Lumbering operations in the Pickett Creek area, west of Sand Lake, have been underway since early January. Shown above is the Maine's crew. ## Lumbers His Father's Old Homestead

At the turn of the century, the late Henry Anschuetz, former Tawas Township resident, cleared 80 acres of timber land west of Sand Lake for farm use under the Homestead Act. Fifty-six years later his son, Walter, is in charge of a crew of men who are lumbering this same 80 acres.

The property is now owned by C. W. Maine and Son of Saginaw, who purchased it from Mr. Anschuetz in 1942. The Maines operate a wood-working and cabinet shop in Saginaw and also purchased the Anschuetz saw mill on the Plank Road to supply them with much of their raw materials.

Some 30,000 feet of cedar, red pine, white pine and spruce have been harvested this winter and several thousand more feet of timber will be cut before spring thaws make roads impassable. Lumbering, once Michigan's principal industry, has made definite gains during the past few years in this region. Whereas, in the late 1880s, the white pine was "king" of the forest, today's lumbermen harvest second growth timber for use in construction and for use in the pulp wood industry.

Methods used to cut timber are much different today compared with 66 years ago. Today's operation is on a much smaller scale, due to the size of the timber. Another difference is that gasoline engine-driven chain saws are used to fall trees, compared with the double bit and pole axe or cross-cut saw used by the oldtime crews.

However, the present-day lumbermen have found that a good team of horses is still an efficient method of skidding logs out of the woods, particularly in

Horses are used to skid the logs out of the swamp area. Although other lumbering methods have changed during the past years, this crew has found the horse to be still an efficient means for skidding logs.

Cards Victors in District Tournament

The Whitmore Cardinals, undefeated in regular season play, emerged victors in the district Class D tournament last week at AuGres. The Cards topped AuGres the first night of play, 49-29; won over Alcona-Harrisville Thursday night, 69-26, and then went on to drop Hale in Saturday night's finals, 48-38.

The Cards will compete in the regionals at Mt. Pleasant this week. The Western Isosco County team was scheduled to meet Newaygo Wednesday night at 8:45. The other Class D game found Wiedman going against Ashley. Thursday night the winners of the Whitmore-Newaygo tilt will meet Bay City St. Mary and winners of the Wiedman-Ashley game to meet Rose City. The game to decide regional champion will be Saturday night at 7:15.

Hale won its first game of the AuGres tournament Thursday night in a played game over Arenac Eastern, 52-43. It was a close game in the first quarter with Eastern holding a three point edge at the quarter mark. Shellenbarger, Hale's top scorer, broke loose in the second quarter for 15 points to put Hale ahead at half time by 11 points. Eastern cut the margin down (See Cards Win, page 10.)

Two More Donations Added to Polio Campaign

Since closing the March of Dimes campaign, the following amounts were received by the committee: Wilber Methodist W.S.C., $20.05, and Altar Society, $5.00.

William Brown is spending a couple of weeks with his son, William Brown Jr., and family at Pinconning.

Included in this group of nine deer killed by "wild" dogs in Isosco County, was the nearly all-white albino doe being examined by Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz. The albino doe was seen many times during the past year near the Wilber Methodist Church. All Isosco law enforcement agencies are cooperating to rid the area of dogs which run deer.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Conservation Officers Wage War on Deer-Killing Dogs

Conservation department officers and other law enforcement agencies are waging an all-out war in Isosco County against dogs which molest the wintering deer herd. Conservation Officer Arthur Leitz said Monday that 13 dogs had already been killed by officers in this area.

Citing last week as one of the worst this winter in number of deer killed, Leitz warned all dog owners that they are liable to be prosecuted under Michigan law should they allow their dogs to run at large. "Any dog running deer in the woods will be shot on the spot," emphasized Leitz.

According to the officer's report to department headquarters at Lansing this week, 14 dead deer were found in the woods. Leitz said that there were probably more still to be found.

