Eighty-five 4-H Club leaders, sponsors and guests gathered for the 4-H Club Leaders recognition banquet and program at the Masonic Temple on Monday evening, November 8.

Marvin Davenport, county agricultural agent, as toastmaster introduced the hosts and hostesses: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anschuetz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Everett, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. VanOrnum, Mrs. Edward Hebert, Miss Donna Summers, Miss Dorothy Scott and Mr. Davenport. The Rev. Richard Jennings of Christ Episcopal Church gave the invocation.

Table and decorations using a 4-H Club theme and colors in green and white made an attractive dining room setting for the excellent roast beef dinner served by ladies of the Eastern Star. Table games provided fun in-between times and everyone seemed especially interested in the right answers for 20 "How many do you know?" statements describing persons who do much to assist 4-H Club and other extension programs in Iosco County.

Highlights on the program were the "Silly Serenaders," three Missaukee County 4-H Club members, Terry Peckham, Donald Ardis and Russell Ingelright, whose technique for entertainment is a real specialty. This number was one of the blue ribbon fun festivals acts selected at the State 4-H Club Show in September. They expect to perform at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago later this month.

"This I Pledge," the top State 4-H Club Show speech, was given via tape recording by Sandra Copeland, a Lenawee County 4-H Club member.

A "Treasure Chest" of ideas for improving and increasing effectiveness of the Iosco 4-H Club program was offered by Harold Hammond and Mrs. Roy Atkinson, whom the 4-H Club Council had asked to represent them at the North District Leaders training school.

Vic & Zel Move to New Building

The Vic and Zel Restaurant, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Forcier, opened at its new location on US-23 this week. Formerly located in the Bublitz Building, the restaurant recently moved into its new quarters at 701 Lake Street in Tawas City.

The new cement block building was constructed by Milton Koehler this fall and features cross ventilation, picture windows overlooking Tawas Bay, and is trimmed in knotty pine.

The Forciers have been in business here since 1945 when they established a restaurant at the old G. H. Q., as the building was known for many years. Prior to their establishment here they were residents of Flint.

The Forciers stated that they will continue to serve the same fine foods and will specialize in fish and chicken dinners. The restaurant will be closed every Thursday, except for the businessmen's luncheon at noon.

New Ford Cars and Trucks Go on Display

Ford will introduce an entirely new line, the high-styled Fairlane series, as the leader of its four lines of 1955 passenger cars to be shown in 6,400 dealers' showrooms across the nation today. Locally the new Ford will be shown at Orville Leslie and Son's Tawas City.

Modern styling inspired by Ford's new Thunderbird personal car distinguishes the new Ford's. Retaining definite characteristics which have won Ford style leadership, the 1955 Ford's also have a wrap-around windshield and a new, lower silhouette. The Crown Victoria, a new model, is the first Ford sedan under five feet in overall height.

Tawas Area on University List

According to an announcement from the Tawas Area Schools this week the system has been placed on the University of Michigan's tentative list for accreditation. The University of Michigan's Bureau of School Services stated that an official accreditation visit can be made only after adequate facilities are provided.

In a letter to Tawas Area principal, Ronald W. Butterfield, Donald C. Weaver of the bureau of school services commended the school on several points and, at the same time, drew attention to several deficiencies found in the school system during his recent visit.

Tentative approval on the university's accredited list of schools means, for example, that a student who graduates from the Tawas Area Schools is not required to write an entrance examination if he wishes to enter the university. Full accreditation by the university is one of the most desirable classifications and one which is sought by all schools of Michigan.

The bureau of school services commended the Tawas Area Schools for providing full-time clerical person in the principal's office and for the pupil record system and internal financial accounting.

In his letter Mr. Weaver stated, "A system of shuttlebus

QUOTA CLUB ADOPTS TWO COUNTY-WIDE PROJECTS

At its regular meeting November 10, the members of the Quota Club of Iosco County formally adopted two projects of service to the county as its initial continuing projects, one being replacement of eye glasses for needy children, the other being a clothing bank. These are directed by the service committee, headed by Mrs. R. G. Schreck.

