Visting Mayors Enjoy Iosco Hospitality

Two visiting mayors were guests of the Tawas on Mayor's Exchange Day last Monday, the kick-off for the annual observance of Michigan Week. Tawas City entertained Village President F. W. Hertrich of Flushing and East Tawas was host to Village President Wayne Gammons of Howard City. At Whittemore, only other Iosco County community to participate in the exchange, Village President Wesley Schember of Unionville was guest of the city.

Met at the Barnes Hotel by the Tawas Area High School Band Monday noon, President Hertrich, who exchanged with Mayor George W. Myles, was guest of honor at a luncheon sponsored by the Tawas City Businessmen's Association.

After Mr. Hertrich was introduced to the group by Cecil Cabbie, who headed the program committee, the businessmen and guests heard a short history of Tawas City by Albert H. Buch, city clerk.

Prior to the luncheon Hertrich visited the Iosco County Building, county jail, new Tawas Area Junior and Senior High School and other points of interest.

Later in the afternoon the visiting mayor and members of the businessmen's association were guests of Maynard VanOrnum at the United States Gypsum Company, Alabaster. The group was conducted on a tour through the quarry and later saw gypsum rock being crushed for lake carrier shipment.

Monday night Mr. Hertrich attended a meeting of the Tawas City Council, during which he discussed water problems here as compared to those in Flushing.

Mayor Pro Tem George Tuttle said that this mutual exchange of ideas was probably the most important aspect of the mayor's exchange. Several subjects discussed by Hertrich concerning parking lots, city ordinances and city finances are to be discussed further at a future meeting of the council.

At East Tawas, President Gammons and party were met at the Federal Building by the Tawas Area High School Band. Later, the guests visited points of interest with Mayor Pro Tem Rex Kochenderfer and Alderman Elaine Christensen. The guests were entertained at a perch fry at the Holland Hotel at noon.

Bicyclist Injured In Car Accident

An 11-year-old bicyclist, Charles Charboneau of Route 2, Tawas City, was injured last Wednesday when he was struck by a car at the Singing Bridge. Police officers said that the driver, Ralph C. Jennings of Aukres, was headed south on US-23. The driver said he was traveling at 60 miles per hour when the boy rode out in front of him. Although he applied his brakes and turned to the left lane he was unable to avoid hitting the boy. His car skidded about 100 feet before the impact.

Young Charboneau was treated at Tawas Hospital for lacerations of the head, possible fractured leg and bruises of the body.

Townline Drain Reassessment Began Monday

Reassessing the Townline Drain Special Assessment District began this week under the circuit court decree issued by Judge Philip J. Glennie of Alpena.

The new assessment will be made by a committee consisting of County Drain Commissioner Richard R. Lott, Supervisors Glenn Long of Tawas Township, Henry Oates of Alabaster Township and Clarence Everett of Tawas City; Prosecuting Attorney William R. Barber, and Attorney J. Richard Newman. The three supervisors represent the districts involved in the reassessment.

Preliminary meetings of the committee were held Monday and Tuesday and on-the-ground inspection was made of the property to be reassessed. With the information gathered at this inspection, the committee will meet Friday evening and compile a list of all land descriptions within the special assessment district. The committee will then be ready to complete its work of reassessing the tax.

The decree ordering reassessment of the district was made April 22, 1955, by Judge Glennie. It was the result of a suit brought into circuit court by a small group of landowners in the special assessment district as plaintiffs seeking to annul the Townline Drain tax levy on the grounds of inequitable assessment and improper proceedings in preparing for drain construction.

Judge Glennie held that all proceedings were valid excepting the lack of notice to landowners of the day on which the assessments were to be reviewed.

He ordered a reassessment of the special district and the ordering of the tax levy in an equitable manner.

Following the decision of Judge Glennie the plaintiffs filed a motion to set aside the court decree. The motion was denied by Judge Glennie in November.

Iosco Polio Chapter Receives $10,200

A check for $10,200 has been received by the Iosco Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis from the national headquarters to provide needed financial aid for local polio patients. It was announced today by John R. Watkins, chapter chairman. Mr. Watkins said this county is one of a number in the nation where local March of Dimes funds are not sufficient to cover polio-fighting needs.

The chairman said that the chapter's present financial plight is the result of the assistance it has rendered in the past to a number of patients who have required, and still require, costly care in order to give them a chance to recover to their fullest capacities. "When patients are moved out of town rehabilitation center, there is the tendency for us to forget that we are still paying for their care," Mr. Watkins pointed out.

"Even though increasing supplies of Salk vaccine are becoming available, polio isn't licked yet. We will have more polio patients before the disease is conquered, for it will take some time to vaccinate everyone in the priority age groups," Mr. Watkins stated.

