It's Derby and Sunbonnet Time--Centennial Month is Here!

It's time to don those derbies and sunbonnets, folks. June, the month of the Centennial Celebration in Tawas City, is here.

Everyone in Tawas City and the surrounding area who wish to take part in the celebration of Tawas City's hundredth-year birthday, is urged to wear his old time outfits during the month of June.

Several families have created quite a picture when they appeared on Lake Street dressed in Centennial costumes, with father in whiskers, derby and tails; mother in her Centennial dress and sunbonnet, and the children all decked out in clothing styles of a hundred years ago.

The Centennial Committee, headed by C. L. McLean, urges everyone to take part in the celebration. One way to do this would be to wear your Centennial outfits to church on Sunday morning.

The entire month of June has been designated as Centennial month by the city council, in honor of the founding of Tawas City in 1854 by Gideon O. Whittemore. A week-long celebration will highlight the program from June 20 to June 27.

Plans for the program are nearly completed and include a parade, banquet, band concerts, canoe race, dances and many other events.

Day Camp for Children to be Established

A day camp for children will be established here this summer, according to an announcement received from Miss Helen Hasty of West Branch.

"I am bringing something new to the Tawas area this summer, and will need the help of the Herald to make it known to the public," Miss Hasty said.

"My sister, Marjorie, and I have rented the American Legion Hall in Tawas City and we are going to operate a Day Camp for four, five and six year olds this summer. We will begin operation on June 28 and continue until August 15. We are going to hold two periods a day, five days a week, from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:00 to 3:30 p. m. Parents may enroll children for either period according to their preference.

"Our program will include arts and crafts, music, creative activities and swimming instruction if so desired.

"I am graduating in June with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education, and I have had much valuable experience in camps with children as well as in the classroom."

Tawas Wins 2nd Extra-Inning Game

The Tawas City Independents scored three runs in the 14th inning last Sunday to down White Star, 6-3. This win marked the second time in succession that the locals have rallied in an extra-inning ball game to break a tie score with the opposition.

A week ago Sunday, Tawas City posted its first win of the season with a 5-4 victory over West Branch. This game required two extra frames over the regular nine innings to decide the winner.

This Sunday afternoon, June 6, Rhodes will play at Tawas City. Game time is 2:30.

The Tawas City Baseball Club wishes to thank all who contributed funds for the 1954 season. It was hoped to have a picture of the team members in their new uniforms, which have not arrived, for this year's scorecard. Now the printing of the scorecard conflicts with the preparation of the Herald Centennial edition, and will be delayed.

In Sunday's 14th inning affair, a seven-hit pitching performance was turned in by Gordon Tate of Tawas City. This was Tate's first appearance on the mound this season for the locals and looked very impressive. Tate limited the opposition to seven hits and proved to be tough with runners on base.

White Star's pitcher, Page, pitched a very fine game but lost control in the 14th inning and allowed three costly bases on balls which figured in the scoring.

Here is how the Indies scored in the 14th:

Merv Warner, first man at bat for the locals, was safe at first on a fielding error. Gackstater singled out. O. Herriman singled, Warner holding at third. Tate walked to fill the bases. Humphrey walked, scoring Warner. Russ Anschutz worked the pitcher for a base on balls with Herriman scoring. Groff singled with Tate scoring and Humphrey was thrown out at the plate.

A White Star scoring threat in the 13th inning was eliminated by a good throw by Russ Anschutz, Tawas City right fielder. The leadoff man, Fillmore, singled and advanced to second on a sacrifice hit by Moore. Shaffer then singled to right field but Anschutz nailed the runner at the plate with a perfect throw.

The leading hitter for Tawas City was Gary Humphrey, who had two singles in two times at bat. Shaffer headed White Star's lineup with two singles.

Safety in Automobiles

Testing organizations continue to tell the American buying public that American automobile manufacturers are not giving sufficient attention to safety considerations. In thorough and scientific tests it has been demonstrated that several simple changes in automobile body structure could save many lives, and prevent many disfigurements annually.

One of the safety features which could easily be installed in automobiles is an overhead brace, or rail, as racing drivers call it, which would prevent the roof of automobiles from caving in if they turn over. Although we are aware of the fact that automobiles are not built to be turned over, the fact is that a number of them are turned over every day of the year. And in these accidents an unnecessary number of drivers and passengers lose their lives because the roof caves in and crushes the occupants.

