County Authorizes Bond Issue

Over 2,000 Votes Cast In Contest

Carries in All Cities and Townships of County Except Burleigh

Last Monday by a vote of 1529 to 485 Iosco county citizens extended the two-mill courthouse building fund levy, and by a vote of 1423 to 392, authorized a bond issue of $250,000 for the immediate construction of a new courthouse. The two-mill building fund had been adopted three years ago.

The two proposals carried in all townships and cities in the county, with one exception—Burleigh township. In Plainfield township the sentiment was nearly equally divided. The millage proposal won by four votes, and the bond proposal by one vote. In Reno township the vote was nearly as equally divided but the remainder of the county, taken as a whole, gave a substantial four to one vote in favor of building a courthouse at once rather than waiting seven years until the two-mill levy had accumulated a fund sufficient for its construction. With building costs as they are, many doubted whether it could have been built at the end of the seven year period without a bond issue and an extension of the tax levy, or through a large increase in the equalized valuation of the county during the seven years.

The vote was as follows:

TRAFFIC TOLL SETS NEW MARK FOR FEBRUARY

Although there were fewer accidents, a toll of 3,412 traffic casualties—deaths and injuries combined, during February was by far the highest ever recorded for that month in Michigan.

According to the State Police monthly statistical report, the total lacked only eight of being 600 greater than the figure for February of 1950, when the previous high of 2,800 was recorded. Last year the toll stood at 2,816.

There were 113 deaths, an increase of ten, or ten percent, over 103 in 1951 and injuries numbered 3,299, an increase of 586, or 22 per cent, over 2,713. Accidents totaled 13,493, a decrease of 439, or three per cent, under 13,932.

All of the fatality increase occurred on the state rural trunk-line system. The increase in injuries and the decrease in accidents were reported in both rural and urban areas.

The traffic toll for the first two months of 1952 included 194 persons killed and 6,581 injured in 28,462 accidents. Compared with the same period last year, deaths were down 40, or 17 per cent, under 234. Injuries increased 347, or six per cent, over 6,234. Accidents dropped 1,115, or four per cent, under 29,577. Decreases in deaths and injuries during January offset the February increases.

Estimated travel for January, the latest month available, was 1.74 billion miles, a decrease of one per cent under the 1.76 billion miles of travel in the same month last year. The death rate per 100 million miles of travel was 4.65, a reduction of 38 per cent, under 7.45 for January of 1951.

Water Level Declines in Parts of Michigan

While portions of the Great Lakes are flood high, northern lower peninsula ground water levels declined .15 of a foot in March from the February record high stage of 2.99 feet.

Latest conservation department measurement still was .56 of a foot above the 10-year average for March. In the upper peninsula, the .34 of a foot decline in the Menominee river basin equals the normal average decline for the period there.

While slight fluctuations are expected prior to the spring break up, a February to March drop is unusual and has occurred only three times in the last 17 years of measurement. April snow melt and rainfall are expected to again boost the high ground water levels.

Prevent Spread Of Trash Fires When Cleaning

State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard, who is also state fire marshal, warn Michigan residents that spring cleaning may turn out to be a costly chore if special care is not taken when burning trash.

"Our fire loss reports show that local fire departments throughout the state are called more than 10,000 times each year when trash fires ignite buildings and surrounding property," Leonard said. "At least 1,000 buildings are destroyed or damaged. Such waste can be prevented if a few simple precautionary steps are taken.

"One of the most dangerous practices is starting trash fires on windy days. Wait for a calm day when the fire can be controlled more easily and there will not be so much danger of it spreading. Remember, too, fire has no respect for property lines.

"It is always best to burn trash away from buildings and use a properly screened trash burner. After lighting the fire, stay close by, don't leave it unattended. Keep a shovel or rake and water handy. When the fire appears to be out, make sure it is out by sprinkling dirt or water over the ashes.

"Avoid needless trouble and expense or yourself, your neighbor and your fire department. Be especially careful with trash fires."

