25 Farmers Kiwanis Guests at Luncheon

Wilton L. Finley Guest Speaker on Farmer's Day Program

More than 25 Isoco farmers were guests of Tawas Kiwanis Club members at the "Farmers' Day" luncheon of the club held Tuesday noon at the Barnes Hotel.

The guest speaker was Wilton L. Finley, extension specialist of Michigan State College, and former county agricultural agent here. Finley was one of the founders of the Northeastern Michigan Hereford Feeder Cattle Association and interested in the program of the association ever since, emphasized that one of Isoco County's principal natural resources was its extensive grasslands. That grass could not be profitably marketed except in the form of feeder cattle, beef and dairy products.

He said that New Zealand beef had very little to do with the recent drop in beef cattle prices. He pointed out that the previous exceptionally high prices were naturally bound to decline, but the principal cause of the drop was the abnormal influx of cattle into market on account of the drought in the west.

Following the luncheon, Kiwanis members and guests visited the Waldo Curry farm in Tawas township. Here was revealed many of the feeding and management practices which has made this combined dairy and beef cattle farm a success.

The farm group, joined at the Curry farm by farmers from all sections of the county who were making an inspection trip under the guidance of County Agricultural Agent Harold R. Clark and Mr. Finley, then made a caravan trip to the Elmer Britt & Sons farm in Burleigh township. In addition to a large herd of young steers and feeders, this farm has 60 cows and 20 young heifers, and is one of the fine farms of Northeastern Michigan.

PRISONER EXCHANGE

Please excuse us today from our usual talks on political science to say a word about the peace negotiations. To many people it seems strange that the talks stick on the question of repatriation.

Let us take a look at the Politboro side of the argument, and perhaps we can get a better understanding of it.

Of course the palaver always is fine behind the iron curtain. But just look what terrible chances people behind the lines are taking to get out of the communist countries, which are in reality slave prison camps. A Russian is given a plane to fly with a crew and passengers from one Russian town to another. As soon as it is dark enough that he can risk it he is heading for Western Europe with all aboard, hoping to find a welcome and a landing spot by daylight. A constant string of guards is kept all along the Soviet border with orders to shoot at sight anybody trying to escape across the border; but continually they escape in singles and strings.

In Korea we are told that the communist armies all contain units of snipers instructed to shoot any communist soldier who goes ahead of the communist lines toward the United Nations lines. Our raiding parties find it easy to take prisoners in spite of the constant instruction to the communist armies that all prisoners captured by the United Nations armies will be shot as traitors as soon as an armistice is reached.

In view of these facts what would happen to the communist armies if it were known that prisoners taken by our armies would be free men as soon as the war was over? Their soldiers would be throwing away their arms and deserting in droves, to our lines for sanctuary.

But says somebody, that would make no difference, if an armistice were reached. Not so. That would mean the end of the communist slavery. They never again could get an army to fight.

The communist leaders are fighting for their own skins. They never can consent to voluntary repatriation. It would be their doom. So at least it seems to me. No pretense is made to superior knowledge or wisdom. But how does it look to you? Forced repatriation would enormously strengthen the communists.

If these conclusion are right, further talks concerning an armistice are useless, worse than a waste of time, the only way out is increased pressure until the communists in China and Russia really are willing to take peace on any terms.

Hypocrites

Lesson for March 1, 1953

"HYPOCRITE" is a bad word. You should be careful about calling people hypocrites, because perhaps you do not quite mean it. A hypocrite is not the same thing as a weak Christian, or a stumbling Christian, or a half-developed Christian. A 50 per cent Christian. These are pretty common; the regular simon-pure hypocrite is a rarer bird. A hypocrite is a person who is knowingly and intentionally bad, and has no intention of being anything else; but he puts on a mask or disguise of goodness. It is only a front, he does not mean a bit of it. He is just a devil playing angel. Such persons may be somewhat rare, but they do exist. They are to be found in the church, they are high up in the state. No walk of life is altogether free from them.

