Tears Shed for Murderer; Why Not for Victim?
There is a deluge of tears, letters and presents for the Jackson prisoner who is serving a life sentence for hold-up murder. Previous to the hold-up, he had served time for armed robbery. Many columns of "sob stuff" have been printed in the newspapers of the state. Wouldn't it be well to shed a few tears for the man he killed? Dudley has been in prison 47 years, but his victim has been dead a long time.

Discuss "What Makes A Good School"
The Tawas City P.-T. A. met Thursday night, January 8, in the school gymnasium and for the program had a discussion on the topic, "What Makes a Good School." There was much interest shown on this subject and many ideas were offered. Among them were the following:

It was generally agreed that a good school is one that is dedicated to producing happy, outgoing, confident children with good equipment, good teachers in sufficient number, a curriculum that suits the needs of the children and that will include classes which can prepare the student for jobs after graduation. Having children coming from happy homes and having the interest of the parents in the school helps to make it a good one.

It was also pointed out that good teachers are happy teachers and anything that can be done for their welfare, such as assisting them in getting adequate housing, an adequate salary, a kindly interest in their social life, or giving them sick leave, should help bring this about.

Other good suggestions were: making the school a community center where parents could make use of equipment (as is being done in our plans for Adult Education), hot lunch program, proper attitudes on the part of parents, students and teachers, community interest in the school, having a vocational advisor and having parent-teacher get together.

MEA President Talks on School Problems

District Meeting of School Teachers Held At Whittemore
Dr. E. C. Beck of Mt. Pleasant, president of the Michigan Educational Association, spoke on problems facing the schools today at the AuSable District association meeting held Monday evening at Whittemore. He said that the M. E. A. is concerned that both the schools and the state cooperate to find a workable solution to the present financial problem. "We must keep in mind that whatever is done must be done from the viewpoint of what is best for all of the school children and all of the educators of the state."

Dr. Beck illustrated the gravity of the teacher shortage by giving the following figures. Last year there were approximately 4,000 qualified teachers graduated from our colleges, but the need was for at least 7,000. He also mentioned the fact that more teachers left the profession than entered it.

At this meeting, John McMaster, sixth grade teacher in the Oscoda School, was appointed second vice-president to fill the vacancy incurred by the resignation of Dale Vaughn. Mr. Vaughn has left the teaching profession and is now working for the National Gypsum Company of New Jersey. Our second vice-president, Mr. McMaster, automatically becomes the district president for the year 1953-1954.

Mr. McMaster was also elected to serve as a delegate from the AuSable District to the Regional Council, Region Twelve, of the Michigan Education Association. The other representatives from the district are Robert Deloria, a teacher in the Tawas City Schools and George E. Freer, district president. This council is composed of the representatives from the various districts in Region Twelve.

Robert Deloria gave a report on the "Program Planning" meeting held in Standish recently. The purpose of this meeting was to plan a program for the 1953 meeting of Region Twelve which will be held in Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Perry, principal of the Whittemore Schools and her teachers were hostesses for the social hour following the meeting.

The meeting was directed by the district president, George Freer, principal of the Tawas City Public Schools.

Mountain; Valley

Lesson for January 18, 1953

GENERAL Braxton Bragg was a hard-working brainy officer; but there was one thing he would not do. He would not climb a mountain to look for himself. One of the generals in his command, Nathan Bedford Forrest, had been up. From the summit of Lookout Mountain, Forrest could see with his own eyes what was going on, he could see the enemy's movements and what it would take to stop them. He pleaded with General Bragg to come and look too; but in vain. General Bragg was too busy; and so he missed an opportunity that never came again.

The Rhythm of Life

A Sunday school superintendent used to boast that he had never missed a single Sunday in close to 40 years. An observer remarked that it might have been a good idea for him to miss a few Sundays, to take some time off to visit other schools and see how they did it. It is possible to keep your nose so close to the grindstone that you can't really see what you are doing. It is possible "not to see the forest for the trees." To put it in another way: Life has a rhythm of mountain and valley. In life we have to do two things: get up now and again on a mountain where we can see high and far; and also to walk in the valley where we cannot see beyond the next bend in the dusty road. To put it in still plainer words: Most of our life consists of everyday duties, of ordinary days, with their problems, discouragements, weariness and difficulties. But in rare moments we "get a lift" as we say, when we can rise above the petty round of the usual routine and somehow see life, its meaning and direction, as we never did before. The mountain-top experience we may call the best of life; but the valley is the most of life. The good life will have both mountain and valley.

