Will Bear Down on Dog Control Law Violators

With complaints piling up in his office every day on stray dogs and dogs running at large, Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell is bearing down on owners of dogs who violate laws governing the ownership of dogs and ordinances providing for the proper control of dogs.

During the past month 75 complaints were filed in Sheriff O'Farrell's office by people suffering personal injury from dogs, and others sustaining property damage. Included in these complaints were losses from sheep-killing dogs. He said yesterday that warrants would be asked from the prosecuting attorney for people not keeping dogs tied up or under control.

This nuisance is county wide, states Sheriff O'Farrell. He has assigned deputies from his department to assist in the annual campaign to collect delinquent dog tax. All stray dogs caught outside of unincorporated cities and villages of the county will be destroyed, the sheriff stated.

Tawas Wins League Opener With Hale

Independents Will Play at West Branch This Sunday

Tawas City won their second game of the season, and first in league play, with a 2 to 1 win over Hale last Sunday.

The game played at the Tawas City Athletic Field was a pitchers' battle all the way with Herb Look, Tawas City fireballer, facing Earl Slosser, veteran Hale hurler. Slosser hurled the entire game for Hale allowing five hits, struck out three and walked five. Look fanned 10, allowed six hits and walked five. In the ninth the Tawas hurler got into trouble when he walked the first man to face him and two straight singles produced Hale's only run. Warner then relieved Look and saved the day for Tawas City by striking out two batsmen and the third flying out to left field.

Tawas City scored one run in the first when Lorenz singled, and went around on a wild pitch, an error and a fielder's choice. The winning run was scored in the sixth on Ed Anschuetz's single, two errors and a fielder's choice.

The play of the game came in the seventh when Sterling had the bases loaded with two out and the score reading, 2 to 1, Alabaster leading. My Conscience

Lesson for May 24, 1953

"FOLLOW your conscience; but be sure you do not have the conscience of a donkey." This advice is old but still good. It is never right to go against your conscience; but it is very important to have your conscience right in the first place. Conscience is never quite automatic. It is not born in us so much as it is built-in. If it were born in us, that is to say if we were made so that we would never have to have any one explain to us the difference between right and wrong, and would always know by instinct just what is right in every situation, then not only would we all agree (which we don't), but if a child were brought up, say, by wolves, then he would know right from wrong just as unerringly as if he had been brought up in a Bishop's household. This is born in each of us is the capacity to tell right from wrong, just as we are born with the capacity for speech. We have to learn to talk; likewise we have to learn right from wrong. Conscience is also the capacity for knowing what is right without thinking about it. It is a kind of moral habit, just as walking is a balancing habit.

I Am Not Alone

The best, the most reliable conscience in this world is the Christian conscience. A Christian has certain automatic moral attitudes; or rather these tend to become automatic with practice. Watch a trained first baseman catch balls thrown to him. He will tap the base with his toe without stopping to think or look around. He was not born with that habit; but he can learn it to perfection, and perfection comes with practice. Just as the athlete's habits are in line with the rules of the game, the Christian's moral habits—his conscience—will be in line with the principles of Christ. One of these principles is laid down by Paul in 1 Cor. 8:7-13. It is this: I should never act as if I were the only person involved. I must always think how my actions will touch other persons. I am not alone in this world; I depend on others and they on me. Will my action help to make others strong or will it make them weak?

My Body is a Temple

Another Christian principle is laid down by St. Paul in 1 Cor. 6:18-20. It is this: My body is a temple of the Holy Spirit. To put that as bodily as possible, God makes his home in every Christian; that is where God especially lives, in this world. Now the more clearly we can remember that, the more intensely we can believe and appreciate it, the more God-like our lives will be. This does not mean we never have to stop and think. It does not mean we have an automatic conscience. It does not mean that whatever we may take a notion to do will be all right, since we are the children of God. What this does mean, as St. Paul preached and practiced it, is that by "practising the presence of God" we more and more reliably think, "What would Jesus want me to do? What would be the Christ-like thing?" A man of ordinary self-respect will not drag himself through the mud; but the Christian conscience shrinks from dragging the Holy Spirit through the mire.

