Nation Views Perchville in Sunday's NBC-TV Telecast

Large Number Try Luck on Bay Next Day

For eight minutes last Sunday afternoon, Perchville, the Tawas-famed ice fishing village, made its first television appearance "live" over NBC's Wide World program. With Dave Garroway in New York City "opening doors" to millions of television viewers throughout the United States and Canada, this area received the largest single publicity boost in its history.

"Although it is still too early to measure the success in terms of advertising value to the Tawas, the publicity received on such a nationwide television show would be incalculable," stated Richard O. Allen, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce.

The first immediate reaction to the program proved to be the visit of several hundred Michigan residents to Perchville on Tawas Bay Monday. Jerry's Fishing Resort reported that large catches of perch were made during the day.

Appearing as the second segment in the hour-and-a-half long program, the telecast from Perchville was produced without a hitch, which was a real tribute to the many hours of preparation by the participants and cameramen and technicians.

While television cameras trained on the tiny ice-fishing village, Harold Gould of East Tawas, originator of the idea of Perchville, told viewers of the activities which were taking place. Others from here who appeared on the program were Chester Parker, mayor of Perchville, Del. Collier and W. D. "Mike" Nunn. Although not interviewed, Walter Champion, L. G. McKay Jr. and Henry Greenwood were seen on the telecast.

Besides ice fishing, other features of the program included ice boating and the appearance of the Polar Bears, a group of winter bathers who were shown dunking themselves in the icy water.

One of the bathers, Raphael Cassidy, 17, of Birch Run, was taken to Mercy Hospital following his plunge into the icy water. He was treated for exposure and shock and was released from the hospital Monday.

By super-imposing the television camera pictures, the first visit to the program at Times Square in New York faded into the Perchville sequence. Following this segment, the camera pictures faded out and moved to Palm Beach, Florida, to show viewers the latest fashions by leading designers and the remainder of the program.

Technical difficulties encountered in getting the live telecast from Tawas Bay to main network cables made it necessary to move the locale of the broadcast to Saginaw Bay ice off the Bay City State Park. About 30 of the colorful shanties were trucked to Bay City.

Facilities at WNEM-TV, Bay City, were used to put the program on the air. A camera tower 25 feet high was erected on the ice and some 2,000 feet of cable stretched out from shore to an equipment tent on the ice. Other cameras were mounted on light trucks for easy movement on the ice.

In charge of the remote pickup was Albert Beaumont of NBC, Chicago, and Robert Beurket, chief engineer of WNEM-TV, who is in charge of technical supervision.

Alcona Sportsmen Set for Winter Sports Roundup

Alcona County's Sixth Annual Winter Sports Roundup and Bobcat Hunt, scheduled for January 13, 14 and 15, will have its headquarters in Lincoln, according to E. J. Hart, chairman of the hunt. He also announced that all hunters must register in Lincoln to participate. Dogs and guide to be furnished those paying the registration fee.

According to Lou Kramer, director and general chairman of the festivities, a dinner-banquet will be held Saturday, January 14, at 6:30 p. m. in Lincoln, followed by a coronation dance where a winter sports king will be selected and crowned.

Mr. Kramer also announced that Bob Reynolds, sports director for Detroit Radio Station WJR, has tentative plans to originate his sports broadcast from the winter sports roundup dinner Saturday evening.

FIRST BABY BORN IN 1956 ARRIVES MONDAY

The first baby born in 1956 at Tawas Hospital was a baby girl weighing seven pounds, 13 ounces, to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Unkel of Tawas City, January 2, at 3:38 p. m. Mrs. Unkel is the former Vera Herman. The couple has four boys and this is the first girl.

Braves Resume Schedule

The Tawas Area Braves will resume their 1955-56 basketball season this Friday night, January 6, with a game scheduled at Oscoda. The Braves record stands at one win and two losses.

This game will be the first meeting of the Braves and the Owls on the hardwood this winter. Plenty of excitement is on tap as Losco County's two arch rival school teams meet.

Many Telephone Calls Received From Viewers

Several of the participants on the Perchville segment of the Wide World program have received telephone calls from relatives and friends who told them they were watching the telecast.

Chester Parker received a call from his daughter, Mrs. Dale Brown of Lakewood, California, late Sunday who said their two children, age five and seven, shouted, "there's grandpa," when they saw the Perchville mayor on their television screen. Mr. Parker had not told his daughter he would appear on the telecast.

Harvey Rempert of Stockton, California, telephoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rempert of Tawas City, and told them that after he saw the program he felt lonesome for home and had to call them.

Harold Gould of East Tawas has received telephone calls from friends in many points in the United States, one from Ard Richardson who is vacationing in Texas.