Heaviest concentration of kills occurred in Sherman Township and west of Sand Lake, near Pickett Creek. In the latter area, Leitz pointed out that no deer were found to be suffering from lack of food and that dogs had simply overpowered three deer in the deep snow. He said that lumbering operations in that area provided plenty of browse for the wintering deer.

Included in the number of deer found dead in the woods by conservation and sheriff's department officers, was a nearly all-white albino doe. One large buck and two buck fawns also fell victims to the marauding dogs. One doe weighed nearly 125 pounds.

Isosco law enforcement agencies have waged a hot campaign to keep dogs tied up since last fall. "Dogs are not only a nuisance when they are allowed to run at will, but are very destructive," points out Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell.

It is thought that many of the dogs are turned "wild" and exist during the winter by what they kill in the woods. Officers point out, however, that the largest share of the dogs have an owner and he is responsible for its actions.

"Deep snow and lack of browse, alone, is enough to weaken the deer herd without being subjected to attack," stated Leitz. "The continual harassment by these dogs is going to be stopped by the best and quickest method at hand—extermination of all dogs running at large."

Last year Isosco County's deer herd suffered most in the Alabaster area. Although there have been no deer found in the woods, it has been reported that dogs are running deer in that area.

The conservation department urges everyone to cooperate with local law enforcement agencies in conserving the deer herd.

Republicans met at the city hall while Democrats, who, for the second consecutive year named nearly a full slate, met at the Isosco County Building.

Both parties named candidates for all supervisor and aldermen vacancies and for mayor. Democratic candidates for the office of city clerk and treasurer were not filled.

Named to fill the Republican ticket were: Mayor, George W. Myles; clerk, Albert H. Buch, and treasurer, John E. Hosbach.

Supervisor candidates named were: First Ward, Clement Stephan; Second Ward, Fred L. Brabant, and Third Ward, Clarence S. Everett. Aldermen named to the ticket were: First Ward, John N. Brugger; Second Ward, Clyde M. Ewrik; Third Ward, George E. Tuttle.

Aldermen: First Ward, Walter Schumacher; Second Ward, Arnold I. Hosbach; Third Ward, Clarence J. King.

With the exception of John N. Brugger, First Ward Republican candidate for alderman, all candidates on the Republican ticket will have completed terms of office. Walter Schumacher, incumbent First Ward alderman, was appointed to fill out the term of Arthur Ziehl, who retired last year.

The terms of Earl B. Davis, Hugo Keiser and Roy Wright, the other three aldermen, did not expire this year.

Those attending the Democratic caucus went on record as favoring a primary election to replace the caucus system to select candidates and to give convention officers and delegates such authority to take official action.

This year's spring election will be held Monday, April 2.

Landscaping—A Good Investment

A beautiful home is the ultimate goal of every American. It is the symbol of America's high standard of living. The beautiful home will have its well kept lawn, bordered by trees, shrubs and flowers. The landscaping of the home will give pleasing views from the inside of the home and from all angles approaching the house. Hedges can be used to outline boundaries and screen undesirable sights. An attractive landscape can give more pride of ownership than any other feature of the home. It increases the value of the home by far more than it costs. A neighborhood of beautifully landscaped homes can be a community's greatest asset.

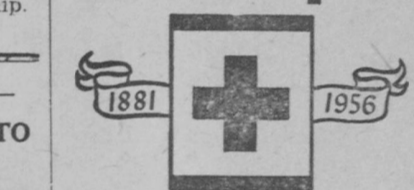

In planning the landscape, thought should be given to providing color the year around. There should be a balance of evergreens and deciduous trees and shrubs. Flowering trees and shrubs should be in the plan. Landscape plans will vary with desires of the individual and it should be essentially the plan of the home owner, although many can use technical assistance.

For the person who enjoys the vegetable garden and fruits, utility should be included in the plan. Dwarf fruit trees and peach bearing rose trees can add exotic spring beauty as well as furnish delicious home grown fruit.

