Annual Meeting of Association Board Held Monday

County Clerk George A. Prescott was elected president of the Iosco County Agricultural Society, at County Agricultural Society at the annual meeting of the board of directors held Monday evening at Hale. The board meeting followed a meeting of the association members held the previous Tuesday.

Other officers elected were: Joseph Barnes, vice president; T. G. Scofield, secretary-manager; Paul Wollam, assistant secretary-manager; Dorothy Blood, treasurer.

It was decided to set up a budget for the coming year's business. Prescott appointed T. G. Scofield, Lewis Rodman, Syd Peterson, Dorothy Blood and Paul Wollam as members of the budget committee. A budget is to be submitted at the next meeting of the board.

Secretary-manager Scofield was authorized to attend the district meeting of Northern Michigan Fairs which will be held December 14 and 15 at Traverse City.

A resolution was prepared thanking the Tawas City Businessmen's association for the gift of $174.79. This was the entire profits the association had received from a carnival held in that city last summer. The carnival had been unintentionally booked for dates conflicting with the annual fair at Hale.

At the annual meeting of the association the following directors were elected: Lewis Rodman, Clyde Soper, E. W. Robinson, Syd Peterson, T. G. Scofield and Joseph Ponak, Jr.

Zion Church to Present Two Films

All are invited to come. A free will offering will be taken to defray expenses.

"Holy Night"—a film story on the Nativity, beginning when Hezekiah was king in Jerusalem and Isaiah was prophet. The siege of Jerusalem—it's burning—and prophesies concerning the Messiah are forcefully and faithfully portrayed. Then the fulfillment of the prophecy, Christ's birth, the Flight to Egypt, etc.

Duplication in Milk Inspection To Be Eliminated

"Plans to eliminate duplication of health department milk inspection were approved during a three day meeting, December 5 to 7 inclusive, by 92 sanitarians and engineers from local health departments and the Michigan Department of Health," said Albert R. Renwick, District Sanitarian.

The sanitarians, meeting at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education at Michigan State College, put their stamp of approval on a plan they feel will allow for the free flow of milk between communities and will save tax dollars by cutting down the number of inspections. They agreed upon uniform standards and a uniform interpretation of those standards that could be accepted by all health departments.

Under the system of inspection now in effect, dairy that delivers milk in several health department areas has to pass the inspection of sanitarians from all areas served. This may mean that the dairy has to pass as many as a dozen different inspections. Under the approved plan, uniform standards are set up to all health departments and the requirements of all the health departments concerned.

The conference was the culmination of a series that began last June to work out uniform standards and a common application of the model Michigan Milk Ordinance that would be acceptable to all health departments.

The annual vention dinner for members of the Jesse Hodder Post American Legion and Auxiliary and their families will be held Sunday, December 16, at six o'clock at the Legion Hall. The dinner will be pot luck. Bring table service. Santa will be there to distribute the gift that parents should bring for their children.

16,000,000 Hangers Made by Tawas Firm

Sixteen million hooks are a lot of hooks! That is the number of "No Nail Picture Hangers" produced by Tawas Industries Inc., during the past two years. Sold by mail order houses, department stores and 5c and 10c stores the little hooks are holding up picture frames in every state of the Union.

This week Tawas Industries, Inc. received an order for a large shipment to J. J. Mirabel, Inc., Puerto Rico, the first to go outside of continental United States.

The bright little hook has become one of America's popular useful gadgets. The hook comes attached to a piece of gummed tape. One attached the picture frame and hooked to one stuck to the wall, and the wall will have to fall before the picture will drop. No smashed fingers while hammering a nail in the wall, and no ugly hole in the wall board where the hammer went through.

Six hooks stapled to an attractive merchandising card and marked with a popular price has been effective in making the little gadget popular. A glance at the card and you can visualize just where you could use a few.

Oil filters are the principal production of Tawas Industries, Inc., but "No-Nail Picture Hangers" are one of several articles that keep many busy hands occupied in making them and their ingenuity in designing the machines which make mass production possible. The weekly production is 350,000 hangers.

Korean Peace by Christmas Possible; U. S. Casualties Now Total 100,176

KOREA—Peace in Korea by Christmas is the one gift the people of America's home towns desire more than any other. Although there is no assurance that such a peace will be forthcoming, the possibility does exist.

The hope that the world will have peace by Christmas was bolstered by reports from Korea that the Communists and Allies were nearing agreement on a cease-fire line across that war-torn country. The negotiators were so close to agreement it may be the line will have been established by the time this appears in print.