"Until the day comes when there is no more polio, it is reassuring to know that the national foundation headquarters stands behind us, ready to help out financially. No one in our country who is stricken with polio need go without the best medical care and treatment available," he concluded.

Mrs. Etta Burgoyne of Detroit and Mrs. Selma Brown of Birmingham were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mark last week.

Tawas City Wins '56 Season Opener

Black River Plays Here This Sunday

Tawas City's entry in the newly organized Huron Shore Baseball League won the 1956 season opener last Sunday, defeating the Oscoda Lakers by a narrow 5-4 margin. The lead changed hands four times during the game, the winning run crossing the plate in the eighth inning.

This Sunday afternoon, May 27, the local team will play its first home game of the season, tangling with Black River in a game scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m. This year the Tawas City team is being sponsored by the Curtis Distributing Company of West Branch.

In other games played in the Huron Shore League last Sunday, Hale defeated Black River 2-1; Wurtsmith Air Force Base won from Harrisville, 7-3. The Lincoln-Mikado game was postponed due to wet grounds.

An early lead as taken by Tawas City, scoring single runs in the first and third innings. Oscoda tied the game at two runs each in the fourth inning. The Lakers took a one-run lead in the fifth inning, only to have Tawas score two runs in the sixth. Oscoda tied the contest in the seventh inning and Tawas pushed the winning run across the plate in the eighth inning.

Leading the winner's hitting attack was Don Westcott, Clare Herriman and Russ Anschuetz. (See Win Opener, page 10.)

State Waterways Dock at Tawas Harbor To be Open to the Public Starting May 31

The Michigan State Waterways Commission announced last week that its transient boat dock at East Tawas will be opened to the public for the 1956 boating season on May 31.

The commission anticipates at least 20 of the 32 boatwells in the harbor will be available for summer berthing on a seasonal rental basis. The summer rental rate is $2 a foot measured by the overall length of the boat.

Boatwells will be allotted on a strictly first-come, first serve basis. The only requirements will be that each boat must display a 1956 Michigan boat license, and each must have a 1956 inspection certificate from the United States Coast Guard. Proof of possession of these two items will be required before any application can be considered.

Applications for seasonal boatwells may be procured by writing the Harbor of Tawas, Post Office Box 544, East Tawas, or by personally contacting Joseph Fox at the Fox Hotel, East Tawas. On May 31 and thereafter, applications may be obtained by calling at the harbor master's building at the foot of Newman Street, East Tawas.

The commission also announced that there will be no increase in the charges to visiting boatmen for transient dockage. The dockage rate is $2 for the first 24 hours and $1.50 for each day thereafter. These rates include the free use of dock-side electric power and fresh water service. As in the past, there will be no charge for a short visit of several hours duration or for refueling. A harbor attendant will be present on a 24-hour, around-the-clock basis, and the latest weather information will be available at all times.

The commission is contemplating several harbor improvement projects at the East Tawas dock to be completed during this boating season. The most important of these is the filling of the timber cribbing in the first dog-leg of the dock. These cribs will be filled with stone to within one foot of the decking, thereby breaking down heavy seas kicked up by gales from the south and southwest, and appreciably reducing the surge within the harbor.

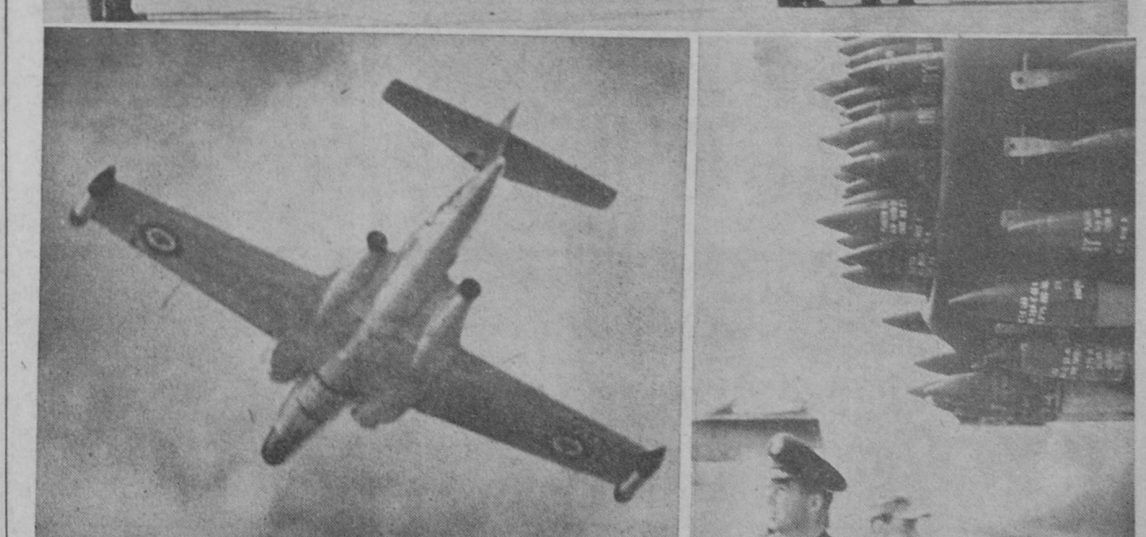

Other improvements include a shelter at the gas pump, a small addition to the harbor master's house, the placing of life preservers along the dock, and a small revetment to protect against shore erosion.

