McMurray-Latham

On Saturday, September 6, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in St. Joseph's Parish House, Elaine C. Latham became the bride of John G. McMurray in a double ring ceremony, the Rev. Fr. Neuman officiating. The service was solemnized before a fireplace decorated with red and white gladioli and soft music was played by Mrs. Rex Kochendorfer.

The bride looked lovely in a sapphire blue velvet suit, with small white hat and corsage of red and white rosebuds. Her only attendant was Joan McMurray, twin sister of the groom, who wore a blue and white suit and also a red and white corsage. Best man was Austin B. McGuire. The bride's mother wore a suit of navy blue with a corsage of tiny yellow chrysanthemum and the groom's mother wore a light brown suit with an identical corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Latham of Tawas City, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMurray of Saginaw and Tawas, who received his Bachelor of Science Degree from Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, where he was affiliated with the Arm of Honor Fraternity. He received his Master of Education Degree from the University of Michigan. Following the ceremony, a dinner was served at the Barnes Hotel. The tables were decorated with pink and yellow flowers. The bride cut the three tier wedding cake and opened their lovely gifts. The couple then left on a short trip through Northern Michigan, after which Mr. McMurray will report for service in the Army and the bride will remain at her mother's home.

Open New Parish Church With Age Old Ceremony

Immaculate Heart of Mary Parish came into being last Sunday morning, with ceremonies age old in the tradition of the Catholic church. As the present church is only a temporary site, only a simple blessing, asking the benediction of God on any article, or place, used in his honor was given.

The altar on which this first Mass was offered has been in use for 75 years in Reese. In the center of the altar is the altar stone consecrated by Bishop Borgess, containing the bones of early Christian martyrs. These relics were removed from venerated graves of the catacombs, the underground tombs of Rome.

The first baptism of the new parish took place Sunday afternoon, when Marcia Ann Ulman born September 5th, to Albert and Marian Ulman was baptized. By a curious coincidence the baptismal font here is the same font used in the first Catholic Church in the Saginaw Valley (St. Joseph, Bay City) when Louis Trudell, the father of Mrs. John Coyle, Sr. was baptized 102 years ago.

In his sermon, Father Bernard Kirchner, first pastor of Immaculate Heart Parish drew a parallel between the stable in Bethlehem and the stable in the new church. (Continued No. 3, Back Page)

2 Flint Youths Drown Sunday

Accident Occurs in Mouth of AuSable

While attempting to turn their boat around in the rough water Sunday at the mouth of the AuSable river, two Flint youths lost their lives when their boat capsized.

The two victims of the accident were Russell Soderquist, 23, and David Oberdine, 21, who were spending the week-end at the cottage of Mrs. J. E. Demery of Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwab, of Farmington, witnessed the mishap which cost the two young men their lives. The Schwabs were in a small boat near the US-23 bridge over the AuSable river, and saw the boat capsize while the two youths were attempting to turn it around in the heavy seas. The Schwabs immediately notified the Oscoda Air Force Base Crash boat, which is stationed just west of the bridge. The crash boat sped to the scene but the two youths had disappeared beneath the water.

The bodies of the two young men had not been recovered Thursday morning. Dragging operations were difficult Sunday on account of heavy seas. Working with CHB Frank Morey in the Coast Guard amphibian duck, were State Police, members of the sheriff's department and the rescue squadron of the Oscoda Fire Department.

Sunday's Game Will Decide First Round Winner

Pinconning and Alabaster Each Win Game in Play-Off

Alabaster jumped into a tie with Pinconning in the first round Shaughnessy playoff last Sunday by defeating the down-staters 2 to 1. Pinconning won opening round 7 to 6, two weeks ago. The deciding game will be played at Alabaster this Sunday with Pinconning acting as home team. The play-off diamond was decided by flipping a coin.

Sterling, league winners made a clean sweep in their series with White Star, winning 9 to 4 Sunday. They will play the winner of the Alabaster-Pinconning series for the championship.

Ernie Potts did a fine job for Alabaster on the mound and held Pinconning batters hitless from the fourth until the ninth when Martin took over the pitching duties. Martin struck out the first three batters to face him in the ninth.

Potts was in real trouble only once, in the third inning, when he struck out Dan Horn, with two out and the bases jammed.

John Erickson, home from the army, played his first game of the season at second base. He also contributed one hit to the Alabaster cause.

