Tawas Area High School Plays Its First Football in Game With AuGres Today

A new era will begin for sports fans this afternoon (Friday) when the Tawas Area High School football team will meet AuGres High School. The game will be played at the East Tawas Athletic Field, beginning at 2:15 p. m.

This will mark the first time for a Tawas school to field an 11-man team. Several attempts had been made in earlier years to have a team, but lack of equipment made it impossible to enter competition with other schools.

The Tawas squad's next game will be at West Branch on October 15 against the West Branch Reserves.

Coach Fred Hickman and Assistant Coach Mark Defibaugh have been working with the 55-man squad at daily practice sessions. Most of these boys have had very little experience in football and the coaches have sent them through a rugged training schedule in preparation for today's tilt.

Know your players by their numbers and referee's signals. Ask for our program at the field.

Education Department Corrects Error in School Money Distribution

In the recent distribution of primary interest fund money, the Department of Public Instruction deducted $588.04 from Burleigh Rural Agricultural School's portion because of an alleged invalid teacher's certificate.

Superintendent M. J. Turck protested, pointing out that the certificate was valid, and the department ordered that the deducted amount be paid in the November distribution of school money.

Site Committee Presents Report to Board of Education

Wednesday evening the site committee of the Tawas Area School Advisory Council officially presented to the board of education its report on the several proposed school sites. The meeting, which was held at the Tawas City School Gymnasium, was called by the advisory council for that purpose.

Carl Babcock, one of the co-chairmen of the advisory council, introduced Joseph Allen, acting chairman of the site committee, who explained the work of the committee and the manner in which it had secured the data for the report.

A brochure, prepared by H. E. Beyster and Associates, architects, containing detailed reports and graphs of the various sites, was presented by Henry Haberkorn of that firm. In preparing these reports, three things were considered by the committee and the architects: Cost of property, cost of preparing the site for school use, and cost of necessary sewer and water facilities. Lubaway Plans For New Building On Lake Street To Complete Slides At Silver Valley

Monday a permit was issued by the Department of Public Works to Joseph Lubaway of Wyandotte for the construction of a building east of the Greystone on Lake Street.

The building will be of brick, concrete and steel construction. Built for showroom purposes, it will have a full glass front and the sides will be principally glass. The first unit will be 20 x 50 feet, with additional units to be constructed later. Lubaway is in consultation with contractors for its early construction.

At a meeting of the Silver Valley Committee of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday, arrangements were made to complete the installation of steel runways at the toboggan slide.

The work will be under the direction of John Pinter, general chairman of the Silver valley committee, and Cecil Cable and E. D. Jacques, co-chairman on the special toboggan slide committee.

Nathan Barkman, secretary of the Silver Valley committee for many years, asked to be relieved because he would be unable to do the work this year. A. Don Anderson was appointed to succeed him. Lloyd McKay, Jr., was reappointed treasurer of the Silver Valley organization.

An audit of the committee's finances revealed a $443.39 balance after expenses of last season had been paid. The money will be used to help defray expenses of getting the valley in shape for the 1953-1954 season.

The future of the AuSable Ski Bowl was discussed and Lloyd McKay, Jr., was appointed to see what arrangements can be made to operate this winter attraction.

Jesse C. Hodder Post, American Legion, secured the concession privilege, and was authorized to make improvements necessary to meet the requirements of the United States Forest Service. The Legion was assured a concession grant long enough to recover money invested and a reasonable return for their work.

The next meeting of the Silver Valley committee will be held Tuesday, October 13, in Room 9, Holland Hotel, at 9:00 p. m.

Bible Comment:

Isaiah Prophesied In Times Such as Ours

THE prophet Isaiah, greatest of the early prophets of Israel, and some would say the greatest of all the Hebrew prophets, lived and prophesied in the eighth century before Christ.

The times were times of invasion and violence, and the miracle of the prophecies is that such visions of hope and peace, of comity between nations, should have come out of such experiences of the Hebrew people and their environment of powerful and warlike surrounding nations. In that respect the times were not unlike our own, when again in spite of world wars, and threat of war, the vision and hope of a peaceful world persists.