The first project is in response to a need for eye glasses from time to time for school children. Recommendations and referrals will be made through social agencies in the county, and the club will purchase the glasses necessary.

The clothing bank is something new for Iosco County. Two members of the Quota Club and anyone else interested in participating will call a central committee to give the listing of anything they might have which is in good condition and might be used by families who may need this service. There will be a complete card file kept on the clothing, giving the size and condition of the garment, so that when a certain item of clothing is needed, the person who might have such a garment is contacted and the transfer made. The clothing will be kept in the home of the donor, who will be ready to give it at any time to someone who needs it. Thus, anyone who needs clothing, or if you know anyone who needs clothing, may call the clothing bank by contacting Olive Barnett, phone 884, who is making the card file. Please call Mrs. Barnett to have your donations listed.

It is anticipated that these projects may be helpful in providing service to the area, and all members stand ready to give their assistance.

Wood Manager of New Development Organization

The newly formed Community Development Corporation of Oscoda has secured the services of C. Dwight Wood as manager of the organization. Mr. Wood is recognized as one of the best community and industrial development specialists in the nation, and is continually sought for consultation by development groups throughout the country. The board of directors was unanimous in its choice of Mr.

C. DWIGHT WOOD

Wood as manager," said Chairman William Cottrill. "We feel we are most fortunate to be able to secure a man who brings to this community so many years of successful community planning and development experience. It is more than we had hoped to be able to do."

Mr. Wood is a native of Michigan and for the past four years has been industrial commissioner of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company, so he is well acquainted with this area and its future needs. Prior to coming to northeast Michigan he was chief of the area development division of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, planning director for the City of Lansing, consultant to several north central states and an industrial engineer.

Mr. Wood is president of the Great Lakes States Industrial Development Council and is affiliated with the American Railway Development Association, American Society of Planning Officials, American Industrial Development Council, National Industrial Zoning Committee and the Michigan Society of Planning Officials. He has written and compiled several publications which are now used as guides in the field of community development throughout the nation and in many foreign countries.

Mr. Wood will start his work there the first of December.

Preliminary Plans Laid for Michigan's First Floating Hotel

Preliminary plans were completed this week for Michigan's first floating hotel which will be located at the Tawas City Park dock in Tawas Bay. A group of Detroit businessmen met with the park board and city council Tuesday night where the final go-ahead signal was given to the project.

The group plans to anchor the Detroit and Cleveland "Western States" at the dock. It will be known as the "SS Over-Niter."

The 362 foot-long ship will be run as a first class hotel. Tentative plans include a dining hall, special hall and recreation center. There will be no bar.

The three-decked "SS Over-Niter" will cater to conventions and will fill a need that has long been lacking in this area north of Bay City.

Plans for transporting the former D. and C. liner into a hotel have been under way for several weeks, and it is expected that the ship will be moved to Tawas Bay before the winter freeze-over.

Bad Check Passing Spree Ends in Arrest

A spree of bad check cashing in this section of Michigan ended last week-end with the arrest of Howard M. Cramer, 27-year old parolee from Mullikan, Michigan.

Cramer was accused of cashing approximately 25 checks totaling more than $1,400. Most of the checks were written for $25.

Officers who made the arrest said that Cramer would make a small purchase at the business place he was about to victimize and then would write out a check for $25 and pocket the difference.

After his arrest at National City by members of the Michigan State Police, Cramer admitted passing no-account checks at Gladwin, White Star, Sterling, Prescott, Melita and West Branch. He later admitted to passing checks at Long Lake, National City and Whittemore in Iosco County.

The parolee was wanted by the Rockford, Michigan police for unlawfully driving away a truck owned by his former employer, the C. and B. Silo Company of Grand Rapids. Cramer was turned over to the Rockford police on this charge.