FIRST JET PLANE RIDE A THRILLER FOR TAWAS HERALD REPORTER

500-MILE-AN-HOUR FLIGHT IN AIR FORCE JET

In the lexicon of men of the United States Air Force, the words "no sweat" could mean a number of things... when the words were spoken to this reporter last week it meant "there's nothing to worry about," or "play it cool."

After being filled to the ears with all sorts of information; such as, "If you have to bail out over the water be sure to inflate your 'Mae West' like so..." of course before doing that you must release this catch and your chute, because the sudden pressure from the expanding jacket may crush your ribs," I began to have doubts about this "no sweat" business.

This all came about as part of the observation of Armed Forces Day at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda. Colonel Ralph G. Taylor Jr., base commander, made arrangements to have pilots of the 44th fly Michigan newsmen in Wurtsmith-based T-33 jet training planes last Thursday and Friday.

This reporter was one of those who were introduced to jetflying in this manner. In a two-place "T-Bird" piloted by Capt. Edward Cullivan, 29, of Los Angeles, California, I experienced a 500-mile-an-hour flight over the eastern half of Iosco County. The plane was airborne about 40 minutes.

Before making a flight such as this, the air force deems it necessary to acquaint the civilian "jet jockey" with methods of saving his own neck, should the occasion arise. Not-so-trifle matters were discussed. These included: Learning the location of the seat ejection lever in case of mishap. This contraption fires the seat and sifter right out of the plane. (Wait until the pilot releases the canopy, boy, or you will dent your cranium!) After hearing countless details like this, most of which escaped my memory only minutes later, adding further fire to the urge of getting out and turning "chicken," the pilot taxied out on the strip and waited for instructions from the tower.

Another long, agonizing wait. The word finally came through that our "T-Bird" was cleared for take-off. Skimming down the runway at a speed which any "hot rod" dreams about, but never can quite achieve, the plane finally became airborne.

At this point I remembered the words "no sweat" spoken by the airman who rigged me out in this flying gear and finally relaxed in the seat to watch the panorama of scenery which unfolded before us. Although this was far from being my first plane ride, it was without a doubt, the most thrilling. The absence of vibration or noise made the trip much more interesting than flying in a conventional plane.

A few minutes later, Captain Cullivan asked over the intercom if I would like to "take over" the controls. "Me!" I exclaimed, wondering if the good captain had gone through too many "ifs" since trading his old uniform of the United States Navy for that of the air force.

"It's OK," he said. "I'll have control of the plane." The captain explained it was quite simple. "Just pull to the right if you want to go to the right; vice versa for left; push down on top of my head in an attempt to squeeze my body through a small opening in the bottom of the plane."

Captain Cullivan said that we only pulled about four "Gs." A pilot may pull as many as seven or eight "Gs" a dozen or more time a day.

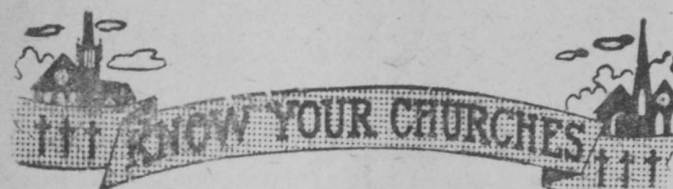

After a few seconds of this, Captain Cullivan asked, "Like to try anything else?" "How about a few rolls," I replied. Flying upside down and traveling at 500 mph was quite an experience.

After a smooth landing back at Wurtsmith, I climbed out of the flying jacket, coveralls, "Mae West" and parachute, said a word of thanks to Captain Cullivan for the great trip and headed back to Tawas, poking along at a speed which never would approach the speed of sound.

Personally, I will leave the jockeying of jets to experts like "Ed" Cullivan. Day after day, night after night, the sleek jets of the nation's air arm, piloted by trained and efficient men, patrol the skies against any act of aggression. It is not just a routine assignment... the USAF relentlessly rehearses for a performance which must never take place. But here, again, may apply the two well-heeled words of the airman, "no sweat."

Mrs. Miller Hostess to Past Matrons Club Meeting

Mrs. C. V. Miller was hostess to the Past Matrons Club of Iosco Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at her home on South US-23 last Tuesday evening, May 15. A pot-luck dinner was served. Mrs. Pearl Spencer was a guest of the club.

