Voters Approve Bond Proposal for New Jail; Prescott, Mielock and Barber Nominated

Miller and Buch Again Choice of Republicans

About 2,500 Ballots Cast in Tuesday's Primary Election

Prosecuting Attorney Reginald Barnett lost the Republican nomination to William R. Barber and a $125,000 bond issue was approved for the construction of a new county jail at Tuesday's primary election. County Treasurer Grace Miller and Register Deeds Albert Buch defeated their opposition for places on the Republican ticket. Other incumbents of county offices were unopposed.

Nearly 2,500 Republican and Democratic ballots were cast in the election.

Taxpayers gave the go ahead signal for the building of a new county jail by a vote of 1,537 yes to 889 no on the bond proposal. The proposal to raise the tax limitation one mill received a vote of 1,393 yes and 1,018 no. All electors were eligible to vote on the latter proposal.

Supervisor Clarence Eveitt, chairman of the building committee, stated Wednesday that a special session of the board of supervisors would be called within a few days, and that it was hoped to have the project ready for bids by September 1. The plans for the new building are now being completed by Joseph Goddeyne, architect, of Bay City.

The new structure will replace the present jail which had been condemned by the State Department of Corrections. It will be designed along lines similar to the new courthouse and will be located on the west side of the building.

The cost of the building has been estimated at $165,000. The difference between that amount and the authorized bond issue will be covered by money received from the sale of county farm property and cash in the building fund.

In the race for the prosecuting attorney nomination, Barber defeated Barnett by a vote of 963 to 277 votes. Lyle Long, a newcomer in county politics, received 450 votes while Mrs. Miller garnered 1,489 for the nomination for county treasurer. Albert Buch defeated Harold F. Black by a vote of 1,237 to 595.

Nearly 400 Democratic votes were cast Tuesday. There was no opposition on the county Democratic ticket, and only two contests on the state ticket. Norman D. Vaughan of Oscoda received 190 votes for the nomination for 10th District congressman and William J. Kelly of Bay City, 163. Fitzgerald received 106 votes for lieutenant governor and Hart, 274.

Mr. and Mrs. William Leslie and Arlene, accompanied by cousins from Bad Axe, are enjoying a trip to the Upper Peninsula this week.

At the meeting the quarterly report revealed that for the quarter ending June 30, sales had increased 11 percent. Sales for this period amounted to $20,556,772, an increase of $2,028,640 over the corresponding period in 1953.

Bigelow Retires After 49 Years of Railroading

After 49 years on the same run from the United States Gypsum Company plant at Alabaster to the rail yards in Tawas—a daily round trip of about 14 miles—veteran railroader, Allie Bigelow, stepped down from the way car on the Detroit and Mackinac Tawas Switch Local Friday to wind up his active railroading days.

Bigelow, who lives in Tawas City, started his railroad career with the old Erie and Michigan Railway and Navigation Company in August 1905, as a brakeman. The line was reputed to be one of the shortest in Michigan.

In 1948 the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company purchased the Erie and Michigan line. At the time of the merger, Mr. Bigelow was the road superintendent. Since that time he has served as conductor on the Alabaster run for the Detroit and Mackinac, which hauls Alabaster rock to Tawas for shipment to United States Gypsum Company plants.

During his 43 years of service with the Erie and Michigan, Mr. Bigelow said that the line wore out four different steam locomotives. The engines were Nos. seven, eight, nine and 10. The old No. eight was probably the most familiar to local residents. It had a tall smoke stack and its shrill whistle made music to many an old time railroader's ear.

When Mr. Bigelow began his railroading days as a brakeman, Frank Allen served as engineer and Mert Barnes was the conductor on the Alabaster run.

The Bigelow family has long been associated with railroading in Northeastern Michigan. Mr. Bigelow's two brothers, George and Charles, were engineers. His father, Arthur Bigelow was a blacksmith with the Detroit and Mackinac for many years.

One incident which stands out foremost in the memory of this retiring railroader, is the day many years ago when a box car broke loose from the train and crashed into the United States Gypsum Company store at Alabaster. "The car went right through the building. It didn't knock it down, but it sure put a big hole in the wall," stated Mr. Bigelow.

When asked what he planned to do during retirement, Mr. Bigelow replied, "I am just going to take life easy for a while."