Rainbow Steel Opens New Plant Here This Week

Announcement was made this week that the Rainbow Steel factory building is completed. Located on the John R. Road ranch at Marks station on the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, it is five miles southwest of Tawas City. Constructed of Rainbow Steel parts, it was built to demonstrate the economy, superiority and strength of Rainbow Steel engineering, states its owner, John R. Road.

Rainbow Steel is now ready to furnish prefabricated one-story buildings in all sizes, he stated. In order to get its revolutionary engineering more generally understood, Rainbow Steel is offering a few $3,000 two-car garages, 18 by 20 feet, with two overhead doors, erected complete on the premises of the purchaser for $1,000.

The 50 by 100 foot factory building, completely fabricated, was set up in about one week's time states the owner.

John Rollin returned Monday to his studies at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Russell Rollin Jr. also left for Washington, D. C., after a two-week visit here with his parents. He recently returned from several months in California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brugger left Wednesday for a three-month visit in Florida.

Will Lay Plans for March of Dimes Today

Plans for the 1956 March of Dimes campaign in Iosco County will be formulated by committee members at a meeting scheduled to be held Thursday (today), stated John R. Watkins, chairman.

The annual campaign to collect funds for the fight against polio will get underway sometime next week, stated the chairman. The entire drive is expected to be completed by February 1.

Sponsoring the county-wide drive this year are Kiwanis Clubs of Tawas and Oscoda. Besides Chairman Watkins, members of the committee from here include Nathan Barkman, E. D. Jacques and Albert H. Buch.

A county-wide "mothers' march on polio," similar to the one-day drives held in Tawas and Oscoda last year, are scheduled to be held in all communities of Iosco County.

Last year more than $5,000 was collected during the March of Dimes campaign in Iosco County. The 1956 goal for the county was $3,700.

In the campaign all industries will be contacted, letters will be mailed to residents throughout the county and canisters placed in business places. The county organization will again welcome all volunteer help to make the campaign a success.

"Your whole-hearted support and contributions in this March of Dimes campaign will be appreciated. Let us do all we can to assist in helping to combat this crippling disease," stated Chairman Watkins.

Police Investigate Burglaries Here

The breaking and entering of two business places in this area are being investigated by Michigan State Police from the East Tawas post.

The Barkman Lumber Company at Tawas City and the Dittener Garage in AuGres were both reported to have been entered Monday night. The burglaries were discovered Tuesday morning when the establishments were opened for business.

About $25 in cash was taken from the lumber company and thieves also emptied the gasoline tank of a truck parked on the lot. Entry was made through a coal shed.

Extent of the thefts at the garage has not been determined, officers said.

Congressman and Family Injured in Auto Collision

Congressman Elford Cederberg was hospitalized Wednesday evening of last week and his mother-in-law was fatally injured in a two-car collision near Caro. Also injured were Mrs. Cederberg, their two children and Ernest B. Munro, the congressman's father-in-law.

The congressman was driving north on M-81 when his car and one driven by Charles Dyer, a city mail carrier of Caro, collided.

Police reports showed that a third car, unidentified, entered the highway from a crossroad causing the mail carrier to swerve in an effort to avoid a collision. He swerved into the path of the Cederberg car.

Congressman Cederberg was treated at Mercy Hospital, Bay City, for cuts and bruises about the face and body. Mrs. Cederberg was treated for a possible skull fracture.

Marilyn, age nine, a daughter, was treated at the Caro Hospital for cuts and bruises and was reported to be in good condition after suffering a fractured leg.

WHITMORE CARDS WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT GAME

The Whitmore Cardinals won their fifth straight win of the season Tuesday night when they won easily over Essexville St. Johns, 103-32. The Whitmore JV's also won, 41-11.

Leading Whitmore's cause in scoring was Pagel, center, who had 42 markers. He was followed by Pavlik with 19.

Whitmore will meet Harrisville Friday night in a home game.

The arrow in the above picture points to a workman perched high on the 90-foot tower at the Fuelgas Company of the Tawas store in Tawas City. When the photo was snapped, the workman was preparing to install an antenna which is now being used on Fuelgas' new two-way radio system.

In operation last Saturday, the new two-way radio system connects Tawas with plants and stores at Houghton Lake, Bay City and Flint. Four trucks and a car are equipped with radios here. Estimated cost of the entire project was approximately $15,000 to $20,000.

Edwin Habermehl, manager of the local plant, said that the installation was made to provide better and faster service to customers throughout Eastern Michigan.—Tawas Herald Photo.

ASPEN IS NEW KING OF MICHIGAN'S FORESTS

Michigan's new forest king, aspen, was a poor relative in the family of trees just a few short years ago.

