Christmas, 1954

Christmas, 1954, which is almost upon us, should be a happy one for all the people of the world. But, as in past years, vindictiveness, jealousy and ill-feeling is rife and there are places in the world where the Christmas spirit will not be known.

We observe December 25 as the anniversary of the birth of Jesus, although the exact date of this anniversary is a much confused one. The December 25 date, which many scholars think to have been an arbitrary date set at the request of the Bishop of Jerusalem in the early Christian church, is now accepted by the vast majority of the world's Christians.

Christmas itself, as a day of observance, has held its ups and downs, and various customs which we follow at Christmastime have been derived from various countries at various times in past centuries.

For instance, the early Puritans at one time forbade the celebration of Christmas and any observance thereof, and in England, they ordered stores to remain open on Christmas Day. The General Court of Massachusetts in 1659 passed a law which made observance of Christmas a penal offense. And it was a number of years before there were general observances of Christmas Day in New England as a result of this attitude.

The predominating theme at Christmas time is one of religious observance and giving in the modern world. For children, it is their happiest day of the year, and for adults, it should be the most soberly enjoyed day of personal religious satisfaction and dedication.

The recent trend toward over-commercialization of Christmas, and the tendency of some to observe this religious anniversary with out-of-tune celebrations, should be guarded against. Make Christmas Day, 1954, a day of genuine Christmas spirit through your own religious dedication and thanksgiving, and by a genuine resolve to further the cause of peace on earth and good will to all.

Bible Comment:

Transfiguration Of Jesus Inspired Apostles

IT is a truism that every event or happening must have an adequate cause or explanation. It may not always be easily determined, but it is always there.

In the history of human affairs, especially in man's religious history, nothing is more remarkable than the transformation of three Galilean fishermen and their apostolic fellows of equally humble origin, into builders and world leaders.

For such they soon became as they obeyed their Master's command to go into all the world and preach the Gospel, and make disciples of all nations.

Once the worldly ambitions of these earnest, intense young men were overcome and they discovered the true nature of the kingdom Jesus was to establish, there was much in all their contacts with Him to develop vision and action.

But when one seeks the causes of all they became and did, one fact and experience stands out above all else: the Transfiguration of Jesus when Peter, James and John went up with Him onto the mountain.

The vision given there was limited to the three. And as they came down from the mountain they were told they should tell no man of the vision "until the Son of man be risen again from the dead," a saying that may well have puzzled them at the time.

But the story of the Transfiguration became well known after the Resurrection. In addition to all the rich memories of Jesus, it must have been to all the disciples, as the three prominent leaders made it known, a powerful incentive to conviction, inspiration and courage, all vitally needed in the times of difficulty and danger that lay ahead.

FARM EVENTS

By MARVIN DAVENPORT

CALENDAR—
Tuesday, December 31—Sheep meeting with board of directors of Gaydon Blank of Michigan State College, plans for 1955.

Thursday, January 6—"Better Milking Clinic" Don Murray of Michigan State College, Plainfield Township Hall in Hale. Demonstrations on use of milking machines.

Tuesday, January 25—Barnyard Economics. Social Security for farmers.

Last week Mac Moore, Henry Larzelere from Michigan State College and I met some of Northern Michigan's forward looking poultry raisers. This group sat down to talk over the future of the poultry business. I wish I could have written shorthand and taken down every word. There was no need of urging these folks to talk. They came for a purpose and I truly believe they accomplished the purpose of talking over the future of our Isosco County poultrymen.

The question and comments came faster than I could write. I was not hesitating. Henry Larzelere explained why he felt our poultry and egg producers cannot afford to ship their produce south under the present conditions. One of the men present advised that it costs five cents a mile for a farmer to drive and deliver his eggs. (I have a seven year record that will back up that statement.) It was the conclusion of the group that our market is here in Isosco County with our tourist and resort trade.

The poultrymen present indicated they had a number of their customers buying eggs on a year around basis. Comments centered around how prices of eggs were determined. Newspaper, New York poultry market reports, radio and store prices were the most frequently mentioned.

The need for consumer and retailer education on how to store eggs came in for considerable discussion. Even farmers bring eggs to stores, set them down and walk away and expect the eggs to sell themselves! was one farmer's comment. "We need more advertising on selling a high quality product" was another suggestion.

A farmer can produce and sell to store keepers a grade "A" product, but if the store keeper doesn't keep them under proper storage conditions that grade "A" egg can be a grade "C" in three days.

At the same time every farmer has a responsibility for selling a high quality product. Collecting eggs often each day and storing them in a cool place is the starting point of a high quality egg. But even with a farmer and store keeper cooperating, if Mrs. Housewife persists in leaving the eggs outside the refrigerator for hours at a time she has no right to blame the store keeper.

