National Plans Huge Expansion Program

To Construct Belt Conveyor Tramway in Bay

Announcement of vastly expanded quarry operations and construction of a Lake Huron conveyor belt aerial tramway in Isoco County was made Saturday by the National Gypsum Company. A company spokesman said this was to be part of National Gypsum's $90,000,000 expansion program. Company officials said that included in the Isoco County program would be: Construction of a huge aerial tramway extending more than a mile into Lake Huron. Opening of a new gypsum quarry west and slightly south of Tawas City; and The purchase or taking options on "considerable acreage" in the county. National Gypsum Company has already made application with the Detroit office of the United States Army Corps of Engineers for construction of a combination steel and concrete pile and structural steel-supported tramway (conveyor belt loading system) extending 6,000 feet lakeward with mooring facilities at its outer end. "Would Load Lake Freighters" According to information released Saturday, the aerial tramway would be used to convey and load material on deep draft vessels berthed at the outer end of the structure. The proposed structure is to be constructed in Lake Huron offshore company property in Alabaster Township, approximately 1.6 miles south of the mouth of the Tawas River. A hearing on objections to the operations, based on reasons affecting navigation, will be held at the Detroit office of the army corps of engineers April 5. Although it was generally known that National Gypsum Company had been purchasing or taking options on a considerable amount of property south and west of Tawas City in Grant, Tawas and Sherman Townships, the magnitude of such a program came as a surprise here. First report came in a public notice posted by the army corps of engineers revealing that a hearing on the aerial tramway would be held in Detroit.

The National Gypsum Company announced last week that the Tawas area and Isoco County would take part in the company's $90,000,000 expansion program. City Valuation Set at $1,902,600.00

Final tabulations last week by the board of review showed that Tawas City's assessed valuation has reached $1,902,600. This was an increase of $223,400 over the 1955 figure, most of which is represented by new building construction and improvements. Comparing the 1956 figure with those of the past six years indicates that this year's assessed valuation is more than double the 1950 figure. Fifteen years ago (1941) the total valuation was $501,470. The following is a comparison of assessed valuation figures during the past six-year period:

1950	$940,950
1951	1,061,300
1952	1,103,400
1953	1,524,600
1954	1,580,300
1955	1,674,200
1956	1,902,600

Total valuation for 1956 and increases over the previous year in Tawas City's three wards are as follows: First Ward, $589,000 ($68,600 increase); Second Ward, $443,000 ($40,600 increase); Third Ward, $870,600 ($119,000 increase). Thirty percent of the Second Ward is non-taxable property which includes county-owned buildings, churches and parsonages, schools, cemetery and city park. The Third Ward's increase, leading the city again as the case for the past several years, was through new construction in resorts and motels, new homes, businesses and industrial development. During the six-year period since 1950 there has been a gradual decrease in millage as the valuation rises. Whereas 25 mills were assessed in 1950 the reduction made this year cut the millage to 17. In 1955 there were 18 mills spread on the tax rolls. Acting on the board of review were supervisors Clarence E. Emery, Fred Babant and Clarence Stephan, Mayor George W. Myles and City Clerk Albert H. Buch.

Anyone Interested in Forming Jaycees?

Word was received by The Tawas Herald this week that the Garden City Junior Chamber of Commerce would like to extend a Jaycee organization in this community. "All we require are a few interested persons between the ages of 21 and 35," he said. Direct any inquiries to Gene Karby, 23515 Kathryn, Garden City, Michigan. Mr. Karby's interest in this community is the result of being a regular patron of one of the local resorts.

Council Protests Automatic Tavern License Renewal

Action taken by the Tawas City Council Monday night registered protest to a bill passed by the state legislature last week. The legislation makes it unnecessary for tavern owners to apply to local government bodies for yearly liquor license renewals. Although the bill has already become law, the council directed City Clerk Albert H. Buch to prepare a letter of protest to be sent to State Representative James M. Lock and State Senator Charles F. Prescott. "Although the bill has already become law, the council directed City Clerk Albert H. Buch to prepare a letter of protest to be sent to State Representative James M. Whittemore Cards Victors in Regional Tournament

Drop Ashley for 24th Straight Win

The red-hot Whittemore Cardinals annexed the Class D regional title at Mt. Pleasant Saturday night by dropping Ashley, 99-55, for their 24th straight win. The Cards faced their biggest test of tournament play when they met Owosso St. Paul in the quarter final game Tuesday night at Saginaw High. Ashley, runner-up to Mass in Class D competition last year, had practically its same team back this year. The down-staters opened the scoring and led the Ashley pulled ahead in the second quarter but Coach Dudo's kids were not to be stopped and came back to tie it up at 23 all. Then Center Francis Pagel put the Cards ahead for good on two charity tosses and a field goal. Free added a field goal to make the margin 29-23 at the half. The losers' all-court press back-fired badly in the third quarter when the Cards either drove down the court on a fast break or picked up points on charity tosses, with the lead being extended to 18 points at the end of the third quarter. The Cards lost ground in the final quarter, but with Coach Dudo giving his reserves a