As late as 1949, aspen was considered practically worthless by lumbermen. Today, the bulk of Michigan's timber products come from the common "popple." New pulp processes and forest management programs have brought about the change. An important operator in aspen is the AuSable Forest Products Association.

Aspen at present is one of the most common trees in northern Michigan and 250,000 cords were harvested from northern lower peninsula forests alone in the last fiscal year.

In terms of money, aspen boasts the northern Michigan industry by more than $15,000,000 annually and places the state in a prominent position among timber states.

A variety of products, including containers, pulp, paper, lumber, excelsior and wallboard is born in aspen stands.

The state's deer herd also benefits from the growth and management of aspen. The average full-grown deer needs five to seven pounds of browse (buds, leaves, twigs) daily and aspen cuttings supply a large share of this food, especially during winter months when starvation threatens. Timbering operations leave tops and limbs of trees on the ground to supply winter rations for the whitetails. About 40,000 acres of these cuttings were made in and near deer-wards last year.

Russell Church Heads Queen's Committee

The Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee named Russell Church to head its queen's contest committee at its regular meeting Tuesday night. Chairman Church and Elwood Bronson were appointed representatives to meet with queen entries at Flint Wednesday night.

With some 18 or 19 entries received from Flint and various other Michigan communities, the winter sports committee will meet at the chamber of commerce office Thursday night to interview local contestants. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

Entries have already been received locally from girls in East Tawas, Tawas City, Whittemore and AuGres. More local entries are wanted by the committee.

At Thursday night's meeting tickets will be given to queen contestants and sales will get underway immediately. A seven-day, six-night trip to Bermuda will be awarded the winner of the second annual popularity and personality contest to determine a 1956 Silver Valley Winter Sports queen.

Arrangements for interviewing contestants from the Detroit area are being made by John Monarch, former Tawas City businessman at the Whittier Hotel. Monarch met with members of the committee at the Flint interview Wednesday night to complete final plans.

In addition to the grand prize trip to Bermuda, each contestant will receive actual cash compensation for all work done in the contest. The contest is open to any girl or woman, single or married, 17 years of age or older, and a resident of Michigan.

A Tuesday night meeting, T. M. O'Loughlin of East Tawas was named chairman of the queen's ball committee. Members also heard a report from Carl Eklund, area chairman, who said that a large crowd enjoyed the facilities at Silver Valley last week-end.

SENIOR CLASS TELLS OF SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

This is the first of a series of articles to help acquaint you with our real school—not the school, you, the public hear about, but the school we, the students and teachers, know.

You probably have forgotten many important history dates and formulas in chemistry, but there are not many of you who have forgotten your senior trip. This was the climax to your years of high school, and it will be ours, too.

Senior classes then didn't number in the 90s as they do now; and therefore, it takes much more financing. For four years a group of students work toward a common goal—their senior trip. Many activities come into this. You hear about a school dance and probably think it is just another excuse to go out, but actually a class is putting on the dance to earn money. Dances, bake sales, magazine sales, pancake suppers, junior and senior plays, and little things, such as, necklaces and air fresheners are sold to help earn money for the trip.

The senior class has approximately $2,500 in its treasury. This is needed to pay around $70 a student plus $540 for transportation expenses.

Projects for the rest of the year, such as, concessions at basketball games and dances are planned.

The seniors' current project is the pancake supper which is being held at Harbor Lights Wednesday, January 11, from 5:00 p. m. until everyone is served. Price is 75 cents for all you can eat. Pancake suppers were held for the last two years and many favorable comments were heard.

Next week, in the second of this series, the projects and purposes of some of our clubs will be pointed out.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The purifying power of true prayer will be set forth in the lesson-sermon entitled "Sacrament" at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Bible passages will include the counsel of Christ Jesus regarding prayer (Matt. 6:6): "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

Continuing the explanation of prayer, a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (15:9): "To enter into the house of prayer, the door of the erring senses must be closed. Lips must be mute and materialism silent, that man may have audience with Spirit, the divine Principle, Love, which destroys all error."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (51:10): "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Pvt. Robert C. Champine returned Saturday to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, after spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Champine.

Harry A. Marquand of Oscoda, volunteer, is the lone registrant of Iosco County Selective Service Board No. 36 to leave for induction on January 4.

Advance notice of induction call for February indicates five men will be called from Iosco County. Exact date of the call has not been determined as yet. Neither have the names been selected to fill it.

No preinduction call is given for the county for February, but if there are volunteers who have not had physical examinations, arrangements can be made to send them.

Attention is called at this time to the following requirements of selective service:

All young men must register with their local board within five days after they become 18 years old. They are not near their own board; registration may be accomplished with the nearest board, and the forms will be forwarded to their own board for record.