This might well be the greatest and deepest thing about the prophecies. It links them with our times, and it is marvelous how their vision and hope have kept alive through all the ages. Two things above all characterized Isaiah, a deep love for his people, and a deeper love for God. He was devout and earnest, but also marked by an intense courage and a self-sacrificing spirit.

Tradition is that he met death by being sawn asunder, though the ancient records of the Book of Kings do not confirm this. But he chose deliberately to be God's voice and God's messenger. It was a dangerous but noble calling.

He looked upon the nations from the viewpoint of an ideal Israel, called by God to a high place of leadership. He hoped Israel might be a powerful and leavening influence among the larger empires, leading them into a true religion of peace and comity.

How much of this prophetic vision was realized? How much a prophet's dream, that still remains to be fulfilled?

There can't be much wrong with a country that consumes six million new automobiles in one year.

Pretty soon now we will be sorry summer is gone.

Traffic Injuries Reach New Record High

Although the death toll was slightly less than in the same month a year ago, more persons were injured in traffic accidents in Michigan during August than in any previous month on record.

The State Police monthly report shows 5,523 persons injured in 14,920 accidents. This was an increase of 20 percent over 4,625 injured in August a year ago and a gain of 13 percent over 13,196 accidents.

A Charlotte, N. C., soldier, returned home after 33 months in a Chinese Communist prisoner-of-war camp, was astounded at the first sight of TV. Too bad he wasn't gifted with second sight before he came home.

Deaths totalled 180, or four less than in the same month of 1953, but 30 higher than the average for August during the post war years of 1946 to 1952.

The record for the first eight months of this year includes 1,168 persons killed, 36,806 injured and 116,783 accidents. Deaths increased 10 percent, injured 20 percent and accidents 13 percent over the same period last year.

Estimated mileage for the first seven months of this year, the latest information available, is 15.1 billion, a gain of 10 percent over 13.7 billion for the same period in 1953. The death rate of 6.6 per 100 million miles of travel was up three percent over 6.4.

FARMER VERSUS THE PEOPLE

About the time the fall hunting season rolls around in the southern half of Michigan the farmer gets to be very, very popular. He has callers by the score, most of them complete strangers who would like to be treated like old friends. They have one purpose in mind, one question to ask after appropriate introductory remarks: "Do you mind if we hunt on your land?" In a way this is a break for the farmer. Lots more of these one-a-year visitors don't bother to ask. They climb fences and start hunting. To the hunter who has sufficient respect for the rights of private land owners to ask permission most farmers are more kindly disposed than the requested privilege. And thanks to the efforts of such organized sportsmen's clubs there'll be a lot more hunters schooled in the proper approach this year.

MUCC Active

Michigan's United Conservation Clubs with a membership of about 60,000 have faced this problem fairly and squarely, and have had numerous meetings with representative groups of farmers. While the farmer is in a perfect position to say "NO!" to all comers who want to hunt his land he's just not that kind of a guy. Those who live off the good land don't know the meaning of snobbery, and they are inherently unselfish by nature. They're neighborly folks—and having to refuse a favor even to a stranger is against their principles of living. But they cannot tolerate widespread damage to their property by irresponsible hunters, and that's why the problem exists.

Willing to Co-operate

When the MUCC and individual sportsmen's clubs came up with a suggestion for better co-operation the farmers were willing. But they know this won't solve the problem because any co-operative plans affect only members of these clubs—too small a percentage of Michigan's vast army of hunters. The farmer still has to contend with the non-conformant trespasser who sneaks over a fence on the back forty, cuts wires that might interfere with a hunting dog at work, and endangers live stock that might wander in his line of gunfire. Such persons have no respect for the property of others, and give the entire hunting fraternity a black eye. Their tendency toward downright vandalism might be lessened if they'd stop to realize that the farmer's really a square-shooter, generally willing to grant permission if it's properly requested.

So, before you hunt in Michigan Outdoors this year, plan to meet a few farmers face-to-face. Ask permission to hunt in a man-to-man way. You'll find that two things will happen: your conscience will make you hunting a lot more fun, and you will have eased the problems of the farmer who is already burdened with more than his fair share of troubles!