The bad checks were cashed in Clare, Gladwin, Ogemaw, Bay, Arenac, Iosco, Newagen, Montcalm and Mecosta Counties, the state police reported.

Philo Odell and Son Injured in US-23 Accident

Philo Odell and his 11-year-old son, Walter, of Baldwin Township were injured in a two-car crash Saturday evening at Linwood Corners on US-23.

Miss Loretta Beane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John LaBeau of Pinconning, died in Mercy Hospital from internal injuries as a result of the collision.

Robert Billingsley of Crump, in whose car Miss LaBeau was a passenger, also suffered injuries.

Bay City Post State Police investigating the accident said that the Odell car was going south on US-23 and Billingsley was traveling west across US-23.

Walter Odell received pelvic injuries and head lacerations and Mr. Odell sustained hip and arm injuries. They were taken to Mercy Hospital.

This May be Last Extension Class

"It looks as if this may be your last extension class for sometime," stated Dr. J. D. Marcus of the field service of Central Michigan College, to a group of Iosco County and other interested teachers at a meeting last Wednesday evening, after discussing the possibilities of a fall extension class for 1955. "Most of you teachers are nearing the graduation point thereby making classes so small that Central can no longer come to your area without losing money. It has been a pleasure to serve you and if and when the situation changes the college field service will be glad to return."

The teachers were further informed by Doctor Marcus that classes would be conducted in Standish, Rose City and Alpena and that schedules will be announced in the December issue of the Field Campus News.

Tawas Boy Gun Accident Victim

A 16-year-old Tawas City youth was the victim of an accidental shooting last Sunday while hunting in Section 35 in Alabaster Township.

The accident occurred when Morley and his two companions, Dennis Webber, 15, and Donald Phillips, 17, of Tawas City were hunting near the Townline Road near Dead Creek.

The boys told investigating officers that Morley and Webber were walking through a field about 80 feet apart with Phillips walking behind them. Phillips called to the youth and as they turned around Webber tripped and fell, his shotgun discharging.

Entered at the Tawas City Postoffice July 12, 1884, as Second Class Matter, under Act of March 1, 1879.

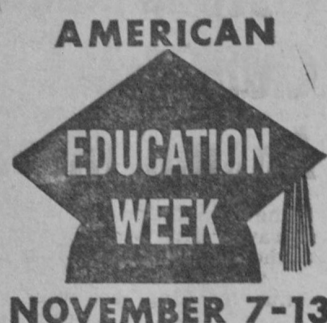

P. N. THORNTON and SONS, PUBLISHERS

The observance of American Education Week, November 7-13, brings out the need for more adequate school facilities. This problem is confronting many American communities. Today, most of our schools are "bursting at the seams" with the greatest overcrowding in our history. The situation is getting more critical every year, and it is predicted that by 1960 American schools will have to take care of almost eight million more children!

Locally, the school situation is typical of that confronting the nation. In an attempt to remedy this situation and provide a well-rounded school program, the several school districts in the Tawas area voted unanimously on September 30, 1952, to reorganize, forming the Tawas Area School District. Since that time, the efforts of the board of education and various citizens groups in presenting a proposed school building program have failed to gain the electorate's approval. Valuable time has been lost and the plight of the school system remains unchanged.

Interest has been aroused recently with the discussion of new sites and economizing measures. Individuals who are concerned over the school problem are hoping that a solution may soon be reached. Your board of education, composed of men elected from all sections of the district, is working relentlessly to effect a solution. To do so requires tire help and cooperation of all the residents of the district.

Today, our school is in trouble. Can we afford to gamble with the education of our community's future citizens? The answer to this question is up to you. Get behind the board of education, P.-T. A. and other public-spirited groups to see that our children get the education that is their birthright as Americans. BETTER SCHOOLS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES.

The Fight is Over!

[Bible Comment:]

Our Supreme Task Is to Work With God

"WE are laborers together with God," wrote Paul to the Christians at Corinth. The idea of working with God is commonly and easily acceptable. It is natural to think of every good and gracious deed as something done for God. Since He is the source of all goodness, to live and act according to His love and grace is to live and work for Him.

