Report Made by Tawas School Advisory Council

The following report is respectfully submitted by our chairman of the advisory committee, Carl Babcock and C. Dwight Wood, for the consideration of the citizens, within the Tawas Area School District.

Steady progress is being made by the Tawas Area School District, and we are fast approaching the time for the citizens in the area to again vote on a very important question regarding our further progress.

Our board of education proposes to submit a package for our consideration and purchase or rejection, and it hoped that offering will be made on December 15, which would be a very appropriate time for us to hand the children of school age in our community a gift that has been desired, and will even longer be appreciated and of undeterminable value to our future citizens.

Our board of education has been most careful in the selection of this package that is being offered for our consideration and as good representatives they have endeavored to thoroughly appraise themselves of the wishes and requirements of the community before wrapping it up.

The board has never felt that they have a selling job to do and this feeling is yet prevalent. They realize that their organization is the out-growth of the desire of over 80 percent of the people within our consolidated area, to cooperate in the establishment of a school system and plant of excellence unexcelled and which would have been unobtainable without such joint cooperation.

The Timco Corporation in August of 1952 and in the intervening 14 months has been forced to increase its floor space by 50 percent. The plant fabricates suspension gas and oil burners for several firms including the American Radiator Company and Jackson and Church. Everything is fabricated at the plant except blowers, burners and controls. The line manufactured includes industrial type furnaces.

The payroll of the company amounts to $1,000 per day with a plant wide bonus system. Last week the bonuses amounted to more than $1,000. From 40 to 45 men are employed at the plant, all residents of the area. A few boys from the Airbase are working part time. The company has established a liberal life and hospitalization program for its workers. In addition to bonuses, Christmas fund of $2,000 to $3,000 will be divided among the employees.

The plant produces more than 5,000 units a year requiring about 1,000 tons of steel. A five ton monorail crane facilitates the handling of the large quantity of steel. Three shifts are working on some operations, two on most.

H. Braddock; sister, Mrs. Steven Ezo, both of Tawas City, and a brother, Louis T. Braddock of East Tawas.

Mrs. Dimmick Asks Some School Questions

Editor of the Tawas Herald: An unsigned letter on Tawas Area School letterhead regarding the choice of school sites was sent home with school children last Friday. A newspaper item of a week or two ago stated that the voters of various sections of the area would be given an opportunity to choose between the two sites after suitable explanations, if the above referred to letter is such an explanation, I do not feel that it is satisfactory.

A new school for this district is the biggest undertaking of this generation for the citizens of the Tawas area, and the first and probably the most important step in this project is the selection of the best possible location, from the standpoint of size, accessibility and cost. Even after reorganization, the amount of money we can secure for building purposes is very limited. Therefore, we need to consider very carefully what we spend it for. We must eliminate every unnecessary item of building and site expense as well as excessive operation and upkeep costs, because we are still a very poor district, and per capita valuation per student is on the low side.

Surely the answers to questions in this letter will help to clarify the situation for all of us who were not fortunate enough to attend the meetings at the building. (See Mrs. Dimmick, Back Page)

H. Braddock; sister, Mrs. Steven Ezo, both of Tawas City, and a brother, Louis T. Braddock of East Tawas.

Bible Comment:

God's Word Must Dwell in Every Good Human Heart

WHEN the Psalmist wrote "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee," what did he mean?

In the New Testament, in John I, is the account of the Word that was in the beginning, the Word made flesh, dwelling among men in the earthly life of Jesus, "the Word that was with God, and was God."

But what did the word of God mean to Old Testament writers, who wrote many years before Jesus came?

For them, as for those of the New Testament, it meant God in the heart, and the "heart" was the center of man's life and being. To have God in the heart meant to be guided and controlled by God.

So the word of God in the heart was the command, the good lie was not a matter of chance, or of man's preference. It was based on the unalterable character and laws of God Himself.

