The sewage pumping station and force main proposal submitted Monday to Tawas City voters won in a two to one vote. More than 230 votes were cast.

The vote was: Bonding—152 yes; 82 no. Charter Amendment—161 yes; 78 no. The vote by wards was as follows:

Bonding—
1st Ward—34 yes; 29 no. 2nd Ward—33 yes; 24 no. 3rd Ward—85 yes; 29 no.

The proposed pumping station as approved by the voters Monday will be established at the junction of Lake street and US-23 south of the Tawas river bridge. Mayor George Myles stated yesterday that City Engineer Clifford Spicer would start Monday on the engineering and final plans for the project. It will be completed as soon as possible, Mayor Myles stated.

The project will furnish sewage disposal facilities for the several rapidly growing subdivisions and numerous cabin and commercial enterprises now in the southern portion of the third ward. It is another step toward a complete water and sewage disposal system for the city. Several sewer extensions in other sections of the city are now in progress.

Lose to Sterling in 1 to 0 Game

West Branch Plays Here this Sunday

In a tough 1 to 0 contest, the Tawas City Independents lost a tight game to the league leading Sterling ball team last Sunday. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning because of rain.

Herb Look, for Tawas City and Cousins, for Sterling, were both stingy with their hits and the only run was unearned.

The big run for Sterling came in the fourth, when Proulx singled, stole second, went to third on an attempted pick-off at second that backfired, and scored on S. Wolfgang's single.

Sterling batters hit safely seven times, one in the first; two in fourth, two in seventh and two in the eighth. Only two Tawas batters solved Cousin's slants, with Art. Anschuetz hitting safely in the second and Russ Anschuetz in the seventh.

This Sunday, July 27, the locals will play their last league home game, with West Branch furnishing the opposition. Come out and see your favorites. A good game is always assured.

Successful Arts and Crafts Show Held Last Week

A successful Art Exhibit sponsored by the Ladies Literary Club of East Tawas was held at the Community Building last Wednesday evening and Thursday, July 16 and 17.

The exhibit was organized and directed by Mrs. L. G. McKay, Sr., and her committees.

On Wednesday evening Miss Margaret Yuill, Assistant Professor of Art at Michigan State College gave an address. She was introduced by Harold Clark, who secured the speaker. Miss Yuill stated that there are many different phases of art. She also said true art is not copied or reproduced from a picture, a scene in nature or from a mental image. It must be original and express personality or individualism. She stated that there are no fixed rules in art work. She also said color books in hands of young children discourage initiative.

Among the fine collections on display were a miniature English coach and horses by Norman Sibley, drawings by Arnold Copeland of Bay City, a display of varieties of dolls by Mrs. C. J. Creaser and Mrs. Will Sedgeman, a large painting of "The Death of Moses" by Russell Small, oil and air brush painting by N. L. Champion, a display of the traveling Art Exhibit of the National Music Camp of Interlochen, drawings of Michigan students from Interlochen, soap sculpture by Misha Krumm, display by the Harold Petersons, and by the Tawas Beach Club. All Day Meet Held At Prescott Ranch

Possibilities of Cattle Growing in Northern Michigan Shown

More than 1000 livestock breeders, stockmen and farmers from all sections of Michigan attended Beef Day last Saturday at the Prescott Ranch. It was an all-day event given under the auspices of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Breeders Association.

Hosts for the day were State Senator Charles Prescott, who with his sons, "Bill" and C. T. Prescott, Jr., among the pioneers in this area's grassland farming and have long been great exponents of this type of farming.

For three generations the Prescott Ranch has been the home of fine beef cattle, and Senator Prescott has always been enthusiastic over livestock for Northeastern Michigan. During the early 1930's it was through his work and enthusiasm that the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Breeders Association was founded. He has continued as president of the association and one of its most active members ever since.

Tours of the land, conducted by area county agents and Michigan State College representatives, showed how the Prescotts and many other farmers like them are turning to the grass, which grows so well in the area, and other forage crops into cash through fattened Hereford cattle.

