professor Herman Mark of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn offers this answer: "Vehicles will be of weight-saving plastic-metal combinations. Housing will make substantial use of synthetics-all piping will be plastic; most roofing and siding will be coated fabrics . . . there will be universal twoway wireless between all homes with optional television, also wireless electric appliances." And what about food-will we be eating nothing but pills is 2026? The outlook isn't quite that grim, according to Dr. C. C. Rurnas, vicepresident of the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories, Inc., Buffalo, who says:

"Synthetic foods will be made but will not replace natural ones. Biochemists will have succeeded in synthesizing pure living matter but not any really sophisticated organisms."

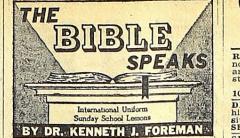

Several other chemists quoted by duction of proteins and fats from the tiny seaweed called algae will be an established industry in the opinion of Professor Harry N. Holmes of Oberlin College, who adds:

"Cellulose from sawdust will enable us to produce more beef than is possible from farm acreage alone. Knowledge of plant growth will be great, but complete success in test-tube photosynthesis lies beyond 2026."

Photosynthesis is the process by which plants convert water from the earth and carbon dioxide from the air into carbohydrates with the aid of sunlight and chlorophyll, the coloring matter that makes plants green.

Better Agriculture

Salt marshes will be farmed with chemical feeding of salt-resistant plants, and new fertilizers will force arable land to yield more and better food, declares Professor R. Norris Shreve of Perdue University, who also expects the sea to yield plenty of potable water. Plant

God's Untuned Harp

Lesson for October 14, 1951

CAN the perfect God make use of an imperfect man? He has to; there is no other kind. God is the perfect musician; his melodies and harmonies are flawless; but he has to ALC: AN play these on the harp of humanity, twanging strings easily broken, never long welltuned.

at the time of the incident described in Genesis 28 he was a very rough diamond indeed. His own home was too hot for him. His father had been bitterly disappointed 'in him; his twin and only brother Esau had sworn to kill him at the first chance. He was a swindling bors with the same lack of conscience he had shown toward Isaac and Esau, there must have been "many a dry eye" when the news went around that Jacob had left town. As a matter of fact, he kept on, for some years after this, being the same sort of sharp trader he had always been.

His dream at Bethel did not convert him, as is sometimes thought; if it did, his conversion waited 20 years to "take." If the reader will examine Jacob's vow in Gen. 28:20-22, he can see that it does not exthe magazine try their hands at press a very lofty view of religion forecasting future food habits. Pro- on Jacob's part. Jacob makes his on Jacob's part. Jacob makes his promise to the Lord with a large IF attached; IF the Lord will prosper him, keep him safe, bring him back and so forth, THEN he will give the Lord ten per cent. Who would not pay a ten per cent commission for guaranteed protection and prosperity? No, we cannot say that Jacob at this time was saintly.

God's Purpose

A ND yet God spoke to him, made great promises to him. Was this only a conceited dream of Jacob's? It was a dream, of course, as the writer frankly says (verse 12); but was the dream only the kind of thing that psychologists call "wish-fulfilment," with no meaning except to show what Jacob had been thinking about? Or did the dream stand for something real?

The general belief of the church is that God really did have a concern for this man and did speak to him through his dream, even though it was the kind of dream which perhaps

Fireman Swamped with Mail After Rescuing Small Pup

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Fireman Robert Grayson thinks it nice to be a hero.

Grayson climbed into a sewer to rescue a muddy little mongrel which he later named Cesspool and made the company pet. A photographer caught him in the act of rescue and the picture made front pages over the nation.

Dog lovers - and women - took over from there and the handsome fireman has since received extensive fan mail including proposals, presents and unlimited praise. A Washington woman wants to send presents. A Minnesota camp owner invited man and dog to a free week's camping. One man sent a check.

WEYERGAYSER, Wis.-One little barn swallow caused plenty of denly dive-bombed a turkey ranch and the ensuing panic caused the death of 150 young gobblers.

The bird swooped into the turkey house on the farm of Melvin Wright. Hundreds of young turkeys, weighing about 10 pounds each, huddled together in their fright.

When the excitement was over, Wright counted 150 turkeys dead. only a Jacob could have had.

But how could the perfect God 'make a covenant'' or come to any terms with such a man as Jacob then was? The answer is probably in the story itself and in what folpreviously considered for the pur-pose will be established "with man- beyond Jacob the man. He had a plan for him too; but it fitted into a far greater plan for mankind, "In thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed" refers, Christians believe, to Jesus Christ and what he has meant and will mean to the world. #### God's Harp Has Many Strings

ONE of the most remarkable titles for God in the Bible is "the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob" (Exodus 3:6). We might expect the first name; we are astonished to hear the other two.

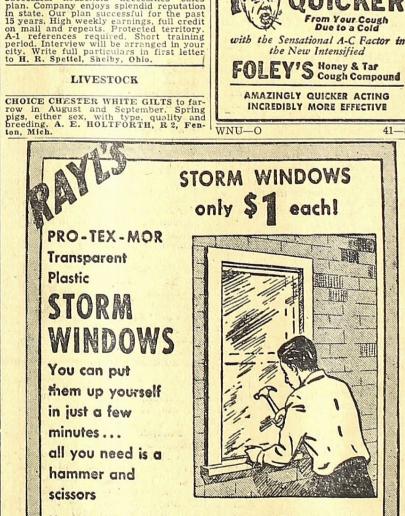

Abraham, of course, was a great spiritual pioneer. He was great in other ways too; a man who would be outstanding in any age, in any place,-one of the great religious geniuses of all time. Of course God is the God of such men, we expect

But what about Isaac and Jacob? Isaac was a nonentity, a weak character, far from bright. Even his sins were second-hand. As for Jacob, even after he became a changed man, as in time he did, his old crooked record remind a fact. The Bible does not try to conceal it.

Then can God be the God of the weak and the God of the sinner? Yes, that is the glory of the God who is revealed in his Word. Other religions know of gods who are friends of top-level human beings, genuises and saints; only the relipanic here recently. In fact, he gion of the Bible knows of a God created a riot.
