Election Year—

With the 1956 election little less than a year distant, we need not get alarmed every time a politician gets alarmed.

Seek Solution in VanEtan Dam Trouble

A hearing on objections to the VanEtan Lake dam special assessment tax levy, held Saturday before a special session of the Iosco County Board of Supervisors, brought out 40 VanEtan Lake property owners as objectors. Speakers for the group felt that the county, as well as the assessment district, should participate in the cost of repairs and maintenance of VanEtan Lake dam. The board of supervisors maintained its position that all such costs were the responsibility of the district benefited by the dam.

It was also alleged that the wording in one phrase used in the board's resolution did not conform to that in the petition asking for the establishment of the VanEtan Lake Dam Special Assessment District. This portion was rewritten to conform with the petition and the board set December 5 for a second hearing on objections.

The questioned phrasing was relative to the cost of repairs and maintenance of the dam. The supervisor's resolution read, "and it is agreed that the Iosco County Board of Supervisors shall not be chargeable for any damages or improvements." The petition circulated and signed by the petitioners read, "saving the County of Iosco from any liability therewith."

Among the speakers in the VanEtan Lake group of objectors were Frank Van, Mrs. A. F. Holland and John DeGrot. Participating in the hearing was Attorney J. Russell Hughes of Harrisville, who is representing the VanEtan Lake association of landowners in their efforts to find a solution to the problem at VanEtan Lake. The county is represented by Prosecuting Attorney William R. Barber.

VanEtan Lake dam was constructed in 1948 to control the water level of VanEtan Lake. Only a short time after it went into operation there was trouble. Landowners below the dam alleged that its operation caused erosion and damage to their property. Suit against the county is now pending in circuit court for alleged damages on account of the position of the dam and improper maintenance. For several years the dam has been operated under the control of a court order issued by Judge Herman Dehnke.

To follow the suggestions of the court a petition signed by 169 VanEtan Lake riparian landowners was presented to the board of supervisors at a special session held October 24. The petition asked that a VanEtan Lake Dam special assessment district be set up and a tax levy of $4,000 a year be spread on the tax rolls of the district. These yearly assessments to be over a period of five years to liquidate a proposed bond issue of $20,000. The money from the bonds was to be used for improving, repairing and the maintenance of VanEtan Lake dam. The board of supervisors at that meeting adopted a resolution to set up such a special assessment district and called for a hearing which was held Saturday.

"Since our experience with VanEtan Lake dam," one veteran supervisor said Saturday, "we are wary of proposals of dams to maintain or change water levels of lakes or streams. We've had several of such propositions brought to us in the last few years. On paper the proposed dam may work fine, but in the stream it's a different story. Damage suits and dissatisfaction may be the result. A water level beneficial to wildlife or perhaps one taxpayer's purpose may destroy another taxpayer's sandy beach and turn his property into a quagmire."

2 East Tawas Hunters Die in Woods from Heart Attacks

An 80-year-old East Tawas deer hunter, John Goodall, 820 Smith Street, was found dead by a 24-man search party late Tuesday night after he was reported lost in Section 9, Mitchell Township, Alcona County.

Coroner H. Smith of Harrisville pronounced the cause of death due to an acute coronary thrombosis and also due to his age. The body was removed to the Moffatt Funeral Home at East Tawas.

The Michigan State Police reported the death of a second hunter, Clarence Weatherby, 64 Star Route B, East Tawas, at noon Wednesday. Mr. Weatherby, hunting with a party of three, was stricken when he returned to his car parked near the Monument Road.

Charles Berkhouse, St. Johns, Michigan, a member of the party, told officers that the victim complained of "pains in his chest" when he returned to the car. Police were unable to learn of any known relatives at that time.

Mr. Goodall was hunting with Harry Rollin of Tawas City near the Russell fire tower in Alcona County. Mr. Rollin told officers that Mr. Goodall had left camp at 8:00 a. m. to go hunting. When night came and he failed to appear at the camp a search party was then organized.

The Michigan State Police at East Tawas learned of the mishap when Rollin called the post from Glennie at 9:00 p. m. and advised them about 24 hunters had been searching for Mr. Goodall until that time. He requested assistance from the state police to continue the search at day break Wednesday morning.

Continuing their search Mr. Goodall's body was found at 10:30 p. m. The victim's rifle, a 30-30 caliber Winchester, was not loaded when he was found. The body was taken to the hunting camp where they were met by police, the coroner and sheriff's department officers from Alcona County. The body was taken to the Moffatt Funeral Home at East Tawas.