The poultry people present pointed out the importance of handling and grading eggs according to size. Candling eggs would assure an egg free of blood and meat spots. A poultry producer can purchase a candler for the job at a very nominal cost. Nowadays there are egg scales that will accurately grade eggs according to weight. As one poultryman present said, if you sell a high quality product you'll keep your customers. He guarantees the quality of his eggs by telling his customers, "If you find one bad egg in a dozen, you'll get a dozen free." That's a real guarantee, but he is apparently positive of their quality, because he candles every egg.

When to raise the birds to take the greatest advantage of our seasonal markets was discussed by Mrs. Moore, Michigan State College poultry specialist, explained it this way. Get your chicks early—December or January. Sure it will cost you 25 cents to 30 cents extra to raise that early bird. Buy the sexed chicks of the best grade you can afford. Raise your chicks in confinement and put them in the laying house, no range. This will eliminate losses to coyote and fox, as well as cats and dogs. It takes a bird eight months to lay full size eggs. December birds would start laying in May. By late July or August you will have large eggs to sell.

Keep these birds until about November 20 and keep only those you need for those year around egg customers. Then start in again that fall with your chicks.

Henry Larzelere issued this warning: "The price of eggs will really be high in October of 1955. This year's experience will eliminate a lot of the 'in and outers' of the poultry business."

The folks present who asked questions and really carried on the discussion were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Williams with their son, Gary; James Larzelere of Twinning; Will Waters of Reno Township; Harold H. Heine of Loud Dam, Oscoda; Nelson Kramer of Twinning; Reuben Kaarre, vocational agricultural instructor from Oscoda; Fred C. Latta of Reno Township; Paul Miller of Paragon Feed Mills, Incorporated, of Whittemore, and Gerald Bellen of Burling Township.

Will Waters brought in several soil samples to send to the laboratory for testing. That is the only way to know how much lime, phosphorus and potash your soils need. Just very recently a farmer who had been using an 0-20-20 discovered he need only to apply an 0-20-0 on his next crop. That is what we mean by saving fertilizer dollars. It still may not be too late to take samples, particularly from that field you plan putting oats into next spring. In order for legume seedlings to receive maximum results from lime applications, the lime should be applied at least six months in advance of the seedings.

Serve Fruitcake in Many Ways All During the Holidays

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

FOR holiday parties, fruitcake is almost a "must." And today, with so many top-quality commercially baked fruitcakes to choose from, it is not necessary to bake your own.

For your festive buffet table, have a full punch bowl and lots of fruitcake served in different and attractive ways. Try some of these variations.

Party Sandwiches

Cut fruitcake into thin slices and spread with softened cream cheese. Top with another slice of fruitcake.

Sandwich Cakes

Cut fruitcake into one-inch slices, then cut each slice in half, to make dainty-size sandwich cake. Cover top with your favorite butter-cream frosting. Decorate with colored sugar, chopped nuts, or chopped cherry.

Fruitcake Melba

Place slice of fruitcake on individual dessert plate. Spread with strawberry or raspberry jam. Top with half a peach, cut-side down. Pour a small quantity of the peach syrup over all.

Fruitcake a la Mode

Serve vanilla ice cream on slices of fruitcake.

Fruitcake Pudding

Place thick slices of fruitcake in the top of a double boiler. Heat through. Place a slice on each dessert plate. Over the top, pour any desired pudding custard; hot lemon or sherry sauce.

Sparkling Punch—About One Gallon

Dissolve 3 cups sugar in 3 cups hot water. Cool. Add ¾ cup lemon juice and a 46-ounce can pineapple juice. Chill. At serving time add 3 pints sparkling water. Serve in punch bowl with ice block. Decorate with fresh or frozen strawberries. This makes about a gallon, or 30 to 40 small servings.

Pine-Tea Punch

Four cups boiling water, 1 cup tea leaves, 4 cups sugar, 4 cups cold water, 12 cups (two 46-ounce cans) pineapple juice, 2 cups lemon juice.

Add boiling water to tea leaves; let stand 5 minutes, then strain, add sugar, and stir until dissolved. Cool. Add other ingredients; chill. Serve in punch bowl with block of ice. This makes about 6 quarts, or 50 half-cup servings.

A Fruitcake Buffet will be a welcome treat for your guests.

MERSCHER CLEANERS

East Tawas

St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid met last Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Frederick Holzheuer's home on Thursday. Two new members, Mrs. Weiss and Mrs. E. Bernard, were present.

The yearly report showed many accomplishments during the year. The treasury is about the same as it was at the start of the year. The organization received two donations, one from Mrs. Hula who now lives in Chicago, the other from Mrs. Hince.