MAINTENANCE ENGINEER APPOINTED AT NATIONAL

Charles H. Hill, manager of the National Gypsum Company, National City plant, today announced the appointment of Clarence B. Cox as plant engineer in charge of maintenance. Mr. Hill said the new plant engineer will be in charge of all maintenance and new construction. Mr. Cox comes to his new post from Parsons, Kansas, where he was assistant director for materials and transportation at the Kansas Ordnance Plant which National Gypsum operates for the United States government. A graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute in electrical engineering, Mr. Cox served as a lieutenant colonel in the United States Army Ordnance Corps during World War II. Shortly after discharge he began work with the company at the Kimballton plant during the spring of 1947 when this new lime plant was under construction. There he worked in various capacities of maintenance, engineering, safety and personnel. In 1951 he was transferred to the Kansas Ordnance Plant when the company became prime contractor there. Mr. Cox was born in Marion, Virginia. He and his wife, Shirley, have three children, Becky, eight; Brownie, 2½, and Sally, seven months. They now reside in East Tawas.

COUNCIL HEARS PUBLIC WORKS REPORT MONDAY

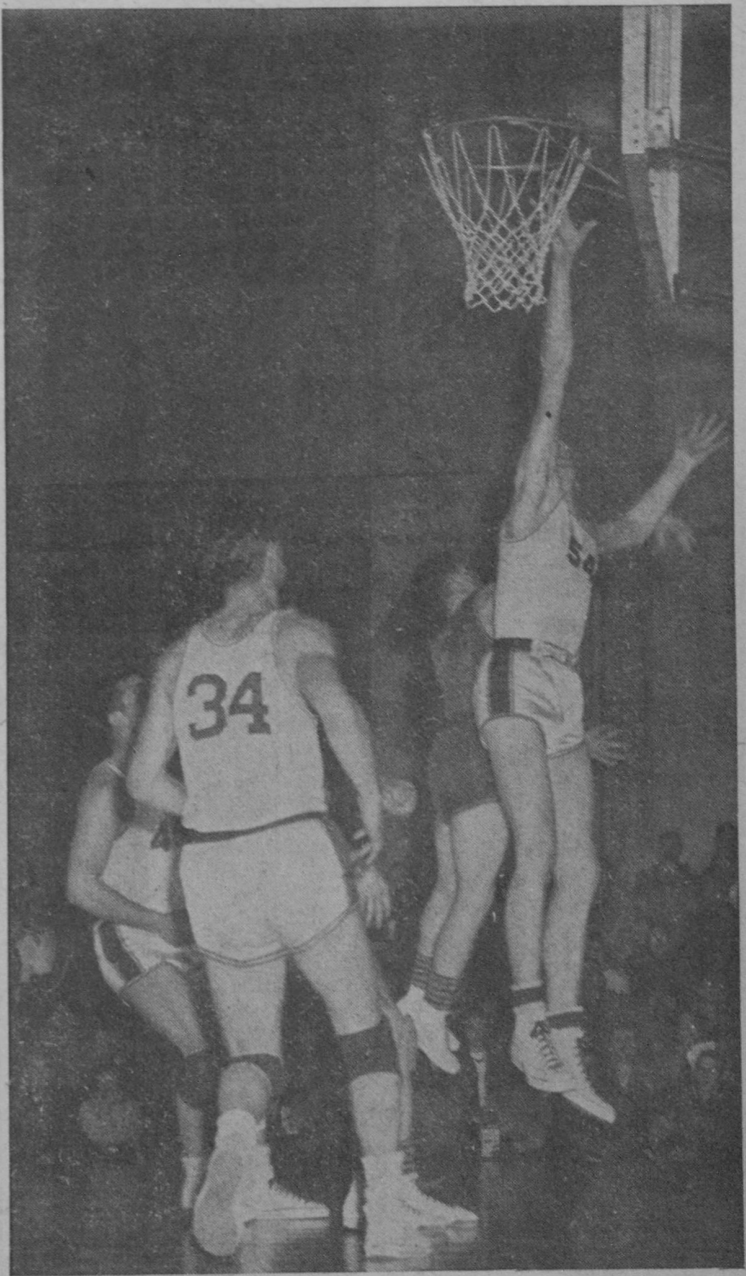

The City of Tawas City now has 7.8 miles of water mains (41,183 feet) and 8.6 miles of sewer mains (45,450 feet) it was revealed in a report submitted by Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, at Monday night's council meeting. According to the report, 540 water customers used a total of 57,507,000 gallons in 1955, a 40 percent increase over 1950. During 1955 the average daily pumpage was 157,552 gallons with the busiest month being July, when the department pumped 7,047,140 gallons of water. This was a daily average of 227,327 gallons. Last year the city constructed 5,922 feet of sewer main, of which 532 feet was constructed on Beech and Fir Street, 398 feet on Bay Drive and 4,992 feet along Harris Avenue to the new school site. Plans contemplated in 1956 include extending sewer across US-23 from the Bay Drive pumping station and then continue north about 1,200 feet and south 3,000 feet; about 280 feet on Fifth Avenue from First Street to North Street; 450 feet from Harris Avenue down Ninth Avenue to First Street. Plans have been asked for extension of sewer from First Street down Eighth Avenue to North Street, about 400 feet, and (See Report, page 8.)

