Will Not Make Great Change In 1952 Taxes

Iosco Supervisors Meet in Annual October Session

"Outside of school taxes, the $33,000,000 equalized valuation set up by the State Tax Commission will not greatly effect your taxes," stated members of the committee on finance and apportionment at an interview during Thursday morning's session of the October meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

"In equalizing the county's assessment rolls, the state tax commission designated each township's and city's portion of the county budget and court-house levy to be spread on the tax rolls. This budget was prepared and approved last spring and will not be changed.

"The local tax raised by townships and cities will not be effected by the order.

"To participate in state aid, school districts are required to spread a rate of at least five mills on the equalized valuation of the county. The equalized valuation of the county has been increased by the state tax commission's order so the amount of money going to schools will be increased accordingly by this requirement. State aid money is necessary to finance our schools so this requirement will be met.

"The millage for county library purposes is also based by law on equalized valuation figures rather than those of the assessed valuation. The greatly increased equalization gives the county library fund a substantial boost."

Traffic Deaths On Increase

Casualties Average 152 A Day

Traffic deaths, injuries and accidents in Michigan were higher in August than in the same month of 1951, according to the monthly statistical report of the Michigan State Police.

All of the fatality increases occurred in urban areas, while all of the injury increase was in rural areas.

The record for the first eight months of this year shows 1,045 persons killed, an increase of two-tenths of one percent over 1,043 during the same period last year; 30,599 injured, a reduction of three percent under 31,406; and 102,990 accidents, a decrease of eight per cent under 111,924.

Estimate mileage travelled the first seven months of this year, the latest figures available, was 13.7 billion, a decrease of less than one-half of one percent compared with 13.75 billion in the same period of 1951. Vote 'No' on No. 2 and 'Yes' on No. 3 Amendment

It is time now to make clear the difference between the two constitutional amendments to be upon the November 4 ballots, both calling for long overdue reapportionment of the State Legislature.

There is one important difference which every fair-minded citizen should keep in mind.

AMENDMENT No. 2 calls for both the Senate and the House to be elected on a population basis. This is NOT fair.

If both houses of the Legislature were selected on the same population basis it would be equivalent to only a single house since the same representation would prevail at both levels. This would make it possible for only four heavily populated counties to control the whole state.

AMENDMENT No. 3 calls for a so-called Balanced Legislature,

Achievement Day Events Arranged

Awards Will be Made November 8

"Serving as loyal citizens through 4-H" is the theme of the annual 4-H Club Achievement Day on November 8. In Iosco county 4-Hers will observe the day with special programs or community meetings, movies and exhibits in store windows, according to Marvin Davenport, 4-H Club Agent.

The boys and girls are pausing to review their year's work that included an estimated 95,000 completed projects in the state of Michigan. Almost 60,000 youngsters are enrolled in 5,000 local clubs throughout the state. Here in Iosco county there are 227 boys and girls in 10 community clubs. Local leaders who volunteer their time, number 35 in this county and about 10,000 in the state.

Projects form the basis of 4-H Club work. Whether it is in home making, livestock or crop production, there is a set of requirements for each piece of work.

In Michigan, more than 89 percent of the projects begun last year were completed. That is the highest number of any midwestern state, Davenport said.

In Michigan last year, 4-Hers had 6,231 dairy cattle projects; the girls made 44,360 garments, and canned 236,502 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

Any young person from 10 to 21 years of age interested in joining a 4-H Club should contact the local Cooperative Extension Office at East Tawas or ask a local leader for information.

Travel Lectures Start October 29

On Wednesday evening, October 29, the Kiwanis sponsored Travel Series lectures will start with the "Valley of the Hudson" by Julian Gromer.

This fascinating story of one of the world's most famous rivers—as photographed and narrated by the master artist, Julian Gromer—will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to attend.

Using a motorboat, highway, and steamer, Mr. Gromer starts his trip at Coney Island, mouth of the mighty Hudson and works up the length of the river to its source in the beautiful Adirondacks. On the way he records a host of interesting places—the Statue of Liberty, Manhattan Island, Times Square at night, the Palisades, Sing Sing Prison, Bear Mountain, West Point, Beacon Mountain, Poughkeepsie, Hyde Park, the Catskills, Albany, Glens Falls, Lake George and North Pole—complete with Santa Claus, his helpers and animal friends.

