Search Continues for Body of Harry Fernette

Diving operations started Wednesday morning in the four-day search for the body of Harry Fernette of East Tawas, 53-year-old United States Gypsum Company employee at Alabaster, who fell from the company's ore crib a mile from shore in Saginaw Bay Sunday morning. The search is being directed by Sgt. Frank Roti, commander of the Michigan State Police Post, East Tawas, and Iosco County Sheriff Ivan L. O'Farrell. Diver in the search for the victim's body is William McCoy of East Tawas, an Iosco County deputy sheriff. He is being assisted by his father, Harry McCoy of Oscoda, who has been a professional diver for many years. McCoy made an attempt to go down in the icy water Tuesday afternoon but high seas and minor mechanical difficulty with equipment forced delaying the operation until Wednesday morning. The United States Coast Guard's amphibious "duck" was called to Alabaster shortly after 11 o'clock Sunday morning when a fellow workman discovered that Fernette was missing. Corporal Edsel Duval and Sheriff O'Farrell joined in the search, along with Maynard VanOrnum, works manager at the plant, all aboard the gypsum company's power launch. The search had to be discontinued Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock because of high seas. Police cars were stationed along the shore line late Sunday afternoon and evening and the search resumed Monday morning. Investigating officers learned that Clayton Ulman and Fernette had been on the catwalk on the outer edge of the crib preparing for mooring the Schellkopf, a Great Lakes ore carrier, which was bearing the channel. Ulman walked along the south side of the 500-foot-long structure, sanding the catwalk as he moved along, and Fernette sandied at the west end. After finishing his job, which only took a matter of a few minutes, Ulman returned to the west end and could not find Fernette. He discovered Fernette's cap floating in the water below and a pair of gypsum dust which he had used to sand the catwalk. Calling for assistance from other workmen, a search was made of the in-

Bandits Nabbed by Aler Police Trooper

That a policeman is on duty at all times, whether or not on leave or vacation, was again demonstrated last Friday when a young state police trooper was responsible for nabbing about the arrest in Tawas City of two down state men wanted by Saginaw County police for an armed robbery three weeks ago. Arrested were Clarence R. Peets, 31, of Walled Lake and Howard J. Welch, 30, of Flint. Police said that both men have long criminal records.

Credited for their arrest was Trooper Ernest Nash Jr. of the Bridgeport State Police post, who was spending a three-day leave with his family at their farm south of Alabaster.

Nash was driving along US-23 in Tawas City Friday afternoon when the car in front of him made a U-turn. He recognized the car and the two occupants as being wanted in connection with an armed robbery in Merrill. Turning his car around he followed the other vehicle to the south Tawas City limits where it turned into the Alibi Inn. The two men were sitting at the bar when he drove up. After calling the state police post at East Tawas, Nash was joined by a friend, Dan Saxe, an Arenac County deputy sheriff, who happened to be driving along the road at the time.

Sgt. Frank Roti, Cpl. Edsel Duval and Troopers Charles Gaffney and Max Waterbury arrived shortly. Nash, Saxe and Corporal Duval, all in plain clothes, walked into the bar and came up behind the men. Sergeant Roti and Troopers Gaffney and Waterbury entered with their guns drawn. When the men were told to keep their hands on the bar by Nash and not turn around, they gave up without resistance.

Questioned later by police, the two men said that they had registered at the Sunset Motel in Tawas City about an hour earlier and had cashed a check with the owner, Donald Watson, to pay for their lodging. They told him it was too late to cash the check at the bank and had proof of who they were. Police said that a total of $450 in cash was found on them, plus two check books on the bank. They were questioned about a trail of bad checks left in North-east Michigan.

The Saginaw County Sheriff's Department was notified and officers came Saturday to take the two men from the Iosco County Jail where they were held overnight.

Police credited the quick thinking of a Bad Axe man for saving the lives of five persons who were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in their car seven miles south of Tawas City shortly before 6 o'clock last Saturday evening.

Seeing a car parked on the shoulder of US-23 and thinking the occupants had mechanical trouble with their vehicle, W. H. Thompson stopped to lend assistance and found five persons, three adults and two children, slumped over in their seats.

In the car were Norman Ballier, 37, and his wife, Anna, 28; their two children, Charles, seven, and Jack, five, and Mrs. Ballier's uncle, Albert Carlson, 65. They were from Emmett in St. Clair County and were headed north.

Thompson opened the windows of the car, the fresh air immediately reviving two of the occupants, and then rushed to Tawas for assistance. He told police officers later that he was not familiar with this area and had known that it was seven miles to town he would have brought the

Services Held for Mrs. Hannah Rogers

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon for Tawas City's oldest resident, Mrs. Hannah V. Rogers, who was 100 years old. Mrs. Rogers died Wednesday, November 21, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Capitola McCormick.

Services were held from the Jacques Funeral Home in Tawas City with the Rev. Richard Jennings officiating. The body was taken to Coleman for burial. Born May 31, 1836, near LaGrange, Maine, she married Adney P. Rogers August 15, 1874. She and her husband came to Michigan in 1875, settling in Midland. One of pioneer lumbermen of the state, Mr. Rogers' operations centered around Midland and Saginaw and through Clare County.

Mrs. Rogers died many years ago. She came to Tawas City in 1941 to live with her daughter. She had led an active life and until only three years ago, when her eyesight began to fail, her favorite pastime had been sewing.

On the anniversary of her 100th birthday last May, Mrs. Rogers said that she had no secret formula for living a long life, but that she had adhered to one personal motto: "Enjoy life and keep yourself busy doing the small things." She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Ora Phillips of Midland.

To Circulate Petitions in 8-School District

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair Taylor announced Monday that the proposed eight-school district in western Iosco, northern Arenac and eastern Ogemaw Counties had been approved for reorganization as a fourth class district.

John Halbert, superintendent of Whittemore Area Schools, who has been instrumental in the reorganization, said this week that the next step would be to circulate petitions in each of the approved districts. He said this was expected within the next two weeks.

Included in the proposed district are the Maple Ridge and Town Hall school districts in Arenac County; Mills Township, Palmer district and Prescott Junior High School district in Ogemaw County; Reno and Sherman Township school districts in Iosco County, and Whittemore Area School District in Iosco and Arenac Counties.

Should the reorganization prove successful, the new district would be one of the largest inland districts between Bay City and Alpena in valuation. Total combined valuation of the districts is estimated at $7,000,000 and the school would have an enrollment of 850 students.

Action on the request for reorganizing the districts had been delayed until the question of property transfers in Sherman Township had been settled. At a meeting of the Arenac and Iosco County boards of education last week the transfer of various property to the Tawas Area School District was approved.

The proposed district already has three new elementary school buildings, located at Prescott, Whittemore and Sherman Township. Only construction needed in the foreseeable future would be a new high school building which would be constructed between Prescott and Whittemore, Mr. Halbert stated.

According to reorganization plans, high school students will attend the Whittemore Area School until the new school building is constructed, excepting that those students already enrolled elsewhere would be allowed to finish.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Testimonies of gratitude for blessings brought by a spiritual understanding of God and man were a feature of the Thanksgiving service held at the Christian Science Society, East Tawas, on Thanksgiving morning.

Testimonies included mention of healing physical diseases through prayer and the understanding of God as taught in Christian Science. A period devoted to voluntary statements of gratitude by members of the congregation is always included in the Thanksgiving Day services in Christian Science churches.

"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the lesson-sermon read from the desk. Especially prepared for the day, it consisted of selections from the Bible and from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

"But the Lord is Mindful of His Own" was the organ prelude. The service was opened by the congregation singing from the Christian Science hymnal.

