February 8 Set for School Bond Election

Board's Action Approved at District Meets

Six Meetings Held Last Week Throughout District

The Tawas Area Board of Education, at a special meeting January 15, unanimously passed a resolution calling for an election to the bonding issue for the erection of the Tawas Area Junior and Senior High School. The election will be held at the East Tawas Community Building on Monday, February 8, 1954. It is the present intention of the board of education that the polls shall be open from 7:00 a. m. until 8:00 p. m. unless otherwise directed by the attorney. The election in one voting precinct is prescribed by law on bonding elections in a Rural Agricultural School District. This has been explained in the six area meetings during the week of January 11-15. A careful analysis of the expressed wishes of the citizens who attended the area meetings indicated this action. The report on the area meetings revealed that a majority of the school area wished the proposition to be placed before the electorate at its earliest possible date so as not to deprive the pupils of the area the improved educational facilities, if the electorate shows a desire to provide the necessary funds. A group of the electorate at one of the meetings expressed a desire that two sites be presented to the entire area in a permissive election for the consideration of the board of education in performing its legal obligation of picking a site for the Tawas Area Junior and Senior High School. This received careful consideration by the board of education in all its aspects, and it was finally decided that a decision on two sites would not meet desires of the area. It is the feeling of the board of education in analysis of the results of reports from all the area meetings that the majority of the electorate wish the board to express its legal obligation to pick a site. The board members carefully analyzed and weighed all of the information presented to them by the building and site committee, architect, city engineer and citizens, individually and in groups. They wish to express their appreciation to these individuals for their effort to present to the community a better educational program. It was the considered opinion of the board members that if they presented this in the form of a permissive election that they could anticipate other sites coming into the picture before or at this election and that a more confused picture could result than that now placed before the electorate. The board of education unanimously believe that its decision is sound and the only course it (See School, back page.)

Many Visit New Courthouse at Dedication Ceremonies

Judge Edward M. Sharpe, justice of the Supreme Court of Michigan, in his address as principal speaker Wednesday afternoon at the dedication of the new courthouse, congratulated the people of the county on their accomplishment in constructing such a fine building and providing such excellent facilities to care for their county business. The main portion of Judge Sharpe's address was devoted to a talk on the American way of life as compare to that in other countries. He pointed out that we had the various freedoms which make life worth living. That people coming here to live in this country many times expressed their wonder at our apparent lack of appreciation for the wonderful opportunities made possible by these freedoms. Judge Sharpe was introduced by Atty. General Dehnke, who acted as master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by Canon Warner Forsyth and benediction by Rev. Fr. Joseph Castanier. A continuous stream of admiring Iosco county people went through the courthouse Wednesday, inspecting the courtroom, departmental offices and facilities provided in the new building. No count was taken, but it was estimated that the number of visitors ran into hundreds.

The county received telegrams and letters of congratulations from state officials at Lansing, Congressman Elford A. Cederberg, State Senator Charles T. Prescott, Representative Gerald W. Graves and others. At the get-together luncheon held at noon at the Barmes Hotel previous to the dedication ceremonies, more than 140 people were in attendance. They included county, city and township officials, county employees and citizens from all sections of the county. A few remarks were made by Judges Sharpe and Dehnke and Supervisor Clarence Everett, chairman of the committee in charge of the program, introduced the various officials and the members of the board of supervisors.

The new president, Rosemary Klenow, presented the retiring president, Mr. Sheek, and former local chairman, Charles Konkin, with gifts on behalf of the lodge. Both men are charter members and have served for a number of years. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard, Mrs. C. Fortune, Mrs. Helen McGirr and William Edwards, all of Alpena.

Prominent Tawas City Woman Dies

Funeral Services for Mrs. Lois Prescott Held Sunday Afternoon. Mrs. Lois Prescott, highly esteemed resident of this city, died Thursday afternoon at her home here. Mrs. Prescott was the widow of George A. Prescott, Jr., a member one of Iosco county's prominent families. She was born December 20, 1890, at East Tawas, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Taylor. She was married to George A. Prescott, Jr., February 14, 1911. Mr. Prescott died February 4, 1951. A lifelong resident of this community, Mrs. Prescott was a member of the Tawas City Baptist Church, the Order of the Eastern Star, Twentieth Century Club and Ladies Literary Club. Her father had been a merchant in Tawas City and at East Tawas for many years previous to his death. Her husband had been one of Michigan's well known ranch and farm owners and had been extensively engaged in the livestock and dairy industry. He had been a member of the board of managers of the Michigan State Fair for many years. He was prominent in Michigan politics. She is survived by three sons, County Clerk George Prescott, Richard of East Tawas and James of Tawas City; a daughter, Mrs. Effie Mallon of Tawas City; a brother, Carl Taylor of Detroit, and eight grandchildren.

