'Must Feel Responsibility in Polio Fund Campaign'

The fight against polio goes on, and Isosco County residents must recognize their responsibility in connection with the present drive. "One sometimes wonders if the average citizen realizes the seriousness of the dread disease and all the attendant consequences that follow an epidemic," stated County Chairman John Watkins, in pointing out the importance of the annual March of Dimes. "First remember, this disease is no respecter of persons. Today we know that it hits older people as well as the young, and then your bed becomes a battlefield, for the road back to anything like normal life is a long, hard battle."

"We must renew our interest in the long, hard fight ahead. All of us must put forth greater and greater effort to raise funds to find a certain cure for the disease and to provide care for those already stricken. The real and certain cure seems presently not too far away, yet much must still be done in research and experiment to be sure that the disease is conquered. This county needs your help, and you need the help given freely in all cases by the National Foundation in cases of attack by the disease."

"Many methods for raising funds have been used elsewhere. Use the methods used by others, such as pancake suppers, dances, airplane rides at a penny a pound and many others, or think up your own fund raising scheme, but do get busy with a fund raising effort. Realize the need, get interested in the drive and really show that interest by work."

"We must go over the top in a drive that has set our quota higher than ever. Forget the extra luxury and in its place remember polio and the March of Dimes."

One of the purposes of this committee is to create a better understanding and relationship between the various unions. Representatives forming this committee are as follows:

Anderson Coach—Arnold Hoshach and Robert Spain. Detroit and Mackinac Railway—Henry Neumann. Consumers Power Company—Albert Duquette.

Michigan Bell Telephone Company—Elaine Applin. Theodore Olson, president of the local, said that regular meetings of this committee are planned for the future.

Mrs. Joseph Flint, Mrs. Iva Mallon and Roy Youngs spent last week-end with relatives and friends in Bay City.

Officers Investigate Recent Burglaries

Michigan State Police and sheriff's officers from Isosco and Arenac Counties are investigating two breaking and entering cases at Oscoda, one at AuGres and a series of cottage burglaries in Oscoda Township and the Hale area.

The breaking and entering of the Edelweiss Tavern at Oscoda during the early morning hours last Saturday netted thieves approximately $15 in change and about $70 worth of beer. Entry was gained by forcing open a storm door and then breaking out a window in the front door. Thieves took a cash register, valued at $500. Later it was found on the ice in the AuSable River.

Investigation continues on the breaking and entering of the Osceda Elementary School on January 24. About $200 was taken from the principal's office and other rooms. Entry was gained by forcing a window on the north side of the school. Thirteen rooms were ransacked.

The breaking and entering of the AuGres school on January 24 netted burglars about $20 which was stolen from three vending machines. The thieves tried to break open a safe but were unable to gain entry after breaking off the combination and removing the bolts from its hinges. All rooms in the school were entered.

Five breaking and entering of cottages on Cedar Lake Road in Oscoda Township are being investigated.

Exra Jacobs was the first owner to report that his cottage had been burglarized. After checking other cottages in the same area, officers found that four more had been entered.

The extent of the larceny at this time is not known as all of the owners have not been contacted. It is believed by officers that the breaking and entering was done by the same subjects who had previously burglarized (See Burglaries, page 2.)

4,000 Visit Silver Valley Last Week-End

With "King Winter" holding full-sway in Northern Michigan winter resort areas, the annual Silver Valley Winter Sports Carnival will be held this week-end, starting Friday, February 3, and running through Sunday, February 5. All previous attendance records are expected to fall during the three big days.

Attendance at Silver Valley so far this season, described last week as the best ever in the history of the area, took a "giant step" last week-end toward even surpassing earlier expectations. More than 4,000 winter sports fans jammed Silver Valley last Saturday and Sunday to set even higher attendance figures.

Boasting this record crowd were the 1,600 persons comprising the 10th annual East Detroit Lutheran Caravan who romped in the snow Sunday. Some 40 buses carried the young people here from Detroit. The group was headed by Bert Leidecker, who was the originator of the caravan trip here.

Wednesday was "Silver Valley Day" at Tawas Area Schools. Seven buses were used to transport approximately 500 students to the winter sports area. Supervision was by faculty members.