Cards Win in Quarter Finals

In a dramatic last ditch stand, the Whittemore Cards emerged victors in the quarter finals last night (Wednesday), taking a 62-59 decision over Owosso St. Paul. Paset led the Cards with 39 points.

With only 34 seconds to go before the final whistle sounded, the Cards trailed Owosso 59-56. Graham Freel was fouled by an Owosso player and was awarded two charity throws. Freel made the first shot and, on the second shot, Paset tipped the ball in for a field goal after it bounced off the rim.

With the score tied at 59 all, and only five seconds to go in the game, Pavlik and Freel were fouled. Both players made good from the free throw lane.

Whittemore jumped off to a 16-14 lead in the first quarter. At the half the Cards still held a two-point margin, 35-33. The third quarter found Owosso going ahead by three points, 45-42. In the final quarter, the Saginaw High auditorium was in a boom when the Cards saved the dramatics for the last few seconds.

Dornace Bellville of Whittemore, who has reported the Cardinal basketball games this year for the Herald, said that with three minutes to go in the contest Owosso attempted to "stall" the ball. These tactics backfired when the Whittemore team rushed Owosso with a full-court press.

Get Early Start With Your Garden

If you have a south window, a hotbed or greenhouse you can get an early start with your garden by sowing seeds in flats, pots or boxes or cans now. Of course you can buy started plants of many varieties of vegetables and flowers later on but you may not always be able to get your favorite varieties. And, too, it is a fascinating experience to start your own flats.

Soil for flats can be obtained by mixing good garden soil with peat moss and vermiculite. One-half inch peat moss or sphagnum moss in the bottom of the flat helps hold moisture and retain the soil. Seeds can be broadcast or placed in rows and later the seedlings can be transplanted to another flat about two inches apart. The use of plant bands makes for easier transplanting and eliminates the shock. If a good soil is not available potting soil can be used and can be expected to give good results because it is free of diseases and is highly fertile.

Most common varieties started in flats are: VEGETABLES: Broccoli, Brussels Sprouts, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Celery, Eggplant, Head Lettuce, Onions, Peppers and Tomatoes. FLOWERS: As-ters, Ageratum, Carnations, Celosia, Chrysanthemum, Cleome, Coleus, Dahlia Seeds, Delphinium, Larkspur, Lobelia, Margold, Pansies, Petunias, Phlox, Portulaca, Salvia, Snapdragons, Zinnias and many others.

Clark Farm Store carries seeds (nearly 400 varieties), potting soil, vermiculite, peat moss, sphagnum moss, plant bands, Vitaloam, fertilizers, fungicides and other accessories that insure success with outdoor planting. adv.

Council

(Continued from page 1.) Jack Jones, area representative of the corps, and Carl Eckman, Isosco coordinator, presented a plan already approved by the East Tawas Council which called for 50 percent participation by both cities. Site for the new post has not been selected as yet.

The council gave permission to Mayor George W. Myles to survey, clean, ditch, brush and grade streets in blocks 44, 45, 54, 55, 56 and 57 of the original plat of the City of Tawas City, at no expense to the city. Mr. Myles, owner of the property, plans to improve this new development area for use as a possible site for a housing project.

The council authorized the purchase of 3,000 yards of gravel for street improvements from Straits Aggregate Company. Salary schedules for city officers and councilmen will remain the same as last year. City clerk will receive a salary of $200; treasurer, $200, plus one percent collection fee; fire chief, $50; $2 per meeting for aldermen and mayor.

A building application by Fredrick Cain, 210 River Street, was approved. The permit was for the remodeling of his home. Estimated cost was $1,700.

A discussion was held on the proposed addition to the municipal water system. A joint meeting of the water board and council will be held as soon as plans are received from Spicer Engineering Company.

Miss Ruth Cholger and Mrs. Herbert Cholger made a business trip to Detroit over the week-end. Ray (Jack) Beaubien has enlisted in the United States Army Reserve and will leave for training in Missouri after graduation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beaubien Sr.

Rock would be transported by rail and stock-piled on company-owned land west of US-23. From there it would go underground by conveyor belt or other method to the 6,000 foot overhead conveyor belt system for loading directly into Great Lakes ships.

