Auto Accident in Nevada Fatal to Ray A. Thompson

Was President of Anderson Coach Co.

Funeral Services Will Be Held

Ray A. Thompson, president of the Anderson Coach Company of East Tawas, was killed a short time before noon Tuesday on the coast of Nevada. The remains will be brought here Saturday. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

Mr. Thompson, who had been on a three weeks vacation in the west, was on his way to Chicago where he would have joined J. E. Jensen, vice president and general manager of the company, Wednesday at the Chicago coach show where new models of the Anderson Coach are being shown. Enroute to Chicago, Mr. Thompson had been visiting Anderson Coach dealers in various cities. Details of the accident are meager at this time, but an early report of the death was confirmed Wednesday morning by a telegram from the county of Clark county, Nevada, where the accident occurred. It was stated that Mr. Thompson's car, a British Jaguar, rolled over while traveling around a sharp curve in the highway near Erie. Mr. Jensen and James Guest, treasurer of the company, left Wednesday by plane for Nevada.

The Anderson Coach Company located its plant at East Tawas in 1947. Originally in the business with Mr. Thompson were Rex Anderson and Charles Scheldens. Several years ago, Mr. Anderson left the company. Upon its reorganization last year, Mr. Thompson became sole owner of the stock in the company. During the six years it has been in operation here the Anderson plant has become one of the leading producers in the field with dealers in all sections of the United States. In that time the plant's production increased from one unit to six per day.

Men closely associated with Mr. Thompson in the management and operation of the company gave assurance yesterday that the business of the company would not be discontinued because of Mr. Thompson's death. Previous to coming here, Mr. Thompson was with the Roycraft Trailer Company of Chebaning, born April 27, 1913, at Detroit, he studied accounting and engineering at Wayne University. Braves Win from Hale and Whittemore Tawas City Has 8 Miles of Water Main

Romeo High School Will Play Here Tonight at Gymnasium

The Tawas Area Braves gained wins over two other county schools in their last two games, a 59-39 win over Hale Friday and a 65-48 victory over Whittemore Tuesday. The Friday night game was played at Hale, while the Tuesday contest was played at the Tawas Area Gymnasium.

The Defibaughmen got the jump on Hale in the first quarter, taking a 17-2 lead. In the second quarter Hale upped its scoring punch, but Tawas at the half was still leading by a 15 point margin, 31-16. At the third quarter the score stood 43-28 and at the final bell, 59-39.

Morley and Anschuetz were the leading point getters, with Morley sinking 25 and Anschuetz, 17. E. Clement was high for rebounds with 17.

After a late start because of the bad weather Tuesday night, Tawas Area went on to win from Whittemore 65-48. Dan Snick and John Maddock of Midland, regular referees for night, were held up by bad roads and were unable to reach Tawas. Forsten and Plintkowski, Tawas Area teachers, took over and did a creditable job.

Tawas again pulled away fast and at the half, enjoyed a 43-15 lead.

Every Tawas player made at least one point, with Morley and Anschuetz again leading in that department with 19 and 16 points, respectively. Bower for Whittemore made 16 points followed by Hall and Pregel with 14 each.

The Tawas Junior Varsity also won both their games, 39-17 over Hale and 34-12 against Whittemore.

Tonight, Friday, February 19, Romeo High School will play Tawas Area at the local gymnasium. (See Basketball, back page)

Ladies, young and old, are asked to bring boxes with name inside. The boxes will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. The committee set the "Shaving Permits" at $3.00. These will go on sale in the near future.

All money received from Centennial functions will be turned over to the City Park Fund after Centennial expenses are paid.

Tawas City Has 8 Miles of Water Main

A report made by Martin Kasischke, superintendent of public works, to the Tawas City Common Council at a regular meeting Monday evening reveals that the city has nearly eight miles of water main and over six miles of sewer main now in operation. This is the result of an 18 year continuous program of public improvements.