Impressive church services were held at the East Tawas State Park later in the afternoon. Prior to the services, the group was officially welcomed to the area by L. G. McKay Jr., treasurer of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee and president of the East Michigan Winter Sports Council.

A full representation of all military services were present for a flag dedication ceremony to the Lutheran Caravan preceding the church services in the park.

The men taking part in the dedication were T-Sgt. Lloyd H. Foley, United States Air Force Recruiting Service, Bay City; S-Sgt. Raymond Gaddy, United States Marine Corps Recruiting Service, Saginaw; Petty Officer First Class Donald Hadd, United States Navy Recruiting Service, and SFC John J. Smith, United States Army Recruiting Service, both of East Tawas.

Another familiar visitor to Silver Valley last Sunday was Van Patrick, popular radio and television play-by-play announcer of the Detroit Tigers. Patrick officiated at the crowning of several Silver Valley queens in past years.

Arrangements to entertain 14 girls from the Orthopedic Girl Scout Troop of Bay City on February 12 are being made. A letter from Mrs. Louis Anderson, leader of the group, was received this week by the Silver Valley committee. She said that six of the girls cannot walk and requested some form of transportation in the Silver Valley area and an opportunity to see "Perchville."

The troop, believed to be the only one of its kind, will be the guests of the winter sports committee. They will receive a noon lunch and arrangements are being made to transport them around the area on a horse-drawn cutter.

POUR FOOTINGS FOR NEW TAWAS AREA SCHOOL

Footings for the new Tawas Area Junior and Senior High School were started last week by Davison-Rose, Incorporated, general contractors for the construction of the new school.

A slight break in the weather allowed workers to start pouring concrete last Thursday and by Wednesday of this week footings for the entire west wing had been completed. Work has now started on footings on the north side.

Excavations on the site for the mechanical room and boiler room are underway.

The twin cities of Tawas City and East Tawas will be honored in a special program, "Salute to the Tawas," to be aired over the 26-station Stroh Hockey Network on February 7. The program will be heard during the Detroit Red Wing-Chicago Black Hawk broadcast.

Appearing in a special taped interview will be Mayor George W. Myles of Tawas City and Mayor Elmer Werth of East Tawas. The interview took place last Wednesday afternoon at the Tawas Industries plant in Tawas City with David A. Hallack of Detroit conducting the program. The interview with the mayors will be heard between the second and third periods of the hockey game, expected to take place between the hours of 9:30 and 10:00 p. m.

This is the second successive year in which the Tawas have been honored on such a program. Last year the two mayors visited Detroit and watched the Wings first-hand at Olympia and were introduced to Jack Adams, general manager of the team, and Al Nagler, Stroh's radio network sportscaster.

During last week's taped interview, the mayors were given the opportunity to discuss the Tawas over the radio network. They told of important happenings during the past year and of the economic and recreational advantages of the area.

Both mayors commented about the opportunities for small industries in this area and invited interested industries to investigate the Tawas as a possible site for location.

The program may be heard locally over WFDF, Flint, and several other radio stations which serve the area.

Arrangements for the interview were made by Mr. Hallack, director of public relations for Zimmer, Keller and Calvert, a Detroit advertising agency, and P. N. Thornton, editor-publisher of The Tawas Herald.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR OBSERVER POST AT HALE

Preparations are now underway to organize a Ground Observer Corps post at Hale, it was announced last week by S-Sgt. Jack Jones of the United States Air Force and Carl Eckman of East Tawas, county coordinator of the GOC.

The two men met with Clare Pierce and John Mortenson of Hale last Thursday and learned that the new post plans to utilize a building which was used as a ground observers post during World War II. Mr. Pierce has accepted the position of post supervisor.

Initial groundwork for the new post was arranged by the Hale Community Council early last week when it was asked for assistance by the county organization. Pierce and Mortenson were appointed as a committee to work with the GOC in organizing the post.

Deer on Ice Flow

Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell said this week that his department investigated a call from Elmer Slaven, Tawas City, of two deer on an ice flow in Tawas Bay. It was believed that the deer had been chased out on the ice by dogs from Alabaster Township. Last year more than 100 deer were killed by dogs in that township alone.

Mystery Farm No. 5 Named by 42 People

Last week's "Mystery Farm" in the current 52-week aerial photo contest, appearing in The Tawas Herald, was recognized as the George Mott farm located on M-65 about 1 1/2 miles south of Hale. At one time the farm was known as the Cleveland Ranch and later as the Stork Ranch.

