BOAT LOAD OF TAWAS BAY SMELT DESTINED FOR MINK FOOD

AVERAGING ABOUT A NINE-TON CATCH of smelt daily during the past two weeks, Edward Coyle and Joseph "Nibby" Trudell have shipped 150 tons of smelt to Wisconsin since the spring run began. In the above photo the Tawas City commercial fishermen are shown unloading Trudell's fishing boat at the Tawas City Park dock. Loaded to the gunnels with the silvery fish, the men are transferring the smelt to a tandem truck for shipment. In Wisconsin the smelt are used as food for mink. Mr. Trudell said last Thursday that this was the first season in history that local fishermen have had a good market for smelt. He predicted that the present outlook may grow into greater things in the future.—Tawas Herald Photo.

In the city tournament, his 263 single game won a plaque from the Michigan Bowling Proprietors Association. His singles score of 691 was tops for a trophy and first place prize money, as was his 2011 all events score. Teamed with Herbert Belton in the doubles, their 1262 won first place. In the Tawas Commercial League he won the achievement award for the biggest improvement in average over the previous season.

Lubaway Offers Assistance In River Improvement Project

Temporary Dredging Job Completed

A further step toward the possible improvement of the Tawas River mouth as a small craft harbor and refuge, was revealed this week in a letter received from a Wyandotte attorney, retained by Joseph E. Lubaway Sr. of the Tawas Yacht Club.

The attorney, Richard W. Look, stated that he was checking with the State of Michigan and the United States Army Corps of Engineers to determine what action either or both of those agencies contemplate in the area.

In his letter to "The Tawas Herald," Mr. Look said, "Mr. Lubaway on many occasions has indicated to me that he felt that the Tawas Yacht Club was now ready for development. It is my understanding that there are many memberships in the Tawas area and also a number in the Detroit area."

Mr. Look continued, "There has been no activity and the property has been lying practically dormant. Because of its location at the mouth of the river, it appears that the yacht club might tie into the proposed action the article in the Herald indicated last week.

Last week a group of interested Tawas City boat owners and businessmen started to investigate means of getting state money for development of the Tawas River mouth. It was learned that the group felt that the Tawas River mouth should get some consideration from the state waterways commission because the more than 20 boat owners who use the harbor pay a special tax on their craft and purchase gasoline which has a sales tax to be used for harbor improvement."

Mr. Look continued in his letter, "Boating has grown tremendously in popularity and the Tawas water front, at the mouth of the Tawas River, seems to provide an excellent set up for suitable, small pleasure craft facilities."

He concluded by saying that if it is felt that the Tawas Yacht Club is or should be a party to this proposed action on the part of the citizens group, he would appreciate hearing from them.

"It may be, that upon the conclusion of this action, the Tawas Yacht Club can be revitalized to serve a community need," he stated.

COUNTY AGENT WARNS OF INCREASE IN RATS

Warning of an increase in the number of rats in Isoco County was given this week by Marvin Davenport, Isoco County agricultural agent, who said, "In the past two weeks, I have seen more rats than I have ever seen since I have been in Isoco County."

Davenport said that this means that there are many more rats than he did not see and that rats are on the increase in the county.

"Farmers know what destruction rats produce on their own farms and in their grain bins," the county agent stated. He suggests that everyone take part in controlling the rats by using "Warfarin."

Warfarin is sold under many trade names. It comes in conventional form and should be easy to feed rats and keep away from pets and children.

"Rats cost Isoco County people too many dollars each year. Let's start a personal campaign to control them. Feed Warfarin in some sort of form," Davenport urged.

Would Organize Army Reserve Unit in Tawas

Capt. Fortune Meets Group Here Thursday

Steps were taken last Thursday night to organize a United States Army Reserve unit here in Tawas. Captain Samuel Fortune, army reserve advisor for a nine-county area in Northeastern Michigan, with headquarters at Bay City, met with 11 men interested in organizing the local unit.

Activation requirements to organize such a unit would be a minimum of 15 enlisted men and three officers. "It is going to take quite a while to get up to the authorized strength of 171 enlisted men and five officers, and the more people the unit signs up, the better off it will be," Captain Fortune said.