Site of the proposed tramway is about 3 1/2 miles north of the present aerial cable bucket tramway owned by the United States Gypsum Company at its Alabaster plant. In operation since 1929, this tramway transports rock from the shore to a huge offshore bin where it is subsequently loaded into Great Lakes freighters. With the development of the proposed National Gypsum installation and the present United States Gypsum tramway, Isosco County could have two sites which may become ocean ports when the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed.

Legislative News Letter...

From the Desk of James P. Mielock, House of Representatives, Lansing, Michigan.

The tempo of the session again prevents discussion here of but a few of the legislative proposals.

A bill introduced to require approval before parking meters could be installed was not reported from committee.

The sponsor moved to discharge the committee, seeking a majority of the membership to do so, and after quite a lengthy dissertation, during which he called the parking meters a "90 million dollar a year extortion racket," the house voted down his motion by almost a two to one vote.

Another motion to discharge another committee from further consideration of a bill to create a commission on automation, was likewise defeated. This had been a recommendation contained in one of the governor's messages.

The majority of the membership, felt, of course, that it was unnecessary, probably the most logical reasoning on this subject can be summarized as follows:

"Primarily technological advancement is something that industry can best work out, it has done so for a good many years in this country and the results speak for themselves. But Governor Williams' approach to the matter is the typically political one—Control!"

All of which brings the legislator face to face with this question—how much should government interfere and continually encroach upon our free enterprise system and economy by ever continuing rules, regulation and restrictions?

The voters, back in the late 30's, refused to give state and county elected officers a four-year term under our constitution. Again this is the subject of debate in the legislative halls. Perhaps they may pass it and again submit it to the voters in the November election.

The last issue of this news letter made mention of the discretionary power bill to give to the conservation department control over the deer herd, that all house bills were dead, but that a house bill in the senate "might take on signs of life." It has happened, the bill originating in the house, provided open season for taking of black squirrels, the senate amended it by placing a discretionary powers bill on it as an amendment. It came to the house and that amendment was amended by a substantial majority, this second amendment briefly, placed the department under the administrative rules, in other words, the house refused to grant to the department legislative authority except as they could make the rules subject to review by a committee of elected representatives of the people who would be appointed and serve during the interim between sessions. This most controversial issue must now go to conference to settle matters of difference between the two houses. Anything can happen to it yet.

The house has passed the senate bill which will outlaw "common law" marriages in Michigan. Proponents claim that by reason of these marriages, the welfare load has been increased.

The demand for additional mental health facilities in Michigan in recent years has brought forth many perplexing problems, principally, of course, the matter of the expenditures of many, many millions of tax dollars for construction and staffing of hospitals. A bill recently passed by the house may have much merit in solving the problem of overcrowding in those institutions.