The farm was recognized by 40 out of 42 readers who phoned or sent in post cards to the Herald with their guess. A number of telephone calls were received from readers in the Hale-Whittemore area who had no trouble in identifying the picture.

Subscription winners this week were Mrs. Basil Runyan of Hale and George Binder of Tawas City, Route 1. Each will receive a one-year free subscription to this newspaper.

"Mystery Farm" number six is pictured at the top of this page. If you know the owner and location of the farm telephone or mail a post card to this newspaper with your answer.

Each week two winners are drawn from the list of readers who answer the contest correctly. The owner of the farm receives a free five by seven inch glossy print of the original photograph by merely coming into the office.

Those readers who entered the contest last week were as follows:

Popcorn and Apples Bring Back Memories

A trip to the corner grocery store these days is bringing back some fond memories to most of us, and creating a taste for a snack combination that is as old as the State of Michigan, itself. Few of us can look at the big displays of luscious ripe red Michigan apples and bowls of snowy white popcorn without remembering some special time from our childhood... the cold wintry evenings sitting before the fireplace down on the farm munching cold juicy apples and grandma's lavishly buttered popcorn while listening to grandpa spin tales of the days of "injun" and wildlife in Michigan... or of coming in with the gang after a brisk toboggan or sleigh ride party when nothing tastes so good as this old fashioned combination.

Today, when television evenings are an important part of entertainment and family enjoyment, apples and popcorn provide the ideal snack, one that will delight young and old alike. The same combination provides a healthful after school or play treat for the youngsters. And no other snack is so easy to store or simple to prepare for surprise guests or a hungry family.

The few flying saucers now being seen are obsolete models. The latest models are invisible and noiseless.—Bristol Herald-Courier.

MSU Players to Present Play at AuGres February 6

"Caine Mutiny Courtmartial," which will be presented by the Michigan State University Players at 8:15 p. m., February 6, at AuGres High School gymnasium under the sponsorship of the Lions Club, has been acclaimed as dramatic dynamite.
Reviewers of the play written by Herman Wouk and known also as a great book and thrilling movie, have been generous in their praise.
"Caine Mutiny Courtmartial" is a theatrical adventure which builds up to a second-act climax of such hair-raising intensity that you are sure nothing, and no one can ever top it," wrote Walter Kerr in the New York Herald Tribune.
"Caine Mutiny Courtmartial" is more thrilling than all of the whooping and jumping of Shakespeare's "Coriolanus." It is written with utmost theatrical skill," said John Chapman, New York Daily News.
"A brilliantly exciting drama about heroes under stress," wrote William Hawkins in the New York World-Telegram.
The Michigan State Players, one of the student and faculty groups taking entertainment off-campus, as part of the MSU Cap and Gown Series, will present the play in many Michigan communities during January and February. The play was a sell-out hit for the campus presentation.
Also busy making off-campus appearances are the Michigan State Bell Ringers, Men's Glee Club, Men's Quartet and other groups.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

From the Desk of James P. Mielock, House of Representatives, Lansing, Michigan.
In a bill of Republican origin, the business receipts tax rate is cut from 6 1/2 to five mills. This bill came in for introduction after the governor's budget was received. He requested an all-time high record budget, calling for 339.4 million dollars in expenditures, which is $60,800,000 higher than the present year appropriations. The governor feeling the economic future of the state is bright, anticipates revenues of 315 million dollars from existing sources, plus an expected surplus of $25,300,000 at the end of the fiscal year. It is the feeling of many Republican legislators that if such a large surplus exists, then instead of taping appropriations all along the line as the governor requests to use up the surplus, that serious consideration should be given to some form of tax relief. It's hard to predict just what will be possible until the facts can be studied to ascertain whether or not such an estimate is justified.
In a message on highways, the governor recommends removing the restrictions on bonding by amending the arterial Highway Construction Act of 1955 to permit the highway commissioner to pledge all revenues available to him from the 1 1/2 cent gas tax increase of 1955 for the repayment of construction bonds, rather than one-half those revenues as now; and (2) grant the commissioner immediate authority to issue bonds against this revenue, instead of waiting until July 1, 1956. Removal of these restrictions, he stated, would provide authority for about 400 million dollar arterial highway construction bonds, about two times as much as now provided under the present language of the act.
In still another message on agriculture, the governor claims under-consumption and not over production is responsible for food surpluses. He recommends increased food consumption through improving the school lunch and school milk program; amending the public welfare law to permit the state to bear the cost of the distribution of surpluses in counties where local authorities do not have revenues to permit participation, and also distribution of adequate surplus supplies to non-relief, but borderline cases.
He also recommends among other things for agriculture, the creation of an official seal for products; budget item making statewide price and marketing reports available; creation in the agricultural department of a new division at an annual cost of $118,294, half of which is to be offset by federal Hope-Flanagan funds for land use studies as well as to participate in the marketing and crop reporting recommendations mentioned earlier. He further requests legislation to exempt the farmer's milk check from garnishment before judgment; refund period on farm gasoline rebates to be extended to nine months; prohibitions for building of an adequate staff of doctors, trained technicians and attendants before constructing buildings, and attacked civil service low pay schedule as being a big factor in our inability to recruit an adequate and necessary trained staff for our institutions.

