Supervisors End Meeting Yesterday

Clarence Curry Reappointed to Road Commission

The Iosco County Board of Supervisors ended the October meeting yesterday (Thursday). The board had adjourned, after its sessions of last week, until Wednesday of this week.

The principal business of the meeting was the apportionment of county tax by the finance and apportionment committee.

At the meeting Clarence Curry was reappointed as a member of the Iosco County Road Commission. The choice was made between two candidates, Curry and Harold McNeil of Oscoda. The vote was 12 to 6 in favor of Curry.

Harry Cross of Tawas City was reappointed member of the Social Welfare Commission.

Among the appropriations was $500.00 to the East Michigan Tourist Association. Lloyd Little was named delegate to the annual meeting of the association.

A resolution was adopted favoring the nomination of secretary of state, auditor general, state treasurer and attorney general by primary election instead of by convention.

A "no" vote on Amendment No. 2 and a "yes" vote on No. 3 was urged in a resolution adopted by the board.

Several townships in the rural section benefited by the equalization percentages set up by the State Tax Commission. They have smaller amounts of county tax to raise than would have prevailed had the equalization figures prepared last spring by the committee on equalization of the Board of Supervisors been used. The difference was absorbed by the industrial and tourist sections of the county by being required to raise a larger share of the county tax.

Iosco Girl Given $25,000 Verdict

Hearing Held Before Federal Jury

Miss Doris Tomlinson, 18 year old Iosco county girl, was awarded $25,000 damages against Consumers Power Company in a sealed verdict before Federal Judge Frank A. Picard.

The federal court jury deliberated for three and a half hours before returning its verdict. The girl and her mother were asking $150,000, claiming the power company was negligent in the death of their husband and father, Russell Tomlinson, by electrocution near Tawas City in June of 1949.

The verdict found both Consumers Power Co. and the deceased guilty of negligence in the accident. However, on instruction of the court, the jury found that Doris, seriously burned while trying to aid her father could not be charged with her father's negligence.

Tomlinson was killed when his well-drilling rig came in contact with high tension wires near a tavern on US-23, south of Tawas City.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Matthew 7.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 119: 105-112.

Test of Faith
Lesson for October 26, 1952

EVERY one who has carefully studied the "Sermon on the Mount" as we find it in Matthew, has run into a peculiar feature of it. The first two chapters (Matt. 5 and 6) move right along in logical fashion, one thought leading into the next, to a climax at the end of chapter 6. But chapter 7 seems to launch out in all directions. The sentences or topics do not follow a single thread of thought. The chapter is very hard to outline. There are various explanations of this. One is that in this chapter we have what might be called the discussion period or forum following the sermon. The various short paragraphs may be explained as being answers Jesus gave to questions which are not recorded. However that may be, we may select verses 12, and 15-27, and see how they answer four very natural questions which Jesus' teaching (especially in Matt. 5 and 6) would raise.

Bible in a Nutshell

Some one might ask: "Can't you make your teaching simpler and plainer? Could you put the whole thing in a nutshell?" So Jesus gives the Golden Rule (7:12), a single sentence that has embarrassed the theologian and plain Christian alike. Jesus offers this as a kind of summary of the Bible, for in his time the Bible he had (our "Old Testament") was customarily called "The Law and the Prophets." This bothers the theologian because it always scandalizes a scholar to have everything put into one sentence, and besides, theologians are accustomed to finding a great deal more in the Old Testament than the Golden Rule. It bothers the common everyday Christian because when he looks at this sentence, he knows how right Mark Twain was: "It's not what I don't understand in the Bible that disturbs me; it's what I do understand."

How Can You Tell?

Another question: How do we know you are teaching the truth? How can we tell you from a false prophet? Jesus gives a simple answer: You can tell a tree from its fruits. People who criticize Christianity should keep this point in mind. There is a great deal in "Christianendom" which is not good. But Christendom is not Christianity. Not even the church is Christianity. Anything in the church that ought not to be there, we must set down against the account of the church, not against Christ. If the church is weak and sinful it is because and so far as she has failed to follow Jesus, not because she has followed him. The fruits of Christ, of his heart, his spirit, his teachings—these are good fruit. And if any one is disposed to doubt that, let him fairly answer this question: Where would you rather live, in a community in which the citizens were strangely like Jesus, or one in which they were just the opposite?