Supervisors Hold First Meet in New Courthouse

The Iosco County Board of Supervisors found it difficult to settle down to business during the first day of the January meeting. New surroundings seemed to be the reason. Open house Wednesday interfered with progress but Thursday morning Chairman Theodore Bellville had the members back on their jobs. For a number of years the operation of the County Farm as an infirmary for the aged has been impractical. The social welfare board recently disposed of all livestock and personal property at a dispersal sale and has leased the farm land. The board of supervisors is now faced with the problem of what to do with the farm and how to care for the inmates. Considerable study is being devoted to the problem at this session of the board. Tuesday afternoon Joseph Goddwyn, architect, presented tentative plans for a new county jail. The old jail has been condemned by the State Department of Corrections. It is thought that this project will be brought up for a vote of the people at the primary election next fall. William Curtis was re-elected member of the social welfare board.

P-TA Gives Program Its Endorsement

Meeting Held Monday Evening at Alabaster School Gymnasium

The Tawas Area Parent-Teacher Association voted unanimously to support the board of education's school program at the regular meeting held Monday evening at the Alabaster School Building. A capacity crowd was in attendance. R. E. Mick, superintendent of schools, was introduced by Mrs. Albert Vane, program chairman. Mr. Mick gave a report on the results of the six citizen's community meetings held last week. He was followed by Walter Niles, secretary of the board of education, who explained the proposed bond issue and rate of taxation. Stewart White, board of education member, gave a detailed and complete resume of the selection of the Neumann-Reinke site by the board, which Walter Gurry talked on the transportation situation. Board of Education Member Randall Fox announced that Monday, February 8, was the day selected for voting on the proposed bond issue and that the Tawas Community Building would be the voting place. He said that the six meetings had been overwhelming in their approval of the school program as developed by the advisory committees and the board of education. He said that about 15 percent of the people in attendance had asked for an election on the site selection, but as set up in the school law, the board of education has the full responsibility in school site selection and would from necessity make the final decision even though a vote had been taken. Fox said that at the December 22 meeting of the board, a delegation presented opinions on the information relative to the Beal Nursery as a possible site that it wished considered. The board reviewed all of the information and carefully considered the various points, but it was the unanimous decision of the members that all actions taken were in accordance with the facts found by architects, engineers, advisory council and the board, and that it was in accord with the wishes of the majority of the people of the district. He said that in selecting the site, the board had to consider the future as well as today. A short question and answer period followed the talks by board of education members. The group in attendance unanimously do endorse the school program in an acclamation vote. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Joseph Dimm (See P. T. A., back page.)

Needs Generous Support to Carry on Work

"To reach our county quota of $4,500 this year, we need your generous support to carry on the work of patient aid, research and polio prevention," said John R. Watkins, county chairman, Iosco Polio Fund Campaign. A year ago the children of the county raised $660.53. The campaign committee officials feel assured that they will do it again. Industries have already been contacted in the county and they have shown their willingness to cooperate fully. More than 3,000 folders have been mailed to post office boxholders, state Co-Chairmen E. D. Jacques and Nathan Barkman. Following Chairman Watkins' address, every boxholder in the county mail the cards back as early as possible with your contributions so that we can continue to cope with the dread disease. He said, "We also urge every organization in the county, large or small, to assist in any way possible, even if they have not been solicited. Each year more and more organizations have contributed to the success of the campaign. Businessmen of the county, who have not already responded can help the committee if they will send their contributions in the past and at as early a date as possible." By Wednesday morning 146 cards had been received, totaling $31.26 in cash. One hundred seventy dollars had been received from various industries. An urgent request is made that cards be filled out and donations sent as quickly as possible.

This is Centennial Year

Today is January 22—June is but a few short months away—and Tawas City resident have a big job ahead. This is Centennial year with June designated as the month for its observance.