Agreement on the cease-fire line, however, does not mean peace by Christmas. After ratification of the line, it becomes the final buffer provided the two sides agree within 30 days on all remaining armistice issues. If no 30-day agreement is reached on supervising the truce, exchange of prisoners and recommendations to the governments on troop withdrawals, the buffer line will be revised when a full armistice finally is signed.

Considering past experiences in negotiations with the Communists, the 30-day talking period would seem very short. Their delaying tactics have consumed months thus far and it is unlikely they will change them.

THE DEAD—Meanwhile, this limited Asian conflict, called a police action by many, has turned into the fourth costliest war in this nation's history. The casualty list now totals 100,176, the Defense department reports.

The actual battle figure is higher than the latest released figures, because official announcements of this kind are generally two or three weeks behind combat action.

In comparison, the total battle losses for the entire war in the southwest Pacific was 113,991. Of this total, 84,200 were killed or wounded.

DISARMAMENT—The most important question discussed at the U. N. meeting in Paris thus far has been disarmament on a world-wide scale. Both the west and the east have offered their plans.

General disarmament would give the people in the home towns of this country and elsewhere in the world a new sense of security. The outlook, however, is gloomy.

The Russians insist that prohibition of atomic bombs ought to precede any disarmament move, followed by a big five disarmament conference, and an immediate one-third cut of all conventional armed forces and weapons.

The western idea is for an orderly, stage-by-stage process, starting with a census of existing armaments, including atomic and armed forces; real inspection and verification of any arms cuts; and ultimate prohibition of atomic weapons.

The possibility of a compromise between the two views is unlikely. As a result, the world can expect the general assembly to become mired in debate and world tension to continue at the present level.

THE COLD WAR—On the Cold War front there was one important development during the past week. President Truman ordered withdrawal of all American tariff concessions to the Soviet Union and Poland. In addition, the President imposed a complete ban on the importation of luxury furs from the two Communist countries.

Some weeks ago Russia halted all shipments of manganese to the U. S. and since that time the fur trade has been an important source of dollar revenue for the Communist bloc.

The President's action does not completely halt imports from the Soviet Union and Poland, but it does mean the two countries will have to pay higher tariff rates. Similar action had previously been taken against Communist regimes in Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and China.

EUROPE—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, told North Atlantic Treaty nations last week that "baby" A-bombs and other new weapons eventually may cut Europe's military requirements, but in the meantime everything possible must be done to build western defenses.

The general said he wanted as many divisions as fast as they could be supplied—between 30 and 40 in 1952 and between 60 and 70 by 1954.

He warned the Atlantic Treaty nations "there is no possibility, if war comes, of any of us, our children, or our children's children, living a life of decency again."

FARM TREND—The latest Bureau of the Census report reveals there has been a decided trend toward fewer but bigger and better equipped farms between 1940 and 1950. In 1950 there were 5,384,000 farms in the United States compared to 6,097,000 in 1940.

During the decade, however, the average size farm unit grew from 174 acres to 210.5 acres. Despite the decrease in the number of farms the total acreage remained approximately the same in 1950 as in 1945.

Other statistics in the report included: (1) About 870,000 fewer persons were working on U. S. farms in 1950 than in 1940; (2) Less than one-third as many horses and mules were on farms in 1950 as in 1920; (3) In 1950 there were 59,764,000 cattle and calves more than three months old on farms as compared to 60,674,736 in April, 1940; (4) The number of chickens on farms was 2,500,000, or 0.7 per cent more than in 1940.

GAMBLING—The new federal tax on gambling may reach into hundreds of home towns as a result of a new ruling by Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap. The commissioner has ruled that the $50 license fee on gambling applies to thousands of stores which have punch boards on their premises.

Each clerk in such establishments as tobacco shops, gas stations and other retail stores where the owners accept money from a customer for a punch board chance must purchase a license, he ruled.

What happens to the millions big corporations take in each year has often baffled the man on Main Street. Here is how General Motors, one of the biggest in the nation, spent its sales dollar: 26 3/4 cents to employees, 49 1/4 cents to suppliers, 15 1/4 cents for taxes, 1 3/4 cents for depreciation, 1/2 cent for reconversion, 4 3/4 cents to shareholders, and 1 3/4 to maintain the business.