With two officers already lined up for re-commissioning and nearly all of the required enlisted men signed, a meeting will again be held Thursday night (tonight) at the Holland Hotel at East Tawas.

Reservists are presently being assigned to the Midland unit for administrative purposes. When the Tawas unit is activated, thought to be in about 90 days, the officers and men will be transferred back here. In the meantime they are not required to attend meetings at Midland.

Should the unit fail to be organized, reservists signed up may revert back to the ready reserves or to their original status.

For further information about the army reserves interested veterans who still have a military obligation to fulfill or young men who have not yet served, may contact Sgt. John Smith, United States Army recruiter, at the Federal Building, East Tawas.

Low Water Causes Concern to Lake Huron Boat Owners

Low water levels in Lake Huron threaten to disrupt offshore small boat handling this summer. At present the water level is about 20 inches lower than last summer, which was considered at the time to be at its lowest point. This has resulted in the disappearance of boat wells, small harbors and private docks which are now high and dry.

United States Air Force crash boats were forced to discontinue use of the Ausable River mouth as a harbor this spring until dredging operations can be started. In the meantime the boats are being docked at the Michigan Waterways Commission dock at East Tawas.

Lake shore property owners should investigate before building on this "new found" property. In past years it has proven very costly to move cottages and homes away from the shore line when the water level again returns to normal.

During this congress he is on the post office and civil service committee and the merchant marine and fisheries committee.

In his letter to petition circulators, Congressman Cederberg said, "Our Republican administration in Washington has made great headway in restoring government to the people, effecting economies, promoting prosperity and maintaining peace. I would like to continue to be a part of that administration."

Clarence Curry Home Destroyed by Fire Monday Afternoon

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the farm home of Clarence Curry, located about 1 1/2 miles west of Tawas City on the Meadow Road, Monday afternoon. The house was a complete loss.

Discovered shortly after 4 o'clock by a neighbor, the Tawas Township fire department was called. Although the fire department was at the scene within a few minutes, the blaze was out of control in the house. A nearby barn, which was being torn down, was saved.

Fire Chief Fred Musolf said that the home was not occupied at the time of the fire. Mr. and Mrs. Curry had planned to return in June after spending the past year in Tawas City. All of their furniture was in the house.

'Mac' Rardin Sanity Hearing Adjourned

Hearing on a petition to determine if Calvin "Mac" Rardin, accused of manslaughter, is capable of assisting in his own defense or if he is insane, was adjourned until Friday of this week in Isoco County Circuit Court by Judge Herman Dehnke. Rardin is being held at the Isoco County Jail on manslaughter charges in the March 5 death of Jacob E. Miller, 75-year-old retired Wilber Township farmer.

Testimony of various witnesses taken in the hearing Tuesday morning included that of Dr. L. A. Lambert and Dr. V. W. Kershul, who performed the autopsy on the victim. The hearing was adjourned to give the two East Tawas physicians further opportunity to observe Rardin.

The file on the case as presented Tuesday by William R. Barber, Isoco County prosecuting attorney, contained statements by three Traverse City State Hospital psychiatrists, who all stated Rardin was insane.

Rardin is being represented at the hearing by Herbert Hertzler, Tawas City attorney, who was appointed in his behalf by the court. In Tuesday's hearing, Rardin refused to appear in the court room.

Manslaughter charges against Rardin were lodged March 7 after an autopsy revealed that Mr. Miller had died of a crushed chest. It was stated by police at the time that the victim had died from a severe beating and death was ruled a homicide.

Rardin was a farm hand of the Millers. The two men were alone in the farm home the night of Mr. Miller's death.

Troutman-Klinger

Andrew P. Klinger escorted his daughter, Helen Elizabeth Klinger, to the altar decorated with snapdragons and chrysanthemums, at the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in Tawas City Saturday, April 28. She became the bride of Airman Second-Class Andrew Donald Troutman of Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

The Rev. Fr. Francis Murray of Marlette, cousin of the bride, celebrated the 10 o'clock nuptial high mass in the presence of some 250 guests.

Mrs. Russell Klenow of East Tawas was organist and soloist at the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Klinger of Tawas City and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Troutman of Sioux City, Iowa.