QUESTION: Is there any way I can put up a shelf on the tile wall of my bathroom?
—J. S. Brockton, Massachusetts

ANSWER: Start by attaching small blocks of wood to the tile wall with adhesives. This type of adhesive is generally available, most of them are black in color, and will hold practically all kinds of materials together very well. With blocks in position, use screws to attach fixtures in customary way.

QUESTION: Please advise how to remove rust stains from white asbestos shingles. The stains are caused by rain water dripping from gable-end louver or vents.
—J. H. C. Bronx, N. Y.

ANSWER: Use a solution of sal soda (sometimes called sodium carbonate) and granulated soap in warm water. Scrub shingles with this mixture, using a stiff brush. Rinse thoroughly with clear water—use garden hose with full pressure. Start your scrubbing at the bottom, otherwise the drip from above will make stains on lower, dry shingles, which will be hard to remove.

QUESTION: I have difficulty patching broken pavement around my home. What is the correct procedure?
—F. S. G., Trenton, N. J.

ANSWER: Remove all loose material from with water. Key edges of hole by undercutting them with a cold chisel. Then apply a mix of a 1 1/2 mix (1 part cement in which lime has been mixed, 2 1/2 parts sharp sand) in clean water.

QUESTION: Is there any danger in putting the smoke pipe from a coal stove into the same chimney where there is an oil burner in the basement?
—A. Y., Enfield, Connecticut

ANSWER: Main danger from two fires connected to same flue is that draft of one, or the other, will be poor. If oil burner operates with forced draft, probability is that stove would smoke. Some chimneys have two flues however, and it's worth checking for this.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

HAROLD R. CLARK
County Agricultural Agent

Any day now we could have a good spell of warm weather which would put our soil in good tilling condition—Are you ready?

1. Tractor, plow, harrow, disc, manure spreader, and grain drill ready to go?
2. Is soil tested?
3. Is fertilizer and seed purchased?

Timeliness is a most important factor of farm management. Other factors equal, it is the crop put in on time, cultivated on time and harvested on time that brings the better yields. It takes no longer to do the job early than it does to do it late.

Since the weather is an uncertain factor in getting the job done on time, the farmer must play his law of averages and anticipate some unfavorable conditions. So, with the possibility of a limited number of days to get the crop in, be sure all equipment is in tip top shape. To find that a new part is needed when it's time to go out on the field may cause a costly delay. Do a good job of plowing so that a minimum amount of fitting will be necessary. We have found that once over tillage operations have been very desirable. The farmer should now have the soil tested and have fertilizer and seed on deck. Be ready to take advantage of the breaks.

Some significant news about date of planting potatoes has been released. Last year, date of planting demonstrations were conducted on the Oscar Overholt farm near Levering.

D. L. Clananan, farm crops specialist at Michigan State College, reports the results of plantings made on May 18, June 6 and June 21. Potatoes were grown in a field under the same conditions and were handled the same. Three varieties were used: the test—Russet Rurals, Sebago and 125-4 Seedling.

All three varieties showed much higher yields from the earlier date compared to the two June planting times. Russet Rurals planted May 18 made 614 bushels to the acre, those planted on June 6 made 403 bushels and the June 21 planting yielded only 378 bushels to the acre. The earlier planting of Sebago yielded 566 bushels, the June 6 planting yielded 403 bushels and the June 21 planting made 380 bushels to the acre. The 125-4 seeding produced 611, 483 and 390 bushels respectively in order of planting dates, with their May 18 date proving most profitable again.

There is a new treatment for "stiff lamb disease," or white muscle disease which yearly causes serious losses. It usually affects the early single lambs that are growing rapidly. It is definitely known to be caused by a lack of Vitamin E. Affected lambs will show a stiffness of the hind legs, front legs or back. Usually their eyes remain bright and they will nurse if held up to the ewe. Death may be quite sudden or they may linger several days.

Research workers at Michigan State College now recommend Vitamin E capsules, the same as used by humans. The treatment is 100 milligrams daily until lamb has recovered. Place the ewe and affected lamb in a small pen so the lamb can nurse. As soon as the lambs start to eat, fix up a lamb creep and include one-third wheat in a creep ration for them.

Feed the ewes good quality hay, feed a variety of grains, including one-quarter to one-half wheat in the mixtures before lambing.