Saginaw Men Held On CCW Charges

Three Saginaw men are being held under $500 bond at the Iosco County Jail on charges of carrying a concealed weapon after waiving examination on the charges in justice court this week.

The three men, Julian Hernandez, 32; Joseph Flores, 31, and Benito Vargas, 28, were apprehended by state police officers Sunday night on US-23. The men were headed north on a hunting trip and their car was weaving on the road.

During a routine investigation of the vehicle after stopping the men, officers found a 45 caliber automatic pistol in the glove compartment. Further investigation revealed a 10-shot Johnson semi-automatic 30-06 rifle in the car.

Vargas, owner of the pistol and the rifle, admitted to police officers that he did not have a permit to carry the pistol. The two weapons, along with two deer hunting rifles and a shotgun, are being held by the state police.

New Trooper Here Has Close Call

A new member of the East Tawas Post, Michigan State Police, Trooper Raymond V. Bronicki, had a very close call on his first night of patrol here this week.

Trooper Bronicki and his partner, Trooper Max Waterbury, were questioning a driver who had pulled off on the shoulder of the road Sunday night. Another car came along the road at a high rate of speed and narrowly missed hitting Bronicki. The driver of the speeding car was apprehended and ticketed on a reckless driving charge.

Bronicki is a recent transfer here from Detroit.

Hunters Equal 20 Infantry Divisions

An estimated 400,000 red-clad hunters, equal in number to about 20 full army infantry divisions, turned out Tuesday to tramp through Michigan's woods or sat near their favorite runways for a chance to draw a bead on the wily white-tail deer. Conservation department officials said that some 65,000 of them would be taken before the season ends November 30.

Here in Iosco County the season is still too early to make a prediction on the number of deer taken by hunters, but it is believed to be less than in previous years. Law enforcement agencies reported no hunting accidents.

Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz said Wednesday morning that hunters were most successful in the southern half of the county. He said that hunters in Alabaster, Sherman and Burlington Townships reported a fair kill. The best hunting area seemed to be along the Townline Road. Jack LaFear, conservation officer at Oscoda, reported a fair kill.

"It is still too early to predict the hunting success this season," Leitz stated, "but there was less shooting in the county the first day compared with opening day last year."

Conservation law violations were about the same as the preceding year in Iosco County. Officer Leitz said. Three men were arrested for shining deer and two men were apprehended carrying loaded guns in their car. No does were picked up by the conservation department on opening day.

Among the national celebrities hunting in Michigan this week are Arthur Godfrey of television and radio fame and Rocky Marciano, world's heavyweight boxing champion.

Godfrey landed his private plane at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, Monday afternoon and later accompanied Lt. Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the United States Strategic Air Command, to Grayling where they joined a private hunting party.

Marciano, who was expected to join a hunting party at Escatawac, was expected to join a hunting party at Escatawac. (See Hunters, page eight.)

Christian Science—

What purposeful living and intelligent consecration to God can mean for mankind will be explained at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon, "Soul and Body," will include the following from I Peter (1:22, 23): "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (428:15-19): "We should consecrate existence, not to the unknown God whom we ignorantly worship, but to the eternal builder, the everlasting Father, to the Life which mortal sense cannot impair nor mortal belief destroy."

Cadillac

Beyond the Realm of Argument!

This is the season when conversations turn easily and often to motor cars.

And, in almost any gathering, you're likely to find a wide difference of opinion about the relative merits of the year's automotive offerings.

Until the talk turns to Cadillac!

Here is one car concerning which most motorists have a meeting of minds. And never before has Cadillac left so little room for argument as in 1956!

Certainly no one could behold the new Cadillac without recognizing it as the "car of cars". Its beautiful, graceful, flowing lines... its regal bearing on the highway... and its long, low silhouette are simply too significant to misunderstand.

Surely no one could ride in a new Cadillac and not agree that it is the Standard of the World. Its new fabrics and leathers are rich and luxurious almost beyond belief... and its interior appointments have been crafted with a jeweler's skill.

And we doubt if anyone could drive a new Cadillac and not understand that it is the finest-performing motor car of all time. Its great new engine is a revelation in power and performance... and its new Hydra-Matic Drive is incredibly smooth and responsive.

Truly, the evidence on the side of Cadillac has never been more apparent than it is today.

Why not come in soon—and see for yourself?

We'll be delighted to introduce you to Cadillac's great new styling... and to arrange a demonstration at the wheel... and to acquaint you with the new Sedan de Ville and Eldorado Cadillac.