Vision and Service

These high moments are rare but important. We read of one of the most memorable of these in the familiar story of the Transfiguration, and what followed it. There was the great vision on Mt. Hermon's snows; and there was the tough situation down in the valley. Tough situations were common; that vision came only once. It is the way of life always. Paul's vision on the Damascus road did not last long, yet it controlled and inspired his whole life afterwards. Moses saw but one burning bush; yet that day's vision drove him through many a year of toil and trouble. It is the high moments that give power to the low days.

Life cannot be all vision, yet it should not be all service. Or as we should rather say, the vision is for the sake of the service, and the service translates the vision into action. Vision illumines service; service obeys vision. High moments come to us in various ways. We have our high moments of faith when doubt drops away and we rise to a certainty that never quite leaves us again. We have high moments of hope, when the distant dream comes over the horizon toward us and we see the "alabaster cities gleam" as if they were across the street; and high moments of love, so certain, so profound, that ever after, under all the trivial and troubling currents of everyday necessity the deeper love flows steady, ever sure.

Trust Your Best Moods

Life has two temptations here. One is to make the mountain's vision last without ceasing. We do not want the glory to vanish in the cloud. But this is a temptation. Not even heaven is like that. There will be vision-in heaven, more glorious than any here; but there will be service too, and more faithful than any here. If there are any beings whom God has destined for vision only, and not for service, they are angels, not men.

The opposite temptation is to stick at our work, never looking up to see the stars; plodding in the valley, too busy to climb the hills. Suppose the disciples had been too busy to go up to the mountain top with Jesus? Trust your best moods. They do not deceive you, if they come in his company. Down in the valley, in the tough situation, they may seem to have been only dreams; but they are not.

A great new inspiration for the automotive world is now on display in our showroom. It's the 1953 Cadillac—the latest triumph of Cadillac's engineering and styling genius. Its beauty alone would place this new motoring creation among Cadillac's all-time "greats"—for its innumerable exterior changes have made it simply breath-taking to behold. Its interiors, too, are dramatically new—offering the most beautiful fabrics and appointments ever available in a motor car. And for those who desire the ultimate in comfort, a wonderful new Cadillac Air Conditioner* is now available. But the heart of this new Cadillac's greatness lies in its performance—so extraordinary that it transcends any previous concept of how a motor car should act and handle. This magnificent performance comes from many sources. It comes from Cadillac's improved Hydra-Matic Drive. It comes from Cadillac's advanced Power Steering*—so marvelous that turning and parking and steering become almost a response to your wish. And it comes—in even greater measure—from Cadillac's great new 210 h.p. engine... the dramatic climax of almost 40 years of unduplicated experience in the design and construction of V-8 engines. We sincerely urge you to see and drive this great motor car. It is offered in three new series—the beautiful "Sixty-Two," the luxurious "Sixty Special" and the distinguished "Seventy-Five." There is also Cadillac's new sports convertible, the Eldorado—the most glamorous and exciting creation in the whole of Cadillac history. Why not come in today?

Death-Jay Walking Penalty—The penalty for jay-walking may be death, especially in January when streets are at their slipperiest. Children court danger whenever they run into the street from the middle of the block or from between parked cars. To remind youngsters that the safest place to cross is still at corners, no matter how cold it is, Automobile Club of Michigan has sent 10,500 copies of a special poster to elementary schools of Michigan this week.

Will Rogers Said—One day while the late Will Rogers was preparing his income tax report, he exclaimed, "It's the best country in the world, but you can't live in it for nothing!"

Dr. Guy Hill Here in Career Discussion

Will Meet with Area Students at Tawas High School Gym

Sponsored by the Iosco County M. S. C. Alumni Club, Dr. Guy H. Hill, coordinator of high school cooperation at Michigan State College, will meet with Tawas area high school students in a pre-career day program slated for the Tawas City gym on Wednesday, January 21, at 1:30 p. m. The public and alumni are invited to attend the afternoon counseling and discussion session in Tawas. But for those unable to hear Dr. Hill then, the Alumni Club has arranged an evening program at the Oscoda High School library at eight o'clock.