This elemental truth, so repeatedly emphasized in the Psalms, has been sadly neglected even by many who make profession of religion and consider themselves among the saved.

What a world this would be if every nominal Christian and church member had the Psalmist's passion to have the word of God hidden in the heart, so strong that it was the motive power of every word and action.

To be "upright and innocent" must be the sincere purpose of every man who would be worthy of a place in the fellowship of those who love the Lord.

The New Testament reveals the word of God as love, and the indwelling of God's Spirit as the source of spiritual power to obey the word.

To hear and obey the voice of God within is man's highest attainment and destiny.

Hunters Offered Registration for Emergency Calls

The Michigan State Police and the State Conservation Department again will offer a free registration service for deer hunters who desire to be notified in event an emergency occurs at home.
A hunter desiring to avail himself of the service should register at the State Police Post or Conservation Headquarters nearest his camp. Before leaving home he should inform his family or office at which station he will register.

Should there be an emergency, then at home need only call their nearest State Police Post or Conservation Headquarters and give the name of the station at which the hunter is registered. The message will then be radioed and delivered by either a State Police or conservation officer.
The service also operates in reverse. Should a hunter become lost or suffer an accident, his home or office can be promptly notified.

The service covers genuine emergencies only and is not offered where regular communication facilities can be used without delay.

MSC Research Gives New Information on Modern Motel and Resort Operation

There is no longer need for guessing in the motel or resort business with new and authentic planning facts available for the asking. Fact-packed bulletin R-302, "Planning Better Motels," and R-304, "Planning Better Vacation Accommodation," are available free of charge from your local Extension Service Office located in the Federal Building at East Tawas. These bulletins were prepared by C. A. Gunn, research assistant and extension specialist, Department of Land and Water Conservation, Michigan State College.

Let's assume you are planning a motel. If you wish to know whether or not you have chosen a good location, you will be helped by reviewing the guide for motel location on page 6 of the new and revised bulletin R-382. How about the site itself? Is it suited to a motel business? Answers to these questions can be found on page 7. Then there are suggestions for various layouts to that your business will be most appealing from the highway and yet afford the convenience and privacy the guests want.

Remaining pages of bulletin R-382 contain valuable information on room arrangement, sound control, insulation, parking and many other phases of motel planning. This guide has been used by thousands who have found it has saved many, many dollars by helping them build better-planned investments.

If you are more concerned about developing a resort, building a hunting or fishing camp or just a cottage of your own you will want to get bulletin R-304. This 36-page guide emphasizes the importance of "extending the season" by locating the business properly.

This bulletin also states that soil conditions, possible flooding, land area for expansion and play facilities and other aspects of the site should be considered. Today's relatively large investments heighten the need for better planning.

Photographs and sketches in bulletin R-304 illustrate exterior and interiors of housekeeping cottages, resort lodges, winter sports facilities, sportsmen's cabins and other structures for resorts. Suggested areas for parking, play, landscaping and other features are described.

Also enclosed are eight layout diagrams illustrating typical cottage and resort arrangements. Suggestions are given for both American and European plan type resorts. Suggested building areas accompany each layout. Each of these bulletins R-302 and R-304 contains a listing of ten steps that should be followed in the development of the property. Each one also contains an outline for estimating the probable financial success of your motel or resort.

Contact by telephone, by letters or in person your Extension Service Office for bulletins and other assistance.

Information is available at the Extension Service Office regarding a Tester Training Course at Michigan State College December 7 to 13. This course qualifies one for DHIA testing work which is carried out throughout the state.

A bulletin which is a popular request at the Extension Service Office right now is "Good Eating From Woods and Fields." In it are recipes for preparing game—pheasant, partridge, duck, raccoon and many others. Another that will be on the frequent request list soon is "Venison."

It is strange how tired a man can be on Sunday morning, about church time, and how quickly he can recover by mid-afternoon, if something turns up.