You'll agree, we're certain, that Cadillac Tor 1956 is beyond the realm of argument!

Farm Events

By MARVIN DAVENPORT Josco County Agricultural Agent

Tuesday, November 22—Lamb pool at West Branch, 9:00 to 2:00 p. m.

Friday, December 2—Lamb Improvement Association Board of Directors meeting at West Branch, 1:30 p. m.

Tuesday, December 13—Last Lamb Pool for 1955. There were over 800 lambs and sheep going through the pool last week.

It was a pleasant and wide open meeting I attended last Friday night at Hale. The Pomona Grange, headed by Gerald Belen, with Mrs. Belen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bellville and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black from Whittemore and Glennie Grange members, discussed the topic, "Our Farm Problem."

A total of 161,500,000 acres in the United States and Alaska are under the control of the bureau of land management of the United States Department of Interior. This land, consisting mostly of woodlands, is estimated to contain 260,000,000 board feet of saw lumber and another 212,000,000,000 board feet of non-commercial timber.

county-wide gun safety project in 4-H Club work. Lt. Col. Weston Lennox of the Wurtsmith Air Force Base offered the opportunity for 4-H Club gun safety members to use the base rifle range. All of us are interested in helping to train our young people.

The final discussion by those Grange members led to the conclusion that our farm problem must be met face to face with a program that will bring production in line with demand. It was a general feeling that production and storing the surplus was much too costly.

Clarence Carpenter, our DHIA tester, has again provided us a monthly report of the DHIA dairy herds. October is certainly no comparison to June as a dairy month, but here are the farmers that do a good job the year around.

Our beef raisers would be interested in this comparison of the three Northern Michigan beef cattle sales held last month: West Branch—Steers, $23.43 average; heifers, $20.04 average. Alpena—Steers, $21.58 average; heifers, $17.55 average. Gaylord—Steers, $23.14 average; heifers, $19.06 average.

Clarence Carpenter, our DHIA tester, has again provided us a monthly report of the DHIA dairy herds. October is certainly no comparison to June as a dairy month, but here are the farmers that do a good job the year around. These herd and individual cow averages verify excellent management. Each of these farmers will tell you it is no magic formula to get the production they are getting, but they can tell you in five minutes how they do it.

William Herriman and Waldo J. Curry suggest you pay them a neighborly visit and talk "cows". Here are the high herd and individual cow records made in October:

17 High Cows Regardless of Age Butterfat Basis

Table with columns: Owner of Cow, Lbs. Pct. Lbs., Milk Fat Fat. Lists names like W. Curry, Peggy, A. Povish, Fannie, etc.

Two High Herds-Each Group Butterfat Basis. Table with columns: No. Cows, Av. Lbs. Milk, Av. Lbs. Fat. Lists names like W. Curry, 18 H 986, T. Nelkie, 11 H 934, etc.

Government Deficit Less

While the government spent more in the first quarter of the current fiscal year than in the period a year earlier, tax receipts rose also, with the consequence that the deficit for the three months was about a billion dollars less than in the earlier period.

It will be impossible, of course, to present complete courses in one easy lesson. Since the topic must be limited, we want to limit it to those items about which home demonstration members most wish to learn more. That is why your suggestions will be so very helpful. Send them in now.

Mrs. Albert Ulman, Tawas City, was hostess for a home demonstration group discussion meeting a short time ago. A second meeting has been planned for December and by that time Mrs. Ulman or your home demonstration agent will have been pleased to learn of your interest in joining a group. Won't you contact one of us very soon?

Did you hear and see the first of a series of television programs on Channel 5 during the noon hour on Sunday, November 13? This one was entitled, "From the Soil." The next one will feature farm organizations and be entitled, "Farm People Help Themselves." Paul Miller, director of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, will participate in telling the story of what these organizations are, do and mean to you. We assume this next program will be November 20, same time and station.

There will be plenty of turkey for Thanksgiving. Or, if you prefer, there is a plentiful supply of pork, beef, broiler and fryer chicken.

What "fixings" to serve with your festive main dish, be it turkey or other choice. Other food plentiful from which to choose during November are: Onions, winter pears, cranberries, grapes, raisins, dates, avocados, cherries, potatoes and rice. These are the economy buys and may help balance the budget if the meat costs more than you planned.

Let's choose a turkey for your Thanksgiving platter. Today's turkey produces almost 50 percent more finished meat than was true several years ago. There is a turkey for the family of two or 20, choose a weight from four to 30 pounds.