Robert L. Howard, the first reader, then read the Thanksgiving Day Proclamation by the president of the United States.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon was the Golden Text from Psalms (69:30): "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify Him with thanksgiving."

Scriptural passages included the following from James: (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Among the correlative passages read from Science and Health was the following (3:22): "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech."

The postlude was "The Heavens Declare His Glory."

A greeting card like this is certain to be enjoyed long after the Christmas season is but a memory.

The Christmas Card That No One Else Can Send

Just take a quick look around—and you'll notice counters and windows are suddenly coming alive with fat Santas, shining snowflakes, tinsel and tree ornaments.

So you see, it's not a bit too soon to decide on a suitable Christmas card for your special holiday greeting this year.

If you're like most of us, you've probably discovered that shopping for an individual-looking card for you and your family is often a disappointing experience. That's why so many people who feel their holiday message should be expressed in warm, personal, individual terms are turning to photographic greeting cards. Nothing but nothing really puts the "strictly personal" stamp on a Christmas card the way a picture of your own talking does. And that picture may be one now in your album that you've taken some time during the year, or one that you shoot with a holiday theme especially selected for "season's greetings."

Your family picture record for 1956 probably contains a number of snapshots that would lend themselves admirably to the task of saying "Merry Christmas."

If you decide to take a special picture for your Christmas card, there are, of course, endless possibilities awaiting your camera. Several of the photographic cards we received last year might spark your imagination. One that we especially enjoyed was a shot of the little girl of the house all togged out in red flannel pajamas and seated on the family hearth "waiting for Santa." Another was a close-up of shiny Christmas balls strung across the mantel. Each ball bore a large letter—and the whole spelled out "MERRY CHRISTMAS." Still another featured a frosted windowpane—a home-grown Jack Frost job done with a soap spray showing Junior's finger just completing the words "MERRY XMAS" across it.

'MAKE' THE PACKAGE

Americans give more presents than they receive—they say. But it is the only conclusion a New York packaging designer got in a summary of a poll of "typical" retail store patrons.

Another conclusion was that virtually any item makes an acceptable gift, especially if it is in a good looking carton. Gift packaging often "makes" the gift, says Harry S. Lapow, who conducted the poll.

"In general the figures we tabulated were strikingly consistent," said Lapow. "Gift-givers said they gave an average of 40 to 50 gifts a year—not including the casual cigar or the gratuity. That adds up to four to five billion gifts a year, or more than 12 million every day, including Sundays."

One unhappy respondent gave testimony, Lapow said, that he gives about 60 gifts a year—but receives only two.

Building A Resource

White pine seeds (inset) were being planted at Higgins Lake state nursery this fall in a new, more compact fashion. This planting machine has been rebuilt to allow heavier planting in each seedbed. The growing need for more trees in Michigan stimulated the increased planting program. These seeds will produce young trees, ready for transplanting, in about two years.

Helpful Hints for the Holidays

Cocoa puffs are another child's favorite. Combine 4 cups fine vanilla wafer crumbs, 3/4 cup cocoa and 1/4 cup light corn syrup. Add the Yule with four hymns representing the four corners of the world.

Even if you run short of holiday time, be sure to use the kind of pan sugar and chill. This recipe makes suggested on your commercial cake mix labels if you want good results with your cake. It will be what that company has found to give best results with its recipe.

Spiced crabapples are especially tasty when baked for a few minutes and served hot. Sprinkle with a little sugar, and then slip them under the broiler. Use on a ring of parsley surrounding the turkey.

Coconut marshmallows are fun to make. Just dip the marshmallows in slightly beaten egg white and roll them in shredded coconut. This is especially pretty at Christmas time if you tint the coconut red or green.

Fill baked Rome Beauty apples with hot spiced cranberry sauce for breakfast on Christmas Day.

Fruit-filled cookies will not break and crumble so easily as other types when mailed in Christmas boxes.

You can move your holiday centerpiece from table to mantel to buffet to add variety to the more "permanent" decorations.

Use a turkey-shaped cookie cutter to make a jellied cranberry sauce cut-out to garnish a bowl of Waldorf salad.

What is thought to be the first electrically lighted Christmas tree was hung in 1896 in the lobby of San Francisco's Palace hotel. It had 500 lights.

When buying kitchen equipment for gifts, see that it is strongly constructed, well balanced and has firmly attached handles.

Hostess Gifts High on Christmas Shopper List

Desirable gifts for holiday hostesses place high on the lists of all Christmas shoppers, and the cue for these gifts is taken from the hostesses themselves.

Because she loves to entertain, the hostess will greet with glee gifts to use when she welcomes guests. Fruit and cheese knives, guest towels, canape trays and glassware are some of the many possibilities.

For the guest who wants his gift to serve both as hostess gift and regular Christmas present, a look at the more substantial entertainment items is in order. Recommended as a very special gift to the hostess who likes to entertain with gracious formality is a centerpiece with candleholders of milk glass.

This will add charm and elegance to any dinner, especially around Christmas. And what could be more appropriate for formal entertaining—and for a gift—than a lace tablecloth in white or ivory.

For the hostess who enjoys entertaining informally, a portable barbecue or a silver chafing dish would make an ideal extra-special gift.

Holiday Centerpieces Easy, Fun to Arrange

A little bit of imagination and work can transpose common articles into elaborate and effective holiday centerpieces.

Try setting up a mound of stars with white plastic foam blocks. Then set tall red candles on each step and insert sprigs of holly or pine in the base for extra trimming.

Desserts can be as decorative as your centerpiece. Make white snowball cakes with a small red candle set in each one, and place them on a holly tray.

Individual place decorations are easy and fun to make. Cut out cardboard stars and glue a 3/8-inch strip of cardboard around the star outline. Paint or cover them with foil. Set candle in the middle of each star and fill the rest with peppermint mints or tiny metallic balls or similar things.

Freedom is a gift from the past but it is not at all certain that it will be a legacy to the future.

CALENDAR—

Monday, December 3—Tractor maintenance clinic for 4-H Club leaders.

Each year Standard Oil Company, in cooperation with our 4-H Club department, sponsors a leaders' training clinic in tractor maintenance. Leonard Robinson and Earl Daugherty plan to attend.

We received a copy of a very nice letter Joyce Coates wrote to Sears Roebuck Foundation for its sponsoring a helping hand to the Friendship 4-H Club. As you recall, Joyce was one of the delegates to that three-day affair.

We were also happy to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Biggs, Mrs. Philip Watts and Mrs. Roy Coates are lending a helping hand to the Friendship 4-H Club. They are getting underway with Mr. Biggs assisting with gun safety and still other activities to be lined up.

Our Iosco County Farm Bureau at its annual meeting went on record approving the sponsoring of a 4-H Club in their respective communities. The Grant Farm Bureau Group is turning those words into action. Note that leaders are all members of that group.

Another community 4-H Club loaded with activity is the Reno Topnotchers' group. We just received this word from their secretary, Diane VanAllen:

"The Reno Topnotchers cooking classes are more than half way through their cooking project. We have finished our salads and are going on to casseroles. Some of the boys have finished their cookies."

"The second year class got together Thanksgiving morning and made a relish plate for each family's Thanksgiving dinner."

Can we hear from other 4-H Club secretaries, too?

POPULATION
Total population of the United States last July 1 was 168,091,000—made up of 149,823,000 whites and 18,268,000 non-whites. The median age of the population has declined slightly from 30.2 years to 29.9 years in mid-1956, due to the recent high birth rate level. This is the first decline in the median age since 1800, the census bureau reported.

