8,000 People Attend Iosco County Fair

More than 8,000 people attended the Iosco County Fair at Hale last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. All sections of the county were represented in the attendance, which officials of the Iosco County Agricultural Society estimated as the largest since the fair has been established at Hale.

While exhibits were negligible in many of the departments, the 4-H Clubs show was excellent. Many fine exhibits were shown by Iosco county boys and girls in the 4-H Club livestock, farm and garden, conservation and clothing departments. Lack of exhibits in several of the major departments was due to the early dates of the fair and this year's late wet spring.

Excellent harness races, vaudeville show acts, contests, and a fine midway provided ample entertainment for the crowds.

An enjoyable feature of the fair to many was the fine dinners served each day by the women of the Iosco County Farm Bureau in the basement of the Plainfield Township Hall. The hall was used as an exhibition building by the agricultural society.

Christian's Fight

Lesson for August 9, 1953

"IT'S a bonny fight," were the last words of a sermon by Rev. Andrew K. Rule; "don't ye want to get in it?" Reverend gentlemen do not always present Christianity in such vigorous terms. One hears more often something to this effect: "It's a water-tight Ark; don't you want to be pulled aboard?" or "It's a wonderful school; don't you want to register?" or "It's a fine laundry; drop in and get clean!" or "It's a great hospital; don't you want some treatment?" Well, of course Christianity can be presented in all these ways. But A. K. Rule being (by way of New Zealand) a Scotsman, he would present Christianity in terms of what all Celts dearly love—a fight. This is not an original idea. Paul had it long ago. That Apostle spoke of the Christian life as one that has to be lived in battledress, as we would say. He even spoke of it as a prize-fight (1 Cor. 9). At the end of his life he referred to all of it as a "good fight."

Dr. Foreman

The nearest enemy God himself is presented in Bible as a battling God. Greeks might think of him as serene above the sky, untroubled and untroubling; but the saints who wrote the Bible knew God as one who has a fight on his hands and who wages unceasing war on a persistent enemy. Not that the issue is in doubt. The great message of the Bible is that God will win. But meanwhile, the fight is on. The Christian is one who has enlisted in the army of God. God's enemies are his enemies. So far as this world is concerned (we have no present concern with any other) our enemies, and God's, are all those forces which tear down and destroy God's purposes, everything that tears and destroys humankind. Now the Christian is bound to fight everything in public and in private life which weakens and corrupts man; but the nearest enemy to every Christian is—himself. It is not true that a man is his own best friend; but it is true that he is his own worst enemy. A man can do himself more harm than any one else can do him. Many a man has lost the outer battle because he never won the fight with himself.

Fight Against Surrender

There are two opposite ways in which we have to battle with ourselves. These correspond to two kinds of temperament, and yet perhaps no man is entirely free from the need to fight on both these fronts. One is the fight with the drifter in us, the tendency to dream, to drift, to float with the tide, to let other people make all our decisions for us. We are surrounded by a pagan society, and it is not easy to maintain a higher standard. We haven't the energy to "back" popular opinion. It takes a great deal of energy, it calls for a fighting heart, to make headway against the tide of "everybody says," "everybody does." The Christian who knows the harm which alcohol does to personality, the Christian who wants to live a clean life in this or in other ways, will in many places have to be "made of sterner stuff" than most people are. It is the person who has won a victory over himself who is best able to help others.

Fight for Control

There is another kind of inner battle: the fight against our own wills. The other battle was against our lack of will; this is against will itself. We are not born or made in such a way that we can do whatever we feel like doing and always be right. Indeed if we follow our natural inclinations we may end by being oftener wrong than right. And just as some temperaments lean to laziness and don't-care, so other temperaments lean too far the other way. If some people are like putty, others are like gasoline vapor, likely to explode any minute. It may be temper, it may be sex, it may be temper, it may be selfishness in any one of its countless forms. We can put it this way: There is in some of us all the time, and in all of us some of the time, the urge to shove every one else and everything else out of the way and make I WANT the rule of action.

