After discussions with officials of other winter sports parks in the state, the committee decided to drop the proposed 25-cent per car admission fee. This plan was studied early last fall and adopted, but after further investigation it was felt that necessary operating funds could be raised through other means.

You'd never guess from the way this ness of control you have at the prices! Why not make it soon?

Hard to believe it, but this is a bottom-priced Chevrolet "One-Fifty." And it has a peppery, sweetrunning "Blue-Flame" six under the hood to make your gas stops few and far between. You'll like the "lift" and the thrift it brings you.