Alabaster scored both their runs in the fifth, when J. Gracik led off with a single; J. Erickson sacrificed him to second; Felsing singled with Gracik going to third; the second baseman booted Clare Herriman's grounder with Gracik scoring the first run, and Felsing went to third on the play. J. Bolen fled to left, with Felsing scoring the winning run after the catch.

Legacy of a King

Lesson for September 14, 1952

DAVID did not mention you in his will. But if you are a Christian, you are one of his heirs all the same. The gold and silver he owned have long since been spent; of his palace not one stone is left upon another; his vast holdings in land have gone to strangers far outside his family. But the most valuable part of what he left us is still with us, imperishable: his legacy of religion.

Dr. Foreman

Experience of God

ONE THING every one will think of: the Psalms. Bible students realize that the titles of the Psalms are not part of the original psalms, but represent later editors' beliefs as to the authors. However, scholars are agreed that David did write some Psalms and may in fact be called the father of the psalm-book.

Now the chief importance of any Psalm is not that it is a hymn or has been the basis of other hymns (as most of them have); it is not simply that it is beautiful and unforgettable poetry. The main point is that it is a first-hand record of first-hand experience of God.

We do not always realize how much of our own religious experience grows out of the experience of others. We would lack much of our interest in God and knowledge of him if we had not been waked up, so to speak, by some one else first. Think of the millions of readers of the 23rd Psalm, for instance, from 'It's time to now,—the millions who have been inspired and comforted by it. How much we owe to David!

Singing Faith

WE CHRISTIANS owe to David also that blending of beauty with religion which is a mark of our faith. Beauty apart from religion can drag men down and destroy them. Religion apart from beauty is usually a harsh and cold affair. There is a great deal of beautiful beauty and unbecoming religion in the world, and neither of them does the world much good.

But for David religion and beauty flowed into each other, or rather beauty found its highest level in the service of God. It was not only in the words and music of the Psalms.

While David did not build the Temple, he dreamed it, and before a stone was laid he could see in his mind's eye the fine carvings, the gold inlays, the cypress and the fir, the brilliantly woven hangings; all the gorgeous gleaming Temple that he never lived to see, was in his mind and heart. He it was who gathered singing men and singing women for the worship of God the Lord. Whatever beauty there is in our church buildings, in our hymns, in our services, we owe much of the original inspiration of it to David.

"Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life" RELIGION that cannot be applied to daily living, religion that is a purely solitary affair, has never been typical of the best in Christianity. Christianity has something to say to the world, our world, our world, something to do in it. Christianity in retreat, in hiding, is not full Christianity.

Perhaps we owe more of this ideal to David than we realize. For when he came to the throne, the ark—sacred symbol of the presence of God—was in a little out-of-the-way place where few could know of it. David took that ark and brought it to the nation's capital. Shrine and city must be united.

So wherever today the church stands literally or figuratively at the crossroads of life, challenging, inviting, winning men, a constant reminder of God, we should be thankful to David, who set the symbol of his religion in the very center of his nation's principal city.

Faith Faces Forward

ONE MORE thing must be mentioned, which we owe at least in part to David. It is a characteristic of both Jewish and Christian faith: Hope.

Some religions are religions of regret. Their golden age is in the past; as they see it the world is either going around and around in meaningless circle or in hopeless decay.

But any one who will read the Psalms with a penetrating eye can see how bright the future is to the Psalmist's mind. Bright, because it belongs to God. If Paul can say that hope is one of the things that endures, along with faith and love, he was not the first to think it. David long ago sang his songs of hope, and for this legacy too we may be grateful.

"Northern Horizons" Shown at Whittemore Tonight

The Whittemore Community Building will be the scene of the presentation of "Northern Horizons", this Friday night at 8:15 P. M. During the presentation the audience will see Norway's majestic fjords and rugged mountains, Finland's endless mosaic of forests and lakes, as well as Sweden's mines and factories. In contrast will be the peaceful landscapes of Denmark and the thrilling sights of Iceland's glaciers and geysers.

For those interested in sports there will be the Olympic stadium in Helsinki and the famed Holmenkollen Ski Jump in Oslo where our American Ski Jumpers met Olympic competition.

"Northern Horizons" is being presented by Mr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Malmstrom of Ishpeming who have recently returned from Norway where Mr. Malmstrom has been studying for the past two years. Mr. Malmstrom will teach at the University of Michigan this year. He is co-author of a new college text book on geography. His articles on the silent countries of Europe have appeared for the past two years in the Marguette Mining Journal.