NATIONAL DEBT

U. S. Debt Nearing $275 Billion Limit

Barring unexpected changes in the present economic trend, the United States debt is expected to push past the present legal limit of $275,000,000,000 during the next year. As a result, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is expected to ask congress to raise the national debt ceiling.

At the end of November the national debt was estimated at $259,000,000,000, an increase of $4 billion since April and the highest in 4 1/2 years.

By June, 1952, the debt is expected to amount to $262,500,000,000. If present spending and tax receipt forecasts are correct the debt will pass the $65 billion mark during the following six months. This would necessitate lifting the legal debt ceiling.

JUNIOR SIZE ATOMIC BLAST . . . These soldier observers are getting an eyeful of the junior-size nuclear blast in the latest atomic test in which the army participated. The atomic energy commission would not say how the blast was set off, whether dropped from a high-flying plane or set off on the ground. But the army expressed satisfaction in the results of the tests, held in Nevada. This explosion is believed to have started a new series of tests in the development of nuclear weapons for warfare. The huge mushroom was just a wind-swept cloud in less than one hour following the blast.

SPY RING SMASHED IN GREECE . . . An investigator comes through a hole into the underground hang-out of a Communist spy at Glyfada, Greece. The hideout was discovered by helicopter crewmen of the U. S. eighth fleet who were dispatched over a suspected area. The Red operator of two powerful transmitters was trapped in the vault and refused to emerge. He shot himself as officials finally entered the hideout after lifting a marble slab. Police confiscated considerable amounts of Communist documents which the operator had not burned. Glyfada is a seaside suburb of Athens. The fleet was visiting Greek waters.

POLICE SEIZE HOLDUP SUSPECT . . . Detectives George Daly and Howard Birch question Joseph Grillo in Newark city hospital where he was treated after jumping from a third-story porch at his home. He was wanted for questioning in connection with the shooting of Patrolman James Law during a night of five holdups by an armed bandit pair. Law was slain in the $8,000 robbery of a food market in Newark. Grillo denied any knowledge of the shooting or the holdups for which he was held by officers.

ROYAL NAVY GETS U. S. SKYRAIDERS . . . An American Skyraider, first of a number of such craft being transferred from the United States to the British royal navy under the military aid program, is unloaded from the S.S. American Clipper at Glasgow, Scotland. British naval markings are already on the airplane. The American aircraft were formally handed over to the British by Rear Admiral W. F. Boone, deputy commander in chief, eastern Atlantic, in dock ceremonies.

COMMON CENTS . . . Brian Perrow, New York, knows there's a shortage of copper, so he converts his big cache of pennies into paper money at a penny party at his church. Keeping pennies in circulation keeps copper available for defense.

BOOMS IKE . . . Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. (R., Mass.), the man who has been chosen to manage the Eisenhower-for-President campaign, speaks before 400 GOP women volunteers in Chicago. He predicts Ike will be a candidate.

Christmas Fire Prevention Is Ideal Community Project

Last week this column suggested there are a number of benefits in promoting a community Santa Claus other than the mere commercial angle. It was also suggested that possibly the goodwill and happiness created by the arrival of Santa was far more important to the home town merchant than his immediate financial return.

This week we suggest another local merchant promotion that will build good-will, and at the same time, aid the community: Christmas Fire Prevention. Nothing will ruin the community's spirit of Christmas as a disastrous fire.

Every year, from a few days before Christmas to the week following New Year's a plague of fires rages up and down the country, ravishing the homes of hundreds in the small towns. Many of these fires are the result of hazards which exist only during the holiday season; of carelessness that would not be tolerated at any other time.

It's those little careless acts—that seem so unimportant at the time—that cause these holiday fire tragedies. A Missourian lights a match with his thumbnail; the burning head flies into a Christmas tree and a mother and three children die in a fire that destroys their home . . . A neglected toy electric train ignites a Christmas tree in a New Jersey hotel and four people are burned to death . . . In Hartford, Connecticut, the simple replacement of a frayed cord would have saved 47 patients in a convalescent home from injury and death . . . They were victims of the faulty wire which short-circuited and touched off the combustible decorations which surrounded their Christmas tree.

These tragedies are all so needless if you will take the few minutes needed to follow a few simple fire safety rules. This is a story the home town merchant can tell in his Christmas advertising and a promotion that will long be remembered and appreciated.