For her marriage the bride chose a white satin gown with a bodice of Chantilly lace and a heavy pleated skirt with lace train. Pearls and iridescent accents decorated the crown which held her silk illusion fingertip veil in place. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and Shasta daisies.

Miss Shirley Zacharias was maid of honor. Her gown was yellow tulle over taffeta featuring a full skirt, strapless bodice and brief jacket. A yellow tulle picture hat complemented her gown. She carried yellow roses and blue Shasta daisies.

Staff Sgt. Dwayne Balphor was best man and the ushers were Robert Quist of Detroit, cousin of the bride, and Thomas Nelkie.

The bride's mother was attired in a rose colored crepe and nylon lace dress. Her corsage was of red roses.

A breakfast followed the rites at the Klinger home for the family and relatives and an afternoon reception for about 350 guests at the same place.

Immediately following the reception, the couple left on a trip to Sioux City. When they return they will reside in Oscoda.

Out of town guests were from Detroit, Birmingham, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Fenton, Flint, Richfield, Bay City and Marlette.

Farm Events

By MARVIN DAVENPORT
County Agent

Monday, May 14—Regional Artificial Breeders Association Meeting, 7:30 p. m., Barnes Hotel, Tawas City.

Thursday, May 17—Poultry Tour, Oscoda County, with specialist, Mac Moore of Michigan State University. If you are interested contact my office.

This is an important season for farmers with beef breeding herds. The calving season is just about here and Wilton Finley, animal husbandryman at Michigan State University, passes on some suggestions that may help you save a higher percentage of calves.

Beef cows have just come through a long winter. They are low in vitamins, minerals and they have not had much sunshine. In addition, the calving period puts a lot of strain on the cow's system.

It would be a good idea to give the cow better feed at this time of the year. She should have about 20 pounds of good hay per day, and perhaps more cobalt and iodine than she has been getting. She does not need grain until after she freshens.

Once she does freshen two or three pounds of grain per day may help her produce more milk. It may be a good idea to separate the cows that have had their calves from those that have not. This way you can grain the fresh cows without over feeding the dry ones. The fresh cows may go to pasture ahead of the dry cows.

Make sure there is plenty of space for all the cows to eat, so that the timid ones also get their feed.

Now is the time to remove the herd sire. He may crowd the cows from the feeding area and also will tend to spread your calf crop more than is desirable.

Newly vaccinated chicks need extra care for they are actually going through a mild form of the disease.

S. C. Schmittle, Michigan State University's poultry pathologist, reports that above normal losses after vaccination in some flocks has been caused by failure to consider not vaccinating. Eliminating this essential management practice could result in even higher losses.

To help the newly vaccinated chicks through the reaction period, the temperature should be kept constant during the reaction period, especially if the chicks tend to huddle together. Feed and water utensils should not be changed and should be kept close to the brooder for easy access.

These recommendations apply to both Newcastle and infectious bronchitis vaccinations. The dust method seems to cause the most severe reaction.

Dr. Schmittle says that air sac infection is often a complicating factor with high vaccination losses. Poultrymen should be on the lookout for the possibility, particularly if the vaccination reaction is severe and long-lasting.

I recently talked with an elevator operator in Isoco County who asked why we were recommending Jackson oats. He said that he had been handling the Craig oats this past year and his customers were very well satisfied. I am always glad to hear the farmers are satisfied with any given variety of oats or wheat or corn. The fact that our farmers are buying certified seed oats or seed of any type for farm crops, is a big step in the right direction of obtaining high yields. It also is a must and very important if a farmer wishes to keep weed seed to a minimum. Too many weeds are put into farm fields from unclean seed.

As for Jackson oats, we understand it is not readily available in Isoco County. However, in experimental trials it has proven very satisfactory. We would be very happy to hear the results of any Jackson oats that have been planted in 1956 by local farmers.

Harold Clark, DHIA tester for Isoco Association No. 2, recently submitted his report for March and April. It includes production information on three herds. Two of the herds total 40 cows that are under owners sampler program.

Our DHIA program is established to help dairy farmers locate those star boarders in their herds. In times like these, farmers must know. They cannot guess. Having your dairy herds checked each month is the only sure way to know which cows are paying their way and which ones you are keeping for company.