A business meeting followed the dinner with Mrs. Frances Bigelow presiding. Birthday cards were signed by the members for Mrs. Ellen Evans and Mrs. Anna Hanson.

The club changed its meeting date to the third Thursday of the month, instead of the third Tuesday.

For entertainment, C. V. Miller presented color slides of a fishing trip and scenes in Michigan woods and other parts of the country.

State Police to Concentrate Troopers on Michigan Highways Over Memorial Day

The largest concentration of Michigan State Police officers ever to patrol Michigan highways will be in action during the 1956 Memorial Day period, and they will be assisted by 217 National Guardsmen.

Not only have pass days been canceled, but the state police force will also have the additional strength of 200 troopers granted at the special session of the legislature. All of them are trained and now in service.

The state police will have 838 men on duty. Detectives will relieve radio desk men, who will then be available for patrol. Six aircraft, two of them helicopters, are to be used for aerial observation. Two will be state police planes and the others are being loaned by the state aeronautical department and the national guard.

"Memorial Day falls on Wednesday, making it a one-day holiday for the majority of drivers," said State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. "Our intensified patrol coverage will be in effect from noon Tuesday to midnight Wednesday, and we are going to exert every effort to hold down the accident toll."

"But I must emphasize again that even with the augmented patrol coverage it is still up to the driver to police himself. Drivers must be alert, free of the reckless and thoughtless acts of others and avoid doing the same thing themselves. Memorial Day usually starts the summer season of high traffic deaths. We could tell a different story this year if everyone remembered that death does not discriminate among those who do not drive as they should. Safety may be an overworked word, but its value in today's traffic is higher than ever."

There were 18 persons killed in 15 fatal accidents during the 78-hour Memorial week-end last year.

Correction—In my last week's column regarding spittlebug control, a very important "word" was omitted. Use one pint of 20 percent "Lindane" (emulsion) in 25 gallons of water per acre. (Glad to hear some folks read my column.)

Michigan, blessed with a favorable climate for growing crops of many kinds, including rice, furnishes its citizens a big slice of the nation with a varied diet.

That is a fact pointed out by Michiganders who are beating the drums for the Water Wonderland in observance of Michigan Week, May 20-26. Here are the facts:

Michigan leads the country in the production of pickles, blueberries and tart cherries. It is second in growing onions, spearmint and plums. The 1,200 acres of pickles which last year brought farmers $376,000 keeps processing plants operating when other crops slow up.

The 9,200 acres of onions brought 6½ million dollars. They are in big demand from food processors. The same goes for Michigan's widely varied vegetable crops like sweet corn, broccoli, cabbage, melons, asparagus and carrots. Such crops hit the market in many states.

Michigan crops, long noted for quality, are getting better. Partly responsible for this is the new Michigan marketing program under the supervision of Michigan State University.

Michigan State University researchers are finding answers to some of the problems in the marketing process to help put better quality products on the family table. Extension workers help consumers know more about buying to get the most for their food dollar and retailers are helped to have a more efficient operation.

You home gardeners now have a weapon to help you fight off the hordes of insects that seem to swarm over your back yards. An all-purpose, all-season fruit tree has been developed by Nicholas Smith and Philip Biesheimer of the Wayne County Extension staff.

The new spray can be used to protect all kinds of fruit throughout the whole growing season. They call it every-Saturday spray, because it must be applied every seven days. Most gardeners will probably find it most convenient to do the job on Saturdays.

The new spray is easy to mix. Just three chemicals are used. They are methoxychlor, malathion and captan. To one gallon of water, add three level tablespoons of methoxychlor, three of captan and two of malathion. Mix it up and it is ready to go on the trees.

It must be applied every week to be effective. If it is properly prepared and applied, this new spray is a potent weapon in your anti-insect arsenal. It will help you win this year's battle of the back yard.

Farmers can spray small grains for annual weeds even though there is seeding of alfalfa or red clover with the grain.

It does not take much chemical to do the job. A quarter pound acid equivalent of 2, 4-D (amine form) will control mustard and the cost is as little as 25 cents per acre for the chemical.

Where the nurse crop is oats, MCP amine could be used instead at the same rate.

Timing of the spray is important. There is less injury to the crop when the grain is sprayed when it is fully tilled and before jointing. That is usually when the grain is six to 10 inches tall.

To make sure the sprayer is applying the right amount of chemical, calibrate the machine along the driveway at the barn before using it in the field. The county extension office has details on recommendations for the best tractor speed and pressure for spraying.

Although perennial weeds like Canadian thistle and sow thistle will not be killed with the rate of 2, 4-D spray. It will many times prevent normal blooming and seed set of the weeds.