Several months ago the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, realizing the importance of the occasion and the need of organized effort, appointed Charles L. McLean, general chairman, and Hugo Keiser, Jr., secretary of the celebration. They are eager to receive suggestions, ideas, or plans. To make this celebration a success will require the cooperation of all.

TAWAS CITY, MICH.

Much interest and response has been received by the Herald in its appeal for pictures of early days in Tawas City. Several pictures have been copied and published. It is hoped that many more will be brought in to be added the pictorial exhibit.

Now that the rush of the holiday season is over and "old man winter" is here, won't you take a few minutes and check that old trunk or attic to see what you may be able to find that will create interest in this important event? Old clothes, pictures, household wares, manual tools or any other items relating to the days of the early settlers here will aid in the presentation of authentic facts.

Colorful costumes could add much to the event. Already several of the town "dandies" are sporting beards, and are outfitted with colorful vests, derby hats and string bow ties. Who will be the first lady to appear in "Gay '90" fashion?

Individuals, church groups and organizations are urged to help. A date will be announced soon for a meeting of interested individuals and organization representatives.

Fight Infantile Paralysis

Last year more than $10,000 was expended on Iosco county polio cases. This money was in part from the Iosco County Fund, but the larger portion was furnished by the National Foundation. The Polio Fund Campaign is in progress now. Every person should contribute and help fight this dread disease.

Bible Comment:

Laws of Moses Were Enriched By Jesus Christ

A COMPETENT Biblical scholar (in Hastings's Bible Dictionary) has set down as the ideal elements of Jewish Law (1) social justice, (2) purity and (3) honor.

He credits Moses as propounding the laws.

The Ten Commandments are, of course, the most familiar of the laws. They have been widely accepted as a moral code and variously established in the legal codes of many lands.

Despite all the moral laxity of much of modern life, it is still true that the strength and welfare of a people depends upon the reality with which the essence of the Ten Commandments is ingrained in the life and practice of the community.

Integrity to family life, honor of parents, devotion to children, regard for the liberties and rights of others—these are the elements upon which social strength and welfare depend.

The extent to which these elements are denied and disregarded indicates the depths of weakness to which many communities have fallen, and the acuteness of the problems confronting society as a whole.

Yet there is something more, and higher, than the Commandments.

John 1:17 states, "The law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

This does not mean that Jesus originated grace and truth, but that He, as He Himself said, fulfilled what was inherent in the law.

For the New Testament everywhere represents the fulfillment of the law in the commandment of love—"Thou shalt," instead of only "Thou shalt not."

The Ten Commandments would establish correctness of life. The law of love would give that life fullness in the growth of grace and knowledge.

Dorcas Society Meets with Mrs. Harold Colby January 12

The Dorcas Society of the Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Harold Colby on Tuesday evening, January 12. The importance of taking an inventory of our personal lives, just as a merchant does of his stock, was pointed out by Mrs. William Leslie in her devotional service.

During the business meeting led by the president, Mrs. William Fox, the group volunteered to do more sewing for the Tawas Hospital, do sewing for the Baptist Cam at Lake Louise and to contribute toward the purchase of a coffee urn for the church kitchen. The name of Mrs. Walter Wiedbrauk was presented and she was welcomed into membership.

Miss Arlene Leslie had charge of the social hour after which a lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Westcott and Mrs. A. W. Colby.

Tawas City Michigan

To the Editor:
Experience has taught people down through the ages—perhaps bitterly at times—that foresight is better than hindsight.

Today, our Tawas area citizens are embroiled in a school problem which essentially pits "foresight" faction against those of reaction and "hind-sight." We are not the only ones who have faced this problem. But we can learn and benefit from the experience of others in solving it.

Detroit Board of Commerce Executive Vice President Harvey Campbell related this week about the frustration and disappointment which must have been present at a recent school dedication in New York. The article in "What goes on Here..." column in THE DETROITER magazine of January 18, stated: "Planners are okay when un-hobbled. Trouble with all planning groups is that they must face appropriating bodies. In Belkrose, Queens, New York, they just staged a celebration for the opening of the new school—and the inauguration speaker announced that the school wasn't big enough. They shot short of the mark. as we back our planners with skin-milk determination." The last two sentences especially carry important implications to our situation. Let's not shoot short of the mark. Let's get a school building and site that will become perpetually functional. Let's back our planners...the school board members who we elected and who are doing such a commendable job for all of us in the Tawas area... to the hilt.