"Daddy, may I ride?" This is an important question which many of you will have to answer this spring. Your young son or daughter will want to get on and ride, or will you as a wise parent explain the danger of such a practice?

The farm safety specialist at Michigan State University, Richard Pfister, says every year many children are injured and killed because dad did not have the heart to say "no." Each year in Michigan more children under 10 years old are killed by farm tractors than 20 to 30 year olds, or 30 to 40 year olds, or the 40 to 50 year old group. Many parents thought they had used every precaution to make the ride safe, then it happened. I recall how such a tragedy happened in the very farm community in which I lived. Mrs. Diehl had little Johnny riding with her on the tractor while her husband was on a load of hay. She was holding Johnny on the tractor between her legs so he would not slip off. How it ever happened she never knew, but he fell off the tractor and was crushed to death by the load of hay.

There is only one wise way to protect your child from this type of a tragedy. Never permit him to ride with you on your tractor or any other kind of farm machinery.

An inexpensive chemical treatment can mean twice as many tomatoes to sell during the early months of the season. Dr. Wiltner and Dr. Teubner produced increased yields by spraying tomato seedling with chemicals. These chemicals caused the number of flowers on the first cluster (potential early fruit) to increase two, three and even four times. Ten other related chemicals have also been found to produce similar results on both field and greenhouse varieties.

The increased yields were produced when fertilizer and moisture were made available above normal recommendations to provide for the additional fruit set.

The scientists further discovered they could also increase the number of flowers on each of the succeeding clusters by spraying at two week intervals following the first treatment. The first application is made when the plants are two to three weeks old and when the first true leaves have developed.

Increasing the numbers of flowers for all clusters might even double the total season yield if proper amounts of moisture and fertilizer are supplied. A tomato plant may develop as many as nine clusters in a season. For field tomatoes, growers may be able to harvest more fruit in a shorter time.

This chemical treatment gives the same results as chilling of seedlings to increase number of flowers on the first cluster. The chemical application has the advantage of producing additional flowers on all clusters rather than just the first one when repeated.

May I urge farmers to get their soil samples in soon? Remember only through the soil sample test and laboratory recommendations can you qualify for $5.15 federal cost share on your lime. Your cost per ton of lime applied is $1.75 delivered and spread. Much of Isoco County's crop land is in need of lime. A field properly limed means that the fertilizer will be properly used and is available to the plants.

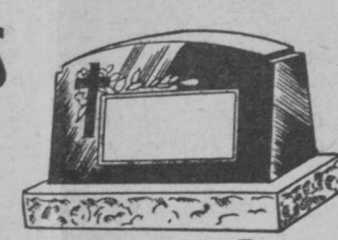

Office callers this week were: Gordon Hatch, Reuben Kaare, Conrad Carlson, Otto Rempert, Mr. Reasner, Harold Hammond, Lloyd Little, Mrs. Gordon Helmbold, Emerson Frank.

Registration for Pre-School Children Set for May 4

The registration day for pre-school children in the Whittemore Area School has been set for Friday, May 4, at 1:00 p. m. in the kindergarten room of the elementary building.

The state law states that any child becoming five years of age on or before December 1 may start to school in September of that year.

So all parents in the district with children that will be eligible to start next September are urged to come and bring the children on the day of registration.

This gives the child an opportunity to see the room, meet the school personnel and teachers.

The parents should be prepared to give the birthplace, the birth date and immunization dates of the child when the child is registered.

The room mothers, Mrs. John Halbert and Mrs. Arthur Ellico, will be present and act as hostesses for the afternoon from 1 until 2:30.

MICHIGAN FEATURE SERIES prepared by MICHIGAN TOURIST COUNCIL No. 85

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

Yes, this week is the 11th annual National Home Demonstration Week observance. It means that Michigan's 40,000 home demonstration women are setting aside this week, along with about six million other members in the country, to tell the home demonstration story. Conducted cooperatively by the federal and state extension service and county governments, home demonstration work varies with the needs and desires of the members and also within the areas where they live. There are more than 65,000 groups in all 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. These homemaker groups select their own volunteer local leaders, and there are now more than 600,000.