A quilt was turned in by Mrs. Wolfe who made it up for the Lutheran Children's Home in Bay City. The quilt was pieced together from material Mrs. Hula had given the aid.

The aid will help with the bags of nuts and candy to be given the children at the Christmas Eve party, and will also help make up baskets for the needy.

The young peoples group invited the ladies aid to a shower honoring Pastor Clenent's wife.

Pastor Clement talked to the women about having a curtain in back of the altar to beautify the church. The aid will help to make the curtain.

The family pot-luck Sunday dinner after church has been moved up to January 16, the third Sunday in January. All the congregation is invited to come to this and join in a Sunday afternoon of friendly atmosphere.

Mrs. Cora Johnson and Mrs. Dale Johnson shopped in the Tawas on Friday.

The young people of the Hale and Reno Baptist Churches had complete charge of the Sunday evening services, with special quartette, clarinet and flute numbers.

Lewis Redmond and family and William Redmond and family of Mt. Pleasant were week-end guests of the Roy Redmonds.

Elwood McMurray attended the annual banquet and meeting of the Northern Racing Association in Traverse City on Friday night. A trophy was presented to Mr. McMurray for his horse, Michigan Pat.

MORE THAN 40 TO 1

TRUCKS serve you night and day — bringing you everything you eat, wear, or use—but that's not all!

Trucks pay as they serve — and pay handsomely — for a large portion of the money that goes to build Michigan's roads, schools, and hospitals comes out of the registration fees, gasoline taxes and property taxes paid by the owners of the trucks that serve Michigan.

It takes the road taxes paid by more than 40 automobiles to equal those paid by just one large truck-trailer! Dollar-wise, the comparison is around $45.00 for the average passenger car against nearly $2,000 for the average large truck-trailer.

No wonder they say trucks pay their way — and more.

With the losco 4-H Clubs

By DOROTHY SCOTT

Ten members of Hale 4-H Club met at the home of Mrs. Everett Douglass on December 2. Several members were absent on account of illness. Certificates and pins were presented for 1954 work by Miss Scott. Sherrill Scofield will be sending a news story about their meeting and plans for next week.

The Shaws were host to the Alabaster 4-H Club meeting on December 3. Mr. Davenport was there to present certificates and pins. He says Jack Furst and Ronnie McCormick talked with him about a demonstration. A good and early start on demonstrations is the best idea in the world. Give yourselves lots of time to work and re-work it so that you can do a really top-notch job of presentation when contest time comes around.

On Saturday morning Larry Frank and William Laidlaw came in to talk about demonstrations in their 4-H Club. As junior leaders these boys will also be able to give help and encouragement to other members of Laidlawville 4-H Club.

Why not a "practice and improve" clinic on demonstration soon after the New Year? Everyone having plans for a demonstration, or wanting to get ideas for a topic could get together and help each other. If you like that idea, let us know.

A real old-time country school Christmas program on December 21 will be presented by members of Laidlawville 4-H Club. This decision was made after a lengthy discussion among 29 4-H Club members present for their regular community meeting at the school building on December 1. (Sounds like fun!)

The reporter says that everyone seemed to have the holiday spirit and the meeting was interesting and enjoyable. Must be that everyone was extremely agreeable, too, for the president, Larry Frank, is said to have commented that directing a good, restrained meeting is as tiring as it is to do the chores.

All kidding aside, Larry is doing a marvelous job and with the kind of support he has from the other 28 members, all Laidlawville will again be proud of the accomplishments made by their young people.

Next regular meeting of this 4-H Club is January 5.

Feeding and caring for calves was the subject for discussion at the Friendship 4-H Club beef project on November 22 at the Roy Coates home.

"All but two members have their calves now, so we plan to tour the different farms to see them at our next project meeting," Phyllis Herriman, reporter.

The weekly electrical project meeting was held at Aulerich's shop on Wednesday, November 24. Attending were Ronald Aulerich, Roger Mott, David Sturtevant and Paul Edie.

"We are all working hard. The first project boys have two articles done and the second project boys have their first one almost done," Paul Edie, reporter.

CONSUMERS PRICES

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported a drop in consumer prices for the third straight month. The October level was 0.8 percent lower than the peak hit a year earlier, but was 12.5 percent higher than the pre-Korean level of June 1950. The Labor Department also announced an increase in factory employment in the country.

"Talking Sense" is a television program we want to call to your attention. You can see it at 1:00 p. m. Wednesdays, on WNEM-TV, Channel 5, Bay City. Programs are provided by members of the Michigan State College staff and the topics are varied. For example, the December 15 program is titled, "Who Sets Milk Prices?" On December 22 a very timely topic is coming along, "Income Tax Tips." You can find out what is new and pick up tax saving ideas by seeing this show.