After being congratulated on his retirement by Charles Pinkerton, Detroit, and Mackinac Railway president, and many of his co-workers, Mr. Bigelow was asked by a member of his crew, "Where do we put these box cars, Allie? You still have a half an hour left."

The pry bar was used to open the front door of the Whitfield Store. The flashlight was found on one of the counters.

Apparently the thief was particularly about what size clothing he was going to steal. Evidence at the clothing store indicated that he had tried on several articles of clothing.

Police Chief Ruth stated that the break-ins probably occurred after 2:00 a. m. He said that 1:30 he had checked all of the store building doors in the downtown business district and later drove through the alley behind the two buildings.

Investigating officers said that the thief must have made a considerable amount of noise while entering the clothing store. The door frame was com-

Kiwanis Club Will Sponsor 'Kids' Day'

Preliminary Plans Being Formulated for September Celebration

'Kids' Day, sponsored by Kiwanis International, will be celebrated Saturday, September 25, in the Tawas and in hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii using the theme, "Build For Tomorrow."

Cecil Cabbie, president of the Kiwanis Club, said that although this is the sixth annual observance of Kids' Day, it is the first year of sponsorship exclusively by Kiwanis International and its member clubs throughout North America. He further stated that work on this sixth annual celebration is well under way and is expected that more clubs than ever before will participate in this annual activity for youth.

"Preliminary plans for local activity are now being formulated by the committee in charge," President Cabbie said. He named Dr. E. C. Silverthorn as chairman and Lou Gorham, Joseph Fox, William Borosch and Elmer Werth as members of the committee under whose direction the activity will be carried out.

President Cabbie said that the Kiwanis Club will share in the project. Cabbie pointed out that youth work has been a major aim of Kiwanis International throughout the 39 years of its existence. The "Kids' Day" program, one of the Kiwanis' major activities for youth, focuses attention on this important work of the organization on one day, and permits each club to develop a local program best suited to its community while integrating it with the club's year-round program for youth.

Last year over a million two hundred thousand children were entertained on Kids' Day and Kiwanis Clubs raised more than $300,000 for their youth service work. Cabbie stressed that these funds are retained in the communities where they are collected and used entirely in local youth projects. He pointed out the Kiwanis Club's main project is sponsoring two children to the speech clinic and sending one to Interlochen, besides providing Christmas for some children less fortunate than others, to show how Kiwanis uses locally collected funds to benefit the entire community.

Doctor Silverthorn, chairman of the Kids' Day committee, indicated that further details will be announced in the near future. He urged all citizens to wholeheartedly support Kids' Day and join with other civic-minded residents of the Tawas in observing this day set aside especially for helping youth.

The "Two Faced" Ballot

Printed at the top of every ballot used during the primary election Tuesday, was a list of instructions to the voter. However, some electors lost their vote by splitting their ticket, contrary to instructions which were prominently displayed at the polls.

It is a simple matter to cast a legal ballot. The regulations governing the proper methods of voting were adopted for a reason and, if the voter follows the rules, it will enable the election board to positively identify his or her choice in voting.

Here are several reasons why some ballots were thrown out in the primary election:

1. Improper mark in the square in front of the candidate's name.
2. Marking up and defacing the ballot with illegal pencil marks.
3. Splitting the ticket.

What constitutes a legal mark in the ballot square? Merely a simple (X) placed IN THE BOX beside the candidate's name . . . that is all. But, several voters placed check marks in the box. Those particular ballots were not counted.

The only pencil marks which should appear on the completed ballots is the legal (X) in the squares; a candidate's name written in, if the voter chooses to vote for someone whose name does not appear on the ballot; and the initials of the inspector. When a voter writes in a name he must place an (X) in the square provided.

According to Michigan Laws, the voter can not split his ticket in a primary election. A split ticket will not be counted.

Several amusing incidents occurred at the polls when the voter failed to note that the ballot was printed on both sides; on one side the Republican ticket and the Democratic on the opposite side, depending on the manner in which the ballot was handed to the voter. This resulted in several voters declaring to the election board, "You gave me the wrong ballot; this isn't my ticket!" The board members merely turned the ballot over and there was the "missing ticket."

The practice of printing primary ballots on both sides has been in effect in Michigan for quite a number of years. The plan was put into use during the war years to conserve paper.