As a fire hazard, consider your Christmas tree. Pretty though it is, as it dries out it becomes more of a prime target for fire every hour. Therefore, bring in a fresh tree, as short a time before Christmas as possible and get it outside as soon afterwards as you can. The larger the tree, the greater the hazard so don't get any larger one than you need.

While the tree is in the house you can reduce its flammability by setting it in water. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle, at least one inch above the original cut and rest it in a well-filled tub of water. This method when used with fresh trees reduces the flammability as effectively as any fireproofing chemicals.

Your tree should be well supported, away from sources of heat (fireplaces, radiators, television sets, etc.) and so placed that standing or fallen, it cannot block exits in case of fire.

Your Christmas lighting may TWIRL-AROUNDS

Novel 'Twirl-Around' Christmas Cards Are Designed for Display

Most families find it necessary to get a few extra Christmas cards at the very last minute to send to someone they have forgotten to put on their early list. In the event you haven't seen them, a novelty card, called "twirl-arounds", is on the market and probably carried by one of your local stores. It will be something different to send to the late addition to your card list.

They were developed in the constant search for a new way of saying "Merry Christmas" by mail. And for the first time they provide three-dimensional proportions in card design and art.

For years card designers have been besieged with problems of how Christmas cards can be best displayed—how they can be shown instead of being simply piled on the table or mantel. Twirl-arounds answer this problem.

When hung on a Christmas tree, the mantel, or a doorway, the cards twirl with every breath of air in the room. Personal greetings, with all the friendship and intimate good cheer they represent, become a part of the Christmas decor.

The cards were first introduced last year by the P. F. Volland Co. of Joliet, Ill.

A New Warning

FEW folks in this country, of whatever religious belief, or of whatever race or color, can disagree wholly with the recent warning issued by the top hierarchy of the Catholic church in the United States, in annual meeting here in Washington.

And this warning is that an alarming parallel exists between the situation which faces this country today and that which faced the Roman Empire 1500 years ago—namely, barbarism on the outside as exemplified by Communism, and refined materialism and moral decay within. It is not a pleasant or complimentary picture painted of us as a people by the three Cardinals, six Archbishops and four Bishops which made up the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

Here are some barbs which hit home: "We have sent our young men on military expeditions to far-off lands so that justice and freedom may be kept alive in the world; and yet at home we have become careless about the foundations of justice and the roots of freedom." "Expressions such as, 'my life is my own affair', or 'I may do as I please', or 'in politics, anything goes', are all too common today. There is no time in man's life when he is excused from obeying the moral law. The clergyman, the educator, the doctor, the lawyer, the politician, the employer, the employee, husbands, wives and children are all alike strictly bound. All human rights and obligations have their source in God's law."

"Dishonesty, slander, detraction and defamation of character are as truly transgressions of God's commandments when resorted to by men in political life as they are for all other men."

"There are not two standards of morality. One and the same standard prohibits false statements about private individuals and false statements about members of minority groups and races. It will not do by way of excuse to say that statements of the latter kind can be excused because of long-standing prejudice."

"Morality has its place in business and industry because the conditions under which men work, the wages they get, the kind of work they do, all are subject to the jurisdiction of the moral law. When economic conditions are such that the raising of a family by working people is made difficult and at times impossible, then those responsible for this deplorable situation are guilty of breaking God's law and they are also accomplices in the sins resulting from their injustice." The prelates called upon Americans in every walk of life to rededicate themselves to the wisdom of our founding fathers and quoted the following passage from Washington's farewell address:

"Of all the disposition and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports . . . reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion to religious principle."

Senator McCarthy

In the final edition of the Congressional Record for the first session of the 82nd congress, Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin has caused to be inserted eighteen separate speeches, statements or whatnot, no doubt to be used in his campaign for re-election in Wisconsin. The theory is that the articles are supposed to have more authority when clipped from the Congressional Record.

Classroom Needs

The Office of Education of the Federal Security Agency points up the need for 600,000 new classrooms to accommodate public elementary and secondary school pupils each year until 1958 and the fact there will be something like 8,000,000 additional children enrolled by that time. Enrollment in elementary and secondary schools by that date will be 37,186,000. Costs of construction will run several billions.

Agriculture

First state to complete its streamlining of the Agricultural department into a one-stop service with all state offices of the department housed in one building, most significantly was in Iowa. Iowa is the home of Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, most outstanding critic of Secretary Brannan and his department.

