School Reorganization Plan Approved by Voters of Area

1358 Yes and 398 No Votes Cast Tuesday

Board of Education For New District to be Elected November 10

School electors in the Tawas area at Tuesday's election took the first step in a program of improvement and expansion of facilities to meet the rapidly growing needs of that community. A vote of 1358 yes and 398 no was cast for district reorganization.

For voting, the area was divided into three voting districts. The voting in each of these three districts was:

Tawas City—455 yes; 63 no.
East Tawas—522 yes, 135 no.

Rural—381 yes; 198 no.

Following the canvassing of the vote Tuesday night by the Iosco County Board of Education, Russell Rollin, county superintendent of schools, stated that he was of the opinion that the area had been very well represented at the election. The electors cast 1754 votes, nearly as many as are usually cast in a countywide general election.

Rollin said that the next step in reorganization would be the election of a board of education for the new district. Monday, November 10, was set as election day.

The board of education for the new district will be comprised of five members. At this first election one member will be elected for one year; two for two years; two for three years.

Candidates for the office of member of the board of education must file petitions on or before October 20 in the office of County Superintendent of Schools Russell Rollin. Each petition must carry the signatures of 25 school electors of the district.

Tuesday's vote was canvassed by the Iosco County Board of Education. Members of the board present were: John Brugger, president; Charles Harsch, Mrs. Sophia McDonald and William DeGrow, members. Russell Rollin as secretary of the canvassing board.

Make Application Now for Absent Soldier's Ballot

"It takes at least ten days to get a ballot to your son or daughter in the armed forces overseas and ten days to get it back by airmail," stated City Clerk Albert Buch, today. "The time is short to have your son, daughter or husband vote at the November election," he said. Men and Women in the armed forces who are qualified to vote can receive a ballot if application is made at once to the township or city clerk by a parent or wife of the person in the armed forces. The application must be filed with the clerk of the township or city in which the parent or wife resides and which the person in the service claim as his or her home. The parent or wife filing application of the absent voter's ballot must be a registered voter.

Ballots were prepared early for the coming election so that all eligible voters in the armed forces would have an opportunity to vote.

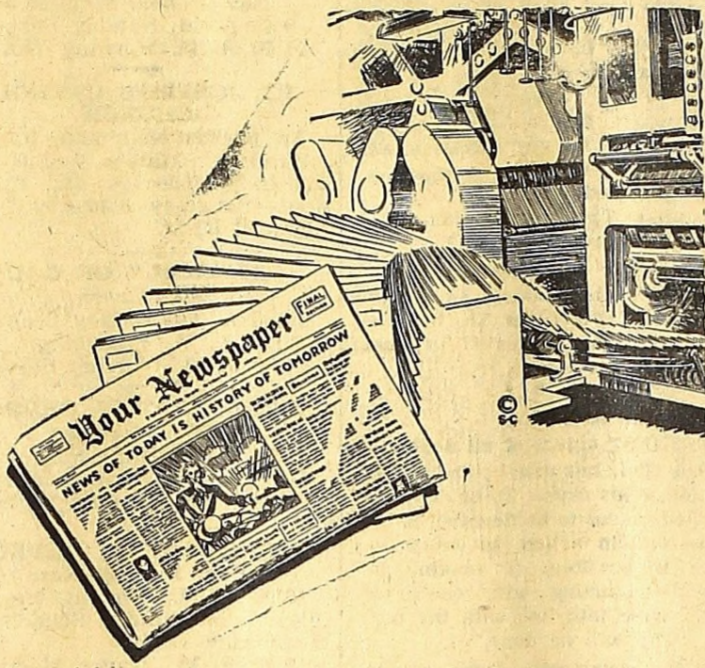

If you have a son, daughter or husband in the armed forces eligible to vote and you are a registered voter in your township of city, go at once to your clerk and make application.

The absent voter ballot will be sent by airmail, with an airmail return envelope at no charge to the applicant or person in the service.

William Klinck spent the week-end in Ann Arbor with friends and attended the Michigan-Michigan State Football game.

National Newspaper Week

AN EDITORIAL

By Charles A. Fell, Managing Editor
The Birmingham News

This is National Newspaper Week—set apart each year by America's free democratic journalism as a period of self-examination and re-dedication.

If you ask, "So What?"—well, for one thing it's your week, quite as much as the newspaper's.

It's dedicated in 1952 to your right to know.

One of its chief purposes is to inspire better journalism—so that you may be better served by your newspaper.

Another is to remind every American of the importance of guarding the freedom of information guaranteed to our people by Article I of the Bill of Rights.

The individual reader and his newspaper have an inseparable common interest in that constitutional guarantee:

Our people must be free.

To remain free, they must be informed.