We will attempt to keep you informed ahead of time, from now on, as to the topic for discussion on each of these TV programs.

Looking ahead to the near future we would like to suggest you try some popcorn or cereal figures as an extra something for the children's Christmas stocking.

Make your usual recipe for popcorn or cereal balls, but tint the syrup with red or green food coloring. Press the mixture into greased molds, cookie cutters or shape by hand (greased hands). Why not a wreath shape made from a ring mold, a star in a star-shaped cookie cutter, or a Christmas tree made by shaping a cone in your hands?

You can set your tree on three cherries or a large gumdrop base, even decorate the tree with small gumdrops. To do this, first heat a pan until a drop of water dropped on it sizzles; then hold the base of the gumdrop to the pan for a few seconds to melt the bottom of it, then stick it onto the popcorn tree.

The children will love a cereal or popcorn snowman, too. First make a ball. Add a marshmallow head with two dots of chocolate for eyes, a cinnamon candy nose, a strip of red candied cherry for a mouth. A whole cherry placed on top makes a hat. Fasten the head and hat on with a toothpick stuck into the ball and extending out far enough to go all the way through the marshmallow head and keep the cherry on.

If you are making fruit cakes this year, try to improve their attractiveness with decorations and glazes on top.

First wait until the cakes are cool. Then glaze with an apricot or corn syrup glaze, simply brush the cool cakes with the hot glaze, decorate and then brush again with the glaze. Glazes add a pleasing flavor to a fruit cake.

Decorating materials include perfect whole blanched almonds, pecan halves, candied fruits and moist candied citron. Candied cherries are left whole, cut in halves or petal shaped pieces to make designs resembling pointsettias. Citron is sliced thin, cut into shapes of berries and leaves to form wreaths of holly and mistletoe.

When the glaze is thoroughly dry, prepare your cakes for storage. They must be wrapped in moisture-proof cellophane and sealed with Scotch tape, or wrap snugly with aluminum foil. A tin box or stone crock is an ideal storage spot. Keep it cool, but don't allow freezing.

Quick fillings for Christmas cookies are jams and jellies, canned apple butter, pieces of semi-sweet chocolate, jam mixed with chopped nuts, raisins and chopped nuts, or peanut butter moistened with orange juice.

"Christmas Decorations," the bulletin which a good many of our home demonstration group members wanted, has been reprinted. We will have a new supply here at the Extension Service office within a few days. If you would still like to have one this year, place your request right away and we will deliver it before Christmas.

Nine home demonstration council members representing four of the groups met for December council meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald MacDonald on December 6. Mrs. Richard Brindley was selected to be council reporter, and will have the story of this meeting for you. Watch for it elsewhere in the paper.

Christian Science

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Man's God-given dominion over materialism, including the so-called laws of chance and misfortune, is brought out in the readings from the Bible, among which is the account of Paul's restoration of Eutychus, the young man who "fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (424-5): "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

"CEE, CHIEF, I'M SORRY" —Brian Cullinan, 4, wrings his hands as he finds the passenger special is due to meet a freight head-on just out of this picture. "Chief Engineer" Daniel Dunning, 8, son of actress Celeste Holm, is highly skeptical of the explanation. The boys were enjoying a pre-Christmas display of a New York City toy train manufacturer.

A good Christmas idea is to see that Santa Claus does not miss any of the boys and girls in this community this year.

Cranbrook Botanist Gives Pointers on Christmas Trees

Making a Christmas tree last longer and reducing fire hazard are two problems facing millions of families this time of year.

Three general rules are offered by Dr. Marion T. Hall, botanist at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

1. Keep the tree in a cool place whenever possible.
2. Keep it moist.
3. Fireproof it at least partially.

The newly acquired tree should be sprayed or sprinkled with water. Then about an inch of wood should be removed from the butt in a slanting cut (45 degrees). This cut end is placed in a pail of water, and the tree stored in a cool place until time for decorating. Before it is decorated, the tree should be set in a waterbath type stand to which water is added daily.

Partial fireproofing may be accomplished by spraying the tree with a mixture of water-glass (soluble sodium silicate). Use nine parts of water-glass to one part water. Add one teaspoon of detergent.

While water-glass gives an attractive sheen and helps prevent fire, the tree's rich supply of resin is still inflammable if carefully brought into contact with fire or excess heat.

Reports that water solutions of various chemicals, such as ammonium sulphate, will prevent needle fall, have not been scientifically proved, according to Doctor Hall. An adequate supply of water alone should do as well.

Americans seeking a "renewal of faith" have brought this country to the threshold of a "great spiritual awakening and revival." Protestant leaders were recently told.