Small, isolated areas of perennial weeds can often be spot sprayed with higher rates, even though the treatment will also kill the small grain legume seedling in that area. A knapsack sprayer will do the job here.

Iosco County farmers can eliminate the first cultivation in the corn crop if they apply the ester form of 2, 4-D just before the corn emerges.

Weeds will be controlled for several weeks and the corn should not be cultivated before the weeds start coming up. The rate is one pound of the acid equivalent material per acre.

The pre-emergence spray with 2, 4-D should not be used on sandy soils, according to Milton H. Erdmann, extension farm crops specialist, Michigan State University.

The amine form of 2, 4-D at a half pound per acre or the ester form at one-fourth pound per acre after the corn has emerged is recommended for sandy soil corn.

The spray is applied when the corn is five to 15 inches tall. If you use drop nozzles so the spray is directed at the base of the plants, a 2, 4-D spray can be put on at the same time of the last cultivation, or "lay-by" time.

Spraying with 2, 4-D in corn will control annual broad-leaved weeds, such as, pigweed, ragweed, lambsquarter and wild mustard. The pre-emergence treatment with one pound of 2, 4-D ester will also give some control of annual grass weeds, such as, the foxtails.

Good pastures and plenty of ewe's milk may be putting good gains on market lambs now but producers should be ready to start creep feeding when gains begin to slow up.

Lambs will eat little grain on good pasture until the middle or last of June and will gain as much as one-half to one pound daily. When pastures mature and the ewes produce less milk, the gains may fall as low as two-tenths of a pound per day unless a creep feed ration is available.

Lambs should be gaining about a half-pound per day from now on to hit the high market prices in July and August.

L. H. Blakeslee, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State University, recommends a creep ration of either cracked corn alone or in a mixture with other grains. He suggested limiting oats used to about one-fourth or less of the mixture.

Shade, water and plenty of feed are necessities for the production of top-grade weaned or nursing fat lambs for the July and August markets.

Office callers this week were: Richard Stock, Walter Anschuetz, Earl Wight, Lester Robinson, John Rak, Verna Kay Wehrman, Dr. Leslie Thayer, Earl Lackie, Henry Fahselt, Max Stouffer, Lucille McCormick, Edwin Woods, Ron McCormick, Clare Stock.

"Mother's Right"

Telephone Lines of the Tawas

CHET MAHER
Michigan Bell Manager

WE CERTAINLY get a kick out of teen-agers. It's a fascinating time of life for them and for parents, too. Take the matter of telephone conversations. Is anything more earnest, more confidential, more important? That's probably why telephones right in teen-agers' rooms have proved so popular. The youngster is able to speak in relaxed privacy. And the rest of the family isn't distracted from what it's doing. An extension phone in your teen-ager's room will cost about $1 a month. And by the way, they make very welcome graduation gifts.

EVER BEEN CAUGHT when you wanted to make a phone call but couldn't because all the places with public phones were closed for the night? You'll usually find the answer now in new outdoor phone booths, lighted and open 24 hours a day, every day of the year. You'll find them handy wherever you are. About 2,800 of them are now located in Michigan towns and on main highways, and many more are on the way to make a telephone available for you—any time—in the most convenient places.

WHAT DO YOU DO with the workshop tools that get badly damaged or worn? Toss them in the trash can? Here at the telephone company we send work-worn tools to the Detroit repair shops of Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. They are returned to our telephone installers, repairmen and construction people as good as new. Is this better than buying new tools? You bet. Tool repairs save us thousands of dollars a year. That's the kind of economy that helps keep down the cost of telephone service.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held in New Memorial Hall

About 100 mothers and daughters were present at the annual mother-daughter banquet last Friday evening sponsored by the Tawas City Methodist WSCS. The banquet was served in the new church memorial hall by the men of the church. Matthew Hoag was dinner chairman; Carl Schaaf, dining room chairman, and Mark Sedgeman, general chairman.

Tables were decorated with bouquets of yellow daffodils. The centerpiece was an arrangement of dolls dressed in yellow costumes. Favors were nut cups decorated with red rosebuds. The invocation was given by Mrs. Ralph Edwards.

Mrs. Arthur Giddings was toastmaster. A greeting was extended to those present by the WSCS president, Mrs. Charles VanHorn. Mrs. Giddings gave a welcome address with a beautiful tribute to mothers and daughters.

She introduced the chairmen for the occasion: Mrs. James F. Mark, program chairman; Mrs. Henry Darling, chairman of decorations. She also gave a toast to the men who served.

Mrs. Mark led group singing of songs appropriate to Mother's Day and the children sang "In My Heart There Rings a Melody" in honor of mothers.

Vocal selections were given by Miss Joyce Moore and Miss Donna Groff with Mrs. Nyda Campbell Leslie, accompanist.