At a recent meeting of top-drawer conservation experts in the east, a number of interesting papers were presented revealing the thinking of all states in the U.S.A. relative to fish and game management—and some highly significant trends were in evidence.

For instance, 40 of the 48 states have trout fishing, and Michigan is one of only seven with a relatively short season! Yes, with a little more than 4 months of legalized trout fishing, Michigan is definitely on the short side of the calendar!

Extended Bass Seasons

Another somewhat startling revelation is that 23 states permit the taking of bass at any time of the year in most waters! Furthermore, 37 states allow the taking of various pan fish species the whole year round.

Eighteen states have NO SIZE LIMIT on trout. Nineteen have NO SIZE LIMIT on bass. Forty-three have NO SIZE LIMIT on pan fish—which is certainly a step in the right direction, because people who take oversized pan fish are doing more good than harm in most waters where an overpopulation of these species occur.

New Thinking

Most of the experts on hand at these meetings agreed that the day of

"over-regulation" in sports fishing is fast disappearing despite some misguided pressure from certain sportsmen's groups. At last the biologists are having their day—getting some of the things they've always wanted in the way of vastly liberalized fish laws.

Had the size and creel limits on pan fish been removed years ago, they tell us, we would not now be facing the problem of stunted fish in thousands of our lakes, where food supplies are inadequate for such populations. And we may well believe that statement here in Michigan.

How many times have you, Mr. Fisherman, complained bitterly, "There's no decent-sized fish in this lake!"—and gone home disgusted? The fish were old enough to have attained far greater growth, as scale samples have frequently proven. They were stunted by starvation. Removal of enough of the "midguts" would materially help the survivors to grow to a respectable size. And that fact, of course, is in back of the planning right here in Michigan where our fishing regulations are undergoing many changes toward liberalization.

Our neighboring state of Wisconsin once had a 10 inch limit on black bass. This limit has now been removed because of the abundance of stunted bass in many of their lakes. Such a step may soon be contemplated in many Michigan lakes.

According to postoffice personnel, Christmas boxes to be sent overseas should be mailed soon—any time up until November 15. Boxes mailed after that date have little chance of reaching their destination before the holiday, the authorities say. Here is a recipe for candy to be sent to that son or daughter in far away places:

Parisian Chocolate-Fruit Squares
5 squares (5 oz.) bitter chocolate, shaved.
1-2 cup old-fashioned molasses.
1-3 cup finely chopped dried dates.
1-3 cup finely chopped dried figs.
1-3 cup finely chopped dried prunes.
1-3 cup finely chopped raisins.
Heat molasses in sauce pan. (Do not boil.) Remove from heat. Add shaved chocolate. Stir until melted. Put dried fruits through food chopper, using coarse blade, and add a little at a time, mixing well and quickly after each addition.

Spread and pat in rectangular shape, about one-half inch thick on cookie sheet or heavy waxed paper which has been sprinkled with granulated sugar. Let stand several hours before cutting into pieces one inch square. Yields one and one-quarter pounds. Wrap candy separately in foil and pack them in a covered tin container. Seal the container with adhesive tape and pack it in a mailing carton.

Unfinished business at your house may be the storing of summer garments. Right? Michigan's Indian Summer seemed to justify the postponement until now. First, we wash the washable garments but do not iron them—no point in that because they will wrinkle in storage.

MARY WORTH'S FAMILY

By Ken Allen

KERRY DRAKE

by Alfred Andriola

You store only laundered or dry-cleaned clothes to discourage insects and lengthen the life of your garments. You will be happy to open clean clothes next spring.

Do not store starched garments. Mrs. Margaret Hearn of Michigan State College's textile and clothing department warns that starch attracts silver fish. Starch stored in your garments will weaken the fiber in time, too.

A label on your box of stored garments can save you endless hours of searching later in the year. List complete contents of the box.