After registration, it is the continuous duty of each registrant to report change of address, marriage, birth of children, court convictions, college attendance, etc., to his local board. These changes should be reported regardless of whether he has completed service in the armed forces.

After release from the armed forces, registrants are allowed 30 days in which to report to their local boards for reclassification. Registrants should take their original registration certificates, and report of separation with them to make this report.

Like registration, if the registrant is unable to go to his own local board, and he should report to the nearest local board, and the necessary information will be forwarded to his own board.

Chief Halberts of the Navy Recruiting Branch Station, East Tawas, announced today that due to increased enlistment quotas for January, a Saginaw area recruit company is being formed.

Chief Halberts stated that this is a wonderful opportunity for young men from 17 to 31 to enlist with their buddies and stay together during the training of nine weeks at Great Lakes, and get started on a rewarding career in one of over 60 trades which can fit a man for a profitable life and early retirement.

The chief also stated that information on enlistment can be had at any of these stations that are located in the post office at these cities: Saginaw, Bay City, Bad Axe and East Tawas. For the convenience of young men in small cities and towns, the chief suggests checking with the local post office for date and time when the traveling navy recruiter will be in town.

Chief Halberts encourages qualified young men to talk it over with their buddies and enlist together now while this is still in effect. The company will leave in a body for completion of processing and swearing in at Detroit on January 30 and leave for "boot training" together.

70 Tawas City Businesses

Receive Statement Requests

This morning Dun and Bradstreet began mailing almost 3,000,000 requests for statements to the businessmen of America. The entire mailing is scheduled to be completed this week, and in itself, represents a mammoth job for the postman.

According to J. H. McDonald, manager for Dun and Bradstreet in this area, the agency offices at Detroit, Grand Rapids and Saginaw alone will mail out 87,900 letters to the retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers in the 60 counties covered by the Detroit District Offices.

Seventy requests are being mailed to businessmen in Tawas City alone.

Each year, Dun and Bradstreet provides this service for the businessmen of the nation so that they can get their late financial ratings from banks and insurance companies, without delay and at no expense.

The breakdown of mailings is as follows: 60 percent to retailers, 11 percent to manufacturers, eight percent to wholesalers, and the balance to construction companies, commercial services and miscellaneous business enterprises.

Farmers Tax Guide

Now Available

Farmers who may face problems growing out of the new social security phases of their federal income tax returns, as well as other problems pertaining to income tax; will get a big assist from the new Farmer's Tax Guide now available at district offices of the internal revenue service and from county farm agents.

The 64-page booklet was prepared by the national office of the tax collection agency with the aid of revenue agents in farm areas, the federal extension of the department of agriculture and the state extension services of the federal land grant colleges.

In addition to describing in detail the steps to be taken by farmers in all categories in preparing their 1955 returns, the booklet deals with such subjects as farm inventories, depreciation, capital gains and losses, casualty losses and thefts, trades, condemnations and diseased livestock, soil and water conservation and other matters of farm interest.

The publication contains considerably more material than is included in the information booklet which will accompany 1955 farmers' tax forms, scheduled to go into the mails in December or early in January. Farmers who have had special problems during 1955 will be able to plan much of the calculation required by their return by using the new guide, revenue officials said. It will enable those who file January 15 estimates to do much of their computation in advance.

Farmers desiring the guide should contact or write to their county agricultural agent, who has supplies available. This booklet will also be available at the internal revenue office in the local area.

President Eisenhower has called a nationwide conference of mayors for February 16-17 to consider problems calling for co-operation of federal and local governments.

Smokey Bear, here in the form of a snowman, is a familiar figure to Michigan youngsters. A walking, talking replica of the famous fire safety symbol visits classrooms throughout the state to make future adults aware of forest fire prevention practices.

Look out, it is so easy to create a spotting appearance in putting colors together in our clothing. For example, a black suit with light avocado green hat, gloves, bag, earrings and shoes will quickly do that. The remedy? Choose black bag and shoes, perhaps even the gloves will be better if they are black.

Another mistake we can avoid is using equal amounts of colors in an ensemble. An equal amount of brown and yellow, such as a brown skirt with a yellow overblouse dividing the figure in half, is less interesting than a brown dress with similar touches of yellow at the neckline.

Keep these ideas in mind if you go shopping this month. Be sure the garment you consider purchasing, because the price tag is drastically reduced, is of good design, well planned as to colors used together, fits you and is made of materials that will give you satisfaction in service and appearance and has good workmanship. If it meets these tests it should be a good buy.