Miss Marlene Sedgeman gave the toast to the mothers and Mrs. Mark responded with a toast to daughters.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Helen Applin, who was introduced by Mrs. Giddings, and was presented with a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Her theme was "A Day in the Life of a Child with Mother-Love Over All" and was presented in poetry form entertaining to the children and mothers. She closed with tributes to the mother-love in story and Bible passage.

Little Shelley Naslund sang "Good Night, God" to close the program with Mrs. Giddings at the piano.

Mrs. VanHorn presented flowering plants to Mrs. Edith Brokaw, the oldest mother present; Mrs. Neil Abbott, the youngest mother, and Mrs. Nelson Ulman, mother of the most children. Little nine-month-old baby, Brenda Abbott, as the youngest daughter, was presented with a rosebud.

HURRICANE STUDY

The greatest research attack on hurricanes in history is about to begin, under the National Hurricane Research Project, with headquarters at West Palm Beach, Florida. Funds to start the work were provided by congress last year. The primary purpose of the study is to inform and warn the public better of the development, and approach of hurricanes.

New Fish Sorter

A Conservation Department fisheries worker at the Platte River rearing station near Beulah helps fish along the runways of a new Department-developed fish sorter that will save thousands of dollars in coming years. The sorter allows trout to slide down a series of tubes and fall into tubs below. Small trout fall through narrow openings, larger trout through larger openings. The sorter was designed and built by Department workers to make fish-planting operations uniform.

When it purrs, you reign

YOU CAN hardly hear its whispered might—but man, you sure can feel it.

It's power almost without limit—power that humbles the hills, melts the miles, makes you monarch of all you survey.

For this is a new Buick—a '56 Buick—sparked by the most potent engine in Buick annals—a 322-cubic-inch V8 with a record high compression of 9.5 to 1.

But what makes you feel even more like bossman of the highway is the great new advance in Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

First time you tickle the gas pedal you'll know what we mean.

Now—smack in the top inch of gas pedal travel—right where you save gas every turn of the wheels—you get a swift, sure and supremely positive new getaway response.

For smooth and nimble performance—for sheer mastery in traffic—nothing like it ever was.

And that's just part of it. When you need a still greater flow of get-up-and-go for safety's sake, you merely switch the pitch and you zoom out of tight spots.

So come rule the roost in this '56 Buick. Come drive a car with 127 gorgeous inches of wheelbase to give it regal room and a ride that's fit for a king.

Try out Buick's new steering—new center-grooved brakes—new direct-acting shock absorbers with triple the former volume of bounce-cushioning oil.

Learn how it feels to boss a car that looks like royalty and acts the part to perfection.

We promise—you'll practically purr with delight at the wheel of this dazzler—especially when you discover how easily you can make it your own.

What do you say—shall we expect you today?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

the Snapshot Guild

When you visit the circus or the zoo, don't spend all your time looking for traditional pictures. A "sleeper" like this makes a fine snapshot.

Your Camera at the Circus or Zoo

The next time there's a carnival or circus in town, you might like to try your hand at a project that should please the youngsters in the family. The only equipment you'll need for this little experiment will be your own camera and a few rolls of film. Any time you visit the zoo, you can do practically the same thing.

Wander around with camera in hand, keeping an eye out for all the colorful characters and sights that make carnivals and circuses so much fun. The barker, the clown, the acrobats and animals—you'll find a gold mine of picture material at every turn.

When your snapshots come back from the photofinisher, you'll be ready for the next step—selecting the best shots for enlargements and then choosing a suitable album to hold the pictures. A sturdy 9 x 12 or 11 x 14 book with transparent folders is a practical choice, for all you have to do is insert your pictures.

And there it is—a wonderful custom-made picture book that your child is bound to treasure for years to come! What's so very nice about the whole idea is that anyone with even the simplest camera can do it. Why not try a special picture book such as this for your youngsters? The many pleasant hours he'll spend enjoying your handiwork will make it seem an extremely worthwhile project, indeed!

Nehemiah's monumental achievement in rebuilding the wall of Jerusalem in the face of false rumors, treachery, and other evil works, will be featured in the Scriptural selections to be read in the lesson-sermon entitled: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (393:12): "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man."

Five home demonstration groups are 100 percent up to date with sending in secretary's reports of their group meetings. They are: Tawas Homemakers, South Mills, Laidlawville, Reno and Hale.

A household notebook can be just as helpful as your favorite cookbook. In it you can keep such facts as a record of curtain sizes, the amount of paint and wallpaper needed to redecorate each room, even the washing and cleaning directions that come with curtains or furniture. Start one to save time, money and aggravation.