Construction by the department during the past 18 months included the sewage lift pumping station at the junction of Lake Street and US-23 in the third ward; 2,200 feet of force main on Lake Street; 1,400 feet of sewer main on Ninth Avenue, and 1,000 feet of sewer main on Pine and North Streets.

Kasischke reported that plans are now complete for the construction of 1,150 feet of Lake Street sewer main south of the junction with Mathew Street at Choler's Garage. The plans were prepared by City Engineer Clifford Spicer, but the work of securing easements has not been completed. It is anticipated that construction of this project will be during the coming summer.

The city council has authorized the construction of a sewer main west on Harris Avenue to the city limits.

An appraisal would reveal that the people of Tawas City own about a half million dollars worth of substantial useful public improvements in the water and sewer departments. An itemized list would include:

Water Department—one-inch main 740 feet; two-inch main, 7632.8 feet; four-inch main 11,359.9 feet; six-inch main 20,912.7 feet; eight-inch main, 74 feet; three wells and pumping stations; three turbine pumps; standpipe and elevated storage tank; necessary tools and equipment for maintenance.

Sewer Department—32,117.8 feet of eight-inch main; lift stations at disposal plant; Lynn Street; Second Avenue; and junction of Lake Street and US-23; seven lift pumps; disposal plant; maintenance equipment.

Sports Figure of The Week

Cpl. Thomas I. Tate, personnel record clerk for B Company, is your editor's selection for the outstanding sports personality of the week. Serving as captain of the Engineers cage team, Tom has been one of the prime factors in the uphill struggle of the 43rd to gain basketball recognition. With a team lacking height and experience, the Engineers are in the thick of the fight in the battalion basketball league. Tate in 10 league games has ripped the cords for 184 points to pace the team to a 6 to 4 record. Any story on Tom would be incomplete without a few words about his ability behind home-plate in baseball. With Jacobson on the mound and Tate doing the catching chores, that battery brought a baseball championship to Tokorozawa this past summer. Having been a member of the Philadelphia Phils farm system before entering the service, Tom has brought to the Engineers that fighting spirit characteristic of the Phils. He is a game competitor, a good sport, and a player of exceptional ability. When you leave next month, Tom, sports at Tokorozawa will suffer a severe loss. Best wishes when you become Mr. Tate—43rd Engineers Sports Roundup.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Tate of Alabaster. He is leaving Japan for the states this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Allen have received word from their son, William Allen, that he is now stationed in the Philippines. William spent the holidays with his parents in McVoy before being sent overseas. He graduated from Tawas City High School in 1952 before enlisting in the Navy. He has received training in California, Kansas and Oklahoma.

His address is: W. E. Allen, A. M. A. N., Faslon 119, c/o Fleet, P. O. San Francisco, California.

W. E. SLAVEN STORE CHANGES OWNERSHIP

The Slaven Grocery at Tawas City, established about eight years ago by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slaven and one of the leading food markets in this area, has been purchased by Joseph O'Day of Lansing and Jacob Miller of Gaylord. The sale was completed last week.

In announcing the purchase, Mr. Miller said: "We picked Tawas City as the town in which we are going to like to work and live."

"We will at all times do our best to maintain the high standard of merchandise and service enjoyed by the people of the community" which has been so successfully given by Mr. and Mrs. Slaven.

"The new name of this food shopping center will be the Park-V-Stop Super Market. Watch for our grand opening with many food values. Our experience in the food line makes us feel that we can offer you the best for less."

The new owners come to Tawas City with an extensive background and experience in the food line, operating stores at Gaylord, Vanderbilt, Bellaire and Lansing. Mr. O'Day has managed several Kroger meat departments, also their meat here, he has meat supervisor at the Lee and Cady company.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. O'Day are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Slaven and daughter, Janet, left Wednesday for a tour through Mexico. They expect to spend a month, at least, in visiting the interesting and historic places in Old Mexico before returning to their home here. Mr. Slaven has taken his camera and will bring back the story of the trip in pictures. Mr. and Mrs. Slaven have been spending their winter vacation in Mexico for several years.