Plans Made for VFW Children's Christmas Party

Final plans for the VFW Auxiliary children's party were made at the regular meeting Monday night. The party is to be held Sunday afternoon, December 16, at the VFW Hall in Tawas City. There will be gifts of candy and lunch for each child. The auxiliary will hold its Christmas party, exchange of gifts and social hour on Thursday, December 20. Secret pals will also be revealed. A pot-luck supper will be served at 6:30. Ruth Gauthier is general chairman. Members are urged to attend.

ALEXANDER COOLEY
Alexander Cooley died suddenly of a heart attack last Wednesday morning, November 21. The body was taken to the Moffatt Funeral Home and funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Church. The Rev. Robert Nelson officiated. Burial was in Tawas City Cemetery. Mr. Cooley was born in Finland September 10, 1878, and was 78 years old. He came to the United States when 14 years of age and had been a resident of this community nearly 65 years. He had been employed for many years by the United States Gypsum Company and of late years by the City of East Tawas. He was married to Miss Marie Furst of Alabaster on June 28, 1907, and they have since resided in East Tawas. Surviving are his widow of East Tawas and a niece, Mrs. Helen Cooley Ulman of Tawas City, who had resided with the Cooleys since a young girl. Mr. Cooley was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church and served on the church board for many years.

CHRISTMAS THROUGH THE YEARS

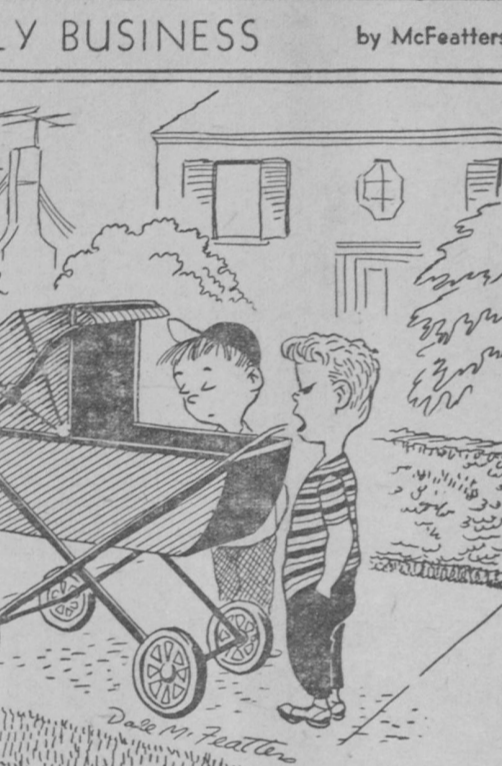

HEART SURGERY—Beth Chu, perit 11-year-old Chinese girl who has been invalid since birth, arrived at the Travis Air Force Base in California with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Chu, enroute to Houston, Texas, where she will undergo a delicate heart operation at Baylor Medical Center. Little Beth, whose home is in Formosa, will undergo an "open duct" operation to repair a congenital heart condition.

HOLIDAY NOTE... Even in whiskers and costume, this Santa would give himself away with the first note. He's Gordon McRae, popular baritone, probably dressed to play Santa for the three children in his household.

THE BRIDE

CHRISTMAS THROUGH THE YEARS

Christmas was first observed in England around A.D. 521, during the reign of King Arthur. Observance of the holiday (as well as that of Easter) was forbidden when the Puritans conquered in 1642. They passed an act in Parliament forbidding the celebration of both holidays and it was not until the Restoration of Charles II that these Christian practices again became prevalent in England. Most historians credit Charles Dickens' immortal "Christmas Carol" as being perhaps the most effective force behind England's return to the observance of Christmas. Celebrating Christmas was at one time forbidden on American shores. In 1659, the general court of Massachusetts Bay colon-passed a law stipulating a fine of five shillings for anyone "found observing any such day as Christmas, or the like, either by forbearing labor, feasting or any other way, as a festival." Almost thirty years later, the first "legal" Christmas was observed in America when Gov. Andros conducted services in the town hall of Boston. Many of our modern Christmas customs resulted from early efforts to transform major pagan customs under Christian influence. In the eighth century, St. Boniface an English missionary to Germany, persuaded his converts to substitute a green fir tree for their sacred oak and to adorn the green tree in a way that would pay tribute to the Christ Child.

SPECIAL MEETING ON MAKING GIFTS FROM STYROFOAM

The many wonders of styrofoam will shape into Christmas tree ornaments at a special meeting of the Tawas Homemakers Home Demonstration Group. Mrs. Richard Jennings will hostess the "Santa Workshop" in the basement of the Episcopal Church Wednesday, December 5, at 7:30.

In order to work successfully with styrofoam, members should plan to bring the following: Cutting board, sharp knife, straight pins, glue and pencil. To add to the imagination of decorating your ornaments, glitter and silver foil are just a few that could be added to your materials.

At the Christmas gift making meeting, gold foil angels and a holiday paper covered cardboard candle were only two of the many items made. There were recipes for goodies and directions for dolls, easy knit slippers for children, hobby horses and chicken wire crafts, to name a few.

Mrs. Earl Davis was a special guest and among new members were Mrs. Howard Adams, Mrs. Richard Bertsch, Mrs. Joseph Daly and Mrs. William McIntosh.

A classified ad will sell it.

In the Circuit Court for the County of Iosco. IN CHANCERY

Andrew W. Anschuetz and Esther Anschuetz, his wife, Plaintiffs, vs. Michael Murphy, James H. Watson, John Ravan, and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, Defendants.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION At a session of said court held at the courthouse in the City of Tawas City, in said county on the 17th day of October, A. D. 1956.

Present: Honorable Herman Dehne, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in said cause and the affidavit of H. Read Smith attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above entitled cause, and;

After diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside if living, and if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry;

On motion of H. Read Smith, attorney for plaintiffs, it is ORDERED that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that within twenty days plaintiffs cause a copy of this ORDER to be published in The Tawas Herald, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, such publication to be continued therein in once in each week for six weeks in succession.

Herman Dehne, Circuit Judge Countersigned: Margaret Lansky, Clerk of Circuit Court.

Take notice that this suit, in which the foregoing order was duly made, involves and is brought to quiet title to the following described property piece or parcel of land situated and being in the County of Iosco and State of Michigan, described as follows, to wit:

Christmas Ornaments May Stain Carpets

Christmas crepe paper and New Year's confetti can permanently stain rugs and carpets.

Party papers are colored with a wide range of cheap dyes. When the paper becomes wet, the dyes run badly. The dyes will transfer permanently to textiles. If crepe paper and confetti accidentally get wet, keep them off rugs and carpets.

Should a rug become marked with a paper stain, immediate first-aid is necessary. Mix a teaspoonful of neutral soapless detergent in one-half pint of lukewarm water.

Apply the detergent solution directly to the stain a few drops at a time. Use an eye dropper. Sponge the stained area with clean, white, unstarched cloth or cleansing tissue. This will blot up moisture. Begin at outer edge of stain and work in. Repeat if necessary.

Finish by absorbing any remaining moisture with a clean, damp cloth. Complete absorption is important.

Embroidered or printed Irish linens add glamor to kitchen bedroom or bath, in the form of pillow cases, mat sets, kitchen towels and tablecloths.

With the strong revival of interest in lace, the gift choice could be lace curtains for the living room, in a modern or traditional design. Then there are elegant lace tablecloths.

Practically combines with a heirloom look in synthetic-fiber laces. One suggestion is an Italian-type lace tablecloth of dacron polyester fiber designed with intricate patterns that combine shadow lace and cutwork effects.

"Bridge sets" of luncheon tablecloths and napkins in cottons and rayons are available in many novel patterns, including one that features reproductions of the king, queen and jack.

