Start the New Year with a Shot!

Perhaps the most precious gift you could give your children is good health for the coming year. As yet, of course, no one can guarantee against colds, appendicitis, tonsillitis and the like. But all of us can, if we will, assure our youngsters a future comparatively free from polio, diphtheria, small pox and many childhood diseases by the simple method of immunization.

Of immediate importance is protection against polio and diphtheria. Michigan State Medical Society doctors are rightly concerned over the public's apathy toward immunization. They are now engaged in an intensive campaign, called "Operation Armor," to urge that their patients avail themselves of the ready supply of vaccine during the holiday period. Any delay in beginning the series of polio injections, they point out, means less than maximum protection when the polio comes around next June.

We strongly urge your participation and cooperation in this preventive program.

Christmas Program Presented Dec. 19 at East Tawas

A beautiful Christmas program was presented last Wednesday evening, December 19, at the East Tawas Ladies Literary Club rooms. Miss Ruby Evans, chairman, announced the numbers which were presented by the Tawas Area High School Quartet. Directing the quartet and a c o m p a n i s t was Richard Ferguson and members of the quartet are David Featheringill, Fred Teeple, Sharon Staebler and Brynn Proctor. Mrs. D. A. Evans gave a beautiful Christmas story, "Layette Night," depicting the true spirit of Christmas giving.

Mrs. Rex Kochenderfer presented the Tawas Women's League in Christmas chorus numbers and two high school freshmen gave "The Swedish Rapsody," with Julie White at the piano and Nancy Allen on the clarinet. The president, Mrs. C. S. Everett, announced that the meeting scheduled for January 2 at 2:00 p. m. was changed to an evening meeting at 8 o'clock and that it would be a youth program. Refreshments of coffee, tea

Christmas cookies, candies and nuts were served with Miss Evans presiding at the serving table which was covered with a poinsettia organdy tablecloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of golden pine cones and red ribbons flanked with red candles in crystal candelabra. Hostesses were Mrs. Russell Klenow, Mrs. Lutie O'Loughlin, Mrs. Theodore Dimmick, Mrs. Ben Wilson and Mrs. Richard Jennings.

Mounting enrollments, plus a shortage of qualified teachers and classrooms are depriving at least 840,000 children of fulltime schooling this year, according to the National Education Association. The total estimated enrollment of public school children in the current school years is 32,338,688. This is 1,197,350 more than the estimated enrollment last year.

WITH THE IOSCO— 4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
Home Demonstration Agent

A new 4-H Club was organized in Grant Township Wednesday, December 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wehrman. Mr. Wehrman was named community leader. Project leaders selected are: William Finley, handicraft; Mrs. Yvonne Finley, food preparation; Mrs. Cora Coates, clothing with Joyce Coates as junior leader; 4-H Club Girl, Mrs. Lola Biggs, and gun safety, Glenn Biggs.

4-H Club members present were Joyce Coates, Darwin Biggs, Verna Kay Wehrman, Donna Coates, June Coates, Donald Finley, Larry Finley, Jerri Finley and David Finley.

On Wednesday, January 4, at 7:30 p. m., this group will again meet at the Wehrman home in Eagle Park. At that time an election of officers, selection of committees and a leaders meeting will be conducted.

Reno Topnotchers foods project reporter, Janice Sturtevant, tells us they began a baking project about eight weeks ago. At the second meeting they brought bread and tasted it. Some was light and some was heavy ("including mine," she says) "Lorna Mott's was the lightest and we found she had let her bread raise four time to our twice."

"At the third meeting we brought rolls, some were hard and some soft. Each had made a different kind."

"The pies were good except some of the crusts were tough. Cakes were last and they were good. Two of us had mixed them a little too much and they were dry."

Mother's comment—"The girls seem to get a lot from this baking project. Anyway we have eaten a great deal more homemade bread and rolls as a group than usual."

Clover Kiddies enjoyed a Christmas party at the home of their project leader, Mrs. James McLean, Thursday afternoon.

"Guess what" was a red Christmas stocking game. The stocking contained about 20 inexpensive items. Each member was given one minute to feel and write down what she thought was in it. Those with highest scores had first choice of the articles as gifts. Other games and a gift exchange among the members were the real reason. Refreshments were sort of self-serve, each one frosted her own Christmas cookies. Mrs. Albert Conklin, community leader, was a guest at the party.

Baldwin Lodge Installs New Officers Saturday

Open installation of officers of Baldwin Lodge 274, F and AM, was held at the Masonic Temple last Saturday evening. The installing officer was Past Grand Master Roy Westfall of Harrisville.

Installed were: Worshipful master, Kenneth Blake; senior warden, Floyd Dummill; junior warden, Robert A. Brookbank; senior deacon, W. T. Immers; junior deacon, Wayne Vaughan; secretary, Russell McKenzie; treasurer, A. Glenn Hughes; chaplain, Charles Ferguson; stewards, Richard Harwood, Clarence Stevenson, Charles Schreck, Robert Hadix; marshal, Clifford Guyette; Tyler, John Smith.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

OLD SUPERSTITION: MARRIAGEABLE MAIDENS WHO LOOK OUT THE WINDOW ON NEW YEAR'S MORNING CAN ANTICIPATE BEING MARRIED BEFORE THE YEAR

Better 'Winterize' Yourself Says Mich. Heart Association

Old man winter is with us officially, and, according to the Michigan Heart Association, we had better give thought to "winterizing" ourselves as well as our houses and automobiles.

