Carl Schmidt House Burns Saturday Night

Had Been Purchased Several Years Ago By Carl A. Brownell

The big house, built 36 years ago at Cedar Lake by the late Carl E. Schmidt, was destroyed by fire late last Saturday night. It was owned by Carl A. Brownell of Flint who purchased it several years ago from the Schmidt estate.

Schmidt, a multimillionaire leather manufacturer, during the first decade of the present century set out to discover the agricultural possibilities of Michigan's sand plains. Securing a large tract of land on the shores of Cedar Lake he developed the internationally known Serredella Farm, and in 1917 built the 25-room mansion which was destroyed Saturday. It was one of the finest equipped farms in the state, and the Serredella dairy herd had many of the nation's top Holsteins. During its heyday, expert agriculturists and dairymen were brought here from Europe to help find newer and better farm and dairy methods.

Until his death Schmidt took an active interest in this section of Michigan. He pioneered the resort industry and worked to secure good roads for the Huron Shore.

Louis Pfeiffer, Jr., was in Detroit last Sunday evening to witness the performance of Richard Tucker, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mrs. Mary Nemeth spent several days in Detroit this week.

City's Assessed Valuation Now $1,524,600.00

Board Completes Assessment Roll Thursday Afternoon

Figures from the 1953 assessment rolls of Tawas City reveal the city's total valuation at $1,524,600. This is a sharp increase over last year's valuation and comes through new buildings and businesses and a reassessment made last year by the State Tax Commission.

The increased valuation allows a decrease in the tax rate from 18 mills to 15 1/2 mills, states Mayor George W. Myles, and includes the new Third Ward sewer bonds in the decrease.

The city tax levy this year will be: General fund, 10 mills; street fund, 2 mills; park fund, 1/2 mill; bond issue, 2 mills; interest and sinking fund, 1 mill.

The city's valuation by wards is: First Ward, $477,500; Second Ward, $392,500; Third Ward, $654,600.

When compared with 1946, the city's total valuation then of $632,160 was less than the valuation of the Third Ward in 1953.

The board of review completed its work of reviewing the city's assessment rolls yesterday (Thursday) afternoon.

Mrs. Earl McElheron has returned home from Mercy Hospital. Her daughter, Margaret, who is a student nurse there accompanied her mother home.

Tawas Legions Select Two Boys for Boys' State

Edward Davison Selected Here

Edward Davison, Tawas City junior, has been selected to represent the Jesse C. Hodder Post of the American Legion at Wolverine Boys' State held annually at Michigan State College. The program takes place on the campus and lasts from June 18 to 25.

Edward was chosen by a committee composed of James Dillon, Marvin Mallon and George Freer, all members of the Jesse C. Hodder Post.

Wolverine Boys' State is not a school room activity, but is designed as a practical experience, for the boys who attend, in the problems of self government as is in operation in Michigan. It is not meant to take the place of the course in Government, as taught in the high schools of the state, but is planned so that the boys may put into actual practice the theories of American Government as taught in the class room, through the actual control of the city, county and state offices as organized under the plans of the "Mythical 49th State."

American citizenship is a priceless possession and in sending Edward to Wolverine Boys' State, your American Legion is expressing its belief that prepared and trained youth will more effectively preserve and perpetuate this precious heritage and be ready to assume the trust and responsibilities that go with American citizenship.

Why Did Jesus Die?

Lesson for March 29, 1953

AS Good Friday approaches we are all made aware—whether we belong to a church or not, whether we are "orthodox" or not—that this Friday commemorates the death of Jesus more than 19 centuries ago. It is a fact that no other death in the world's history has been so vividly remembered. Few biographies in the world's libraries give as large a part of their space to the death of their heroes as the Gospels do to the death of Christ. It is plain that the church sees in the death of Christ something quite different from the simple statement that has to go into every man's record: "He died."

It is something much more than an item in the vital statistics of the old Roman Empire. The deeper significance of the Cross comes out when we ask the simple question: Why did Jesus die?

We Were There

"Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" asks the well-known song. The answer is yes, always yes. It is said that when the barbarian fighter Clovis first heard the story of the crucifixion, he rose in anger: "If I and my men had been there, Jesus would not have been killed."

Dr. Foreman

But Clovis was mistaken. Soldiers were there, not barbarians either; well-disciplined troops, trained to uphold law and order. And the soldiers killed Jesus. Not a sword was raised for him.

There were doubtless hoodlums there, they swarmed to such scenes; but the hoodlums did not kill Jesus. He was killed by order of a high court. The leaders of society, of business, of politics, joined in hounding him to death. The soldiers were carrying out the orders which were given because "everybody" (so Governor Platte thought) demanded it. The respectable people who read this newspaper had their "opposite numbers" at Calvary.