CLARK FARM STORE of East Tawas can give assistance on landscaping problems. They offer free counsel and will draw up individual landscape plans free of charge.

An estimated total of 75,300,000 Americans held full and part time jobs in 1955—3,500,000 more than in 1954—and the greatest number on record since World War II. Of the 3,500,000 increase in the number of workers who actually were employed part or all of 1955, about two-thirds were women.

East Tawas State Park on Priority List for Improvements, Says Williams

East Tawas State Park is on the priority list for improvements during the 1956-57 fiscal year if the legislature approves a program he has recommended, Governor Williams said today. Expenditures at the park would total $25,000, according to his proposal.

Pointing out that Michigan's parks are in a critical condition, the governor asked that $3,000,000 be appropriated for a stepped-up development program throughout the state parks system. His proposal is still in the house ways and means committee. His program, he said, would provide for improved facilities and make possible the purchase of land for new parks and for enlargement of some now in existence.

The critical nature of the parks situation became apparent in 1955, said the governor, when for the first time visitors on a number of occasions were turned away from the parks which were literally filled to overflowing. Last year's total state park attendance reached an unprecedented 1,000,000 visitors. If the state legislature goes along with the program we now have before it, I foresee the day in the near future when we will move ahead of Florida in percentage of national tourist business. The other two leading states are California and New York, and I believe Michigan may surpass them, too.

The governor said his recommendations for state parks are based upon "a growing realization in the American family, with its pots and pans in the luggage compartment of the car and its bed rolls strapped on top is big business. And we are beginning to realize fully that the whole central part of America is going to depend, in future years, upon these two peninsulas of ours for a place to enjoy the outdoors."

An analysis of expenditures on parks shows that Michigan is near the bottom of the list. On capital outlay, operation and maintenance, New York State spends 44 cents for each park visitor. California spends 74.3 cents, and Florida spends 42 cents. Michigan spends only 13.3 cents.

New York and California, the governor asserted, are capitalizing handsomely on their investment. He pointed out that, between them, they divided 20 per cent of all tourists dollars in 1954, the last year for which tabulation was complete.

"Nearly a third of our parks lack modern sanitation facilities," said Williams. "In the two states where there are such facilities, failures of the sewage disposal and water systems last summer emphasized the need for repair, remodeling and replacement."

Whittemore Grange Hears National Policy Statement

"On This We Stand," a statement of state and national Grange policy was read by the lecturer, Mrs. Anna Thompson, at the Monday evening meeting of the Whittemore Grange. A Michigan song, "Water Wonderland," written to the tune of "Winter Wonderland," was sung with Mrs. Marguerite Aulerich accompanying on the piano. A poem, "March," was read by Lanson Beardslee and Mrs. Mina Bellville gave a reading, "You Don't Say." Arthur Aulerich read "The Song of the Lazy Farmer" and Seth Thompson read "The Hindu's Paradise." A game completed the program.

Home economics chairman, Mrs. Charlotte Black, announced that the Pomona Grange had asked the subordinate Granges to help them collect "Eyes for the Needy." Anyone having old glasses to help with this worthwhile project is asked to turn them over to a Grange member.

The Grange will again canvass Burleigh Township for Red Cross. Health chairman, Mrs. Marguerite Aulerich, set up a solicitation program which will be carried out in the very near future.

Colleen Marie Bessey

Colleen Marie Bessey, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bessey, died Tuesday, March 6, at Tawas Hospital.

Colleen Marie was born March 5, 1956, at Tawas Hospital. She is survived by her parents; one sister, Patti; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bessey of National City; Mrs. Matt Lapping of Tawas City; and George Scovill of Mt. Clemens.

Several of his young friends enjoyed an afternoon of games followed by refreshments. The traditional birthday cake and ice cream were served. Blaine was the recipient of several gifts from family and friends. His uncle, Neil Christeson, and family of Saginaw were here for the occasion.

Choose a plain background for picturing baby so that he'll stand out with all the importance to which his kingly position in your household entitles him.