According to Marvin Davenport, Alumni Club president, all who can attend these sessions will find them both worthwhile and interesting. He pointed out that Dr. Hill's background and wide experience in education have placed him in many leadership roles as well as brought him in contact with most of the national educational organizations.

He holds or has held membership in the Michigan Education Association, The Association of College Advisers and Counselors, The Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development, National Society for the Study of Education, Association of Student Teaching, American Association of School Administrators, National Association of Secondary School Principals, Michigan Secondary School Association and the Adult Education Association.

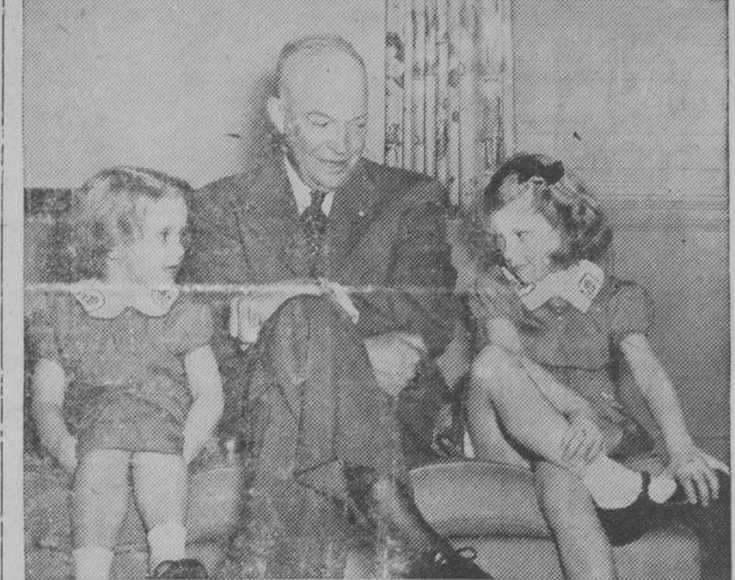

Dr. Hill was born and educated in the South. The two Carolinas educated him through the master's degree level. It was in the South that Dr. Hill got most of the experiences out of which he has woven so many of his folk stories.

After college graduation he began teaching in South Carolina high schools; and after ten years of teaching and administration in the school of that state, he attended the University of Michigan where he received his doctorate.

Dr. Hill came to Michigan in 1935 as principal of East Lansing High School. Since 1936 he has been associated in one capacity or another with the teacher training and public relations programs of Michigan State College.

His work today as Coordinator of High School Cooperation keeps him in constant demand as a counselor, discussion leader, lecturer and teacher. He is in daily contact with high school teachers, principals, parents of students and students, themselves.

Eisenhower Urges Nation Support March of Dimes

President-elect Eisenhower meets 1953 March of Dimes Poster Girls Pamela O'Neil (left) and Patricia O'Neil, of Raleigh, N. C.

NEW YORK CITY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower called on the American public to support the 1953 March of Dimes being conducted throughout the nation during all of January.

He joined in the annual appeal after meeting the two Raleigh, N.C., sisters who are pictured on the 1953 March of Dimes poster. They are Patricia, 6, and five-year-old Pamela O'Neil, both of whom were stricken with polio but now are recovered completely.

"It's hard to believe that the same little girls who are pictured on the March of Dimes poster," he noted, "now they're completely recovered from polio, thanks to the generosity of the American people."

He urged all Americans "to help the others like them by joining the March of Dimes." Later, he joined the poster girls in making a short film which is being shown by television stations throughout the nation.

This year's March of Dimes follows the all-time record polio epidemic of 1952 in which more than 55,000 were stricken. At the beginning of 1953, there were 58,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

Trucks help you balance your Family Budget!

THESE ARE TRYING TIMES for the family paycheck, and the lady of the house has a man's job when it comes to balancing her budget.

She has a friend and helper in the truck, however, for, although she may not realize it, motor transport helps keep the cost of living down by cutting transportation costs.

The average family spends more for transportation than for any other item save food. So it is clear that the ability of trucks to increase the efficiency of moving goods of all kinds results in substantial savings to the consumer.