The committees are hard at work, and bills are now being reported from committee. Among bills up for consideration in the house are: H. B. 4, permitting a township or townships acting jointly in maintaining a fire department, to contract with other townships, villages or cities for the mutual exchange of fire equipment; H. B. 3, codification of the drain laws; H. B. 8, repeal of the provision which grants the Board of Registration in Medicine, the authority to modify education qualifications due to war conditions; H. B. 33, amend the motor vehicle code to include privately owned vehicles of volunteer and paid firemen as "emergency vehicles."

Iosco Residents Purchase $279,351 in Savings Bonds

Iosco County residents purchased $279,351 worth of United States Savings Bonds in 1955, helping the State of Michigan to exceed its quota for the year and to chalk up a new 10-year high for the sale of Series E and H bonds, it was announced today by Noble D. Travis, state chairman of the treasury's United States Savings Bonds Division.
Bond purchases in Iosco County were equivalent to 111.0 percent of the 1955 goal of $251,560. Purchases totaled $215,793 in 1954.
In announcing the county record, Travis warmly commended County Savings Bond Committee Chairman John E. Hosbach, other volunteers and financial institutions in the area for their patriotic efforts in connection with the savings bonds program.
Delmar V. Cote, state sales director for the savings bond division, announced that Iosco County's quota for 1956 had been set at $258,605.
According to Cote, Michigan's 1955 bond sales record was somewhat more favorable than that for the nation as a whole. Although 1955 national sales of E and H bonds exceeded those of 1954 by 10 percent, they missed the year's 5.5 billion dollar goal slightly. The final tabulation showed total sales of 5,368 million dollars.

Thursday, February 9—"Use of Time and Energy."

Answers for questions on home nursing and first aid which were asked by members of home demonstration groups were provided the group leaders at their training meeting on January 27.

Mrs. Grace Hanna, county nurse, arranged the lesson. Two of the six women in the county completing the 30 hours home nursing instructor's course were invited to assist with the teaching, as was the course instructor, Miss Beatrice McGhee.

Following a home nursing film strip shown and discussed by Miss McGhee, Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Dooley and Mrs. Dahne answered the particular questions which had been asked with discussion and demonstration.

The one two-hour home demonstration meeting to be held by the local groups will give some answers and help for questions about nursing and first aid. Of course it cannot do as much as a complete course. The group leaders learned that the newly trained home nursing instructors can and will conduct 14-hour classes for women in various communities around the county. This is an opportunity we would like to encourage women to use to good advantage.

We will be glad to help any one interested make contacts to attend a class.

The prosperity of the country hangs on the question of farm profit.

Income tax and social security have been the order of the day for the past three weeks for Miss

Scott, our home demonstration agent, and myself. Needless to say, we have been well occupied, but it has been interesting to hear the comments and suggestions how to improve this income tax and social security reporting. One idea offered was "why don't they just bill us like they do our other taxes? I would be willing to pay an extra $50 just to get away from that annual headache."

A comment that brought a chuckle was one farmer who said, "No wonder they're running out of space for mental patients, if they change those forms once more I will need a padded cell, too!" All in all we are getting along fine in the county with our filing. May we warn you not to wait until February 14 to file? Better pitch in right now. Every farmer grossing $600 should be filing. Do not bank on the idea that they do not know where you are because you have never filed before. You were born and you will have to live with us, income tax and social security, until you leave this great place.