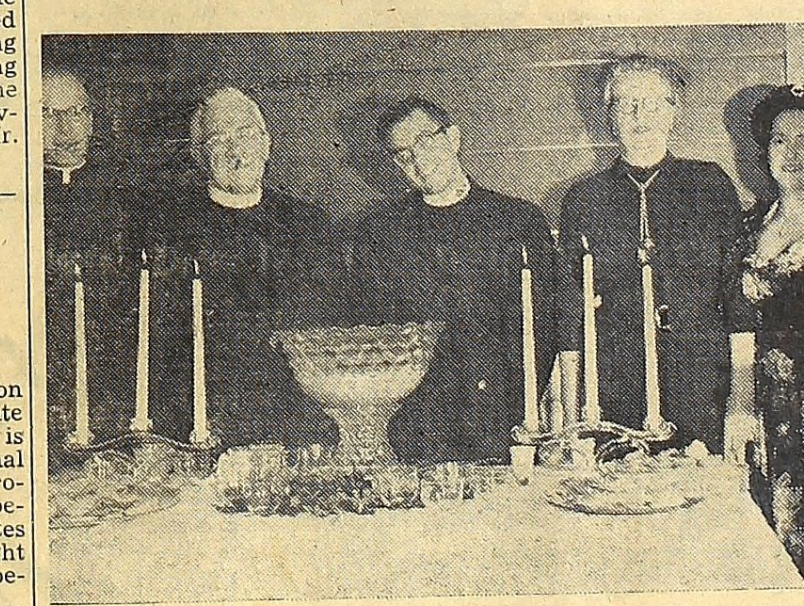

He shows fascinating sequences of gardens—with flowers in lapse-time motion—the canning of cherries, the manufacture of cough drops, the creation of color pigments and the making—and amateur hanging of wallpaper! Sparkling with humor, beautiful color, excellent narration, soft music—Julian Gromer's "Valley of the Hudson" is a delightful travelogue.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 40: 1-4
Sincerity
Lesson for October 19, 1952

SOME say an insincere person isn't what he seems to be. That is not quite true. An insincere person is what he seems to be, only not all the way through. He is what he seems to be, on Sundays, or part of the time, or when he's feeling just right; or perhaps he is what he seems to be, but only on the surface. The rest of the time, or underneath that surface, he is something quite different. Everybody likes sincere people, nobody wants to have much to do with the insincere.

Dr. Foreman

Getting Down to Cases
Jesus, of course, demanded sincerity. "Jesus would rather be denied by a true man than confessed by a liar." He did not use the word "sincere" or "sincerity," but (as was his habit) he came down to cases. He first shows that a generous giver, and a praying man, may be insincere. When is generosity sincere? When is a man all-the-way generous and when is he only top-layer generous? Jesus suggests that it isn't what we give, but why we give, that points up a test for sincerity. It is very doubtful whether Jesus meant to say that any one ever hired a trumpeter to toot for him when he dropped some money into the collection plate or wrote a check for the Red Cross. What he means to say is that when a man gives with the hope that his gift will attract attention and produce applause, he is not really generous. He doesn't have the recipient's interests at heart; he is thinking only, "How well people will think of me!" Or again, that odd saying, "Do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing" suggests that sometimes you are generous in order to please your favorite audience: You. You are generous in order to feel self-satisfied, your right hand (so to speak) brags about your left. The sincerely generous person is the only truly generous one; and the only sincerely generous person is the one who wants to give, not to be complimented, even by himself.

What Is Sincere Prayer?
Another concrete case that Jesus takes up is prayer. There is a story that once a minister was told after service: "Doctor, that was the most eloquent prayer ever delivered to a Boston audience." Jesus would say that a prayer delivered to an audience—Boston, Bombay or Barber Junction, no matter where—isn't a prayer, it's just a way of showing off. A certain professor of English used to quote famous authors in his public prayers: "As Shakespeare has said, O Lord . . . Thou rememberest what the poet Browning hath said . . ." Now there's no use quoting poetry to the Lord; that is suited to a speech, not to a prayer. Of course Jesus did not mean that we are never to pray in the presence of others. He himself prayed in public on various occasions. Leading others in prayer is a rare gift and should be cultivated. But while prayer, sincere prayer, can be with others and for others, it should never be to others. Some preachers "beat the congregation over their heads with a prayer" as the saying is. Some deacons have been known to put long and dull prayer-meeting talks into the form of a prayer. One elder well-versed in Scripture used to go through the whole story of the Bible, in outline, every time he was called on for a prayer.