The thing we have to guard against is allowing politicians to increase taxes on trucks beyond the more than fair share they're already paying, for, you see, every tax increase on trucks actually comes right out of the people's pocketbooks in increased prices for everything they buy.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

Social Security Agent Here January 21

A representative of the Bay City Social Security Office will be in the postoffice building, second floor, East Tawas, at noon on January 21.

Anyone having any questions or wishing to file an application for benefits should see this representative. As soon as all persons have been interviewed, the representative leaves for Alpena; therefore, those having business should be at the postoffice at noon.

According to Paul M. Ellifritz, manager of the Bay City office, the self-employed who have filed returns for 1951 and 1952 are insured under social security now. Therefore, anyone who has reached the age of 65 and has retired or had an income of not more than $1725.00 in 1952 should apply for benefits. People who operate their businesses only part of the year may also find it to their advantage to inquire regarding payments. Mr. Ellifritz suggests that the self-employed wait until the income tax return for 1952 has been filed before applying for benefits. Of course, self-employed persons 75 years of age or older should apply as soon as possible.

ALIENS MUST MAKE ANNUAL REPORT

Every alien who is in the United States on January 1 must report his residence address to the Commission of Immigration during the month of January. This report must be made every year.

The report form may be obtained from any postoffice. After being completely filled out it must be given to a clerk in the postoffice. It is not to be placed in the mail.

Winter Months Provides Time for Hobbies

By Dorothy Scott

Winter months are the ones counted on by women to provide enough leisure time for real accomplishment on hobbies. Avenues for a new and fascinating one will be opened this month and next when home demonstration leaders and members try their hand at textile painting or stenciling, as it is sometimes called.

This lesson was given several years ago in Alcona county and several women became very interested in it. They have worked up a market for articles made which nets them "pin money" as well as the enjoyment of creative accomplishment.

Those Tawas City "workshops" are still going strong. At the one held last week they were trying their ingenuity with Christmas cards. "What-cha-ma-call-em" boxes are one result, being a combination of cards, plastic and yarn, as we understand it.

Serving refreshments evenings for a week at the USO in Oscoda has been quite an undertaking and accomplishment for the Laidlaw group. Yet they found interesting and rewarding experiences for their work.

If you are stretching the budget a little further these days by doing your own dry cleaning, be sure to read this.

Carbon tetrachloride, main component of many home dry cleaning preparations, can cause serious illness, or even death, and must be used with care, according to recent studies on the toxic effect of carbon tetrachloride fumes.

Major danger to the user of carbon tetrachloride is inhaling the vapors. As little as two ounces of the chemical in an average-size kitchen with no window open can cause serious concentration of vapors. A quart of the fluid in an unventilated room will cause unconsciousness in less than a minute.

Best way to prevent concentrations of the vapor is to have ALL the windows in a room open when you are using it, or do your dry cleaning outdoors if at all possible. Be sure to clean up any spilled home dry cleaning fluid and if, by chance, you get any on your skin, wash it off with soap and water immediately. A physician should be called right away if the fluid is swallowed.

Symptoms of an overdose of carbon tetrachloride fumes are nausea, vomiting, weakness, headache, dizziness, sleepiness, fatigue and visual disturbances. Overweight and undernourished people are especially susceptible to the fumes. People should also be warned against taking alcoholic drinks before, during or after using carbon tetrachloride.

Poisoning can come from a brief exposure to high concentration of the fumes, from prolonged or repeated exposure to a moderately high concentration or from regular daily exposure to lower concentrations.

In most ways carbon tetrachloride is an excellent home dry cleaner. It does not explode or burn and does a good cleaning job, but take special care when using it.

Iosco county women who go to Farmers' Week at Michigan State College with their husbands won't be "tag-alongs" at all. A special, lively program has been set for them on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this 38th annual Farmers' Week in East Lansing, January 26 to 30.

Headliner on the program is the style revue slated for Thursday afternoon. Nearly 50 Michigan State College coeds will model costumes they have designed and made in their home economics classes.