It would be well for all voters to read the instructions on the ballot before casting their vote. Voting is a very important part of our American way of life. A spoiled or improperly marked ballot will not be counted in the final turns.—General Election November 2, 1954

BIBLE COMMENTS:

God's Blessing Depends Not on Wealth, Poverty

THE rich young man who came to Jesus inquiring the way to eternal life has had an unenviable place in religious history.

Though we do not know his name, the Gospel incident has given him anonymous fame, and at the same time brought upon him much harsher judgment than he would seem to have deserved.

In correctness of life he was undoubtedly remarkable, for Jesus loved him and offered him a place in His small circle of immediate followers.

We should view the young man with a compassionate sadness, remembering that he went away sad, never again to enjoy the great possessions that had kept him from the greatest glory and treasure of all.

Other rich men who heard Christ's call, either from Jesus, Himself, or in the early days of the Christian church, made a better response than the rich young man.

But Christianity, despite the fact of some rich disciples and the "saints in Caesar's household," seems to have had its rise chiefly among the poor.

This association of Christianity with poverty, and the fact that later saints renounced wealth and worldliness to lead lives of devotion and service, has often led to a glorification of poverty that is not justified by the facts.

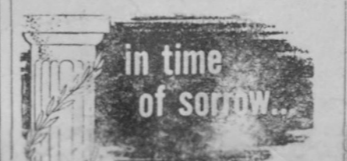

The blessings of poverty are often sung by those who have never known what it is to be poor.

Moreover, Christianity was built on the heritage of the Old Testament, with a philosophy of abundance.

It was only when material prosperity led to unrighteousness and forgetfulness of God, the giver of all, that the prophets gave warning.

There is no blessing in either wealth or in poverty, but only in the blessedness that God bestows.

The present gambling craze in Japan has spread to include the children. Cash prizes are included in a few hundred of each several thousand-piece lot of a favorite children's candy, and the manufacturer says business is booming.

With the Iosco 4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT

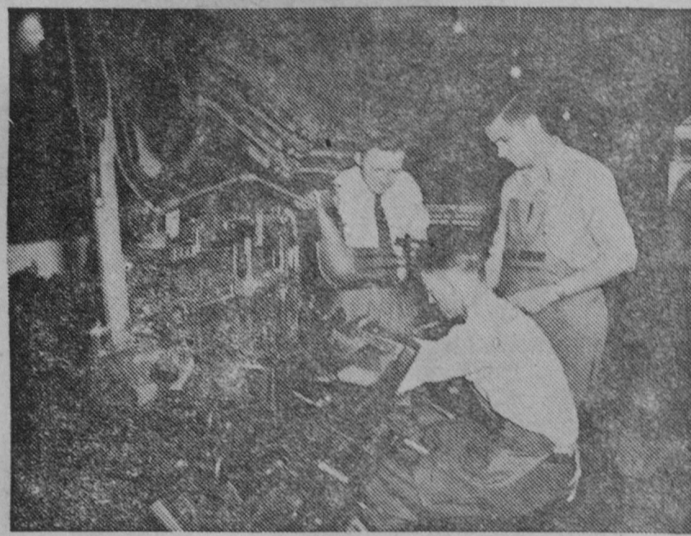

Calendar: August 15—Be sure project reports are in the Extension Office.
Last week was a busy one for 4-H Club members, leaders and parents. Visitors at the county fair viewed 275 exhibits arranged by 122 different exhibitors, and including the following projects activities: Crops, vegetable garden, flower garden, bird study, tractor maintenance, photography, gun safety, first aid, handicraft, radio, electrical, food preservation, baking, clothing, knitting, dairy, beef, poultry, sheep, rabbits and Junior Leadership.

During the week 4-H Club members presented demonstrations, practiced speeches and the presentation of a business meeting. Judging practice was provided for those interested in livestock, clothing and foods. As a result of these activities, Iosco county will be represented at the Standish District Round-Up elimination contest on Tuesday, August 3, by the following:
Livestock judges—Harold Pro-voast, David Sturtevant, Kathlene Provoast; food judges—Mary Alice Waters, Lorna Mott; clothing judges—Shirley Greenwood, Janice Sturtevant, Neva Daugharty, Faye Pagel.

Speech contestant—Kathlene Provoast.
Business Meeting Team—Laidlawville 4-H Club.
Fun Festival Contest—Sharon Frank (monologue), Lois Vane (piano solo).
Demonstrations—Foods by Ruth Ann Proper; electrical—Gale Durant; poultry—Sharon Frank.