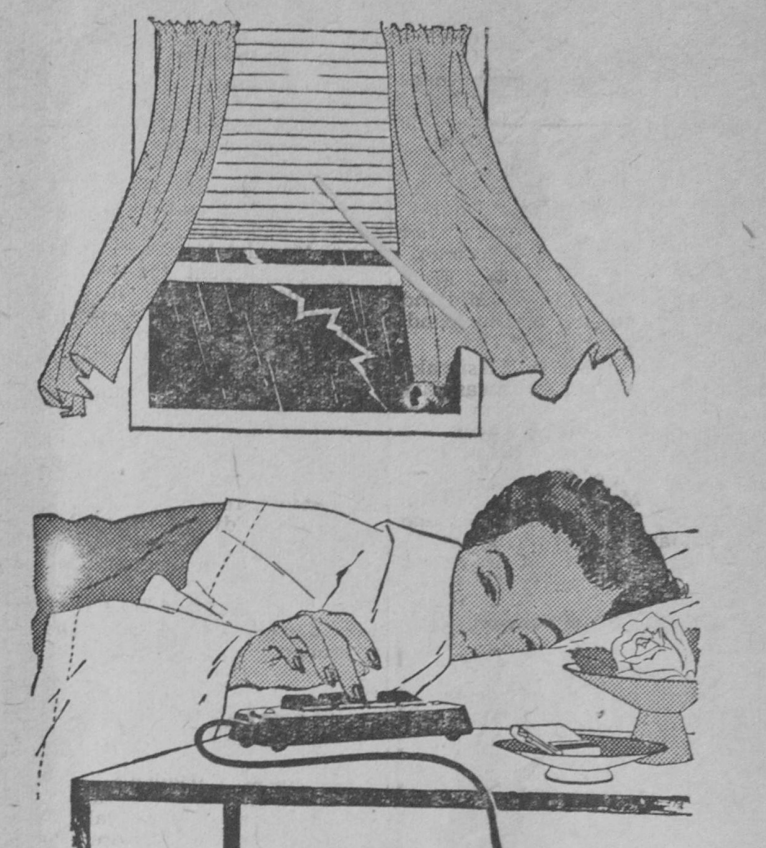

Other bills which received favorable action in the house was one to exempt livestock from the Motor Carrier Act. Another which would provide for reasons of health and safety by regulating the use of radioactive materials. There were a couple of minor bills dealing with marriage and divorce, whereby the county clerk would be required to make a monthly report to the state health commissioner. Another which would broaden the Motor Vehicle Act so that reckless driving convictions of any municipal or local ordinances corresponding to state law would be included for purposes of determining the severity of imprisonment and the amendment to the penal code which would provide a minimum of not less than five years in state prison for the offense of robbery armed, if the convicted is guilty of injury inflicted upon the person being assaulted. This legislation has been brought about by reasons of the minimum sentences in some cases being imposed where the convicted was guilty of badly beating and injuring the victim during the hold up.

A resolution by two representatives proposing an amendment to the constitution which would permit the salary of judges of courts of record to be increased during their term of office was reported from committee not only striking out the new language but also deleting the present language much to the surprise and disgust of the sponsors who demanded, during argument, that their names be stricken from the resolution completely. This lengthy argument ended in the resolution being re-referred to committee where likely it will never see the light of day.

Senator Coleman has advised me that he and several other senators are going to introduce a bill into the senate which would authorize the use of township funds for employing of special township agricultural agents through the extension service of Michigan State University. The matter would have to be passed upon by the voters of the township and would allow townships to combine in seeking the service of such an agent.

Speaking of the senate reminds me of the mental health training program bill now in the house ways and means committee which, incidentally, was offered by Senator Coleman and several other senators. The bill would create a training program for psychiatrists, psychiatric social workers, psychologists and nurses, making the most effective use of all of the mental health facilities in Michigan including those at the University of Michigan and Wayne University.

Thursday, April 5—Regional Soil Conservation District meeting at Standish 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Isoco Board of Directors invited.

I worked three years with Casper Blumer in Oscoda and Alcona Counties. I know the Oscoda people as hard workers and a very cooperative people. Their willingness to work together has paid off in a thriving business of broiler chicken growing for folks around Fairview in Oscoda County.

These enterprising folks helped each other build houses, find and build markets and develop efficient operations. As a result, some 20 growers now sell 100,000 broilers a year.

The effects of this expanding industry show up in the county's livestock income. Recent figures put it at $2,900 per farm, nearly $1,700 more than a "neighboring county" with similar farm land. Broiler growing has proved a good way for these people to boost their income.

Oscoda County is not well suited to general farming. The soil is coarse and its land undulating. Most farmers have had to look for part or full-time work off the farm to add extra income. Broiler growing has enabled them to make productive use of labor and equipment on hand.

This labor situation has been one reason for the success of this business, according to J. M. (Mac) Moore, extension poultryman, at Michigan State University. He worked closely with Mr.

Blumer and Clayton Miller, Fairview feed plant operator, to help the growers get the business underway.

Modern-day broiler growing can fit in well with other farm work on even off-farm jobs. Many of these Oscoda County growers handle other jobs in addition to broiler growing. To do this, they have built modern, efficient houses and installed labor-saving equipment. Production practices to cut labor in other ways were adopted, too.

One grower, Mr. Miller says, "I can handle about 4,000 birds for my uncle, care for another batch about that size at home four miles away and drive a school bus, too." He thinks broiler growing has been a good way to supplement his income.

The Oscoda County folks have plans to boost their income in another way. That's by producing hatching eggs for these broiler chicks. Miller and Blumer estimate that eventually the area could handle a million broilers a year.

Now all chicks are bought outside the county. Some farmers have shown their interest in hatcheries and have indicated their desire to work out such a plan. Again, many of the farmers can fit a laying hen operation right in with the rest of their farm work.

The hatching egg production can help even more Oscoda County farmers to boost their income and improve their farm facilities much the same as the broiler business has done.

If any Isoco County farm folks would like to "see to believe" I'll be glad to make the necessary arrangements for a tour of these Oscoda County poultry raisers.

Spraying fruit trees or certain ornamentals may not be a popular idea in cold weather, but it's a good way to control aphids, in fact, it is the only way in some cases.

A dormant spray, applied between now and when the buds burst is especially good to control aphids on black cherry and plum trees, Chenango apple trees and snowball bushes.

Ray Hutson, head of Michigan State University's entomology department, explains the value of dormant sprays this way:

Insect eggs usually are not hurt by freezing and it takes a strong chemical compound to affect them. In fact, the chemical has to be so strong that it would harm plants if applied when there is any sign of growth.

When a plant is in the dormant stage, it's easier to get coverage with a spray. Aphids are hard to reach when they are in the leaves. A spray applied after the snowball bush gets leaves, for example, will not be effective because the spray can not reach the pests.