NAME FIRST DONORS TO CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

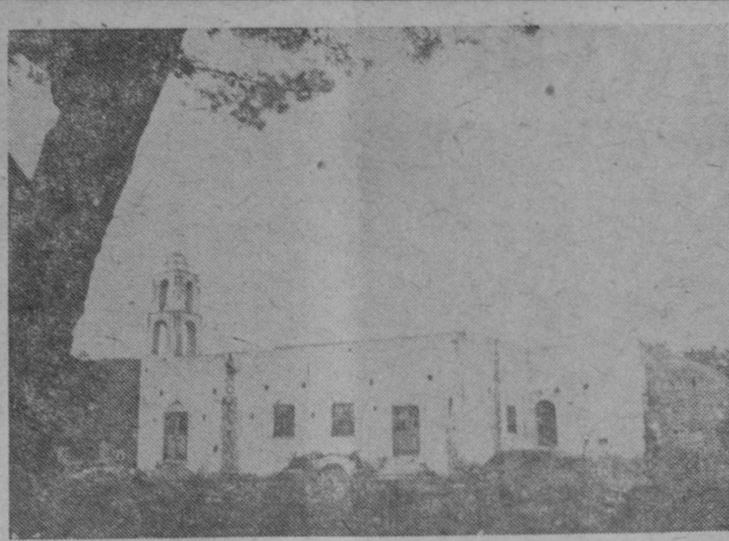

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association today announced the first 10 donors from Tawas to the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale. The first 10 donors from Tawas City are: A. E. Giddings, A. J. Sevens, Lewis Braden, Lester Kelly, Karl Fiedler, John Schreiber, H. A. Grossmeyer, Jerold McEwen, Mrs. Charles Moeller and Edward Sterling.

"These Christmas Seal dollars," said Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary of the TB association, "work year-round to fight TB. Ninety-four percent of the money raised in Michigan will remain in this state to finance work in health education, tuberculosis case finding and research."

The cost of tuberculosis is high. Dr. Albert Heustis, Michigan's health commissioner, says, "In terms of broken homes, loss of productive living, and in actual dollars and cents, tuberculosis is by far the most costly infectious disease we face today."

Michigan still averages about 100 new cases of TB each week, meaning years of dangerous illness for the victims. While the deaths caused by tuberculosis have dropped considerably in recent years, TB still kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined.

The Christmas Seals, themselves, are a message about tuberculosis with their symbolic double-barred cross which has been the battle flag of the fight against TB through the years. Each seal carries the symbol—a reminder that the fight is not yet won.

CHURCH OF ST. NICHOLAS . . . At Demre in the Southern Turkish province of Antalya is the church where the Christmas Seal was presented as bishop in the 14th century. The outer shell (above) has been placed on the ancient monument by the Turkish government to protect it from the ravages of weather.

SCHOOL NOTE

TAWAS AREA SCHOOL

The Tawas Area High School Teachers' Club has had several very important meetings since the beginning of school. One of the first meetings was held to elect officers for the year. The following people were elected: President, John Forsten; vice president, Ronald Butterfield; secretary, William Rogers. Since the club has no funds a treasurer was unnecessary.

At the last meeting held November 12 the committees for the year were appointed. These committees are the main function of the club and much work is done in them. The following committees and members were set up for the year: Curriculum—Mary McEwen, Mr. Butterfield, Lloyd Soucie, Grace Otis, Thomas Pinkowski. Citizenship or School Spirit—Mr. Pinkowski, Carol Kingsbury, Dorothy Clark, Robert Reasner. Activities—Georgina Klosowski, Richard Ferguson, Richard Stock, Mr. Rogers. Field Trips (Budget and Schedule)—Mark DeBiaugh, Howard Adams, William McIntosh, Mrs. Clark. Publicity—Mrs. McEwen. Salary—Jerold McEwen, Mr. McIntosh, Robert Deloria.

Meetings will be held twice each month. The first meeting will be a general meeting, the second a committee meeting.

Mrs. Jean Mulligan, a representative of the Mercy Central School of Nursing, Bay City Unit, met last Monday morning with about 30 high school girls who are interested in nursing as a profession. The group discussed such things as the different fields open to nurses, what high school courses are required for entrance into a nursing school and the rewards, both financial and spiritual, which nurses receive.

In vocational agriculture each student is required to have some type of project. These projects fall under three groups, which are: Production projects, improvement projects and supplementary practices.

The production project is a business venture for learning, experience and profit. The student must have complete or partial ownership and the project should be conducted for a complete production cycle.

For example: (1) Corn is a productive project. Its cycle would be from the time the ground was selected for the project until the corn has been fed or marketed. (2) A sow and litter is a productive project. Its cycle would be from the time the open or bred gilt is obtained until a litter is raised or marketed.

Improvement projects are those in which the students do not have ownership but take charge of the management, which will help to broaden their experiences in farming and develop the skills and abilities which they would not otherwise gain. It is not always possible for parents to allow ownership in all of the important farm enterprises on the home farm or in the community. This type of project gives the student the educational opportunities even though he does not have actual ownership.

Supplementary practices are activities which the student will learn to do that are not part of either his ownership or improvement projects; such as, treating seed, clipping dairy cattle, dehorning and testing soil.

will be given Saturday, December 1, in the school gymnasium. "The Skeleton Walks," is a mystery comedy.

The Hale girls' basketball team, undefeated in the past four years, will open its drive for a fifth straight year on December 5 when it meets Oscoda at Hale. With six letter-winners back from last year's squad, and a very promising group of new players, the girls in blue are hoping to repeat their performances of previous years with a straight season of victories. The eight game schedule includes meetings with Mio, Au Gres, Oscoda and Whittemore.

The Hale Junior Variety Show was held November 17 before a record crowd in the gymnasium. M.Ced by Ron Gamble of WJR, Detroit, the show featured a variety of amateur acts, five of which were selected by chief judge, E. W. Lackie of WJEM-TV, to go on television.

Five, rather than the three originally intended, of the acts were taken for the television show. Mr. Lackie, assisted in his judging by Harold Stone, also of WJEM-TV, Bay City, stated that it was difficult to choose among the acts, and that as a result, all five were taken.

The acts chosen were the Shel-lenbarger Trio of Hale, The Dominoes Orchestra of Whittemore, the Hula Trio of Glennie Janice Byrd and Bill Clement of Hale and Michael O'Berry of Pontiac.

The show, which is expected to become an annual event, was a presentation of the junior class under the sponsorship of Mrs. Frederick. It broke all attendance records at Hale for a production of this sort.

To Please Handyman, Give Him Tools

For the man who is "handy about the house" or who has a yen for making things in his home workshop, a well chosen gift of tools is quite apt to win his widest grin of appreciation on Christmas morning.

Best part of it is (from the gifting point of view) that no matter how well equipped a man's workshop may appear to be, he seldom, if ever, has all the tools and gadgets he would like. With a bit of observation, maybe a tactful query or two, and perhaps an able assist from your local dealer, the way is wide open for you to pinpoint your gift to your man's fondest desires.

If he is just "getting started," a good set of hand tools, including such basic items as hammer, saw, bit brace, plane, hand drill, level, etc., will be very much in order. Many manufacturers have assembled these sets in rugged metal chests. Others provide a pegboard that designates a space for every tool.

If he is well fixed with hand tools, and is beginning to get that "power tool" gleam in his eye, you could not do better than to gift him with a portable quarter-inch electric drill. This versatile tool comes with attachments that do a wide variety of useful jobs from boring holes in wood or metal to polishing the family car. Other popular "power" tools are the router and saw.

If he is really serious about his home workshop, he will not consider it complete until he has one of stationary combination power units that function as drill, lathe, saw and sander.

Individual casseroles or carafes, ice buckets, coasters, cocktail napkin holders—the range of gifts is wide and offers something to suit every purse and please every hostess.