Ross Williams made the best score in the tractor operator's contest on Saturday morning, and will compete in the state contest at the State 4-H Club Show August 31 through September 3.
Ross had a total of 751 points against him; Eliert Barnes, 1139 points, and Robert Waters, 2028 points.
This tractor operator's contest is one that requires plenty of skill and created a good deal of interest among those on the fairgrounds about 11:00 a. m. that morning.
Tractors were operated with a two-wheel and a four-wheel trailer and belted up to operate a silo filler. The obstacle course arranged for the operation of trailers and tractors wasn't easy, ask any of the dads in the crowd!
Vernon Anderson chairmanned the contest committee and was assisted by Ross Williams, Eliert Barnes and Norman Sibley. Acting as judges were Frank Vogel, Reg Caton and Arnold Loomis. Joseph Barnes was official timer.

4. Prohibits county committees from acting as sales agents or employees of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation marketing quota review committees, and as employees of their own county offices.
The rule revisions, made after a year-long study of the entire A. S. C. elections system should strengthen farmer control of local program administration and stimulate wider interest and participation in community elections. They should also encourage more farmers to serve as community and county committees.
The community boards will conduct, without pay, the annual election of community committees.

Spray Raspberries After Pruning Job

Be sure to give your raspberries a thorough spraying with fermalate after you finish the pruning job this summer.
That's advice from Robert F. Carlson, a Michigan State College small fruit researcher. The spray is needed, he says, because of the anthracnose, or cane spot, epidemic this summer. Cool, wet weather helped spread this disease.
Doing a good pruning job, notes Carlson, means cutting out all the old canes and the weak and spindly ones. It's a good idea, he cautions, to burn all of the cut out canes. That's one way of helping to control disease, but it is annoying, says Ray Jones, extension entomologist at Michigan State College. He advises using chlordane to spray the outside foundation of the house and a foot or two of the area around the foundation to keep out the pests.
What about the beetles inside the house? Use the vacuum cleaner.
British Royal Engineers are experimenting with inflatable "sneakers" to give mine-hunting troops a light tread.

First Lamb Marketing Pool to be Held Aug. 18

Wednesday, August 18, will be a big day for Iosco county sheep raisers. It is the first marketing pool for farmers to sell their lambs as a graded product. Any sheep raiser in the county having lambs ready for market by August 18, should take advantage of this opportunity. Lambs brought in will be marked for identification, graded, weighed and placed in a pen of that grade. A total cost of $1.10 will be made for the entire marketing process including transportation and insurance.
Donald Stark, extension livestock marketing specialist at Michigan State College, will agree that lamb raisers and feeders with 95 to 100 pound lambs won't make more profit by holding them off the market. Large supplies of beef have put a limit on lamb prices.
By topping out of the fat lambs weighing between 80 and 100 pounds and marketing them early, feeders will get the best price.
Be sure the lambs have about the right amount of fatness for their weight. Weight is not the only thing that determines grade and price.
It's not a good idea to "bury" legume seedlings with straw and stable left from the small grain harvest. Straw can smother the seedlings.
Straw and stubble also favor disease conditions. Harvests of 45 bushels of oats or 25 bushels of wheat per acre leave a ton of straw and it should be removed.

Clanahan clinches the argument by pointing out that proper spraying normally adds 50 to 75 bushels per acre and improves tuber size. Blight can mean the difference between a good crop and a total failure.
Ballots for the election of county and community Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees will be mailed out to all farmers in Michigan on August 12.
Clarence Prentice, state administrative officer for the A. S. C., announced that the ballots must be returned by August 20 and will be counted on August 23.
The county conventions will meet on August 30 to elect their committees who will take office on September 1.
Prentice pointed out four major changes in the regulations governing the elections, qualifications and duties of the county and community A. S. C. committees. The new rulings:
1. Creates county and community election boards which will conduct the annual elections of committees.
2. Limit to three the number of consecutive terms a farmer may serve as county or community committeeman. One exception is when all three members of the county committee have served three consecutive terms, one member is eligible for one additional term.
3. Prohibits officials of general farm organizations from serving as members of county A. S. C. committees.

Weevils in House Add to Trouble

Add the strawberry root weevil to the oat thrips and the fleas now bothering Michigan householders. The brownish-black creature, about a fourth of an inch long is not known to cause damage, but it is annoying, says Ray Jones, extension entomologist at Michigan State College. He advises using chlordane to spray the outside foundation of the house and a foot or two of the area around the foundation to keep out the pests.
What about the beetles inside the house? Use the vacuum cleaner.
British Royal Engineers are experimenting with inflatable "sneakers" to give mine-hunting troops a light tread.