They Will Not Lift A Finger

Almost the entire 23rd chapter of Matthew is devoted to Jesus' slashing attack on the hypocrites he knew. The modern reader will be struck by certain family resemblances between hypocrites of all eras. Jesus, be it noted, was talking about the religious "experts" of his time, the men who correspond to today's big city preachers, professors of theology, Bible teachers and so on. He did not mean to say that they were all hypocrites but definitely some of them were.

Dr. Foreman

One mark of the hypocrite is that he preaches but does not practice. As Jesus puts it, he lays heavy burdens on other men but he will not lift a finger to help carry such a load himself. Common modern examples of this kind of person include the politician who yells disapprobately about dishonesty in the other party but hush-hushes all the irregularities in his own; the business man who demands to know why we can't have honesty in government while all the time he and his firm are carrying on crooked deals; the young man who demands that his sweetheart be true to him while he carries on with one girl after another. Insisting that others live up to a standard we will not accept ourselves, is what Jesus called hypocrisy.

They Want To Face The Cameras

A cartoon shows a football team in a huddle. The captain is saying: "Let's try a run around the other end. Never mind if you're not facing the television cameras!" Any one who can remember seeing the great political conventions of last summer on television will recall how time after time the roll call would be slowed down by some one demanding a poll of the delegation. Shrewd observers remarked that in numbers of cases there was no real doubt about the accuracy of the vote; there was no good reason except that for a few brief moments the man who asked for the re-count would have the cameras trained on him. This playing for the grandstand, scene-stealing, all that sort of thing, is part of what our Lord calls being a hypocrite. In fact the very word "hypocrite" in Greek means an actor.

This world is full of actors and they are not all on the stage. Even in the pulpit we can sometimes see men who think more of what the Monday papers will say about their sermons than of what God will say. A good reputation is a good thing to have; it is not to be despised.

Frosting and Gravy

Furthermore, hypocrites are excessively fond of all the outward signs and benefits of being (or being thought to be) "big shots." Every once in a while the newspapers tell of some man who has pretended to be some European count or other titled gentleman. Imitating the manners of the aristocrat, he lives off quite a number of gullible people before the police catch up with him. Now the true aristocrat is a responsible person; he carries many responsibilities. Titles and so on are incidental. But the bogus aristocrat is irresponsible; all he cares about is glamor. Now you can't make a poor cake good by giving it thick coat of frosting; you can't make a tough steak tender by slathering it with gravy. It takes more than frosting and gravy to make a good meal. But the hypocrite, in the church or out, cares more for life's cover-up than for what is underneath.

1953 Chevrolet Advance-Design Trucks are more truck for the money!

4 powerful reasons why you get more of what you want . . .

- more engine power
- more staying power
- more braking power
- more economy

Advanced Loadmaster engine—standard on 5000, 6000 Series and forward-control models, optional on 4000 Series heavy-duty trucks.

Heavier, stronger, more durable frames increase rigidity, add to ruggedness and stamina of 1953 Chevrolet trucks.

Trucks up to 4000 Series heavy-duty models have "Torque-Action" brakes. Series 4000 and above use "Torque-Action" brakes in front, "Twin-Action" in rear.

New stamina plus extra gasoline economy in heavy-duty models with Loadmaster engine, reduces hauling costs per ton-mile.

HDA NOTES

By DOROTHY SCOTT

Secretary reports from home demonstration groups this month indicate much enjoyment in learning about painting textiles. We have had a number of requests about supplies and equipment, and want to remind you that we can help anyone get them who desires us to. Right now we have on hand several bottles of primary colors and stencil paper.

A recipe for the Lenten season is this one: "Eggs and Peas Au Gratin." Ingredients, 4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced; 1 1/2 cups cooked peas; 2 tablespoons shortening; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon pepper; 2 tablespoons minced onion; 1 tablespoon chopped parsley; 2 tablespoons chopped pimento; 1/2 teaspoon celery salt; 2 tablespoons flour; 2 cups milk; 1 cup grated cheese; 1/2 cup bread crumbs.