To be adequately informed, they must have unshackled sources of information.

And, so, National Newspaper Week is a period belonging equally to you and your newspaper.

Burleigh Man Dies Tuesday

Services for George St. James Friday

George St. James, Burleigh township resident, died Tuesday morning at his home following a four illness.

Born March 8, 1894, in Burleigh township, he had been a resident of this county the greater portion of his life. On December 13, 1919, he was married to Miss Jenny Kilbourn at Whittemore.

Surviving are the widow; one son, William; three brothers, Victor, Clifford and Octive, all of Whittemore; two sisters, Mrs. Odella O'Farrell of Rose City, and Miss Mary St. James of Bay City and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this morning at St. James Catholic Church, Whittemore. Rev. Fr. DuRussell will officiate and burial will be in St. James Cemetery.

East Tawas Attorney's Son Polio Victim

Douglass Watkins, 29 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watkins, of East Tawas was stricken with polio last Saturday in a restaurant when the family was enroute to Ann Arbor to attend the Michigan-Michigan State football game, and died almost immediately.

Douglass Watkins was a resident of Grosse Isle, but was well known to many East Tawas residents. Funeral services were held at Grosse Isle on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. William Schaaf spent Monday in Bay City.

Fire Prevention Emphasized in Iosco County

The week of October 5 to 11 inclusive has been declared as National Fire Prevention Week. The National Fire Protection Association reports that in the last decade fire has killed more than 100,000 persons and burned or disfigured many hundreds of thousands more. Each year about 12,000 Americans die needlessly in fire and more than twice that number are severely burned or disfigured for life. Old people and pre-school children are the principle victims of fire. Every day there are 849 home fires, 34 deaths by fire, 79 store fires, 88 factory fires, nine church fires, eight school fires and four hospital fires.

Almost one-third of this land of ours is forest land—630,000,000 acres. And every year in the United States over 200,000 fires burn and scar about 30,000,000 acres. More than a twentieth of our woodland is burned and damaged every year.

Each year enough saw-timber trees are destroyed to supply the building needs of a city of over a quarter of a million people. The saw timber that goes up in flames is enough to build 86,000 five-room homes. Forest fires destroy enough pulp size trees each year to produce 3 1/2 million tons of newsprint, enough to supply every newspaper in the United States for 12 months.

The Iosco County Safety Council, headed by Russell D. Church will observe this week in Iosco county by distributing posters, and conducting educational programs and demonstrations in the public schools.

Cooperating in the County campaign are Russell Rollin, County Superintendent of Schools, Grace Hanna, County Nurse, all public schools, the Cooperative Extension Service, the Iosco County members of the Tri-County Association of Insurance Agents, Ladies' Literary Club, Parents-Teachers Association, and manufacturing and business concerns.

Fire Chief Gives Timely Warning

Last year fires in Tawas City and Tawas township cost the taxpayers through the fireman's payroll $574.00, according to Fire Chief Fred Musolf. While one home was destroyed, the majority of the fires were small. Grass fires headed the list.

Now is the time to inspect your heating equipment, electrical wiring and the condition of your chimney, said Musolf. A little care now may prevent a fire later on when your heating equipment is being used to capacity.

It's a boy!

Mr. and Mrs. Don Long are the parents of a son, Donald Frankie, born Sept. 22, at the Moeller Nursing Home in East Tawas. He weighed 7 1/2 pounds.

Nims Enters Order Equalizing Iosco At $33,180,874

Supervisors Had Equalized at $14,500,000

Order Filed with County Clerk Prescott This Week

This week L. M. Nims, chairman of the Michigan State Tax Commission, entered an order in which the equalized valuation of the several townships and cities of Iosco county total $33,180,874. The total equalized valuation of the county as adopted at the April session of the Board of Supervisors was $14,500,000. The assessed valuation of the townships and cities as prepared by assessing officers was $13,956,155.

The new equalization ordered by the state tax commission will make some changes in the percentage of county tax apportioned the townships and cities. The percent of county tax apportioned to each is indicated in the table in the state tax commission order.

The order filed with County Clerk George A. Prescott is as follows:

At a meeting of the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission held in the County Courthouse in the County of Iosco, on Tuesday, the sixteenth day of September, A. D. 1952.

Present: Chairman, Louis M. Nims and Commissioner Charles E. Paddock.