Is Not Faith Enough?

Another question: Isn't a single act of faith enough? If I believe what I ought to believe, and if I honor Christ as Lord, isn't that enough to make me a Christian? Jesus offers a test of faith, as if in answer to some such question. It isn't just believing; it isn't paying honor to the name of Christ; it isn't preaching in his name, it is not even performing miracles. The question that will be asked at the Day of Judgment is: Did you do the will of God?

Will It Work?

One more question: Your teaching sounds interesting and is idealistic and all that, but is it meant for this world? Will it work? Jesus quite emphatically claims for his teachings an absolutely practical value. They are not for some Never-never Land, they are not for some other time, some other life. They are not some radical upside-down topsy-turvy mess of peculiar notions. They are the bedrock of a life that will endure through storms. Do you want to find out whether these teachings and ideals of Jesus will work? He invites one and all to build their house of life upon them. He does not promise at any time that those who live by his teachings will be free from trouble, sorrow, opposition, tragedy. Storms come to all houses alike. What he does promise is that the life built here shall not fall.

Enthusiasm shortens any job. Makes heavy work lighter.

Burned up

-about $2,000,000 prison riots
-about special favors to special groups?
-about Governor's "Commie-coddling"

-so are we!

RECENT PRISON RIOTS cost you and your fellow Michigan citizens about $2,000,000! The supervisor of Michigan State Prisons—appointed by the Governor—and the Governor himself, failed to act in time to prevent these costly riots. Later, a "truce" was made with the surly prisoners and YOU bought them steak, ice cream and other favors for their promise to be "good boys" in the future!

WHO CONTROLS OUR GOVERNOR? Find out who ordered him to open the prison gates for a goon-squad leader convicted of destroying property. Find out who ordered him to veto the "Good Roads Program" to take Michigan out of the mud. Find out who ordered him to veto the loyalty board charter amendment to Detroit's city charter and told him not to let the legislature consider anti-communist laws in a special session.

THESE SPECIAL GROUPS can get favors and privileges from the Governor's office because they "control" the Governor. He owes allegiance to them because they are the back-bone of his support. They are not interested in what is good for the State of Michigan but only in what will further their own ambitions and lust for power. These groups are controlled by a few men who dictate policy and act as political advisors to the Governor. They are responsible to nobody but themselves. This secret political bossism in Michigan must end!

SURE, YOU'RE BURNED UP! Well, do something about it, this time! Get Michigan State Government back in working, do something order! Show them you mean it, by voting straight Republican . . . on November 4th!

Methodists Plan Mission Services

During the first week in November practically every Methodist Church in the Detroit Conference will participate in the United Evangelistic Mission by holding a Mission in their local parish. It is expected that 600 missions will be conducted in the east half of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

Last week the Methodist Churches of the Michigan Conference, which is the west half of the lower peninsula, held similar missions. These missions were held with the assistance of pastors from the Detroit Conference. One of the outstanding results of the Missions held last week was that the Methodist Churches of Michigan Conference won over 6,000 new members during the six days. About three-fourths of these were new converts, the other being transfers or renewals.

The coming Missions will be held with the assistance of all the pastors of the Michigan Conference plus pastors from the Methodist Churches in Minnesota.

The pastors from this immediate area will meet each morning at the Madison ave. Methodist Church in Bay City and will return each afternoon to their home parishes where the host pastors will instruct lay workers in Visitation techniques during the supper hour.

Each evening there will be a Preaching Mission in each local Methodist Church. The object of these public meetings is to lead the membership of the Church to a deeper consecration to Jesus Christ and to make them more aware of their responsibilities as followers of the Master.

The coming Missions will be held with the assistance of all the pastors of the Michigan Conference plus pastors from the Methodist Churches in Minnesota.

Detroiters Develop Artificial Heart

An artificial heart, successfully used on a 41-year-old man, was reported Oct. 18 by the Journal of the American Medical Association. The heart pump, shown above in action, was used for the delicate operation at Detroit's Harper Hospital, where it was developed by a Detroit team of medical and engineering researchers.

The cooperative research was sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association. General Motors Research Laboratories handled engineering and construction details as a public service.