Billy Graham's 'Oil Town, U.S.A.' Shown in Tawas Next Week

Summer Tea Given by Methodist WCS

The annual Summer Tea given by the East Tawas Methodist W. S. C. S. was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening, July 28. The room was decorated with a profusion of summer flowers and cat tails. Miss Ruby Evans, president of the W. S. C. S., gave the welcome. Mrs. Vane Patterson was program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Frank Humberger. The program consisting of piano and vocal selections of folk songs and light opera was presented by Mrs. Humberger, Carolyn Evans and Peggy White sang "Just For Today" and "I passed by Your Window," with Mrs. Humberger, accompanist. Carolyn Evans gave "Just A' Wearyin' For You" and "O Perfect Day," accompanied by Peggy White.

A humorous act with some barber shop harmony was given by Jack Carlson, Arthur Evans, Richard Ferguson and Fred Teeple. At the close they went through the audience to find the most beautiful woman, who was presented with a bouquet of flowers and vegetables. The lucky person was Mrs. Nina May.

The Nearest Enemy

A trio composed of Miss Ruby Evans, Miss Peggy White and Mrs. Vanessa Whaley sang Stephen Foster's "Airs and Al-lah's Holiday from 'Katinka.' Mrs. Donna Martin sang "It's a Grand Night for Singing," and Richard Ferguson favored with two vocal selections, "I Heard A Forest Praying" and "The Blind Ploughman." Mrs. Lee Cater gave the Villa from "The Mary Widow," "Espanola" and "The Big Brown Bear," with Mrs. Whaley at the piano.

Fight for Control

The musical program closed with an operatic selection of "Old Blue Joe" by Richard Ferguson of Albion. Miss Evans made announcements and pre-

Evangelist Graham last year amazed the entertainment and religious world with the world's first Christian western film, "Mr. Texas." More than 3,000,000 persons saw the film in its first year of showings, and the Graham organization reported that 85,000 persons made "decisions for Christ" through the ministry of the picture. "Oil Town U. S. A." was filmed during Graham's crusade in Houston, Texas, and features the young evangelist and his team in their meetings in Rice Stadium where the attendance was as high as 60,000 for a single service.

Featured in the 90 minute, full color film, are Colleen Townsend Evans, Paul Power, Robert Clarke, Georgia Lee, Ralph Hoopes and the stars of "Mr. Texas," Redd Harper and Cindy Walker.

City Police to Use Firm Policy With Traffic Violators

Chief George Ruth today announced that the Police Department of Tawas City has adopted a firmer policy of enforcing the speed laws. This action is being taken at the official request of the Michigan Press Association for firmer enforcement to combat the rising traffic toll in Michigan.

"The 1953 first five months increases in Michigan are terrifying," the chief said, pointing to accidents increasing 12 percent, injuries up 21 percent and deaths up 13 percent, according to State Police records.

"To battle this traffic disaster the department will apply a carefully thought out three-pronged attack," the chief continued. "I have instructed our officer to increase his vigilance for speeders. Motorists exceeding the speed limit may be expected to be stopped by a police officer, even if they are only going five miles over the speed limit," he added.

"Five miles over the speed limit may not seem like much," the chief pointed out, "but such illegal practice far too often launches a career of traffic violations which leads to more and more severe violations. As a matter of fact," the chief stated, "a motorist should appreciate being stopped for going five miles over the speed limit, if this serves as a forceful reminder and prevents a more serious violation later which might cause a serious accident, perhaps to the same motorist."

The second prong of the department's attack to save lives will be the policy of charging more motorists with the more serious charge of "reckless driving" instead of "speeding" in cases where the speeder endangered the lives of other people or property while committing the violation," the chief explained. "This will result in a higher fine and a more serious black mark against the driver's license," he added.

"The third part of the department's plan to cut accidents calls for the more intensive investigation of traffic accidents and the placing of charges against one or both drivers for any violations which were committed that caused the accident or contributed to it," the chief continued.