Prepare eggs and peas. Melt shortening in a saucepan. Blend in salt, pepper, onion, parsley, pimento, celery salt and flour. Add milk and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add grated cheese and stir until it melts in to white sauce; add peas. Alternate layers of dry bread crumbs, cheese sauce and sliced eggs in a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole, using dry bread crumbs on both top and bottom layers. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 minutes. Makes eight servings.

Home demonstration group leaders will meet Thursday, March 5, to study the latest recommended practices for doing the age old washday job. The meeting will be held at the Federal Building in East Tawas.

Miss Lucille Ketchum, extension specialist in the home management at Michigan State College, will teach the lesson.

More laundry methods and new cleaning agents, along with good, well arranged equipment can do much to take the drudgery out of washday and produce clean, white clothes.

Every homemaker prides herself in her ability to hang out a spotless white wash, but often finds herself defeated by the hardness of the water she must use. With the use of water softening agents, now available, plenty of soft, hot water, and a good rich suds the fear of dingy looking clothes vanishes.

Style notes for spring. Those of you who are thinking about that new Easter outfit, maybe planning to study tailoring, will be watching for the tips on what is new in styles.

More loose-fitting or box jackets with straight skirts lines, dress-jacket combinations, and the light wool dress. There will be white linen on dresses, and the boat-like necklines balanced by tight, very short sleeves. Watch for print linings that match the dress or blouse to be worn with the coat or jacket.

Tweeds, grain-colored worsted, silks and mixed rayons and cottons are first choices in fabrics. Then there will be tightly pleated crepes and prints of all kinds.

Bright yellow hats will add dash to your grain colored suits, and colored shoes are to continue popular. Get shiny white kid gloves.

Where Silence Is Eloquent!

Have you ever heard a 1953 Cadillac? The odds are that you haven't—unless you've listened quite carefully.

For it is a literal fact that you must concentrate to detect the sound of a Cadillac car in motion . . . save, of course, for the soft song of the passing wind and the quiet hum of the tires on the pavement.

Even that great, powerful engine never raises its voice above a whisper!

But, oh, the wonderful, wonderful story this marvelous quiet tells.

It tells, for instance, of Cadillac's rigid adherence to the highest ideals of automotive construction . . . of the great engineering that enables every part of the car to perform in perfect harmony . . . of the magnificent styling and design that give the car its smooth, easy, steady, floating ride . . . and of the flawless craftsmanship that keeps the car so unbelievably free from vibration through the miles and the years.

And, of course, it speaks with equal clarity of the many things a Cadillac provides its owner.

It promises rest and relaxation . . . and a freedom from distraction that adds safety to every journey.

It foretells mile after mile of extraordinary dependability and a minimum of upkeep expense.

And, of course, it prophesies longevity . . . and, hence, bespeaks the wisdom and soundness of its owner's investment.

Yes, the quiet of the Cadillac car tells a wonderful story all of its own. And it's one that we think you should "hear" for yourself.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour with a 1953 Cadillac?

We think you'll agree that silence has never been more eloquent.

Mayor George Myles
Members of the City Council of Tawas City.

Re: Police Officer George Ruth of the Tawas City Police Department.

It has been our pleasure to know, and to have worked with this officer for the past two years.

For the past year I have been going to write you gentlemen and advise you of the high esteem that our department regards him. Also I have heard good comment from all of the other officers of the county about him, including the Conservation Department. He has gone out of his way to be helpful and loyal to our department.

While he is a trained and experienced police officer, we feel that Tawas City was very fortunate in engaging him and his good services.

Also, I wish to advise the council that the men that they pick or elect, for their justice courts are the best in the county, or anywhere else for that matter.