American top soil, this thin blanket of humus and decomposed rock, seldom thicker than the bite of a hard thrust spade, is one of the most precious single resources in our country.

Seek Dockage Space for Army Crash Boats

Oscoda Air Force Base officials are seeking suitable dockage and office facilities for the two crash boats and crews presently docked at the mouth of the Ausable river.

Filling in of the river and the high water which has flooded the approaches have resulted in the search for a new berth until such a time as the present dockage becomes useable again.

Alpena and Tawas, and other points on Lake Huron are being considered, but no definite action has been taken. Air Force base officers said.

4-H CLUB NOTES

The 4-H Club Reporter says:

I was quite happy to meet with the Isoco County Farm Bureau Board of Directors, to discuss the use of our 4-H Club demonstration teams and talent acts. This experience will mean a great deal to our members and I feel that their demonstrations and acts will be interesting to the Farm Bureau groups. I am in hope that other organizations will be interested in using our demonstration teams and talent acts on their programs. The more opportunities presented, the better chance each will have come June 3 and county eliminations.

Lester Robinson was in the office the other day and reminded me that it would be well for vegetable gardeners and livestock men too, to order their rotenone if they haven't already done so. Purchasing in the bulk form might be investigated. It may save considerable expense for the garden.

Rotenone dust has been effective in the use of controlling warbles in cattle. Our 4-H dairy and beef members can find this a faster method than using the "blackhead" procedure of pressing them out. It is well to brush the infested area of the cattle with a stiff brush before applying the dust. If it is possible, brush the powder in well, it will give even better results.

Speaking of the vegetable garden reminds me to prompt our gardeners that the earlier peas are put in, the better the crop. In fact a snow like we had last week-end wouldn't hurt them.

A word to the wise is sufficient" so onion growers get your selves some 50% wettable chlordane powder, follow the manufacturers directions and treat the ground when you plant your onions. You eat the onions and let the maggots have a steady

New Books

Do you need help to plan and start your garden; to improve your soil; to landscape your yard? Or do you want to learn more about house plants or glean new ideas for flower arrangements? The Isoco County Library Garden Book collection can answer your questions whether you are a beginner or an expert.

During March two new books were added to the garden collection. "1001 Garden Questions Answered," by Alfred C. Hottes provides the gardener with answers to questions most frequently asked by the small home gardener.

"Trees for American Gardens," by Donald Wyman will be of interest to those planning new landscapes around the home. The author, a horticulturist at the Harvard University, Arnold Arboretum has written this book for the layman as well as the professional landscapist. The book supplies concrete information on appearance, habits and uses of more than 700 trees; the order of bloom and foliage colors. Color maps show the hardiness zones and the regional advance of spring.

The following titles are also to be found on the shelves of the Branch libraries. Gardening, Better Homes and Gardens; "Garden Book," "Gardening," a complete guide to garden making by Montague Free; "Surgery with a Spade," by A. Z. Godunov; "Learning to Garden," by Olive Gunnison; "Modern Guide

Ike Debate

POLITICS wasn't mentioned during the backstage debate on bringing General Eisenhower home, but it hung over almost every word of the discussion. Except with a handful of senators, the real question—the security of Europe—was lost sight of.

Here is the background story of the debate over bringing Ike back from Paris.

Well before the New Hampshire primary, President Truman sent word to Eisenhower through Averell Harriman, inviting him back to Washington to testify on aid to Europe. This was at a time when Eisenhower supporters were wringing their hands over the danger of his defeat and privately urging Ike to come home. Truman's plan to bring Ike home, therefore, dovetailed right into the plans of Senators Lodge and Duff and Governor Dewey. Until New Hampshire, they were strong for it.

But suddenly, after Ike's victory in New Hampshire, they had a change of heart. Suddenly they figured their man could win without coming back to the U.S.A. Suddenly also they decided that the risk of having Ike testify on the controversial question of foreign aid was such that he should remain in Paris.

That was why Senator Lodge, the Eisenhower campaign manager, voted by proxy in the foreign relations committee to keep Ike in Paris; also why Smith of New Jersey, an Eisenhower Republican, did likewise.