In conclusion Chief Ruth called upon all law abiding citizens of the area to give their full support to the traffic accident prevention activities of their police department. "I am sure," the chief said, "that the great majority of our motorists who obey the traffic laws will be heartily in favor of this plan to crack down on the relatively small percent of motorists who are the violators who are causing the accidents."

Parma, Ohio, Vacationers, this Week's Toast of the Tawas

Vacationing in Michigan is not only interesting and educational but profitable as well! That's the reaction of the Frank R. Klein family of 4206 Alberty, Parma, Ohio. Enjoying a trip along scenic US-23 in Northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Klein and son, Kenneth, were stopped by the Michigan State Police "Hospitality Cruiser." The "travels" of the Kleins soon turned to "smiles" as the family learned that "Dad" had been singled out as the safest driver on the highway. Observance of all the rules and regulations of the highway earned the Kleins a "Hospitality Jackpot" from the businessmen of the twin resort cities of Tawas City and East Tawas. Safe driving cars are stopped on US-23 each week by the Tawas Highway Hospitality Cruiser, in an effort to promote greater safety on Michigan's scenic shoreline highway, while introducing more travelers to the beauties of the resort cities of Tawas City and East Tawas. Northeastern Michigan's safety reporter, Howard Finger, and Sgt. Dan Wurzburg of the Michigan State Police showered the Kleins with gift certificates and bestowed upon them the honor of being the "Toast of the Tawas" with assurance of a wonderful vacation week-end on the shores of Tawas Bay!

Safety pays in many ways while vacationing in this "water wonderland," Michigan.

August 10—Boat License Deadline
A special detail of Michigan State Police has spent the last week visiting shoreline areas in the state to give a friendly warning to boat owners to comply with the license tax law before a check-up on delinquents begins Monday, August 10.

It is estimated there are 20,000 boats subject to the tax, but up until July 24 only 5,240 licenses had been issued.

The tax applies to boats 16 or more feet in length. Exempt are boats propelled solely by muscular power or detachable outboard motors and those operated on inland lakes having neither a navigable inlet or outlet.

PROFITABLE TO SALVAGE TORNADO TIMBER NOW
Many woodlot owners may find it profitable to salvage wood from timber damaged by recent tornadoes and high winds, according to William G. Stamp, Extension specialist in Forest Products at Michigan State College.

To salvage the greatest amount of usable material, the logs should be cut and sawed before next spring. Material salvaged after this winter is quite apt to be badly stained, and in many cases, decay and insect damage will be present. Insects and decay can make a log a total loss if the log is allowed to lie on the ground in the woods for any length of time. This is especially true for logs left in the woods during the summer months.

What Car Belongs Here?

Not many people would hesitate in naming the car they feel belongs in that inviting driveway.

It's the entrance to a fine American home, with a tradition of gracious living behind its handsome pillars—and the car which so obviously belongs before it is a Cadillac.

But here is a fact which is important to remember—a Cadillac likewise belongs in the driveways of millions of other American homes which are far more modest than the beautiful structure shown in the illustration above. For it is practical, as well as thrilling, to own a Cadillac.

Listen, if you doubt it, to these amazing and significant facts:

- there are twenty-two models of other makes of American motor cars which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac!
- a Cadillac will actually run farther on a gallon of gasoline than numerous cars which are built and sold primarily for economy!
- a Cadillac is so dependable and long-lived that it is just about as economical to service and maintain as any car you could buy.
- and, finally—according to authentic used car evaluations—a Cadillac may be expected to return a greater percentage of its cost at the time of resale than any other car built in America.

In view of these significant facts, don't you think you should consider a Cadillac for your driveway? Whether you live in a mansion or a house designed for easy living—a Cadillac belongs.