We must overcome prejudice, emotion and non-objectivity if we are to realize an equitable, fair end result for the region as a whole.

Since extensive settlement of our area nearly 100 years ago—and incidentally one member of my own immediate family has lived in East Tawas 84 years—our region has consistently and continually strived for progress. I, for one, am proud of my family roots and my region. Many of our other readers are in the same boat.

Let's continue to progress and grow in education...in everything...and be proud.

Do You Remember This?

Unloading logs at the Prescott mill dock during the 1880's. A Detroit, Bay City and Alpena train. This was more than a decade before the McHarg interests of New York purchased the road and renamed it Detroit and Mackinac. At that time the road was narrow gauge and ran from Tawas City to Alger. This and two other fine early railroad pictures were given to the Centennial Exhibit by Bert Bonney of East Tawas. Mr. Bonney's father, the late Charles Bonney, was one of the early engineers on the road.

New Floor Covering
The appearance of Slaven's Grocery has been brightened with the laying of new linoleum in the store last Wednesday.

A letter from Cpl. Neil Thornton, received Wednesday, says that he is at Munsan, Korea, assigned as Army war correspondent to cover the turning over of the Chinese prisoners to Nationalist China and their departure for Formosa which is now in progress. He previously has been stationed at Taegu since the exchange of prisoners in September.
Following the exchange of prisoners, a two page story by Corporal Thornton appeared in "Transportation," a national magazine devoted to the various phases of transportation. The story described the various problems met by the Army in transporting 30,000 Communist prisoners of war from their island prison to Panmunjon. It was illustrated with pictures taken at the time of the exchange.

The January 5 issue of the Pacific Stars and Stripes carried a two page feature by Corporal Thornton entitled, "The Kujji Boy," depicting the life of the war orphans on the streets of Korea during the present winter. The story was illustrated with 11 striking photographs of the orphans in their street surroundings.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harry Goodale, Mrs. Joseph Stepanski and Mrs. Neva Anderson.

Children's New Lingerie and Sleepwear Now Duplicate the Grownups' Styles

By EDNA MILES

FASHIONS in children's lingerie and sleepwear are as up-to-the-minute as those for mother.

Can-can ruffles. Nylon taffeta petticoats. The elasticized bodice for super fit. Cotton print pajamas with matching slippers, both in gay colors that appeal to children.

Although dress-up lingerie and pajama and nightgown fashions for children may seem frivolous and unnecessary at first thought, they make sense. Most of them are budget priced.

The prettiest nylon slip, lavish with lace, takes minutes only to wash out, an hour to dry. Cotton flannel pajamas in bright prints wear well, can be worn without pressing if need be.

Even the sissy rompers for very small children, the ones with many ruffles and much lace, are practical when they come in nylon plisse.

Ruffled panties in the same fabric come with water-repellent plastic linings and have pretty lace or rick-rack trim.

Nylon dress-up slip for little sister has ribbed bodice and full, stand-out skirt finished with wide ruffle. Straps and bodice have lace trim. Ski-jama, right, is in cotton flannel with red background and white print. There's ribbing at neck, sleeves, waist and ankles.

Your household linens speak for you. They reveal what kind of shopper you are, how careful you are about your laundry, and what your decorating tastes may be. The next time you take inventory of your linen closet, see what its inhabitants have to say about you.

SHEETS AND PILLOW CASES

Consider the suitability, wear, appearance, comfort, launderability, and size of sheets and pillow cases before replenishing your supply. Examine the sheet for the weave—It should be firm, close and uniform, smooth and evenly woven at every point to give you the best wear. As for the size, 108 inches (before hemming) is the most popular length. Allow for about six percent in shrinkage. A cot, studio couch or youth bed requires a sheet of 54 inches wide. For a single or twin size bed, select a sheet 63 or 72 inches wide. The double bed or folding sofa bed calls for one 81 or 90 inches in width.

LAUNDERING LINENS

All mending should be done before laundering to prevent larger tears. Also remove any stains before washing. White sheets may be washed in a load with other white or light-colored, color-resistant fabrics with a granulated or flaked household soap. A tablespoon of a good household bleach for each gallon of water is usually recommended for the white linens when they become discolored.