On reading and filing the petition of Howard Staebler, Supervisor of the Township of Sherman, Victor J. Anderson, Supervisor of the Township of Alabaster, L. S. Little, Supervisor of the Township of Grant, Charles W. Monroe, Supervisor of the Township of AuSable, Glenn Long, Supervisor of the Township of Tawas, and John B. King, Fred B. Brabant and C. S. Everett, Assessors of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Wards of Tawas City, members of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Iosco, praying for a review of the equalization of the assessed valuations on the several assessing districts in said County of Iosco for the year 1952, as made by the Board of Supervisors of said County, and for an adjustment and revision of said equalization; and after hearing all testimony offered for and against said petition and after considering all information in their possession relative to said equalization, and said Commissioners of the State Tax Commission determine that the valuations of said County of Iosco have been improperly equalized by said Board of Supervisors for the year 1952.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered that said Board of Supervisors shall apportion the county taxes to the several townships and cities in said County of Iosco in accordance with the following equalization made by said Commissioners of the State Tax Commission, to wit:

	Equalized Valuation	% of Co. Tax
Alabaster	$2,641,105	7.95972
AuSable	2,097,685	6.32197
Baldwin	2,193,194	6.60981
Burleigh	654,976	1.97396
Grant	1,278,766	3.85392
Oscoda	8,472,679	25.54383
Plainfield	3,390,627	10.21862
Reno	758,269	2.28526
Sherman	2,675,922	8.06465
Tawas	929,157	2.80026
Wilber	620,018	1.86860
East Tawas	4,226,065	12.73645
Tawas City	2,734,785	8.24205
Whittemore	507,626	1.52988
Total	$33,180,874	100%

Given under our hands and the Seal of the State Tax Commission in the City of Lansing, this 24th day of September, A. D. 1952.

State Tax Commission
L. M. Nims, Chairman.
Clarence E. Paddock, Commissioner

A basket of beautiful blue Fredonia grapes and two quart baskets of Everbearing strawberries were presented to the Thorntons Wednesday morning by Henry Fabselt of the Hemlock road. The fruit was perfect and greatly enjoyed. Many thanks for such a lovely gift.

Complete Plans For Feeder Sale

Annual Event to be Held October 16

The final meeting of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association before its Eighth Annual Calf and Feeder sale at West Branch on October 16, was held last Friday night at the Federal building in East Tawas with 50 members in attendance.

Last minute plans and details of the auction were discussed and worked out and members listed the total number of cattle they would consign to the big sale.

James Mielock of Whittemore, secretary of the association and manager of the sale, announced that 1,000 head of cattle would go into the ring for auctioning. The sale will be in the Hereford association's yard at West Branch.

W. L. Finley, a member of the animal husbandry staff at Michigan State College, was the principal speaker at the meeting. He gave the group a general all-around picture of the cattle marketing at the present time.

He stated the outlook was "comparatively bright" for the industry.

Hale Wins Championship In Nationals

Takes Two Games Last Sunday From Beaverton

After losing to Beaverton 3 to 4 on the Hale diamond last week, Hale came from behind at Beaverton this past Sunday to take two, making them National Division Champs of the Northeastern Michigan League.

The first game, a free slugging contest, saw 30 hits, 17 by Hale and 13 by Beaverton. Earl Slosser out-lasted Havens to put the teams in a tie with one win each. This game saw Hale trailing by six runs going into the fourth inning when singles by French and Werely followed by a timely double by Bill Bannister gave Hale two runs.

Beaverton got one in the fifth and another in the 6th, while Hale was picking up two more making it 8 to 4 at the top of the seventh. An error coupled with a single by Attwell and Clement followed by a home run with two on by Raymond Hunphrey tied it up to give Hale new life in the top of the seventh.

While Beaverton went ahead again in the seventh on a hit, walk and an error, Hale was not to be denied as they came back in the eighth with three straight hits by Slosser, Bernard and Attwell to score two runs taking the lead for the first time.

With victory in sight, Slosser became the master of old to retire the side in the last two innings. Hale got one run in the ninth, but it was unnecessary, as Slosser poured it in striking out the last man and making it necessary to play the second game to determine who would be Champ.

Proving that experience and youth can work together, Slosser and Morris (Ike) Clement, his catcher, used the knowledge gained by Slosser in his many seasons to set Beaverton down in (Continued No. 3, Back Page)

Dedicating Life

Lesson for October 5, 1952

THERE ARE two classes of persons in this world: the drifters and the dedicated. Drifters become driftwood, cumbering a barren shore, or they float, waterlogged and helpless, a menace to more important traffic. The dedicated, on the other hand, have purpose in their minds, they have a course and a compass. They have somewhere to go, some reason for going there. But not all the dedicated are alike. The vital question is: To what is a man dedicated?

Stalin is a dedicated man; so are Christian missionaries; so are politicians good and bad. The big question remains: Dedicated to what? to whom?

Dedicated to God
HIGHEST object of all dedication is God; this always includes devotion to his cause. To be dedicated to God means to be devoted, in purpose and in action, in every way that is possible, to making this world—beginning with one's own self—come into line with the prayer, "Thy will be done."