History is repeating itself in milady's fashions. The straight line styles of the "roaring twenties" (which everyone has made so much fun of, too) are very much back in the picture today. The straight dress line with almost no waist and that fits loosely at the hips is shown in fashion magazines as is the ensemble; such as, a dress with coat or jacket. Wrap around coats, short haircuts and the helmet or cloche hats are other trends borrowed from the 20s.

Materials of today are different, though. Textures and the vast number of fabrics make more variety than the silk and wool crepe, chiffon, georgette and broadcloth used in the earlier versions.

Whenever you name the ash tree, you say the name of the man himself, for ash is derived from a Norse word meaning man. Look at the twig of an ash. Can you imagine a man's arms outstretched from either side?

Automatic electric blankets, like regular blankets, should be fresh and clean when put away for the season. Wash, never dry clean them. Dry-cleaning fluids may injure the wiring system. Do not let them get too soiled by constant use. Instead, wash them at least once during the winter, too. Wash gently in warm water and with a mild detergent to protect against shrinkage. Latest research shows that agitation shrinks woollens, so handle as little as possible while wet.

Ever eat a cooked grapefruit? If you haven't, you really ought to try some.

Right now sweet-sour grapefruit seem to be especially delicious. For variety place the cut halves under a hot broiler for about 15 minutes. Sprinkle each half with a little sugar or spice, or even liquid honey before broiling.

Brush lightly with softened butter is another broiler trick. Serve hot.

Not only is grapefruit delicious, it is nutritious. Very low in calories it is a best source of Vitamin C. At the store, choose those which are firm, well-shaped, fairly smooth and heavy for their size. The reddish-brown color on the skin, called russeting, does not affect flavor.

Not Practical

"Arithmetic is a science of truth," said the professor earnestly. "Figures can't lie. For instance, if one man can build a house in 12 days, 12 men can build it on one."

"Yes," interrupted a quick-brained student. "Then 288 will build it in one hour, 17,280 in one minute and 1,936,800 in one second. And I don't believe they could lay one brick in that time."

While the professor was still gasping, the smart "ready reckoner" went on: "Again, if one ship can cross the Atlantic in six days, six ships can cross it in one day. I don't believe that either; so where is the truth in arithmetic?"

Statisticians are not the only men interested in figures.

TAWAS AREA SCHOOLS

Tawas Rural Agricultural School District No. 1,
Erl, Iosco and Arenac Counties

May 20, 1956

A LOOK TO THE FUTURE IN EDUCATION

Since the consolidation of the 13 school districts into what is known as the "Tawas Area Schools" your board of education has put forth its efforts toward planning and constructing a new junior and senior high school.

Inasmuch as this has become a reality, your board members are now working toward an improved school program to better prepare the children of the district for their place in society after their formal education is completed. We realize that a good building does not necessarily mean a good program. It is our intent to further our present program by providing student guidance and counseling, librarian, agricultural program, and furthering shop work, homemaking and arts, a more complete physical educational program including track as a competitive sport. We have hired a career agriculture teacher, are interviewing and attempting to hire a librarian. We are starting a formal guidance program. After we are moved into our new high school we will gradually work out a complete program.

As you know, only a few of our graduates go to college and further formal education, and it is our responsibility to not only provide a program for this small group but also to provide a suitable program to equip the other boys and girls for their careers after graduating from high school.

4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

Girls enrolled in 4-H clothing projects are eligible to compete for county, district and state honors in the clothing judging contest.

One of the classes judged is blouses. This part of the contest is planned to help girls learn to be better buyers when they go to a store to choose a new blouse.

Here are some pointers which clothing project girls can clip and save to study in preparation for the county judging contests this summer. These suggestions have to do with choosing blouses.

First of all, girls, do you agree that several blouses can make a few articles of clothing do the work of many. Blouses, then, are wardrobe stretchers.

Three check points can help you decide which blouse is best. Does it really fit? What does the label say? Is it well made?

Well-made blouses can be found in all price ranges, but it takes a bit of looking. Are the seams deep enough so they will not pull out? Is the seam finish one that will prevent fraying? Armhole seams take a lot of strain. Are seams one-half inch deep and double stitched through the underarm?

Blouse buttons that stay buttoned have buttonholes at a right angle to the center-front or center-back line and are not too large for the button. Buttons spaced closely enough together will not allow gaping.

Any blouse trim should be colorfast or removable. Hems must be flat and smooth so there will be no line available over the hips when tucked under the skirt. Firm fabrics may have the bottom edge pinked rather than hemmed.

Still Time to Get Free Hearing Tests Today and Friday in Iosco

There is still time today and tomorrow to avail yourself of the free hearing testing services provided by the Michigan Association for Better Hearing.

Robert G. Chaplin, audiologist for the association, has brought the unit to Iosco County after a very successful and prolonged program of serving residents of Alcona and Oscoda Counties.

