

Sunrise Services to Open Iosco's Centennial Celebration

Iosco County centennial week celebration will open Sunday, June 23. During the seven-day observance of the 100th birthday of the county, special programs will be held in the various communities.

The program will open with interdenominational sunrise services at Lumbermen's Monument overlooking the fabled AuSable River. Selection of the monument as the site for the opening of centennial week was well chosen by the centennial committee, headed by Miss Edna Otis of East Tawas, for this mammoth bronze statue was dedicated to the pioneer lumbermen who first opened the then vast wilderness of Northern Michigan.

Starting at 6:30 a. m. the service will include an organ recital. Religious services will be held at 7 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Robert Neuman and the Rev. W. A. Gregory being the speakers.

On Sunday evening there will be a band concert at the East Tawas State Park at 7 o'clock.

Monday will be "Tawas City Day," honoring the county seat and oldest incorporated government of the county. Registration will take place at the county building lobby throughout the day.

Festivities will start with a banquet at the Barnes Hotel Monday night at 6 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the "Rae-Eltes," a precision drill team from Pontiac, will perform, followed by a square dance on the apron of the city hall at 9:30. Local beard and costume judging contests will be held at 10 o'clock.

Also on Monday will be the opening of the centennial exhibition of historical items collected by Walter Anschuetz of Tawas City. This will be on display at the Tawas City Park.

Pioneer exhibits will be on display in the county building in Tawas City and the community building in East Tawas. The displays will be in charge of Arthur Leitz, exhibit chairman.

The public is also invited to view the exhibit of pictures and items of historical interest collected by Joseph Barkman. This display is located at the Barkman Lumber Company office.

Tuesday's program will honor the community of Hale in Western Iosco County. Registration of visitors will take place at the community building throughout the day. A public subscription dinner will be held at 12 o'clock noon at the Glenn Staley Post, American Legion. This will be followed by harness racing at the fair grounds, with entertainment between heats. Local beard and costume contests will be held between races. A street dance will be held in the evening.

Wednesday will be "Oscoda-AuSable Day," honoring the twin communities on the AuSable River, first place in the county to be settled by white men. Registration will take place at the chamber of commerce building throughout the day.

The program there will start with a centennial canoe race down the AuSable River from Foote Lake to Oscoda. Race winners will be awarded prizes at 2:30.

In the afternoon the Detroit and Mackinac Railway will run special excursion trains from First Street, Tawas City, to Wurtsmith Air Force Base, and return. Three round trips will be made. The first train leaves Tawas City at 12:30 p. m. Fares are adults 35 cents, children 25 cents.

Open house at Wurtsmith will be from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock and visitors will be guests of Col. Thomas N. Wilson, base commander, and all air force personnel stationed there.

Program in the evening at Oscoda-AuSable will start with a band concert at 7 o'clock at the band shell, followed by local beard and costume awards at 8 o'clock.

An old timers' baseball game will be held under the lights at Furtaw Memorial Field at 8:30, followed by a baseball game between Oscoda and Wurtsmith Air Force Base at 9:30.

Thursday's festivities will honor Whittemore, with registration of visitors throughout the day at the community building.

At 2:00 p. m. there will be a children's parade along Whittemore's main street. Ruth's dance review will be held at 2:30 at the community building, followed by athletic events at 2:45.

The Babe Ruth Baseball League will play at 4:00 with Whittemore playing Hale. At 8 o'clock in the evening the Whittemore Speedway will take over the featured spot in the program with stock car racing.

Local beard and costume awards will be made at 10 o'clock.

Friday has been designated as "East Tawas Day," with registration of visitors at the community building.

Beard fishing contests will headline the morning's program, with a weighing in of catches and awards at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at 11 o'clock.

From 12 o'clock noon to 5:30, there will be a "reminiscing time" for visitors and local folks, as well, at the community building. From 5:00 to 7:00 there will be free boat rides on Tawas Bay.