But to work with God is something more. To share His purpose and do His will, to be creators, as God is creator—this, surely is man's highest privilege and destiny.

A first condition of working with God is to believe in Him. Jesus expressed this when He said, "This is the work of God, that ye believe on Him, whom He hath sent."

In Jesus also we see the nature and meaning of working with God. He said: "The work of Jesus was in giving life, healing, help and salvation. If we raise the question of miracles and gifts of healing, it might be pointed out that the benign influences, wherever Christianity has spread, have made possible "greater works" on a vast scale.

Hospitals everywhere, multitudes of nurses and doctors, organizations of men and of women for help and service; whether or not they serve in the name of Christ, all are evidences of Christian work and influence.

To work with God in making His salvation powerful among men, to work for God in promoting human welfare; this is man's greatest task, unfinished in a world still languishing in sin, suffering and oppression.

With all that has been accomplished, many great works still remain undone. May we all enlist as workers with God and for God!

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor: Your cities were once known far and wide for their beautiful shores and tourist facilities. But that, the talk about "The Past" is, has changed. Now if you admit you once lived in the region about the only remark made by the outsider is, "Say, quite a mess your school district is in. How's it going to turn out?" It doesn't take long to recognize the school site angle again. But what is there to say but that all will be well in time. It concerns me to think how the site problem will work out, knowing the outcome will not hinge upon the ideals, minds and motives of the people, but upon the insistence and persuasive powers of a few active persons.

Just what is the drive behind the planners and-or plotters who may so effect the solution? Would it be too much to ask them to try to identify their motives? Yes, write down on a list their solution in its parts and see if the word, EDUCATION, is anywhere related to their activities. The aim may have been lost in the fog.

Child Accounting Association Meets at Lansing

The Child Accounting Association held a meeting last Friday in the Union Building of Michigan State College, Lansing.

The association, consisting of teachers, clerks and superintendents from all over the state, was called into session by the Department of Public Instruction to study the latest forms and laws in child accounting, which is the governing factor in determining the distribution of state aid to schools.

Auditing, census forms, work permits and child labor laws were discussed by the group.

Out of this discussion came the resolution to petition the State Labor Division to prohibit the use of children under 16 years of age in bowling alleys.