So the best control is with dinitro compound during the dormant stage. It takes a thorough application.

Be careful when you use a dinitro compound. It stains almost everything it touches. Follow directions on the container label, because it would be dangerous to handle the compound otherwise.

How important is soil testing to me? Many farmers have probably asked themselves that same question. John Davis, soil scientist at Michigan State University, has an answer to it.

Davis says that a soil testing program will determine your farm's lime needs, besides serving as a guide for fertilizer recommendations.

In addition, the test indicates the amounts of minor elements present, and helps in estimating the value of a farm.

The soil testing program is constantly being improved and expanded to meet the increased use farmers are demanding of it.

A soil testing program is only as good as the samples tested. Make sure your soil samples represent all the soil types and areas on your land. In addition, the crop history and information on your management practices will help the laboratory make its recommendations.

I have a small folder on "How to Take Soil Samples." Drop me a line if you want one.

Office callers during the past week were: Lyle Jordan, James Irwin, Gordon Hatch, Ernest Belen, Mrs. Albert Duquette, Arthur Stark, Joseph Barnes, Eugene Kaiser, Emerson Frank, Lawrence Ball, Martin Siegrist, Donald Pringle, Dr. Leslie Thayer.

Waldo J. Curry and William Herriman use the Isoco-Tawas ABA almost exclusively.

4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

CALENDAR—
Monday, April 2—4-H Club Demonstration Work Shop, 1:00 p. m. at Extension Service Office, Federal Building, East Tawas.
Thursday, April 5—Hale Happy Hustlers open house.
Friday, April 6—Alabaster Rowers open house.
Monday, April 9—4-H Club Leaders' Council.

The number and variety of demonstrations started by 4-H Club members in Reno, Topnotchers and Hale Happy Hustlers Clubs is indeed inspiring. Demonstration teams and individual demonstrators and their 4-H Clubs met with extension agents at the two workshops on Saturday, March 10. Suggestions were shared among the leaders, members and agents as to how the demonstration ideas may be improved and expanded in preparing for the county elimination contests.

These contests are important to the young people because they are an opportunity to win the right to represent Iosco County at district and state events later in the summer. They are important in other ways, too. One is the wonderful learning experience given the young people themselves, learning to collect and arrange information so that it can be shown and described to others. Many adults wish they might have had similar experiences as young people.

Another way demonstrations are important is when they help others as well as the young people. This happens when organizations invite the young people to appear on their programs. 4-H Club demonstrators will be pleased to come to meetings of women's clubs, farm bureaus, Granges, home demonstration groups and others. Arrangements can be made with the 4-H Club leaders or with the Cooperative Extension Service office.

Another workshop for 4-H members on the east side of the county is planned for the afternoon of April 2. Come to the Federal Building in East Tawas at 1:00 p. m.

Sewing instruction for 4-H leaders is being provided by Mrs. Leon Hock at the local Singer Shop. The sewing course is a special one which has been worked out cooperatively by the 4-H Club Department and Singer Shops. Iosco and Ogemaw County leaders are in classes now being conducted. Our leaders are Mrs. Howard Mott, Mrs. John Cobb and Mrs. Melvin Brown.

More polished shoes and cleaner faces are shining among members of the 4-H Club girl project in Ottawas 4-H Club. This is a result of demonstrations given at the last project meeting by Esther Wojahn and Ilene Hatch.

Reporter Geraldine Redfield lists as present Fay Rice, Barbara Schaaf, Sheila Dodson, Katherine Kolonich, Patricia Davenport, Ilene Hatch, Thelma Featheringill, Beverly Cadorette, Joyce Steinhurst, Esther Wojahn, Clare Stark and Geraldine.

Given six toothpicks, can you arrange them so that all six will touch each other? What a confusion! Hale Happy Hustlers learned that it can be done at their March 12 meeting, says Reporter Karen Helmbold.

"Roll call was answered by naming our birth flowers," says Karen, who explains that Mr. Miller showed all of the members the flag stands made by the boys with his help. Open house will be held at the school on April 5. Games were played after the meeting was adjourned.

At open house there will be a judging practice to help members begin to learn how judging contests are conducted.

Plainfield Farm Bureau Met Last Wednesday

The Plainfield Farm Bureau Group met with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bannister Wednesday, March 14. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Drenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodrow, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Howard, Mr. and Mrs. George Lake, Arnold Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. William Shellenbarger.

The meeting was conducted by Chairman Vida Bannister. The following reports were given: Township meeting, Herman Drenberg and George Lake; health council, Ruth guest; directors meeting at Grant Township Hall, Glen Nunn; women's committee, Valjean Drenberg.

A discussion of farmer's problems and a donation to the Red Cross completed the evening's business session.

A pot-luck lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the Orville Lyke home on April 11 at 8:30 p. m.