Summer shoes will look better to you on the first warm day in May if you have the run-over heels replaced now. So clean and repair your shoes before you stuff them with newspaper to preserve their shape. Ordinary shoe-trees tend to stretch the leather. Just use tissue or newspaper.

Masking tape or gummed tape will come to your aid when you want to make those storage boxes airtight.

If you should find it necessary to move before the summer season, the labels on your storage boxes will make it easy for you to organize storage in your new home. So, let's not crowd the clothes closet with out-of-season garments—let's put our well cleaned garments in sealed boxes or bags until next spring.

1. Nursery: This site appears to be adequate for all the buildings and activities planned for now or the future. In fact there are areas which are not utilized at all, and others which probably could be secured if needed.

The nursery now has water connections with an adequate supply; and sewer connections are very near by, about a block away.

There is no clearing to be done, and some of the present hedges and small trees could be utilized in landscaping.

Where is the five acre area which needs filling, and for what purpose would it be used? I worked for the Forest Service here for 12 years and I do not recall ever having heard of any high water in the nursery.

Did not the original school study committee recommend the nursery site? Has this been brought to the attention of the school board?

2. Neumann-Reinke: Why is 65 acres needed? The architect's sketch does not show any more facilities (except parking) than at the nursery. They are only spread out more. Upkeep of surplus grounds would be only a waste.

How far away are sewer and water connections? Nearly a mile? I have heard that Tawas City water supply is not adequate for present uses, to say nothing of expansion way out there.

There is considerable clearing of fairly large trees and much brush, and leveling to be done, is there not? It is easy to see from the road that this site is well below the grade of M-55 and more on a level or below the old road which is practically impassable from water at times. Also, cedar, tag alder and willow are evidence of low wet areas. I cannot think that a fine building at below the level of the highway, far from the population centers, would be a matter of pride.

3. Zoning and protection: Both Tawas City and East Tawas have zoning ordinances which would bar undesirable construction near the nursery. There is no zoning ordinance in the township. In fact there is already a bar very near.

The township has no police force, so it would appear necessary for the school to hire a full time night watchman for the Neumann-Reinke site in view of vandalism in other places.

Could effective fire protection be guaranteed in that location?

4. Accessibility: In spite of the fact that most families have cars, attendance at night meetings, visits to school classes and after-school hours activities such as basketball, are dependent upon the ability of many to walk to school. People who live in rural areas know when they go there that they must have transportation, and their children must ride school buses. However, residents of towns such as the Tawas know that is not necessary, so there are many people who still do not have automobiles. Do you plan to build sidewalks or furnish transportation for these people to the Neumann-Reinke site? Even by auto, the only good road out there is M-55, which is certainly round about for people from both towns.

On the other hand, the nursery is centrally located, making it possible for most, if not all, the students from both towns to walk or ride bicycles to school, eliminating the use of buses for them. It does not seem reasonable to suppose the population is going to shift away from the towns in any great numbers toward the M-55 area.

5. Costs: The costs to the school for the land itself on the Neumann-Reinke site is to be at least $12,500 and possibly $16,500. I understand the nursery could be secured practically as a gift for school purposes, although it is appraised at about $12,000.

What is the assessed valuation of the Neumann-Reinke site, and was this land appraised before the option was taken, by whom, and at what figure?

How do costs of preparing the two sites for building compare? include fill, additional cost on account of high water table, clearing of trees and leveling on the Neumann-Reinke site, water connections, sewer connections, and any other work necessary. As a comparison, the cost of fill for the five acres on the nursery would not be as much as the purchase price of one bus, which would be only be used about seven years before needing replacement.

How much would be the extra costs to Tawas City for additional source of water and sewage disposal? Who would pay the cost of sewer and water lines to each area?

What are the probable fire insurance rates for each area?

What would be the comparison of future operation and upkeep costs?

With all children riding buses to a much larger school lunch facility would be necessary, and there would be a corresponding saving at the nursery site. The small charge for the lunch never covers the entire cost, and schools always have an appropriate sizable sums to cover this deficit.