State detectives and other police officers from outside of the county that have had occasion to be in their courts have spoken highly of them.

Our department wishes to compliment the mayor, and the members of his council on their very good selections of the above men.

Any time this department can be of service to you gentlemen, let us know.

Respectfully submitted,
Ivan O'Farrell, sheriff of Iosco County.

The motion carried.

It was moved, seconded and carried to adjourn.

THE CASE FOR THE SPORTSMEN'S CLUBS

A very small percentage of all sportsmen in Michigan are affiliated with an organized group of kindred souls, and the fact is somewhat surprising when possible benefits are examined.

No one is going to deny that a well-operated sportsman's club can bring together a group of individuals with a common purpose: to gain the most fun and wholesome relaxation from their hobby of hunting and fishing. The club serves as a trading post for ideas, a forum place for the exchange of varied opinions on fish and game regulations, a training camp for young up-and-coming sportsmen, and a birthplace for crusades in conservation which may one day have far-reaching beneficial effects on resources everywhere in Michigan Outdoors.

The Case Against

Despite all of these attractions hundreds of thousands of able-bodied, clear-thinking sportsmen studiously refrain from (1) joining any club, and (2) aiding or abetting any movement to start a new one. Ask them why and they'll tell you in no uncertain terms: Some have been club members. Others have been on the outside looking in - without envy. They'll tell you that too many clubs are shot with internal feuds and politics. There are too many personal axes to grind in any approach to problems which should be viewed in the light of maximum benefits for all. Cliques form inside the clubs resulting in petty clashes and bitterness. Elections bring mud-slinging on a wholesale basis—and unlike politics on a state or national level, the memory lingers on. In short, they'll tell you, selfishness rules the roost.

The Cure

And in that last statement lies the word that could be written on the gravestones of many a departed club. When personal interests in any club are placed above the interests of the entire group, disaster is soon to follow. When farm groups band together to regulate against the non-land-owning cousins trouble is on the way. On the other hand, when the "city" sportsman screams against trespass laws, and crusades for a "don't-fence-me-out" set of rules he forgets that this is a world of give and take, and that he isn't offering to give a thing while he's taking all. When it comes to a universal law for sportsmen there's one rule that tops them all—that's the Golden Rule!

Put THAT in your constitution when you start a new sportsman's club! Put THAT in a new by-law if you're a member of a currently operating fightin' and feudin' club. The Golden Rule can point the way to a golden future for more and more sportsmen's clubs everywhere in Michigan.

Michigan Outdoors will return to the air on March 19th over WWJ-TV, Channel 4 with a thrilling full half-hour show from 7:00 p.m. till 7:30 p.m. DON'T MISS IT!

Drive to Eliminate Incompetent Drivers Approved by State Police

A five-point program to strengthen driver license examining procedures to eliminate incompetents at the wheel was approved at a conference on revision of Michigan rules and regulations for operator and chauffeur licenses held at State Police headquarters in East Lansing.

Although administration of the driver license law is shared by the State Police Commissioner and the Secretary of State, representatives of more than 23 state departments and associations having an interest in the problem were called in to offer comments and suggestions on the proposed program.

Their recommendations follow:

1. A new and more comprehensive written examination for beginner drivers.

2. More rigid vision tests for all drivers.

3. A two-day training program for the 1,500 licensed examiners in the state and close supervision thereafter. Those who did not attend the school would be disqualified.

4. No temporary driving permits to be issued to beginners until a check has been made of the file of the secretary of state's office containing names of persons who have previously been adjudged by probate courts as insane or idiots, imbeciles, epileptics or feeble-minded and who have not been restored to competency by judicial decree.

5. A program to obtain more complete reporting of the foregoing mental cases to the department of state.

4-H Club Notes

By MARVIN DAVENPORT

There should be some week-ends reserved for those pie tins and salad bowls that our 4-H Club families contributed to the Adult Recreation School meal. I know you will be pleased to know that your contributions to that event will provide more than $400 to add to the 4-H Club Council fund to be used for sending members to the State 4-H Club Show. That means each community club will have at least one representative to East Lansing next September 3 for the State 4-H Club Show.