WHITE HOUSE TREES

President Theodore Roosevelt, an ardent conservationist, once disapproved of Christmas trees and for several years forbade any being brought into the White House.

But one year his sons, Archie and Quentin, smuggled one in and set it up in Archie's room. After the discovery, Gifford Pinchot, a great forester and conservationist, soothed T. R. by explaining that supervised and careful harvesting of Christmas trees — as thinnings — was good for the forests.

Choose Holiday Tree Wisely if You Hope To Transplant Later

Are you buying this year's Christmas tree with the idea of planting it on the home grounds after the holidays?

If so, be sure that you locate it properly. Chances are your earth balled and burlapped evergreens will have to suffer through the excessive heat of your home for a week or ten days. If it survives this hurdle there is still the problem of selecting a sunny, well-drained site where it won't drown before spring.

Poor planting sites plus mid-winter planting are certain to cause a high mortality rate among these double-duty trees.

Sandy or gravelly soils drain naturally and present no special problem. Planting in heavy clay is another matter and may require the installation of drainage tiles.

Don't be alarmed if your living tree sheds some of its needles indoors. Go ahead and plant it anyway. Ensconced on a suitable site the evergreen probably will begin sporting new greenery next growing season. Even if the tree looks a bit skeletonized in early spring have patience. Don't remove it! Give it a chance to recuperate from its indoors ordeal and the shock of transplanting. It will probably come through with the desired needles.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

IN PAST NINE YEARS ANDERSON COACH PRODUCED 11,200 TRAILERS

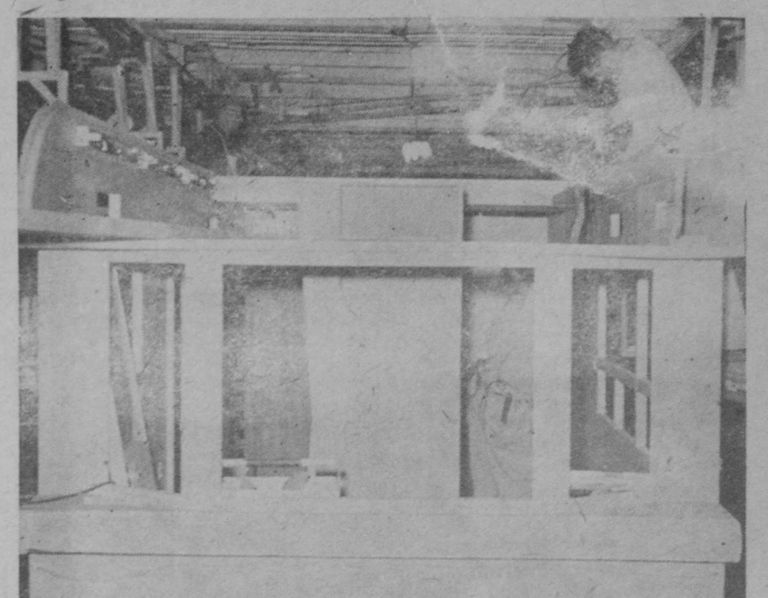

HOT SPARKS ARE FLYING as the frame for another Anderson is welded prior to being bolted to the wheel assembly as yet to be installed.—Tawas Herald Photos.

A FIRM FOUNDATION for the coach is assured by the use of this giant dielectric machine. It generates 80 tons of pressure on a four-foot section of floor being bonded.

PRE-FABRICATED PARTS for the interior of the coach are produced on saws like the one shown above, in the wood working department. Precision jigs are used for uniformity.

WITH SIDEWALLS IN PLACE, workmen prepare to install the roof. Meanwhile, other workmen are wiring the interior of the coach along with installation of refrigerator and other items.

"America's Finest Mobile Homes"—these four words which proudly emblazon the windows of each Anderson Coach as it leaves its "birthplace," can serve as a reminder of the success story of another Isosco County industry—Anderson Coach Company of East Tawas.

Since 1947, more than 11,200 mobile homes have rolled off the production line at Anderson Coach. This would mean a yearly average of more than 1,200 coaches, quite a record in comparison with the first year's production of 120. The coaches have been delivered all over the United States, Canada and even Alaska.

The firm has paid out more than $5,000,000 in wages. From a force which totaled only 25 employees in that second year of the post-war era, it presently has a weekly payroll of more than $19,000 going to 152 men and women. Eighteen of the original 25 employees have remained with the organization.

The company was organized as a partnership in July 1947 by Rex Anderson, Charles Schaldenbrand, and Ray Thompson. Re-organized as a corporation in 1948, Mr. Anderson withdrew in 1949 and in 1953 Mr. Schaldenbrand sold out his interest. Mr. Thompson was killed in an automobile accident in February 1954.

In 1948 the plant was moved into a new building on US-23 in East Tawas. As production steadily increased, the company kept pace with others in the highly competitive mobile home field. Before 1948 ended Anderson Coach incorporated the unique dielectric process in its production line.

The Huron Sales Company was organized in 1951 to handle distribution and sales of all Anderson Coaches. Representatives of its family of 135 dealers are located in all sections of the United States and Western Canada.

Because of the necessity of building larger coaches and in order to increase production, during 1952 the company constructed a new paint shop, along with a new final finish building and furniture warehouse, located two miles north of East Tawas.

Present officers of the company are: J. E. Jensen, president and general manager; Blaine Christensen and Charles McCormick, vice presidents; James Guest, treasurer, and Herbert Hertzler, secretary.

Explaining the trend and transition in the mobile home industry during the past nine years, Mr. Jensen recalls that a 23-foot coach was considered "large" in the early days. Today the smallest trailer produced by Anderson is 36 feet, going up to as long as 48 feet, both in eight and 10-foot wide models.

"The transition in mobile homes can be seen in both exterior and interior," stated Mr. Jensen. "The new coaches now have house-type bathrooms, modern kitchens (even to the point of having built-in ovens), thermal pane windows, carpeting on floors, two and three bedrooms, as well as single bedrooms.

"The coach of today has much more luxurious furnishings and furniture," said Mr. Jensen. "Instead of being primarily used for travel or temporary housing, they are now being sold for permanent housing, especially to military personnel, workers who find it necessary to move from one location to another and retired people.

"We build, without a doubt, one of the outstanding coaches in the industry," stated Mr. Jensen. "We are proud of the mobile homes which we build and we are proud of the men and women who build them."

To give Herald readers a clearer idea of production methods employed by Anderson Coach in the production of "America's Finest Mobile Home," an imaginary tour follows, watching construction of a coach as it moves along the production line.

A firm foundation is the key to the durability and sturdiness of any home, conventional or mobile. At Anderson, this is achieved by

Calendar—
Friday, December 7—Health meeting on "Brucellosis Threat," 7:30 p. m., Grant Township Hall.

A threat to human health, cause of a million dollar annual loss to Michigan farmers—Brucellosis must go! That decision by the Michigan Department of Agriculture has resulted in stepping up the Brucellosis eradication program, and 1960 is the goal set for having the dread disease wiped out.

George Parsons, Michigan State University dairy specialist, further explains, "Our aim is to kill every Bang's bug in Michigan and we want well informed families in Isosco County to help accomplish this goal."

To be well informed our Isosco families need to learn what the dangers are, how to keep family members safe and what they can do to help remove the dangers. As a start toward doing our share of eradication by 1960 and Isosco County has more eradication to be done than some counties, leaders of home demonstration groups, Granges and Farm Bureau groups will meet together at Grant Township Hall on Friday, December 7, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Each organization is invited to send at least one couple to the training school. These couples will conduct discussions in their own local organization meetings during December and/or January.