Sincerity in Devotion
Jesus points out where sincerity is most important of all: in our devotion to God. We cannot serve God and Mammon. God does not want part-time devotion. By serving God, Jesus means living by God's side, under God's orders. Serving Mammon means more than simply serving money—most Mammon-worshippers would deny that they "serve" money. It means living your life not as God would have you but in order to "get ahead," to make money, to stand well with people who have money. Serving God means living as Jesus lived, for others; serving Mammon means trying to be served by as many persons as possible. Success, in Mammon's terms, is measured in terms of how many people work for you; success in God's terms, is measured in terms of how much you have helped others. Sincere devotion to God must be devotion all life through.

New Books

Many eyes have been turned toward Japan in the last few years. Two new biographies help us to see and understand the old Japan as well as the new. "Windows for the Crown Prince" by Elizabeth Gray Vining, who spent four intimate years as tutor to the Crown Prince gives one a vivid insight into the Imperial Court of Japan. Her story is delightfully and simply told giving much of the life and customs of contemporary Japan outside of the Imperial Court. Mrs. Vining is a successful writer for young people and the charm of her writing is apparent in her book, as well as her innate understanding of the Crown Prince as a young person. It is a beautifully written and perceptive book, a must for anyone interested in Japan. Another biography of Japanese life is "Daughter of the Pacific" by Yoko Matsucka, who is the daughter of liberal and educated Japanese parents. Her father was educated in America and Yoko herself graduated from Swarthmore in 1938. It is the story of a young woman who writes about a land with which we are inevitably concerned. She recalls her childhood, her years abroad, her marriage, the war years and their aftermath. Two current and outstanding novels present an interesting contrast. "The Silver Chalice" by Thomas Costain is a novel about the exciting and dramatic conflict behind the founding of the Christian religion. The story ranges from the Holy Land to Rome—deals with the life of a young artisan purchased from slavery by the Christians to fashion the silver cup. The other novel is John Steinbeck's "East of Eden", which is an intensely interesting and impressive book. The scene is the Salinas Valley in California, the action is the events in the lives of three generations of two families. It is described as his most ambitious effort since "Grapes of Wrath". Two other books in the non-fiction field which will be of interest to many people are Stern's

"You and Your Aging Parents", a guide to the younger generation on what to do and how to do it when members of the older generation become either financially or physically dependent. It is also a guide to the older generation on how to act when dependence is thrust upon them. The other non-fiction title is the "Handbook for Group Leaders" by Brown. Useful suggestions with examples on program planning are given by a mother and her daughter, active in varied community groups. A new play by Mary Stuart Chase, the author of "Harvey", "Mrs. McThing" which is currently playing on Broadway will be of interest to many.

Library Has Two New Staff Members

The Iosco County Library has two new staff members. Mrs. Ella Bowman resigned recently from the East Tawas Branch and Mrs. Stuart White has been employed to take her place. Mrs. White will also assist with Bookmobile Service to rural schools. Rev. Hugh A. Thompson of East Tawas has taken a part time position with the County Library as driver of the Bookmobile. My aim is good, but someone keeps changing the target.

GOOD WEATHER BOOSTS CROP AVERAGE

Unusually good September weather improved prospects for late crops, according to a report from the Federal-State crop reporting service. Yield estimates now are above average for all important field crops except oats and barley.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round
BY DREW PEARSON

Picking Nixon

A lot of people have been wondering how dynamic Dick Nixon, 39 years old and a newcomer in politics, managed to latch on to the No. 2 spot on the Republican ticket at Chicago.

The story is one of an extremely astute and opportunistic young man plus the hit-and-miss habits of a political convention in picking its candidates—especially the vice-president.