George Says No

No matter what you think of Harry Truman, however in this case involving the all-important question of foreign policy, he played the game straight. Truman's main idea is to get foreign aid passed.

Having already invited Eisenhower to come home and testify, he assumed this would be done. So also did the joint chiefs of staff, who, until last week end, were making plans for Ike's arrival.

However, some White House advisers thought it would be more diplomatic to have the two congressional committees which must pass on foreign aid extend the official invitation to Eisenhower rather than leave the President "order" him back.

So Senator McMahon of Connecticut, one of the ablest administration leaders in the senate, picked up the ball and demanded that the senate foreign relations committee, of which he is a member, extend the invitation.

When the vote came up in a closed-door session, however, politics obviously dominated the debate.

Senator George of Georgia led the drive to block Ike's return, probably because George, first, is strongly in favor of cutting the mutual-security funds; also, through a Democrat, friends say that he leans toward Taft for President. Though George cooperates with his Georgia colleague, Senator Russell, there never has been too much love lost between them.

McMahon Pleads

Senator McMahon opened the closed-door debate by urging that it was Eisenhower's duty to inform the senate how much money it should vote for the security of Europe.

"There's no politics being played here, at least on my part," declared McMahon. "I realize that General Eisenhower's prominence in the Republican party has increased since his victory in New Hampshire. But before the New Hampshire results were known, I suggested to this committee that Eisenhower be invited here."

"I timed my proposal to avoid the intrusion of politics. We have every reason to seek the general's views, since three-fourths of this $7,900,000,000 appropriation—or about $5,900,000,000—will be spent through his command."

"I'm against this proposal in any form," snapped Senator George. He continued with a lengthy argument that Eisenhower's testimony would be "politically misunderstood."

"Well, I'm for it," announced Tobey of New Hampshire, who is an Eisenhower Republican, but also strong for foreign aid. "Who knows more about this matter, the financial and military aspects of NATO, than General Eisenhower? Of all witnesses we should seek out for advice while considering this tremendous appropriation, Eisenhower is the most important."

Tobey later tangled with Chairman Connally, when the latter refused to vote, leaving the count 7-5 against inviting Ike.

"I would like to know how the chairman voted on this matter," needed the New Hampshireite.

"I didn't," replied Connally. "Aren't you compelled under the rules to vote, like the rest of us?" inquired Tobey caustically.

"No," scowled the big Texan, who, thanks to a primary battle, has now become more the senator of the Lone Star state than of the United States.

after Duracleaning

For economy and convenience... have your upholstery and floor coverings Duracleaned by experts, right in your home. Watch the unusual care with which these craftsmen beautify your furnishings.

Duraclean means your fabric lasts longer because this modern, safe cleaning process avoids strong soaps and chemicals which so often harm the dyes or fabric. Longer life too, because there is no wear, no breaking of fibers caused by machine scrubbing.

This patent protected service is recommended by America's leading furniture and department stores.

What Makes Duraclean "Different"