"Plans as to my future business activities are indefinite," Mr. Slaven said Monday. "The operation of a food market is here, these days and we expect to do it. Resting, but we are going to remain in Tawas City."

The Slavens came here from Saginaw, residing in the Bay View Subdivision for about a year before opening their food market on May 1, 1946. The building at the corner of Lake and Mathew Streets in which this market is located, had been a furniture store for more than 40 years. Among these operators were John Armstrong, E. L. King and the W. A. Evans Furniture Company.

On its purchase by Mr. Slaven, the building was completely remodeled and equipped as a super market. A large parking area adjacent to the market was established by Mr. Slaven for his customers and the public in general. At a strategic location on two main streets through the city, the venture proved successful from its opening day.

"This philosophy reflects the beliefs of the voters in this district to the best of my knowledge. Until I received word of a change in that philosophy, I should continue to be an enemy of waste and extravagance in state government."

Your Chamber of Commerce

Next week is the beginning of the annual Membership Drive of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. A representative of the Chamber will contact each businessman and businesswoman and interested individuals in the Tawas and surrounding community in the near future.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage, promote and foster civic, economic and social activities among its members and the citizens of the Tawas and vicinity in connection with community improvements, expansion, public safety, morals and general welfare, and continued efforts toward sound economics, representative forms of government.

The Chamber of Commerce, a non-profit organization, is your community's biggest booster. It lays the ground work for many vacationers by sending out perch and smelt cards and news releases to sports announcers on the different radio and T-V networks and to downstate newspapers. Helpful information on tourist accommodations, housing, activities and many other questions asked by the tourist, newcomer, or native resident is supplied through the C. of C. office.

The Chamber, which includes the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, East Tawas Retail Merchants Association, and the Resort Owners Division, operates its entire program for the betterment of the Tawas and the vicinity from a very limited budget. Funds for this purpose come mainly from Membership Dues and the proceeds from the Silver Valley Winter Sports activities.

Now it is time again for the payment of dues. This year, as always, your Chamber of Commerce needs financial assistance. Won't you be generous when the representative calls?

Maine Day Obligation

When next Monday comes, many thousands of veterans of the Spanish-American War, the Philippine Insurrection and the Boxer Uprising will gather at their meeting places and pledge anew their purpose of aid and succor to their comrades who gave so much for the country they love, for Monday will be Maine Day to them, a day of remembrance and the 56th anniversary of an incident in American history that has become all but lost in the moldy pages of events, and one that perhaps more than any other led to this country's acceptance of its destiny as a prime leader of the nations of the World.

Tucked away in the January issue of Good Housekeeping is a statement that warrants our challenge. In an article by William B. Meloney, entitled "Watered Silk," is this assertion: "Somehow the generations skipped the Spanish-American War; it wasn't much of a war anyhow and little to be proud of..." That has aroused some of our good friends equally as much as a recent remark by a prominent Alabama Senator who served in World War I and who, in paying his respects to servicemen, recalled thoughtlessly, that his was the first conflict in which Americans fought overseas. Sixty-one per cent of those who donned the uniform in 1898-1902 saw foreign service in the tropics without proper equipment and with no protection whatever against the diseases then raging. Thousands died from bullet and bojo while fighting with antiquated rifles, and many more thousands died or were overcome by the bites of death-dealing insects and as a result of foul water maggoty food. But these men who meet next week to reminisce and to assure their comrades of their continued allegiance will be remembering their sacrifices even though others have forgotten.