Economy Measures Studied at Burleigh School Board Meet

At its last regular meeting held on July 27, the Burleigh Township Rural Agricultural School Board of Education discussed several economy measures which had been suggested by the Department of Public Instruction. These economy measures were considered only as alternatives to operating during the coming school year, with expenditures far in excess of known receipts. Unless the board is able to obtain additional money, or puts into effect some or all of the recommended "economy measures," it faces the definite possibility of going deeper into the red. The economy measures could be considered educational "frills" inasmuch as they are above and beyond the basic education required by law. These measures are:

1. Elimination of kindergarten.
2. Elimination or curtailment of the present athletic program.
3. Elimination or curtailment of the present music program.
4. Elimination of the use of school buses for such purposes as field trips, senior trips, spectator and team buses to athletic events, band festivals, Farmers' Day of Michigan State College, annual school picnic, etc.
5. Elimination of free text books in some or all grades.
6. Elimination of rental of the Community Building for school activities.

It is fully realized by the members of the board that the adoption of any one or all of these economy measures would seriously impair the instructional program of the entire school, for it has long been proven that music, athletics, assembly programs and supervised social activities play a large and most important role in the overall education of the child. No longer are the three "R's" considered all that is necessary for success in this modern day and age.

It is sincerely hoped by every member of the board that some means of obtaining more operating funds may be found, making it unnecessary to deprive the children of the school district of the education which they are entitled. No definite action was taken concerning these matters at this meeting. It is expected that they will be given extensive consideration during the ensuing weeks.

Haska-St. James

The St. James Church, Whittemore, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Saturday morning, July 17, when Miss Mary Jane St. James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor St. James, became the bride of Roy A. Haske, son of Mrs. Bertha Haske and the late Herman Haske of Akron, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Fr. Michael Maher. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father in a floor length gown of Shiffle embroidered nylon tulle over satin, featuring a pleated molded bodice, portrait illusion neckline with draped shoulders and long tapering sleeves, and a full bouffant skirt. Her tiara of pearls with rhinestone accents was attached to a pure silk and tulle fingertip veil, and she carried a cross shaped bouquet of white roses and red rosebuds, entwined with ivy and satin streamers. The maid of honor, Miss Lorraine Wlodarszak, and bridesmaids, Mrs. William Bamberger and Mrs. Ray Bessinger, all chose floor length gowns of white nylon net over taffeta and carried wedding ring bouquets of red roses and watching headbands completed their ensemble. The flower girls, Misses Lynna Bamberger and Gail Grabow, were dressed in floor length gowns of white nylon net over taffeta. They carried baskets of red rose petals with matching headbands. A four-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated with the traditional bride and groom under an arch of red roses, formed the centerpiece. Later in the day a reception was held at the bride's home and a dance in the evening at Rainbow Gardens, National City. The couple left to spend a week along the shores of Lake Michigan. Three Accidents Mar Week-End

Three minor auto accidents in the Tawas area during the past week sent two people to the Tawas Hospital for treatment of injuries.

All three of the collisions occurred during the heavy vacation traffic last Sunday and were handled by the Michigan State Police Post at East Tawas.

A car driven by Frank B. Romalski hit a wash out hole on the Plank Road and crashed into a white ash tree which completely demolished the car. The car was traveling at approximately 45 miles an hour. The driver was treated for injuries at the Tawas Hospital.

Mollie Newvine, 61, of Tawas City was treated for shock and bruises following a two-car collision which occurred on Sunday near the State Police Post. The injured was a passenger in a car driven by Peter Newvine of Tawas City. The Newvine vehicle crashed into a car driven by Myron E. Smith of Detroit.

Smith told approximately 23 officers that he had stopped in the traffic lane behind another vehicle which had stalled. The Newvine vehicle failed to stop and crashed into the Smith car.

Failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead resulted in a justice court summons for Thomas B. Adams of Latrup, Michigan. Adams crashed into a vehicle driven by Clara M. Jacobs of Ferndale near the Royal Motel in Tawas City. The Jacobs vehicle slowed down to allow a car directly in front to make a right hand turn when the accident occurred.