"Too many people," says E. A. Irvin, M. D., Dearborn, president of the association, "fail to realize that winter can be very hard on hearts. It is no coincidence that the incidence of heart attacks is much greater during the winter months, and all of us must learn to take it a little easier."

Wearing heavy, bulky clothes, overshoes and rubbers, fighting icy winds, slippery sidewalks and snow drifts, and even the mere effort of the body in combating the cold, all make the heart work harder and faster. Add to this the strain put on the heart by winter infections and even such a strong organ as the heart may have trouble.

This advice applies particularly to those past 40 who may not be accustomed to strenuous exercise or undue physical exertion. This group especially must learn to "Take it Easy." Learn to shovel snow in stages instead of all at once, and perhaps you had better leave the strenuous winter sports to the youngsters.

But, for all of us, young, middle aged or elderly, the Michigan Heart Association, a United Fund agency, offers the following suggestions for "winterizing" ourselves:

1. Have a complete physical check-up by your family physician.
2. Do your winter work and play at a pace which will not make you overly tired.
3. Keep your weight down to normal.
4. Get plenty of rest.
5. Avoid infections.

For further information about heart disease, write to HEART care of your local post office.

Polio Still a Threat; Causes 16 Deaths in State During 1956

Polio is still a threat to health and life in Michigan. Polio caused 16 deaths in this state during the first 50 weeks of 1956.

Anti-polio vaccine has proved 90 percent effective in preventing paralytic polio, the only form of the disease which can result in death. This means a person cuts his chances of getting paralytic polio by 90 percent when he receives the three-shot series.

Now that an effective vaccine is available and polio evidently has been knocked against the ropes, the problem at hand is to get the people into doctors' offices or into local health departments and then to get the vaccine into the people. Most of us tend to become complacent and apathetic as soon as a danger appears to subside. And yet, no one can say for certain that polio actually has subsided in Michigan.

Before polio vaccine became available, polio normally ran in seven-year cycles in Michigan, causing comparatively large numbers of cases and deaths every seventh year. The disease still may be running such a course, and the decline in cases during the last few years may represent the trough portion of the polio curve.

Until enough time elapses for health workers to learn exactly what polio is doing in relation to the vaccine, the wisest course for persons of all ages is to take advantage of the best protection at hand by being vaccinated against polio.

And the sooner the better. A minimum of seven months is required to obtain maximum protection from the vaccine because of waiting periods between shots. And in seven months Michigan will be entering another summer and approaching the peak of another polio season.

GOOD LUCK TO YOU

Here we stand on the brink of another year and it's time we must be grateful for all the promises that it holds forth, and, too, for the peace and prosperity that has blessed the year now past and so soon to be forgotten.

Never look back, they say, or throw away even a slight lament for now-fruitless time which has been indelibly inscribed to history.

Years come and go, unto eternity; but it is never the New Year which supports the myriad hopes and ambitions of mankind... the New Year, full of Rewards, Achievement, Happiness and Success.

The big Christmas dinner was over and the last of the dishes were done when you discovered it—the candles had dripped on your best tablecloth!

Here is how to get the wax off. Scrape off the excess with your fingers or a dull knife. Put the cloth between absorbent paper towels and iron it to melt the wax. Use lemon juice, bleach or carbon tetrachloride to remove any stain left.

Someone spilled punch on a taffeta or velvet dress? Take it to the cleaners as soon as possible. Be sure to tell them where the spots are and what they are.

Spots of gravy or ice cream? A like method of removal will work. If the fabric can be laundered, rub a solution of strong detergent over the spot; then wash the article with warm soapy water. Fabrics that won't wash can be put between two absorbent pieces of paper and pressed with an iron. No moisture is used in this method, so no water ring will be left.

Cranberry stain on linen? Pour boiling water through the stain and the sooner the better. Hold boiling teakettle of water three to four feet away from the cloth. This method increases the pressure of the water as it is forced through the fabric. If not all of the stain is removed, try a bleach like hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate.

Did you receive pretty nylon lingerie for Christmas? Then you will want to keep it looking like new.

Never wash nylon with any colored garments even if the colored garments seem not to bleed. Nylon is a great color-picker, so do not take risks, wash with white only.

Contrary to popular beliefs, washing nylon in an automatic washer produces whiter and brighter nylon. Keep them white always with a nylon bleach used regularly. Use only occasionally the bleach is not effective because minerals from the water build up on nylon and cause it to become yellow.

Anti-static solutions in the rinse water not only cut down on the static electricity but help to keep nylon clean. Electricity holds dirt.

I've never seen poinsettias as beautiful as the ones flower shops had this holiday season. You will want to keep them that way as long as possible.

Poinsettias, traditional Christmas flowers, will last until late January with proper care.

Place your poinsettia plant in a warm room—the average living room is the right temperature. Keep it moderately moist, never allowing the soil around the plant to dry out. Place it near a window and away from radiators and drafts.

Poinsettias will retain their leaves until late January or early February. If you wish to keep the plant permanently, dry it out when the leaves begin to drop off.

Water it just enough to prevent the soil from becoming bone dry. Keep the plant dormant until May; then report it with fresh soil. Cut branches back to within three to six inches of the original break where the branches begin. If there is only a single stem on the plant, then cut it back to within eight inches of the soil; begin watering it.

You may put the poinsettia outside in the summer or you may keep it inside. In the fall be sure to bring the plant in before the temperature drops.

From October on, place the plant in a room where lights are not burned more than 11 hours a day; keep it moderately moist. With this care, you should have more beautiful poinsettias bloom next Christmas season.