Training and assistance are given by home demonstration agents who are in constant touch with sources of the latest research and information to give them professional guidance for the entire program.

Learn more about joining a home demonstration group in your neighborhood by contacting the home demonstration agent for Isoco County, Miss Dorothy Scott, office in the Federal Building East Tawas, or dial FO 2-3751.

Last week you had an opportunity to read about accomplishments of two Isoco County families because of participation in the home demonstration extension program for women. Mrs. Willard Williams of Reno Township is enjoying a more convenient kitchen in which she works with greater ease and saves time. The Forrest Holmes family has developed a hobby in upholstery work that pays dividends as well as gives them pleasure.

I have just learned about the last drop of "goodness" squeezed by Mrs. Holmes from the upholstery fabric removed from the davenport and chair. The back sections were not badly worn and had retained their color well. After washing these parts new seat covers for the dining room chairs were made, and the color is a perfect blend with the linoleum covering selected for that room.

These are examples of many kinds of similar accomplishments which are possible as a result of home demonstration activities. There are lots of others which could be told, but space does not permit. Those who visited the home demonstration hobby night program at Hale on April 30 will have learned a little more about how this is true.

During the next two weeks Isoco home demonstration groups will complete the work on lesson one of "Curtains and Draperies."

Selection," using a loan kit of sample materials which will add greatly to their understanding of various materials now on the market.

The newly organized group in East Tawas recently met at the home of Mrs. Jessie Bennington with a good attendance of members and two visitors. Mrs. Robert Botsford was named to represent them as council delegate. The lesson on "Efficient Use of Time and Energy" was presented by Mrs. Marvin Davenport, a leader in the Tawas City group. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Botsford on May 2 - Mrs. Charles Bennington, reporter.

A "first" recreation training school event took place on Friday evening, April 20, at the Plainfield Township School with at least 14 different organizations represented by the 23 persons attending.

This opportunity to learn-by-doing new recreation ideas for various meeting occasions was conducted by Mabel Helmhold, Charlotte Nardizzi, Elsie Kolonich and Esther Scofield, who had attended a district recreation school. This method of passing along information is the true extension teaching plan, a small group of persons is taught and they in turn teach more people. The amount of re-teaching goes on and on, like the ripples on a lake, making it impossible to tell just how many people benefit as a result of the very first lesson. That's the way it will be with this recreational training.

In addition to the four named above, the following persons have started the spread of ripples which will end we know not where: Bernice Anthony, Louise Greve, Catherine Swartzbaugh, Darlene Scofield, Gary Kolonich, Karen Helmhold, Frances Peters, Robert Hill, Evelyn Shellenbarger, Lottie Pierce, Muriel Dodson, Rose Nardizzi, Virginia Dee and Mrs. Bellor.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, commanding general of the Strategic Air Command (left), shown with Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), chairman of the senate armed services subcommittee, after LeMay was questioned behind closed doors about his bomber requirements and whether the SAC is in danger of losing air supremacy to Russia. LeMay testified that the SAC personnel turnover is critical. He told senate investigators that Soviet Russia has "a more professional air force" than the United States because of better pay and other benefits.

County Fair Harness Racing Gets Extra Grant

County fair horse racing got a big boost this year by the legislature through enactment of the Minnesota Bill.

The act, sponsored by Sen. John Minnema of Traverse City, who happens to be president of the Michigan Association of Fairs, throws a large amount of money into the premium pool for county fair racing. It has three main provisions:

(1) It provides for four $5,000 futurities each year for Michigan-sired two and three-year-old pacers and trotters. Each futurity will be an added event and could go as high as $46,500.

(2) The state will aid county fairs by adding 75 percent to the harness purses or $3 for each $1 which the county fairs put up.

(3) The state will match costs for track improvements up to $3,500 for all county fairs.
"As president of the Michigan Fair Association," Minnema said, "I feel happy that my efforts in behalf of this legislation have been successful," he declared. "I feel that this act will save county fair racing in Michigan and bestow far-reaching benefits upon the agricultural areas of the state."

"In the long run, it will benefit everyone in Michigan because it will increase interest in harness racing and will thus mean a substantial increase in tax return to the state. The act is sound and fair and I am glad that I have been so actively associated with its passage."