Another significance of the highest order must be attached to the Spanish-American War and the Insurrections that were allied with it. Wars as such are attended by overwhelming costs to the people who wage them, but the war that began 56 years ago, instead of entailing debt, brought with it in property prizes alone a net worth of eight billion dollars reckoned at values reached a half century ago, and with an outlay of only a little over one billion. It brought other intangible assets the worth of which can never be computed, but they must be considered by those who may some day write history as it should be written. The Spanish-American War, "that wasn't much of a war anyway," made possible the building of the Panama Canal; men of the North and of the South, fighting side by side, wiped away the bitterness of our great Civil War; it drove aggressors from our own doorsteps and made possible our free national development; it led to a virtual stamping out of contagious diseases; permitted the opening of the seas to profitable world commerce and an expansion of our national economy, and it resulted thereby in bringing on the greatest era of prosperity this country has ever known—all this at an expenditure of that single billion dollars—and the war was fought by patriots who volunteered to the man, were paid $15 a month, did it uncomplainingly with the poorest of food and weapons and never sought bonuses, GI bill or similar benefits, were given no free insurance and have asked only for modest pension rights for themselves and their dependents. And they gave more of a lasting nature that seemingly nobody wants to remember; they were alone responsible for a national defense law that has stood the test of time, furnished most of the officer material to fight World War I and have given their sons and grandsons to the Nation to win that and all succeeding wars in which the country has engaged.

The survivors now average in age some 80 years, and they represent only 6.5 per cent of the magnificent army that fought for us and gave the Nation such vast beneficence. The time has come when they and the dependents of their honored dead are no longer able physically or mentally to produce their own needs. Congress has been kind to them through the years, but these good people are unable with present pension payments overcome ever-climbing costs of living. Maine Day should remind all of us our obligation. It should be a privilege to serve those who have served so well. —Excerpts from an Editorial in last week's "National Tribune—Stars and Stripes," and brought to our attention by George Walbridge, East Tawas, a Spanish-American War veteran.

George Washington

If there is one American whose courage and fortitude during years of hardship and discouragement gave the nation its opportunity to achieve greatness, through independence, it was General George Washington. The nation's first President and the General who won a war against Great Britain to make the colonies independent of that nation, is rightly remembered each February 22nd and honored as the Father of his Country.

However, the proper observance of Washington's birthday anniversary did not come about overnight after his death. The colonies and the states were slow to recognize the magnitude of the accomplishments and contribution of General Washington. Not only had he won independence for the colonies, he had served as the first President, and he had set the precedent for a two-term limit for Chief Executives.

Moreover, he had established the foundation principles of American governments—one of them being staying out of the affairs of other nations. That policy was the wisest course for the young nation at that time and this doctrine allowed the country to grow and prosper during its early years.

In the last years of his life and the first years after his death, political feeling in the country between the parties was so strong that some of the observances suggested for Washington's birthday anniversary were denounced as political demonstrations. Only slowly did the nation come to recognize its founder, and military hero, as his services to his country merited.

After he died, on December 17, 1799, the Congress—then meeting in Philadelphia—proposed that February 22, 1800, be observed throughout the country with exercises in honor of the first President of the country. This congressional proposal was widely acted upon and exercises were held in the principal cities.

Thereafter observances of Washington's birthday spread rapidly and, today observance of the anniversary of the birth of our first President, and military hero, is general throughout the nation. This is appropriate since Washington is often under-rated both as a general and as a President. Every American citizen owes as much to Washington, or more, for his freedom and the independence of his country as to any other American hero.

More than 100 people were in attendance at the flag dedication service at the Hemlock Road Baptist Church.

Bible Comment:

To Glorify God One Must Honor And Accept Him

WHAT does it mean to glorify God and live in His glory? One dictionary says glory is "distinguished honor or ornamentation; exalted reputation; praise; splendor of state; the quality of being radiant; luster; the bliss of heaven; a halo."

These dictionary definitions seem to be derived from the Bible. In the glorifying of God almost all the dictionary meanings are present, but chief among them is the quality of honor.