Kolonichs Win Fourth Annual Tawas River Race

Steve Kolonich and his 15-year-old son, Gary, were crowned champions of the Tawas River canoe race last Sunday afternoon after winning quite easily over a field of 20 entries.

Crossing the finish line at the mouth of the Tawas River exactly 42 minutes and 55 seconds after starting from Cliff's Landing on Tawas Lake, the Kolonichs were a little more than two minutes ahead of their nearest competitors.

Coming in second were Robert Beck of Oscoda and Dwayne Brussel of Tawas City. Their time was 44 minutes, 22 seconds. In third place was Carl D. Joy of Ossineke and Jack Kent of Atlanta.

For their afternoon's effort, the Kolonichs were awarded first place money of $50, plus several merchandise prizes. Second place money of $25 went to Beck and Brussel while Joy and Kent won $15.

Merchandise prizes contributed by Tawas merchants totaling $300 were awarded the other contestants.

After crossing the finish line, the elder Kolonich said that he and his son had taken the lead a few seconds after the race started.

A veteran of many AuSable River canoe races and other major races in Michigan, Kolonich said that they had practiced on the Tawas River for about a week before the race. "Reason for this was the

Twining Boy Drowns in Farm Pond

A 14-year-old Twining youth, Robert Pehaylic, drowned in eight to 10 feet of water in Garrison Pond, one-half mile north of US-23 and a quarter mile east of M-65, Monday afternoon.

The boy was swimming with his sister and a group of other youngsters. Investigating officers said the boy apparently stepped off into deep water and was unable to swim. His sister said she saw him go under but no one was able to save him.

The body was found about 9:05 p. m. after search parties had dragged the pool for about six hours. George R. Forshoe, coroner, pronounced death due to drowning.

Assisting in the search for the body were Sheriff Edward Bessinger of Arenac County, Conservation Officer Lewis Gray and Michigan State Police officers from East Tawas.

City OK's Liquor Application of Boat

By a vote of five to one, the Tawas City Council approved an application submitted by the Western States Hotel Corporation for a Class A hotel liquor license, subject to approval of the liquor control commission.

Sherman Rosen, manager of the Western States, told members of the council that approval is expected this week from the state conservation department for the lease of submerged land on which the boat is anchored at the park dock.

The city is applying for the lease from the state, and will in turn lease the lake bottom to the resort.

The vote on the liquor license was as follows: Yes—John N. Brugger, Cecil Cable, Earl Davis, Clyde Eovil, Walter Schuhmacher; No—Howard Hatton.

Payment of a $1,500 yearly lease for use of the city park dock has not been made as yet by the resort.

Rosen told councilmen that inasmuch as the legality of using the submerged land was still undecided, the owners were holding up payment until the question was settled. Rosen assured councilmen the money would be forthcoming as soon as final word was received.

Councilman Hatton said that he thought the city had acted in good faith and that the lease money should be paid at once, holding the money in escrow until state approval was received.

Rosen said he did not think this was necessary. He said the owners had spent $125,000 locally for renovation for the ship.

In other business, the council voted to again ask the state highway department for a "stop" traffic control signal on US-23 at Mathews Street. This control has been requested many times during past years. A blinker light was erected there instead.

Councilmen said that the control light was needed only during the summer months when heavy traffic on US-23 made it dangerous

HOW OFTEN do you use a public phone? If you're like a lot of people, you're using them more and more. Especially since they're getting so convenient. Wherever you go, you're likely to find a public phone—inside drugstores and restaurants, and outside for people-on-the-go. Outdoor phone booths are lighted at night and open 24 hours every day in the year. It's a natural thing, when you're out, to use a public telephone—your "phone-away-from-home."

Farmers May Apply for Acreage Wheat Allotments

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years, 1955, 1956 and 1957, may apply for a 1958 wheat acreage allotment, according to Earl M. Partlo, chairman of the Iosco County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years the farmers must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by July 1.

Blank application forms are available at the ASC county office in the Federal Building, East Tawas, for use in filing requests for allotments.