It Has to Be Today! Tomorrow Won't Do

One of the better known copy-book maxims says something about never putting off until tomorrow what you can do today.

Well, when it comes to picturing your baby as he is today—that's one thing that just can't be done tomorrow. Cameras perform amazing feats, but they can't look into the past, anymore than they can picture the future. Of course, the pictures you take with them today may be a pretty good indication of what the future has in store.

Babies grow so fast that planned and regular picture taking is a must if you want a picture record that doesn't have a lot of empty places in it.

Since babies mostly live indoors, you'll need a source of artificial light. Flash on camera is the simplest way to do it—enabling you to shoot any time, any place, and on the spur of the moment when he's being especially appealing.

Flash has never been known to injure a baby's eyes, so you need have no fears on that score. However, once in a long time, a bulb will shatter when it flashes. Always put a flash guard over your reflector, just to be sure.

By keeping your camera ready, you will catch the all-of-a-sudden things when they happen. But, in addition to these unplanned shots, it is smart to plan on certain pictures. Pick one day of each week or month on which you will regularly take at least a few pictures. Two weeks is about the right time between pictures for babies up to about six months. After that, once a month will provide a good record of baby's progress.

—John Van Guilder

losco SCD Adds 4,890 Acres for Big Gain in 1955

Two thousand three hundred fifty-one farms joined the battle against erosion and soil depletion during 1955 by joining a soil conservation district and initiating some needed conservation practices, it is revealed in the annual progress report of the soil conservation service by E. C. Sackrider, state conservationist.

The additional membership brought the total number of co-operators in 75 soil conservation districts to 28,667. They farm 3,722,013 acres, or 21 percent of all farmland in the state, according to the annual report of the Michigan State Office of the United States Soil Conservation Service.

Of the 28,667 farmers, a total of 16,814 have developed conservation plans and rotations assisted by SCS technicians to provide the maximum amount of proper cropping while maintaining and improving the land and preventing soil erosion and depletion. A total of 13.7 percent of all farmland in the state, or 2,089,156 acres, is now worked within the bounds of conservation plans.

Biggest gain in 1955 in the losco County Soil Conservation District were 4,890 acres brought into the district for the first time reports Gordon J. Hatch, soil conservation service technician, assisting the losco County district. Also 17 basic plans were completed, 9,126 acres were soil mapped, and 15,908 feet of tile, five miles of open ditch and five acres of waterways were completed.

Soil conservation service technicians servicing the soil conservation districts in Michigan worked with district co-operators during the year to bring about 12,819 acres of pasture planting, 15,721 acres of windbreaks, 23,455 rods of hedgerow planting, 2,836 acres of contour farming, 11,538 acres of strip-cropping and 38,747 acres of cover crops. Some 84,000 acres went under conservation crop rotations.

Biggest demand on the services of technicians was for drainage advice to make possible a conservation plan. District co-operators improved 42,248 acres from excess water conditions and made them more suitable for conservation farming.

To drain the 42,248 acres, farmers dug 300 miles of open ditch. Nine hundred fifty miles of tile drains were laid. In 1954, farmers constructed 1,800 miles of tile drains compared to 956 during the past 12 months. District co-operators spent three-fourths million dollars on tile drainage alone.

Farmers not only are applying conservation practices to their crop land, but are developing every acre on their farm for conservation purposes. In 1955 they improved 4,856 acres for wildlife and planted 23,455 rods of hedgerow for wildlife food and cover. The 194 miles of windbreaks planted not only protect the land from blowing, save moisture, but provide travel lanes and cover for wildlife.

Almost one-third, exactly 30.1 percent, of all farmland in soil conservation district, has been surveyed by SCS mappers for soil types, erosion and slope.

The year 1955 was a big victory in the battle for conservation, but the SCS officials point out that the final triumph—victory over soil depletion, erosion and water management—is far off.

Wednesday, April 11—Flower gardening meeting. Wednesday, April 18—Craft Appreciation.