Economic Help

The Committee for Economic Development, non-partisan group of top business and professional men, in a recent statement says: "The economics of the free world calls for greater efforts by American businessmen to help in applying their 'know how' in raising the production and the standard of living of underdeveloped countries through the Point 4 program, expanding world trade and strengthening the North Atlantic nations."

Signs of Christmas

Entire Family Helps With Preparations For the Holiday

Why not make this a real Christmas by having the entire family help in preparing for the great holiday? Follow the suggestions below and you may be amazed at the family solidarity shown around the Yuletide feast table.

First of all, getting the tree. This is an assignment that should fall to the younger members of the family. Going to the woods is the American tradition, and there is a special thrill in bringing in a tree of one's choice. City dwellers, however, have to buy their tree, so be sure to let the youngsters be able to say, "We chose the tree."

Decorating the home is a project that will offer jobs and fun for all. Arrange a nativity scene, decorate the doorways and windows, and, if there are any sick members of the family, decorate a small tree for the bedside. But, work together. Then, have a party, complete with games, dancing, caroling, refreshments and the exchanging of presents. The exchange of gifts should be well planned, so that no member of the family is slighted. Drawing names from a hat is an old custom in many large families. Strive also to add some extra entertainment. If a member of the clan can sing well, or dance, a solo performance should be a highlight.

Finally, after the party is well under way, call everything to a halt and give each member of the family a pencil and piece of paper, asking them to write in 25 or less words, "What Christmas Means to Me." You may be surprised at the answers turned in by some. Faith and sincerity may be found where you least expect it.

Old toys, adorned with a fresh coating of paint might make a wonderful gift for the very young.

You can make an attractive apron gift that would be appreciated by a young housekeeper from a feed or flour sack.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

Visitor Finds Two Worlds in Jerusalem

Palestinian merchants still create a scene reminiscent of the three wise men as they carry their wares along the desert sands bordering the blue Mediterranean near ancient Tel Aviv. Their camels, laden with wares, remind one of the gifts the Magi brought to the scene of the Nativity.

Today, the visitor finds two Jerusalems. One is the modern city with street cars, hotels and automobiles; the other the old walled city with narrow streets passing through many graceful archways and mounting from one level to another by well-worn steps. Donkeys and camels are the only means of transportation, and the section is little changed since the time Christ lived there. Life is much the same.

Titanic Tragedy Took 1600 Lives

Although icebergs occur throughout the year the greatest concentration usually reaches the shipping lanes from March through June. The season occasionally extends from February through August.

Greatest danger zone for steamships is around latitude 42 degrees 45 minutes north and longitude 47 degrees 52 minutes west, the approximate locale of the Titanic disaster of 1912, when the ship rammed an iceberg's invisible underwater shelf. The toll of lives in this north Atlantic disaster was 1,600.

Since the Titanic tragedy the United States coast guard's international ice patrol, its maintenance shared by a dozen countries, locates icebergs and warns ships in or approaching the danger zone. Radar and Loran are among the tools used by the patrol.

The U.S. hydrographic office also issues "pilot charts" of the region, laying down safe courses for ships. No ships have been lost by iceberg collision in the regular shipping lanes since the patrol was inaugurated.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Mistake Made With Asphalt Paint
QUESTION: I had my cement block foundation damp-proofed with asphalt roofing and paint applied to the underground parts. Before refilling the trench with earth, the workmen accidentally painted a large part of the foundations above the ground level with this asphalt paint. We were going to paint this part white. How can I paint over this asphalt coating? I'm told that neither paint or cement paint will adhere to it. What is your suggestion before I pull my hair out?

ANSWER: Before you pull all of it out, I suggest that you try to engage a representative of a sandblasting company to come and clean off the walls. There are companies who specialize in cleaning the outside of buildings, and I believe this would be your best bet.

The asphalt paint cannot be painted over with any degree of success. It would have to be cleaned off before the walls could be repainted. If the sandblasting idea does not work out for any reason, you might try softening the asphalt paint with turpentine and then go through the tedious job of rubbing it off with steel wool. As cement block is somewhat porous, some of the paint may have penetrated below the surface of the masonry and the job will not be easy.

YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID!