To glorify God is to honor Him. And what does honoring God mean? It is quite possible that honor means very much in relation to God what it means in the lesser things of life.

In ordinary, mundane matters we speak of "honoring" a check, or a note. This implies that we accept full responsibility for it as ours.

To honor God is to accept Him, to take His love and His will into our lives, to become responsible to Him for our character and ways.

Honoring God is something more than reverence or obedience. It is a false notion that represents God as a great potentate, sitting on a throne in gorgeous garments.

It is false to represent God as being ready to wreak His vengeance and authority upon His subjects if they do not fall down and offer their abject devotion.

The likeness of God to earthly sovereigns has been overdone. It is a false and misleading conception.

To glorify God is to accept Him and what He offers, and to become like Him in creative life and acts of love and good will.

"Here is my Father glorified," said Jesus, "that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be My disciples."

Ford "Thunderbird" Announced Today

The Thunderbird, a new kind of personal car combining high performance with the comfort, convenience and safety of a conventional model, was announced today by Ford Division.

The Thunderbird has long, low graceful lines. Its all steel body is of durable, conventional construction. The car is powered by a new, 160 horse power Y-block V-8 engine. It can be purchased with a special composition hardtop which makes it a complete, all-weather car. The Thunderbird is equipped with a convertible cloth top which folds completely out of sight behind the rear seat.

"The Thunderbird will begin a new era in the automobile field," Mr. Cruse said. "While it resembles a sports car, it is a full-size vehicle—most of the major parts are interchangeable with our regular line of cars. It is completely engineered and built so it can be serviced by any Ford dealer."

Ford test engineers say that "from a standing start, in 40 seconds the Thunderbird will be 53 car lengths out in front of a conventional 1954 car."

A COMMON BLUNDER
Lost WASHINGTON'S LAST BATTLE

The brilliance of Washington's campaigns on the battlefields, and the victories won by his skill and daring are matters of recorded history. But one little known fact is that Washington lost his battle because he underestimated the strength of one enemy: the common cold. Instead of taking care of a cold he had caught, Washington made little of it and rode forth into a heavy snowstorm. Complications set in and three days later, he was dead. How many others have succumbed to ills brought on by colds since then is incalculable. Take no chances. If the cold you have does not respond promptly to home treatment—or is accompanied by chills and fever—call your doctor at once.

Cadillac

Expect It to Be Copied!

The beautiful new 1954 Cadillac is now in our showroom—and this is an automobile that every American motorist should see . . . and inspect . . . and drive!

They should do this, first of all, because it will give them a better understanding of the things by which to judge the world's motor cars. And they should do this, too, because it will give them a revealing glimpse into the future of automotive design.

For it can be said, with the full support of historic precedent, that much of today's Cadillac will find its way into the cars of tomorrow.

Cadillac's sweeping new lines, its new proportions of glass and steel, and its many superlative new details of design will unquestionably have a profound influence on automotive stylists the world over.

The new roominess of Cadillac's interiors, the new beauty of its appointments, and the new richness of its fabrics and leathers will give the industry completely new standards of comfort and luxury.

And Cadillac's great new power and responsiveness, its wonderful new handling ease and its, incredible smoothness of operation are certain to serve as engineering guideposts for years to come.

But imitation is one thing—duplication another. And no amount of imitation could ever produce Cadillac's happy combination of brilliant styling, extraordinary luxury and magnificent performance.

Nor could it bring to another motor car Cadillac's unprecedented acceptance among the world's motorists . . . the feeling of pride that comes to the man who sits behind its wheel . . . or its reputation as the Standard of the World.

These are Cadillac "exclusives"—hard won through decades of motor car leadership, and through undeviating adherence to the highest ideals of automotive production.

We repeat—you ought to come in and see the new 1954 Cadillac. For it is Cadillac's annual report to the nation on the progress of American motor car design—and the news has never been so exciting! You'll be most welcome at any time.