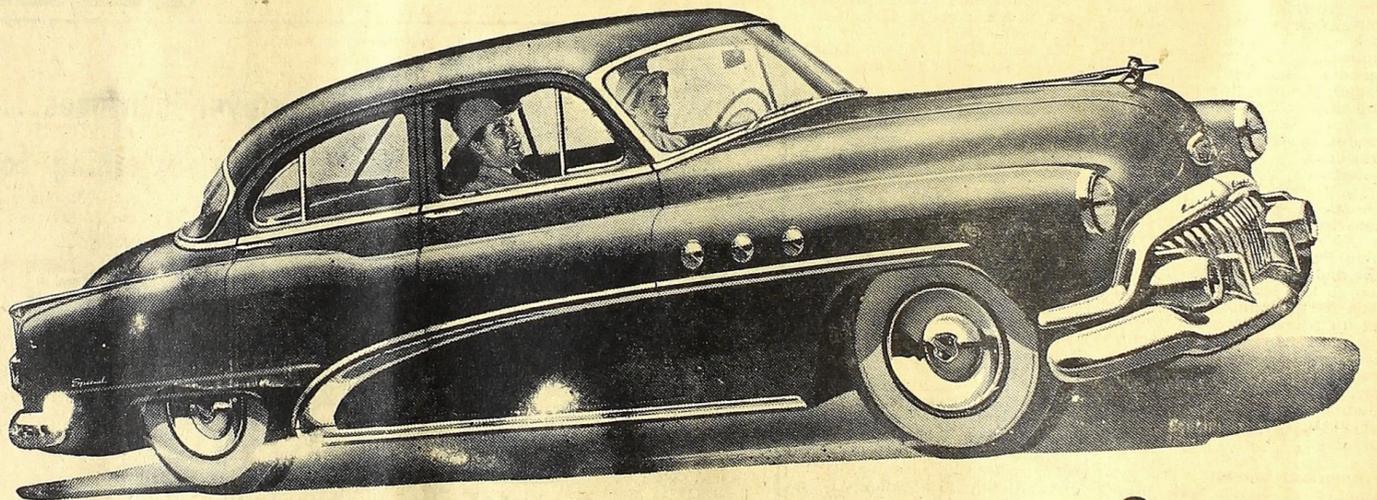

It cleans by absorption!
Embedded dirt and grit are first removed by "deep suction." Many cleaning methods leave enough dirt-laden soap in your rugs and upholstery to cause "matting" or "rapid resoiling." Duracleaning avoids this.

The mild aerated Duraclean foam loosens and absorbs sticky soil and stains, holding this grime in suspension above the surface until removed.

No inconvenient Duracleaned fabrics are dry in just a few hours. Special ingredients re-enliven wool fibers. Rug pile unmat and rises. Colors revive. Your fabrics are left clean, fresh, enlivened... your home is more beautiful to live with.

Duraproof—if you wish, you may at the same time have your floor coverings, upholstery, clothing or fur Duraproofed. You have 4 years protection against damage from moths and carpet beetles. Also protects against mildew. The annual cost is lower than applying less effective moth solutions yourself. Have your fabrics Duraproofed today—before damage develops.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—are not what they used to be. But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning. What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Wheel Crests standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

4-Night Mission at Whittemore

Dr. Everett K. Seymour, pastor of the large St. Mark's Methodist Church in Detroit will be guest preacher for a four-night preaching mission in the Whittemore Methodist Church beginning next Monday, April 14. Dr. Seymour was born in Watertown, New York. He attended Albion College and received his A. B. from Wayne University. He took his Seminary work at Boston University and received his Doctors of Divinity from Albion College. He will be a delegate to the Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church this summer. Dr. Seymour is a member of the Detroit Commandery and the Kiwanis Club.

"We are very fortunate to have Dr. Seymour with us for these four nights. He is one of the outstanding preachers of our Methodist Church in Michigan. We urge all of our members and friends to attend each night," the Rev. Wesley Dafeo, pastor of the church said in commenting on the Preaching Mission.

Tawas Boy Likes Beaumont, Texas

A recent issue of the Sunday Enterprise of Beaumont, Texas, carries a story about Larry Klinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Klinger, who is now a resident of Beaumont. The story is as follows:

Beaumont's clean buildings, warm weather and friendly people have scored a hit with Larry Klinger of Tawas City, Mich., thanks to a story appearing last fall in the Saturday Evening Post.

It all started last January, two days before Mr. Klinger was graduated from Bowling Green State university at Bowling Green, Ohio, when he casually glanced through a copy of the Post.

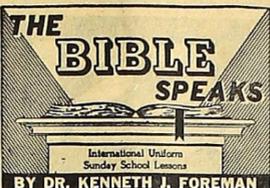

"The beautiful air view of clean streets and white buildings caught my eye the moment I saw it," Mr. Klinger said, "and the prospects of nearby hunting and salt water fishing were more than I could stand."

The 24-year old native of Michigan arrived in Beaumont last week and within 13 hours landed a job as sales representative for the Universal Carloading and Distributing Company here of which L. M. Blake is manager of the local office.

Perhaps the asset that most attracted him to the Beaumont area was the warm weather practically all year around, Mr. Klinger said. He said there was three feet of snow on the ground when he left Tawas City last week.