You'll be glad you took this piece of advice. This Christmas give the cigarette-smokers on your list cartons of Camels . . . and the pipe-smokers and "roll-your-owners" Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco. You'll be glad for two reasons: first, they're gifts that are sure to please—they're by far the most popular cigarette and smoking tobacco in America. Second, they're gifts that are so easy to give. Camels come in bright and cheery Christmas cartons this time of year, all ready to give. There's a space right on the top where you just fill in your personal greeting. The big one-pound tin of Prince Albert ("The National Joy Smoke") comes in a festive Christmas box and it, too, is all ready for Christmas giving, with a built-in Christmas card. Don't put it off. Go right to your dealer today while he still has plenty of these time-saving, money-saving gifts . . . mild, flavorful Camels, by far America's most popular cigarette . . . and Prince Albert, America's largest-selling smoking tobacco. ## It's Wonderful the Way Chewing-Gum Laxative

Acts Chiefly to REMOVE WASTE —NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon . . . right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, worn-out feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.

A handy tray for serving a sick person is the ordinary muffin tin. Small portions may be served in colorful paper muffin cups set inside and helps avoid the danger of spilling. A small glass fits in the tin, too.

Broiling

For ease and convenience when broiling food, homemaking specialists advise using aluminum foil or parchment on the bottom of your broiler pan. You can slide it off quick as a wink and save cleaning time.

When to Fish?

We have proclaimed often in this department that the time to go fishing is "any time you can get away to go." Naturally, there are many who won't subscribe to that, pointing out that weather conditions too frequently determine whether or not a man may go fishing.

That is true, of course; and we don't mean a man should always go fishing in freezing weather, a roaring gale or when the rain is streaming down in torrents. However, there are times when what would be considered "bad weather" for fishing pays off handsomely.

It did for us and a couple of companions only a few weeks ago when, with streams high and muddy, we set out to a nearby pond to do some panfishing.

Our companions were equipped with minnows and worms. We toted a fly rod and some No. 14 trout flies.

When we reached the pond, the day, which already had started out windy, turned into one wherein the wind was almost of gale proportions. The wind waves on the pond were almost a foot high and whitecaps were running. The wind was so strong that a fly rod, held vertically in the air, took a bend as if a heavy fish were on.

On that particular day and under those specific conditions, we would have wagered that our flies would not have enticed a single strike all day; and our companions agreed with us.

Despite the velocity of the wind, we were able to lay a respectable length of line occasionally and to our amazement—whenever we did, we got a strike. The bream and crappie were hitting furiously at flies which one would have thought they couldn't even have seen in that kind of water.

The men using minnows and worms caught three fish between them!

We point this incident up here to bolster a contention we have made before, that no one will ever get angling down to an exact science.

About "Lead"

By now, the nimrods in many states will be out after rabbit, quail grouse and other upland game. There will be many hits, many misses, and those who miss will always be wondering "how come?"

The answer is not a simple one. Millions of words have been written and spoken on this subject and there has been much discussion as to whether good wing-shooting can be taught.

It can be taught, of course—but only to a degree. That instinct in a hunter which makes him swing his gun muzzle the right distance ahead of a flying bird or a hurtling hare is a mystical something which cannot be completely gleaned from books.

The only answer, as we believe any honest instructor would tell you, is sufficient practice in the field to become a good wing-shot by instinct. But, with our waning fowl and game supply, the modern hunter doesn't have the chance to "get good" that his dad and granddad had.

The next best thing, then, is skeet and trapshooting. These are only substitutes and we do not guarantee that religious application to trap or station will make you a good gunner; but it will help to some extent.

Learning to "lead," which is the secret of successful wing-shooting, must be done in the field for best results; and, in the end, wing-shooting is an instant reaction to the three factors of speed, distance and alignment which must be correlated properly if the bird is to be downed or the bunny stopped.

Boys &amp; Guns

The question of when to give his son a gun and when to turn the youth loose in the field with it is a recurrent and serious one for all fathers who sincerely want their offspring to enjoy the pleasures of hunting.

And, it is one which each father must decide for himself; but there are a few guideposts which, if kept in mind, might simplify the problem. They are:

If there is any doubt about the boy's sense of responsibility and awareness of safety, don't let him take the gun out unless you, or some other adult is along.

Try to instill—by repeating as often as possible—the cardinal rules of gun-handling safety into the boy. Don't let the boy take his gun out with just other fellows of his own, or even older, age along.

Weight of Reel

The weight of a fly reel, in the classic specifications, should be one and one-half times the weight of the fly rod. That's what sportsmen used to think. But after the trial and error method proved the fallacy of that thinking, fly rod users came to the commonsense conclusion that the reel should weigh whatever it takes to make the assembled outfit feel "right" in the hand—balanced so as to perform a maximum of service with a minimum of fatigue.