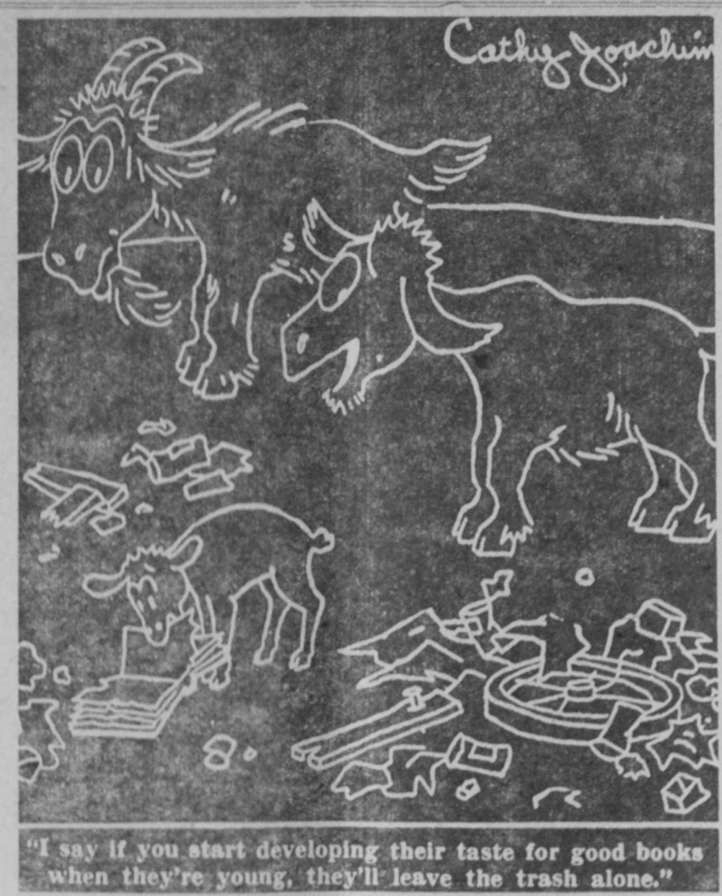

Lunch was served in the dining room of the Union. The principal speaker was Guy Hill, coordinator of High School Services for Michigan State College.

Those attending the meeting from Iosco County were Russell A. Rollin, county superintendent of schools; Miss Jean Brunet, secretary to the county superintendent of schools; and Viola Lee Cater, secretary for Tawas Area Schools.

"William's Shadow" by Austin: A Ground Hog Day mixup provides a hungry woodchuck with wool to pull over his friends' eyes in this wily little spring tale.

"Sparkie and Puff Ball" by Brown: A thoroughly horsey story takes young Sparkie, who yearns to experience the real thing, West for a satisfying installment of ranch life.

"The Crooked Colt" by Anderson: A colt born nearly crippled gains the health and strength needed to make him normal in a heart-rending and utterly beguiling picture by the loved author-artist.

"Fighting Coach" by Archibald: Money and prestige versus football for its own sake—this is once again the theme of a new story by a veteran football writer.

"Jenny's Birthday Book" by Averill: Fessily packaged department of utter nonsense as Esther Averill writes and pictures another story of her famous feline brainchild.

"With Dad Alone" by Beim: The sadness and the emotional problems his wife's death bring to Mr. Madison and his two sons are wonderfully treated in a story with the steady, sensitive realism and humor that have come to be Jerrold Beim's trademark.

"When Jesus was a Little Boy" by Everling: In rhyme, these wonderings about Jesus as a very small child have a quality of charm, awe that sentimentalizes the Nazarene surroundings and the way Jesus spent his life.

"Miss Pickereil Goes to the Arctic" by MacGregor: The fourth book about the salty elderly spinster, Miss Pickereil, and her remarkable travels.

"Book of Nursery and Mother Goose Rhymes" by de Angeli: This is it, the nursery rhyme book you've been hoping for, with all the rhymes the most demanding addict could ask for—and with pictures that are sheer delight.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Here's an example of an easy way to convey a Christmas greeting in one simple snapshot. It pictures the youngsters of the family and sends the holiday message in an interesting, eye-catching fashion.

One Snapshot Makes a Christmas Card

The exchange of Christmas cards is one of the best of our holiday traditions. It brings us into communication with people in whom we are much interested, but just don't have time for keeping in touch throughout the year.

That's one reason why we like to have our greetings be as personal as possible, and a good reason for making a picture greeting that will help tell our friends and relatives a story of the family.

We're all familiar with the very nice cards that your photofinisher can make up from masks bearing the Christmas greeting and using a favorite snapshot.

But you can take a picture which will form the whole greeting. All you have to do is find a way of incorporating the name and of greeting into a picture situation. Snap the picture, and take it to your photofinisher for printing on double-weight matte paper, slightly enlarged. Then it is just a matter of putting it in an envelope.

This type of card really allows your ingenuity and originality to have full sway. It can be a picture of the children, the puppy, or the whole family—or even of the new house or new automobile. The greeting can be written on the window of the house, on a mirror, or on a blackboard. It could be lettered poster fashion, or spelled out in alphabet blocks. Do it however you wish, to create a picture Christmas card that really reflects your personality and interests. A few simple Christmas props, taken from the storage shelf a little early, will enable you to create a holiday atmosphere for a very up-to-date snapshot.

Hot Lunch Program—Project in Tawas Area Schools

The hot lunch program is by no means a recent project in the Tawas Area School. The program has been in successful progress in the East Tawas school at least 14 years. It was discontinued last year and has been adopted this year beginning Monday, December 8.