The young man Jesus, whose story the Sunday school lessons will be following through the Gospel by Matthew for the next six months, was of all persons the topmost example of a life dedicated to God. Jesus did not drift into this. Dedication was not automatic, inevitable.

Jesus, not less than those he calls his brothers and sisters, had to make up his mind to the ancient demand: Choose this day whom you will serve.

The Power
JESUS WAS not a late comer to his decision. Once or more it has happened that a young man who decides to enter the ministry will surprise and even startle family and friends by this decision. But when Jesus "entered the ministry" (as we may rightly say he did, after his baptism), it could have surprised none who had known him. He had always been aware of being "about his Father's business." He did not pass from drifting to dedication, as most men must; he passed from one stage of dedication to another.

Whatever questions the story of Jesus' baptism raises, one thing is certain: from and after that even Jesus knew himself to be God's special Representative, endowed with the Holy Spirit for the work he was to do.

Over and over in the New Testament we hear of the "power of the Spirit," for the divine Spirit both brings power and is Power. Only the life dedicated to God has the power of God.

The Problem
IT IS a mistake to think that the dedicated life is free from problems. God will not weaken us by making our choices for us. Every temptation is an opportunity to choose, between God's way and some way that is not God's. Temptation may also present a choice not so much between black and white, wrong and right, as between good and better, right and more-right.

One meaning of Jesus' temptations was just that in them he had to think through the how of his dedicated life. He was indeed God's beloved Son; His work was indeed to save the world for God.

But the question was, How? By turning stones into bread? By astonishing people with miracles such as jumping unharmed off the Temple top? No; these were not God's way. The last temptation was not as absurd as it sounds. Whenever men have said, "Let us do evil that good may come," whenever they have said that a noble purpose justifies any method used to attain it, they have done what Jesus was tempted to do,—worship Satan.

The Practice
NO, DEDICATION does not free the dedicated from problems. But when life is put at God's disposal, with each problem comes the power to avoid wrong choice, to make the right one. Yet again there is a condition: God will not resist our temptations in our place. There is something we have to do for our selves. There is a practice required. Is it likely that Jesus had never in his lifetime been tempted before that day in the wilderness? No, he resists with the skill of long practice. The weapon he uses is still ours to use: the Word of God. Does that weapon lie rusting under the dust at your house? Keep it bright by using it, as Jesus did.

Introduce New Bread Product

Another first for Berdan Bread Division, serving Northeastern Michigan for the last 37 years, will be chalked up this week when the company introduces Mell-O-Bran Baker of the bread approved by the well-known Kellogg Laboratories. Berdan will bake the first loaf Monday, September 29, at their Bay City Bakery, 1111 South Henry street.

"We are honored to have been chosen as the bakery to introduce this new bread in our area," announced Berdan General Manager Herbert Brisbios. "Mell-O-Bran has already taken U. S. bread-eaters by storm and we expect great enthusiasm among our customers. It's a different bran bread...more than 26% of every loaf is pure Kellogg's All-Bran, rich in Vitamin B-1 and D. In addition, the bread's formula allows only 51 calories per slice, a third less calories than regular bread which makes it the ideal low-calorie bread to supplement the restricted reducing diet," he continued.

Originally the Mell-O-Bran formula was developed in conjunction with the Kellogg Company for a very small area. But customer response was so enthusiastic that it was decided not to confine the bread to one market but set up a franchise program under which expert bakers in the United States and Canada would be licensed to bake Mell-O-Bran Bread. Careful inspection guarantees that the original formula and quality are maintained. Already territories covering more than 3/4 of the United States and part of Canada, have been granted and the Mell-O-Bran franchise has become highly prized. With the invitation to bake Mell-O-Bran Bread being given to Berdan Bread Division, bread-eaters in the Northeastern Michigan areas will have an opportunity to sample the new bran bread.

X-Ray Launched in Tawas Area October 14

Health agencies and community groups this week stepped up advance preparations for a four-county chest X-ray survey which will be launched in Tawas City on October 14.

Supplied by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, pamphlets, posters, fliers, leaflets and movies are being used by groups throughout the county in an attempt to persuade every adult, including students 15 years of age and older to have a chest picture when the Michigan Department of Health unit arrives.

The X-ray unit will visit Tawas October 14-15; Whittemore, October 20; Hale, October 21; Oscoda, October 22; Harrisville, October 23; Lincoln, October 24; Mio, October 28; Rose City, October 29 and West Branch, October 30-31, according to Dr. C. H. Crandall, district health department director.

Survey information emphasize the importance of chest X-rays for older people as well as young adults. In fact, statistics show that the peak of TB deaths among men is now between 40 and 70 years of age.