Invitation to Think

How does all this work out in practice? The intelligent Christian reader is invited to do some thinking about this. Let us suppose there is a party and alcoholic drinks are served. The "polite" thing to do is just to do what most others do, or in other words count noses to see what is right. But what is the Christian thing to do? What other persons will be affected by my action, and how will my behavior affect them? Then what about the Holy Spirit within me? What would God have to say? Or again, thinking over his everyday habits—habits of speaking, thinking, acting—the Christian will ask: How many other people are involved in this habit of mine? Does it help them? Or does it get in their way, irritate them, rouse bad feelings in their minds? And what about God? Even if no one but God knows what I think, or what I do, what he thinks about it is the most important point of all. If I were God, what would I think of me?

Reinke-Lewitzke Rites Read Saturday Morning

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph Catholic Church last Saturday morning, May 16, when Miss Arlene Josephine Lewitzke became the bride of Donald G. Reinke. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lewitzke of East Tawas and the groom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reinke, Sr., of East Tawas.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman with 200 guests attending. The church was decorated with baskets of yellow and white flowers.

The bride wore a white satin gown, pleated to the hip line, fashioned with a cathedral length train, beaded net neckline and pointed sleeves. Her finger tip veil was edged with lace and secured with a coronet tiara. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of groom, and carried a bouquet of calla lilies and white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Marjorie Lewitzke attended her sister as bridesmaid, and wore a gown of lavender taffeta with a nylon tulle cape and matching gloves. Her headpiece was fashioned of yellow snapdragons and she carried a bouquet of yellow daffodils.

Mrs. Charles Clark, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Her gown and flowers were identical to those of the bridesmaid.

Little Gayle Nelkie, niece of the bride, and Lynne Berry of Oscoda, niece of the groom, were flower girls. They wore identical dresses of white dotted swiss with orchid sashes and carried white baskets filled with lavender and pink sweet peas. They wore lavender and white lilies in their hair.

The groom's attendants were his brother, Patrick, and his brother-in-law, Charles Clark. Bernard Nelkie and Paul Oullet were ushers.

During the ceremony Mrs. Russell Klenow sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." Mrs. C. W. Michaels was at the organ. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the Barnes Hotel for the relatives and the wedding party. A four tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom graced the table. Other table decorations were white tapers and flowers in yellow, white and orchid.

Two hundred guests attended the reception held at the Eagles Hall Saturday evening.

The young couple left on a trip through Northern Michigan and Canada. The groom leaves for service on May 27.

Hold Farewell Party for Allen Schreiber Family
A group of relatives, neighbors and friends gathered at the township hall last Wednesday evening for a farewell party for the Allen Schreiber family, who are moving away. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schreiber, with the exception of a few years spent in Pontiac, are life long residents of the township. Both were active in the church work and other community activities, and will be greatly missed by neighbors and friends. The farm they are leaving was purchased by Allen's grandfather, the late John Schreiber, Sr., in 1900. In 1907 he sold it to his son, John, now of Tawas City, who in turn passed it on to Allen. For 46 years a Schreiber family has lived there.

The Schreiber family left last Saturday morning for New Jersey where they will visit Norton Thompson, Mrs. Schreiber's brother. They will then visit some other places of interest before returning to Michigan sometime next month. They plan to settle in Pontiac or Flint.

Invite Farmers to Attend Grass Day June 19
 Farmers of Isco county who never attend Grass Day, and farmers who have enjoyed Grass Days the past six years, cannot afford to miss the program in Arenac county on Friday, June 19.