Present to explain the seriousness of this disease, its nature and the eradication method planned for Isosco County and the state will be Mr. Parsons and Dr. Glen W. Reed, Michigan State University veterinarian. They will have take-back packets of materials and a discussion outline to help with local meetings.

WEDDINGS

DAVIDSON-WAMPLER

The Oscoda Methodist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, November 21, when Miss Sharon Wampler, daughter of Mrs. Rosa Sweeney of Oscoda, became the bride of Wilfred Davidson of East Tawas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson. The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fennell before 200 guests at 6 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Burton Newberry of Detroit, was gowned in white lace over satin styled with short sleeves and bolero effect. Her fingertip veil was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried white roses and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Wood of Detroit, wore a bluish pink nylon gown over net with matching headpiece and her bouquet was of bronze chrysanthemums.

The flower girl was Lyn Sweeney, sister of the bride. Her gown was pink and white nylon and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Patrick Sweeney, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

William Nelem of East Tawas was best man and ushers were George Allen Davidson of Detroit, brother of the groom, and Ronald Johnson of East Tawas.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors. The bride's table was decorated with white candles, chrysanthemums and a tiered wedding cake topped with bride and groom.

The bride's mother wore a navy gown with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Davidson chose a white and blue gown with white accessories and her corsage was fashioned of yellow rosebuds.

The couple left on a wedding trip to points in Michigan and Canada. On their return they will reside in East Tawas. The groom is employed by the Feather-Lite Company.

FICA-CADORETTE

Wedding vows were exchanged last Saturday evening in Emanuel Lutheran Church between Beverly Cadorette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cadorette Sr., and James David Fica, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fica of Turner.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue chrysanthemum taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of red roses mixed with white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress complemented by a corsage of pink chrysanthemums.

The bride's cousin, Floyd Krumm, was best man.

After the service the "Lord's Prayer" was sung by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Richard Lonsbury.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with 75 guests attending.

The couple will reside at 229 Sixth Avenue, Tawas City.

PLENTIFUL SELECTION OF BRIGHT LINENS THIS YEAR

For everyone who dreams of a colorful Christmas, Santa and his helpers have a plentiful selection of linens for bedroom, kitchen, dining room and bath. Color-bright sheets, towels, bedspreads and tablecloths vie with the traditional white Christmas gifts and add to the decor of the home as well as increasing the linen supply.

Comforters and blankets are giftworthy in solid colors or gala patterns—stripes and dainty florals show up importantly in this season's choice of bedcoverings.

For gifts that bring easy care as well as luxury and good looks, there are many selections among the miracle-fiber fabrics. New this year are fitted sheets in striped nylon tulle, in a rainbow of colors—blue, pink, green or yellow against white. Top sheets come in coordinated solid colors.

Warm woolen blankets present an array of decorator colors, and often have the added advantage of moth-proofing. And for very important presents, there are electric blankets in twin or full size, with single or dual controls.

WHAT GIFTS BRING pleasure every day of the year, make life easier, and are not likely to be duplicated? Additional telephones in color, of course, a welcome solution to the "what to give" problem. Bedroom phones are wonderful for Mother. Dad would get a real kick out of a telephone for his den or basement workshop. And teen-agers think a phone in their own room is tops. Remember, Christmas will be here before you know it—a perfect time for giving gift telephones.

"LET'S GET THE FAMILY TOGETHER if the weather's good." That "if" used to be a mighty big one. But now you can get the family together no matter what the weather or how far apart all of you live. A Conference Call will do it. You just give the operator the names and addresses or telephone numbers of the members of your family. She'll get them all on the line at the same time whenever you want. Call the Long Distance operator soon and have her arrange a Conference Call. It'll be fun.

AWARD OF HONOR

PERHAPS YOU'VE NEVER thought of it as such, but a Telephone Company job ranks as about the safest job in the United States, according to the National Safety Council. The Council has given the Bell Telephone Companies its highest safety award four times in the last five years. Observance of safety practices and constant inspection of tools and buildings to eliminate accident hazards play a big part in helping us give you good, dependable telephone service.

A part of the Christmas suggestion display will be continued in my office and you are invited to stop and see it, copy patterns or get instruction sheets. The concrete room display has to be removed because of other meetings planned.

Christmas suggestions was the lesson topic presented by Mrs. Earl Irish and Mrs. Orville Lyke for Esmond Road Home Demonstration Group. Mrs. Charles Attwell showed these new group members some gift ideas from previous lessons. The women made hobby horses, wash cloth dolls and copied patterns.

Mrs. Albert Lauer visited the group and explained some textile painting she has done. Next meeting will be a textile painting workshop at the home of Mrs. John Morrison on December 10.

Hostess for the November 9 meeting was Mrs. Warner Emmons Sr. It was attended by Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Attwell Sr., Mrs. Lyke, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Irish, Mrs. Alvin Reimer and visitors, Mrs. Warner Emmons Jr., Mrs. Luer, Mrs. Rod Heilman and Mrs. Edith Nunn.

Acquired a new Isosco County Plat Book yet? Better get one soon.

Hale Home Demonstration Group has an eye on replenishing the treasury and providing some lucky child with a beautiful doll as a gift for Christmas. They have purchased the doll and each group member is making a garment to complete a wardrobe for it. A drawing will be made to determine the winner just prior to Christmas.

CRIMP-SHARROW

Miss Helen A. Sharrow of Whittemore was wed to Cpl. Robert E. Crimp September 1 in Fairfield, California. Miss Sharrow is the sister of Mrs. Marie Olisten and worked at the Tawas Hospital as nurse's aide. They are now residing at Travis Air Force Base and expect to visit Michigan soon.

Smart Closet Accessories Make 'Different' Gifts

Looking for Christmas gifts that are a little bit "different," practical, yet glamorous? Smart new closet accessories will fill the bill on all counts.

If you want to splurge on a gift for someone "special," you can get a matched ensemble of wardrobe bags and boxes with coordinating trim for shelves.

Good Citizens, These Railroads

OF ALL forms of transportation only the railroads and the pipelines fully pay their way.

The railroads build and maintain their own roadways and terminal facilities.

They have spent millions in the construction of bridges to meet the requirements of waterway navigation, used—without charge—by competing barge lines.

Untold millions of their taxes have gone into the construction and maintenance of highways used by their competitors, the trucks and busses.

They have repaid the Federal Government many times over in reduced passenger, freight and mail rates for the land grants of the 1850s-1860s.

They have repaid practically all loans from the Government and full interest on such loans and those from private investors.

And hundreds of millions of their taxes help support federal, state and local governments, help maintain military establishments and schools, and all other governmental activities.

PAID OUT MORE THAN 5 MILLION DOLLARS IN WAGES

ATTRACTIVE FORMICA tops for kitchen cabinets are shown being clamped together after receiving an application of bonding agent. Later they will be bonded in a dielectric machine.

THE WAREHOUSE AT THE final finish department is stocked with sinks, windows, bathroom fixtures and the like. Here, an automatic washing machine is being readied for installation.

AFTER LEAVING THE paint shop the coach is fitted with large picture windows in the front, while carpenters, electricians and plumbers are busy finishing work on the interior and exterior.

wood bonding quality material by the dielectric process, a unique method used in the many stages of construction. After precision cut two by six spruce floor framing members have been assembled in enormous floor jigs, heat ducts assembled, a bonding agent is spread over each surface that will come in contact with the floor. One-half inch plywood is then laid over the entire framework. The floor assembly is then shifted to the massive dielectric wood bonder which will fuse it into one rigid unit. This machine exerts 80 tons of pressure on the section of floor being bonded, generating 28,000 watts of radio frequency power which causes the bonding agent under it to set permanently in about four minutes. Completed in four-foot increments, the entire floor is fused much like a weld in metal, making a bond stronger than the wood members themselves. Turned over, fibreglas insulation is laid into the open side of the floor, then the structure is ready for another application of the bonding agent and plywood and makes its second trip through the giant bonder.