The chest X-ray will help indicate "whether you have a healthy chest, whether you have ever fought a battle with TB germs and won, or whether TB germs may be gaining a foothold," Dr. Crandall declared.

The chest check-ups also may lead to spotting other chest diseases, such as heart and cancer. But of more than 200,000 chest X-rays taken in Michigan last year, Dr. Crandall noted that the large majority revealed apparently healthy chests.

Because tuberculosis and other chest disease may have no warning symptoms in early stages, the chest X-ray survey in the four-county area is a move for public health protection being adopted by communities throughout the nation.

WEEKLY EATING CLUB

By Jim Barstow

4-H Club Reporter Says with Marvin Davenport

I received Joe Barnes' report of our 4-H Club Council meeting and would like to pass the information on to you.

The Council is in favor of another 4-H Club officers training school for our 1952-53 clubs. Mrs. Davenport moved that we ask our Assistant State 4-H Club Leaders in to one of our meetings. This motion was supported by Mrs. Norman Chipps and approved. Another awards committee was planned and their recommendations have been sent to the State office. Some surprises are in store.

A judging school for leaders was approved so that each leader will know what the judge looks for in project exhibits. This meeting has tentatively been planned for January.

A nominating committee was appointed and included Mrs. Reuben Edie, Mrs. Joseph Barnes, George Strauer and Norman Sibley. Other leaders present at this meeting were Mrs. Fred Pfahl, president; George Smith, Aileen Ward, Ross Williams, Victor Johnson, Eilert Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Biggs, Mrs. Joyce Harris, Patricia Williams, Lucille Smith, Judy Rapp and Carol Strauer. An excellent turnout for Isoco county.

The Sherman 4-H Club has another first to their credit—the first organizing meeting for 19-52-53, on Monday, October 6. Hale is close by with Thursday, October 9 scheduled. I know some of our leaders wonder why there isn't a 4-H Club in their community? Some of the stock answers you'll get is "there are too many things for the young folks now." That's right and 4-H Club work is one of them. The beauty of it all is that such a person is doing something constructive and parents know where their young folks are and what they are doing.

If any of our readers are interested in organizing a 4-H Club get 10 to 20 members together (between the ages of 10-20 years) and we will show you slides of Isoco County 4-H Club activities. There is no cost or membership fee attached to it. See the slides and decide for yourself. But remember, it requires parents as well as members.

The's a big gap between advice and help.

It's too bad that success makes failures of so many men.

Mallon and Everett Attend Truck Conference

The increasing demand for truck-leasing service received major attention during discussions of facilities, standards, expansion programs and sales promotion techniques at the Fall Conference of the National Truck Leasing System held in St. Louis, Missouri, early this week and which was attended by William Mallon, manager of the Mackinaw Truck Lines, and Gordon Everett, manager of Ottawa Equipment Co.

Both Mallon and Everett were guests of Columbia Terminals on a Sunday, pre-conference river cruise on the Mississippi. They also attended a dinner party sponsored by the International Harvester Company held Tuesday evening following the last session of the confab.

As representatives of the National Truck Leasing System in the Tawas area, Mallon and Everett heard N. T. L. S. President Howard L. Willett, Jr., report that awareness of the truck-leasing plan by all groups of truck users is being increased through the intensive educational and promotional program conducted by N. T. L. S. Willett noted also that recent customer trends include a greater demand for heavier and specialized equipment such as tractor-trailers and refrigerated vans as well as for light delivery units.

Iosco Hunters Warned

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is again asking hunters to take cognizance of its overhead wires and cables.

With the approach of the 1952 bird season, opening October 20 this year, Michigan Bell again sounded a warning note that serious disruptions in telephone communication can result from careless firing.

"Carelessness with gunfire, and especially deliberate potshots at telephone wire insulators, can cut off communication on which a life may depend, or can seriously disrupt vital calls which number high in the normal amount of traffic our wires and cables carry," a company spokesman said.

Hunters are also reminded that it is against the law to willfully damage telephone facilities by gunfire, an offense which carries a felony charge if the damage exceeds $50. In most cases, Michigan Bell said, damage by bullet or buckshot usually results in more than a $50 repair bill for the company.

Mrs. McKenzie will collect Consumer's light bills after Sept. 30 at Werely's Restaurant in Whittemore, formerly Bordelon's Restaurant.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

To the woman who sews or intends to start sewing, wool tweed is the topic of clothing conversation this season. Tweed has gained the reputation of being one of the most versatile fabrics for milady's outfits and, of course, it's still a favorite in the men's world of fashion, from whence it came. Women are going tweed-y in their suits, skirts and coats, as well as in dressy frocks and lounging apparel. Hailing from Scotland, tweed derived its name from the river that separates Scotland from Europe. Formerly, it was a homespun fabric. Today's tweed is a rough-surfaced woolen material having a homespun effect in plain, twill or herringbone twill weave.