The medical research team reported that the artificial heart took over "complete function of maintaining blood supply of the body" of the patient for 50 minutes while the patient's heart was opened and worked upon by surgeons. The mechanical device empties the patient's heart of blood and enables surgeons to use direct vision, rather than "blind" sense of touch, in heart surgery.

Medical researchers said they believed this was the first known instance of survival of a patient through use of an artificial heart mechanism.

CROCHETING is most delightful when you're making baby things. To an expectant mother, it's even thrilling. While you are awaiting the birth of your baby or a friend's, any little bit of needlework you can do for the new arrival will bring you great satisfaction and will provide a born-with-a-silver-spoon-in-his-mouth look to the layette.

bootie set pictured here was done in the prettiest shade of orchid which would grace any new prince or princess.

GIVE WOOLENS BABY CARE

Treat your baby's soft, woolen garments with the utmost gentleness if you want them to remain at their loveliest. Tenderly wash them in a fluffy lather of mild soapsuds and just warm water. Squeezing the soapsuds through the garment several times should cleanse the soiled areas thoroughly. Please avoid wringing the dainty garments. Rinse several times in clear water, then roll the articles in an absorbent towel to press out as much water as possible. If practical, dry the baby's woollens in the open air, but, again, I want to emphasize care. Do not dry them in direct sunlight or out in cold or frosty air. Extreme temperatures are apt to spoil the yarn of pure wool, so remember, also, to keep the woollens away from the heat of a radiator or fireplace. Since hanging may stretch woolen garments out of shape, it is best to lay them for drying, on a clean piece of cloth. If you are drying several things at once, it may be useful to you to stretch a piece of unbleached muslin across a wooden frame, measuring about two by three feet, and pin the item on the material.

BABY'S ENSEMBLE IN WOOL CROCHET

Five skeins of downy soft baby wool in pale orchid makes this perfect "going visiting" outfit for the infant. Pale yellow satin ribbon is laced through the beading at the little neckline and edgings of the cap and booties. The crocheting directions for making this adorable CAP, SACQUE AND BOOTIES, in a variation of the shell stitch, are available to you. Simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper and request Leaflet No. C-70.

HOME EC NOTES

by Dorothy Scott, Home Demonstration Agent

The fastest trip around the clock an hour hand ever made, that's the way a hundred and forty women responded to the slide-illustration talk presented by Miss Kathryn Stencil, Ionia county International Farm Youth Exchange student.

Miss Stencil shared her experiences in Austria with home demonstration group women gathered for the third annual district rally. The district includes Oscoda, Alcona, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac and Iosco counties.

Wearing the Austrian costume and necklace that was part of her everyday living all last summer, she told of the IFYE program, her trip to Europe and costumes worn by the people among whom she lived.

An excellent collection of slides helped the audience understand the story of her life in Austria. She believes the program of countries exchanging young people who live among the families in the host country is the greatest force at work promoting peace and understanding in the world today.

Others bringing messages about our own home demonstration program were Mrs. Leona MacLeod, state home demonstration leader; Beatrice Frangquist, assistant state home demonstration leader; Lorabeth Moore, of the public relations department, all of Michigan State College. Mrs. Kenneth Collins of Mio, our Standish district chairman, brought messages from Homemakers' Conference and the state home demonstration council meeting.

Talks were interspersed with singing and fun provided by Fairland group of Oscoda county, Pine Grove and Alvin groups of Alcona county—all about missing hats, "stump jumpers", and muddled wits.

Table decorations were clever and most attractive, arranged by Mesdames David Runyan, Donald Stilts and Neva Caton of Hale group, Iosco county. Three themes were used, election time coming up, Hallowe'en and harvest season.

Laidlawville, Whittemore, Tawas City, Reno and Hale group members served on the hospitality and potluck serving committees with Mrs. Charles Attwell as general chairman, and everything was ready promptly at noon.

The afternoon program was emceed by Mrs. James Gosnell of Kittle group, Oscoda county.

Added to fellowship, making new friends, and an excellent program to make a perfect outing was a bright autumn day in all its color glory.

County attendances were Arenac, 14; Clare, 9; Gladwin, 26; Oscoda, 16; Alcona, 23 and Iosco, 42.