Nixon, a resident of Whittier, California, near Pasadena, had come to know an automobile salesman in Pasadena, Paul Hoffman, who later became president of Studebaker and took over the most important reconstruction job in the world—head of the Marshall plan. Last winter Hoffman became one of the three top advisers to General Eisenhower and head of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

Prior to the Chicago convention, Eisenhower cohorts were casting around for a way to wear the powerful California delegation away from Governor Warren and over to Ike. Nixon was approached by Hoffman as to how this could be done. Naive at politics, Hoffman even suggested that Nixon himself run for president in the California primary, with the idea of weakening Warren's hold on California's 76 votes.

However, Nixon, not anxious to buck either Governor Warren or Congressman Tom Werdel, who had already been drafted by old-guard Republicans to run against the governor, declined. Instead he suggested that he would become a delegate from California and work from within to switch Warren delegates over to Eisenhower on the second ballot.

Nixon figured that as a senator, he would be given the courtesy of picking 10 delegates, and with this as a nucleus he could make sure that California was in Eisenhower's column before the balloting had gone more than one round.

In order to stir up Eisenhower sentiment in California, Nixon sent out 25,000 letters to registered GOP voters, asking: "Who is your choice for President, assuming that Governor Warren is not nominated?"

This mailing job may have been one expense to which the so-called Millionaires' Club donated. Governor Warren, however, got wind of the Nixon plebiscite, and never having cared much for the ambitious young senator from California, a mutual friend, Bernard Brennan, also a member of the Millionaires' Club, put the quietus on Nixon's vote-results.

However, Nixon arrived at Chicago with a tacit understanding from Paul Hoffman that he would do his best for Ike inside the California delegation and that Ike, in turn, would give him favorable consideration for the vice-presidency.

It was he who swung California over to the Eisenhower point of view when it came to the debate over the Langlie amendment, and it was he who literally grabbed the microphone away from Senator Knowland, when it came to the hot debate over seating the Georgia delegation.

After Ike was nominated, Paul Hoffman kept his word. So with Hoffman backing him and a friendly nod from Governor Dewey, plus Dick's record on Hiss and the plan to open up on Governor Stevenson's desposition for Hiss, the young senator from California had the No. 2 spot on the Republican ticket in the bag.

Contracts and Gifts

One danger a senator risks if he accepts "expense" money from outsiders is that some of his benefactors may have contracts with the government and that he in turn may make representations to the government on their behalf. This is against the law.

For instance, some of Nixon's benefactors, or their attorneys, did have government contracts as follows: K. T. Norris, president of the Norris Stamping Co., has a contract with the Defense Department for making shells and cartridges estimated at around $25,000,000.

Earl Adams, is attorney for Guy Atkinson, a builder with large government contracts.

In somewhat different category is Norman Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times and Los Angeles Mirror, who is also the largest stockholder in the Title Insurance and Trust Co., which has underwritten all titles of the oil companies operating in the tidelands oil area. These underwriting policies total $48,000,000 and should the government finally take over tidelands oil wells, Chandler's company might be stuck with indemnifying the oil companies, $48,000,000.

Senator Nixon, of course, voted consistently and vigorously for tidelands oil. Undoubtedly he would have done so whether Chandler had contributed to his expense fund or not, because California sentiment is predominantly that way.

Needlecraft News
by Nancy Baxter

CROCHET and embroidery have regained their popularity in the apparel field. There has been a resurgence of interest in these needlework arts as is evidenced in American and European styles—an interest which waned with the beginning of the machine age. Peculiar though it may seem, needlework drew much attention after the start of the machine age, probably because more time was to be had by the homemaker, but the attention was devoted to the sewing machine and away from crochet and embroidery where clothing was concerned. At this time, crochet and embroidery were being used more than ever for household accessories, but the new and novel machine practically dominated in clothing construction. Today, however, ALL of the needlework arts are favored. Sewing machines are used by millions of women, and will continue to be used, but women are also becoming aware of the emphasis given to the "handmade look" now prevalent in the clothing centers of the world and are adding crocheted, embroidered and knitted accessories to their wardrobes.

CROCHET IN FASHION

Here are a few hints on how to crochet can help you attain the latest look in style. Using an inexpensive pair of plain cotton shortie gloves, add a pretty crocheted cuff, about an inch wide, in a contrasting color. Or, make several vertical slashes, around the cuff, about an inch or an inch-and-a-half long and crochet triangular inserts in same or contrasting color to make the glove flare. And, in the height of fashion are crocheted stoles, hats and sweater-like blouses.