Among the natural resources attracting industry to Michigan are vast amounts of iron ore, gypsum, salt and copper. Union Carbide, Hooker Electrochemical and DuPont are three industries which recently located in Michigan because of the state's large storehouse of salt and brine.

The Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River give Michigan a convenient, economical shipping outlet to the whole world. Many Michigan manufacturers do not have to send their products overland to the coast before shipping abroad—they ship direct from Michigan.

CALENDAR—
March 23, 26, 29—Slip Cover Workshop at Wilber Township Hall.
March 26—Advisory Board Meeting.
April 4, 6—Tourist and Resort Workshop at Michigan State University.
April 11—Flower Gardening Meeting, County Building, Tawas City.

E-Z-Do-It Home Demonstration Group in Wilber Township has made plans for some of its members to improve the appearance of their homes by making slip covers for chairs. A preliminary meeting assisted them in the selection of materials, estimating needs and acquiring other supplies needed for the job which is being done on March 23. Each member will have a helper who is interested in learning how to make them although she may not be ready to do so herself.

Part of the agenda for the March 26 advisory board meeting will be the Iosco County plat book project which the board is sponsoring. Harold Black is currently working on the advertising and is also accepting orders for the books.

Reminder one—anyone not yet contacted about advertising may request a call by writing Mr. Black or leaving word for him at the extension service office.

Reminder two—orders for books made before April 15 will be eligible for a discount in amounts of five to 10 and for more than 11 books. Organizations can earn profits for their treasuries by pooling orders from their members or others whom they contact. The discount amounts to 10 and 15 percent.

Persons engaged in the tourist and resort business may obtain more complete information about the workshop at Michigan State University, April 4 to 6, by inquiring at the extension service office. This workshop is being held for the fourth year and has been helpful to people all over the state, including Iosco County.

"Something to Do For Your Garden Every Month," is the intriguing topic of discussion for the flower gardening meeting on the evening of April 11.

Speaker will be Henry Chapman, Michigan State University horticulturist, who helps many garden enthusiasts throughout the state. Mr. Chapman is known to Iosco County gardeners for he has appeared on programs here before.

Tawas City Garden Club is hosting the meeting and has arranged for it to be held at the Iosco County Building in Tawas City. Invitations have been extended to members of East Tawas, Alabaster, Augres and Whittemore Garden Clubs, to Farm Bureau and Grange organizations, to home demonstration groups, to Twentieth Century Club, and if there are women interested who do not belong to one or more of these organizations, they are also invited.

The date to save is Wednesday, April 11, and the time is 8:00 p. m.

Fun at the meeting place well describes Laidlawville Home Demonstration Group's March event at the home of Mrs. Walter Anschutz last week. Fourteen members attended. They worked for a while at rug braiding, trying out sample braids to find out what things make a difference in planning for a braid of the right size. Mrs. Donald MacDonald had a braid of woolens started, so it was possible to show how the braids are sewn together.

Rugs are just one product to make with braids. Mats for tables, chair protectors and bath mats are among other possibilities, depending upon the kinds of material available to use.

Following the dinner hour there was a regular business meeting with special emphasis on making choices for lessons and workshops next year. Further thinking and planning will be done at the April meeting when a list of six choices agreed upon by the group will be presented to the county council.

Citizens who perform public service, without compensation, are entitled to the respect of their fellow citizens—if they can get it.

Light Work for Lovely Hands!

It's a pretty tight spot—no question about that! But it's no work for this lovely lady. For she's at the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac—and here is the world's gentlest resting place for feminine hands.

In fact, even the most difficult of driving maneuvers seldom require anything beyond the merest gesture of a hand on the wheel... and the lightest touch of a toe on the accelerator.

And not only is she always at her ease—but at her loveliest as well.

Seldom, indeed, is a woman seen under more flattering circumstances than she is in the "car of cars"—calm, serene and rested... and surrounded by Cadillac's great luxury and beauty.

And how proud and happy she is! For imagine, if you can, the priceless joy of owning and driving a motor car recognized everywhere as the "Standard of the World"!

To any lady reading this advertisement, we offer this simple suggestion. Come in soon... and see for yourself.

And to any gentleman who might be listening in—well, perhaps there is a lady whom you would like to see always at her ease—and at her loveliest—and at her proudest.

The magic formula is waiting for you in our showroom—and we'll be delighted to assist in the transformation at any time.

P.S.: We have some special news about cost and delivery that you will find difficult to resist. Better come in while the facts are so favorable.

If anyone wishes red pine planting stock see Gordon Hatch, soil conservationist, or Marvin Davenport, county agricultural agent, at the Federal Building, East Tawas, immediately.

The Laidlawville Farm Bureau Group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelkie Saturday evening. Mrs. Randolph Proudfoot was the co-hostess.