Perhaps these questions have been answered to the satisfaction of the school board, but they certainly have not for the ordinary parent, voter and taxpayer, and it is as such that I am writing this letter. I hope you will not consider this letter merely criticism, but as a request for information and a reconsideration of sites. I urge anyone who has not already done so to visit both these sites, and look them over on foot, comparing what they find, and while driving to and from both the towns to each site be sure to check speedometers.

I believe that complete information would dispel doubts and would be for the best interests of all, keeping in mind that the primary reason for reorganization in the first place was to secure for each child in this district more education per tax dollar.

Sincerely yours, Alice R. Dimmick (Mrs. Joseph N. Dimmick)

Advisory Council

(Continued from First Page) Realizing their position, and obligation to the board, at the suggestion of educators of the state and national levels asked that an advisory committee be organized, that a more comprehensive job of community representation could be had. Such committee has been organized, consisting of some 285 school-minded people within our area, who have either shown an active interest in our school problems by voluntarily offering their time and service or having been designated and called upon by their fellow citizens who felt that they would be well qualified to serve.

This large committee has been organized into five sub-committees, transportation, building and site, financial, community and people and curriculum. The committee on curriculum headed by Mrs. George Shawl of Whitney township had been very active and their reports are coming into the board for consideration in connection with type size and general lay-out of the building to accommodate our requirements.

The committee on finance, headed by John Brugger, is also functioning and their reports are coming in. The other committees are also working and it has been found that their services and efforts are most valuable.

The building and site committee has completed a substantial phase of its work in the examination of available sites and reports on their various qualifications and objections.

The original site committee was composed of over 50 members who met and appointed a seven member committee to make a comprehensive study of the sites. This seven member committee was headed by John Franson of East Tawas and the balance of the committee was made up of people whom the parent committee considered well qualified to do this work, and representatives of the area at large.

These seven people were charged with the responsibility of thoroughly examining all proposed sites and thereupon compiling a list of the advantages and disadvantages of the various locations.

It was felt by the committee that by making such a thorough study and compilation of facts and figures one or the other of such proposed sites would stand out far above and beyond the others under consideration.

This proved to be the case, as the site selected was found to be comparatively inexpensive from the standpoint of initial purchase, the cost being approximately $250 per acre while the next most suitable site would run about twice as much.

Such a site was immediately available while the purchase of the second site being considered would involve considerable time and trouble. Such site was found to be well above the water table which would allow utility trenches under the building without the necessary high cost of draining to a sump pump and continually pumping water from the area, which would be required in the second site, unless much expensive fill was brought into the area.

The site selected has sufficient area for our present needs as well as future expansion, having in all some 65 acres of land, while the usable area of the second site considered has about 22 acres in one parcel, which would not only crowd out our present requirements, but would necessitate the purchase of valuable developed property to allow for expansion in the future.

The site selected would provide parking space for any number of cars, plus service garage in the future, room for stadium a reasonable distance from the class rooms, unlimited play area, tennis courts, track, baseball diamond, soft ball, junior college when practical and ample landscaping; while the second site would provide parking area for about 150 cars, which would require much more than provide for the school buses, each of which would require parking area normally used by five or six cars. It would require a soft ball diamond super imposed over of regular diamond, provide space for but four tennis courts, necessitate a division of the buildings and crowd the construction.

The site selected is very accessible, away from hazards, rivers, industrial installations, bulk gas storage, railroads, power lines has sufficient area for the loading well segregated, and also room for expansion in the future years, without the purchase of additional area.

The site selected is well centered from the standpoint of population area wide and favors no particular area.

It was with all the above points in mind that the site was chosen by the board of education of our area, and it also well recommended by the architect.

This represents one of the items in the package that will be offered for our consideration on December 15. The other items in the package will be more fully reported on by our committee for our consideration. The other two outstanding items for your consideration, being finance and curriculum.