Among those who were in charge of demonstrations, market grading, production, insect and fly control, feeding and tours were: Prof. R. B. Warren, Dr. Ray J. Janes, Prof. H. Moxley.—(Continued No. 3, Back Page)

God Prepared Him

Lesson for July 27, 1952

WHEN A CHRISTIAN looks back, he can see God's hand better than he can see it looking forward. A Christian, even a worrying Christian (though there should be no such people as Christians who worry), can feel very thankful for God's blessings, care and guidance in the past, even while worrying over tomorrow's uncertainties. How foolish this is! God is even now making ready for the future. He is not to be taken by surprise. He knows what he wants and he knows how to get it. While we waste time in worry, God is at work. The story of Samuel is a case in point.

Dr. Foreman

God's Home

EVERY ONE KNOWS that the strongest single influence in a person's life is his home. We sometimes take that for granted.

On the contrary, a home may wreck a man before he starts. It has been said that many alcoholics get their start, —not their start in drinking but their start in the nervous, unsettled disposition which easily slips down into alcoholism and other drug habits, before they are six years old. The wrong kind of parents, lack of harmony between father and mother, ill-treatment or simple neglect, can make a child already abnormal before he is old enough to go to school.

On the other hand, the foundation of a strong man can always be found in the home where he first lived. So it was with the remarkable man, the prophet Samuel.

In later life he became lawgiver, king-maker, preacher and general of the army; no ordinary man! The nation needed him; and when the time came, God produced him. But God produced his mother first.

God's Church

AFTER LEAVING HOME, Samuel literally lived in a tabernacle, which served as a church in those far off days. The little boy found there a second home. Old Eli the priest no doubt came to mean much more to him than his own father did, his father whom he so seldom saw.

So it still is, where the church is doing what it should for the children of its people. A child should not be afraid of the minister; he should not feel anything but love for the church. True, a church building is different from other buildings in that it is set apart for a sacred use. A church is the symbol of God's presence among men, and the sanctuary of a church ought to make all who come into it feel that this place is holy ground.

But that does not mean that a child should be afraid of the place, as some children are. If they have been coming there every Sunday — as they can remember, sitting with the rest of the family in the family pew (sounds old-fashioned but there are still thousands of them), coming so regularly that no question is ever asked on Sunday morning, "Well, shall we go to church or not?" —then they will feel more at home on the inside of the church, when the Lord's Day comes, than they ever will on the outside.

Now this is not all always true. If children and young people are not attracted by the church, as too often they are not, whose fault is it?

Whoever may be to blame, it is certain that a church which loses its young people is headed for its end.

The Voice of God

IT IS MOST INTERESTING to know that when young Samuel heard the voice of God, it sounded just like the voice of Eli the priest. (If you heard the voice of God, whose human voice would it sound like?)

At any rate, God prepared this great prophet Samuel not only by the influence of home and church, but by a personal religious experience. Now there is no real conflict or contradiction between religious education and conversion, between the church and the home, and the work of the Holy Spirit.

God was in Samuel's home, God was in that tabernacle, God was in his religious education. But God also came to him directly and not only through home and church. If we wonder sometimes where the Christian leaders for the next generation are coming from, we may be sure God is preparing them even now, in simple if obscure ways, as he did with Samuel of old.

HERALD WANT-ADS

New Books

The county library has a group of new books that will make interesting reading for teen agers.

For a sports story that will keep you chuckling read Bob Allison and Frank Hill's "The Kid Who Batter 1,000". You needn't be a baseball fan to enjoy the incredible and hilarious incidents that follow the Chicks as the World Series hang in the balance. It's fast moving and zany story of a boy who preferred raising pedigreed chickens to baseball.

Two books about famous baseball players are "The Story of Ty Cobb" by Gene Schoor and "Yogi Berra" by Joe Trimble. Gene Schoor tells of Cobb's first interest in baseball at the age of 12. His father wanted him to study law but his only interest besides baseball was medicine. His one burning ambition was to always be first. The story of Ty Cobb is the exciting story of a man who set out to make good and did. The story of Yogi Berra is that of an ugly duckling. It is the rise of a homely, poor youngster in the Italian section of St. Louis to national fame and wealth. It traces his career from his childhood days to his present place of eminence in baseball.

Dorothy Deming, R. N., has written "Linda Kent, Student Nurse" another story for girls.

"My Love Is a Gypsy" by Neta Lohnes Frazier is a story of a girl's disappointment in her summer plans. However, substitutes proved thrilling and new.

Ward Beam's World Champion Auto Daredevils who execute this stunt must be descendants of the stalwarts who devised the historic Roman-standing races on horseback in the days of ancient glory.