Next time you cook prunes to serve at breakfast, put a stick of cinnamon and two or three cloves in with the fruit to give it a new and unusually good flavor. Waffles, too, take on a spicy flavor and give off a wonderful aroma as they bake when one-quarter teaspoon of cinnamon is sifted in with the dry ingredients.

Has a synthetic garment "pilled"? Some pill more than others, but they all pill to some extent. What happens is this. The smooth fine fibers get rubbed in wear and pull out from the fabric. Then the loose fibers get together in little balls, the ball is held on the fabric by the electrostatic charge characteristic of the synthetics. The charge also attracts other lint to the ball.

The pill becomes quite apparent as it gets larger and mixes with darker lint. Pilling occurs with natural fabric fibers, too, but they break away because no charge is holding them.

To help control pilling use one of the anti-static agents on synthetics. They are sold under many trade names which suggests they stop static. Some are used in wash water, others in the rinse water. Watch the directions. Anti-static agents have the quality of making a fabric resist soil and drape better. Slips will not cling as much in cold weather. Curtains hang better.

How long will a frozen turkey keep? What makes an angel cake fall? Is it cheaper to bake bread, cookies and cakes, or to buy them already prepared?

These are some of the questions to be answered by food experts at a special Farmers' Week program on the Michigan State University campus, January 30 through February 3.

Further—the panel will answer questions from the audience and will very much welcome questions which are sent in ahead of the event. So, if you have a question to "stump the experts" pass it along to us and we will see that one of the panel members receives it.

Latest fashion for, of all things, your landscaped home grounds! Yes, that is the promise of Joseph T. Cox, Michigan State University landscape gardener, who will conduct one of the Farmers' Week programs. He will explain lawn areas, ornamental plants, walks, drives, paint and accessories and how they affect your landscape. This program is to be on Monday at 2:30 p. m. in the university auditorium.

The whole week will be filled with such programs as foreign students and international Farm Youth Exchanges telling of life in other countries, bringing visitors up to date on some of the home economics research going on at Michigan State and a topnotch revue planning by home economics students modeling gowns and ensembles made in their classes.

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE

Who wouldn't mistake this new Chevrolet for a high-priced car? It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motorama styling... its longer, lower hood... its proud new full-width grille.

But, even beyond the costly appearance of its beautiful Body by Fisher, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money. It brings you lightning acceleration for safer passing. Horsepower ranges up to 205! All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.

Besides, you get safety door latches in all models. You can also have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

Needlecraft News

Valentine's Day is a lovely occasion. It's a time when we think of hearts and flowers and dainty lace, and want to express our fondness for dear friends with affectionate gestures. A small token of remembrance, a symbol of our love, is always appreciated by those who care. And when that gift is handmade, it carries a special message of endearment. Lacy crochet-edged handkerchiefs are meaningful gifts that help convey our fondest thoughts.

HANKIE ANECDOTES

Nowadays, as in yesteryear, hankies are regarded as cherished gifts. In the pages of history it is recorded that Henry IV of France presented his sweetheart with two elaborate, pearl-embroidered handkerchiefs that were worth 1,900 ecus, a fortune in those days. In the 16th century, fancy handkerchiefs were held in high regard at the French court, and laws prevented their use by the public. Aren't we lucky that fine hankies are so accessible today and that we can make them as elegant as we desire by simply crocheting pretty borders around the hems? Perhaps Napoleon's Josephine, in the 19th century, helped to promote today's widespread popularity of handkerchiefs. It is said that she used to hold a hankie in front of her face at parties because her bad teeth spoiled her smile. From then on, the handkerchief gained recognition as an indispensable accessory carried by all well-groomed ladies.

EDGINGS IN CROCHET AND HAIRPIN LACE

Lacy-bordered handkerchiefs, romantic as a valentine, are ideal gifts for friends when that February 14th date rolls around. Start making several dainty edgings of crochet and/or hairpin lace for gift hankies. All three designs are done with colorful cotton worked into delicate patterns. The instructions for making each one may be obtained from the Needlework Department of this paper. Simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your copy of VALENTINE VANITIES, Leaflet No. S-191.

PICTURES of the WEEK

The wheels of an Eastern Airline plane that crashed near Jacksonville, Florida, stopped only a few feet from this house. The plane was on an instrument approach to the airport because of a 300-foot ceiling and ground fog and crashed while attempting to land.

Karen Ann McGuire, 12, who submitted a $24.03 bid for the famed race horse, Nashua, admires "Hanover's Wishing Star," a chestnut gelding that was substituted for Nashua. The horse will be a gift of bank officials who were touched by a letter from the Valhalla, New York, school girl offering her "life savings" for Nashua when it was disclosed that the horse was for sale.