Cues for shopping are these: A young full-fleshed bird, wide breast and body, meaty legs and body, soft tender flesh and straight breast. Be sure the bird is clean-dressed and dry-backed if not frozen. Graded birds insure better eating quality.

And men, for better flavor, nicer appearance, less shrinkage and loss of juice, roast turkey at a low temperature of 300 to 325 degrees Fahrenheit. Allow time for the bird to rest and absorb the juices for about 20 minutes before serving. Stuffing ingredients may be readied beforehand and perishable ones refrigerated until Thanksgiving morning. Then combine the stuffing and prepare the bird for roasting. It doesn't take much time this way, but is so very much safer than doing all the preparation the day before. That is because stuffing begins to spoil easily and could cause illness.

Leaflets with shopping tips, preparation for cooking directions and serving ideas are available for turkey and chicken. One is yours for the asking.

If a member of your crowd has been fortunate, yours may be a venison Thanksgiving dinner. There is an excellent bulletin entitled, "Venison," awaiting your request, too. In it are tips for caring for the carcass, cutting and storing the meat and recipes for preparing many delicious venison dishes.

Easy toys for a child from washcloth, sock or scraps of material and felt, a laundry bag for your fine lingerie, a clothes pin holder, a shower mitt that uses the last sliver from a bar of soap, salt beads and paper cut-outs for the children to make; a variety of aprons, seasonally decorative and protective, many quickly made and easily laundered; seasons greetings expressed with corsages suitable for mom, big sister, even a lapel decoration dad might like; an idea for placards or decorating the wrapped packages; suggestions for a book gift suited to the age and interests of the receiver.

From these Christmas giving ideas 60 women chose the patterns and copied directions for the ones they wanted at the workshop meetings last week.

The "Question Box" collected a few ideas, and very good ideas, too, for the subjects to be included in the home demonstration group lesson on home nursing and first aid. Your suggestions for discussion topics, or questions about a specific topic are still very much wanted.

the Snapshot Guild

Family holiday gatherings offer wonderful subject material for storytelling snapshots like this.

Giving Thanks—With Your Camera

The last Thursday in November signals not only the official arrival of turkey and cranberry sauce, but the foregrounding of family members who haven't been together for some time. This, we feel, makes Thanksgiving Day a perfect occasion for picture-taking—especially group pictures which everybody always enjoys adding to an album collection.

Though all of us will surely forget calories and diets in the face of the "greeting board," that's as far as we should go in emulating our Victorian ancestors! When it comes to taking family group pictures, stiff poses and stuffy formality are now as definitely out of date as the plush-parlor atmosphere of Grandmother's day.

In taking your group snapshots, there are a few pointers you'll do well to remember. First of all, don't try to shoot too large a group at one time. You'll find two pictures are better than one—if more than a half a dozen people are going to make up a single unit for your viewer. Next, be sure your subjects have a center of interest, or you may end up with a composition reminiscent of "the good old days" when a family picture meant stiff-necked poses and glassy-eyed stares! Just keep your camera trained on the little conversational groups that form naturally—perhaps three or four adults admiring the newest baby, or several of the small fry embraced by a pet kitten or puppy. Natural groupings such as these are your best bet because the subjects themselves are less likely to be self-conscious or even aware that picture-taking is in progress. And here's one more tip we'd like to pass along in connection with picturing any group of people. If you're using flash to light your snapshots—and you probably will be when you shoot indoors at this time of year—try to have all the members of your group at approximately the same distance from the camera. Otherwise, your lighting on the subject will be uneven—with the person in the foreground appearing too light, the one at middle distance about right, and anyone in the background much too dark. —John Van Guilder

WITH THE IOSCO—
4-H Clubs
 By Dorothy Scott
 County Agent

Seventy-one 4-H Club leaders, spouses, sponsors and friends of 4-H made up the 4-H Club leaders recognition party at the Barnes Hotel Monday evening, November 7. They enjoyed and shared in the fellowship, food, fun and information arranged to help everyone better understand what an investment in 4-H Club leadership can mean.

"Clover Kiddies 4-H Club" was chosen as the name for the new 4-H Club organized in East Tawas.

"Most of the members are in the fifth grade. They are Marianne White, Mary Lou Merschel, Kay Bowman, Joyce Fairfield, Ruth Ellen McLean, Connie Lutes, Judy Bolen, Penny Grinkey, Becky Brandemuel, Debbie Barkman, Sandra Barnett, Barbara Johnson, Eunice MacFarlane, Shirley Wendt, Karen Conklin and Jo Ann Phillips.