They use the holding rope as protection and stand in their stocking feet. Sometimes the drivers slip off the narrow ramps as they speed over the "obstacle" course and sometimes the boxes slip off. It may not look quite as spectacular as the head-on collision of two stock cars, the jump of the autos over a full-length bus, the crashing of a car into a wall of flame and other thrillers on the menu which Beam's courageous lads will serve at the Whittemore Speedway, Sunday afternoon only, August 3rd.

WILL MAKE TOUR WITH MICHIGAN MILK PRODUCERS

Harold R. Clark, County Agricultural Agent of Iosco County has been invited by the Michigan Milk Producers Association for an all day tour arranged by the Extension Service staff of Michigan State College to study milk producing and processing facilities and be given first-hand information concerning the operation of the Federal milk marketing order in the Detroit market on Friday, July 25th.

Arrangements for the tour have been completed by B. D. Kuhn, State Leader Agricultural Programs, Michigan State College, who is in charge.

The tour will start at 10 a. m. at Imlay City, in the Michigan Milk Producers Association milk manufacturing plant where F. C. Ewbank, Supervisor of Stations, will explain its operation. The guests also will inspect the adjoining maintenance garage with Emerson Teal outlining milk transportation problems. Lunch will be served to the county agents at noon, after which they will go to Detroit.

The first stop in Detroit will be at the offices of Michigan Milk Producers Association. On hand to explain the operations of the Association will be I. K. Maystead, president; H. F. Simmons, secretary-manager; William Bristow, treasurer; department heads and members of the board of directors.

The guests will then visit the U. S. Department of Agriculture

NEW GAME LAWS CAN BACKFIRE

Our Michigan Conservation Department has definitely established the courage of its convictions in the setting of longer seasons on some of our more prominent Michigan game, BUT they'd better pray that nature cooperates!

Most bird and animal populations are subject to fluctuations over which man has no control. High and low peaks seem to run in more or less definite cycles which have sometimes been predicted well in advance. IF our upland game bird population holds at its current high level, IF our Michigan rabbits continue to multiply and sustain their present numbers, the new, longer seasons will be heralded as a wonderful move on the part of the Conservation Department.

Hunters will be lavish in their praise of the decision.

However, let nature put the skids on partridge or bunnies in one of her cycles and the hounds will be loose! They'll be baying at the door of those game biologists who said that longer seasons wouldn't put a dent in populations. They'll be howling that too much hunting pressure did it! The birds and bunnies have been chivvied and harried relentlessly in the elongated season! The very seed stock has been all but destroyed! It's murder! And it's all the fault of the Conservation Department.

Gun Pressure Won't Count

Personally, I hold with game men who don't think guns can seriously effect the numbers of upland game birds, squirrels, rabbits or raccoons from year to year. They're spread over a very wide area in hundreds of thousands of acres that are never even hunted. The so-called "seed-stock" is invulnerable in this wilderness. They'll prosper as nature will let them in her cyclic moods, despite the booming of a half-million guns in hunters' hands. However, in my own mind, it's a different story with pheasants.

Pheasants Can't Take It
We're probably giving pheasants as much of a going over as they'll stand, and the reason is twofold. Their range is limited, and right now there are probably several million of these popular birds fairly well concentrated in southern Michigan. They're easy for the hunter to reach. Their cover is limited, and worst of all too many careless "sportsmen" kill off an alarming number of hens every fall. From all current reports nature will take the heat off the Conservation Department this fall. She's supplying a bumper crop of birds despite the fact that our game farm which once raised upwards of 50,000 pheasants has just about gone out of business. So the lads in Lansing can concentrate their worries on deer herd control—a headache we'll discuss another day in Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

milk market administrator's office. Explanation will be made of the pricing of milk, the Federal order, and the check testing of milk by that office.

The Michigan Milk Producers Association will entertain the guests at dinner and take them to the night ball game between the Boston Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers.

NOW you can get BUICK POWER STEERING† on the SUPER too!