We are beginning to remember that Oct. 24 is United Nations Day. The National Home Demonstration Council asks all members of home demonstration groups to join together in one minute of silent prayer for peace and understanding in the world at 11:00 A. M. on that day, Friday, October 24. Let us all remember.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

Did you know that it costs you $2.00 a year to board a rat? Not only do they eat valuable food but they cause a great deal of damage to property and spoil a lot of food they do not eat. You probably have more rats than you think you have and the chances are that if you don't get rid of the rats you already have you will have a lot more later on.

You can rid your place of rats very simply by using Warfarin bait. To kill the rats Warfarin has to be taken repeatedly over a period of time and therefore is relatively safe for humans and pets. However it is advisable to place the bait where only the rats can get to it. Placing a dish of water near the bait increases the lure of the area and the acceptance of the bait. Refill the bait dish until there are no further signs of rats.

Comparing loose-run with stanchion housing, the University of Wisconsin reports after a ten year study that dairy cows produced as well in the un-insulated loose-run barn as in the insulated stanchion stable—the general health was the same, but the loose-runners had less teat injuries, less big knees and hocks, less lameness. More bedding was needed in the loose-run barns. Mastitis was as successfully in the cold barn, mastitis cases were about equal under the two systems. Dr. Heizer, Head of the Dairy Department, University of Wisconsin, in a letter to J. G. Hays, explains that the comparison of mastitis is not fair, as cows with a mastitis history were included annually in each barn; that they propose a long-time study starting with and using as replacements only cows that are free from mastitis.

A Big Issue that will be Settled by the Voters of Michigan at the General Election Tuesday, November 4th

There are two reapportionment Amendments (No. 2 and No. 3) on the ballot. To insure a balanced Legislature, it is necessary to do two things.

PROPOSAL NO. 2—Would give control of BOTH houses of the Michigan Legislature to a 4-COUNTY area, based on population only.

PROPOSAL NO. 3—Would retain the Senatorial districts about as they are at the present time, thus giving some recognition in the Senate to both area and population. House members would be apportioned on the population basis.

How Lobby Operates

The incredible Tidelands oil lobby by not only managed to slip two paid lobbyists on the Senate floor during the Tidelands debate, but is now about to plant its chief lobbyist on the staff of the House committee that is supposed to settle the controversial Tidelands oil boundaries. This top-dog lobbyist is none other than California's ex-Sen. Sheridan Downey, who ran errands for the oil crowd while a member of the Senate, then quit his seat in order to hire out as their private lobbyist. He is now quietly pulling strings to join the House staff which will draw the boundary to determine who owns the rich offshore oil deposits.

The question of whether this boundary goes a few hundred yards one way or a few hundred yards the other will mean millions of dollars to certain cities and interests.

The jump from a Unit 1 States senator to a house committee clerk is not exactly a promotion. But with the oil crowd footing the bill, the clerk's job could be highly remunerative. Downey's salary as a lobbyist is $36,000 a year, plus expenses—almost three times a senator's pay. It hasn't been determined whether Downey would go on drawing his lobbyist's fee while working for the taxpayers on the boundary dispute.

In fact, Downey hasn't been officially hired for the committee job, though all the arrangements have been made by Chairman Clair Engle of California.

If the appointment finally does go through, it will be the most brazen move yet in the high-pressure campaign to take the nation's offshore oil deposits away from the 48 states and turn them over to California, Louisiana and Texas.

However, it won't be the first time the Tidelands oil lobby has had its lobbyists on the spot where the decisions were being made. During the Senate debate on Tidelands, two hired lobbyists—Walter Johnson and John Madden—actually sat on the Senate floor masterminding the strategy. They were brought on the floor by Florida's Sen. Spessard Holland.

Note: The Supreme Court has already ruled that the Tidelands oil deposits belong to the federal government, and Alabama's Sen. Lister Hill has drawn up a bill to use the Tidelands taxes to improve the public schools in all 48 states.

Acheson Relaxes

Dean Acheson has the reputation of being stiff, starchy, immaculate. But at Kansas City, speaking before 2,500 open-shirted members of the International Association of Machinists, the secretary of state really wowed 'em.

After delivering a brilliant exposition of American foreign policy, Acheson became wistfully, almost pathetically human.