Another safety factor which most automobiles should include is safer braking. Most analytical tests prove that the type of brakes used on a vast majority of the U. S.-built automobiles loses its efficiency when brakes are applied over a sustained application.

Another safety device which would probably save more lives than any other thing, and certainly prevent more permanent disfigurements, is the safety strap. Safety-straps should be worn by all who are going to do prolonged high-speed driving. Every responsible test ever made proves that safety straps protect occupants and the driver from what might be a fatal injury in a large percentage of automobile accidents. Another safety factor which could be more carefully considered by manufacturers is weight distribution, the improper distribution of which causes skids, and therefore many accidents.

The next time you buy a car, or the next time you are talking with your dealer, suggest to him that you would like your next car to be designed with the thought of keeping you alive, in addition to being designed for beauty, power and speed. It is a rather poor commentary on the automotive trade, and the buying public generally, to realize that most of us are driving death traps, slaughtering American citizens at the rate of better than 500 a week, and doing very little about it.

Bible Comment:

Matthew Was Greatest Recorder Of Jesus' Words

TRADITIONALLY, a government official is not easily pried loose from his job. Yet Matthew, a customs official, gave up handsome receipts to follow Jesus and later become a saint and apostle.

He does not appear so prominently in the narrative incidents, but he was destined to be the greatest recorder of the sayings of Jesus.

It is to him that we owe the three glorious chapters of his gospel that we call the Sermon on the Mount.

Jesus said that the Holy Spirit would bring to the remembrance of the disciples all things that He had said to them. Surely this was verified by so amazing an achievement of listening, remembering and recording as Matthew has given.

Here in these three chapters is set forth the nature of the Kingdom, which Jesus said was among men, but not of this world. Here is its constitution, its principles, its way of life. Here is the heart of the Gospel.

The parable of God's love, in the story of the Prodigal Son, and of human brotherhood in the story of the Good Samaritan, and the accompanying parables, are but amplifications and exemplifications of all that the Sermon on the Mount teaches and implies.

It is a sermon for this world, if not of this world. At almost every point the principles of action and motives that commonly actuate men are challenged.

It is more blessed to give than to receive; love is better than hate, and man by his own spirit of forgiveness defines the nature and the measure of the forgiveness that he seeks—"Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors."

It might all seem visionary and impractical but the fact is that many have lived it and demonstrated it in action.

ABOUT TOWN

Cook's Tours
"Charity Isles Enchant Her" and "Too Busy to Hunt Million" were two human interest front page stories appearing in recent issues of the Detroit Free Press. The stories are a part of a series entitled Cook's Tours, written by Louis Cook, a Free Press staff writer, who is seeking out places and people of interest vacationers might find into.

"To Busy to Hunt Million" quotes Tilt Brown as knowing where there's a million dollars. Some time when he's not busy he intends to row out and get it. But at the moment he's too busy and can't be bothered.

According to Cook, the Charities are strange islands of enchantment to Mrs. Grace Nelem of Barney's Shoreline Diner, and she wants to go there just once. But the Charities are like the islands of most peoples' dreams. Hard to go to.

Mackinac's Helpers Go Back to School
Detroit and Mackinac employees went back to school last Friday when the safety film, "Escape From Lunden," was shown here. Produced for the Pennsylvania Railroad, the showing was made in an instructional car borrowed from the C. and O. Railroad.

Praised by Business Screen Magazine, this was the first showing of the film in Michigan. It is a fantasy of Henry, a railroad fireman, who awakens after an accident to find himself in a strange nether world. It takes safety out of the rule book and into the day by day consciousness of every railroader.

IOSCO 4-H CLUBS

Hold Fun Festival Friday, June 11

June 11, Friday, 4-H Club Fun Festival-Dress Revue event, Tawas City Gymnasium, 8:00 p. m.

Off and on all year 4-H Club members have thought about their fun festival event sure to come along in the spring.

At least it has been for two or three years now.

And now the date for the county event is set—June 11. Come to think of it, that date is not very far away, really, is it?

We shall have to get busy on plans for it—the members and contestants, the committee of 4-H Club Council leaders who will arrange the program, and the extension agents, too.

Just as soon as you, a 4-H Club member, or several members decide upon a number for the contest, be sure to let us know what it is.

We need to know about the different acts to arrange a good program for the evening.

What can you do? The acts will be classified as follows:

- 1. Acts with three or more people. A. Instrumental. B. Vocal. C. Dance. D. Dramatics or Novelty.