A Sabre jet burns in the street of densely populated Levittown, New York, after exploding in mid-air and crashing into a parked car. The pilot, Captain T. B. Buechler, parachuted to safety. The flaming plane narrowly missed several homes as it plowed into a street. No one was injured.

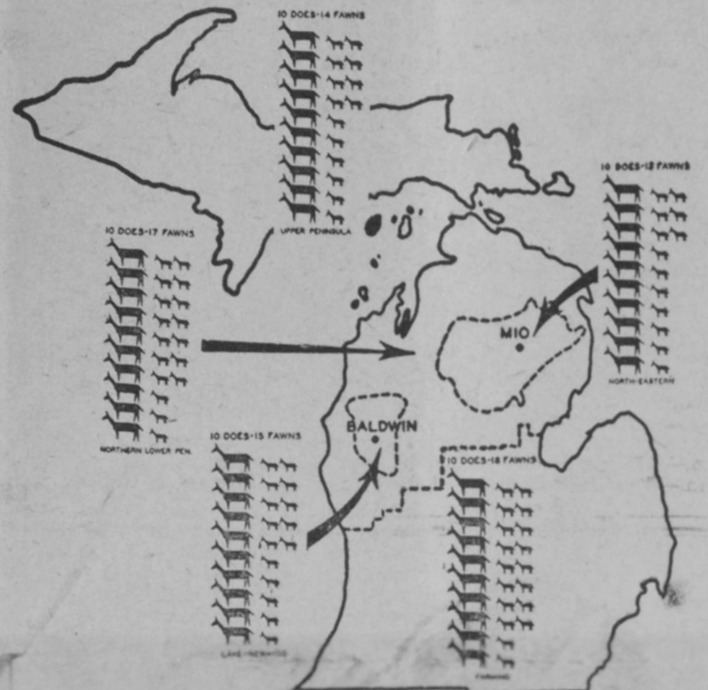

Two northern Michigan lumberjacks fell another aspen, the tree that occupies a top position in the state's forest economy. Aspen, once shunned in favor of pines and hardwoods in timbering operations, now supplies the bulk of Michigan's timber products and is a valuable source of deer food. Some 250,000 cords of aspen were taken from northern lower peninsula forests alone in the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Rabbits, hounds, hunters and snow make up a familiar winter scene in Michigan. Hunting activity is at its peak for thousands of rabbit hunters in the state. The season is open through January 31 in the southern half of the lower peninsula where cottontails are the targets and through March 1 in the north where snowshoe hares provide plenty of hunting enjoyment.

Michigan Fawn Production

A four-year Conservation Department study shows that fawn production is higher in areas where winter food supplies are more abundant. Does in the Mio and Baldwin areas, where winter range is poor, have a below average fawn production.

The most famous sisters in the world, the surviving Dionne quintuplets, have been on the outs with their family. Olivia Dionne, father of the girls, shown here with Annette, Marie, Cecile and Yvonne (l-r), has explained that the "misunderstandings" have been corrected and a belated exchange of gifts as well as a visit by three of the girls to their family home in Callander, Ontario, has settled everything. Mr. Dionne blamed the situation on what he calls "intruders," but he refuses to identify them.

Alert Johnny Roe risked his life twice to rescue three small negro brothers from a burning farm home near Memphis, Tennessee. Roe, 18, a Memphis State College freshman, was home for the holidays. At first he thought it was a grass fire in the distance, thought he would check, and found the Sanders farm house ablaze. Roe braved the flames twice, brought out five-year-old Gerald and baby Sanders on his lap. On the second trip Roe found Jimmy, 3, huddled and terrified in the closet, and carried him to safety.

PROBLEMS OF DRINKING STUDIED AT YALE; ALBERT RENWICK ATTENDS MEET

"I am an alcoholic" confesses each member of Alcoholics Anonymous as he tells his story to other members of the organization. Even though he has had alcohol under control for a number of years he still does not consider himself cured. In declaring himself an alcoholic he signifies that he must abstain from drinking if he wants to keep alcohol under control; he cannot go back to social drinking for the very first drink "sets off a chain reaction" that rips through his defenses.

The social drinker is not an alcoholic; he has control of his drinking. Once and if he loses control, he becomes an alcoholic. Statistics show that one out of 16 persons who drinks alcohol does lose control of his drinking. Some become alcoholic quickly after starting to drink; others as a result of a progressively worsening condition over a period of years. That one is an alcoholic. There are more than 4,500,000 such alcoholics in the United States.

In July 1955 about 200 representatives of various organizations from the United States and other countries attended the Yale School of Alcohol Studies for the purpose of making a dispassionate, scientific study of alcoholism and of the problems which grow out of the use of alcohol. Twenty-four were there from Michigan, among them Albert Renwick from district health department No. 2 which covers, Iosco, Ogemaw, Oscoda, and Alcona Counties.