SKIRT TAILORING

The sewing techniques involved in making a wool tweed skirt, like the one shown here, are ones used by professional tailors but are simple enough for the novice. Of primary importance to any tailor, and it should be to you, is the pressing open of each seam after stitching so that the garment always lies flat and smooth. The careful finishing of seams is another step towards the accomplishment of a good-looking, long-wearing skirt. Pinking is an efficient way of finishing a seam on a closely-woven fabric, but I suggest that you make bound seams when using a rough material that ravel easily. This is how the practical bound seam is made: First, press open the seam so that it lies flat. Then, using bias tape, fold the tape slightly off center, over the edge of the seam allowance, so that one side is 1/4 of an inch wider than the other, and baste into place with the narrow side up. When you machine stitch close to the edge of the binding on the upper side, you will be certain that it will be fastened on both sides in a single stitching.

FABRIC BELT LOOPS

For a neater waistline appearance, attach a pair of belt loops to your skirts, made from little bits of the left-over material, to eliminate the slip and slide of your leather belts. Just cut a strip of fabric, almost twice the desired width, allowing one selvaged edge. Fold in each edge, but be sure the selvage overlaps and extends to the opposite side. Top stitch along the four edges of the loop and attach to the skirt.

MAKE IT TRIM, TAILORED AND IN TWEED

Be your own tailor and make this six-gored skirt in an attractive and long-wearing wool tweed. The design is fashioned to fit smoothly at the hipline and flare at the hem. This skirt will be a "stand-out" without the help of a crinoline petticoat—the secret is the horsehair braid hidden in the hem. Directions for making this trim TWEED SKIRT are available to you by simply sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and requesting Leaflet No. E-2991.

STATE POLICE ARRESTS GAIN DURING AUGUST

Arrests made during August by Michigan State Police showed an increase of 10 per cent over August of a year ago, although the last of the troopers on duty at Jackson prison were not withdrawn until near the middle of the month.

According to the department's monthly activity analysis, arrests totalled 7,716, of which 6,256 were for traffic offenses, the latter a gain of three per cent.

It was the first time since the riot broke out at the prison in April and State Police posts were stripped of personnel to control the disturbance that the monthly arrest total was greater than in the same month of the previous year. When conditions had quieted the troopers were gradually withdrawn, but a small detachment was still on duty until August 11.

Complaints handled in all matters in August increased three per cent, 7,413 over 7,188. Officers traveled 377,380 miles on patrol and 364,260 miles, on complaints. They made 21,100 property inspections and 3,220 liquor inspections.

The East Lansing headquarters identification bureau received 6,727 sets of fingerprints. This brought the number on file to 3,558,295, of which 1,846,684 are in the criminal section and 1,711,611 in the non-criminal.

Through fingerprints, 14 persons wanted by police as fugitives from justice were identified. Likewise the identity of one unknown deceased person was established.

In handling 643 sets of fingerprints in connection with applications for licenses to carry concealed weapons, 60 applicants were found to have criminal records.

Now is the Time for Good Buys in Fruits and Vegetables

Right now is a good time to find especially good buys in canned fruits and vegetables, says Mary Bodwell, food economist for the agricultural economics department at Michigan State College.

September and October is usually the time when processors and distributors are beginning to sell their new fruit and vegetable packs. The retailer must clear his shelves to handle the new pack and feature fall sales of canned foods. Many families who have dry and relatively cool storage place plan to lay in a considerable part of their fall and winter canned food requirements.

Costs of many canned food items are a little higher than a year ago but there are many good bargains among them—to find these bargains the food shopper must learn to read the labels and know what is in the can. The law requires that all labels must indicate the name of the product, the name and address of the processor or distributor and the net contents. If the product is a mixture, all the ingredients must be listed on the label. The label on canned fruits and vegetables must also indicate the style of pack, the variety when that is important and if syrup is used, the sweetness of the syrup.

Other information can appear on the label which will prove helpful. Such items as to the number of cups of food, the number of servings and methods of preparation may also be found on the label and be a guide to buying.

The 1952 pack of canned fruits is expected to be about 10 per cent smaller than last year's pack but because of the carry-over from the 1951 pack the total volume of available supplies of canned fruit will about be equal to last year.

Despite increases in the use of frozen fruits and vegetables, the use of canned fruits and vegetables has steadily increased. We are now using 18 to 20 pounds of canned fruits, 15 to 18 pounds of canned fruit juices and 35 to 40 pounds of canned vegetables per person each year, says Miss Bodwell.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

BY...DREW PEARSON

(Note to editors: Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation. The Washington Merry-Go-Round is written this week by Sen. Francis Case, Republican, South Dakota.)