Horse racing enthusiasts look on the bill as a savior for county racing and as a boost to the standard breeding of horses in Michigan.

Money to finance the new gift to county fair racing comes from the state's cut from the betting at pari-mutuel tracks in Southern Michigan.

Pomona Grange Met Thursday at Hale

The Iosco County Pomona Grange held its regular meeting Thursday evening at Hale with Master Gerald Bellen in charge of the business session. District Deputy George Cathro and Mrs. Cathro of Alpena were guests at the meeting. Mr. Cathro announced the Northern Grange picnic which will be held Sunday, August 12, at Alpena and the youth conference at Hillman on June 14.

Gordon Hatch, soil conservation service technician, gave an interesting talk on "Soil Stewardship." Slides were also shown illustrating ways of conserving soil and some of the conservation carried out on the farms in Iosco County. Harold Hammond, Consumers Power farm service representative, showed a movie of the "Electric Research Farm in Wisconsin."

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Wild Life Lines HOW IS THIS FOR A COMEBACK

Michigan beaver and other seasons start in late March and continue into April and an estimated 4,000 trappers will try their luck on ponds and streams throughout the state. Under Conservation Department control in recent years, the catch of these animals has been high. Season lengths are better regulated and bag limits cut or increased to give trappers chance to harvest the annual surplus without loss to disease, predation and other causes.

WITH THE IOSCO— 4-H Clubs

By Dorothy Scott
County Agent

CALENDAR—

Thursday, May 3—Hale Happy
Hustlers 4-H Club.
Sunday, May 6—4-H Club Sunday.

A good many persons have stopped to look at the gun safety project display in the extension office. It has been provided by the Taft Junior Gun Club which is completing its first project in gun safety. These young people are considering a second project in this some series.

Norman Sibley is leader and tells us that Kenneth Robinson is putting his gun safety demonstration to good and practical use by presenting it for his school class, the Farm Bureau meeting and later for the Ot-tawas 4-H Club open house.

It is our hope that the many young people who have demonstrations in the making for county eliminations in August will present them for community organizations such as is being done by Kenneth. Through demonstrations young people can teach adults new ideas about the subject of their demonstration and provide them more information about 4-H Clubs—what young people who belong to them can do.

Clover Kiddies 4-H Club members are girls, most all of them 10 years old. They decided to earn some money for their treasury, planned and carried out a successful bake sale. Reporter Karen Conklin writes,
"Clover Kiddies 4-H Club had a bake sale Saturday, April 21,
at Evans Furniture Store in East Tawas. The girls in the 4-H Club called to tell what they could bring. There were cupcakes, cakes, a pie and cookies. The sale started at 1:00 p. m. The members worked on committees to plan, advertise and sell. Mrs.
Elmina Applin supervised the selling and everything was sold.
The 4-H Club made about $10.
Next activity planned is a paper collection."

Alabaster-Whitney Rowers met at the home of Gary VanOrnum on April 26 with 10 members and two leaders present. President Ronald McCormick conducted the meeting. It was decided that each 4-H Club member will observe 4-H Club Sunday by attending church.

Donna Coates, reporter for Friendship 4-H Club, tells about their open house meeting on April 23 at Grant Township Hall.
"The Friendship 4-H Club met at Grant Township Hall. We had our open house with displays of electrical, dairy, food preservation and clothing projects. Miss Scott, Mr. Davenport and Mr. Hammond were there. They showed us our mistakes (the good points, too) and how they might be improved before fair time.
"During our meeting we planned for a father-son and mother-daughter banquet and will have them together because it will be easier. The Ladies Aid is going to serve it for us."

4-H Club members working on demonstrations are asked to arrange with us for a time to help you further. By now you have had a chance to do some revising to include suggestions made by agents and leaders at the March workshops. We would like to see how and if they have improved your demonstrations, and possibly make more suggestions.

That's the way "top" demonstrations are built—plan, try, revise; then try and revise several more times.

American colleges will graduate nearly 10 percent more qualified teachers this June than last year, according to the National Education Association. However, the increase will still fall far short of meeting the estimated demand for new teachers next fall. Prospects are that 96,079 teachers will be graduated next June, a 9.9 percent increase over 175,000 new teachers next fall, leaving a deficit of about 80,000 if all the new graduates go into teaching.