Since one of the purposes in attending the school is to pass on the findings of the Yale experience to interested local community groups, various organizations in Iosco County are being notified that Mr. Renwick is available to talk to such groups on alcoholism, on drinking and driving, on deficiency diseases brought on by an excessive use of alcohol, and of various programs to which the use of alcohol gives rise or toward which it contributes.

What controls must society initiate to get the problem of alcoholism firmly in hand? Ralph Daniel, executive director of the Michigan State Board of Alcoholism, specifies:

1. We should eliminate the stigma attached to alcoholism. We should make it known that alcoholism is a disease and that the alcoholic is a sick person. We need to fight the popular idea that the alcoholic is a weak-willed individual who, if he really wanted, could quit drinking. A person who has lost control, who is under a compulsion to drink, cannot quit by simply willing not to drink.

2. We must provide the best possible treatment facilities. Alcoholics Anonymous is doing a commendable job in the treatment area but the AA can never solve all the problems. There are not doctors, nor nurses, nor psychiatrists, nor psychologists, nor social workers, nor clergymen. We need treatment centers, clinics, information centers and hospitals.

3. Physicians, clergymen, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and nurses need to become more aware of the "emotional factors that are the basis of the disease. They must know how to use their own and allied professions can be made more effective for the alcoholic.

4. There is a need of building "emotionally balanced personalities that do not need the permissive comforts of ethyl alcohol. The Michigan State Board of Alcoholism has that as an aim.

Katherine June Averill, 21-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Averill of East Tawas, died January 1 at Tawas Hospital. She had been ill only a week.

She is survived by her parents, two brothers, two sisters and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Waterman of Postoria.

The body was taken to the Laine-Robinson Funeral Home at Otisville where services were held Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. John Averill officiating. Burial was in the Smith Hill Cemetery.

About 25 percent of those killed in Michigan traffic accidents during 1955 were pedestrians. Almost half of these deaths were caused by the victim not crossing the street at an intersection. Automobile Club of Michigan urges pedestrians to CROSS ONLY AT CORNERS. Extra precautions should be taken by persons over 45 years old since this group contains a high number of accident victims. Younger pedestrians will receive this safety advice by means of 11,000 full-sized copies of this poster which Auto Club has sent to schools throughout the state.

Mrs. Gregory Named To Head Garden Club

The Tawas City Garden Club met at the Iosco County Building on Tuesday afternoon with 14 members present. The roll call was a New Year's resolution.

Election of officers was held with the following officers elected:

President—Mrs. W. A. Gregory. First Vice President—Mrs. Walter Schuhmacher.

Second Vice President—Mrs. Donald Grear.

Secretary—Mrs. George Liske. Treasurer—Mrs. William Ullman.

A very simple but definitely interesting table arrangement was on display for judging presented by Mrs. Grear, Mrs. Anna Metcalf and Mrs. O. J. Westcott.

Mrs. Grear gave interesting highlights in the form of book reviews from the following books, "Gifts from the Sea," "Gardening in a Small Place," "The Art of Driftwood and Dried Arrangements," "Wild Flowers of America and Woodland Ideals."

The Reds' massed chanting of party slogans repeatedly drowned out Mendes' voice.

Literary Club Met Last Wednesday

The East Tawas Ladies Literary Club met at the club rooms Wednesday afternoon, January 4, with the president, Mrs. C. S. Everett, in charge of the business session.

Friday, January 20—Soil Conservation District annual meeting, 1:00 p. m. until 3:30 p. m., at Plainfield Township Hall.

Monday through Friday, January 30 to February 3—Farmers' Week at Michigan State University.

Charles Timreck was in the office to get a report on a sample of silage we had analyzed. At the same time he reminded me that farm employers as well as employees should have their social security account number. Blanks are available at the post office.

Here is the way farmers should begin 1956—thinking about controlling the cattle grub or warbles. The month of January starts it and the job ends in June.

Ray Janes of the entomology department at Michigan State University will tell you that you need this long control period because there are two different species of cattle grubs active in Michigan.

The first of these, the common cattle grub, occurs in the backs of the animals usually during January to mid-March. The bomb fly comes later, in mid-March to June. It is the bomb fly buzzing around the legs of the animals that causes them to run. The common cattle grub does not frighten the animals because it flies in quietly to lay its eggs.

You can control the cattle grub with rotenone. There are three ways to use it but only one method should be used at a time.

A rotenone dust can be applied and then worked into the opening on top of the swelling. To be effective, the dust must enter the grub opening.