OLD SUPERSTITION FOUND TO HAVE SOME BEARING IN TRUTH

How superstitious are you? Do you believe in all the old superstitious sayings, such as black cats and "three on a match" being bad luck. Well, many of those old sayings grew out of a sound, practical basis and that is why they have hung around. Take, for instance, the one about not walking under ladders. Common sense will tell you that things are likely to be dropped from ladders. It will also tell you that you should not be walking under a ladder if you can help it.

The same sound thinking holds true for many of the superstitions that have grown up around gardening, says John Carew of Michigan State University's horticulture department. Carew says that many of the old superstitions actually worked, but not for the reasons the ancients thought they did.

For instance, there is an old Indian superstition that corn should be planted by a person with a full stomach. The idea probably was that seed planted by a well-fed person should be off to a good start. Corn planted by expectant mothers was supposed to have even a better start. Both of these ideas could have a sound basis. Carew says that most corn is planted too deeply. A person with a full stomach or an expectant mother probably would not bend over as far as a normal person, and so would not plant the corn as deeply. Carew says that the old garden superstitions are gradually losing favor with gardeners, with one notable exception. Organic gardening is now a popular superstition that many gardeners follow to the extreme of refusing to use fertilizers. Carew says this is probably too drastic and that the best idea is to combine the two—organic gardening and fertilizers.

For many years the airplane has been helping foresters in getting to their work faster and more easily. Now the time has come when, in many cases, the forester can do his work without even going to the spot!

The key to the situation is aerial photography, according to Dean Freeland, Michigan State University forestry specialist. Through aerial photographs, a trained forester can tell what kind of trees are in a particular area, how big the trees are, the size of the stands, surface drainage conditions; and sometimes even the condition of the trees. Of course, it takes a trained eye to determine all of this just from a photograph, even magnified several times and viewed stereoscopically.

Not all jobs can be done with photographs. There are a number of things foresters must find out in a woods inventory that cannot be measured from photographs. Even in these cases, though, photos can help in planning and locating the sample plots to be surveyed.

Freeland says that there are aerial photographs of the entire State of Michigan to help foresters in their work. Almost every ranger district of the United States Forest Service has a file of the photos covering that district, and the forestry division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture also uses aerial photos in inventuring the state's forest resources.

Pulpwood marketing is a big business in Michigan's economic life. Annual pulpwood production in the state totals 800,000 cords of wood, which represents about five thousand man-years of work.

The pulp and paper industry which uses this pulpwood employs 28,000 workers, and their wages and salaries totaled nearly 170 million dollars in 1952.

The pulpwood used in Michigan comes from several sources, but about two-thirds of it comes from private landowners. The landowner may do no more than offer stumpage for sale, but he is often a producer, dealer, contractor or marketing agent as well.

Lee James of the forestry department at Michigan State University says that this pulpwood goes to one of the nine pulp mills presently operating in Michigan, or to the out-of-state mills. Five of the mills in the State of Michigan are located in the Lower Peninsula.

Clarence Carpenter, the DHIA tester, sends us his report for May 1957.

Calendar—

Sunday, June 23 through Saturday, June 29—Iosco County Centennial.

Wednesday, June 26—Christmas tree growers, shearing and shaping demonstration. Schedule will be sent those growers on our mailing list.

Friday, July 12—Tour of weed control plots in garden and roadsides. Twilight ??

Spittlebugs? I have seen lots of them in hay fields. You ask about control of spittlebugs? Get a 1958 calendar and put a big red circle around May 10, 1958. (That is a Saturday when you can buy your Lindane or Heptachlor for those 1958 hay fields). Do not spray your hay fields now so close to haying. Spraying should be done well ahead (20 days) of haying.

The Continental Army Company is preparing final plans for the mobilization of 650,000 reservists, including national guard units, for a summer training program that will tax the army's training facilities. The training will run from June through September.