To this floor is bolted a frame, together with heavy duty axles and wheel assembly, brake and light system and park service connections. The entire body is sprayed with automobile undercoating. The final operation in this department is application of vinyl floor tile. The entire floor is covered with heavy duty paper to protect it through the remainder of the production line. While the floor and frame were being readied, the sidewall department was building the correct sidewalls for this specific coach. When the sidewalls are ready for installation they are set on a two by four floor plate, which has been bonded to the floor and firmly bolted to the frame outriggers. At this point the electricians start wiring. Inside the walls, workmen move in the refrigerator, prefabricated wardrobes, cabinets and partitions. Plumbers install hose, type copper and brass fittings. Before completion in this department, the outside of the walls are insulated with fibreglas. Flanking the main assembly line are the stations where cabinet construction is carried out. Here room partitions, wardrobes, cove cabinets, drawers, bathroom and sink cabinets and the like are prefabricated. Wherever possible, wood bonding by the dielectric process is used, resulting in beautiful flush cabinet work with no nails or screens showing, producing attractive cabinets that will not warp. Moving along the assembly line, the structure receives its rigid roof, again using the dielectric wood bonding process to fuse roof boards and roof panels. Fibreglas insulation is then applied to form a continuous vapor barrier along the entire length. This mobile home's answer to weather is its all aluminum skin, securely fastened to the frame and utilizing a special sealing tape wherever screws or drive nails are used and wherever metal overlaps metal. By the time all sheet metal is in place, the interior of the Anderson is becoming complete, too. The windows are boarded up and the refrigerator and other items sealed with paper pending its trip to the paint shop. The trip, itself, serves a useful purpose, for on it the brakes and running lights are checked. In the new paint shop, modern in every respect, each trailer receives its colorful and durable paint job. Applied by the hot spray process, as the paint flows from the spray gun at 140 degrees a much thicker coat is deposited than if it were cold because a large proportion of thinning agents is not required. From the paint shop the coach goes to the final finish department. Here workmen swarm around it, including electricians, plumbers, carpenters, heating and refrigeration men. Their job is to install the rest of the items that will make this a home. A steady procession of stoves, furnaces, sinks, windows, bathroom fixtures, fans, light fixtures and plumbing fixtures go from the docks along side the coach and become a part of it. With everything installed, electrical outlets are checked, the plumbing system water-tested, all appliances checked to see that they are in working order. The coach then moves to the furniture department where workmen install the dimette set, beds, chairs and studio couch which were specifically ordered for it. Drapes and other items ordered are installed. This being the final stop at the plant before going on the road, everything is secured inside the coach for travel. Released by the sales department, another Anderson mobile home is on the road.

That 'Extra Little Thing' Puts a Thrill in Gifting

The old observation that "it is the little things that count" might well have been written about the small surprises that can go into a Christmas stocking. No matter how many big presents are under the tree there is always a special thrill for the small fry digging down to find out what is behind those bulges. The adults in the family will also have fun with their Christmas stockings if the small gifts are selected with thought.

For the sports-minded youngster there might be a box of flies, hooks, a baseball or tennis balls. Little sister's homemaking instincts might be gratified with a small iron that works, miniature pots and pans in which she could cook, a sewing kits and similar items.

Mom could make the children's Christmas stockings her allies for clean teeth with toothbrushes marked with the youngsters' names and tubes of toothpaste in their favorite flavor.

If dad likes to putter around the house his stockings might contain a box of nails, fold-up metal tubes of adhesive and various types of repair materials now neatly packaged in these containers. For his entertainment bar there are all sorts of small gadgets which would be welcome—amusing bottle openers, muddlers, coasters with gay decorations and decorative bottle tops.

For the knitters and sewers in the family such things as decorative corks to safeguard a row of stitches, various size knitting needles, an assortment of threads, small scissors and tapes in decorative holders should be welcome.

Grooming items would undoubtedly be acceptable to mom and big sister—lipsticks in jeweled cases, matching combs, vanity cases, eyelash kits with tiny brush and mascara in an easy-to-use tube.

If it is good others want to know about it.

Sixteen southern states want to know more about Michigan's well planned and successful Brucellosis eradication program.

George Parsons, Michigan State University extension dairyman and a leader in the campaign to stamp out Brucellosis, will outline Michigan's program to the third annual Brucellosis Conference of the South. The conference meets in two sections, one at Atlanta, Georgia, and the other later at Little Rock, Arkansas.

Parsons will act as a representative of the dairy and beef cattle groups that set up Michigan's eradication program in 1954. The actual eradication work began in 1955 and should free the state from Brucellosis by 1960.

Michigan's program is divided into two phases: Educational and regulatory. Parsons will explain the educational work.

The first job to be done in eradicating Brucellosis from Isosco County is to identify the suspicious herds that may be carrying the dangerous Brucella germ.

That means a milk-ring test with samples taken from the farm or the milk receiving station which has and still is being done, and blood testing our beef breeding herds.

Because the milk-ring test misses dry cows, heifers and bulls, it must be repeated every six months. If a dairy herd seems to be infected with Brucellosis, it must be blood tested. All beef breeding herds will have been blood tested in Isosco County by

March 1, 1957, or before. When the blood test reveals infection, the entire herd is quarantined to prevent spread of the disease.

Complete eradication of Bang's disease in Michigan dairy and beef herds by 1960 is the goal of the state's Brucellosis eradication program, according to Mr. Parsons of the dairy department at Michigan State University.

About 98 percent of all Michigan cattle are now free of the disease.

Parsons warns against relaxing when the disease is almost but not quite licked. He emphasizes that a few infected herds can spread the disease to many others.

At present all countries in the Upper Peninsula and Crawford County is the northern Lower Peninsula are certified. A county may be certified when less than one percent of its cattle and five percent of its herds have the disease.

Parsons reports that most of the northern half of the Lower Peninsula will be eligible for county certification by spring of 1957. He hopes that all counties in the state will be certified by 1958.

Under average laying house management, many of the eggs become dirty before they are gathered from the nests.

In a study made by L. E. Dawson, Michigan State University poultry researcher, less than half of the eggs gathered on a large commercial farm were clean enough for practical purposes.

Proper nest litter management was an important method of reducing the number of dirty eggs, Dawson found. Generally, keeping adequate litter in the nest, replacing soiled litter were even more important than was the specific type of litter used.

When whole or chopped straw or excelsior pads are used for nest litter, the material should be changed often or added to frequently. Because of the time needed to do this, and the total amount used, these materials are rather expensive.

Materials like cane pulp, crushed corn cobs, shaving or similar commercial litter do not need to be changed as often and are cheaper as a result. But in cases where nests are not too tightly constructed, excelsior pads or straw are best.

With well constructed nests, cane pulp, shavings, corn cobs and similar materials are the most efficient and lowest in cost.

If you do not take a few precautions now, someone else may be working in your orchard after you leave it for the winter.

Mice and other rodents can slip in under the cover of mulch and gnaw your trees, damaging and even killing them.

Strychnine treated oats will control these rodents very effectively if they are placed in runways or concentration stations, according to Paul Larsen, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State University.

One handy way to make these concentration stations is to place the straw bales that you plan to use for mulch next spring near the trees and then put the poisoned oats under them.

If you can find the runways of the mice, poisoned oats in them will also help put an end to many of the troubles from these bothersome little rodents.