- 2. Acts with two or less people. A. Instrumental. B. Vocal. C. Dance. D. Dramatics or Novelty.

An act should be between four and six minutes long. Four items are listed on the score-board: Talent, 30 percent; showmanship, 30 percent; audience reception, 30 percent; and costume (suitability), 10 percent.

Anyone having further questions about an act being planned is invited to discuss them with us, Miss Scott and Mr. Davenport.

Doublets there will be a last minute rush to finish those hems and give garments a final ironing or pressing, or blocking (if knitted).

A couple of suggestions, girls—Be sure your garments is clean and well pressed. But check-up also on such things as your posture. Do you stand straight and tall? Can you walk easily and naturally in front of an audience? You still have time for practicing. Be sure your hair is well groomed, your shoes are shined and that you wear shoes and socks or hose suited to the kind of garment you are wearing.

One more word to those who will model aprons, skirts and sweaters. Be very careful about your choice of color and patterns in other garments that show when worn with them.

In a few days you will receive a letter of information about the dress revue program number for June 11. The committee planning it will have things to tell you about. It you understand before hand what is to happen it will be easier for you to take part. Be sure you read your letter at least twice.

Parties to honor mothers in May and fathers in June are a part of the Laidlawville 4-H Club program, reports Joyce Welina.

Project reports were given by Ruth Proper, flower gardening; Richard Laidlaw, handicraft; Judy Nelkie is a committee of one to find out when the roller-drome is open.

Most of the clothing project members wore the garment they have made this year to the last meeting. Ruth played a solo on her horn. Judy sang a song.

Bill Laidlaw acted for the president in his absence.

"Tommy Tucker's Care," an interesting movie on safety, was shown for Taft Junior Farmers 4-H Club members by State Troopers Bert Gerber and Jack Bronard. Faye Pagel, reporter, says they enjoyed the movie and had many questions on driving to ask the troopers.

Robert Waters was elected as the club's new vice president. Project reports were given by Janice Sturtevant and Debora Nichols on clothing.

Discuss Possibilities of Lamb Marketing Pool

By Marvin Davenport

Are you interested in marketing this year's lamb crop through a marketing pool? Last Wednesday, Iosco county sheep raisers met at the Hale High School to discuss the possibilities.

These are the results of that meeting: With John Herrington, Michigan Livestock Exchange manager of the St. Louis Stockyards, and Graydon Blank, Michigan State College livestock specialist present, a complete discussion of the pros and cons of such a marketing procedure was presented.

This is what it would involve. A series of demonstrations will be set up wherein each farmer interested will have a chance to learn how his lambs might be graded. This would come during July or August depending, of course, on the size of the lambs.

Certain days will be set during September, October and November (more if the numbers warrant it) for the actual marketing of the lambs. A yard with pen space and scales will be sought at which time each farmer's lambs will be graded, weighed by grade, stamped for his identification and penned according to grade.

The method of sale can be one of several. They can be sold by auction, a live-stock buyer will pay that day's price for any given grade, or they can be sold by private treaty. A farmer does not have to sell his lambs if he is not satisfied with the price.

In order that our Iosco county sheep raisers have a chance to talk more about this method of marketing, a committee of four was appointed. It any of our sheep raisers are interested in selling their lambs in this manner, contact George Lake and Andy Matthews of Hale, Edward Robinson, Sr., and James Sturtevant of Whittemore. They will be meeting with similar committees from four other counties in June. At that time they will discuss whether or not we should go ahead with plans to sell our sheep in this way.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you are a sheep raiser, regardless of the number you may have to sell, speak now. Talk to the above named committeemen and let them know how you feel.

Others who attended the meeting and you may want to talk to were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fahselt, Martin L. Mroock of Tawas City, Lester Robinson and Lyle VanAntwerp, Hale High School Vocational Agricultural instructor, Casper Blumer, county agricultural agent, from Harrisville, John E. Cobbs and Gustave C. Ott, both of Whittemore.

This committee consisting of George Lake, Andy Matthews, James Sturtevant and Edward Robinson will meet jointly with committees from the four other counties involved on Thursday, June 24.

ARENAC MAN SEEKS SENATE NOMINATION

Richard C. Laney, 30-year-old Standish real estate operator, announced this week that he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of state senator in the 23rd district.

In announcing his candidacy, Laney promised an intensive campaign during which he will meet as many people in the district as is possible.