6-passenger Roadmaster Convertible

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straight-away?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—especially women—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflo Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in — or pick up your phone — and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

WEEKLY EATING CLUB By Jim Barstow

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

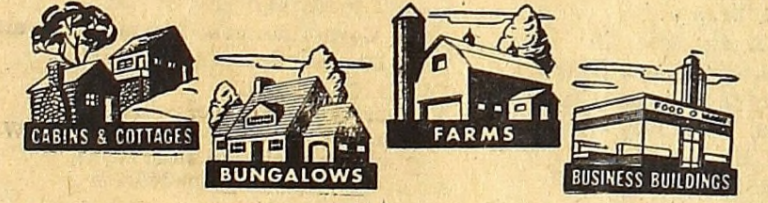

A SMART woman thinks of three things before she chooses a new item of wearing apparel. First, the style—Is it suitable to her type? Second—Will the color flatter her appearance? And fit—Does the garment gracefully enhance her figure? With these considerations in mind, the wardrobe you decide upon will include clothing of which you'll very seldom tire.

even melancholic. Yellow can bring sunshine to your countenance; purple tends to have a dignified, dominating effect, and black, of course, is serious and sometimes mysterious.

CHOOSE YOUR COLORS WISELY
You should be individualistic about your choice of colors, however. Although generally, colors set the moods I've mentioned above, your skin, hair and eyes can be affected favorably or unfavorably by them. Some shades do as much for your skin as an application of powder and rouge and others completely drain your face of color and dull your hair. Analyze your skin coloring by putting pieces of colored paper or fabric next to your face. You'll see that light hues tend to add color to the face unless you're an extremely pale blond with a light complexion. Of course, if you desire a fragile, china doll appearance, go ahead and wear pastels even though you're a pale face. If you have a lot of yellow in your facial coloring, try to keep away from the yellow or violet shades. Likewise, ruddy complexioned women should concentrate on wearing dark colors as much as possible.

KNIT A HANDSOME HALTER
Put your best color to good use in your wardrobe and knit a lovely halter top to wear on cool evenings or under a jacket on cooler days. The one pictured above blends fashion-right simplicity with subtle femininity in the little ruffled neckline, narrow ribbon, and sparkling rhinestone buttons. It will dress up your favorite long or street length skirt and what an elegant feeling it will give you to display your pretty shoulders and back. Directions for knitting this HANDSOME HALTER can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, requesting Leaflet No. 684.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round BY...DREW PEARSON

Two Armies
The Continental Army which opposed the well-equipped British and Hessians 176 years ago was a bob-tail array of militiamen, farmers, and city riff-raff, carrying rifles, pitchforks, and anything else they could lay their hands on. They ate off the land, had a bizarre assortment of uniforms, and not only during the historic winter at Valley Forge, but at other times, many did not have shoes.

Now a senate report has been readied by Sen. Lyndon Johnson's preparedness committee which will shock many Americans. It will show that, in contrast to the days of the tattered Continentals, the American armed forces are the best-equipped, the lushest, the costliest, and least combative per man in the world.

It will show that, whereas every man in the Continental Army carried a gun and could account for himself, today few American troops carry guns. Furthermore, the Russians with less equipment, less money and less fat, have ten times the fire-power per man as the American army.

In other words, most of the Red army is trained for combat. Most of the American army, on the other hand, is trained to be cooks, orderlies, personnel experts, chauffeurs, mechanics, mailmen, grave-diggers, behind the relatively few men who carry the guns and do the fighting.

Illustrating the "fat" in the American army, the Johnson committee points out:
"At one point in the (Korean) campaign, the enemy enjoyed a numerical superiority in the theater of three to two. But this imbalance—unfavorable as it was—was a minor factor as contrasted to the numerical superiority of the enemy in the front line. At the point of contact—the actual area of battle—the enemy superiority was five to one. The Communists were capable of putting about four-fifths of their theater strength into the front line while the best of the United Nations could do was about one-fifth."

"The American rifle company of 204 men has 39 men who perform a number of jobs other than shooting at the enemy," continues the report. "The Russian rifle company—slightly more than half this number—has only two men who do anything but shoot. The American heavy weapons company has 123 men who are not engaged in direct combat operations. Its Soviet counterpart has only nine. The American infantry battalion has 100 men engaged in communications work. The comparable Russian organization gets along on 23."

The committee blames the traditions and luxuries of the past for bloating the armed forces with fat.

Navy and Air Force
The committee didn't address its stinging rebuke solely to the army, but also took a few swipes at the Air Force and Navy.