Legislative Committee Would Clamp Down on Gamblers

The legislative committee representing Michigan law enforcement agencies has proposed the introduction of legislation to make the holding, owning, possession or payment of the tax for a federal gambling stamp prima facie evidence in the prosecution of the individual for violation of the state gambling laws.

The committee, meeting at Michigan State Police Headquarters in East Lansing, includes representatives of the state associations of circuit judges, prosecuting attorneys, chiefs of police, sheriffs and the attorney general and the commissioner of state police. It is a permanently organized group.

Persons engaged in gambling as an occupation are required to have the federal wagering stamps. Their occupations are not violations of federal laws, but they are of state laws.

The proposed state law provides that upon trial of such persons, proof of the owning, holding possession of the stamp shall be sufficient evidence to convict of the violation of the state gambling laws.

Similar laws have been enacted in Alabama and Florida, it was reported, and have been upheld by the courts.

The committee also approved a number of other legislative proposals and endorsed re-submitting a bill for a statutory presumption of intoxication on the results of chemical tests in drunk driving cases.

As its final action, the committee re-elected Donald S. Leonard, former state and De-

"We need more blood donors," was the plea of Richard L. Harwood, chairman of the Isosco County Chapter, American Red Cross. "We have heavy demands and our blood bank is used up. Our estimated need is 350 pints per year, but we have been using more than that," he said.

Seek Removal of Deer Herd Control from Department of Conservation
Roscommon County sportsmen are expressing their opinion of the "any-deer" regulation made by the Department of Conservation. The department has been flooded with letters of protest from that area. Two meetings have been held in that county and a petition was sent to the state legislature asking that deer herd control be removed from the department.

Iosco Cribbage Club Organized Last Week
Cribbage players of the area organized the Iosco Cribbage Club at a meeting held Friday evening at the Holland Hotel. Starting Friday, January 7, the club will meet every Friday evening during January, February and March. It will be continued longer if desired by the members. The meetings will be held in Room 9, Holland Hotel.

A spokesman for the club said that anyone interested in joining the club should report at Room 9 on January 7. Players must have played 75 games in the series to be eligible for prizes, he said.

Diz Trout Honored at Standish Luncheon Last Week
Quipped Diz Trout after being introduced at a luncheon in his honor at Standish last week, "That introduction was longer than I usually pitched." The former Detroit pitcher kept the audience in an uproar during the rest of the program, with remarks such as this, "Yogi Berra has offered to pay me to leave radio and come back to pitching—claims his batting average has dropped 40 points since I retired."

Trout is one of baseball's memorable characters. Quite often the fan overlooks his splendid record with the Tigers. The "Old Diz," they recall now, is the fellow who use to sit down on the mound and dry his glasses with a big red bandanna during a tight situation; or the player who set his sights on the fence at every opportunity, and quite often delivered.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor,
As a resident and property owner in our Tawas School Area, as well as a former schoolman, who still retains a warm interest in the worth and the future of our young people and a deep concern respecting the general welfare of all our citizens, may I be allowed, in connection with the project of providing more adequate facilities of public school education, to express a warning or two which, in the course of our discussions, we may overlook and which we may deeply regret in a future day?

Nothing is worse for a man or for a people than to lose aim or sense of direction. And this loss we are in danger of incurring unless we keep our eye on the ball. If anything is costly, it is strife. And the most terrible price will be paid, not in taxes, but in damaged characters and sick personalities, who will be unable to stand up to life, nor to get the most good out of it.

For, of what good is a knowledge of reading, writing, and arithmetic, if a boy or girl grows up to be a grasping, selfish, quarrelsome and antagonistic person who has to have everything come his or her way, or she or he puts on a tantrum, and has not learned the satisfaction of loving and practicing good will and cooperation with his or her fellowmen. In building a school it behooves us to be certain that we are not destroying human lives in the process.

For this is our situation: Our young people are setting us older people a better example of harmonious living than we are putting before them just now. From different areas they come to school and mingle with each other in studies, sports, and common fellowship, and with no signs of curtains of prejudice, envy, ill-humor drawn between them. They are learning to defrost what opaque windows there may be of self-interest, differing backgrounds and viewpoints, through which they see each other, for better understanding. They look with surprise, if not with chagrin, disdain and disappointment, at those whom they wish to look for counsel and encouragement, the so-called "adult" members of society, only to find them quarreling, in bitter dissension, in adolescent patterns of behavior. It is confusing and disheartening to them, that these who brought them into the world, and who profess to love them, should seem to overlook their real worth and real needs in holding back the construction of a decent school because they have allowed clouds of community envy, narrow prejudices, selfish, personal interests to obscure the goal of the common good.