Outdoor Fun Featured in New How-to-do-it Books

When it is outdoor fun, the whole family can get into the act and among the many helpful "how-to-do-it" books for summer activities to be found at the Iosco-Areac Regional Library is "First Bow and Arrow" by C. B. Colby. This will do much to start a young archer correctly, tell him how to select a first weapon of proper size and power, arrows of a proper length and tip, and shooting accessories to match his type of shooting. The book describes targets, shooting stances, aiming and bowsights, how to draw, how to score and care of equipment.

"Basic Swimming" by Robert Kiputh, the Olympic swimming coach, is a complete manual of basic information for the beginner, the experienced swimmer and the teacher. All the lessons are illustrated with instructive photographs.

"Kites" by Fowler is a lively text, fact-filled and illustrated with 58 line drawings. A practical guide to kite-making and flying.

"Fun in the Back Yard" by Arthur Lawson is a complete handbook on how to make the most of your own play space for children and the family, too. You will learn how to build swings, sandboxes, even how to lay out a miniature golf course. There are rules for outdoor games, such as, badminton, shuffleboard and croquet. It also contains instructions for building that outdoor grill or fireplace you have been wanting and even recipes for outdoor cooking. It is a fun book, American style, for the whole family.

"Real Book About Camping" by Bates tells in detail how to make your camping dream come true. From backyard camping for the children to overnight camping for older boys and girls, what to wear, what to take, nature hazards, fire-building and fun around the campfire can be found in this book which is easy to read and practical.

Boy Scouts will like "First Camping Trip" by C. B. Colby as all information has been checked by camping experts of the Boy Scouts of America. Wonderful sketches clarify the "do's" and "don'ts" of a first camping trip.

"Canoe Camping" by Handel is a detailed story of the correct way to plan and live a canoe trip. How to select food and equipment, how to portage and what to do in an emergency. Any camper can proceed with plans for a canoe trip after reading this book.

"Golf for Boys and Girls" by Chick Evans teaches them an easy way to play golf in language any youngster can understand. There is also a chapter on "How to be a Good Caddie" with golf rules discussed in an interesting fashion. For adults who wish to improve their game, "How to Play Your Best Golf" by Tommy Armour reduces golf theories to the essentials. It contains simple sound techniques without confusing details.

There are many more titles in the fields of fishing, baseball, outdoor games and other activities that show the way to summer fun. Look for them at your branch library.

Charming pictures such as this are surprisingly easy to shoot.

Picturing Reflections

We'd like to take a minute to share some reflections with you. No—not the usual mental ones—but the actual kind made in mirrors. Ever since the fateful day Narcissus looked too long and too lovingly into a shimmering lake, man has been attracted by reflections of himself. And when it comes to picture taking, he runs true to form. He seems to find a special fascination in mirror pictures, too.

If you'd like to try a little looking-glass magic yourself, don't hesitate for a moment. You'll find it's really quite easy to get impressive results even the first time—armed only with a simple camera and flash or flood lamps.

When you want to picture a subject along with his reflection in the mirror, there's one fact to remember in judging distance. Place your subject in front of a mirror and be sure your camera is aimed so that it images his reflection, too. Now measure the distance from camera to mirror, and add to it the distance between your subject and the mirror. In other words, if your camera is five feet from the mirror and the subject is one foot from the mirror, the reflection will be six feet from the camera—and six feet is the distance at which you should shoot.

Remember, too, that your flash or flood should be on your subject, not on the mirror. So direct the light to one side or the other—not straight at the mirror—to avoid getting a bright glare spot in your picture.

Club Meeting Monday

The Iosco County Quota Club held its regular meeting at the Barnes Hotel, Monday, June 10, with 17 members and one guest present.

Have you had enough milk today?

"Reno Topnotchers open house began at 8:30 p. m. on June 7 at the Reno Township Hall. Miss Scott and Mr. Davenport were guests for the evening to check our 4-H projects.

Indies Win Over Cross-Town Rivals

Combining a drum-tight pitching performance by Orville Revord with a heavy hitting attack by his mates, the Tawas City Indies defeated East Tawas Sunday, 17-1, in the first meeting of the "twin cities" on a baseball diamond since 1951.