WITH... Iosco 4-H Clubs

Friends and members of the 4-H Club in the Tawas area are cordially invited to attend 4-H Open House Monday, February 22 at the Baptist Church. Certificates and pins will be awarded to last year's members and leaders, and samples of this year's work will be discussed by Miss Scott.

Please bring a Valentine to exchange.

The 4-H Club members make an extra special effort at this meeting to bring together the project activities on which they are working and to arrange a special program to tell and show interested persons more about their "largest and best rural youth organization in the world."

National 4-H Club Week will be March 6 to 14 this year, and 4-H Clubs all over the nation will be planning observances. We suggest that Iosco county 4-H Clubs write and tell us about their plans for a special observance of this national recognition week. Do it soon so we may let folks know what to expect or look for ahead of time by telling about your plans in this column.

Twenty-two members of Burleigh Wizard 4-H Club conducted a very nice business meeting under the direction of their president, Gene Bellor, and secretary, Kathleen Provoost. This was on Wednesday, February 10, when Harold Hammond, farm service advisor for Consumers Power Company, and I visited them. Mr. Hammond showed a movie, "See Your Home in a New Light," also demonstrated different types of electric light bulbs which are available to provide the new light effect in our homes. The boys and girls decided to earn some money for their treasury by selling bulbs for a 30-day period. Likely everyone in the community will hear more about that.

On Thursday evening, February 11, we visited the Hale Happy Hustlers, six of them, at the Ira Scofield home in Hale. When we arrived at 8 o'clock they had already completed their business meeting and were ready for the program. To accomplish this meant meeting at 7 o'clock, and also meant that the young folks were ready to go home very soon after nine and would have a full night's rest. Wish more 4-H Clubs could adopt such a plan because we believe plenty of sleep is desirable for our young people.

"Judging, trimming, de-horning, making calf blankets and halters are the activities Laidlawville 4-H Club dairy project members plan to complete before fair time.

"Already the calf halters have been made. We plan to start learning how to judge at our next meeting," Sharon Frank, reporter.

HDA NOTES

February 23, Tuesday—Cake Decorating Lesson II at Reno Hownship Hall.

March 2, Tuesday—Landscape meeting with Joseph Cox, MSC landscape gardener, as speaker.

We will be hoping for more suitable roads for this second meeting about cake decorating so that all six groups may be represented by leaders. This time each leader will bring a cake and ingredients with which to try her hand with an idea for making this popular family dessert look more attractive. Some of the ideas will be for the quickly prepared "everyday" cake, others for the special birthday and other event cakes.

We are all sure the groups have this March 2 date for the landscape meeting being arranged by the Tawas City Garden Club on their calendar.

Perhaps by now plans are already made to have at least one carload attend from your group (but if not, there is still time to arrange one.)

We have heard several women mention plans to purchase a new sewing machine. Doubtless they realize they are making a lifetime investment. Perhaps they, and others of you, would appreciate some tips about making a wise selection.

Everyone wants a sewing machine that is easy to handle and operate, one that adjusts readily and is easily kept in perfect running order.

To help you shop for these easy-to-use features in sewing machines, we suggest that you check these points:

Is the upper tension setting marked so that it is easy to see?

Does the lamp throw light where you need it?

Is the lamp so placed that it will not burn you during normal use...for instance, when you raise the pressure foot?

Is the stitch length control easy to read?

Will the machine stitch backwards?