Interesting slides, "Petroleum the Farm Bureau Way" were shown and explained by Mr. Nelkie. Farm Bureau petroleum products have recently become available to members in Iosco County. This is one of the ways in which Farm Bureau has become helpful to its members.

Donald MacDonald won the prize in the men's drawing, a pair of lubricating grease. All the ladies were presented with a can of household oil.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

DIRECTS ATTENTION TO "PLIGHT" OF WILDLIFE

In a message to his constituents in the 10th Congressional District, Congressman Elford A. Cederberg focused attention on National Wildlife Week, March 18-24, over several Michigan radio stations.

"The theme of the week is 'Save Endangered Wildlife' and its purpose, as outlined by the National Wildlife Federation, is to direct attention to the plight of fish, birds and animals that face extinction over vast portions of their natural range."

The National Wildlife Federation directs attention during the special observance to 14 species of endangered categories in Michigan trout is included in the list of endangered categories in Michigan.

"We here in the 10th Congressional District of Michigan are more conscious of the value of our fish and wildlife, our beautiful lakes and scenic streams, and our verdant forests and silvery lake shores than our fellow citizens in industrial centers," said the congressman.

He continued, "Not only in our area of Michigan are we conscious of the value of these lakes and streams with their fish, and these wooded areas with their game, from the standpoint of our own personal enjoyment, but we are conscious of the fact that they attract thousands of visitors to our section annually."

"The same is true throughout similar areas of the United States. Hunting and fishing are big business. Ten billion dollars are spent in the United States each year for hunting and fishing equipment, transportation, food lodging, gasoline and other items required by the country's 32 million sportsmen. In Michigan we stand high in receiving our share of this huge sum."

"This tremendous industry can be lost if our fish and wildlife are not carefully managed. Destruction of forest and range lands by fire and over-grazing and pollution of marshlands, lakes and streams, and other abuses of the home area of wild animals have already taken a heavy toll in the nation.

"If we in the United States are to continue to enjoy the pleasures of hunting and fishing we must manage our wildlife resources wisely. This means restoring cover and food-plant for wild animals, saving our wet-land areas from needless drainage, and cleaning up our polluted lakes and streams."

He concluded his message by saying, "Our abundant life in this country depends upon preservation and intelligent use of our renewable assets of fields and streams. You can do your part by working with the conservation group in your locality. It can use and needs your help."

Besides this sewer construction the city will make all property line connections along Harris Avenue, 30 in all, to allow future road construction.

The city also will construct about 5,010 feet of six-inch water main next year.

To give councilmen an idea of the cost of sewer construction Blublitz cited the following figures on projects already constructed:

tion the cost per foot ran as high as $9, but because of great lengths of perfect soil conditions and a shallow grade, the $5.09 was attained.

The Fir Street sewer project was a complete well point job (well points drilled along route of excavation to remove water) because of the water sand and high water table.

Bublitz pointed out that the city dragline enabled the department of public works to construct new water and sewer mains much cheaper than old methods.

Reports were given by Lula Little, Lyle Long, Bernice Herriman, Lola Biggs, Miss Dorothy Scott, Thomas Nelkie and Marvin Davenport.

An interesting film, "Petroleum, the Farm Bureau Way," was shown and explained by Mr. Nelkie.

The speaker and guests from labor unions were then introduced. They were: Mr. Kenjorski, CIO, Detroit, speaker; Robert Reed, Saginaw; Earl Bischoff, Alabaster local; Theodore Olson, Anderson Coach; Melvin McCormick, National.

The meeting ended leaving an understanding of each others problems more clear, but with no solution to the farm problem.

Cards

The Cards scored 19 charity tosses to nine for the losers, collecting 26 points on 12 fielders and two free throws.

Egges, Ashley's leading scorer for the year, led his mates with 19, all but seven of them in the last quarter.

Whittemore won in the first night of regional play by taking a 68-59 decision from Newaygo, trailing by one point at the end of the first quarter.

The Cards went to work in the second frame to build up a good 14 point lead at half-time.

Newaygo outscored the Whittemore lads in the third quarter but were unable to match the backboard play of Pagel and Freel to seriously threaten the Cards' 22nd victory.

Francis Pagel led the scoring with 28 points.

The Cards started off their second straight night of the regional tournament play against a fresh Bay City St. Mary's squad, who had drawn a bye the previous night, to lead by a slim one to three point margin through the first quarter.

Coach Dudo's lads stretched this to a seven-point lead midway in the second quarter only to have the Bay City boys creep up to three points behind at half time.

After intermission the Cards again added to their lead to make it 48-35 on six points by Pagel, four by Dunham and two each by Freel and Freil. The St. Mary's quintet picked up speed in the last quarter and tied up the game at 52 at the end.

The Cards again went to work and added six points while holding their opponents to one field goal.

Pagel and Dunham shared scoring honors with 18 points each.