This lesson of history is as plain as the nose on our face: That quarreling is a social disease that sometimes reaches epidemic proportions, exacting pitiful consequences in community disunity, insecurity, immorality, general debility and unhappiness. Its greatest sufferers are the young, whose character are marred and retarded in their wholesome growth, and, in instances, are given an initial push toward criminality. A responsible and alert society will set itself to cure these conditions, to stop these fatalities and to foster a happy, brotherly way of solving its problems and of living together. To such a community people are drawn for business and residence purposes. They are repelled where self-restraint and peaceful cooperation are absent. In this enlightened day we adults should be our age, and solve our problems as grownup Christians should do, and as amicable members of our Tawas Area School family, not as immature problem-children.

It was the statesman, Edmund Burke, who said, "We can never walk surely but by being sensible of our blindness." Let us take a second look at ourselves, correct our failings, and mix a little humor with love of others to act as a lubricant in our dealings with one another. There is a happy way of solving problems. For our children's sake, if not for ourselves, let us find it! Then pleasant, not regretful, memories will be ours!

Sincerely,
W. J. Dudgeon
Star Route B,
East Tawas.

To the Editor:
(The True Christmas Spirit)
"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." A beautiful portrayal of neighborly love was displayed at Hale on Tuesday, December 7. It is a wonderful thing when a people of every faith, creed and nationality can work together for the welfare of one of their members when he has need of friends and assistance. The benefit dinner the people of Hale gave for Herman Huber was a masterpiece in teamwork and cooperation, as well as, in responsive attendance. They should surely be commended.

Mr. Huber is a rich man, indeed, to be blessed with so many fine friends. It would be well if the people of this area could learn a lesson from this incident. If by teamwork we could build a school with a home economics room, with facilities to prepare enough food and a gymnasium to accommodate the number of people who attended that benefit dinner, we might well be proud of our achievement.

Hale surely ranks high in our opinion.
Orville Leslie and Sons.
Hale, Michigan
December 10

Tawas Herald,
Dear Mr. Thornton:
Our many, many thanks to this little community of Hale and all those who attended and sold tickets for the benefit supper. Words can never express how grateful we are to each one. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wyatt, the Rev. Jack Richards, Mr. Helmbold for the use of the school cafeteria and gymnasium; Mrs. Marge McCellan, St. Paul's Ladies Aid, the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church, the Women's Missionary Council of the Assembly of God Church, the Hale Grange, the Eastern Stars, Auxiliary of the Glen Staley post, the Dorcas Society of the Baptist Church, Altar Society of St. Pius X Church, for all their work and planning that made our benefit supper such a big success.

Also a heartfelt thanks for the many cards and gifts, and the people who gave blood for me during my illness. I am sincerely grateful.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Huber and family.

CANCER SOCIETY THANKS WOMEN OF COMMUNITY

The Iosco County Unit of the American Cancer Society wishes to thank the ladies in the Community Church of Alabaster, in the St. Mary's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, and the Ladies Aid of the Emanuel Lutheran Church, Tawas City, for making the hundreeds of dressings needed during the past few months. Their cooperation and spirit of public service are deeply appreciated, states Mrs. Herbert Hertzler, county chairman of volunteer activities.

Doctor Coburn, who is associated with work at Iowa State Psychiatric Hospital in Iowa City, Iowa, gave the third annual Henry Brooks Baker Memorial lecture, sponsored on December 6 at the University of Michigan by the School of Public Health and Michigan TB Association.

Block Methods to Prevent TB—A leading psychiatrist charges that "unhealthy mental attitudes" partly block measures to prevent tuberculosis. Dr. Frank E. Coburn, associate professor of psychiatry at Iowa State University, says that some people, fearing they are sick, may put off having an examination for TB.

"There are even false overtones that there is something evil or sinful in having tuberculosis, something to be hidden from other people," the Iowa psychiatric authority declared.

The psychiatrist cited gains against TB which offer reassurance to persons worried about the disease. For one thing, he said new treatment methods are in many cases shortening the length of time needed for recovery.

One of the tasks undertaken by Christmas Seal proceeds, the TB association added, is "bringing the facts into the open about this disease, which can be controlled through vigilant, joint efforts."

Kiwanis Club Furnishes Polio Fund Leadership

The Kiwanis Club has furnished the leadership over the past few years for the Iosco County polio drives. The members are proud to be associated with the annual drives which secure the necessary funds for the county. Due to severity of the cases within the county, it has been necessary over the years to call on the national foundation for additional assistance.

The liberal contribution made each year by industry, business, associations, organizations and individuals has made it possible to meet the campaign quotas.

During the emergency this year, making it necessary for an additional drive, voluntary contributions were received from every section of the county.