Fifth Highest Death Toll

On the basis of still incomplete reports it appears the 1952 traffic death toll will be the fifth highest in Michigan history. State Police estimate that deaths for the year will total 1,700, as compared to the all-time high of 2,175 in 1937 and the 1951 figure of 1,640. Nationally the picture also is grim. A death total of 38,000 has been predicted, which would put 1952 among the five worst years. The record was 39,969 in 1949. The recent holiday season was the frightful climax with a new high Christmas week-end traffic fatality total which, combined with the New Year week-end reached nearly 1,000. Michigan's part of this combined total was 40 deaths, 13 of which occurred during the New Year week-end. In 1951, Christmas accounted for 11 and New Year's for 20. The latest State Police monthly statistical report shows 161 traffic deaths in November, three more than the 158 during the same month a year ago. Accidents, however, totaled 13,510, a decrease of 1,594, or 11 per cent, under 15,104 in November of 1951. Injuries increased 369, or 10 percent, 4,454 over 4,085. The increase in deaths and injuries were attributed largely to better driving conditions which were conducive to higher speeds. Estimated mileage for the first ten months was 29 billion, equalling that for the same period in 1951. But the death rate of 6.9 per 100 million miles of travel was three per cent more than the 6.7 rate in the first 10 months of last year.

WHAT ABOUT OUR DEER?

In the wake of our first "any deer" 3-day season a great deal of public sentiment was aroused protesting the apparent slaughter of an excessive number of animals. The reaction was fully anticipated by the Conservation Department which took a terrific verbal whipping from people and press on the heels of the close of the season.

This writer joined the clamor, believing the discretionary powers granted the Conservation Commission had been misdirected, and that the kill had been far too heavy in areas where winter starvation was not an important factor.

Our judgment was swayed heavily by the fact that we were "on the firing line" at the time, as you may well have been, too. We witnessed what looked like carnage in some areas, and came away with the fear that the herd must surely have suffered such heavy damage that some areas would be a long time rebuilding the deer population to a point where they might once again be a common sight to the delighted tourist.

The Native Viewpoint

We wept with the local populace in the week that followed, and then as the days went by a strange thing happened. A lot of deer began to show in their old haunts in areas where our own eyes had seen the herd "wiped out." Old timers scratched their chins and wondered if the deer had come out of the ground. Caloused guides did a "double-take" when fresh snowfall produced a myriad of tracks as the animals moved to and from their feeding grounds. It was a time for reconsideration.

And this writer joined the diehards who admitted things could be worse. There seemed to be a lot of deer left, almost everywhere. They would go into the winter with a better chance of survival, come what may in the way of weather. And this year's fawn crop should be a lot healthier come next spring. We were guilty of too hasty judgment—and we had lots of company! Now we've joined the "Wait And See" Club, and hope you will, too!

Total Kill of 143,000 Reported

Our Conservation Department estimates the kill of all deer—buck, doe and fawn—at 143,000. This is far below the anticipated 200,000 which they tell us could have been killed without damaging the future of our deer herd.

So the picture looks a little brighter. Come next summer we'll probably see plenty of those bobbing white tails bounding across a field, and will turn to say, "Remember last November when we figured all the deer around here had been killed?" That's the way it will look in Michigan Outdoors!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show may be seen every Thursday at 7:00 p.m. on stations WWJ-TV, Detroit and WJIM-TV, Lansing.

Hale P-TA to Meet at Auditorium Next Thursday at 8:00 P. M. The next meeting of the Hale P-T. A. will be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday, January 22, at 8:00 p. m. We sincerely urge every parent and member to make a special effort to attend and give support to the program. Dr. H. E. Van Oasten of the Hasty Clinic of West Branch will be the main speaker of the evening.

In the absence of Norm Sibley, president of the 4-H Club Council, Mrs. Fred Pfahl, past president, conducted the meeting which was attended by 22 people.

George Strauer, vice-president, gave a brief account of the Sterling District Council meeting. Mrs. DeWayne Hall, secretary, reported on the program planning meetings recommendations for 1953. The council voted to accept the committees recommendations of raising funds for a State 4-H Club Show trip. One of the first opportunities will be presented Saturday, January 17, at the Plainfield Township High School. The evening program will crown a Cherry Pie Baking Queen and the Council will serve pie-a-la-mode at 25 cents per serving. Mrs. O. J. Westcott, Mrs. Reuben Edie and Mrs. Blanche Douglas reported on the Cherry Pie Baking Contest. Mrs. Degretta Funk, Home Economics teacher, will be completing her local contest and may well be sending delegates to three separate contests, Ogemaw, Alcona and Isosco. We were very glad to have Mrs. Funk with us to hear these reports.