Tawas City collected 18 hits off four East Tawas pitchers, including a two-run four bagger by Casey Cavell over the right field fence, a triple by Lorenz and doubles by Groff and Grack.

Leading hitters for the Tawas City team were the Herriman brothers, Olen and Clare, each getting four singles.

The real difference between the two teams came on the mound. Revord for Tawas City blanked East Tawas for the first three innings, allowed but one hit in the fourth and two in the fifth. Gerald Potts came on in the sixth inning and set the East Tawas batters down in order for three innings.

Lone run scored by the losers came in the top of the ninth inning when Lepard and Lorenz singled off "Diz" Westcott, third Tawas City pitcher. Lepard scored from third on a balk when Westcott made a move to pick Lorenz off first base, but lost the ball in the webbing of his glove. The big right hander then settled down to fan Vern Hill and DeLosh ended the game by grounding out.

Larry Frank, star right hander of the Tawas Area Braves during the spring season, was charged with the loss. He was followed on the mound by Binder, Lepard and Hill.

Tawas City also fared better than East Tawas afield, charged with two fielding miscues - while East Tawas committed five.

This Sunday Tawas City will play at Lincoln. The Alcona County community has one of the best teams in the league and was a contender for the championship last year.

JUNE WEDDINGS . . .

Pangle-Werth

MRS. CARL PANGLE

On Sunday, June 16, Grace Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding ceremony of Beverly Ann Werth of East Tawas and Carl Pangle of Franklin Village, Grove City, Ohio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Werth of East Tawas, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pangle of Hebron, Ohio.

A rose arbor at the first pew and vases of pink roses and lilies of the valley on the altar created a beautiful setting for the 4:30 double ring ceremony at which the Rev. Robert Nelson officiated. Miss Phyllis Liebeck of Fremont, Ohio, was the vocalist. Mrs. Charles Nash of East Tawas was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over satin. The hand-clipped rosepoint lace bodice was fashioned with satin cummerbund forming an empire waistline. Flowing from the waistline, the rosepoint lace created a handkerchief effect over layers of tulle. A Mary Stuart shell topped with beaded crown, enhanced by rosepoint lace and pleated nylon tulle, held her fingertip veil. The bride carried a white prayer book topped by a white rose and lilies of the valley.

Miss Patricia Pemberton of Ann Arbor served as maid of honor and Miss Jeanette Werth, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Their identical dresses of white crystal-ette were designed with a princess waist and scoop neckline forming a V in the back. Each attendant carried one long-stemmed pink rose.

Donald Dotsworth of Grove City, Ohio, served as best man. Ushers were Robert Werth, a brother of the bride, and Robert Hester.

A reception for 125 guests was held immediately following the ceremony at the Barnes Hotel, Tawas City. The bride's table was centered with a cake, the gift of her aunt, Mrs. Helen Scheen of Alpena, who made and designed it. The cake was served by Mrs. Alice Kovich of Toledo, Ohio, another aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Werth and Mrs. Pangle wore navy blue dresses with white accessories. White orchids complemented their ensembles.

Out of town guests were present from Alpena, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Saginaw, Pontiac, Montrose and Flushing; Hebron, Grove City, Milan, Fremont, Toledo, Ohio; Butler, Pennsylvania.

The bride is a graduate of East Tawas High School and Capital University at Columbus, Ohio, where she was affiliated with Kappa Sigma Theta Sorority and the American Association of University Women.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio State University and is now a social worker in Columbus where the couple will reside at 387 Linwood Avenue.

Pre-nuptial showers honoring the former Miss Werth were given by the Misses Barbara Weaver, Lois Wiggert and June Lamvermeyer at Capital University, Columbus; Mrs. Leonard Boboltz of Alpena and Mrs. Clarence Krueger

Grossmeyer-Woods

Miss Alice L. Woods of Bay City and Donald L. Grossmeyer, formerly of East Tawas, now residing in Bay City, were married in St. Boniface Catholic Church, Bay City, last Saturday morning. The bride is the daughter of T. E. Woods of Port Huron and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grossmeyer, residents of East Tawas for many years, who recently moved to Jefferson, Oregon.