Friction in South Korea

It has been kept out of the news, but some alarming reports have filtered back from Korea of serious friction between American G.I.s and South Korean natives. In some areas, the friction is so bad that local guerrillas, operating behind our lines, are not so much pro-Communist as anti-American.

For example, the army has noticed a direct relation between the guerrilla raids and G.I. behavior. Too many G.I.s, rankled over being stuck in Korea, take their spite out on the natives. Result is that a few drunk and disgruntled G.I.s have been pushing and slapping the South Koreans around in their own country. While they are in a decided minority, and the great majority of G.I.s have worked well with the natives, this minority has seriously hurt general relations.

It has got so bad that President Syngman Rhee has given strict orders to South Koreans not to resist. So, instead of getting in trouble with the South Korean police, some natives—even including anti-Communists—slip off to join the guerrilla bands that raid American command posts and supply centers.

In one instance, all the Korean mess boys mysteriously disappeared from an American radar station several hours before a guerrilla raid. Yet not one took the trouble to tip off the G.I.s of the approaching danger. This is typical of the growing South Korean attitude toward Americans.

As a result of this growing friction, the Army is tightening discipline and trying to teach more respect for our South Korean allies.

Pat McCarran's Rule

It looks like crusty, cantankerous Senator McCarran of Nevada has suffered two defeats. On top of having his law partner defeated in the senatorial primary by young Tom Mechling, the White House has now held up appointment of a new McCarran-picked U.S. attorney for Nevada, James Johnson, Jr., even after McCarran got him confirmed by the senate.

It is almost unheard of for the White House to renege on an appointment after confirmation by the senate, but this is what President Truman has done. And the silver-crested solon from Nevada is fit to be tied.

Here is the inside story of what happened.

Last summer, U.S. Judge Roger Foley in Las Vegas granted an almost unprecedented injunction against McCarran and a group of gamblers for a conspiracy to kill advertising in the Las Vegas Sun after that paper had criticized McCarran. In doing so, the judge remarked that he was turning the matter over to the U.S. attorney.

The U.S. attorney, Miles Pike, though appointed through Senator McCarran, had shown recent signs of independence. And, though it may have been pure coincidence, suddenly, on July 1, Pike resigned. Earlier that day his family had no inkling his resignation was pending, nor did the Justice Department. The only man who seemed to know it was Senator McCarran. For, a few hours later, McCarran announced that he was appointing James Johnson, one of his political henchmen, to this key post dealing with federal prosecutions.

Why the Hurry?

McCarran proceeded to rush Johnson's name through the senate in record time. His name was announced July 1, put before the judiciary committee July 3, and confirmed July 4. Normally, important appointments of this kind are delayed 10 days for an FBI report, but McCarran seemed to be in an awful hurry.

He was in such a hurry that doubt now exists as to whether Johnson's name actually was ever sent to the senate by the White House. Inquiries at the White House at the time brought a reply that there was no record of Johnson's appointment.

At any rate, the White House since then has held up Johnson's certificate of appointment. Until the President signs this, he cannot serve. Two months have dragged by, and Pike, the man who resigned so suddenly, is still U.S. attorney in Nevada, while Johnson, the man appointed so suddenly, is officially suspended in midair.

It looks as if the President had got wise to Senator McCarran.

SS United States

Only passengers to brave the dining-room when the SS United States was caught in the recent hurricane were glamor girls Roberta Regan, wife of the congressman from Midland, Texas, and Evie Robert, wife of the former treasurer of the Democratic National committee. They stuck out the storm but they had to be lashed to their chairs.

Stiff Penalties Invoked Against State Cigarette Tax Evaders

Retailers and individuals purchasing cigarettes from sources outside the state in an attempt to avoid the state tax on cigarettes of 30 cents per carton are subject to prosecution and both fine and imprisonment. This warning was issued this week by Clarence W. Lock, Deputy State Revenue Commissioner.

The warning was brought about as a result of the flooding of the state with circulars offering cigarettes at a savings of approximately the amount of the state tax. According to Lock, the offer originates with a concern known as the Purchasing Corporation of America, having offices in Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia, three states which do not have a state cigarette tax. Lock also stated that this corporation has been charged with violation of the Jenkins Act, a federal statute, and the case is now before the United States Supreme Court.