Farmers can become eligible for insurance benefits under the social security law as early as April next year if they have earned as much as $400 from farming in both calendar years, 1955 and 1956.

Farmers must also report their earnings from farming and pay the three percent social security tax not later than April 15, 1956.

The form for making a report and sending in the required tax for social security insurance comes with federal income tax return, form 1040. If net earnings from farming were as much as $400 in 1955, farmers must fill out and file this return and pay social security tax even if no income tax is due for 1955.

Farmers who are 65 or over can retire after March 1956 and start getting old-age insurance payments if they have met the earnings requirements and paid their tax. Other farmers, regardless of age, will get the same family protection in the form of monthly payments to surviving dependents in case of death, if they have met the same requirements.

In either case, the payment of social security tax must accompany the income tax declaration or return.

Farmers who expect to qualify for social security benefits in 1956 and want to increase their benefits should look for immediate ways to increase their income.

Benefits increase as income and tax increase. Raising the tax base by a $50 a month during a qualifying period will only increase tax paid by $18 a year and may result in $15 to $35 a month more in benefits.

Here are some practices that can boost income for farmers who expect to qualify in 1956. Consider both their long and short run effects before putting them into use.

Plan the timing for the sale of crops and livestock. Feed livestock to heavier weights if more income is needed for an $1,800 gross. Also sell livestock before they become a part of the breeding herd and capital assets. If 1956 net farm profit appears to be less than $4,200, sell cash crops and livestock before or during the last quarter of 1956.

If gross farm income or net profit is low because of the small volume of business, consider these practices. Increase numbers of livestock, mainly cows and hens. Rent more land for cash crops. Grow more high value cash crops such as potatoes, cucumber and truck crops. Use more fertilizer to increase crop yields. Do some custom work.

Cut farm operating expenses where possible. Get rid of excess machinery and equipment to cut depreciation expense. Put off building and machinery repairs where possible. Make maximum use of unpaid family labor. Delay buying new machinery. Use as much home-grown grain in livestock rations as possible. Defer some cash from farm operating expenses next year by using credit.

Fishes for Rod Hart, Stuart of Traverse City dropped his new glass fly rod overboard while fishing on Torch Lake last summer and gave it up for lost. However, while ice skating over 20 feet of water recently, he spotted the rod. With the help of a companion, he cut a hole and fished it out—rod, reel and line.

IOSCO FARM LAND DECREASES IN ACRES

Gordon Hatch, local work unit conservator for the soil conservation service, points out that the acres of agricultural land in Iosco County decreased from 108,360 to 100,984 during the last five years and that the number of farms dropped from 696 to 590 during the same period.

"More than a million acres of cultivable land each year is being converted from farm land into non-agricultural uses," E. C. Sackrider, state conservator for the United States Conservation Service, said in an interview today.

"The soil conservation service found, in a survey covering the period from 1942 to 1956, that 17 million acres of land suitable for cultivation was converted to suburban housing development, industrial and commercial uses, defense establishments, airports and highways," Sackrider said. "An additional three million acres of arable land was planted during the same period. The total conversions are equivalent to five percent of our total cropland acreage of about 400 million acres, or the cropland on 225,000 average size farms."

Ohio and Indiana have each lost about a million acres of arable land during this period. Michigan has lost three-quarters of a million acres, according to Sackrider.

The area including the States of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is losing 255,000 acres annually, considerably above the national average. The area including the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Illinois is losing 139,000 acres annually. The area including the States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina is losing about 116,000 acres annually.

Sackrider pointed out that industrial and urban expansion often occurs on good arable land because construction costs are usually lower on level land than on rolling or rocky land. Drainage and water disposal problems are less troublesome. Highway engineers want to avoid grades. Also, airports require long, level runways.

1956 Buick ROADMASTER
6-Passenger, 4-Door Riviera
Model 73

IT STARTED right on announcement day. On that day, we made bold to call this the Best Buick Yet. (A pretty big statement, we're sure you'll agree.) But, in the scant three months since then, we've had ample proof of how more-than-right we were— Not just from the tremendous initial interest shown in the new 1956 Buicks— Not alone from the way our sales have zoomed past all expectations— But more especially and more clearly and more positively from the enthusiastic "play back" that's coming from happy new-Buick owners. So, if you'd like the story firsthand— see if you can get a '56 Buick owner to stand still long enough to tell it to you.