The lunch program has been proven an asset to every school that has started it. Student and teacher reactions are favorable. The students especially welcome a hot lunch during the winter after having to leave home quite early and riding many miles on school buses.

The idea is rapidly taking hold, and should be given consideration by schools that do not have hot lunches.

The state aid permits serving at less than cost. The schools are allotted a certain sum by the department each year to buy kitchen utensils. Some food is also supplied by the government.

The cost for each student is approximately 30 cents per day, which is somewhat less expensive than a lunch prepared at home.

Mrs. Robert Toska Sr. of East Tawas is employed to prepare the meals and strives to serve the food that is to the liking of the students, yet is good for them.

The teachers feel that the students do better work in school when they eat a hot lunch, due to the fact that nourishing and substantial food in the body makes for better thinking during the day.

Students who would rather work for their meals, may do so by helping serve and doing other odd jobs in the kitchen.

Friday, November 12, 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.—Soil Sampling Demonstration, Orville Strauer farm; 2:30 to 4:00—Soil Sampling Demonstrations, Will Herriman farm.

Thursday, December 2—What Can We do About Marketing Eggs and Poultry? Mac Moore and Henry Larzelere from Michigan State College, 7:30 p.m.; Artificial Breeders Board of Directors meeting, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Wednesday, December 8—What's New in Insecticides for 1955? Ray James, Michigan State College.

Thursday, December 9—"Hanging It on the Line," dairy-wise, James Hays, Michigan State College Dairy Department.

Monday, December 13—Soil Conservation District Board meeting, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Why a calendar so far ahead? So you can plan ahead. Mark your calendar for these dates: December 9 will be your last chance to see and hear James Hays. He is retiring and this will be his last visit to Iosco County.

On the soil sampling demonstrations, the two set for Friday, November 12, are the last for this year. We hope those who have not attended will make a special effort. It is your farm, your fertilizer money and crop money. We hope you are interested in spending it wisely. Only an accurate soil test can help you. We were glad to have A. F. Oates, Claude Benson, Victor Anderson and Grant Bessey ask questions about the business of soil sampling. We feel certain these men will include soil sampling in their program knowing where they needed lime on their crop acres and where to apply fertilizer for the best results.

We stopped at Waldo Curry's the other day and looked at the wheat fertilizer demonstrations.

To put it bluntly, in our book, Waldo is one of our very good farmers in Iosco County. Ask Waldo if he was surprised to find a phosphorous deficiency in our plots? In fact, go see for yourself. The strip with no fertilizer certainly showed up. The strips with 400 pounds, 800 pounds of 5-20-20 per acre tell us a story, too. Keep an eye on these plots.

Leaves can cause a lot of damage to your lawns. They'll smother the grass if you don't rake them off. Removing the leaves is the first step in pre-winter lawn care, according to James Tyson, Michigan State's lawn specialist. Burning is the most common way to get rid of the leaves. But it's probably the least desirable way.