Quota Club of Iosco County is sponsoring the program here and will plan further projects to assist persons with hearing losses after the current testing program is completed.

Here is where to find the testing units:

Thursday, May 24—Whittemore Hotel, 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.

Thursday, May 24—Plainfield Township Hall, 2:00 p. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Friday, May 25—Tawas City at city hall, 10:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m.

Any person with a known hearing loss, or who has questions about hearing aids, may telephone Mrs. Nyda Bronson at FOrest 2-2231, or write to her at Tawas City, requesting an appointment for the follow-up comprehensive testing to begin in June.

North Lake Electors Approve Annexation Of School to Iosco-Ogemaw District No. 3

The North Lake School, District No. 1 of Hill Township, Ogemaw County, voted on Monday, May 14, better than two to one to annex to District No. 3 of Iosco and Ogemaw Counties (formerly Plainfield Township Rural Agricultural School at Hale).

With the polls open from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. 39 of the 41 school electors of the North Lake District voted on the annexation proposition. Of the 39 votes cast, 26 were in favor of annexation; 10 were opposed, and three ballots were spoiled.

The election climaxed efforts of the Hale Board of Education and the school board and interested electors of the North Lake School to bring about this reorganization.

Action was started by the Hale board at its regular meeting on March 12, when a resolution to annex Hill District No. 1 was adopted, and the board secretary, Ira Scofield, instructed to request the state superintendent of public instruction's approval of the proposed annexation.

The request was supported by a letter and map showing the past and present close educational relations, social and business associations and community center and the shorter distance of most of the district to Hale than to any other high school center.

Twenty-nine school electors of the North Lake District signed a petition to the department of public instruction requesting permission to hold the annexation election.

tion election. Permission was received and the North Lake board then met, set the date for the election. Notices were posted on Saturday, May 5.

The annexation was effective as of the date of the election. Members of the last school board of the North Lake District were Mrs. Emma Yost, Roy Short and George Barber.

A meeting of the two boards is planned for the evening of Monday, May 28, at the Hale school, at which time the records and accounts will be turned over to the Hale Board of Education. The members of the Hale board are Dennis Chivria, Ira Scofield, John Mortenson, Clarence Brindley and Del Hewitt.

ERNEST NASH SWORN IN AS STATE POLICE TROOPER

Among those sworn in as probationary troopers by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs at graduation exercises held May 17 for the second largest recruit class in Michigan State Police history was Ernest W. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Nash, Route 2, Tawas City. He has been assigned to the Bridgeport post.

The class numbered 105 and represented the second half of the 200 new troopers authorized at the November special session of the state legislature. The first half were graduated April 6.

Each school was six weeks in length, the men being trained in the basics of police work and traffic patrol. Following their summer in the field they will be recalled in the fall in groups of 50 to take four weeks of training in scientific criminal investigation and other advanced subjects.

New troopers must serve a probationary period of six months before being confirmed in their appointments.

The state police are now recruiting 168 more men authorized at the session of the legislature just ended.

Nash served with the United States Navy in the Caribbean Theater.

One of the unsung heroes in every community is the Sunday School teacher who often devotes much of his time, over a long period of years, to his church and his Sunday School without compensation.

These teachers often go to training schools, attend various organizational meetings and help with various forms of church work. In addition, they regularly spend several hours a week preparing for, and teaching, Sunday School.

Often, even a relatively small church will have several dozen teachers, who turn in this time consistently, over the years as a contribution to the religious life of their community and as an investment in the country's youth.

Watts School Students Enjoy Beef Stew Dinner

Thirty members of the Watts Unit of Tawas Area Schools recently held a beef stew dinner. Each student furnished ingredients for the stew and 10 cents to purchase the meat. Mrs. Ellen McGuire is teacher.

Following is a report of the dinner as prepared by Darwin Biggs, a member of the class:

"First, we put flour, salt and pepper in a sack and floured the meat. Then we melted butter and browned the meat. While James Herriman and Carl Grabow turned the meat, Barbara Binder seasoned it. When the meat was brown, we added the vegetables and a little water to let it cook until tender. Then we thickened the stew and it was ready to serve.

"We ate all we could hold and then had Jello and cookies for dessert."

Investigate 'Burglary';
Police Save Stranded Dog

Investigating the possibility of a burglary of an East Tawas grocery store, Michigan State Police officers pulled an exhausted dog from an open tank at the East Tawas disposal plant last Friday night.

Hearing the frantic howling of the dog, the night desk man at the East Tawas post sent a patrol car to a nearby grocery store to see if there were any "prowlers." A check at the store revealed nothing, so the policemen continued their search for the dog. Apparently the dog had fallen in the open tank and was unable to get out. Officers pulled it from the tank by hooking a long pipe through its collar and lifting it out.