Mighty pleased we are to announce organization of a home demonstration group in East Tawas. First Tuesday evenings at 7:30 p. m. have been selected as group meeting dates, beginning in April.

There will be a second meeting in March, however, so that other women in the East Tawas community who wish to join may come and get acquainted with the program and the with the women who have enrolled so far.

The recent lesson on first aid and home nursing taught for home demonstration groups will be given by Mrs. Robert Botsford.

Date for the second meeting this month is March 20, 7:30 p. m., in the conference room, Federal Building, East Tawas. Everyone interested is asked to come then, or if that evening is already taken, call and tell us of your wish to join. Dial Forest 2-3751.

Officers elected were: Edna Otis, chairman; Mrs. Harold Anderson, vice chairman; Mrs. James Warner, secretary; Mrs. Jessie Bennington, reporter; Mrs. Robert Botsford, Mrs. Thomas Quattlebaum, Mrs. Jasper Davidson, leaders. Mrs. V. Zudel, Mrs.

Thomas Hill and Mrs. Carrie Swales are other members as of now. April 30 is the date selected for the annual spring home demonstration county-wide event. We invite all women to mark their calendars with this date right now because all of you are invited to attend.

This will be the first day of National Home Demonstration Week. Plans for the program are to be made by the event committee which will be chaired by Mrs. Marvin Davenport. She says that it will be an evening event this year and more information will be available soon.

This initial planning was done as part of the regular home demonstration council meeting on March 5, attended by 13 council members from seven groups and with Mrs. Donald MacDonald presiding.

Council members learned details about the county plan book project and groups will be pooling their book orders by April 15 to take advantage of the discount and swell the county treasury.

Suggestions for next year's program of lessons and workshops were made by each group. This list is a sizeable one and contains many interesting and worthwhile topics. Using all the suggestions brought together and some additional information sources, groups will narrow down the number of suggestions to a check list for membership voting.

Council members learned more about the home nursing classes which can be organized in the county and local homemakers who have been provided special training by a Red Cross person will be instructors. The seven two-hour classes are without expense.

Every woman in Isoco County is invited to make arrangements to attend a class. It is necessary to know who wants to come in order to set up teaching centers. You may register by contacting instructors, one of them is Mrs. Charles Attwell at Hale, or the extension service office. Do it soon for the first classes are finished and more can be started.

Activities to keep in mind for the future are: District home demonstration rally on October 10, Homemakers' Conference at Michigan State University July 17-20, and a District Homemakers' camp, probably in August.

YOUR PARTNER IN SAFETY!

Here, from your partner in safety—the truck driver—are some friendly suggestions for furthering safe driving on our highways. If everybody cooperates, we'll all enjoy happier, safer driving.

- 1. Be sure your car is in good operating condition at all times. 2. Obey all traffic laws. 3. In planning a trip, don't schedule more miles per day than you can comfortably and safely drive. 4. On long drives, stop now and then to rest and relax. 5. Never pass on a hill. 6. Courtesy and patience are two very necessary ingredients of safe driving. 7. Don't follow too closely the car ahead of you. 8. Accident statistics continue to rate speed as the number one cause of automobile accidents—so keep it down.

The rain swollen Allegheny River forced firemen to replace their trucks with boats as shown in this picture as a boat is made ready in the firehouse. New waves of snow and freezing temperatures moved into the upper reaches of the Allegheny to add to the flood destruction and misery.

Tuesday, March 20—Meeting in Federal Building, East Tawas, 1:30 p. m. until 2:30 p. m., Dr. Robert P. Larsen from Michigan State University, horticulturist.

Friday, March 23—Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative annual meeting at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Monday, March 26—Advisory board meeting, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 4, 5 and 6—Tourist and resort workshop at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Some Iosco County folks have asked about the Michigan seed law. Anyone selling seed should have a copy of the state department bulletin. I have several copies. If you wish a copy drop us a card in East Tawas or phone FOrrest 2-3751.