Our district council delegates to Standish this week include Norman Sibley, 4-H Club Council president; Mrs. Reuben Edie and Mrs. DeWayne Hall, 4-H Club Council secretary. You can be sure they'll have interesting news for you at Grant Town Hall.

Carolyn Rose, secretary of the Alabaster Rowers Community Club sent me an interesting report of their last meeting. They named their club the "Rowers." She tells us the 4-H Club point system that is used to select county award winners, trip winners and members for 4-H Club camp was explained by Mrs. Rita Case. Cards were given each member so they may keep their own day-by-day point score.

President Don Blust appointed committees for the March 19 meeting at Judy Brown's. It is scheduled for 6:45 p. m. A demonstration by Jack Furst, Kenneth Blust and Peter Bolen will show the other members what they do at their radio project meetings.

Robert Donley reported on the radio boys' trip to the Oscoda Air Base. Bob also led the club in songs and games.

Mrs. Ruth Donati has been assisting the officers with their duties. Mrs. Rita Grear has been working with Mrs. Donati as co-community leader. I must say they are about two years ahead of me. Keep up the good work. Your motto of "Divide the work and conquer" has brought some real results. To Carolyn Rose, secretary, thank you for such a complete report.

Wednesday, March 18 (changed from Monday, March 16) Josco Awards Party. March 7-15, National 4-H Club Week.

They were the first selected for an interview which was followed by a quiz. Their winning the quiz entitled them to a free meal ticket for the family. The broadcast was carried over KFNB, the voice of the Southwest. The name of the program was "Breakfast at the Drake."

GRAVES-LUITJE HERD CLASSIFIED FOR TYPE
Alfred and Muriel Graves and Henry and Karl Luitje of the Plainfield Guernsey Farm, have recently had their Guernsey herd classified for type by C. B. Finley, Grimes, Iowa, official classifier for The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

A complete analysis of the herd for type was prepared for the Graves and the Luitjes. This shows that of their nine cows classified: one, excellent; two, very good, four, desirable; two, acceptable.

Results of this work tell the breeder the strong and weak points in the conformation of his herd. By selection the better cows and breeding them to sires that transmit good conformation herd type can be improved.

NEW EQUIPMENT ACQUIRED BY PLAINFIELD SCHOOL

To make the instructional program for the students of Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural School still more valuable, considerable new furniture and equipment has been purchased.

Some furniture and equipment has been secured from the U. S. Surplus Property Administration.

Now on hand and in use are eight new typewriters and two used typewriters. The used typewriters were all that were allocated to the school by the Surplus Property Office. Also secured from the Surplus Property Office were two student typing tables, two student typing desks, two small filing boxes for use in the office and an old musical instrument.

Eight science laboratory tables have been purchased and are being installed to comply with university recommendations to provide a science room and equipment which will make possible much more satisfactory science education for the boys and girls of this community. These tables will be usable for all science classes and for classroom tables for mathematics and other classes. Of modern design, the tables will be connected to sinks, and will have running water and electric and gas connections. These facilities will make possible all of the usual experiments carried on by Physics, Chemistry, Biology and General Science classes.

On Friday, February 20, a second shipment of furniture was received from the Surplus Property Office. In this shipment were two large double pedestal desks which will be a definite improvement in the classrooms where they are placed; two four-drawer filing cabinets for the music department and the the journals, class and two large tables to use for committee and group project work. The two hospital beds, bedside stands and portable screens will be used in the first aid room and will be loaned out to people of the community needing such equipment upon recommendation of the Hale Health Council.

The Plainfield P.-T. A. will meet Thursday, February 26, in the school gym. Several students will give declamations on the patriotic theme. Everyone is invited. Membership cards are ready for all who haven't received theirs.