CROCHETED EDGINGS

Lovely crocheted edgings on crisp sheets and pillow cases is one sign of a fastidious and imaginative homemaker. If you have crocheted the trimmings yourself it's even more to your credit. The needlework design featured today includes crocheted edgings for sheets, pillow cases, night table doily and runner for the dresser. Crochet cotton in blue trims the edges of all the pieces and is set by green baskets brimming over with blue flowers. For the crocheting directions, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper. Ask for FLOWER BASKETS, Leaflet No. S-133.

Nine new members joined the association and began using the services during the past year. Details of the association's volume of work and finances will be given by officers at the meeting.

IF YOU'VE BUILT a new home recently—or are in the midst of doing so now—you know how dependent building is on motor transport.

From the moment the big excavating shovel arrives at the vacant lot astride a low-bed truck-trailer to dig the hole for your basement, it's a steady procession of trucks of one kind or another until the house is ready for occupancy.

Cement blocks, sand, steel, lumber, roofing, brick, plumbing, hardware, paint—everything that goes into the building of your home has to get to the site in motor trucks.

Then, when you arrive at the point where you're ready to move in, you call on motor transport again to transport your household furnishings for you.

MICHIGAN'S ANIMAL KINGDOM

Proof that Michigan winters are becoming milder as the years go by is provided by the opossum—a mammal invader from the south. It was not until 1927 that the opossum became widely distributed in southern Michigan, having migrated northward under its own "power." It is not an attractive animal by any stretch of the imagination, having an unkempt coat, beady eyes and a ratty tail. The coat itself is a dirty, grey-white. The opossum's nose is long and pointed, and its ugly mouth filled with sharp, needle-like teeth.

Frequently Seen At Night
Motorists see these marauding small animals along Michigan highways in the glare of their headlights at night. Somewhat of a scavenger, the opossum feeds on dead birds and other animals, and on garbage along backyard fences. Sometimes in poor light, the opossum is mistaken for a raccoon—but at close range there is a marked difference and they are easily distinguished.

Hard Winters Fatal
While the opossum population grows by leaps and bounds because of a lack of too many natural enemies, a good old-fashioned Michigan winter plays havoc with this southern animal. They do not hibernate, and must search for food through the year in and day out. A sudden cold snap catches them completely unprepared by nature. Noses and tails freeze promptly, and very often prolonged cold weather results in widespread destruction of large numbers of these animals.

True Marsupial
The opossum is the only marsupial mammal on the North American continent—that is, the only animal equipped with a pouch in which it carries its young. Every native animal in Australia is so equipped, but here the opossum shares that distinction, tucking the offspring in the pouch immediately after birth, and there they remain for about a month. Five litters a year is not uncommon for this prolific animal. Hunted widely for sport south of the Mason-Dixon line, the lowly opossum is looked upon with scorn by Michigan sportsmen. Coon hunters complain that the animal sidetracks their hounds—and so the opossum will probably continue to thrive until the big winters close in once again on Michigan Outdoors!

News About Hale...

Male School Employees Enjoyed Party Saturday

The male school employees at Hale held a mid-winter get-together in the school's home economics room and gymnasium Saturday evening, January 16, from 7:30 to 12:00.

The 14 men present enjoyed games of volleyball, chess, cards and battleship. Refreshments were plenty of delicious hot oyster stew and coffee.

Some interest has already been expressed in another such get-together later in the school year.

Keys To Trophy Case Presented Friday Night

One of the highlights of the basketball game between Hale and Harrisville at Hale on Friday, January 15, was the presentation of the keys to the new trophy case by Alvin Dorsey, president of the Class of 1953 of Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural High School. Mrs. Otto Zilliox, secretary of the board of education, accepted the keys for the school and gave a very appropriate message of thanks.

The trophy case, constructed of beautiful blond mahogany and plate glass, was given to the school at the annual commencement last May by the graduating class. The entire cost of $175 was paid by the class. The case was made by the Hale Cabinet Shop under the direction of Roland Walters, owner and manager of the shop.

The trophy case has been placed in the lobby of the gymnasium between the two main entrances, and at present contains three trophies which are: Co-Champions in basketball of the Huron Shores Conference in 1951-52 season; champions in baseball of the Huron Shores Conference in 1952; district championship in basketball, D Class, in 1953.

Christmas Seal Sale Ran High This Year

The sale of Christmas Seals by the students of Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural School at Hale ran high this year, reaching a total of $112.03. High room in sales was the fifth grade followed by the fourth and third grades.

In recognition of the generous support given the worthwhile work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association by the students, the various grades received pencils for each member of the grades participating in the sale.