In either case, it may be their last chance to enjoy one of these well-attended Grass Days and pick up valuable grassland farming tips, explains Marvin Davenport, Isco county agricultural agent.
 More than 100,000 Michigan farmers have attended Grass Days the past six years in many locations and benefitted from programs presented by Michigan State College Grass Day committee members, county agents and local farmers. The programs have built so much interest in grassland farming, better forage, better silage and better soil that season-long and other new-type pasture improvement practices are being set up. That's why this may be the last Grass Day in this area, explains the county agent.
 County Agricultural Agent Paul R. Pennock is extending invitations to farmers of seven counties in this area to attend the 1953 Grass Day "graduation" program. It will start at 9:30 a. m. Friday, June 19, at the Louis Brazon farm, three miles northeast of Standish on U. S. 23 and then one mile north, corner of Wolfe and Conrad Roads.
 This year there will be seven Grass Days, points out Edward D. Longnecker, M. S. C. soil science extension specialist. He recently became Grass Day committee chairman, succeeding Richard W. Bell, M. S. C. farm crops specialist. Chairman Longnecker has promised that his committee will aid county agents and local committeemen in making 1953 the biggest as well as the final year of statewide Grass Days.
 From 9:30 a. m. until noon, farm visitors will take conducted tours to see the various demonstration areas, exhibits and machinery. Plans for Grass Days started last year with seedings of forage crops on the host farms and these crops will be used in demonstration of the best handling methods. Crop production, harvest and feeding, as well as soil conservation, will be observed and discussed by specialists and local farmers.
 Farm machinery dealers have been invited to bring in their newest equipment and farmers will be able to see the best-type equipment for establishing, managing, harvesting and using forage crops. The machines will be demonstrated in the field and farmers will see forage harvesters, field balers, crop blowers, forage wagons, bale loaders, hay crushers and other units in action.
 A major feature will be a chance for visiting farmers to ask the M. S. C. specialists what

MICHIGAN TROUT FISHING IMPROVES

Try to tell an "old-timer" in Michigan that trout fishing is better today than it was 20 years ago and he'll probably tell you to stop kidding. He was fishing Michigan streams twenty years ago. Limit catches came fast day after day, any day in the season. "Today," he'll tearfully tell you, "I'm lucky if I get my ten trout limit one day out of every five I fish!" So by his standards trout fishing is 'way off!

But it's all in the point of view.

Creel Census Proof

The truth is this: There are more fish taken from our streams today than there were 20 years ago, but the increased quantity must be spread among many times more fishermen! So the individual may not seem to profit by the numerical increase. Nevertheless, the thousands of additional trout anglers are sufficiently well satisfied with their catch to come back time after time. And reports from Conservation Officers who check creels along Michigan streams definitely confirm the increase in the total annual catch of trout.

Effect of Planting

While the planting of more than one million legal-sized trout each year undoubtedly makes good copy for tourist resort folders, its actual effect on year 'round trout fishing success in Michigan is a subject that can be argued inconclusively for days at a time. Maybe three hundred thousand of the hatchery-raised fish are caught while the remainder mysteriously disappear. Even so, 300,000 trout is too small a fraction of the total catch to justify the high cost of the planting, according to a large group of sportsmen.

Others argue that the biggest turnout of trout fishermen takes place on the opening week-end right after a heavy planting of fish has taken place. The newly planted fish are easily caught. Everybody goes home happy, and Michigan trout fishing gets off to a wonderful start. It's a kind of psychological victory even when you recognize the green-hued species as fugitives fresh from the local hatchery.

1953 Off to Good Start

First reports of trout catches this year reflect one of two things: Either this year's crop of anglers is a lot more skillful, or the brooks, browns and rainbows are not as wary as they were a few years ago. This writer finds more large fish being taken in early season efforts than in many a year—and many of these tackle-busters rise to a fly in broad daylight whereas one might expect to find them feeding only at night.

If current indications are any index Michigan trout fishing in June should be outstanding on the record books—and here's hoping you get your share!

Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" television show can be seen every Thursday over WWJ-TV, Channel 4, in a thrilling full half-hour show—10:00 till 10:30 p.m. DON'T MISS IT!