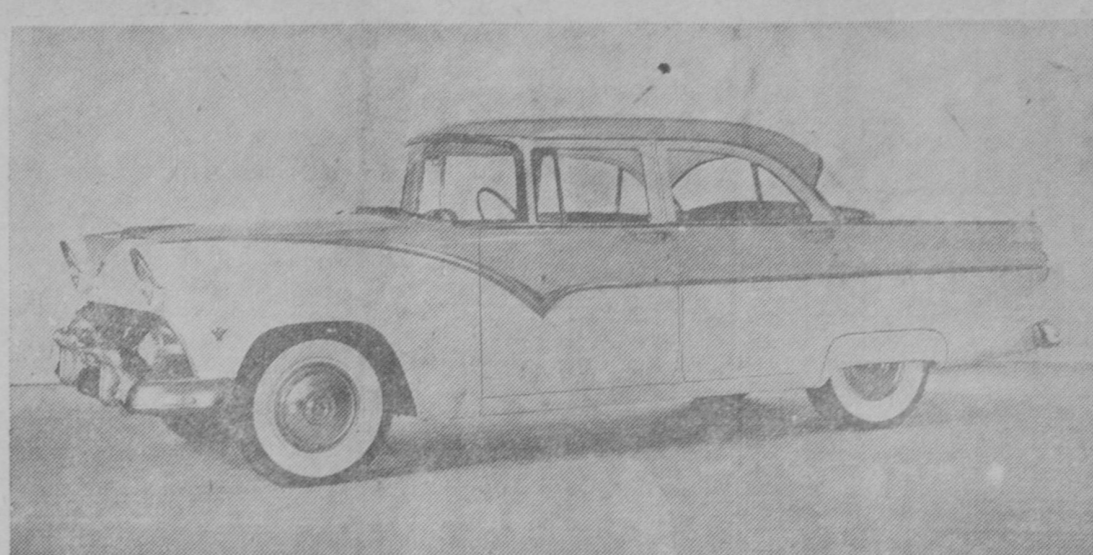

He recommends putting them in a compost pile with other garden refuse. Soak them with water, sprinkle with a lawn fertilizer and cover with a couple of inches of soil.

Another method of disposing of the leaves is the use of a mechanical leaf mulcher. Many of these are on the market at present. The leaves are ground into small pieces and distributed back on the lawn as a fine mulch which sifts down between the blades of grass on ordinary lawns. However, this material cannot sift through heavy bent grass lawn and probably should not be used there.

A final word in pre-winter lawn care is to keep the lawn mowed at the recommended height until all growth ceases in the fall. With as much rain as parts of Michigan have had in recent weeks, this is an important reminder. If too much growth is allowed in the fall, some of the lawn may be smothered out.

Walter Mallmann, a bacteriologist at Michigan State, warns folks not to be fooled by people who want to sell a "new method of keeping septic tanks sweet and clean."

He says that many so-called remedies have appeared on the market from time to time. The latest is a "highly concentrated mixture of enzymes." It is supposed to replace "lost or worn out bacteria" with new bacterial cultures. It is supposed to speed up the reduction of solid waste matter for easier drainage.

"MAD" ENOUGH TO STING—Pointed tail of this Lockheed P2V Neptune waiting for take-off at Burbank, Calif., carries a real sting for U. S. Navy sub-hunting operations. Nicknamed the "MAD Bird" for the more formal name of its equipment, "magnetic airborne detector device," the instruments in the tail are designed to record disturbances in the earth's magnetic field caused by submarines moving underwater.

The various officers assembled together "by office" to receive materials and suggestions to help them do their job in the best possible way during 1955. Assisting with these discussions were: Mrs. Roderick Heilmann, chairman; Mrs. James Mielock, vice chairman; Mrs. George Bissonnette, secretary; Mrs. Clarence Brindley, news reporter; Mrs. Edward Robinson, community chairman, and Mrs. O. J. Westcott, recreation chairman.

Mrs. Charles Attwell, Mrs. Herman Drengberg, Mrs. Roderick Heilmann, and Mrs. Lester Green of Hale and County-Line groups arranged most attractive table decorations. They used pansies in baskets, most of which were made by the women after last year's basket weaving lesson.

Pictures were taken of new groups and groups helping sponsor them. Marvin Davenport, county agricultural agent, was photographer and interested the women with the fast developing of pictures. They could see what the pictures were like within two minutes. The Hale High School Band, directed by Paul Jones, brought music for the afternoon program. Everyone tried to get all the good information on social security and its possible service to them. Mr. Sherman, from the Bay City office, has a great many facts and figures at hand, and there is so much to remember, so much that might be—all of us believe every person with questions, or doubts, would do well to have a talk with Mr. Sherman about his own situation. He has office hours in the county on the first Wednesday of every month. The next visit will be in January.