EMBROIDERY IN FASHION

Many of the popular flared skirts are adorned with embroidered designs nowadays. You can brighten a plain skirt by adding a bit of embroidery to it. Use a lift to a blouse in your wardrobe by embroidering around the collar or neckline, around the button holes or cuffs.

EASY DOES IT

For stepping-in instead of stepping-out, these COMFY COTTON SCUFFS, which combine crochet with embroidery, can be made quickly by you in your leisure time for wear during other leisure hours. Or, present them as gifts to your friends. Only four balls of crochet cotton are required for the scuffs and one skein of embroidery floss, in a contrasting color, for the cross stitches which decorate the slipper tops. You can obtain the direction Leaflet No. 2061 for making the scuffs in small, medium and large sizes, by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper.

Burleigh

The regular meeting of the local 4-H Group was held Wednesday evening at the Grange Hall. The new leader for the boys will be Harold Black. Mrs. Martin Siegrist will assist Mrs. Norman Chippis in leading the girls. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black furnishing the music and Mrs. Margaret Bellor calling the square dances. The Burleigh Rural Ladies Club then surprised the youngsters with a treat of ice cream and cake. The cake was handsomely decorated in the club colors of green and white.

Mrs. William Sheffer and son are visiting relatives in Pontiac. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodder have installed a television set. Sylvester Runyan of Mills Lake spent Sunday with his son, Wilbur, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caverly and son of Saginaw were week-end guests of the Cecil Ruckle family. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Purchase of Freeland were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodder.

Mrs. George Smith of Sherman spent Wednesday with her aunt, Mrs. Josephine Jaglin.

A. B. Schneider accompanied by Don Schneider of National City was at Sterling and Standish Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford St. James and Mr. and Mrs. Victor St. James attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O'Farrell at Rose City Saturday. He is a nephew of the St. James.

SCIENCE OF SHOTGUNNING

Lots of books have been written on shotguns and their effectiveness against upland birds and game. Before you bought your gun you probably pondered the matter at great length—wondered if you were choosing the right gauge, the best stock, the right length barrel, the most effective choke for the type of hunting you planned to do.

Chances are your choice worked out pretty well, because most hunters can become good shots with any gun, providing they use it often enough to get thoroughly used to it.

In my book the choice of shot is a more important factor, plus the knowledge that tells you when to pull that trigger. Too many hunters buy shells loaded with No. 4 pellets when they should be using No. 6 or even 7 1/2's. Your shells with No. 4 shot have 135 pellets to the ounce while a No. 7 1/2 load carries 350 pellets for the same weight. You may argue that the killing power of heavier shot is greater, but you can't deny that in numbers there is strength, too! And if you're inclined to reach out for your birds or game beyond the 40 yard mark, your pattern begins to break up, and you desperately need those extra pellets to fill the holes.

of loads is the choke of your gun. Most duck hunters use a full choke, with which they know they can reach out as much as 60 yards and still have about 50% of their shot inside a 30-inch circle. Wide open or "improved cylinder" chokes give you the same number of shot in a 30-inch circle at only 30 yards. Beyond this range an open choke just wastes ammunition most of the time. So it all depends on the game you're after, and how close you're going to get to it. My choice for all bird hunting, except ducks, is an improved cylinder. I firmly believe that too many hunters miss their game because a full or modified choke has kept the target completely out of the cone of fire!

The Matter of Lead

Of course, failure to lead may cause the same amount of misses. It takes an average .065 seconds from the time you see your game, raise your gun and pull the trigger until the shotgun pellets reach a point 20 yards from you. In that time a canvasback will fly as much as 65 feet! How much should you lead? That depends on your distance from the target—and the best answer is found from experience. Plan to spend more hunting hours in the field. Miss a few and hit a lot more! The only difference between you and a crack shot is a little more time at the sport. Take it this year—in Michigan Outdoors! It's later than you think!