Next Tuesday, March 20, from 1:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m., Dr. Robert Larsen of the horticultural department will be in East Tawas. I have asked him to spend this hour answering questions of our orchard and small fruit (strawberry, raspberry) growers. If you are interested, plan to be with us in the conference room of the Federal Building in East Tawas.

All this March weather is a grim reminder that dormant spraying time is nearly here! If you plan on doing some dormant spraying this spring, Ray Fulton, head of Michigan State's entomology department, says you should be getting ready now. A great deal more care is necessary in using dormant sprays than in other types of spraying. Dormant sprays are very potent and are much more drastic than conventional sprays. For this reason, your equipment should be checked beforehand.

Another thing to keep in mind is that dormant sprays are not as readily available as they once were, and so you will want to be sure you have the spray when you need it.

Usually the best time to use these sprays comes in the latter part of March and early April. The sprays should be applied when the temperature is above 40 degrees for two or three hours, since they may decompose at lower temperatures. Good drying conditions will also help make the spraying more effective.

Dormant sprays are used against aphids and also against scale insects. They are strong enough to kill insect eggs, but they are also strong enough to damage the buds and leaves of the trees if they are applied too late.

For aphids, use a dinitro compound, generally two or three weeks before the eggs are due to hatch. Dinitro on labels is often written as "D-N."

For scale insects, apply a dormant oil spray before the buds are bursting.

Dormant sprays are very effective against the insects when properly used, but be sure you use them properly.

Iosco County is getting more strawberry growers every year. One of the most important things to remember is spraying of the strawberry patch.

A strawberry spray schedule for disease control has been developed by R. H. Fulton, Michigan State University plant pathologist, to give better results with less cost.

The new schedule was set up after research revealed new information about leaf blight and stem end rot. Fulton found that the first infection of stem rot took place when the leaves and sepals first emerged through the crown in early spring.

As controls, Fulton now recommends a spring spray of organic mercury or lime sulfur at the dormant stage. Next, a fixed copper spray is needed when new leaves are emerging from the crown. A third spray of fixed copper is recommended when blossom buds are one-half inch or more out of the crown.

As a fourth spray when fruit is developing, Fulton said Captan, Ferbam or Dithane Z-78 should be used. Finally, he said, Captan or Dithane Z-78 should be used as pre-harvest spray. Both the fourth and fifth sprays should be applied when rain is predicted.

Fulton said he was planning to study the effects of irrigation on strawberry fruit rot build-up next summer.

Anyone interested, we have a special strawberry folder, easy to read entitled "Hints on Strawberry Growing." Our mailing list folks will be receiving one in the mail soon. If you are not on our mailing list and want one, let us know.

It is a good idea to wait until after the middle of March to prune raspberries.

Pruned raspberry canes are more easily damaged by freezing than unpruned ones. Late March usually will be a safe period to begin pruning. Also, winter-injured canes can then be found and removed.

There is a big difference between pruning red raspberries

WITH THE IOSCO—4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

March 15-16—Special classes for clothing project leaders at Singing Shop, East Tawas.

Saturday, March 24—Live-stock project members judging training school.

Three exhibits for National 4-H Club Week were arranged by Friendship 4-H Club at the following business places: Herriman's Store, McArdle Store and Haryen's Store.

First 4-H Club openhouse this year, planned during National 4-H Club Week by Reno Topnotchers 4-H Club, was a most successful program with most everyone present participating.

Chairmaned by Robert Waters, demonstrations were given by Roger Mott, Julia Berry, John Sugden, William Redmond, Lorna Mott and Janice Sturtevant, Roy Pagel, Debora Nichols and Diane VanAllen, Ruth Smith, James Sturtevant and Percy Mervyn, Ray Pagel, James Smith, Eugene VanAllen, Martha Smith and Mary Alice Waters.

The young people have chosen demonstration subjects from foods, clothing and electrical project activities and have a fine start toward the development of improved demonstrations for the county contest later on. They will give them again for assistance from extension agents at the demonstration clinic on March 10 and April 2.