"This is the type of program that several of our community organization have been interested in bringing to Whittemore. Here we have entertainment combined with a study of other people and their customs, by means of colored film. We welcome the privilege of sharing it with our entire area," the Rev. Dafoe, general chairman, said this week.

Come On In and Order One... Today!

There are many people in this community who want a Cadillac ever so badly—and who are almost persuaded to order one——but who, for one reason or another, are just holding back and waiting.

To all these people we wish to say: "Come on in and order your Cadillac today!"

Every day you wait is simply postponing, still further, the wonderful time when you can enjoy the many delightful things a Cadillac will bring you.

There is, for instance, the deep feeling of pride which comes from owning a car which is universally acknowledged to be the Standard of the World . . .

. . . the great satisfaction that comes from driving a car so quiet you can "whisper and be heard"; so easy to handle that driving is no conscious effort at all; so comfortable and restful that a day at its wheel is the essence of relaxation . . .

. . . the comforting confidence that comes from knowing your car is so soundly-engineered and so beautifully-built that you can keep it and enjoy it over almost any period you may care to designate . . .

. . . and, finally, the happy knowledge that you probably paid less for your Cadillac than hundreds of thousands of people who are driving other makes of cars—for there are numerous models produced by other manufacturers which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac!

Isn't all this too much to miss for even one needless day? Owners of Cadillacs will tell you it is—out of their own experience. Time and again, people who have just moved up to Cadillac have said to us—"Why did I wait so long to enjoy all this?"

That's why we urge you to come in today and start down the happy road to Cadillac ownership. You have already missed too much—too long!

NO LODGING FOR LOAFERS

There's no lodging for loafers in the well-managed laying house, poultrymen are being reminded by Carl G. Card, head of the department of poultry husbandry at Michigan State College.

It's no old hen's home either, he stresses. If loafing old hens and poor-producing pullets have not yet been headed for market, they should start the trip now, according to the poultry department.

Pullets with deformities or weaknesses should be culled for market, he explained while those with promising plumage, pigmentation and physical appearance are being selected for the new laying flock.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

THE "new look" for this Fall is the "sweater look." Hand-knits and wool jerseys will be more important than ever as dresses, blouses, suits and sweaters. The long, coat-like cardigans are returning to the fore and are sharing the spotlight with the ever-favorite blouse-type pullovers. The sweater is no longer just an accessory, but is becoming the basis of the wardrobe. Because of this renewed enthusiasm in the knits we love to make and wear, the click of knitting needles is resounding throughout the nation to the tune of knit one, purl one. Have you hopped on the bandwagon yet?

HINTS FOR A PERFECT FIT

Once you've chosen a pattern for the next item you will make, knit a sample, about an inch square, using the same needles and yarn with which you will be knitting your garment. Measure the number of stitches and rows to an inch in your sample and compare them with the stitches and rows per inch called for in the knitting directions. To be sure of a well-fitting garment this estimate of the gauge you use is very important. Another assurance of a good fit is to follow the material requirements explicitly. The needles and type of yarn you use should be the same as specified in the knitting instructions. Hint number three: Block your garment before sewing the seams. Place it on a well-padded surface, with the right side down, and pin (with rust proof pins, of course) to the surface, according to your measurements. Lay a damp cloth over the pieces and press lightly with a hot iron. Sufficient dampness is needed so that the steam will penetrate the sweater. After ironing, keep the knitted garment pinned until dry.

... AND FOR LONGER WEAR

In order that your sweater be longer wearing, handle with care while washing. Use a mild soap and lukewarm water and squeeze the suds throughout the garment. Do not mat the wool by scrubbing or twisting. Rinse several times in lukewarm water and wrap in a towel to absorb the excess moisture. Then, turn the sweater inside-out and block to measurements.