"We cannot consider an organization efficient when it requires 1,600 men—plus a supply line too long to be estimated—to put 75 single-seat aircraft into the air," the report fires its barbs at the other two services. "We cannot consider a training base efficient when it requires two men to handle every three pupils. We cannot consider a ship efficiently run when it is manned by three, and one-half times the number of seamen required to conduct a similar operation in private commerce."

"Victory," says the Johnson committee, "has usually gone not to the largest army but to the best-organized army. Military superiority has been measured not by the number of guns but by the destructive power of the guns that can be brought to bear. We face an enemy who outnumbers our manpower as the grains of sand on the beach—whose vast resources have yet to be encompassed in numerical terms. Against that manpower and those resources we must counterpose our superior ability at organization and our superior productive capacity."

The committee's recommendation: "It would appear to us that the most eminent Americans should be assembled to devote themselves to this task. Ample authority exists under the national security act of 1947. The Secretary of Defense can appoint a commission to make the necessary studies and make the necessary recommendations without further actions by the President."

Steel Strike
Smart John L. Lewis garnered big headlines by offering $10,000,000 to the steelworkers from the United Mine Workers' kitty, but then never came across. He merely notified his bank that he would loan the money. Quipped a steelworker official: "Our credit is plenty good at our own banks." John L. has disliked CIO boss Phil Murray ever since they split over CIO policies, likes to appear patronizing.

Elect . . . CEDERBERG FOR CONGRESS
REPUBLICAN
U. S. Representative
10th Congressional District
VOTE for the ONLY Candidate with a PROVEN Record of PUBLIC Service
THE HON. ROY O. WOODRUFF ENDORSES CEDERBERG:
"I recently announced that I shall not seek renomination and re-election . . . May I take this occasion to express my deep appreciation of your wonderful loyalty and support . . . No Representative in Congress ever served a finer constituency."
"Naturally I am intensely interested in a successor who will meet with your approval and active support in the years ahead. After careful thought and thorough consideration, I want to commend to you the candidacy of Elford A. Cederberg. Following a course similar to my early start in public life, "Al" is an active Republican serving his second term as Mayor of Bay City. This young war veteran has demonstrated the ability and courage essential to a faithful Representative in Congress. He possesses the initiative and the determination which we must have if this nation is to survive as a Republic. I am certain of his wholehearted devotion to the American principles to which I have always dedicated myself. I firmly believe that over the years he will merit the same splendid confidence you have consistently placed in me."
"It is a pleasure, therefore, to urge your support of Al Cederberg in the Republican Primary on August 5th."
(Excerpts from a letter to 10th District friends, written by the Hon. Roy O. Woodruff, May 9, 1952.)

DOGS FEATURED AT MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

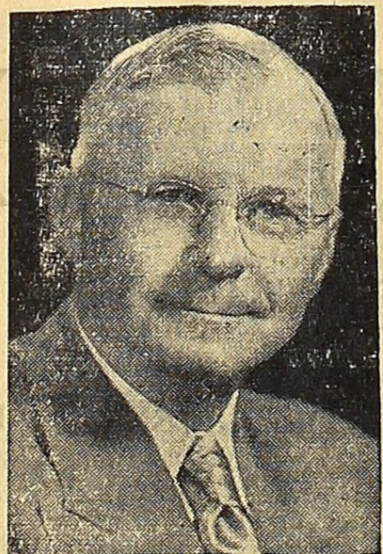

A feature of the 1952 Michigan State Fair will be an exhibition by trained Border Collies to be held twice daily September 2, 3 and 4 in the Coliseum as a part of the agriculture events program. The dogs, imported from Scotland, are owned and exhibited by E. A. Brumley of Des Moines, Iowa.

Brumley spent his military leave, while in the British Isles, in the moors of Scotland learning first hand about the Border Collies. The obedience, tact and mental acumen of these dogs so impressed him that he arranged for exhibition tours in the United States.

By command the dogs herd five or six head of sheep, drive them through gates and load them into trucks or put them in a pen. Jiggs, the most famous of the collies, is the only dog in the country able to accomplish the "Serpentine" whereby ducks are driven to the right and then to the left of a series of objects placed in a straight line.

Brumley has requested that all ducks and sheep be furnished by the State Fair so that people will realize it is the dogs and not the sheep or ducks that are trained.