Born in Little Falls, Minnesota, Laney moved to Michigan with his parents when only one year old. He is the youngest in a family of four boys.

After attending high school in Alpena, he graduated from the local Engineering School in 1945 and operated a tool and die shop in Alpena before passing the state examination for a real estate license. Licensed at the age of 23, he became the youngest real estate broker in Michigan.

Since that time he has been selling real estate throughout Northeastern Michigan and has built up one of the largest selling organizations in the northern part of the state. Central offices are located in a new office building just completed in Standish and branch offices are located in 15 communities.

"It is my opinion," said Laney, "that the primary objectives for a senator from this district are to work for good legislation in agriculture, conservation, education and a strong local government. That is what I intend to do if elected by the people of this district."

"Through my business activities," Laney continued, "I have become completely familiar with the needs and problems of every part of the 23rd district and feel well qualified to represent all people in the district fairly and competently."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

It's the light on the youngster that makes this an appealing picture. The camera could be in deep shade and it wouldn't make any difference.

It's the Light on the Subject That Counts

Light is something vitally important to us, that is certain. One of the things in our lives which depends on it is our picture taking. Without light, we can't have a picture. It is the light entering our cameras when we open the shutter that creates the image on the film. This light is reflected from the subject, into the camera, and on to the film.

We're prompted to talk of this because of a story we heard the other day. This story actually happened. The scene took place in the highly photogenic Greenfield Village near Dearborn, Michigan. A place frequented by tourists and photographers.

One of the attractive features of this reconstructed village from an America of yesteryears is the covered bridges. Another, the horse-drawn carriages in which visitors may ride through the grounds.

Our story concerns a visitor who wanted to take a picture of the carriage as it came into view through the opening in the bridge. This visitor thought it a picture well worth waiting for, so she had the setting for the picture in her viewfinder and was waiting for the horses to appear to snap the picture.

And, just as they did appear, another visitor grabbed her arm, exclaiming, "You can't get a picture here. You're standing in the shade!" The well-intentioned bystander took no notice of the fact that the bridge and the road were perfectly lit by the mid-afternoon sun.

We tell this story, of a snapshot lost, because it is indicative of how little many of us know about the lighting for our pictures. The amount of light where the camera is, has nothing to do with the picture. It is the light on the subject that counts.

Cleary Appoints Press Secretary

Appointment of a press secretary to the "Owen J. Pat" Cleary for Governor Committee" was announced today by James E. Warner of Ypsilanti, state campaign chairman of the Cleary committee.

He is Robert L. Yelvington, Detroit, who is currently directing public relations for the United Hospital Expansion Fund drive in Lansing, a project to raise over five million dollars to expand the city's hospital facilities.

Before his association in the Lansing drive, Yelvington was manager of Buhl Sons Company, Detroit wholesaler; in public relations for "Inside Michigan" Magazine, and the Department of Michigan, American Legion. Prior to this, he served as a reporter on the Hillsdale Daily News, Hillsdale, Michigan, and The Orlando Morning Sentinel, Orlando, Florida.

A graduate of Michigan State College School of Journalism in 1950, Yelvington is married and the father of two daughters.

33 People Die Violently Over Memorial Week-end

A total of 33 persons died violently in Michigan in Memorial Day week-end accidents. Included in this figure were 19 traffic fatalities. Iosco county's highways proved to be some of the safest in the state with only one minor traffic accident reported.

Nationally, the accident toll was a record 539. Of these, 362 died in traffic accidents, one short of the all-time high traffic-death record for the holiday set in 1952.

The Michigan State Police Post at East Tawas reported that holiday traffic over highways in Northeastern Michigan reached new heights over the three-day holiday week-end.

Last Friday night, a car operated by Earl L. Lindan of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base was involved in a crash on the Tawas Beach Road. Lindan told investigating officers that as he approached a curve in the road, the lights from an oncoming vehicle blinded him. He applied his brakes and pulling off the road, crashed into a tree.

Lindan suffered bruises to the back and hip and was treated at the Wurtsmith base hospital.

Officers from the East Tawas post handled one accident in Arenac county. This accident occurred on Monday when Frank Gillen of Rockwood swerved the truck he was driving to avoid a collision with a car that approached on the wrong side of the road. The truck went over an embankment and crashed into a tree.

Gillen and a passenger, Howard Greenshaw, the owner of the vehicle who was riding in an enclosed box in the back of the truck were treated for injuries at the AuGres hospital.