Women who attended the District Rally at Omer last month were pleased to renew acquaintance with Miss Edna Sommerfeld, new assistant state home demonstration leader in our North District area. She told the women a little of several new extension projects in Michigan. One is known as the farm and home development program. (Have you read of it, already, in one of your farm magazines?) Another is the special marketing program.

Also mentioned was the Michigan home demonstration member survey, currently being carried on throughout the state. Forty-one Isoco members have been asked to help with this project by completing questionnaires. Most of them have been returned, for which we are most pleased, and are hoping to receive the several missing ones within a few days.

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Great new 8
Two new 6's

It's the valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

You'd expect Chevrolet to out-V8 the field—and it has! Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" puts a brand-new kind of excitement under your foot. The excitement of 162 horsepower! The excitement of an 8 to 1 ultra-high-compression ratio that squeezes more pure fun out of a gallon of gas than you ever dreamed possible! The new "Turbo-Fire V8" is so efficient that it requires only four quarts of oil instead of the usual five or more. And it has the shortest piston stroke in the low-price field, for longer engine life. But we can't even begin to give you the whole story here. Come in and drive the new "Turbo-Fire V8!"

With enough new advances to fill a book!

Chevrolet offers two new highstepping sixes for 1955! There's the new "Blue-Flame 136" (teamed with Powerglide as an extra-cost option) and the new "Blue-Flame 123." Both bring you new, higher-rated power—the zippy, thrifty high-compression kind. Both have new, more efficient cooling and lubrication systems . . . new engine mounts that result in almost unbelievable smoothness. And, like the new "Turbo-Fire V8," both are sparked by a new 12-volt electrical system for finer performance and faster cold-weather starting. They're the liveliest, smoothest sixes Chevrolet ever put into a passenger car!

The Bel Air 2-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

More than a new car . . . a new CONCEPT of low-cost motoring

"October 16 was the first meeting for Taft Junior Farmer food preparation project members. They met at the home of Mrs. Earl Daugharty on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be a meeting every Saturday at 2 o'clock until we have finished that project.

"First project girls learned to measure flour, brown sugar and white sugar. At next meeting Neva Daugharty and Barbara Robinson are to show how to fix oranges and grapefruit for breakfast. They are to prepare and serve a breakfast before the next meeting.

"Second project girls are well on their way to progress. Following their first meeting they are going to make different kinds of soups. These girls will prepare a supper before the next meeting.

"With the things we make we are planning for a Hollowe'en party.—Barbara Robinson, reporter.

"Second and third project knitting girls of the Taft Junior Farmers Club met at the home of Mrs. Howard Mott after school on October 29.

"The regular meeting will be on Thursday of every week after school.

"Shirley Smith and Debora Nichols are already on their second mitten. Most of the third project girls have their sweaters started, after much raveling and restarting. Guess we are out of practice after summer vacation."—Lorna Mott, reporter.

Certificates and calendar year pins were presented 1954 4-H Club members of Laidlawville community at their regular meeting on November 3.

The schoolhouse meeting place was really full of club members and leaders on Wednesday night. Mr. Davenport said there were 27 in all. Several new members have joined the 4-H Club this fall. How about the reporter giving us the names of all those who are new members this year?

These young people conducted a lively meeting and did it with considerably more "finesse" than most adults could master. By that we mean they know, understand and use good parliamentary procedure.

By the grapevine we hear that Burleigh Wizards 4-H Club has had a couple of special events. One was to have been a hayride, but turned out to be a dance because of the weather—but, let's ask the reporter to give us the low-down on what goes on in their Community 4-H Club.

Alabaster-Whitney, Laidlawville, Friendship, Taft Junior Farmers, and Burleigh Wizards 4-H Clubs seem, at least, to have completed their organization work for this coming year. We believe all have received the needed bulletins and supplies, including secretary books, secretary report-to-the-office sheets, and reporter-blanks, for use of the club reporter and project reporters. If there are further needs, do contact your extension service office about them.

Reporters, let's hear more from you about club and project activities. This is your column and it will be most interesting to you and members of your club if you contribute news for it.