"I read in the newspapers of nappy people who are welcomed wherever they go and their words acclaimed whenever they speak," he said. "But I'll violate security and tell you a top secret. Such has not been the case with me."

"You know," he continued, in answering questions on foreign policy asked by Machinist President Al Hayes, "All I ever talk about is foreign policy. I never have a chance to be friendly with people; to gossip with them. I just talk foreign policy and think about it all the time."

"It reminds me," the secretary of state continued, "of a psychology professor testing three coeds by letting a handkerchief flutter to the ground and asking each girl what the handkerchief reminded her of. 'Autumn leaves,' said the first coed."

"Parachutes," said the second. "Sex," said the third. "Why does this remind you of sex?" asked the professor. "Oh, everything makes me think of sex," was the reply. "That's my trouble," concluded the secretary of state. "Everything makes me think of foreign policy."

Acheson stood before the enthusiastic machinists for some time after his main speech was finished, answering questions and telling stories.

"The other day," he said, "I was kidding Secretary of Defense Lovett. 'Why is it,' I asked, 'that you have to draft all your men whereas I don't?'"

"I have 10,000 assistant secretaries of state in the person of every editor in the United States. They all tell me how to run foreign policy. The only trouble is they don't put themselves in the place of the secretary of state but in the place of God."

Note: Acheson did such a good job in Kansas City that some Democratic politicians think it's a mistake not to use him elsewhere. At the start of the campaign, it was decided to keep the secretary of state on the sidelines. He was too controversial.

DAYS OF MAGIC

Late October and the first ten days in November are days of magic in Michigan Outdoors. The riot of color—reds, greens, yellows—blend to a golden hue in a farewell to a waning season . . . a golden welcome to sportsmen seeking Michigan at its best! You like to fish? You like to hunt? You're a "shut-ter-bug" with still or movie camera? Michigan is waiting for you!

Fisherman's Dream

Fall days on many of our lakes and streams present a fisherman's dream come true. The first frost whets the appetites of sleepy northern pike. Black bass move into shoal waters in chase of minnows. Big, fat blue gills rise to the surface, ready to strike at tiny flies. Great Lakes perch develop whopping appetites. The ten and twelve inch variety lose their summer timidity and caution—avidly take the bait along the entire coastline of Lake Huron—and along most of Lake Michigan, too!

Far up in Lake Superior, sport trolling for lake trout brings in the big ones, but there are few to enjoy the thrills. And in many a major Michigan river the fall run of steelhead, or lake-run rainbow trout is in full swing. In the past year 7 out of 10 national prize winners in the rainbow trout division came from a single Michigan stream—the Manistee!

Steelhead Waters

Too few guides are available who know the favorite haunts of the big rainbows in the Manistee below Tippee Dam. Veterans who have studied the river may be counted on the fingers of one hand—and their services are booked consistently far into November. They'll produce another bunch of prize winners this year—fifteen, sixteen, yes, seventeen pound steelhead who spend the greater part of their lives in the deep, cold waters of Lake Michigan, returning each spring to spawn in the Manistee River, and each fall in obedience to a mysterious urge that beckons them back to the swift currents and eddies of this beautiful river. But there are other steelhead waters readily available. The famed Au Sable from Foote Dam down to Oscoda, the Betsy down from Homestead Dam, and the Platte below U.S. 31, just to mention a few. Above the Straits there are steelhead waters with heavy runs of big fish—some topping 20 pounds—virtually unexplored.

Bird Hunters' Paradise

Tempting the sportsman away from lakes and streams is our early opening of the partridge and duck season—plus the lure of bow hunting for deer. Yes, this is the year of indecision. Where shall we go? Which shall we do to make the most of Michigan Outdoors in the fall? Take your choice! You'll make no mistake on either path!

NEW FALL TIME

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 7:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

With the 4-H CLUB
By Marvin Davenport

You think you have questionnaires! Ask our 4-Hers that attended the State 4-H Club Show. But their's was a different kind. Each delegate to the State 4-H Club Show had to see exhibits of various kinds and list some of the exhibits they thought were good ideas. Here are some of the results:

Richard Parkinson on livestock exhibits saw five breeds—Holstein, Guernsey, Brown Swiss, Ayrshire and Jersey. He said there were 153 Holsteins, 151 Guernseys, 95 Jerseys and 46 Brown Swiss.