Future of Korean Democracy Rests on Rehabilitation of Its Orphaned and Deprived Children

Photo and letter by William N. (Neil) Thornton, member of The Tawas Herald staff, now serving in the United States Army in Korea.

Taegu, Korea
Letter to the Editor:
Am sitting here at a desk in the Public Information Office Headquarters, KComZ, wondering how I'm going to put down in words what I have on my mind.
A few days ago I wrote asking you to send all of my old clothes that I outgrew and are packed away somewhere around the house. I had in mind giving this clothing to the young Korean boys that work in our office and in our huts to wear during the coming winter.

Last night I attended a program at the service club here, presented by a group of 30 little Korean children from one of the orphanages in Taegu. Their ages ranged from two to 10 and it reminded me of a church or school program at Christmas time back home. I wish you could have seen it. The children love to sing. At a signal from their teacher, they politely bowed low to the audience and then began to sing with all their hearts, either in their native tongue or in English.

During the program I talked to several soldiers who have children of their own back home and they told me it sure left an awful lump in their throats, watching the little tykes perform, thinking how lucky their own kids are, not knowing what it is to have their parents killed, being separated from their families or to see their homes destroyed by the recent war.

After the program, the men working in my section got together to see if we couldn't enlarge a little on this clothing drive, to include children of all ages, from infants to teen age, and give them the clothing at Christmas time. We are all writing home asking our families and neighbors to send us clothing and toys to be given to these needy children at Christmas.

We know that this isn't any new idea.....since the war began, the American people have opened their hearts and pocket books and have given a tremendous amount of clothing and food to these unfortunate children of Korea. I know personally that several church organizations and ladies' clubs in the Tawas have had similar drives in the past and probably have one underway for this year.

The war is over.....or at least an armistice has been signed. This country has already begun a huge rebuilding program. But one of the biggest problems confronting them is the 2,000,000 figure that represents Korea's junior citizenry. Included in this figure are 100,000 orphans, with some 40,000 in orphanages and 17,000 in private homes.

I know that "cold" figures are sometimes uninteresting or misleading, but I can tell you from personal observation that the needs of these children are great, and a big job left during this post-armistice period is seeing that they receive the right care and are properly clothed, especially for this coming winter.

If anyone in the Tawas area or Iosco county would like to contribute clothing or gift boxes, or toys, send them to this Public Information Office (address at end of this letter) and I will see that these gifts are distributed to needy children here.

Let's extend a helping hand to these children.....they will deeply appreciate anything that you might send them for Christmas. Begin right now to gather clothing and toys. Be sure to send the articles in plenty of time so that plans can be made for Christmas giving. (Check, too, on weight limits with the postmaster on packages for overseas shipment.)

Hale Health Council Annual Meeting October 13

The Hale Health Council will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, October 13, at 1:30 p. m. at the Hale Community Building. All new council representatives and at least one former representative should be present.

All of the 13 community organizations are asked to appoint their three delegates, one of whom shall have held this position this past year. This insures having some experienced representatives attending the council meetings and making themelves available to hold office on the council. Material for hospital gowns to be made and kept on hand at the Community Building for loan to anyone needing them will be cut and given to members for sewing.

The by-laws are now ready for approval by representatives, and each member organization is to have a copy. Now that the beauty contests are over, the sweater girls will have their day.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Potatoes out of warm ground are better for the market, and they make better potato chips than those out of cold soil. That means it is a good idea to get your potatoes out of the ground before a freeze-up, emphasizes Norman Thompson, Michigan State College farm crops man. Vines that are dead are a good sign of mature potatoes. If vines are killed chemically, by flame throwers, or roto-beaters, potatoes stop growing and their skins tighten so they can stand digging. Thompson suggests that diggers are best adjusted to travel at a slow walking pace of about a mile or a mile and a half per hour, and the elevator chair should move about 150 feet per minute. Five acres per day can be dug with a one-row digger at that pace, and there will be less damage to potatoes.

No vacation time for sheep parasites, more likely they will work overtime, and that means there can be no let up in the parasite control program. Graydon Blank, Michigan Ex- tension sheep specialist, advises that phenothiazine and trace mineral salt still is the basis of a sound worm control program. There is a recipe available for mixing and using it.