KNITTED TARTAN VEST FOR A BONNIE LASSIE

Smart in school is this tartan vest of red with blue and white crossbars. The back is solid red, done in a stockinette stitch. Blue knitted strips edge the vest. Yes, you can make it very easily. The directions for knitting this HAMILTON TARTAN VEST in all three sizes—12, 14 and 16—can be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and requesting Leaflet No. C-56.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

HAROLD R. CLARK
It is good to be back home. I now understand better why people who have gone on an extended trip say, "The best thing about the trip was getting home." It was not all vacation, however, because I visited six agricultural colleges, five county agents, some outstanding farms and several major agricultural projects. Besides, I took notes on the various phases of agriculture in the thirteen states in which we traveled. Since I am interested in the tourist business I observed favorable and unfavorable accommodations and services. Now I have to make a report to my superiors to justify my extended trip.
I did learn many things that can be of value back in my home county and state. The one outstanding thing this trip did to me was to convince me that Michigan is a great state. In no state that I visited do they have the wide diversification of agriculture and recreation that we have here in Michigan. Sure, there is great beauty in the mountains and wide open plains but nothing can surpass the beauty of our Great Lakes, which are the envy of every state in the union. We have water which we can tap at economical depths under the surface and our rains are usually adequate and well distributed. There are great areas of fertile land that are limited in their capacity to produce because of the lack of water of the high cost of irrigation. In some areas there are no domestic wells. People who live in these areas, and don't ask me why, own a water tank which they fill at some mountain stream or near by town and haul back home where the water is used very sparingly.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round
BY...DREW PEARSON

(Note to editors: Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation. The Washington Merry-Go-Round is written this week by Sen. Blair Moody, Democrat, of Michigan.)

Television Debates

The best way for the American people to get the full, unvarnished picture of the real issues of the presidential campaign, in my judgment, would be a series of debates on television and radio between Governor Stevenson and General Eisenhower.

This modern innovation would give the voters an opportunity to decide directly which candidate would provide the country with more competent leadership in this moment of history when our future is so dangerously at stake.

It would offer a universal education on the problems of our nation and the world, never before approached.

It would draw the issues between the parties on the level of fact, not smear.

It would give the people a chance to "know" their next president—his personality, his intellect, and his grasp of public affairs.

It would provide both candidates an equal crack at what doubtless would be the largest audience of all time, without forcing either to raise huge sums of money for the privilege of presenting their views to the people.

And it would knock the ex parte punk out of the campaign at the very top level.

High-Level Campaign

If the famous general from Kansas is matched with the great statesman from Illinois for an hour each week, perhaps from mid-September through October, the people will make the right decision November 4, and a new, high pattern, will have been set for the future functioning of our democracy.

This suggestion was advanced by the writer on People's Platform, a radio discussion with Sen. Allen J. Ellender, of Louisiana, on July 27, the day after the Democratic convention adjourned.

From CBS President Frank Stanton comes a letter of interest, which also cites a possible obstacle. Stanton writes:

"I am in wholehearted agreement. It is difficult to conceive of any method which would more surely contribute to the democratic processes of full and informed participation in the election by voters."

But Stanton points out that the Federal Communications act requires an even distribution of public-service time not alone between Democratic and Republican parties but, according to present FCC interpretations, among splinter parties as well.

"While we are in full sympathy with the principle of fairness which Sec. 315 (A) is intended to vindicate," Stanton writes, "we believe its apparent frustration of so desirable a result as you suggest is the best evidence of its fatal error."

"Yet the broadcaster's license—that is, his right to stay in business—is dependent on conforming with the act. This I believe, warrants re-examination of Sec. 315 (A) with a view toward repealing it and, perhaps, substituting some less rigid provision which would remove the roadblocks to broadcasts so obviously in the public interest."

Stanton suggests action in the next congress which would "permit radio and television to play the vital role of which they are capable."

Could Be Sponsored

Perhaps some change in law is in order. But when congress meets, this campaign will be over. An informal check at FCC indicates a more immediate way might be found around the obstacle.

There are already a number of nationally televised, nationally sponsored programs which specialize in precisely this type of matching of facts, wits, and grasp of the issues. Nearly all senators and many congressmen have participated.

While the standard 30-minute time often runs out before issues have been adequately clarified, a series of hour-long discussions, running over perhaps six weeks, could be conducted with complete fairness.

It would be hard to imagine that the managers of any of these programs would object to finding themselves suddenly with two such distinguished participants. A rescheduling putting two such 30-minute pieces end-to-end, to provide the full hour, should not be insuperable. It would, of course, be a windfall for the sponsors of the programs, who, under this system, would pick up the check, but no larger a check than they meet weekly anyhow for less distinguished guests.