Dr. Lloyd M. Turk

rector of the Research Experiment Station at Michigan State College is an excellent speaker. Dr. Turk was appointed director in July 1, 1953. He came to Michigan State College in 1932 as a member of the soil science department. Before that he was an instructor in soil science at the University of Missouri which is his alma mater.

He is a member of the All-College Research Committee, and serves on various committees concerned with the organization of basic college, unique at Michigan State. He has written many bulletins and articles for professional journals.

The two present directors, James Mielock and Gerald Bellen of Reno township, have been very active in this soil conservation district. Mr. Mielock has served as chairman of the local board of directors for the past three years and been a regional representative, too. Mr. Bellen was appointed by the board of directors to complete the term of Robert Oates of Alabaster, who resigned a year ago.

Business includes electing two directors for three year terms. The nominating committee has named James Mielock and Howard Mott, representing the West Central area; Gerald Bellen and Ernest Dunnill, representing the South Western area.

Every Soil Conservation District in the state holds an annual meeting to report progress and elect directors. All occupiers of three or more acres of land are eligible to vote in this election.

IT'S TANNING TIME DOWN SOUTH

A delightful interlude on Florida's sun-warmed beaches is the vacation goal of thousands of northern residents this year. Although the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon searched Florida without success in 1513 for the legendary Fountain of Youth, winter-weary Americans in increasing numbers every year are finding rejuvenation of mind and body along Florida's bright warm shoreline. Catering to every segment of the tourist trade, Florida offers accommodations ranging from simple to lavish. Among the state's attractions are the untamed Everglades with colorful Seminole Indian villages, winter circus headquarters at Sarasota; Silver Springs, Cypress Gardens, Bok Tower and bird sanctuary, picturesque sponge fishing fleet at Tarpon Springs, St. Augustine with its many points of historical interest, the Marineland oceanarium and the fabulous "gold coast" of Miami Beach. Many Florida visitors use the state as a springboard to the fascinating Florida Keys, Cuba and Nassau. All of these exciting vacation points are included in Greyhound's new 1954 schedule of all-expense tours, with air transportation furnished on tours that include visits to Havana and Nassau.

UNEMPLOYMENT

There were 425,000 more unemployed persons in the United States at the end of 1953 than a year ago, according to the Department of Commerce. An increase of 400,000 jobs in December brought the year-end total to 1,850,000, somewhat better than economists had expected.

Step by step, medical science is winning the fight against dreaded Polio. The encouraging results obtained from GG last summer indicate that final and complete victory is in sight. The dimes and dollars you have contributed to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have made this possible. More money than ever was spent in 1953 for research and for care for those stricken with Polio. It will take more money in '54. Polio is everybody's enemy. Stamping it out is everybody's job. WITH... Iosco 4-H Clubs

A "red cherry" day is Saturday, January 23, and you won't want to miss out on the announcement of the winner who will compete at the State Cherry Pie Baking Contest in Grand Rapids next month.

All 4-H Club members in both 1953 and 1954 will want to be on hand Saturday night at the Hale School at 8:00 p. m. for the presentation of certificates, pins, medals and special awards. Every boy and girl who completed two or more projects as a part of their 4-H Club activities in 1953 will be presented one or more of the above named items. We are certainly hopeful that every one of you will be there to receive your recognition in person.

There will be pins and certificates for leaders in 1953, too. So make this the occasion to be attended by 4-H Club members, leaders, parents and friends—an occasion for boosting 4-H Club work in our county.

Following music and recreation there are to be refreshments, pie and ice cream. For this there will be a charge and the profits will be used next September to send about 60 1954 4-H Club members on a two-day trip to the State 4-H Club Show.

Committees named by the 4-H Leaders' Council president, Mrs. Blanche Douglass, are planning many of the details, including a stage setting and Cherry Pie Queen crowning ceremony.

"And refreshments were served." So often we see these words for some members of the North Hale Busy Beavers 4-H Club they held special significance in January. That is because these 4-H'ers assisted with the serving of refreshments for the Wool Cooperative meeting recently held at Hale.

"Father Sees the Light" was shown at the Community Club meeting on January 4 by Harold Hammond, Consumers Power Company farm service advisor. He also showed us several different kinds of bulbs and explained a project through which our club may earn some money for the treasury.