A 4-H Club Leaders' meeting to discuss projects will be held at the Plainfield Township High School Wednesday, January 21, starting at 8:00 p. m. Miss Vasold and Mr. Ousterhout from the State 4-H Club Department will be on hand to show how projects are judged and help leaders with their project problems.

We were very glad to have Stuart White of the D. & M. present to show the new film "The Widening Circle" to start our council meeting.

Largest Contributor to State Primary Fund

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company again in 1952 was the largest single contributor to the state Primary School Fund with a payment totaling $7,178,184. According to figures released today by T. C. Maher, manager here for Michigan Bell, $2,612 of the total was allocated to the public school system of East Tawas.

Schools throughout Isosco county, including the city of East Tawas, received a total of $15,145 from the company's tax payment.

Maher said the payments were based on a school census of 553 in East Tawas and 3,206 in Isosco county, as compiled by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The company's tax payment this year, largest in its history, amounted to $4.72 for each of the 1,519,514 youngsters in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who are on the census rolls.

Michigan Bell, in common with railroads, Pullman, railway express, telegraph and other telephone companies, pays a state property tax earmarked for the Primary Fund in lieu of other property taxes.

Farmers Urged to Order Fertilizer Now

Iosco county farmers were advised to take immediate action if they want to be sure of having on hand the fertilizer they will need for 1953 planting operations.

"Critical losses in fertilizer production are threatened due to the slow movement of plant food from factory to farms thus far this year," reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. "Overcrowded storage facilities are causing bottlenecks at factories.

"Already the output of essential materials used in fertilizer manufacture has been cut back. Reductions are reported in superphosphate, sulphur and in the production of sulfuric acid, a commodity that was critically low last year. Potash storages are filling up back to the mines.

"Losses in fertilizer production cannot be recovered later, during the spring rush season, plants are running 24 hours a day. "Farmers cannot afford to gamble again with the weather, as they did last year. Then a serious shortage of plant food was averted by a rainy spring season which delayed corn planting several weeks. That enabled factories to catch up on production.

"By taking delivery now farmers will have the choice of the kinds and amounts of fertilizer they want, in prime condition. Shortages during the rush may cause some farmers to get no plant food at all, or to take whatever is available.

Iosco-Tawas ABA Will Meet Annual 22

The ABA annual program features the subject, "Improving Dairy Incomes in Northeastern Michigan." When the membership of the Iosco-Tawas Artificial Breeding Association convene for their annual meeting at Tawas Township Hall Thursday evening, January 22, at eight o'clock, the program will emphasize what improved inheritance in the dairy herd will mean in terms of higher milk production.

The Iosco-Tawas ABA president Julius Anderson, who announced the association's annual meeting a few days ago, states that an illustrated discussion of the above subject will be presented by A. C. Baltzer, associate professor in Dairy Extension, Michigan State College. "We believe this program should interest every dairy farmer in the community, and we invite both non-members and members of our organization to attend," said Anderson.

The local association is affiliated with Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, which now has 4,000 farmers members in the state. During the first nine months of 1952, the central breeding cooperative at East Lansing, provided service for 104,478 cows, a 13 1/2 percent increase over the same period last year.

The annual meeting, arranged by the ABA Board of Directors, Inseminator-Manager and County Agricultural Agent Harold R. Clark will also include reports of the Secretary-Treasurer Waldo Curry and the Inseminator-Manager Tom Nelkie and election of two or three directors to serve on the board of the local breeding cooperative for the next three years.

Julius Anderson Watches Rose Bowl Parade

Julius Anderson, Whitney township supervisor, just back from a well earned vacation in lower California, says the Rose Bowl parade at Pasadena was one of the most beautiful sights he has ever seen. But although he had a ring side seat for the parade, he watched the game over television just like the rest of us. "You haven't a chance for a ticket unless you are an alumnus of one of the participating schools," he said.