The Rev. Fr. James Gavit officiated at the ceremony. Bouquets of white gladioli and pink chrysanthemums decorated the church. Miss Delores Glaza was vocalist and organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, T. E. Woods Jr. She wore a white silk sheath dress of street length complemented by shoulder length veil and carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Miss Lucille Monark of Bad Axe was the bridesmaid in a pink dress styled identically to the bride's. She wore a pink headband and her flowers were a colonial nosegay of pink roses.

Charles P. Woods of East Lansing was best man. Ushers were Gerald Spencer of East Tawas and Kenneth Miller of Detroit.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at LeChateau. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake and bouquets of pink and white roses.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Northern Michigan. For her trip the bride chose a white silk shantung shirtwaist dress with wide red satin cummerbund. Her accessories were red and white.

The bride is a graduate of Port Huron Junior College and she attended Michigan State University and Colorado University.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Bay City Junior College and attended Michigan State University.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Seder wore a gray and white organza dress with white accessories. Mrs. Kobs, the bridegroom's mother, wore a powder blue nylon lace dress with white accessories.

Kobs-Seder

At a 7:30 o'clock ceremony, Saturday evening, June 15, at Birch Run Methodist Church, Miss Shirley Edna Seder of Birch Run became the bride of Herbert John Kobs of Tawas City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Seder of Birch Run. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kobs of Tawas City.

For the double ring ceremony, the church was decorated with vases of gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms. The Rev. Joseph E. Shaw officiated. Miss Marion Schulte, vocalist, was accompanied by Mrs. George Keilhorn at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of rosepoint lace and tulle styled with basque bodice and scoop neckline. A full skirt fell to a chapel length train of alternate ruffles of lace and tulle. Her fingertip veil was secured by a claque trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. On her prayer book of white satin and lace, she carried a cascade of feather chrysanthemums and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. William Dunning of Birch Run, matron of honor, and Joann Seder of Flint, Mayze Seder of Saginaw and Mrs. Al Bouchard of Roseville, bridesmaids, wore similar ballerina length dresses of circle net over taffeta with sleeveless bodice and Sabrina neckline. They wore matching headbands of braided horse hair and carried baskets of yellow carnations and leaves.

No Private Hunting Preserves Until 1958

Private hunting preserves, authorized by the 1957 legislature, will not be in operation in Michigan before autumn of 1958. The law authorizing the establishment of preserves is effective September 27 of this year, but important and time-consuming legal procedures must be followed before shooting preserves become a reality.

Also, the conservation department and conservation commission must work out detailed rules and regulations which will govern preserve operation within the framework of the law. Gerald E. Eddy, department director, advised the commission last week that the department staff wishes to "proceed slowly" in working out these regulations to insure that public hunting is not adversely affected by the operation of private hunting preserves.

Annual Disaster

Each year in Michigan, thousands of acres are blackened by forest fires—usually the result of man's carelessness. A little extra caution with campfires, brushfires and burning tobacco can prevent much of this needless waste. Keep Michigan clean—and green.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS—

IN JUNE, MILK PRODUCTION REACHES HIGHEST PEAK

Come spring and Mrs. Cow lets no grass grow under her feet and seems determined to produce milk at a record rate. By June, milk production is at the highest point, making the right time to point out the many good reasons why there should be more dairy dishes in our menus.

A lot for a little is offered shoppers by milk and dairy products. Milk is the least expensive and easiest way to get calcium. About the same amount of calcium is contained in a quart of milk as is available in 35 medium oranges, four cups cooked mustard greens, 21 pounds potatoes, 2 1/3 cups molasses, four cups dry beans, 5 1/2 pounds cabbage, 6 1/2 pounds carrots or 3 1/2 dozen eggs.

A dime spent for milk gives about twice as much protein as 10 cents spent for round steak, 23 percent more protein than 10 cents spent for hamburger or eggs.