The second method is a rotenone spray. Janes does not recommend spraying cattle in the winter, but if this is done, turn the cattle outdoors immediately to dry.

A rotenone salve can be prepared with petroleum jelly or a similar material as a base. Apply the salve directly on top of the warble. Do not make more salve than you can use in one or two treatments.

Community action is necessary to get really effective control of cattle grubs.

How much grain should you feed a milk cow?

Ask old bossy herself, suggests Dr. C. F. Huffman, dairy nutrition researcher at Michigan State University.

The question, he says, is answered this way: Weigh the cow's milk often. Put the amount of grain she gets on a scale, too.

Then cut down on the amount of grain you are feeding to see if she stays up in production. After that, add more grain to see if she boosts production profitably.

And when the cost of each additional pound of grain fed is equal to the amount you get for the additional milk produced, that is the best rate of feeding.

If a farmer follows the general recommendation of one pound of grain for each three or four pounds of milk produced, he usually is overfeeding the poor cow and underfeeding the good cow.

Will calfhood vaccination prevent brucellosis? It will help but it is not good enough to give complete immunity.

To get complete prevention, good management, care of animals and close attention to calving are all necessary.

Dr. Glen Reed, extension veterinarian at Michigan State University, cites this experiment by the United States Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland.

One group of calves was vaccinated, another was not. Both groups were given a small drop of fetal fluid from an infected cow. None of the vaccinated calves got the disease while several of the unvaccinated animals did.

But when two similar groups of calves were given five to 15 drops of the contaminated fetal fluid, all of the animals, including the vaccinated ones, caught the disease.

That means that vaccination does not do the protection job where there is excessive exposure. The effects of the vaccination do not last over two years in many cases. A vaccination at eight months usually is not effective when the cow reaches the age of three years.

Also, Dr. Reed indicates, tests of a vaccinated calf do not indicate whether the animal is carrying the disease or is reacting from the vaccination. New regulations on tests of vaccinated animals give the owner some leeway, however.

The prospect of two percent less pigs farrowed this winter will help prices move up.

Later in the fall of 1956, prices will be about the same as for the past fall.

The price spread between medium weight and heavy weight hogs will widen during the winter and spring months. In fact, heavy hogs will be discounted heavily during most of next year. To avoid discounts, the Michigan State University specialists urge farmers to market their hogs as soon as they are ready, preferably at weights near 200 to 225 pounds. Marketing at lighter weights will cut the amount of meat on the market and help steady prices.

Even though prices will not recover much next year, hog feeding will still be profitable. The hog-corn ratio is about average

Herd Owners Should be Careful When Buying Stock
Herd owners who buy an animal that has passed a brucellosis test still can not be sure that the costly disease will not spread in the rest of the herd, points out Marvin Davenport, Isosco County agricultural agent.

The sales slip that certifies the clean test does not guarantee that the animal has not been exposed before the test was made. And that exposure is important, because the incubation period of the disease can be a long one. Sometimes it runs past 200 days.

An individual test for brucellosis may indicate that an animal is brucellosis clean. But that does not mean that it has not been exposed from another animal in the herd and will later come down with the disease.

If the owner of the herd sells the exposed animal he would be complying with the law if he received a certificate which indicates a clean test.

That means, points out Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State University extension veterinarian, that a herd owner would be wise to use extra care when he buys replacement stock. The buyer can insist on knowing the brucellosis status of the remainder of the herd from which he plans to buy replacements, the veterinarian suggests.

An animal that is to be added to a certified herd in Michigan must be tested before purchase, then brought to the farm and kept separated from the rest of the herd for 30 days. The animal is tested again before allowed to join the herd.

Even these precautions, Dr. Reed insists, are not fool-proof because of the longer incubation of the disease.

Telephone Almanac
Now Available
Copies of the 1956 edition, the 34th printing, of the Telephone Almanac are now available in the local business offices of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

On the cover of the new edition is an engraving of the British cable ship, Monarch, and a map showing the course of the submarine cable it laid from Clarenville, Newfoundland, to Oban, Scotland, the first of two cables that will link the United States and Europe together by telephone cable for the first time in history. Present telephone conversations are carried across the ocean by radio.

Small Farmer May Figure In 1956 Presidential Campaign

The opening of the second session of the 84th congress is highly significant, since it comes in a presidential election year. The main issues of the presidential race will be fought out in the halls of congress from now until adjournment, which will probably come in July or August.

Perhaps the one dominating issue, and one which will have a great effect on the political campaign this fall, is the farm problem. Conditions for the farmer, particularly the small farmer, have become almost critical and there is sentiment to do something about it in both parties.

The question is whether the Democratic solution or a Republican solution will be tried in 1956, or if both these attempted solutions will be checked for political reasons.