The nation has never forgotten the Lincoln-Douglas debates, though in proportion few could bear them. In the television age, we all could look in. An Eisenhower-Stevenson series of radio-TV debates could be the deciding factor November 4.

will be in charge of the consignment, indicates that the prices will range from $50 to $100 depending upon age and quality. Last year 102 rams were sold in this way and averaged $81.72. These prices are still not three times what they were when market lambs were only $10 per hundred weight. Sheep breeders who will be in need of a replacement will be interested in this reliable source of rams.

What's the MOST SURPRISING THING about this BUICK?

LOCAL DELIVERED PRICE FOR THE NEW 1952 BUICK SPECIAL

2-door 6-passenger SPECIAL Sedan MODEL 48D (Illustrated) $2223.88

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

WE'LL tell you the answer to that one—it's the figures on the price tag.

For some reason, lots of people just can't believe they can buy a Buick at a price so close to "the low-priced three."

Maybe it's because a Buick seems so much better and bigger.

Maybe it's because they think Buick has so much more power and room—which is true.

Maybe it is because so many distinguished people own Buicks—which is also a fact.

But the fact remains—if you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—so let's see what you get.

You get the thrilling power of a Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—as much power as you can get in cars costing $300 to $400 more.

You get as much room as you'll get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You get a ride that cost an honest-to-goodness million dollars to develop.

You get the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive.*

You get big-car comfort, styling, durability.

Don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself why so many folks are stepping up to this great car this year.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

TIP TO FALL FISHERMEN

Some of the best available fishing in Michigan is being completely overlooked by a few hundred thousand anglers seeking rod and reel fun in the fall. It's rainbow trout fishing in scores of inland lakes widely scattered over the state.

For a good many years the fish division of our conservation department has been planting rainbow trout in inland waters deemed suitable for their living quarters—and it's apparent from late results that what started out to be an experiment has firmly established a completely new sport for the Michigan angler.

Most of the lakes chosen for rainbow planting have an abundance of springs, are fairly deep, well-supplied with a minnow population, but reveal a definitely limited population of pike. The trout are planted at legal size in most instances—that's 7" or longer. To a big pike a 7" trout would be just another meal, so the Fish Division never welcomes pike in a chosen trout lake.

Rate of Growth Good Study of the rate of growth of rainbow trout planted in these lakes reveals that the fish are making themselves right at home, and are finding all the food they need. And surprisingly enough, the warm water lakes in the southern part of the State are yielding just as big if not bigger fish than those 200 miles north.

4-H CLUB NOTES—with Marvin Davenport

The Iosco Sportsman's Club presented yours truly with $25 to send Charles Wilson, Pavo Bloomquist and Robert Douglass to Conservation Leaders' Training School in the Upper Peninsula. We will be back this Friday wiser for our experiences at the Chatham experiment station.

George Strauer, Pavo Bloomquist and James Laidlaw won themselves an all-expense trip to Mansfield, Ohio, and the Westinghouse Corporation last week. Pavo and Jim were first place Tractor Demonstration team at the State Show. In brief, this is what we heard and saw.

Louis Bronfield, well known author and lecturer, conducted a tour for us over his "Malabor" farm. That really and truly was one of the highlights of the trip.

Robert Scott and Earl Hartly of Westinghouse played hosts for the 16 Michigan delegates and conducted us thru their huge Westinghouse plant. Have you ever eaten a piece of "scientific cake"? We did. The science taste was excellent. Have you heard of the men's suit that you stick in the washing machine and hang up to dry? We did. The miracle of it all is the suit doesn't even have to be pressed! Just hang it up and dry it—the crease is there. It just can't be washed out.

We all were grateful to Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison, Westinghouse Corporation and Sears Roebuck Co. for making this wonderful trip possible.

To one of the unsung heroes, Mrs. Gilbert Dorsey, a first year 4-H Club leader. I knew how much Joan Bielby, Faye Huber and Mary Jane Douglass have appreciated all the time she donated for their project meetings in Baking. They had four such meetings at which the girls stayed all day to make bread. Hale community parents and members can thank, not only Mrs. Marcella Dorsey, for all her time and effort, but each leader in 4-H Club work. This voluntary way of learning is the American way. Our young people will be even more grateful in the years to come. Occasionally I find some adult who has been a 4-H Club member. If you want to see a smile, just ask them about their work as a member. It is a rich experience never forgotten.

September and October are organizational months for our clubs. Let's get those meetings scheduled.