Robert Douglass saw some ideas for our handier members. Among the exhibits were a cedar chest, end table, nickel shelves, magazine rack, lawn chair, gun case, book rack, flower box, silver-ware tray, grain scope and dust pan. There were many more, too numerous to mention.

Gale Durant came back with electrical ideas galore! Grain elevators, hay driers, yard light, dress press and portable sander were some of the things he saw. These would be useful to any farm home.

When I look at some of the girls—Judy Rapp, Pat Frank, Judy Grabow, Evelyn Shellenbarger, Ruth Barnes and Faye Huber—I got an idea of the exhibits they saw.

Mary Jane Dauglass, Joan Bielby, Jean Marie Schaff and Carol Runyan got a "look see" at our Iosco county's red ribbon canning exhibit and saw nearly 300 Foods exhibits!

Gloria Seigrist, Christina Norris, Pauline Degeise, Beverly Thornton and Bernice Seigrist now know how to exhibit vegetable gardens. They had a list as long as your arm of the different kinds of vegetable garden plants exhibited at the State 4-H Club Show. There were over 400 to look at.

Doreen Strauer, Aileen Ward, Sharon Willis, Barbara Wisnewski, Catherine Charters, Lucille Smith and Joann Wendt can tell you the kind of clothes 4-Hers made that won them a trip to the State 4-H Club Show. The dress revue alone was worth a round trip to East Lansing.

Say neighbor, look around you. Do you see a few young people that for some reason or

Strikes and Spares

BY KING PIN

Tuesday—
D. & M. Railroad paced by D. Sieloff's 502 edged Barkman Lumber for four points, winning each game by 2-10-36 pins. Mary Rapp's 531 with a beautiful 236 game enabled Altes Lager to down McNeil's Restaurant for three points. Holland Hotel remained tied for the top with D. & M. by taking four from Gem Theatre. In a very close match, Sis's Dress Shoppe and Pfeiffer's Beer split two games each. Marion Bing and Bernice Oates chopping off the 6-7, 5-8-10 splits respectively, enabled Sally's to split with Hemell Fishery.

Major League shooting was paced by George Staudacher's 652 on games of 233-214-205 enabling George Cornell's Inn Lookout to two games over Earl Devis' D. & M. Harold Moeller's 604 in Pfeiffer's 2718, took Alibi Inn for three games. A. Carlson's 596 paced Drewry's to two games over Bay Hi-Speed. Barnes Hotel dropped Keiser's Drugs for two games. McKay's two game win over St. James Electric dropped the letter out to first place. Chuch Quarters 568 helped matters. The feature match next week fits Drewry's against Pfeiffer's. Bill McHenry of Drewry's and Ernie Landry of Pfeiffer's will be on hand to witness this one.

Interesting Program P-T-A Presents

At the East Tawas Parent-Teachers Association, Mrs. Joseph Dimmick presented an interesting and instructive program on P-T. A. work. The topic discussed was "What is the P-T. A.," with Mrs. Dimmick as leader. The purpose and objects, the parents' part, the teachers' part, and its policies were discussed by Vane Patterson, Mrs. Fred Teeple Mrs. L. J. Trinklein, Mrs. Nina May, Mrs. Eugene Lutes, Charles Fairchild and Joseph Allen. Thoughts brought out were the P-T. A. is a non-partisan, non-philanthropic organization and is not a money raising society. Any funds of the P-T. A. should be used for P-T. A. expenses and development. The P-T. A. should bring into closer relationship the parent and the teacher for the betterment of the child's education, health, safety, home and school environment.

The next meeting, November 17, will be visitation of Primary Grades in the afternoon and 4th to 12th in the evening from 7:00 to 7:45, preceeding the P-T. A.

meeting. This will be in observance of Education Week. After the meeting refreshments were served in the Home Arts room by the Kindergarten mothers. Table decorations were orange candles and a lighted pumpkin. Refreshments were Hallwoe'en style.

New appointments at the meeting were Mrs. Defibaugh, Secretary; Joseph Allen, Finance; Mrs. Richard Price, Chairman of Room Mothers and Mrs. Charles Nash, Membership Chairman.