EMTA COMPLETES PLANS FOR MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The membership committee of the East Michigan Tourist Association, meeting in Bay City last Friday, completed plans for a membership program for the coming year which included publication of a new EMTA information folder, increased public relations program and an intensified campaign of solicitation.

Committee members present at the meeting included H. A.
Geisel, chairman, from Bay City;
J. V. Murphy, EMTA president, from Detroit; F. K. Kunderling of Saginaw, and K. C. Teyson of Mackinaw City.

Frank Davis, EMTA secretary-manager, stated that the association had showed an increase in membership every year during the past 10 years and that the total growth over that period was 54 percent. Last year's budget was approximately $90,000 which included $25,000 state assistance, according to Davis.

Social Security Information to be Given Next Thursday

Representatives from the Bay City Social Security Office will be at the Federal Building, East Tawas, on Thursday, May 10, from 10:30 a. m. until noon. This is a change in date and time, though the location remains the same.
Because of the additional coverage provided under the 1954 amendments to the Social Security Act, it has been necessary to increase the service to the East Tawas area.
Representatives will now be in East Tawas twice monthly instead of once. The next date will be on May 24.

Anyone needing information about social security of wanting to apply for payments

Every Family Needs Its Own Cinematographer

Yes, every family not only needs its own cinematographer, but every member of the family ought to be one. It is an impressive title, but really just means one who takes pictures with a movie camera.

There's no better way to keep a record of family life than in full color home movies that reproduce all of the brilliance and motion of the activity or scene that caused you to want to take pictures.

We're especially excited about home movie-making for all members of the family since we heard about a new camera that came on the market just a few weeks ago.
It's the movie version of the familiar fixed focus or box still camera (except that it has a better lens) and it is priced at under $30. Not much under, just a little.

Made by a well-known manufacturer, it's practically foolproof, it's so easy to use.

River Mouth

The Tawas Yacht Club was organized here in the 1920s by Mr. Lubaway and the late John Bellon. Membership in the club included people from Detroit and the Tawas areas. The club purchased property along the east bank of the river mouth and several times in recent years dredged the harbor. Mr. Lubaway is owner of the Tawas Boat and Marine Supply east of the river bridge.

Such a move combining the effort of the citizens group and the Tawas Yacht Club could result in achievement of a long-sought-after goal, an excellent harbor in the Tawas River mouth. Mayor George W. Myles stated Tuesday.

In the meantime, funds were collected locally last week-end to dredge the river as a temporary measure to allow access to the mouth by small craft. Work was completed Monday by Frank Chartier.

Donations for the work were received from: Clarence Everett, $20; Donald Watson, $20; Elwood Bronson, $20; C. W. Lewis, Owens, $20; George Myles, $20; Gordon Clute, $20; William Borosch, $20; Tawas Boat Company, $35.

Prior to the dredging it was impossible for craft to move in or out of the river mouth because of unusually low water this year. A number of cruisers are in dry-dock north of the Tawas River bridge.

New officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. Winnie Hutton, president, and Mrs. Mary Bergeron, sergeant-at-arms. All other officers remained the same as last year.

The association wishes to thank Tawas businessmen for their generous contributions and to those who appeared on the program.

Held on Felonious
Assault Charges

Leroy Jones, an American Indian, is being held on default of a $1,000 bond at the Isoco County Jail for felonious assault, after striking an employee of the Holland Hotel at East Tawas and a sheriff's officer last Wednesday night.

Sheriff's department officers reported that Jones, who was said to be in a drunken condition, had threatened John Pinter, hotel owner, earlier in the evening. When approached by Mike Pinter, the hotel owner's brother, Jones struck him in the face breaking his glasses. Pinter was rushed to the hospital with a piece of broken glass embedded in his eye.

When police officers attempted to put Jones in a patrol car he kicked Deputy Leon Putnam in the head. Jones is on probation from Isoco County Circuit Court for carrying a concealed weapon. He had been an employee of the hotel for several months.