Mr. Blank asserts that the new phenothiazine lead-arsenate drench is a good supplement to the phenothiazine and salt pro- gram. This drench gets the tape- worms, too, but it should be used only when tapeworms are believed to be present. Edward Robinson of Whitte- more is one local person who has tried this new drench. You might like to ask him how it has worked out for him.

We have a limited supply of the new lead-arsenate pheno- thiazine drench as well as the regular phenothiazine at the Ex- tension Service office.

A lot of fall chores need doing around the dairy farm before cold weather really sets in, and that reminder from George Per- sons, extension dairyman, prob- ably isn't really news to you at all. But Mr. Parsons goes on to call to our attention these spots to check: Clean drinking cups. They get filled easily with hay, straw, and small pieces of corn cobs. A cow needs plenty of wa- ter.

Take a look at the stanchions. Are there bolts needed? Wash the windows, especially the inside. Replace the panes that were casualties from the pranks of grandchildren last summer.

Fix that balky door. If a barn settles, the free working of the door is affected. And fix any loose boards around the barn, too. Get a bag of ready-mix cement and seal up rat holes and broken places around the stanchions and walls. Do it before the cows are in all day and all night.

Cadillac

Special Favorite of the Ladies!

When a Cadillac comes into the service of a family that has never owned one before, it is—quite naturally—a source of great pride and happiness to the entire family group.

But we have noticed, through the years, that the car is a very special favorite with the ladies. For, most assuredly, a Cadillac does some very wonderful and extraordinary things for a lady.

First of all, she looks her loveliest when she is seated behind its wheel. Every time she takes to the highway, she finds herself the focal point in a perfectly gorgeous picture.

And she feels just as wonderful as she looks.

The car's deep, luxurious cushions cradle her in magnificent comfort throughout the longest journey. The great responsiveness of the quiet, powerful engine gives her a marvelous sense of command. The car steers and brakes and drives with such miraculous ease that she actually rests and relaxes as she rides.

Of course, there are a great many other satisfac- tions which a lady finds in a new Cadillac car.

There is, for instance, her delight at seeing her family surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to the science of motor car design. And there is the deep and rewarding sense of fulfillment which comes with ownership of such a prized and sought- after possession. Even parked in her driveway, the car is a tribute to her good taste and judgment . . . and a wonderful complement to the beauty and graciousness of her home.

To any gentleman reading this advertisement—we would like to make a suggestion:

Some day soon—when the sky is bright and the time is right—ask your lady if she wouldn't like to take a ride in a 1953 Cadillac.

We think we know what the answer will be—and we'll be happy to see you, indeed.

Party Dresses for Small Folks Easy to Launder

BY EDNA MILES

LITTLE girls love to dress up, no doubt about it. Even three-year-olds take a real delight in clothes and love to get ready for a party.

One of the newest aids to mother in keeping a small girl well dressed is a new celanese fiber with color that's sealed in before the fiber or yarn is spun.

This new and special process provides color protection against fading from sunlight, damage by gas-fading, perspiration, salt water or fading from any amount of laundering. In making tests, little taffeta dresses were laundered many times in washing machines with no color loss.

Further, in these washing tests the color did not crock, rub off or run into other fabrics. This means that dresses made of multicolor fabrics can be laundered in a machine as readily as a single solid color. It also means that any dress made of celanese acetate with sealed-in color can be machine-laundered if the trimmings are washable.

Little dresses made of this fabric also have a built-in moth-and-mildew resistance. This means that care and upkeep is reduced to a minimum.

Sugar 'n spice, 'n everything nice, is what little girls are made of, and just as sweet and spiky are these celanese taffeta dresses, with sealed-in color, in sizes three to six. They're machine-washable, mildew- and moth-resistant.

Injured in Hunting Accident

Staff Sgt. Richard Kish of Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, was the victim of a painful accident Sunday while bird hunting north of East Tawas.

Hunting in Baldwin township with a companion, James Radke, their dog flushed a bird. Radke, who was some distance from Sergeant Kish, fired. Pellets from the gun hit Sergeant Kish, wounding him in the scalp, nose and left hand. He was taken to the base hospital for treatment.