The officers in charge of the campaign wish to thank those who took the initiative to give this additional assistance, and also thank the contributors once again for their help during the annual campaign.

At the present time the county committee lists the following officers: Kiwanians Jack Watkins, chairman; E. D. "Doc" Jacques, and Nathan Barkman, co-chairmen of the campaign, and Albert Buch, treasurer.

The committee will be more than happy to cooperate in any manner in which they can. Do not hesitate to call on them.

As a combination of art and information, this book is unexcelled.

"An Anthology of World Poetry," New enlarged edition, (Harcourt $7.50) Those well worn words "a literary event" may well be pressed once more into service describing this volume. This is a book, long needed, which reflects great credit upon its editor and its publishers. There can be no doubt that Mr. VanDoren's volume will make for itself a secure place among the few anthologies which really matter. A book it is a pleasure to name and a joy to own.

"The Birds of America" by John James Audubon, (MacMillan $8.95) The two hundred copies of the original edition of Audubon's great work, published in the 1830s, are now among the rarest of collectors' items, and though a number of popular versions have since been issued, this is the first definitive one, containing all the 435 plates that made up the original.

"The American Guide" by Henry Garfield Alsberg, (Hastings House $7.50) This book is the logical extension of the Works Progress Administration's separate guide books for the individual states, and now essentially the same kind of information has been compressed into one big volume.

"Solving the High Cost of Eating" by Ida Bailey Allen, (Farrar, Straus and Young $3.95) Doctor Allen is no Johnny-come-lately in the field of home economics. For 25 years she has been studying and writing about food, and this is her 45th cookbook.

"The Rodgers and Hart Song Book" edited by Richard Rodgers, (Simon and Schuster $7.50) It is in every way a triumph, and an especially welcome one for those who have not managed to hang on to their old sheet music, and who are hereby given a chance to read again the complete verses and choruses of Lorenz Hart's lyrics. They turn out to be just as graceful, witty, tactful, and free from the struck attitude as they seemed when they first appeared.

Other titles are: "Masterpieces of World Literature in Digest Form" edited by Frank N. Magil, (Harper $5.95)

"The Complete Book of Home Modernizing" by Samuel Paul, (Stuttman $5.95)

"The Reptiles of North America" by Raymond L. Litmars, (Doubleday $7.50)

"The Radio Amateur's Handbook" by Frederick Collins, (Crowell $3.50)

On Thursday, December 16, the Bookmobile visited in Sterling and on Friday, December 17, Sherman School, Arenac Eastern School and Twining downtown will be visited. These visits will conclude the Bookmobile stops for December. Starting with January 3, regular schedule will be resumed.

U. S. MEAT SUPPLIES

Meat-producing animals in the United States now total about 173,800,000. These include 94,700,000 cattle and calves, 48,200,000 hogs and 30,900,000 sheep and lambs. The cattle total is of record size.

George Says...

"Success comes to those who use their leisure." Listed below are a few titles which would make excellent Christmas gifts, and each of these books may be borrowed from your branch library or Bookmobile.

"The White and the Gold" by Thomas B. Costain, (Garden City $5.00) Sound historical scholarship and Costain's facile narrative style are happily combined in this account of the French regime in Canada. The book is the first of a series on Canadian history, which may be the most important work in this field since Francis Parkman's great contributions of nearly 100 years ago.

"The Oxford Companion to the Theatre" edited by Phyllis Hartnoll, (Oxford University Press $9.00) This remarkable compilation is irresistible. Its bulky weight may first seem somewhat forbidding—it is impossible, however, to read three pages of it without becoming absorbed. One begins by dipping at random, but soon finds it impossible to come upon any paragraph that does not fascinate, amuse and inform.

"The MacMillan Wild Flower Book." Text by Clarence J. Hylander and illustrated by Edith Farrington Johnson, (MacMillan $15.00) In this book is a panorama of wild flowers with which nature so generously decorates the land throughout the year. Beautiful water colors have caught these flowers in all their colors, pattern and texture, to make such life-like portraits that the flowers can easily be identified in their natural habitat and also studied with increasing pleasure at each turning of the book pages. The text, covering 500 plants, is brief and informative, providing just the supplementary knowledge every flower lover needs.

Santa Claus will be at our store Tuesday night, December 21, at 7:00 p.m. to visit with the kiddies.

Take your flash camera outdoors at night. You can make interesting pictures against the darkness which forms a perfect background.

Flash Pictures at Night

All flashes that come in the night needn't be lightning. Some of them ought to be coming from your flash camera. Pictures of people taken outdoors at night may seem like a strange idea at first thought, but there's certainly nothing difficult about getting them—and they are different.