TOURIST TIPS
The Michigan Tourist Council publishes a number of little known booklets of tremendous value to tourists, campers, hunters and fishermen. Unless you specifically ask them for information about a subject covered by one of these booklets you'll probably never hear of it. As an example, if you were at all interested in canoeing some of our streams or rivers and the Tourist Council heard about it you might be the lucky recipient of a booklet called "Canoe Trails in Michigan." There is no charge for it, and it is packed with detailed information adequate enough to make it a complete guide book on the subject.

Includes Map
A map about a yard square, with the rivers printed in contrasting blue, is included—and there are 44 different "canoe trails" fully described! The material is presented for the novice and the expert, and is painstakingly authentic. It begins with a description of different types of canoes, the purpose to which each type is best suited. Then comes an itemized list of articles you should take along on the trip. Pointers for the novice that might save your life are clearly proffered.

Trips for All
Let's assume you've had some experience in a canoe in fast water and feel fairly capable in this type of craft. You might like the Presque Isle River in the Upper Peninsula's Gogebic county. "Canoe Trails in Michigan" describes it as follows: "This is a river ONLY for experts. It is a wild river... a fast river... one that flows thru rugged country... but it is a magnificent river! There is no livery service. You take your own. You can put in just east of Marenisco on U.S. 2. The trip is about 100 miles and will take from 5 to 7 days." Other details follow relative to fishing, camping, portages etc.

On the easier side how about the White River in Oceana and Muskegon counties? This is a 60 mile run you should make in 2 days. Ed. Henning at Newaygo will outfit you with the canoe, and supplies if you wish. The best place to put in is just south of Hesperia, and the whole trip is thru practically uninhabited country. You'll feel just like an Indian!

Camping places are easy to find along the bank, and you'll be sorry when the trip ends at White Lake on U.S. 31.

These are only samples. "Canoe Trails in Michigan" lists 44 such trips, each on a different Michigan River. If you like to canoe get this book. It's a worthy guide to an important part of Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show can be seen every Thursday over WWJ-TV, Channel 4, in a thrilling full half-hour show—10:00 till 10:30 p.m. DON'T MISS IT!

County Agent News

Wednesday, August 12, spare that day from your labors to attend the 25th anniversary of the Lake City Experiment Station outing. Here's your chance, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer, to see what your land grant colleges and their experiment stations are doing for you.

The Iosco County Farm Bureau annual picnic will be Sunday, August 9, at Rollways Park near Hale. A pie eating contest is one of the several events planned for everyone.

Charles and Ray Kobs are planning a juicy and luscious grass silage picnic for their cattle this winter. I was out to see their horizontal silo that is 30 by 80 and over six feet average height. They estimate well over 350 tons in the stack. It was well packed and should keep.

Joseph Barnes has started to feed his silage already. Eiert says the first day there were a few curious ones, but now the hairy herd have nearly turned hogs! Well, almost.

Early planning for the 1954 grass and legume seedlings on your farm will help reduce the chances for seeding failure. And by early planning, we mean right now.

Quackgrass often times is a major cause of seeding failure, but good summer tillage can help control this weed. The system recommended by Edward Longnecker of Michigan State College includes going through the field with machinery every week or ten days to pull up and tear those tough quackgrass roots. If they are brought to the surface, the sun will make quick work of killing them.

Another step in planning for next year's legume seeding is a complete soil test. Longnecker says that to get the most out of their land farmers must know just what their land lacks in the way of soil nutrients. With about 50 county soil testing laboratories scattered about the state, along with the lab at the college, farmers have ample opportunity to get this test made.

Planning will help reduce the gamble involved every time a crop is planted. If your fields are weed-free and well fertilized, you've taken two large steps towards getting greater yields and better seedings on your farm.

The quotas recently were proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Clarence E. Prentice, Michigan State College marketing specialist, says that if two-thirds of the farmers voting approve the marketing quotas the price support on wheat will remain at 90 percent of parity. If more than a third of those voting decide against the price support will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Prentice has been recommended by the new state Production Marketing Administration committee to be the Michigan Administrator for the PMA program.