"It was decided that dues would be 25 cents a month and to be paid at the community meetings.

"The meeting was held at the Federal Building after school Monday, November 7. Mrs. Albert Conklin, our community leader, helped us.

"A reporter was elected because it was forgotten at the last meeting. Kay Bowman is the reporter.

"Games and songs were planned by Eunice MacFarlane and Barbara Johnson.

"Breakfast is our first project, and the next three Mondays will be project meetings."

Welcome to 4-H Clubs, Clover Kiddies. And hasn't reporter

Kay written a good first news story?

Chickens and cows were featured in movies at Laidlawville 4-H Club meeting for November, reports Janet Nelkie. Singing and plans for the Christmas meeting in December completed the evening's program.

Gene Roiter, reporter for Alabaster-Whitney 4-H Club, says the gun safety project meetings will be discontinued until spring. Present for the November 3 meeting were Ronald McCormick, Peter Bolen, Gene Roiter, Rom Roiter, Jerry Brown, Ronnie Deering, Robert Erickson and Dan Roiter. Leader Ernest Nash Jr. served a "snack."

Gifts for the needy will be packed by members of the Hale Happy Hustlers 4-H Club and sent to soldiers to distribute. This plan is revealed in the report sent in by Secretary Carol Ann Boughner. She adds that their next meeting is December 1 at 7:30 p. m. at the Helmhold home. We presume the packing of gifts will be done at the meeting.

National Gypsum Company Celebrates 30th Anniversary

Thirty years ago November 10, National Gypsum Company consisted of a small office and a few acres of farm land in Clarence Center, New York.

Today it is one of America's greatest companies. It employs more than 7,200 persons, has 39 plants from Nova Scotia to California, 28 district sales offices and assets of 144 million dollars.

Today National Gypsum celebrates its 30th anniversary with the publication of a company history.

In 1925 Joseph F. Haggerty, Clarence E. Williams and Melvin H. Baker founded National Gypsum. They had no plant, no product. But they did have an idea for a lighter, more flexible gypsum wallboard.

Unable to raise the necessary money through investment channels, the founders tried successfully the expedient of having its own small sales force sell the stock. The first plant at Clarence Center was in production the following spring.

RETIREES AFTER 30 YEARS AT NATIONAL GYPSUM

This is probably a unique example of how a company financed itself by turning its product salesmen into securities dealers.

"We had nothing but faith in our hearts," Mr. Baker, present board chairman and the man who has guided the destiny of the company for almost its entire history, said recently.

In spite of price wars, bruising competition, an over-supplied market and a battering from the depression in its infancy, the company continued to grow and prosper. It has paid a dividend every year since 1929. Its sales in 1955 are expected to exceed 150 million dollars.

"I think we had to be farsighted to survive," Mr. Baker reminisced. "For one thing, we knew the population was going to grow and need a lot of houses. We also recognized quite early the need for product diversification, vertical integration, geographical decentralization, principles which are quite familiar today."

The greatest period of growth for National Gypsum Company has been in the last five years. It has mined almost as much gypsum in the 1950-55 period as it did from 1925 to 1950. The total mined to date is 30 million tons—enough to build the interiors of six million American homes.

In addition to gypsum building products, National Gypsum manufactures 150 other products including paint, asbestos-cement shingles, acoustical products, insulation board, lime, metal lath products and rock wool insulation.

Last February Board Chairman Baker announced a five-year 75 million dollar expansion program. The company now has five new plants under construction.

Peter Sakola, who has been with the National Gypsum Company since the plant was first founded in Isoco County, retired last week.

Coming to Sherman Township from Detroit, where he was a stationary engineer at the Ford Motor Company's Highland Park Plant, Sakola purchased a farm south of the present plant and later sold it to the gypsum company.

During Sakola's long service with National Gypsum, he has watched the Isoco County plant grow from a bare field to one of the company's largest plants.

During construction of the National City plant in 1926, Sakola operated a stationary boiler which was used to heat concrete for the buildings.

Born in Nogzlok, Rumania, September 25, 1888, Sakola came to Detroit as a child.

He has two daughters, Mrs. Clyde Wood and Mrs. Edward Magalski, both of National City.