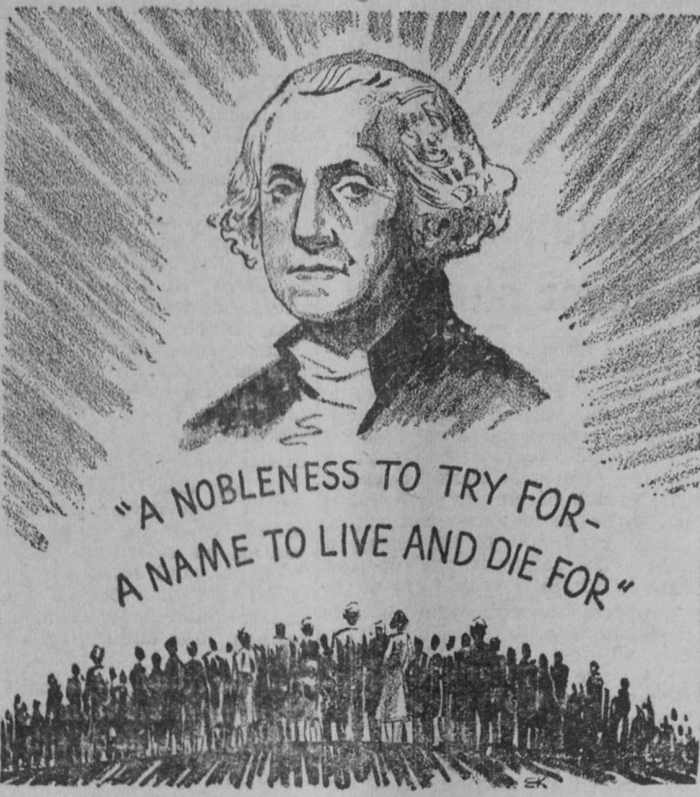

Are there adjustable stop positions for the forward and reverse stitch control?

Can the pressure on the presser foot be released for darning and embroidery?

Is the upper thread tension released when the presser foot is raised?

Is there a foot rest on the electric foot control?

Michigan Life Lines!

FROM THE VERY BEGINNING, roads were built to further commerce and trade, and down through the centuries the first requirement whenever a new territory was to be settled has been to build roads.

Michigan has over 100,000 miles of roads and streets, most of which are surfaced and in good condition. These are Michigan's life lines, without which the State could not exist.

For over these highways farm produce goes to market, raw materials and parts get to factories, finished products reach the consumer. Yes, over these roads children get to school, fire-fighting equipment responds to emergencies, the moving of household furnishings takes place.

Farm Notes...

A washtub of disinfectant solution for cleaning their boots greeted the men making the grass silage tour trip last Thursday to the farm operated by Lyle Selman for the Alcona County Agricultural Agent, Casper Blumer.

Maybe you think this is a queer welcome. The truth is that these men were taking extra special precautions to stamp out the possibility of any Bang's Disease germs being brought to their 28 head dairy herd by their otherwise very welcome visitors.

This same kind of precautionary measure would be a very wise one for all Isosco county farmers when cattle buyers or truckers, and other livestock operators come to visit us. It's just another way of saying the old adage: "A stitch in time saves nine."

Another quite easy precaution to practice in your barn is to keep visitors from walking in the feed alley.

On the tour were Arthur Pov-ish, Lyle Long, Charles and Ray Kobs, Gordon Hatch, Lyle Biely and seven of his students from his veterans' class. These men went to examine the remodeled barn and found it has been efficiently and conveniently converted into a pen-type barn with a three-piece milking parlor. The cattle are self fed from an open horizontal silo. When you have a chance, talk with these people about their impressions and ideas gained.

Order blanks for tree seedlings are now available here at your Extension Service Office. There are available a good selection of varieties and sizes. Be sure to place your order early while there is ample supply.

You might like to mention to your friends who operate a tourist business that there is to be a Resort and Motel Institute at Michigan State College on March 3, 4 and 5. Next week, in this column, there will be information about the program on these days which they can read and check up and see if it is one which they will want to attend.

Order fertilizer early for two reasons, E. D. Longnecker, MSC soil science extension specialist, re-emphasizes this point made at the Little Farmers' Week program last month. These reasons are that fertilizer plants have limited storage to stock-pile supplies for 1954 (more fertilizer than ever is expected to be used), and our county is far from the supply centers.