Preacher-Teacher Makes
A Hobby of Running

If you're looking for a hobby that will take you into the great outdoors, talk to Ernest J. MacDonald, 31-year-old English and history teacher at Wagersville High School for five days a week and a supply pastor for three Methodist Churches on Sundays. His hobby is running.

According to a feature article in Saginaw News last week, MacDonald runs two miles every day before breakfast and 10 miles after school each day. Saturday is his day off. He hopes and runs 30 miles then. Along with his teaching, preaching and running, he is studying for four hours credit toward a degree from Central Michigan College each night a week at a Midland extension.

The ambitious teacher is a good runner. He recently competed in the Boston Marathon for the second time, finishing 57th in a field of 167. He completed the 26-mile, 385-yard grudge in a commendable three hours and three minutes.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Tawas City, Route 1, Ernest teaches school at Wagersville, 4½ miles northeast of Gladwin, and preaches at Methodist Churches in Wagersville, Bethel and McClure.

Gladwin County's marathoner did some running in college. He was a trackman at Upland, Indiana, and at Alma College, where he graduated in 1954. He taught school a year ago at Lawton, near Kalamazoo.

Support for his running comes from his wife, Betty, who was a Beaverton girl, and their five children, John, seven; Robert, five; Jeanne, four; Duane, two, and Laura, one.

He became interested in the Boston Marathon when stationed in the Massachusetts city with the army signal corps in 1945. Publicity given the event appealed to him and the ages of the contestants, most of them under 30 years and older, caught his eye.

GARDEN CLUB DELIVERS
MAY BASKETS, FLOWERS

The Tawas City Garden Club met at the city hall on Tuesday afternoon with an attendance of 30. Following the business meeting the program booklet covers were judged. The winning covers were made by Mrs. Walter Schumacher, first; Mrs. W. A. Gregory, second; Mrs. George Myles, third.

A committee packed the May baskets with food, fruit and candy donated by the ladies. Seventeen baskets and three bouquets of flowers were delivered to the sick and shut-ins. A large box was filled and taken to the Huron Rest Home.

The exchange of bulbs and plants was greatly enjoyed.

Mother-Daughter Banquet
To be Held Tuesday

A mother-daughter banquet will be held at the East Tawas Methodist Church on Tuesday, May 8, at 6:30. The speaker will be Mrs. Howard Burden of Saginaw. The WSCS will sponsor the dinner which is open to the public. Tickets are on sale, $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children.

Religious Day Observed
by 20th Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club met at the American Legion Hall on Wednesday evening, April 25, with 28 members and guests present. Religious Day was observed and Mrs. A. E. Giddings presented the following program:

Group of Sacred Choric Readings—High school students under direction of Jerold McEwen, dramatic coach.

Roll Call—Bible verses.

Guest Speaker—Bruce Campbell Leslie.

Mr. Leslie's topic was "Creative Revolution." He compared world revolution with spiritual revolution. He said, "If people were as concerned over spiritual revolution as they are over world revolution, there would be a great difference in our world today." Three hindrances were brought out, the world, the clouded vision of people, and the cost. Mr. Leslie's talk was both interesting and inspiring.

Mrs. George Leslie presided at the business session which followed the program.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. I. R. Horton, Mrs. William Schaaf and Mrs. Nelson Ulman. The table was very springlike with tall yellow tapers and African violets.

MRS. RAE HOOKER GUEST OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Isoco County Republican women met for a May Day breakfast at the Barnes Hotel Tuesday, May 1. A large group was welcomed by Isoco County president, Mrs. T. M. O'Loughlin of East Tawas, who thanked them for their fine cooperation. The officers present with Mrs. O'Loughlin were Mrs. George M. Beard of Oscoda, vice president; Mrs. Cecil Cable of Tawas City, secretary, and Mrs. Grace Miller, treasurer.

Mrs. L. G. McKay led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and Miss Edna Otis gave the invocation.

Mrs. O'Loughlin announced appointments of key women in the county to work on registration of new people in the community and the young people who have just turned 21 years of age.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Rae Hooker of Mt. Pleasant, national Republican committee woman, who is a candidate to succeed herself for that position. She gave a most inspiring address, telling how the women of the country have been given credit for the landslide victory of President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952 and how important it is to repeat that victory this year for the presidency, as well as congressional, state and local governments.