Entertainment at openhouse was presented by David Sturtevant and his flute; Debora Nichols, Linda Redmond and Neva Daugharty sang and there was a skit on breakfast patterns.

All eight members of Clover Kiddie 4-H Club met for their community meeting on Monday afternoon, March 4. Because one member, Kay Bowman, has dropped out, a new reporter was elected. She is Karen Conklin.

Karen says, "We have finished our first project which was crocheting and are having quite a time to find a leader to help us with a new project. Mrs. Elmina Applin kindly consented to help us with knitting but will not be able to begin for a few weeks. Mrs. Herbert Wendt has offered to help us until then."

First knitting project meeting will be at Mrs. Wendt's home on Monday, March 12, from 7 until 8 o'clock.

TAKES OFF LIKE YOU'RE WEARING SPURS

Come try it—
and you're in BUICK'S THRILL-A-MINUTE CLUB

THE THRILLS begin in the first sixty seconds—and from then on they come in clusters.

Right off, you feel the stepped-up getaway in Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—a blazing new take-off even before you switch the pitch.

Because now—right in the topmost inch of pedal travel—right where you do most of your driving—right in the fuel-saving economy range—you're moving with a solid new "take-hold" getaway that's brisk and blessedly smooth.

Then you double the thrill.

For when you want to pass—or climb—or get out of a tight spot fast—you floor the pedal and switch the pitch. That brings you an absolutely smooth burst of full-power go-ahead on the split second—and it's the nearest thing to soaring flight yet.

It's a double-barreled package of excitement—and it's teamed with the most powerful V8 engine in Buick history—a 322-cubic-inch engine with no less than 9.5 to 1 compression in every CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

All that would seem like thrill enough—but you'll find you've hardly scratched the surface.

You'll find yourself glowing all over from the sweet and level buoyancy of Buick's great new ride.

You'll feel a serene satisfaction from the way this trim beauty handles and corners and tracks to the road with the truest sense of direction yet.

And certainly you'll have to feel the good feeling that's yours just from bossing this big and brawny and beautifully sculptured automobile that's like a thing alive, and impeccably obedient.

We'd like you to know and feel all this firsthand—just by trying out a new Buick. That's all you do to join Buick's Thrill-A-Minute Club.

Why not become a member in good sitting today? And when you do, we have some big-thrill news on prices, too.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, famed British officer who created Jordan's crack army, was fired by King Hussein. The abrupt dismissal was believed to have been a large part due to the king's desire to placate extremists in his country. Following his dismissal, the chiefs of state of Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria met in a top secret conference in Cairo and have reportedly made offers to Jordan to give financial support to her armies. The British have largely supported the crack Arab Legion. In the meanwhile, Egyptian-Israeli tension continues.

From the first quarter on it was just a question of how high the score would go but Coach Dudo started using reserves in the second quarter to give his starting five a rest for games to come. The Card reserves were also able to outplay the losers.

Page 1, the Card all-state center, racked up 32 points. Alcona's highest scorer was Sautler with seven.

Calvin Rardin to be Examined at State Hospital March 23

Calvin "Mack" Rardin, accused slayer of Jacob E. Miller, retired Wilber Township farmer, will be taken to Traverse City State Hospital March 23 for a preliminary examination.

Should specialists pronounce Rardin mentally incompetent, he would probably be brought into court under provisions of 767.27, compiled laws of 1948, as amended, and no doubt would be sent to Ionia State Hospital, the prosecutor said.

Although Rardin admitted striking Mr. Miller following an argument a week ago Monday night, he has not confessed fully to police, investigating officers said that Rardin was very evasive while answering questions.

During questioning last week, Rardin admitted brushing a bottle out of Miller's hand but said he could not remember what happened after that. Later questioning made it clear that he struck Mr. Miller with his fist.