Handicraft members arranged to hold their meetings in Ira Scofield's basement. The meeting was conducted by president, Mary Ann Campbell, in the Arthur Ropert home. Lorene Bielby led the 4-H Club pledges. Clifford Bielby is the reporter and provided this news.

er. presented each member a 4-H Club membership pin.

Ruth Ann Proper demonstrated a good knitting practice. Songs were sung and refreshments enjoyed. Notes for the meeting were sent by Reporter Joyce Weina.

"Calf blankets from two bur-lap bags with overall strips for ties were the accomplishment at the Friendship 4-H Club livestock project meeting on January 11. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Herriman.

"Each member is to bring 12 to 14 feet of rope for the next meeting. Rope halters for leading calves will be made." Gale Durant, reporter.

Three extension cords were finished at the electrical project meeting of the Friendship 4-H Club. This meeting was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Alton Durant, with eight members present. Each was asked to bring a cord for repair at the next meeting. Larry Whitford is the project reporter.

Guests at the January 6 meeting of the Laidlawville Community 4-H Club were Harold Hammond, Consumers Power Company farm service advisor, and Miss Dorothy Scott, home demonstration agent.

For our program they showed a movie on better home lighting, let us see different kinds of bulbs that are useful for improving the light in our homes, and explained how we can use this information as a part of our bulbs sales campaign to earn funds for our treasury. We have one month to work on it.

HDA NOTES

Calendar:
January 23, Saturday—4-H Club Event at Hale School Gymnasium, 8:00 p. m.
January 26, Tuesday—Home Demonstration group, leaders training school, 10:00 a. m., Reno Township Hall.
January 27, Wednesday—Iosco Cooperative Extension Service Advisory Board meeting, 8:00 p. m., Grant Township Hall.

Mrs. Robert Dodder will be with us for a leader-training meeting on Tuesday, January 26, at Reno Township Hall. She is going to get us started with making cake decorations. Each leader is being asked to bring a certain few items which she will need. We shall also complete our work on dress construction finished by covering buttons and buckles. These are expensive accessory items in much of our home sewing so here is an opportunity to learn ways to make good looking ones without much cost.

Setting in sleeves was the subject for Hale Home Demonstration Group meeting on January 13 at the home of Mrs. Pat Nardizzi. Eight members were present.
The group plans a card party at the Community Building very soon. It will feature door prizes and a lunch.
The next meeting will be on February 10 at the home of Mrs. Herman Drenberg. Mrs. William Wereley, news reporter.

If your husband goes to Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, February 1 to 5, you had better plan to hop in and go right along with him. There are many interesting programs being planned for women. Here are some of them:
Tuesday—a meat cookery demonstration by Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Livestock and Meat Board in Chicago, and "what, how and why" facts about functional furniture.
Wednesday—that's the day to take a walk around yourself. To tell you more would spoil your fun. Those of us who have heard this dynamic young man, Dr. William H. Smith, professor of family relations at Pennsylvania State University, tell this story are going to be right there competing with you for a good seat up near the front. This talk you will discuss many, many times after you return home, we predict.

Eleanor Densmore, Kent county home agent, will show her own pictures taken during her recent years of work in Okinawa.
A brand new revolution in kitchen planning is planned for the early afternoon. And, do we need to suggest that your husband might well plan to come along, too, just in case you get ideas during this revolution spearheaded by Marjorie Bettworth, general home service supervisor, Consumers Power Company. And while you are at it, be sure to visit the "Easy Does It" kitchen which is on wheels and will be on the campus for you to see during Farmers' Week.
Thursday—Dr. Frederick

Surplus Equipment
Brings $1,000.00

More than $1,000 was realized from the surplus equipment and furniture from the old Isosco County Courthouse at an auction sale Tuesday afternoon.

During the noon hour the old courtroom filled with anxious bidders. With no heat, the room was cold, and Supervisor Elmer Werth and his committee decided that the sale should start at once, although Auctioneer John P. Harris had not arrived. By a little trickery and some high pressure, Kenneth Barnes, owner of the Barnes Hotel, was induced to start the sale as auctioneer, and he handled it with the skill of a veteran. The sale started with a bang, and before Harris could get on the job, the sale was well in progress.

There were buyers at the sale hoping to get some bargains for resale, but in most instances their hopes were blighted and they were forced to pay a good price. A majority of the crowd seemed to be there to get something from the old building to keep as a relic and were willing to pay a price for it.