For it's a real news story you'll hear about: You'll hear about a wallop-big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that delivers its record-high power with the obedience of a bird dog. You'll hear about a terrific new Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives double-action take-off and instant acceleration right in the driving range—along with a thrifty boost in gas-saving mileage. Yet, when you do floor the pedal to switch the pitch—you get an extra abundance of safety-surge power to pull out of tight spots on the highway. You'll hear about a new "sweetness" of ride made even more buoyant by deep-oil cushioning and all-coil springing—and about a new ease of handling and steering—and a new four-footed sureness when taking the turns. So what's left to be told? Except the news of brilliant new Buick styling inside and out—which you can see for yourself. And the question, "How much?"—which only you can answer. For, you can go all the way from the bedrock-priced SPECIAL—to the high-stepping CENTURY—to the outstanding SUPER—and on to the custom-built ROADMASTER. Why not come in—right soon? Learn how easy we'll make it for you to step into the '56 Buick circle—without busting out of your budget. *New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

NEW MICHIGAN SPEED LAW NOW IN EFFECT

If you drive over 65 miles per hour in Michigan after midnight Thursday, February 2, you will be breaking one of the state's newest laws. L. S. Matheson, general manager of Automobile Club of Michigan, advises motorists. The law, passed in a special session of the Michigan Legislature, states that maximum speed limits throughout the state shall be 65 miles per hour during the daylight hours and 55 miles per hour at night unless otherwise posted. To help acquaint drivers with the new speed regulations, Auto Club's safety and traffic division has prepared over 8,000 posters outlining the law. Copies are being mailed to gasoline stations throughout the state while counter cards, bearing the same design, will be displayed at all Auto Club division offices. The Michigan State Highway Department has come out with a new reflectorized sign to warn motorists against exceeding the new limits. Matheson reports. The signs, featuring black letters on a field of white, are the regular 20 by 30 inch size. They are treated with special reflectorized paint, however, so that the warning of 65 mile limit during the day will change to 55 miles at night under the glare of auto headlights. The signs will be spaced at six-mile intervals over the southern part of the state and at 10-mile intervals in less heavily traveled northern areas.

WITH THE IOSCO—4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

A 15-mile hayride for the January 4-H Club meeting in Alabaster-Whitney community provided a wonderful time despite the slight cold and ended with warming refreshments.

Mr. Anderson arranged transportation and Mr. Nash accompanied the 16 members and visitors, explains Louise Anderson, reporter.

Reno Topnotchers continue to have their 4-H Club meetings under handicap, most of them live along the section of M-55 now under construction and detour is the order of the day. In January they discussed the time for beginning other projects, since their first ones are nearly completed.

"How would you like to fix breakfast for 14 every morning? Clover Kiddies 4-H Club did just that on Friday morning, January 27, at the home of Mrs. Albert Conklin.

"This breakfast completed the first food preparation project. The members and leaders planned the menu and committees to shop, cook, serve and clean up.

"Guests for the breakfast were the leaders: Mrs. Milton Barkman, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Conklin and her daughter, Linda, and Miss Dorothy Scott.

"Certificates of Achievement were presented by Miss Scott to the members: Karen Conklin, Sandra Barnett, Joyce Fairfield, Debbie Barkman, Barbara Johnson, Judy Bolen, Eunice MacFarlane and Shirley Wendt.

"The members talked a little about a new project. They will decide on the project at the community club meeting Monday, February 6." Kay Bowman reporter.

A new Ottawas Community Club has been organized with Beverly Cadorette, president; William Mick, vice president; Joyce Steinhurst, secretary; Timothy Fox, Clare Stark, reporters. Projects and leaders planned include: Gun safety, Cecil Cab-Galliker, Kenneth Davenport, James Mick, Fred Redlawsk, Allen Moore, Donald Cabbie, William Mick, Timothy Fox, Raymond Moore, Jack Jacques and Robert Cabbie. The gun safety project had a first meeting with another scheduled February 6 at the Federal Building, East Tawas. Robert Cabbie was selected to provide project meeting reports for the 4-H Club news column.