Of course, you can't illuminate a large area with one little flash bulb. But by shooting at about six feet, you can't miss. The flash will light your subject and the darkness of the night will give you a perfect background for them.

of the two carollers beside a street lamp which sheds light on the sheets of music they hold, is well within the reach of your simple camera with flash attachment.

Don't worry about the street light. The flash is so much stronger at its peak that the other light won't matter at all—except to add interest to your picture.

Outdoor nighttime activities such as skating parties, sleigh rides, and the like, offer wonderful opportunities for your flash camera.

One of the very best things about taking your flash camera outdoors at night is that the resulting pictures are so very impressive. It's hard to believe that you can do them with the simplest of cameras.—John Van Guilder only property suitable for building the new school.

In other matters taken up during the meeting, Superintendent Mick reported that the hot lunch program proved to be self-supporting during the first month of operation at the East Tawas unit.

The board authorized Superintendent Mick to purchase five typewriters in accordance with the replacement program. The purchase of five additional typewriters was authorized at a later date.

December 9, 1954

Mr. Walter Niles
Route No. 2
Tawas City, Michigan
Dear Sir:

This letter is being sent to you as secretary of the Board of Education of Tawas Rural Agricultural District No. 1 Fractional, of Isoco and Arenac Counties, Michigan.

Please be advised that I have been authorized by a group of the electors of said district to commence and prosecute proceedings in the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan for the purpose of dissolving said school district on the ground that the same was not legally organized.

Please also be advised that I have evidence in my possession to substantiate the claim of my clients in this respect.

As you know, substantial segments of the electorate of the so-called Tawas Area school district are unalterably opposed to the recent action of your board in selecting the so-called Tawas City site for the location of a proposed new school building and other school facilities. These same people are of the opinion that your action calling an election on a proposal to bond the district, to be held on December 22 next, is hasty and ill-considered. The principal purpose of this letter is to give you an opportunity to rescind the action calling said election before we file our quo-warranto action in the supreme court to dissolve the district. Should your board advise us, through me, promptly that you have taken action to rescind the calling of the election for December 22 next, my group will agree to defer the filing of said action in an effort to resolve the problems of the district in such a way as to avoid its dissolution. Although such legal action may be deferred you should have in mind that serious legal defects in the organization of the district will exist and that these defects will continue to imperil the existence of the district and the validity of any bond issue which might be approved by the voters of the district, and that these defects should be studied and carefully considered before any bond issue is submitted to the voters.

You should also bear in mind that the mere existence of a question as to the legality of your school district will probably have the effect of making your bonds totally unsalable. It is my suggestion that your district has much to gain by rescinding the action calling for the election of December 22 and that you will gain nothing by proceeding with the election in the face of the proposed action to dissolve the district.

It is also the feeling of the very large group which I represent that your board has not taken any effective action toward acquiring the so-called fairgrounds or Beale Nursery site as the proposed location of a new school building for the district. It is also my own opinion that a good faith effort to obtain this site would be successful in a comparatively short period of time, and that should such a site be selected by your board as the proposed location of a new school building for the district, the differences presently existing in your district could be amicably composed.

Very truly yours,
A. J. Kinnane

Braves Split in Two Games This Week

The Tawas Area Braves split the decision in two basketball games played this week. Last Friday night the Braves won over a determined Rogers City team, 58-55, and on Tuesday dropped a decisive 71-29 loss to Bay City St. Stanislaus.

In their first win of the season last Friday, the Braves pulled the game out of the fire in the last quarter by scoring 19 points and then limited the opposition to three points. Going into the fourth quarter the Tawas Area five trailed by a 44-29 score.

With seconds left to play, Bob Morley tied the score at 47-47. Two overtime periods were required to decide the winner and at the end of the first overtime period the score was knotted at 55-55. In the second overtime, Bob Hester by a 48 score, a hander to decide the ball game.

A total of 64 fouls were called by the officials during the game, Rogers City being charged with 38 and Tawas with 26.

Darwood Leopard led in the scoring total, Morley followed with 17 points. The Tawas JV's lost to Rogers City 34-29. Carl Nemeth was high for Tawas with 11 points. The Tawas Area team led at halftime by a 18 score.

It was St. Stans all the way as the Braves suffered their second defeat of the year last Tuesday night. The Bay City team showed plenty of class by overpowering the Braves with a 71-29 score in the half-time. The Braves meshed 14 points in the final stanza but the Stans played steadily throughout the game to win easily.

Individual high scoring honorees for the Braves went to Bob Morley, who garnered 11 points. Leonard Nemeth was high for Tawas in a losing cause with 11 points.

The Braves will be inactive during the Christmas holidays, with the next game scheduled against Oscoda, here, on January 7.