Old bookcases sold at $8.50 per stack, juror's chairs went at $7 each and the long courtroom seats sold at $13.50 each. Just before Harris took over as auctioneer, Barnes received a bid on the stair rail.

Mrs. Pearl St. Martin is now looking for a lot on which to put her garage. She jokingly submitted a sealed bid on the courthouse garage. She was high bidder.

Mary Ellen Shellenbarger

Mary Ellen Shellenbarger passed away at the Mitchell Nursing Home last Tuesday after a long illness. The body was taken to the Moffatt Funeral Home and funeral services were held Thursday with Rev. Benjamin Whaley officiating. Burial was in the Oscoda Cemetery.

Mrs. Shellenbarger was born March 1, 1873, in Macomb county. She spent most of her life in Hale.

She is survived by a son, Guy Shellenbarger of Oscoda, and a brother, Frank Dorsey of Hale.

Police Chiefs Attend Traffic Conference

Chief of Police George Ruth of Tawas City and Chief of Police Harry Pelton of East Tawas attended the Second Annual Traffic Court Conference held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Kellogg Center, Michigan State College.

Among the speakers at the conference were Governor G. Mennen Williams, Attorney General Frank G. Millard and Richard P. Paulson, president of the Michigan Bar Association.

Court and traffic problems, civil and criminal responsibility in traffic accidents, functions of the prosecuting attorney in traffic cases and other subjects on traffic regulation were discussed during the three-day meeting.

can conscientiously pursue. With this in mind, the board is placing the bond issue before the electorate for a decision on February 8.

It is the fervent hope of the board that each elector shall endeavor to evaluate the program as an elector of Tawas Area Schools and think of the entire area and vote his own convictions.

Members of the board of education will welcome that decision that regardless of the decision that the vast majority of the electorate will express themselves in the form of his or her conscientious belief that the expressed vote is for the welfare of the Tawas Area School District and not for personal gain nor sectional advantage.

In an endeavor to allow all the area to have a chance to voice their opinions, the board of education is endeavoring to have insurance placed upon the buses to that they can be used to transport electors to and from the election. If this is possible and financially feasible, the special persons appointed to get out the vote in all the district will organize schedules to accommodate the electorate.

Indies Drop Close Game to Oscoda

The Tawas City Indies dropped another close game to Oscoda, 68-55, last Saturday night at Oscoda. In the preliminary tilt, Tawas Area Junior High defeated Oscoda Junior High, 37-21.

Bud Skillman, Oscoda Indies guard, was in the "big fly" in the ointment against Tawas, making 39 points in 18 field goals and three foul shots. Jim Dubowsky paced the locals with 18 points.

Friday, January 22 (tonight), the Tawas City Indies will take another crack at Oscoda with their game getting underway after the High School Varsity tilt, Thursday, February 4, Ypsilanti College will play the Indies at the Tawas Gymnasium.

In a well played contest Tawas Area Junior High defeated Oscoda Junior High, 37-21. Tawas started slow being behind at one time in the second quarter, 12-3. They closed the gap in the second quarter, however, to be on the short end of a 12-11 score at half time.

Led by the sharp shooting of Ray Guyette and Ken Lixey in the second half, Tawas Area steadily pulled away to come out with the verdict. Guyette with 12 points and Lixey with nine were leading scorers for Tawas.

WNEM-TV Set for Broadcast
Next Sunday

Northeastern Michigan anxiously awaits the launching of WNEM-TV, January 24 over Channel five. Beginning telecasts will be between the hours of seven and 11 o'clock nightly.

In a telephone conversation with Milton Greenbaum, vice president of Station WNEM-TV, on Wednesday morning, Greenbaum stated that the 500 foot tower was complete except for the last section. Cold weather held the crew up on Tuesday and a soupy fog kept them on the ground Wednesday. All that is needed is a short break in the weather to finish work. The transmitter equipment is all installed and tested, and test patterns will be sent out as soon as the aerial is in place. If the aerial is not completed before Saturday, the Sunday opening broadcast will be postponed.

Seven Days Remain to Get Those Bargains

It is still not too late, but there are only seven days left in which to take advantage of the bargains offered in the big Tawas January Clearance Sale which began last Friday. Merchants of the Tawas have gone all out to pass along big savings to their customers.

The bargains were well received during the first week of the sale, according to the merchants. Plan now to take advantage of these money saving values.