So, help yourself and your family to good looks, to better health and to a more balanced food budget by using the milk you need everyday—a quart for every child and at least two glasses for every adult.

Michigan out-of-doors can be more comfortable and safer than ever this year, thanks to a new liquid insect repellent. Examine the label of the repellent you buy. Look for these words: "diethyl toluamide" to indicate the ingredient that does the trick.

Applied to the skin or clothing, the new repellent protects against at least five insect pests, mosquitoes, ticks, chiggers, fleas and flies. It is the most nearly all-purpose repellent developed. The product is non-greasy, lotion-like in consistency, has a delicate fresh fragrance and a resistance to rubbing or wearing off. One application lasts several hours.

Check the frozen food department of your favorite grocery. The reserve pack of frozen strawberries must go in preparation for the new crop. A good place for them to go may be into your own freezer, if the saving is as much in your grocery as it is in some!

Butter adds the "just right" flavor touch to all fresh vegetables.

Every color is available for home furnishing items, but the "cool family" of turquoise, blues and greens is top favorite. The "warm color family" is shown as beige with white and small amounts of brilliant colors. Leading colors in carpets and upholstery fabrics are cinnamon, nutmeg or toast.

Stains from grass or foliage are often found on the children's play clothes at this time of the year. They can be removed from most washable clothing, if the treatment is suited to the fabric.

If you know it is a washable fabric, first try rubbing soap or synthetic detergent into a plant stain; then wash the garment. Or, if a test on an inside edge of a seam or other hidden garment part shows alcohol will not affect the dye, sponge the stain with alcohol. Use alcohol diluted with water on acetate fabrics.

For stubborn stains, use a sodium perborate bleach. Sprinkle the moist stain with bleach, gently cover the garment with a solution made of one tablespoon of sodium perborate per pint of water and let it soak several hours or overnight. Use cool water for wool, silk and Dynel and hot water for other washable fabrics. Rinse well.

Chlorine bleaches generally remove the same types of stains as sodium perborate, but chlorine bleaches should never be used on wool, silk, blends containing these fibers or on fabrics that have chlorine-retentive resin finishes.

Allows Chemical Treatment to Combat Lampreys
Conservation Department Director Gerald E. Eddy this week issued a permit allowing the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to undertake experimental chemical treatment of certain Michigan streams in an effort to destroy sea lamprey spawn and adult lampreys.

The permit was issued to Dr. J. W. Moffett, in charge of the service's Great Lakes fisheries investigations. Dr. Moffett has been conducting laboratory experiments with chemicals for a number of years, searching for a substance which will destroy lamprey larva in streams without harming fish.

Dr. Moffett believes the laboratory findings are now ready for field testing.

He said this week the particular streams for testing and the date of the chemical application will be announced later. Conservation department authorities will be notified before each test is initiated.

Floyd Hill, general agent of the Famous Cole Three-Ring Wild Animal Circus, was in Tawas City yesterday to complete arrangements for the circus to show here on Monday, July 1.

The Cole name is one of the oldest and most honored in the circus business, and Mr. Hill reported in a visit to the Herald office that the Cole show this year is right abreast with the times with the most elaborate features and equipment that it has ever carried.

Certainly the most unusual feature of the circus will be the presentation of a live jungle-bred African Rhinoceros, an animal noted throughout the world for its size, strength, running speed and extreme viciousness.

To provide all the elements of a thrill-filled and action-packed three-ring circus, performance demands an array of top-notch acrobats, trapeze performers, dare-devils and clowns. The Cole Circus this season is featuring the Rawls family of teen-age gymnastics, widely known for their speed and their reckless daring; Charley Rex, balancing star on the high trapeze; Miss Jeanie Kreef, aerial stunner featured in 1953 at the Palladium in London, England; Miss Mary Frazier featured in motion pictures as well as a nation-wide television show because of her daring feats on the tight wire and aerial stunts; Bob Grubb and his educated Liberty horse; the Shirley Walters performing bears, and a host of others competing in a performance that lasts close to two hours.

Life would be more enjoyable if more people tried to enjoy it.