HDA NOTES

So you're a spring bride. You are eager to stretch your dollars to meet the many demands of establishing a new home. You want to preserve food. To do it well so you will have no loss, do not hesitate, but request reliable information about how to do it from your Extension Service office. Ask for those on "Home Canning" and "Freezing Foods in Michigan Homes."

"Do I need to sterilize glass jars when I use them for containers for frozen foods?" Yes, say the specialists at Michigan State College. For the reason that freezing does not kill bacteria, it only makes them inactive.

Sterilizing does not mean just a hot water rinse, either. It means placing the jars in cold water and allowing them to boil.

When a white dress or white curtains become yellow in laundering, what is the cause? Homemakers report that this yellowing happens when they use a chlorine bleach in the rinse water.

This yellowing occurs when a special resin finish has been applied by the manufacturer to give the fabric certain qualities such as crispness or wrinkle resistance. When this special finish comes in contact with chlorine bleach yellowing occurs. It may occur in varying degrees from pale yellow to almost a daffodil yellow.

Now that we know the cause, let us look to the remedy. Soak your garment or fabric in a solution of sodium sulfate and warm water. Use one teaspoon of sodium sulfate to one gallon of warm water. You can buy the sodium sulfate at the drug store. To hasten the action just add two to three tablespoons of white vinegar to each gallon of the solution. Soak the fabric in this solution until it is white, then rinse it well.

The day when vacationers had to ask neighbors to water their plants for them is gone. A sheet of polyethylene or polyvinyl plastic will do the job.

This wrap will keep the plant healthy for up to three weeks without watering was developed by a Michigan State College graduate student.

Potted plants lose moisture through porous pots. A sheet of plastic wrapped around the pot stops this and retains the moisture. Loss of water through the leaves is insignificant, according to the researcher.

To "waterproof" a plant, a sheet of the plastic is wrapped around the pot and fastened at the base of the stem with a rubber band, but not tightly. The leaves are left exposed.

Take the wheel and a new world is yours

Two things stand out above all others in this Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER. It is the most beautiful Buick Riviera ever built. It is the most brilliant Buick performer in fifty great years. The first of these is an obvious truth that you learn at initial sight of this automobile's sweeping lines, its gracious styling, its stunning interior fashioning. The second is one you discover when motion begins and the wonderful new experience unfolds. You soar from standstill to legal speed as you never have before—for Twin-Turbine Dynaflo gives you getaway with a combined swiftness, silence and smoothness no other car in the world can equal. most instantly responsive power in all Buick history—from the world's newest and most advanced V8 engine—the first Fireball V8. You ride with the gentle, constantly level cushioning of coil springing at all four wheels. You guide your two-ton automobile with the exquisite ease of Power Steering. You slow or halt with the velvety control of still finer braking—plus the extra comfort of Power Brakes* if you wish. Surely, this rich new world of motoring magnificence is one you should explore—if only to know that it's real, and more easily reachable than you may think. Receive MSC Scholarship Awards

Michigan State College recently notified Doris Rehl, a member of the graduating class of Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural School at Hale that she has been awarded an Entrance Scholarship at the college in September. Doris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Rehl of Hale.

As a high school student, she has participated in several activities. During her freshman year, she was a member of the 4-H Club and secretary of her class. In her junior year, she was a member of the journalism class, which put out the school paper, and was treasurer of the group. Throughout her four years, she has been a member of the girls' softball squad. Also, during the four years of her high school course, she has been an active and outstanding member of the girls' basketball team, serving the last year as captain of the team.

Leah Lake was presented the Roll Call Scholarship when her name was submitted by the Michigan State College Alumni Club of Isoco County. Leah's name had been submitted by the Tawas City High School for the Entrance Scholarship as well, but her record granted her top priority for the Roll Call Scholarship.

Leah will enter Michigan State College this fall and enter basic college in preparation for a career in nursing. By maintaining a C plus average the scholarship will grant Leah four years paid tuition.