Only farmers planting more than 15 acres of wheat in the fall of 1953 are affected by marketing quotas and they are the only ones eligible to vote in the referendum.

Dates to remember:
Thursday, August 6—A. B. A. meeting in Federal Building, East Tawas.
Sunday, August 9—Annual Farm Bureau Picnic, Rollways Park, noon until 4 p. m.
Monday, August 10—H. Club Leaders Council meeting, Grant Township, 8 p. m.
Wednesday, August 12—Lake City Experiment Station, 25th Anniversary Day, Lake City, Michigan.

226 Cows Tested in June DHIA Testing

This was the D. H. I. A. story in Iosco county according to the June report of Clarence Carpenter, supervisor.

There are 14 herds testing 226 cows. The total average 968 pounds of milk and 34.6 pounds of butterfat. The returns per $1.00 feed cost was $4.70 while the feed cost per hundred weight of milk was 88 cents. There were three cows removed because they were not doing the job. Records and records only will prove this in any herd.

Farmers to Meet At Lake City

Potato farmers, turkey raisers, beef cattle men and conservationists, and all types of farmers from all over Michigan will be heading for Lake City in Missaukee county on Wednesday, August 12.

The occasion will be an open house and field day to mark the 25th anniversary of the Lake City Experiment Station, operated by Michigan State College to find the answers to farm problems through field research.

Morning arrivals will take wagon tours of the station. Included in "stops" will be farm fish ponds, rye seedlings to control potato scab, brush control with chemicals. Hereford and Angus beef herds, loose-housing barns for livestock and experiments in conservation and grassland farming.

Farm wives visiting the station will find that Ashley Bertride, the superintendent all of the 25 years, has planned special exhibits and a program for them. During the forenoon they will get suggestions on preparing potatoes and meat and will see a demonstration of how to catch, clean, fillet and cook or smoke fish.

Speakers, after picnic lunches in a grove will include Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, now Michigan State College dean of agriculture. Entertainment will include horsemanship in "cutting" a calf from a herd. And then the Potato Pageant will unfold.

One Accident is August 10 Boat License Deadline

With nearly three-fourths of the owners of boats 16 feet or more in length having failed to pay the annual license tax, warning has been given that beginning August 10 enforcement action will be taken against the delinquents.

At the request of the state waterways commission, the State Police will on that date start to check resort and other marine areas and issue tickets for unlicensed boats much in the same manner as they are given to those owners whose cars are without proper plates. The violation is a misdemeanor calling for appearance of the delinquent in justice court.

The yearly licenses are issued in marine areas by branch offices of the secretary of state and some dealers, but the revenue goes to the waterways commission to be used solely for the building and improvement of navigational facilities and waterways.

Up to July 17 of this year only 5,057 licenses had been issued, whereas it is estimated there may be as many as 20,000 boats subject to the tax. The peak license year was in 1951, when 6,317 were sold, most owners never having paid the tax since it was first collected in 1948.

The license, which was established by the marine code law enacted in 1947, applies to watercraft having an overall length of 16 feet or more and owned by resident of Michigan or hailing from any port within the state. Exempted from the tax are commercial fishing boats licensed by the department of conservation, commercial passenger and freight vessels paying the state tonnage tax, vessels having an overall length less than 16 feet and vessels propelled solely by muscular power or detachable outboard motors.

The tax ranges from $5 for boats from 16 to 20 feet in length up to $1 per foot plus $100 for each registered gross ton for vessels more than 65 feet long.

Under former legislation boats were subject to personal property taxes which varied in amount depending upon the tax rate in the locality where they were owned. These funds were used by units of local government. As a result of increasing personal property tax rates and the desire by boat owners to have their money used for boating purposes the 1947 law was passed and a uniform license rate established.

In addition to other funds, the tax revenue is used by the waterways commission in a long range program to build a marine highway along the entire shore line of the state consisting of harbors of refuge and small boat facilities located at approximately 30-mile distances.