Jesus died because human beings are the way they are. Jesus died because sinners are uneasy, even angry, in the presence of the good. Jesus died because the world being the kind of world it is, it was bound to crucify the Son of God. Jesus died because of sin, and we must not make the mistake of thinking it would have been different if we had been there.

For Our Sins

Jesus died for our sins, Paul writes to the Corinthians when he is putting the Gospel in a nutshell (1 Cor. 15:3). Partly that means because of our sins, as has just been said. But the word Paul uses (in the Greek in which he always wrote) has the startling meaning of "on behalf of, for the benefit of."

It is true, the sin of man brought Jesus to the cross. But Jesus' death was not a matter of being beaten by sin. The Christian church has always looked on the cross as a sign of triumph, not defeat. Not our triumph, but God's triumph. Call it a paradox if you like, but God turned apparent defeat into victory.

Good Friday

Why is it that the Christian church calls it "Good" Friday and not "Bad" Friday? It is because the Christian church has experienced something strange: that men and women who have come close to the Cross and understood it in its deeper meaning, men and women who discovered in it the measure of God's love for us, have had their lives transformed. Other religions tell of gods who do not care much what men do. Other religions tell of gods who condemn sin and curse sinners. But only the religion of the New Testament tells about the true and only God, the God whose love is shown in sacrifice.

It is a sad mistake to think that what happened at the Cross was that Jesus mercifully stepped between us and an angry God. That is not the New Testament picture. What happened there was that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." And what that showed, Paul writes (Romans 5:8) is not first of all the merciful heart of Jesus but the loving heart of God. For the heart of Jesus was the heart of God.

can add a splash of color, set a mood or help to hide a bad feature of a room. They will focus attention on an important wall or, when used en masse, hide a bad one.

It has been said that nothing is as much your personal expression as the pictures you hang on your walls. You may dream of someday possessing a Rembrandt or Van Gogh, however, chances are that you will be so busy sending your children to college or trying to furnish an entire house that you won't invest in masterpieces. You can have the next best thing. Today museums and libraries will make photographs and photostats of anything they have.

A detail from a good fabric can have the same rich texture as an oil painting and should be framed without glass to reveal it. Old maps are decorative and interesting, especially in a den or library.

A collection of old plates can give new charm to a traditional mantel. Old print books are an unending source of reproductions of birds, shells and flowers. Certain wallpapers lend themselves to framing.

Butterflies, sea shells, antique buttons and hat pins are attractive framed in a deep shadow box.

Let your imagination run riot and you will be surprised at the interesting and personalized effects you will come up with.

RAIL PAYROLL
Through the greater use of diesel locomotives and the installation of more labor-saving devices, the nation's railroads last year brought about a decline in the payroll despite the higher wages rates. Although the gross volume of traffic declined in 1952, the payroll of the railroads exceeded $5,000,000,000 for the second consecutive year—$5,325,000,000. In 1940, the payroll was only $1,981,000,000.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

Today's ambassadors of fashion are advocating short jackets for the coming season, and women seem to like it. In general agreement, style-conscious women are clamoring for short jackets of every conceivable size and shape. Whether boxy, wrapped, barrel-shaped or fitted, these shorty toppers are receiving high praise.

THE SPENCER JACKET

One of the most popular of the short jackets is the Spencer. Most fashions are said to have been inspired, but this one was created quite by accident. According to the history books, Lord Spencer of England, who was an enthusiastic hunter, met with an accident while participating in his favorite sport. His coat tails were torn off, but Lord Spencer proceeded on his way. The abbreviated garment proved to be so comfortable that he continued to wear it as such, thus setting a fashion which others soon followed. Throughout the 19th century, men adopted the Spencer jacket and several years later, it was introduced into milady's wardrobe.

NYLON YARN

Crocheters and knitters are finding new excitement amid their useful hobbies. Nylon is the innovation. Wonderful nylon yarn is tubable, shrink-proof, moth-proof and tangle-proof. Garments made of it are easy to wash and quick to dry. After sudsing and rinsing in clear, cool water, press out the excess moisture with an absorbent towel. Just ease the garment into shape and dry on a flat surface. No stretching is necessary.

CROCHETED SPENCER

This nylon Spencer sweater jacket is attractive and adaptable to the wardrobe, year 'round. Wear it in Spring over afternoon dresses, in Summer with sun-back frocks. In Autumn and Winter, it takes the chill off your shoulders when you are wearing bare-top formals. It's pretty in skipper blue, interesting with the diagonal front closing, edged with a crocheted bias trim. Make one for yourself in size 12, 14 or 16. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper for the directions for crocheting this SPENCER. Ask for Leaflet No. C-102.

County Agent News

By HAROLD R. CLARK

A record number of delegates attended the ninth annual meeting of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative at Michigan State College last Thursday. Arthur Roper was the official delegate from the Iosco-Tawas A. B. A. and Dorance Bellville represented the Ogemaw-Prescott association.