The Michigan cigarette tax law provides that any person purchasing untaxed cigarettes must be licensed and pay the state tax upon acquisition. Failure to do so is a felony in case the cigarette so purchased have a value of $50 or more. In case the value of the cigarettes is less than $50, the violation is a misdemeanor. Conviction under the felony provision is punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. The misdemeanor provisions carries a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

HARD LUCK STORY OF THE YEAR

You and I have heard many a tale of woe from fishermen in our time—stories of sea monsters that got away, alibis for coming home empty-handed, and sweeping statements to the effect that there "never were any fish in that lake anyway."

But the season's most dismal wail, and one that will bring genuine tears to the eyes of thousands of fellow-fishermen, is told by Eugene Eicher of Detroit. Brother Eicher is a reputable business man, vice president of Harry Sufirin, Inc., and is not addicted to exaggeration. Besides, he had many witnesses. "Ike," as he is affectionately known to his many friends, was fishing on Houghton Lake last Memorial Day. Trolling leisurely with a fly rod along the edge of one of the many weed banks in search of walleyes, he had a sudden strike, set the hook, and failed to move the fish more than a few inches from the bottom. Actually there was not a great deal of commotion at the beginning, and Ike figured it was another dogfish—a species which is somewhat common to the lake, and which displays these not too sporty fighting tactics.

In fact our hero was so sure of this that he baited a passing boat and mentioned disgustfully that his arcing fly rod was supporting a dogfish. Soon the gallery grew larger. A well-strapped rod will always draw a pretty good crowd. When the "dogfish" suddenly surfaced and splashed water for 20 feet with the sweep of an enormous tail, Ike and everybody else suddenly found out how big bass can grow in Houghton Lake. After a terrifying and agonizing battle, during which the fly rod lost much of its future usefulness, the monster was boated. Old-time Houghton Lakers gathered in nearby boats, and gasped. Ike just about stopped breathing. It was a gigantic small-mouth bass, all agreed. Out came the tested and proven "De-Liar" pocket scales. The needle wiggled, then settled at 7½ pounds! Everyone knew that Ike had a prize-winner this time, for, as every angler can tell you a small-mouth bass of such dimensions is a once-in-a-million-life-time catch. And to cap the climax it was caught on a fly rod!

Ike carefully and thoroughly placed the fish on a strong, snap-hook type chain stringer, threaded the chain between the boat rail and the gunwale, but, in his understandable excitement failed to wrap the end around the rail. Instead, he snapped the end faster back on the chain itself, under the rail.

Soon another boatload of anglers came along, for the big news had spread fast. "Let's see that record-breaking small-mouth," they called. And Ike was proud to grab the stringer at the water's edge, and to hold up the great fish for all to see. Alas, as he dropped it back, the weight of that wonderful bass pulled the stringer through the rail. Horror swept the faces of the spectators. The luckless Mr. Eicher frantically and vainly reached for the sinking prize. And hours later, after dragging thousands of square yards of the bottom, the citizens of Houghton Lake gave up. Gloom settled over the community. Eugene Eicher returned to Detroit in exceedingly low spirits, and if any fishermen reading this column have a more tearful tale to tell I have yet to hear it in Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 10:30 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

FIRES REDUCED IN STATE, BUT LOSS HITS PEAK

Increased property value caused Michigan's fire loss to reach a new high in 1951, but the downward trend in the total number of fires continued for the third consecutive year, according to the annual loss report just released by the fire marshal division of the Michigan State Police.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, who is also state fire marshal, pointed to the reduction as reflecting in part at least the emphasis placed on the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week, which this year begins next Sunday, October 5.

The report shows that 50,670 fires resulted in a loss of $29,760,609 in 1951. The previous high was $29,618,534 in 1948, when there were 59,958 fires.

Childs said, however, that 221 persons, including 81 children perished in fires last year, which was second only to the all-time high of 257 in 1950. The monetary loss in 1950 was $24,964,345. Total loss on buildings, including 16,316 dwellings amounted to $16,681,148 in 1951, while the loss on contents was $12,534,348.

Loss in other fires was $545,112.46

A breakdown of various types of fires included: automobile, 7,115; aircraft, 47; dry cleaning, 102; bulk storage plants, 97; house trailers, 281; schools, 96 and theaters, 27.

Careless smoking and misuse of matches alone caused 4,062 fires. Other leading causes were faulty electrical wiring and appliances, 3,735; defective chimneys and heating equipment, 3,437 and overheated heating equipment, 1,723. Lightning was responsible for 585.

Childs urged all Michigan residents to observe Fire Prevention Week by eliminating hazards.

"It is obvious," he said, "that even with a considerable reduction in the total number of fires, there should be increased prevention efforts to avoid needless losses. Home fire safety should be stressed. Most fires are due to carelessness and neglect. So be extra careful, clean up rubbish and remove other hazards to save both property and lives. Fire Prevention Week is a good time to start."