Police believe that Rardin stomped Miller in the chest. An autopsy revealed that ribs on both sides of the body were crushed. Rardin admitted that he injured his knee during the scuffle.

Rardin had been living with Miller and his son, Harvey, since last fall. He earned his board and room by working on the farm. The indication of Mr. Miller's death resulted from foul play came after the body was removed to the Moffatt Funeral Home at East Tawas. After examining the body, the coroner found that Miller had died of chest injuries. Police were notified and Rardin was held at the Iosco County Jail on manslaughter charges.

His only survivor is his wife, Edna, of Glen Arbor. A sister, Edna Acton, and a brother, Samuel Anker, preceded him in death. Mrs. Gertrude Kunze and Walter Luce of East Tawas are sister and brother of Mrs. Anker.

Although Big Fred Goldberg rifled 59 markers through the hoop, his teammate, Gary Humphrey, tallied a huge 61 counters for a 120-point two-man total.

Humphrey, former Tawas City High School star, is currently averaging 23 points per game. His team has a 10-win record. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Humphrey of East Tawas.

Humphrey's 61-point total was an individual high mark in the league.

Two Air Force Fliers Die in Jet Plane Crash

Two United States Air Force fliers were killed instantly when their plane, a P-59H Scorpion, exploded in mid-air in Ossineke Township, Alcona County, Monday morning. Air force officials identified the pilot as First Lt. Arledge W. Scruggs, 25, Arlington, Texas. First Lt. Edward D. Palmer, 23, Bloomfield, Missouri, was the radar observer.

An area-wide search started soon after the missing jet interceptor failed to return to Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda. Crash and rescue units were rushed to the crash area by conservation department snowmobiles in the densely wooded area. Wreckage of the plane was found Tuesday morning. State police, sheriff's officers from Alcona County and the conservation department assisted in the air force in locating the wreckage.

Tawas Women's League Makes Contributions

At the regular meeting of the Tawas Women's League held at the Bears Hotel Monday evening, March 12, several important business matters were transacted. The group voted to donate $10 to the American Red Cross, $25 to the nursing fund to aid a local girl interested in nurses training. It was also voted to donate at least $10, and more possibly, to the United Nations Committee, to help send two high school students to New York in June.

The musical program which followed the business meeting was greatly enjoyed. Twelve young men and women from the Waltham League of the Lutheran Church, Saginaw, presented several numbers from their annual musical variety show. The variety numbers featured an accordion solo, a male quartet pantomime act, a "toy" trumpet solo, a vocal trio featuring the "Boo-Boop-a-Doop Girls," a piano solo and a vocal duet, followed by a grand finale featuring the entire group. The league wishes to thank Mrs. Robert Richter for making the program possible.

Dainty refreshments were served from an attractively decorated St. Patrick's table. Mrs. Carlton Merschel, chairman, was assisted by Miss Emma Whipple, Mrs. Gene Morat and Mrs. Louis Gorham.

horses. Skidding the logs to higher ground, here they are sorted and piled to await transportation to the mill in the spring.

The other member of the Maine's crew, William Struthers, measures the logs to be cut into eight and 12-foot lengths and trims off branches.

Branches from the trees, along with several cedars cut each day, are left on the ground as feed for deer. The wintering white tails, numbering more than 100 in that area, have fared well this winter as a result of the extra effort on the part of these men. Baled hay is used to supplement the diet of the herd.

The Maine's prepared for future harvesting of timber in 1944 when about 22,000 trees of different species were planted. As the trees in the plantation mature they will be selected for harvesting.

Some of the men who worked for Henry Anschuetz in the original clearing of the 80 acres were George Hadwin, William Holloway, William Katterman, Louis Binder, Charles Fiel, Roy Woods and Frank Woods. Barney Long was his single sawyer and Christ Hosbach was his teamster. Mr. Anschuetz's five sons worked for him also.

The Anschuetz mill was moved to the head of Cold Creek around 1908 and again moved to the corner of M-55 and the Plank Road in 1940.