The 100% farmer patron owned cooperative, in nine years has grown to be one of the largest artificial breeders cooperatives in the country. Starting in 1944 with half a dozen locals, now has 142 locals with over 150,000 cows enrolled.

There are now 102 bulls located at the central. Forty-eight are Holsteins, 26, Guernseys; 12, Jerseys; seven, Red Danes; five, Brown Swisses, and four, Angus.

Local organizations are located in nearly every county in Michigan including eight in the upper peninsula.

The worth of such a program is now evident by the records of several hundred daughters which have been tested in D. H. L. A. These 1320 daughters averaged nearly 450 pounds of butterfat per cow which was a substantial increase over their dams.

Everyone who attended the Michigan Resort and Hotel Institute last week agreed that the three day session was a profitable expenditure of time. The group heard successful hotel and resort operators discuss all phases of the resort business. Some of the subjects discussed, mostly in panel groups, were: employee selection and training, financing, food problems and trends, outside appearance, laundry, advertising and guest hospitality.

Ray Ewing of Oscoda, who has made an excellent reputation with his chicken dinners, served on the Thursday afternoon panel. The group were interested in his color treatment of his place of business.

As evidenced by the reception, this school for resort and motel operators may become an annual event. The interest shown in this meeting indicates the keen competition that is developing in this relatively new industry. It is apparent that operators will have to keep abreast of the trends if they expect to stay in business for long. Michigan has many natural resources to attract the tourist trade, but these natural advantages can be offset by poor service and inadequate accommodations. Strong appeals from other states, Canada and Mexico are luring the tourist to other localities.

Not many from Iosco county took advantage of this unusual opportunity. Our operators should look forward to next year's institute and plan to attend.

MAY DRAFT CALL

The Army has issued a draft call for 53,000 in May, which is the same number previously asked in February, March and April. It will bring the total of men drafted or earmarked for service to 1,414,430 since selective service was resumed in September, 1950.

PATTON STAMP

A special stamp will be issued by the Post Office Department this year honoring the late General George S. Patton, Jr., famed Third Army Commander in World War II.

Your Eyes—Nature's Greatest Gift! PROTECT THEM!

HDA NOTES

By DOROTHY SCOTT

Looks like we are headed for a fashion-wise open season. That means it will not be hard to suit our own taste and select styles most becoming to you when planning for spring and summer clothes.

Generally speaking, clothes will be gracious, elegant and perhaps a little regal in keeping with this coronation year. Choose from among body-hugging styles which give a straight up-and-down look. Cardigan type jackets, collarless necklines, narrow boxy suit jackets and the sheath dress give an impressive, uncluttered look to 1953 fashions.

All of which does not mean that the full skirted dresses with puffy sleeves and scooped necklines are no longer in good style.

They are still important in the fashion world.

Fabrics featured include light weight denims, with cottons the summertime standby, sharing the spotlight with linen. Silks in organdies and shantung are popular. Embroideries, jeweled trimmings and appliques are new ideas for spring and summer.

It will be a rosy fashion world with pinks, violets and rosy bieges dominating the color scene. You will see tints and shades all the way from "sugar pink" to coral and from lilac to deep violet in both ready-to-wear and yard goods.

Pre-school children enjoy seeing growth in nature during the spring when the whole world starts to grow again. One thing we adults need to remind ourselves about is that little children do not have the patience to wait a long time for plants to send up their shoots and produce blossoms.

So pick out some fast growing seeds for your child's indoor garden. Plant beets and turnips in a dish of pebbles. Kept well watered, they grow quickly. A sweet potato wedged into a jar with space for the roots makes another plant for the little ones to watch.

In the outdoor garden provide a spot for the small child and plant quick germinating plant seeds. Try pumpkin, corn, beans, radishes, marigolds, sunflowers, gourds, and nasturtiums. Your child's interest in the garden will waver soon after he plants it, but when the shoots come up he will renew his interest.

Good garnishes attract attention, arouse interest, stimulate your desire to eat, but a garnish improperly used is worse than none at all. Keep garnishes small, do not let them be the center of attention. Go slow on that parsley, of course it is green and cheerful, but too much green is not effective. Make the garnishes eatable. The garnish not only decorates, it also enhances flavor. You will be more pleased with garnishes if light ones are used on dark foods and dark ones on light foods.

Look at that old fashioned gingerbread topped with whipped cream, dot some molasses over the whipped cream for a surprise, or top that baked apple with a spoonful of hot mince-meat.

Colored coconut lends a finished touch to a parfait or a cup cake. And, if your husband is fond of butterscotch pie, here is a garnish that will make him take a quick extra look—sift some brown sugar on the meringue before it bakes.