Mr. Longnecker further suggests that Isosco farmers figure their 1954 fertilizer needs at once. Then immediately place an order with local dealers. When it arrives, accept delivery and store it in a dry place on planks raised off the floor so air can circulate beneath it. Do not pile sacks more than six or seven deep.

What happens to Michigan farm property after the death of an owner in case he leaves no will? This question is answered in a new publication, "Inheritance of Farm Property in Michigan." The bulletin gives examples of how Michigan law has been interpreted in various situations, describes the special rights of a widow in real estate, how an estate is settled without proceedings, rights and duties of heirs acquiring undivided ownership, advantages and limitations of wills, how to make out a will and other facts about the inheritance problem.

These winter months, says Les Ball, MSC extension forester, are the ones when logs are cut and processed into lumber. Lumber should be piled as soon as it is sawed. If left in a tight pile too long, it will stain and deteriorate quite rapidly.

Select an open, well drained site for the lumber pile. Good air circulation is necessary to dry lumber. Cut weeds, grass or brush which may prevent air movement.

A solid foundation is needed on which to pile lumber. Make the front of the pile at least 18 inches from the ground and slope it downward about one inch per foot of length toward the back of the pile. This means water cannot stand on the piled lumber.

Then the lumber is piled with "stickers" or cross-pieces between each layer of boards.

Fewer Farmers Participate in ASC Program

Participation of Michigan farmers under the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program, up to the present date, is lower than at the same time last year, according to the State ASC Committee, however, anticipated a smaller enrollment due to changes in the program and the method of operation at the county level. The conservation practices for which farmers can obtain cost-sharing under the 1954 program are more of an enduring or longer term nature than the practices offered in previous years. A number of former practices which were of an annual or re-occurring nature have been eliminated under the present program. It was felt that such practices are usually carried out by farmers in their normal routine of farming operations and therefore, financial assistance was not necessary to encourage farmers to carry out these practices. The operation of the program at the county level was also materially changed. In past years farmers have been personally contacted by Community Committeemen in each county to enroll in the program, whereas for 1954 the enrollment was conducted through educational and sign-up meetings held in various places throughout the county during a two or three week period. Farmers were also permitted to enroll by visiting the local ASC office. Since this was the first year that farmers were required to use their own initiative in signing up in the program, fewer participants resulted.

The concept of the Agricultural Conservation Program includes the idea that the nation has an interest in conserving the natural resources of the soil. The nation, therefore, has an interest in sharing the cost of such conservation practices that farmers will not or cannot normally afford to perform, but which would be in the interest of the nation.

The Isosco County ASC Committee has indicated that the results to date make it appear that farmers interested in conservation are taking advantage of the program. However, since the local ASC office has been especially busy with other phases of the county program, such as measuring wheat and the added workload due to increased demand for price support on grains, it has been felt that all farmers may not have been given sufficient opportunity to sign-up for the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program. Due to this fact, the County Committee has extended the deadline date for the initial sign-up from January 11 to March 1.

Those farmers who have already signed up in the program will have their applications reviewed and approval will be granted as the County Committee can make the examination. Those farmers who sign-up between now and March 1 will have their applications reviewed immediately after March 1 and approvals will be granted shortly thereafter. Farmers may sign-up at any later period, however, and they may receive approval with the understanding that cost-sharing will depend upon the money available later in the year. Such applications will be reviewed immediately after August 1 and farmers will receive approvals as of that date, the cost-sharing depending upon the money then available.

Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you! Makes all riding and handling easier!

The "old" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too. That's because conventional kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal Ford's ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is yours in a '54 Ford . . . whether you choose Ford's new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or 115-h.p. I-block Six. And no matter which of Ford's 28 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines . . . sparkling new colors . . . and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 16 points of wear found in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms reduce the number of wear points and insulate chassis from road noises.

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints in Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

We cordially invite you to Test Drive a '54 Ford