List Local Industries in Manufacturers' Directory

The Tawas Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record in the preparation of the eighth edition of the Directory of Michigan Manufacturers. The 480-page directory is revised every two years. Its listings, all free, include all manufacturers in the state and show executives with titles, products manufactured, number of employees and year established.

In addition to national coverage, this year for the first time the directory is a part of the exhibits of the United States Department of Commerce in 26 international trade fairs held in major world cities. Total attendance at the fairs approximates 30,000,000. Arrangements have been made with the department of commerce to place copies of the directory in the commercial libraries of United States embassies after the fairs are over. Here they are accessible to businessmen and buyers in foreign countries. Michigan firms will readily see the importance of accurate and fullest information in their free listings.

Local industries may contact the Tawas Chamber of Commerce to insure correct and complete listing information in this industrial guide for Michigan.

Toska-Brussel

Miss Bessie Eileen Brussel and John Toska were married Saturday, November 5, at the St. Joseph Church in East Tawas. The Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brussel of Wilber Township and the groom is the son of Mrs. Augusta Toska of East Tawas.

The bride wore a gown of imported lace and tulle, seed pearl trimmed. A contour cap held her fingertip veil of illusion net. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Audrey Brussel was maid of honor for her sister and she wore a coral nylon net and lace gown over taffeta. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow Fuji Chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Steinhurst, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Robert Toska, wore similar gowns of aqua net. The strapless bodices of nylon net were topped by net stoles, with bouffant skirts. Their bouquets were bronze Fuji Chrysanthemums.

Robert Toska was best man, with Terry Carr and Robert Steinhurst assisting. Ushers were Durwood and Dwayne Brussel, brothers of the bride.

A breakfast was held at the Ostrander Restaurant for the immediate families following the ceremony. The reception was held at the country club in the evening for 200 guests. They left on a two-week wedding trip to points in Florida.

Vincent Beam of 641 Lake Street, Tawas City, was the first hunter to report his kill at The Tawas Herald office on opening day. He shot a six point buck at 7:30 a.m.

Other early hunters to report a successful season were: Paul Grimes of Tawas City, a spikehorn at 7:25 a.m., hunting four miles west of Glennie; Edward Anschutz of Tawas City, an eight point buck, and William DeGrow of East Tawas. Mrs. J. Butler of Baldwin Township was a successful hunter, shooting her buck at 7:45 a.m.

The three men were released from the sixth army guardhouse by a writ granted by Federal Judge Louis E. Good man. Farm Dollar—

The farmer's share of what the housewife spends for food is expected to be shaved further next year, according to an agriculture department estimate, which said the farmer's portion of the consumer's food dollar in 1956 will be around 40 cents, compared with 41 cents this year and 43 cents in 1954. But, because of higher marketing charges—up three percent in the third quarter of 1955 from a year ago—only a fraction of the farm price drop was passed along to consumers.

TIME TO MAIL CHRISTMAS PARCELS SAYS KASISCHKE

"It's time to start those Christmas mailings," Postmaster Martin Kasischke warned today, launching his 1955 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign.

"On the calendar it's a month away but here in the post office it's Christmas today, and every day until December 25," he said. Post office inkwells have been filled and in fact everything is ready for the mammoth flood of Christmas mail that is expected to smash all records.

The post office has already dispatched a tremendous quantity of gift packages headed for members of the armed forces overseas. Christmas cards for service personnel can still be delivered in time if they are sent by air mail before December 1. In the United States, smart people are now mailing gifts to friends and relatives living in other states.

Postmaster Kasischke especially calls on housewives to help in his effort to deliver every package and Christmas card before December 25. "The lady of the house," he emphasized, "is really in charge of each family's Christmas mailing program. She selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts and sees to it that the mailing list of friends and loved-ones is up-to-date.

"Actually, success in having all Christmas gifts and greeting cards delivered on time is largely a matter of advance planning and preparation which should be done this week," Postmaster Kasischke pointed out.

He urges that you take the following steps at once: Get out your Christmas card list and carefully check through it; make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state; then, pay a visit to the post office, stock up on stamps (use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards for first-class mail service), and ask any questions you may have about mailing regulations.

You can do this in a leisurely way if you will come to the post office after 10:30 a. m. or between 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. thus missing the rush hours. On your way home pick up a supply of heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and kraft paper adhesive tape. A modest investment in these necessities will pay big dividends in safe delivery of your cherished Christmas gifts.

After your gift wrapping and packing is complete, plan your mailings so that those for the most distant points go first. Try to get all long-distance mailings into the post office before December 5 and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 10. You will be glad you did.