"I live only 25 feet from Lake Huron, and there we have only two seasons—winter and August," he said. The first thing the new Texan did when he arrived here to prove his adoption of Texas was to send his 10-year old brother a pair of "genuine cowboy boots."

When warned of the extremely warm weather that often invades Beaumont during the summer months, Mr. Klinger replied he spent one summer fighting forest fires in Arizona, and "nothing can be as hot as that," he said.

INTERNATIONAL UNION SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

The Risen Lord
Lesson for April 13, 1952

In all the chorusing Easter music. In all the multitudinous many-voiced "I believe . . ." in the midst of the Easter lilies, is it hard to believe? Some find it so; and feel ashamed that in the presence of others' bright faith their own doubts rise darkly dim. Their faith once clear and warm now grown opaque and cold. It is at Easter time that such a person finds his case most tragic. Doubt that echoes a universal loss of faith is almost natural; but why must doubt stand like a dark rock in a sunny meadow, cold in the midst of flowing springtime?

Dr. Foreman

The Man of Dark Mind

TRAGIC such loss of faith may be; but not new. For in Christ's first Twelve—we must say first Eleven. For Judas had sold himself to another—even in that choice company there was one who, on the first Easter, when the voice of all his friends spoke as one: He is risen! could only answer, Is he risen, indeed?

The church has given the name of Saint to these eleven men; they will not deny it to Saint Thomas. For sainthood is not confined to those who have never wrestled with doubt; saints are not only those in whose eyes God and his ways have been always clearly seen.

High in the roll of Christian saints is the name of Thomas, a man of dark but honest mind. His doubt was very like him. He was not a man who most easily believed what was most pleasant.

When Jesus had set his face to go to Jerusalem, the other Ten looked for a Throne, and thrones for all; Thomas alone looked for death. Yet in the very hour, cheered by no bright illusion, Thomas could say what no other did: "Let us go too that we may die with him."

In the upper room at the Last Supper, again the voice of Thomas bespoke his dark mind. "We know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?"

So it could have been small surprise to the Ten that when they went to Thomas with the glad news of Easter Day, he was slow to believe.

Fire Blight Hits Michigan Orchards

Pear and apple trees in almost all parts of the estate have been heavily hit by fire blight during the past year, according to Ed. Andrews, plant disease specialist at Michigan State College.

The disease has been especially severe in some of the good orchards in the heavy fruit producing areas. Many pear trees in Michigan orchards have been killed back to the main trunk by fire blight bacteria this winter.

Andrews says that the best way to control fire blight is to keep it out of the orchard every year as much as possible. This can be done by pruning the blighted shoots and cutting out the cankers that are found on the large branches and on the trunk.

Rapid, succulent growth favors fire blight infection. This is one reason why fire blight is frequently more severe in bearing orchards than in nearby neglected pear and apple trees.

In general, the fire blight bacteria do not grow as well in the bark of apple trees as they do in susceptible pear. Therefore, pruning is not the problem in apple, but all cankers and blighted twigs should be cut out as a routine matter whenever observed.

Clean Smelt as Soon as Possible

To prevent needless waste of a fish food, the conservation department cautions spring fishermen against discarding the occasional batch of smelt with worms in them.

Such a catch of fish might be cleaned immediately after being taken. Even if they are not, regular cooking will make the smelt entirely safe for human consumption.

The infrequent presence of the parasite usually goes unnoticed, but misinformed and suspicious fishermen have wasted a lot of parasite free smelt as well in past spring seasons.

Flying Kites Dangerous in Inclement Weather

Although Benjamin Franklin survived a series of shocks while flying a kite during an electric storm, boys and girls of today should not attempt to copy this, according to Division Manager Louis A. Vaupre of Consumers Power Company.

"Flying kites in inclement weather, even if they are constructed properly of wood, cloth and paper, can be very dangerous," Mr. Vaupre said.

Mr. Vaupre said the safe kite is the wood frame model with paper covering and plain string or twine, containing no metallic threads, and cloth tail.

He warned also that children should fly kites far from power lines or installations, preferably in open country.