If provisions are not made for keeping orchards free of mice, you may be faced with the alternative of expensive bridge grafting or dead trees in the spring.

Office callers this week were: Albert Cholger, Phillip Galavage, Val Fallu, Ronald Grappot, Beulah Pringle, Gordon Hatch, William Engle, Ernest Bellen, the Rev. Richard Jennings and Arthur Aulrich.

A sturdy watch cannot only become a youngster's proudest possession, but can provide a day-long year-round lesson in punctuality, as well as respect for personal property.

May Not Think It's Funny If They Are Caught

Two hub caps were stolen from the East Tawas Police Department's patrol car Sunday night while it was parked near the La-Berge gasoline station. Officer George Duff was away from the car for a few minutes and when he returned he discovered the theft. It was no joke as far as the police were concerned and Officer Duff said, "I'd like to get my hands on whomever is responsible."

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wells and family at LaGrange, Illinois. Mrs. Wells is the former Kathleen Davis, daughter of Mrs. Lydia B. Mrs. Stella Campbell of Gaylord, Archie McCardell and son of Hazel Park spent the week-end with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Rose Watts. Mrs. Elizabeth Tuttle visited relatives in Greenville over the week-end. Mrs. Ira Horton accompanied her and visited Mrs. Edna Worden Shaw at Fenwick. The monthly family night pot-luck supper will be held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in memorial hall at the Tawas City Methodist Church. A program has been planned for the social hour following the supper.

An agenda is often a device to prevent unexpected subjects from coming up for discussion.

THE TREE Part of the joy in preparing for Christmas centers around the selection of a tree. These young residents of New York City are deciding between a long and a short pine for their home.

Eugene Fernetto, who is in service in the United States Navy, arrived by plane from California Monday due to the death of his father, Harry E. Fernetto, on Sunday. The Rev. Robert Nelson was in Detroit the fore part of the week to assist in the dedication of the new parish educational building of the Immanuel Lutheran Church. The Past Noble Grands of Irene Rebekah Lodge will hold their annual Christmas banquet at Wickert's Restaurant next week, Thursday evening at 6:30. A Christmas party with exchange of gifts will follow the dinner at the home of Mrs. Pearl Wickert. P. G. Wahlstrom, former pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, was elected chairman of the Bay City YMCA Industrial Management Club at a meeting of 17 representatives of Bay City industry recently. Iosco Chapter, OES, will hold its annual Christmas party with exchange of gifts next week, Friday evening at the regular meeting. A pot-luck dinner for families will precede the meeting at 6:30. Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Miller returned November 21 after an eight-day vacation trip in central Florida. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coyle of Pontiac. Mrs. Coyle is Mrs. Miller's cousin. Mrs. Helen Shupe of Detroit and Mrs. Marcella Schroeder of Lake Orion were in East Tawas for the funeral of their mother, Mrs. George Sase. Careful Drivers Careful drivers never know when they save their own lives.

CHARLOTTE BELLE HAMELL

Mrs. Charlotte Belle Hamell of East Tawas died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Allie Cuny, in East Tawas Tuesday morning, November 27, after several months illness. The body was taken to the Moffatt Funeral Home and services will be held Thursday afternoon (today) at 2 o'clock at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in Tawas City. Elder George Lacke of Standish will officiate and burial will be in the Tawas City Cemetery. Mrs. Hamell was the former Miss Charlotte Belle Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Frank of Tawas City. She was 48 years old and was born in Tawas Township on August 14, 1908. Besides her parents she is survived by six brothers, Oakland Frank of Detroit, Emerson and Wilbur Frank of Tawas, and James Frank of East Tawas; Percé Frank of Bay City and Richard Frank, Tawas City; three sisters, Mrs. Lula Kaiser of Port Huron, Mrs. Mabel Greenwood and Mrs. Allie Cuny of East Tawas. Mrs. Hamell was a member of the Latter Day Saints Church and of the VFW Auxiliary.

East Tawas Methodist Church Met Monday for Family Dinner

Members of the East Tawas Methodist Church and families met at the church Monday evening for a family dinner followed by a program. Community singing of Christmas hymns was led by the Rev. Ralph Edwards. The program was in charge of Mrs. D. A. Evans and carried out by the church members. The worship group was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Moore and family. A Christmas reading was given by Mrs. Evans. Following the dinner Mr. Edwards led games for the group. Mrs. Helen Lader was the organizer for the program.

Porcupine--The Animal With an Ideal Existence

If there is any animal with an ideal existence, it is probably the porcupine—a slow, lazy and unworldly little character. The well-adapted porky has achieved something most of us desire—cheap housing, an unending supply of food, a built-in-bomb shelter and relatively few enemies. The outstanding characteristic of the porcupine, of course, is his coat of quills, which can number about 30,000, and vary in length from one-half inch to five inches. This defense teaches a stern lesson to any animal foolish enough to attack the porky. There are many stories of porcupines throwing their quills, but it would be a rare occurrence, according to a conservation department biologist, D. H. Jenkins. "The quills aren't thrown like spears, although there may be a loose one or two that will fly from the whipping tail," says Jenkins.

Officers learned later, when Mr. Ballier stopped at the post, that he was able to drive to Tawas after gaining consciousness. Police blamed a faulty muffler as the cause of the mishap.

MICHIGAN'S NEED FOR TREES GROWING FAST

Michigan's need for young trees is growing so fast that nurseries are having trouble keeping up with the demand. In the last two years, three Michigan Conservation Department nurseries have grown and contracted for about 38 million trees. These are used largely for reforestation work, some for Christmas tree production. Private, federal and college nurseries add heavily to this total. The demand has been heavy enough to push Michigan to national leadership in established reforestation acres. The state was the first in the nation to establish plantations on one million acres of state, federal and private lands. This mark was passed in the last year. Most of the department's three nurseries concentrate on production of native pines—red, white and jack pines making the bulk of the total production. White spruce and cedar also are grown in quantity. Higgins Lake nursery is located near Rosecommon, Wyman nursery near Manistique and Hardwood nursery near Boyne Falls. About one-third of the Hardwood nursery production includes 29 species of hardwood trees and shrubs, mostly used for game food and cover plantings on state game areas and in the southern Michigan farm habitat program. The increased need for trees is partly caused by expansion of pulp and paper industries, partly by general demands of the state's mushrooming population.

EAST TAWAS METHODIST WCS MET TUESDAY EVENING

The East Tawas Methodist WCS met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Glenn Hughes, president, in charge. Mrs. Kate Evans led devotions which were appropriate to the program theme, "The United Nations, a Good Trustee." Miss Ruby Evans was program chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. Mathew Keinholtz, Mrs. Elwyn McCall, Mrs. Orville Moore and Mrs. Erma Brunet. Talks were given dealing with countries under good trustee. The flags of the United Nations were on display. Following the program refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. William Coleman, chairman; Miss Kate Dease; Mrs. Harry Patterson, and Mrs. Joseph Dimmick.

Christmas Rose

The beautiful Christmas rose has played its part in the many legends associated with our Christmas observance. An early story tells of the young shepherd girl who wept as she watched the Wise Men on their way to the Christ Child with rich gifts when she had nothing to offer as a present. An angel appeared and asked the reason for her distress. And suddenly the ground was carpeted with shining white flowers. The shepherds gathered some of the blossoms and took them as her gift to the Christ Child. When she presented her gift, the infant smiled, and as his fingers touched the white flowers, the petals became tinged with pink. It is also believed that the Christmas rose helped popularize the custom of gift giving at Christmas time. In the days of knighthood it was custom to hang kissing rings in the great halls. The rings were decorated with mistletoe and beneath them the young knights and ladies would meet, each bringing Christmas roses to their secret love.