 Calendar:
 District Home Demonstration Rally—Tuesday, October 20, at Gladwin.
 Special event for the family—Wednesday, October 21, at Reno Township Hall.

We wouldn't be surprised if the home demonstration group leaders "tuck and zipper" talk every time they see you for the next month or six weeks at least. Everyone of them really worked hard to learn the tricks for handling the seam allowances so that a zipper placket opening will replace approximately a nine-inch area in that seam which makes your dresses easier to put on and have a better fit when you get them on. This method is both a timesaver and guarantee of a concealed zipper when you have finished—it is really worth learning even if it is tricky.

The tucked buttonhole process is the one they will all be practicing and practicing before their groups have workshops. It takes precision accuracy to have a perfect one, but how nice they look once mastered. Home demonstration group members will have their chance to learn when these leaders conduct workshops during the next month or so. Many women wish to get these individual construction processes down "pat" now so they will be ready to go on in special clothing construction workshops, such as wool skirts, dresses, jackets, coats and even tailored suits. No garment of this kind looks professionally made unless the collars, darts, plackets, buttonholes, pockets, etc., are accurately and carefully made.

Are you thinking of cleaning that upholstered chair that shows summer soil? First, remove the dust by cleaning with vacuum cleaner attachments, or if they are not available, use a hand brush such as a whisk broom.

Next, use a non-flammable cleaner or a dry-suds shampoo. If you choose to use the cleaner, pick a day when you can open windows for plenty of ventilation as the cleaner fumes can be overpowering.

A dry-suds shampoo is not recommended for frieze-type upholstery, and in any case it is always a good idea to try a cleaning agent or dry-suds on an inconspicuous area of the material to see if it may cause fading.

This is now to make a dry-suds shampoo. Dissolve ¼ cup of mild soapless detergent in one cup of hot water in a large mixing bowl. Whip to a dry suds with a rotary egg beater or electric mixer. While using the suds you may find it necessary to beat up the suds again to keep it "dry." This "dryness" is most important.

Dry-suds is applied liberally to a small area of the surface to be cleaned with a soft scrubbing brush, using a circular motion. Excess suds may be scraped off the surface with a spatula. Use the spatula with the broad side against the fabric so that it "scoops up" the excess suds.

Wring a soft cloth or sponge out of warm clear water and rinse the shampooed area—first with a circular motion; then against the nap; and lastly, with the nap. Finish off by brushing with the nap, using a clean brush.

Be sure to overlap adjoining areas slightly when cleaning to prevent rings, or light and dark spots. Allow to dry thoroughly before using—usually 24 hours will be sufficient.

With Isoco 4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
 How are we coming with our plans for projects during the next 4-H Club year?

Remember, we have set our goal to have one project completed in every Community 4-H Club by Christmas this year—sort of a New Year's resolution in September.

To do so means getting those project meetings under way right now. Do I hear someone say, "We haven't received our bulletins. We can't get started?"

Let me explain what happens. You 4-H Club members must first of all make your plans for the projects which will be in your 1954 Community 4-H Club program. After that you write them up on a "membership plan" sheet. All of these plans will be collected by your Community 4-H Club leader and sent to our office.

When we receive your plans, then we can make a count to see how many of each kind of bulletins your 4-H Club will need, and also put with them all the other supplies for your club, secretary's record book, and the like.

All these materials are then delivered to your leaders. As you can see, all this takes time, and means we should begin early in September to start the wheels rolling that bring together the supplies you need by the first of October.

And you do need all of October, November and December to work at completing that first project for the year.

We would like to hear from all our 4-H Club reporters before next Thursday telling us which project you have started, are starting or will start very soon.

MEAT PRICE INVESTIGATION
Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ordered an investigation of meat prices, with the purpose of determining why there is so broad a gulf between the price of meat on the farm and on the counter. The move was made necessary to meet the challenge by farmers, distressed over falling farm markets, and consumers irked by an ever-rising cost of living.

MORE JOB CUTS

The Government intends to trim its payrolls by 100,000 more jobs but actually fire less than one-half that number, according to Philip Young, chairman Civil Service Commission. The reduction, to be made next June 30, will be accomplished mostly by not filling vacancies that come up in the normal turnover of personnel. The total Federal work force would be down to 2,421,000.