Vote "No" on Amendment No. 2 and "Yes" on No. 3, if you do not want the smaller populated counties of Michigan to be voted out of their natural representation in the legislature.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS
HAROLD R. CLARK

I am reminded by Robert Dennis, Assistant to the Director of Short Courses of Michigan State college that the fall Michigan State College Short Courses in Agriculture and Home Economics begin October 27. On that date students will be starting their first and third terms of 32 weeks general courses. The 32 week course is divided into four terms of eight weeks each. The first and third terms are held in the eight weeks preceding Christmas and the second and fourth terms are held during the eight weeks following New Year's.

The courses in agriculture will include most phases of Agriculture but allows the student to specialize in the enterprises that will fit his own farm conditions.

The courses in Home Economics include important phases of modern homemaking plus a wide variety of elective courses.

Elective courses in recreation and community leadership are offered to give these young people a well rounded background for useful citizenship.

The costs vary but a thrifty student can manage to keep under $150.00 per term. There are often opportunities to work which can considerably reduce the total cost outlay.

Scholarships are available for worthy young men and women. Anyone interested in a scholarship should see me soon. I have catalogues that describe the various courses offered. Write for one.

The premium list for the seventh annual Northern Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show and annual Northern Michigan Club Center at the Emmett County Fair Grounds at Petoskey, November 4-7 are now available for distribution.

Unique in this show is the potato exhibit. An exhibit shall consist of 1000 pounds field run potatoes. They will be exhibited in 10 and 100 pound sacks. When judged they will be sorted and graded, packaged and sold by auction at the end of the show.

The Cedar Lake Ranch will be an exhibitor from Isoco county. To make it official, I supervised the field picking and sealed the sacks of potatoes. Through good management and supplemental irrigation, Bob Heintz, manager, is getting phenomenal yields.

Local elevators and farmers who have good quality seeders are urged to exhibit in the seed division. Seeds include oats, barley, wheat, rye, corn, field beans, red kidney, yellow eye, white and field peas in addition to alfalfa, the clovers and vetch. I have premium lists.

"Living and Learning" Theme of 20th Century Club

At the opening meeting of the Twentieth Century Club, the program chairman for the coming year announced the "Living and Learning in America" is to be the theme for the year. The club project voted last April is to be "Community Adult Education". This latter project was the subject chosen by the speaker of the evening, Stanley Van Lare, Director of Alpena Community College.

In his very well received talk Mr. Van Lare brought out the salient points of an education project, and outlined the steps necessary for beginning one. He stated, "There is not enough time to educate generation by generation, we must start to educate the adult, also, in the race against disaster. Strong forces are a work that can, and will, bring about disaster, unless problems can be solved by education."

Thirty members and their guests enjoyed a fine potluck dinner before the program at beautifully decorated tables. A large white mum plant was featured at one table as a memento of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodale's 43rd anniversary. Congratulations, folks!

In the business meeting Mrs. A. P. Jerome, president, announced that the Businessmen would again sponsor a Halloween Party for all children of the community, and the club voted to take charge of the party with Mrs. Douglas Ferguson and Mrs. George Myles, co-chairmen. Mrs. Howitson, bake sale chairman, reported receipts of $60.00 from the bake sale and was thanked by the club for the fine report. The civic committee, headed by Mrs. C. L. McLean, were to proceed with the club's project on Adult Education.

Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. William Leslie, Mrs. E. Leggett and Mrs. George Liske. Guests welcomed included Mr. Van Lare, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Fox, Mrs. Orville Carary and Mrs. George Rice.

Disagree With "Little Hoover" Committee

Resolution passed by the Grant Community Farm Bureau, Iosco County, March 13, 1952. Whereas the Citizens Research Council of Michigan and the so called Little Hoover Committee have made for reaching recommendations as to changes in our present setup of the Executive Department. Among them, being the authority of the Governor to appoint most of those State Officials serving with him on the Administrative Board.

We consider this system of appointment very un-democratic, and not in keeping with the intent of the act creating the Administrative Board, which has with stood the test for the past thirty years.

And further, we are aware of the many and varied conditions as the law stands, to which these candidates now receive their nominations at the State Conventions. Also realizing full well the power to nominate is the power to elect.

We hereby resolve, that the Michigan Legislature amend the present Primary Election law, so we the people of the State nominate these four candidates at Primary Election: Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Attorney General and Auditor, as we do the Governor.
